(2) the Purchase Contract Agent shall cease to be eligible under Section 7.8 and shall fail to resign after written request therefor by the Company or by any such Holder, or

(3) the Purchase Contract Agent shall become incapable of acting or shall be adjudged a bankrupt or insolvent or a receiver of the Purchase Contract Agent or of its property shall be appointed or any public officer shall take charge or control of the Purchase Contract Agent or of its property or affairs for the purpose of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation, then, in any such case, (i) the Company by a Board Resolution may remove the Purchase Contract Agent, or (ii) any Holder who has been a bona fide Holder of a Unit for at least six months may, on behalf of itself and all others similarly situated, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Purchase Contract Agent and the appointment of a successor Purchase Contract Agent.

(e) If the Purchase Contract Agent shall resign, be removed or become incapable of acting, or if a vacancy shall occur in the Corporate Trust Office of the Purchase Contract Agent for any cause, the Company, by a Board Resolution, shall promptly appoint a successor Purchase Contract Agent and shall comply with the applicable requirements of Section 7.10. If no successor Purchase Contract Agent shall have been so appointed by the Company and accepted appointment in the manner required by Section 7.10, the Purchase Contract Agent or any Holder who has been a bona fide Holder of a Unit for at least six months may, on behalf of itself and all others similarly situated, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Purchase Contract Agent.

(f) The Company shall give, or shall cause such successor Purchase Contract Agent to give, notice of each resignation and each removal of the Purchase Contract Agent and each appointment of a successor Purchase Contract Agent by mailing written notice of such event by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to all Holders as their names and addresses appear in the Security

Register. Each notice shall include the name of the successor Purchase Contract Agent and the address of its Corporate Trust Office.

(g) If the Purchase Contract Agent has or shall acquire any "conflicting interest" within the meaning of Section 310(b) of the TIA, the Purchase Contract Agent and the Company shall in all respects comply with the provisions of Section 310(b) of the TIA.

SECTION 7.10. Acceptance of Appointment by Successor.

(a) In case of the appointment hereunder of a successor Purchase Contract Agent, every such successor Purchase Contract Agent so appointed shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to the Company and to the retiring Purchase Contract Agent an instrument accepting such appointment, and thereupon the resignation or removal of the retiring Purchase Contract Agent shall become effective and such successor Purchase Contract Agent, without any further act, deed or conveyance, shall become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the retiring Purchase Contract Agent; but, on the request of the Company or the successor Purchase Contract Agent, such retiring Purchase Contract Agent shall, upon payment of its charges, execute and deliver an instrument transferring to such successor Purchase Contract Agent all the rights, powers and trusts of the retiring Purchase Contract Agent and shall duly assign, transfer and deliver to such successor Purchase Contract Agent all property and money held by such retiring Purchase Contract Agent hereunder.

(b) Upon request of any such successor Purchase Contract Agent, the Company shall execute any and all instruments for more fully and certainly vesting in and confirming to such successor Purchase Contract Agent all such rights, powers and trusts referred to in Section 7.10(a).

(c) No successor Purchase Contract Agent shall accept its appointment unless at the time of such acceptance such successor Purchase Contract Agent shall be qualified and eligible under this Article VII.

SECTION 7.11. Merger, Conversion, Consolidation or Succession to Business.

Any Person into which the Purchase Contract Agent may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any Person resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Purchase Contract Agent shall be a party, or any Person succeeding to all or substantially all the corporate trust business of the Purchase Contract Agent, shall be the successor of the Purchase Contract Agent hereunder, provided such Person shall be otherwise qualified and eligible under this Article VII, without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto. In case any Certificates shall have been authenticated and executed on behalf of the Holders, but not delivered, by the Purchase Contract Agent then in office, any successor by merger, conversion or consolidation to such Purchase Contract Agent may adopt such authentication and execution and deliver the Certificates so authenticated and executed with the same effect as if such successor Purchase Contract Agent had itself authenticated and executed such Securities. The Purchase Contract Agent will give prompt written notice to the Company of such merger, conversion or consolidation.

SECTION 7.12. Preservation of Information; Communications to Holders.

(a) The Purchase Contract Agent shall preserve, in as current a form as is reasonably practicable, the names and addresses of Holders received by the Purchase Contract Agent in its capacity as Security Registrar.

(b) If three or more Holders (herein referred to as "Applicants") apply in writing to the Purchase Contract Agent, and furnish to the Purchase Contract Agent reasonable proof that each such Applicant has owned a Unit for a period of at least six months preceding the date of such application, and such application states that the Applicants desire to communicate with other Holders with respect to their rights under this Agreement or under the Units and is accompanied by a copy of the form of proxy or other communication which such Applicants propose to transmit, then the Purchase Contract Agent shall mail to all the Holders copies of the form of proxy or other communication which is specified in such request, with reasonable promptness after a tender to the Purchase Contract Agent of the materials to be mailed and of payment, or provision for the payment, of the reasonable expenses of such mailing.

SECTION 7.13. No Obligations of Purchase Contract Agent.

