INTERVIEW WITH _____
(November 24, 1987)

8038 N.E. 2 Avenue
Miami, Florida

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Allen W. Hart, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence.

I have been with Southern Bell Telephone Company since April 25, 1980. My title is Services Technician. I am on home dispatch assigned to the Miami-Metro Division. My immediate supervisor is _____ Assistant Manager-Network. My date of birth is [redacted], and my social security number is [redacted]

I have been apprised that the purpose of this interview is to discuss some questions that have come up regarding sales to customer accounts. I have reviewed, along with Mr. Hart from Security, a number of Network Sales Referral forms prepared by me that indicate that the subscriber was contacted and agreed to have Call Waiting put on their service. These same subscribers, I have been told, later called the Company and denied ever requesting this service. I would like to explain how this came about. In July of this year I injured my back. When I returned to work I was put on restricted duty. Sometime in August or September, while still on restricted duty, I was assigned, full time, to do telephone sales. This required me to contact subscribers and attempt to sell them a variety of services, such as Custom Calling Service, Trouble Isolation Plan (TIP) and Prestige features. My sales were recorded on Network Sales Referral forms which were then sent to the Customer Services office so that the customer's records, service and bills could be updated.

Initially I was contacting the customer but I was having limited results - sometimes I would only make seven or eight sales a day. On many occasions [redacted] (my foreman) would ask me how many sales I had made for the day or the week, etc. Many times he made a point of comparing my results to another employee who was also on the same selling program, always mentioning that [redacted] count was much larger. I felt threatened by this.

I asked [redacted] 'How do you do it?' He suggested I tell the customer, if they weren't sure, to just try it out for a while. He also said, and I don't remember exactly how he put it, but I got the message, to just fill out the forms as if I had contacted the subscriber and send it in. [redacted] rationale was that most customers wanted Call Waiting anyway and if they didn't, they could just call in and cancel the service. We discussed that Call Waiting was the best feature to go with because most customers liked the feature.

I set an arbitrary objective for myself of about 20 sales a day. Each afternoon, if my legitimate sales fell short of that mark, I would prepare enough false forms to make up the difference.

I can't tell just by looking at them, what Network Sales Referral forms are true and which are false, but I can assume that the ones which resulted in customer denials are false.

I can't say how many false forms I submitted but I would estimate that I prepared anywhere from five to 15 a day.

I don't remember when I adopted this new approach but I think it was the middle of September.

I know there are incentives for sales, that employees can select gifts from a catalog for making sales. But this was not my motivation for this improper course of conduct, it was to show I was doing my job.

The above statement consisting of this and 3 other pages is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

WORKING CONDITION BRIEF

Grievance No._____ Location Miami Department Network

Date Grievnce Occurred_____ Date Grievance Filed_____

4 Grievant_____ Title Services Technician

Social Sec. #[redacted] N.C.S. 04-25-80 Seniority 04-25-80

I. Issue That Prompted Grievance

On 08-06-87 the employee was sent a letter from Benefits declaring her 07-28-87 incident as acceptable under the "Law" (Workers' Compensation Laws of State of Florida), but, not under the "Plan" (Company Sickness and Accident Disability Benefit Plan) as the incident does not appear to meet the "Plans" definition of a compensable accidental injury according to the employees' statement and the facts gathered about the incident. Coded I for 07-29-87.

II. Chronology of Facts Pertaining to Grievance

07-28-87 Employee states while working on a service order and climbing three poles she noticed a pain in the middle of her shoulder blades. As the day progresses, pain got worse and employee felt shooting pains up the back of her neck and shooting down her right arm. Pain increases by night time.

24 07-29-87 Employee did not report for work but reported incident to Supervisor who took her to Company Nurse who referred her to Ira Posner, M.D., Orthopaedist. X-rays were taken and showed degenerative changes at the C6-7 level with narrowing of the disc space and spur formation. Diagnosis: Right cervical radiculopathy. Dr. Posner prescribed motrin, 800 mgs. and advised employee should not work.

07-30-87 Follow-up visit with Dr. Posner advised of no work status; possible modified duty in 1 to 2 weeks.

08-03-87 Form 8147 received from Medical Department stating that "at first employee did not claim that neck pain was a result of an incident at work. Employee went to her own doctor and apparently changed her mind and claimed an on-duty accident."

08-06-87 Letter sent to employee certified mail by Benefit Office advising her accident was accepted under "Law" and not the "Plan".

08-07-87 Follow-up visit with Dr. Posner advised employee could return to modified duty on 08-12-87 and would need physical therapy.

08-12-87 Employee returned to work.

08-17-87 Form 8147 received from Medical Department advising employee is receiving physical therapy 3 times a week.

08-19-87 Employee called Benefit Office and spoke to Michele Branzer, Staff Assistant. Employee advised she received a certified letter dated 08-06-87 and wanted an explanation. Ms. Branzer explained to employee that she was doing her regular job duties and that there was an absence of facts to support an unusual or sudden happening; Employee agreed. Ms. Branzer asked employee if there was anything else she would like to add to her statement; possible facts that had been omitted and employee advised no.

08-21-87 Employee called Benefit Office and spoke to Ms. Branzer. She advised she did not agree with the way her accident was handled and since she lost 1 day pay; 07-29-87 was coded I, she would like to submit her claim in writing to Employees' Benefit Committee. Ms Branzer suggested that she include any additional information that has not already been previously submitted that would support her claim.

08-24-87 Written cliam received from employee that does not provide any new information.

09-29-87 In its meeting of this date Employees' Benefit Committee denied Accident Disability Benefits for an incident which occurred on 07-28-87.

10-05-87 Upon receipt of notification of this action, the South Florida Benefit Office mailed a certified letter to _____ ,informing her of the EBC decision and the reasons, and advising her of her rights to appeal the decision within 60 days.

10-14-87 Receipt returned to the Benefit Office indicating the employee signed for the certified letter.

10-28-87 Michele Branzer, Staff Assistant met with Mike Kopcsik, Manager-Labor Relations and Gregory Jordan, President-CWA Local 3107 to discuss denial of accident under Plan. Mr. Jordan advised he has written an appeal in employees behalf. During the meeting he makes reference to Section 5, Paragraphs 1 and 5 of the Plan stating that the accident did occur during and in direct connection with employees job duties of climbing three poles. Ms. Branzer and Mr. Kopcsik stated that employee was performing normal job function and that there was an absence of facts to support an accidental injury. Ms. Branzer and Mr. Kopcsik further asked Mr. Jordan if there was any additional information he would like to offer and he advised no.

An Appeal letter dated 10-22-87 was received in the Benefit Office.

III. Analysis of Grievance

Employees' initial description of the accident was that "after working on a service order at 4715 N. Bay Road and climbing 3 poles I noticed a pain in the middle of my shoulder blades. As the day progress it got worse and I felt shooting pains up the back of my neck and shooting down my right arm. By nightfall I could not hardly raise my arm and during the night I work up in pain and could not move in bed.

*Employee went to Dr. Ira Posner on 07-29-87 and in his letter to medical dated 08-05-87, the doctor stated the patient was coming off a pole when she twisted and experienced discomfort in the cervical spine area.

*On October 5, 1987, the employee advised Edwin G. Neal, M.D. that "she was coming off a pole on a 6 foot ladder and in twisting around the pole she noticed pain in the mid back."

It appears that after visiting the doctors her story changed from a pain that progressed thru the day of 07-28-87 in the middle of her shoulder blades, to an immediate neck pain as she stepped off a pole and twisted.

The statements seem to conflict. Her first statement, if taken as most factual, seems to relay the facts as they occurred. She was working and performing her normal duties of climbing, twisting, bending, stooping and as a result, a pain progressed in her shoulder blade area through the day. No single "accident: precipitated the pain to occur, according to her original statement which she acknowledged as truthful.

Based on the first information obtained from the employee and examinations subsequent by physicians, the employee was coded as I on 07-29-87 being covered under the "Law" but being denied coverage under the "Plan". Reason cited were that the injury did not arise out of or in the direct performance of job duty. Rather, she was performing normal job functions and therefore Section 5, Paragraph 5 of the Sickness and Accident Disability Benefit Plan precluded any coverage under the "Plan".

IV. Current Status of Grievant

Employee lost time from 07-29-87 through 08-11-87. Presently she is back to full duty.

V. Union's Argument

Union provided no additional, new, information concerning the denial of claim under the plan but simply quoted the definition of an accident from the dictionary which is not within the definition of the "Plan".

VI. Company's Argument

The "Plan" does not apply and simply going to the dictionary to have term "accident" defined is off the point and not in compliance with the terms as defined in the "Plan".

VII. Witnesses

C. D. Chasteen, Manager-Network
Pat Maradie, DMR Nurse
Dr. J. B. Byrne, Medical Director-Florida
Jim Edie, Assistant Manager-Network
Michele Branzer, Staff Assistant-Benefits
E. Juanita Clark, Supervisor-Benefits
M. R. Kopcsik, Manager-Labor Relations

VIII. Recommendations

This is not a grievance. Employee could not pinpoint original "accident" under terms of the "plan" which caused the injury. Therefore, Plan stay denied but employee has been given everything due her under the Law.

"Orlando, Florida
October 17, 1990

I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to N. C. Thornton, who has identified himself as an Associate Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am fifty years old. My birthdate is . My social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as the Manager-Construction, Installation/Maintenance, Sanford, Fl. My office is located in Sanford at 132 Commerce Way and my business telephone number is 407-327-0530.

I worked at the Sandlake, Florida Installation Maintenance Center (IMC) as the Manager from 1983 to March, 1988. During this time, I had no effective sales program. I encouraged individual employees to try to make a sale when they had a customer contact but that was the extent of my sales program. When I left the IMC, I replaced Steve Hoeltke as the Manager-I&M Sandlake in the Orlando Turf.

When I took over this group, a sales solicitation program (boiler room) was already in effect. It seemed to be working very well, the results were good, so I did not make any changes.

Services Technician, was the person assigned to full time sales. She reported to Assistant Manager-I&M, Toward the end of the year (1988), stated that she was tired of sales and wanted to go back outside as a Services Technician and we granted her request. Then in early 1989, we asked for a volunteer for the sales solicitation and volunteered. At this time, was placed full time on sales solicitation. I had never been told nor have I ever seen any Company correspondence that indicated sales solicitations (boiler room) were against Company policy. To the best of my knowledge and belief, Area Sales Coordinator, and and the Operations Manager of the Orlando Turf, knew we were using employees for full time sales solicitations.

reported to Assistant Manager, There was no uniform practice throughout the District for procedures in the sales program. We all knew that sales are important to the Company and each manager used his own initiative to achieve sales results.

was very effective with sales solicitations and his results were very high. On several occasions I asked if results were honest and he assured me that they were. I knew and had a lot of confidence in his integrity. On many occasions I asked if his sales were legitimate and he assured me that they were. stated to me that he did not have to cheat because it was easy to sell the Maintenance Plan and also that his daughter was helping him by selling at school and that his church congregation was helping him make sales. is the pastor of a church. I asked to note on his sales referral forms the person he had talked to and he did show me some forms with these notations on them. I did not call any of these customers because I had complete confidence in

For about three months during mid 1989, Services Technician worked full time on sales solicitations. I was advised by that several of sales did not appear to be legitimate. Therefore, I immediately removed her from sales and informed her of the discrepancies. I tried to get copies of these questionable sales from Sutton so that I could call the customer but I never received them.

I have never been told not to take an employee of the load and put them on full time sales. If the trouble load became heavy on occasion, and would call and tell me to take the people off sales and get them on the load. I don't believe ever approved of the sales solicitations program. I have no knowledge of Mr. Perry being aware of the sales program. I never discussed the program with was aware of how we were operating the sales solicitation and she knew was making his sales from a boiler room type operation. and I discussed sales many times and I absolutely did not tell her that we did not have a sales solicitation program in operation.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

Interview [redacted], Administration Support Manager
October 25, 1990

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on [redacted] at [redacted] My social security number is [redacted]. I have been employed by Southern Bell for 18 years. I am presently an Administrative Support Manager reporting to Joe Bullock, Manager-I&M. I went to work outside in 1981. In 1988, I went to Royal Palm Beach in the North turf, West Palm Beach. With regards to sales, my people did house to house type sales contacts. Employees on light duty were put on telephone sales. There were also boiler room sales operations. As sales leads, they would use line records that indicted the customer did not have the maintenance plan. This was TIP, (Trouble Isolation Plan). Later on, the Wire Maintenance Plan was instituted and eventually the SEQ1X was instituted. This was a combination of TIP/WMP. During the year, I had this crew [redacted] was my top salesman. In fact, he made 80 to 90% of all the sales in the crew. There were times when [redacted] did installation and repair but he sold 80 to 90% of the time. There were times when I thought that [redacted] should be on the workload instead of sales, but [redacted] employed sales and wanted [redacted] on sales. [redacted] was without a doubt the best salesman in West Palm Beach. [redacted] did telephone sales from his home quite often. In fact most times, I visited his home or would call him there to check on him. Also, I would deliver DLR reports that he used for leads and I would also collect Sales Referral Slips documenting his sales. I would deliver the sales slips sometimes to [redacted] office and other times to the 2021 Military Trail Business Office. [redacted] was aware that [redacted] was working sales from his home. This was not new to [redacted] was already doing sales when I got him. During the time [redacted] did sales for me, I may have received on the average of three complaints per month. The complaints were from customers who claimed they had never been called about adding extra charges to their bill. In particular, I recollect complaints where a sale was made on a disconnected number. I would always discuss the complaints with [redacted] and he would always have valid reasons as to how this error may have happened. His rationale was always satisfactory. I would have discussed these complaints with [redacted]. Many times, the complaints came through [redacted]. In my own mind, I always believed [redacted] was calling customers to make his sales. I am not aware of any sale sampling conducted by the Business Office.

At one time, Sutton arranged for and one other girl whose name I don't recall, to input referrals at 2021 Military Trail. did this because the Business Office complained about the volume we were generating. This arrangement lasted about three months in mid-1988. I am not aware that we ever sent referrals to Dial America. At one time, I believe we had sales quotas or commitments for sales in our PMCR. We held meetings where we compared our turf with South Broward, North Broward, South Palm Beach and the North turf in Palm Beach was always the highest. was probably responsible for half the sales in the Southeast area. was given the opportunity to sell more than others. I know that would share some of his points with others in the crew, but never in large volumes. To my knowledge, never requested that points be transferred to others. I do not know for a fact, but I have heard that sometimes points were transferred to the maintenance center. I never saw any letters from the Business Office concerning the integrity of the Network sales program. never talked to me about any such letters. I have received presents from the sales program as a result of sales by my crew. Specifically, an RCA portable TV, two bicycles and an exercise bike. Eighty (80) to ninety percent (90%) of points accredited to me resulted from sales. to my knowledge, always wrote up his own sales slips. I do not recall going around with flyers to apartment buildings while he worked for me. I was in the work center once, when did not report to me, where he did use flyers. As I sit here today, I would have discussed it with if I thought that integrity was questionable. I have been informed by Mr. Beatty that he represents the Corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that this interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege belongs to and may be waived by the Company. The interview is to be treated confidential. I cannot recall any other information pertaining to this matter at this time.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of six pages and it is true and complete to the best of my knowledge and recollection.

I, [redacted], voluntarily furnish Allen W. Hart, who has identified himself to me as a representative of [redacted]

C3 40037

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence.

I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone Company as a Services Technician in the Miami-Metro Division of Network. My net credited service date is December 9, 1974, my social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. My immediate supervisor is [redacted] Assistant Manager.

I have been apprised that the purpose of this interview is to address questions raised by recent sales of Call Waiting to a number of subscribers.

I have been shown a Network Sales Referral form prepared by me, dated 10-5-87, that indicates I sold CW (Call Waiting) to subscriber [redacted]. I have been told that this subscriber is a Service Representative and she denies ever speaking to me or authorizing the addition of CW to her line. Also, I've been told, she claims no one is home during working hours. This must have been an error on my part but I can't offer any explanation.

Another form indicates I spoke to [redacted], on 10-5-87. I've been told this subscriber claims he lives alone and was at work on that day. Furthermore, the subscriber claims no one from Southern Bell contacted him and he never authorized this addition of CW to his line. I don't remember the details of this particular sale but I can only assume, if no one was home, I contacted him at work or at one of the contact numbers on his records.

Another form is for subscriber [redacted] and it reads I sold [redacted] CW on October 6, 1987. I have been told that this subscriber's service was suspended in June of this year and the subscriber was out of town on the date I posted for the sale, and his service was still on suspend. I must have spoken to someone but I don't recall this particular sale.

I have also been shown two forms, for subscriber [redacted] and [redacted] and have been told that even though I claimed the sale of CW on both numbers, the lines already had this feature. This is not an unusual incident. Sometimes the records I work from are not up to date and often the subscribers are not aware they have certain features on their lines.

I have also been told that there are 165 sales of CW made by me for the months of August, September and October that the subscribers have claimed they never requested this service. Of this number, 22 disputed sales are in the 691 Exchange. I have reviewed these. -I remember some of the names but I don't recall the details of any particular sale.

Also, I have reviewed 35 sales in the 693 Exchange. Only one account sticks out in my mind, that one is for subscriber 693-1233, on 10-08-87. I remember speaking to [redacted] must have misunderstood me because I thought [redacted] agreed to the sale.

I have also reviewed 31 disputed sales in the 696 Exchange. Only one of these I remember and it is for [redacted] 696-3494, on 8-6-87. I remember speaking to a man at this number. He told me he'd try CW.

I have also reviewed 30 disputed sales in the 835 Exchange. I remember three of these. One is for [redacted] at 835-6409. I recall speaking to a [redacted] at this number late in the afternoon. I tried [redacted] house but there was no answer. Later, I called [redacted] a contact number on her records. Someone there told me [redacted] had just left. I tried [redacted] at home again and that's when I reached [redacted] (I got [redacted] contact number from the DLR portion of LMOS.) [redacted] and agreed to the sale. Another, for [redacted] is dated 10-1-87. I remember speaking to [redacted] [redacted] also agreed to the sale. The third one in this exchange is for [redacted] 835-9728, dated 10-5-87. I remember speaking to a [redacted] at this number. [redacted] was hard to convince but [redacted] agreed to the sale.

I have also reviewed 47 disputed sales in the [redacted] Exchange. I recall only two of these. The one for [redacted], dated 8-6-87. I remember speaking to a [redacted] at this number and [redacted] agreed to the sale. The second one is for [redacted] I remember speaking to [redacted] at this number and [redacted] put someone else on the line - a [redacted] I was able to sell the feature because [redacted] bought my argument that it was a good security item when there were [redacted]

Going back to individual accounts, separate from the 165, I have been shown two disputed sales. One for [redacted] 835-2522, the other for [redacted] told that these people are the and of Service Representative , mentioned on the first Network Sales Referral form. I remember speaking to a at the number I thought knew what I was trying to sell. The other one, I recall speaking to a, at this number, and agreed to try CW for 30 days.

I have been shown another disputed sale. This one is for : recall speaking to at this number, and agreed to try CW for 30 days.

I have been on a full-time sales program since early August. My foreman, would contact me about every other day and ask me what my sales count was. never reviewed them, however. The office I used is at the Company building at 8038 N.E. 2 Avenue.

I would like to add that often when I was unable to reach subscribers at home I would call the person or persons listed on their records as contacts. I would try to establish the relationship to the subscriber of record or their authority to permit me to add CW to the subscriber's line. However, I never posted this other person's name or number on the sales form but instead always used the subscriber's name. Again, I would get this contact information from DLR.

The above statement consisting of this and five other pages is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

INTERVIEW OF [redacted] ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK
(December 20, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St. Suite 1901
Miami, FL

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for the Bell System for over 37 years. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to Network sales. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I have been a supervisor in the Maintenance Center since 1983. I presently have 26 employees reporting to me, but in late 1989 and first part of 1990, I had eleven employees under me. I admit I have been quite active on sales in the past. I usually get to the office at 7:00 a.m. everyday and start working on my paperwork. During the day and early evening hours, sometimes as late at 9:00 p.m., I canvassed customers over the phone to try and sell them mostly the maintenance plan. I did sell some custom calling features. I probably spent about three hours per day on the average doing this. The way I did it, I took an exchange, checked DLRL's to see if they had a given service in their record and then contacted the customer and tried to sell them: Most of my contacts were initiated by me and there was no trouble report at all by the subscriber. I basically called numbers in numerical sequence until I finished the exchange. Since there was competition among groups in the district as far as sales was concerned, I gave the sales I made to my people. I was very open about this and I didn't think I was doing anything wrong and the Company was not being cheated in anyway or form. With the exception of (who was pretty good on sales herself and didn't need any help), I gave sales to everyone that worked for me. This probably took place over a period of a few months in late 1989. Specifically, I can say that I gave sales to

Although some may have gotten more than others, all of the above did get sales from me. One day last year, I was approached by a Maintenance Administrator in another group, who advised me that a couple of girls had gone to my second level at the time, to complain about my not contacting customers. Presumably, the complainants were and neither of whom ever discussed the matter with me. I thanked for the information and told her that I didn't have to worry about it because on every sale I ever made, I contacted the customer. To this day, I had never mentioned to anybody the fact that I had been advised by of what was going on and I would expect that to remain confidential. Even when eventually confronted me, I never told him that I had been told it was and that complained and he never addressed that either. did call me in and told me hat he was looking at my sales and suspected there may be a problem with the integrity of my sales. I assured him I had talked to every subscriber I ever sent in and that was about it. About a month later, approached me again and again questioned me on the integrity of my sales. Again, I reassured him that my sales were honest but he told me that he would have to conduct his own investigation. A few weeks later, we met again. This time, he advised me that he had to take some disciplinary action against me because of all my time that had been wasted on sales instead of on more productive things like training my people, etc. I didn't like it, but I admitted that I had spent a lot of time on sales. In summary, I was written up, my performance rating was dropped from a "MC" to a "C" and I did not get the full pay raise I was due. When left our group in mid-1990, I approached him about removing the entry, but he refused. As far as how much I sold, out of the top of my head, I'd say that my sales probably were up to 50-60% of the total that my group sold, but there would be no way to check on this because I never turned in a sale for myself and my sales were spread among my subordinates, who also sold on their own. I have not made a sale since I was disciplined. I never offered any explanation to any of my subordinates as to why I stopped giving them sales and I was never asked for one. On all three meetings that I had with it was strictly me and him present. There were no witnesses and I have never discussed with anyone what was said at these meetings or that I had been disciplined. Although I don't recall exactly when I stopped selling, it must have been in November or December of 1989, after first confronted me. Again, since I was eventually disciplined because of sales, I have never made another sale and have no intention of doing so in the future. I don't know if any of my Maintenance Administrators did any telephone canvassing on their own time, but it wouldn't surprise me if they did, because once I started giving everybody sales, everyone got a little more motivated into selling, which was what I had been trying to accomplish from the start. In a nutshell, all the sales I ever made were honest sales and I will swear to it on the Bible or do whatever the want me to do to prove it. On the other hand, I readily admit that I spent a lot of time on the job on sales which I probably could have been doing something else and I did spread my sales, as evenly as I could, among my subordinates so that they, not I, would get the credit for them. As far as how much I would sell on a good day, I believe the most I ever sold on a day was about 30 to 35 customers. On the other hand, there were days when I hardly sold anything. I have read the above statement consisting of this and five other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, _____ hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence.

I am employed by Southern Bell as Assistant Manager I&M at 6621 South Orange Avenue, Orlando. I subscriber to telephone number _____ My Social Security Number is [redacted] and Date of Birth is _____ My NCS date is September of 1964.

In October of 1988, I was transferred to Sandlake District from the Orlando District. I was never involved in telephone canvassing sales until last year. _____ Services Technician came to work for me inside for approximately two weeks. I had gone to her since I knew she had been involved in sales before. My sales were way down is the reason I asked her. During the time she worked for me I never checked or verified any of her sales. I never got any complaints at ant time on _____ was an _____ and I feel a very honest person. I was aware _____ was canvassing in Sandlake but can tell you nothing about his sales. He did not work for me. When the sales points came out in January, _____ gave me her points and with this I got a VCR and ice chest. She said she got everything she wanted out of the catalog and for me to take the points. I had her sign her check and I then took it to _____ Assistant Manager. He then took the check and made me a check out in my name. During the time _____ worked for me I do not know how she charged her time. During my time at Sandlake, I never received any customer complaints on sales nor was I ever aware of any person doing any wrong doing and no one brought anything to my attention. I have never been given any instruction on how to run a sales program. I had heard, but I do not know for sure, that _____ had taken some of her points and bought a small fishing boat for _____, Assistant Manager. I heard it was for his birthday. The sales program had already been in place prior to me transferring to Sand Lake.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed the first two pages.

"Orlando, Florida

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birthdate is [redacted] and my Social Security Number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manger-CPE/Data in Orlando, Florida and report to [redacted] Manager-Network/CPE. My Net Credited Service Date is July 9, 1973. I can be reached in Orlando at [redacted] I transferred to Orlando in 1983 as a Services Technician from South Florida.

Throughout my career I have been very active in customer sales. As a matter of fact, I was a craft sales leader from 1975 until I transferred to the Orlando area. When I was in South Florida my closest competition in sales was Services Technician Gary Maser in Boca Raton. We transferred to Orlando on the same day and were assigned to the same district.

I learned soon after my arrival in Orlando that sales was not a high priority. I continued to make sales contacts in Orlando and quickly became the top seller for all of North Florida. It was not so much to do with the fact that I was a good seller, it was due to the fact that I took the time and effort to talk with each customer I visited due to a trouble report.

I was promoted to Assistant Manager in 1984 and [redacted] moved into my crew. Knowing his success with sales I motivated him to become the Orlando top seller.

I used him when the load permitted to make call backs on repeated report subscribers and while checking on their service, attempt to sell the newly activated Custom Calling features. He was very successful. I closely observed his sales contacts as I was also contacting subscribers.

When I received complaints or comments that [redacted] was getting the soft job, I gave the sales opportunity to all of my crew members. When the other crew members decided that they did not care to sell, I continued to use [redacted] to make the sales calls as the load permitted. I never instructed [redacted] to make the sales calls, he volunteered, because like me, he enjoyed the customer contacts. In 1985 or 1986 [redacted] won a trip to Hawaii for his sales effort.

As I recall during this same time frame two Service Technicians in my Sandlake District, _____ and _____ had problems with the validity of a large number of their sales referrals. Their sales were investigated by the business office and the majority of their sales credits were removed from the district sales results. I don't recall what supervisor they reported to but the District Manager was _____ and the 2nd level manager was _____.

One point I want to make is that while working for Mr. _____ and _____ they both had meetings, demanding that sales integrity be foremost.

I was moved to the Pine Hills area within the Sandlake District in late 1986 or early 1987. My sales declined considerably as my new crew was not sales oriented.

I instructed the new crew to start selling and my contact sales slowly increased.

In late 1987 or early 1988 _____, Services Technician had a double knee operation. following her operation, she wanted to continue to work on light duty while she recuperated. This was a good opportunity for me to utilize her on telephone solicitation.

I had previously used repeat reports as the source of sales contacts. When _____ began selling, she exhausted this source and I was able to obtain old microfiche records from the business office. She used these records and she was extremely successful selling the Custom Calling features and the newly offered Wiring Maintenance Plan.

In this new crew, I also offered the sales job to each member and they all declined.

Initially, while recuperating from _____ I allowed _____ to make some of her sales contacts from her home. Mainly because she could not drive and she made calls during all (I.E. 5-7pm) hours of the day. I also checked on her sales progress daily.

When _____ came off light duty, she was placed back on the load and used on sales only when the load permitted (from an office at 1227 S. Division Street).

In early 1988, _____ replaced _____ as the Orlando Division Operations Manager.

was very interested in generating revenue through the employee sales referral program and encouraged all of his managers to increase their sales efforts.

In some meeting early after his arrival, questioned how the Sandlake District maintained their high sales level. I assumed that my second level manager informed him on our sales procedures of utilizing old business office microfiche records.

Shortly, we began receiving up-to-date microfiche records for all of North Florida through office. All the foremen in the district had the opportunity to use these records to increase their sales.

I continued to use to make sales contacts when possible. At this time a new sales program was in effect, whereby, points were awarded for sales that were used to purchase catalog gifts. Because of this, on her own, distributed or shared her sales points with her crew members to be fair. I also received a percentage of the sales points as well as my second and third level managers. I did not select catalog gifts. However, I along with forfeited the gifts and accepted a Virgin Island Cruise. This was the result of our winning area sales contests.

In regard to sales, there were a few occasions when her sales were referred back by the business office.

My investigation revealed either service order typist errors, or a husband or wife not wanting to pay for what their spouse had agreed to.

I had no doubts of integrity because I either checked her sales or observed her talking with customers. She also had very few sales returned.

I left the I&M organization in October, 1988 and now work in the CPE/Data group.

In regard to employee he worked for me in 1988. On one occasion while he was out sick or on benefits for a short period, he offered to make sales calls from his home. His results were very poor for the short period so I ceased to use him, as it was not worth the effort.

I heard that was a sales leader under Assistant Manager Since I was no longer in the group, I have no knowledge that may have cheated on his sales.

1 I have been advised that Assistant Manger stated that I teld him that the Maintenance Center was adding features to customer's lines at the time they were restored after being disconnected for non-pay.

5 I don't recall specifically telling this, however, it was a rumor. Since I had no facts, I did not pursue the issue.

7 In regard to former employee sometime in 1987, I visited the Maintenance Center to observe her conducting her telephone sales contacts to determine if she needed any assistance on her approach. During the hour that I was there, I observed her complete several sales. I have no information that she may have cheated.

13 In regard to statement that my employees were receiving double credit when upgrading the Wiring Maintenance Plan, I did not give any instructions to manipulate the service order to get extra credit.

It was my understanding that when the Wiring Maintenance plan was upgraded, it was necessary to disconnect the present plan and connect the full plan or the customer would be double charged. If we got extra credit, I assumed that it was a legitimate part of the sales program.

I have no knowledge (or proof) of any employee cheating on sales and if I had, I would as an employee and manager for Southern Bell, report them to the proper authority. It is my desire and duty to comply with any request for information in the investigation of this situation.

I have read the above statement consisting of nine pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and each correction.

PLACE: Orlando, Florida

DATE: September 18, 1990

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted]. My birth date is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with South Bell as a Service Technician and my DOS date with South Bell is January 10, 1972. I report to Mr. Don Babain at 1227 Division Street, Orlando, Florida and I may be contacted at 407-425-1707.

In March, 1989, I was relieved of my job as a Services Technician, and brought into the office to make telephone sales to subscribers. I concentrated on sales of Custom Calling features and the wiring maintenance plan.

After a couple of weeks on the sales job, it was brought to my attention that my sales were not as good as others in my district. My supervision [redacted] came to me one day to discuss my low sales. He suggested that one way to increase my sales was to review Customer records and find those subscribers that have only the inside wiring and jacks plan (WMP) and upgrade them to the full-maintenance plan (SEQ1X), without making a sales contact

With the Subscriber. He stated that the subscriber really needed the upgrade, and it would only cost them an extra $1.00 per month that they would not notice on their bill.

I took my Supervisor's suggestion and began submitting Network Sales Referrals without Contacting the subscriber on lines that only had WMR maintance. Since mid March 1989 I estimate that I have taken unearned Credit for hundreds of the upgraded maintenance Plan Sales without Contacting any of the subscribers.

I have reviewed 499 Network Sales Referral sheets that I submitted in May, 1990. All of there are sales referrals ~~that~~ I submitted without Contacting the Subscriber. I did not keep any records of my sales referrals since march of 1989, however I did submit a substancial number of referrals each month on subscribers that I did not contact. During this period I only submitted unauthorized referrals on the upgrade of the maintenance plan. All other sales referrals that I submitted on Custom calling features or Ring Master were actual sales from a Customer Contact either by telephone or in person.

Following the initial suggestion from my supervisor [redacted] to submit unauthorized sales, We have not discussed the matter again.

I Continued to submit unauthorized maintenance Plan Sales until the Gold Line Sales referral Program went into effect in my District in June of this year. Under the Gold Line Program, all sales are referred to Gold Line and they recontact the subscriber and confirm the sale. This made it impossible for me to submit a sale without first making contact with the subscriber.

My second level supervisor from March 1989 until April 1990 was [redacted]. He was not aware that I was submitting false sales referrals. I never discussed my sales with Mr. [redacted]. Any discussion I had with management about sales was with my supervisor.

Approximately two months ago I was approached by my present 2nd level supervisor [redacted]. He advised me that some of my sales were being questioned that they may be unauthorized. I told him there were no problems and that all of my sales were legitimate. He instructed me to maintain good records of who I spoke with when I call a subscriber so that I could prove my sales were legitimate. This was about the same time that the Gold Line Program went into effect. I started marking the sales referral sheets with either a M or F to indicate that I either spoke with the Mr. or the female of the family.

Approximately five years ago I was set back from supervision to Craft. I felt that I was unjustly set back and started to have a very poor attitude about my job.

When I was asked to come into the office to concentrate only on sales, I felt that this was a good opportunity for me not only to reverse my poor attitude, but to also prove to the Company that I was a good contributing employee. I worked very hard in the beginning on sales, but was not keeping up with the sales made by others in my district. Because of this I decided to take my [redacted] suggestion to refer sales without contacting the subscriber, so that I would look good in the eyes of the company.

I received a lot of gifts for my unauthorized sales. However this was not my main objective. I truly wanted to appear to the company to be a good and contributing employee.

I am glad that this problem has been uncovered. I knew that what I was doing was improper, and it has bothered me ever since I started.

I have read the above statement consisting of four pages and it includes all the truth to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have made all changes and corrections.

Interview of [redacted] Assistant Manager
(October 26, 1990)

[redacted] Assistant Manager, was interviewed and provided the following signed statement.

326 Fern Street
West Palm Beach, Florida

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I&M, in the West Palm Beach District. My social security number is [redacted]. I am [redacted] I was born on [redacted] I live at [redacted]

A. I have been informed by Mr. Robert Beatty, Corporate Attorney, Southern Bell, that he represents the corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that the interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege which belongs to and may be waived by the corporate entity. I helped organize the boiler room in the November time frame of 1988 at 1550 Haverhill Road, this is the Haverhill Central Office. The boiler room was located in my office. We ran from November through the end of 1988. There were eight or nine people working in the boiler room at any one time. I remember that [redacted] of the Engineering Department, [redacted] from the Division office, [redacted] Services Technician, and [redacted] Services Technician, worked in the boiler room for some period of time. I don't remember who the other people were. I started the sales program by using the Blue Book to get telephone numbers and then I pulled a DLR for the numbers. I took the DLR's to the employees for them to call and attempt to make a sale. I started this in the beginning of 1988 and would give the DLR's to [redacted] In November, we continued doing this and increased the number of DLR's for the people in the boiler room. [redacted] was on his own and did not work in the boiler room. [redacted] would work from his house or go door to door in condos to make sales. [redacted] was on light duty when I took the crew over and I just continued letting him make sales because he was good at it. The people that worked in the boiler room shared the points that were earned with everybody that worked under Butch Olsen. I provided the sales codes for the employees to input for credit. [redacted] kept a record of who received the points and would equalize the amount among the employees in [redacted] group. To my knowledge, [redacted] worked on sales all of 1988 and 1989. I don't remember when, but I was aware of a complaint by a customer on a sale of [redacted] told me that he could have made a mistake and wrote down the wrong telephone number because he sold such a high volume. I accepted his answer for that problem. The Business Office started complaining about the high number of sales slips, sometimes as many as 600 at one time that would be turned in to be input. They requested that I only turn in 100 to 200 at a time. I did this two times, but they never input them. I complained to and he set up the Dial America lines. sales slips would not be turned in every day, sometimes it was two weeks before he would turn them in. I remember that talked to me about a customer complaint on one of sales. I talked to about this and he said that he never wrote a sales slip that he didn't talk to the customer. I accepted this answer. The Business Office and had an agreement where they took credit for the Custom Calling Features and we took credit for the Wire Maintenance Plan for the sales they input for us. Sales points were given to the people in the Maintenance Center because said he needed sales points. I would take 100 or so points from and give them to people. I received a stereo, a cruise and a metal shed from the sales program. I got other gifts, but I don't remember what they were. I believe that got a color TV for his sales. would turn in his sales once a week or once every two weeks. made as many as 50-60 sales per day. This would make sales slips that had to be input and the Business Office didn't like this. When the Business Office complained of not being able to input the sales because of the customers already having the service, they would return it to me directly or through Butch. On the ones I checked, I found the records didn't match on some of them. I took no other action on these referrals. I am not aware of any improprieties in the sales program. called me on October 25, 1990 and told me that Security was conducting an investigation into the sales program. That was all said to me about the investigation.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and three other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all four pages and all corrections.

Interview of _____ Assistant Manager
(October 26, 1990)

_____, Assistant Manager, was interviewed and provided the following signed statement.

326 Fern Street
West Palm Beach, Florida

I, _____ hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I&M, in the West Palm Beach District. My social security number is [redacted]. I am _____ I was born on _____ I live at 153 Highland Park Drive, West Palm Beach, Florida. I have been informed by Mr. Robert Beatty, Corporate Attorney, Southern Bell, that he represents the corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that the interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege which belongs to and may be waived by the corporate entity. I helped organize the boiler room in the November time frame of 1988 at 1550 Haverhill Road, this is the Haverhill Central Office. The boiler room was located in my office. We ran from November through the end of 1988. There were eight or nine people working in the boiler room at any one time. I remember that _____ of the Engineering Department, Shirley Fisher from the Division office, _____ Services Technician, and _____ Services Technician, worked in the boiler room for some period of time. I don't remember who the other people were. I started the sales program by using the Blue Book to get telephone numbers and then I pulled a DLR for the numbers. I took the DLR's to the employees for them to call and attempt to make a sale. I started this in the beginning of 1988 and would give the DLR's to _____ In November, we continued doing this and increased the number of DLR's for the people in the boiler room. _____ was on his own and did not work in the boiler room _____ would work from his house or go door to door in condos to make sales. _____ was on light duty when I took the crew over and I just continued letting him make sales because he was good at it. The people that worked in the boiler room shared the points that were earned with everybody that worked under Butch Olsen. I provided the sales codes for the employees to input for credit. _____ kept a record of who received the points and would equalize the amount among the employees in _____ group. To my knowledge, _____ worked on sales all of 1988 and 1989. I don't remember when, but I was aware of a complaint by a customer on a sale of _____ told me that he could have made a mistake and wrote down the wrong telephone number because he sold such a high volume. I accepted his answer for that problem. The Business Office started complaining about the high number of sales slips, sometimes as many as 600 at one time that would be turned in to be input. They requested that I only turn in 100 to 200 at a time. I did this two times, but they never input them. I complained to and he set up the Dial America lines. sales slips would not be turned in every day, sometimes it was two weeks before he would turn them in. I remember that talked to me about a customer complaint on one of sales. I talked to Bailey about this and he said that he never wrote a sales slip that he didn't talk to the customer. I accepted this answer. The Business Office and Butch had an agreement where they took credit for the Custom Calling features and we took credit for the Wire Maintenance Plan for the sales they input for us. Sales points were given to the people in the Maintenance Center because said he needed sales points. I would take 100 or so points from Bailey and give them to people. I received a stereo, a cruise and a metal shed from the sales program. I got other gifts, but I don't remember what they were. I believe that got a color TV for his sales. would turn in his sales once a week or once every two weeks. made as many as 50-60 sales per day. This would make sales slips that had to be input and the Business Office didn't like this. When the Business Office complained of not being able to input the sales because of the customers already having the service, they would return it to me directly or through On the ones I checked, I found the records didn't match on some of them. I took no other action on these referrals. I am not aware of any improprieties in the sales program. called me on October 25, 1990 and told me that Security was conducting an investigation into the sales program. That was all said to me about the investigation.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and three other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all four pages and all corrections.

"Orlando, Florida
October 17, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as a Manager-IMC, Orlando, Florida, and my net credited service date is July 29, 1957.

When _____ became our District Manager, he encouraged sales. The Maintenance Center wanted to be competitive with the Installation and Maintenance forces. We knew they had someone earmarked for sales because we saw the force reports. We tried to encourage all employees to make sales during their normal contacts. We eventually evolved to a "boiler room" type operation. I do not recall discussing this type operation with anyone above my level. I don't recall receiving any correspondence regarding the "boiler room" type operation, not being sanctioned by the Company. If I had, I would have certainly ceased the "boiler room" operation immediately. I have just reviewed correspondence from _____ erations Manager-Network dated May 24, 1988 and June 21, 1988, relating to "boiler room" operations and Mrs. _____ concern regarding such operations. This is the first time I have seen this correspondence or been made aware that "boiler room" operations were not approved or sanctioned by Southern Bell. I have reviewed my statement dated September 19, 1990, and have no additional information to offer at this time.

I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Signed:

Interview Of [redacted] General Manager-Network
(November 2, 1990)

Fort Lauderdale, Florida

I [redacted], hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am [redacted] having been born on [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted]. My title is General Manager-Network. I was assigned to the Southeast Area in my present position in October 1987. I recall that prior to this assignment, a sales campaign had begun. I believe it was called the Florida Cup Challenge and it was a Network Sales Program. This campaign, as all others, was developed by Network staff in accordance with established guidelines. I recall that the Staff covered the General Managers and then covered the field forces regarding the campaign parameters. There was a lot of enthusiasm and spirit of competition amongst the turfs and across the state. All this was for the purpose of driving revenues up. We monitored the results monthly and discussed any outstanding individual sales. We would also pursue any problems aggressively. With regard to boiler rooms, we have never sanctioned the utilization of able full time employees to make telephone sales. We have never sanctioned boiler rooms. I consider that any person assigned to do sales for a session or multiple sessions is a boiler room operation. I recall a meeting with [redacted] where he was opposed to boiler rooms. I supported [redacted] in this position and brought this message back to my people. The vast majority of boiler rooms as I have described them, have been done with incapacitated employees. I believe this is good utilization of these people. I recall in general discussions with [redacted] or my other Operations Managers about boiler room discussions. [redacted] tells me that I got on his case regarding the utilization of a boiler room. I do not recall this. But I probably would have done that if I thought that a boiler room was in place. I was not aware that there was a boiler room operation in West Palm Beach at any time. A reorganization of Network on October 1, 1987 caused a number of surplus people. These folks along with incapacitated employees may have been used to do telephone sales. [redacted] is a solid manager who will do whatever is necessary to get the job done ethically. Recently [redacted] told me that he had apprised me of the boiler room operation in West Palm. However, I do not recall having that knowledge. My comments in meeting with my folks were always to discourage boiler rooms. The utilization of able bodies to do telephone sales would negatively impact service results. I would never condone those actions. I was not aware that we had one employee doing telephone sales from his home. I would not have allowed it. I never received any telephone calls or complaints.

from staff, Customer Services, or my Operations Managers that would cause me to believe we had any problems of credibility. I believe I have an open line of communication with Network Staff. I have now reviewed a PSC complaint dated November 15, 198__, notes concerning samples of sales in November 1989, and a letter from to concerning the credibility of a craft employee, . I have never seen these documents before. Nor, was I ever told of those incidents at the time they were occurring. brought this PSC complaint to my attention in the last week. I believe that if had recognized the seriousness of that situation, he would have acted accordingly and aggressively. One thing we have learned from this investigation is that we need more details in the reports generated by GoldLine. I have already asked to generate said reports. On October 19, 1990, and I had a private meeting wherein he instructed me to look administratively in my area to identify if we had problems with our sales program. He asked me to look at files and not to talk to anyone below second level managers. I asked to conduct this investigation because had given me the names and from the West Palm Beach Division. I cautioned to contain the investigation. interviewed me two weeks ago on Saturday, when we talked about this case. Mr. Beatty, at the beginning of this interview, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege and that said privilege may be waived by the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege and that said privilege may be waived by the Company. Mr. Beatty further requested that the entire substance of this interview be kept confidential.

I have read the above statement consisting of five pages and it is true and complete to the best of my recollection.

Interview of _____ _____ was interviewed on October 26, 1990, to develop additional information regarding his knowledge of the Network Sales Program and he provided the following signed statement.

The Mechanized Time Reporting (MTR) records referred to in Mann's statement are being retained in the Security file.

"Orlando, Florida
October 26, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am the Manager-Network I&M for the Orlando Sandlake District.

When _____ became the Orlando Division Network Operations Manager in 1987, he made it known to all his managers that he was very strong on Network sales.

During 1988, when the Sandlake I&M District was under the supervision of _____ he had at least one craft employee on full time telephone solicitation sales. Because of this his sales were always much higher than my district. At that time, I was the second level manager over the Orlando I&M District. Because _____ sales were so much higher than mine, Mr. _____ numerous occasions strongly encouraged me to take the necessary steps to increase my level of sales.

In early 1988, one of my supervisors, _____ came to me and wanted to put an employee on solicitation sales. I agreed and he was to only use a person on light duty or when the work load permitted.

He initially started using Services Technician _____ After a short time and after some training her sale production was fair but not at the level of the Sandlake group. The monitoring of the solicitation sales was left to supervisor _____ He sat with the employee frequently and observed her sales technique. There were no specific guidelines established to call back a percentage of the contacts to verify the sales. I did not feel there was an integrity problem because I had not received any subscriber complaints.

I had mentioned to that I did initiate a telephone solicitation sale program and he thought it was a good idea.

During the whole time that I used an employee to make solicitation sales, I had no reason to suspect a problem until the complaints regarding employee came to light. That is when I ceased all telephone solicitations and had all sales routed through GoldLine.

As I recall, using an employee full time on solicitation sales began sometime in 1987 under second level manager and his first level supervisor This is when the Sandlake District sales started being so much higher than all other groups in the Orlando Division. They also were winners in most of the State sales contests.

I don't recall ever being told, or reading any correspondence, that telephone solicitation sales were not condoned during specific sales contests.

During my management career with the Company in Orlando, I have never had any personal knowledge or indications that there was cheating on sales in the Network Organization, until this recent incident surfaced. If I would have had such knowledge, I would have taken the necessary steps to correct any wrong doing and apprised higher management.

Mr. Bradley and I have reviewed the available Mechanized Time Reporting (MTR) records in my office. Employee was charging his time on the sales job to Accounting Code 5532, which is used for Miscellaneous meetings. I have provided Mr. Bradley a copy of the 1990 MTR records for If this record on other employees in my group used on sales is required, I will take the necessary steps to obtain the records from Comptrollers.

I have read the above statement consisting of three (3) pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Signed:

Manager-Network

Interview Of T. G. Davis, Operations Manager-Network
(November 1, 1990)

Ft. Lauderdale, Florida

I, _____, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am _____ having been born on _____. My social security number is [redacted]. My title is Operations Manager-Network and I have employed with Southern Bell for 32 years. Mr. Robert Beatty has advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege which is a privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. Further, that the entire substance of this interview remain confidential. I was reassigned to the Palm Beach Division on October 1, 1987. As I recall, sales at that time were a hot and heavy item. I recall we had a boiler room operation that we stocked with light duty people and surplused clerks. We also had a high maintenance season. I recall that after Thanksgiving of 1987, _____ and I discussed that the boiler room operation did not look "good" in light of the high maintenance. Sometime around December 1987, I ordered the boiler room shut down. Further, telling my people that I did not want to see another boiler room. During this time period, we were doing so good on sales that the Business Office could not keep up with our sales referrals. As a result, an arrangement was made with the Business Office for us to input our own sales. I did not see anything wrong with a boiler room as long as it was using people that were on light duty. I repeatedly questioned my people and was told that they only had people that were on light duty on this project. In June of 1989, the NFL campaign was kicked off and I was reluctant to start a boiler room again. In fact, I decided not to. Back during the boiler room of 1987, _____ was surplus and I sent her to work in the boiler room. I asked _____ to send someone and he sent _____. I also asked _____ to send some clerks to help us with the administration of the sales program or to input sales. I recall there was a problem at the Business Office with inputting sales, but I do not recall what specifically those problems were. I also recall _____ concern with having people in the boiler room that should be on the load when, in fact, we were having trouble handling the load. I checked and assured _____ we did not have this condition. I was not aware that there may have been as many as 25 people associated with the boiler room in some fashion or other. I can only recollect that there were around five to seven light duty Technicians and three or four clerks at any one time. On or about October 19, 1990, _____ during an Operations meeting, shared with us that there was an ongoing investigation in Orlando where some people were terminated with regard to their fraudulent sales. On the side showed me a list of names and indicated I had two people whose sales were being questioned. He told me I needed to look into this. In fact, requested his four Operations Managers to investigate in their respective turfs. Later that day called me and told me he had spoken with He told me to keep this matter confidential and that I was only to investigate down to second level managers and no lower. When I got through with my investigation, I was to write, a memo containing my findings. I prepared a memo for but never typed it and never sent it to him because I did not want to influence the Security investigation. While I was writing the memo, I had a conversation with on October 23, 1990, wherein she asked me if I had seen the PSC inquiry she had left in my in basket. I went back and looked at said PSC and was surprised that I had never seen it before. I have reviewed the January 10, 1990 D.O.C. minutes and a PSC report attached wherein it indicates that this PSC was discussed by me. I do not recollect discussing this PSC. I also recollect a discussion with wherein she told me that she had received a call from someone concerning a backlog at the Business Office. also mentioned prior to December 1, 1989, that maybe some customers had been sold without being contacted. My actions were to call and ask him to look into this immediately. I recall pumping pretty hard on this subject at that time and felt pretty good with his response. In retrospect, I don't feel too good in light of the PSC complaint and a note I received from on October 23, 1990 that she had taken concerning the inquiry, wherein there are questions of integrity concerning response came by letter dated December 1, 1989. I am now upset at myself for not having pushed it further back then. As I recall, what led me to believe was that the problem was Customer Services specifically, did not agree with Network's involvement in sales. That she was measured on her 5100 for sales and we were taking their sales. I had heard rumors that there was bad blood between and To fix this problem, he told me he had spoken with and and was instructed to go to telephone solicitors for input of our sales. In my view, there was animosity between my people and Customer Services. , nor called me about any problems with our sales. I do not feel my people sold without first contacting customers. Mistakes may have been made, but I do not have a question of their credibility. I never received any calls or correspondence from anyone other than or Having found the PSC complaint and discovering notes concerning the December 1, 1989 memo, I decided to back off the investigation. I immediately called and advised him that I had found something. I requested him to bring in Security or Internal Auditors. I have talked to no one else regarding this matter until today. With regard to the boiler room. I am embarrassed that we had 25 people for that operation without my knowledge. I never would have allowed it. The only people I would allow were those that were on light duty or on surplus. Back in 1987 and throughout, I have encouraged sales. I encouraged individual Services Technicians to be top salesman. I recall encouraging the sale of TIPS. I recall a sales campaign in 1987 when the prize was a cruise for management. We won and participated in the cruise. Back in December 1987, I told my managers to disband the boiler room. I never visited the boiler room. I attempted to one time, but found it had been moved. I was never told by anyone that our sales program was affecting our service results. I am not aware that the boiler room ran beyond December 1987. I recall in staff meetings that sales were emphasized. Each month, the high sales turf would be recognized by awarding a wooden wheel from a ship. Also the lowest sale turf would be recognized with something else. Beyond 1987, the telephone sales continued by people on light duty and decentralized and by individual Services Technicians in the field. knew about the boiler room because I told him. The load results are measured by missed opportunities, service order load and report rates. There was never any indication that the service was affected by sales. Attributing to poor service results was the continued growth in the Division. On October 23, 1990, I interviewed for about two hours concerning this matter. On the 19th, we talked on the telephone about and has told me that he called but did not recall calling regarding this matter. I know I told my managers not to talk to their subordinates about this. With regard to Services Technicians selling from their home, I would not allow it. I did not know it was going on. Concerning disabilities, has told me he had seen doctors' notes for him to be on light duty. To my knowledge, medical condition was never discussed with our Company doctor. I was aware that award points were being spread. I felt it was equitable because I received no complaints. I would assume that the intent of the sales plan was that the person who made the sale should be awarded the points.

I have read the above statement consisting of eight pages and it is true and complete to the best of my recollection.

"Orlando, Florida
October 18, 1990

I [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birthdate is [redacted] and my Social Security Number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-IMC in the Orlando District Maintenance Center.

As I stated in my meeting with Mr. Bradley on September 19, 1990, it is my understanding that the telephone sales solicitation program in the Orlando Maintenance Center was initially set up and supervised by Assistant Manager [redacted] I don't recall when he started the program but it was several years ago. I was not asked by my supervisor if I thought setting up the sales solicitation program or "Boiler Room Operation" was either the proper or improper thing to do. As I also indicated in my earlier statement, the person doing the telephone sales would be rotated among all the Maintenance Center first level supervisors. This would allow the supervision sales credit points generated by the sales to also be spread among all the supervisors.

When [redacted] was placed under my supervision I did receive sales points and gifts based on her sales. However, as I also stated on September 19, 1990, she was left alone to make sales and she only reported to me on paper.

I was not given any instructions to follow-up on any of her sales or recontact a subscriber to verify any sale. I did receive some telephone complaints from the Business Office regarding Taylor's sales, that the subscriber did not order the Wiring Maintenance Plan added to their service. There were very few complaints based on her large volume of sales so I did not think there was a problem with her integrity. When I did receive a complaint I went to her and told her to make sales aboveboard on her sales. I did not take the complaints any further or recontact the subscriber.

I don't have personal knowledge that [redacted] knew that we were operating a "Boiler Room" sales operation. However, I think they would have to know since we generated so many sales.

I don't have any knowledge that "Boiler Room" sales are not sanctioned by the Company. It was never mentioned to me by anyone in meetings with my supervisor [redacted] or any other meetings I have attended.

/ In regard to employee _____ she spent the majority of her time selling, but on rare occasions she would be pulled to perform her Maintenance Administrator duties.

I have no knowledge that false sales were being reported
5 by , when she was under my supervision. I also have no personal knowledge regarding cheating on sales by anyone else in the Orlando Division.

In retrospect, obviously the sales program should have been better supervised. However, while under my supervision there /o was no glaring indications that may be cheating. The Maintenance Center job is very busy and time consuming, and on my part, the sales had low priority since it seemed to be going so well with very few subscriber complaints.

I read the above statement consisting of 4 pages and it is true to best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

/8 Signed:

Asst. Mgr. IMC

I [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am presently employed with Southern Bell as an Administrative Support Manager reporting to [redacted] at 1227 South Division Street, Orlando, Florida. I can be reached at 407-841-8978.

In 1988 I was the supervisor of an I&M crew in the Orlando, Florida District. When [redacted] took over as the Network Operations Manager in the first part of 1988, he made sales a very important part of our daily business. He stressed pretty hard that sales was good revenue for the Company and that we, as employees, were overlooking good opportunities to sell since we in the Network group met the customer face to face.

At this time the Sandlake I&M District under [redacted] was very high on sales and consistently out sold the Orlando District. They were utilizing at least one person to do nothing else but make telephone solicitation sales.

I decided to take a person out of my crew to also do telephone sales in an attempt to catch up with the Sandlake District sales. I talked with my supervisor Ray Mann and he agreed.

I used Services Technician [redacted] I brought her into the Division Street Work Center. Initially, we used the Orlando Blue Book and the telephone directory to make calls. After about two weeks she was only selling approximately eight to ten Wiring Maintenance Plans a day, which was not worth her time off the work load.

I learned that the Sandlake District was using Customer Service Records on microfiche to make their calls. This record would show if the customer had either the full or partial Wiring Maintenance Plan which we concentrated on.

These microfiche records were originally ordered and sent to [redacted] office.

[redacted] was the Assistant Manager in the Sandlake District that was using Services Technician [redacted] to make solicitation calls. I understand that she was on light duty when she did solicitation and I believe that she was recovering from a knee operation.

was very successful in making calls, so I decided to have sit with her to see what her technique was. I sat and observed along with for approximately one hour. In that time she made about 20 calls and reached about 12 to 15 subscribers. Of those she did reach, she sold the Maintenance Plan to over half of them. She had a very good sales pitch. stayed with about a day and a half picking up sales pointers. Because of this, her sales immediately picked up to about 30 to 35 sales a day.

explained to me that whenever his telephone solicitor would make contact with a subscriber and was able to upgrade the wiring plan, he would have the employee write the order to disconnect the plan already on the subscriber's line and show the installation of the full plan, SEQ1X. This would reflect a two dollar sale as opposed to a one dollar sale to add the additional feature. Because of the additional credit that could be received, I instructed ,to prepare her sales referral forms the same way. Actually, the way I understood it, the referral form had to be written this way anyway, or the subscriber would be double charged. He would have been charged for the partial plan already on his line and for the full SEQ1X service.

would turn in her sales referral sheets to me daily and I forwarded them to the MSOC Service Order Group in the Orlando Customer Services Office.

When I put on sales, I instructed her to make sure she spoke with the subscriber and make every effort to sell the full or upgraded Maintenance Plan or any other available service. However, I did not instruct her to keep a record of the name of the person she spoke with or the time of day. For a while I kept a copy of referral forms which reflected the date of her sale. However, I stopped keeping copies after about 6 months because of the volume of forms. The copies that I kept have since been discarded.

In late 1988 showed me a list from the Business Office reflecting the names and telephone numbers of approximately 20 subscribers complaining that a service had been added to their telephone without their authorization. Three to four sales made by was on the list.

I went to and questioned her. She assured me that she was contacting the subscriber on all her sales. She explained that she possibly spoke with the Mrs. and the complaint was from the husband, or she could have spoken with a teenager not realizing she was not talking with the subscriber. I instructed her to make sure that she was talking with the actual subscriber and that we were aboveboard on all our sales. I did not instruct her to keep a record of who in the family she spoke with.

Because her sales were so good and this was the only complaint that I received about her sales, I had no reason to doubt that her sales were legitimate.

As I recall, the list of customer complaints reflected the names of [redacted] and [redacted] who were Maintenance Administrators in the Test Center.

[redacted] received several gifts for her good sales and I also received a 22 rifle and a 12 gauge shotgun.

At no time did I ever instruct, request, or condone any cheating in my sales.

At some point close to the end of 1988 the sales race was close between the Sandlake I&M District and the Maintenance Center. [redacted] who was in the Sandlake District told me that the Maintenance Center was upgrading the Wiring Maintenance Plan on telephone service that had been restored after being suspended for non-pay. I don't know where he got that information or if it was true. I did not tell my supervisor what [redacted] said about the Maintenance Center.

When I decided to put someone on telephone sales solicitation, sometimes called the "Boiler Room" sales approach, I made the decision on my own but did apprise my supervisor [redacted] He did not have any objection to this sales approach, especially after our sales increased so much. Operations Manager [redacted] when he was here, and my present Operations Manager [redacted] were both aware that the I&M groups and the Maintenance Center were utilizing employees to make telephone sales. I have no knowledge that [redacted] or [redacted] would condone unauthorized sales or any other improper operation of our business. As a matter of fact, on more than one occasion, [redacted] has specifically told me that he better not catch me cheating. He was referring to production figures for the Services Technicians. In my present position as Support Manager, I have personal control of these figures.

[redacted], Assistant Manager, worked in the Division Office as the Orlando Network Division Sales Coordinator, along with his other duties. When he moved from the Division Office to the Sandlake I&M Group with similar duties as I, he also retained the job as Division Sales Coordinator.

When he was not available or busy, I assisted him at times in this job. My assistance usually involved transferring all sales figures for all employees in the Division to a local computer form to keep track of the Division sales.

In this job I did notice that some employees were very high on their sales, however, I knew that these employees were being utilized strictly on telephone solicitation and didn't think there might be a problem.

I did not have any instructions as Sales Coordination Assistant to verify any sales by recontacting the subscriber. I don't believe that Altuvilla had any such instructions either.

As far as I know, the only way we had to add any sale to a customer's line was to fill out the Network Sales Referral Form and forward them directly to the Customer Service MSOC Group and a Service Order Typist would issue a Service Order.

This all changed when GoldLine went into effect this year. There was some concern that GoldLine would not be able to handle the volume of our sales, and the Network Division would not get proper sales credit.

I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialled each page and all corrections.

Interview of [redacted] Services Technician
(October 25, 1990)

October 25, 1990
326 Fern Street
West Palm Beach, Florida

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell in West Palm Beach as a Services Technician. My social security number is [redacted], my date of birth is [redacted]. My net credited service date is February, 1979. I live at 16700 West Yorkshire Drive, Loxahatchee, Florida. My home telephone number is [redacted]. For the last two years I have done mostly sales which consisted of telephone sales, door to door handouts of flyers, and I made some personal presentations to condominiums. The flyers had my name and sales code on them so that when the customer called in for service, they would give my name and sales number. I worked for [redacted] and [redacted] during the last two years and they were aware of my sales activity all of the time. I did almost no installation work. I was told to do sales. I was provided a printout with telephone numbers, names, and addresses, with some of the services subscribed to by the customer to call for sales. This printout was almost never up-to-date. At times I was given a telephone book to make sale calls from when the printout was not available. I spent time in the 68 Office where telephone lines were set up for us to call out on. Other times, I did the calling from cross boxes in the field. [redacted] was in the office some of time when I called from the 68 Central Office. A lot of the time I would call from the cross boxes because of the other people in the office. I do not remember who the other people were. [redacted] was aware of my sales activity during this time. I received a colored television, 20 inch Sony, from the catalog along with other things that I do not remember. I used points from the sales I made, and points I got from the sales I made that were referred to me by other employees. I talked to every single customer that I made a telephone sales sheet on and took credit for a sale. I feel that if a mistake was made, it was made in the business office because they are the ones who typed the orders in. I felt the person in the business office knew or should have known which ones were sales and which weren't. At first I filled out sales forms, but most of the time I just stroked the printout to show a sale was made. Sometimes I would fill out the form from the printout and the foreman would take them to the business office. I would wait until I had a bunch of sales, sometimes two weeks later, to fill out the forms. Sometimes the person in [redacted] office, [redacted] would fill out the forms and send them to the business office. The business office did not like this because it caused extra work for them and cost them sales. The flyers were handouts, but I did not call these customers. We did not think it was illegal. I got a lot of credit from the flyers. We stopped giving out the flyers in the beginning of 1990 and the sales went down. We also stopped the telephone calling for sales. My boss, talked to me about a Public Service Commission complaint in 1989. I do not remember the outcome of the complaint because I was never told. I know I talked to the customer, but the spouse came home and changed his/her mind about the service as far as I remember. Most of the customers went for the maintenance plan because of the $25.00 service charge for repairs. None of my bosses have ever told me to do anything wrong. They have always been on the up and up. The reason I did not call the customers over flyers was because I did not know which customers called the business office. There was a toll free number on the flyers that was in Miami.

I have read the above statement, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all changes. This statement consist of three (3) pages.

October 19, 1990

Jacksonville, Florida

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] my birthdate is [redacted] and my Social Security Number is [redacted]

Since June of 1990, I have been in the position of Network Operations Manager for the South Broward Division. From September, 1987 through mid May, 1989, I was Network Operations Manager for the Orlando Division and prior to moving to Orlando I was the Network Operations Manager in the South Dade Division. Throughout my career in Network, along with all other facets of my job, I have put emphasis on sales. I feel that the employees in the field and the Maintenance Centers have excellent opportunities to make sales contacts either in person or by telephone, and can generate significant revenue for the Company. While in South Dade, along with normal sales contacts, I utilized employees when the work load permitted, to canvas customers by telephone using Business Office microfiche records to sell available services and features not on the subscriber's line. This boiler room method of sales was very successful and produced extensively more revenue than the normal contacts by Services Technicians or Maintenance Administrators. I utilized only those employees adept in sales. However, if they desired, all employees were given the opportunity to demonstrate their sales ability. When I moved to Orlando, telephone sales by a dedicated employee was in place under I&M second level manager [redacted] I allowed this program to continue as well as establishing other forms of recognition (dinners) to encourage sales. I also encouraged the other managers to review the use of telephone sales and to implement the program, if possible, based on the work load and service requirements. In late 1988, I know it was put into practice in the Maintenance Center under second level manager [redacted] and I encouraged Ray Mann to implement a similar program in his I&M group.

As I recall, I received a note from Orlando Customer Services Operations Manager [redacted] around April or May of 1989 regarding sales that were denied by subscribers. The four or five employees on that list were identified by their sales code and only had few denied sales each, with the exception of one employee that had several returned sales. As I recall, this was an employee by the name of [redacted] working for [redacted] as a Maintenance Administrator. I had [redacted] investigate [redacted] sales. He advised me that the Business Office was right and that [redacted] sales were illegal. Employee [redacted] had other problems, with attendance possibly, and was close to receiving severe discipline. I reviewed the matter with Bradley, included this incident with her overall problem, and she was induced to resign. I got back with Tyo and requested that he keep me informed of any additional complaints. I did not receive any from him and I am not aware of any other complaints that may have been referred directly to my first or second level managers. I considered this matter with Leatherman to be an isolated incident. Shortly thereafter I left Orlando. In any of my manager's meetings when sales were discussed or we reviewed the sales results, I always emphasized to them that the sales should be correct and for them to make sure that the people on telephone sales were doing what they were supposed to. When I was in South Dade, I would receive inquiries from the Business Office often regarding sales discrepancies and they would be resolved. I don't recall that any of the sales were illegal, but problems with the seller not talking with the actual subscriber or with one member of the family no longer desiring the new service added. In my division, I had a sales coordinator that kept track of the sales to make sure that the proper sales credit points were distributed to the employees making sales. He would also interface with the managers and the North Florida Area Network Staff Sales Coordinator in Jacksonville. The Sales Coordinator would transfer all of the monthly sales from the 2011A printout to a local spread sheet that would give me the up-to-date figures on all of the sales for all of the people in my group. These sales results were also furnished to all my second level managers. I did not normally receive sales figures on other turf results, only when there was a specific state sales contest. Prior to 1986, managers received only a pat on the back or met a 5100 commitment in regard to sales. Starting in 1986, I believe is the first time that managers got sales points toward the purchase of gifts, based on the sales of their employees. Sales points were 10% of six months generated revenue to the employee selling, 3% to the first level, 2% to the second level, and 1% of the sale to the Operations Manager. I personally received gifts for sales and as a winner in sales contests, won boat trips to the Virgin Islands in 1987 and 1988. A complete record of who won the boat trips to the Virgin Islands would be on file in the office of Operations Manager [redacted] in Ft. Lauderdale. However, in 1987 there were six boats with four couples (an employee and a guest) on each boat. I recall that along with me, Operations Managers [redacted] and [redacted], 2nd levels [redacted] and [redacted] and first level [redacted] went on that trip.

On the trip I took in 1988, I recall that Assistant Vice-President [redacted] General Manager [redacted] Operations Manager [redacted] 2nd levels [redacted] and [redacted], 1st levels [redacted] and [redacted] and Florida Sales Coordinator [redacted] were along.

While in the Orlando Division, I don't recall that I ever personally spoke with about my use of the boiler room sales technique; however, I assumed that based on the amount of sales that we made, he knew it. I first became aware of this type sales operation in 1982 when I went to the North Dade District. There was already a boiler room operation in place under Operations Manager subsequently transferred to West Miami and again the same boiler room operation was already in place there under Operations Manager As a matter of fact, any Network Division with good sales has used or is using the boiler room technique of customer canvasing. In regard to the present investigation in Orlando, I had no indication while there that there may be any kind of improper sales other than the incident with In retrospect, obviously there should have been better controls on the telephone sales employees. However, the vast majority of our employees are honest and I try to treat all of my people that way. I also was not aware that the Network Sales Referral Forms were not being input by Service Representatives and that they were, in fact, going to the MSOP group and the service was directly input to the system by service order typists. I am not personally aware of any legal proceedings that could be affected by the information developed in this investigation. I have never heard of the case; however, I am aware that there is a case pending in either North or South Carolina regarding the package deal where service was being placed on the customer's line without them being informed by Service Representatives.

I have read the above statement consisting of six pages and it is true to the best of my recolection. I have initialed each page

Interview of [redacted] Operations Manager-Customer Service
(October 30, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at [redacted] and subscribe to telephone number [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Operations Manager-Customer Service. My date of birth is [redacted] and social security number is [redacted]. My net credited service date is May of 1976. In March 1989, I was transferred to the West Palm Beach Business Office. I became aware of the sales problem the first time when I saw stacks of sales referrals and the potential wrongdoing just through sheer volume. I went to Shirley Jarriel and asked her to do a representative sample of the sales referrals. The result was almost 100% of the customers did not get contacted, didn't order the Maintenance Plan or did not want the Maintenance Plan. Of these customers, two of them were Service Representatives and they were upset when told. Also, some of the customers had disconnected their service prior to the sales data. I believe Shirley did a second sampling and the results were basically the same. I told [redacted] to take whatever action she thought appropriate including telling [redacted] that if he didn't like her refusal to issue orders he could call me or have his brass call me. I supported [redacted] appropriately and strongly. I don't know the data, but I called [redacted] General Manager-Customer Services, to inform him of a large scale problem with Network Sales. I gave him the same examples as above. I told him I couldn't afford to take on a pay grade 7 or 8 and asked him to do what ever appropriate. [redacted] did such things as GoldLine to preclude this kind of activity from happening again. I then contacted my three managers asked if they had the same problem. [redacted] said "No", [redacted] said she didn't see the problem [redacted] saw. [redacted] brought in GoldLine which stopped sales incentive plans in other departments. It's those incentive plans that may have driven the bad behavior of those people involved. [redacted] Staff Manager, [redacted] has a letter from Network Staff stating "we cannot input our own sales because of the integrity question!"

I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct.

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. Referance is made to my statement of October 30, 1990. It should be noted that this is a continuation or clarification of certain points in said statement. Mr. Robert Beatty had advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege which is a privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. Mr. Beatty further requested that the entire substance of this interview remain confidential. In response to specific questions regarding the Network Sales Referral Program, I can offer the following. I transferred to West Palm Beach in my present position as Operations Manager-Customer Services, in March 1989. More specifically, March 15, 1989. Within 60 days of being on this job, I became aware of a stack of sales referral forms from the Network Department. What was alarting of this was the sheer volume of referrals. The number of sales in that stack far exceeded the number of sales that a good Service Representative could do in an equal period of time. I was to believe that a Services Technician could, with limited sales experience, outsell an experienced Service Representative.

shared with me her feelings that those stacks were "assumptive" sales; meaning that an assumption may have been made that the customer would want the service and was, therefore, never contacted. I should point out that these sales were for the Wire Maintenance Plan. I am not aware who in Network was responsible for the sales, the name does not mean anything to me. I requested that conduct a sampling of these referrals to identify customer acceptance for the service. She instructed her subordinates on how to do said sample. The findings were that 100% or nearly 100% of the customers contacted had not been sold the service, nor did they want to buy it at this time. told me that upon referring her findings to he had responded that no sample she made could be large enough to disprove the validity of the sales. I again asked to do a second sample. This one was about 50 customers that were sampled with the same results as before. I recall that in some of the samples, the customer's service had been disconnected prior to the date of the alleged sales contact by Network. I also recall a couple of sales referrals involving Service Representatives' residence service. This, in itself, appeared inconsistent because if the Service Representatives were told to add any features or additional services to their lines, they would sell it to themselves. I recall telling that she should contact and advise him of her findings. Further, to tell him that we would not be able to process those sales referrals in our possession because we doubted their integrity and considered them assumptive sales. I also told that she was to tell that if he had problems with our decision, he could call me or have his General Manager, call me. It should be noted that in spite of returning large amounts of sales referrals and refusing to input any others, I never did receive any calls from or concerning this decision. Pursuant to this time frame and around the summer of 1989, I called my boss, and discussed in detail with him my concern with the above described condition. I told him all that we had done and requested that he should bridge the subject at his level with the Network Department. The relationship at my level of management with Network is such that I felt more could be accomplished at the General level to resolve this problem. I recall that acknowledged the problem, giving me the impression that he was aware and was attempting to correct it. In the course of this telephone conversation, the name of came up. was indicating that while attempting to establish GoldLine with an expected deployment date of January 1, 1990, he had run into problems with Network not wanting to give up their sales programs. name came up in this context. GoldLine was designed to bring together all sales programs into one plan where gifts and awards would be equally disbursed to any and all departments. The sales programs in the Network Department were driven by incentives or awards that were much higher than any program our department ever had. It is my sense that maybe the incentive awards drove the behavior that resulted in this problem. The other sales driver was the higher management motivation to enhance revenue. I not sure that the value of awards associated with the Network Sales Program was being recuperated by the value of services sold. In other words, it may have cost more than the revenue received. I recall talking in our staff wherein she initiated a document to Network with respect to the integrity of their sales. I do not possess said document but believe that should have it in her files. With regard to my telephone call to I believe there were several avenues he could pursue. I never discussed this with him again and I am not aware of what he did with this with the exception of GoldLine. did not instruct me to discuss this with My understanding was that he would talk to GoldLine, in my opinion, could not have happened without a meeting of the minds of general level managers. There was no exchange of correspondence from me to anyone with regard to this matter. With regard to a Network employee inputting their own orders out of one of my units, I can state that I became aware of it at some point in time. I do not know how this got started, but I do know that no one called me to arrange for said operation. I personally did not have a problem with it. In the absence of dealing directly with the problem and if that approach was not possible, than maybe Network should input their own sales referrals.

I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and it is true and complete to the best of my recollection.

Interview of [redacted]

Merritt Island, Florida
September 1, 1989

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birth date is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as a Service Representative - Residence in the Merritt Island Customer Services Group. I report to [redacted] and can be reached through her at 407-455-7011.

I have reviewed the Customer Service Record on the telephone service for fellow employee [redacted] 407-452-5487-315. In the notations for April 20, 1989, the account reflects that this service was changed from credit class "B" to a permanent credit class "B" and the notations reflect that I was the Service Representative that made the change.

I do not recall making a change in the credit class for employee [redacted] I know that there have been occasions when other employees have used my IBOSS position when I would either forget to sign off or the system would go down prior to lunch and it would automatically come up when I was at lunch.

I have reviewed the Customer Service Record on the telephone service for fellow employee 407-724-4060. In the notations for June 14, 1989, the account reflects that this service was also changed from credit class "B" to permanent credit class "B" and the notations again reflected that I was the Service Representative that made the change. Again, I do not recall making the change.

I have changed customer credit classes before after payment arrangements were made for two accounts with different billing dates to avoid the customer receiving unnecessary notices. These type changes would not have included employee accounts to the best of my knowledge.

I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley the Customer Service Record notations on my own account for

There is noted on my account, several occasions when my service was denied for non-pay or late payment and then turned back on by fellow employees without being charged the $20.50 reconnect charge.

As I recall, I did make payment arrangements with fellow employees on my account, but at no time did I ever request that the employee noting my account to restore my service at no charge.

I personally have no control over what the other employee may have noted on my account.

I have never been told by management until two weeks ago that it was improper to note my own account. However, it has been my personal practice in the past to not note my own account.

On August 21, 1989, my account is noted that the file indicator "D" was removed. My initials are shown in the notes as the Service Representative making the note.

I recall pulling up my account that day and also making payment arrangements with fellow employee Curt Larson. I do not recall that I personally made the notation regarding the "D" file indicator being removed.

On several occasions, I had fellow employees note my file that I made payments on specific dates and the records then reflected that the payments were made at later dates. On these incidences, I had given these payments to one of my family members and had requested that they make my payments at a specific time.. Obviously the person that I trusted to make the payment, failed me. I had to go back to that person, who had my money, and insist that he make the payment.

Employee' read the statement consisting of four (4) pages and the statement did reflect the contents of the interview.

Re-interview of [redacted] Condry

Merritt Island, Florida
October 6, 1989

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am a Customer Services Representative at the Merritt Island, Florida Business Office. My NCS date with Southern Bell is January 26, 1978. I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley, five service orders that I had the initial contact with the customer ordering new service. I have been advised that on each order there were services or features that the customer claims he or she did not order.

I have no explanation why these customers would make such comments. I do not at any time place any service or feature on a service order that I did not discuss with the customer.

If this kind of thing is happening, I feel that the Company should give me or other representatives, if necessary, additional training and development regarding service orders. Obviously, the Company feels that I have a problem since I have been interviewed regarding service orders twice within the past few weeks. On the five service order I reviewed with Mr. Bradley, I have no recollection of ever talking with these subscribers. Also, when a representative is away from her desk and did not sign off the IBOSS, anyone with the knowledge can go to that IBOSS and type anything and it would show up as being typed by the original representative that signed on."

Employee _____ read the above statement and agreed that the contents reflect her comments when interviewed. She refused to sign the statement.

Company position is reasonable considering overall circumstances. On seven different service orders on five different days, employee entered data for service not desired by customer, nor requested by customer and not covered/explained by employee. This is more than an occasional work error. The employee is trained and experienced and fully knowledgeable of Company procedures in this regard. Company can substantiate a series of problems as outlined above.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to L. S. Poppell, who has identified himself as an Associate Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birthday is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I/M, and my NCS date is November 29, 1966.

To the best of my memory the boiler room concept started four or five years ago when the first Hawaii trip was awarded. I believe the concept (boiler room) was suggested by [redacted] because he won the first Hawaii trip as a management person.

I never discussed the boiler room concept with [redacted] and [redacted] or [redacted] However, [redacted] and [redacted] had to be aware of the boiler room operation because if the trouble load got heavy they would tell us to take people off sales. I have no indication that [redacted] was aware of the boiler room operation.

I was never told of sales points being withheld or not awarded if any sales were through a boiler room operation.

When I saw the outstanding results of [redacted] and [redacted] I worried that their results were realized honestly. [redacted] did not work for me, therefore, I had no contact with her. I approached [redacted] on four different occasions and on two of these occasions, [redacted] was present and [redacted] assured us everything was correct and honest. On two occasions [redacted] Area Sales Coordinator, returned approximately twelve or [redacted] sales because the customer denied placing the order. [redacted] and I interviewed [redacted] and he assured us everything was honest and it probably was another family member who placed the order. Even after Browning and I talked to [redacted] I never thought about spot checking by calling some of [redacted] sales. Also, no one ever suggested to me to call [redacted] sales as a follow-up to insure he was not cheating.

I never discussed with [redacted] we were using a boiler room operation and in my opinion she was never aware of our operation of a boiler room.

I have never seen any Company correspondence prohibiting boiler room type sales solicitation and no one has told me not to use this approach.

Sales objectives were part of my 5100. My 1989, 5100 objective for sales was set at $12,000.00. My actual 1989 results were around $50,000.00. Based on my 1989 results, my 1990, 5100 sales objective was set at $32,000.00. These objectives were set by Manager; I have never received an IIA award based on sales, to my knowledge, because I have received an IIA each year for the past ten years.

I left the Maintenance Center and took an outside crew in June, 1988. Before I left the Maintenance Center I remember ,working less than two weeks, and this is adding all the days up, on sales. Her sales ran about twenty a day which was acceptable. After I left the Maintenance Center in 1988, Taylor was put on full time sales. I had no reason to be concerned with her sales results and certainly would not go to her and instruct her to cheat when her results did not affect me.

worked for me when he was put on sales full time. The reason was put on sales was because we needed someone to work the sales program and I canvassed everyone in my group and is the only person who volunteered. At first had poor results. He was concerned and asked me how had done so well. I told him my gut feeling was she had cheated. and I did not discuss the possibility of him cheating any further. I did not suggest or instruct to cheat in any way. I never discussed my feelings that had cheated with upper management because it was just a feeling.

