NOTICE IS GIVEN that the Florida Industrial Power Users Group (FIPUG), pursuant to section 366.10, Florida Statutes, and rules 9.030(a)(1)(B)(ii), 9.110, and 9.190 , Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure, appeals to the Supreme Court of Florida that portion of Order No. PSC-01-2516-FOF-EI of the Florida Public Service Commission rendered on December 26, 2001 related to Tampa Electric Company's (TECo) treatment of its transactions with an affiliated company in which it sold power to the affiliated company at a lower price than it paid the related company for power purchased and allocated the loss on related company transactions to retail consumers (p. 12 of the Order).

The portion of the Order FIPUG appeals is a Final Order relating to the Commission's legal determination that TECo's costs related to its transactions with its affiliate and the allocation of the loss on those transactions to retail consumers is reasonable and that no investigation or proceeding regarding such costs and allocations is needed. This determination fails to comply with the statutory requirement that retail rates be "fair, just and reasonable" as

As part of this Commission's continuing fuel and purchased power cost recovery and generating performance incentive factor proceedings, a hearing was held on November 20-21, 2001, in this docket. The hearing addressed the issues set out in the Prehearing Order for this docket. Several of the positions on these issues were stipulated by the parties and presented to us for approval, but some contested issues remained for our consideration. As set forth fully below, we approve each of the stipulated positions presented. Our rulings on the remaining contested issues are also discussed below.

We have jurisdiction over this subject matter pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 366, Florida Statutes, including Sections 366.04, 366.05, and 366.06, Florida Statutes.

I. GENERIC FUEL COST RECOVERY ISSUES

Based on the evidence in the record, we approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties also stipulated that the estimated benchmark levels for calendar year 2002 for gains on non-separated wholesale energy sales eligible for a shareholder incentive pursuant to Order No. PSC-00-1744-PAA-EI, in Docket No. 991779-EI are as follows:

Based on the evidence in the record, we approve this stipulation as reasonable.

B. Regulatory Treatment of Capital Projects Expected to Reduce Long-Term Fuel Costs

The parties stipulated that the appropriate regulatory treatment for capital projects with an in-service date on or after January 1, 2002, that are expected to reduce long-term fuel costs is the treatment prescribed by this Commission in Order No. 14546 in Docket No. 850001-EI-B where we listed the types of costs that are recoverable through the Fuel Cost Recovery Clause. Item No. 10 in that Order states:

Fossil fuel-related costs normally recovered through base rates but which were not recognized or anticipated in the cost levels used to determine current base rates and which, if expended, will result in fuel savings to customers. Recovery of such costs should be made on a case by case basis after Commission approval.

DOCKET NO. 010001-EI

In addition, the parties stipulated that the appropriate rate of return on the unamortized balance of capital projects with an in-service date on or after January 1, 2002, is the utility's cost of capital based on the midpoint of its authorized return on equity. We approve these stipulations as reasonable.

C. Recovery of Incremental Power Plant Security Costs

In this proceeding, FPL requests approval to recover incremental power plant security costs, related to recent national security concerns, through the fuel and purchased power cost recovery clause ("fuel clause"). Based on the evidence in the record, we approve FPL's request. We find that recovery of this incremental cost through the fuel clause is appropriate in this instance because there is a nexus between protection of FPL's nuclear generation facilities and the fuel cost savings that result from the continued operation of those facilities. Further, we believe that this type of cost is a potentially volatile cost, making it appropriate for recovery through a cost recovery clause. We are comforted that the true-up mechanism inherent in the fuel clause will ensure that ratepayers pay no more than the actual costs incurred. In addition, we find that recovery of this cost through the fuel clause provides a good match between the timing of the incurrence and recovery of the cost.

We believe that approving recovery of this incremental power plant security cost through the fuel clause sends an appropriate message to Florida's investor-owned electric utilities that we encourage them to protect their generation assets in extraordinary, emergency conditions as currently exist. FPL is the only utility seeking recovery of this cost in this proceeding. By our decision, we do not intend to require other investor-owned electric utilities to seek similar recovery at this time, given the unique circumstances of each utility. In addition, recognizing that these costs are not now clearly defined, we do not foreclose our ability to consider an alternative recovery mechanism for these costs at a later time.

D. Use of Updated Energy, Demand, and Price Forecasts

On August 31, 2001, FPL filed its petition for approval of fuel cost recovery factors and capacity cost recovery factors based, in part, on its forecast of sales for 2002. On November 5, 2001, FPL filed a petition for approval of revised fuel cost recovery factors and capacity cost recovery factors based on a reduction in its sales forecast for 2002. In support of this petition, witness Green testified that the impact of the September 11, 2001, attacks on the United States changed Florida's economic outlook for 2002 and, thus, warrants a revision to FPL's sales forecast. Witness Green testified that the performance of Florida's economy determines electricity usage per customer and the level of customer growth. He further testified that the growth of both of these factors is forecast to decline from the levels forecast prior to September 11, 2001, resulting in lower forecast electricity sales in FPL's service territory.

We believe that the use of FPL's revised 2002 sales forecast in establishing its 2002 fuel cost recovery factors and capacity cost recovery factors is appropriate. The factors that we approve for FPL in this Order, below, are based on FPL's revised sales forecast. We do not, however, require other investor-owned electric utilities to base their fuel and capacity cost recovery factors on updated sales forecasts at this time. We note that this matter was addressed in Order No. 13694, issued September 20, 1984, which requires utilities to inform this Commission of material and significant changes in the basic assumptions underlying their fuel and capacity cost recovery factors. The Order indicates that these cost recovery factors should be revised if changed assumptions would result in an anticipated overrecovery or underrecovery in excess of ten percent. No evidence was presented in this proceeding to suggest that FPC, Gulf, or TECO's proposed fuel and capacity cost recovery factors would result in this threshold variance.

II. COMPANY-SPECIFIC FUEL COST RECOVERY ISSUES

A. Florida Power & Light Company

The parties agree that FPL's aerial survey method of its coal inventory at Plant Scherer as stated in Audit Disclosure No. 1 of Audit Control No. 01-053-4-1 is not consistent with the method set forth in Order No. PSC-97-0359-FOF-EI, in Docket No. 970001-EI, issued March 31, 1997. Plant Scherer is located in Georgia and is operated by Georgia Power Company. The accounting procedures required of Georgia Power Company by the Georgia Public Service Commission are similar to those stated in Order No. PSC-97-0359-FOF-EI, with some differences. These different accounting procedures produce nearly identical coal inventory adjustments. However, FPL agrees to report aerial survey results and calculations of necessary coal inventory adjustments as soon as Georgia Power Company provides these adjustments to FPL. It is understood that this exception to the method specified in Order No. PSC-97-0359-FOF-EI is applicable to Plant Scherer only. The parties stipulated to this treatment. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

ORDER NO. PSC-01-2516-FOF-EI

The parties stipulated that FPL reasonably evaluated the costs associated with Florida Power & Light Company's purchase of 50 MW firm capacity and associated energy from Florida Power Corporation against the market price for similar capacity and energy and, thus, that these costs are reasonable. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties also stipulated FPL reasonably evaluated the costs associated with Florida Power & Light Company's purchase of approximately 1,000 MW of capacity and associated energy from Progress Energy Ventures, Reliant Energy Services, and Oleander Power Project L.P. against the market price for similar capacity and energy and, thus, that these costs are reasonable. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that FPL should be permitted to recover through the fuel and capacity cost recovery clauses payments made to Cedar Bay resulting from litigation between FPL and Cedar Bay. In Order No. PSC-99-2512-FOF-EI, Docket No. 990001-EI, this Commission, by panel decision, allowed FPL to recover these costs as proposed through the fuel and capacity cost recovery clauses pending resolution of this issue by the full Commission. After our decision in December of 1999, Docket No. 991780-EG was opened so that the full Commission could address this issue. Waiting on completion of the appeals process, no schedule had been established in Docket No. 991780-EG. All appeals have now been exhausted and all payments have been made. Because the full Commission now hears this docket, we bring this issue to closure by approving the parties' stipulation as reasonable.