I have never suggested that any employee should cheat on any of their results and this includes and and their sales efforts.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and 3 other pages and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am _____, my birthdate is _____ and my Social Security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as an assistant Manager - I&M and my ACS date is November 29, 1966.

_____ is a Service Technician reporting to me. I have _____ working in installation and repair as needed. When the work load is not heavy I remove him from I&M work and put him on sales.

_____ Contacts customers either by telephone or in person to sell custom calling features, Maintenance plans, Ring master, etc. He will use Company records to determine what features a subscriber has on their service. He will then call the customer and attempt to sell them a new feature or get them to up grade a service. I have been advised by Security Staff Manager Bradley that several sales shown on Company records as made by employee _____ have come back. Either the customer has called in claiming they did not order the service or when a customer has been contacted, they claim again that they did not order the service.

I have reviewed 28 customer records with Ms. Bradley where in each case the customer called in or was contacted and denied that they were contacted by Southern Bell regarding an up grade in the wiring maintenance plan. An up grade in the plan would increase the customer bill for this service from $1.50 per month to $2.50 per month.

10 I am aware that employee [redacted] made several hundred sales in a month. However, [redacted] it is my feeling that this number of discrepancies is unusual.

14 This problem has come up before with [redacted] but not in this volume. She was questioned regarding 5 or 6 sales returned in a month and he assured me that his sales were on the up & up. This problem came up last summer or Fall, and I was not aware of any additional problem until this incident. She was instructed to maintain good records as to who he spoke with when he made a sale to a subscriber.

If customer sales are being improperly reported, I am not aware of it. I do not condone nor have I ever instructed employee [redacted] to report improperly 25 I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Staff manager Security

PLACE Orlando, Florida

DATE September 20, 1990

I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to D.F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. I am [redacted]. My birthdate is [redacted]. And my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as an assistant manager. I'm and my NCS date is November 29, 1966.

I have been advised that I have been identified by [redacted] employees [redacted] as the management person providing them with the idea to add the upgraded maintenance plan to subscriber's lines without contacting the subscriber.

This is absolutely untrue. At no time did I ever tell either of these employees to report false sales.

As I recall, shortly after [redacted] was on the sales job, either I went to him or he came to me and we discussed his low sales. Joan [redacted] asked me how [redacted], the Services Technician that did the sales before [redacted] made so many sales. I recall telling [redacted] that I had no proof but to make so many sales, I thought that [redacted] may be cheating. I also told [redacted] that [redacted] a Maintenance Administrator handling sales in the Maintenance Center.

told me on the day she quit the Company in July 1988 that she was Cheating on her sales. She stated that she added the maintenance plan on subscriber lines without contacting them. She said something like, everybody need protection. I don't remember if I informed my supervisor [redacted] what [redacted] said.

I do recall that last summer, possibly in June, My supervisor [redacted] gave me 4 or 5 customer sales that were returned where the customer claimed they were not contacted by Southern Bell. These were sales reported by [redacted]. I went to him and questioned him about the sales and he assured me there was no problem. I viewed these few complaints as customers calling back because they really didn't want the maintenance service.

Again in the late summer of 1989 there were approximately ten additional sales referred by [redacted] returned for the same reason. Again I questioned [redacted] and he said there was no problem with his sales and he did not understand why the sales were returned. He insisted that he did speak with someone at the subscriber residence and possibly the sale was held by the Jacksonville service order group. [redacted] was also with me when I spoke with [redacted] the second time we both told [redacted] that it would be a good idea to note on the sales referral who he spoke with when he made a sale. I did not follow up to see if he was in fact noting his sales referrals.

Employee [redacted] formerly worked for me a short time while I was in the Maintenance Center and she daily sold for me on a few occasions. Again I never instructed her or suggested to her to cheat on her sales.

I have no idea why these two employees would state that I told them to cheat.

There are gifts associated with high sales and I have been the recipient of several such gifts. However I would never jeopardize my job with Southern Bell cheating on sales to receive gifts. I have read the above statement consisting of 3 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge & belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections

PLACE: Orlando, Florida

DATE: September 19, 1990

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted]. My birthdate is [redacted], and my Social Security Number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Maintenance Administrator reporting to Mr. Larry Batchelor at 7900 Nadeau Road, Orlando, Florida. My NCS date is 8-28-68.

On the Orlando Maintenance Center since the consolidation with the Sanford Maintenance Center there has been at least one employee assigned to telephone sales solicitation. These sales contacts with subscribers concentrated on the wrong maintenance plan.

Within the last two years I was assigned the job that actually I worked for [redacted] who was in charge of the sales program at the time. Prior to my assuming the sales job, fellow employees [redacted] had the job. When I started in Sales I was instructed by [redacted] to upgrade the maintenance plan for subscribers having only the inside wiring maintenance to the full maintenance plan. This would increase the subscriber's bill from $1.50 per month to $2.50 per month.

[redacted] instructed me to add the upgrade without Contacting the Subscriber.

I knew when I took over the Sales job that [redacted] and [redacted] had also upgraded the Maintenance pairs on Subscriber lines without Contacting The Customer. I recall that either [redacted] or [redacted] mentioned to me that the subscriber would not notice the increase, because most people don't look at their telephone bill that closely.

After [redacted] left the Maintenance Center I was placed under the supervision of [redacted] and I never [redacted] specifically discussed that I was adding the Maintenance feature to Subscriber lines without making Contact with The Subscriber. However, I feel that [redacted] knew what was going on, because on more than one occasion [redacted] came to me and told me not to send any more Sales referrals in that month [redacted] stated that too many referrals might initiate an investigation.

I also worked for [redacted] for approximately six months. I feel that [redacted] knew what I was doing, but told me [redacted] did not want to know anything about it.

[redacted] also knew what was going on. [redacted] came to me on more than one occasion telling me to hold off sending so many Sales referrals in. I assume that [redacted] was concerned like that a large number of Sales in a

My present Supervisor [redacted] was not aware that I added features to [redacted] subscriber lines without contacting them. He has spoke to me three times regarding problems with my sales and placed a warning entry in my record regarding ~~Correctness~~ Correctness and Proper Completion of Company and Subscriber records.

When I came into the Maintenance Center I was told by fellow employees not to make any waves and to do what I was told or Management would make my life Hell.

I knew that what I was doing by adding additional features to subscriber lines without the subscriber's authorization was wrong, and have had many nightmares about it. However I did what I was told by Management.

The Majority of my sales were the addition of the upgraded Maintenance Plan.

Reviewing Company records with Mr. Bradley reflects that from January 1990 through May 1990 I sold 2733 upgraded Maintenance Plans. Of these I estimate that approximately 25% of these are actual sales resulting from customer contacts. The approximately 75% remaining sales were added to the subscriber lines without making Contact with the customer.

I estimate all previous sales I reported since I took over the sales job would break down the same way, 25% actual sales and 75% added without contacting the subscriber.

I was pulled off sales in late June and have not done any sales solicitation since.

As I stated before, I knew that what I was doing was wrong, however, I was following management's instructions.

I have read the above ~~statement~~ consisting of four pages and it is true & to the best of my knowledge and beliefs

Interview of [redacted] Manager-I&M
(November 1, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am [redacted] of age having been born on July 24, 1950, at Toms River, New Jersey. My social security number [redacted] I have been employed by Southern Bell since July 24, 1970. Presently I am a Manager-I&M in West Palm Beach reporting to [redacted] Operations Manager-Network. Mr. Robert Beatty has advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. It should be noted that this interview began on the afternoon of October 31, 1990, and was suspended at approximately 7:45 P.M. of the same day. The interview was resumed at approximately 9:30 A.M. on November 1, 1990. I have been told this interview is to be maintained confidential and I agree to this request. In response to the question presented to me, I offer the following: I was assigned to my present position during the fourth quarter of 1987 replacing [redacted] I&M Manager. Coinciding with this assignment were [redacted] assignment to West Palm Beach and [redacted] assignment to Southeast, Florida. During the first staff meeting that I attended [redacted] said that sales were very high priority. He said we wanted to be the best for [redacted] because he wanted us to be the best. [redacted] also indicated that he wanted to be first because he wanted to beat [redacted] We all agreed, during that meeting, that we would set up a boiler room and this would be a team effort work by all managers who contributed or pulled our resources. Sometime following this meeting, I held my first staff meeting with my people where I told all of my people that we were to set up a boiler room operation for the purpose of sales. [redacted] said that the Business Office steals at least half of our sales, and that this effort was futile. What the connotation was that regardless of our efforts, half of our sales would be lost to the Business office. Later on, [redacted] came back and told me that he understood the position that I was placed in, that he realized I was in the dark with regards to I&M and the sales program, and that he would help me with it. He indicated that we could do volume sales using the cross reference directory. [redacted] took the lead in this effort. he has always been a high achiever. We set it up where we took telephone numbers from the cross reference or the blue book, and then we pulled DLR's associated with those telephone numbers. All of the managers participated and provided people jobs to initiate and maintain the sales programs. Some of the folks pulled the DLR's, some made telephone calls, and others couriered sales forms from Lakeside to the boiler rooms and other places. We shared points with 200 or so people in the entire district. divided up the DLR's and also divided up the points selecting sales codes for different sales meaning that they shared the points. job varied. Many times she would pull the DLR's, other times she would deliver the DLR's, other times she would take the sales referral forms and distributs the points, and at one point she would also input the sales referral forms to the IBOSS record. also checked against the IBOSS, the sale. If the customer already had the Maintenance Plan, she would not input the sale and would return the sales form to the foreman to be discussed with the person that made the actual sale. Usually the sale was input the same day or the following day and this was the usual norm. My objective was to insure that the sale project would be expedited so as to get the whole job done. Everyone in the sales campaign had a job to do and made an effort to get the complete job done. It should be noted that the boiler room operation and the entire sales effort was done with the knowledge and agreement of:

In connection with record discrepancies of my Staff. completed a study that showed that our data base from where we pulled DLR's was not in accord with IBOSS records. One study in particular showed a 6% discrepancy. This is where the customers either already had the Wire Maintenance Plan on their line or their line was disconnected. In fact the 6% figure did not come from a study, but it was an answer to a question by myself of a Service Representative in the Business Office, and it was merely a figure off the top of her head. I cannot recall the name of the clerk that I approached in the Business Office with regards to the 6% discrepancy. I, in fact, have contacted customers from sales referrals that were returned to me from the Business Office because the customer had already had the Maintenance Plan or for some other reason could not be credited as a sale. I recall having made on numerous occasions, maybe five occasions, where upon each time I might have contacted two, three, or five customers. I cannot recall for certain. My findings of those test calls were that, yes the customer had been called; I never did reach any customer that had not been called. I do not recall when I made those calls nor do I have any documents that support my having made those calls or the results of those calls. At one point in time, the number of people associated with the boiler room or the sales program in my district reached approximately 25 people. This was out of a group of about 80 people in the district. Again, agreed that everyone would contribute to the sales effort by giving up people from their staffs such as those staff from

, I believe that these managers also had other efforts from their individual shops besides the boiler room and the sales program operation that I was running. In fact, agreed to give up a clerk from his own office, that being [redacted]. Initially the boiler room operation was set up in the Broadway Work Center. This only lasted approximately one week because the acoustics in the Work Center were so poor that it was difficult to talk to people. The boiler room was then moved to the Haverhill Central Office and it was selected because it was the only place that at that time we knew we could place such an operation. We utilized the floor space that was [redacted] for OPC work. I do not recall if [redacted] was approached with regards to asking for his permission or authorization for utilization of Central Office space for the boiler room operation. At the time [redacted] was a Services Technician who was Relieving Supervisor for the buried wire PSC. [redacted] was placed in charge of the boiler room by myself. I would talk to [redacted] and sometimes to other members of the boiler room regarding the boiler room operation. All my actions were concerning monitoring the job. The boiler room went on for several months having started in the third quarter of 1987 and going through to at least the end of the first quarter of 1988. I spoke to [redacted] on a daily basis, or with a [redacted] of his staff, concerning cumulative results of the boiler room operation. I recall using words, either with [redacted] during these conversations or with my people during meetings, that with regards to the sales programs I used words to the affect that we would not do anything illegal, immoral, or unethical. Sales had a dark closet connotation, and I used the words loosely having no reason nor motivation for the use of those words. I did however use them as a message for people to do the right thing. The connotation of those words were both seriously and used jokingly as well. [redacted] was the bookkeeper of the boiler room, meaning that she kept track of all of the points and the sales referrals, things of that nature. At about the same period of time, [redacted] put all Services Technicians to a challenge that if they could sell $200.00 or more individually in a month, they would be invited, along with a guest, to attend a banquet at Bonnets Lodge, a private hunting lodge. There was a cocktail hour followed by a buffet dinner. I cannot recall the exact date, but it was late in 1987 or early in 1988. This banquet was coordinated by [redacted] The voucher was billed directly to [redacted] shop where he signed off on it. [redacted] was a member of Bonnets Lodge and this is how we gained access for this function. Attending were myself and my foremen, and all Services Technicians, total of about 75 Company employees plus their guests. We may have had a total of 100 people or more at that dinner. Following the break up of the boiler room and the first quarter of 1988, the emphasis was now placed by [redacted] Office back on results. During the time of the boiler room, results were so bad that it was felt that it was probably a good time to do sales, results could not get much worse. In fact, the sales did get worse as a result of the boiler room. As I recall, [redacted] stated, "The load is going to have to take a back seat to sales." In relation to this quote and in talking with my peers with regards to this matter, we could not believe that we were letting the turf go down the tubes. These were all impromptu discussions. There was a meeting with [redacted] and [redacted] where they both said the sales was number one priority. One of the criteria for being assigned to the boiler was to be on light duty. However that was not always the case in as much as we did utilize people off the load that would have been able to work otherwise. During the 1988 contest, there would still be an emphasis on sales, but we wanted to utilize only people that could not do their job because of physical conditions and were in fact on light duty. We won the 1987 contest and we also won the 1988 contest. The 1988 contest did not involve boiler room operations, however; sales were made in a boiler room style from different locations by individuals. The 1988 contest lasted from June of 1988 through November of 1988. As a result of belt tightening, [redacted] had indicated that the winners of the 1988 contest would not be announced and would not be awarded, and in fact, the cruise for 1988 was cancelled. Our motivation for sales was not only the cruise. We sold because of boss wanted us to sell. As a result of winning the 1987 sales campaign, we received a cruise of the Virgin Islands. Many of the managers attended said cruise, from West Palm Beach. [redacted] along with his wife [redacted] and his wife [redacted] and myself and my wife [redacted] On Saturday, previous to the cruise, the three of us and our wives were transported by limousine from West Palm Beach to the Miami Airport Hilton where we held a banquet to celebrate our winning the contest. On the following day, Sunday, we flew to St. Thomas where upon five sailboats were leased to accommodate all the people on the cruise. There was approximately four couples per sailboat. The sailing took about five days in the Virgin Islands. On Friday we returned from St. Thomas, flying into Miami, and again were transported by limousine back to our homes in West Palm Beach. This cruise was coordinated by [redacted] The sales in December of 1987 exceeded $50,000.00 in my district. The boiler room operation was obviously a lot more profitable due to revenues. The volume was lower in 1988 than in 1987 because we did not use a boiler room in 1988. Still in 1988, the sales in my district were higher than other areas. I would compare our area to Orlando, Miami, North Broward, and those were the ones I would look at because they were highest and Orlando always stood out. Since the emphasis in 1988 changed back the results, the question of boiler rooms never came up to be utilized. Returning to the time frame of the boiler room. [redacted] a Services Technician who was Relieving Supervisor, his wife [redacted] reported to [redacted] at the Business Office at 2021 Military Trail. [redacted] volunteered that he had worked out an agreement with his wife [redacted] to allow [redacted] to input Network Sales Referrals on an IBOSS terminal at the Business Office. I do not recall discussing this arrangement with [redacted] it was somewhat of an unspoken understanding that she and I both knew of the arrangement. Pearl would take all of the sales forms, drive to the Business Office daily, she would be signed onto IBOSS by someone unknown to me, and she would proceed to input. also did inputting to this IBOSS. I believe I had mentioned to that I worked out an arrangement to the Business Office to input our own sales referrals. I also recall, later on, there was a grievance from Vice President Local Union, as a result to having Network clerks doing service representatives' work and they were to be paid a differential. in fact, filed a grievance on behalf of the Local after the boiler room was over. During the first quarter of 1988, the inputting of sales referrals responsibility was transferred from to Inasmuch as the Maintenance Plan did not generate revenue for the Business Office and features such as Call Waiting and others did, we agreed with the Business Office that we would give them all of our feature sales in exchange for them inputting or allowing us to input ourselves for the Wire Maintenance Plan. At some point in time, and because of the change in the first quarter from Joyce to Carriel, we started taking our referrals to After the boiler operation was stopped, I either delivered the sales referrals or sent them by Company mail myself. I recall that group had asked not to hold referrals to prevent any back logs inputting. Problems did start when we started taking referrals to originated memos to me, however I do not recollect the contents of those memos. I received two and three memos from I never responded to in writing to those memos, I felt it was better to respond verbally to because she was not in Network. questions were to do with the large volume of sales believing that they were not possible to have been done. Also a result of samples conducted by her, samples did not indicate that they would possibly have been done because customers were denying to have been contacted. Those samples did not indicate to me that we had a problem in Network. Telephone conversations with where she questioned the integrity of our sales programs, because of our high volume or specific problems wherein customers had not been contacted. At least once she gave me stack of referrals that were questionable in her mind, not in a specific response to a June 16, 1990, letter but simply because I was there and somebody directed me to the stack. The questionable referrals were always three to four months old. I would always question the validity of the samples because of their age. I questioned the validity of any sample that is older than three months. It did not bother me that was attacking the integrity of my program. I do not recall having a discussion with concerning the March 31, 1989, letter or the fact that it had been carbon copied to This was also true of the June 16, 1988, letter. Had I received the letters with questions regarding particular accounts, I would have discussed it with and have asked them to investigate the matter. I do not recall any responses from or any others with regards to those type of investigations. I did not share any of the letters from with because of preconceived ideas of No letter that said about integrity of my program, preconceived ideas of Network would always bias her opinion and I would not place a lot of weight on her letters or complaints. believed that Network should not make sales, that this was the Business Office job and it was not Network's job to make sales. The June 16, 1990, letter refers to sales that were made to service representatives. I do not recall discussing or doing investigation with regards to those particular sales. This whole thrust of the March 31, 1990, letter would reference to service representatives having being sold the Wire Maintenance Plan. I am not aware of a third letter or note from or any other piece of correspondence. I do not recall discussing it with me or telling me that a sample of 50 of my sales referrals proved to be 100% negative, meaning that none of the 50 customers had been contacted prior to adding the Wire Maintenance Plan to their service. There was no reason or motivation for services technicians to place invalid sales without having contacted the customers as a result of any pressure or as a result of gifts or points that may be forthcoming as a result of these sales. On one occasion, I visited Shirley's office, however: I found that she was not present. One of her assistants, whose name I don't remember, as well as were there. assistant showed me to office where upon I observed a stack of sales referrals that were two to three months old that had questioned. Following this visit to Office I called and office to complain about delay for inputting my sales referrals. advised me at that time that a Telemarketing thing would be coming into play real soon where we could then forward our sales referrals to. With regards to I do not recall that he made telephone sales calls from his home, however: I heard only this week from someone. that was involved in program selling. In looking on my notes, I can see that I added the name of to my list, but I do not recall where the information came from. I recall late in 1989, where I was in office and I ran into him in the hallway, he was holding personnel file under his arm and he told me I want to talk to you about this referring to file. I do not recall specifically what he wanted to talk about. At about the same time, I received a call from where he was advising me as a courtesy call that someone from my shop had called him with a complaint about someone again in my shop. I assume that said call had originated from in office. and my personalities clashed. I never confronted with regards to this matter. Again it was just a courtesy call from and I could not get any nor did I ask for any specifics from him. I do not recall any specific questions that wanted me to answer with regard to in looking a letter dated December 1, 1989, from myself to I can see that this letter references data; and a conversation between and myself earlier the week of December 1, 1989. I have read the letter, but can still not recall what specific questions I was attempting to answer for [redacted]. In the closing paragraph where I state, "I feel there is not problem in the credibility of me or [redacted] in this matter, and the case should be dropped." I am not sure what I meant by credibility or that the case should be dropped, but I still cannot recall what specific questions were concerning [redacted]. On October 24th, [redacted] called me and told me that he had found a PSC complaint dating back to November, December or 1989. I did not recall said PSC complaint and to the best of recollection, [redacted] and I never discussed this PSC at the time that it took place. Had I of received it, I would have discussed it with [redacted] and with [redacted] I say, [redacted] because [redacted] sales code is on the PSC complaint as it has been shown to me at this point. As a matter of course, [redacted] would probably see this PSC complaint after the fact unless he was personally involved with the complaint. In reviewing the PSC complaint, I see that what was prepared is in my handwriting and it was later done in typewriter. It did involve [redacted] I can recognize that because it was sales code. The customer complained that he was never told about an optional charge of $2.50, says that he never authorized this sale. The sale was for SEQ1X or the Maintenance Plan. To satisfy the customer, we canceled the SEQ1X on the customer's line. No further action from this case. I have no actual recall as whether I discussed this matter with [redacted] or with [redacted] or with [redacted], I cannot recall. After completing the PSC complain inquiry, I faxed it to [redacted] office for further processing. Getting back to the letter that I wrote to [redacted] on December 1, 1989, I have no knowledge that [redacted] had done anything wrong or where [redacted] had placed something on someone's lines without their knowledge. I sampled rejects and never left me suspicious that [redacted] was not making the actual sale. I questioned [redacted] many times and he always told me he was, in fact, making the sales. [redacted] is a loner, he is self-conscious about his vision [redacted] and he is not comfortable in peer groups. He made calls from all over in cross boxes, meter rooms, Central Office, he may have made some calls from his home. I am not aware that [redacted] had made calls from his home for an entire year. I recall that at one time he got thrown out of the Lakeside work center where he was placing calls to customers. I don't recall picking up or dropping off any forms from [redacted] house, but I would not be surprised that [redacted] sold from his house, nor do I see anything wrong with that procedure. Concerning [redacted] nature, he indicated that he at one time been involved with the F.B.I., C.I.A., M.I.A. in some form of intelligence capacity. In 1987 and 1988, [redacted] was hardly on the load, he was making sales most of the time. In 1989, he was partly on the load and in 1990, he was assigned to bulk load. With regards to the December 1, 1989 letter, there is a note by what appears to be [redacted] wherein he placed his initials over his name. This indicates that he read the correspondence. There is also a note on the second and last page, wherein it states "Details checked out on specific customers. Customers confused and irritated on receiving third call" initial[illegible] With regard to [illegible] I do not recall any telephone calls from [illegible] regarding Dial America. I also do not recollect [illegible] mentioning to me that [illegible] was doing an investigation concerning referrals coming back from Dial America. I also do not challenge [illegible] redibility. In answer to a question from [illegible], sales in sequential order of a two block area would raise a question of credibility in my mind as to the credibility of said sales. It would surprise me if [illegible] told me of this sequence. I do not recollect said conversation with [illegible]. Also, I do not recollect [illegible] or [illegible] telling me with regard to this sequence as stated before. I do not know, nor do I recollect anything about 500 to 600 rejected sales referrals from Dial America or any rejected sales from Dial America. For a short period of time, [illegible], worked in the boiler room. I recall he had remarkable sales for a short period of time. This would have been from three to six weeks. I have no recall of having instructed [illegible] to report to the boiler room for an assignment. I have no recall discussing with [illegible] the revenue that he, [illegible] generated. I do not recall ever telling [illegible] of the dollar amount of sales he was responsible for. I may have heard from someone that [illegible] did have a remarkable amount of sales, but I do not recall from whom. In 1989, if [illegible] generated a figure in excess of $19,000., this figure must be in error. I do not recall any conversation with [illegible] on October 23, 1990, with regards to [illegible] sales or with the revenue he might have generated as a result of those sales. I do not recall [illegible] disagreeing with the amount of sales attributed to him. In 1989, the only points that were shared were with [illegible] group. [illegible] and I agreed that in exchange for [illegible] loaning [illegible] to my sales effort, he was to receive as much as 200 points per month. [illegible] would then distribute those points amongst his supervisory people. During 1989 and 1990, we utilized flyers in connection with the Match program. Flyers were distributed to condos or multi-family residences where we had done prewiring. The flyer would be coded with the sales code for the individual who was dropping off the flyer. All points were shared half and half, half for the Services Technician and half for the Match program. As a result of prewiring, it is conceivable that the majority of new customers would have requested for telephone service with or without the flyer. The motivation for the was to increase points associated with our sales program. With regard to sales, we have placed monthly objectives for each manager as part of the PMCRs. Craft people assigned to sales were coded as working on sales codes. I did not oversee this process, this was done by the foremen. With regard to [redacted] I do not know who authorized [redacted] to sell from his home, however, I did not stop it when I became aware of it, nor did I challenge it: I thought it was O.K. Sales awards in 1989 were reduced by [redacted] in a continued effort to reduce expenses in Florida. Then emphasis then shifted and plans were in place to initiate the GoldLine program. The emphasis as a result of all this on sales diminished. On October 23, 1990 [redacted] asked me to meet with him at Lakeside where he and I alone held the meeting. He proceeded to ask me a number of questions. He completed approximately three and a half (3 1/2) pages of notes all concerning the sales program. I do not recall all of the details. I have asked [redacted] for a copy of his notes. I recall he refused me a copy of said notes. He indicated to me that he would write a report that would be directed to [redacted] of his investigation based on those notes. I recall he talked to me about me having 23 years of service and that this was the first time where his credibility was being questioned. I told him that I was [redacted] having 20 years with the Company and my credibility had never been questioned. The following day, on October 24, 1990 [redacted] telephoned me and told me that he had found a PSC complaint and questioned me about it. At that point, I did not recollect the existance of that PSC complaint. [redacted] during this conversation, also indicated to me that he had called Mr. Martinez in Security to inform him of his findings. On October 24, 1990, I had a conversation with [redacted]. We talked about this conversation. I do not recall if I called him or if he called me. I do not recall the specifics of that conversation. With regard to [redacted] he called me with regard to going to the Security interview, but I do not recall the specifics of that conversation. I have talked to dozens of people since the initiation of this investigation, however, I do not wish to name them because I usually stopped the conversation before it got started. I refuse to name those people. I have been told that the people that were interviewed were told not to talk to anyone and that included me. At this time, I wish not to incriminate them by naming who they were. With regard to [redacted] medical condition, it was on an ongoing basis that he had a medical problem, however, I do not recall addressing [redacted] medical condition with the Company doctor. I do not know why I would not have done that. In fact, it would have been normal conduct of business to have done so. With regard to sale volumes, it is conceivable to me that [redacted] could sell 50 sales per day. That amount is a reasonable amount for [redacted], although it would not be reasonable for other people only because [redacted] is a very good salesman. Procedurally, [redacted] was able to make so many calls because when he called a number, he would not only let it ring twice, hang up and go on to the next one, having not getting an answer after two rings. had a method for making all of his calls. I never had any reason to suspect that was not contacting customers. In fact, I don't believe that now. As a result of the various sales programs, I have received sales checks that I then exchanged for merchandise such as bedding, childrens' toys, an Nintendo game, a bed frame which I have not received, cookware, pots and pans and I still have a few sales checks remaining. I do not recall receiving any big ticket items, however, if I did, it would be a matter of record. On October 24, 1990, we held a meeting with myself and other managers from each and every turf to discuss AIRO investigation. I recall came in at some point and mentioned the sales investigation and threw out a few names (I do not recall these names) of craft people that were involved. indicated that there was an ongoing investigation in Orlando and that we would probably be asked questions with regards to the sales program. According to the criteria for the investigation involved individuals with high sales. indicated that had told the General Managers that if this was happening in Orlando, it could also be happening elsewhere and that had ordered an investigation. was referring to the Orlando sales program investigation. was simply passing in getting information from us at this point. discussed this matter in general terms during the time we were all meeting together. At some point in time, we broke up into turf, and while in our turf meeting, again visited with us and he mentioned in particular the name as one of the high sellers in Palm Beach and asked to be told about her. I told him that she had been involved in an auto accident and as a result of that had been assigned to the boiler room while on light duty. He also asked about I told him that always had high sales, he was an outstanding salesman and that there was always something wrong with him, either eye problems, ankle problems or heart problems. I told him that I used in sales. did not have any questions concerning the credibility of the sales people. He was asking the questions so as to know for himself. He told us that at some point in time we would be asked and that we were to be honest, that if there was any wrongdoing, it would all come out in the wash. If there was any wrongdoing, it would just wash out. I don't recall using the words boiler room or programmed selling during these discussions with did not direct us to do anything or not do anything during these conversations. I may have used the words boiler room, but I did not mean to use the words boiler rooms. was also present during these conversations and did partial participation in these conversations. Following my meeting with on October 23, 1990, I prepared a document that is 24 pages with attachments which I was to be utilizing as recollection of the past years and my association with the sales program. I have volunteered a copy of said document to Mr. Martinez.

DOCUMENTS RESPONSIVE TO ITEM NOS. 1, 5 and 6

1 Interview Of Services Technician
(December 12, 1990)

3 Services Technician, was interviewed at 1201 Barnett Drive, Lake Worth, Florida, on December 12, 1990. Present at the interview were Lynn Werthwein, CWA Steward, J. A. Bullard, Manager-Installation and Maintenance, HICKMON, and Haller. The interview began at 13:28 hours and ended at 14:17 hours. Following is a statement written by Haller which HICKMON refused to sign on the advice of Werthwein. He also refused to agree that it was true and correct, advising that it was words written by Haller.

December 12, 1990
Lake Worth, Florida

13 I, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to R. G. Haller, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. My date of birth is October 18, 1953, and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician, and my net credited service date is June 26, 1972. I understand I am being interviewed concerning an allegation that Services Technicians are inputing fraudulent trouble reports, having these false trouble reports assigned to them to be cleared, and then closing out the trouble with a false narrative. All this is done without the knowledge of the subscriber, and in fact there never was a trouble. I have been shown three trouble reports which I cleared. I have been questioned about these three reports. The first report on 407-274-6203, I do not remember working. However, if the narrative indicated I replaced a defective jack, that's what I did. If I'm working in a neighborhood, and someone comes up to me and tells me the telephone is not working, I take their telephone number and tell them to call the trouble into repair service. When I finished the job I'm working on, I then call dispatch and ask them to assign the trouble that the individual approached me about. I don't report the trouble myself. The second trouble report was on 407-272-1607. This is my brother's telephone service. While I was working in the area, my brother told me his jack wasn't working, so I got the trouble assigned to me and I replaced the jack. My 38 brother spells his last The third trouble I have been questioned about is 407-274-0715. This is my own personal home residence telephone number. I did repair the buried service wire which was damaged by the cable television company. I don't see anything wrong with repairing either my own or my brother's telephone service. I have never caused any fraudulent trouble reports to be made in any way.

The above unsigned statement was witnessed by J. A. Bullard, Manager-Installation & Maintenance, and R. G. Haller, Associate Manager-Security.

I perceived [redacted] request to be a direct order and proceeded against my own will to [redacted] Maintenance Administrator, with the TOK (Test OK) list for the purpose of making the Test OK troubles out of service. [redacted] told me to use the Test OK list and to keep a running count of how many were statused out of service so that the objective would be met. The Maintenance Administrator, [redacted] proceeded to make the Test OK troubles Out of Service as I requested. I provided a count to [redacted] on several occasions on 08/30/90 and 08/31/90 for his figures concerning meeting the index. At one point, [redacted] Assistant Manager-I.M.C., was present when I provided figures to [redacted] After the review of the I.M.C. Headquarters staff, it became evident to me that the statusing of Test OK troubles was a serious problem. On 10/02/90, the morning before the staff feedback, requested to see me. said that the Test OK Close Out procedure involving Out of Service was done without his knowledge. I was surprised at statement and told him of my surprise. told me that he talked to the staff person who noticed the problem and perhaps it could be smoothed over. then told me that he apprised of the incident and that I was the manager responsible, at that point I went to the feedback. I also stated that I would be willing to take a lie detector test. suggested that a false statement be provided to Security in order to cover up this statusing problem, that it would only help me get out of this. indicated that when he sent Associate Manager-I.M.C., to talk to me to suggest a false reason for the statusing such as the customer has lost the ability to make or receive telephone calls, should be Out of Service quoting BSP 660-169-012 SU, paragraph 3.06 b. In conclusion, I would like to state that this is the first time in 25 years that I was ever given a direct order to falsify Company records against my will. I am willing to cooperate with this investigation as needed. I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and three pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page and each correction.

I am aware of the statement made by the I.M.C. I am personally convinced that I made an incorrect assumption that one of the managers in the I.M.C., [redacted] was responsible for the incorrect statusing. I told several members of the I.M.C. staff of my assumptions and now feel those assumptions may have been incorrect. I feel the assumptions were driven from incidents which were known to have happened in the past as found through Operational Reviews. I now believe that [redacted] was not responsible for the statusing of Test OK as Out of Service. I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] and was born on [redacted] I am married and live with my wife at [redacted] My social security number is [redacted]. My home telephone number is [redacted]. My net credited service date is April 1, 1968 and I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician. My office address is 1824 N. 3rd Street, Jacksonville Beach, Florida. My immediate supervisor was [redacted] but as of January 1, 1991, it's [redacted].

I am being interviewed today concerning some repair reports that were called into the Company automated system (called AIRO). The reports indicate that the customer called in the reports directly, and they were pre-assigned to me to work. My supervisor [redacted] had talked to me about my productivity a few months ago. I began to identify some customer numbers while I was working in terminals and would call Repair and make a trouble report. I would call back in and talk to a Maintenance Administrator and ask if they were holding a trouble report on the number. I would then request that the repair be assigned to me to handle. I don't recall how many of these I did or how often I would do this. This was my own idea and I never shared this procedure with anyone. I did some work on all of the reports that I did. I would re-terminate jumpers or wire and replace equipment that was corroded. I felt this would prevent future trouble. I never thought about the report rate or manipulation of Company records. It just did not enter my mind. I have always been a slow worker, but I do quality work on every assignment I undertake. I felt some pressure from my supervisor about my quantity and thought my job was in jeopardy. I began to make the reports in hopes that my production would look better and make me and my boss pleased. I realize that I made a mistake in taking this route to achieve my goal.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] and was born on [redacted] at [redacted]. I am single and reside at [redacted]. My home telephone number is [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Associate Manager-OPCC-Network at 6601 E. Hwy. 22, Panama City, Florida. My immediate supervisor is [redacted] and my office number is 904-871-2815. My net credited service date is February 28, 1969. On Thursday, October 25, 1990, my supervisor asked me to be available on Monday, October 29, 1990 to go to Graceville, Florida with him. He said there was a staff study that identified some possible problems with repair reports. The reports may have been generated by technicians to get additional task credit or possibly some extra free time. I had a report which reflected that Services Technician [redacted] had worked on the same customer number five (5) times between September 23, 1989 and September 25, 1990. The customer was and her number was 904-263-3538. Four of the reports were employee reports and one was a customer direct report. Three of the reports were Irregular Plant Conditions (IPC's) and three of the five reports were to trim trees. Only one of the reports was a pre-assigned task. Upon arriving in Graceville, called the customer to get driving directions. When we got to the residence, we introduced ourselves and advised we were doing some quality inspections. The customer that answered the door was not She asked us if we knew and we said yes. She advised that she is and is his grandmother. We began to review the repair reports to see if we could determine if work was done. There was only one tree in line of the drop wire and it was only about 12 feet high. The drop went from the pole to the house over the tree. It did not appear to me or that any limbs had ever been trimmed from this tree. I think the tree is a Pecan tree. One of the other troubles was an IPC to replace some station wire. There was no evidence of any wire being replaced. One of the wires was held in place by nails and the other was stapled. The staples used were the type that you hammer in as opposed to a staple gun. Also, the protector was not tie-wrapped and it didn't appear to have been opened for some time. The last trouble was shown as an IPC to remove a drop. We could not tell if there had been another line in the house at one time or not. The existing drop wire was old and it appeared to have algae growing on the insulation. This was the extent of my involvement regarding work assignments.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and two others. It is true to the best of my knowledge.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] and was born on [redacted]. I reside at [redacted]. My home telephone number is [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I/M-Network in Chipley, Florida. My office number is 904-638-7305. My net credited service date is 9/11/73 and my social security number is [redacted]. Around the end of October, 1990, my supervisor, [redacted] advised me that some discrepancies had been found on employee reports. Some employees may be calling into repair and having reports, including Irregular Plant Conditions (IPCS) pre-assigned to them to work. Inspections revealed that work was not done in all cases. He asked me to pull some reports for my people and make some inspections to see if there were any discrepancies. I have two Services Technicians in Havana, Florida, and I found some discrepancies regarding tasks performed by [redacted]. I worked on these inspections on November 2, 1990 and November 5, 1990. I attempted to check 904-539-6376, [redacted] Havana, Florida. I couldn't verify because the business had closed since the repair report was handled. On September 25, 1990, a report (IPC) was received to trim trees on [redacted]. The report was received at 2:24 PM and dispatched to [redacted] Jackson at 2:27 PM. He closed it at 2:43 PM, showing repaired. My inspection revealed that no trees were trimmed at the location. The next report was on [redacted] for [redacted] Havana, Florida. The report came in on September 26, 1990 at 3:00 PM, as an IPC to trim trees. The report also indicates that I approved this IPC. I was not contacted about this report and did not give approval. No inspection was made because I could not find the residence. On September 26, 1990 at 7:14 AM, a report was received on 904-539-9384 for The report was an IPC to trim trees. It was dispatched to at 7:17 AM and he closed it at 8:30 AM, as trees trimmed. My inspection revealed that the drop leaves the terminal buried and not aerial. I could not see any aerial drop feeding the home. On September 26, 1990 at 1:33 PM, a report was received on for The report indicates an IPC to trim trees, which was O.K.'d by a supervisor. The report was dispatched to at 1:35 PM. He closed it at 2:55 PM, showing trees trimmed. My inspection revealed that trees were not trimmed and branches were still touching the drop. As information, lives next door to this customer. On September 27, 1990 at 1:45 PM, a report was received for It was an IPC to routine protector. It was assigned to at 1:53 PM and he showed aerial drop replaced. The drop was not replaced and there was still a piece of old drop hanging from the building which should have been removed. The last report I looked at was received on October 5, 1990 at 12:13 PM, on service for and This was an IPC to pre-assign Jackson to routine the service. It was dispatched to him at 12:16 PM. He closed this out as routining the protector and drop. My inspection determined that a new NW101 (an interface) had been placed but the old protector was still inside. The procedure to follow when work is slack is to call the load balance supervisor. If no work is available then they are instructed to call me. I always have IPC's or other work available for them. I was unaware that some technicians may have been calling in IPC's directly to repair and having them assigned to themselves. I am aware that some procedures came out recently which confirms the proper handling of reports, particularly employee reports and IPC's.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and 3 others and it is true to the best of my knowledge.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] of age and was born on [redacted] at [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted]. I reside at [redacted] and my home telephone number is [redacted]. I am married and live with my wife and one son. I am a Services Technician in Havana, Florida, and my net credited service date is May 24, 1971. My immediate supervisor is [redacted]. I am being interviewed today concerning my job assignments (tasks) that I perform on a daily basis. I have reviewed some tasks that were shown to me by Mr. Jeffries. I did all the work as described on the records except for the one which is [redacted]. I stated that I had trimmed trees on this task. However, the service is provided by a buried service wire, and I couldn't have trimmed trees. I think I may have input the wrong number when I cleared the tree limbs and closed the task to the wrong number. Several months ago, when work was very slack, I would call into the test center for a task when my terminal would not assign a task to me. I would talk to a Maintenance Administrator and she he would try to find some work. If there was none after checking with the test center supervisor, they would tell me to find something to do. I would identify a number and make up an Irregular Plant Condition (IPC). I would then call the test center and have it assigned to me. When work was slack I would be concerned about my productivity and would get tasks assigned to me to help my tasks per day. We also work service orders which can be very time-consuming. This counts as one (1) task just like a repair or an IPC. The IPC's would help keep my productivity up when I got tied up on big jobs. This has been procedure with me since the Service Technicians went on the Measurement/Productivity Plan. I guess this has been about four years. We have been so busy since about November, 1990, there has been very little slack time. As a result, I have not had to request many IPC's. There has been a procedure which came out recently regarding tasks. If there is no work available after checking with the test center, then we are to get in touch with our supervisor who will tell us what to do.

I am [redacted] and was born [redacted]. I am married and live with my wife and two children at [redacted]. My home telephone number is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician at 1015 W. Highway 90, Chipley, Florida and my immediate supervisor is [redacted]. My net credited service date is January 29, 1967. I am being interviewed today concerning some tasks that I completed. They were employee reports and primarily Irregular Plant Conditions (IPC's). My productivity has been on the low side and I have been talked to about it on several occasions by my supervisor. I am not a lazy employee and I work very hard. If someone needs help, I don't hesitate to help them complete their job. I have had reports prepared to cover my productive time. I visit every customer that I make a report on. I have not and would never have reports dispatched to me and not visit the customer location. I have worked overtime and lunch hours and not shown it on my time so I could make my production results. When work is slack, I have called the Maintenance Center to look for work. If there is nothing available, I have been told to get a routine or an IPC and call back later. There are some procedures out now that require management O.K. to get pre-assigned a task. I do a lot of work for the Company that I may not actually have an assigned task for. I consider the customer and make sure that all customers are pleased with my work. I will continue to do the best job I can. I will not lie to make my results. I do realize that it is against Company policy to prepare trouble or IPC's when there is no trouble or a condition that needs repaired.

Interview of [redacted] Maintenance Administrator - IMC

December 10, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Maintenance Administrator in the Gainesville, Florida IMC. I report to [redacted] Assistant Manager and can be reached at 904-335-3821. My NCS date with Southern Bell is May 22, 1967.

I have been advised that an investigation is in progress regarding false reporting of Out of Service Test O.K. troubles and the improper coding of troubles using the C.O.N. (Carried Over No) transaction.

I recall one occasion where I was asked by IMC Assistant Manager [redacted] create several special circuit troubles to add to the trouble report base so that we could meet the clearing time index. I questioned him on his request stating that I would do what he asked but felt that it was not proper. He came back to me later and said he discussed the matter with his supervisor.

I don't know what they discussed, but he told me that he had a guilty conscience and told me not to make up the troubles. As far as I recall that was the only occasion that I was asked to do what I felt was improper.

I have, however, noticed on occasion in the past that my employee number 018 has appeared on records of subscriber trouble reports that I did not handle. For a while I kept copies of these records for my future reference in case a question came up on these reports. I did not ever bring it to the attention of management that someone was using my employee number.

I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page.

I have been advised that an investigation is in progress in the Maintenance Center regarding possible improper and false reports on Test O.K. Out of Service Reports and Carried Over No Trouble Reports.

I have no knowledge of anyone, management or craft that may be issuing false or improper trouble reports. I also have not been asked or instructed by management to create false reports or to reflect incorrect information on a subscriber trouble report.

My employee number is 012 and I alone should be using this number when I note subscriber trouble records. I have noticed on occasion that an unassigned employee number or a number assigned to a retired employee appeared on subscriber trouble records. I felt that these unassigned numbers were being used by management to cover up the fact that they were doing craft work. I never had the idea anyone might be issuing false reports or changing trouble codes to make better indexes.

December 11, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell in Gainesville, Florida as an Administrative Reports Clerk. My NCS date is March 5, 1973. I report to _____ and can be contacted at 904-335-3265.

My job responsibilities in the IMC is to maintain the Repair Out of Service List (ROSL) that is produced hourly from ELMOS. This ROSL List reflects all pending troubles and shows which troubles may be in jeopardy for missing the 24 hour out of service objective set by the PSC. When I notice a trouble in possible jeopardy, I refer the trouble to a load control supervisor. There are two load control supervisors, _____ and

After referring these type troubles to a supervisor, I am no longer involved. It is their responsibility to handle the trouble from that point.

It is not part of my job responsibility to close out troubles and don't have the training to do so. It is my responsibility to utilize the CON (carried over no) transaction at times when the IMC dispatch time conflicts with the dispatch time requested by the subscriber. This transaction is used when at the customers instructions we may exceed the 24 hour out of service objective. The ELMOS System CON transaction would remove a trouble from the out of service 24 hours index base, and would not be counted against the Maintenance Center results. This transaction is only used after I contact the subscriber and attempt to get the trouble dispatched within the 24 hour period. If this can not be done, I note the subscriber trouble history that they requested a future due date.

I seldom utilize the CON transaction. I estimate that I may CON a trouble no more than once a month if that many.

I am aware that an investigation is in progress regarding abuse of the CON transaction and false reporting and incorrect statusing of Test OK out of service troubles.

I have no knowledge that anyone in the IMC is involved in manipulating trouble reports or creating false troubles for the purpose of meeting certain PSC objectives. I have never been asked or instructed to do anything improper regarding subscriber reports.

I have read the above two page statement and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed the two pages.

34 Interview of _____ Manager-IMC

"Gainesville, Florida
December 12, 1990

I, _____ do/hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as the Manager-IMC, Gainesville, Florida Division, and my NCS date with Southern Bell is April 1, 1965.

I came into the Gainesville IMC in 1983 or 1984 as an Assistant Manager and promoted to IMC Systems Administrator in either January or February, 1988. I kept this assignment until January of 1990 when I was moved to Gainesville Engineering as an acting pay grade 5. I returned to the Gainesville IMC in July, 1990 and presently hold the title of Manager-IMC.

I am aware that an investigation is in progress regarding the false reporting of Out of Service Test OK troubles and the improper coding of subscriber troubles using the CON (Carried Over No) transaction in the Gainesville IMC.

I have reviewed information initially developed by the North Florida Headquarters staff that Test OK subscriber troubles were incorrectly statused Out of Service with no narrative to support the Out of Service status. The headquarter's review also determined that on the deviations found they were shown to a fictional Repair Service Attendant (RSA). These troubles were also shown with short clearing times between three and five minutes. The staff also found that these troubles were falsely created in the Gainesville small exchanges using sequential telephone numbers from the Gainesville Telephone Directory.

The intentional manipulation was to obviously increase the Out of Service base to meet a PSC objective. The utilization of the CON transaction removes a subscriber report from the over 24 hour PSC objective. Those improper CON transactions were also an obvious attempt to make sure that the PSC objective was met.

Making these PSC objectives is one of the very important parts of my job. I also have other objectives along with the Out of Service Over 24 Hours that I try to daily make sure stay in line. These include the Code 4 (Outside Facilities) report rate, missed appointments, repeat reports, and the total Network report rate.

Although the over 24 hour objective is important to me I have never condoned the manipulation of company records to include creating reports for the purpose of meeting an objective. I receive weekly printouts with information on subscriber reports letting me know where I stand regarding Out of Service reports. If I am not meeting the objective of 95%, I advise all my supervisors where we stand in the exchange in question and make sure that they do everything possible within the set guidelines not to miss another Out of Service report.

I have made the statement at or near the end of a month that we would need several Out of Service reports if we were to meet the PSC objective. I would ask that reports in the dispatch or screening pool be retested to see if any reports could be restatused out of service. If I could get the out of service base built up we could meet the objective.

It's obvious there has been record manipulation in my center so we could meet these results. As I stated before, I do not condone and I have never asked anyone to falsify records to meet objectives. However, because of my constant monitoring of the Out of Service reports and the fact that I also daily advise my supervisors when we are not meeting an objective, I may have unknowingly sent the wrong message to one or more of my supervisors.

I personally have not created trouble reports or asked a manager or craft employee to create trouble reports, or falsify any other IMC records to meet objectives.

I have also advised my employees, especially my managers, that if anybody was making up short duration trouble reports or doing anything illegal they better stop it. This was in late October or the first part of November, 1990. My supervisor, _____ had asked me to take a look at my center to make sure that everything was being reported and handled properly. He was especially concerned with task building by the outside forces. I did find some short duration Test O.K. reports but did not pursue or investigate the exact reason they were shown cleared in a short time. I did say as I stated before, that if anything improper was being done, they better damn sure stop it.

The Gainesville IMC is my responsibility. I suspect that the improper actions under investigation were done by one or more of my managers. However, I do not have any proof to substantiate my suspicions.

I do recall an incident in early November, 1990 involving a special circuit that had an expanded duration time of receipt to clear in excess of sixty-nine hours. This subscriber report was mishandled by SARTS, my IMC supervisor and by SSIM whereby it was not properly closed in ELMOS in a timely manner. This incident was over a weekend. The trouble report came in on a Friday afternoon and was not closed until Monday morning. Since was on weekend duty and he was formerly a supervisor in SSIM, I felt that he should have handled the report over the weekend and not waited until Monday. He was somewhat inexperienced in the operation of the IMC, so I re-covered him on the proper procedures regarding dispatch and the importance of handling a long duration subscriber report.

Because of this I told Powell that we would need many short duration tickets to overcome the unnecessary effect of the one long duration report. He later asked me what he could do about the long duration report. As I recall, I told him we were going to have to eat it as there was nothing we could do.

I have been advised that one of my Maintenance Administrators, stated that came to her asking that she make up false trouble reports to offset a long duration out of service special circuit. She stated that she would do what the supervisor asked but told him she thought it was wrong and improper. then advised that went to me to discuss the matter. He came back to and decided that he would not ask that false reports be made, because he had a guilty conscience.

I don't recall that mentioned false reports or that he had a guilty conscience. I only told him that we could do nothing but eat the trouble. When I told Powell that we would need many short duration troubles, I in no way was suggesting or instructing him to create trouble reports.

I have read the above statement consisting of six pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and correction.

Interview of [redacted] Assistant Manager-IMC

Gainesville, Florida
December 12, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell Gainesville, Florida as an Assistant Manager-IMC, and my net credited service data is September 17, 1973. I report to [redacted] and can be contacted through him at 904-335-1258.

I have been a manager in the Gainesville Maintenance Center for approximately six years. During my entire time here reporting to second level managers, [redacted] and now [redacted] I have never been asked to do anything improper with the statusing of subscriber reports for the purpose of making a PSC objective. All managers, including myself, are always being reminded that we need to do everything possible within the rules and guidelines to make all of our indexes. Again, I personally have never done anything improper or been asked to do anything improper so that an index could be met.

I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley, a list of Test OK out of service reports for September and October, 1990, for several small exchanges in the Gainesville and Brooksville Districts. I have been told that these records reflect reports that were created for the purpose of enlarging the Out of Service report base so that the PSC over 24 hour Out of Service index could be met.

I have no personal knowledge who may have created these troubles.

I do recall an incident that happened within the past three months that involved Gainesville IMC Assistant Manager [redacted]

I believe that I was working at the Brooksville Control position. [redacted] walked by and made a passing comment, something to the effect that he was in real trouble because he had missed too many out of service subscriber reports. He was referring to reports that were out of service over 24 hours which directly affected the PSC objective. He also mentioned something about a telephone book and that he needed to build up the report base so that he could meet the PSC objectives. I made a comment to him like "Hey, that's very serious stuff or "That's a serious thing". I went back to my work never thinking that [redacted] was really serious in his statement. As a matter of fact, I forgot the incident until I learned of the Security investigation regarding the improper statusing of trouble reports. I also did not observe Powell sitting at an ELMOS terminal using a telephone book doing any type transactions.

My understanding of the CON transaction is that it removes the subscriber report from the PSC base. This transaction is only rarely used when a subscriber requests a future date for dispatch which would put the report in the over 24 hour status. In my six years in the Maintenance Center, I have authorized the use of the CON transaction no more than three times.

I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

However, as needed and on weekends, I assist in the Repair part of the center supervising the duties of the Maintenance Administrators.

I am now aware that an investigation is in progress in the Gainesville IMC regarding the improper statusing of subscriber trouble reports and that subscriber reports have been created to insure that PSC indexes are met.

I have been in this Maintenance Center for over four years. During this time, I have never been asked or instructed by higher management to manipulate Maintenance Center records improperly, including creating subscriber reports so that an index could be met.

I have reviewed the results of a review by the North Florida Area staff which indicated that TOK Out of Service reports were created in September and October, 1990 and that subscriber trouble reports were improperly put in the CON status for the purpose of meeting the PSC 24 hour out of service index.

I personally have not been involved in any improper actions in this regard and have no knowledge of who may be involved.

24 My supervisor, _____, has on occasion reminded me, as well as the other supervisors in the Maintenance Center, to make sure that we monitor all of our indexes. As far as I am concerned, he has worked hard to make sure that we are doing our work in the proper priority. I have worked all of the assignments in the Maintenance Center over the past four years. The responsibility is primarily monitored by the load control supervisors. 13 Second Interview of _____ Assistant Manager-IMC

16 I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

20 I am _____ old. My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] I am an Assistant Manager-IMC in the Gainesville, Florida Maintenance Center. I have been in the Maintenance Center since October or November, 1989. My present job assignment is Load Control Supervisor for the Gainesville Turf. This takes me in the Gainesville area and all of the smaller exchanges such as Keystone Heights, Newberry, Bronson and others. In this job, it is my responsibility to manage the load in my turf assignment. I am responsible to make sure that when possible I have enough manpower in areas having trouble reports. This includes doing everything possible in my control to not miss clearing troubles within twenty four hours.

At no time have I ever asked any employee to create troubles so that the Maintenance Center would meet a PSC objective.

I understand that an employee in the center made the statement that I asked the employee to create troubles to offset a special circuit outage that exceeded the out of service time limit.

This is a totally untrue statement. Clearing time is very important to me, but not important enough to be involved in cheating.

As I stated in my interview on December 13, 1990, I do not have the knowledge of the ELMOS system to create or close troubles.

I have also been advised that someone in the center overheard me make a statement to the effect that I was in trouble because I had some troubles that went over the twenty four hour time limit. They also stated that I said I needed a telephone book so that I could make some troubles. This is also a false statement, since I don't know how to make a trouble report, why would I make such a statement. I have never been asked or instructed by my supervisor , or any other manager to manipulate records, create troubles or do anything else against Company policy for the purpose of meeting an index. I also have no knowledge of any other employee, management or craft that may be involved.

If the Company cannot get someone to admit to the creation of false troubles why doesn't the Company consider asking all of the employees in the Gainesville Maintenance Center to submit to a Polygraph test. I would have no fear of taking such a test, but wold like to see everyone take the test.

If I determine any information in the future regarding who may be involved, I will immediately bring this information to the attention of my supervisor.

I read the above statement of 3 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed all pages and corrections.

To make every effort not to miss subscriber appointments, or let trouble reports go over the twenty-four hour time limit. I try to accomplish my work within the proper guidelines.

I understand that an investigation is in progress regarding the improper statusing of subscriber reports and the creation of false trouble reports for the purpose of meeting PSC index objectives.

I have no personal knowledge of anyone in the Gainesville Maintenance Center that may be falsifying or manipulating Company records for this purpose. I have not been involved in falsifying records myself to meet objectives. My supervisor, _____ regularly reminds all of the Maintenance Center Managers where we stand on missed appointments or if we are in jeopardy regarding subscriber lines out of service over twenty-four hours. However, at no time has he ever asked me to do anything improper to make a PSC objective.

I have reviewed several subscriber trouble history reports for subscribers in the Gainesville District. These trouble histories reflect no assigned employee numbers, 921, 111, and 175 as the employee that handled the trouble. I have not seen these unauthorized employee numbers on Maintenance Center records and have no information who may be using these employee numbers.

In regard to the Security investigation in the Gainesville Maintenance Center on improper statusing and creating of false subscriber trouble reports in the months of September, October and November, 1990, I have no knowledge of who may be involved. I do not condone the manipulation of Company records for the purpose of meeting an internal or PSC index objective. I have never manipulated Company records for this purpose and I have never asked or instructed anyone under my supervision to falsify records to meet an index.

The creation of false subscriber trouble reports were done in the Gainesville Division small exchanges. Reports were created in six small exchanges apparently to enlarge the report base to insure that the PSC index for Out of Service over twenty-four hours would be met. In reviewing the reports in these small offices, it was not necessary to enlarge the report base on four of the six offices involved to meet the PSC index. In view of this, it is unclear to me why anyone would take the time to create reports when it was not necessary.

The responsibility for doing everything within Company guidelines to meet indexes associated with the Gainesville Maintenance Center is with myself and [redacted] Manager-IMC. I have supervised [redacted] for approximately two years, and have no reason to suspect that he would manipulate records outside of Company guidelines to meet any objective. Interview of _____

On January 8, 1991, Jeffries interviewed Reaves in the presence of Hice and W. L. DeLoach, Services Technician and Union Representative. The following unsigned statement was obtained. While the statement is unsigned, Reaves advised the information contained therein is true.

Jacksonville Beach, Florida

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ and was born on _____ I am married and my wife is _____ work for Southern Bell. _____ works in the Facility Assignment Center at the Southern Bell Tower. I am employed as a Service Technician at 1824 North 3rd Street, Jacksonville Beach, Florida. My net creditad service date is September 12, 1968 and my social security number is [redacted]. I reside at 2029 _____ and my home telephone number is _____

I am being interviewed today regarding some trouble reports that were called in directly to the AIRO System (Automated Reporting). These troubles were pre-assigned to me to work and were reflected as customer direct reports. One of the reports was an employee report preassigned to me. I transferred to Jacksonville from New Smyrna Beach about 1 1/2 years ago. Since I have been in Jacksonville, there was a standing procedure to call the Maintenance Center when work was slack or no work was available. When this happened, on rare occasions, then I would call the Maintenance Administrator who would check for work. If no work was available, I would be referred to the Load Balance Supervisor. The supervisor would check and sometimes I would be sent to another area in the city to work. If there was no work, sometimes they would tell me to get a number and make a trouble and call back in a couple of hours. I would identify a telephone number and make a trouble report. Later I would call the Maintenance Administrator and have the report pulled and assigned to me. I would in most cases just close the report without a visit to the customer. Sometimes I did go by and check the service. Let me say that this was very rarely done and only done when directed to me by the supervisor in the Maintenance Center. I did not go to my foreman when we were out of work. I followed the instructions given to me. I have never randomly created trouble reports to make my production look better. I never needed to do that and my integrity would not allow me to do this. The supervisors who told me to get a number and make a trouble were Gerry Denslow and [redacted]. As of several months ago, we are no longer allowed to make employee reports. We call the Maintenance Center and if no work is available, we are to call our field supervisor. My field supervisor would normally call the Load Control Foreman and decide what work should be assigned.

When I was told to get a number and make a report, I was not specifically told how to make the report. Sometimes it would go into the AIRO System and sometimes I would talk to a Maintenance Administrator. Again, I have never generated reports to make myself look better. I was only following instructions.

I am _____ of age and was born on _____ at _____. I am married and live with my wife and two children at _____.

My home telephone number is _____. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Installation Control Center-Network Department at 3100 Emerson Street, Jacksonville, Fla. Prior to this assignment I was a Load Balance Supervisor. My immediate supervisor is Dwight McInnis. My net credited service date is January 24, 1972. I am being interviewed today concerning the procedure to use when a Services Technician has no work assignment. The technician calls to a Maintenance Administrator (M.A.) and the M.A. checks for a current work. If there is no work, the M.A. calls Load Control and usually bridges the technician on the line. If the M.A. called me I would look for an Irregular Plant Condition (IPC) to assign. If no pending IPC's are found, the technician is referred to his field supervisor. Sometimes the technician will call back to Load Control and state that his supervisor can find no work. Other times, the supervisor will call and advise us there is no work. This is extremely rare that there would be no work. I have on occasion told a Service Technician to do some LITS, repair encapsulations, or complete any cutover that is still pending. By doing some LITS I would expect the technician to go to a location where cable pairs and/or working numbers could be metered and tested looking for problems on lines. They could then call the Maintenance Center and generate an employee report. The report would then be pre-assigned to the employee. By telling technicians to find a LIT or a trouble, I never would expect them to create a report on a line that had no trouble on it. Only legitimate troubles should be reported. If anyone did this, then they misunderstood or took out of context my statements. It is against Company policy and unethical to create trouble reports that don't exist.

Jacksonville, Fla.
3100 Emerson St.
1:00 PM

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ old and was born on _____ I am married and live with my wife and one child at _____ My home telephone number is _____ My social security number is [redacted] My net creditad service date is 12-18-67. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a pay grade 5 manager within the Southeast Jacksonville Turf. I am responsible for all installation and maintenance field operations and report to Mr. Robert R. Rupe.

I am being interviewed today in regard to some questionable trouble report activities that occurred in the August to October time period by two Services Technicians at Jacksonville Beach. The activities in question were the result of a Network Staff Study, as well as an indepth Internal Turf Study conducted around mid October, 1990. The study findings indicated certain inconsistencies with some AIRO (Automated Reporting) and EO (Employee Reports) that required field investigations to resolve. The field investigations further indicated that the two employees involved may have knowingly generated reports that the customers had no knowledge of. Some were made through AIRO, while others were employee reports.

As a result of the turf study, it was determined that there was a need to revise procedures for the handling of both employee and/or pre-assigned trouble reports. These revisions were made and put in effect initially on 10-19-90. I participated in both the field investigations and the revisions made for handling future employee and pre-assigned reports.

Security investigation of our initial findings indicated from an interview of one of the two Jacksonville Beach employees that some of the questionable reports were the result of the employee allegedly being told by a Load Balance Supervisor to, "Go get a telephone number, make a trouble, and call back in a couple of hours". This occurred at times he stated when the load was light and no tasks were available. He properly described the procedure for contacting the Installation Maintenance Center when this happened.

It has been the policy of the turf, with my specific instructions to Field Control Managers, to ensure that adequate irregular plant condition work is made available to the Load Balance positions for those times when the load is slack. The need for doing this has been stressed by myself to my supervisors numerous times over the past two years. I have also frequently asked the Load Balance Supervisors to inform me when they needed more IPC (Irregular Plant Condition) work to be made available. Furthermore, procedures for proper handling of Employee (EO) Reports have also been stressed and attempts made to avoid employee abuse of same. Attached to this statement are examples of documentation over the past year sent by myself to field supervisors which support my policy for keeping IPC work available, as well as past methods for monitoring employee reports requested by Services Technicians. As stated earlier, procedures for handling employee reports have since been revised and are also documented and attached.

It has never been my policy, nor have I ever suggested to any subordinate in my work group, to in any way generate false trouble report activity to supplement the periodic lack of normal work available or to falsely inflate task credit. I clearly understand such activities are against Company policy.

I personally prepared the above handwritten statement and it is true to the best of my knowledge.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] and was born [redacted] at [redacted]. I reside at [redacted] and my home telephone number is [redacted]. My net credited service date is 2/17/64 and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Network at 7553 Atlantic Blvd., Jacksonville, Fla. and my office number is 904-727-7015. Prior to January 1, 1991, I was assigned to 1824 N. 3rd Street, Jacksonville Beach, Fla. My immediate supervisor is [redacted]. I am being interviewed today as a result of an investigation which involves two (2) Services Technicians that worked for me at my previous assignment. The employees are [redacted] and [redacted] is a very good quality worker and very meticulous and neat. I have had to talk with him on several occasions about his quantity of work. I had noticed improvement in Mr. Clanton's quantity and thought my talks with him may have helped him. 3 4 is a quality employee and I have had no problem with his results. I am told by Mr. Jeffries that: stated that he was told by Load Balance Supervisors to "find a number and make a report" when there was no work available. In the last two or three years when we ran out of work and there were no Irregular Plant Conditions (IPC's) to do, there was a procedure my Technicians would follow. I'm told that if no work was available, the Load Balance Supervisor would tell the employee to find a routine until some jobs came in. A routine could be something that they remembered needed to be done on a previous job or obtain a number and generate an employee report. They would then go to the location and routine the customer's service. Load Balance would tell them to find a routine only after all avenues to find work have been exhausted. This has been the procedure for the last four years that I have been in the field. Recently, some new instructions came out regarding the handling of AIRO and employee reports. It now requires that the concurrence of two supervisors be obtained before an employee report can be generated.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and two others and it is true to the best of my knowledge.

I am being re-interviewed today to clarify some points from my previous statement of February 5, 1991. I installed two telephone lines at [redacted] during the summer of 1990. These were two separate visits but I don't remember the dates. One day I was talking to Detective [redacted] at the [redacted] Police Department. He mentioned a case he was working on [redacted] and I told him I had installed some service in the residence. He said he might need my help on the case and I gave him my pager number. On September 21, 1990, sometime in the morning, I was paged and I called [redacted] back. I went to the station and discussed the case with him. I first found out that Southern Bell Security had provided records because they were subpoenaed. Patterson had the records but he couldn't read or understand them well. I helped explain the records and also told him about "Ringmaster" which he asked me about. I also looked at photographs and identified the people as the same people who resided at I have not been back to this home and the only time I went to the residence was to perform Company business. September 21, 1990 was the day I submitted the trouble report on to cover my time. I charged an hour of overtime on September 21, 1990 because I worked overtime. I felt that because our Company was cooperating in the investigation and was aware of the situation, I had a civic and Company responsibility to help out on behalf of the Company. I have not divulged any proprietary information or assisted in any other cases handled by law enforcement. I have looked at records which indicated I performed work at the police station on 7-13-89, 3-8-90 and 10-15-90. On 7-13-89 I repaired some equipment that had been damaged by a janitor with his brooms or mops. On 3-8-90 the report was noisy line. I don't remember the trouble but the line must have come clear because I found it O.K. On 10-15-90, someone had removed some bridge clips which I replaced. I have not falsified any reports to improve productivity or give myself free time. The only report I generated was on to cover my time working with the police on 9-21-90. Again, I felt it was my responsibility to assist in this matter.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and two others. It is true to the best of my knowledge.

3 I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am My birthdate is and my Social Security Number is I am employed with Southern Bell as a Network Assistant Manager. I report to and I may be reached in Jacksonville, Florida at 904-350-7921.

From 1986 through 1988, one of my staff responsibilities was to act as the North Florida Area Sales Coordinator for Network. From 1989 through March of 1990, when GoldLine went into effect, I was the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida.

My job as area sales coordinator was to interface with the district coordinators and publish monthly and year to date sales figures for each district by sales shown to the Operations Manager, the 2nd levels and 1st levels. I would sent these sales results to the field by TWX with a copy sent to General Manager Perry.

Whenever there was a sales contest, I would see the individual sales results for all employees.

I also received a microfiche copy of the 2011A printout on all sales that I filed in my office. I usually received the fiche copy about 60 days later.

In regard to the sales contests, I would travel to the field and explain the contest rules and describe the prizes available for the top sellers.

Since I have been the sales coordinator from 1986 to now, Orlando Network seemed to always be the highest in sales and the biggest prize winner.

From my view of the total sales, the normal good seller would be 3 to 4 thousand dollars of generated revenue per year. However, the high sellers in Orlando would at times have generated sales revenue of ten times this amount.

I had (sic) read the above statement consisting of four pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

"Orlando, Florida
October 16, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am presently employed with Southern Bell as an Administrative Support Manager reporting to [redacted] at 1227 South Division Street, Orlando, Florida. I can be reached at 407-841-8978.

In 1988 I was the supervisor of an I&M crew in the Orlando, Florida District. When [redacted] took over as the Network Operations Manager in the first part of 1988, he made sales a very important part of our daily business. He stressed pretty hard that sales was good revenue for the Company and that we, as employees, were overlooking good opportunities to sell since we in the Network group met the customer face to face.

At this time the Sandlake I&M District under was very high on sales and consistantly out sold the Orlando District. They were utilizing at least one person to do nothing else but make telephone solicitation sales.

I decided to take a person out of my crew to also do telephone sales in an attempt to catch up with the Sandlake District sales. I talked with my supervisor and he agreed.

I used Services Technician I brought her into the Division Street Work Center. Initially, we used the Orlando Blue Book and the telephone directory to make calls. After about two weeks she was only selling approximately eight to ten Wiring Maintenance Plans a day, which was not worth her time off the work load.

I learned that the Sandlake District was using Customer Service Records on microfiche to make their calls. This record would show if the customer had either the full or partial Wiring Maintenance Plan which we concentrated on.

These microfiche records were originally ordered and sent to office.

was the Assistant Manager in the Sandlake District that was using Services Technician to make solicitation calls. I understand that she was on light duty when she did solicitation and I believe that she was recovering from a knee operation.

was very successful in making calls, so I decided to have Gholson sit with her to see what her technique was. I sat and observed Smith along with Gholson for approximately one hour. In that time she made about 20 calls and reached about 12 to 15 subscribers. Of those she did reach, she sold the Maintenance Plan to over half of them. She had a very good sales pitch. stayed with Smith about a day and a half picking up sales pointers. Because of this, her sales immediately picked up to about 30 to 35 sales a day.

explained to me that whenever his telephone solicitor would make contact with a subscriber and was able to upgrade the wiring plan, he would have the employee write the order to disconnect the plan already on the subscriber's line and show the installation of the full plan, SEQ1X. This would reflect a two dollar sale as opposed to a one dollar sale to add the additional feature. Because of the additional credit that could be received, I instructed to prepare her sales referral forms the same way. Actually, the way I understood it, the referral form had to be written this way anyway, or the subscriber would be double charged. He would have been charged for the partial plan already on his line and for the full SEQ1X service.

would turn in her sales referral sheets to me daily and I forwarded them to the MSOC Service Order Group in the Orlando Customer Services Office.

When I put on sales, I instructed her to make sure she spoke with the subscriber and make every effort to sell the full or upgraded Maintenance Plan or any other available service. However, I did not instruct her to keep a record of the name of the person she spoke with or the time of day. For a while I kept a copy of referral forms which reflected the date of her sale. However, I stopped keeping copies after about 6 months because of the volume of forms. The copies that I kept have since been discarded.

In late 1988 showed me a list from the Business Office reflecting the names and telephone numbers of approximately 20 subscribers complaining that a service had been added to their telephone without their authorization. Three to four sales made by was on the list.

I went to and questioned her. She assured me that she was contacting the subscriber on all her sales. She explained that she possibly spoke with the and the complaint was from the husband, or she could have spoken with a teenager not realizing she was not talking with the subscriber. I instructed her to make sure that she was talking with the actual subscriber and that we were aboveboard on all our sales. I did not instruct her to keep a record of who in the family she spoke with.

Because her sales were so good and this was the only complaint that I received about her sales, I had no reason to doubt that her sales were legitimate.

As I recall, the list of customer complaints reflected the names of and who were Maintenance Administrators in the Test Center.

received several gifts for her good sales and I also received a .22 rifle and a 12 gauge shotgun.

At no time did I ever instruct, request, or condone any cheating in my sales.

At some point close to the end of 1988 the sales race was close between the Sandlake I&M District and the Maintenance Center. who was in the Sandlake District told me that the Maintenance Center was upgrading the Wiring Maintenance Plan on telephone service that had been restored after being suspended for non-pay. I don't know where he got that information or if it was true. I did not tell my supervisor what said about the Maintenance Center.

When I decided to put someone on telephone sales solicitation, sometimes called the "Boiler Room" sales approach, I made the decision on my own but did apprise my supervisor Ray Mann. He did not have any objection to this sales approach, especially after our sales increased so much. Operations Manager when he was here, and my present Operations Manager were both aware that the I&M groups and the Maintenance Center were utilizing employees to make telephone sales. I have no knowledge that or would condone unauthorized sales or any other improper operation of our business. As a matter of fact, on more than one occasion, has specifically told me that he better not catch me cheating. He was referring to production figures for the Services Technicians. In my present position as Support Manager, I have personal control of these figures.

Assistant Manager, worked in the Division Office as the Orlando Network Division Sales Coordinator, along with his other duties. When he moved from the Division Office to the Sandlake I&M Group with similar duties as I, he also retained the job as Division Sales Coordinator.

When he was not available or busy, I assisted him at times in this job. My assistance usually involved transferring all sales figures for all employees in the Division to a local computer form to keep track of the Division sales.

In this job I did notice that some employees were very high on their sales, however, I knew that these employees were being utilized strictly on telephone solicitation and didn't think there might be a problem.

I did not have any instructions as Sales Coordination Assistant to verify any sales by recontacting the subscriber. I don't believe that had any such instructions either.

As far as I know, the only way we had to add any sale to a customer's line was to fill out the Network Sales Referral Form and forward them directly to the Customer Service MSOC Group and a Service Order Typist would issue a Service Order.

This all changed when GoldLine went into effect this year. There was some concern that GoldLine would not be able to handle the volume of our sales, and the Network Division would not get proper sales credit.

I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialled each page and all corrections.

"October 17, 1990
Jacksonville, Florida

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. L. Preau and C. L. Cuthbertson, whom I know as representatives of Southern Bell Telephone Company. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed as the Operations Manager-Network in Orlando, and my Date of Birth is [redacted] and my Net Credited Service Date is 9-8-69. I have been in my current job assignment since June, 1989, when I replaced [redacted] Prior to that I was the Operations Manager for the Coastal turf from November, 1988 until May, 1989. When I took over the Orlando operation, employees were designated to the sales job in the Sandlake area under [redacted] and in the Maintenance Center under [redacted] It should be noted that in May, 1989, the sales referral program was changed, excluding the turf managers from getting sales points. Since I have been in Orlando, I have not received any awards or compensation as a result of the Network Sales Referral Programs. The sales mechanism set-up in the district when I arrived was continued using a dedicated sales person from the outside force and also one in the Maintenance Center. On two or three occasions, since I arrived in Orlando Customer Services, has referred some questionable sales to me for review. As I recall, the first occurred in the fall of 1989, the next in March of 1990, and then again in May of 1990. These questionable sales totaled no more than about a dozen. I believe most of these involved and the two employees dedicated to making sales calls. I brought these complaints to the second levels involved and they questioned and and assured me they had no indication of any problems. I provided this feedback to Customer Services. As I recall, even had first level supervisor sit with her while she made some sales calls to confirm that all of her sales were legitimate. The number of complaints out of the thousands of sales made did not indicate a problem. When came to me in June, I decided that Security needed to be brought into the matter. I received letter on June 19, 1990, and referred the matter to Security in writing on June 20, 1990. I also spoke to Floyd Bradley, Staff Manager-Security in Orlando, about this matter. I have been interfacing with Bradley since I arrived in Orlando in June, 1989. I believe Bradley is a competent investigator, he is thorough and uses good techniques, and I have been satisfied with the results that he has obtained for me. During the July - August time frame, I was dealing with Bradley and Nelson Thornton, Associate Manager-Security, in Orlando on a regular basis involving employee related Security investigations. We were involved in the case, in which an employee brought a prostitute into the Company building after hours, had a fight with her, and as she exited the building she set off several fire alarms. We were also involved with Outside Plant Technician, who made threatening statements to his supervisor and threatened to kill himself and several others. Bradley and Thornton had to get statements from all of the employees who overheard the threats and also coordinated with the police and the employee assistance coordinator in getting committed for evaluation. We were also involved in the matter in which an employee was beaten and robbed while working at a terminal after dark. Bradley and I were heavily involved in that matter in coordinating the offering of a reward and dealing with the police. Bradley worked a long time on that matter and was successful in providing information to the police that led to the arrest of three people responsible for beating and robbing We were also involved in a matter involving , a Services Technician, who was initially terminated for making sexual advances to female customers, but was reinstated through arbitration. During the summer of 1990, we got two additional complaints from female subscribers regarding his behavior. I knew what Security was doing on these investigations and was assured that they would investigate the Network Sales Referral problem as soon as they had the opportunity. I was out of town the week of September 17, 1990, in RAMBO training, and returned to work on September 24 and 25, 1990. I was then on vacation from September 26, until October 8, 1990, and didn't find out the results of the Security investigation until Randy staff meeting on October 9, 1990. Increased revenue through Network Sales has always been strassed in Florida. During the management forums in March, 1990, recognized Orlando as the top area in sales and individually recognized and Browning for their contributions to the Company. Orlando has always been successful in sales and it has been known that part of the reason for that success was the use of Network employees dedicated to sales. In discussion at FOC meetings, I have explained our success was because of the use of dedicated employees and I have never been told to stop that practice. I am not aware of any correspondence telling the turf managers not to use a boiler room operation to generate Network sales. and were the two employees dedicated to sales when I arrived in Orlando and they remained in that position until I changed the Network sales referral program in June, 1990 by referring everything through GoldLine. It should be noted that I have not stressed the Network sales program as strongly as some turf managers and when I was in the Coastal turf we did not have dedicated sales people. In reviewing the PMCR commitment form, 5100, I found that the managers had commitments in 1987, 1988, and 1989, to be in the top ten percent of sales in Florida. I removed that commitment during 1990. I have always stressed integrity and I have told my people that they better not be cheating in any aspect of the business. Prior to last week, I was not aware of any legal proceedings that could be affected by the information developed in this investigation. I have never heard of the case and am not aware of any legal action pending in U. S. West. I have heard about the coin telephone commission case through the grapevine, but I have never been told what the circumstances were or what connection that could have to this matter. I requested Security investigation based on a handful of discrepancies regarding the Network Sales Referral Program. I had no idea of the extent of the problem until I was told last week.

"Orlando, Florida

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am My birthdate is and my Social Security Number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manger-CPE/Data in Orlando, Florida and report to Mr. Steve Hoeltke, Manager-Network/CPE. My Net Credited Service Date is July 9, 1973. I can be reached in Orlando at 407-425-6252. I transferred to Orlando in 1983 as a Services Technician from South Florida.

Throughout my career I have been very active in customer sales. As a matter of fact, I was a craft sales leader from 1975 until I transferred to the Orlando area. When I was in South Florida my closest competition in sales was Services Technician in Boca Raton. We transferred to Orlando on the same day and were assigned to the same district.

I learned soon after my arrival in Orlando that sales was not a high priority. I continued to make sales contacts in Orlando and quickly became the top seller for all of North Florida. It was not so much to do with the fact that I was a good seller, it was due to the fact that I took the time and effort to talk with each customer I visited due to a trouble report.

I was promoted to Assistant Manager in 1984 and moved into my crew. Knowing his success with sales I motivated him to become the Orlando top seller.

I used him when the load permitted to make call backs on repeated report subscribers and while checking on their service, attempt to sell the newly activated Custom Calling features. He was very successful. I closely observed his sales contacts as I was also contacting subscribers.

When I received complaints or comments that was getting the soft job, I gave the sales opportunity to all of my crew members. When the other crew members decided that they did not care to sell, I continued to use to make the sales calls as the load permitted. I never instructed to make the sales calls, he volunteered, because like me, he enjoyed the customer contacts. In 1985 or 1986 Maser won a trip to Hawaii for his sales effort.

As I recall during this same time frame two Service Technicians in my Sandlake District, and had problems with the validity of a large number of their sales referrals. Their sales were investigated by the business office and the majority of their sales credits were removed from the district sales results. I don't recall what supervisor they reported to but the District Manager was and the 2nd level manager was

One point I want to make is that while working for and they both had meetings, demanding that sales integrity be foremost.

I was moved to the Pine Hills area within the Sandlake District in late 1986 or early 1987. My sales declined considerably as my new crew was not sales oriented.

I instructed the new crew to start selling and my contact sales slowly increased.

In late 1987 or early 1988 Services Technician had a double knee operation. Following her operation, she wanted to continue to work on light duty while she recuperated. This was a good opportunity for me to utilize her on telephone solicitation.

I had previously used repeat reports as the source of sales contacts. When began selling, she exhausted this source and I was able to obtain old microfiche records from the business office. She used these records and she was extremely successful selling the Custom Calling features and the newly offered Wiring Maintenance Plan.

In this new crew, I also offered the sales job to each member and they all declined.