We find that the appropriate level of FPL 2002 incremental power plant security costs, related to recent increased national security concerns, allowed for recovery through the fuel clause is $1,860,000. As stated above, these amounts shall be subject to true-up to ensure that the ratepayers pay no more than the actual costs incurred in 2002.

B. Florida Power Corporation

The parties stipulated that FPC has confirmed the appropriateness of the "short-cut" methodology used to determine the equity component of Electric Fuels Corporation's capital structure for calendar year 2000. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that FPC properly calculated the market price true-up for coal purchases from Powell Mountain in accordance with the market pricing methodology approved by this Commission in Docket No. 860001-EI-G. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that FPC properly calculated the 2000 price for waterborne transportation services provided by Electric Fuels Corporation in accordance with the market pricing methodology approved by this Commission in Docket No. 930001-EI. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that FPC's replacement fuel costs associated with the unplanned outage at Crystal River Unit 2, commencing on June 1, 2000, were reasonable. The record indicates that this outage began when a high voltage disconnect switch failed, which resulted in a high energy fault that caused significant damage to the generator rotor. The record also indicates that FPC could not have foreseen that the operation of this switch, which had been operated under similar circumstances many times, would lead to the damage that occurred. The parties agree that the resulting three-month outage to remove, repair, and reinstall the generator rotor was reasonable. Based on the evidence in the record, we approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that payments made by FPC to Lake Cogen, Ltd. (Lake) pursuant to the outcome of contract litigation between FPL and Lake are appropriate for recovery through the fuel clause. Florida's Fifth District Court of Appeals ruled that FPC is required to pay Lake the firm energy rate for all hours that the avoided unit would operate and that the avoided unit would operate at all times other than periods for maintenance and repair. This ruling led to a stipulation requiring FPC to pay Lake $19,860,307 to resolve the historical energy pricing dispute. The stipulation also provides 45 days per year for maintenance periods during which Lake will be paid the as-available energy rate. The ruling by the court and subsequent stipulation results in costs over the life of the contract approximately $60 million (net present value) greater than the costs would have been under FPC's position in the litigation, but approximately $13.7 million (net present value) less than the costs would have been under Lake's position in the litigation. The parties also stipulated that the energy payments FPC is to make to Lake on a going forward basis are appropriate for recovery through the fuel clause. Based on the evidence in the record, we approve these stipulations as reasonable.

C. Florida Public Utilities Company

The record indicates that for the period October 2000 through September 2001, FPUC billed its GSD customers in the Marianna Division under the Street Lighting (SL) fuel cost recovery factor, which is lower than the GSD fuel cost recovery factor. The Commission-approved SL fuel cost recovery factor was 2.608 cents/kWh for the period October 2000 through December 2000, and 2.421 cents/kWh for the period January 2001 through September 2001. The Commission-approved GSD fuel cost recovery factor was 3.599 cents/kWh for the period October 2000 through December 2000, and 3.472 cents/kWh for the period January 2001 through September 2001. The parties stipulated to these facts.

The parties have also stipulated that the appropriate corrective action is for FPUC to backbill the affected customers for the shortfall through an adjustment on their future bill(s), pursuant to Rule 25-6.106(1), Florida Administrative Code. Under the provisions of this rule, FPUC shall allow the customers to pay for the unbilled service over the same length of time as the error occurred, or some other mutually agreeable time period. We approve these stipulations as reasonable.