Initially, while recuperating from her knee surgery, I allowed to make some of her sales contacts from her home. Mainly because she could not drive and she made calls during all (I.E. 5-7PM) hours of the day. I also checked on her sales progress daily.

When came off light duty, she was placed back on the load and used on sales only when the load permitted (from an office at 1227 S. Division Street).

In early 1988, replaced as the Orlando Division Operations Manager.

was very interested in generating revenue through the employee sales referral program and encouraged all of his managers to increase their sales efforts.

In some meeting early after his arrival, questioned how the Sandlake District maintained their high sales level. I assumed that my second level manager, informed him on our sales procedures of utilizing old business office microfiche records.

Shortly, we began receiving up-to-date microfiche records for all of North Florida through office. All the foremen in the district had the opportunity to use these records to increase their sales.

I continued to use to make sales contacts when possible. At this time a new sales program was in effect, whereby, points were awarded for sales that were used to purchase catalog gifts. Because of this, on her own, distributed or shared her sales points with her crew members to be fair. I also received a percentage of the sales points as well as my second and third level managers. I did not select catalog gifts. However, I along with Perera and Mr. forfeited the gifts and accepted a Virgin Island Cruise. This was the result of our winning area sales contests.

In regard to sales, there were a few occasions when her sales were referred back by the business office.

My investigation revealed either service order typist errors, or a husband or wife not wanting to pay for what their spouse had agreed to.

I had no doubts of integrity because I either checked her sales or observed her talking with customers. She also had very few sales returned.

I left the I&M organization in October, 1988 and now work in the CPE/Data group.

In regard to employee he worked for me in 1988. On one occasion while he was out sick or on benefits for a short period, he offered to make sales calls from his home. His results were very poor for the short period so I ceased to use him, as it was not worth the effort.

I heard that was a sales leader under Assistant Manager Since I was no longer in the group, I have no knowledge that may have cheated on his sales.

1 I have been advised that Assistant Manger [redacted] stated that I told him that the Maintanance Center was adding features to customer's lines at the time they were restored after being disconnected for non-pay.

5 I don't recall specifically telling [redacted] this, however, it was a rumor. Since I had no facts, I did not pursue the issue.

8 In regard to former employee [redacted] sometime in 1987, I visited the Maintanance Center to observe her conducting her telephone sales contacts to determine if she needed any assistance on her approach. During the hour that I was there, I observed her complete several sales. I have no information that she may have cheated.

14 In regard to [redacted] statement that my employees were receiving double credit when upgrading the Wiring Maintenance Plan, I did not give any instructions to manipulate the service order to get extra credit.

It was my understanding that when the Wiring Maintenance plan was upgraded, it was necessary to disconnect the present plan and connect the full plan or the customer would be double charged. If we got extra credit, I assumed that it was a legitimate part of the sales program.

I have no knowledge (or proof) of any employee cheating on sales and if I had, I would as an employee and manager for Southern Bell, report them to the proper authority. It is my desire and duty to comply with any request for information in the investigation of this situation.

I have read the above statement consisting of nine pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and each correction.

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am _____ old. My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Manager-IMC, Orlando, Florida, and my net credited service date is July 29, 1957.

When _____ became our District Manager, he encouraged sales. The Maintenance Center wanted to be competitive with the Installation and Maintenance forces. We knew they had someone earmarked for sales because we saw the force reports. We tried to encourage all employees to make sales during their normal contacts. We eventually evolved to a "boiler room" type operation. I do not recall discussing this type operation with anyone above my level. I don't recall receiving any correspondence regarding the "boiler room" type operation, not being sanctioned by the Company. If I had, I would have certainly ceased the "boiler room" operation immediately. I have just reviewed correspondence from _____ Operations Manager-Network dated May 24, 1988 and June 21, 1988, relating to "boiler room" operations and Mrs. _____ concern regarding such operations. This is the first time I have seen this correspondence or been made aware that "boiler room" operations were not approved or sanctioned by Southern Bell. I have reviewed my statement dated September 19, 1990, and have no additional information to offer at this time.

I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each-page and all corrections.

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence.

I am employed by Southern Bell as Assistant Manager I&M at 6621 South Orange Avenue, Orlando. I subscriber to telephone number [redacted]. My Social Security Number is [redacted] and Date of Birth is [redacted] My NCS date is September of 1964.

In October of 1988, I was transferred to Sandlake District from the Orlando District. I was never involved in telephone canvassing sales until last year. [redacted] Services Technician came to work for me inside for approximately two weeks. I had gone to her since I knew she had been involved in sales before. My sales were way down is the reason I asked her. During the time she worked for me I never checked or verified any of her sales. I never got any complaints at any time on [redacted] was an [redacted] and I feel a very honest person. I was aware was canvassing in Sandlake but can tell you nothing about his sales. He did not work for me. When the sales points came out in January, ave me her points and with this I got a VCR and ice chest. She said she got everything she wanted out of the catalog and for me to take the points. I had her sign her check and I then took it to Assistant Manager. He then took the check and made me a check out in my name. During the time orked for me I do not know how she charged her time. During my time at Sandlake, I never received any customer complaints on sales nor was I ever aware of any person doing any wrong doing and no one brought anything to my attention. I have never been given any instruction on how to run a sales program. I had heard, but I do not know for sure, that had taken some of her points and bought a small fishing boat for sistant Manager. I heard it was for his birthday. The sales program had already been in place prior to me transferring to Sandlake.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed the first two pages.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to N. C. Thornton, who has identified himself as an Associate Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] My birthdate is [redacted] My social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as the Manager-Construction, Installation/Maintenance, Sanford, Fl. My office is located in Sanford at 132 Commerce Way and my business telephone number is 407-327-0530.

I worked at the Sandlake, Florida Installation Maintenance Center (IMC) as the Manager from 1983 to March, 1988. During this time, I had no effective sales program. I encouraged individual employees to try to make a sale when they had a customer contact but that was the extent of my sales program. When I left the IMC, I replaced [redacted] as the Manager-I&M Sandlake in the Orlando Turf.

When I took over this group, a sales solicitation program (boiler room) was already in effect. It seemed to be working very well. the results were good, so I did not make any changes. [redacted] Services Technician, was the person assigned to full time sales. She reported to Assistant Manager-I&M, [redacted] Toward the end of the year (1988) [redacted] stated that she was tired of sales and wanted to go back outside as a Services Technician and we granted her request. Then in early 1989, we asked for a volunteer for the sales solicitation and [redacted] lunteered. At this time, [redacted] was placed full time on sales solicitation. I had never been told nor have I ever seen any Company correspondence that indicated sales solicitations (boiler room) were against Company policy. To the best of my knowledge and belief, [redacted] Area Sales Coordinator, and [redacted] nd I [redacted] the Operations Manager of the Orlando Turf, knew we were using employees for full time sales solicitations.

[redacted] reported to Assistant Manager, [redacted] There was no uniform practice throughout the District for procedures in the sales program. We all knew that sales are important to the Company and each manager used his own initiative to achieve sales results.

was very effective with sales solicitations and his results were very high. On several occasions I asked if results were honest and he assured me that they were. I knew had a lot of confidence in his integrity. On many occasions I asked if his sales were legitimate and he assured me that they were. stated to me that he did not have to cheat because it was easy to sell the Maintenance Plan and also that his daughter was helping him by selling at school and that his church congregation was helping him make sales. is the pastor of a church. I asked Sloan to note on his sales referral forms the person he had talked to and he did show me some forms with these notations on them. I did not call any of these customers because I had complete confidence in

For about three months during mid 1989, Services Technician worked full time on sales solicitations. I was advised by that several of sales did not appear to be legitimate. Therefore, I immediately removed her from sales and informed her of the discrepancies. I tried to get copies of these questionable sales from so that I could call the customer but I never received them.

I have never been told not to take an employee of the load and put them on full time sales. If the trouble load became heavy on occasion, and would call and tell me to take the people off sales and get them on the load. I don't believe ever approved of the sales solicitations program. I have no knowledge of being aware of the sales program. I never discussed the program with as aware of how we were operating the sales solicitation and she knew George Sloan was making his sales from a boiler room type operation. Liz and I discussed sales many times and I absolutely did not tell her that we did not have a sales solicitation program in operation.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

is a Service Technician reporting to me. I have working in installation and repair as needed. When the work load is not heavy I remove him from I&M work and put him on Sales. Contacts Customers either by Telephone or in person to sell custom calling features, Maintenance plan, Ring master, etc. He will use Company records to determine what features a subscriber has on their service. He will then call the Customer and attempt to sell them a new feature or get them to upgrade a service. I have been advised by Security Staff Manager Bradley that several sales shown on Company records as made by employee have come back. Either the Customer has called me claiming they did not order the service or when a customer has been contacted, they claim again that they did not order the service.

I have reviewed 28 customer records with Ms. Bradley where in each case the customer called in or was contacted and denied that they were contacted by Southern Bell regarding an up grade in the wiring maintenance plan. - An up grade in the plan would increase the customer bill for this service from $1.50 per month to $2.50 per month.

10 I am aware that employee that made several hundred sales in a month. However, it is my feeling that this number of discrepancies is unusual.

14 This problem has come up before with [redacted] but not in this volumn. She was questioned regarding 5 or 6 sales returned in a month and he assured me that his sales were on the up & up. This problem came up last summer or Fall, and I was not aware of any additional problems until this incident. She was instructed to maintain good records as to who he spoke with when he made a sale to a subscriber.

If customer sales are being improperly reported, I am not aware of it. I do not condone nor have I ever instructed employee Sloan to report improperly. I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true. I have initialed each page and all corrections

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A.F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my Social Security number is [redacted] I am employed with South Bell as an assistant manager. I'm and my PCS date is November 29, 1966.

I have been advised that I have been identified by [illegible] employees [illegible] the management person providing them with the idea to add the upgraded maintenance plan to subscriber's lines without contacting the subscriber.

This is absolutely untrue. At no time did I ever tell either of these employees to report false sales.

As I recall, shortly after [illegible] was on the sales job, either I went to him or he came to me and we discussed his low sales. [illegible] asked me how [illegible] the Services Technician that did the sales because they made so many sales. I recall telling [illegible] that I had no problem but to make so many sales, I thought that maybe cheating. I also told [illegible] that [illegible] maintenance administrator handling sales in the Maintenance Center.

told me on the day she quit the Company in July 1988 that she was cheating on her sales. She stated that she added the maintenance plan on subscriber lines without contacting them. She said something like, everybody need protection. I don't remember if I informed my supervision [redacted] what she said.

I do recall that last summer, possibly in June, My supervision gave me a list of eight customer sales that were returned where the customer claimed they were not contacted by Southern Bell. These were sales reported by [redacted]. I went to him and questioned him about the sales and he assured me there was no problem. I viewed these as complaint as customers calling back because they really didn't want the maintenance service.

Again in the late summer of 1989 there were approximately ten additional sales referred by [redacted] returned for the same reason. Again I questioned [redacted] and he said there was no problem with his sales and he did not understand why the sales were returned. He insisted that he did speak with someone at the subscriber residence and possibly the sale was held by the Jacksonville service order group. [redacted] was also with me when I spoke with [redacted] a second time we both told [redacted] that it would be a good idea to note on the sales referral who he spoke with when he made a sale. I did not follow up to see if he was in fact noting his sales referrals.

Employee _____ only worked for me a short time while I was in the Maintenance Center and she only sold for me on a few occasions. Again I never instructed her or suggested to her to cheat on her sales.

I have no idea why these two employees would state that I told them to cheat.

There are gifts associated with high sales and I have been the recipient of several such gifts. However I would never jeopardize my job with Southern Bell cheating on sales to receive gifts.

I have read the above statement consisting of 3 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge & ~~belief~~. I have initialed each page and all corrections 7/21/90

I am [redacted] My birthday is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I/M, and my NCS date is November 29, 1966.

To the best of my memory the boiler room concept started four or five years ago when the first Hawaii trip was awarded. I believe the concept (boiler room) was suggested by [redacted] because he won the first Hawaii trip as a management person.

I never discussed the boiler room concept with [redacted] and [redacted] or [redacted] However, [redacted] and [redacted] had to be aware of the boiler room operation because if the trouble load got heavy they would tell us to take people off sales. I have no indication that [redacted] was aware of the boiler room operation.

I was never told of sales points being withheld or not awarded if any sales were through a boiler room operation.

When I saw the outstanding results of [redacted] and [redacted] I worried that their results were realized honestly. [redacted] did not work for me, therefore, I had no contact with her. I approached [redacted] on four different occasions and on two of these occasions, [redacted] was present and [redacted] assured us everything was correct and honest. On two occasions [redacted] Area Sales Coordinator, returned approximately twelve of [redacted] sales because the customer denied placing the order. [redacted] and I interviewed [redacted] and he assured us everything was honest and it probably was another family member who placed the order. Even after and I talked to ., I never thought about spot checking by calling some of ; sales. Also, no one ever suggested to me to call Sloan's sales as a follow-up to insure he was not cheating.

I never discussed with we were using a boiler room operation and in my opinion she was never aware of our operation of a boiler room.

I have never seen any Company correspondence prohibiting boiler room type sales solicitation and no one has told me not to use this approach.

Sales objectives were part of my 5100. My 1989, 5100 objective for sales was set at $12,000.00. My actual 1989 results were around $50,000.00. Based on my 1989 results, my 1990, 5100 sales objective was set at $32,000.00. These objectives were set by Manager I have never received an IIA award based on sales, to my knowledge, because I have received an IIA each year for the past ten years.

I left the Maintenance Center and took an outside crew in June, 1988. Before I left the Maintenance Center I remember orking less than two weeks, and this is adding all the days up, on sales. Her sales ran about twenty a day which was acceptable. After I left the Maintenance Center in 1988, was put on full time sales. I had no reason to be concerned with her sales results and certainly would not go to her and instruct her to cheat when her results did not affect me.

worked for me when he was put on sales full time. The reason as put on sales was because we needed someone to work the sales program and I canvassed everyone in my group and s the only person who volunteered. At first ad poor results. He was concerned and asked me how ad done so wall. I told him my gut feeling was she had cheated. and I did not discuss the possibility of him cheating any further. I did not suggest or instruct to cheat in any way. I never discussed my feelings that had cheated with upper management because it was just a feeling.

I have never suggested that any employee should cheat on any of their results and this includes Sloan and Taylor and their sales efforts.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and 3-other pages and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

19 I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to L. S. Poppell, who has identified himself as an Associate Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

24 I am [redacted] my birthday is [redacted] My Social Security Number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician and my NCS date is March 27 3, 1971. I report to [redacted] and I may be contacted through him at 407-291-6432.

I started in the sales program in 1987 when I was reporting to [redacted]. After I had been selling for about 1-1/2 years, [redacted] suggested to me to share some of my sales points with my co-workers because they did not have the opportunity to sell. The reason I was selling full time was because I had knee surgery and selling full time would allow me to continue to work. Also, my co-workers, after trying to sell or after they were offered the opportunity to sell, they preferred to work outside instead of selling.

After [redacted] suggestion, I started sharing my sales points with my co-workers on my own. I never gave any sales points to [redacted] and he never asked for any. Around Christmas, 1988, while sitting around looking at the sales gift catalog, [redacted] indicated he would like a boat. Later I suggested to my co-workers I could use my sales points to get the boat for Christmas and we would not have to spend any money. For whatever reason we never pursued the idea and did not get the boat or anything with my sales points for [redacted].

After [redacted] left, [redacted] took his place. I did give [redacted] a sales check valued at 500 points or worth $50.00 as a going away present in the first part of 1989.

When I started on the sales program I was working from my home because I had knee surgery and could not drive. This was in 1987. I worked from my home for about seven months, when someone filed a grievance. I was then given an office to work out of at 1227 South Division Street, Orlando, Florida. I worked from this location the rest of the time I was on sales.

My sales results were very good. I sold only the Maintenance Plan because the few times I tried to sell the other features I met with resistance. I never had thoughts about cheating and no one ever asked me to cheat.

About two months before [redacted] left, I quit selling to work outside. After Hoeltke left, [redacted] took his place as my supervisor. [redacted] approached me a couple of times to sell, but I declined him because I was tired of selling.

I never heard any comments about any type of cheating and I am not personally aware of anyone cheating.

I have read the above written statement consisting of this and two other statements and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

"Orlando, Florida
October 18, 1990

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my Social Security Number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-IMC in the Orlando District Maintenance Center.

As I stated in my meeting with Mr. Bradley on September 19, 1990, it is my understanding that the telephone sales solicitation program in the Orlando Maintenance Center was 4 initially set up and supervised by Assistant Manager I don't recall when he started the program but it was several years ago. I was not asked by my supervisor if I thought setting up the sales solicitation program or "Boiler Room Operation" was either the proper or improper thing to do. As I also indicated in my earlier statement, the person doing the telephone sales would be rotated among all the Maintenance Center first level supervisors. This would allow the supervision sales credit points generated by the sales to also be spread among all the supervisors.

14 When was placed under my supervision I did receive sales points and gifts based on her sales. However, as I also stated on September 19, 1990, she was left alone to make sales and she only reported to me on paper.

I was not given any instructions to follow-up on any of her sales or recontact a subscriber to verify any sale. I did 21 receive some telephone complaints from the Business Office regarding sales, that the subscriber did not order the Wiring Maintenance Plan added to their service. There were very few complaints based on her large volume of sales so I did not think there was a problem with her integrity. When I did receive a complaint I went to her and told her to make sure we were aboveboard on her sales. I did not take the complaints any further or recontact the subscriber.

29 I don't have personal knowledge that or knew that we were operating a "Boiler Room" sales operation. However, I think they would have to know since we generated so many sales.

I don't have any knowledge that "Boiler Room" sales are 34 not sanctioned by the Company. It was never mentioned to me by anyone in meetings with my supervisor or any other meetings I have attended.

36 In regard to employee she spent the majority of her time selling, but on rare occasions she would be pulled to perform her Maintenance Administrator duties.

40 I have no knowledge that false sales were being reported by when she was under my supervision. I also have no personal knowledge regarding cheating on sales by anyone else in the Orlando Division.

In retrospect, obviously the sales program should have been better supervised. However, while under my supervision there was no glaring indications that _____ may be cheating. The Maintenance Center job is very busy and time consuming, and on my part, the sales had low priority since it seemed to be going so well with very few subscriber complaints.

I read the above statement consisting of 4 pages and it is true to best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

"October 19, 1990

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am old, my birthdate is and my Social Security Number is

Since June of 1990, I have been in the position of Network Operations Manager for the South Broward Division. From September, 1987 through mid May, 1989, I was Network Operations Manager for the Orlando Division and prior to moving to Orlando I was the Network Operations Manager in the South Dade Division. Throughout my career in Network, along with all other facets of my job, I have put emphasis on sales. I feel that the employees in the field and the Maintenance Centers have excellent opportunities to make sales contacts either in person or by telephone, and can generate significant revenue for the Company. While in South Dade, along with normal sales contacts, I utilized employees when the work load permitted, to canvas customers by telephone using Business Office microfiche records to sell available services and features not on the subscriber's line. This boiler room method of sales was very successful and produced extensively more revenue than the normal contacts by Services Technicians or Maintenance Administrators. I utilized only those employees adept in sales. However, if they desired, all employees were given the opportunity to demonstrate their sales ability. When I moved to Orlando, telephone sales by a dedicated employee was in place under I&M second level manager 22 I allowed this program to continue as well as establishing other forms of recognition (dinners) to encourage sales. I also encouraged the other managers to review the use of telephone sales and to implement the program, if possible, based on the work load and service requirements. In late 1988, I know it was put into practice in the Maintenance Center under second level manager Jonah Bradley and I encouraged Ray Mann to implement a similar program in his I&M group.

As I recall, I received a note from Orlando Customer 31 Services Operations Manager around April or May of 1989 regarding sales that were denied by subscribers. The four or five employees on that list were identified by their sales code and only had few denied sales each, with the exception of one employee that had several returned sales. As I recall, this was 36 an employee by the name of working for 37 as a Maintenance Administrator. I had investigate 38 sales. He advised me that the Business Office was 39 right and that sales were illegal. Employee 40 had other problems, with attendance possibly, and was close to receiving severe discipline. I reviewed the matter 42 with included this incident with her overall problem, 43 and she was induced to resign. I got back with and requested that he keep me informed of any additional complaints. I did not receive any from him and I am not aware of any other complaints that may have been referred directly to my first or 47 second level managers. I considered this matter with to be an isolated incident. Shortly thereafter I left Orlando.

In any of my manager's meetings when sales were discussed or we reviewed the sales results, I always emphasized to them that the sales should be correct and for them to make sure that the people on telephone sales were doing what they were supposed to. When I was in South Dade, I would receive inquiries from the Business Office often regarding sales discrepancies and they would be resolved. I don't recall that any of the sales were illegal, but problems with the seller not talking with the actual subscriber or with one member of the family no longer desiring the new service added. In my division, I had a sales coordinator that kept track of the sales to make sure that the proper sales credit points were distributed to the employees making sales. He would also interface with the managers and the North Florida Area Network Staff Sales Coordinator in Jacksonville. The Sales Coordinator would transfer all of the monthly sales from the 2011A printout to a local spread sheet that would give me the up-to-date figures on all of the sales for all of the people in my group. These sales results were also furnished to all my second level managers. I did not normally receive sales figures on other turf results, only when there was a specific state sales contest. Prior to 1986, managers received only a pat on the back or met a 5100 commitment in regard to sales. Starting in 1986, I believe is the first time that managers got sales points toward the purchase of gifts, based on the sales of their employees. Sales points were 10% of six months generated revenue to the employee selling, 3% to the first level, 2% to the second level, and 1% of the sale to the Operations Manager. I personally received gifts for sales and as a winner in sales contests, won boat trips to the Virgin Islands in 1987 and 1988. A complete record of who won the boat trips to the Virgin Islands would be on file in the office of Operations Manager Bruce Swinea in Ft. Lauderdale. However, in 1987 there were six boats with four couples (an employee and a guest) on each boat. I recall that along with me, Operations Managers and 2nd levels and Ron Dubert and first level went on that trip.

On the trip I took in 1988, I recall that Assistant Vice-President General Manager Operations Manager levels ? 1st levels and Florida Sales Coordinator were along.

While in the Orlando Division, I don't recall that I ever personally spoke with Perry about my use of the boiler room sales technique; however, I assumed that based on the amount of sales that we made, he knew it. I first became aware of this type sales operation in 1982 when I went to the North Dade District. There was already a boiler room operation in place under Operations Manager I subsequently transferred to West Miami and again the same boiler room operation was already in place there under Operations Manager As a matter of fact, any Network Division with good sales has used or is using the boiler room technique of customer canvasing. In regard to the present investigation in Orlando, I had no indication while there that there may be any kind of improper sales other than the incident with In retrospect, obviously there should have been better controls on the telephone sales employees. However, the vast majority of our employees are honest and I try to treat all of my people that way. I also was not aware that the Network Sales Referral Forms were not being input by Service Representatives and that they were, in fact, going to the MSOP group and the service was directly input to the system by service order typists. I am not personally aware of any legal proceedings that could be affected by the information developed in this investigation. I have never heard of the case; however, I am aware that there is a case pending in either North or South Carolina regarding the package deal where service was being placed on the customer's line without them being informed by Service Representatives.

I have read the above statement consisting of six pages and it is true to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each page.

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I reside in _____ and my residence telephone number is _____

I started to work for Southern Bell in December, 1967 and left the Company in May of 1988. My last position with Southern Bell was as Maintenance Administrator at 7900 Mandarin Blvd., Orlando, Florida.

In my last few years with the Company, I had a bad problem with attendance, because of the distance from my home to the job. In May of 1988, it was a mutual agreement between myself and the Company that I resign because of this problem. I also received termination pay when I left the Company.

In 1987, up to May of 1988 when I left the Company, I spent a lot of my time making sales solicitation calls to subscribers, selling mostly the Wiring Maintenance Plan. I concentrated on the Maintenance Plan because it was the easiest to sell. Prior to me being placed on sales, fellow employee _____ did most of the solicitation calls. As a matter of fact, she taught me the sales job. I sat with her for a while to learn the sales technique. I don't recall exactly when, but _____ began sharing the sales job with me and when the work load permitted, on a few occasions, we both sold at the same time. We then started alternating the telephone sales job because she wanted to earn sales points to obtain gifts.

When I was selling, I was not under constant supervision, but felt that I was closely watched by my supervisors, and also knew that the telephone I used was monitored because on more than one occasion would come on the line after I finished a sales call and make a joking remark about not selling enough. I really feel that he just wanted me to know that he was monitoring my sales.

During the time that I sold I don't recall very many of my sales coming back, or I was never notified if they did. On those few that did come back, as far as I recall, they were resolved. I don't remember any specific incident but there may have been an incident when I spoke with someone other than the listed subscriber.

In regard to my leaving the Company in May of 1988, it was solely because of my attendance problems, as far as I know. Nothing was mentioned to me at that time that there may be a serious problem with my sales. I am sure if there was a problem, it would have been brought to my attention so that I would have had the opportunity to dispute any claim that I may be cheating.

I am advising the Company that I would have no problem if all of my sales were pulled and audited. In addition to being supervised and monitored, I was told by management to make sure that my sales were proper and that I was calling the subscribers. This only happened a couple of times and it was just in general conversation.

When I worked for the Company, I thought that nd I were good friends. However, we have not spoken since I left.

As I recall there were two incidents that may have caused us to drift apart.

I was active in Pioneers and was their representative in our building for the sale of tee shirts and other small items. Before I left, I turned that job over to along with a small amount of money, possibly thirty to forty dollars. A couple of months after I left, I was contacted by of the Pioneers wanting the money, as told her I still had it. I explained that I had left the money with with the Pioneer materials and had no idea where the money was. I never was contacted again about the money.

The second incident was at the Pioneer Convention held at the Marriott Hotel in Orlando near the airport. One evening

She left the convention early and checked out the following morning. She also did not attend the closing dance which was unusual for her. I have not heard from her since that evening.

When I did solicitation sales I received several gifts. However, these were gifts I purchased using earned sales points from legitimate sales.

I have read the above statement consisting of 4 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

I have initialed each page and correction.

I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am years old. My date of birth is and my social security number is I am employed with Southern Bell as a Manager-IMC, Orlando, Florida.

In regard to former employee I remember a call, but don't recall that it was specifically from regarding only one incident about a sale by her. I gave the inquiry to a supervisor and as far as I recall the complaint was satisfactorily handled. I don't remember which supervisor handled the matter, but do remember that I have told all of my supervisors on more than one occasion that if any cheating was found in the telephone sales, the employee involved would be terminated.

6 In regard to [redacted] separation from the Company, it was totally associated with her attendance and her sales was not a factor. As a matter of fact, I don't recall any other complaints about her sales.

I have heard Leatherman's sales presentation but do not recollect that I monitored one of her sales contacts or overheard her call while standing next to, or near her work position.

At times, I along with my supervisor, monitor the maintenance administrator positions to insure that only business is being conducted on the telephones and to determine if possible additional training is needed.

Time reporting of time spent on sales is reported to Job Function Code (JFC) 2230 as outlined in the memorandum dated 20 July 5, 1988, from [redacted] egment Manager-I/M, Outside Technical Support. I have provided a copy of this memorandum to Staff Manager Bradley.

A review of Mechanized Time Reporting forms (RF-152-8)
24 by myself and Staff Manager Bradley for employee [redacted] reflects that she was using the proper sales (JFC) code. I have 26 provided all of the MTR forms to Bradley for employee [redacted] for the year 1990 to date. She stopped using the sales code in June, 1990, when I ceased the boiler room sales operation after 29 learning of a possible problem with [redacted] ales.

October 23, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

In regard to the questionable sales involving employee [redacted] I discussed the possibility of obtaining the specific telephone number with [redacted] She called me back after making an inquiry with someone in Customer Services who advised her that the numbers could be retrieved but it would take at least thirty days to obtain a printout. The printout, the way I understand it, would provide me the necessary information on the specific telephone numbers so that I could further investigate. I never received the printouts. As time passed due to handling other needs of the business, the situation completely slipped my mind.

I don't recall receiving a call from [redacted] regarding a problem with sales by Maintenance Administrator [redacted] did not work for me and I can't understand why she would have called me. However, if I would have received a call from [redacted] regarding someone not in my organization, I would have certainly referred the problem to the appropriate manager.

Time charged to those employees exclusively working on telephone sales was charged, to the best of my recollection, to a miscellaneous non-productive code.

I will assist Staff Manager Bradley in researching FIRS reports to determine the actual codes charged.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and one other page and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

October 25, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ years old. My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] My NCS date with Southern Bell is February 2, 1971. I am presently employed with the Company as an Administrative Support Manager for second level manager _____ at 132 Commerce Way, Sanford, Florida. I can be contacted at 407-323-6080.

In approximately August or September, 1988, I was assigned the position of Systems Administrator in the office of Operations Manager _____ in Orlando, Florida. My responsibilities included tracking all Network results. This included tracking all Network results. This included tracking the division sales as reported on the 2011A printout. This printout provided the current month sales results for all levels of management and for all Network craft employees in _____ organization. This printout, as I understood it, reflected the total number of individual sales and the revenue generated by those sales for six months. It also reflected the cumulative (year to date) sales and sales revenue. The printout also separated the sales by type of sale, ie, Custom Calling Features or the Wiring Maintenance Plan.

I took these results from the 2011A printout and transferred them each month to a spread sheet that showed each months revenue and a cumulative revenue figure. This spread sheet was easier for the managers to read because it listed each manager's results and each of the manager's employees' results.

In regard to sales, I also interfaced with _____ in Jacksonville on all special sales contests. She was the North Florida Area Staff Sales Coordinator. As the Division Sales Coordinator, I provided _____ with sales figures for the contest period and she would publish a paper reflecting sales for all of Florida. She also handled the distribution of prizes for these special contests.

As Division Coordinator, I was not charged with the responsibility to monitor the sales for legitimacy or to conduct periodic audits. As far as I knew that was the responsibility of the first and second level managers.

As I recall, in late 1988, I received a call from a Customer Services Organization Supervisor regarding complaints from subscribers on sales by Orlando Maintenance Administrator _____ I don't recall, but think there were seven to nine inquiries. The customers either did not recall ordering the feature in question or advised they were not contacted by anyone from Southern Bell.

I telephoned _____ the Maintenance Center Manager, and referred the complaints to him, and advised him that the Customer Services Supervisor wanted to be contacted. In my conversation with Manager _____, he was somewhat defensive, stating that these few complaints were a very small percentage of _____ sales, and indicated to me that he did not feel there was a problem.

After a couple of days the supervisor called me and advised that she had not been contacted. Because of this I referred the matter to Operations Manager Perera. I never heard anything else about the incident and felt that it was handled. That was the only complaint I received while working in _____ office.

In June or July, 1989, after _____ became the Orlando Division Operations Manager, I was moved to the field and assigned the position of Administrative Support Manager, reporting to _____ 1227 South Division Street. However, I still retained the job as Division Sales Coordinator.

As Sales Coordinator, I also had the responsibility of issuing award checks to the appropriate employees reflecting earned sales points to be used to obtain catalog gifts.

Sometime in August, 1989, I received a telephonic complaint from _____ regarding several sales by employee _____. According to _____ these were complaints that features were added to subscriber lines, and the subscribers claim that no one from Southern Bell contacted them. Sutton did not have the specific telephone numbers for the complaining subscribers.

I gave the complaint to and in my presence, he called requesting additional information. She told him that she would try to get the information and get back to him. told me that he would handle the matter. I don't know how it was resolved. I did notice, however, on the 2011A printout that was no longer selling.

I also recall shortly thereafter in a manager's meeting that advised his first level supervisors about an inquiry on sales. He advised everyone to take the necessary steps to insure that all sales were legitimate. I advised everyone that the Network sales referral form had a section to document the name of the contacted subscriber and suggested that this section be used to substantiate a sale if needed at a later date. agreed and concurred that the section on the form was there for a purpose.

I don't recall receiving any other complaints on sales, and I am not aware of complaints that may have gone directly to the first or second level manager or to the Operations Manager.

On occasion, I have talked with the craft employees involved in the telephone solicitation sales. I do recall on more than one occasion, asking and if they were properly documenting their sales contacts. In each case, I always got an affirmative answer. However, I never conducted an inspection to verify that they were. Again, I felt that responsibility was the job of their immediate supervisor.

Telephone solicitation sales or "Boiler Room" sales were in effect when I came into s organization. I don't know who set it up or how it got started. I recall that we used this same type sales technique when I worked in Riviera Beach, Florida in the Special Service Center over six years ago. At that time my Operations Manager was who is now retired.

I have read the above statement consisting of six pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Interview of [redacted]

Orlando, Florida
October 26, 1990

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am the Manager-Network I&M for the Orlando Sandlake District.

When [redacted] became the Orlando Division Network Operations Manager in 1987, he made it known to all his managers that he was very strong on Network sales.

During 1988, when the Sandlake I&M District was under the supervision of [redacted] he had at least one craft employee on full time telephone solicitation sales. Because of this his sales were always much higher than my district. At that time, I was the second level manager over the Orlando I&M District. Because [redacted] sales were so much higher than mine, [redacted] on numerous occasions strongly encouraged me to take the necessary steps to increase my level of sales.

In early 1988, one of my supervisors, [redacted] came to me and wanted to put an employee on solicitation sales. I agreed and he was to only use a person on light duty or when the work load permitted.

He initially started using Services Technician [redacted]. After a short time and after some training her sale production was fair but not at the level of the Sandlake group. The monitoring of the solicitation sales was left to supervisor [redacted]. He sat with the employee frequently and observed her sales technique. There were no specific guidelines established to call back a percentage of the contacts to verify the sales. I did not feel there was an integrity problem because I had not received any subscriber complaints.

I had mentioned to _____ hat I did initiate a telephone solicitation sale program and he thought it was a good idea.

During the whole time that I used an employee to make solicitation sales, I had no reason to suspect a problem until the complaints regarding employee _____ came to light. That is when I ceased all telephone solicitations and had all sales routed through GoldLine.

As I recall, using an employee full time on solicitation sales began sometime in 1987 under second level manager _____ and his first level supervisor _____ This is when the Sandlake District sales started being so much higher than all other groups in the Orlando Division. They also were winners in most of the State sales contests.

I don't recall ever being told, or reading any correspondence, that telephone solicitation sales were not condoned during specific sales contests.

During my management career with the Company in Orlando, I have never had any personal knowledge or indications that there was cheating on sales in the Network Organization, until this recent incident surfaced. If I would have had such knowledge, I would have taken the necessary steps to correct any wrong doing and apprised higher management.

Mr. Bradley and I have reviewed the available Mechanized Time Reporting (MTR) records in my office. Employe _____ was charging his time on the sales job to Accounting Code 5532, which is used for Miscellaneous meetings. I have provided Mr. _____ a copy of the 1990 MTR records for _____. If this record on other employees in my group used on sales is required, I will take the necessary steps to obtain the records from Comptrollers.

I have read the above statement consisting of three (3) pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Second Interview of [redacted]

Jacksonville, Florida
October 26, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to E. W. Reddick, who has identified herself as a Associate Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old, my birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My immediate supervisor is [redacted] Manager-Network. I can be reached at 904-350-7921.

From 1986 through 1988, I was the Network Sales Coordinator for North Florida. My responsibilities included planning sales campaigns and incentive awards, compiling sales results, providing training and support for the District Sales Coordinators and overall coordination of sales for this area. My counterpart was [redacted] who had the same responsibilities for South and Southeast areas. In 1989, my job description changed, and I assumed additional staff responsibilities and I became the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida. It was understood that each area would have an employee designated to represent their interest with regard to the sales program, so [redacted] continued to be the Sales Coordinator for Southeast Florida and [redacted] assumed the sales responsibilities for South Florida.

Prior to 1988, the Network Department implemented the same sales program that had been in effect for the Customer Services Department. It was my understanding that since this was a Company wide program, Headquarters wrote the guidelines and secured the necessary approvals for the awards.

I recall a Company wide sales contest in 1987, which awarded a Caribbean cruise to the four employees in each area that produced the most sales. Headquarters in Atlanta coordinated this sales contest and awarded the prizes.

We subsequently received approval from Headquarters to write our own guidelines for individual sales contests that we wished to conduct within our area. As State Sales Coordinator, I wrote guidelines for individual sales contests. These guidelines would include the respective point scale and associated prize list. The guidelines were routed to Comptrollers, Personnel, Network, General Managers, and [redacted] for their concurrence and approval. I recall on one occasion, [redacted] wrote guidelines for a sales contest for South and Southeast Florida. The top prize was a cruise to the Caribbean on a private yacht. I believe [redacted] went on this cruise as a chaperon or in appreciation for coordinating the contest. I also recall a sales campaign for 1988 that offered a cruise to the Caribbean. This sales campaign, although it had been approved, was subsequently cancelled due to budget restraints. I have no knowledge of any manager in any district awarding additional points or prizes.

From 1986 through March, 1990, when GoldLine went into effect, I was contacted from time to time by Customer Services Managers with inquiries or complaints regarding the sales referrals. Since I maintained the master list of sales codes assigned to all employees in the State, the managers called me to obtain the name of the supervisor of the craft person whose sales code appeared on the referral. They preferred to deal directly with these managers. There were occasions when I referred complaints. I usually contacted the first line supervisors. I rarely received feedback, nor was there any follow-up to determine the disposition of the complaints or to document the contacts. It was not my understanding that my responsibilities included assuring the validity of the individual sales.

I don't recall any contact with [redacted] regarding questionable sales made by their employees. I do recall referring a complaint from Daytona Beach Assistant Manager [redacted] to [redacted] regarding questionable sales made by [redacted] I contacted [redacted] direct because the Sales Coordinator for the Orlando District, [redacted] was not available. I don't recall discussing with [redacted] any allegedly questionable sales made by [redacted]

In October of 1989, I recall being contacted by [redacted] Assistant Staff Manager-Customer Services, Southeast Florida, regarding questionable sales referrals that had been received in the West Palm Beach Customer Services Office.

During this time frame, we were also utilizing the services of Dial America, an Atlanta, Georgia Company that was engaged to assist in the processing of our service orders. Dial American would periodically send me sales referrals that they were not able to input into the system. Sometimes it was because our Customer Services records indicated that the customer already was subscribing to the service indicated on the referral.

In connection with the contact from _____ received between 500 and 600 sales referral from Dial America that they could not process. These sales referrals had been generated within a two months period by Services Technician, _____ These sales appeared to be questionable because they included entire apartment complexes or all residents in a two block radius.

I discussed this matter with my manager, _____ We felt the proper way to handle the matter was to go through the lines of organization. I recall several telephone conversations with a female Pay Grade 4, whose name I can't remember, regarding the matter. She reported to _____ Operations Manager, _____ I also believe that _____ Carmody spoke with _____ regarding this matter. The only response we received was a telephone call from the Pay Grade 4 advising that the matter had been handled and it would not happen again. These sales referrals were kept in this office until about a month ago, at which time they were destroyed.

I subsequently reissued a memorandum to the Operations Manager advising the sales referrals should be forwarded direct to Dial America, who would in turn, refer them to me for review and resolution for any further processing problems. To my knowledge, Dial America did not make any customer contacts. After this incident, I didn't receive any additional sales referrals from Dial America for the same type of problem. I have no knowledge that this particular incident was escalated to a manager higher than _____

I, [redacted] Jr., do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to E. W. Reddick, who has identified herself as an Associate Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

My date of birth is [redacted] I am [redacted] old. My social security number is [redacted] My net credited service date is September 16, 1968. I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone Company. I am a manager in the Network Department. My responsibilities include staff functions associated with Installation and Maintenance forces in the North Florida Area.

[redacted] Assistant Manager-Network reports to me. In 1989, one of [redacted] responsibilities was to serve as the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida. Sometime in 1989, I don't remember exactly when, [redacted] referred a matter to me involving some sales referrals that she received from Dial America.

Dial America is an independent company that is under contract with Southern Bell to assist in areas such as telemarketing and the processing of sales referrals for our equipment and features. I think this company has been under contract since the 1985-86 time frame. I know they've been available to process Network sales referrals for several years, as the volume demanded. I think during this 1985-86 time frame, all sales campaigns for Southern Bell were being developed by the Headquarters Network staff office in Atlanta. They may have been instrumental in hiring this company. I believe our Headquarters staff contact at that time was [redacted] She has gotten married since then and changed her last name. Also, other managers have been assigned to this position since then. I don't recall [redacted] married name.

In 1989, South Florida had a match program, whereby, sales points were split between the Customer Services employee and the Network employee that referred the sale. Network employees could also call their sales referrals direct to Dial America via a 1-800 number and receive full credit and sale points on some features.

advised me she had received some sales referrals from Dial America that appeared to be questionable. Some of the sales were for items the customer was already subscribing to. Also, it appeared that the addresses on the orders were for an entire apartment building or residences in close proximity to one another.

In the same time frame had also been contacted by a South Florida Customer Services Manager named regarding similar sales referrals her office was trying to process.

The sales had been generated in the West Palm Beach District. After checking the sales codes, it was determined that the employee making the sales reported to I don't remember the name of the employee or his first line manager. I felt ould be made aware of what was going on. I telephoned him and advised him ad received some questionable sales referrals from Dial America generated by one of his employees. These sales were never processed and employee was not credited with sale points.

didn't seem to be aware of these questionable sales. mentioned that his District Manager, Gene Davis, had scheduled a meeting to discuss the issue of questionable sales. I don't recall if requested any specific information on the referrals in question. The purpose of my call was just as a matter of information to advise Olsen it appeared he had a problem in his area.

I don't recall receiving any feedback concerning this incident either from or I assumed the matter had been handled by and if any feedback was offered, would get the call. To my knowledge, was the highest level manager we contacted regarding this incident.

Our office kept the referrals we received from Dial. However, they were destroyed when some files were purged about a month ago.

I have read the above statement and it is true and correct as I remember it. I have made corrections as indicated and signed both pages.

October 30, 1990

I, [redacted], hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am presently employed with Southern Bell as Manager-CPE. I can be contacted at [redacted] telephone number [redacted]

From 1985 through 1987 I was the Network Manager-I&M in the Orlando Sandlake District. During that time I had a sales solicitation program using an employee, when the load permitted, or a person on light duty, to make telephone sales calls to subscribers. Initially we used completed service orders to call back to subscribers in an attempt to make additional sales. We then started using microfiche customer service records. These records were provided by my District Office wher [redacted] was the Operations Manager. I don't know who arranged for these records to be provided to the District Office.

Throughout my career, sales has been important to me and to my managers. In meetings with Operations Manager [redacted] he encouraged sales and was aware that in my group we utilized an employee, again, when the load permitted, to make sales calls.

Of the five or six supervisors reporting to me [redacted] was the most successful. Services Technician [redacted] was on light duty recovering from a double knee operation. She was very good at sales and [redacted] used her during her recuperation to make solicitation calls. As I recall which recuperating, she made calls from her home for several months. [redacted] would visit her daily, sometimes more than once a day, to check on her progress with sales and to pick up her Network Sales Referral Forms. These forms would be taken by , the MSOC group in Orlando to be input by Service Order Typist. Besides using to make solicitation calls, I along with my foreman, encouraged the other Services Technicians in my group to make sales on their repair and installation visits. They were also successful.

During the time I was the manager of the Sandlake I&M group, I don't recall ever receiving a subscriber complaint on any sale made by my people. On the solicitation sales, my supervisors would observe the person placing calls to make sure they were properly contacting the subscriber. Since I did not receive any complaints, I did not feel that it was necessary to further audit the sales, such as callbacks to a percentage of the subscribers.

If I would have received complaints, they would have been investigated. If any improper sales or cheating was discovered, I would have taken the necessary disciplinary action based on the guidance from Labor Relations.

In my opinion, it would be foolish to cheat on sales. The Network Sales Referral Form is an audit trail that could easily be checked. Also, the service order generated to complete the sale would reflect the sales code for the employee involved.

When I was in the Sandlake group, Assistant Manager was the District Sales Coordinator. As far as I knew, he only kept track of the sales for the district. I don't recall him every coming to the field to audit any of my sales. If he did, he never advised me of any problem.

as the North Florida Area Sales Coordinator on the Jacksonville Staff. As far as I know, she, like White, kept track of the area sales results. She also put out fliers and a newsletter reflecting all of the turf's results and results on specific sales contests.

I have never been told or read any correspondence that sales solicitation or "Boiler Room" sales programs were not condoned. Since my supervisor was aware that we made sales calls, I had no reason to think there was a problem. As a matter of fact, I recall that telephone canvassing was done back in the '60's.

While in the I&M job I never received any sales point credits or any awards checks to purchase catalog gifts. However, in 1986 and 1987, because my group was highest in sales for the North Florida Area both years, I won boat trips to the Virgin Islands. In 1986, my Operations Manager was [redacted] and he also went on the boat trip. In 1987 Operations Manager [redacted] went along. My first level supervisor [redacted] won the trip both years.

In 1986 when [redacted] was my Operations Manager his involvement in sales was minimal.

I have read the above statement consisting of 4 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am Manager-IMC, Orlando, Florida, and can be reached at 407-351-8331.

I have been told that [redacted] and District Sales Coordinator [redacted] both recall that they referred complaints to me in 1988 regarding telephone sales made by Maintenance Administrator [redacted] In [redacted] statement, he recalls that he referred complaints to me about [redacted] in April or May, 1988, and that I told him that my investigation determined that the complaints referred by the Business Office were correct and that [redacted] sales were illegal. As far as I can recall, I never talked to anyone about finding illegal sales by former employees [redacted] I feel that I would remember something so important and think that Mr. [redacted] is totally incorrect in his recollection.

I do recall that [redacted] wanted to reduce the Maintenance Administrator work force. I informed him that I was going to be distasteful in regard to [redacted] poor attendance. I believe that she was at the point of suspension. He suggested to me that I offer her separation pay. I did, she accepted the offer and left the Company. At no time in my discussion with [redacted] bout [redacted] did we ever discuss her sales. As indicated in my statement on October 23, 1990, [redacted] as induced to resign solely for her attendance.

In regard to Altuvilla's recollection that he referred complaints to me in late 1988 regarding [redacted] I don't recall ever receiving a call from him about sales complaints on anyone. [redacted] eft the Company in May, 1988, and cannot understand why he would have called me in late 1988, regarding problems with her sales.

[redacted] As I mentioned in my statement of October 17, 1990, [redacted] savily encouraged sales. I do recall that sometime in 1988, I either overheard it or was told directly by Mr. Perera that he wanted to earn enough sales points to get a pool table by Christmas. He did get a pool table by Christmas and I assume that he got it with sales points.

Prior to [redacted] getting the pool table, I was in the district office on another matter and the subject of the pool table came up in a conversation I had with [redacted] Somewhere during this conversation I asked how many points were needed for a pool table. Nick mentioned to me that [redacted] did not have enough points but he took care of it. I did not question [redacted] on his statement and assumed that [redacted] rote a sales point check to cover the table since that was his responsibility as sales coordinator.

As I mentioned, [redacted] strongly encouraged sales in his organization. I recall in a staff meeting, he presented I&M Manager [redacted] th a rope and an anchor because of his non-competitive sales results.

In regard to this investigation, I would like to further state that I have nothing to hide, and I am willing to answer any questions presented to me as truthfully as I can, and to the best of my recollection.

"Sanford, Florida
November 8, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to N. C. Thornton, who has identified himself as an Associate Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am an Administrative Support Manager for Southern Bell in Sanford, Florida. My business contact telephone number is 407-323-6080.

In early 1988, I became the District Sales Coordinator for n Orlando, Fl. I remember receiving a call from a female supervisor in the Daytona Beach, Fla. Business Office regarding customer complaints with reference to sales made by Maintenance Administrator The supervisor (I don't remember her name) stated customers had called the Business Office and denied knowledge of the services which had been added to their bill. I don't remember which services had been added. I recall that there were between five and nine complaints. nd level was I called d referred the complaints to him. I even gave him the name and telephone number of the Business Office supervisor in Daytona. A few days later, the Daytona supervisor called me and said she had not heard from took this information and gave it to I never heard from the Daytona supervisor again and I believed the problem had been handled. This incident had to have taken place before May, 1988, because is still working on the sales program when the complaints were received and she left the Company in May, 1988.

I don't remember Perera heavily pushing sales. I was never invited to his meetings with his 1st and 2nd level supervisors so I don't know what took place in those meetings. I never heard of him giving rope and anchor for poor sales results. did have me prepare a report once a month that showed each manager and non-management person's sales results. This report showed the month and year-to-date results. did not visit me daily or weekly to inquire about the sales results. only talked to me when the monthly report was due. It did not seem to me that was placing out of the ordinary emphasis on sales.

came to me in late 1988 and asked for a check for a specific amount of points. I asked him if he wanted all of his points because he had more in his account than he was requesting. He said no, that he just wanted this specific amount. I don't remember the amount, but it was substantial.

No one ever asked me to write a check for more points than they had in their account. I would never have agreed to do that and I don't know if the check would have been any good anyway.

ever came to me and questioned how many points it took to get a pool table. He never mentioned that wanted a pool table and I absolutely never told that did not have enough points but that I took care of it.

I did not even know that anted a pool table until after he had ordered it. This is when I realized what he had used the check for that he had requested from me in a specific amount. Again, had more points in his account that the amount he requested.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Services Technician and my NCS date is 9/ 72. I am home dispatched and report to [redacted] and can be contacted through him at 407-841-4785.

During all of 1988 and 1989 I spent part of my work time doing telephone solicitation sales. While on the sales job I was instructed by my supervisor to charge my time to the regular Network field codes, such as 548R (buried drop work) and 248R (aerial drop work). As I recall I subcoded the field codes with AA90 or AA92. Subcode AA90 reflects work done on service affecting troubles. Subcode AA92 reflects changing or clearing an aerial cable pair or taking other measures to temporarily clear a trouble.

During the time I did the sales job, I worked for four different assistant managers, [redacted]. None of these managers gave me specific instructions or training on how they wanted the sales done.

When making my calls to subscribers I divided my time between the Pine Castle Service Operations Center and my brother-in-law's mobile home sales office at 5300 South Orange Blossom Trail. I also placed calls from my home. I would say that I spent about eighty percent of my time at my brother-in-law's office. I was visited there a couple of times by [redacted]. None of the other supervisors came by to check on me.

When I made a sale, I would complete the Network Sales Referral Form and on the majority of the forms, I wrote on the back, the name of the person I spoke with.

I have been advised by Mr. Bradley that all of my sales have been pulled and the subscribers are being recontacted to verify my sales. I have also been told that to date, fifty subscribers have been contacted and thirty-six or 72% stated that they were never contacted by anyone from Southern Bell and were unaware that the enhanced Wiring Maintenance Plan (SEQIX) was added to their line.

I have also been told that telephone sales by other employees are also being checked and the percentage of subscribers stating that they were not contacted by Southern Bell is very low compared to mine.

I don't understand why the subscriber denials on my sales are so high. I cannot offer an explanation. On every sale that I turned in I spoke with the subscriber or someone in the household.

9 In approximately March, 1990 I met with on a grievance regarding my evaluation. We met on my less than satisfactory rating on productivity. It was during this meeting 12 that spoke to me for the first time about anything regarding my telephone sales. We were discussing my percentage of time on sales and regular work. He also made a remark in this meeting that he had a lot of my sales or that he had a high amount of my sales that didn't fly. He also stated that dollar amount on these sales were quite high. I was very angry about the whole situation and did not discuss the remarks with him.

19 During the time I worked for did have a couple of my sales come back. When they did, he and I sat in his office and contacted the subscriber and cleared up whatever problem there might have been. While I worked sales, I was not aware of anyone cheating and I was never approached by anyone, management, or fellow craft employee suggesting that I cheat.

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted] years old. My birthdate is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Services Technician and report to [redacted] at 1227 South Division Street, Orlando, Florida. I may be contacted through him at 407-422-4201.

From July, 1988 through most of 1989, I was involved in telephone solicitation sales. During that time, I spent at least 80% to 90% of my work day on sales.

In July of 1988, I was asked by my supervisor, [redacted] if I would like to sell. I decided that I would try it. My training consisted of sitting with fellow employee [redacted] for a few days to observe her sales pitch. I was fairly successful in selling mostly the Wiring Maintenance Plan. As I recall, I sold twelve to twenty-five upgraded Maintenance Plans per day. I would fill out a Network Sales Referral form on each of my sales, and in most cases, I would note the name of the subscriber I spoke with on the form. Most of the time when I was on the sales job I worked for [redacted] However, sometime in 1989, I reported to [redacted] for possibly two to three months.

As far as I know my sales were not checked or verified by my supervisor. If they were, I was never told about it.

I did have some of my sales come back because the subscriber already had the full Wiring Maintenance Plan on their telephone service. We made our sales calls using Customer Service microfiche records. As I recall, on these sales that did come back to me the sale did not go through because I was using outdated records.

When I was on sales I was instructed to charge my sales time to 548M with a sub code of AA90. I also noted that I was on sales. I was instructed to charge my time this way by both [redacted]

I have been advised that all of my sales made in 1988 and 1989 have been pulled and subscribers are being called to verify that they were contacted and agreed to purchase the Maintenance Plan. I have also been advised that of fifty subscribers contacted, 33 or 66% of the subscribers do not recall being contacted and were unaware that they had the service.

I have no idea why these subscribers do not recall my contact. On every sale that I forwarded, I spoke with the subscriber and they agreed to purchase the Maintenance Plan. I did not cheat on my sales and have no knowledge of anyone else that may have cheated.

I have nothing to hide. I did not cheat and I am willing to assist in any way necessary to help my Company resolve this matter.

I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and corrections.

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

Until my retirement from Southern Bell in September, 1987, I was the Network Operations Manager for the Orlando, Florida Division. I held that position in Orlando from 1972 when I transferred from Southeast Florida.

As Operations Manager I did not have a strong sales program in effect. However, in 1986 under 2nd level manager _____ nd 1st level manager _____ sales picked up. _____ nad two employees, _____ nd _____ that were very good in sales and out sold all other groups under my supervision. In fact, their sales were so good that Hoeltke, Pullin, and myself won a boat trip to the Virgin Islands for our 1986 sales effort.

As I recall, during this time frame, all of our sales were referred to a group in Jacksonville to be input. I don't know if the sales were double checked by anyone. I don't recall ever receiving any subscriber complaints on sales from the business office or from the subscriber hotline.

Sales was not my most favorite part of the job. If I got pushed for sales from higher management, I would pass it on to my 2nd level managers.

As I mentioned, the only group that did really good in sales was the I&M crew supervised by Assistant Manager under 2nd level manager As I recall, South Florida always beat North Florida in sales.

My other second level managers, and were only average in their sales effort while I was there.

If one of my managers pulled an employee off the workload to do telephone solicitation sales I was not aware of it. I would not have approved and they knew that I would have stopped the practice.

The above statement is true.

(October 30, 1990)

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed as an Associate Manager in the Network staff. I have been employed by Southern Bell since November 6, 1972. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. On this date, I was interviewed by Associate Manager-Security Del Castellanos and questioned on my role as 'Area Sales Coordinator" of the Maintenance Sales Plan. My involvement in this plan was minimal and I would like to discuss, to the best of my recollection, what I remember about it. Sometime in 1989, a program called 'Network Florida League (NFL) Sales Campaign' was created to try to boost up employee sales. I was designated the local coordinator and attended the 'Kick off' meeting of which I have pictures and which I believe took place in May of 1989. I did not conduct any training on any of this, as the field forces sent their own representatives to this meeting. On June 1, 1989, I sent a small memo to [redacted], Assistant Manager-Miami\Metro and [redacted] Manager, I\M SSIM South Dade. The reason for my sending this memo out was that they called me to obtain information on what was said at the Kick off meeting, as both of them were supposed to be there but neither of them made it. I have provided Castellanos with copies of these memos as well as two pictures taken during the Kick off meeting. As I remember, there were two other contacts in the state that had been involved with sales for a considerable time. One was [redacted] in North Florida and the other was [redacted] in Southeast Florida. As I recall, [redacted] was the one basically running the show and I saw myself as supporting her locally. I never received any reports of sales and I have no idea who was selling what. It is my understanding that the local 'Turf Sales Coordinators' sent whatever reports were required directly to her. One thing that comes to mind was that when [redacted] asked whether I knew of any local companies where she could buy some of the gifts, I volunteered 'Overseas Electronics' because I had gone to school with one of the owners and had gotten some good deals there myself. I understand that subsequently the company filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy and did not deliver on some items that had been paid for but, of course, I had no way of knowing that would happen or why it happened. I later learned that we paid for some merchandise in advance and asked Overseas Electronics to keep it in storage for us until we were ready to deliver the gifts and when bankruptcy was filed, some of our items were lost. I have no personal knowledge of any disciplinary action taken against anyone because of fictitious sales. I never had anyone come to me with complaints of any kind or hints that someone may be illegally taking credits for sales. In summary, my involvement in this program consisted of a pre-Kick off meeting with attending the Kick off meeting itself and sending out the letter of June 1, 1989 to After this, I recall a couple of conference calls to discuss the termination of this program and its replacement with one where Marketing would be in control and I have had no involvement whatsoever with sales since then. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

14 Services. My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since August of 1972. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms being sent to my office. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During 1988 and the first portion of 1989, I was the supervisor in the Business Office responsible for receiving the sales referral forms from the South Dade Installation Maintenance group and issuing the necessary service orders. To the best of my recollection, I had two Service Representatives who performed this function for me, specifically

38 over for me in the latter part of 1989 and, to the best of my knowledge, _____ remained her contact in Network. While I remember that there were problems at times with some of the referrals brought in, I would have to say that the greatest majority of them were processed without incident. The main problems that I remember were cases where the subscriber already had the maintenance plan and cases where the number had been disconnected. I would estimate that out of every 100 referrals received, less than 10% were returned. In further reviewing that figure in my mind, I would have to say that the number returned was minimal, maybe 5 or 6 out of every stack of 100 to 200, which would make it a lot less than 10%. There were times when I received a stack and none were returned. Of the ones that were returned, I would estimate that 80% of those were returned because the subscriber already had the service and the other 20% because service had been disconnected. I remember noticing trends where telephone numbers of subscribers were in relative numerical sequence, but I had been told that they were working from microfiche printouts and attributed it to that. I also noticed some employees selling a lot more than others, but it was common knowledge that the Network Department would use people on light-duty full time on sales, so I never took it upon myself to question that. I never questioned on the integrity of the sales referrals he made and we never conducted an audit of actually calling the customer to check and see if they had actually been called, so I would have no first hand information on whether the sales were legitimate or not. I had a relatively good working relationship with ho, by the way, used to work in the same work group with my husband. Although personally I may have had my doubts as to some of the orders being placed in sequence or why some sales were made on numbers that had been disconnected, Fernando's explanation of working from printouts in numerical sequence and the possibility that some digits could have been transposed on the sales referral form seemed acceptable to me. While I do remember some Installers selling a lot more than others, I honestly can't think of specific names and again, knowing that at times because of "light duty" or "load" conditions, Network had been known to use some of their people on sales, I had no reason to question that. In summary, I was receiving these forms from a manager in this Company and given that the "return rate" was rather small, I did not see it as my charge to "police" him. I do remember hearing about customers calling in to complain about services they had been billed for but which they had not ordered, however, my recollection of those dealt basically with custom calling features. I am sure there must have been some that dealt with the maintenance plan, but there were no specific cases that attracted my attention. I was questioned if I had ever heard about "Dial America" and I do remember having seen a memo that gave out a telephone number where Installers could call directly with their referrals and that is all that I remember about it. I never had any contacts with "Dial America" nor did I have any complaints from "Dial America" on any of the referrals. I have read the above

for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember that back in 1988, I used to receive Sales Referral forms in Company mail from various districts in Network. I had two Service Representatives working for me by the names of Ann Walton and Adele Wheeler who processed these referrals and issued the Service Orders. I did not screen these orders before they came to me; I took them directly to the Service Representatives. Whenever there were problems on these referrals, the Representatives would write what was wrong on the referrals and give them back to me and I would mail them back to the respective districts. There may have been times when the Service Representatives mailed the forms back themselves. From my own experience, I would say that the level of forms that were returned was very low, probably around 5%. Of these, most of them were returned either because the customer already had the service or because the number which had been sold the service had already been disconnected. I don't remember getting comments or complaints from my Service Representatives that would have made me question the integrity of the orders being received. I never questioned anyone in Network nor wrote any letters nor know of any other manager in any department that wrote such letter to Network requesting an explanation for the sales to disconnected accounts or to customers that already had the service. I remember getting complaints from customers who stated that they were getting billed for services they had never requested, but just about all of those dealt with Custom Calling features. I would like to add, for the record, that 30 my husband, is a Pay Grade 5 in the Network Department and I know that he has received a color T.V. set and other small gifts as a result of sales in his group. I have never heard him talk about problems with sales in his group nor of any suspicion that anyone under him may be sending in false sales. As far as some individuals selling much more than others, I never really worked the forms myself, I just distributed them to my representatives. However, I feel that if there was a trend there, my representatives should be able to help identify it when interviewed. In summary, I was involved in the processing of the Sales Referral forms for only a few months. The volume of problems referred to me was so small that I never found any trends which I thought would be worth pursuing by me. I can't think of any additional information other that what I have described above that may be of help to this investigation. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW OF [redacted] MANAGER-CUSTOMER SERVICES

Miami, FL

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in Customer Services. My date of birth is [redacted] my social security number is [redacted] I have been employed by Southern Bell since July of 1966. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were sent to some of my subordinates. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. On November 6, 1990, I met with Associate Manager-Security Castellanos and discussed the involvement of our department in the Network Sales Program. I initially provided Castellanos with the names of [redacted] and [redacted] all management employees of Southern Bell whom I believe were in some way or another associated with the processing of Sales Referral forms. In a subsequent interview on November 7, 1990 at the Legal department, the names of and as well as and were added. These are also all management employees. In addition, the names of and all of whom are Service Representatives, came into play as employees that were also associated in the processing of Sales Referral forms. In a nutshell, my subordinates, were the ones that received the forms directly. I very seldom reviewed the forms and never got any complaints from them as to the content of the forms. I have never had any contact with 'Dial America', either me calling them with a problem nor anybody there calling me to complain about problems or trends with the forms being sent directly to them. To the best of my knowledge, when there was a problem with a referral, it was referred directly back to Network by my subordinates without it being routed through me. I have heard comments about some of the telephone numbers sold the plan being in relative numerical sequence, but that doesn't surprise me because I know that departments actively pursuing sales, including ours, use printouts which are in numerical order. As far as the type of troubles being returned, from feedback I have received, I would say it was mostly subscribers who already had the service sold or whose accounts had been disconnected by the time we processed the referral. Since the volume was rather low, no action was ever initiated, to my knowledge, by me or anyone in my department to get an explanation for such problems. As far as I know, no audit has ever been conducted on a sample of referrals to recontact the customer and verify that indeed the customer was initially contacted for the sale. There are two reasons for this - first, there was no reason to doubt the validity of referrals being received and second, prior tests conducted to check on our own people revealed a high level of annoyed customers at being contacted and recontacted by our Company in reference to the same thing. I have dealt with customers complaining about being billed for services they did not order - as a matter of fact - it is a rather common complaint. However, just about 100% of these deal with Custom Calling feature packages and not the maintenance plan. If the sales being processed by our group from the Sales Referral forms were not all legitimate, there were no blatant violations that we could tell that would have induced us to pursue the matter. As far as given individuals selling much more than others, that has always been the case in most departments. We have always heard that employees on 'light duty' have been used by the Network department on sales full time, so it would not have been unusual to have seen disparity in personal sales. Again, I seldom reviewed these forms so I would not be able to provide names of the top sellers. I do remember some managers taking the time to deliver these forms personally, specifically [redacted] and [redacted]. However, they were very open about their extra efforts to increase sales and always told me to call them if there was a problem on the referrals. I was never given reason to call by any of my subordinates. I can't think of anything else to add that would be helpful to this investigation at this time. I will continue to coordinate with Castellanos the interviewing of the additional personnel in my department. I have read the above statement consisting of these four pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in Customer Services. My date of birth is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I have been employed by Southern Bell since December of 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were either mailed or faxed to my office. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. Going back to 1988, I remember receiving Sales Referral forms from various districts in Network. At that time, volume was rather small - maybe 25 to 30 forms per week and I had one Service Representative, 11 andle them all. We did not have much of a problem with the information on these forms and whenever something was wrong, we would write down what was wrong and mail it back to the district. For the most part, the ones that were mailed back were because the customer already had the maintenance plan. I don't recall having had a problem with service added to a disconnected number. I never conducted a sample check by calling customers to determine if indeed someone had contacted them and sold them the service. I had no reason to doubt the validity of the orders and I don't know of anyone that conducted such a check. 21 I never had omplain to me about the quality of the referrals or anything at all that would have made me question the validity of the referrals being received. In late 1989, the Sales Referral forms stopping coming in in the mail and I began to 25 receive them 'faxed' to me by a craft employee known to me as 26 .t this time, the volume of referrals almost tripled, 27 so I added both Service Representatives that worked for me at the time. I would estimate that time frame as September/October of 1989. Also the sales themselves changed - mostly from sales of the maintenance plan to Custom Calling and Touchstar Services. I personally never had any 32 problems with ut from conversations that I had with him, I was able to determine that he was on sales full time and part of some special sales group. One thing that I personally thought was kind of 'funny' was that most of the sales referrals from him were for the entire package of Custom Calling Services as opposed to Call Waiting on some, Three Way Calling on others, etc. I remember wondering how he managed to sell the same thing to everybody, but other than that, I never had any problems with his referrals or reason to doubt the validity of the orders. Whenever there was a problem on any of the referrals, I would 'fax' it back to him, but 42 the number of problems was minimal. I had heard rumors that 43 ed to work for the Company and was terminated because of sales problems and apparently had now been rehired and put back on sales, but I would not personally know if this is true or not. I never received much in the form of complaints from customers stating that they were being billed for services they did not have and the ones I did receive, as far as I know, were not associated with Network sales. The number of customer complaints did not go up as the volume of Network sales increased. I have dealt with 'Dial America' out of Atlanta, but my dealings with them had to do with orders placed directly by customers on the '800' number and not with any orders placed through them by Network. I never had any dealings with Dial America that involved Network in any way or form. I don't recall any of my Service Representatives ever coming to me to complain on Sales Referral forms received from Network that could have made me question the validity of their orders. My Service Representatives, when interviewed, may be able to shed additional light on the matter. I personally can't think of anything else to add. About a month ago, my supervisor, _____ came over and asked to compile all the records on the sales program. These consisted of mostly the Sales Referral forms which were given to _____. I understand they went somewhere to the 6th floor of the Headquarters Building in Miami. To this date, I have not received any of them back. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

(November 8, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St. Rm 1901
Miami, FL

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative in Customer Services. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____. I have worked for Southern Bell since March, 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, _____, and from which I would issue orders. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. As I remember, I was involved in issuing orders from Sales Referral forms from mid-1988 to September of 1989. Although it is hard to guess at the figures, I would estimate I received an average of 200 forms per week. These forms were received by my supervisor, _____, in Company mail and given directly to me. The greatest majority of them went through without any problems. On those that had a problem, it was mostly that the subscriber already had the service that was to be added. I don't remember very many cases at all where the account number had actually been disconnected. I do remember that some individuals sold a lot more than others but I don't remember names and didn't think much of it because everywhere you go, you always have people that sell more than others. I don't remember ever going to my supervisor with problems on these orders. I have received complaints from subscribers claiming they were being billed for services they had not ordered. At times, I would recognize a sales code from the Sales Referral forms, but I would have to say these were minimal. I would estimate that 98% of such customer complaints were not associated with the Sales Referrals. As far as the type of sales, it was not just the maintenance plan but also all kinds of Custom Calling features. On the forms on which there was a problem, I would write down what the problem was and give it to my supervisor, who would mail it back to where they came from. I don't remember processing forms that were faxed to us or dealing with an individual by the name of Dan Demirgian. I do not recall any trends by numerical sequence of telephone accounts, addresses or anything that would have made me doubt the validity of the forms I was processing. I don't remember hearing negative comments on the matter either from my supervisor or peers. I never called any customers to verify a sale nor was I ever instructed to do so. I can't think of anything else to add that may be of use in this investigation. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

16 I, _____ luntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I have been employed by Southern Bell since September, 1962. My social security number 21 is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I am presently a Manager in the Customer Service Department. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were sent to some of my subordinates. At the beginning of the interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could 31 be waived by the Company. I am familiar with the Network Sales Program and in my group, said referrals were routed to an Assistant Manager who works for me and who handled them all.
34 and later added _____ I never personally became involved with problems on the referrals, so that leads me to believe there were not many of them, otherwise, _____ uld have brought them to my attention. I never reviewed or processed any of the referrals myself, so I would not be able to comment on any trends as far as telephone accounts being sold in numerical order or address or anything like that. I never had any of my subordinates conduct any sample checks where we contacted the customer to verify that a sale had been made nor do I know of any manager in the South Florida area that did this. As far as I am concerned, there were no indications that would have suggested our doing such a check. I am familiar with 'Dial America', however, I have never gotten any complaints from them on sales referrals being sent to them by Network. In summary, from my involvement with the Network Sales Referral program or from comments made by my subordinates, there is nothing that would have made me question the legitimacy of the referrals received by us. I don't remember getting personally involved with customer complaints in regards to service which they had not ordered that would have been associated with the Network Sales program. One thing I do remember being brought to my attention by _____ as that an individual by the name of Dan Demirgian, who was now selling for Network, had previously been terminated for unethical sales and had apparently been rehired and put back on sales. I asked Susie McCoy if there were any problems on his orders and she reported that there were none. In fact, he constantly called and followed-up on his orders to see why some of them had not been issued and when we would get to them, etc. Nevertheless, I did ask _____ to keep a separate file on him in case we ever had a problem, we would have it documented. This file was given to _____ Internal Audit, as well as our Sales Referral forms earlier this month. At this time, I can't think of anything else that would be useful on this investigation. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement, consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

As I remember, I was involved in the issuing of Service Orders from Network Sales Referral forms for approximately six months during 1989. These forms were given to me by my supervisor, [redacted] and there weren't too many of them - maybe 15 per week on the average. I would say that the number of referrals with problems was minimal, maybe 1 or 2%. Most of these were cases where the customer already had the maintenance plan. At times, I would find an account that had been disconnected but I don't remember any of those. I also don't remember receiving a customer complaint on being billed for service that had not been ordered where I was able to link such complaint to a sales referral. As far as trends (like addresses, numerical order of telephone number, etc.), the only one that I recall is that some people sold a lot more than others. However, I didn't see that as a problem because some people enjoy sales or are better at sales than others. I never went back to my supervisor with problems. Whenever there was a program, I never really had much problem with it. The forms would come in directly to who would have her Service Representatives issue the orders. As far as I remember, the forms were either brought in by an Assistant Manager in Network) or by Company mail. I never really looked through the forms, so I would not have much to offer as far as any type of trend - like telephone accounts being in relative numerical sequence, large volume of sales being conducted by the same individual, etc. Since I got very little negative feedback from my subordinates, I have to assume that the forms were going through smoothly, otherwise I would have been notified. I never conducted nor did I have my subordinates conduct any type of check where the customer would have been contacted to verify if he was indeed called. I had no reason to doubt the legitimacy of the forms being received. Late in 1989, another of my Assistant Managers, took over for Again, I had no complaints from or anything regarding these referrals. I don't recall receiving complaints from customers on their being billed for services they had not ordered that were in anyway linked to the sales program. However, going back to the 1985-86 time frame, I do remember some serious problems with sales and Network. I don't believe that Security or Internal Audit got involved at that time and I don't even remember if the procedures, Sale Referral forms, etc., were the same at that time. I would say that any second level manager involved with orders at that time would have been aware of the problem which was subsequently routed to our staff. I believe that the nature of the problem was a relatively large amount of customer complaints questioning features for which they were being billed which they claimed not to have ordered. I don't know who spoke to whom or what was said but the problem gradually disappeared after contact between our staff and Network. I have no idea what level of management was involved nor do I have specific names. I did hear rumors of disciplinary action in the form of suspensions having taken place in Network, but again, I have no names to offer or details. Going back to the Sales Referral forms on the maintenance plan during the time frame of 1988 and 1989, I really have no negative information to offer. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

19 I, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I have been employed by Southern Bell since October, 1971. My social security 24 number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I am presently a Manager in the Customer Service Department. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were sent to some of my subordinates. At the beginning of the interview, Mr. J. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. As far as the Network Sales Referral

23 I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative in Customer Service. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of 29 birth is _____ I have worked for Southern Bell since February, 1987. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program which involved forms that were faxed to me
32 by _____ whose title I don't know but who works in Network and from which forms I would then issue Service Orders. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I do remember processing these forms, approximately from September of 1989 until the end of that year. As I recall, I worked for [redacted] the time. When I first started processing these forms, [redacted] could bring me faxed sheets that she would get with the information. After a while, the forms were faxed directly to me by [redacted] who was my contact in Network. Except for Mondays, when we are extremely busy with customers, I would work on these forms for the rest of the week. I estimate I issued an average of 80 orders per day. The amount of errors on these orders was minimal. I don't recall getting orders on numbers that had been disconnected although at times I would get one where the subscriber already had the service sold to him. Although it is not uncommon to receive calls from subscribers claiming that they were getting billed for services they had not ordered, I don't ever recall getting such a complaint on any of the orders I received from [redacted] As far as the services sold, they were mostly 'Touchstar' services. There were very few 'maintenance plan' sales or 'Custom Calling feature' sales. I also remember that most of the referrals had been sold four services, not just one. Specifically, Selective Ringing, Call Blocking, Call Return and Call Tracing. I often asked [redacted] he managed to sell all those items to so many people and he would take pride in describing to me how he did it, even describing his sales approach. I have to admit [redacted] was a very good talker and would very smoothly talk you into whatever he wanted to discuss. Although to this day, I still wonder how he could have sold all those items to most of his contacts. I can see where he could probably sell to most anybody. On his behalf, however, I would have to add that the items he was selling would amount to over $13.00 per month, which I feel would be noticed by most customers and yet I never got any complaints that would have his sales code. As far as other trends (addresses, telephone numbers in sequence), the only one that comes to mind is that they would work on an exchange at a time and that the greatest majority of sales were done by [redacted] I remember asking him on several instances how he could sell so much and still do his job, but I never really got a straight answer from him. I had a contact number on which I would call him if I had a question and more often than not he would answer the phone himself, so that led me to believe that he was working mostly on sales rather than out in the field. Along the same line, there were times when he would say that 'he had to go out and work outside because his boss wouldn't be in' which also led me to believe that his working outside was an exception rather than the rule. I remember him stating when he first introduced himself to me that he was _____ and he worked for John Benedict. On at least one instance, I remember his putting me on a three-way call with _____ and telling me to be quiet while he discussed a problem with _____ Specifically, I believe the conversation originated with a whole bunch of orders he had sold in the Hialeah office where the service sold was not yet available. He did not have that information and became somewhat upset at all the time and effort he had wasted and that was what he was trying to confirm with _____ Although _____ was not rude, he didn't sound like he wanted to talk all that much with _____ sounded as if he just had more important things to do. I do not know who _____ is or what his title is. I am not sure that I still have _____ contact number which I remember to be 75- something. I will look through my notes and my desk, and if I come up with this number, I will make it available to Castellanos. Right after my supervisor _____ went on maternity leave (early 1990), I was taken off the processing of Network Sales and replaced by _____. Since that time, I have not gone back to the processing of such orders nor have I had additional contact with _____. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. To the best of my recollection, from October, 1989 through December, 1989, I was a supervisor in the Business Office. During that period of time, I was receiving Sales Referral forms from the South Dade Installation Maintenance Group and issuing the necessary Service Orders. To the best of my knowledge, I had one Service Representative who performed this function for me, specifically [redacted] I was receiving those forms through the Company mail. I believe that at times the sales forms where brought in by a management person and at times by a craft person. I believe the management person was _____ I don't know who the craft person was. I was receiving approximately forty (40) sales forms per week; at times I was receiving forty (40) forms every two weeks. I never checked them, I gave them to my Service Representative, _____ as she was responsible for issuing the necessary Service Orders. To my knowledge, I don't know of any discrepancy on the Sales Referrals. I never received any complaints about these from _____ or anyone else. I was asked by _____ during this interview if I know who _____ was, I don't know who he is. I was asked by Rodriguez if I knew who _____ was. I know the name but I can't say that I have met him. The Service Technician will sell the customer the maintenance program, if they didn't have it, and attach the sales forms to the RF141 form. I did an average of two or three of these forms per month. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. If I recall, I worked on the Sales Referral Program from approximately mid-1988 to the start of 1989. I remember doing quite a few; I would guess 50 per day on an average. As far as problems, I remember having problems sometimes on as many as 20% of the referrals. Of those problems, I would say the greatest majority had to do with the subscriber already having the service which I was to add. I don't remember getting too many forms where the actual service had been disconnected. However, I remember getting quite a few customer complaints from subscribers that claimed they were being billed for something they did not order and recognizing the sales code on the order as one from the Network Sales Referral program. I never conducted any samples myself where I would contact the customer to verify they had indeed been called. I don't remember that having been done by anybody else either. As far as the orders on which I had problems, I just returned them to my supervisor, Shelly Justin, and I have no idea what she did with them. I never had any direct contact with anyone in Network and I don't remember any specific sales code. However, during the interview, Mr. Carver read various sales codes to me, most of which meant nothing but one of which I remember inputing quite a bit. Specifically, that code was C44I23L and the reason I remember that code was because of the 'L'. If I recall, whatever the first six digits of the code were, indicated Network and those digits remained always the same. It was the letter at the end that changed and I do remember the 'L'. As far as trends on these forms, I remember that they would usually come from the same 'NNX' and that there were three sales codes that sold a lot more than the others. When asked if I could link the one code that I could remember (C44I23L) to any of the customer complaints, I would have to say that I cannot. As far as the type of service being sold, it was not just the maintenance plan but it also included Custom Calling features. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Associate Manager in Internal Auditing. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1971. My date of birth is _____ my social security number is [redacted]

I understand that I am being interviewed about Network Sales because I was the Assistant Staff Manager in charge of Interdepartmental sales from 1983 to 1988 (Customer Service staff). At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. When questioned on whether I remember prior problems with Network sales, specifically around the 1985-1986 time frame, the answer is that I do. While there have always been 'competition' type problems between Network and Customer Services as both departments push sales, the issues that I will be referring to have to do with a question of the integrity of Network sales. As I recall, we had received numerous complaints from our Service Representatives through their managers, claiming that on a good portion of the sales being generated by Network, customers were calling in and complaining that they had never ordered anything. These complaints were escalated to us by our line people and were discussed by us with Network staff. To the best of my recollection, neither Security nor Internal Auditing got involved. If I remember correctly, some of my contacts in Network at the time were Althea _____ During 1985, I believe it was _____ and _____ that were there. I believe that _____ was the General Manager for Network at the time. I remember a three-way conference call between _____ myself in which a problem relative to sales was discussed, but I don't recall any of the specifics. On the Customer Service part of the house, my supervisor was _____ and the Operations Manager was _____ who has since retired. I believe our General Manager then was _____ and I am not sure that the problem ever got to him. I seem to remember that after Network got done with their investigation, some employees were disciplined - either terminated or suspended, but that was mostly a rumor as far as I am concerned. I don't know any names, numbers or exactly what action was taken. I would think that the Network people should be able to offer details on that. I kept very good files and records during my years in staff, which may have more information available. However, when I left staff in 1988, I gave all my files, as well as the ones I had received from _____ who replaced me in staff and who is still in that position. I will pursue getting those files from _____ if he still has them and, if he does, I will make them available to Castellanos. If I recall, most of the problems in that time frame were in South Florida as opposed to Southeast. The sales involved were mostly Custom Calling features although we also had problems with TIP when that got started. Because of the volume of sales and the fact that a few individuals were doing most of the sales, it was suspected that some of these people were working full time on sales. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

21 I, _____ voluntarily furnish R. Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative in Customer Services. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since October, 1980. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, [redacted] and from which I would issue orders. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. Sometimes around March, 1990, I started doing the Network Sales Referrals. My outside contact, and only contact, was an employee by the name of [redacted] ervice Technician. [redacted] ould call first and let me know that he was faxing the sales forms to my office and I would issue the necessary Service Orders. I did the sales forms, roughly for a couple of months, up to the time that Gold Line sales program started. Before I started doing the sales forms, another Service Representative, [redacted] as doing them. [redacted] works for a different supervisor. I was receiving approximately eight sales forms per day. I don't remember the features that were being sold but I remember that most of them had to do with Touchstar services. Some of the problems that I found with the sales forms were that the customer already had 'Prestige' service or Touchstar service. Other problems were that the customer's number was disconnected or the service denied, but there were very few with those types of problems; roughly one per week. I never met [redacted] in person, however, we spoke a lot on the phone. [redacted] sounded like he thought that he was a great sales person. He would tell me that he had a great sales pitch. He would sell Call Return and Call Tracing as a package which it is not. He would tell the customer on Call Tracing that the Company would not give out the name of the person making harassing calls but with Call Return, the customer is able to talk with the person calling and resolve the problem themselves. During my conversation with [redacted] he told me that another employee, a female, was doing sales along with him. I don't remember exactly but [redacted] said that the other employee had some problem with her boss about how many sales referrals she was doing. According to [redacted] the other employee requested to be sent back to her department because of it. Most of the sales referrals I was receiving involved only two sales codes. I don't remember either one, but the most I was receiving was sales codes from Dan. Dan mentioned his supervisor's name to me many times but I can't remember it now. I remember that when Gold Line was starting, Dan was against it because he had to go through Gold Line and it would take too much time and he might be losing his sales. I was asked in this interview if I know [redacted] The only thing I can say is that the name sounds familiar but I don't know why. I had the impression that Dan's only job with the Company was in sales. I have read the above statement consisting of four pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page and each correction.

18 I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I understand that this is a supplemental statement to the one I previously gave on 11/08/90 and that all the circumstances explained by J. Phillip Carver, Company attorney, still apply. In this interview, I have been asked to go back as far as I can remember, rather than the 87-88-89 time frame, and bring out any significant problems that we may have had with Network in reference to sales. I remember that in 1985, we had a situation that was escalated through our staff to Network for a resolution. Very briefly, the problem was that we were getting complaints from our Service Representatives when they followed up on their own 'sell orders' that would show their sales codes removed and a Network Sales code added. Also, we were getting a larger than usual amount of subscriber complaints where the customer would complain of being billed for something they had not ordered and it showed a Network sales code. When you add to these two the volume of sales that Network was doing, you could tell that something was wrong. All this was documented and sent to our staff for them to pursue. As far as I know, no records are currently kept in our office of this documentation. I believe that the person in staff that handled the matter was Robin Madden. If I recall correctly, soon afterwards, the problem gradually disappeared. I do not know what transpired between our staff and Network staff. I also don't know of any disciplinary action taken by Network against anybody. My Operations Manager at the time was who has since retired. My General Manager at the time was but I don't believe the matter got up to his level. To the best of my recollection, neither Internal Auditing nor Security became involved at that time. I have read the above statement consisting of this and one other handwritten page, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by the Company as a Directory Assistance Operator. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978 and, for most of my career, I carried the title of Service Representative. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, [redacted] from which forms I would issue Service Orders. During this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember working on the Network Sales Referral program during 1988 and 1989. The forms would come to me through my supervisor, [redacted] and I would process an average of 50 per day. I would say the greatest majority of these went through without any problems and the most common problem found was that the customer already had the service which was sold on the form. I don't recall having problems with the line having been disconnected at all. I also don't recall getting customer complaints that I could link to the Network Sales code. I never personally conducted any type of audit to check and see if the customer had indeed been contacted by Network. I don't recall anybody else doing this either. Most of the referrals I handled dealt with the maintenance sales plan. As far as trends, I did notice the subscriber's accounts being in the same exchange and at times in relative numerical sequence. It was also obvious that some employees sold a lot more than others. I don't recall any trends by location or address. On my problem orders, which I estimate at less than 10%, I would just give them back to [redacted] never got or asked for feedback on these. I do remember [redacted] whom I believe is a first level foreman in Network, at times coming around and giving the forms to [redacted] and sometimes to me if [redacted] was not around. I never discussed anything pertaining to these forms with [redacted] or personally never ran into anything that would have made me question the validity of the forms I was handling. I hereby agree to keep everything discussed on this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW OF [redacted], ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK
(November 13, 1990)

Miami, FL

I, [redacted] Jr., voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Network. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1960. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Plan. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have had up to 22 craft people working for me during the 1988-89 time frame. At present, I am a Technical Support Manager in [redacted] group and I have no one reporting to me. I have no current sales objective to meet. Going back to when I was in the field, I did have a sales objective to meet and so did all the other managers to the best of my knowledge. While I stressed sales to my subordinates, they did not have a numerical objective to meet and I always emphasized the overall legitimacy of sales. As far as boiler room operations, I am sure there have been a few. I was never directly involved with one nor do I specifically know of one (names, time-frame, location). However, the way sales kicked up in other districts as the various sales contests get started, it leads me to believe that there must have been a couple of boiler rooms in operation at sometime or another. In my own group, I remember having two employees on phone sales full time because of injuries. As I recall, _____ in between benefit cases because of a bad back, returned to work on light duty and I kept him at the office doing telephone sales. _____ had a knee injury and was partially disabled for about a month, also worked full time on sales during her period of disability. _____ who was my supervisor at the time, knew about this and in essence was instrumental in setting it up. I don't recall pulling healthy people off their regular assignments just to work on sales. To the best of my recollection, my best sales people were _____

As far as I am concerned, there was never a doubt in my mind as to the integrity of the sales referred by the above employees. I expected _____ to sell because basically that was all he was doing. With _____ s was on bulk loading which means he would have a lot of face-to-face customer contact after actually repairing their trouble, which would be an ideal time to sell. _____ and _____ were very active with the match program. They actually had handouts made out with their names and contact number on them which they would give out to customers. When contacted, they would refer the customer to the 'match' program who would actually make the sale and split the points with them, so there was no room for anything there. I never reviewed the referral forms given to me by my subordinates, I just referred them to the Business Office. I would only review the ones that came back. I found that the greatest majority of these were due to the customer already having the service which was sold to them. The reason for that was that we were working from LMOS records which don't match IBOSS 100% and at times, our records did not correctly reflect what the customer had. At times, I would find that somehow an order had been placed subsequent to our contact by someone else and our form got returned. I don't remember having a problem at all with disconnected accounts and I don't know of anyone in Network that would actually go through the forms before sending them to the Business Office. There is no possible way any of us could have done this while supervising crews of 20 employees on the average. I never did a sample check by calling customers to verify the validity of an order - never had reason to and there were no procedures in place that called for doing any of that. I don't believe anybody ever did that. As far as other supervisors, I know that _____ always number one in sales. However, everyone knew that he made sales a priority and that he demanded that his people sell. He could be pushy as far as sales were concerned. There was relatively a good amount of people changing crews and you could see people that never sold when working for other managers that would begin to sell under _____ for whom both _____ and myself used to work, was also high on sales. I never heard or saw anything that would have led me to believe that either or were enticing their people to call in illegal sales. Quite the contrary, I have a very high opinion of the integrity of both and everyone knew that they just pushed sales and made them a priority. As far as running a boiler room, I never saw any of that. He did have people on light duty working on phone sales. I remember during her late pregnancy working on phone sales for I also remember who was on light duty because of his legs, setting on his desk with microfiche making phone sales. The only other one I remember seeing working with microfiche that worked for was and I don't recall if there was anything wrong with him or whether he worked just on sales. To the best of my recollection, these people were not all working on phone sales at the same time. I never heard any rumors from other supervisors or other craft people that would have made me suspect the validity of any of the orders placed by the people working for As far as I know, there is no way that either myself or any other manager would be able to know that a referral is 100% legitimate other than calling the customer, which was never done. I never heard of any instance where people ever worked out of their residence on sales. I don't recall anything ever happening, going back as far as I can remember, on sales problems where employees were disciplined in any way or form. I do remember an employee by the name of now who complained about twice having had Custom Calling features added to her telephone without her consent. I think that the issue was pursued in detail, but she did not work for me at the time and I don't know what the outcome was. I have read the above statement consisting of this and five other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

(November 13, 1990)

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is 05/12/61. My social security number is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since July, 1979. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Referral program. At this beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During the 1986-1987 time frame, my main function was doing bulk troubles. I was using a Random computer with which I was able to see what type of service the customer was subscribed to without calling the Business Office. I was able to sell the customer the maintenance plan. I would fill out the Sales Referral form, give it to my supervisor and he would forward it to the Customer Service Department at 666 N.W. 79 Avenue. I believe my foreman at that time was _____. I don't believe _____ was checking the sales forms. During the same period, 1986-1987, they were taking people off the work load to do phone sales. During the same period of time, people were working overtime on Saturday, just doing phone sales. This only was done six or seven times during that two year period. I believe this was done by the second level and _____ because they were able to win prizes, such as trips and gifts, by having the most sales. I believe that _____ Service Technician from the Homestead District, won a 40 inch TV for having the highest sales in 1989. I believe that a catalog showing all the gifts that could be won by selling were distributed to the whole district. Two locations that were being used for phone sales were the Silver Oaks Work Center and the Silver Oaks Test Center. Usually at the Work Center location, a room was set up with two phones and four or five viewers (microficha). First we go through the microficha printouts, checking for customer S. and E. features and maintenance contract, then make a list of those accounts with possible sales opportunities. We also check the subscriber information using LMOS. We then contacted the subscriber by phone. Usually there were four to five people at a time doing sales from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m., five days a week. There were times that we did this for a couple of weeks straight. At times, we would start at 8:00 a.m. and work until 3:00 p.m. That's when the workload got too heavy and they needed more people out in the field. There were days that all I did was collect information and make a list of all the accounts I was going to call the following day. I could make approximately 200 phone calls per day, out of which 75 to 100 I was able to speak with the customer. I was able to make 25 to 30 sales, selling only the maintenance program. I don't remember the names of the other employees that were selling with me. I do remember they were from the same yard, Silver Oaks. The Service Representatives were returning 5% of our Sales Referrals claiming the customer already had the service that we sold them. I believe that since we were competing for sales with the Service Representatives, they were holding our referrals and they would input the sales themselves to get the credit. I believe this because of the time in which we had made the sales and the time the customer had the same features on their accounts was within two or three days, which was the same period of time the Service Representatives were holding our forms. The other location where phone sales were being made from was the Silver Oaks Test Center which had two phones. Usually when too many people were at the work center, the overflow would go to the test center. There were no more than two people at the test center at any given time. I believe there was heavy pressure on the top sales people. This pressure came from the second level, [illegible] who would tell them if they did not sell a lot, they would be put back on the load. [illegible] made several visits per week to the sales locations to make sure that the sales levels were high. During the 1987-1988 time frame, I remember every month, every employee selling over $300.00 in revenue was invited by [illegible] Operations Manager, to a dinner at Charcoal's Restaurant, located at S.W. 88 Street and 117 Avenue. There were from 15 to 20 people attending the dinner including [illegible]

I estimated the cost of the dinner to be $30-$40 per person. The dinner was paid for by [illegible] or one of the second levels [illegible] using the Corporate American Express card. I remember in 1989, we were using the RF141 forms as a source for Sales Referrals as we were no longer using microfiche. The RF141 forms were a great source of sales. We had been using RF141 forms as far back as 1988. Most of the sales generated from the RF141 were the maintenance program. This method of selling went on until the end of 1989. I believe that according to some rumors at my yard, that the Perrine-Homestead District had a couple of employees selling from their homes. There were some rumors that other employees had driven by these employees' homes and saw their Company vehicles parked in their driveway during working hours. These employees were not on vacation, or a day off or on HU or GP. I believe these people were the top sales people from the Perrine-Homestead District. I do not know who they were. I believe that because of sales results, Company employees were given trips to Sweden or Hawaii. Second levels were getting cruises. I believe that during 1988, Juan Perez, Service Technician, was going door-to-door in the Little Havana area selling. I believe that because of his extremely high sales volume, he was able to furnish his whole house with gifts won from his sales results. There are some rumors at our work center that [illegible] wife, who works for [illegible]ting Service, issued Service Orders associated with her company and gave the sales referral going to her husband, [illegible] That is why he was able to get the high sales. I never was instructed by anyone from Southern Bell to falsify any Sales Referrals. I never submitted any false sales referrals, nor do I know of anyone doing so. I have read the above statement consisting of seven handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

§ INTERVIEW OF [redacted] SERVICE TECHNICIAN-NETWORK

Miami, FL

13 I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember sending referrals on the Network Sales program. At the time, 1988-1989, I was on 'bulk loading' which means I would handle trouble reports that were '100% inside troubles'. In other words, the description of the report itself would indicate cut inside wiring, defective jacks, in summary, something wrong inside the customer's premises. Because of that, I would make customer contact on 100% of my troubles, as I had to go inside the customer's premises to fix the problem. This presented me with an excellent opportunity to sell. First, I was talking right to the customer. Next, I was working on a trouble which, if he didn't have the maintenance plan in one form or another, he would get billed for it, so it was a natural lead on to describe the maintenance plan and to explain that if he subscribed to it for $2.50 per month, from then on it would all be free no matter how many times I went out there. I would estimate that, under the above circumstances, I was probably able to sell to 90% of the customers who did not have it. The greatest majority of my sales were done in person. The handful of sales that I made over the phone took place as I called the customer prior to going over to fix the trouble (to make sure there would be someone home) and the subject of the maintenance plan was discussed and the customer accepted it right then and there. The reason the maintenance plan would be discussed by me prior to my getting there if I noticed in my 'random terminal' that the customer did not have the maintenance plan at all. In those instances, I would advise the customer that the trouble he had reported was something for which he would be billed, because he didn't have the maintenance plan and then I would describe the maintenance plan to him. In my explanation, I would advise him that the maintenance plan would not take effect for thirty days and that even if he subscribed to it today, I would still have to bill him for my visit and time. This, in my mind, serves two purposes. First, I was re-advising the customer that he would be billed for my visit prior to my actually getting there, so there would be no conflict. Although CRSAB should have advised the customer that there was billing involved, sometimes I ran into a customer who didn't know, who then subscribed to the plan and cancelled the report. This was very rare, but it did happen. I would imagine this happened in cases where maybe only one jack was defective and the customer then waited 30 days to call it in and get the work done for free, because I can't think of too many people that would go without phone service for a full month to save a few dollars. Anyway, I had no control over that and it would happen so rarely that I didn't worry about it. Again, any record check on my forms will reflect that 99% of my sales were person to person-face to face. I have never, under any circumstances, taken credit for any sales on which I did not contact the customer. I did get some of my forms back from the Business Office because the customer may already have had the service. The reason for that is that I was getting my information from my 'randon terminal' which goes into LMOS and which does not match with IBOSS, as far as billing, 100% of the time. All in all, the majority of my referrals went through without any problems. As far as other people and other supervisors in reference to the sales program, I would like to offer the following. I have never been personally pulled off my load to work on phone sales. I have never been offered overtime to work on phone sales. I have never been asked to use part of my day on sales and then use overtime to complete my workload. I have no direct knowledge of any boiler room operation in my district. I have stayed in the same area for my entire career and I don't know many employees outside my district. As a result, I have very little to offer on what may have been going on in other districts as far as boiler rooms or any method of sales. Within my district, I remember some people on 'light duty' being put on sales full time. Specifically, I can think of whom I remember was pregnant at the time. I also remember seeing working on sales full time, but I don't think there was anything wrong with him. I think he was really good at sales and his supervisor, would at times take him off the load and put him on sales. Although I can't be 100% certain that that is what happened, I remember as on 'bulk loading' like I was and many times I was given some of his troubles to work. When I pointed this out to my supervisor, I remember his calling on the phone while I was in his office and explaining to hat he had used on sales for part of that day. I never raised the issue again after that, and just worked on whatever troubles I was given. As far as goes, I think it was common knowledge that there were days when he was used on telephone sales. While there were rumors that may have also been soliciting sales from his home, I have no first hand knowledge of that and, if he was doing that, I don't know if it was on his own time or the Company's time. I remember that everyone in shop was given an objective of selling at least $50.00 per month. I have no idea whether employees in other groups were given any objectives, and if so, I don't know what they would have been. I remember a guy by the name of _____, who came up with the idea of making up cards or handouts that he would give out throughout the day to customers at whatever locations he went through. On this card, as I recall, there was a telephone number associated with the 'Match' program as well as his name, telephone number, beeper number and sales code, with instructions to call that number the next time they need to add any service or feature. This seemed to have worked well for him and pretty soon, I believe, there were other people doing the same thing. I remember _____ doing the same thing because he showed me one of the cards he had made. I remember some people being unhappy about this method being used. For example, in a new residential and business area, if you would drop those cards in, as people moved in they would call that number instead of the Business Office to apply for new service and those guys would get the credit. However, it was common knowledge that this was being done because it was even discussed at meetings where our second level, _____ was present and he didn't seem to have a problem with it. The most disturbing thing I remember was at a home dispatch meeting while discussing sales, _____ making a statement along the line of 'make the sale and don't worry about it. The customer will never notice it in his monthly statement'. I distinctly remember that statement, although perhaps not verbatim, because it was very disturbing to me. I remember somebody making a statement out loud that that would be like falsifying Company records, but I didn't notice who it was. I don't really remember what was said after that because I turned to the guy sitting next to me, _____ and started discussing it with him. However, _____ wasn't much into sales and he really didn't have much to say. Other people that I remember being present at that meeting who should remember the statement are _____ I am sure there were other employees present, but those are the ones that come to mind because they were sitting in the general area where I was sitting. I understand this statement to mean that after customer contact had been made, if the customer refused the maintenance plan, we should go ahead and sign them up anyway because they would never notice the monthly difference. The actual difference would probably be $1.00 or $1.50, depending on what was sold. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and seven other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

12 I, _____ voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Network Department. My date of employment is 07/03/49 and my social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since August of 1971. I understand that I am being interviewed about Network Sales Referral program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During 1985-1986, I was the Control Foreman at the Silver Oaks Test Center. I didn't have any sales objectives to meet. I believe I started working in the Distribution Department in charge of an 18
3 man crew. My second level was _____ At the present time, I have a 23 man crew. At that time, 1989, every foreman had a sales objective. The objectives were set on the amount of revenue per month made from sales. I don't remember what my revenue amount was, however, I don't think I ever met the objective. I never got into any trouble because of my sales results. I never was told by my supervisor to meet my sales objectives. My sales results never reflected on my evaluation. I believe that started to work for me in late 1989. I never was told to pull any of my crew off the load to do sales nor did I ever do it myself. I heard rumors of employees doing sales from their homes. My crew sales referral forms average was roughly 20 referrals per week. I didn't review the forms. I would mail the forms to the Business Office directly. For some reason, the Business Office didn't want the forms mailed directly to their office so every week, I would mail the forms directly to , Assistant Manager, which was the Sales Coordinator for my area. At times, I would get back several of the referral forms (six per month) from the Business Office indicating that the customer already had the service that had been sold by my employee. I have no knowledge of any boiler room activities. I don't have any knowledge of any illegal sales activities. I never attended any of the sales dinners. My main objective as a supervisor is for my crew to do their jobs as best as they are able to do. Sales are not one of my main objectives as a supervisor. I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all pages and all corrections.

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is _____ my social security number is 099-38-4675. I have worked for Southern Bell since 08/28/78. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. I have worked my entire career in the Homestead-Perrine District. From 1980-1988, I had several supervisors. At the beginning of 1988, I started to work for _____ Assistant Manager. The second level was _____ There were 22 employees in my crew. I believe the top sales person was _____ was always encouraging the crew to make sales. _____ never told me to make any type of illegal sales nor do I have any knowledge that any members of my crew were instructed to do so. I remember _____ telling me that I was missed at the sales luncheon, and he would like for me to be able to attend the next luncheon. I believe that my district sales objective per craft was to sell $50.00 per month in revenues. I have never been a good sales person, however, I did make some sales. I believe I was the lowest sales person in my crew. I heard rumors that some craft people were getting credit for sales that were being made by person(s) not associated with the Company. While _____ was in charge of the area, he would have one monthly meeting with our crew. In those meetings, the topics of discussions were safety, such as a major incident, employee fatality, an informational type of meeting. Very little was said about sales during those meetings. I never heard _____ or _____ during any meeting make reference to any illegal sales in any shape or form. I believe one of the reasons why _____ had such high sales results was because he was doing 'bulk load' route almost every day. During the 'bulk load' route, the opportunities for selling are great because you are making contact with the customer and this makes it easier to sell the maintenance plan. I believe also that _____ had the use of a 'random' computer with which he was able to check the customer accounts to see what features he could sell or if the customer had the maintance plan. In closing, I would like to say that Fernando Rodriguez, to my knowledge, wouldn't take employees off the load to do sales. I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

special circuits at Homestead Air Force Base because I've got security clearance at the base so I don't have much contact with customers or opportunities to sell. I understand that my supervisor, , makes a priority of sales with all of us, but I have never been pressured by him personally. I remember one time when they tried to make sales a part of our evaluation, but there was a grievance and, as a result, it was taken out. As far as other employees and sales, I never really paid much attention to who was doing what, because I wasn't into it. On phone sales, I remember people on light duty being kept in to do sales work. Some of the ones I remember were . and This was down in Homestead. There may have been others in Perrine doing the same thing, but I wouldn't know about that. I never heard any rumors or anything about people being kept at home to work on sales. I was never asked to work on sales on overtime and I personally don't know of anyone that was. Going back briefly to sales and evaluation, I believe that our second level, had designed the plan but as soon as it was announced, there was so much discontent among the people and talk of a grievance, that it was never really implemented and the Company backed off. To my knowledge, we would have been the only district with such commitments and I think they knew they would have lost the grievance. As far as 'home dispatch' meetings, I remember attending them. When questioned on whether I was present at a meeting where someone may have said to go ahead and make a sale anyway, that the customer would never notice, I do remember something along that line. I honestly don't remember who made the comment. It could have been anybody there, craft or management, and I also don't remember if it was said as a joke or seriously because there had been several people joking around back and forth. I do remember someone replying that that would be falsifying records, but again, I don't know how seriously anyone was taking it. I do remember making the statement that - no, we can't do that, that would be something stupid - don't do any of that. I believe statement came later on when guys were joking around and saying 'Hell, now I'll sell my truck and get points for that'. I don't remember who cracked the joke as far as selling the truck. As far as who was present during that meeting, I remember being there as well as my supervisor then, and being the second level manager. I was sitting at a table towards the end of the room and the other guy I remember being there was It should be easy to determine who else was at that meeting because it was basically crew and crew. I, voluntarily furnish , who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since 12/11/67. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. Early January, 1987, I was reporting to second level, Silver Oaks District, up to July, 1987, when my second level was same district. I had 10-15 craft employees reporting to me. I believe every supervisor had a sales objective, mine was to sell approximately $600.00 in revenue per month. I was unable to meet sales objectives every month. During my performance evaluation (5100 form), my lack of sales was always coming up as a commitment that was not met. The top sales person in my crew was I remember that was on light duty for a couple of weeks and he was doing phone sales. At the yard, there was a room with a couple of phones and microfiche reports. As far as I remember, employees on light duty were generally the ones doing phone sales. On occasion, when the work load was light at the beginning of the day, several employees would be sent to do phone sales. If the work load picked up during the day, those employees were sent back out on the load. I have no personal knowledge that overtime was being paid to employees to work on the load because too many employees were doing phone sales. I heard rumors about it. As my subordinates turned in sales referral forms to me, I would mail them out to the District Sales Coordinator, F or to office. I remember receiving a few of the forms back from the Business Office because the customer already had the feature. I remember receiving only a few returns. To my recollection, I never authorized any of my subordinates to work overtime on Saturday to work phone sales or any other day of the week. I heard rumors that authorized employees to work phone sales during heavy work load periods. I heard rumors that some employees, mainly or were doing phone sales from their homes after working hours using a microfiche viewer. I don't know if those employees were being compensated other than sales prizes. My personal opinion was that was aware of these activities. I heard rumors that employees' wives were doing phone sales during the day from their homes and the sales credit was given to their husbands. Any employee selling $50.00 per month could go to lunch; those selling over $300.00 per month were invited to dinner at Charcoals' Restaurant. Besides the luncheons and dinners, sales points were being applied toward gifts from a sales catalog. As first level management, I was entitled to 3% of my crew's total sales. One year, I accumulated enough points to order a 19 inch color TV by adding $62.00 out of my own money to make up the points shortage. I believe that also ordered some nice gifts. I heard rumors of employees placing sales flyers at the bulletin boards at a new apartment complex. Those flyers had the employees' beeper number or sales codes. During the time that we were scheduling six days, I felt the overtime was necessary because of rain, seasonal customers from the north, etc., and not associated with phone sales. During the home dispatch meetings which includes craft, first level and second level employees, I never heard any management encouraging craft to make illegal sales. I remember a foreman meeting during which I asked 'Is it true that we have people selling from home?', to which no reply was given. I heard rumors that some scams were going on of adding features to pay phones. I don't know where this was being done. I heard rumors of another scam known as 'down-selling'. This occurs when a Service Order is written with a full feature package and subsequently down-grading it to one or two features, which gives the sales credit to the Service Technician. In essence, the Service Technician is correcting the Service Order by giving the customer the one or two features the customer really wants. To the best of my recollection, I don't have any personal knowledge of falsified sales forms. I believe tha is no longer in the South Florida area. I believe he is still employed by the Company. I have read the above statement consisting of five pages and it is true to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each correction and each page.

I am not much into sales, but no one really bothers me about it. If I get the opportunity and chance to make a sale, I will do so, but I believe in doing my job first, which is giving the customer service. I remember our managers all making sales a priority and giving us 'pep talks' on selling but this all seems to have died down since 'Goldline' got started. I was never asked to work sales on overtime nor do I know of anyone else that was. I do remember people who were injured or on light duty that were used on sales full time while injured. comes to mind as one, but I don't really remember any others. I did attend 'home dispatch' meetings regularly and it was not unusual for us to receive 'sales pitches' at these meetings. I don't remember anyone ever making a statement suggesting that given features or services could be added to a subscriber's account because the cost was negligible and no one would remember. I don't remember ever hearing comments on such matters from anybody else either. Going back to sales, I do remember giving me some forms with a blank space where I would add my sales code to give to customers after I got done so if they decided to add anything, I would get the credit if I recall, his instructions to me were to give the form to customers with whom I had contact, and that the reason for the form was to help me sell. He never instructed me or anyone else to my knowledge to canvass an area and give out the forms wholesale. I never did nor do I know of anyone that did. I never heard anyone bragging about using this form wholesale and getting results. If anyone did that, I would have to assume they did it on their own, because no one ever discussed it with me. I have never been pulled off the load nor do I know of anyone that has been pulled off their load to work on sales. If I had heard of such a thing, I would have raised hell, and so would most other guys in my crew. Our crew was rather 'union gung-ho' and most guys there would have blown the whistle and protested right away. I know I would have. Personally, I think all the first level supervisors I have worked for over the last three years are high integrity people and, although they were always harping on sales, none of them ever threatened me or anyone else in any way or form to sell. Most of the reinforcement was done in a positive manner. I don't know of anyone that may have been turning in any kind of illegal sales. Since I was not much into sales, I really don't remember much about who sold what. I do remember that ' crew would usually be number one in sales, but I have to give credit to him because, as far as I was concerned, he was real good at motivating his people to sell. Over the last three years, I have worked for and with Rodriguez being my present supervisor. I am not much into sales, although every time I get a chance, I will try to make one. I was never pulled off my regular work to do phone sales or any type of solicitation. I was never asked to work overtime to pursue sales or to compensate for production time lost on sales. I do recall people on light duty being used on sales when they were physically unable to work on other things, but I don't recall names or time frames. I have been on home dispatch for some time and I attended the meetings regularly. Usually, our direct supervisors would be there as well as our second level, Ron Lubert. At times, there would be managers from other groups like Safety, who would make presentations at these meetings. I don't recall anyone at any of these meetings making a statement along the line that 'the customer probably won't notice the difference on his bill, so go ahead and take credit for the sale anyway'. I don't recall any of my peers ever approaching me to discuss any type of statement similar to that. We did get pep talks on sales at these meetings, but all the supervisors were always stressing sales anyway, so there was nothing unusual about that. I was never pushed or threatened by any of my supervisors that I better sell or else. I never heard any comments by any of my supervisors which would have in any way or form suggested making an illegal sale. As far as handouts or forms being given to customers (on our visit) with our sales code so that we would get credit should they decide to add anything, I was never given any of these forms nor did I do any of it. I don't know of any one that might have used those forms nor do I recall anybody bragging about getting good sales results through the use of such forms. I never saw such a form. I did most of my selling while working installation service orders. I mainly sold Call Waiting, Three Way Calling, etc., features to my customers. From personal experiences, it is difficult to make sales; customers are not always willing to be paying more for their phone services. As it is, they think they are paying too much for their phone services. I never heard any supervisor from the Company telling the employees to make false sales. I don't have any personal knowledge of anyone doing so. I believe that the top salesmen from each crew were invited to dinners. I believe this was done when was the Operations Manager in my area. Personally, I didn't see anything wrong with the dinners. When the work load was light, employees were instructed to do phone canvassing. I believed this was done at the Silver Oaks yard. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. 28 I presently work for Although my supervisors have always emphasized sales, I can't say that I have ever been threatened with 'I better sell or else'. As far as my recollection of sales, I remember that there were some guys that did very well in the MATCH program by handing out forms with their sales code to customers. I believe other guys picked up on it and started doing 34 the same thing. I remember winning an award at the end of last year for his sales. Back in January of 1989, I was on light duty for approximately three months. During this time, I stayed at the yard and worked telephone sales with who was also on light duty and who has since retired. and I came up with a system where I would go through the microfiche and give the subscriber information and he would make most of the telephone contacts. and I thought it would be nice to spread our sales among all the guys that were out there doing the actual work, but were told we could not do that. If I recall, it was either or both, that told us we couldn't do it so we didn't. I remember telling me that prior to me being there, he had worked with two other ladies on telephone sales. One of them was and the other, whose last name I don't know because she got married. I don't know for sure if either of them was pregnant or on light duty or what. I personally never saw either of them doing telephone sales. I also remember people questioning how could sell so much more than anybody else, but I never saw him working telephone sales at the yard nor have I heard rumors of his working telephone sales from his home while on home dispatch. If such was the case, I would not personally know about it. I used to attend 'home dispatch' meetings, but I don't recall ever hearing a statement along the lines of 'Don't worry about it. Go ahead and make the sale anyway. The customer will never notice the difference in his monthly bill'. However, I do remember some of the guys commenting on the fact that 'Anyone turning in illegal sales, if caught, would probably be terminated for it'. I don't remember any names. I have never been asked to work overtime on sales nor do I know of anyone that has. While back at the old Perrine yard (the one at 132nd Street which was subsequently closed), I remember one morning where I believe it was that asked that 'Due to light load conditions, were there any volunteers who wanted to stay in and work telephone sales?' I didn't volunteer, but if I recall, about four or five people did. I have never heard a statement from any of the foremen in my group that would have suggested to me or to any one that we should sell-sell-sell, regardless of how we did it.

I, [redacted], voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1970. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales program. During this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I presently work for [redacted] I have worked for her for about six months. Prior to that, I worked for Shirley Perring for about three months and, prior to that, I worked for Ron Lubert for approximately two years. The last time I had a crew reporting to me was about two years ago. As far as the sales plan, I remember that the Company came out with some type of plan to reward not only craft employees, but the managers, when good sales results were accomplished. I remember seeing employees on light duty working on sales full time while injured. Specifically, I seem to recall [redacted] doing that. I also remember seeing [redacted] Cooper working from a microfiche on telephone sales at the office, but I don't believe there was anything wrong with him or what the circumstances might have been. I also remember [redacted] working on telephone sales at the office although I believe there was something wrong physically with him at the time. I have never seen a 'boiler room' operation in my district (Perrine/Homestead/Kendall) but I have heard rumors of boiler rooms in other districts. However, this is hearsay through the grapevine and I have no personal knowledge of such operation taking place. As far as top sellers, I remember being among the best. In case, there was a rumor that someone outside the Company was using his sales code in everything that their company ordered -rather than going straight to the Business Office. In case, there were rumors that he had his wife working on telephone sales from his house during the day and he worked on sales himself on his own time at night. I cannot personally confirm either of these rumors - whether on or I have never heard of or been a part of overtime being offered or used for sales or to complete the load as a result of sales or of anyone being pulled off the load to work on sales. While I attended regular home dispatch meetings at 12800 S.W. 56 Street (Miller Road Yard), I never heard anyone make a statement along the line that 'Don't worry about it, go ahead and make the sale, the customer will never notice the difference anyway'. I never heard any comments from any manager at any level of management that could have been construed as an okay to sell regardless of what method was used or how valid the sales were. I do not recall having been present at a manager's meeting where might have been directly questioned on selling out of his house. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I am familiar with the sales program and the best I remember of it was about two years ago when I broke my wrist and I was on light duty. I was assigned to the Miller Road Yard (12800 S.W. 56 Street) and asked to work on telephone sales. There were times when the load at the maintenance center would go up that I would be taken off sales, sent to the maintenance center and after things leveled off, went back to sales. I estimate I was on light duty for about two months. While I was there on sales, I don't remember anyone else working in the room I was in, but I know there have been other people who have been put on telephone sales when on light duty. I really don't remember names or time frames. We used to work from microfiche. I would estimate I would attempt to call maybe 200 subscribers per day and make contact with about half of them. Of those that I contacted, I probably sold about 30 to 40%. I have never been asked to work overtime on sales or as a result of sales, nor do I know of anyone that has. I never heard any rumors of anybody sharing sales points or turning in false sales. I have never heard any statements from any of my managers that would have induced me to believe they didn't care whether my sales were legitimate or not. I have never used any type of form with my name and sales code on it to solicit customers nor do I know of anyone that has. I have never been sent out to canvass an area and solicit sales door-to-door, nor do I know of anyone that has. I am basically a high production person and, other than the time I was on light duty, been high on sales. I have, however, consistently been among the top people in production. I did attend monthly 'home dispatch meetings' at the Miller Road yard. I have never heard any statement or comment in reference to whether a customer would notice the monetary difference in his billing caused by the addition of the maintenance plan. Since I am not much into sales, I don't keep track of who the high sellers are or of what method they use to sell. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection.

13 INTERVIEW OF _____, ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK
(November 15, 1990)

"November 15, 1990

10 I, _____, voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My social security number is [redacted] and my date 24 of birth i[redacted] I have been working for Southern Bell since June, 1979. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver advised me that he is the Company attorney and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview 33 with anyone. During the 1986-1987 period, I was reporting to Manager, a Manager. During that time frame, 1986-1987, I was swapping back and forth between the two above managers. These changes were caused by the district. Since I started with the Company, sales programs have been part of the Company. As a manager with subordinates, I had sales objectives to meet, however, at this time I don't remember what those objectives were. I also remember that from November, 1988 through July 1989, I was the Quality Inspector for the South Dade District. During that period of time, I had no subordinates reporting to me and no sales objectives. I don't remember if I ever met my objective or not. While working for sales objectives were part of my commitments. On my evaluation, Form 5100, my rating was not affected because I didn't meet my sales objectives. I usually told my crew when speaking with the customers to let them know about the services and features we can provide. During the monthly crew meetings with the crews, to the best of my recollection, no Company employee ever said anything about doing false sales. Also, during our monthly foremen's meeting, there were never any suggestions to falsify any sales referrals. During light work load periods, certain numbers of employees were placed on phone sales, usually those employees with abilities to sell. As soon as the work load picked up, those employees were sent out to the field to work on the load. During heavy load days, as far as I remember, all of my crew were working on orders. Usually, there were a few employees on 'light duty' on phone sales, mostly one or two at any given time. As far as I can remember at Silver Oaks Work Center, an area for phone sales was available with a couple of phones, microfiche printouts and view finders. I remember getting several prizes from the sales catalog but I don't remember what those prizes were. I remember that some of the incentives for selling were dinners, luncheons and jackets. I remember attending several dinners. I don't recall if they had to do with sales or not. Sometimes a dinner was for a combination of several functions; safety, productivity and sales. I remember my second level winning a cruise to the Virgin Islands for a full week because of sales results. During this interview, I was asked if was one of the top salesmen from my district. I remember being a salesman but not to what extent. I don't recall any craft employees working overtime on phone sales. I don't recall attending a foremen's meeting where the question was asked if there was any truth to the rumors that craft employees were doing phone sales from their homes. I have read the above statement consisting of four pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each page and each correction.

was interviewed in reference to his overall knowledge of the Network Sales Referral Program and offered the following signed statement:

I, , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed as an Assistant Manager by Southern Bell. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1977. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. At the present time, is my second level manager. I have worked for her for the last eight months. I previously worked fc for about three or four years. As far as who was on my crew during 1988 and/or 1989, it is hard to remember exactly, but I believe the following individuals worked for me at that time:

I am sure there were probably others, but those are the ones that I remember. As far as sales is concerned, my crew has always been number one on sales and I take pride in it.

Then again, more often than not, my crew is also number one in productivity. I do attend home dispatch meetings regularly, however, I don't recall being present at one where someone might have made the comment of 'don't worry about it, make the sale. The customer won't be able to tell the difference on his monthly statement'. I am sure if I had heard that statement I would have reacted to it even if it had been made in jest by some of the guys. When asked about yes, he was good at sales. If I recall, most sales were made on the phone. Sometime back, had a problem that made him go on light duty (I think it was a sprained ankle) for some time. I don't remember exactly how long he was disabled. also worked on 'bulk loading' and I do remember his coming in on sales whenever the load permitted it. It is hard to say how often this would happen. Sometimes in one week, there may be two or three days when it was light and then an entire month or more could pass before he would be able to do it again. I never worked any overtime on sales or to compensate for being behind on our workload due to sales. When asked how someone may have shown sales dated on a Saturday, the only thing I can think of is that our guys have not always been scheduled Monday through Friday. Sometimes we scheduled people Tuesday through Saturday or Sunday through Thursday or however we see fit to best manage the business. I can honestly say that if somebody worked on sales on a Saturday, it was not while on overtime but there is no way I can give you specifics on a Saturday three years ago. Phone sales were worked from microfiche files that are in numerical sequence, so it would not surprise me, quite the opposite, I would expect the telephone numbers to be in relative numerical sequence. I never heard any rumors that was working on sales out of his home on his own time. I do remember talking to customers on the phone constantly whenever he was at the office on sales and I happened to be there too. I have never heard any rumors about boiler rooms in operation anywhere, nor have I ever seen one. However, it was common practice to use people that were on light duty on telephone sales. At one point in time, I remember (who was physically disabled and has since retired) working on sales along with (who was also disabled) at the same time. I don't know what your definition of a boiler room is, but that isn't mine and that is the closest thing I remember that would ever come close. I never heard any comments from my higher ups (second level or Operations Manager) that would have lead me to believe that they wanted to be number one in sales no matter what the cost. I do not remember any management meeting where might have been directly asked about rumors concerning and sales. I remember at one point in time some guys were using handouts with their beeper numbers and sales codes on them. However, I think that did not really account for many sales, at least not in my group. I know that [redacted] was also very good at sales, but I have no idea how he did it. I don't recall anyone ever sharing points and the number of orders I would get back from the Business Office would be rather small. As far as the referral forms, when given to me, I just took them to the Business Office. I had no reason to think, and still don't, that there might have been anything wrong with them, so I never conducted any spot checks with the customers. While making their calls, people at times would keep track of how many 'no answers', 'busys' and contacts they actually made. However, I never kept any of these forms. I have read the above statement consisting of this and four other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. All corrections have been initialed.

I, _____. voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is _ _ and my social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since 11/27/72. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. In 1987, I was a Service Technician working out of the Silver Oaks yard. To the best of my recollection, during 1987 I reported to three different first levels at one time or another. They were : I was working both repair and installation. I was averaging six to eight orders per day. There were days I was able to make one or two sales, other days I had no sales. I usually sold on repair orders the maintenance program and on installation orders, calling features. I don't recall if my crew had any sales objectives or not. I know I didn't have any. Usually there was a top salesman for the month and a top crew. I don't recall whose crew was top or which salesman. I know it wasn't me. I recall they were giving out luncheons for sales results. If the load was light, I was told to do phone canvassing at the Silver Oaks yard by my supervisor. At times, I did phone sales the entire day; other days for a few hours only. It all depended on the work load, if it got heavy during the day, I was sent out to work orders or troubles. At the yard, there was no special room set up to do phone sales. Usually, there were only two to three employees at any given time or day. We were using information from 'LMOS' which was located in the second level's secretary's office. Once we got the customer information, we were using any office that had a phone available. The items that were being sold were calling features and 'TIP', the Trouble Isolation Program. In an extremely good day, I was able to speak to 150 customers on the phone. This was done working from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. just doing calls. Out of the 150 customers, I don't recall how many of the 150 I was able to make a sale. During 1989, I was working for [redacted] I did phone sales on light load days using [redacted] office. Instead of using the LMOS, I was using microfiche printouts. Depending on the load, I was able to work a full day or a few hours on phone sales. There were days that I just made a list of the customers I was going to be calling and there were days all I did was make phone calls. My average was roughly the same as when I was working in the Silver Oaks yard. As far as I remember when I was in [redacted] office, I was the only one there making phone sales. I never used the RF141 forms to make phone sales. While I was doing phone sales, there were days that I would spend the whole time filling out the Sales Referral forms with the customer's name, address and telephone number. This way I was able to make more phone calls without taking time out to fill out the forms. If I was unable to make contact with the customer (not home recorder), I would save the form for another day. If the customer refused, I threw out the form. If the customer wanted any of the features, I would complete the form with what feature was sold only. I left out the bottom part most of the time to save time. In this interview, I was shown eighty-seven (87) Sales Referral forms that had been completed by me on June 7, 1989 and seventy-seven (77) sales forms that had been completed by me on February 16, 1989. All the forms had the SEQIX (maintenance plan) as the feature sold. I was asked in this interview if I had made all those sales on the date indicated on the sales form. To the best of my recollection, I did not make all the sales on the same dates indicated on the forms. What I usually was doing with the sales forms was filling out the top portion only and holding the forms for several days until I had enough forms. Then I would complete the bottom portion of the forms with my name, sales code and date sold. Therefore, it is a good possibility that the sale was not made on the date indicated on the forms. I never did any phone sales on overtime. I never was pulled off the load on a heavy day to do phone sales. I don't have any personal knowledge of any employee working overtime on phone sales, working from their homes or having their wives doing phone sales for them. I never was advised by my supervisor, [redacted] or any employee of the Company to do any illegal sales nor do I have any personal knowledge of any illegal sales activities going on. I heard rumors about 'boiler room' activities within the Company but not in my area. We held monthly crew meetings. During these meetings, I never heard any employee making a remark about any illegal sales going on in the Company. I accumulated enough points to get several small items such as a pressure cooker, VCR and vacuum cleaner from the sales catalog. I can't remember at this time every item I received. I have never processed any Sales Referrals without calling the customer. I talked to every single customer that I made a telephone sales form on and took credit for the sale. I never gave sales points to another employee nor did I ever get any either. I never heard of any complaints about my sales forms from the Business Office, or got any complaints from customers or my supervisor. In 1987, I remember I was on light duty for a couple of days because of 'back' problems. Some of my duties while on light duty were making phone sales, filing, clerical work and delivering supplies to the employees at their work sites. During 1989, I was on light duty again for a couple of days because of 'back' problems. My duties were doing some phone sales, clerical, messenger and minor jobs in my district. I don't remember any home dispatch meeting in which I was present where someone from the Company said 'That even if the customer doesn't want the maintenance plan, to go ahead and add it to their account because the customer wouldn't notice it anyway'. I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have intialed each page and each correction.

I _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician in Perrine, Florida. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales plan. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have worked for _____ for approximately the last three years. For the last four months, _____ has been my second level supervisor, and prior to that, it was _____ for a couple of years. I have been on home dispatch since it got started. I regularly attend the monthly home dispatch meeting. I do not recall having heard at such meeting a statement along the line of 'Go ahead and make the sale anyway, the customer probably won't notice the difference'. I feel that that would be a pretty dumb statement to make, especially in front of our supervisors. It would seem to me that if anyone had made such a statement, my supervisor would have jumped all over him. In any event, I never heard such statement. As far as sales, I would say I have been at the top or near the top as far as sales people over the last two years. The other guy that comes to mind for high sales is _____ The reason I specifically remember him is that he beat me out for 1989 and won the contest for a giant TV screen. This upset me quite a bit because I was committed to selling and had been high on sales for quite some time and had never heard of this guy. All of a sudden, after the contest for the giant TV was announced in South Florida, this guy comes out of nowhere and beats me and I mean, really beat me. To this day, I don't know how he did it because I worked very hard on sales at every opportunity that I had and I can't understand how anyone could beat me like he did. The reason I committed to sales was basically my supervisor, I remember when I worked for and a white guy would make two or three sales, he'd get a pat on the back. However, a black guy like me would get two or three sales and it would barely be noticed. However, when I started working for and I got him some sales, he really recognized me for it so I just responded and every chance I'd get, I would work on sales. I enjoyed it when I became the top seller, being black, all the other guys had to notice and I took pride in it. As far as gifts, I did get a few. Specifically, some tools, a radio, a small TV set, fire extinguishers and a bike. I would say the bike was the best present I got as a result of sales. As far as my sales, I did some sales when I was on 'bulk loading' and by telephone canvassing. Most of my sales were made on the phone. Sometime in 1989, I sprained my ankle and went on light duty for two weeks. During all this time, I worked on sales form microfiche at the office. Also, whenever I looked at my 'bulk load' in the morning and I saw only two or three troubles, I would call and ask him if I could come in and work on sales. He would go check and see how the general load was. If it was too heavy, he would tell me he was sorry, but I had to go on the regular load. If it wasn't that bad, then he would okay my going in to sell over the phone. I remember that and , who were on 'bulk load' in Homestead and Kendall respectively, would sometimes pick up a couple of troubles in Perrine when that is all that I had. Neither of them ever complained to me about it or to or t If they did, I never heard about it. As far as my working on sales on the phone every time I got a chance, I never discussed it with anybody. However, everyone knew that I wanted to sell every chance I got. I would estimate that there were weeks when I called on two or three days to go on sales and there were weeks when I didn't get to go on sales at all because the load was heavy. As far as face-to-face dealing with customers, I never suggested to any of them that I would not bill them for the existing trouble for which I was out if they subscribed to the maintenance sales plan. I did make them all aware of it and some of them went for it and others did not. As far as rumors that my wife could have been calling customers for me from home, that would be false. I did not have a microfiche machine at home and although at times I placed a few calls to subscribers from my home on my own time, they were mostly to follow up on calls placed from the office. I never worked overtime on sales or as a result of having worked on sales to catch up on my load, nor do I know of anyone that did. I never shared 'sales points' with anyone nor do I know of anyone that did. As far as how many sales I would make on a good day over the phone, I would say 20 to 25, but I am just guessing. My best days ever would probably be about 40 sales, and again, I am guessing. I would screen the customers before I called them to see if they had the maintenance plan already and, if they did, of course I would not call. Off the top of my head, I would estimate I probably sold to about half the people with whom I made contact - then again, it's hard to say. Just from being on the job in my area, I deal with a lot of Spanish customers and I speak a little broken Spanish, enough to get by with the little English that those of them who don't speak English still manage to understand. As far as my phone solicitation, I did not concentrate in the Perrine area because I didn't feel it was that productive. No one ever told me what area I should concentrate on. When shown some of my referrals, I admit that I sold to a high percentage of Spanish people. Most of these people, however, spoke English decent enough to carry on a conversation and many of them spoke perfect English. I never turned in a sale where I felt there had been a question in communications. As a matter of fact, most Spanish people that spoke no English at all, as soon as you started talking to them in English over the telephone, they would reply 'No speak English' and hang up on you. I never turned in a sale for credit without having talked to the customer. I am not sure all of them would remember my calling them if questioned, but I would think that a lot of them would. I was shown some of my daily production referral forms and I recognize the handwriting on them as mine. When I worked on sales, I would fill out the form right as I talked to the customer. I don't remember accumulating tickets for a couple of days and then sending them in, but it's been so long it is possible that might have happened. On the sample I was shown, there were 60 sales dated 01/02/88, 19 dated 01/04/88, 21 dated 01/05/88 and 20 dated 01/06/88. The 60 sales seem to be a lot for a day and the others seem more like the average day. It was pointed out to me that 01/02/88 was a Saturday but I honestly don't remember ever working on sales on a Saturday and getting paid for it. Those forms are close to three years old and it would be hard for me to try to explain why there were so many sales on that one given day. The closest thing I've ever gotten to that, after browsing through all my sales through 1988 and 1989, is like 44 and 45 sales per day, which I had previously guessed at as what I would have sold on good days. On the average, it looks that from looking at my forms, I averaged 25 to 30 sales per day when I worked on telephone sales. In retrospect, If I had known that I was going to be scrutinized like this for trying to excel in sales, I would have never done

it. Seems like if you don't do enough of something, you hear about it and if you try hard and excel at something, people question you on how you did it or assume that you must have done something wrong.
I guess you can't win either way.

He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. I started in my present job on 04/15/90. I was the Manager for South Dade I/M (Installation/Maintenance Department) and the S.S.I.M. (Special Service Installation Maintenance) during 1986 through 1989. Some time during that time frame, the area was split. second level, was responsible for West Dade and Silver Oaks. I was responsible for the Perrine/Naranja/Homestead wire centers. To the best of recollection, I don't know of any problems with the Network Sales Referral. During the 1987-1988 time frame, I don't recall any problems with the Network Sales Referral. I recall that certain incentives were given out for good sales results such as taking employees to dinners, giving out hats, a cup and glasses, etc. In 1989, the sales objectives that I had set up for my people were as follows: For sales of over $300.00 revenue for three consecutive months, the employees were invited to a dinner. To the best of my recollection in May, 1987, because of my sales results, I was awarded a cruise to the Virgin Islands. On the cruise, I met management from all over BellSouth Services that also had won the cruise for sales results.

first level, was my Sales Coordinator. When the load was light, I understand that those employees that had a capability for sales were doing phone sales. However, to my knowledge, none of my supervisors pulled employees off the load to make phone sales if the load was heavy. I never gave any of my supervisors permission to do something like that. Fernando is the type of supervisor that always stressed selling to his subordinates but never advocated cheating. To my knowledge, I never heard any rumors that was cheating on his sales. During a brief period of time, I was hand carrying the sales referrals to the Business Office. Later on that became responsibility. Since I didn't have any reason to doubt the validity of the referral form, I didn't check them. I don't recall ever saying in a crew meeting to go ahead and add the maintenance plan to the customer's account without letting the customer know about it.

sales were high because he did bulk route and he had more opportunity to make sales since he had more face-to-face contact with the customer. It seems th is one of those with a gift of salesmanship. To my knowledge, I don't know of any boiler room activity in my area. My definition of boiler room is where a dozen or more people are in a room making phone sales all day long. I heard rumors that was placing flyers at new apartment buildings advertising calling features and directly advising those customers wanting the service to contact him. I don't remember any spreading or sharing of sales points. I would never allow my people to do anything illegal, immoral or unethical regarding sales. I would like to specify that at times I had two or three employees doing phone sales at the same time due to light duty or light load condition. I don't have any personal knowledge of employees doing phone sales from their homes at any time; nor have I heard any rumors as to those activities. I don't recall during a foremen's meeting someone asking about employees doing phone sales from their homes. I have read the above statement consisting of five pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.I have initialed each page and each correction.

17 I, _____, voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1979. My social security number is [redacted] My date of birth is I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Plan. During this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. During 1986 through 1987, I was working in the South Miami area during that frame of time. I had worked for several supervisors, There always had been some type of sales program going on in the Network Districts competing with each other for sales results. All my sales were done while working installation orders or doing a repair job. I recall using Sales Referral Forms (Form NSR). I also recall turning in the referral forms on a daily basis to my supervisor. As I recall, the rest of my crew was doing the same. At times, our foreman would remind the crew to make sure whenever possible to have the customer sign the form. I don't recall any problems arising from the referral forms, at least not in my crew. I recall that in the South Miami Test Center, employees on light duty were doing phone sales. I don't recall ever being taken off the load, light or heavy, to do phone sales. As far as I can remember, those doing phone sales, other than those employees on light duty (medical reasons or physical) was done strictly on voluntary conditions. I heard no rumors of forcing employees to do phone sales. To the best of my recollection, the Test Center always had been responsible for routing out the work load. They are always aware of how many employees are available for work each day. They know who is on vacation, light duty, day off, etc. Any employee on permanent phone sales or not working on the load, for whatever the reasons were, test board knew about it. I believe if an employee was home doing phone sales, then the Test Center knew about it. I recall that the Service Representative, when speaking with a customer, would ask the customer if 'they want the best service available'. If the customer said yes, the Service Representative included a full feature (Call Waiting, Call Return, etc.) package, without the customer's knowledge. I found this out when asking the customer what type of service they had. When I advised the customer they had the 'full features', they claimed not knowing about it; that they only wanted one or two features. Most of the ones I spoke with advised me that the Business Office had asked them if they wanted the best service available. Those customers were being billed for features they didn't request. I advised them to contact the Business Office to have their accounts corrected. I recall the MATCH program started sometime at the end of 1989. I recall speaking with an employee in the MATCH program office (I don't recall her name). She suggested that we should be doing what Boca and Pompano were doing, using sales flyers, and distributing them in new developments and large apartment complexes. According to her, they were getting great sale results from the flyers. I recall mentioning this to my foreman, Shortly afterwards, we began using sales flyers with the Bell logo printed on them. I recall some of the flyers were made by our office clerks. Some of the fancy ones I believe were made by our Graphics Department located at 666 N.W. 79 Avenue. The flyers included the employee's sales code. I remember distributing them to managers of large apartment buildings. The managers thought it was a great idea because new tenants were always asking for the Telephone Company number so the manager just gave the new tenant one of the flyers. I don't recall how many sales were generated from the flyers. I recall the flyers had an '800' number to the MATCH program. I recall having monthly crew meetings. I don't ever recall anyone with the Company suggesting any type of illegal sales. I recall that was the Sales Coordinator for our area. I don't recall ever suggesting to me or anyone else any illegal sales tactics. I don't recall any rumors of any illegal sales going on in my district. I don't recall Manager, in a crew meeting suggesting any type of illegal sales either selling Custom Calling features or the maintenance program. I was asked during this interview if my wife works for My wife does not work for a living; she is a I recall installing an e Order at a customer's residence, after which I contacted to advise them that the order had been completed. The person I spoke with at inquired if there was a quicker way to issue a Service Order because every time he called the Business Office, he was wasting too much time when put on hold. I gave him the MATCH program number and advised him to give my sales code whenever calling in a new Service Order. I don't know the number of Service Orders placed by for which I received sales credits. I was not aware that I was doing anything illegal or against Company policy. I don't recall being told anything connected with I don't recall anyone from the Company saying that the use of the sales flyers was illegal. I don't recall any rumors of employees doing phone sales from their homes. I don't recall rumors of boiler room activities, or sharing points.

13 I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. I have worked for Southern Bell since April 7, 1980. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for the Company, advised me that he is the Attorney for Southern Bell and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. When questioned about sales, the answers are simple. I never did any phone canvassing and while I did sell some person-to-person on the orders that I worked, by far the greatest majority of my sales came from the MATCH Program and one event in particular, the 1990 Orange Bowl Classic, which was played in January of 1990. I am assigned to the Orange Bowl and I basically work all orders there. I have developed a good relationship wi[redacted] who is in charge of communications for the Orange Bowl Committee. In the years prior to MATCH, getting prepared for a game like this was very hectic, to say the least. You would have all the networks, major newspapers, radio stations, etc., order service. The orders came out at different times and it was hard to contact someone at the New York Times and other major newspapers/stations throughout the country to find out exactly what they wanted when there was a question. However, on game day, everyone would be asking me where their service was at. When [redacted] heard about the MATCH program, we both decided it would serve us well and frankly, sales was not the motivating factor here. In essence, what we did, is that [redacted] gave me all his contacts and requests for service as they came in. I would call the customer and find out exactly what they needed, where and when. Then I would call MATCH and, at the customer's request, place the order for them. I would get the serial number myself and all the information I needed and I would follow up and work the order myself. When service was in, I would call the customer, let him know what his telephone number was and any other pertinent information. This worked out great for [redacted] and myself, in addition to the customers and the Telephone Company itself because there were a lot less headaches and everything was much better coordinated. This was done out in the open, my supervisor, [redacted], was aware of it and, from our end, we were all happy about it because it made life much easier. If I recall, I was able to sell the maintenance plan to all the subscribers I contacted, which is something these people would not have usually ordered, so that would be the only thing I can think of where I actually 'pushed' for a sale. At the time this situation evolved, I was not really very aware of what effect this could have on 'sales points' although I knew it wouldn't hurt. The real factor in my mind was how much easier this made my job. As far as other people and sales, I have never seen a boiler room in operation, I never canvassed customers over the phone to make sales and I never worked any overtime nor know of anyone that did to work on sales. I kind of wish the MATCH program or at least the telephone contact that I had was still active, even without getting any sales credit whatsoever, so that I could use it to coordinate this year's Classic.

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since December 7, 1970. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. In my present position, which I have held for the last three or four years, I supervise over 100 Repair Service Attendants. These employees are the ones that actually talk to the subscribers as they report their service in trouble, so it presents an ideal situation to sell, not only because of the customer contact, but also because the circumstances lend themselves to the selling of the maintenance plan. If you asked 10 me about my top seller s the one that comes to mind. Why is she so good? She likes to sell and apparently takes it more seriously than the average. In addition, I know she pursues selling on her own time, like to relatives and friends. I don't believe she actually does any telephone canvassing on her own. Overall, we have never used any of our people to conduct telephone canvassing. By the nature of our operation, we have the customers calling us all the time, so we already have as much customer contact as we would ever want. I have no reason to suspect that 19 any of the sales made by or anyone under me were illegal. I estimate that about 95% of the orders we sent in to the Business Office went through without any problems. Of the ones that did not, it was basically because the item had already been sold, which sometimes created bad feelings among the people who did not get the sale. I do not know of any instance in which there has been any 'sharing of points' among employees. As far as the orders that need to be called in, (before to MATCH and now to Goldline) I usually assign one person to call in everyone's orders.

28 is the one that comes to mind as usually doing the calling, but she gets no sales points for doing this. Because of the volume of sales and customer contact, I have an 'in-office'
31 sales coordinator, who is and she is basically the person that does the overall, both sales and non-sales, training. As 'sales coordinator', she coordinates sales within the office as to the forms that need or need not be filled out, what needs to be called over the phone and what can be mailed to the Business Office, rotating the 'calling duties' among various Repair Service Attendants and so forth. I have never used overtime for sales in any way or form and I have never seen or heard of 'boiler room' operations. As far as employees on 'light duty', we operate in an office environment where we really never have anyone that would meet such criteria. If a person is too sick to do their regular job, they are usually too sick to come in to work.

In 1987 through mid-1989, I had a staff position (Central Dade Division). I had no subordinates and no sales objectives. In mid-1989, I went back to the field and I had a crew with approximately eleven to twelve employees. The sales program which I was most familiar with was the MATCH program. All of the employees' sales were connected with the MATCH program. As I recall, the employees did the referral. At no time was the customer told to make the contact directly with the MATCH program. I was never involved with any type of flyers advertising sales, nor do I recall anyone in my area doing so. I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Repair Service Attendant. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1969. My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have been very active in sales over the last few years, not so this year. I was out on benefits from March to July of this year because of a serious car accident. When I returned, the sales program had changed to where you really don't get as much credit anymore so I am not presently pursuing sales as hard as I used to. I made my sales in different ways. At times, I would discuss my working for the Telephone Company while at church, with friends and relatives, etc., and I got a lot of sales this way. At work, many of the customers that called in had problems with the inside wiring, for which they would get billed if they didn't have the maintenance plan. As soon as I noticed they didn't have the maintenance plan, I would use that angle to try to make a sale which would happen quite often. I have never sent in an illegitimate request for service. As far as gifts, I remember getting a portable phone, a small portable organ and a couple of other items. The biggest gift I ever got was a 40" color TV screen, which I got, not because of points, but because I won a contest that they had for the top seller in our district and our counterparts in the Jacksonville office. As far as sharing points, I never heard any of that. There were cases, however, where people that had points would order items that they would then sell to other people or maybe even give them away. There were times when other Repair Service Attendants, who did not really care much about sales, would make a sale and give me the sale or the contact to call the customer and I would take it. The reason this happened, I would imagine, is that everyone knew I was trying hard to sell and since we don't have a commitment of sales to meet, some people who didn't care at all about sales would give me their referrals. I would fill out the form, contact the subscriber when necessary and send it in with my sales code. I never gave any gifts or any type of compensation to anyone for this and most of the sales I made were as a result of my own initial direct contact with the customer. If I was asked to guess, I would say that maybe 20% of my sales, if that much, were based on initial contact made by somebody else given to me to pursue. I have never worked overtime on sales nor do I know of anyone that has. I have never seen a boiler room in operation, although I have heard rumors that years ago, when the load was low, some people would be put on the phones to solicit subscribers and try to sell Custom Calling features. I was never involved in that and I have been there for over four years. I estimate that may be going back eight to ten years. The sales that I made from my house were to my own friends and relatives and/or people referred to me by them. I have never solicited subscribers at random over the phone from the phone book or microfiche or anything else. As far as how the sales were turned in, any time we sold the maintenance plan or Custom Calling features, the form would be mailed to the Business Office and the order issued then. Whenever we sold additional lines or any type of service that carried a 'due date', those sales would be called in to the MATCH program over the phone on a daily basis. Usually, a Repair Service Attendant would be assigned to call in those types of orders for everyone in the group. This was rotated among quite a few different attendants and I remember my taking turns at calling them in also. I have received several commendations from customers who were pleased with the way I explained the services offered and wanted to make my supervisor aware of it. We don't have the ability to call out from our position, nor do we have ready access to microfiche printouts or LMOS printouts at the office. Even if we did, none of us would work on sales from that. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. In my supervisory position, I do not get many chances to sell and I am not much into sales myself. However, some of the people that work for me are. I would say that of the employees that I have had working for me for the last three years, 23 is the best seller. I know ths pursues sales at every opportunity she gets both on and off the job. Her mother owns a beauty shop and anytime a question comes up on telephone service, she puts the customer in contact with her daughter who pursues the sale on her own time. While I have never conducted an audit to verify the validity of the referrals sent in (nor do I know of anyone that has) I have no reason to believe there would have been something wrong with any referral sent in. I have never seen a boiler room in operation nor have any of my people ever worked overtime to work on sales. I have never seen anyone sharing points. As far as some employees pursuing leads or contacts initiated by other employees who just don't care about the sales credit, that has probably happened but I haven't documented specific cases. While we do have access to microfiche in our offices, it is only used in cases of emergency, when the computers are down and Law Enforcement or Security need to get information on a given telephone number. I have never seen anyone working sales from microfiche in my department and there would be no reason to because we get constant customer contact. On LMOS, we have access to various masks, but we can only look at one subscriber at a time. Our attendants can only receive incoming calls at their positions and they have no way of making outside calls from their desks. The customer complaints are handled in the order in which they were received and not by any type of geographical area or Exchange. I would say that the encouragement that we receive to perform on sales is adequate. As far as how the referrals are sent in to the Business Office, it would be best to get that type of information fror who is our sales coordinator and would be much more familiar with it than I am.

I, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since March of 1969. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Referral Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I have been the sales coordinator at CRSAB for about three years. This is by no means a full time job, it is something done in addition to my everyday responsibilities, just like there is a United Way Coordinator, Bonds Drive Coordinator, and so forth. My responsibilities as sales coordinator are not really spelled out, but basically, I just make sure that all sales are called in properly, that whenever something new (like Touchstar Services) comes out, our people get adequate brochures and information so they can sell it to the customer. Also, I am basically the contact person for anyone who may have any questions on sales. When asked about our best producer in sales, comes to mind. puts forth a lot of effort on sales, both on and off the job. I understand she is very active in her church and makes everyone aware that she works for the Telephone Company and volunteers to place orders for anyone that wants her help. I have heard rumors that when developed a reputation for top sales, other employees who didn't care much about sales would go to her and give her their sales and/or contacts for her to pursue or turn in. These are only rumors and, if true, I would not think they would make up much of the total of her sales. I don't really have any specifics on names or actual volume because as long as the sales are legitimate, someone is going to get the credit anyway and if some people don't want to do the paperwork or care about selling anything and others are willing to do it, I am not all that concerned about it. About eight or nine years ago, maybe longer, I do remember an experiment where several people would be put on the phone to canvass subscribers all day and do nothing but sell. The number of people varied per day, depending on how heavy the load was. On bad days, there would be no one at all while on slow days, maybe up to five or six. On the average, it would be about three people and not necessarily all day long. This was done for about three months and then dropped because it did not produce the desired results. Other than that, I have never seen it happen again. I have never seen overtime worked on sales or as a result of sales nor have I seen anyone taken off the load to work on sales. I have never seen any employees sharing points. Most of the sales made in our department were as a result of subscribers calling us on the phone. At present, it is mostly on subscribers calling in trouble reports. Going back a couple of years, before the Business Office placed a recording on their line, we would get overflow calls from people who couldn't get through to the Business Office and called us for help and more often than not, we would take their calls. Prior to 'MATCH' and 'Goldline', sales forms would be mailed to the Business Office. Subsequently, sales are called in everyday by one person who calls in orders for everybody. Different people are rotated and take turns at calling in the orders for everybody. I have no reason to suspect any of our employees have ever turned in a fictitious sales. Again, some forms were returned by the Business Office, but the vast majority of those were due to the subscriber already having the service sold. In all the years I was associated with sales, I only remember conducting an investigation on a sale once because of a customer's complaint, and in that one case, it was eventually traced to the subscriber's sister, who acknowledged the contact. The subscriber was nevertheless given credit. Our Repair Service Attendants do not have the capability to dial out from their positions and we monitor their conversations. There is nothing that would technically prevent an attendant from filling out a 'Sales Referral' on a customer she has spoken to without actually making the sale, but I would think that the knowledge that a percentage of their calls is being monitored would keep them from taking that risk.

24 I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. I have worked for Southern Bell since July, 1988. I previously worked for Southern Bell, transferred to AT&T at divestiture, was laid off in 1984 because of manpower problems and was eventually recalled by Southern Bell in 1988. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I have always been good on sales. In 1981, I was involved in the non-contact sales program in Southern Bell and I brought in over $225,000.00 worth of revenue. I was recognized for my efforts all the way up to I never got any prizes or anything out of that program. I sold a lot because I am good at sales. In July of 1988, when I was recalled by Southern Bell, I started working in the Miami Metro District and I reported to I remember one of the first things he told me was I hear you are a good salesman' to which I replied that I was and then he stated that he just fired two of them. I said I had no problem with that, that I was just a Technician now. I stayed away from sales until I became the Assistant United Way Coordinator for Metro and I got to do some talking with I remember having an open door policy and one day, after I had a chance to get to know him a little bit, walking into his office with my resume and all the recommendations I had because of sales and suggesting to him that I would be much more valuable to the Company as a salesman than working outside. thought about it briefly and decided to give me a try. I started selling, just about full time, from an office at 8038 N.E. 2nd Avenue and it soon became obvious to everybody that I could really sell, so I was kept there from approximately the last quarter of 1989 to the first quarter of 1990. I did work outside at times when the load was heavy and on Saturdays when other people were also brought in on overtime. I never worked overtime on sales. When I worked overtime on Saturday, I was working outside with the rest of the guys. During the week, I would usually work from 12:00 to 8:00 p.m. I followed up on all my orders and sometimes I did that in the morning from my house on my own time. I did get several gifts because of my sales, but nothing major. I remember a set of Cross pens, a portable phone for my son and a few other gifts. I never shared any of my sales points with the other guys on the crew I was in. I was never asked to and no one ever gave me a hard time about the fact that I would get a chance at prizes because I was on sales full time and because no one else cared to work on sales. It was common knowledge that I stayed on sales for five or six months almost full time and since all my sales were legitimate and I was generating a substantial amount of revenue for the Company, no one had any problems with it. I can't see where anyone would. When Goldline came into effect, I stayed in sales for a couple of months but eventually was taken off when it became obvious that under the new system, a lot of my sales would fall through the crack. For instance, I could sell Touchstar Services to various different customers that I would refer to the Business Office and then they would recontact the customer and issue the order. I happen to know that Service Representatives in the Business Office don't have a lot of time to do their contacts and it is my personal opinion that if they try a few times and don't get a hold of the customer, they just drop the sale. I have to assume that, because after Goldline, the Business Office was only closing a little over 20% of my referrals. When questioned about messages that I left for Service Representatives with my home number as a call back, I live five blocks from the office where I was working and I already stated I did follow up from my own house at times and that I mostly worked 12:00 to 8:00 p.m. or 1:00 to 9:00 p.m. The time shown in the message is 11:19 a.m. which goes right along with what I've already said. I had access to the 'DLR' mask in LMOS and I checked telephone numbers at random there, then I would decide on who to call based on what the given subscriber already had. I never worked from microfiche printouts. I concentrated mostly on Touchstar Services - I did not sell much of the maintenance plan. Most of my sales were sent directly to the Business Office. What I would do, I would summarize all my sales on a sheet that I would fax to the Business Office. This would include the subscriber's name, telephone account and what was sold and the Business Office would work from that.

25 I _____ read this statement and agreed that it correctly reflects the contents of this interview, however, he declined to sign it. The entire interview was conducted in the presence of Antonio L. Hernandez, Union Steward.

38 I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1962. My social security 44 number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales

Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. Back in 1987, I had to fire several employees because of sales related problems. Specifically, were terminated as a result of illegitimate sales turned in. Security got involved in that case and an investigation was conducted by them as a result of which the employees were terminated. Prior to that, a guy by the name of was also terminated for similar problems. In that case, Security did not get involved but the guy was terminated anyway. As a result, I always stress the legitimacy of sales with my employees and I believe everyone is aware of the seriousness of turning in false sales. About a couple of years ago, was rehired by Southern Bell and came in to work for me. He was just a regular Service Technician just like everybody else. Sometime in late 1989, and I don't know for sure who made the decision, was moved into sales full time for a few months. It is my understanding that went in and talked to himself and convinced him that he would be more valuable to the Company selling than working outside. I believe gave him a chance on sales and, as it turned out, the guy could really sell, so he was kept on sales full time. I believe his schedule was also changed to later on in the day so he would be able to reach more people at home. As far as overtime, I am sure we worked overtime while was on sales full time but, in all honesty, one guy out of 100 would not make that much of a difference and the overtime that was worked would have been worked regardless of whether was on sales or not. I know for a fact that when worked overtime on Saturdays, he worked out in the field but I would have no knowledge of whether he ever worked overtime on sales during the week. As far as how time was coded while he was on sales, I would not know. I was his second level manager and I never see anybody's time sheets - or anyone else's for that matter - the first levels do the time sheets. I never received any complaints about working on sales from anybody, nor his peers, nor other supervisors, customers, Business Office, etc. Every time I'd go by to see what he was doing or if he needed anything, he'd always be on the phone talking to a customer. I have no reason to think ever turned in a false sale. There was no sharing of points either. Every sale that made, he got credit for. When asked about 'boiler rooms', yes, we have used them in the past but somehow they didn't seem to work very well for us, so they did not last very long. I could not really give a time frame for the last time a 'boiler room' operation was attempted. If I recall, while was on sales, other people may have been tried on sales but I believe was the only one who sold enough to warrant keeping him on sales. After the experience I had in 1987 where I had to terminate people because of sales, I have had little involvement with sales. The fact tha was on sales full time was common knowledge and his results were given to everyone by who was Sales Coordinator for the Division. Although the subject probably came up at a couple of staff meetings, there were never any complaints. I don't know exactly wha was taken off sales because he stopped working for me in early 1990 and he was still working sales at that time. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

I, I , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is . I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Referral Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I was not very involved with sales other than by the fact that worked for me when he was put on sales full time. As I recall, was rehired sometime in 1988 and was assigned to me. For a little over a year, he was jut a regular Service Technician, working out in the field like everyone else. Toward the end of 1989, something happened where he went in and talked to and requested to work on sales and he started working on sales full time. I don't know exactly what happened but I do remember that for about a period of six months, although still shown as working for me on paper, he was actually working on sales full time. I did his time sheets during this time. I don't recall what his time was charged to, but I don't think it was a production code. I believe that . who wa Staff Manager at the time, came up with a special code for him to use. While worked 8 to 5 while in the field, I believe his schedule while on sales was more like 12 noon to 8:00 p.m. or something like that. When asked about overtime, I would have to say that we did work overtime while was on sales and he worked some overtime too, but to the best of my knowledge, the overtime he worked was actually out in the field and not on sales. In my estimation, the fact that was on sales full time had little to do with overtime worked because one person just wouldn't make that much of a difference. As far as integrity of sales, I believe that the sales turned in were legitimate. Every time I went by 8038 N.E. 2 Avenue, where he was working, he would be on the phone talking to a customer. In addition, we had some people terminated because of sales so we made it a point with everyone to make sure that they had actually contacted the customer on every sale they sent in. I know I did this personally with and I believe my supervisor at the time, did the same thing. If I remember correctly, some of the people terminated because of sales problems were :

As far as other people being put on sales, I do believe there were others but was the only one that actually stuck because he was very good at it. I think that sometime in 1989, they did have up to four or five people trying to sell on the phone from a room at 8038 N.E. 2nd Avenue. Some of the people were on light duty and others, I think, volunteered to work on sales rather than out in the field like but I think they did not produce very much and were sent back out. The only one from my crew assigned to sales was so I wouldn't have any specifics on guys from other crews. It would seem to me that probably would have more information than me in reference to who else was tried on sales and for how long. As far as sharing of points, it is my understanding tha kept all his points and did not share them with anybody. Sometime in early 1990 was taken off sales and transferred to group for whom he presently works. I don't know exactly when this took place but I believe it was shortly after 'Goldline' got started. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, _____ voluntary furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1967. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____.

I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I am an Assistant Manager on _____ staff and report directly to him. In responding to specific questions asked of me, I remember that sometime back in the summer of 1989, there was a staff meeting attended by _____ all of his second levels and myself, at which meeting the topic of sales was discussed. Since we were always low on sales, it was decided to create a 'sales room' for the purpose of improving our sales. This sales room was set up at 8038 N.E. 2 Avenue and was in operation for 4-6 months as best as I remember. At its peak, there may have been six to seven people working on it and on the low side, maybe three to four employees. The composition of this sales group was employees who were on some type of disability plus employees that volunteered for sales. With the exception of _____ who turned out to be an excellent salesman and stayed on sales arter the sales group was disbanded, the composition of the sales group changed constantly. I do not know how the time spent in the sales group was charged off by the different managers. I do not know of any special code that was set up for the purposes of charging such time. There was never any overtime worked on sales by the people in this group. If I recall, the sales group was disbanded because it simply did not improve the sales results enough to make it worthwhile. Since we had problems with illegitimate sales and some people had been terminated as a result, it was emphasized by everyone, including myself, that we must make sure we contacted the customer on every sale that was sent in. I have no reason to doubt the legitimacy of any of the sales turned in. As far as how we went about contacting people, we had a clerk make LMOS printouts of subscriber's accounts to see who had what, and then an effort was made over the phone to try to get people educated on all the services that we provide and what our latest offerings are. There was never any sharing of points by the people in the sales group - everyone kept the points for what they sold. As far as the Maintenance Plan, there was not much of a priority to sell it because there were a lot of discrepancies between what LMOS showed the customer had, versus what he really had, so a lot of those sales were lost. In addition, Touchstar and Custom Calling Features produced much more revenue. Other than very few people stand out as having been part of that sales group. I do remember that was in it for a couple of months and that tried it for a couple of weeks (she was recruited because she spoke Creole) but didn't like it, so she dropped out. If someone wanted to verify how the time was coded for the employees in the sales group, they could try to obtain the information from the 'Mechanized Time Reporting' program. As far as other districts having created sales groups similar to ours, I cannot testify that they had back then but I am pretty sure that they did. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other pages and it is correct to the best of my recollection.

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Operations Manager in the Network Department. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is . I have worked for Southern Bell since August of 1972. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. As far as our sales efforts in recent years, I remember at one time setting up a "sales room" to try to improve on our sales. If I recall, this group consisted of a couple of clerks and "the walking wounded", in other words, people who for some reason or another were on light duty. I would say that, on an average, we had maybe three or four employees working sales on this group. I want to say that the time frame for this group was the end of '88 and the beginning of '89 but I could be wrong. Jose Rugama, one of my staff assistants, would be able to confirm what the exact time frame was. I remember was an individual who particularly excelled on sales. once came into my office and tried to talk me into putting him on sales and sales training full time. Since he had an impressive resume on sales, and we needed to improve our sales results, I agreed to it and, to the best of my knowledge, he produced excellent results. I never received any complaints from the Business Office or from any other source in reference to sales or anyone else's for that matter, but I would like to know if there is a problem so I can deal with it. In the absence of a problem with sales, we never implemented a program to audit sales so although I assume sales sent in by my people were legitimate, I would have no way of knowing 100%. As far as names, I believe were the clerks associates with the sales efforts at the time and I will make arrangements to have them interviewed so that the time frame can be confirmed as well as any other pertinent questions. I would say that the size of the group handling sales varied directly with the load. If the load was heavy, there would be very little sales activity if any while when the load was light, more of an effort would be made. To my recollection and knowledge, the only one who did work on sales full time for a few months while healthy, wa and again, I already discussed the circumstances that led to that. Shortly after Goldline started, the load picked up and the sales system changed so even himself was put back in the field. While there were a lot of complaints at the start about Goldline, they eventually died down as everyone became familiar with the program. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages, and it is correct to the best of my knowledge.

My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is 11/08/39. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. He further advised that what was discussed in the interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I enjoy selling and I have gotten involved on various Company sales programs throughout the years. In late 1988, early 1989, I remember that the "83" and "89" offices were converted to where now you could sell custom calling features. As a result, I volunteered to work on sales anytime that the workload permitted it and I did make some sales. At times, I would even attempt to make a few sales from my home on my own time so that I could earn more points toward prizes, however, I did not tell many people about this. I was never paid overtime to work on sales. During the time I worked on sales on and off, I remember that other people were put on sales too but, for the most part, they were people who were injured and could not do their regular work. Most of them were not very good at sales. Two employees that I remember also working on sales because they like it or volunteered for it 43 (rather than being hurt) were I wouldn't know exactly when they were started on sales or how long 45 they stayed but I believe started around August of '89 and 46 around October. Prior to coming into the group, I used to call all my sales in through the "MATCH" program. Later on, we changed to a single point of contact with the Business Office, which was and we would turn in our sales to him and he would take care of getting them to the Business Office.