D. Tampa Electric Company

Stipulated Matters

The parties stipulated that the appropriate 2000 waterborne coal transportation benchmark price for transportation services provided by TECO affiliates is $26.23 per ton. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that TECO's actual costs associated with transportation service provided by TECO affiliates are below the 2000 waterborne transportation benchmark price. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that TECO reasonably evaluated the lease of 39 portable generators to provide 70 MW of peaking capacity against the market price for similar capacity and energy and, thus, that TECO's lease of those generators was reasonable. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that TECO's proposal to refund $6.37 million from 1999 earnings to its ratepayers from January 2002 to March 2002 is reasonable. Order No. PSC-01-0113-PAA-EI, issued in Docket No. 950379-EI, provides that TECO refund $6,102,126, plus interest, as of December 31, 2000 to the time the actual refund is completed. OPC protested this order and, at the time of our vote on this matter, OPC's protest had not been decided. Thus, we could not determine the final refund amount at the time of our vote. However, the parties agree that the amount will be at least $6.37 million. The parties stipulated that TECO has properly allocated this amount among its rate classes. Based on the evidence in the record, we approve these stipulations as reasonable.

TECO's Wholesale Transactions with Non-Affiliated Entities

For the reasons set forth below, we find that the evidence in the record shows that TECO's decisions concerning its wholesale energy purchases from and sales to non-affiliated entities were reasonable during the period January 1998 through December 2000.

The evidence indicates the following facts. TECO has not entered into any new long-term separated firm wholesale sales since 1995. The last new firm sale of any kind made by TECO was a nine month non-separated sale in 1998. TECO's reserve margins were estimated to be fifteen percent or greater over the planning horizon at the time each of the current firm contracts was signed. All of TECO's firm sales are cost-based, with FERC-approved pricing; none of the existing firm contracts are market-priced. Only one of TECO's separated sales is recallable. TECO has recalled this contract to serve firm load. These facts suggest that TECO appropriately entered into its current separated sales and is appropriately managing its current firm contracts. No evidence was presented to suggest otherwise. The evidence further indicates that TECO is currently entering only into new non-firm non-separated sales agreements, and TECO has a policy of recalling these sales if capacity is needed to serve both firm and non-firm retail load.

FIPUG's witness Collins stated that the issue at hand is not whether TECO's management of its wholesale sales was appropriate, but rather whether TECO's costs, including purchased power costs, are allocated appropriately to wholesale customers. We find that TECO has appropriately allocated its costs to wholesale customers.

First, capital and O&M costs for the generating plant necessary to make separated sales are allocated to wholesale customers. This reduces capital costs for retail customers when putting new plant in service for which total capacity is not immediately needed to serve retail load. A complete review of the effect of separated sales on retail customers must include the reduction in capital costs associated with serving separated wholesale customers.

Second, we agree with FIPUG's witnesses Collins and Pollock that fuel costs should be allocated to separated sales based on average system fuel cost. We also agree with FIPUG that average system fuel costs should include both generation and purchased power costs. Order No. PSC-97-0262-FOF-EI, issued March 11, 1997, in Docket No. 970001-EI, required that on a prospective basis, separated sales should be allocated average system fuel costs. The evidence indicates that TECO appears to be adhering to this policy. Only one of TECO's separated sales has fuel costs based on a specified unit. All other sales are based on average system fuel costs. TECO's only unit based sale was entered into in 1989, prior to issuance of Order No. PSC-97-0262-FOF-EI.

FIPUG witness Collins asserted that TECO's retail customers are being charged for 100 percent of TECO's purchased power costs. Witness Collins also asserted that separated wholesale customers are not paying for TECO's purchased power costs, but are charged rates based solely on fuel costs for "low-cost generation." We disagree with these assertions. Purchased power costs allocated to separated wholesale customers are included in the total fuel costs paid by separated customers included on line 29 of TECO's Schedules A-1 and E-1. A comparison of line 29 and 30 on TECO's E-1 schedule supports the position that on a going-forward basis, TECO expects the average fuel costs per MWH charged to separated wholesale customers to be approximately the same as that for retail customers.

We agree with FIPUG witness Pollock that non-separated sales should be charged incremental fuel costs, and that these costs should be used to determine the gains on these sales. We also agree with witness Pollock that incremental fuel costs can be either based on generation or purchased power costs. This is consistent with the treatment we approved in Order No. PSC-01-2371-FOF-EI, issued December 7, 2001, in Docket No. 010283-EI. TECO's policy of using incremental fuel costs, whether from generation or purchased power, to calculate the gains on non-separated sales appears to be consistent with our ruling in that Order. Given TECO's use of incremental fuel costs to calculate the gains, we disagree with FIPUG's assertion that retail customers receive little benefit from non-separated sales. Retail ratepayers receive 100% of the gains from these sales up to a benchmark based on past sales, after which gains are shared 80/20 between retail ratepayers and shareholders.