Usually, I would give him several days together. I would estimate that on a good day, I would make 15 to 20 sales. For the record, I contacted the customer on each and every sale for which I took credit. All my sales were 100% legitimate. I would estimate the overall number of contacts I would make in one day as close to 100 of which I would sell to about 15 or 20, like I started before. As far as the individual forms faxed over to the Business Office, each of us filled out their own and then handed them to who would take it from there. As to why sales made in late October of 1989 were faxed by on December 28, 1989, I am not sure of. I believe they were probably accumulated over a period of time until they got the contact they wanted at the Business Office or maybe they were misplaced when given to him and sent in when found later on. While I received a few gifts for sales, the biggest one I got was a piece of furniture for my stereo components. As far as a total of 54 sales being written up on 10/24/89, that is exactly what that means, they were written up on the form that day but actually sold over the last few days. I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true and correct to the best of mu recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

I, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Drafting Clerk in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1971. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I enjoy working and talking to people so when the opportunity came up to work on sales, I volunteered. I worked on sales basically from August of 1989 through the first quarter of 1990. Although I sold a little of everything, I concentrated mostly on Touchstar features, which was our newest offering. There were other people working on sales other than myself when the sales group was active. On the high side, there would be about five employees working sales and on the low side, about three. Other than people who were on light duty, I remember [redacted] as working on sales full time. [redacted] actually started on sales before I did and [redacted] ame in around October of '89. We worked on sales from computer printouts and each of us had their own sales pitch. I was impressed listening to [redacted] talk on the phone and I consider him a "classic salesman", however, I was happy with my own approach and I did not try to imitate him. I did, however, at times sold on my own time to follow up on calls made during the day and to get more points for prized. I did get a few prizes as a result of my sales, the biggest one being a small color T.V. set and a microwave oven. I did not stay on sales because of the prizes, however. I did it because it was a challenge to me and I liked it better than drafting. For the record, I contacted the customer on each and every sale I took credit for. All my sales were 100% legitimate. When I first started on sales, I would fill out a referral sheet on every sale I made, which I turned in to the division office who would somehow get it to the Business Office. After Demirgian came in, the procedures changed and we each filled out a summary sheet with our sales for the day which was then faxed to the Business Office. I kept my own copies of most of these sheets and would make them available to Security if necessary. I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

RE-INTERVIEW OF _____ REPAIR SERVICE ATTENDANT

102 Canal Street
Miami Springs, FL

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I have also been told that this is a follow-up statement to the one I originally provided on November 21, 1990, and that the confidentiality and circumstances that pertain to this investigation still apply. I have been informed that the main reason for this interview is to get my comments and/or explanation for the results obtained in a telephone survey conducted from Atlanta on customers on whom I turned in a "sales referral". I understand that I am not the only employee on whom this survey was conducted and that I am not personally being singled out. The survey results, as shown to me, are divided into three categories. The first is the percent of customers aware that they have the service in question. This figure, in my case, is 40%. The second is the percent of customers unaware of the service. This figure is 34%. And, the last, is the percent that refused to be interviewed, which is 26% of the sample. I cannot comment on why people don't remember or why they would refuse to be interviewed. I can, however, emphasize the following - I never turned in a sale on which I did not have approval from someone in the household. I guess a possibility exists that the person that was interviewed now was not the person who gave me the okay originally. Also, sometime has elapsed and there is a good possibility that people simply don't remember. I believe some of these referrals may be over a year or two. In addition, the 40% "positive response" does not give a clear picture of the survey in the sense that 26% refused to discuss it. In other words, more people remembered (40%) than did not (34%). Other factors that I think may come into play is that the majority of my sales were made to Spanish households. As I stated previously, I pursued sales outside work (i.e., at church, with relatives and neighbors, etc.) and a lot of the people who came to me would come for help in placing a T&F order because they were moving or an order for new service, etc. I constantly volunteered to do this for people, many of whom didn't speak English, and that is when I sold them the services. It is possible that some of these people, if they had been asked if I helped them in placing some type of service order, would have remembered. In summation, those are just thoughts that come to mind on why approximately a third (34%) of the people surveyed apparently didn't remember, but I really can't speak for any of them. I can only repeat that I never turned in anything for credit on which I had not received approval from someone in the household. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is My social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since July of 1979. I understand that this interview is a continuation of my interview of 11/13/90. During this interview, I was advised by Mr. Rodriguez that a survey had been conducted regarding my sales referrals. This survey consisted of contacting fifty (50) customers at random. The results are as follows: thirty (30) customers were aware of the service and twelve (12) customers were unaware of the service. The others refused to be interviewed. I have been asked by Mr. Rodriguez during this interview if I have any comments regarding those customers that were contacted and were unaware of having the maintenance program service. As I had stated in my previous statement, I made contact with each customer to whom I sold the service to and I have no idea why some of the customers contacted were unaware of having the service. I have read the above statement consisting of two pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each page and each correction.

I have been asked by Mr. Rodriguez during this interview if I have any comments regarding those customers that were unaware of having the service. At this time, I would like to restate as I originally stated in my first interview, that I contacted each customer to whom I sold the maintenance program. I have no idea why some of the customers contacted at a later time, did not have any recollection of my original contact which was made approximately two years ago. I have read the above statement consisting of two pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each page and each correction.

RE-INTERVIEW OF [redacted] SERVICE TECHNICIAN

"January 24, 1991
Miami, FL

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told that this is a follow-up statement to the one I provided on 12/03/90 and that the confidentiality and circumstances that pertain to this investigation still apply. I have also been informed that the main reason for this interview is to get my comments and/or explanation for the results obtained in a telephone survey conducted on customers on whom I turned in a "sales referral". I understand that I am not the only employee on whom this survey was conducted and that I am not personally being singled out. Looking at the figures shown to me, I can see that it's just split down the middle - 46% seem to remember and 52% don't. I can't speak for the people that don't remember; I can only emphasize that on every sale that I turned in, I spoke to someone in the household and got their okay. Some possibilities that came to mind are that the person that I sold the service to is not the same person that was interviewed during the survey. As I already stated in my previous statement, when I was on sales, I was working a different shift, specifically 12:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., so that I could get more people at home. Was the survey conducted during the same hours? If not, the people that were home during the day would probably not be the same that I spoke to at night. Also, quite some time has elapsed since then and some people may have honestly forgotten or "conveniently forgotten" if they have reason to believe they'll receive a credit or refund if they don't acknowledge the sale. I can't really think of anything else other than to emphasize that I had customer approval on 100% of the sales I turned in. I have read the above statement consisting of this and one other page and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

I, , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I have also been told that this is a follow-up statement to the one I provided on 11/13/90 and that the confidentiality and circumstances that pertain to this investigation still apply. It has been explained to me that a survey has been conducted to try to determine the percentage of customers that remembered being contacted on sales referrals. I understand that I am not the only employee on which this survey was conducted and that I am not personally being singled out. Looking at the figures shown to me, approximately twice as many people remember (61%) as those who don't remember (34%). I can't speak for any of these people and explain why they don't remember. I can positively emphasize that I never turned in a single sale on someone that I didn't contact. A couple of things that come to mind is that maybe I sold the service to a different member of the household than the one that was interviewed on the survey. Another is that some of these sales go back a couple of years and people have simply forgotten. Also, was the survey conducted by customer name or telephone numbers? Could there be a possibility that the telephone number now belongs to a different customer than it did a couple of years ago? I don't know and maybe they did account for that in the survey. Again, I can't speak for these people, I can only reassure you that I never turned in a sale without the subscriber's okay. Also, could some people be "forgetting" just so that they are issued some type of refund or credit? I really can't think of anything else to add. I have read the above statement consisting of this and another page and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW OF [redacted], ASSISTANT MANAGER-CUSTOMER SERVICES
(November 7, 1990)

"November 7, 1990
150 W. Flagler St,
Suite 1901
Miami, FL

I, [redacted], voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Customer Services. My date of birth is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since August of 1972. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms being sent to my office. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During 1988 and the first portion of 1989, I was the supervisor in the Business Office responsible for receiving the sales referral forms from the South Dade Installation Maintenance group and issuing the necessary service orders. To the best of my recollection, I had two Service Representatives who performed this function for me, specifically [redacted]. My contact in Network was [redacted] who was an Assistant Manager in that group. [redacted] would visit every couple of weeks and bring me stacks of forms whose volume I would estimate at 100 to 200 per visit. [redacted], Assistant Manager-Customer Services, took over for me in the latter part of 1989 and, to the best of my knowledge, [redacted] remained her contact in Network. While I remember that there were problems at times with some of the referrals brought in, I would have to say that the greatest majority of them were processed without incident. The main problems that I remember were cases where the subscriber already had the maintenance plan and cases where the number had been disconnected. I would estimate that out of every 100 referrals received, less than 10% were returned. In further reviewing that figure in my mind, I would have to say that the number returned was minimal, maybe 5 or 6 out of every stack of 100 to 200, which would make it a lot less than 10%. There were times when I received a stack and none were returned. Of the ones that were returned, I would estimate that 80% of those were returned because the subscriber already had the service and the other 20% because service had been disconnected. I remember noticing trends where telephone numbers of subscribers were in relative numerical sequence, but I had been told that they were working from microfiche printouts and attributed it to that. I also noticed some employees selling a lot more than others, but it was common knowledge that the Network Department would use people on light-duty full time on sales, so I never took it upon myself to question that. I never questioned on the integrity of the sales referrals he made and we never conducted an audit of actually calling the customer to check and see if they had actually been called, so I would have no first hand information on whether the sales were legitimate or not. I had a relatively good working relationship with F who, by the way, used to work in the same work group with my husband, Although personally I may have had my doubts as to some of the orders being placed in sequence or why some sales were made on numbers that had been disconnected, explanation of working from printouts in numerical sequence and the possibility that some digits could have been transposed on the sales referral form seemed acceptable to me. While I do remember some Installers selling a lot more than others, I honestly can't think of specific names and again, knowing that at times because of 'light duty' or 'load' conditions, Network had been known to use some of their people on sales, I had no reason to question that. In summary, I was receiving these forms from a manager in this Company and given that the 'return rate' was rather small, I did not see it as my charge to 'police' him. I do remember hearing about customers calling in to complain about services they had been billed for but which they had not ordered, however, my recollection of those dealt basically with custom calling features. I am sure there must have been some that dealt with the maintenance plan, but there were no specific cases that attracted my attention. I was questioned if I had ever heard about 'Dial America' and I do remember having seen a memo that gave out a telephone number where Installers could call directly with their referrals and that is all that I remember about it. I never had any contacts with 'Dial America' nor did I have any complaints from 'Dial America' on any of the referrals. I have read the above

14 INTERVIEW OF ASSISTANT MANAGER-CUSTOMER SERVICE DEPARTMENT
(November 7, 1990)

"November 7, 1990

Suite 1801

21 I voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Customer Service Department. My social security number is [redacted] and 27 my date of birth is I have been working for Southern Bell since October of 1971. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral program which involved referral forms being sent to my office. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember that back in 1988, I used to receive Sales Referral forms in Company mail from various districts in Network. I had two Service Representatives working for me by the names of [redacted] who processed these referrals and issued the Service Orders. I did not screen these orders before they came to me; I took them directly to the Service Representatives. Whenever there were problems on these referrals, the Representatives would write what was wrong on the referrals and give them back to me and I would mail them back to the respective districts. There may have been times when the Service Representatives mailed the forms back themselves. From my own experience, I would say that the level of forms that were returned was very low, probably around 5%. Of these, most of them were returned either because the customer already had the service or because the number which had been sold the service had already been disconnected. I don't remember getting comments or complaints from my Service Representatives that would have made me question the integrity of the orders being received. I never questioned anyone in Network nor wrote any letters nor know of any other manager in any department that wrote such letter to Network requesting an explanation for the sales to disconnected accounts or to customers that already had the service. I remember getting complaints from customers who stated that they were getting billed for services they had never requested, but just about all of those dealt with Custom Calling features. I would like to add, for the record, that my husband, [redacted] is a Pay Grade 5 in the Network Department and I know that he has received a color T.V. set and other small gifts as a result of sales in his group. I have never heard him talk about problems with sales in his group nor of any suspicion that anyone under him may be sending in false sales. As far as some individuals selling much more than others, I never really worked the forms myself, I just distributed them to my representatives. However, I feel that if there was a trend there, my representatives should be able to help identify it when interviewed. In summary, I was involved in the processing of the Sales Referral forms for only a few months. The volume of problems referred to me was so small that I never found any trends which I thought would be worth pursuing by me. I can't think of any additional information other that what I have described above that may be of help to this investigation. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

8 INTERVIEW ( MANAGER-CUSTOMER SERVICES
(November 7, 1990)

Miami, FL

13 I voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in Customer Services. My 18 date of birth is ; and my social security number is [redacted] I have been employed by Southern Bell since July of 1966. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were sent to some of my subordinates. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. On November 6, 1990, I met with Associate Manager-Security Castellanos and discussed the involvement of our department in the Network Sales Program. I initially provided 32 33 with the names of all management employees of Southern Bell whom I believe were in some way or another associated with the processing of Sales Referral forms. In a subsequent interview on November 7,

1990 at the Legal department, the names of as well as Ia anc were added. These are also all management employees. In addition, the names of , all of whom are Service Representatives, came into play as employees that were also associated in the processing of Sales Referral forms. In a nutshell, my subordinates were the ones that received the forms directly. I very seldom reviewed the forms and never got any complaints from them as to the content of the forms. I have never had any contact with 'Dial America', either me calling them with a problem nor anybody there calling me to complain about problems or trends with the forms being sent directly to them. To the best of my knowledge, when there was a problem with a referral, it was referred directly back to Network by my subordinates without it being routed through me. I have heard comments about some of the telephone numbers sold the plan being in relative numerical sequence, but that doesn't surprise me because I know that departments actively pursuing sales, including ours, use printouts which are in numerical order. As far as the type of troubles being returned, from feedback I have received, I would say it was mostly subscribers who already had the service sold or whose accounts had been disconnected by the time we processed the referral. Since the volume was rather low, no action was ever initiated, to my knowledge, by me or anyone in my department to get an explanation for such problems. As far as I know, no audit has ever been conducted on a sample of referrals to recontact the customer and verify that indeed the customer was initially contacted for the sale. There are two reasons for this - first, there was no reason to doubt the validity of referrals being received and second, prior tests conducted to check on our own people revealed a high level of annoyed customers at being contacted and recontacted by our Company in reference to the same thing. I have dealt with customers complaining about being billed for services they did not order - as a matter of fact - it is a rather common complaint. However, just about 100% of these deal with Custom Calling feature packages and not the maintenance plan. If the sales being processed by our group from the Sales Referral forms were not all legitimate, there were no blatant violations that we could tell that would have induced us to pursue the matter. As far as given individuals selling much more than others, that has always been the case in most departments. We have always heard that employees on 'light duty' have been used by the Network department on sales full time, so it would not have been unusual to have seen disparity in personal sales. Again, I seldom reviewed these forms so I would not be able to provide names of the top sellers. I do remember some managers taking the time to deliver these forms personally, specifically . However, they were very open about their extra efforts to increase sales and always told me to call them if there was a problem on the referrals. I was never given reason to call by any of my subordinates. I can't think of anything else to add that would be helpful to this investigation at this time. I will continue to coordinate with Castellanos the interviewing of the additional personnel in my department. I have read the above statement consisting of these four pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in Customer Services. My date of birth and my social security number is [redacted] I have been employed by Southern Bell since December of 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were either mailed or faxed to my office. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. Going back to 1988, I remember receiving Sales Referral forms from various districts in Network. At that time, volume was rather small - maybe 25 to 30 forms per week and I had one Service Representative, handle them all. We did not have much of a problem with the information on these forms and whenever something was wrong, we would write down what was wrong and mail it back to the district. For the most part, the ones that were mailed back were because the customer already had the maintenance plan. I don't recall having had a problem with service added to a disconnected number. I never conducted a sample check by calling customers to determine if indeed someone had contacted them and sold them the service. I had no reason to doubt the validity of the orders and I don't know of anyone that conducted such a check. I never had c complain to me about the quality of the referrals or anything at all that would have made me question the validity of the referrals being received. In late 1989, the Sales Referral forms stopping coming in in the mail and I began to receive them 'faxed' to me by a craft employee known to me as At this time, the volume of referrals almost tripled, so I added both Service Representatives that worked for me at the time. I would estimate that time frame as September/October of 1989. Also the sales themselves changed - mostly from sales of the maintenance plan to Custom Calling and Touchstar Services. I personally never had any problems with but from conversations that I had with him, I was able to determine that he was on sales full time and part of some special sales group. One thing that I personally thought was kind of 'funny' was that most of the sales referrals from him were for the entire package of Custom Calling Services as opposed to Call Waiting on some, Three Way Calling on others, etc. I remember wondering how he managed to sell the same thing to everybody, but other than that, I never had any problems with his referrals or reason to doubt the validity of the orders. Whenever there was a problem on any of the referrals, I would 'fax' it back to him, but the number of problems was minimal. I had heard rumors that used to work for the Company and was terminated because of sales problems and apparently had now been rehired and put back on sales, but I would not personally know if this is true or not. I never received much in the form of complaints from customers stating that they were being billed for services they did not have and the ones I did receive, as far as I know, were not associated with Network sales. The number of customer complaints did not go up as the volume of Network sales increased. I have dealt with 'Dial America' out of Atlanta, but my dealings with them had to do with orders placed directly by customers on the '800' number and not with any orders placed through them by Network. I never had any dealings with Dial America that involved Network in any way or form. I don't recall any of my Service Representatives ever coming to me to complain on Sales Referral forms received from Network that could have made me question the validity of their orders. My Service Representatives, when interviewed, may be able to shed additional light on the matter. I personally can't think of anything else to add. About a month ago, my supervisor, came over and asked to compile all the records on the sales program. These consisted of mostly the Sales Referral forms which were given to I understand they went somewhere to the 6th floor of the Headquarters Building in Miami. To this date, I have not received any of them back. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. As I remember, I was involved in issuing orders from Sales Referral forms from mid-1988 to September of 1989. Although it is hard to guess at the figures, I would estimate I received an average of 200 forms per week. These forms were received by my supervisor, , in Company mail and given directly to me. The greatest majority of them went through without any problems. On those that had a problem, it was mostly that the subscriber already had the service that was to be added. I don't remember very many cases at all where the account number had actually been disconnected. I do remember that some individuals sold a lot more than others but I don't remember names and didn't think much of it because everywhere you go, you always have people that sell more than others. I don't remember ever going to my supervisor with problems on these orders. I have received complaints from subscribers claiming they were being billed for services they had not ordered. At times, I would recognize a sales code from the Sales Referral forms, but I would have to say these were minimal. I would estimate that 98% of such customer complaints were not associated with the Sales Referrals. As far as the type of sales, it was not just the maintenance plan but also all kinds of Custom Calling features. On the forms on which there was a problem, I would write down what the problem was and give it to my supervisor, who would mail it back to where they came from. I don't remember processing forms that were faxed to us or dealing with an individual by the name of I do not recall any trends by numerical sequence of telephone accounts, addresses or anything that would have made me doubt the validity of the forms I was processing. I don't remember hearing negative comments on the matter either from my supervisor or peers. I never called any customers to verify a sale nor was I ever instructed to do so. I am familiar with the Network Sales 32 Program and in my group, said referrals were routed to an Assistant Manager who works for me and who handled them all.
34 and later added : . I never personally became involved with problems on the referrals, so that leads me to believe there were not many of them, otherwise, would have brought them to my attention. I never reviewed or processed any of the referrals myself, so I would not be able to comment on any trends as far as telephone accounts being sold in numerical order or address or anything like that. I never had any of my subordinates conduct any sample checks where we contacted the customer to verify that a sale had been made nor do I know of any manager in the South Florida area that did this. As far as I am concerned, there were no indications that would have suggested our doing such a check. I am familiar with 'Dial America', however, I have never gotten any complaints from them on sales referrals being sent to them by Network. In summary, from my involvement with the Network Sales Referral program or from comments made by my subordinates, there is nothing that would have made me question the legitimacy of the referrals received by us. I don't remember getting personally involved with customer complaints in regards to service which they had not ordered that would have been associated with the Network Sales program. One thing I do remember being brought to my attention by was that an individual by the name of who was now selling for Network, had previously been terminated for unethical sales and had apparently been rehired and put back on sales. I aske if there were any problems on his orders and she reported that there were none. In fact, he constantly called and followed-up on his orders to see why some of them had not been issued and when we would get to them, etc. Nevertheless, I did ask to keep a separate file on him in case we ever had a problem, we would have it documented. This file was given to , Internal Audit, as well as our Sales Referral forms earlier this month. At this time, I can't think of anything else that would be useful on this investigation. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. As I remember, I was involved in the issuing of Service Orders from Network Sales Referral forms for approximately six months during 1989. These forms were given to me by my supervisor, _____, and there weren't too many of them - maybe 15 per week on the average. I would say that the number of referrals with problems was minimal, maybe 1 or 2%. Most of these were cases where the customer already had the maintenance plan. At times, I would find an account that had been disconnected but I don't remember any of those. I also don't remember receiving a customer complaint on being billed for service that had not been ordered where I was able to link such complaint to a sales referral. As far as trends (like addresses, numerical order of telephone number, etc.), the only one that I recall is that some people sold a lot more than others. However, I didn't see that as a problem because some people enjoy sales or are better at sales than others. I never went back to my supervisor with problems. Whenever there was a problem or a referral, I would write on it what I thought was wrong with it and give it back. I can't think of anything else that may be useful to this investigation. I have read the above statement consisting of this and one other handwritten page and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I have been employed by Southern Bell since October, 1971. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I am presently a Manager in the Customer Service Department. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved sales forms that were sent to some of my subordinates. At the beginning of the interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. As far as the Network Sales Referral program, I never really had much problem with it. The forms would come in directly to S who would have her Service Representatives issue the orders. As far as I remember, the forms were either brought in by I (an Assistant Manager in Network) or by Company mail. I never really looked through the forms, so I would not have much to offer as far as any type of trend - like telephone accounts being in relative numerical sequence, large volume of sales being conducted by the same individual, etc. Since I got very little negative feedback from my subordinates, I have to assume that the forms were going through smoothly, otherwise I would have been notified. I never conducted nor did I have my subordinates conduct any type of check where the customer would have been contacted to verify if he was indeed called. I had no reason to doubt the legitimacy of the forms being received. Late in 1989, another of my Assistant Managers, took over for S Again, I had no complaints from on anything regarding these referrals. I don't recall receiving complaints from customers on their being billed for services they had not ordered that were in anyway linked to the sales program. However, going back to the 1985-86 time frame, I do remember some serious problems with sales and Network. I don't believe that Security or Internal Audit got involved at that time and I don't even remember if the procedures, Sale Referral forms, etc., were the same at that time. I would say that any second level manager involved with orders at that time would have been aware of the problem which was subsequently routed to our staff. I believe that the nature of the problem was a relatively large amount of customer complaints questioning features for which they were being billed which they claimed not to have ordered. I don't know who spoke to whom or what was said but the problem gradually disappeared after contact between our staff and Network. I have no idea what level of management was involved nor do I have specific names. I did hear rumors of disciplinary action in the form of suspensions having taken place in Network, but again, I have no names to offer or details. Going back to the Sales Referral forms on the maintenance plan during the time frame of 1988 and 1989, I really have no negative information to offer. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative in Customer Service. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I have worked for Southern Bell since January, 1979. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, Joyce Little, and from which I would issue orders. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. As I remember, I worked on and off in the issuing of these orders during 1987 and 1988. I did not do many of them. Periodically, _____ would bring me a group of forms, about 15 to 20, and I would issue the orders. I don't remember having too many problems with them at all. The volume that I worked was rather small, so I really did not notice any trends - whether addresses were next to each other, telephone accounts in numerical order or any given employee selling a lot more than others. I don't recall ever going back to Joyce Little to complain about these forms. I also don't recall receiving customer complaints on services not ordered that were linked to any of these forms. For the record, I would like to state that my husband, _____, works for the Telephone Company as an Installer. He has been an Installer for only six months and prior to that, he worked in the Construction department for about eleven years. I have never had any discussions with him regarding the Network Sales Program and although he has never won any prizes for selling in his department, I did win a weekend cruise in mine. I can't think of anything else that way be useful on this investigation. I have read the above statement consisting of this and another handwritten page and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative in Customer Service. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I have worked for Southern Bell since February, 1987. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program which involved forms that were faxed to me by _____, whose title I don't know but who works in Network and from which forms I would then issue Service Orders. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I do remember processing these forms, approximately from September of 1989 until the end of that year. As I recall, I worked for at the time. When I first started processing these forms, would bring me faxed sheets that she would get with the information. After a while, the forms were faxed directly to me by who was my contact in Network. Except for Mondays, when we are extremely busy with customers, I would work on these forms for the rest of the week. I estimate I issued an average of 80 orders per day. The amount of errors on these orders was minimal. I don't recall getting orders on numbers that had been disconnected although at times I would get one where the subscriber already had the service sold to him. Although it is not uncommon to receive calls from subscribers claiming that they were getting billed for services they had not ordered, I don't ever recall getting such a complaint on any of the orders I received from . As far as the services sold, they were mostly 'Touchstar' services. There were very few 'maintenance plan' sales or 'Custom Calling feature' sales. I also remember that most of the referrals had been sold four services, not just one. Specifically, Selective Ringing, Call Blocking, Call Return and Call Tracing. I often asked how he managed to sell all those items to so many people and he would take pride in describing to me how he did it, even describing his sales approach. I have to admit was a very good talker and would very smoothly talk you into whatever he wanted to discuss. Although to this day, I still wonder how he could have sold all those items to most of his contacts. I can see where he could probably sell to most anybody. On his behalf, however, I would have to add that the items he was selling would amount to over $13.00 per month, which I feel would be noticed by most customers and yet I never got any complaints that would have his sales code. As far as other trends (addresses, telephone numbers in sequence), the only one that comes to mind is that they would work on an exchange at a time and that the greatest majority of sales were done by I remember asking him on several instances how he could sell so much and still do his job, but I never really got a straight answer from him. I had a contact number on which I would call him if I had a question and more often than not he would answer the phone himself, so that led me to believe that he was working mostly on sales rather than out in the field. Along the same line, there were times when he would say that 'he had to go out and work outside because his boss wouldn't be in' which also led me to believe that his working outside was an exception rather than the rule. I remember him stating when he first introduced himself to me that he was Specifically, I believe the conversation originated with a whole bunch of orders he had sold in the Hialeah office where the service sold was not yet available. He did not have that information and became somewhat upset at all the time and effort he had wasted and that was what he was trying to confirm with _____ Although Benedict was not rude, he didn't sound like he wanted to talk all that much with _____. sounded as if he just had more important things to do. I do not know who _____ is or what his title is. I am not sure that I still have _____'s contact number which I remember to be 75- something. I will look through my notes and my desk, and if I come up with this number, I will make it available to Castellanos. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1967. My social security number is 10 [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, 13 S from which forms I would issue Service Orders. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. If I recall, I worked on the Sales Referral Program from approximately mid-1988 to the start of 1989. I remember doing quite a few; I would guess 50 per day on an average. As far as problems, I remember having problems sometimes on as many as 20% of the referrals. Of those problems, I would say the greatest majority had to do with the subscriber already having the service which I was to add. I don't remember getting too many forms where the actual service had been disconnected. However, I remember getting quite a few customer complaints from subscribers that claimed they were being billed for something they did not order and recognizing the sales code on the order as one from the Network Sales Referral program. I never conducted any samples myself where I would contact the customer to verify they had indeed been called. I don't remember that having been done by anybody else either. As far as the orders on which I had problems, I just returned them to 36 my supervisor, and I have no idea what she did with them. I never had any direct contact with anyone in Network and I don't remember any specific sales code. However, during the interview, Mr. Carver read various sales codes to me, most of which meant nothing but one of which I remember inputing quite a bit. Specifically, that code was C44I23L and the reason I remember that code was because of the 'L'. If I recall, whatever the first six digits of the code were, indicated Network and those digits remained always the same. It was the letter at the end that changed and I do remember the 'L'. As far as trends on these forms, I remember that they would usually come from the same 'NNX' and that there were three sales codes that sold a lot more than the others. When asked if I could link the one code that I could remember (C44I23L) to any of the customer complaints, I would have to say that I cannot. As far as the type of service being sold, it was not just the maintenance plan but it also included Custom Calling features. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

(November 12, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St. Rm 1901
Miami, FL

25 I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Associate Manager in Internal Auditing. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1971. My date of 31 birth is and my social security number is [redacted].

I understand that I am being interviewed about Network Sales because I was the Assistant Staff Manager in charge of Interdepartmental sales from 1983 to 1988 (Customer Service staff). At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. When questioned on whether I remember prior problems with Network sales, specifically around the 1985-1986 time frame, the answer is that I do. While there have always been 'competition' type problems between Network and Customer Services as both departments push sales, the issues that I will be referring to have to do with a question of the integrity of Network sales. As I recall, we had received numerous complaints from our Service Representatives through their managers, claiming that on a good portion of the sales being generated by Network, customers were calling in and complaining that they had never ordered anything. These complaints were escalated to us by our line people and were discussed by us with Network staff. To the best of my recollection, neither Security nor Internal Auditing got involved. If I remember correctly, some of my contacts in Network at the time were _____. During 1985, I believe it was _____ that were there. I believe that _____ was the General Manager for Network at the time. I remember a three-way conference call between _____, _____ and myself in which a problem relative to sales was discussed, but I don't recall any of the specifics. On the Customer Service part of the house, my supervisor was _____ and the Operations Manager was E_____ who has since retired. I believe our General Manager then was _____ and I am not sure that the problem ever got to him. I seem to remember that after Network got done with their investigation, some employees were disciplined - either terminated or suspended, but that was mostly a rumor as far as I am concerned. I don't know any names, numbers or exactly what action was taken. I would think that the Network people should be able to offer details on that. I kept very good files and records during my years in staff, which may have more information available. However, when I left staff in 1988, I gave all my files, as well as the ones I had received from _____, who replaced me in staff and who is still in that position. I will pursue getting those files from _____ if he still has them and, if he does, I will make them available to Castellanos. If I recall, most of the problems in that time frame were in South Florida as opposed to Southeast. The sales involved were mostly Custom Calling features although we also had problems with TIP when that got started. Because of the volume of sales and the fact that a few individuals were doing most of the sales, it was suspected that some of these people were working full time on sales. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. Sometimes around March, 1990, I started doing the Network Sales Referrals. My outside contact, and only contact, was an employee by the name of Service Technician. Dan would call first and let me know that he was faxing the sales forms to my office and I would issue the necessary Service Orders. I did the sales forms, roughly for a couple of months, up to the time that Gold Line sales program started. Before I started doing the sales forms, another Service Representative, was doing them. Lisa works for a different supervisor. I was receiving approximately eight sales forms per day. I don't remember the features that were being sold but I remember that most of them had to do with Touchstar services. Some of the problems that I found with the sales forms were that the customer already had 'Prestige' service or Touchstar service. Other problems were that the customer's number was disconnected or the service denied, but there were very few with those types of problems; roughly one per week. I never met in person, however, we spoke a lot on the phone. sounded like he thought that he was a great sales person. He would tell me that he had a great sales pitch. He would sell Call Return and Call Tracing as a package which it is not. He would tell the customer on Call Tracing that the Company would not give out the name of the person making harassing calls but with Call Return, the customer is able to talk with the person calling and resolve the problem themselves. During my conversation with he told me that another employee, a female, was doing sales along with him. I don't remember exactly but said that the other employee had some problem with her boss about how many sales referrals she was doing. According to the other employee requested to be sent back to her department because of it. Most of the sales referrals I was receiving involved only two sales codes. I don't remember either one, but the most I was receiving was sales codes from mentioned his supervisor's name to me many times but I can't remember it now. I remember that when Gold Line was starting, was against it because he had to go through Gold Line and it would take too much time and he might be losing his sales. I was asked in this interview if I know a . The only thing I can say is that the name sounds familiar but I don't know why. I had

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I understand that this is a supplemental statement to the one I previously gave on 11/08/90 and that all the circumstances explained by J. Phillip Carver, Company attorney, still apply. In this interview, I have been asked to go back as far as I can remember, rather than the 87-88-89 time frame, and bring out any significant problems that we may have had with Network in reference to sales. I remember that in 1985, we had a situation that was escalated through our staff to Network for a resolution. Very briefly, the problem was that we were getting complaints from our Service Representatives when they followed up on their own 'sell orders' that would show their sales codes removed and a Network Sales code added. Also, we were getting a larger than usual amount of subscriber complaints where the customer would complain of being billed for something they had not ordered and it showed a Network sales code. When you add to these two the volume of sales that Network was doing, you could tell that something was wrong. All this was documented and sent to our staff for them to pursue. As far as I know, no records are currently kept in our office of this documentation. I believe that the person in staff that handled the matter was

My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral program which involved forms that were given to me by my supervisor, Shelley Justin, from which forms I would issue Service Orders. During this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember working on the Network Sales Referral program during 1988 and 1989. The forms would come to me through my supervisor, and I would process an average of 50 per day. I would say the greatest majority of these went through without any problems and the most common problem found was that the customer already had the service which was sold on the form. I don't recall having problems with the line having been disconnected at all. I also don't recall getting customer complaints that I could link to the Network Sales code. I never personally conducted any type of audit to check and see if the customer had indeed been contacted by Network. I don't recall anybody else doing this either. Most of the referrals I handled dealt with the maintenance sales plan. As far as trends, I did notice the subscriber's accounts being in the same exchange and at times in relative numerical sequence. It was also obvious that some employees sold a lot more than others. I don't recall any trends by location or address. On my problem orders, which I estimate at less than 10%, I would just give them back to I never got or asked for feedback on these. I do remember , whom I believe is a first level foreman in Network, at times coming around and giving the forms to Shelley and sometimes to me i was not around. I never discussed anything pertaining to these forms with Rodriguez. I personally never ran into anything that would have made me question the validity of the forms I was handling. I hereby agree to keep everything discussed on this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and two other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW OF _____ ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK
(November 13, 1990)

Miami, FL

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-Network. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1960. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Plan. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have had up to 22 craft people working for me during the 1988-89 time frame. At present, I am a Technical Support Manager in group and I have no one reporting to me. I have no current sales objective to meet. Going back to when I was in the field, I did have a sales objective to meet and so did all the other managers to the best of my knowledge. While I stressed sales to my subordinates, they did not have a numerical objective to meet and I always emphasized the overall legitimacy of sales. As far as boiler room operations, I am sure there have been a few. I was never directly involved with one nor do I specifically know of one (names, time-frame, location). However, the way sales kicked up in other districts as the various sales contests get started, it leads me to believe that there must have been a couple of boiler rooms in operation at sometime or another. In my own group, I remember having two employees on phone sales full time because of injuries. As I recall, in between benefit cases because of a bad back, returned to work on light duty and I kept him at the office doing telephone sales. who had a knee injury and was partially disabled for about a month, also worked full time on sales during her period of disability. who was my supervisor at the time, knew about this and in essence was instrumental in setting it up. I don't recall pulling healthy people off their regular assignments just to work on sales. To the best of my recollection, my best sales people were Carder. As far as I am concerned, there was never a doubt in my mind as to the integrity of the sales referred by the above employees. I expecte to sell because basically that was all he was doing. Wit he was on bulk loading which means he would have a lot of face-to-face customer contact after actually repairing their trouble, which would be an ideal time to sell. were very active with the match program. They actually had handouts made out with their names and contact number on them which they would give out to customers. When contacted, they would refer the customer to the 'match' program who would actually make the sale and split the points with them, so there was no room for anything there. I never reviewed the referral forms given to me by my subordinates, I just referred them to the Business Office. I would only review the ones that came back. I found that the greatest majority of these were due to the customer already having the service which was sold to them. The reason for that was that we were working from LMOS records which don't match IBOSS 100% and at times, our records did not correctly reflect what the customer had. At times, I would find that somehow an order had been placed subsequent to our contact by someone else and our form got returned. I don't remember having a problem at all with disconnected accounts and I don't know of anyone in Network that would actually go through the forms before sending them to the Business Office. There is no possible way any of us could have done this while supervising crews of 20 employees on the average. I never did a sample check by calling customers to verify the validity of an order - never had reason to and there were no procedures in place that called for doing any of that. I don't believe anybody ever did that. As far as other supervisors, I know that was always number one in sales. However, everyone knew that he made sales a priority and that he demanded that his people sell. He could be pushy as far as sales were concerned. There was relatively a good amount of people changing crews and you could see people that never sold when working for other managers that would begin to sell under for whom both F and myself used to work, was also high on sales. I never heard or saw anything that would have led me to believe that either were enticing their people to call in illegal sales. Quite the contrary, I have a very high opinion of the integrity of both and everyone knew that they just pushed sales and made them a priority. As far as running a boiler room, I never saw any of that. He did have people on light duty working on phone sales. I remember during her late pregnancy, working on phone sales for I also remember who was on light duty because of his legs, setting on his desk with microfiche making phone sales. The only other one I remember seeing working with microfiche that worked for was and I don't recall if there was anything wrong with him or whether he worked just on sales. To the best of my recollection, these people were not all working on phone sales at the same time. I never heard any rumors from other supervisors or other craft people that would have made me suspect the validity of any of the orders placed by the people working for . As far as I know, there is no way that either myself or any other manager would be able to know that a referral is 100% legitimate other than calling the customer, which was never done. I never heard of any instance where people ever worked out of their residence on sales. I don't recall anything ever happening, going back as far as I can remember, on sales problems where employees were disciplined in anv way or form. I do remember an employee by the name of now , who complained about twice having had Custom Calling features added to her telephone without her consent. I think that the issue was pursued in detail, but she did not work for me at the time and I don't know what the outcome was. I have read the above statement consisting of this and five other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW OF _____ SERVICE TECHNICIAN-NETWORK
(November 13, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St.
Miami, FL

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is _____ My social security number is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since July, 1979. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Referral program. At this beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During the 1986-1987 time frame, my main function was doing bulk troubles. I was using a Random computer with which I was able to see what type of service the customer was subscribed to without calling the Business Office. I was able to sell the customer the maintenance plan. I would fill out the Sales Referral form, give it to my supervisor and he would forward it to the Customer Service Department at 666 N.W. 79 Avenue. I believe my foreman at that time was _____ I don't believe _____ was checking the sales forms. During the same period, 1986-1987, they were taking people off the work load to do phone sales. During the same period of time, people were working overtime on Saturday, just doing phone sales. This only was done six or seven times during that two year period. I believe this was done by the second levels _____ and _____ because they were able to win prizes, such as trips and gifts, by having the most sales. I believe that _____ Service Technician from the Homestead District, won a 40 inch TV for having the highest sales in 1989. I believe that a catalog showing all the gifts that could be won by selling were distributed to the whole district. Two locations that were being used for phone sales were the Silver Oaks Work Center and the Silver Oaks Test Center. Usually at the Work Center location, a room was set up with two phones and four or five viewers (microfiche). First we go through the microfiche printouts, checking for customer S. and E. features and maintenance contract, then make a list of those accounts with possible sales opportunities. We also check the subscriber information using LMOS. We then contacted the subscriber by phone. Usually there were four to five people at a time doing sales from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m., five days a week. There were times that we did this for a couple of weeks straight. At times, we would start at 8:00 a.m. and work until 3:00 p.m. That's when the workload got too heavy and they needed more people out in the field. There were days that all I did was collect information and make a list of all the accounts I was going to call the following day. I could make approximately 200 phone calls per day, out of which 75 to 100 I was able to speak with the customer. I was able to make 25 to 30 sales, selling only the maintenance program. I don't remember the names of the other employees that were selling with me. I do remember they were from the same yard, Silver Oaks. The Service Representatives were returning 5% of our Sales Referrals claiming the customer already had the service that we sold them. I believe that since we were competing for sales with the Service Representatives, they were holding our referrals and they would input the sales themselves to get the credit. I believe this because of the time in which we had made the sales and the time the customer had the same features on their accounts was within two or three days, which was the same period of time the Service Representatives were holding our forms. The other location where phone sales were being made from was the Silver Oaks Test Center which had two phones. Usually when too many people were at the work center, the overflow would go to the test center. There were no more than two people at the test center at any given time. I believe there was heavy pressure on the top sales people. This pressure came from the second level, Ron Lubert, who would tell them if they did not sell a lot, they would be put back on the load. Lubert made several visits per week to the sales locations to make sure that the sales levels were high. During the 1987-1988 time frame, I remember every month, every employee selling over $300.00 in revenue was invited by [redacted] Operations Manager, to a dinner at Charcoal's Restaurant, located at S.W. 88 Street and 117 Avenue. There were from 15 to 20 people attending the dinner including [redacted]. I estimated the cost of the dinner to be $30-$40 per person. The dinner was paid for by [redacted] or one of the second levels ([redacted]) using the Corporate American Express card. I remember in 1989, we were using the RF141 forms as a source for Sales Referrals as we were no longer using microfiche. The RF141 forms were a great source of sales. We had been using RF141 forms as far back as 1988. Most of the sales generated from the RF141 were the maintenance program. This method of selling went on until the end of 1989. I believe that according to some rumors at my yard, that the Perrine-Homestead District had a couple of employees selling from their homes. There were some rumors that other employees had driven by these employees' homes and saw their Company vehicles parked in their driveway during working hours. These employees were not on vacation, or a day off or on HU or GP. I believe these people were the top sales people from the Perrine-Homestead District. I do not know who they were. I believe that because of sales results, Company employees were given trips to Sweden or Hawaii. Second levels were getting cruises. I believe that during 1988 , Service Technician, was going door-to-door in the area selling. I believe that because of his extremely high sales volume, he was able to furnish his whole house with gifts won from his sales results. There are some rumors at our work center that wife, who works for , issued Service Orders associated with her company and gave the sales referral going to her husband, That is why he was able to get the high sales. I never was instructed by anyone from Southern Bell to falsify any Sales Referrals. I never submitted any false sales referrals, nor do I know of anyone doing so. I have read the above statement consisting of seven handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have initialed all corrections.

4 _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I remember sending referrals on the Network Sales program. At the time, 1988-1989, I was on 'bulk loading' which means I would handle trouble reports that were '100% inside troubles'. In other words, the description of the report itself would indicate cut inside wiring, defective jacks, in summary, something wrong inside the customer's premises. Because of that, I would make customer contact on 100% of my troubles, as I had to go inside the customer's premises to fix the problem. This presented me with an excellent opportunity to sell. First, I was talking right to the customer. Next, I was working on a trouble which, if he didn't have the maintenance plan in one form or another, he would get billed for it, so it was a natural lead on to describe the maintenance plan and to explain that if he subscribed to it for $2.50 per month, from then on it would all be free no matter how many times I went out there. I would estimate that, under the above circumstances, I was probably able to sell to 90% of the customers who did not have it. The greatest majority of my sales were done in person. The handful of sales that I made over the phone took place as I called the customer prior to going over to fix the trouble (to make sure there would be someone home) and the subject of the maintenance plan was discussed and the customer accepted it right then and there. The reason the maintenance plan would be discussed by me prior to my getting there if I noticed in my 'random terminal' that the customer did not have the maintenance plan at all. In those instances, I would advise the customer that the trouble he had reported was something for which he would be billed, because he didn't have the maintenance plan and then I would describe the maintenance plan to him. In my explanation, I would advise him that the maintenance plan would not take effect for thirty days and that even if he subscribed to it today, I would still have to bill him for my visit and time. This, in my mind, serves two purposes. First, I was re-advising the customer that he would be billed for my visit prior to my actually getting there, so there would be no conflict. Although CRSAB should have advised the customer that there was billing involved, sometimes I ran into a customer who didn't know, who then subscribed to the plan and cancelled the report. This was very rare, but it did happen. I would imagine this happened in cases where maybe only one jack was defective and the customer then waited 30 days to call it in and get the work done for free, because I can't think of too many people that would go without phone service for a full month to save a few dollars. Anyway, I had no control over that and it would happen so rarely that I didn't worry about it. Again, any record check on my forms will reflect that 99% of my sales were person to person-face to face. I have never, under any circumstances, taken credit for any sales on which I did not contact the customer. I did get some of my forms back from the Business Office because the customer may already have had the service. The reason for that is that I was getting my information from my 'randon terminal' which goes into LMOS and which does not match with IBOSS, as far as billing, 100% of the time. All in all, the majority of my referrals went through without any problems. As far as other people and other supervisors in reference to the sales program, I would like to offer the following. I have never been personally pulled off my load to work on phone sales. I have never been offered overtime to work on phone sales. I have never been asked to use part of my day on sales and then use overtime to complete my workload. I have no direct knowledge of any boiler room operation in my district. I have stayed in the same area for my entire career and I don't know many employees outside my district. As a result, I have very little to offer on what may have been going on in other districts as far as boiler rooms or any method of sales. Within my district, I remember some people on 'light duty' being put on sales full time. Specifically, I can think of whom I remember was pregnant at the time. I also remember seeing working on sales full time, but I don't think there was anything wrong with him. I think he was really good at sales and his supervisor, would at times take him off the load and put him on sales. Although I can't be 100% certain that that is what happened, I remember was on 'bulk loading' like I was and many times I was given some of his troubles to work.

When I pointed this out to my supervisor, I remember his calling on the phone while I was in his office and explaining to that he had used on sales for part of that day. I never raised the issue again after that and just worked on whatever troubles I was given. As far as goes, I think it was common knowledge that there were days when he was used on telephone sales. While there were rumors that may have also been soliciting sales from his home, I have no first hand knowledge of that and, if he was doing that, I don't know if it was on his own time or the Company's time. I remember that everyone in shop was given an objective of selling at least $50.00 per month. I have no idea whether employees in other groups were given any objectives, and if so, I don't know what they would have been. I remember a guy by the name of who came up with the idea of making up cards or handouts that he would give out throughout the day to customers at whatever locations he went through. On this card, as I recall, there was a telephone number associated with the 'Match' program as well as his name, telephone number, beeper number and sales code, with instructions to call that number the next time they need to add any service or feature. This seemed to have worked well for him and pretty soon, I believe, there were other people doing the same thing. I remember doing the same thing because he showed me one of the cards he had made. I remember some people being unhappy about this method being used. For example, in a new residential and business area, if you would drop those cards in, as people moved in they would call that number instead of the Business Office to apply for new service and those guys would get the credit. However, it was common knowledge that this was being done because it was even discussed at meetings where our second level, was present and he didn't seem to have a problem with it. The most disturbing thing I remember was at a home dispatch meeting while discussing sales, making a statement along the line of 'make the sale and don't worry about it. The customer will never notice it in his monthly statement'. I distinctly remember that statement, although perhaps not verbatim, because it was very disturbing to me. I remember somebody making a statement out loud that that would be like falsifying Company records, but I didn't notice who it was. I don't really remember what was said after that because I turned to the guy sitting next to me, and started discussing it with him. However, wasn't much into sales and he really didn't have much to say. Other people that I remember being present at that meeting who should remember the statement are , I am sure there were other employees present, but those are the ones that come to mind because they were sitting in the general area where I was sitting. I understand this statement to mean that after customer contact had been made, if the customer refused the maintenance plan, we should go ahead and sign them up anyway because they would never notice the monthly difference. The actual difference would probably be $1.00 or $1.50, depending on what was sold. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and seven other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

At that time, 1989, every foreman had a sales objective. The objectives were set on the amount of revenue per month made from sales. I don't remember what my revenue amount was, however, I don't think I ever met the objective. I never got into any trouble because of my sales results. I never was told by my supervisor to meet my sales objectives. My sales results never reflected on my evaluation. I believe that : started to work for me in late 1989. I never was told to pull any of my crew off the load to do sales nor did I ever do it myself. I heard rumors of employees doing sales from their homes. My crew sales referral forms average was roughly 20 referrals per week. I didn't review the forms. I would mail the forms to the Business Office directly. For some reason, the Business Office didn't want the forms mailed directly to their office so every week, I would mail the forms directly to , Assistant Manager, which was the Sales Coordinator for my area. At times, I would get back several of the referral forms (six per month) from the Business Office indicating that the customer already had the service that had been sold by my employee. I have no knowledge of any boiler room activities. I don't have any knowledge of any illegal sales activities. I never attended any of the sales dinners. I, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that the reason I am being interviewed is the Network Sales Referral program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I am afraid I don't have much information to offer at all. I am not into sales and every time that the subject comes up, I kind of 'turn myself off'. I presently work for and in 1989, I worked for . I started working for around March of this year. I mostly work troubles on special circuits at Homestead Air Force Base because I've got security clearance at the base so I don't have much contact with customers or opportunities to sell. I understand that my supervisor, makes a priority of sales with all of us, but I have never been pressured by him personally. I remember one time when they tried to make sales a part of our evaluation, but there was a grievance and, as a result, it was taken out. As far as other employees and sales, I never really paid much attention to who was doing what, because I wasn't into it. On phone sales, I remember people on light duty being kept in to do sales work. Some of the ones I remember were and This was down in Homestead. There may have been others in Perrine doing the same thing, but I wouldn't know about that. I never heard any rumors or anything about people being kept at home to work on sales. I was never asked to work on sales on overtime and I personally don't know of anyone that was. Going back briefly to sales and evaluation, I believe that , our second level, had designed the plan but as soon as it was announced, there was so much discontent among the people and talk of a grievance, that it was never really implemented and the Company backed off. To my knowledge, we would have been the only district with such commitments and I think they knew they would have lost the grievance. As far as 'home dispatch' meetings, I remember attending them. When questioned on whether I was present at a meeting where someone may have said to go ahead and make a sale anyway, that the customer would never notice, I do remember something along that line. I honestly don't remember who made the comment. It could have been anybody there, craft or management, and I also don't remember if it was said as a joke or seriously because there had been several people joking around back and forth. I do remember someone replying that that would be falsifying records, but again, I don't know how seriously anyone was taking it. I do remember Fernando Rodriguez making the statement that - no, we can't do that, that would be something stupid - don't do any of that. I believe Fernando's statement came later on when guys were joking around and saying 'Hell, now I'll sell my truck and get points for that'. I don't remember who cracked the joke as far as selling the truck. As far as who was present during that meeting. I remember being there as well as my supervisor then, being the second level manager. I was sitting at a table towards the end of the room and the other guy I remember being there was It should be easy to determine who else was at that meeting because it was basically crew and ew. INTERVIEW OF ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK

(November 14, 1990)

Miami, FL

I, voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since 12/11/67. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. Early January, 1987, I was reporting to , second level, Silver Oaks District, up to July, 1987, when my second level was same district. I had 10-15 craft employees reporting to me. I believe every supervisor had a sales objective, mine was to sell approximately $600.00 in revenue per month. I was unable to meet sales objectives every month. During my performance evaluation (5100 form), my lack of sales was always coming up as a commitment that was not met. The top sales person in my crew was I remember that was on light duty for a couple of weeks and he was doing phone sales. At the yard, there was a room with a couple of phones and microfiche reports. As far as I remember, employees on light duty were generally the ones doing phone sales. On occasion, when the work load was light at the beginning of the day, several employees would be sent to do phone sales. If the work load picked up during the day, those employees were sent back out on the load. I have no personal knowledge that overtime was being paid to employees to work on the load because too many employees were doing phone sales. I heard rumors about it. As my subordinates turned in sales referral forms to me, I would mail them out to the District Sales Coordinator, , or t office. I remember receiving a few of the forms back from the Business Office because the customer already had the feature. I remember receiving only a few returns. To my recollection, I never authorized any of my subordinates to work overtime on Saturday to work phone sales or any other day of the week. I heard rumors that authorized employees to work phone sales during heavy work load periods. I heard rumors that some employees, mainly were doing phone sales from their homes after working hours using a microfiche viewer. I don't know if those employees were being compensated other than sales prizes. My personal opinion was that was aware of these activities. I heard rumors that employees' wives were doing phone sales during the day from their homes and the sales credit was given to their husbands. Any employee selling $50.00 per month could go to lunch; those selling over $300.00 per month were invited to dinner at Charcoals' Restaurant. Besides the luncheons and dinners, sales points were being applied toward gifts from a sales catalog. As first level management, I was entitled to 3% of my crew's total sales. One year, I accumulated enough points to order a 19 inch color TV by adding $62.00 out of my own money to make up the points shortage. I believe tha also ordered some nice gifts. I heard rumors of employees placing sales flyers at the bulletin boards at a new apartment complex. Those flyers had the employees' beeper number or sales codes. During the time that we were scheduling six days, I felt the overtime was necessary because of rain, seasonal customers from the north, etc., and not associated with phone sales. During the home dispatch meetings which includes craft, first level and second level employees, I never heard any management encouraging craft to make illegal sales. I remember a foreman meeting during which I asked 'Is it true that we have people selling from home?', to which no reply was given. I heard rumors that some scams were going on of adding features to pay phones. I don't know where this was being done. I heard rumors of another scam known as 'down-selling'. This occurs when a Service Order is written with a full feature package and subsequently down-grading it to one or two features, which gives the sales credit to the Service Technician. In essence, the Service Technician is correcting the Service Order by giving the customer the one or two features the customer really wants. To the best of my recollection, I don't have any personal knowledge of falsified sales forms. I believe that is no longer in the South Florida area. I believe he is still employed by the Company. I have read the above statement consisting of five pages and it is true to the best of my recollection. I have initialed each correction and each page.

My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I have been employed by Southern Bell for approximately nine years. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral plan. At the start of this interview, J. I presently work for , in group. Prior to that, which was about four months ago, I have worked for various supervisors in the Homestead/Perrine area. These were, in chronological order, , I am not much into sales, but no one really bothers me about it. If I get the opportunity and chance to make a sale, I will do so, but I believe in doing my job first, which is giving the customer service. I remember our managers all making sales a priority and giving us 'pep talks' on selling but this all seems to have died down since 'Goldline' got started. I was never asked to work sales on overtime nor do I know of anyone else that was. I do remember people who were injured or on light duty that were used on sales full time while injured. comes to mind as one, but I don't really remember any others. I did attend 'home dispatch' meetings regularly and it was not unusual for us to receive 'sales pitches' at these meetings. I don't remember anyone ever making a statement suggesting that given features or services could be added to a subscriber's account because the cost was negligible and no one would remember. I don't remember ever hearing comments on such matters from anybody else either. Going back to sales, I do remember giving me some forms with a blank space where I would add my sales code to give to customers after I got done so if they decided to add anything, I would get the credit if I recall, his instructions to me were to give the form to customers with whom I had contact, and that the reason for the form was to help me sell. He never instructed me or anyone else to my knowledge to canvass an area and give out the forms wholesale. I never did nor do I know of anyone that did. I never heard anyone bragging about using this form wholesale and getting results. If anyone did that, I would have to assume they did it on their own, because no one ever discussed it with me. I have never been pulled off the load nor do I know of anyone that has been pulled off their load to work on sales. If I had heard of such a thing, I would have raised hell, and so would most other guys in my crew. Our crew was rather 'union gung-ho' and most guys there would have blown the whistle and protested right away. I know I would have. Personally, I think all the first level supervisors I have worked for over the last three years are high integrity people and, although they were always harping on sales, none of them ever threatened me or anyone else in any way or form to sell. Most of the reinforcement was done in a positive manner. I don't know of anyone that may have been turning in any kind of illegal sales. Since I was not much into sales, I really don't remember much about who sold what. I do remember that 'z' crew would usually be number one in sales, but I have to give credit to him because, as far as I was concerned, he was real good at motivating his people to sell. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I am not much into sales, although every time I get a chance, I will try to make one. I was never pulled off my regular work to do phone sales or any type of solicitation. I do recall people on light duty being used on sales when they were physically unable to work on other things, but I don't recall names or time frames. I don't recall any of my peers ever approaching me to discuss any type of statement similar to that. We did get pep talks on sales at these meetings, but all the supervisors were always stressing sales anyway, so there was nothing unusual about that. I was never pushed or threatened by any of my supervisors that I better sell or else. I never heard any comments by any of my supervisors which would have in any way or form suggested making an illegal sale. As far as handouts or forms being given to customers (on our visit) with our sales code so that we would get credit should they decide to add anything, I was never given any of these forms nor did I do any of it. I don't know of any one that might have used those forms nor do I recall anybody bragging about getting good sales results through the use of such forms. I never saw such a form. I have no knowledge of or reason to suspect anyone in my work group taking credit for any type of illegal sale.

I started with Southern Bell as a Service Technician at the West-Dade and Silver Oaks Districts and still am at present. My second level supervisor was I don't remember if my crew had any sales objectives or not. I know that my foreman never instructed me to make any amount of monthly sales. I always enjoyed selling. I did most of my selling while working installation service orders. I mainly sold Call Waiting, Three Way Calling, etc., features to my customers. From personal experiences, it is difficult to make sales; customers are not always willing to be paying more for their phone services. As it is, they think they are paying too much for their phone services. I never heard any supervisor from the Company telling the employees to make false sales. I don't have any personal knowledge of anyone doing so. I believe that the top salesmen from each crew were invited to dinners. I believe this was done when ____ was the Operations Manager in my area. Personally, I didn't see anything wrong with the dinners. When the work load was light, employees were instructed to do phone canvassing. I believed this was done at the Silver Oaks yard. I don't remember how many employees were involved in the phone sales at any given time or day. I don't know of anyone that was working phone sales from their homes. I remember getting a few gifts, such as a clock, from my sales results. As far as someone bringing up and his volume or method of sales at a management meeting (our second level with all his first levels), I vaguely remember something like that. However, I don't remember who might have said it, if there was any response to it or what the specifics of the comment was. Like I said, I remember it had something to do with and sales. Probably, since there was competition among the employees, it was probably someone wanting to know how was doing it. As far as handouts with employees' sales codes, it is common knowledge that various guys were using them. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. Although my supervisors have always emphasized sales, I can't say that I have ever been threatened with 'I better sell or else'. As far as my recollection of sales, I remember that there were some guys that did very well in the MATCH program by handing out forms with their sales code to customers. I believe other guys picked up on it and started doing the same thing. I remembe: _____ winning an award at the end of last year for his sales. Back in January of 1989, I was on light duty for approximately three months. During this time, I stayed at the _____ yard and worked telephone sales with _____ who was also on light duty and who has since retired. _____ and I came up with a system where I would go through the microfiche and give the subscriber information and he would make most of the telephone contacts. Bob and I thought it would be nice to spread our sales among all the guys that were out there doing the actual work, but were told we could not do that. If I recall, it was either or both, that told us we couldn't do it so we didn't. I don't know for sure if either of them was pregnant or on light duty or what. I personally never saw either of them doing telephone sales. I also remember people questioning how Perry Cooper could sell so much more than anybody else, but I never saw him working telephone sales at the yard nor have I heard rumors of his working telephone sales from his home while on home dispatch. If such was the case, I would not personally know about it. I used to attend 'home dispatch' meetings, but I don't recall ever hearing a statement along the lines of 'Don't worry about it. Go ahead and make the sale anyway. The customer will never notice the difference in his monthly bill'. However, I do remember some of the guys commenting on the fact that 'Anyone turning in illegal sales, if caught, would probably be terminated for it'. I don't remember any names. I have never been asked to work overtime on sales nor do I know of anyone that has. While back at the old Perrine yard (the one at 132nd Street which was subsequently closed), I remember one morning where I believe it was that asked that 'Due to light load conditions, were there any volunteers who wanted to stay in and work telephone sales?' I didn't volunteer, but if I recall, about four or five people did. As far as the sales plan, I remember that the Company came out with some type of plan to reward not only craft employees, but the managers, when good sales results were accomplished. I remember seeing employees on light duty working on sales full time while injured. Specifically, I seem to recall _____ doing that. I also remember seeing _____ working from a microfiche on telephone sales at the office, but I don't believe there was anything wrong with him or what the circumstances might have been. I also remember _____ working on telephone sales at the office although I believe there was something wrong physically with him at the time. I have never seen a 'boiler room' operation in my district (Perrine/Homestead/Kendall) but I have heard rumors of boiler rooms in other districts. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I am familiar with the sales program and the best I remember of it was about two years ago when I broke my wrist and I was on light duty. I was assigned to the Miller Road Yard (12800 S.W. 56 Street) and asked to work on telephone sales. There were times when the load at the maintenance center would go up that I would be taken off sales, sent to the maintenance center and after things leveled off, went back to sales. I estimate I was on light duty for about two months. While I was there on sales, I don't remember anyone else working in the room I was in, but I know there have been other people who have been put on telephone sales when on light duty. I really don't remember names or time frames. We used to work from microfiche. I would estimate I would attempt to call maybe 200 subscribers per day and make contact with about half of them. Of those that I contacted, I probably sold about 30 to 40%. I have never been asked to work overtime on sales or as a result of sales, nor do I know of anyone that has. I never heard any rumors of anybody sharing sales points or turning in false sales. I have never heard any statements from any of my managers that would have induced me to believe they didn't care whether my sales were legitimate or not. I have never used any type of form with my name and sales code on it to solicit customers nor do I know of anyone that has. I have never been sent out to canvass an area and solicit sales door-to-door, nor do I know of anyone that has. I am basically a high production person and, other than the time I was on light duty, been high on sales. I have, however, consistently been among the top people in production. I did attend monthly 'home dispatch meetings' at the Miller Road yard. I have never heard any statement or comment in reference to whether a customer would notice the monetary difference in his billing caused by the addition of the maintenance plan. Since I am not much into sales, I don't keep track of who the high sellers are or of what method they use to sell. I, voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I have been working for Southern Bell since June, 1979. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver advised me that he is the Company attorney and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. During the 1986-1987 period, I was reporting to Manager, and Manager. During that time frame, 1986-1987, I was swapping back and forth between the two above managers. These changes were caused by the district. Since I started with the Company, sales programs have been part of the Company. As a manager with subordinates, I had sales objectives to meet, however, at this time I don't remember what those objectives were. I also remember that from November, 1988 through

July 1989, I was the Quality Inspector for the South Dade District. During that period of time, I had no subordinates reporting to me and no sales objectives. I don't remember if I ever met my objective or not. While working for , sales objectives were part of my commitments. On my evaluation, Form 5100, my rating was not affected because I didn't meet my sales objectives. I usually told my crew when speaking with the customers to let them know about the services and features we can provide. During the monthly crew meetings with the crews, to the best of my recollection, no Company employee ever said anything about doing false sales. Also, during our monthly foremen's meeting, there were never any suggestions to falsify any sales referrals. During light work load periods, certain numbers of employees were placed on phone sales, usually those employees with abilities to sell. As soon as the work load picked up, those employees were sent out to the field to work on the load. During heavy load days, as far as I remember, all of my crew were working on orders. Usually, there were a few employees on 'light duty' on phone sales, mostly one or two at any given time. As far as I can remember at Silver Oaks Work Center, an area for phone sales was available with a couple of phones, microfiche printouts and view finders. I remember getting several prizes from the sales catalog but I don't remember what those prizes were. I remember that some of the incentives for selling were dinners, luncheons and jackets. I remember attending several dinners. I don't recall if they had to do with sales or not. Sometimes a dinner was for a combination of several functions; safety, productivity and sales. I remember my second level, winning a cruise to the Virgin Islands for a full week because of sales results. During this interview, I was asked if was one of the top salesmen from my district. I remember being a salesman but not to what extent. I don't recall any craft employees working overtime on phone sales. I don't recall attending a foremen's meeting where the question was asked if there was any truth to the rumors that craft employees were doing phone sales from their homes. I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed as an Assistant Manager by Southern Bell. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1977. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____ I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. At the present time, Shirley Perring is my second level manager. I have worked for her for the last eight months. I previously worked for _____ for about three or four years. As far as who was on my crew during 1988 and/or 1989, it is hard to remember exactly, but I believe the following individuals worked for me at that time:

I am sure there were probably others, but those are the ones that I remember. As far as sales is concerned, my crew has always been number one on sales and I take pride in it. Then again, more often than not, my crew is also number one in productivity. I do attend home dispatch meetings regularly, however, I don't recall being present at one where someone might have made the comment of 'don't worry about it, make the sale. The customer won't be able to tell the difference on his monthly statement'. I am sure if I had heard that statement I would have reacted to it even if it had been made in jest by some of the guys.

When asked about yes, he was good at sales. If I recall, most c sales were made on the phone. Sometime back, had a problem that made him go on light duty (I think it was a sprained ankle) for some time. I don't remember exactly how long he was disable also worked on 'bulk loading' and I do remember his coming in on sales whenever the load permitted it. It is hard to say how often this would happen. Sometimes in one week, there may be two or three days when it was light and then an entire month or more could pass before he would be able to do it again. I never worked any overtime on sales or to compensate for being behind on our workload due to sales. When asked how someone may have shown sales dated on a Saturday, the only thing I can think of is that our guys have not always been scheduled Monday through Friday. Sometimes we scheduled people Tuesday through Saturday or Sunday through Thursday or however we see fit to best manage the business. I can honestly say that if somebody worked on sales on a Saturday, it was not while on overtime but there is no way I can give you specifics on a Saturday three years ago. Phone sales were worked from microfiche files that are in numerical sequence, so it would not surprise me, quite the opposite, I would expect the telephone numbers to be in relative numerical sequence. I never heard any rumors that was working on sales out of his home on his own time. I do remember talking to customers on the phone constantly whenever he was at the office on sales and I happened to be there too. I have never heard any rumors about boiler rooms in operation anywhere, nor have I ever seen one. However, it was common practice to use people that were on light duty on telephone sales. At one point in time, I remember (who was physically disabled and has since retired) working on sales along with (who was also disabled) at the same time. I don't know what your definition of a boiler room is, but that isn't mine and that is the closest thing I remember that would ever come close. I never heard any comments from my higher ups (second level or Operations Manager) that would have lead me to believe that they wanted to be number one in sales no matter what the cost. I do not remember any management meeting where might have been directly asked about rumors concerning and sales. I remember at one point in time some guys were using handouts with their beeper numbers and sales codes on them. However, I think that did not really account for many sales, at least not in my group. I know that was also very good at sales, but I have no idea how he did it. I don't recall anyone ever sharing points and the number of orders I would get back from the Business Office would be rather small. As far as the referral forms, when given to me, I just took them to the Business Office. I had no reason to think, and still don't, that there might have been anything wrong with them, so I never conducted any spot checks with the customers. While making their calls, people at times would keep track of how many 'no answers', 'busys' and contacts they actually made. However, I never kept any of these forms. I have read the above statement consisting of this and four other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. Corrections have been initialed.

20 I, , voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently 25 employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted] I have worked for Southern Bell since 11/27/72. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. In 1987, I was a Service Technician working out of the Silver Oaks yard. To the best of my recollection, during 1987 I reported to three different first levels at one time or another. They were I was working both repair and installation. I was averaging six to eight orders per day. There were days I was able to make one or two sales, other days I had no sales. I usually sold on repair orders the maintenance program and on installation orders, calling features. I don't recall if my crew had any sales objectives or not. I know I didn't have any. Usually there was a top salesman for the month and a top crew. I don't recall whose crew was top or which salesman. I know it wasn't me. I recall they were giving out luncheons for sales results. If the load was light, I was told to do phone canvassing at the Silver Oaks yard by my supervisor. At times, I did phone sales the entire day; other days for a few hours only. It all depended on the work load, if it got heavy during the day, I was sent out to work orders or troubles. At the yard, there was no special room set up to do phone sales. Usually, there were only two to three employees at any given time or day. We were using information from 'LMOS' which was located in the second level's secretary's office. Once we got the customer information, we were using any office that had a phone available. The items that were being sold were calling features and 'TIP', the Trouble Isolation Program. In an extremely good day, I was able to speak to 150 customers on the phone. This was done working from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. just doing calls. Out of the 150 customers, I don't recall how many of the 150 I was able to make a sale. During 1989, I was working for I did phone sales on light load days using office. Instead of using the LMOS, I was using microfiche printouts. Depending on the load, I was able to work a full day or a few hours on phone sales. There were days that I just made a list of the customers I was going to be calling and there were days all I did was make phone calls. My average was roughly the same as when I was working in the Silver Oaks yard. As far as I remember when I was in office, I was the only one there making phone sales. I never used the RF141 forms to make phone sales. While I was doing phone sales, there were days that I would spend the whole time filling out the Sales Referral forms with the customer's name, address and telephone number. This way I was able to make more phone calls without taking time out to fill out the forms. If I was unable to make contact with the customer (not home recorder), I would save the form for another day. If the customer refused, I threw out the form. If the customer wanted any of the features, I would complete the form with what feature was sold only. I left out the bottom part most of the time to save time. In this interview, I was shown eighty-seven (87) Sales Referral forms that had been completed by me on June 7, 1989 and seventy-seven (77) sales forms that had been completed by me on February 16, 1989.

All the forms had the SEQIX (maintenance plan) as the feature sold. I was asked in this interview if I had made all those sales on the date indicated on the sales form. To the best of my recollection, I did not make all the sales on the same dates indicated on the forms. What I usually was doing with the sales forms was filling out the top portion only and holding the forms for several days until I had enough forms. Then I would complete the bottom portion of the forms with my name, sales code and date sold. Therefore, it is a good possibility that the sale was not made on the date indicated on the forms. I never did any phone sales on overtime. I never was pulled off the load on a heavy day to do phone sales. I don't have any personal knowledge of any employee working overtime on phone sales, working from their homes or having their wives doing phone sales for them. I never was advised by my supervisor, or any employee of the Company to do any illegal sales nor do I have any personal knowledge of any illegal sales activities going on. I heard rumors about 'boiler room' activities within the Company but not in my area. We held monthly crew meetings. During these meetings, I never heard any employee making a remark about any illegal sales going on in the Company. I accumulated enough points to get several small items such as a pressure cooker, VCR and vacuum cleaner from the sales catalog. I can't remember at this time every item I received. I have never processed any Sales Referrals without calling the customer. I talked to every single customer that I made a telephone sales form on and took credit for the sale. I never gave sales points to another employee nor did I ever get any either. I never heard of any complaints about my sales forms from the Business Office, or got any complaints from customers or my supervisor. In 1987, I remember I was on light duty for a couple of days because of 'back' problems. Some of my duties while on light duty were making phone sales, filing, clerical work and delivering supplies to the employees at their work sites. During 1989, I was on light duty again for a couple of days because of 'back' problems. My duties were doing some phone sales, clerical, messenger and minor jobs in my district. I don't remember any home dispatch meeting in which I was present where someone from the Company said 'That even if the customer doesn't want the maintenance plan, to go ahead and add it to their account because the customer wouldn't notice it anyway'. I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection. I have intialed each page and each correction.

INTERVIEW OF _____ SERVICE TECHNICIAN-NETWORK
(November 16, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St. Room 1901
Miami, FL

I, F___ , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician in Perrine, Florida. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is I have worked for Southern Bell since 1978. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales plan. At the start of this interview, J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have worked for for approximately the last three years. For the last four months, has been my second level supervisor, and prior to that, it was . for a couple of years. I have been on home dispatch since it got started. I regularly attend the monthly home dispatch meeting. I do not recall having heard at such meeting a statement along the line of 'Go ahead and make the sale anyway, the customer probably won't notice the difference'. I feel that that would be a pretty dumb statement to make, especially in front of our supervisors. It would seem to me that if anyone had made such a statement, my supervisor would have jumped all over him. In any event, I never heard such statement. As far as sales, I would say

I have been at the top or near the top as far as sales people over the last two years. The other guy that comes to mind for high sales is The reason I specifically remember him is that he beat me out for 1989 and won the contest for a giant TV screen. This upset me quite a bit because I was committed to selling and had been high on sales for quite some time and had never heard of this guy. All of a sudden, after the contest for the giant TV was announced in South Florida, this guy comes out of nowhere and beats me and I mean, really beat me. To this day, I don't know how he did it because I worked very hard on sales at every opportunity that I had and I can't understand how anyone could beat me like he did. The reason I committed to sales was basically my supervisor, remember when I worked for and a white guy would make two or three sales, he'd get a pat on the back. However, a black guy like me would get two or three sales and it would barely be noticed. However, when I started working for and I got him some sales, he really recognized me for it so I just responded and every chance I'd get, I would work on sales. I enjoyed it when I became the top seller, being black, all the other guys had to notice and I took pride in it. As far as gifts, I did get a few. Specifically, some tools, a radio, a small TV set, fire extinguishers and a bike. I would say the bike was the best present I got as a result of sales. As far as my sales, I did some sales when I was on 'bulk loading' and by telephone canvassing. Most of my sales were made on the phone. Sometime in 1989, I sprained my ankle and went on light duty for two weeks. During all this time, I worked on sales form microfiche at the office. Also, whenever I looked at my 'bulk load' in the morning and I saw only two or three troubles, I would call and ask him if I could come in and work on sales. He would go check and see how the general load was. If it was too heavy, he would tell me he was sorry, but I had to go on the regular load. If it wasn't that bad, then he would okay my going in to sell over the phone. I remember that who were on 'bulk load' in Homestead and Kendall respectively, would sometimes pick up a couple of troubles in Perrine when that is all that I had. Neither of them ever complained to me about it or to or to If they did, I never heard about it. As far as my working on sales on the phone every time I got a chance, I never discussed it with anybody. However, everyone knew that I wanted to sell every chance I got. I would estimate that there were weeks when I calle on two or three days to go on sales and there were weeks when I didn't get to go on sales at all because the load was heavy. As far as face-to-face dealing with customers, I never suggested to any of them that I would not bill them for the existing trouble for which I was out if they subscribed to the maintenance sales plan. I did make them all aware of it and some of them went for it and others did not. As far as rumors that my wife could have been calling customers for me from home, that would be false. I did not have a microfiche machine at home and although at times I placed a few calls to subscribers from my home on my own time, they were mostly to follow up on calls placed from the office. I never worked overtime on sales or as a result of having worked on sales to catch up on my load, nor do I know of anyone that did. I never shared 'sales points' with anyone nor do I know of anyone that did. As far as how many sales I would make on a good day over the phone, I would say 20 to 25, but I am just guessing. My best days ever would probably be about 40 sales, and again, I am guessing. I would screen the customers before I called them to see if they had the maintenance plan already and, if they did, of course I would not call. Off the top of my head, I would estimate I probably sold to about half the people with whom I made contact - then again, it's hard to say. Just from being on the job in my area, I deal with a lot of Spanish customers and I speak a little broken Spanish, enough to get by with the little English that those of them who don't speak English still manage to understand. As far as my phone solicitation, I did not concentrate in the Perrine area because I didn't feel it was that productive. No one ever told me what area I should concentrate on. When shown some of my referrals, I admit that I sold to a high percentage of Spanish people. Most of these people, however, spoke English decent enough to carry on a conversation and many of them spoke perfect English. I never turned in a sale where I felt there had been a question in communications. As a matter of fact, most Spanish people that spoke no English at all, as soon as you started talking to them in English over the telephone, they would reply 'No speak English' and hang up on you. I never turned in a sale for credit without having talked to the customer. I am not sure all of them would remember my calling them if questioned, but I would think that a lot of them would. I was shown some of my daily production referral forms and I recognize the handwriting on them as mine. When I worked on sales, I would fill out the form right as I talked to the customer. I don't remember accumulating tickets for a couple of days and then sending them in, but it's been so long it is possible that might have happened. On the sample I was shown, there were 60 sales dated 01/02/88, 19 dated 01/04/88, 21 dated 01/05/88 and 20 dated 01/06/88. The 60 sales seem to be a lot for a day and the others seem more like the average day. It was pointed out to me that 01/02/88 was a Saturday but I honestly don't remember ever working on sales on a Saturday and getting paid for it. Those forms are close to three years old and it would be hard for me to try to explain why there were so many sales on that one given day. The closest thing I've ever gotten to that, after browsing through all my sales through 1988 and 1989, is like 44 and 45 sales per day, which I had previously guessed at as what I would have sold on good days. On the average, it looks that from looking at my forms, I averaged 25 to 30 sales per day when I worked on telephone sales. In retrospect, If I had known that I was going to be scrutinized like this for trying to excel in sales, I would have never done it. Seems like if you don't do enough of something, you hear about it and if you try hard and excel at something, people question you on how you did it or assume that you must have done something wrong. I guess you can't win either way.

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Support Manager-Network/Engineering.
28 My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I have worked for Southern Bell since 09/30/76. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege. I understand the above and I agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anyone. I started in my present job on 04/15/90. I was the Manager for South Dade I/M (Installation/Maintenance Department) and the S.S.I.M. (Special Service Installation Maintenance) during 1986 through 1989. Some time during that time frame, the area was split. second level, was responsible for West Dade and Silver Oaks. I was responsible for the Perrine/Naranja/Homestead wire centers. To the best of recollection, I don't know of any problems with the Network Sales Referral. During the 1987-1988 time frame, I don't recall any problems with the Network Sales Referral. I recall that certain incentives were given out for good sales results such as taking employees to dinners, giving out hats, a cup and glasses, etc. In 1989, the sales objectives that I had set up for my people were as follows: For sales of over $300.00 revenue for three consecutive months, the employees were invited to a dinner. To the best of my recollection in May, 1987, because of my sales results, I was awarded a cruise to the Virgin Islands. On the cruise, I met management from all over BellSouth Services that also had won the cruise for sales results.

first level, was my Sales Coordinator. When the load was light, I understand that those employees that had a capability for sales were doing phone sales. However, to my knowledge, none of my supervisors pulled employees off the load to make phone sales if the load was heavy. I never gave any of my supervisors permission to do something like that. is the type of supervisor that always stressed selling to his subordinates but never advocated cheating. To my knowledge, I never heard any rumors tha was cheating on his sales. During a brief period of time, I was hand carrying the sales referrals to the Business Office. Later on that became responsibility. Since I didn't have any reason to doubt the validity of the referral form, I didn't check them. I don't recall ever saying in a crew meeting to go ahead and add the maintenance plan to the customer's account without letting the customer know about it.

sales were high because he did bulk route and he had more opportunity to make sales since he had more face-to-face contact with the customer. It seems that C is one of those with a gift of salesmanship. To my knowledge, I don't know of any boiler room activity in my area. My definition of boiler room is where a dozen or more people are in a room making phone sales all day long. I heard rumors that was placing flyers at new apartment buildings advertising calling features and directly advising those customers wanting the service to contact him. I don't remember any spreading or sharing of sales points. I would never allow my people to do anything illegal, immoral or unethical regarding sales. I would like to specify that at times I had two or three employees doing phone sales at the same time due to light duty or light load condition. I don't have any personal knowledge of employees doing phone sales from their homes at any time; nor have I heard any rumors as to those activities. I don't recall during a foremen's meeting someone asking about employees doing phone sales from their homes. I have read the above statement consisting of five pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.I have initialed each page and each correction.

22 I. _____ voluntarily furnish Roberto Rodriguez, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1979. My social 28 security number is [redacted] My date of birth is _____ understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Plan. During this interview, Mr. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I hereby agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. During 1986 through 1987, I was working in the South Miami area during that frame of time. I had worked for several supervisors, . There always had been some type of sales program going on in the Network Districts competing with each other for sales results. All my sales were done while working installation orders or doing a repair job. I recall using Sales Referral Forms (Form NSR). I also recall turning in the referral forms on a daily basis to my supervisor. As I recall, the rest of my crew was doing the same. At times, our foreman would remind the crew to make sure whenever possible to have the customer sign the form. I don't recall any problems arising from the referral forms, at least not in my crew. I recall that in the South Miami Test Center, employees on light duty were doing phone sales. I don't recall ever being taken off the load, light or heavy, to do phone sales. As far as I can remember, those doing phone sales, other than those employees on light duty (medical reasons or physical) was done strictly on voluntary conditions. I heard no rumors of forcing employees to do phone sales. To the best of my recollection, the Test Center always had been responsible for routing out the work load. They are always aware of how many employees are available for work each day. They know who is on vacation, light duty, day off, etc. Any employee on permanent phone sales or not working on the load, for whatever the reasons were, test board knew about it. I believe if an employee was home doing phone sales, then the Test Center knew about it. I recall that the Service Representative, when speaking with a customer, would ask the customer if 'they want the best service available'. If the customer said yes, the Service Representative included a full feature (Call Waiting, Call Return, etc.) package, without the customer's knowledge. I found this out when asking the customer what type of service they had. When I advised the customer they had the 'full features', they claimed not knowing about it; that they only wanted one or two features. Most of the ones I spoke with advised me that the Business Office had asked them if they wanted the best service available. Those customers were being billed for features they didn't request. I advised them to contact the Business Office to have their accounts corrected. I recall the MATCH program started sometime at the end of 1989. I recall speaking with an employee in the MATCH program office (I don't recall her name). She suggested that we should be doing what Boca and Pompano were doing, using sales flyers, and distributing them in new developments and large apartment complexes. According to her, they were getting great sale results from the flyers. I recall mentioning this to my foreman, . Shortly afterwards, we began using sales flyers with the Bell logo printed on them. I recall some of the flyers were made by our office clerks. Some of the fancy ones I believe were made by our Graphics Department located at 666 N.W. 79 Avenue. The flyers included the employee's sales code. I remember distributing them to managers of large apartment buildings. The managers thought it was a great idea because new tenants were always asking for the Telephone Company number so the manager just gave the new tenant one of the flyers. I don't recall how many sales were generated from the flyers. I recall the flyers had an '800' number to the MATCH program. I recall having monthly crew meetings. I don't ever recall anyone with the Company suggesting any type of illegal sales. I recall that s the Sales Coordinator for our area. I don't recall ever suggesting to me or anyone else any illegal sales tactics. I don't recall any rumors of any illegal sales going on in my district. I don't recall Manager, in a crew meeting suggesting any type of illegal sales either selling Custom Calling features or the maintenance program. I was asked during this interview if my works for y. My wife does not work for a living; she is a I recall installing an at a customer's residence, after which I contacted advise them that the order had been completed. The person I spoke with at inquired if there was a quicker way to issue a Service Order because every time he called the Business Office, he was wasting too much time when put on hold. I gave him the MATCH program number and advised him to give my sales code whenever calling in a new Service Order. I don't know the number of Service Orders placed by for which I received sales credits. I was not aware that I was doing anything illegal or against Company policy. I don't recall being told by anything connected with s. I don't recall anyone from the Company saying that the use of the sales flyers was illegal. I don't recall any rumors of employees doing phone sales from their homes. I don't recall rumors of boiler room activities, or sharing points.

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Service Technician. I have worked for Southern Bell since April 7, 1980. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth i _____ I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. At the beginning of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for the Company, advised me that he is the Attorney for Southern Bell and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. When questioned about sales, the answers are simple. I never did any phone canvassing and while I did sell some person-to-person on the orders that I worked, by far the greatest majority of my sales came from the MATCH Program and one event in particular, the 1990 Orange Bowl Classic, which was played in January of 1990. I am assigned to the Orange Bowl and I basically work all orders there. I have developed a good relationship with _____, who is in charge of communications for the Orange Bowl Committee. In the years prior to MATCH, getting prepared for a game like this was very hectic, to say the least. You would have all the networks, major newspapers, radio stations, etc., order service. The orders came out at different times and it was hard to contact someone at the New York Times and other major newspapers/stations throughout the country to find out exactly what they wanted when there was a question. However, on game day, everyone would be asking me where their service was at. When I _____ heard about the MATCH program, we both decided it would serve us well and frankly, sales was not the motivating factor here. In essence, what we did, is that _____ gave me all his contacts and requests for service as they came in. I would call the customer and find out exactly what they needed, where and when. Then I would call MATCH and, at the customer's request, place the order for them. I would get the serial number myself and all the information I needed and I would follow up and work the order myself. When service was in, I would call the customer, let him know what his telephone number was and any other pertinent information. This worked out great for and myself, in addition to the customers and the Telephone Company itself because there were a lot less headaches and everything was much better coordinated. This was done out in the open, my supervisor, , was aware of it and, from our end, we were all happy about it because it made life much easier. If I recall, I was able to sell the maintenance plan to all the subscribers I contacted, which is something these people would not have usually ordered, so that would be the only thing I can think of where I actually 'pushed' for a sale. At the time this situation evolved, I was not really very aware of what effect this could have on 'sales points' although I knew it wouldn't hurt. The real factor in my mind was how much easier this made my job. As far as other people and sales, I have never seen a boiler room in operation, I never canvassed customers over the phone to make sales and I never worked any overtime nor know of anyone that did to work on sales. I kind of wish the MATCH program or at least the telephone contact that I had was still active, even without getting any sales credit whatsoever, so that I could use it to coordinate this year's Classic.

INTERVIEW OF ; MANAGER-NETWORK
(November 20, 1990)

Miami, FL

I voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since December 7, 1970. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is [redacted]. I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. In my present position, which I have held for the last three or four years, I supervise over 100 Repair Service Attendants. These employees are the ones that actually talk to the subscribers as they report their service in trouble, so it presents an ideal situation to sell, not only because of the customer contact, but also because the circumstances lend themselves to the selling of the maintenance plan. If you asked me about my top seller, is the one that comes to mind. Why is she so good? She likes to sell and apparently takes it more seriously than the average. In addition, I know she pursues selling on her own time, like to relatives and friends. I don't believe she actually does any telephone canvassing on her own. Overall, we have never used any of our people to conduct telephone canvassing. By the nature of our operation, we have the customers calling us all the time, so we already have as much customer contact as we would ever want. I have no reason to suspect that any of the sales made by or anyone under me were illegal. I estimate that about 95% of the orders we sent in to the Business Office went through without any problems. Of the ones that did not, it was basically because the item had already been sold, which sometimes created bad feelings among the people who did not get the sale. I do not know of any instance in which there has been any 'sharing of points' among employees. As far as the orders that need to be called in, (before to MATCH and now to Goldline) I usually assign one person to call in everyone's orders. is the one that comes to mind as usually doing the calling, but she gets no sales points for doing this. Because of the volume of sales and customer contact, I have an 'in-office' sales coordinator, who is _____ and she is basically the person that does the overall, both sales and non-sales, training. As 'sales coordinator', she coordinates sales within the office as to the forms that need or need not be filled out, what needs to be called over the phone and what can be mailed to the Business Office, rotating the 'calling duties' among various Repair Service Attendants and so forth. I have never used overtime for sales in any way or form and I have never seen or heard of 'boiler room' operations. As far as employees on 'light duty', we operate in an office environment where we really never have anyone that would meet such criteria. If a person is too sick to do their regular job, they are usually too sick to come in to work.

_____ read the above statement and agrees that it reflects the content of the interview, however, she politely declined to sign it.

I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. In 1987 through mid-1989, I had a staff position (Central Dade Division). - I had no subordinates and no sales objectives. In mid-1989, I went back to the field and I had a crew with approximately eleven to twelve employees. The sales program which I was most familiar with was the MATCH program. All of the employees' sales were connected with the MATCH program. As I recall, the employees did the referral. At no time was the customer told to make the contact directly with the MATCH program. I was never involved with any type of flyers advertising sales, nor do I recall anyone in my area doing so. I don't recall being told to take employees off the load, light or heavy, to do phone sales. I don't recall any phone sales going on in my area. I don't recall having anyone in my crew on light duty. I heard rumors about how other districts were using different sales programs to achieve sales results. I don't recall what those programs were. I don't recall any rumors about employees doing phone sales from their homes. I don't recall any rumors about boiler rooms. My top salesman was , Service Technician. All sales done by were strictly through the MATCH program. I never received any complaints from a customer, or the Business Office, in connection to my crew's sales. During monthly crew meetings, I don't recall anyone suggesting illegal sales tactics. I don't recall anyone from my area falsifying any sales results. I don't recall any sharing of sales points. INTERVIEW OF , REPAIR SERVICE ATTENDANT-NETWORK
(November 21, 1990)

Miami, FL

4 I, [redacted], voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Repair Service Attendant. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1969. My date of birth is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. I have been very active in sales over the last few years, not so this year. I was out on benefits from March to July of this year because of a serious car accident. When I returned, the sales program had changed to where you really don't get as much credit anymore so I am not presently pursuing sales as hard as I used to. I made my sales in different ways. At times, I would discuss my working for the Telephone Company while at church, with friends and relatives, etc., and I got a lot of sales this way. At work, many of the customers that called in had problems with the inside wiring, for which they would get billed if they didn't have the maintenance plan. As soon as I noticed they didn't have the maintenance plan, I would use that angle to try to make a sale which would happen quite often. I have never sent in an illegitimate request for service. As far as gifts, I remember getting a portable phone, a small portable organ and a couple of other items. The biggest gift I ever got was a 40" color TV screen, which I got, not because of points, but because I won a contest that they had for the top seller in our district and our counterparts in the Jacksonville office. As far as sharing points, I never heard any of that. There were cases, however, where people that had points would order items that they would then sell to other people or maybe even give them away. There were times when other Repair Service Attendants, who did not really care much about sales, would make a sale and give me the sale or the contact to call the customer and I would take it. The reason this happened, I would imagine, is that everyone knew I was trying hard to sell and since we don't have a commitment of sales to meet, some people who didn't care at all about sales would give me their referrals. I would fill out the form, contact the subscriber when necessary and send it in with my sales code. I never gave any gifts or any type of compensation to anyone for this and most of the sales I made were as a result of my own initial direct contact with the customer. If I was asked to guess, I would say that maybe 20% of my sales, if that much, were based on initial contact made by somebody else given to me to pursue. I have never worked overtime on sales nor do I know of anyone that has. I have never seen a boiler room in operation, although I have heard rumors that years ago, when the load was low, some people would be put on the phones to solicit subscribers and try to sell Custom Calling features. I was never involved in that and I have been there for over four years. I estimate that may be going back eight to ten years. The sales that I made from my house were to my own friends and relatives and/or people referred to me by them. I have never solicited subscribers at random over the phone from the phone book or microfiche or anything else. As far as how the sales were turned in, any time we sold the maintenance plan or Custom Calling features, the form would be mailed to the Business Office and the order issued then. Whenever we sold additional lines or any type of service that carried a 'due date', those sales would be called in to the MATCH program over the phone on a daily basis. Usually, a Repair Service Attendant would be assigned to call in those types of orders for everyone in the group. This was rotated among quite a few different attendants and I remember my taking turns at calling them in also. I have received several commendations from customers who were pleased with the way I explained the services offered and wanted to make my supervisor aware of it. We don't have the ability to call out from our position, nor do we have ready access to microfiche printouts or LMOS printouts at the office. Even if we did, none of us would work on sales from that. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My Social Security number is [redacted] and my date 10 of birth is . I have worked for Southern Bell for approximately 28 years. I understand I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Program. During this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by Southern Bell's attorney client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I agree to keep the contents of this interview confidential. In my supervisory position, I do not get many chances to sell and I am not much into sales myself. However, some of the people that work for me are. I would say that of the employees that I have had working for me for the last three years, 23 is the best seller. I know that pursues sales at every opportunity she gets both on and off the job. Her mother owns a beauty shop and anytime a question comes up on telephone service, she puts the customer in contact with her daughter who pursues the sale on her own time. While I have never conducted an audit to verify the validity of the referrals sent in (nor do I know of anyone that has) I have no reason to believe there would have been something wrong with any referral sent in. I have never seen a boiler room in operation nor have any of my people ever worked overtime to work on sales. I have never seen anyone sharing points. As far as some employees pursuing leads or contacts initiated by other employees who just don't care about the sales credit, that has probably happened but I haven't documented specific cases. While we do have access to microfiche in our offices, it is only used in cases of emergency, when the computers are down and Law Enforcement or Security need to get information on a given telephone number. I have never seen anyone working sales from microfiche in my department and there would be no reason to because we get constant customer contact. On LMOS, we have access to various masks, but we can only look at one subscriber at a time. Our attendants can only receive incoming calls at their positions and they have no way of making outside calls from their desks. The customer complaints are handled in the order in which they were received and not by any type of geographical area or Exchange. I would say that the encouragement that we receive to perform on sales is adequate. As far as how the referrals are sent in to the Business Office, it would be best to get that type of information from who is our sales coordinator and would be much more familiar with it than I am.

I have read the above statements consisting of this and two other handwritten pages, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

6 I, , voluntarily furnish Allen W. Hart, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence.

I am a Service Representative in the Company's Residence Telephone Order Center (RTOC) - Central District. I have been with Southern Bell since April 30, 1979. My date of birth is 13 , and my social security number is [redacted] I 14 reside at

The Service Representatives in my section usually handle the issuance of service orders for customer sales made by the Company's outside forces. Last Friday, October 16, 1987, one of the Representatives who sits nearby was working a stack of Network Sales Referrals (Form NSR-86) when she turned to me and asked why had I given a sale to an Installer. I asked her what was she talking about? She said 'look' and walked over and handed me a referral form. It was for the sale of Call Waiting (CW). At the top, the form was filled out with my last name, my residence address, and telephone number. The form was signed _____ sales code 'C41R11B'.

I had not ordered this feature nor had I spoken to anyone soliciting it. Also, it would have been impossible for anyone in my family to have done so. There is no one home during working hours.

I asked another Service Representative in my section to call the Installer and tell him the customer was questioning who he had spoken to. The Installer told her he didn't remember, that he did a lot of them. He asked her whose name he had written on the bottom of the referral form. He was told '_____'. His reply: 'Well, that's who I spoke to'. The Service Representative said 'OK' and hung up.

The whole incident upset me. If I had wanted any addition to my service, I would have had the service order issued so I could have gotten the sales credit. I certainly wouldn't have given the sale to a perfect stranger. I strongly suspect that my service was fraudulently manipulated for somebody else's gain.

Another Service Representative overheard what was going on and he came over and said that the same thing had happened to a friend's account. He showed me a referral form, indicating that it was for his friend's service. It read: '_____ The feature sold was Call Waiting. It was also signed '_____', sales code 'C41R11B'.

The above statement is true and correct. I have initialed both pages.

These forms indicate that Call Waiting was sold to me on each of my two lines. The forms also indicate that the seller spoke to me on both occasions. I was at work on both of these dates so I can state with certainty that no one contacted me. The only other person that might have possibly been at my house on those dates would be my boyfriend, who comes over at times in my absence. INTERVIEW WITH
(November 24, 1987)

8038 N.E. 2 Avenue
Miami, Florida

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Allen W. Hart, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence.

I have been with Southern Bell Telephone Company since April 25, 1980. My title is Services Technician. I am on home dispatch assigned to the Miami-Metro Division. My immediate supervisor is _____, Assistant Manager-Network. My date of birth is [redacted], and my social security number is [redacted].

I have been apprised that the purpose of this interview is to discuss some questions that have come up regarding sales to customer accounts. I have reviewed, along with Mr. Hart from Security, a number of Network Sales Referral forms prepared by me that indicate that the subscriber was contacted and agreed to have Call Waiting put on their service. These same subscribers, I have been told, later called the Company and denied ever requesting this service. I would like to explain how this came about. In July of this year I injured my back. When I returned to work I was put on restricted duty. Sometime in August or September, while still on restricted duty, I was assigned, full time, to do telephone sales. This required me to contact subscribers and attempt to sell them a variety of services, such as Custom Calling Service, Trouble Isolation Plan (TIP) and Prestige features. My sales were recorded on Network Sales Referral forms which were then sent to the Customer Services office so that the customer's records, service and bills could be updated.

Initially I was contacting the customer but I was having limited results - sometimes I would only make seven or eight sales a day. On many occasions (my foreman) would ask me how many sales I had made for the day or the week, etc. Many times he made a point of comparing my results to [redacted], another employee who was also on the same selling program, always mentioning that count was much larger. I felt threatened by this.

I asked 'How do you do it?' He suggested I tell the customer, if they weren't sure, to just try it out for a while. He also said, and I don't remember exactly how he put it, but I got the message, to just fill out the forms as if I had contacted the subscriber and send it in. rationale was that most customers wanted Call Waiting anyway and if they didn't, they could just call in and cancel the service. We discussed that Call Waiting was the best feature to go with because most customers liked the feature.

I set an arbitrary objective for myself of about 20 sales a day. Each afternoon, if my legitimate sales fell short of that mark, I would prepare enough false forms to make up the difference.

I can't tell just by looking at them, what Network Sales Referral forms are true and which are false, but I can assume that the ones which resulted in customer denials are false.

I can't say how many false forms I submitted but I would estimate that I prepared anywhere from five to 15 a day.

I don't remember when I adopted this new approach but I think it was the middle of September.

I know there are incentives for sales, that employees can select gifts from a catalog for making sales. But this was not my motivation for this improper course of conduct, it was to show I was doing my job.

The above statement consisting of this and 3 other pages is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

22 INTERVIEW WITH
(November 24, 1987)

8038 N.E. 2 Avenue
Miami, Florida

27 I, voluntarily furnish Allen W. Hart, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence.

I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone Company as a Services Technician in the Miami-Metro Division of Network. My net credited service date is December 9, 1974, my social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is My immediate supervisor is Assistant Manager.

I have been apprised that the purpose of this interview is to address questions raised by recent sales of Call Waiting to a number of subscribers.

I have been shown a Network Sales Referral form prepared by me, dated 10-5-87, that indicates I sold CW (Call Waiting) to subscriber I have been told that this subscriber is a Service Representative and she denies ever speaking to me or authorizing the addition of CW to her line. Also, I've been told, she claims no one is home during working hours. This must have been an error on my part but I can't offer any explanation.

Another form indicates I spoke to on 10-5-87. I've been told this subscriber claims he lives alone and was at work on that day. Furthermore, the subscriber claims no one from Southern Bell contacted him and he never authorized this addition of CW to his line. I don't remember the details of this particular sale but I can only assume, if no one was home, I contacted him at work or at one of the contact numbers on his records.

Another form is for subscriber and it reads I sold CW on October 6, 1987. I have been told that this subscriber's service was suspended in June of this year and the subscriber was out of town on the date I posted for the sale, and his service was still on suspend. I must have spoken to someone but I don't recall this particular sale.

I have also been shown two forms, for subscriber and , and have been told that even though I claimed the sale of CW on both numbers, the lines already had this feature. This is not an unusual incident. Sometimes the records I work from are not up to date and often the subscribers are not aware they have certain features on their lines.

I have also been told that there are 165 sales of CW made by me for the months of August, September and October that the subscribers have claimed they never requested this service. Of this number, 22 disputed sales are in the 691 Exchange. I have reviewed these. I remember some of the names but I don't recall the details of any particular sale.

Also, I have reviewed 35 sales in the 693 Exchange. Only one account sticks out in my mind, that one is for subscriber on 10-08-87. I remember speaking to her in She must have misunderstood me because I thought she agreed to the sale.

I have also reviewed 31 disputed sales in the 696 Exchange. Only one of these I remember and it is for on 8-6-87. I remember speaking to a man at this number. He told me he'd try CW.

I have also reviewed 30 disputed sales in the 835 Exchange. I remember three of these. One is for at I recall speaking to a woman at this number late in the afternoon. I tried her house but there was no answer. Later, I called a contact number on her records. Someone there told me she had just left. I tried her at home again and that's when I reached her. (I got her contact number from the DLR portion of LMOS.) She and agreed to the sale. Another, for is dated 10-1-87. I remember speaking to Mr. - I remember He also agreed to the sale. The third one in this exchange is for dated 10-5-87. I remember speaking to a man at this number. He was hard to convince but he agreed to the sale.

I have also reviewed 47 disputed sales in the 836 Exchange. I recall only two of these. The one for dated 8-6-87. I remember speaking to a woman at this number and she agreed to the sale. The second one is for I remember speaking to at this number and she put someone else on the line - a young woman. I was able to sell the feature because she bought my argument that it was a good security item when told that these people are the mother and father-in-law of Service Representativ mentioned on the first Network Sales Referral form. I remember speaking to a woman at the number in my limited Spanish. I thought she knew what I was trying to sell. The other one, Humberto Travieso, I recall speaking to a man at this number, and he agreed to try CW for 30 days.

I have been shown another disputed sale. This one is for I recall speaking to an old woman at this number, , and she agreed to try CW for 30 days.

I have been on a full-time sales program since early August. My foreman, , would contact me about every other day and ask me what my sales count was. He never reviewed them, however. The office I used is at the Company building at 8038 N.E. 2 Avenue.

I would like to add that often when I was unable to reach subscribers at home I would call the person or persons listed on their records as contacts. I would try to establish the relationship to the subscriber of record or their authority to permit me to add CW to the subscriber's line. However, I never posted this other person's name or number on the sales form but instead always used the subscriber's name. Again, I would get this contact information from DLR.

The above statement consisting of this and five other pages is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

INTERVIEW OF [redacted], MANAGER-NETWORK
(December 19, 1990)

150 W. Flagler St. Suite 1901
Miami, FL

6 I, [redacted], voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1980. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is . I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to the Network Sales Referral Program. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I have never given sales my top priority and since the people I've worked for recently have not dwelled on it, I have not really been pushing sales. I have enough problems in keeping the customers satisfied. Because our load has remained heavy throughout, I have made it clear to my subordinates that while it is okay and we should indeed pursue a sale if possible while on the line with a subscriber who just called in a trouble report, we should not be calling and canvassing customers on our own. As I recall, in December of 1989, my Associate Manager, f, approached me to advise me of the possibility that we could have a problem with sales. Specifically, he advised me that office rumors suggested to him that maybe our guidelines were not being followed as far as sales in group. was an Assistant Manager who, like , reported to me. I decided to check on this and I approached Administrative Reports Clerk, and asked her to get me copies of all sales made in November of '89. Once she complied, I examined all these forms myself and found some trends of telephone numbers in relative sequence. Since I know that trouble reports don't come in that way, it suggested to me that sales were either being falsified or sales contacts were being initiated by my employees as they had been instructed not to. I decided to also examine the sales for October of '89 but did not find much of a trend there. In order to get a feel for how big a problem I had, I conducted my own investigation. This consisted of telephonically contacting customers that had been sold services to verify if indeed anyone had contacted them. While I don't remember exactly how many calls I made, with the exception of one subscriber, everyone else acknowledged having the service. With this information in hand, I approached my Operations Manager, as well as Hedges, Manager-Labor Relations. Although my sample appeared to indicate that we did not have an integrity problem as far as the legitimacy of the sales turned in, I still felt it was a problem for someone to be contacting customers on Company time while we could barely carry the load. After further discussion with and in which it was made clear that disciplinary action appeared proper but it's extant would be left basically to my discretion, I decided to put an entry in personnel file and to lower her performance rating from an "MC" to a "C" while withholding part of the raise she was about to get. When I advised of the above, she acted as if it was unfair. Although she admitted to calling customers who had not made a trouble report and trying to make sales, she felt she had not done anything wrong and her efforts were intended to generate revenue for the Company and she was now being paid back this way. Although I don't recall discussing with anyone other than and the fact that I placed the entry, I believe may have discussed it with her peers and/or subordinates. I do know that another Assistant Manager who worked for me at the time, was very close to and husband, also works for Southern Bell. had about ten subordinates working for her at the time she was disciplined and I would not know if she made them aware of it. In June of 1990, when I changed jobs and no longer worked for me, she approached me about removing the entry from her records, but I thought it was a valid entry, so I refused. also explained that she would help her subordinates fill out their sales forms, which is the reason most of them are in s handwriting. I understand there is a state-wide on-going investigation on Network Sales and that there may be a need to re-interview me at a later date on the above or any other related sales matter that comes up. I have read the above statement consisting of this and four other handwritten pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Associate Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for Southern Bell since 1970. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I remember in 1989, a Maintenance Administrator by the name of coming to me to tell me that there was a problem with sales involving , who was an Assistant Manager in the Test Center at the time. Specifically, stated that she had seen a lot of the sales turned in by and that they involved accounts in numerical sequence, which made her wonder what was going on. I advised her I would look into it and I made my supervisor at the time, aware of it. A few days later, approached me after confronting and advised me that had assured him everything was okay, that she was calling back customers herself to improve sales. I believe I relayed this information back to who still insisted that something was wrong at which time I asked her to prove it and she said she would. A few days later, Brewer came to me with some forms which were in numerical sequence and which she claimed she had called the customer herself and no one had ordered anything. I asked her where she got the forms from and she advised she got them from who was our Administrative Reports Clerk, who got to see all the sales forms turned in our office. I went to see who confirmed that she had given the forms to Brewer and provided me with more forms turned in by that also appeared to be a problem. With this in hand, I took into office, where a discussion was held on the matter with advising he would pursue the matter with Later on, and I don't remember how much time elapsed, I remember questioning on what had happened on the matter, with him explaining that had admitted to the problem and she had been disciplined. I recall, she was written up, her performance rating was down-graded and some money was taken away from her. I am sure that word about this got around through the grapevine, because I never heard from or again. For the record, I believe there is bad blood between and and had also stated that she had approached some of the workers in group about sales turned in by them and had been informed that they really had not made the sales, that was turning the sales in for them. In my opinion, there was a Maintenance Administrator by the name of who had excellent sales, and that is what drove to do what she did - competition between the groups. Some of the people that I remember worked for at the time were They should be able to confirm or deny some of the allegations made by I personally never called any subscriber to find out if they had been contacted about the item sold to them, which was always the maintenance plan. I never met with who was my Operations Manager at the time but it was my understanding that G discussed the problem with her. I do not know what ('s perception of the problem was because I never discussed it with her. Personally, I was relieved that was not terminated, because she is a hard working employee with over 37 years with the Company and once I was advised that disciplinary action had been taken and the problem had stopped, I laid the matter to rest. As far as problems with sales, there have always been rumors of boiler rooms in operation and I have often questioned how someone could turn in sales that by the sheer volume would appear impossible to accomplish, but I don't have first hand information of any other case of illegitimate sales. I understand I may be interviewed again on the matter as the investigation continues and I agree to cooperate in any way that I can. I have read the above statement consisting of this and four handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, _____ voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as a Maintenance Administrator. I have worked for Southern Bell for over 34 years. further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. Sometime back in late 1989, I remember working on a weekend and noticing a stack of sales on desk waiting to be processed. I was curious about the volume of the forms, so I started browsing through them and it struck me that the greatest majority of them were in handwriting. I remember discussing this wit an Assistant Manager in our office, as well as another Maintenance Administration who happened to be working that day. Initially, we were all curious as to who could have turned in that many sales and that was when we noticed not only handwriting but also that many of the telephone numbers were in numerical sequence. After this day, I started paying more attention and noticed that she spent a lot of time filling out sales forms. From further observations, it because obvious to me that was filling out these forms and then distributing them among some of her employees who would take the credit for the sale. From a conversation that I remember having with a Maintenance Administrator who worked for at the time, I found out that would distribute sales among her employees who assumed that had talked to the subscriber already. Since the whole thing was beginning to bother me, I approached an Associate Manager whom I knew at the Maintenance Center, and discussed the problem with him. At this time, I don't think that the legitimacy of sales was an issue but rather the fact that she was spending all this time on sales and giving these to her people. I just didn't think that was fair at all. listened to what I had to say and agreed to pursue it with , who was our manager at the time. Shortly afterwards, came back to me and told me tha had looked into it and that claimed to have been conducting her sales from her trouble reports, which I personally didn't believe but I temporarily accepted the explanation. However, after further checking, I came up with some sales that had been turned in which I checked in the computer (DLETH) and found there had never been a trouble report on them. I even called three subscribers at random and questioned them on whether they remembered having been contacted, to which they replied they did not. I did not get into much of a conversation with these subscribers and I did not question them on the possibility that some other family member could have been contacted. However, the trend on numbers being in numerical sequence continued and since I know that trouble reports don't come in that way and I also had all these other things I had looked at, I went back to M . This time I was taken into 's office, along with my supervisor and himself, where I made aware of my concerns which now included sales integrity and he agreed to pursue them and confront

I never got any feedback on what actually happened to or what she had to say when confronted but I do know that the problem completely stopped after that meeting. I had no reason to pursue the matter any further and I have not. I never went any higher than within the Company and I never discussed the matter with anyone outside our district or outside our Company. As far as the item being added, it was always the maintenance plan or the part of it that the subscriber did not have. I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

During the time prior to the Goldline Program, I received the Sales Forms from all the supervisors in the Maintenance Center for items sold by the employees. The form was three-part, which I separated, mailed the white to the Business Office, kept the yellow in a file cabinet and returned the pink to the employee making the sale. I also made a manual count of how many sales were made by each foreman's group and each Maintenance Administrator. The yellow copies were kept in the Maintenance Center for three to six months and then thrown out. Sometime after the Goldline Sales Program began, the old forms were thrown out. I knew there was something wrong because the forms which came in from group were always in the same handwriting except for Maintenance Administrator's signature. At the start of this interview, Mr. Castellanos advised me that this investigation is being conducted in conjunction with the Legal Department and that information discussed here is to remain confidential. He further advised that this information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I have worked in the Maintenance Center as a Maintenance Administrator for over eight years. During this period, we have had several campaigns stressing sales and I try to play an active role. Every time I get a chance to make a sale, I do. I have worked for _____ for about two years and I still do. I am on good terms with her and I've never had any problems with her. When asked if she ever gave me any sales, I would have to say that she did, but not only to me, as far as I know she distributed sales among her entire work group. I couldn't say exactly for how long it went on, but I would estimate it was probably a few months. I never had any discussion with her as to why she was doing this and I don't think anyone else did. She was our supervisor and when she gave us a few sales and told us to add our sales code and turn them in, I think everyone just did it. It was my understanding that the customer had already been contacted by her because I remember specifically asking her if I needed to contact the customer to which she replied that she already had. I have never turned in an illegitimate sale myself and I didn't have any reason to think that the customer had not been contacted by . As a matter of fact, I still don't. I can't say when the practice stopped, but it did. When she stopped giving us sales, she never explained why and I never asked. I didn't get sales from her every day although I sold every day on my own. I have received prizes because of my sales. The nicest thing I ever got was a recliner and then some other minor gifts. However, it would be impossible for me to determine how much help I got, as far as sales points, from sales given to me by I would think that most of the people under also got gifts, but I would not know what they got or how much of it was as a result of sales given to them by her.

this interview with anybody. I have worked in the Maintenance Center as a Maintenance Administrator for over eight years. For the last couple of years, I have worked for _ _ When questioned on Network sales, whenever I was talking to a customer and had an opportunity to make a sale, I would. Although I am not crazy about sales, I did sell because we were being pushed to sell. I remember there was a lot of competition between work groups and prizes being given out to top sellers. When questioned on whether my supervisor, , ever gave me some sales that presumably she had made, I would have to say that she did. As a matter of fact, she did this with most of the people that worked with her. Since she was my supervisor and she gave me the forms with the sale already made and just asked me to finish filling it out, I thought nothing of it and did as she asked. I assumed that she had already spoken to the customer and sold the item, which I am sure is what everyone else in the group assumed. I don't have any first hand information on whether she called the customer or not, but I have no reason to assume she did not. This went on for a month or two and then it suddenly stopped. Although I was never approached by anyone with an explanation of why it had been started in the first place or why it had been stopped, there were rumors that had not really contacted all the customers on which sales were turned in and had gotten in trouble because of it. It would be hard to say how many sales gave to me or to my peers. We did not get them on a daily basis - some days we would get some and some days we would not. I did get a few prizes as a result of my sales points but it would be impossible to determine which I got as a result of sales made directly by me and which I got because of the sales I got from None of the gifts were expensive. The best thing I got was a small cassette player and I believe I also got a small cassette storage unit. It is possible that some of my peers under p also got a few prizes, but I would not know what they got or how much they depended on points from sales to get their gifts. I have never made any illegitimate sales nor have I knowingly turned in any sales for credit where the customer was not contacted. In my opinion, the reasc gave us some of her sales was so that our work group would look better when compared to other work groups in our district.

I would estimate I made about five sales per month. would bring filled-out sales forms to me and told me to fill in my sales code and sign them. I asked if I should call the customer and she said no, the customer has already been contacted; just fill in the sales code and sign the form. She did the same thing for everybody in our group. I have seen at her desk filling out sales forms but did not pay any attention to it. I believe I had at least 500 sales points, maybe more, during the sales campaign. I was able to select a blanket, clock radio, portable radio with ear phones and a set of pots and pans. I was never questioned by any of the other managers regarding the sales program or my sales. INTERVIEW OF _____ ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK

Miami, FL

I, _____, voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have worked for the Bell System for over 37 years. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is _____. I understand that I am being interviewed in reference to Network sales. At the start of this interview, Mr. J. Phillip Carver, Attorney for Southern Bell, advised me that he is the Attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is to remain confidential and such information is protected by the attorney-client privilege, which could be waived by the Company. I understand the above and agree not to discuss the contents of this interview with anybody. I have been a supervisor in the Maintenance Center since 1983. I presently have 26 employees reporting to me, but in late 1989 and first part of 1990, I had eleven employees under me. I admit I have been quite active on sales in the past. I usually get to the office at 7:00 a.m. everyday and start working on my paperwork. During the day and early evening hours, sometimes as late at 9:00 p.m., I canvassed customers over the phone to try and sell them mostly the maintenance plan. I did sell some custom calling features. I probably spent about three hours per day on the average doing this. The way I did it, I took an exchange, checked DLRL's to see if they had a given service in their record and then contacted the customer and tried to sell them. Most of my contacts were initiated by me and there was no trouble report at all by the subscriber. I basically called numbers in numerical sequence until I finished the exchange. Since there was competition among groups in the district as far as sales was concerned, I gave the sales I made to my people. I was very open about this and I didn't think I was doing anything wrong-and the Company was not being cheated in anyway or form. With the exception of (who was pretty good on sales herself and didn't need any help), I gave sales to everyone that worked for me. This probably took place over a period of a few months in late 1989. Specifically, I can say that I gave sales to

Although some may have gotten more than others, all of the above did get sales from me. One day last year, I was approached by Annie Adams, a Maintenance Administrator in another group, who advised me that a couple of girls had gone to , my second level at the time, to complain about my not contacting customers. Presumably, the complainants were and , neither of whom ever discussed the matter with me. I thanked Annie for the information and told her that I didn't have to worry about it because on every sale I ever made, I contacted the customer. To this day, I had never mentioned to anybody the fact that I had been advised by of what was going on and I would expect that to remain confidential. Even when eventually confronted me, I never told him that I had been told it was and that complained and he never addressed that either. did call me in and told me hat he was looking at my sales and suspected there may be a problem with the integrity of my sales. I assured him I had talked to every subscriber I ever sent in and that was about it. About a month later, approached me again and again questioned me on the integrity of my sales. Again, I reassured him that my sales were honest but he told me that he would have to conduct his own investigation. A few weeks later, we met again. This time, he advised me that he had to take some disciplinary action against me because of all my time that had been wasted on sales instead of on more productive things like training my people, etc. I didn't like it, but I admitted that I had spent a lot of time on sales. In summary, I was written up, my performance rating was dropped from a "MC" to a "C" and I did not get the full pay raise I was due. When left our group in mid-1990, I approached him about removing the entry, but he refused. As far as how much I sold, out of the top of my head, I'd say that my sales probably were up to 50-60% of the total that my group sold, but there would be no way to check on this because I never turned in a sale for myself and my sales were spread among my subordinates, who also sold on their own. I have not made a sale since I was disciplined. I never offered any explanation to any of my subordinates as to why I stopped giving them sales and I was never asked for one. On all three meetings that I had with it was strictly me and him present. There were no witnesses and I have never discussed with anyone what was said at these meetings or that I had been disciplined. Although I don't recall exactly when I stopped selling, it must have been in November or December of 1989, after 4 first confronted me. Again, since I was eventually disciplined because of sales, I have never made another sale and have no intention of doing so in the future. I don't know if any of my Maintenance Administrators did any telephone canvassing on their own time, but it wouldn't surprise me if they did, because once I started giving everybody sales, everyone got a little more motivated into selling, which was what I had been trying to accomplish from the start. In a nutshell, all the sales I ever made were honest sales and I will swear to it on the Bible or do whatever the want me to do to prove it. On the other hand, I readily admit that I spent a lot of time on the job on sales which I probably could have been doing something else and I did spread my sales, as evenly as I could, among my subordinates so that they, not I, would get the credit for them. As far as how much I would sell on a good day, I believe the most I ever sold on a day was about 30 to 35 customers. On the other hand, there were days when I hardly sold anything. I have read the above statement consisting of this and five other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

34 I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. L. Preau, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I am currently employed by Southern Bell as the Director-Network Engineer in Jacksonville and have been in this position since May 15, 1990. Prior to that, I was Operations Manager in South Broward from September, 1987 until I was transferred to Jacksonville. I have been asked about my recollection of a situation that involved , Assistant Manager-IMC, about one year ago, involving the Network Sales Program is a Pay Grade 5 who reported to me and worked for told me that a craft employee reported that group was involved in outbound calling trying to generate sales for enhanced wire maintenance plan. As I recall, made me aware of the allegation and since it was against our policy to make outbound sales solicitation calls, we decided should get more details from the craft employee and then talk to admitted making outbound calls because her work group was the lowest in sales in the office. I believe the accusation also included information that the enhanced maintenance plan was being added to customers' lines even when was unable to talk to them about the plan. I don't recall that we confirmed that and I don't believe admitted cheating on any of the sales she turned in. and I discussed discipline that ranged from nothing to termination and decided, because of long tenure with the Company and her previous good record, we would place an entry in her file. Also, as part of the discipline, was directed to recontact every customer she sold the wire maintenance plan to and verify that the customers wanted to keep the added service. I don't know if followed up to determine if actually did this or not. I didn't because my role was limited to talking to Gary and advising him we had to take action to correct the problem and approving the disciplinary action decision. As I said, sales were not very good and she was not competing for any significant prizes. If I recall correctly from the conversations at the time, was going to share the sales incentive points she received with the people in her work group. I believe was the only one making sales calls and said she was doing it in her spare time. It was my opinion that understood why the entry was placed in her file and was thankful that more serious action wasn't taken. I have read the above statement and it is true and correct.

Interview Of [redacted] Manager-Customer Services
(October 18, 1990)

Fort Lauderdale, Florida

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at [redacted], and subscribe to telephone number [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell in West Palm Beach as a Manager-Customer Services, and my net credited service date is June 10, 1961. My date of birth is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program which involved referral forms being sent to my office. In my position, I supervise an office of Service Representatives, and I have been in this position for about 10 years. Sometime in early 1988, I noticed that my office was receiving a large volume of Network Sales Referral forms. In my office, we were supposed to simply input these forms so that the involved customers would begin receiving whatever service they had agreed to subscribe to. Close to 99% of the forms we received involved the sale of the Wire Maintenance Plan to individual subscribers whose names, addresses, and telephone numbers were written on the forms. What caused me concern about these forms at first was the volume I was receiving. In addition to the volume, it also appeared that someone had prepared the forms by using our Premise microfiche to obtain the customer name, address, and telephone number information to use on the forms. From the forms I received, you could see that they were in street address sequence from form to form. Eventually I began having some of the customers contacted in order to determine if they had ever been called about the service they were about to be billed for, or if the customer even wanted the service. The results of these contacts with the customers were that we never found one who had been previously contacted about subscribing to the Wire Maintenance Plan. In one instance, we received a batch of about 50 referral forms and called each of the customers, but found that none of them had been contacted about subscribing to the maintenance plan. After all of the above, it appeared to me that whoever was preparing the referral forms was not contacting the customers involved at all. Based on this feeling, I telephoned the second level manager over the group that was preparing the forms who is n. After I apprised Butch of my concern, he advised me to return the forms to him for him to handle the matter. A few months later, we started receiving stacks of referrals again. We sampled the customers whose names were on the forms to see if they had been previously contacted about the involved service, and we again failed to locate a single customer who had been previously contacted. I telephoned Butch again and told him the results of our sample, and explained that I felt the forms involved the customers being charged for services they had not requested. The response fr was that he believed I was trying to keep him from making revenue for the Company. After our conversation, I continued to receive batches of referral forms, sometimes 500 forms at a time. In view of the feeling I had that these forms did not reflect legitimate sales, and considering that my two calls to Butch had not stopped the flow of these forms, on June 16, 1988, I prepared a letter to be sent to concerning this matter. This letter did not generate any response that I recall from The only change in the volume of referral forms we were receiving was that the volume increased. In March, 1989, I decided to prepare a second letter to concerning this matter, and this letter was dated March 31, 1989. At the time I prepared this letter, I noted the bottom left corner that I had sent copies of the letter to my supervisor, , Operations Manager-Customer Services, and to my counterpart Manager-Customer Services. I actually only sent a copy to and not to I only put name on the letter in the hope of getting the attention of After received my second letter, he telephoned me and was upset that I had sent a copy tc I did tell at that time that I was holding a copy of the letter for but had not sent it out yet. I never did send a copy of this letter, but I did make him aware of it in early, 1990. At that time, asked if I wanted him to become involved with this and I told him "no", that I had already referred the matter to Assistant Staff Manager-Customer Services. On many of the referral forms we received, the Network employee who had prepared them was , but I don't recall discussing by name with When called to discuss my March 31, 1989, letter, he stated that my sample of 13 customers called was not large enough. He had no explanation for why none of the customers contacted by my office to confirm the sales had ever been previously contacted about subscribing to the maintenance plan. also stated that he would do anything to by-pass me in the handling of these referral forms, and he stated that he would have them input some place else. It is my opinion that had to have the blessings of his supervisors to continue having these forms prepared, and if his supervisors never actually okayed the preparation of these referrals without the customers being contacted, I do not see how the supervisors could not have known what was going on. never admitted to me that he knew the forms were being prepared without the customers being contacted. His only argument to me was that I was jealous of all the sales his group was generating and of the revenue it was earning the Company. Following the initial contact with on staff, I continued forwarding referral forms to her office. Towards the end of 1989, I spoke with her again and learned that she had been approached by another work group about the same problem. The reason I provided this information to is because she was working with the Network staff on the problem. I felt that could possibly fix the problem. I stopped receiving these forms around the end of 1989. I also heard from that G , Operations Manager-Network, had begun his own investigation into this problem, but I never heard anything about the results of this investigation. may have had his investigation under way when I spoke to but I cannot be sure of this. During this interview, I have provided copies of my June 16, 1988 and March 31, 1989, letters to and I believe I sent him a third letter. I have not yet been able to locate this third letter, but as I recall, it was prepared after my March, 1989 letter, after we had received a batch of about 50 sales referral forms. We called each of the customers from these forms and learned that none of them had been previously contacted about subscribing to the involved maintenance plan. In the third letter to I pointed out that we had sampled 100% of the batch of approximately 50 referrals, and that none of the involved customers had agreed to the service they were about to be charged for. I will attempt to locate a copy of this letter, and provide it to Security. Another reason I believe knew that these forms were being illegally prepared without the customers ever being contacted for permission, was that I eventually stopped inputting the forms, but never called me to ask where his revenue was.

I have been informed by Mr. Nicholson that this investigation is governed by the attorney-client privilege and that it is to remain confidential information.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and seven (7) other handwritten pages. To the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed each page.

I, [redacted], do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at [redacted], and subscribe to telephone number [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell in Fort Lauderdale as an Assistant Staff Manager-Customer Services, and my net credited service date with the company is May 30, 1971. My date of birth is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Referral Program. I report to [redacted] Pay Grade Five, Staff Manager-Customer Services, who reports to [redacted] General Manager-Customer Services. Mine is a Staff position where I work to support the General Manager. As I recall, I first became involved with the Network Sales Referral Program in August 1989. Around that time, my supervisor, [redacted] was in West Palm Beach and met with [redacted], Manager-Customer Services. During this meeting, [redacted] informed [redacted] that the West Palm Beach Residence Office had been receiving a large volume of Network Sales Referral forms which [redacted] group was expected to input into our systems to provide the services that had been sold to customers by Network employees. [redacted] stated that she was receiving a large amount of these forms and that Dial America in Atlanta was also receiving the forms. [redacted] explained that she was suspicious of the forms because of the volume she was receiving and also because of some kind of address pattern she had noticed among the forms. Based on her suspicions, [redacted] had arranged for her subordinates to telephone some of the customers noted on the referrals and learned that the customers had not been previously contacted by Southern Bell about subscribing to the services that the referrals were dealing with. From her sampling of the customers noted on the sales referrals, it appeared that someone was preparing sales referrals in the Network group without contacting the involved customers or receiving any kind of authorization from the customers to begin providing the services for which they would be charged. Based on [redacted] information, asked me to look into the matter. I attempted to contact someone in Network Sales and learned that the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida was n Jacksonville at telephone number . When I first attempted to contac by telephone, I ended up speaking with her supervisor, T , telephone number 1, and I explained to him that I was looking into a matter of sales integrity. ( advised me tha was the person I should deal with and noted that if someone in Network was doing something wrong with the sales referrals, they would be held accountable for it. seemed surprised about the sales integrity thing and seemed interested in helping to resolve the matter. On September 25, 1989, I spoke to about concerns about the referrals being received in West Palm Beach. At that time, advised me that she had also been contacted about the same thing by at Dial America in Atlanta. agreed to look into the matter. At about this time, we were in the beginning of "the season" in South Florida when our winter residents return to the state. The season involves an increased work load for Service Representatives so we were looking for ways to remove some work functions from them to allow them more time to handle customer calls. Eventually, I was part of a conference telephone call with (the North Florida Customer Services Sales Coordinator) which resulted in our agreeing to have Network Sales Referrals sent directly to Dial America (excluding Match Program Referrals). In this arrangement, Dial America would handle the referrals and forward all questionable referrals for resolution. I prepared a memorandum which put in writing the terms of our new arrangement and I have provided a copy of the memorandum during this interview. I have also provided copies of a November 7, 1989 memorandum that I prepared on this subject along with copies of a December 7, 1989 memorandum from Sutton to Operations Managers-I&M which provided a January 2, 1990, start date for this program. I have been informed during this interview that my statement is being taken at the direction of the Southern Bell Legal Department and that my statement is part of the work product of the Legal Department. I have been informed that the information I have provided is covered by attorney-client privilege and is to remain confidential information.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and four (4) other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed each page.

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at and subscribe to telephone number . I am employed by Southern Bell as an Operator at 326 Fern Street. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is . My net credited service date is December 27, 1977. I was employed as a Services Technician in 1987. On August 12, 1987, I was rear ended in a Company vehicle. I then was put on "light duty", after I returned to work. In approximately November of 1987, I started working sales at the 68 Haverhill Office. There was an empty room with approximately six (6) telephones. While I was at the 68 Office, I spent most of my time selling unless I was needed testing cable pairs and verifying cross box count. This operation was commonly referred to as the boiler room. I left Network and went to Directory Assistance on May 8, 1989. I would take the printouts from the DLR printer and contact customers from this printout. If I made a sale, I would then fill out a sales referral. During the time I was at the 68 Office, we would count the referrals and log them in a book. I would then take them to the mail room at 2021 South Military Trail. I would pick up completed referrals and also referrals incomplete or not filled out properly. I would get 10 points credit for every dollar sold. During this time, I accumulated enough points to get a 19" television, 27" television, a wood wall unit, a horse statue, and a fox statue. During the time of the boiler room, there would be three to four other people there selling, I never knew who they were. The way they came up with customers' names to call would be out of the Blue Book. Also during the time I worked out of the 68 Office, never was assigned there. He also never sold out of there. I feel he was selling out of his house by what everybody else said. They were saying he sold out of his house. He would take all his referrals once a week and come to the 68 Office and leave them on my desk. Sometimes he would give them to to drop off at my desk. During the time I was selling, I remember used to make a tremendous amount of points. I could never figure out how he could sell that much. I believe I probably averaged ten to twelve sales a day. Also to get ten to twelve sales a day I could call as many as fifty customers a day. I would get recordings, no one would be home, or wouldn't want to buy. I was shown a referral by Paul A. Johnson dated February 24, 1989, which reflected a check mark to add SEQ1X. I was told by Johnson the customer already had the maintenance plan and the business office never processed it. Sometimes this can happen because the records are not current. I have never processed any sales referrals without calling the customer. I was not told to cheat by anyone. I also do not know of anyone that cheated.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and three (3) other handwritten pages, and to the best of my knowledge it is true and correct. I have initialed the first three (3) pages.

Interview Of Services Technician
(October 25, 1990)

October 25, 1990
326 Fern Street
West Palm Beach, Florida

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell in West Palm Beach as a Services Technician. My social security number is [redacted] my date of birth is . My net credited service date is February, 1979. I live at . My home telephone number is . For the last two years I have done mostly sales which consisted of telephone sales, door to door handouts of flyers, and I made some personal presentations to condominiums. The flyers had my name and sales code on them so that when the customer called in for service, they would give my name and sales number. I worked for and during the last two years and they were aware of my sales activity all of the time. I did almost no installation work. I was told to do sales. I was provided a printout with telephone numbers, names, and addresses, with some of the services subscribed to by the customer to call for sales. This printout was almost never up-to-date. At times I was given a telephone book to make sale calls from when the printout was not available. I spent time in the 68 Office where telephone lines were set up for us to call out on. Other times, I did the calling from cross boxes in the field. was in the office some of time when I called from the 68 Central Office. A lot of the time I would call from the cross boxes because of the other people in the office. I do not remember who the other people were. was aware of my sales activity during this time. I received a colored television, 20 inch Sony, from the catalog along with other things that I do not remember. I used points from the sales I made, and points I got from the sales I made that were referred to me by other employees. I talked to every single customer that I made a telephone sales sheet on and took credit for a sale. I feel that if a mistake was made, it was made in the business office because they are the ones who typed the orders in. I felt the person in the business office knew or should have known which ones were sales and which weren't. At first I filled out sales forms, but most of the time I just stroked the printout to show a sale was made. Sometimes I would fill out the form from the printout and the foreman would take them to the business office. I would wait until I had a bunch of sales, sometimes two weeks later, to fill out the forms. Sometimes the person in office, would fill out the forms and send them to the business office. The business office did not like this because it caused extra work for them and cost them sales. The flyers were handouts, but I did not call these customers. We did not think it was illegal. I got a lot of credit from the flyers. We stopped giving out the flyers in the beginning of 1990 and the sales went down. We also stopped the telephone calling for sales. My boss, , talked to me about a Public Service Commission complaint in 1989. I do not remember the outcome of the complaint because I was never told. I know I talked to the customer, but the spouse came home and changed his/her mind about the service as far as I remember. Most of the customers went for the maintenance plan because of the $25.00 service charge for repairs. None of my bosses have ever told me to do anything wrong. They have always been on the up and up. The reason I did not call the customers over flyers was because I did not know which customers called the business office. There was a toll free number on the flyers that was in Miami.

I have read the above statement, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all changes. This statement consist of three (3) pages.

I _____, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative at 2021 South Military Trail, West Palm Beach, Florida. I reside at _____, and subscribe to telephone number _____. My net credited service date is December, 1967. My date of birth is _____ and social security number is [redacted] I was working as a Service Representative at 2021 South Military Trail in 1988. I became _____ I was instructed not to go up and down stairs. My Assistant Manager _____ asked me to assist _____ in processing Network Sale Referral Slips. I basically did this from the end of June to the end of July. There was a very large amount of these referrals to be processed. It was during this time I noticed eight to ten consecutive houses or customers on the same street would have a sales referral adding SEQ1X. I thought this was very odd. The reason I felt it odd was I find it hard to believe everyone on a street would buy a SEQ1X much less everyone would be home during the day. At this point, I decided to check my Customer Service Record to see what I was being billed for. It was then I found one SEQ1X had been added effective May 4, 1988, and the sales code told me it was added by a department other than the business office. This was added without my knowledge. No one called me at home or work. Also no one was at my home to approve the sale. Since my records were wrong, my suspicion was, the sales referrals may not have been totally honest. It was at this point I brought both the above situations to the attention of Manager.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and two (2) other handwritten pages, and to the best of my knowledge it is true and correct. I have initialed the first two pages.

I, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell in West Palm Beach. My date of birth is . My social security number is [redacted]. I live at . My home telephone number is . My net credited service date is August 10, 1978. I have worked in West Palm Beach for 12 years. Sometime in the first quarter of 1989, I hurt my back and was placed on "light duty". told me to report to the Haverhill 68 Central Office. told me that I would be pulling up DLRL's out of LMOS that would printout in office and other employees would contact the customers and attempt to sell the maintenance contract. I reviewed the DLRL to see if the customer had the maintenance contract, if it was not on the record I would have it printed out in office. I did this for less than two weeks and I never talked to a customer. I never made a sale while I worked in the office. was doing this work before I did. There was a stack of DLRL's already there when I started. All I did was review them to see if they had the maintenance plan. My Supervisor was and he knew what I was doing. After two weeks, the doctor told me I was okay and I was removed from "light duty" and returned to my regular job. At the most, I sold about twelve (12) Wire Maintenance Plans during 1989. I knew that everyone in the crew was getting credit for sales that was made even though they did not make the sale. I felt this was done to keep the sales results even. I received a check from the sales program weekly, but I have never used any of the points to purchase anything from the catalog. knew about the sales points being spread among the crew. I had heard rumors of the business office adding the maintenance plan to the customers' bill without the customer being aware of it. These rumors went on for the better part of 1989. On October 23, 1990, called me and asked me if I knew of the amount of revenue that I generated in 1989. I told "no". Butch told me that it was about $22,000.00, and that he was looking into it for I think Butch thought I was in the boiler room longer than I was. That was the first time I was aware of any investigation into this matter. The boiler room was brought about to generate more sales for the district. The checks I received, I kept in a folder and forgot about them. I may have a couple left that I haven't thrown out yet.

Fort Lauderdale, Florida

I, [redacted], hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, as an Assistant Staff Manager. I am 44 years old, my date of birth is [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted] My net credited service date is November, 1974. I live at [redacted] My home telephone number i: [redacted] Please treat the interview as confidential. I took over the Sales Coordinator job sometime in late 1986. The sales program was already in place at that time. We set up a new program in 1987. In this program the services technicians, M.A.'s, dispatch clerks, and the employees in CRSAB were eligible to sell CCS features. Points were awarded for each item with a value of $.10 for each point. Form NRS 86 was to be filled out by the employee I sent to the business office for the service representative to input or the employee could call the MATCH service representative and make the referral for telephone contact by the representative. The Network employee would earn 5% rather than 10% on the sale by doing this. The Network employee had the option of using the MATCH or using the NRS 86. I had gotten the sales results and published them for the South and Southeast Areas. I published two different reports. One for operations managers and one for the second levels. Sometime in 1987, [redacted], General Manager, left South Florida and took over the Southeast Area. There were several other changes among the Network Operations Managers. Adjustments were made in the sales results and the adjustments were agreed to by all of the people affected. It was done to make them all equal when they started the campaign. We set no guidelines for boiler room operations, it was left to the general managers' discretion. I am not certain if any of the districts did have boiler room operations. There was a controversy between the general managers in the philosophy of how the Company should be run. The general managers may have addressed the issue with [redacted] I never heard of a resolution of this issue. The Company was instructed to increase revenues for the Company. The MATCH program was set up in 1987 to encourage better cooperation between Network and Customer Services with regard to customer sales. I was aware that in 1986 someone in the South Areas doubled the sales points awarded for the TIP campaign. I don't know who this person was or if it was approved by anyone. To the best of my knowledge the sales results for 1987, 1988, and 1989 were correct. A Tax Expense/Redemption report was sent to the operations managers by the Area Sales Coordinators quarterly. This form was generated by and was to be signed by the operations manager and forwarded to Comptrollers for the tax imputation. In 1986 we received a complaint from either North Broward of South Broward requesting that we look at the sales that were made by services technicians. We got some NRS 86 forms from both districts and reviewed them. We called the customers and found that on some of them, the customer was not contacted by the Services Technician. The findings were given verbally to both operations managers. No formal write up was produced and I don't know what action was taken. was my boss at the time and gave the findings to his operations managers. During my time as the South/Southeast Area Coordinator, I was not aware of any improprieties.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and two (2) other pages, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager-I&M, in the West Palm Beach District. My social security number is [redacted] I am 51 years old. I was born on I live at I have been informed by Mr. Robert Beatty, Corporate Attorney, Southern Bell, that he represents the corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that the interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege which belongs to and may be waived by the corporate entity. I helped organize the boiler room in the November time frame of 1988 at 1550 Haverhill Road, this is the Haverhill Central Office. The boiler room was located in my office. We ran from November through the end of 1988. There were eight or nine people working in the boiler room at any one time. I remember that of the Engineering Department, from the Division office, , Services Technician, and , Services Technician, worked in the boiler room for some period of time. I don't remember who the other people were. I started the sales program by using the Blue Book to get telephone numbers and then I pulled a DLR for the numbers. I took the DLR's to the employees for them to call and attempt to make a sale. I started this in the beginning of 1988 and would give the DLR's to I . In November, we continued doing this and increased the number of DLR's for the people in the boiler room. was on his own and did not work in the boiler room. would work from his house or go door to door in condos to make sales. was on light duty when I took the crew over and I just continued letting him make sales because he was good at it. The people that worked in the boiler room shared the points that were earned with everybody that worked under

I provided the sales codes for the employees to input for credit. I kept a record of who received the points and would equalize the amount among the employees in group. To my knowledge, worked on sales all of 1988 and 1989. I don't remember when, but I was aware of a complaint by a customer on a sale of told me that he could have made a mistake and wrote down the wrong telephone number because he sold such a high volume. I accepted his answer for that problem. The Business Office started complaining about the high number of sales slips, sometimes as many as 600 at one time that would be turned in to be input. They requested that I only turn in 100 to 200 at a time. I did this two times, but they never input them. I complained to and he set up the Dial America lines. sales slips would not be turned in every day, sometimes it was two weeks before he would turn them in. I remember that talked to me about a customer complaint on one of sales. I talked to about this and he said that he never wrote a sales slip that he didn't talk to the customer. I accepted this answer. The Business Office and had an agreement where they took credit for the Custom Calling Features and we took credit for the Wire Maintenance Plan for the sales they input for us. Sales points were given to the people in the Maintenance Center because said he needed sales points. I would take 100 or so points from and give them to Crampton's people. I received a stereo, a cruise and a metal shed from the sales program. I got other gifts, but I don't remember what they were. I believe that got a color TV for his sales. would turn in his sales once a week or once every two weeks. made as many as 50-60 sales per day. This would make sales slips that had to be input and the Business Office didn't like this. When the Business Office complained of not being able to input the sales because of the customers already having the service, they would return it to me directly or through On the ones I checked, I found the records didn't match on some of them. I took no other action on these referrals. I am not aware of any improprieties in the sales program. called me on October 25, 1990 and told me that Security was conducting an investigation into the sales program. That was all said to me about the investigation.

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on at Columbia, South Carolina. My social security number is [redacted] I have been employed by Southern Bell for 18 years. I am presently an Administrative Support Manager reporting t , Manager-I&M. I went to work outside in 1981. In 1988, I went to Royal Palm Beach in the North turf, West Palm Beach. With regards to sales, my people did house to house type sales contacts. Employees on light duty were put on telephone sales. There were also boiler room sales operations. As sales leads, they would use line records that indicted the customer did not have the maintenance plan. This was TIP, (Trouble Isolation Plan). Later on, the Wire Maintenance Plan was instituted and eventually the SEQ1X was instituted. This was a combination of TIP/WMP. During the year, I had this crew, , was my top salesman. In fact, he made 80 to 90% of all the sales in the crew. There were times when did installation and repair but he sold 80 to 90% of the time. There were times when I thought that should be on the workload instead of sales, but Butch employed sales and wanted on sales. was without a doubt the best salesman in West Palm Beach. did telephone sales from his home quite often, in fact most times, I visited his home or would call him there to check on him. Also, I would deliver DLR reports that he used for leads and I would also collect Sales Referral Slips documenting his sales. I would deliver the sales slips sometimes to office and other times to the 2021 Military Trail Business Office. was aware that was working sales from his home. This was not new to was already doing sales when I got him. During the time did sales for me, I may have received on the average of three complaints per month. The complaints were from customers who claimed they had never been called about adding extra charges to their bill. In particular, I recollect complaints where a sale was made on a disconnected number. I would always discuss the complaints with and he would always have valid reasons as to how this error may have happened. His rationale was always satisfactory. I would have discussed these complaints with . Many times, the complaints came through In my own mind, I always believed was calling customers to make his sales. I am not aware of any sale sampling conducted by the Business Office. At one time, arranged for and one other girl whose name I don't recall, to input referrals at 2021 Military Trail. did this because the Business Office complained about the volume we were generating. This arrangement lasted about three months in mid-1988. I am not aware that we ever sent referrals to Dial America. At one time, I believe we had sales quotas or commitments for sales in our PMCR. We held meetings where we compared our turf with South Broward, North Broward, South Palm Beach and the North turf in Palm Beach was always the highest. was probably responsible for half the sales in the Southeast area. was given the opportunity to sell more than others. I know tha would share some of his points with others in the crew, but never in large volumes. To my knowledge, never requested that points be transferred to others. I do not know for a fact, but I have heard that sometimes points were transferred to the maintenance center. I never saw any letters from the Business Office concerning the integrity of the Network sales program. Butch never talked to me about any such letters. I have received presents from the sales program as a result of sales by my crew. Specifically, an RCA portable TV, two bicycles and an exercise bike. Eighty (80) to ninety percent (90%) of points accredited to me resulted from sales. to my knowledge, always wrote up his own sales slips. I do not recall going around with flyers to apartment buildings while he worked for me. I was in the work center once, wher did not report to me, where he did use flyers. As I sit here today, I would have discussed it with if I thought that Bailey's integrity was questionable. I have been informed by that he represents the Corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that this interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege belongs to and may be waived by the Company. The interview is to be treated confidential. I cannot recall any other information pertaining to this matter at this time.

It was discussed in a meeting on how to improve sales for the district and we decided to use people that were on light duty. I did not operate the boiler room, all of my people worked on the load, except for who was on light duty for about two or three weeks in the end of 1988.

worked for me in 1989 from January until I was moved to my current job. was always on the load during this time and continued to have good sales. also worked for me on two other occasions, 1985 through 1987 and 1987 through 1988. During the 1987 through 1988 period, 's sales went to This was done by agreement amongst the foremen in 's group. 100 points a month were given to the Maintenance Center for the use of Pearl to do the inputting of sales. I did not agree with this, but it was done anyway. On three occasions, I was made aware of customer complaints, about sales and on all three I called the customer and was satisfied that he had done his job right. I told that I would not tolerate any cheating. He assured me that all of his sales were O.K. I felt that the Business Office did not like the amount of sales that the outside people were making. This is the reason that they didn't input the sales on time, they said they didn't get any work credit for it. I felt that they would wait until the people would call in again and then take credit for the sales. I believe that the Business Office would place service on customer's orders without the customer's knowledge. I knew the points were taken from sales and given to other Services Technicians to make it fair for all the Services Technicians because was selling all the time. I was never aware of any improprieties in the sales program. I heard about some problems with sales from the Business Office through said for us to make sure this was not happening. I was satisfied that nothing was wrong with the sales. I received an air pump and two small lamps from the sales program. I didn't make my commitment for sales in 1989.

Interview Of L Associate Staff Manager
(October 26, 1990)

Jacksonville, Florida

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to E. W. Reddick, who has identified herself as an Associate Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. I am forty-two years old, my birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. My immediate supervisor is _____, Manager-Network. I can be reached at 904-350-7921. From 1986 through 1988, I was the Network Sales Coordinator for North Florida. My responsibilities included planning sales campaigns and incentive awards, compiling sales results, providing training and support for the District Sales Coordinators and overall coordination of sales for this area. My counterpart was _____, who had the same responsibilities for South and Southeast Areas. In 1989, my job description changed, and I assumed additional staff responsibilities and I became the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida. It was understood that each area would have an employee designated to represent their interest with regard to the sales program, so _____ continued to be the Sales Coordinator for Southeast Florida and _____ assumed the sales responsibilities for South Florida. Prior to 1988, the Network Department implemented the same sales program that had been in effect for the Customer Services Department. It was my understanding that since this was a Company wide program, Headquarters wrote the guidelines and secured the necessary approvals for the awards. I recall a Company wide sales contest in 1987, which awarded a Caribbean cruise to the four employees in each area that produced the most sales. Headquarters in Atlanta coordinated this sales contest and awarded the prizes. We subsequently received approval from Headquarters to write our own guidelines for individual sales contests. These guidelines would include the respective point scale and associated prize list. The guidelines were routed to Comptrollers, Personnel, Network, General Managers and Mr. Crittenden, Vice-President-Network/Florida, for their concurrence and approval. I recall on one occasion, _____ wrote guidelines for a sales contest for South and Southeast Florida. The top prize was a cruise to the Caribbean on a private yacht. I believe _____ went on this cruise as a chaperon or in appreciation for coordinating the contest. I also recall a sales campaign for 1988 that offered a cruise to the Caribbean. This sales campaign, although it had been approved, was subsequently canceled due to budget restraints. I have no knowledge of any manager in any district awarding additional points or prizes. From 1986 through March 1990, when GoldLine went into effect, I was contacted from time to time by Customer Services Managers with inquiries or complaints regarding the sales referrals. Since I maintained the master list of sales codes assigned to all employees in the State, the managers called me to obtain the name of the supervisor of the craft person whose sales code appeared on the referral. They preferred to deal directly with these managers. There were occasions when I referred complaints. I usually contacted the first line supervisors. I rarely received feedback, nor was there any follow-up to determine the disposition of the complaints or to document the contacts. It was not my understanding that my responsibilities included assuring the validity of the individual sales. I don't recall any contact with regarding questionable sales made by their employees. I do recall referring a complaint from Daytona Beach Assistant Manager to regarding questionable sales made by . I contacted direct because the Sales Coordinator for the Orlando District, was not available. I don't recall discussing with any allegedly questionable sales made by

In October of 1989, I recall being contacted by Assistant Staff Manager-Customer Services/Southeast Florida, regarding questionable sales referrals that had been received in the West Palm Beach Customer Services Office. During this time frame, we were also utilizing the services of Dial America, an Atlanta, Georgia company, that was engaged to assist in the processing of our service orders. Dial America would periodically send me sales referrals that they were not able to input into the system. Sometimes, it was because our Customer Services Records indicated that the customer already was subscribing to the service indicated on the referral. In connection with the contact from I received between 500 and 600 sales referrals from Dial America that they could not process. These sales referrals had been generated within a two month period by Services Technician These sales appeared to be questionable because they included entire apartment complexes or all residents in a two block radius. I discussed this matter with my manager, . We felt the proper way to handle the matter was to go through the lines of organization. I recall several telephone conversations with a female Pay Grade 4, whose name I can't remember, regarding this matter. She reported to Operations Manager, .. I also believe that y spoke with regarding this matter. The only response we received was a telephone call from the Pay Grade 4 advising that the matter had been handled and it would not happen again. These sales referrals were kept in this office until about a month ago, at which time they were destroyed. I subsequently reissued a memorandum to the Operations Manager advising the sales referrals should be forwarded direct to Dial America, who would in turn, refer them to me for review and resolution for any further processing problems. To my knowledge, Dial America did not make any customer contacts. After this incident, I didn't receive any additional sales referrals from Dial America for the same type of problem. I have no knowledge that this particular incident was escalated to a manager higher than

I have read the above typed statement consisting of three pages and the information is true to the best of my knowledge.

All of the sales campaigns were submitted for the appropriate approval levels in each department. A copy of these documents should be archived. It was brought to my attention that Manager-Metro I&M, had terminated three Technicians for adding service to customer lines without the customer's knowledge. I think this was in 1987. I do not have knowledge of any impropriety involving the sales campaigns. Concerns relative to the sales campaigns focused around the untimeliness of processing referral forms by the Business Office. This was discussed on several occasions by Network people. The North Broward District resolved a concern involving revenue per employee base, there was no formal write up on this issue.

I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to E. W. Reddick, who has identified herself as an Associate Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. My date of birth is . I . My social security number is [redacted] My net credited service date is September 16, 1968. I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone Company. I am a manager in the Network Department. My responsibilities include staff functions associated with Installation and Maintenance forces in the North Florida Area. Assistant Manager-Network reports to me. In 1989, one of responsibilities was to serve as the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida. Sometime in 1989, I don't remember exactly when, referred a matter to me involving some sales referrals that she received from Dial America. Dial America is an independent company that is under contract with Southern Bell to assist in areas such as telemarketing and the processing of sales referrals for our equipment and features. I think this company has been under contract since the 1985-86 time frame. I know they've been available to process Network sales referrals for several years, as the volume demanded. I think during this 1985-86 time frame, all sales campaigns for Southern Bell were being developed by the Headquarters Network staff office in Atlanta. They may have been instrumental in hiring this company. I believe our Headquarters staff contact at that time was She has gotten married since then and changed her last name. Also, other managers have been assigned to this position since then. I don't recall married name. In 1989, South Florida had a match program, whereby, sales points were split between the Customer Services employee and the Network employee that referred the sale. Network employees could also call their sales referrals direct to Dial America via a 1-800 number and receive full credit and sale points on some features. advised me she had received some sales referrals from Dial America that appeared to be questionable. Some of the sales were for items the customer was already subscribing to. Also, it appeared that the addresses on the orders were for an entire apartment building or residences in close proximity to one another. In the same time frame, had also been contacted by a South Florida Customer Services Manager named regarding similar sales referrals her office was trying to process. The sales had been generated in the West Palm Beach District. After checking the sales codes, it was determined that the employee making the sales reported to I don't remember the name of the employee or his first line manager. I felt should be made aware of what was going on. I telephoned him and advised him Sutton had received some questionable sales referrals from Dial America generated by one of his employees. These sales were never processed and employees were not credited with sale points didn't seem to be aware of these questionable sales. mentioned that his District Manager, had scheduled a meeting to discuss the issue of questionable sales. I don't recall if requested any specific information on the referrals in question. The purpose of my call was just as a matter of information to advise it appeared he had a problem in his area. I don't recall receiving any feedback concerning this incident either from or I assumed the matter had been handled by and if any feedback was offered would get the call. To my knowledge, was the highest level manager we contacted regarding this incident. Our office kept the referrals we received from Dial. However, they were destroyed when some files were purged about a month ago.

I have read the above statement and it is true and correct as I remember it. I have made corrections as indicated and signed by both pages.

a registered letter from Benefits saying Benefits were being terminated the day after Thanksgiving. I called who told me to call , who told me to call said if I can drive, report to the 68 Central Office for sales. The following Monday, I reported to the 68 Office and at that time, I came back on light duty with a cast on my left leg. At the time, I was reporting to This sales operation was referred to as a boiler room operation. I did not fill out my time sheets at this time. I have no idea how my time was coded. During the time I sold, the results were spread around to different foremens' crews. When I sold something, I don't recall putting my sales codes on the slips. I learned to use the DLR and got my leads from this. I never really was instructed on how to sell. I have always been a natural for selling. I won a lot of sales awards up north when I worked for C & P of Virginia. When I filled out a sales referral, I would put a check mark on the slip. I would also put the name of the person on the slip. I would give the sales referral to 's secretary. I only worked at the 68 Central Office for two or three days and then was sent to Port Road. There was not a boiler room operation at that time so we started this one. I remember orking at Port Road. would come to the boiler room to see how everything was going. He would bring us sodas on some of his visits. I never sa at the boiler room and I worked there approximately one month. I believe started the boiler room operation after he heard other second levels were taking people off the loads to do the same thing. I believe it was he was in competition with at the time. I do not know or where he works. During the time I was on sales, I never put one item on a sales referral that a customer did not authorize. I also don't believe any people I was associated with put any unauthorized items on sales slips. Also, during this time, there was never any pressure put on me to get any quota never asked to do anything unethical or to make any amount of contacts in one day. I believe and I were good at selling and we probably averaged about 10 to 12 sales a day per person.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed the first three pages.

My social security number is [redacted] I was born on and my net credited service date is July 22, 1974. I live at My home telephone number is . The Union said they either couldn't get or they couldn't talk to him and there was nothing they could do. I worked there for a couple of months on and off. While I was there, I paired with and we worked as a team. was the person that told us what do. I think would pull up DLRs and would drop them off for us to separate and identify the ones that didn't have the Wire Maintenance Plan. I would then call customers to try and sell them the Wire Maintenance Plan. The only thing we sold was the Wire Maintenance Plan, that's what I was told to do. I tried to sell five a day, but I couldn't do it all the time. I asked either or F if I could take credit for my sales. I was told no, that I could not and that I could not give them to any of my friends that worked outside. I don't know where the sales points went to except that they all counted for I never received any gifts for my sales work. The Company took us to lunch around Christmas time, I don't know who paid for this. When I made a sale, I would write on the DLR either "Mr. or Mrs. O.K. to add" and placed it in the pile to be picked up at the end of the day. I talked to every customer I sold the Maintenance Plan to. I wasn't aware of any wrongdoing in the District. I did all of my sales from the Haverhill Central Office. I think [redacted] may have done some selling from her house, but I'm not sure. During the time I worked at the Haverhill Office, [redacted] came in at least one time, that was the first day I was there. I, [redacted], hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at [redacted]. I subscribe to telephone number [redacted].

I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician on home dispatch. My date of birth is [redacted] and social security number is [redacted]. My net credited service date is December 26, 1980. In 1987, I was involved in the sales program for approximately the last three months of 1987. I was at the 68 Central Office on the second floor which was called the boiler room. At that time, I worked for [redacted]. I don't recall how I got into the program. I probably asked to get into it. At the time I was at the 68 Office, we shared all the sales points with the district. I did not put any sales codes on the referrals when I made a sale. Also at the time of sales, I do not recall how I coded my time. While in the boiler room, we would tell a clerk to take certain streets from the blue book and then input these numbers in the DLR to get potential sales. During the time of sales, I was never instructed as to how to sell. I basically had my own sales pitch prior to the 68 Office. While I was at the 68 Office when new girls would come in, I would explain the Maintenance Plan because they had no knowledge of the wiring. I was not in charge of directing anyone to sell, I was just helping out. When I made a sale, I would put a customer's name and address on the sales referral and checked the item sold. I then passed the referrals along to be evenly distributed. I don't recall who started the sales program at the 68 Office. While I was working there, I remember seeing [redacted]. During the time I was in the boiler room, I remember [redacted] coming up to the office. I never saw [redacted] during this time or [redacted]. Also during the time at the 68 Office, I would see [redacted] once or twice pick up DLR referrals. I did see [redacted] sales referrals in [redacted] office. I was never asked to do anything unethical while selling at the 68 Central Office by anyone. All of my sales were made by contacting the customer.

Interview Of [redacted], Drafting Clerk

(October 30, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson, who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at and subscribe to telephone number . I am employed by Southern Bell in West Palm Beach as a Drafting Clerk and my net credited service date is April 5, 1975. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. In my usual job, I report to the Engineering Office at 326 Fern Street in West Palm Beach, but for about two weeks a couple of years ago, I was assigned to a sales program. As I recall, about two years ago my supervisor, came to me and told me I was being assigned to the sales program. This assignment was not made by seniority, and I really don't know how or why I was selected. I was just told to report the next day to the Haverhill Central Office (C.O.) at 1550 N. Haverhill Road, West Palm Beach, and when I arrived there the following day, I ended up working in an office on the second floor of the C.O.. I was there for a few days before returning to my regular job at Fern Street, and then a short time later, I went back to the C.O. for a few more days. All together, I believe I was working at the C.O. for about two weeks. On my first day at the C.O., gave me and some other workers a briefing on what we were to try to sell. explained the TIPS program and how a customer on the program could avoid being billed for a large repair problem on his service if he needed repairs. Others present at the C.O. while I was there were who are also from my Fern Street office, and some other people like I d, a black man whose last name is , a black female name who normally works in office, an outside worker, a man with reddish-blond hair, and an outside girl who normally worked in the Boynton Beach area. We were each given a printout and told to call the subscribers whose account information was on the printout and then try to sell them the TIPS program. If they agreed to accept the plan, they would be charged an extra couple dollars a month on their telephone bills, and would be entitled to repair service without additional charge. If we sold TIPS to a customer, we had to fill out a multi-copy form with account information on the customer. These forms 4 were placed in a stack and picked up by As I recall, I was given a printout of customers in the Lake Worth Central Office (58) area to call. I do not recall if the information on the form was in telephone numerical order or what, but I do know that the customers' names were on the form, and that we could address the customers by name. I believe that I spoke to an average of 20 to 30 customers per day, and also reached busy signals, answering machines, and no answers. Lake Worth has many seasonal residents and elderly people, and when I actually reached someone to talk to, I could spend 20 minutes on the telephone with them trying to make the sale. I do not have a customer contact or sales background. I do not feel we were given much training for sales in that if a customer asked about something other than TIPS, I did not know how to answer them. I do not enjoy selling, especially to old people who probably can't afford the service and who may never use it. At the time I was involved in the sales effort, some outside workers had already been involved for some time. I believe they had been selling while on the job in the field, and may have been going door to door to see customers or canvasing people as a part of their usual repair or installation jobs. I never heard of any employees working or making sales calls from their own homes. After my first few days in the sales job, I asked to go back to my regular job because I did not enjoy selling, and I wasn't very good at it. I did return to my Fern Street job for a while, but was then sent back to the C.O. sales job. I preferred being back in my regular job, plus I felt some of my co-workers might be better at sales, and that they might be upset if they were not allowed to go to the sales job. I believe I was sent back to my regular job the second time due to the workload at the Fern Street office. On an average day at the sales office, there were probably six people on the telephone all day long trying to make sales to customers. We each had our printouts to call from, and forms to complete if we made a sale. I did not have a sales code for myself so I could not put one on the form for my sales. I did put my initials on my forms, but I never received any sales points, sales credits, or gifts, or anything for my sales. I never even heard about sales credits or gifts at that time. I do not know if a sales code was placed on my forms after I turned them in. I never filled out a sales form unless I spoke to the involved customer and actually sold him the TIPS plan. I am not aware of any employee claiming sales when the involved customers were not contacted and had not agreed to accept the TIPS plan. Our stack of forms was never that big and the people in the office were always on the telephone trying to sell the plan. Concerning management employees that I recall seeing at the C.O. Sales office, I remember : being there and that's all. I knew that was involved in the sales plan, but I never saw him at the C.O.. I do not recall seeing any other managers there besides I do not know any employee named Dave Bailey by name or by description. Concerning my time sheets for the period I was involved with the sales plan, I do not know how my time was reported. As I recall, we only submitted time sheets then if we were on vacation, or ill, or doing something other than our normal work assignment. I did not submit any time sheets for my time at the C.O., and I do not know if my supervisor did or not.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and six (6) other handwritten pages, and to the best of my knowledge this is true and correct. I have initialed each page.

[redacted] worked for me for no more than a month in either 1988 or 1989. He worked sales and troubles during this time. I only saw him a few times because he was selling. I didn't receive any points from [redacted]'s sales because it was a transitional period between crews. As far as I know [redacted] used DCW's, the phone book and the blue book to make sales calls. I attended monthly meetings in the [redacted] office and sales were discussed and I was encouraged to make sales and to have my crew make sales. I was never aware of any wrongdoing in the sales program.