We find that the greater weight of the evidence shows that TECO is managing its wholesale purchases appropriately and allocating the costs from its purchases appropriately. TECO's new planned short-term firm purchases appear to be cost-effective.

We find that the greater weight of the evidence shows that TECO's purchases of buy-through power on behalf of interruptible retail customers were appropriate. Witnesses Collins and Pollock stated that the cost per kWh of buy-through power was increasing. The record indicates that no buy-through power was purchased by TECO from TECO affiliates. Therefore, there is no reason to believe that TECO has an incentive to purchase unreasonably high priced buy-through power.

TECO's Wholesale Transactions with Hardee Power Partners

We find that the evidence in the record shows that TECO's decisions concerning its wholesale energy purchases from and sales to Hardee Power Partners were reasonable during the period January 1998 through December 2000. No evidence was presented that indicated TECO is abusing the Hardee Power Partners contract or allocating the costs of this contract inappropriately. We do not believe that further study of this issue is warranted at this time.

The record indicates that TECO's contract with Hardee Power Partners is FERC-approved and cost-based. The original contract was appropriately compared to other available capacity and energy options. TECO's latest amendment to the contract compares favorably to the forwards energy market price, even if the capacity costs of the Hardee contract are included.

Further, TECO's separated sale of 145 megawatts to TECO Power Services from Hardee is TECO's only unit-based sale. This contract was signed in 1989 and expires on December 31, 2002. The record indicates that TECO has no plans to renegotiate this sale upon expiration of the contract. At the expiration of this contract, the capacity from TECO's Big Bend Unit 4 reserved for this contract will be available to serve TECO's retail ratepayers.

Allocation of TECO's Purchased Power Costs

We find that TECO does not allocate 100% of purchased power costs to retail customers. Purchased power costs include an energy and a capacity component. The evidence shows that a jurisdictional separation factor is applied to TECO's projected total system fuel and purchased power costs for 2002, which includes the cost of generated power and the energy component of purchased power. The evidence also shows that a jurisdictional demand separation factor is applied to TECO's total capacity payments for 2002. Applying energy and demand jurisdictional separation factors to TECO's total purchased power costs appropriately allocates a portion of TECO's purchased power costs to wholesale customers.

E. Gulf Power Company

The parties stipulated that Gulf's replacement fuel costs for the unplanned outage at Crist Unit 2, commencing on August 2, 2000, were reasonable. The record indicates that Gulf did not buy any additional fuel to specifically compensate for the unavailability of this peaking unit. Further, during the majority of this unplanned outage, Crist Unit 2 would not have been called upon in economic dispatch had it been available. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties agreed that Gulf inadvertently overstated the emission allowance costs related to Interchange Sales in August, 2000, which understated net recoverable fuel expense by $385,796 in 2000. Gulf made a correcting entry in July 2001 and has included this amount for recovery in this docket but is not requesting any back interest on the understated fuel expense. The parties stipulated that these corrective actions were appropriate. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated to the following:

The appropriate adjustment to Gulf's total recoverable capacity payments to reflect the former capacity transactions (credit) embedded in Gulf's base rates, as reflected on line 8 of Schedule CCE-1 should be based on the time period from January 1, 2002, up to the date Gulf's new base rates become effective. According to information provided for Gulf's rate case synopsis, the effective date of new base rates is expected to be June 6, 2002. The adjustment to recoverable capacity payments to reflect the capacity embedded in base rates should cover the period from January 1, 2002, through June 5, 2002, a period of 156 days. The amount of the adjustment should be $706,060 ( $$1,652,000 / 365 \text{ days} \times 156 \text{ days}$ ). If the effective date of Gulf's new base rates varies from June 6, 2002, the amount of the adjustment should be revised, with an appropriate adjustment to the true-up amount to reflect the revised amount.