14 I, , voluntarily furnish Del Castellanos, who has identified himself to as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I am presently employed as an Associate Manager in the Network staff. I have been employed by Southern Bell since November 6, 1972. My social security number is [redacted] and my date of birth is .

20 21 On this date, I was interviewed by Associate Manager-Security Del Castellanos and questioned on my role as Area Sales Coordinator of the Maintenance Sales Plan. My involvement in this plan was minimal and I would like to discuss, to the best of my recollection, what I remember about it. Sometime in 1989, a program called "Network Florida League (NFL) Sales Campaign" was created to try to boost up employee sales. I was designated the local coordinator and attended the kick off meeting of which I have pictures and which I believe took place in May of 1989. I did not conduct any training on any of this, as the field forces sent their own representatives to this meeting. On June 1, 1989, I sent a 32 small memo to Assistant Manager-Miami\Metro and 33 , Manager-I&M\SSMIM South Dade. The reason for my sending this memo out was that they called me to obtain information on what was said at the kick off meeting, as both of them were supposed to be there but neither of them made it. I have provided Castellanos with copies of these memos as well as two pictures taken during the kick off meeting. As I remember, there were two other contacts in the state that had been involved with sales for a considerable time. One was in North Florida and the other was in Southeast Florida. As I recall, Liz Sutton was the one basically running the show and I saw myself as supporting her locally. I never received any reports of sales and I have no idea who was selling what. It is my understanding that the local turf sales coordinators sent whatever reports were required directly to her. One thing that comes to mind was that when asked whether I knew of any local companies where she could buy some of the gifts, I volunteered "Overseas Electronics" because I had gone to school with one of the owners and gotten some good deals there myself. I understand that subsequently the company filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy and did not deliver on some items that had been paid for, but, of course, I had no way of knowing that would happen or why it happened. I later learned that we paid for some merchandise in advance and asked Overseas Electronics to keep it in storage for us until we were ready to deliver the gifts and when bankruptcy was filed, some of our items were lost. I have no personal knowledge of any disciplinary action taken against anyone because of fictitious sales. I never had anyone come to me with complaints of any kind or hints that someone may be illegally taking credits for sales. In summary, my involvement in this program consisted of a pre-kick off meeting with and , attending the kick off meeting itself and sending out the letter of June 1, 1989 to a. After this, I recall a couple of conference calls to discuss the termination of this program and its replacement with one where Marketing would be in control and I have had no involvement whatsoever with sales since then.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and two pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

I am employed by Southern Bell as a Manager-IMC at 120 North K Street. My date of birth is and social security number is My net credited service date is January of 1979. On October 1987, I transferred from Ft. Lauderdale to the West Palm Beach Maintenance Center in Hypoluxo, Florida. Sometime in the latter part of 1987 or early 1988, a sales program was initiated to sell the TIPS Program. I remember at that time there was a great deal of pressure put on to generate sales. It was a joint effort and I was asked to loan to help administratively. She went to the 68 Central Office to help at the boiler room on the second floor. Since I loaned to we agreed I would get so many sales a month in return. I don't recall how many, but they would be sent to my office. I would give them to a clerk to distribute evenly among the supervisory people in the Maintenance Center. These sales referrals generated sales points and I would get so many as a Manager. I remember getting tennis shoes, lots of socks, a fire extinguisher, watch and a Dust Buster. I don't believe was aware of the sales referrals being sent to me by . I never personally participated in conducting any sales. I went to the 68 Central Office to get some sales referrals on one occasion. I remember at one point, the Business Office was upset at the amount of sales referrals being sent for typing. P then informed me of an 800 number to call to get the referrals input. I don't recall who established the telephone number. We would have meetings with C and the other second levels. He would stress sales at these meetings, but he never advocated cheating. He would occasionally send a memo to try and increase sales. I know from 1983. During this sales promotion, I would occasionally page when I needed sales referrals at the end of the month. F would tell me to page him. would then send them in the mail to me. I had heard a rumor that was selling out of his house. I don't know this for a fact. I don't believe would cheat. I also don't think would advocate cheating. I also don't have any knowledge o ; ever going to the boiler room. When I loaned to , I loaned her on paper so I have no idea how her time was coded. I do feel during this sales promotion some of the "walking wounded" should have been in the field instead of on sales. I think everyone was aware of the boiler room including Approximately two weeks ago, ; came back from a staff meeting. He mentioned some Services Technicians that had generated some high sales were fired. There was a conference call to and ; bringing this to their attention. He asked if they were aware of any similar sales without contacting customers in their area and they said no.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and three other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed the first three pages and all corrections.

said privilege. Further that this communication is to remain confidential. With regards to the Palm Beach County D.O.C. meeting, I am the Chairman and as such, I run said meetings. Normally, at the beginning of each meeting, I cover items of relevance to all attendees. Following that, we take turns around the table wherein each manager discusses sales results, service results and PSC complaints within or involving their organization. I recall that sometime in 1987, while ran the Customer Service Center in West Palm Beach, we experienced several PSC complaints that experienced a lot of attention. Specifically, the complaints were directed at Service Representatives that had added features to customer's service without their authorization. Concerning the January 10, 1990 D.O.C. meeting, I recall that said meeting was the first combined meeting of Broward and Palm Beach County D.O.C.s. I have been shown the minutes for said meeting and item 19 states "All PSC cases were reviewed in detail". I have also been shown letter dated January 2, 1990 depicting PSC complaints closed in December 1989. In particular, page 2 of the attachment, last line customer name is a complaint concerning the TIP and Wire Maintenance Plan. A check mark following this complaint would indicate that this item was discussed. There were other PSC complaints on this report that I check marked as having been discussed. Inasmuch as was present at this meeting and since this complaint belonged to him, then I must assume that he discussed this item. This would be the normal course of business.

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Paul A. Johnson, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. My date of birth is and social security number is [redacted] My net credited service date is May of 1970. In March 1989, I was transferred to the West Palm Beach Business Office. I became aware of the sales problem the first time when I saw stacks of sales referrals and the potential wrongdoing just through sheer volume. I went to and asked her to do a representative sample of the sales referrals. The result was almost 100% of the customers did not get contacted, didn't order the Maintenance Plan or did not want the Maintenance Plan. Of these customers, two of them were Service Representatives and they were upset when told. Also, some of the customers had disconnected their service prior to the sales date. I believe did a second sampling and the results were basically the same. I told to take whatever action she thought appropriate including telling that if he didn't like her refusal to issue orders he could call me or have his brass call me. I supporte appropriately and strongly. I don't know the date, but I called General Manager-Customer Services, to inform him of a large scale problem with Network Sales. I gave him the same examples as above. I told him I couldn't afford to take on a pay grade 7 or 8 and asked him to do what ever appropriat did such things as GoldLine to preclude this kind of activity from happening again. I then contacted my three managers asked if they had the same problem. said "No", said she didn't see the problem saw. brought in GoldLine which stopped sales incentive plans in otner departments. October 31, 1990

I, I , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. Reference is made to my statement of October 30, 1990. It should be noted that this is a continuation or clarification of certain points in said statement. Mr. Robert Beatty had advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege which is a privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. Mr. Beatty further requested that the entire substance of this interview remain confidential. In response to specific questions regarding the Network Sales Referral Program, I can offer the following. I transferred to West Palm Beach in my present position as Operations Manager-Customer Services, in March 1989. More specifically, March 15, 1989. Within 60 days of being on this job, I became aware of a stack of sales referral forms from the Network Department. What was alerting of this was the sheer volume of referrals. The number of sales in that stack far exceeded the number of sales that a good Service Representative could do in an equal period of time. I was to believe that a Services Technician could, with limited sales experience, outsell an experienced Service Representative.

shared with me her feelings that those stacks were "assumptive" sales; meaning that an assumption may have been made that the customer would want the service and was, therefore, never contacted. I should point out that these sales were for the Wire Maintenance Plan. I am not aware who in Network was responsible for the sales, the name does not mean anything to me. I requested th conduct a sampling of these referrals to identify customer acceptance for the service. She instructed her subordinates on how to do said sample. The findings were that 100% or nearly 100% of the customers contacted had not been sold the service, nor did they want to buy it at this time. told me that upon referring her findings to Butch Olsen, he had responded that no sample she made could be large enough to disprove the validity of the sales. I again asked to do a second sample. This one was about 50 customers that were sampled with the same results as before. I recall that in some of the samples, the customer's service had been disconnected prior to the date of the alleged sales contact by Network. I also recall a couple of sales referrals involving Service Representatives' residence service. This, in itself, appeared inconsistent because if the Service Representatives were told to add any features or additional services to their lines, they would sell it to themselves. I recall tellin that she should contact n and advise him of her findings. Further, to tell him that we would not be able to process those sales referrals in our possession because we doubted their integrity and considered them assumptive sales. I also told that she was to tell that if he had problems with our decision, he could call me or have his General Manager, G , call me. It should be noted that in spite of returning large amounts of sales referrals and refusing to input any others, I never did receive any calls from or concerning this decision. Pursuant to this time frame and around the summer of 1989, I called my boss, a, and discussed in detail with him my concern with the above described condition. I told him all that we had done and requested that he should bridge the subject at his level with the Network Department. The relationship at my level of management with Network is such that I felt more could be accomplished at the General level to resolve this problem. I recall that n acknowledged the problem, giving me the impression that he was aware and was attempting to correct it. In the course of this telephone conversation, the name of came up. as indicating that while attempting to establish GoldLine with an expected deployment date of January 1, 1990, he had run into problems with Network not wanting to give up their sales programs. name came up in this context. GoldLine was designed to bring together all sales programs into one plan where gifts and awards would be equally disbursed to any and all departments. The sales programs in the Network Department were driven by incentives or awards that were much higher than any program our department ever had. It is my sense that maybe the incentive awards drove the behavior that resulted in this problem. The other sales driver was the higher management motivation to enhance revenue. I am not sure that the value of awards associated with the Network Sales Program was being recuperated by the value of services sold. In other words, it may have cost more than the revenue received. I recall talking our staff wherein she initiated a document to Network with respect to the integrity of their sales. I do not possess said document but believe that Carrano should have it in her files. With regard to my telephone call to L. E. Spradlin, I believe there were several avenues he could pursue. I never discussed this with him again and I am not aware of what he did with this with the exception of GoldLine. did not instruct me to discuss this with My understanding was that he would talk to . GoldLine, in my opinion, could not have happened without a meeting of the minds of general level managers. There was no exchange of correspondence from me to anyone with regard to this matter. With regard to a Network employee inputting their own orders out of one of my units, I can state that I became aware of it at some point in time. I do not know how this got started, but I do know that no one called me to arrange for said operation. I personally did not have a problem with it. In the absence of dealing directly with the problem and if that approach was not possible, than maybe Network should input their own sales referrals.

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I have been informed by Mr. Robert Beatty, Corporate Attorney, Southern Bell, that he represents the corporate entity and he is not acting as the attorney for any individual, that the interview is subject to the attorney-client privilege and that the privilege which belongs to and may be waived by the corporate entity. Please treat the interview as confidential. I am employed by Southern Bell as an Operations Manager-Switching/Southeast. My social security number is [redacted], my date of birth is My home telephone number i I live at . My net credited service date is March 5, 1965. I was aware of the Network Sales Program that started in 1987. had just come up from Miami, replacing as General Manager. The sales program had started while was in Miami and there was some discussion about the way the sales points would be divided. The sales program was an attempt to increase the revenue generated by the non-traditional sales groups, like I&M. It was unique because points were accumulated at all levels, from craft through the General Manager. The motivation was for the General Manager and Operations Manager to go on a cruise as a result of the sales that were made by their people. was concerned about how to carry his points from Miami to the Southeast Area when he replaced put a lot of pressure on the turf managers to make sales. He made it a point to cover sales during staff meetings and to make symbolic awards and gifts to the high and low selling turfs. said we are competing and I want to be number one had and or prepare the awards for the high and low turf. The focus was on the I&M group to make sales. I never placed emphasis on the sales plan myself. I believe that the awards and gifts that were given out in the sales plan were more costly that the revenue that was generated by the sales. As a result of the sales program, and went on a cruise with I was not aware of a boiler room operation in the Haverhill Central Office. This is one of the Central Offices that I am responsible for and the use of floor space should have been cleared through me. Network already had an office in the building. I believe that because of competition, the boiler room was a way for them to compete. The implication was clear that wanted to be on the trip, however, he never asked that anybody break the rules. The integrity of the sales program was never discussed. wanted to be number one and was preoccupied with getting results at all costs. I don't feel a boiler room operation can happen at the first level. Maybe not the second level without the third level being aware of it. In the staff meetings, only the total sales bottom line was discussed. would get a breakdown of the sales results down to the individual for high sales. As a manager, if I had on individual who had 99% of the total sales, I would want to know how he was doing it. I do not feel you can give preferential treatment for individuals in a sales plan. GoldLine was not welcomed. The old plan was more popular with the people. According t GoldLine was to bring more people into one plan as opposed to having several plans such as Match, etc. A PSC complaint would have been discussed at the D.O.C. meeting by Gene Davis if it had been handled by his group.

Presently I am a Manager-I&M in West Palm Beach reporting to _____ Operations Manager-Network. Mr. Robert Beatty has advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. It should be noted that this interview began on the afternoon of October 31, 1990, and was suspended at approximately 7:45 P.M. of the same day. The interview was resumed at approximately 9:30 A.M. on November 1, 1990. I have been told this interview is to be maintained confidential and I agree to this request. In response to the question presented to me, I offer the following: I was assigned to my present position during the fourth quarter of 1987 as I&M Manager. Coinciding with this assignment were Mr. Gene Davis' assignment to West Palm Beach and _____ Singer's assignment to Southeast Florida. During one of the first staff meetings that I attended, _____ said that sales were very high priority. He said we wanted to be the best for _____ because he wanted us to be the best. _____ also indicated that he wanted to be first because he wanted to beat _____ We all agreed, during that meeting, that we would set up a boiler room and this would be a team effort by all managers who contributed or polled our resources. Sometime following this meeting, I held my first staff meeting with my people where I told all of my people that we were to set up a boiler room operation for the purpose of sales. and said that the Business Office steals at least half of our sales, and that this effort was futile. What the connotation was that regardless of our efforts, half of our sales would be lost to the Business Office. Later on, came back and told me that he understood the position that I was placed in, that he realized I was in the dark with regards to I&M and the sales program, and that he would help me with it. He indicated that we would do volume sales using the cross reference directory. took the lead in this effort, he has always been a high achiever. We set it up where we took telephone numbers from the cross reference or the blue book, and then we pulled DLR's associated with those telephone numbers. All of the managers participated and provided people jobs to initiate and maintain the sales programs. Some of the folks pulled the DLR's, some made telephone calls, and others couriered sales forms from Lakeside to the boiler rooms and other places. We shared points with 200 or so people in the entire district. divided up the DLR's and also divided up the points selecting sales codes for different sales meaning that they shared the points. job varied. Many times she would pull the DLR's, other times she would deliver the DLR's, other times she would take the sales referral forms and distribute the points, and at one point she would also input the sales referral forms to the IBOSS record. also checked against the IBOSS, the sale. If the customer already had the Maintenance Plan, she would not input the sale and would return the sales form to the foreman to be discussed with the person that made the actual sale. Usually the sale was input the same day or the following day and this was the usual norm. My objective was to insure that the sole project would be expedited so as to get the whole job done. Everyone in the sales campaign had a job to do and made an effort to get the complete job done. It should be noted that the boiler room operation and the entire sales effort was done with the knowledge and agreement of In connection with record discrepancies, of my Staff, completed a study that showed that our data base from where we pulled DLR's was not in accord with IBOSS records. One study in particular showed a 6% discrepancy. This is where the customers either already had the Wire Maintenance Plan on their line or their line was disconnected. In fact the 6% figure did not come from a study, but it was an answer to a question by myself of a Service Representative in the Business Office, and it was merely a figure off the top of her head. I cannot recall the name of the clerk that I approached in the Business Office with regards to the 6% discrepancy. I, in fact, have contacted customers from sales referrals that were returned to me from the Business Office because the customer had already had the Maintenance Plan or for some other reason could not be credited as a sale. I recall having made on numerous occasions, maybe five occasions, where upon each time I might have contacted two, three, or five customers. I cannot recall for certain. My findings of those test calls were that, yes the customer had been called; I never did reach any customer that had not been called. I do not recall when I made those calls nor do I have any documents that support my having made those calls or the results of those calls. At one point in time, the number of people associated with the boiler room or the sales program in my district reached approximately 25 people. This was out of a group of about 550 people in the district. Again agreed that everyone would contribute to the sales effort by giving up people from their staffs such as those staff from I believe that these managers also had other efforts from their individual shops besides the boiler room and the sales program operation that I was running. In fact, agreed to give up a clerk from his own office, that being Initially the boiler room operation was set up in the Broadway Work Center. This only lasted approximately one week because the acoustics in the Work Center were so poor that it was difficult to talk to customers. The boiler room was then moved to the Haverhill Central Office and it was selected because it was the only place that at that time we knew we could place such an operation. We utilized the floor space that was for PCS work. I do not recall if was approached with regards to asking for his permission or authorization for utilization of Central Office space for the boiler room operation. At the time, was a Services Technician who was Relieving Supervisor for the buried wire PSC. as placed in charge of the boiler room by myself. I would talk to ; and sometimes to other members of the boiler room regarding the boiler room operation. All my actions were concerning monitoring the job. The boiler room went on for several months having started in the third quarter of 1987 and going through sometime during the first quarter of 1988. I spoke to on a daily basis, or with a of his Staff, concerning cumulative results of the boiler room operation. I recall using words, either with during these conversations or with my people during meetings, that with regards to the sales programs I used words to the affect that we would not do anything illegal, immoral, or unethical. Sales had a dark closet connotation, and I used the words loosely having no reason nor motivation for the use of those words. I did however use them as a message for people to do the right thing. The connotation of those words were both seriously and used jokingly as well. was the bookkeeper of the boiler room, meaning that she kept track of all of the points and the sales referrals, things of that nature. At about the same period of time, was aware that Services Technicians were challenged that if they could sell $200.00 or more individually in a month, they would be invited, along with a guest, to attend a banquet at Bonnets Lodge, a private hunting lodge. There was a cocktail hour followed by a buffet dinner. I cannot recall the exact date, but it was late in 1987 or early in 1988. This banquet was coordinated by . The voucher was billed directly to shop where he would have signed off on it. was a member of Bonnets Lodge and this is how we may have gained access for this function. Attending were myself and my foremen, and all Services Technicians, total of about 75 Company employees plus their guests. We may have had a total of 100 people or more at that dinner. Following the break up of the boiler room and the first quarter of 1988, the emphasis was now placed by Office back on results. During the time of the boiler room, results were so bad that it was felt that it was probably a good time to do sales, results could not get much worse. In fact, the results did get worse as a result of the boiler room. As I recall, stated, "The load is going to have to take a back seat to sales." In relation to this quote and in talking with my peers with regards to this matter, we could not believe that we were letting the turf go down the tubes. These were all impromptu discussions. had come back from a meeting with , and indicated that sales were his number one priority. One of the criteria for being assigned to the boiler was to be on light duty. However that was not always the case inasmuch as we did utilize people off the load that would have been able to work otherwise. During the 1988 contest, there would still be an emphasis on sales, but we wanted to utilize only people that could not do their job because of physical conditions and were in fact on light duty. We won the 1987 contest and we also won the 1988 contest. The 1988 contest did not involve boiler room operations, however; sales were made in a programmed selling style from different locations by individuals. The 1988 contest lasted from June of 1988 through November of 1988. As a result of belt tightening, had indicated that the winners of the 1988 contest would not be announced and would not be awarded, and in fact, the cruise for 1988 was canceled. Our motivation for sales was not only the cruise, we sold because of boss wanted us to sell. As a result of winning the 1987 sales campaign, we received a cruise of the Virgin Islands. Many of the managers attended said cruise, from West Palm Beach, along with his wife, and his wife and myself and my wife On Saturday, previous to the cruise, the three of us and our wives were transported by limousine from West Palm Beach to the Miami Airport Hilton where we attended a banquet to celebrate our winning the contest. On the following day, Sunday, we flew to St. Thomas where upon five sailboats were leased to accommodate all the people on the cruise. There was approximately four couples per sailboat. The sailing took about five days in the Virgin Islands. On Friday we returned from St. Thomas, flying into Miami, and again were transported by limousine back to West Palm Beach. This cruise was coordinated by The sales in December of 1987 exceeded $50,000.00 in my district. The boiler room operation was obviously a lot more profitable due to revenues. The volume was lower in 1988 than in 1987 because we did not use a boiler room in 1988. Still in 1988, the sales in my district were higher than other areas. I would compare our area to Orlando, Miami, North Broward, and those were the ones I would look at because they were highest and Orlando always stood out. Since the emphasis in 1988 changed back the results, the question of boiler rooms never came up to be utilized. Returning to the time frame of the boiler room, a Services Technician who was Relieving Supervisor, his wife reported to at the Business Office at 2021 Military Trail. volunteered that he had worked out an agreement with his wife to allow to input Network Sales Referrals on an IBOSS terminal at the Business Office. I do not recall discussing this arrangement with , it was somewhat of an unspoken understanding that she and I both knew of the arrangement. would take all of the sales forms, drive to the Business Office daily, she would be signed unto IBOSS by someone unknown to me, and she would proceed to input. also did inputting to this IBOSS. I believe I had mentioned to that I worked out an arrangement to the Business Office to input our own sales referrals. I also recall, later on, there was a grievance from Vice President Local Union, as a result to having Network clerks doing service representatives' work and they were to be paid a differential. in fact, filed a grievance on behalf of the Local after the boiler room was over. During the first quarter of 1988, the inputting of sales referrals responsibility was transferred from Inasmuch as the Maintenance Plan did not generate revenue for the Business Office and features such as Call Waiting and others did, we agreed with the Business Office that we would give them all of our feature sales in exchange for them inputting or allowing us to input ourselves for the Wire Maintenance Plan. At some point in time, and because of the change in the first quarter from to we started taking our referrals to After the boiler operation was stopped, I either delivered the sales referrals or sent them by Company mail myself. I recall that group had asked not to hold referrals to prevent any back logs inputting. Problems did start when we started taking referrals to Shirley originated memos to me, however I do not recollect the contents of those memos. I received two and three memos from I never responded to Shirley in writing to those memos, I felt it was better to respond verbally to because she was not in Network. Shirley's questions were to do with the large volume of sales believing that they were not possible to have been done. Also a result of samples conducted by her, samples did not indicate that they would possibly have been done because customers were denying to have been contacted. Those samples did not indicate to me that we had a problem in Network. Telephone conversations with where she questioned the integrity of our sales programs, because of our high volume or specific problems wherein customers had not been contacted. At least once she gave me stack of referrals that were questionable in her mind, not in a specific response to a June 16, 1990, letter but simply because I was there and somebody directed me to the stack. The questionable referrals were three to four months old. I would always question the validity of the samples because of their age. I questioned the validity of any sample that is older than three months. I do not recall having a discussion with concerning the March 31, 1989, letter or the fact that it had been carbon copied to This was also true of the June 16, 1988, letter. Had I received the letters with questions regarding particular accounts, I would have discussed it with and have asked them to investigate the matter. I do not recall any responses from or any others with regards to those type of investigations. I did not share any of the letters from with Gene Davis because of preconceived ideas of No matter what said about integrity of my program, preconceived ideas of Network would always bias her opinion and I would not place a lot of weight on her letters or complaints. believed that Network should not make sales, that this was the Business Office job and it was not Network's job to make sales. The June 16, 1990, letter refers to sales that were made to service representatives. I do not recall discussing or doing investigation with regards to those particular sales. This whole truth of the March 31, 1990, letter would reference to service representatives having being sold the Wire Maintenance Plan. I am not aware of a third letter or note from or any other piece of correspondence. I do not recall discussing it with me or telling me that a sample of 50 of my sales referrals proved to be 100% negative, meaning that none of the 50 customers had been contacted prior to adding the Wire Maintenance Plan to their service. There was no reason or motivation for services technicians to place invalid sales without having contacted the customers as a result of any pressure or as a result of gifts or points that may be forthcoming as a result of these sales. On one occasion, I visited s office, however; I found that she was not present. One of her assistants, whose name I don't remember, as well as were there. assistant showed me to office where upon I observed a stack of sales referrals that were two to three or four months old that had questioned. (Following this visit to Office I called and office to complain about delay for inputting my sales referrals.) advised me at that time that a Telemarketing thing would be coming into play real soon where we could then forward our sales referrals to. With regards to I do not recall that he made telephone sales calls from his home, however; I heard only this week from someone, that was involved in program selling. In looking on my notes, I can see that I added the name of to my list, but I do not recall where the information came from. I recall late in 1989, where I was in office and I ran into him in the hallway, he was holding personnel file under his arm and he told me I want to talk to you about this referring to s file. I do not recall specifically what he wanted to talk about. At about the same time, I received a call from where he was advising me as a courtesy call that someone from my shop had called him with a complaint about me. I assume that said call had originated from in office. Sides and my personalities clashed. I never confronted with regards to this matter. Again it was just a courtesy call from and I could not get any nor did I ask for any specifics from him. I do not recall any specific questions that wanted me to answer with regard to in looking a letter dated December 1, 1989, from myself to I can see that this letter references date, and a conversation between and myself earlier the week of December 1, 1989. I have read the letter, but can still not recall what specific questions I was attempting to answer for In the closing paragraph where I state, I feel there is not problem in the credibility of me or in this matter, and the case should be dropped." I am not sure what I meant by credibility or that the case should be dropped, but I still cannot recall what specific questions were concerning On October 24, 1990, called me and told me that he had found a PSC complaint dating back to November, December or 1989. I did not recall said PSC complaint and to the best of recollection, and I never discussed this PSC at the time that it took place. Had I of received it, I would have discussed it with and with . I say because sales code is on the PSC complaint as it has been shown to me at this point. As a matter of course, would probably see this PSC complaint after the fact unless he was personally involved with the complaint. In reviewing the PSC complaint, I see that what was prepared is in my handwriting and it was later done in typewriter, it did involve I can recognize that because it was sales code. The customer complained that he was never told about an optional charge of $2.50, says that he never authorized this sale. The sale was for SEQ1X or the Maintenance Plan. To satisfy the customer, we canceled the SEQ1X on the customer's line. No further action from this case. I have no actual recall as whether I discussed this matter with or with or with I cannot recall. After completing the PSC complain inquiry, I faxed it to office for further processing. Getting back to the letter that I wrote to on December 1, 1989, I have no knowledge that had done anything wrong or where had placed something on someone's lines without their knowledge. I sampled rejects and never left me suspicious that was not making the actual sale. I questioned many times and he always told me he was, in fact, making the sales. is a loner, he is self-conscious about his vision and he is not comfortable in peer groups. He made calls from all over in cross boxes, meter rooms, Central Office, he may have made some calls from his home. I am not aware that had made calls from his home for an entire year. I recall that at one time he got thrown out of the Lakeside work center where he was placing calls to customers. I did not pick up or drop off any forms from house, but I would not be surprised that Bailey sold from his house, nor do I see anything wrong with that procedure. Concerning nature, he indicated that he at one time been involved with the F.B.I., C.I.A., M.I.A. in some form of intelligence capacity. In 1987 and 1988, was hardly on the load, he was making sales most of the time. In 1989, he was partly on the load and in 1990, he was assigned to bulk load. With regards to the December 1, 1989 letter, there is a note by what appears to be wherein he placed his initials over his name. This indicates that he read the correspondence. There is also a note on the second and last page, wherein it states "Details checked out on specific customers. Customers confused and irritated on receiving third call" initial . With regard to , I do not recall any telephone calls from regarding Dial America. I also do not recollect Tom mentioning to me that was doing an investigation concerning referrals coming back from Dial America. I also do not challenge credibility. In answer to a question from Mr. Martinez, sales in sequential order of a two block area would raise a question of credibility in my mind as to the credibility of said sales. It would surprise me if told me of this sequence.

I do not recollect said conversation with Also, I do not recollect or telling me with regard to this sequence as stated before. I do not know, nor do I recollect anything about 500 to 600 rejected sales referrals from Dial America or any rejected sales from Dial America. For a short period of time, worked in the boiler room. I recall he had remarkable sales for a short period of time. This would have been from three to six weeks. I have no recall of having instructed to report to the boiler room for an assignment. I have no recall discussing with the revenue that he, generated. I do not recall ever telling of the dollar amount of sales he was responsible for. I may have heard from someone that did have a remarkable amount of sales, but I do not recall from whom. In 1989, if generated a figure in excess of $19,000., this figure must be in error. I do not recall any conversation with on October 23, 1990, with regards to sales or with the revenue he might have generated as a result of those sales. I do not recall disagreeing with the amount of sales attributed to him. In 1989, the only points that were shared were with group. and I agreed that in exchange for loaning to my sales effort, he was to receive as much as 200 points per month. would then distribute those points amongst his supervisory people. During 1989 and 1990, we utilized flyers in connection with the Match program. Flyers were distributed to condos or multi-family residences where we had done prewiring, as well as all I&M visits. The flyer would be coated with the sales code for the individual who was dropping off the flyer. All points were shared half and half, half for the Services Technician and half for the Match program. As a result of prewiring, it is conceivable that the majority of new customers would have requested for telephone service with or without the flyer. The motivation for the was to increase points associated with our sales program. With regard to sales, we have placed monthly objectives for each manager as part of the PMCRs. Craft people assigned to sales were coded as working on sales codes. I did not oversee this process, this was done by the foremen. With regard to I do not know who authorized to sell from his home, however, I did not stop it when I became aware of it, nor did I challenge it; I thought it was O.K. Sales awards in 1989 were reduced by in a continued effort to reduce expenses in Florida. Then emphasis then shifted and plans were in place to initiate the GoldLine program. The emphasis as a result of all this on sales diminished. On October 23, 1990, asked me to meet with him at Lakeside where he and I alone held the meeting. He proceeded to ask me a number of questions. He completed approximately three and a half (3 1/2) pages of notes all concerning the sales program. I do not recall all of the details, I have asked for a copy of his notes. I recall he refused me a copy of said notes. He indicated to me that he would write a report that would be directed to of his investigation based on those notes. I recall he talked to me about he having 33 years of service and that this was the first time where his credibility was being questioned. I told him that I was 40 years of age, having 20 years with the Company and my credibility had never been questioned. The following day, on October 24, 1990, elephoned me and told me that he had found a PSC complaint. At that point, I did not recollect the existence of that PSC complaint. during this conversation, also indicated to me that he had called Mr. Martinez in Security to inform him of his findings. On October 24, 1990, I had a conversation with We talked about this conversation. I do not recall if I called him or if he called me. I do not recall the specifics of that conversation. With regard to he called me with regard to going to the Security interview, but I do not recall the specifics of that conversation. I have talked to dozens of people since the initiation of this investigation, however, I do not wish to name them because I usually stopped the conversation before it got started. I refuse to name those people. I have been told that the people that were interviewed were told not to talk to anyone and that included me. At this time, I wish not to incriminate them by naming who they were. With regard to medical condition, it was on an ongoing basis that he had a medical problem, however, I do not recall addressing medical condition with the Company doctor. I do not know why I would not have done that. In fact, it would have been normal conduct of business to have done so. With regard to sale volumes, it is conceivable to me that could sell 50 sales per day. That amount is a reasonable amount for , although it would not be reasonable for other people only because is a very good salesman. Procedurally, was able to make so many calls because when he called a number, he would not only let it ring twice, hang up and go on to the next one, having not getting an answer after two rings. had a method for making all of his calls. I never had any reason to suspect that was not contacting customers. In fact, I don't believe that now. As a result of the various sales programs, I have received sales checks that I then exchanged for merchandise such as bedding, childrens' toys, an Nintendo game, a bed frame which I have not received, cookware, pots and pans and I still have a few sales checks remaining. I do not recall receiving any big ticket items, however, if I did, it would be a matter of record. On October 24, 1990, we held a meeting with myself and other managers from each and every turf to discuss Mr.

AIRO investigation. I recall came in at some point and mentioned the sales investigation and threw out a few names (I do not recall those names) of craft people that were involved. indicated that there was an ongoing investigation in Orlando and that we would probably be asked questions with regards to the sales program. According to the criteria for the investigation involved individuals with high sales. indicated that Mr. Crittenden had told the General Managers that if this was happening in Orlando, it could also be happening elsewhere and that had ordered an investigation. was referring to the Orlando sales program investigation. was simply passing in getting information from us at this point. discussed this matter in general terms during the time we were all meeting together. At some point in time, we broke up into turf, and while in our turf meeting, again visited with us and he mentioned in particular the name as one of the high sellers in Palm Beach and asked to be told about her. I told him that she had been involved in an auto accident and as a result of that had been assigned to the boiler room while on light duty. He also asked about I told him that always had high sales, he was an outstanding salesman and that there was always something wrong with him, either eye problems, ankle problems or heart problems. I told him that I used in sales. did not have any questions concerning the credibility of the sales people. He was asking the questions so as to know for himself. He told us that at some point in time we would be asked and that we were to be honest, that if there was any wrongdoing, it would all come out in the wash. If there was any wrongdoing, it would just wash out. I don't recall using the words boiler room or programmed selling during these discussions with Paul did not direct us to do anything or not do anything during these conversations. I may have used the words boiler room, but I did not mean to use the words boiler rooms. was also present during these conversations and did partial participation in these conversations. Following my meeting with on October 23, 1990, I prepared a document that is 24 pages with attachments which I was to be utilizing as recollection of the past years and my association with the sales program. I have volunteered a copy of said document to Mr. Martinez.

I have read the above statement consisting of eleven (11) pages, and it is true and correct to the best of my recollection.

THE FOLLOWING IS MY BEST RECOLLECTION OF A PERIOD OF TIME AND A GROUP OF PEOPLE THAT ARE INVOLVED IN WRONG DOING (ALLEGED) REGARDING SALES

IN APPROXIMATELY OCTOBER 1987 AFTER SPENDING 13 YEARS IN AND MANAGING CABLE REPAIR I WAS REASSIGNED BY MY NEW TURF MANAGER TO I+M. I WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR APPROX 1/3 OF THE BALA DIVISION I+M FORCES. THIS GROUP WAS KNOWN AS I+M WEST (BALA).

SALES. WE HAD A SAYING THAT WE SOLD TO EACH OTHER AND OUR CUSTOMERS. WE WOULD DO ANYTHING AND WOULD ASK OR ALLOW OUR CUSTOMERS TO DO ANYTHING ILLEGAL, IMMORAL OR UNETHICAL REGARDING SALES.

IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS WITH THE SUPPORT AND CHEER FROM MY BOSS + + AND MY CREW WE BUILT TOGETHER A (BOILER ROOM). AT FIRST THIS BOILER ROOM WAS LOCATED AT 3200 BROADWAY BUT THE ACOUSTICS OF THE BOUNCY CONCRETE BUILDING WERE NOT CONDUCIVE TO CALLING CUSTOMERS. I REMEMBER THE DAY AFTER I DIRECTED THE BOILER ROOM MOVE TO THE HAVERHILL CO CAME BROADWAY AND ASKED WHICH ROOM WAS THE BOILER ROOM AND I EXPLAINED THAT I HAD MOVED IT TO THE SECOND FLOOR S/W CORNER OF THE HAVERHILL CENTRAL OFFICE. TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE THAT IS AS CLOSE TO THE BOILER ROOM AS HE CAME.

AFTER THE BOILER ROOM WAS SET UP AT HAVERHILL THERE WERE

MANNER. WHICE I REALIZE THIS WAS A WONT AROUND I DIDN'T THINK AT THE TIME THERE COULD BE A PROBLEM YEARS LATER. I WAS TOLD THAT OUR CUSTOM CALLING RATES WOULD BE SAVED IN THE BUSINESS OFFICE IN RETURN FOR THEIR DOING OUR INPUT WITH AND SOMETIMES . SOME TIME AFTER THE CLOSE OF THE BOIER ROOM THERE WAS A GRIEVANCE FILED BY REGARDING BEING WONT WORK AT 2081 THE BUSINESS OFFICE. AFTER NUMEROUS CONVERSATIONS WITH AND AND I AGREED TO PAY DIFFERENTIALS FOR THE TIME THAT AND SPENT IN THE BUSINESS OFFICE. THE DIFFERENTIALS WERE PAID TO BOTH AND FOR THE TIME THEY SPENT PUTTING IN SALES.

WHEN BUT IN THE SALES FOR NETWORK PUBLIC SHE WOULD SEE IF THE CUSTOMER ALREADY HAS THE MTCE BLOW SEQEX OR WHAT WHO IF THEY ALREADY HAD IT SHE WOULD SEND THE SALES FORM BACK TO THE FOREMAN. THIS WAY WE COULD KEEP TRACK OF OUR SALES.

MID TO LATE 1988 ONE OF MY SERVICE TECHNICIANS WHO RECENTLY MOVED TO THE NORTH SECTOR PERFORMED AN EXTENSIVE STUDY COMPARING I BOSS WITH THE DLR'S WE USED TO SELL AS A CUSTOMER HAD THE MAINTENANCE PLANS. HIS STUDY FOUND THAT THE DLR'S THAT WE USED WERE NOT UP TO DATE AND THAT IS WHY WE ALWAYS ASKED THE CUSTOMER IF THEY HAD THE SERVICE BEFORE TRYING TO SELL IT TO THEM.

12 , SERVICE TECHNICIAN, ALBANY, GEORGIA. WOULD BE ABLE TO CONFIRM VALUABLE INFORMATION REGARDING THE I BOSS W/ WITHOUT DLR STUDY.

THERE WAS FIERCE COMPETITION WITH THE BROWNS, IRON RUN, AND GOLD OVER THAT SALES CONTEST AS THERE WAS THE YEAR ~~I BELIEVE I WON~~ BEFORE I WAS INVOLVED AS WELL AS THE 1988 CONTEST.

I REALLY DON'T UNDERSTAND WHY BECAUSE EVEN THOUGH WE WON IN GOLD I UNDERSTAND ALL S/E TEAM MEMBERS WERE INVITED ANYWAY. I RECALL (VAGUELY) THAT DECLINE THE TRIP, HE HAD WON THE YEAR BEFORE. I REMEMBER THAT WAS THERE. I REMEMBER

AND HIS WIFE BEING ON THE TRIP. I SPOKE TO [redacted] THAT WAS HIS SECOND YEAR IN A ROW. I SPOKE TO [redacted] DURING THE TRIP. AT THE ONE CRUISE [redacted] PICKED ME OUT IN THE CROWD AND SPOKE TO ME AND CONGRATULATED ME FOR MY EFFORTS.

AT ONE POINT DURING THE CRUISE [redacted] WAS THERE WITH HIS SON CAME UP TO ME AND SAID WE'RE WE GOING TO WIN AGAIN THE NEXT YEAR! I ASKED IF IT WAS IMPORTANT TO WIN HE SAID IT WAS AND I SAID ALONG WITH [redacted] THAT WE WOULD WIN.

AFTER THE CRUISE OF MARCH OR APRIL 1966 I WAS SO PROUD AND EXCITED I CONTINUED TO KEEP TRYING TO KEEP THE ENTHUSIASM IN MY PEOPLE TO SELL. WITH THE [redacted] OF OUR BOSS AND MY PEERS I USED LIGHT DUTY PEOPLE TO SELL. WITH OVER 100 SUBORDINATES AT ALL OR MOST TIMES YOU ALWAYS HAVE PEOPLE ON LIGHT DUTY. NOT ONLY DID I USE THESE PEOPLE FOR SALES BUT FOR CALL BACK (REPEAT REPORT) C3 2036 PROGRAMS AND MANY OTHER GOOD FOR THE

BUSINESS PROGRAMS AS WELL.

IT IS NOT UN COMMON FOR ME TO BE INVOLVED IN SPECIAL EFFORT PROGRAMS. SOME OF THEM ARE AS FOLLOWS.

ALL WELLNESS EFFORTS SUCH AS

BALLOON RELEASES BOYNTON GALA, COMPTON MLK LUNCHES, DELRAY AFFAIR BUSINESS ORDER AFFAIRS CONSTANTLY, ROSA PARKS FOUNDATION,

I WAS INSTRUMENTAL IN ORGANIZING AND SUPPORTING FOOD FOR FAMILIES FOR CHANNEL 5 AND SOUTHERN BELL FOR YEARS.

I WAS OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS BUREAU MEMBER IN INDIAN RIVER FOR TWO YEARS.

I INITIATED THE XBOX HOTLINE PROGRAM. I MAINTAIN IT IN ITS ENTIRETY WITH ONE OF MY TEAMS.

I AM ALWAYS LOGISTIC SUPPORT FOR MARCHES OR DIRECT ACTIONS AS WELL AS COMPANY CAMPAIGNS.

C3 20367

I AM NOW TURNAROUND ATTEMPT

(43)

PAID FOR MY SPORTSMAN SHIP AND TEAM WORK FOR ALL PROJECTS. I AM AN ANNUAL WINNER OR COUNT ON ME. THE SAME YEAR FIVE OF THE SIX PALM DIVISION CANDIDATES WERE MINE. WHAT I AM TRYING TO ENUMERATE IS THAT BECAUSE OF MY TEAM MANSHIP I WAS A LIKELY CANDIDATE TO BE INVOLVED IN THE SALES CAMPAIGN.

I RECALL THAT PALM ALSO HAD THE 1988 SALES CAMPAIGN BUT JUST AFTER IT WAS ANNOUNCED CANCELLED IT BECAUSE OF COST. WE DIDN'T COMPLAIN BECAUSE THE CORPORATION NEEDED TO GO THROUGH SOME BELT TIGHTENING.

AT A CERTAIN POINT IN TIME GROUP CHANGED THEIR RESPONSIBILITY AND WE WERE TOLD TO LIE GROUP. I MET WITH HIM AND BECAUSE I DIDN'T KNOW AT ALL. THE MANAGERS NAME I DON'T RECALL BUT SHE WAS VERY SHORT, STOCKY VERY FRIENDLY AND JOVIAL. SHE HAS SINCE RETIRED. I SPOKE TO HER MANY TIMES SHE NEVER COMPLAINED OF OUR PROGRAM OR THE MANY SALES THAT WE MADE. HER ONLY

6 GROUP TO GIVE THE BUSINESS OFFICE OUR CUSTOM CALLING FEATURES. WE RECEIVED SOME REJECT SALES FORMS WHEN WE MADE OUR DELIVERIES. SOME OF THESE WE SAMPLED AND I PERSONALLY SAMPLED. MY STUDIES REVEALED THAT BECAUSE OF THE DELAY BETWEEN OUR (VEHICLE) THE DCRS AND I BOSS THERE WERE DISCREPANCIES. I SAMPLE CALLED CUSTOMERS AND TALKED TO CUSTOMERS ABOUT THE SALES FORMS. I WAS ASSURED THAT THE INITIAL CONTACT WAS MADE BUT WHEN THE BUSINESS OFFICE CALLED THE CUSTOMER BACK THERE STARTED SOME CONFUSIONS AS TO WHY THE SECOND CALL AND THEN WHEN I CALLED FOR THE THIRD TIME THE CUSTOMERS IN SEVERAL OCCASIONS WERE ANGRY OR ATLEAST IRRITATED.

24 WROTE SEVERAL MEMOS OR WHICH I RESPONDED IN PERSON EACH TIME. I ALWAYS HELD MEN CONFERENCES I ALWAYS TOOK THE QUESTIONS SAYS BACK AND INVESTIGATED. I

SCOME TO MY PEOPLE AND QUESTIONED THEIR INTEGRITY. I ALWAYS SCORE TO THE PEOPLE (EMPLOYEES) AND THE CUSTOMER PERSONALLY. I NEVER HAD ANY ~~[illegible]~~ PROOF THAT THERE WAS WRONG DOING. BY MY PEOPLE AT ANY LEVEL.

ONE VERBAL RESPONSE THAT I GAVE TO [illegible] GROUP IN COURT OR WAS WHY DID THEY TAKE IT ON THEIR OWN TO HOLD SALES FORMS FOR MONTHS BEFORE MAKING RANDOM CALLS TO CUSTOMERS AND CHALLENGING THE AUTHENTICITY OF AN OFFICIAL INSTRUMENT PROVIDED BY MY PEOPLE. WAS NOT AVAILABLE AT THAT MEETING BUT WAS RELIEVED AND IN THE ROOM AT THE SAME TIME WAS DIDN'T RECALL. IT MAY HAVE BEEN

I WAS SO UPSET I CALLED AND TOLD THEM THAT THE STATE OF FLORIDA SALES TAX AND I ADVISED THEM OF THE HOLDING OF THE FORMS BY. I MADE A FORMAL COMPLAINT TO . SINCE I NEVER HEARD BACK FROM OR HIS PEOPLE ABOUT THE BUSINESS OFFICE HOLDING

THE BOOKS BUT THE FIRST REAL CHANGE I ADDY SET UP A TELEMARKETING GROUP AND I RAN THAT TIME OUR SALES AND ROUTES THROUGH THAT GROUP.

ON ONE OF MY SELF INITIATED INVESTIGATIONS REGARDING SALES IN THE BILLING OFFICE WAS WHEN I SPOKE TO THE SERVICE REP THAT PUT OUR SALES IN FOR

WAS AN OLDER LADY I SPOKE TO HER AND ASKED HER NUMEROUS QUESTIONS REGARDING PROCEDURES. THAT SHE WAS AWARE OF OUR REJECTS. THAT THAT A SALES FORM WAS MADE OUT BUT THE CUSTOMER ALREADY HAD THE SERVICE ACCORDING TO I BOSS. SHE ACTED LIKE IT WAS NOT A BIG DEAL. THEN SHE SAID YOU AUGHT TO SEE THE THINGS THAT WE PUT ON THAT WHEN THE CUSTOMER GETS THEIR FIRST BILL THEY CALL UP AND STATE THEY DON'T OWE IT. IF ANYONE IS INTERESTED THAT WOULD BE NICE TO KNOW.

ON TUESDAY OCTOBER 23, 1990.

WOULD LIKE TO HAVE A COPY OF THOSE NOTES AND HE REFUSED. THE NEXT DAY CALLED ME AND TOLD ME HE FOUND A OIL REMINDING SALES. I DON'T REMEMBER IT AND WOULD PROBABLY NEED TO SEE IT TO REFRESH MY MEMORY.

I DO REMEMBER GETTING A CALL FROM UNRELATED TO ANYTHING ELSE LAST YEAR TELLING ME THAT SOMEONE IN MY NETWORK DIVISION WAS CALLING HIM COMPLAINING ABOUT ME. I WROTE A MEMO TO TO ABOUT AND MYSELF AND DECIDED NOT TO PURSUE CALL BY COMPLAINING TO

I RECEIVED A CALL FROM TODAY ASKING WHAT WAS GOING ON. I FORGOT THAT HAD BEEN IN THE BOILER ROOM I TOLD THAT I WOULDN'T DISCUSS IT BUT I'D CALLED DOWN TO SECURITY AS SO MANY OTHERS HAVE TO JUST TELL THE TRUTH ON ABOUT SALES.

ABOUT I HAVE OBSERVED HIM IN SELLING SCENARIOS SINCE THE EARLY 80'S WHEN I FIRST CAME TO GALA FROM INDIAN RIVER. I REMEMBER FIRST SEEING SELLING WITH WHITE STOCKS OR PLAY IN FRONT OF HIM WHILE HE WAS IN

OFFICE. I RECALL
DISTRICT ABOUT AND BEING TOLD THAT HE HAD LOST AN EYE IN A COMPANY JOB
RELATED INJURY. IN TALKING TO MY BOSS OVER THE YEARS I WAS TOLD FROM SEVERAL SOURCES THAT HE HAD BEEN TOP GUN
IN VARIOUS SALES PROGRAMS THROUGHOUT HIS 20 YEAR CAREER AT SOUTHERN BELL.
SINCE I CAME TO ITA IN 82
HE HAD A LIMITATION KEEPING HIM FROM HIS PERFORMING HIS JOB TO THE FULLEST IN ITA. HAD ONE EYE, WE WAS ON LIGHT DUTY BECAUSE OF A HEART ATTACK AND HE HAD AN ANKLE PROBLEM FOR AN EXTENDED PERIOD OF TIME.
HAS A MARKET FOR SALES HE IS GENUINE, KNOWLEDGEABLE AND PERSUASIVE. I NEVER KNOWINGLY ASKED TO DO ANYTHING
AGAINST COMPANY POLICY. DURING 1985
I DON'T REMEMBER EXACTLY WHEN I WAS MADE AWARE THAT WAS PUT ON BULK DISPATCH AND FROM THAT POINT ON HE REMAINS THERE TODAY.

THERE WAS A PROGRAM CALLED MATES
LAST YEAR THAT ENABLED A TECHNICIAN TO RUN ALONG A LINE THAT LISTED THE SPECIAL FEATURES. ~~[illegible]~~ I FOUND

SOUTHEAST AREA. THIS SEEMED TO BE THE MOST CREDIBLE YET. THIS FORM INCLUDED A SPECIAL TEL # FOR THE CUSTOMER TO CALL AND INSTRUCTED THE CUSTOMER TO GIVE THE INITIATING TELEMARKETING NAME AND SALES CODE. THIS WAS THE BEST PROGRAM YET BECAUSE THE CUSTOMER MADE THE REQUEST FOR SERVICE. THE MATCH PROGRAM WAS REVISED IN 1990 BY GOBLIN.

SEVERAL SALES POINTS IN NETWORK AND IN THE BUSINESS OFFICE. FOR THE SAKE OF THE BOILER ROOM. IT WAS AGREED IN ORDER THAT THE POINTS FOR SALES WOULD BE AND WERE 14 SEVERED. WHEN DID THE SALES FORMS SHE WOULD GO DOWN THE LIST IN MY SHOP IN 16 BUILDING AND IN CONTRACTS SHOP AND IN 17 SHOP AND SHARE THE POINTS WITH ALL THE PEOPLE.

THE REASON FOR THE POINTS SHARING WAS FOR THE BOILER ROOM PEOPLE TO MAKE SALES WHICH THE REST OF THE PEOPLE COULD THEN GET CREDIT:

Interview Of _____ Engineer
(November 1, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, Jr., do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at and subscribe to telephone number I am employed by Southern Bell in the West Palm Beach area as an Engineer and my net credited service date with the Company is July 31, 1972. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about the Network Sales Program. I am presently a pay grade three Engineer and I have held that title since January 1988. Prior to that date, I was promoted to management in November or December 1987 as a Plant Contract Supervisor (PCS). Prior to the PCS job, from about April 1987 on, I was relieving as a supervisor in different work groups such as cable locators, testing crew and so on. When took over the Services Technicians, I was, or became Relieving Supervisor-PCS over buried service wire. Concerning the Network sales group that was located at the Haverhill Central Office, when that group was formed I was not involved with it at all. Sometime after it was formed, in around the fall of 1987, I was asked by my supervisor, , to take over the sales group. At that time, this group worked out of a second floor office at the Haverhill Central Office and it consisted of about five or six people. As I recall, some of those people were plus a female Services Technician who later became an Operator and some other craft employees from time to time. Prior to my becoming involved with the sales group, was the supervisor over the group. I was only involved with the sales group for a month or two, and during that time, all I did was monitor them to make sure they had the supplies they needed. None of the people in the sales group reported to me in an employee-supervisor capacity, and my involvement with them was to just monitor or look out for them. I would bring them sodas, make sure they had sales forms to use and things like that. These people in the sales group were using telephones to call customers. The customers were identified from DLR printouts as customers who did not subscribe to TIPS or a Wire Maintenance Plan, and the sales group people were supposed to call these customers and try to sell them Wire Maintenance. If the sale was made, the employee filled out the sales referral form which would later be input to begin billing the customer for the service. I do not know where the printouts being used to identify the customers to be called came from. I may have transported these printouts during my involvement, but I do not remember who generated these printouts. All of this took place about three years ago, so my recollection of details is not as good as it would be if we were talking about things that have happened more recently. As I recall, on average, I probably spent two hours per day with the sales group. While I was with the group, the people there were calling customers and trying to sell their Maintenance Plans. I have been asked during this interview if I ever heard of or suspected that anyone in the sales group was taking credit for sales when the involved customers had not agreed to subscribe to the Maintenance Plan. I never had this suspicion at all. The only thing I ever heard of as far as a problem with the sales referrals involved (who is now who was supposed to be inputting the referrals, but for some reason was not inputting them. I never heard anyone say that our sales were no good. No one ever came to me to question if the sales being reported by the Central Office sales group were valid sales. During my involvement with the sales group, I was aware that the sales people were earning sales points or credits, but I never received any of them. Since I was not the actual supervisor over any of the sales people, I did not receive any sales points, credits or gifts. I did know that there was a Company sales contest going on and that the people were earning points toward a cruise. I did not go on the cruise and I did not receive any gifts, points or other rewards for my involvement with the sales group. I do recall that the sales contest was a group effort and that the sales were being shared. I do not remember how they were shared or who decided on how the sales were shared. There was an employee named who was working at 2021 South Military Trail in the training room during the time I was involved in the sales program. What was doing was inputting the sales referral information into our billing system through a terminal in the training room. This arrangement with Pearl in the training room was set up prior to my becoming involved with the sales group. I do not know who set up this arrangement. In addition to Pearl, Carol Moyers also worked in the training room some of the time. During my involvement with the sales group, I may have transported sales referrals from the Haverhill Central Office to in the training room. I am pretty sure I did transport these forms, but I never reviewed them or added anything to them. I do recall hearing that someone might be going door to door trying to sell the Maintenance Plans, but I never saw anything like numerical sequence sales on the referrals because I do not recall looking at them closely. I have been asked during this interview if I have heard of an employee named I have met and I recall him being in the sales office at the Central Office a few times. I have also been asked if any members of the sales group worked out of their own homes and I do recall that someone with a bad toe, like a light duty person, did work out of their home. This person may have been but I cannot say for sure. During my involvement with the sales group, I never went to the home of an employee who was working in the sales program from their home. My total involvement with the sales group lasted only a month or two and took place about three years ago and since that time I have not been involved with the Network Sales Program at all.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and six other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge it is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

Interview Of Manager-Customer Services
(November 1, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Larry L. Meeker, who had identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am employed by Southern Bell as a Manager-Customer Services in West Palm Beach. My social security number is [redacted]. I was born My net credited service date is December 28, 1967. I live at My home telephone number is I was aware of the problem in the order department in the Business Office with inputting Network sales referrals. This was either at the end of 1987 or 1986. called and felt her out about her ability to help out with the inputting of the sales referrals. and I talked about it. Then I talked with and and we decided we would provide an IBOSS/DOE terminal for a person that would provide. A girl named reported to the training room and did the inputting. was not supervised by me or any of my people. She would, however, go to if she had a problem. I don't know how signed on to the terminal. was a very experienced Service Order Typist prior to her doing this job. I think that is why she was chosen for this job. There may have been more than one other girl that helped from time to time. This set up lasted for two or three months. I believe it ended because Network had some kind of problem with one of the girls that was inputting sales referrals. was not aware of the arrangement to start with, however, I told him about it later and he had no objections. The reason that sales referrals were input this way was because of the work load in the Business Office at that time. The order department just could not do them. This arrangement did not cause a problem for my office. My group did the billing adjustments for West Palm Beach Network District and I would have been aware of a large number of problems with Network sales and I did not see a large problem. I don't know if knew of the set up and I did not talk with him about it. I don't know if knew of this set up when it started, but she did after it was working. I don't remember complain about it to me. I was aware of the problem between and She talked about the problem often. The problem was Network's sales orders stacked up and Butch wanted them input and couldn't do it. I never saw a letter from to concerning this problem, if I did, I don't remember it. All I did was provide the terminal and room for Network to use on this set up. I haven't had any discussion with anyone concerning . To the best of my knowledge, I don't know After the set up was stopped, I don't know how had the sales referrals input. I did not make any arrangement for to handle his sales referrals. I don't remember anyone complaining to me about the Network sales program during that time or after it stopped.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and two other pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all three pages and all corrections.

Interview of _____ Manager-Support
(November 1, 1990)

West Palm Beach, Florida

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at _____ and subscribe to telephone number _____ I am employed by Southern Bell in Lake Worth, Florida, as a Manager-Support in the Palm Beach Division office and my net credited service date with the Company is June 22, 1972. My date of birth is _____ and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed abut the Network Sales Program. In my present job, I report to Gene Davis, Operations Manager-Network, at 120 North K Street, Lake Worth, and I have been in this position since sometime in April 1989. Prior to that time, I was a Support Manager reporting to Paul Davis in the West Palm Beach Engineering office at 326 Fern Street, West Palm Beach. I first heard of the Network Sales Program group working at the Haverhill Central Office, 1550 North Haverhill Road, West Palm Beach, while still reporting to Paul Davis prior to April 1989. I learned about the Haverhill group because my office had been loaning clerks out to work in the sales group. As I recall, we were loaning clerks to the sales group around the start of our tourist season in either 1987 or 1988. I recall that we were very busy then and that _____ was upset over having to loan the clerks out to the sales group, but that _____ had instructed _____ to loan the clerks. At that point in time, all I knew abut the sales group was that it existed and that we were being forced to loan people to work in it at a very busy time. Once I moved over to the Manager-Support position in office in April 1989, I had dealings with . who was the Network Sales Coordinator for the State of Florida. My first dealings with Liz involved talking to her by telephone about trying to get what sales credit he was due for his groups' sales. I had nothing to do with any of the paperwork or sales points or any thing of that sort. A clerk who reports to me, did keep track of the points, but I had no direct involvement with that record keeping. I first learned that some employees might have bene receiving sales credit when they should not have been in November 1989. I have brought with me to this interview, four pieces of paper and I want to explain how these pieces of paper pertain to how I first learned about the questionable sales. The first document is a copy of a small handwritten note that I believe was written by a clerk or other employee in my office at 120 North K Street. I do not know where the original of this note is and I do not know who wrote it, but I suspect it was written by a clerk who took a telephone message from who was calling for me. This note reflects the date, November 17, 1989 and the writing "talked to ". I will attempt to find out who wrote this note, but in my opinion, this note was given to me which caused me to telephone in Jacksonville on or about November 17, 1989. I made notes in pencil on another piece of paper during my conversation with , and I am providing this original sheet of paper during this interview. On this piece of paper, I wrote down information given to me by about problems with the sales referrals where the involved customers had been called by the Business Office in order to see if the sales were legitimate or not. My notes on my conversation with reflect that out of the 97 customers sampled, 30 said they had never talked to 10 to 15 had name and address information that was not correct, 10 to 15 were seasonal customers who were not in the city at the time of the sales and 5 were Southern Bell employees who had not authorized the sales. I also wrote the following information as it was provided by Of the 1734 sales referrals for the period June through September, 458 did not go through the system of being input because of one of the following reasons: disconnected numbers, one complete apartment complex, every one on a street, customer already had services, had more that one line and could not have the Maintenance plan. I also wrote that between May and October (1989), was not in the IMAP system which measure the number of tasks performed by employees. My last note on this sheet reflects that had been submitting up to 200 sales referrals per day. As I stated above, I believe I obtained the above information from on Friday, November 17, 1989 and I believe I would have taken this information to that same day if he was in the office. was very upset over this situation and I felt that it was serious enough to go to with it as soon as possible. I definitely recall going to that same day (if he was in the office) or the next business day that was in the office. I reviewed the facts and figures from my note with and I know that this generated a two page letter from about it. I did not see this letter from until mid-October 1990 and when I saw it, showed it to me. This letter from from later 1989 was a whitewash letter that dealt with not getting sales credit from the Business Office. letter did not address the items that had complained about that I had provided to The other two pages of information I have provided during this interview are about a Public Service Commission (PSC) complaint from November 16, 1989 concerning a customer who claimed he had been billed for the Trouble Isolation Plan (TIP) without giving his permission. The TIP plan had been added to the customer account on a sale made by employee whose sales code was C62I16B. This PSC complaint appears to have been answered by . On my copy of this PSC complaint, I wrote in pencil above the sales code. I do not think that someone else seeing this complaint without name on it would have related it to the other complaint information provided by on November 17, 1989. I do not recall discussing this PSC complaint with in 1989 at all. I had nothing more to do with the sales program until Friday, October 19, 1990 when returned from a meeting with in Fort Lauderdale. They had a two day staff meeting in Fort Lauderdale that broke up on October 19, and when returned to Lake Worth, he instructed me to locate all of the sales records and place them under lock and key. On that Friday, I took all of the point books and other sales records and locked them in my file cabinet. The following Monday, I went through the papers in my desk and located my note on the information I received in November 1989 from which was paper clipped to the PSC complaint. I believe this was the same day that had been to meet with at the Lakeside yard about this situation. When returned from this meeting, I recall him saying that he felt real good about the situation and that he felt the problem was that Customer Services had not been inputting the sales as they should have been. When I heard him say this, I went to find my notes from and the PSC complaint, made copy, and then took it to him. I told him that I could not understand how he could feel good about this based on the information we had received from in 1989. looked at the information I gave him and stated that he had never seen it before. I then diplomatically told him that he had seen it before and that I had covered him on complaint in 1989. He began reviewing the points from and was at first defensive, then after going through all of the points, stated that "this looks like smoke coming from a gun". I offered to try to find out who had written the small note that I think was written by a clerk in my office, but told me not to do this because he was not authorized to talk to anyone below a pay grade 5 about the matter. He said he felt he should call Paul Singer and see about getting Security involved. On October 31, 1990, Mario Martinez and some other Security people came to our office and picked up the sales records. Concerning my showing the information to Gene in November 1989, I am sure I discussed this information with him, and I believe that the two page letter wrote to around that time was generated by the information. I believe that after I related the information to he contacted about it which caused the prepare the two page letter back to Concerning who would have handled the PSC complaint at the time it was received in November 1989, I believe it might have bene a pay grade 3, who might have told me about the PSC complaint. may be able to provide information on who handled the PSC complaint. At the time, I went to in November 1989 about information, I recall thinking that we should get Security involved in this, but I cannot say for certain that I said that out loud to

I have read the above statement consisting of this and nine other handwritten pages and to the best of my knowledge, it is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

Interview Of , Operations Manager-Network
(November 1, 1990)

November 1, 1990
Ft. Lauderdale, Florida

I, , hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am having been born on My social security number is [redacted]. My title is Operations Manager-Network and I have employed with Southern Bell for 32 years. Mr. Robert Beatty has advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised me that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege which is a privilege that belongs to and may be waived by the Company. Further, that the entire substance of this interview remain confidential. I was reassigned to the Palm Beach Division on October 1, 1987. As I recall, sales at that time were a hot and heavy item. I recall we had a boiler room operation that we stocked with light duty people and surplused clerks. We also had a high maintenance season. I recall that after Thanksgiving of 1987, and I discussed that the boiler room operation did not look good in light of the high maintenance. Sometime around December 1987, I ordered the boiler room shut down. Further, telling my people that I did not want to see another boiler room. During this time period, we were doing so good on sales that the Business Office could not keep up with our sales referrals. As a result, an arrangement was made with the Business Office for us to input our own sales. I did not see anything wrong with a boiler room as long as it was using people that were on light duty. I repeatedly questioned my people and was told that they only had people that were on light duty on this project. In June of 1989, the NFL campaign was kicked off and I was reluctant to start a boiler room again. In fact, I decided not to. Back during the boiler room of 1987, was surplus and I sent her to work in the boiler room. I asked to send someone and he sent I also asked to send some clerks to help us with the administration of the sales program or to input sales. I recall there was a problem at the Business Office with inputting sales, but I do not recall what specifically those problems were. I also recall concern with having people in the boiler room that should be on the load when, in fact, we were having trouble handling the load. I checked and assured we did not have this condition. I was not aware that there may have been as many as 25 people associated with the boiler room in some fashion or other. I can only recollect that there were around five to seven light duty Technicians and three or four clerks at any one time. On or about October 19, 1990, during an Operations meeting, shared with us that there was an ongoing investigation in Orlando where some people were terminated with regard to their fraudulent sales. On the side, showed me a list of names and indicated I had two people whose sales were being questioned. He told me I needed to look into this. In fact, requested his four Operations Managers to investigate in their respective turfs. Later that day, alled me and told me he had spoken with He told me to keep this matter confidential and that I was only to investigate down to second level managers and no lower. When I got through with my investigation, I was to write a memo containing my findings. I prepared a memo for but never typed it and never sent it to him because I did not want to influence the Security investigation. While I was writing the memo, I had a conversation with on October 23, 1990, wherein she asked me if I had seen the PSC inquiry she had left in my in basket. I went back and looked at said PSC and was surprised that I had never seen it before. I have reviewed the January 10, 1990 D.O.C. minutes and a PSC report attached wherein it indicates that this PSC was discussed by me. I do not recollect discussing this PSC. I also recollect a discussion with wherein she told me that she had received a call from someone concerning a backlog at the Business Office. also mentioned prior to December 1, 1989, that maybe some customers had been sold without being contacted. My actions were to call and ask him to look into this immediately. I recall pumping pretty hard on this subject at that time and felt pretty good with his response. In retrospect, I don't feel too good in light of the PSC complaint and a note I received from on October 23, 1990 that she had taken concerning the inquiry, wherein there are questions of integrity concerning s response came by letter dated December 1, 1989. I am now upset at myself for not having pushed it further back then. As I recall, what led me to believe was that the problem was Customer Services specifically, did not agree with Network's involvement in sales. That she was measured on her 5100 for sales and we were taking their sales. I had heard rumors that there was bad blood between and To fix this problem, he told me he had spoken with and and was instructed to go to telephone solicitors for input of our sales. In my view, there was animosity between my people and Customer Services. , nor , called me about any problems with our sales. I do not feel my people sold without first contacting customers. Mistakes may have been made, but I do not have a question of their credibility. I never received any calls or correspondence from anyone other than or Having found the PSC complaint and discovering notes concerning the December 1, 1989 memo, I decided to back off the investigation. I immediately called and advised him that I had found something. I requested him to bring in Security or Internal Auditors. I have talked to no one else regarding this matter until today. With regard to the boiler room, I am embarrassed that we had 25 people for that operation without my knowledge. I never would have allowed it. The only people I would allow were those that were on light duty or on surplus. Back in 1987 and throughout, I have encouraged sales. I encouraged individual Services Technicians to be top salesmen. I recall encouraging the sale of TIPS. I recall a sales campaign in 1987 when the prize was a cruise for management. We won and participated in the cruise. Back in December 1987, I told my managers to disband the boiler room. I never visited the boiler room. I attempted to one time, but found it had been moved. I was never told by anyone that our sales program was affecting our service results. I am not aware that the boiler room ran beyond December 1987. I recall in staff meetings that sales were emphasized. Each month, the high sales turf would be recognized by awarding a wooden wheel from a ship. Also the lowest sale turf would be recognized with something else. Beyond 1987, the telephone sales continued by people on light duty and decentralized and by individual Services Technicians in the field. knew about the boiler room because I told him. The load results are measured by missed opportunities, service order load and report rates. There was never any indication that the service was affected by sales. Attributing to poor service results was the continued growth in the Division. On October 23, 1990, I interviewed Butch for about two hours concerning this matter. On the 19th, we talked on the telephone about has told me that he called Moree, but did not recall calling regarding this matter. I know I told my managers not to talk to their subordinates about this. With regard to Services Technicians selling from their home, I would not allow it. I did not know it was going on. Concerning Bailey's disabilities, has told me he had seen doctors' notes for him to be on light duty. To my knowledge, medical condition was never discussed with our Company doctor. I was aware that award points were being spread. I felt it was equitable because I received no complaints. I would assume that the intent of the sales plan was that the person who made the sale should be awarded the points.

I have read the above statement consisting of eight pages and it is true and complete to the best of my recollection.

I, _____, hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Mario C. Martinez, who has identified himself as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand that this statement may be used as evidence. I am _____ having been born on _____ My social security number is [redacted] My title is General Manager-Network. I was assigned to the Southeast Area in my present position in October 1987. I recall that prior to this assignment, a sales campaign had begun. I believe it was called the Florida Cup Challenge and it was a Network Sales Program. This campaign, as all others, was developed by Network staff in accordance with established guidelines. I recall that the Staff covered the General Managers and then covered the field forces regarding the campaign parameters. There was a lot of enthusiasm and spirit of competition amongst the turfs and across the state. All this was for the purpose of driving revenues up. We monitored the results monthly and discussed any outstanding individual sales. We would also pursue any problems aggressively. With regard to boiler rooms, we have never sanctioned the utilization of able full time employees to make telephone sales. We have never sanctioned boiler rooms. I consider that any person assigned to do sales for a session or multiple sessions is a boiler room operation. I recall a meeting with _____ where he was opposed to boiler rooms. I supported _____ on this position and brought this message back to my people. The vast majority of boiler rooms as I have described them, have been done with incapacitated employees. I believe this is good utilization of these people. I recall in general discussions with _____ or my other Operations Managers about boiler room discussions. _____ tells me that I got on his case regarding the utilization of a boiler room. I do not recall this. But I probably would have done that if I thought that a boiler room was in place. I was not aware that there was a boiler room operation in West Palm Beach at any time. A reorganization of Network on October 1, 1987 caused a number of surplus people. These folks along with incapacitated employees may have been used to do telephone sales. is a solid manager who will do whatever is necessary to get the job done ethically. Recently, told me that he had apprised me of the boiler room operation in West Palm. However, I do not recall having that knowledge. My comments in meeting with my folks were always to discourage boiler rooms. The utilization of able bodies to do telephone sales would negatively impact service results. I would never condone those actions. I was not aware that we had one employee doing telephone sales from his home. I would not have allowed it. I never received any telephone calls or complaints from staff, Customer Services, or my Operations Managers that would cause me to believe we had any problems of credibility. I believe I have an open line of communication with Network Staff. I have now reviewed a PSC complaint dated November 16, 1989, notes concerning samples of sales in November 1989, and a letter from to concerning the credibility of a craft employee, I have never seen these documents before. Nor, was I ever told of those incidents at the time they were occurring. brought this PSC complaint to my attention in the last week. I believe that if had recognized the seriousness of that situation, he would have acted accordingly and aggressively. One thing we have learned from this investigation is that we need more details in the reports generated by GoldLine. I have already asked to generate said reports. On October 19, 1990, and I had a private meeting wherein he instructed me to look administratively in my area to identify if we had problems with our sales program. He asked me to look at files and not to talk to anyone below second level managers. I asked to conduct this investigation because had given me the names from the West Palm Beach Division. Mr. Robert Beatty has advised me that he is the attorney for the Company and that he does not represent any individual. He further advised that what was discussed in this interview is protected by the attorney-client privilege which is a privilege to and may be waived by the Company. Mr. Beatty further requested that the entire substance of this interview remain confidential. I recall from my days in staff in Atlanta complaints from General Managers in Customer Services who were displeased with the fact that Network sales plans were always rewarded with higher awards than Customer Services awards were for their sales programs. It was perceived and sometimes questioned that the payouts were so much that it would be difficult to justify it. I was transferred to Miami in March of 1989. Since that time, I recall general discussions regarding possible sales abuse by Network employees, but I never saw anything to justify those discussions. I do not recall a telephone call from _____ in West Palm in 1989 regarding sales abuse. I'm sure that if _____ has indicated he conversed with me regarding sales abuse, then he must have done so. I do not recall having taken any action to discuss sales abuse with _____ I do recall that the Union was concerned about sales objectives because having Services Technicians selling would preclude Service Representatives meeting said objectives. Service Representatives are evaluated on sales. There was a certain amount of unhappiness between Customer Services and Network as a result of Network sales programs. Without any hard evidence of a problem, I would have been reluctant to talk to any General Managers. If my staff had examples or details of samples that questioned the credibility of the Network sales programs, they were never brought to my attention. With regard to GoldLine, the emphasis was to bring together all sales campaigns. I do not recall that GoldLine's objective was to stop abuse. suggested that we pattern a program after an existing program in Illinois Bell. The result was GoldLine. In fact, GoldLine awards are up to the Tier one managers but only for Network, Customer Services and Marketing and only as a symbolic participation at the pay grade 6 and above levels. coordinated GoldLine and would be aware of all its parameters. GoldLine now allows all Services Technicians to sell at the customer's home if they have a service order on hand. They simply add whatever has been sold to the service order and this flows back through the 2011 to GoldLine. I don't believe I would agree with Network inputting service orders themselves. I would lose total control of the service order input process. I do not recall discussing this with but I believe he would support my position. has been a supporter of GoldLine. November 8, 1990

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to George E. Nicholson who has identified himself to me as a representative for Southern Bell. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I reside at [redacted] and subscribe to telephone number

I am employed by Southern Bell in Lake Worth as an Administrative Reports Clerk in the Palm Division Network Office, and my net credited service date with the Company is December 13, 1965. My date of birth is and my social security number is [redacted] I understand that I am being interviewed about a handwritten note that was given to Manager-Support. who is my immediate supervisor. On Tuesday, November 6, 1990, came to me with a copy of a handwritten note. I looked at this note, recognized the handwriting to be my own, and recalled making the note. I had made the written notations while on a telephone call with who was the sales coordinator for the Network Sales Program in Florida and based on the date I wrote on this note, it appears that I made the notations on November 17, 1989. My note from that date includes the following "400 didn't go through system at all, $7,000.00 revenue Sample 97 - 30 bogus - never talked to 10-15 name and address not correct, 10-15 seasonal - not even in city, 5 employees did not give auth for sale. Talked to 11-17-89." I made these notations and after concluding my conversation, I gave the note to After I gave the note to , I did not think anymore about it. Concerning my involvement with the Network Sales Program, I first became involved in it in about 1986 when I moved from the Maintenance Center to the Palm Division Office. My supervisor after that move was who pretty much let me handle the sales record keeping. If I had a question, I would call a sales coordinator rather than ask My sales duties involved ordering the blank sales referral forms and having them sent to the field. I was not involved with the actual sales calls or customer contacts in any way, and only became involved again in the sales process when the sales results were reported on the Form 2011's that we received. These forms were prepared according to employee sales codes and came in four times per month. I would send the first three forms to the field and kept the end of month forms to use to write out the points checks for the sales employees to use to claim gifts for sales recognition. There were two types of Form 2011 with one type reflecting installation sales and the other type for sales made through the Match program where installation and Customer Services employees work together on sales and then share any points earned. Most of the Form 2011's I worked with were the installation type and what I would do with the end of the month forms was use the "Revenue" column to compute the points each employee had earned. The points earned were a percentage of the revenue figures and the percentages were different depending on the level of the employee involved. The craft employee who made the sale would receive 10% of the revenue, the first level manager over the craft employee would receive 3%, the second level managers 2% and the third level manager 1%. After computing the revenue amounts, each employee was due, I would then write out points checks to them which they could use to order gifts from a catalog. Once an employee ordered gifts, they sent the forms to me along with their points checks and I would enter the order on a CAPRI form and request the item through Purchasing. The item would eventually be sent directly to the involved employee. On the larger or more valuable items, CAPRI would send me a receipt and I would then call the employee to make sure they had received the item before I would sign the receipt. In my work with the sales program, I would telephone frequently to ask questions and I believe that on the day the note in question was prepared, November 17, 1989, I had originated a call to On that call, began telling me about some of the sales. I wrote notes on the information on a piece of paper and later that same day, gave the note to I do not recall asking me to give any information to or asking me to have call her about the information. The only other person I recall discussing sales with was , a female employee who formerly worked outside. but because of an injury, was working for a while on sales. now is an Operator at 326 Fern Street and her comments to me about sales dealt with the volume of sales being made by She also would sometimes ask me about her own sales results from the Form 2011's.

I have read the above statement consisting of this and four other pages and to the best of my knowledge it is true and correct. I have initialed each page and each correction.

DATE: September 19, 1970

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am _____. My birthdate is _____ and my Social Security Number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a maintenance Administrator residing at _____ at 2909 Mandarin Drive, Orlando, Florida. My NCS date is 8-23-68. On the Orlando Maintenance Center. Since the consolidation with the Sanford Lake Maintenance Center there has been at least one employee assigned to telephone sales solicitation. These sales contacts with subscribers concentrated on the Wiring Maintenance Plan.

Within the last two years I was assigned this job. Initially I worked for _____ who was in charge of the sales program at the time. Prior to my assuming the sales job, fellow employees had the job.

When I started in Sales I was instructed by _____ to upgrade the Maintenance Plan for subscriber lines having only the inside wiring maintenance, to the full maintenance plan. This would increase the subscriber's bill from $1.50 per month to $2.50 per month.

instructed me to add the upgrade without Contacting the subscriber.

I know when I took over the Sales job that [redacted] had also upgraded the maintenance flag on subscriber lines without Contacting the Customer. I recall that either [redacted] or [redacted] mentioned to me that the subscriber would not notice the increase, because most people don't look at their telephone bill that closely.

After I left the Maintenance Center I was placed under the supervision of [redacted] and I never [redacted] specifically discussed that I was adding the Maintenance feature to subscriber lines without making Contact with the subscriber. However, I feel that he knew what was going on, because on more than one occasion [redacted] came to me and told me not to send any more sales referrals in that month. He stated that too many referrals might initiate an investigation. I also worked for [redacted] for approximately six months. I feel that he knew what I was doing, but told me he did not want to know anything about it.

[redacted] also knew what was going on. He also came to me on more than one occasion telling me to hold off sending so many Sales referrals in. I assume that he was concerned like that a large number of sales in a [redacted] month might cause problems.

1 My present supervisor was not aware that I added features to [redacted] subscriber lines without contacting them. He has spoke to me three times regarding problems with my sales and placed a warning entry in my record regarding ~~Correctness~~ CORRECTNESS and proper completion of Company and subscriber records.

When I came into the Maintenance Center I was told by fellow employees not to make any waves and to do what I was told or management would make my life Hell.

I knew that what I was doing by adding additional features to subscriber lines without the subscriber's authorization was wrong, and have had many nightmares about it. However I did what I was told by management.

The majority of my sales were the addition of the upgraded Maintenance Plan.

19 Reviewing company records with reflects that from January 1990 through May 1990 I sold 2733 upgraded Maintenance Plans. Of these I estimate that approximately 25% of these are actual sales resulting from customer contacts. The approximately 75% remaining sales were added to the subscriber lines without making contact with the customer.

I estimate all previous sales I reported since
I took over the sales job would break down the same way, 25% actual sales and 75% added without contacting the subscriber.

I was pulled off sales in late June and have not done any sales solicitation since.

As I stated before, I knew that what I was doing was wrong, however, I was following management's instructions.

I have read the above ~~statement~~ consisting of ~~two~~ pages and it is true & to the best of my knowledge and belief.

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am My birthdate is and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with South Bell as a Service Technician and my NCS date with South Bell is January 10, 1972. I report to at 1227 Division Street, Orlando, Florida and I may be contacted at 407-425-1707.

In March, 1989, I was relieved of my job as a Service Technician, and brought into the office to make telephone sales to subscribers. I concentrated on sales of Custom Calling features and the inside maintenance plan.

After a couple of weeks on the sales job, it was brought to my attention that my sales were not as good as others in my district. My Supervision came to me one day to discuss my low sales. He suggested that one way to increase my sales was to review Customer records and find those subscribers that have only the inside wiring and jacks plan (WME) and upgrade them to the full-maintenance plan (SEQIX), without making a sales contact impossible for me to submit a sale without first making contact with the subscriber.