Gulf's current base rate increase request, as filed, reflects adjustments to remove capacity transactions consistent with the calculations currently being made for the purchased capacity cost recovery clause. It is Gulf's position that if the partial year adjustment is made to the PPCC as described above, a corresponding adjustment should be made to Gulf's base rate increase request. This will ensure that the new base rates resulting from Docket No. 010949-EI and the PPCC factors established in this docket are calculated on a consistent basis. The adjustment to Gulf's base rate increase request is appropriately addressed in Docket No. 010949-EI.

We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

V. GENERATING PERFORMANCE INCENTIVE FACTOR (GPIF) ISSUES

The parties stipulated that the appropriate Generation Performance Incentive Factor (GPIF) rewards/penalties for performance achieved during the period January 2000 through December 2000 are those set forth in Attachment A to this Order, which is incorporated by reference herein. We approve these stipulations as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that the appropriate GPIF targets/ranges for the period January 2002 through December 2002 are those set forth in Attachment A to this Order, which is incorporated by reference herein. We approve these stipulations as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that the actual 2000 heat rates for TECO's Big Bend Units #1 and #2 should be adjusted for the flue gas desulfurization's (FGD) impact on Tampa Electric's 2000 reward/penalty. We approved similar adjustments to the actual data for Big Bend Unit 3 from July 1995 to March 1998, when TECO initiated flue gas desulfurization for that unit. In the next three fuel adjustment hearings, these adjustments will be necessary for the actual heat rate data for the years 2001, 2002, and 2003. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

The parties stipulated that the heat rate targets for the year 2002 for TECO's Big Bend Units #1 and #2 should be adjusted for the FGD's impact on Tampa Electric's eventual 2002 reward/penalty. Adjustments to the heat rates for these units ensures comparability between heat rate targets, which are modeled using historical data, and the actual data for the same periods. These adjustments will also be necessary for the heat rate targets for the year 2003, which will be addressed in Docket No. 020001-EI. We approve this stipulation as reasonable.

VI. OTHER MATTERS

The parties stipulated that the new fuel adjustment charge and capacity cost recovery factors approved in this Order should be effective beginning with the first billing cycle for January 2002 and thereafter through the last billing cycle for December 2002. The parties also stipulated that the first billing cycle may start before January 1, 2002, and the last billing cycle may end after December 31, 2002, so long as each customer is billed for twelve months regardless of when the factors became effective. We approve these stipulations as reasonable.

Based on the foregoing, it is ORDERED by the Florida Public Service Commission that the stipulations and findings set forth in the body of this Order are hereby approved. It is further

FUEL ADJUSTMENTS SET FOR ELECTRIC UTILITIES

TALLAHASSEE — Annual fuel adjustment charges approved by the Florida Public Service Commission (PSC) and their impact on residential customers of investor-owned utilities are listed below.

The adjustments reflect fluctuations in the price paid by utilities for fuel and will be effective in the January 2003 billing cycle. The Commission allows utilities to recover fuel-related costs that are prudently incurred. The rates listed are based on 1,000 kilowatt hours (kwh) of use.

- Residential customers of Florida Power and Light, using 1,000 kilowatts of electricity, will pay $76.85, compared with the current rate of $76.22, an increase of $0.63.
- Residential customers of Florida Power Corporation will pay $80.35 for 1,000 kilowatt hours, which is $0.10 higher than the current level of $80.25.
- A residential customer of Tampa Electric Company will pay $89.68 for 1,000 kilowatt hours, compared with the existing price of $93.94, a decrease of $4.26.
- A residential customer of Gulf Power will pay $ 77.44 for 1,000 kwh, compared with the current $75.15, an increase of $2.29.
- Customers of Florida Public Utilities Company's (FPUC) Marianna division will pay $61.21 for 1,000 kilowatt hours, compared with the existing rate of $63.45, a decrease of $2.24. FPUC's Fernandina Beach division customers will pay $57.73 for 1,000 kilowatt hours instead of the current rate of $60.22, a decrease of $2.49.