My second level supervisor from March 1989 until April 1990 was . He was not aware that I was submitting false sales referrals. I never discussed my sales with . Any discussion I had with management about sales was with my supervisor, Approximately two months ago I was approached by my present 2nd level supervisor He advised me that some of my sales were being questioned that they may be unauthorized. I told him there were no problems and that all of my sales were legitimate. He instructed me to maintain good records of who I spoke with when I call a subscriber so that I could prove my sales were legitimate. This was about the same time that the Gold Line Program went into effect. I started marking the sales referral sheets with either a M or F to indicate that I either spoke with the Mr. or the female of the family.

Approximately five years ago I was cut back from supervision to Craft. I felt that I was unjustly cut back and started to have a very poor attitude about my job.

When I was asked to come into the office to concentrate only on sales, I felt that this was a good opportunity for me not only to reverse my poor attitude, but to also prove to the Company that I was a good contributing employee. I worked very

With the Subscriber. He stated that the subscriber really needed the upgrade, and it would only cost them an extra $1.00 per month that they would not notice on their bill.

I took my Supervisor's suggestion and began submitting Network Sales Referrals without Contacting the Subscriber on lines that only had WMR maintance. Since Mid March 1989 I estimate that I have taken unearned Credit for hundreds of the upgraded maintenance Plan Sales without Contacting any of the Subscribers.

I have reviewed 499 Network Sales Referral sheets that I submitted in May, 1990. All of these are sales referrals ~~that~~ I submitted without Contacting the Subscriber. I did not keep any records of my Sales referrals since March of 1989, however I did submit a substancial number of referrals each month on subscribers that I did not contact. During this period I only submitted unauthorized referrals on the upgrade of the maintenance plan. All other sales referrals ~~that~~ I submitted on Custom calling features or Ring Master were actual sales from a Customer Contact either by telephone or in person.

Following the initial suggestion from my Supervisor
23 to submit unauthorized Sales, We have not discussed the matter again.

I Continued to submit unauthorized maintenance Plan Sales until the Gold Line Sales referral Program went into effect in my District in June of this year. Under the Gold Line Program, all sales are referred to Gold Line and they recontact the Subscriber and Confirm the Sale. This made it hard in the beginning on sales, but was not keeping up with the sales made by others in my district. Because of this I decided to take my supervisor's suggestion to refer sales without contacting the subscriber, so that I would look good in the eyes of the company.

I received a lot of gifts for my unauthorized sales. However this was not my main objective. I truly wanted to appear to the Company to be a good and contributing employee.

I am glad that this problem has been uncovered. I knew that what I was doing was improper, and it has bothered me ever since I started.

I have read the above statement consisting of 2½ pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge & belief. I have made all pages & corrections.

I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____, born on _____ at Dallas, Texas. I reside at 2409 Burns Street, Panama City, _____. My home telephone number is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician at 1602 N. Cove Blvd., Panama City, Florida, and I am on home dispatch. My immediate supervisor is _____ and my net credited service date is February 4, 1972. I am being re-interviewed today to clarify some points from my previous statement of February 5, 1991. I installed two telephone lines _____ during the summer of 1990. These were two separate visits but I don't remember the dates. One day I was talking to Detective _____ Police Department. He mentioned a case he was working on _____ and I told him I had installed some service in the residence. He said he might need my help on the case and I gave him my pager number. On September 21, 1990, sometime in the morning, I was paged and I called _____. I went to the station and discussed the case with him. I first found out that Southern Bell Security had provided records because they were subpoenaed. _____ had the records but he couldn't read or understand them well. I helped explain the records and also told him about "Ringmaster" which he asked me about. I also looked at photographs and identified the people as the same people who resided at [redacted] I have not been back to this home and the only time I went to the residence was to perform Company business. September 21, 1990 was the day I submitted the trouble report on 904-235-0366 to cover my time. I charged an hour of overtime on September 21, 1990 because I worked overtime. I felt that because our Company was cooperating in the investigation and was aware of the situation, I had a civic and Company responsibility to help out on behalf of the Company. I have not divulged any proprietary information or assisted in any other cases handled by law enforcement. I have looked at records which indicated I performed work at the police station on 7-13-89, 3-8-90 and 10-15-90. On 7-13-89 I repaired some equipment that had been damaged by a janitor with his brooms or mops. On 3-8-90 the report was noisy line. I don't remember the trouble but the line must have come clear because I found it O.K. On 10-15-90, someone had removed some bridge clips which I replaced. I have not falsified any reports to improve productivity or give myself free time. The only report I generated was on 235-0366 to cover my time working with the police on 9-21-90. Again, I felt it was my responsibility to assist in this matter.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and two others. It is true to the best of my knowledge.

Jacksonville Beach, Florida
2:06PM

I, [redacted], hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

[redacted] I am [redacted] was born on [redacted] live with my wife at [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted]. My home telephone number is [redacted]

My net credited service date is April 1, 1968 and I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician. My office address is 1824 N. 3rd Street, Jacksonville Beach, Florida. My immediate supervisor was [redacted] but as of January 1, 1991, it's [redacted]

I am being interviewed today concerning some repair reports that were called into the Company automated system (called AIRO). The reports indicate that the customer called in the reports directly, and they were pre-assigned to me to work. My supervisor, [redacted] had talked to me about my productivity a few months ago. I began to identify some customer numbers while I was working in terminals and would call Repair and make a trouble report. I would call back in and talk to a Maintenance Administrator and ask if they were holding a trouble report on the number. I would then request that the repair be assigned to me to handle. I don't recall how many of these I did or how often I would do this. This was my own idea and I never shared this procedure with anyone. I did some work on all of the reports that I did. I would re-terminate jumpers or wire and replace equipment that was corroded. I felt this would prevent future trouble. I never thought about the report rate or manipulation of Company records. It just did not enter my mind. I have always been a slow worker, but I do quality work on every assignment I undertake. I felt some pressure from my supervisor about my quantity and thought my job was in jeopardy. I began to make the reports in hopes that my production would look better and make me and my boss pleased. I realize that I made a mistake in taking this route to achieve my goal.

INTERVIEW AND SIGNED STATEMENT OF [redacted] ASSISTANT MANAGER-I.M.C
(October 18, 1990)

[redacted] was personally interviewed by Booker at the South Florida Security office in Miami, Florida. [redacted] provided the following signed statement regarding the incident:

"October 18, 1990
666 N.W. 79 Ave Rm 318
Miami, FL

I, [redacted] voluntarily furnish Hampton E. Booker, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on [redacted] My social security number is [redacted] and I reside at [redacted] I work at the North Dade I.M.C. and my title is [redacted] My seniority date is July, 1966. On 08/30/90, [redacted] Manager-I.M.C.-North Dade, personally requested that I assist him in meeting the Out of Service Objective by building a base of Out of Service troubles. I perceived [redacted] quest to be improper and told him it was incorrect to do what he was asking. [redacted] told me to do it and to get a Maintenance Administrator that could be trusted. I perceived [redacted] s request to be a direct order and proceeded against my own will to [redacted], Maintenance Administrator, with the TOK (Test OK) list for the purpose of making the Test OK troubles out of service. [redacted] told me to use the Test OK list and to keep a running count of how many were statused out of service so that the objective would be met. The Maintenance Administrator, [redacted] s, proceeded to make the Test OK troubles Out of Service as I requested. I provided a count to [redacted] on several occasions on 08/30/90 and 08/31/90 for his figures concerning meeting the index. At one point, [redacted] Assistant Manager-I.M.C., was present when I provided figures to [redacted] After the review of the I.M.C. Headquarters staff, it became evident to me that the statusing of Test OK troubles was a serious problem. On 10/02/90, the meeting before the staff feedback, requested to see me. said that the Test OK Mode Out procedure involving Out of Service was done without his knowledge. I was surprised at statement and told him of my surprise. told me that he talked to the staff person who noticed the problem and perhaps it could be smoothed over. then told me that he apprised of the incident and that I was the manager responsible, at that point I went to the feedback. At the feedback, the Headquarters Staff Representative read the findings of the Test OK Out of Service Statusing. General Manager-Network, asked for more information pertaining to the Test OK Out of Service Statusing and the I.M.C. Staff Manager provided documentation to support the statusing irregularities showing alleged wrongdoing. advised that she would talk to them after the meeting. On 10/04/90, I requested and obtained a meeting wit Operations Manager-Network. I advised all of the happenings concerning the Test OK Out of Service problem. listened to me and thanked me for telling him. On 10/12/90, I met with Ms. Linda Eisenhour to discuss the statusing of Test OK Troubles Out of Service improperly to meet an objective. I was requested b not discuss the situation since Security personnel will be reviewing the whole situation. ON 10/17/90, requested to see me. told me that he was not involved in the statusing and that he was mean "ass" for making the allegation that I was responsible for the incorrect statusing of Test OK Troubles. suggested that I blame the statusing on told that I would not but the blame on and that I was not going to be fired for the statusing. told me that he wouldn't be fired either, that "if anybody is going to be fired it will be you". old me that I was the problem and that if he was requested to he would take a lie detector test. I also stated that I would be willing to take a lie detector test. XO suggested that a false statement be provided to Security in order to cover up this statusing problem, that it would only help me get out of this. dicated that when he sent ne, Associate Manager-I.M.C., to talk to me to suggest a false reason for the statusing such as the customer has lost the ability to make or receive telephone calls, should be Out of Service quoting BSP 660-169-012 SU, paragraph 3.06 b. In conclusion, I would like to state that this is the first time in 25 years that I was ever given a direct order to falsify Company records against my will. I am willing to cooperate with this investigation as needed. I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and three pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page and each correction.

Interview of [redacted]

Havana, Florida
February 4, 1991
10:40 AM

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jaffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am a [redacted] and was born on [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted]. I reside at [redacted] telephone number is [redacted]. I am a Services Technician in Havana, Florida, and my net credited service date is May 24, 1971. My immediate supervisor is [redacted]. I am being interviewed today concerning my job assignments (tasks) that I perform on a daily basis. I have reviewed some tasks that were shown to me by Mr. Jaffries. I did all the work as described on the records except for the one which is 904-539-9384. I stated that I had trimmed trees on this task. However, the service is provided by a buried service wire, and I couldn't have trimmed trees. I think I may have input the wrong number when I cleared the tree limbs and closed the task to the wrong number. Several months ago, when work was very slack, I would call into the test center for a task when my terminal would not assign a task to me. I would talk to a Maintenance Administrator and she he would try to find some work. If there was none after checking with the test center supervisor, they would tell me to find something to do. I would identify a number and make up an Irregular Plant Condition (IPC). I would then call the test center and have it assigned to me. When work was slack I would be concerned about my productivity and would get tasks assigned to me to help my tasks per day. We also work service orders which can be very time-consuming. This counts as one (1) task just like a repair or an IPC. The IPC's would help keep my productivity up when I got tied up on big jobs. This has been procedure with me since the Service Technicians went on the Measurement/Productivity Plan. I guess this has been about four years. We have been so busy since about November, 1990, there has been very little slack time. As a result, I have not had to request many IPC's. There has been a procedure which came out recently regarding tasks. If there is no work available after checking with the test center, then we are to get in touch with our supervisor who will tell us what to do.

INTERVIEW AND SIGNED STATEMENT OF _____ SR-I.M.C.
(October 23, 1990)

_____ was personally interviewed by Booker at the North Dade Division office located at 18301 N. Miami Avenue, Miami, Florida. _____ provided the following signed statement regarding the incident:

"October 23, 1990
18361 N. Miami Avenue
N. Miami, FL

_____ voluntarily furnish Hampton B. Booker, who has identified himself to me as a representative of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the following statement. I have been told this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on [redacted]. My social security number is [redacted] and I reside [redacted]. I am a manager in the North Dade I.M.C. I am aware of the statement made by the I.M.C. Headquarters Staff that the statusing of Test OK Troubles as Out of Service was a direct result of possible intentional manipulation to make a result index. I am personally convinced that I made an incorrect assumption that one of the managers in the I.M.C., [redacted] was responsible for the incorrect statusing. I told several members of the I.M.C. staff of my assumptions and now feel those assumptions may have been incorrect. I feel the assumptions were driven from incidents which were known to have happened in the past as found through Operational Reviews. My reason for advising the staff was to state that if any wrong doings was found, it would be an extremely isolated incident and that considerable efforts over the previous 18 months to maintain integrity were made by all members of the North Dade I.M.C. staff. I now believe that [redacted] was not responsible for the statusing of Test OK as Out of Service. At no time in the past did I ask any management person or craft to status any reports improper and I was never requested by any superior to improperly status any report incorrectly. I do not know at this time what was the cause for the statusing of Test OK as Out of Service and conclude that a misunderstanding could have caused the problem. I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this page and one other and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page and each correction.

Interview o[redacted]

On January 8, 1991, Jeffries interviewed [redacted] in the presence of Hice and W. L. DeLoach, Services Technician and Union Representative. The following unsigned statement was obtained. While the statement is unsigned, [redacted] advised the information contained therein is true.

"Jacksonville Beach, Florida
9:35AM

I, [redacted] hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am [redacted]

work for Southern Bell. I [redacted] works in the Facility Assignment Center at the Southern Bell Tower. I am employed as a Service Technician at 1824 North 3rd Street, Jacksonville Beach, Florida. My net credited service date is September 22, 1968 and my social security number is [redacted]. I reside at [redacted]

I am being interviewed today regarding some trouble reports that were called in directly to the AIRO System (Automated Reporting). These troubles were pre-assigned to me to work and were reflected as customer direct reports. One of the reports was an employee report preassigned to me. I transferred to Jacksonville from New Smyrna Beach about 1 1/2 years ago. Since I have been in Jacksonville, there was a standing procedure to call the Maintenance Center when work was slack or no work was available. When this happened, on rare occasions, then I would call the Maintenance Administrator who would check for work. If no work was available, I would be referred to the Load Balance Supervisor. The supervisor would check and sometimes I would be sent to another area in the city to work. If there was no work, sometimes they would tell me to get a number and make a trouble and call back in a couple of hours. I would identify a telephone number and make a trouble report. Later I would call the Maintenance Administrator and have the report pulled and assigned to me. I would in most cases just close the report without a visit to the customer. Sometimes I did go by and check the service. Let me say that this was very rarely done and only done when directed to me by the supervisor in the Maintenance Center. I did not go to my foreman when we were out of work. I followed the instructions given to me. I have never randomly created trouble reports to make my production look better. I never needed to do that and my integrity would not allow me to do this. The supervisors who told me to get a number and make a trouble war amc [redacted] As of several months ago, we are no longer allowed to make employee reports. We call the Maintenance Center and if no work is available, we are to call our field supervisor. My field supervisor would normally call the Load Control Foreman and decide what work should be assigned.

When I was told to get a number and make a report, I was not specifically told how to make the report. Sometimes it would go into the AIRO System and sometimes I would talk to a Maintenance Administrator. Again, I have never generated reports to make myself look better. I was only following instructions.

Interview and signed statement of [redacted]

February 4, 1991

I, [redacted] do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to J. G. Jeffries, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

[redacted] My home telephone number is [redacted] and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed by Southern Bell as a Services Technician at 1015 W. Highway 90, Chipley, Florida and my immediate supervisor is [redacted] My net credited service date is January 29, 1967. I am being interviewed today concerning some tasks that I completed. They were employee reports and primarily Irregular Plant Conditions (IPC's). My productivity has been on the low side and I have been talked to about it on several occasions by my supervisor. I am not a lazy employee and I work very hard. If someone needs help, I don't hesitate to help them complete their job. I have had reports prepared to cover my productive time. I visit every customer that I make a report on. I have not and would never have reports dispatched to me and not visit the customer location. I have worked overtime and lunch hours and not shown it on my time so I could make my production results. When work is slack, I have called the Maintenance Center to look for work. If there is nothing available, I have been told to get a routine or an IPC and call back later. There are some procedures out now that require management O.K. to get pre-assigned a task. I do a lot of work for the Company that I may not actually have an assigned task for. I consider the customer and make sure that all customers are pleased with my work. I will continue to do the best job I can. I will not lie to make my results. I do realize that it is against Company policy to prepare trouble or IPC's when there is no trouble or a condition that needs repaired.

Dear John:

Enclosed please documents reponsive to the following items of the above-referenced Request for Production:

1. Item 1 (Bates #C91 000000-32).

2. Item 6 (Bates #C96 000137-169).

3. Item 9 (Bates #C99 000000-4).

4. Item 20 (Bates #C920 000000-11).

5. Item 22 (Bates #C922 000000-32).

C919 000000

With respect to Item 19, I am enclosing a videotape. As we discussed, Southern Bell has elected to respond to Item 19 by allowing representatives of the Attorney General's office to view certain materials at the Southern Bell training facility in Plantation, Florida.

With respect to Item 17, documents relating to Southern Bell's investigation into matters involving the TIP sales program have been previously produced to the Attorney General's office on August 19, 1991, pursuant to the Request for Production dated July 16, 1991 ("Third Request"). In addition, we had in our office 15 boxes of documents responsive to this item. Mike Maloy requested that we copy 50 consecutive pages from those boxes and forward them to you. Those documents were Bates stamped #C917 000000-49 and were delivered to you on January 31, 1992.

Sincerely,

Stephen M. Klimacek

Period Covered By Investigation: 04/23/91 to 06/03/91

Synopsis:

The Security office was notified through an anonymous call that a conversation overheard between the above captioned managers suggested that additional trouble tickets should be opened to dilute the effects of a 63 hour outage and enhance the chances of meeting their objective. The caller went on to specifically identify the trouble tickets which she felt were improperly opened. During the investigation, the anonymous caller was identified as and she was interviewed on the matter. agreed, after reviewing the practice, that the trouble tickets in question were properly opened and she should not have called Security. The issue of why used the fictitious employee code #823 instead of her own was also looked into and it was discovered that there are no written instructions on the correct use of that code. A MTAS report generated on the usage of code #823 between 03/20/91 and 06/02/91 showed it had been used on two occasions other than the ones being investigated here. The results of this investigation were discussed with Operations Manager-Network.

PREDICATION

An anonymous call was received in the South Florida Security office by Hampton Booker, Staff Manager-Security, from a female stating that a conversation overheard between Assistant Manager and Assistant Manager, suggested that additional trouble tickets would have to be opened to compensate for a 63 hour outage. The caller went on to identify five specific trouble tickets which she felt were improperly opened. As a result, the matter was assigned to Staff Manager-Security Del Castellanos for investigation.

INTERVIEW AND STATEMENT OF ASSISTANT MANAGER-NETWORK
(April 29, 1991)

was interviewed by Castellanos on the matter at hand and provided the following signed statement:

"April 29, 1991
7720 NW 50 St. Bldg.D
11:59 a.m.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Del Castellanos who has identified himself to me as a Staff Manager representing Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on and my social security number is [redacted] I reside at and my telephone number is I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegrapn Company as an Assistant Manager in the Network Department. I have been employed there since June 16, 1972. On this date, I was questioned by Castellanos in reference to an anonymous phone call received in the Security office which mentions my name as well as that of other managers in connection with possible falsification of trouble reports to meet an Index. These allegations are completely false and totally without merit and I would like to comment on the specifics. When asked on whether we've had a trouble ticket that stayed open for over 63 hours, I am sure we have. As a matter of fact, I would like for the record to show that when I went looking for the trouble in question which I found closed on 04/15/91, just on that day, there were six other trouble tickets closed whose duration was over 63 hours. Specifically, 74 hours and 32 minutes; 94 hours and 31 minutes; 68 hours and 40 minutes; 70 hours and 54 minutes; 75 hours and 28 minutes and 74 hours and 32 minutes. In summary, there is nothing particularly strange about having trouble tickets open for long periods of time due to circumstances that many times are beyond our control. As far as my having a conversation with another manager in my group, in which I was supposedly overheard saying that we were in trouble because of a 63 hour ticket and we'd have to input more troubles, I don't recall such conversation. I seldom speak to because she works a different shift than I do and in a different group. I do remember, about two weeks ago, being outside smoking a cigarette with three or four other managers ( may have been one of them) and making a statement that we were really going to have to work hard this month to meet our objective because of some long duration outages. When shown the telephone number on which the alleged bogus reports were opened, I remember the circumstances well. There were a total of six access lines associated with Wats service which worked for the same customer. The trouble report stated that there was humming on the line but the customer could not identify which line. It is not unusual for this type of report to come in and, when it does, all lines are tested. This is exactly what should be done and, per the latest practice, Section 660-169-011SV, page 6, item 5.1, it reads: 'If on one call, a trouble is reported on more than one line, etc., count one trouble report for each such line reported. Each report must be counted separately, even though all the troubles were reported on one call'. I have given Castellanos a xerox copy of such practice. On the alleged reports, this is exactly what was done and it was 100% correct. The lines in question were 305-624-8040; 305-620-2393; 305-620-2396; 305-624-8028; 305-624-8039 and 305-624-8048. The testing and actual handling of the troubles on all of the above was done by Testing Technician. However, ran out of time before opening up individual troubles on each line and this was passed on to , who also ran out of time and in turn passed them on to , a Maintenance Administrator. From looking at the employee codes on the trouble history, I see code 897 which belongs to on one of them and then code 823, which does not belong to anybody, on all the others. I would suspect that it was who closed the troubles out using the fictitious code 823 instead of her code 894. I believe this because, first of all, I left the troubles with her to input individually and next, because I got a call at home that evening from and , all of whom were in office, asking me about the legality of opening up such troubles and, when I confirmed that not only was it legal but it was the correct thing to do, they instructed me to call and explain it to her. I did and I recall also asking me whether it was legal, to which I replied that it was. I then remember her telling me that she did not think she could do it, which I attributed to maybe lack of experience rather than a legality problem because she never mentioned that as a problem, so I just told her to do her best and ended the conversation. I never discussed the tickets again with or looked at them until today, when confronted by Security. Also, from reading the note that was entered stating that the tickets were opened on a direct order from it must have been I can see where she would put my name down, but I don't understand name being there, because, to the best of my knowledge, he never discussed the situation with The fact that these troubles were opened individually had nothing to do with any major outage and they would have been opened that way whether we had any major outage or not. The practice that covers how to open and handle this type of trouble is relatively new and our people are presently being trained on it. The subject matter expert on this practice is Associate Staff Manager. I have discussed this type of trouble with him before and he has confirmed that the proper thing to do is to open up a trouble report on each line that gets tested as a result of a trouble report. I would like to stress that I am very careful about following procedures to the letter and I would never knowingly violate any Company policy. I can't think of anything else to add. I have read the above statement consisting of five handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

RECORD CHECKS OF TROUBLES CLOSED ON 04/15/91
(April 29, 1991)

Record checks of troubles closed on 04/15/91 revealed not only a trouble with a duration of 63 hours and 14 minutes, but six additional other troubles in excess of 63 hours. This corroborates statement that there would be nothing unusual about troubles staying open that long, specifically over the weekend, which was the case in this instance.

A copy of the above log will be kept as an exhibit in this file.

REVIEW OF SECTION 660-169-011SV
(April 29, 1991)

A review of item 5.1 of the above captioned practice finds that it reads as follows:

"If on one call, a trouble is reported on more than one line, etc., count one trouble report for each such line reported. Each report must be counted separately, even though all of the troubles are reported on one call".

A copy of said practice will be kept as an exhibit in this file.

After looking at the trouble history, I do remember the circumstances. The number in trouble was reported by ut I found nothing wrong with it when I tested it. I called Amy back at to close my trouble when she told me that she had a total of six lines, one of which was in trouble but because they were not stenciled at the switchboard, she did not know which one. She then gave me the list of all the other numbers and asked me to check them all out. I proceeded to check them all out, but since I ran out of time before I was able to open individual tickets on them, I left them with Assistant Manager, with whom I keep in touch on all my Wats troubles. I don't know what, if anything, did with the tickets and prior to today, I had not been asked anything on them. If I had had the time, to the best of my knowledge, the proper thing to have done would have been to open up an individual ticket on each of the lines that was tested as a result of the report. I can't think of anything else that would be useful. I have read the above statement consisting of two handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Del Castellanos who has identified himself to me as a Staff Manager representing Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on and my social security number is [redacted]. I reside at and my telephone number I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company as a Manager-Network. I have been employed there since April 6,1970. On this date, I was approached by Castellanos and questioned on an anonymous complaint received in the Security office alleging that fictitious trouble tickets were created by a manager in my group to help meet an Index. I never, of course, would order or tolerate from anyone in my work group such conduct. I have never been approached by anyone under me, either craft or management, to discuss the possibility of such problem. After looking at the specifics of the trouble in question, I do remember Assistant Manager, coming into my office late one day and advising me that one of the Testers, had a problem with something that another Assistant Manager, had asked her to do. I remember calling at home, waking her up and discussing the circumstances with her. Since I am not very knowledgeable on the LMOS side of the house, I remember asking her if what was being done was in accordance with existing practices and when she agreed, asking her to call and correcting the situation. Although after looking at the specifics, it becomes obvious that nothing illegal has been done, I have a problem with the note line in the trouble history record that states that I gave a direct order to open up trouble tickets, because I never-did such thing. I also have a problem with the employee that entered such note using an employee code of '823' which does not exist and I would like to find out who that was, because if there has been any falsification of records, it appears to me that is where it was done. Other than the above, the only other thing I recall is Associate Staff Manager-South Sector Staff, visiting me in my office a couple days later and my questioning him on the situation with , to which he replied that she had done everything by the practice. After this, I forgot about the incident and never discussed it with anybody else until approached by Security. I can't think of anything to add at this time. On this date, I was approached by Castellanos and questioned on an anonymous call received in the Security office alleging that fictitious trouble tickets were created in the Special Service Center, MAC, to dilute clearing time and help meet the overall Index. I will start by saying that I believe I know who placed the call, and that would be a Maintenance Administrator by the name of The reason I know is that, a few days after the incident, she advised me that she had called Hampton Booker in the Security office. As far as my involvement on the trouble tickets, this is what I remember. About two weeks ago, I received a call from Staff Manager-IMC, who was questioning me on three trouble tickets that had been open for a while. I don't remember the specifics of the trouble tickets, but I do remember that two of them had already been taken care of and the other was being handled by who was not sure what to do with it. I did not know the specifics of the ticket then, so I walked into office, who is one of the managers at the office, and made him aware of the problem. Since he did not appear to know too much about what was going on either, he called (another Assistant Manager who apparently was familiar with the trouble) at home to discuss what was happening. Everything appeared to be in order so asked to call and explain what to do with the tickets. I never discussed the tickets with and it is my understanding that called her. Later on that night, mentioned to me that herself, as well as others in the group, felt uncomfortable with inputting a trouble in the system that she knew nothing about. Again, I did not know the specifics, so I did not discuss the issue with her. A few days later, advised me that she had called Security to advise them of the incident, just like I described at the start of the statement. This is about all I know of the incident in question. I don't ever recall having had any type of conversation with in reference to an outage of 63 hours due to which we would have to input additional tickets. I would never advise an employee to enter any trouble tickets which could be deemed illegal in any way or form. From looking at the tickets being discussed here after the fact, I can't see where anybody did anything wrong. I have read the above statement consisting of three handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed all corrections.

INTERVIEW AND STATEMENT OF MAINTENANCE ADMINISTRATOR-NETWORK

was interviewed by Castellanos in the presence of Willie Gant, Assistant Manager, on the matter at hand and provided the following signed statement:

"May 3, 1991
7720 NW 50 St.Bldg.D
2:45 p.m.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Del Castellanos who has identified himself to me as a Staff Manager representing Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I understand this statement may be used as evidence. I was born on , and my social security number is [redacted] I reside at and my telephone number is 1920. I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company as a Maintenance Administrator. I have been employed there since June 12, 1965. On this date, I was approached by Castellanos to discuss an anonymous call that was placed to Security regarding the possibility that some trouble tickets were created to dilute the local plant clearing time average. I would like to start by stating that I was the one who placed the call. I don't have anything to hide. I was given instructions to do something with which I had a problem and I basically wanted to protect myself and my peers who may find themselves in a similar situation. It was not my intention to get any other employee, management or craft, in trouble. I just wanted to make sure that I stayed out of trouble. The circumstances were as follows: one of the Assistant Managers in the Center, came to me one evening and asked me to input tickets on four lines that I had not tested stating that she needed them because she had just had an outage of 63 hours. I had a problem with the circumstances around the tickets and with all the investigations going on where someone does something because the supervisor told them to do so and later on ends up getting in trouble or losing their job, I did not want to take any chance. If I had been given a copy of the original ticket where I would have seen that another Tester had tested the lines, etc., I would have had no problem entering the tickets. I also want to explain that I used code 823 instead of 894 because it is my understanding that 823 is a designated code to be used by Maintenance Administrators when inputting employee reports. I was not trying to hide anything, again when I placed the note lines stating that I was doing this on a direct order and, after all, everyone knew who the tickets had been given to. If nothing else comes out of this, I would like to feel comfortable if the situation ever arises that I feel that responding to a direct order would cause an integrity problem and I am sure that all my peers feel the same way. I don't expect for that to be a problem. After looking at the tickets in question and with all the circumstances now known to me, I would not have thought much of entering the tickets nor would I have called Security. As far as the original report or call stating that there had been a conversation between stating that they were in trouble because of a 63-hour outage and had to input trouble tickets, that was incorrect - there was no such conversation. The statement was made by to me just before she gave me the tickets, like I previously stated on this statement. I can't think of anything else to add at this time. I have read the above statement consisting of three handwritten pages and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

The following investigation was conducted by Staff Managers-Security A. F. Bradley, N. C. Thornton and G. C. Stringer.

BACKGROUND

Interview of Customer Services Manager

On July 15, 1989, Manager met with Security Staff Manager Bradley to review his initial findings. According to this matter was brought to his attention by Manager of the Revenue Recovery Center (RRC) in Orlando, Florida. advised that the personal telephone account for employee had been treated for late payments on several occasions during 1989. It was difficult for her representatives to resolve problems with as she refused to discuss her account with the RRC, and had her account treated inappropriately by fellow employees, particularly On several occasions, service was denied or scheduled for denial by RRC Representatives. However, her service would be restored without the normal $20.50 restoral fee or the denial would be cancelled with questionable notations on the Customer Service Record (CSR) by employees

A review of the personal accounts by on these four employees revealed questionable notations by to the accounts for The accounts for and were clear. It was further determined that had also treated their own account. According to it was general policy that an employee should not treat their own account. It is also policy since the establishment of the Orlando Revenue Recovery Center (RRC) in October, 1988, that all subscriber accounts, including employee accounts either denied, scheduled for denial, or has a returned check, should be handled by an RRC Representative. If a subscriber should contact a Customer Services Representative with one of these type delinquency problems, the call should be immediately transferred to the RRC for handling. An employee should resolve these delinquency problems on their own account in the same manner. Any rare deviations from the policy is to be authorized by the employee's supervisor.

Prior to initiating a Security investigation, it was decided that Manager would have all the personal accounts of the remaining representatives under his supervision reviewed by their immediate supervisor to determine if other employees were involved.

Following this review of the available Customer Service Record history on the remaining employees, did not find any other representatives taking questionable or inappropriate action on fellow employee accounts. He did, however, find that Representatives had treated or noted their own account. It was further determined from Manager that there is no general notice posted in the personnel files of his employees, documenting coverage regarding the proper handling of personal and fellow employe accounts, with one exception. An IBOSS Security Notice was found in the personnel file of signed by him on January 23, 1986, and also signed by his supervisor, The notice states "Employee should not make changes or adjustments in their own account, a friend's account, or a relative's account, without the approval of a supervisor". When later questioned, recalled that employees at the Merritt Island Office were covered on the IBOSS Security Notice, but the notice was subsequently removed following a personnel file review. This happened prior to Manager move to the Merritt Island Office.

DETAILS

On August 16, 1989, Staff Manager Bradley met with Assistant Manager, Revenue Recovery Center and Assistant Manager-Customer Services-Residence, Merritt Island, Florida, to review in detail the Customer Service Record notations on the employee accounts involved. Assistant Manager is the immediate supervisor of employees advised she was not aware that her employees were treating each others service and would not have authorized such treatment.

Assistant Manager advised that she personally contacted employe on one occasion in an attempt to resolve her personal account after her RRC Representatives were unsuccessful. According to responded that she did not have time to talk.

The inappropriate actions or notations shown on IBOSS CSR information which is identified to one particular employee will be reflected in this report just prior to the interview of that employee.

Interview of _____ was interviewed on September 1, 1989, by A. F. Bradley, and the following unsigned statement was prepared outlining the details of the interview.

"Merritt Island, Florida
September 1, 1989

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am thirty eight (38) years old. My birth date is and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell as a Service Representative - Residence in the Merritt Island Customer Services Group. I report to and can be reached through her at 407-455-7011.

I have reviewed the Customer Service Record on the telephone service for fellow employee In the notations for April 20, 1989, the account reflects that this service was changed from credit class "B" to a permanent credit class "B" and the notations reflect that I was the Service Representative that made the change.

I do not recall making a change in the credit class for employee I know that there have been occasions when other employees have used my IBOSS position when I would either forget to sign off or the system would go down prior to lunch and it would automatically come up when I was at lunch.

I have reviewed the Customer Service Record on the telephone service for fellow employee

In the notations for June 14, 1989, the account reflects that this service was also changed from credit class "B" to permanent credit class "B" and the notations again reflected that I was the Service Representative that made the change. Again, I do not recall making the change.

I have changed customer credit classes before after payment arrangements were made for two accounts with different billing dates to avoid the customer receiving unnecessary notices. These type changes would not have included employee accounts to the best of my knowledge.

I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley the Customer Service Record notations on my own account for

There is noted on my account, several occasions when my service was denied for non-pay or late payment and then turned back on by fellow employees without being charged the $20.50 reconnect charge.

As I recall, I did make payment arrangements with fellow employees on my account, but at no time did I ever request that the employee noting my account to restore my service at no charge.

I personally have no control over what the other employee may have noted on my account.

I have never been told by management until two weeks ago that it was improper to note my own account. However, it has been my personal practice in the past to not note my own account.

On August 21, 1989, my account is noted that the file indicator "D" was removed. My initials are shown in the notes as the Service Representative making the note.

I recall pulling up my account that day and also making payment arrangements with fellow employee I do not recall that I personally made the notation regarding the "D" file indicator being removed.

On several occasions, I had fellow employees note my file that I made payments on specific dates and the records then reflected that the payments were made at later dates. On these incidences, I had given these payments to one of my family members and had requested that they make my payments at a specific time. Obviously the person that I trusted to make the payment, failed me. I had to go back to that person, who had my money, and insist that he make the payment.

Employee read the statement consisting of four (4) pages and the statement did reflect the contents of the interview.

Interview of was interviewed on September 1, 1989, by N. C. Thornton and the following unsigned statement was prepared outlining the details of the interview.

"Merritt Island, Florida
September 1, 1989

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to Nelson Thornton, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am My date of birth is My social security number is [redacted] I reside at I am employed by Southern Bell as a Service Representative at 255 Sykes Creek Parkway, Merritt Island, Florida. My supervisor is and her business telephone number is 407-455-7011. My net credited service date with Southern Bell is January 9, 1971.

On December 16, 1988, an order was issued to deny my residence service, for non-pay. I accessed my IBOSS terminal and cancelled the denial order. I cancelled the order because I had made the payment order on December 14, 1988. I know the IBOSS records show the payment was not made until December 22, 1988 and the agency payment report does not reflect a payment being made on my account from December 12, 1988 through December 15, 1988. I cannot explain why my payment was not recorded until December 22, 1988. An entry of this type would normally show the payment receipt number. On this entry, I did not show a payment receipt number. I don't know why unless I did not have the receipt with me when I cancelled the denial order. I removed the denial treatment history because it was never denied.

IBOSS records show that I removed the "D" indicator from the account of co-worker on January 11, 1989. The "D" indicates the account is denied or that an order has been issued to deny the account. If an order is typed into IBOSS, the "D" will automatically be removed. If an order is typed into DOE (Direct Order Entry), you have to manually add or delete the "D" indicator on IBOSS. The records on 631-5733 were only retained for ninety (90) days, therefore, it cannot be determined whether payment had been received and service legitimately restored.

On February 17, 1989, I issued "D" order number D1417048575 on my service It is my understanding that I am allowed to issue orders on my own account if I have my supervisor's approval. In this case I was having Prestige service installed and I wanted to get the credit for the sale. My supervisor at that time was and she had to help me because we don't get very many Prestige orders and we had to be sure I was inputting the correct codes.

I restored account on April 12, 1989, because she came to me and told me the payment had been mailed through Company mail. Since the denial had not yet been worked, it would not have been proper to charge he $20.00 restoral charge.

There are no supervisory instructions in our office that we are not to note a co-worker's account. We do have instructions that we are not to note our personal accounts without supervisory permission.

account was denied for $207.78. IBOSS records show that $150.00 was paid on April 18, 1989 and $92.00 on March 27, 1989. Both payments were sent through Company mail by another co-worker who I know to be very reliable. Therefore, I believe that as with any other customer, the service should be restored. In this case, I issued the order to restore and did not charge the $20.00 restoral fee because the service had not yet been denied. My restoral order just cancelled the denial order.

I restored or cancelled the denial order on account on May 9, 1989 because she told me she had made a $50.00 payment on May 8, 1989 and wanted to pay the balance on May 25, 1989. Again, the service was not yet denied, therefore, the $20.00 restoral charge did not apply.

gave me a receipt for $50.00 on 5-16-89 and told me she would keep the payment arrangements already made on her account. I entered this on IBOSS. I see now that I should have read the previous notes on IBOSS but at that time I did not. She just handed me the receipt and asked me to enter it for her, which I did in between other customers. I realize I need to be more careful but when a co-worker asks you to make an entry on their account, you try to do it without losing time on the other things you are already working on.

IBOSS records reflect that on June 21, 1989, I changed the credit history on account and removed three denials. I do not remember doing this and have no idea why I would have changed the treatment history.

I did a follow-up on account on June 28, 1989. I noted on IBOSS for an additional follow-up on July 5, 1989. This is one week and three days. I normally give a customer three days for follow-up. I did this because I changed it from a denial follow-up to a payment follow-up. told me she had a receipt and I took her word for that. I wanted to follow-up to be sure a payment had been made.

On July 6, 1989, I noted my personal account, of a pending adjustment and payment and cancelled denial. I had Prestige service installed in February, 1989 and it never worked properly. I could use some of the features but not others and I had reported it. The trouble was finally corrected and I had approximately $60.00 adjustments due me. A co-worker came to me and told me my account was being treated for denial. I brought my account up on IBOSS and saw the denial order so I noted the account that I was due an adjustment and the payment had been made of the $119.58 due. I then cancelled the denial order. I know I should not have treated or noted my personal account but since I knew what the problem was, I went ahead and noted it.

I restored account on July 12, 1989 and did not charge the $20.00 restoral fee. came to me just before lunch and told me her account was being denied because she had not paid her bill. I loaned her the $148.00 and she paid the bill and brought me the receipt. I ordered the denial cancelled and verified that the service was never interrupted. Therefore, the $20.00 restoral fee would have been improper. I noted this on the records.

On July 26, 1989, I had learned the check for $148.00 I had given on July 12, 1989 was no good. I told I would take the money out of the bank (because she had reimbursed me by then) and pay the bill at Sears. I noted account that the payment would be made by July 27, 1989, but I did not get it paid until August 1, 1989.

On August 2, 1989, I noted the payment and receipt information on account.

I checked on August 7, 1989 to see if the payment was posted because we were behind in our posting. The payment was not posted yet so I changed the follow-up date to August 15, 1989.

account was being denied on August 15, 1989. She came to me and showed me the receipt for her payment and asked me to note it. I noted her payment, cancelled the denial and since it had not been denied, I did not charge her the $20.00 restoral fee.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. I am . My birth date is and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as a Service Representative in the Merritt Island Residence Group. I report to and can be reached through her at 407-455-7011.

I have reviewed the Customer Service Record for my personal telephone service, which reflects that I was changed from a regular credit class "B" to a permanent credit class "B" on April 20, 1989 by Service Representative I don't recall how my credit class was changed and don't recall why may have made the change.

I have reviewed the residence telephone service for fellow employee I reviewed where, on several occasions, I cancelled denials on service due to non pay or late payment. On each of these occasions, employee would advise me that she had either made the payment on her bill either before the date of the denial or prior to the denial being worked on its due date.

I had no reason to believe that was not telling the truth about her payments, and I treated her account exactly the same as any other customer. I have never made any notations or taken any action regarding telephone account that I did not feel was the appropriate action to take.

It is my understanding that it is not proper to note your own telephone service account. However, it is my understanding that it is okay to note another employee's account. I have been told, why tie up the telephone lines calling in to discuss your own account when you can get a nearby employee to handle your account in his or her spare time.

On August 21, 1989. I personally received a payment of $87.52 from employee and forwarded that payment to CMR through the Company mail, and noted the IBOSS accordingly. I also made payment arrangements with her on an additional deposit of $60.00 that the Company was requiring her to pay. However, I failed to note those arrangements on IBOSS, which resulted in her service being denied when it should not have been.

Employee read the above statement and agreed that it was true but declined to sign the statement.

Service Representative ; personal account was changed on February 7, 1989 to a permanent credit classification "C". The IBOSS records indicate that this change was made by me. I do not remember making the change and have no explanation for it. I don't know if it is proper or not to change a customer to a permanent credit classification "C". I have been a Service Representative for thirteen years. I do not know what a credit classification "C" is. I know it is not an A, B or D, that is all I know.

It is my understanding that a Service Representative is not allowed to note or treat their own account.

I understand that it is proper for me to note the account of other Service Representatives in this building. If I needed work done on my personal account, I would ask another Service Representative to do it.

I believe, after consideration, that a permanent credit class "C" is a mediocre account and making it permanent prevents the computer from automatically treating the account.

I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence. I am My birth date is and my social security number is [redacted]

I am employed as a Service Representative reporting to – in the Merritt Island, Florida Business Office and my net credited service date is December 12, 1969.

I hold the title of Service Representative, however, , I don't work a desk. I presently handle all incoming mail and process all mailed in payments, as well as payments made by local employees. As part of this payment process, I note all the associated accounts, including employee accounts. I also do other miscellaneous jobs such as locating subscribers when their bills are returned for incorrect addresses, or they have moved.

It is my understanding of Company policy that a Service Representative should not note their own account or issue service orders on their own account. However, it is my understanding that a Service Representative can note a fellow employee's account, and if necessary, make payment arrangements on employee accounts.

On May 31, 1989, I noted my own account of a payment received in the amount of $39.59. I paid this bill by check and personally forwarded the check to CMR, which was noted as received by CMR on June 7, 1989.

Since I am the person responsible for forwarding employee payments, I did not think at the time that I might not be following Company policy for noting my own account.

On February 17, 1989, I was advised by fellow employee that she made a payment on her account, at a payment agent (HOBBS) that day.

Her telephone, according to the IBOSS notations, was denied on February 16, 1989. I restored service on February 17, 1989 and according to the IBOSS notations, I did not charge her a normal $20.50 reconnect fee.

Looking at the notes, I cannot explain why I didn't charge the reconnect fee. Possibly, the service had not been denied even though it was shown on IBOSS as denied on the previous day. This is not unusual, as it does happen occasionally. If that was the case I should have so noted her account so there would be no question.

I have never been approached by an employee to incorrectly note his or her account to avoid either a denial or a reconnect fee. If I would have ever been approached with such a request, I would have refused.

I have read the above statement, consisting of 3 pages, and it is true. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

It is my understanding that a Service Representative is not allowed, without supervisory approval, to make physical changes such as a "T" order or "F" order or "C" order to their personal account. I have had a supervisor, tell me that it was alright to do physical work on my own service as long as I told her first. As far as I know, there is no rule prohibiting a Service Representative from making notes on IBOSS regarding a payment being made. In fact, I have done that recently, however, my account was not in treatment. I have a good credit rating and my bill is always paid on time.

I feel a Service Representative that treats their account the same as a customer's account would be within the guidelines of our office.

On February 2, 1989, I removed a "3" from my credit history. The "3" indicated a telephone call from the Collection Office. I did not receive a call, therefore, I removed the indicator. I was not trying to be dishonest because I left the indicator "5" which is worse than a "3".

On April 3, 1989, the IBOSS record indicates a record order that I input. I really don't remember what this was for.

Assistant Manager-Customer Service
September 5, 1989"

On September 8, 1989, Manager dvised Staff Manager Bradley that during routine observations, on September 6 & 7, 1989, of Customer Service by his representatives, he observed that added features to two service orders causing additional expense to the customer, without the customer's knowledge or consent.

He also observed that Service Representatives added similar features to one service order each, again without the customer's knowledge or consent.

further advised that the three representatives were suspended for one day for falsely reporting sales items on a service order.

Based on this, it was requested that review several of the most recent service orders negotiated by these representatives and contact the subscribers to verify any additional feature or service they may have ordered.

On September 21, 1989, Manager advised that no additional discrepancies were found on recent service orders negotiated by employees However, of twelve orders reviewed that were negotiated by employee discrepancies were found on five orders as follows:

(1) On August 17, 1989, negotiated new service with subscriber service order #NYXL246, telephone number The order reflects that the customer ordered Touchtone (TTR), the Wiring Maintenance Plan (SEQ1X) and the Customer Calling Package (E23). This includes Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Call Hold, and Speed Calling.

When subscriber was telephonically contacted by Assistant Manager on September 18, 1989, she advised that she did not order the ES3 Custom Calling Package. further advised that the ES3 feature was mentioned in her only contact with the telephone company but declined, telling the Service Representative that she and her boyfriend, were on a budget and could not afford it now.

I am My date of birth is My social security number is [redacted] I reside with my boyfriend, Our telephone service is and I ordered our telephone service on August 17, 1989. We dialed 780-2355 and talked to a female Southern Bell employee. We told her we wanted the basic telephone service because that is all we could afford. She asked us if we wanted the Custom Calling Features and we told her we did not know what that was. She said it was Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling, and Speed Calling. We told her we did not know how to use those features and we did not need them. We also told her we could not pay for these extra things. We explained that is on a disability income and I don't work. We only wanted what we could pay for and what we needed.

After our service was installed the phone would beep while I was talking on it. I did not know what the beep was until a lady called me from Southern Bell on September 18, 1989, and explained the beep was Call Waiting. We agreed to keep the Call Waiting but had the other features removed.

We only want what we can pay for and need.

I cannot describe the Southern Bell employee that put the extra features on our service without our knowledge other than the employee is a female.

I have read the above handwritten statement consisting of this and one other page and it is true. I have placed my initials on each page and beside any corrections.

On August 17, 1989, I called 780-2355 to order telephone service. The Southern Bell employee who took my order asked me if I wanted the Custom Calling Service. I told the woman again that I am on a disability income and I need telephone service but I don't need more than I can pay for. I told her to just give me the basics.

My girlfriend, talked to the woman at the same time as me. We handed the telephone receiver back and forth and told the telephone employee that we only wanted basic telephone service.

After our service was installed, we would be talking on the phone and it would beep. We did not know what this was until September 18, 1989, when a Southern Bell supervisor called us and explained that we had the Custom Calling and the beep was a call waiting. We agreed to keep the Call Waiting but had the other features removed because we do not need them and cannot pay for them.

On August 17, 1989, I called Southern Bell to place an order for telephone service. During this conversation while I was talking with the Southern Bell Representative, I advised her that I only wanted basic telephone service and that I had a Touchtone telephone. At that time the Service Representative did not discuss any other specific services with me. When talking with the Representative she was having some trouble with my accent. A friend, was with me at the time and she took over the call and spoke with the Representative to complete my request for service. At no time while was talking did I overhear her discuss any additional services other than Touchtone. After the call she gave me the amount of deposit and the cost of installation and told me that I would have to go to the telephone office and pay these costs before my telephone service would be turned on.

I went to the telephone office on September 8, 1989, and paid my deposit and installation fee. At that time the Service Representative I spoke to on the telephone mentioned the Ringmaster service and told me that I could try it for two months at no cost. I agreed to try Ringmaster for the two months and after that time if I liked it I would keep it. At that time I did mention that I would like to have the Call Waiting Feature on my telephone. However, I did not request any other feature.

On September 18, 1989, I received a call from a representative of Southern Bell asking about my service. She told me that I had the Maintenance Plan, Touchtone, Ringmaster, and a package of other custom features including Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling, and Speed Calling. I told her that I never ordered anything other than Call Waiting and Touchtone and also agreed to try Ringmaster for two months.

Other than that, I only wanted basic telephone service. I can't understand how I got these other features since I didn't order them and no one at Southern Bell ever discussed them with me.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I reside in and my telephone number is

On August, 1989, a friend, was staying at my home prior to moving into his own apartment near the , where he would be attending school. On August 17, 1989, he placed a call from my home to Southern Bell to order telephone service. I was present and assisted him with his request for service. requested basic service since he was a student with only limited funds. I did not overhear r discuss any additional services or features with the representative.

When the representative was having some difficulty understanding he requested that I complete the request for service. I took the phone from

The representative questioned me regarding credit and the approximate amount of long distance calls. I advised her that was an and had no previous credit background in the United States. She said that's O.K. and quoted the installation cost of approximately $44.00 and a deposit of either $75.00 or $85.00 that must be paid before the telephone could be installed.

During my conversation with the representative, the fact that wanted Touchtone service was mentioned, but no other services were mentioned to me. I recall that after our conversation with the Southern Bell representative, I recall telling that he would have to purchase his own telephone.

If during this first contact with Southern Bell other services had been discussed, I would have discouraged from getting anything but basic service because of his limited resources.

On September 8, 1989, after had found a roommate and he had the money for deposit and installation, I took him to the telephone office on Orange Avenue so he could finalize his request for service.

At that time I did not overhear the conversation between and the Service Representative. However, he told me that he did order Call Waiting at his roommate's request and the representative offered Ringmaster service for two months at no cost. He told me that he would try that service for the two months for free and keep it if he liked it or cancel the service if it was too costly.

I also recall that the representative on the initial call gave as his new telephone number. When we went to the business office was told that the number he was given was incorrect and gave him a new number of I obtained the initial number from this morning as he wrote it down in his notebook at the time he placed the order on August 17, 1989.

I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true. I have initialed these pages and any corrections.

On August 31, 1989, I called Southern Bell and placed an order for new service. At the time I placed my order I spoke with a female representative but do not recall her name. When negotiating my service, first I requested that I get my old number since it had not yet been reassigned. The representative advised me that she would reserve my old number. I also advised the representative that I only wanted Touchtone and Call Waiting. She asked me at the time did I want the other three features, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling, and I told her that I did not. I don't recall that any other service was mentioned during my conversation with the representative, especially the Maintenance Plan. I did not know what this service was until I 15 was contacted on September 19, 1989, by who called to verify my account.

When he told me that I had the Maintenance Plan I advised him that I didn't have it because I did not request it when I applied for service.

After he explained to me what the Maintenance Plan was, I told him at that time I did not order the Maintenance Plan and again told him what I had actually ordered from the representative.

On October 6, 1989, was interviewed regarding the five service orders negotiated by her with sales discrepancies. The following unsigned statement was prepared outlining the details of the interview.

October 6, 1989

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. I realize any statement I make may be used as evidence.

I am a Customer Services Representative at the Merritt Island, Florida Business Office. My NCS date with Southern Bell is January 26, 1978. I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley, five service orders that I had the initial contact with the customer ordering new service. I have been advised that on each order there were services or features that the customer claims he or she did not order.

I have no explanation why these customers would make such comments. I do not at any time place any service or feature on a service order that I did not discuss with the customer.

If this kind of thing is happening, I feel that the Company should give me or other representatives, if necessary, additional training and development regarding service orders. Obviously, the Company feels that I have a problem since I have been interviewed regarding service orders twice within the past few weeks. On the five service order I reviewed with Mr. Bradley, I have no recollection of ever talking with these subscribers. Also, when a representative is away from her desk and did not sign off the IBOSS, anyone with the knowledge can go to that IBOSS and type anything and it would show up as being typed by the original representative that signed on."

Dear Dick,

This letter is to let you know how much I appreciate your allowing to relieve me in my lengthy absence. I apologize for the delay in getting this letter to you. I have taken time to assess what has taken place while I was gone.

Our confidence in ability to relieve for me, supervising both the I&M and switched services group, was well placed. did an excellent job. When I returned there was very little that waited for my personal attention. I talked with all my foremen and the supervisors in the other departments that had to coordinate with and they all were very complementary concerning their contacts with

I know that relied on you for some help and I appreciate your time in the assistance you provided him in your already busy schedule. When ever I talked with you and if any problem that had presented itself had not already been resolved a resolution was offered.

I believe the best comment I could make and commendation of performance is that should I ever have to leave again for an extended period I would like for to relieve me.

Thanks again for letting relieve me I appreciate how difficult it was for you to let him out of your shop for that period of time. If I can ever repay you in kind please let me know.

Yours very truly,

Synopsis:

A North Florida area Network staff review of subscriber trouble reports in the Gainesville Division IMC determined that reports were being falsely created and improperly statused to meet a Public Service Commission Index. Gainesville IMC employees provided signed statements alleging that Assistant Manager made comments to them independently, regarding the need to create false trouble reports to offset subscriber reports having long outages. When interviewed, denied the allegations. All other employees working in the Gainesville IMC were also interviewed and denied any knowledge or involvement.

PREDICATION

This investigation was predicated on a letter dated November 23, 1990, from Mr. W. R. Perry, General Manager-Network-North Florida, requesting that Security investigate irregularities found as the result of a Network staff review of subscriber trouble reports in the Gainesville, Florida Division Installation Maintenance Center (IMC). This review followed the discovery of a similar problem in South Florida.

The following investigation was conducted by A. F. Bradley, Staff Manager-Security.

12
13 Meeting With Operations Manager-CSCC-South Sector and Manager-CSCC-North Florida

16 On November 30, 1990, James L. Preau, General Security Manager-North Florida Area and A. F. Bradley, Staff Manager-Security, met with to discuss the Gainesville Division IMC staff review of subscriber trouble reports for the period of September 1, 1990, through November 27, 1990. The review revealed irregularities with subscriber trouble reports in the Gainesville Division's small exchanges that reflected a favorable effect on the Florida Public Service Commission (PSC) rule 25-4070. This rule states that in each exchange, 95% of all interruptions of telephone service occurring in any calendar month shall be restored within twenty-four hours from the time it is reported to the Company, Sundays, Holidays and emergency situations excepted.

In the staff's initial sample of 50 Test OK Out of Service reports for the month of October, 1990, 33 deviations were found on reports in the following six small exchanges:

1. Newberry - 4
2. Keystone Heights - 10
3. Hawthorne - 9
4. Bronson - 3
5. Cross City - 1
6. Weekiwachee Springs - 6

There was also one deviation found in the Gainesville main exchange. The 34 reports all had the same following deviations:

1. Shown as received by a fictional Repair Service Attendant employee number. All IMC and Repair Service Center employees are assigned employee numbers and are required to note their number on subscriber report records any time they are involved or take action regarding a subscriber trouble report. All 34 reports were initiated by employee number 921, which is unassigned.

2. Statused Out of Service with no narrative to explain why the line was Out of Service prior to being tested OK by a Maintenance Administrator. An example of a Test OK Out of Service report would be a short duration Central Office failure and tested after the Central Office was restored to service.

3. All cleared and closed by a fictional Maintenance Administrator. The same unassigned employee number was used on all 34 reports.

4. All reports were shown as received and then cleared within 3 to 5 minutes.

5. All reports were shown as received on three dates, October 8, October 10, and October 31, 1990.

Further review by the staff of a printout for all reports statused test OK Out of Service in the Gainesville IMC for the month of October, 1990, revealed an additional 63 reports, for a total of ninety-seven (97) irregularities.

With this, printouts for the month of September and November, 1990, were reviewed. The September printout had sixty-three similar irregularities and the November printout through the 27th had only four.

It should be noted that following the South Florida investigation, two North Dade IMC employees were terminated on November 2, 1990, for creating false trouble reports.

While reviewing the Displayed Line Extended Trouble Historys (DLETH) on the Test OK Out of Service irregularities in question, it was noted by the staff that several reports had subscriber listings whose last name began with the same letter of the alphabet. A Gainesville area telephone directory was checked and it was discovered that all of the reports in each of the small exchanges in the months of September and October, 1990, were in several groups of consecutive subscriber names. This indicated to the staff that these reports were possibly falsely created to enlarge the Out of Service base in the small exchanges to insure meeting the PSC index that 95% of all Out of Service troubles be cleared by exchange within twenty-four hours.

This PSC index objective was met in the months of September and October, 1990, in all six small exchanges. To compare what effect the created troubles would have on the index for the month of October, the following comparison was made:

| Exch. | OOS Base | Clrd Within 24 Hrs | PSC Index | Not Clrd Within 24 Hrs | Added Repts | Actual OOS Base | Clrd Within 24 Hrs | Actual PSC Index |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Keystone Heights | 87 | 84 | 96.5 | 3 | 32 | 55 | 52 | 94.5 |
| Hawthorne | 126 | 124 | 98.4 | 2 | 24 | 102 | 100 | 98.0 |

As indicated in the comparison, without the added TOK Out of Service reports, the index would have been missed in October in the Keystone Heights and the Bronson exchanges.

In their review, the staff also examined trouble reports received in October, 1990, that were placed in the CON (Carried over-NO) status. When a trouble report is placed in the CON status, it is removed from the Out of Service base and not used to calculate the PSC index regarding 95% of troubles that are to be cleared within twenty-four hours.

A trouble report is placed in the CON status only when a subscriber requests that someone be dispatched to the residence or business at a future date, and only when that future date would exceed the normal appointment interval.

In November, 1990, 144 trouble reports in the Gainesville IMC were placed in the CON status. Of these, fifteen (15) reports were statused CON by someone using the fictitious employee numbers found in the review of the Test OK Out of Service reports.

Subscriber trouble reports are handled by IMC employees through access to the Company's ELMOS data base. There are thirty (30) ELMOS access terminal positions in the Gainesville IMC, and are used by the eighteen Maintenance Administrators, eight managers and one Administrative Reports Clerk. There is also one ELMOS terminal in the office of T. C. Kellermann, Network Operations Manager-Gainesville Division.

There is no on-line program in ELMOS that would provide an audit trail to identify a particular terminal position regarding activity to a specific subscriber record, or the position used to originate a trouble report.

The Gainesville ELMOS data base can also be accessed from the other five (5) IMC locations in North Florida, as well as from terminals located in the North Florida Area Network staff office in Jacksonville.

The following eight management employees are assigned to the Gainesville, Florida IMC:

1. Gary H. Swilley - Manger
2. James S. Powell - Assistant Manager
3. John E. Bulko - Assistant Manager
4. Edmund L. Wrinkle - Assistant Manager
5. John S. Dean - Assistant Manager
6. Clinton G. Smith - Assistant Manager
7. Evelyn L. Platt - Assistant Manager
8. Howard T. Adams - Assistant Manager

On the three dates in October, 1990 (10-8, 10-10 and 10-31) when 97 Test OK Out of Service Reports were shown received and closed by a fictitious employee, all of the above managers were on the job with the following exceptions:

October 08, 1990 - John Dean - on vacation

October 10, 1990 - Howard T. Adams - United Way Meeting from 9:00AM to 11:00AM. Receipt time on trouble reports cannot be falsified and reports having fictitious employee numbers were shown received during this time period.

October 10, 1990 - Gary H. Swilley - Attending a Company sponsored school in Gainesville.

October 31, 1990 - Gary H. Swilley - On vacation.

In September, 1990, Test OK Out of Service reports were shown received by a fictitious employee on 9-14-90 and 9-19-90. On these dates, all supervisors were on the job.

All documentation developed by the North Florida Area staff in their review of the Gainesville, Florida IMC will be retained in the exhibit section of the Security file.

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am My birthdate is , and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell as a Maintenance Administrator in the Gainesville, Florida IMC. I report to , Assistant Manager and can be reached at 904-335-3821. My NCS date with Southern Bell is May 22, 1967.

I have been advised that an investigation is in progress regarding false reporting of Out of Service Test O.K. troubles and the improper coding of troubles using the C.O.N. (Carried Over No) transaction.

I recall one occasion where I was asked by IMC Assistant Manager to create several special circuit troubles to add to the trouble report base so that we could meet the clearing time index. I questioned him on his request stating that I would do what he asked but felt that it was not proper. He came back to me later and said he discussed the matter with his supervisor, I don't know what they discussed, but he told me that he had a guilty conscience and told me not to make up the troubles. As far as I recall that was the only occasion that I was asked to do what I felt was improper.

I have, however, noticed on occasion in the past that my employee number 018 has appeared on records of subscriber trouble reports that I did not handle. For a while I kept copies of these records for my future reference in case a question came up on these reports. I did not ever bring it to the attention of management that someone was using my employee number.

I have read the above statement consisting of 2 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page.

I have been advised that an investigation is in progress in the Maintenance Center regarding possible improper and false reports on Test O.K. Out of Service Reports and Carried Over No Trouble Reports.

I have no knowledge of anyone, management or craft that may be issuing false or improper trouble reports. I also have not been asked or instructed by management to create false reports or to reflect incorrect information on a subscriber trouble report.

My employee number is 012 and I alone should be using this number when I note subscriber trouble records. I have noticed on occasion that an unassigned employee number or a number assigned to a retired employee appeared on subscriber trouble records. I felt that these unassigned numbers were being used by management to cover up the fact that they were doing craft work. I never had the idea anyone might be issuing false reports or changing trouble codes to make better indexes.

I have read the above statement consisting of two pages and it is true. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am . My birthdate is and my social security number is [redacted] I am employed with Southern Bell in Gainesville, Florida as an Administrative Reports Clerk. My NCS date is March 5, 1973. I report to Mr. John Bulko and can be contacted at 904-335-3265.

My job responsibilities in the IMC is to maintain the Repair Out of Service List (ROSL) that is produced hourly from ELMOS. This ROSL list reflects all pending troubles and shows which troubles may be in jeopardy for missing the 24 hour out of service objective set by the PSC. When I notice a trouble in possible jeopardy, I refer the trouble to a load control supervisor. There are two load control supervisors, and

After referring these type troubles to a supervisor, I am no longer involved. It is their responsibility to handle the trouble from that point.

It is not part of my job responsibility to close out troubles and don't have the training to do so. It is my responsibility to utilize the CON (carried over no) transaction at times when the IMC dispatch time conflicts with the dispatch time requested by the subscriber. This transaction is used when at the customers instructions we may exceed the 24 hour out of service objective. The ELMOS System CON transaction would remove a trouble from the out of service 24 hours index base, and would not be counted against the Maintenance Center results. This transaction is only used after I contact the subscriber and attempt to get the trouble dispatched within the 24 hour period. If this can not be done, I note the subscriber trouble history that they requested a future due date.

I seldom utilize the CON transaction. I estimate that I may CON a trouble no more than once a month if that many.

I am aware that an investigation is in progress regarding abuse of the CON transaction and false reporting and incorrect statusing of Test OK out of service troubles.

I have no knowledge that anyone in the IMC is involved in manipulating trouble reports or creating false troubles for the purpose of meeting certain PSC objectives. I have never been asked or instructed to do anything improper regarding subscriber reports.

I have read the above two page statement and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed the two pages.

On December 11, 1990, was interviewed and provided the following signed statement:

"Gainesville, Florida
December 11, 1990

3 I, _____, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

7 I am _____ My birthdate is _____
8 and my social security number is [redacted]8. I am employed with Southern Bell as the Manager-IMC, Gainesville, Florida Division, and my NCS date with Southern Bell is April 1, 1965.

I came into the Gainesville IMC in 1983 or 1984 as an Assistant Manager and promoted to IMC Systems Administrator in either January or February, 1988. I kept this assignment until January of 1990 when I was moved to Gainesville Engineering as an acting pay grade 5. I returned to the Gainesville IMC in July, 1990 and presently hold the title of Manager-IMC.

I am aware that an investigation is in progress regarding the false reporting of Out of Service Test OK troubles and the improper coding of subscriber troubles using the CON (Carried Over No) transaction in the Gainesville IMC.

I have reviewed information initially developed by the North Florida Headquarters staff that Test OK subscriber troubles were incorrectly statused Out of Service with no narrative to support the Out of Service status. The headquarter's review also determined that on the deviations found they were shown to a fictional Repair Service Attendant (RSA). These troubles were also shown with short clearing times between three and five minutes. The staff also found that these troubles were falsely created in the Gainesville small exchanges using sequential telephone numbers from the Gainesville Telephone Directory.

The intentional manipulation was to obviously increase the Out of Service base to meet a PSC objective. The utilization of the CON transaction removes a subscriber report from the over 24 hour PSC objective. Those improper CON transactions were also an obvious attempt to make sure that the PSC objective was met.

Making these PSC objectives is one of the very important parts of my job. I also have other objectives along with the Out of Service Over 24 Hours that I try to daily make sure stay in line. These include the Code 4 (Outside Facilities) report rate, missed appointments, repeat reports, and the total Network report rate.

Although the over 24 hour objective is important to me I have never condoned the manipulation of company records to include creating reports for the purpose of meeting an objective. I receive weekly printouts with information on subscriber reports letting me know where I stand regarding Out of Service reports. If I am not meeting the objective of 95%, I advise all my supervisors where we stand in the exchange in question and make sure that they do everything possible within the set guidelines not to miss another Out of Service report.

I have made the statement at or near the end of a month that we would need several Out of Service reports if we were to meet the PSC objective. I would ask that reports in the dispatch or screening pool be retested to see if any reports could be restatused out of service. If I could get the out of service base built up we could meet the objective.

It's obvious there has been record manipulation in my center so we could meet these results. As I stated before, I do not condone and I have never asked anyone to falsify records to meet objectives. However, because of my constant monitoring of the Out of Service reports and the fact that I also daily advise my supervisors when we are not meeting an objective, I may have unknowingly sent the wrong message to one or more of my supervisors.

I personally have not created trouble reports or asked a manager or craft employee to create trouble reports, or falsify any other IMC records to meet objectives.

I have also advised my employees, especially my managers, that if anybody was making up short duration trouble reports or doing anything illegal they better stop it. This was in late October or the first part of November, 1990. My supervisor, [redacted], had asked me to take a look at my center to make sure that everything was being reported and handled properly. He was especially concerned with task building by the outside forces. I did find some short duration Test O.K. reports but did not pursue or investigate the exact reason they were shown cleared in a short time. I did say as I stated before, that if anything improper was being done, they better damn sure stop it.

The Gainesville IMC is my responsibility. I suspect that the improper actions under investigation were done by one or more of my managers. However, I do not have any proof to substantiate my suspicions.

I do recall an incident in early November, 1990 involving a special circuit that had an extended duration time of receipt to clear in excess of sixty-nine hours. This subscriber report was mishandled by SARTS, my IMC supervisor and by SSIM whereby it was not properly closed in ELMOS in a timely manner. This incident was over a weekend. The trouble report came in on a Friday afternoon and was not closed until Monday morning. Since was on weekend duty and he was formerly a supervisor in SSIM, I felt that he should have handled the report over the weekend and not waited until Monday. He was somewhat inexperienced in the operation of the IMC, so I re-covered him on the proper procedures regarding dispatch and the importance of handling a long duration subscriber report.

Because of this I told that we would need many short duration tickets to overcome the unnecessary affect of the one long duration report. He later asked me what he could do about the long duration report. As I recall, I told him we were going to have to eat it as there was nothing we could do.

I have been advised that one of my Maintenance Administrators, stated that came to her asking that she make up false trouble reports to offset a long duration out of service special circuit. She stated that she would do what the supervisor asked but told him she thought it was wrong and improper. then advised that went to me to discuss the matter. He came back to and decided that he would not ask that false reports be made, because he had a guilty conscience.

I don't recall that mentioned false reports or that he had a guilty conscience. I only told him that we could do nothing but eat the trouble. When I told that we would need many short duration troubles, I in no way was suggesting or instructing him to create trouble reports.

I have read the above statement consisting of six pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and correction.

Interview of _____ Assistant Manager-IMC

On December 12, 1990, _____ was interviewed and provided the following signed statement:

"Gainesville, Florida
December 12, 1990

I, _____ do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am _____ My birthdate is _____ and my social security number is [redacted]. I am employed with Southern Bell Gainesville, Florida as an Assistant Manager-IMC, and my net credited service date is September 17, 1973. I report to _____ and can be contacted through him at 904-335-3258.

I have been a manager in the Gainesville Maintenance Center for approximately six years. During my entire time here reporting to second level managers, _____ and now _____ I have never been asked to do anything improper with the statusing of subscriber reports for the purpose of making a PSC objective. All managers, including myself, are always being reminded that we need to do everything possible within the rules and guidelines to make all of our indexes. Again, I personally have never done anything improper or been asked to do anything improper so that an index could be met.

I have reviewed with Mr. Bradley, a list of Test OK out of service reports for September and October, 1990, for several small exchanges in the Gainesville and Brooksville Districts. I have been told that these records reflect reports that were created for the purpose of enlarging the Out of Service report base so that the PSC over 24 hour Out of Service index could be met.

I have no personal knowledge who may have created these troubles.

I do recall an incident that happened within the past three months that involved Gainesville IMC Assistant Manager

I believe that I was working at the Brooksville Control position. walked by and made a passing comment, something to the effect that he was in real trouble because he had missed too many out of service subscriber reports. He was referring to reports that were out of service over 24 hours which directly affected the PSC objective. He also mentioned something about a telephone book and that he needed to build up the report base so that he could meet the PSC objectives. I made a comment to him like "Hey, that's very serious stuff or "That's a serious thing". I went back to my work never thinking that was really serious in his statement. As a matter of fact, I forgot the incident until I learned of the Security investigation regarding the improper statusing of trouble reports. I also did not observe sitting at an ELMOS terminal using a telephone book doing any type transactions.

My understanding of the CON transaction is that it removes the subscriber report from the PSC base. This transaction is only rarely used when a subscriber requests a future date for dispatch which would put the report in the over 24 hour status. In my six years in the Maintenance Center, I have authorized the use of the CON transaction no more than three times.

I have read the above statement consisting of three pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Second Interview of _____ Assistant Manager-IMC

On December 18, 1990, was reinterviewed and provided the following signed statement.

Gainesville, Florida

I, do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

I am My birthdate is and my social security number is [redacted] I am an Assistant Manager-IMC in the Gainesville, Florida Maintenance Center. I have been in the Maintenance Center since October or November, 1989. My present job assignment is Load Control Supervisor for the Gainesville Turf. This takes me in the Gainesville area and all of the smaller exchanges such as Keystone Heights, Newberry, Bronson and others. In this job, it is my responsibility to manage the load in my turf assignment. I am responsible to make sure that when possible I have enough manpower in areas having trouble reports. This includes doing everything possible in my control to not miss clearing troubles within twenty four hours.

At no time have I ever asked any employee to create troubles so that the Maintenance Center would meet a PSC objective.

I understand that an employee in the center made the statement that I asked the employee to create troubles to offset a special circuit outage that exceeded the out of service time limit.

This is a totally untrue statement. Clearing time is very important to me, but not important enough to be involved in cheating.

As I stated in my interview on December 10, 1990, I do not have the knowledge of the ELMOS system to create or close troubles.

I have also been advised that someone in the center overheard me make a statement to the effect that I was in trouble because I had some troubles that went over the twenty four hour time limit. They also stated that I said I needed a telephone book so that I could make some troubles. This is also a false statement, since I don't know how to make a trouble report, why would I make such a statement. I have never been asked or instructed by my supervisor or any other manager to manipulate records, create troubles or do anything else against Company policy for the purpose of meeting an index. I also have no knowledge of any other employee, management or craft that may be involved.

If the Company cannot get someone to admit to the creation of false troubles why doesn't the Company consider asking all of the employees in the Gainesville Maintenance Center to submit to a Polygraph test. I would have no fear of taking such a test, but wold like to see everyone take the test.

If I determine any information in the future regarding who may be involved, I will immediately bring this information to the attention of my supervisor.

I read the above statement of 3 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed all pages and corrections.

To make every effort not to miss subscriber appointments, or let trouble reports go over the twenty-four hour time limit. I try to accomplish my work within the proper guidelines.

I understand that an investigation is in progress regarding the improper statusing of subscriber reports and the creation of false trouble reports for the purpose of meeting PSC index objectives.

I have no personal knowledge of anyone in the Gainesville Maintenance Center that may be falsifying or manipulating Company records for this purpose. I have not been involved in falsifying records myself to meet objectives. My supervisor, _____ regularly reminds all of the Maintenance Center Managers where we stand on missed appointments or if we are in jeopardy regarding subscriber lines out of service over twenty-four hours. However, at no time has he ever asked me to do anything improper to make a PSC objective.

I have reviewed several subscriber trouble history reports for subscribers in the Gainesville District. These trouble histories reflect no assigned employee numbers, 921, 131, and 175 as the employee that handled the trouble. I have not seen these unauthorized employee numbers on Maintenance Center records and have no information who may be using these employee numbers.

I have read the above statement and find it to be true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I have initialed each page and all corrections.

Interview of -Network Operations Manager-Gainesville Division

On January 2, 1991, Bradley met with to review the progress of the investigation and provided the following signed statement.

"Gainesville, Florida

3 I, , do hereby make the following free and voluntary statement to A. F. Bradley, who has identified himself as a Staff Manager-Security for Southern Bell Telephone Company. I realize this statement may be used as evidence.

8 I am My birthdate is and my social security number is [redacted] I am the Network Operations Manager for the Gainesville Division, and can be contacted at 904-336-5750. My NCS date with Southern Bell is September 11, 1972.

In regard to the Security investigation in the Gainesville Maintenance Center on improper statusing and creating of false subscriber trouble reports in the months of September, October and November, 1990, I have no knowledge of who may be involved. I do not condone the manipulation of Company records for the purpose of meeting an internal or PSC index objective. I have never manipulated Company records for this purpose and I have never asked or instructed anyone under my supervision to falsify records to meet an index.

The creation of false subscriber trouble reports were done in the Gainesville Division small exchanges. Reports were created in six small exchanges apparently to enlarge the report base to insure that the PSC index for Out of Service over twenty-four hours would be met. In reviewing the reports in these small offices, it was not necessary to enlarge the report base on four of the six offices involved to meet the PSC index. In view of this, it is unclear to me why anyone would take the time to create reports when it was not necessary.

The responsibility for doing everything within Company guidelines to meet indexes associated with the Gainesville
32 Maintenance Center is with myself and Manager-IMC.
33 I have supervised for approximately two years, and have no reason to suspect that he would manipulate records outside of Company guidelines to meet any objective. I see him as an extremely honest manager and feel that he would also not condone anyone under his supervision falsifying Company records.

I have read the above statement consisting of two pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I have initialed each page and all corrections.

The problem was then dispatched out on the next day's troubles and cleared. In many instances, the troubles were cleared the next day or within a 24 hour period, but in some instances, even though a trouble was not cleared within a 24 hour period, in reality, the trouble had been closed for reporting and the customer was allegedly denied a credit for time out of service over 24 hours.

RE:
MISCELLANEOUS INVESTIGATION
25-426

9090 N.W. 41 Street

Dear

On January 6, 1989, the South Florida Security office of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company was in receipt of correspondence from you addressed "to whom it may concern". In that correspondence, you allege that "SOMETIME IN THE PAST", you had observed, but refused to participate in, Southern Bell employees engaging in illegal and/or unethical practices, specifically the falsification of Company documents. You allege that you reported these practices to management, but that nothing was done to correct or eliminate the practices. You also allege that as a result of these illegal and/or unethical practices, you personally lost $32,651.00 in wages, have been demoted to a lower rated job title, have been denied available job requests and suffer from mental and physical health problems. Your correspondence closes with your advising that you were available for assistance during the course of the investigation.

On January 31, 1989 and February 27, 1989, you were interviewed by Harry Van Gorden, Staff Manager-Security in an attempt to obtain a statement with specific information and supporting documentation in your possession that would assist in the investigation. On both occasions, your position was that you would not provide a statement or documentation that is necessary to verify your claims. This behavior conflicts with your notification of willingness to assist as stated in your correspondence. Inasmuch as you have made these allegations but have failed to support them, no additional action can be taken at this time.

In closing, if you are serious about these allegations, the Company stands ready to assist you with your complaint at such time that you are willing to cooperate in providing documentation.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS LETTER IS TO OFFICIALLY NOTIFY YOU OF WHAT I BELIEVE TO BE ILEGAL AND UNETHECAL ACTS COMMITTED BY MANAGEMENT AND CRAFT EMPLOYEES OF SOUTHERN BELL. AS AN EMPLOYEE OF SOUTHERN BELL FOR THE PAST FIFTEEN YEARS. I HAVE BECOME AWARE OF FACTS WHICH LEADS ME TO BELIEVE THAT MANAGEMENT AND CRAFT EMPLOYEES MAY BE INVOLVED IN CONDUCT WHICH IS INCONSISTENT WITH THE CODE OF ETHICS SETFORTH IN THE BOOKLET "A PERSONAL RESPOSIBILITY". I AM AWARE THAT ANY REPRISAL AGAINST ME BECAUSE I, IN GOOD FAITH REPORTED A VIOLATION OR A SUSPECTED VIOLATION IS STRICTLY FORBIDDEN. AND THAT THESE CONTACTS WILL BE STRICTLY ON A CONFIDENTIAL BASIS. I ALSO UNDERSTAND THAT EMPLOYEES WHO VIOLATE THIS POLICY MAY BE SUBJECT TO DISCIPLINARY MEASURES. INCLUDING LOSS OF EMPLOYMENT AND CRIMINAL PROSECUTION. SINCE I HAVE WORKED IN FIVE DIFFERENT MAINTENANCE CENTERS INCLUDING METRO, CORAL GABLES. WEST MIAMI, PTIMC, AND THE MAC ACCOUNT CENTER. I HAVE BEEN INSTRUCTED BY MANAGERS TO PARTICIPATE IN THESE PRACTICES BUT HAVE RESPECTFULLY DECLINED. I KNOW THESE VIOLATIONS OR SUSPECTED VIOLATIONS ARE NOT ISOLATED INSTANCES BUT THE STANDARD WAY SOUTHERN BELL CONDUCTS ITS EVERYDAY BUSINESS IN ORDER TO MEET ITS RATING OBJECTIVES. AFTER DISCUSSING THESE PRACTICES WITH THE MANAGERS WHO INSTRUCTED ME ON HOW TO FALSIFY COMPANY DOCUMENTS NOTHING WAS DONE TO CORRECT THESE FRAUDULANT PRACTICES. THE MANAGERS WOULD JUST GIVE THE WORK TO A CRAFT EMPLOYEE WHO WAS WILLING TO PARTICIPATE IN THESE ALLEGED CRIMES. DEFRAUDING THE PUBLIC CONSUMERS AND THE GOVERNMENT ARE TO SERIOUS A CRIME FOR ME TO PARTICIPATE IN. AS A RESULT OF THESE ILLEGAL AND UNETHICAL PRACTICES I HAVE LOST APPROXIMATELY $32,651.00 IN BASIC WAGES AND WAS DEMOTED TO A LOWER RATED CRAFT TITLE. I SINCE HAVE BEEN DENIED JOB REQUESTS AND JOBS THAT WERE OFFERED TO ME WERE SUBSEQUENTIALLY TAKEN FROM ME. MY PHYSICAL AND MENTAL HEALTH HAS SUFFERED AS A DIRECT RESULT OF THESE PRACTICES. IF YOU NEED ANY ASSISTANCE IN THIS CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION PLEASE FEEL FREE TO CONTACT ME AT WORK 591-7890. I WOULD HOPE THAT YOU WOULD KEEP ME INFORMED OF THE PROGRESS OF THIS INVESTIGATION.