Except to the extent otherwise provided in this Agreement, the Pledge Agreement or the Remarketing Agreement, the Purchase Contract Agent assumes no obligations and shall not be subject to any liability under this Agreement, the Pledge Agreement, the Remarketing Agreement or any Purchase Contract in respect of the obligations of the Holder of any Unit thereunder. The Company agrees, and each Holder of a Certificate, by its acceptance thereof, shall be deemed to have agreed, that the Purchase Contract Agent's execution of the Certificates on behalf of the Holders shall be solely as agent and attorney-in-fact for the Holders, and that the Purchase Contract Agent shall have no obligation to perform such Purchase Contracts on behalf of the Holders, except to the extent expressly provided in Article V hereof.

SECTION 7.14. Tax Compliance.

(a) The Purchase Contract Agent, on its own behalf and on behalf of the Company, will comply with all applicable certification, information reporting and withholding (including "backup" withholding) requirements imposed by applicable tax laws, regulations or administrative practice with respect to (i) any payments made with respect to the Units or (ii) the issuance, delivery, holding, transfer, redemption or exercise of rights under the Units. Such compliance shall include, without limitation, the preparation and timely filing of required returns and the timely payment of all amounts required to be withheld to the appropriate taxing authority or its designated agent.

(b) The Purchase Contract Agent shall comply with any written direction received from the Company with respect to the execution or certification of any required documentation and the application of such requirements to particular payments or Holders or in other particular circumstances, and may for purposes of this Agreement conclusively rely on any such direction in accordance with the provisions of Section 7.1(a)(2) hereof.

(c) The Purchase Contract Agent shall maintain all appropriate records documenting compliance with such requirements, and shall make such records available, on written request, to the Company or its authorized representative within a reasonable period of time after receipt of such request.

(d) Without limiting the foregoing, the Purchase Contract Agent shall be entitled to deduct FATCA Withholding Tax (as hereinafter defined), and shall have no obligation to gross-up any payment hereunder or to pay any additional amount as a result of such FATCA Withholding Tax. Each of the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent agrees to cooperate and to provide the other with such information as each may have in its possession to enable the determination of whether any payments pursuant to this Agreement are subject to the withholding requirements described in Section 1471(b) of the Code or otherwise imposed pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code and any regulations, or agreements thereunder or official interpretations thereof ("FATCA Withholding Tax").

ARTICLE VIII

Supplemental Agreements

SECTION 8.1. Supplemental Agreements Without Consent of Holders.

Without the consent of any Holders, the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent, at any time and from time to time, may enter into one or more agreements supplemental hereto, in form satisfactory to the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent, for any of the following purposes:

(i) to evidence the succession of another Person to the Company, and the assumption by any such successor of the covenants of the Company herein and in the Certificates;

(ii) to add to the covenants of the Company for the benefit of the Holders or to surrender any right or power herein conferred upon the Company;

(iii) to evidence and provide for the acceptance of appointment hereunder by a successor Purchase Contract Agent;

(iv) to make provision with respect to the rights of Holders pursuant to the requirements of Section 5.6(b); or

(v) to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provisions herein which may be inconsistent with any other provisions herein, or to make any other provisions with respect to such matters or questions arising under this Agreement; provided such action shall not adversely affect the interests of the Holders in any material respect; and provided further that any amendment made solely to conform the provisions of this Agreement to the description of the Units, the Purchase Contracts and the other components of the Units contained in the prospectus supplement, dated June 18, 2024, and the accompanying prospectus dated March 22, 2024 relating to the Units will not be deemed to adversely affect the interests of the Holders.

SECTION 8.2. Supplemental Agreements with Consent of Holders.

With the consent of the Holders of not less than a majority of the outstanding Purchase Contracts voting together as one class, by Act of said Holders delivered to the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent, the Company, when authorized by a Board Resolution, and the Purchase Contract Agent may enter into an agreement or agreements supplemental hereto for the purpose of modifying in any manner the terms of the Purchase Contracts, or the provisions of this Agreement or the rights of the Holders in respect of the Units; provided, however, that, except as contemplated herein, no such supplemental agreement shall, without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Unit affected thereby,

(a) change any Payment Date;

(b) change the amount or the type of Collateral required to be Pledged to secure a Holder's obligations under a Purchase Contract;

(c) impair the right of the Holder of any Equity Unit to receive distributions on the related Collateral (except for the rights of Holders of Corporate Units to substitute the Treasury Securities for the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio or the rights of holders of Treasury Units to substitute Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio for the Pledged Treasury Securities), or otherwise adversely affect the Holder's rights in or to such Collateral;

(d) reduce any Contract Adjustment Payments or any Deferred Contract Adjustment Payment, or change any place where, or the coin or currency in which, any Contract Adjustment Payment is payable;

(e) impair the right to institute suit for the enforcement of any Purchase Contract, including any Contract Adjustment Payments or Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments;

(f) except as required pursuant to Section 5.6, reduce the number of shares of Common Stock to be purchased pursuant to any Purchase Contract or the amount of any other security or other property to be purchased under a Purchase Contract, increase the price to purchase shares of Common Stock or any other security or other property upon settlement of any Purchase Contract, change the Purchase Contract Settlement Date or the right to Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement or otherwise adversely affect the Holder's rights under any Purchase Contract in any material respect; or

(g) reduce the percentage of the outstanding Purchase Contracts the consent of whose Holders is required for any modification or amendment to the provisions of this Agreement or the Purchase Contracts; provided, that if any amendment or proposal referred to above would adversely affect only the Corporate Units or the Treasury Units, then only Holders of the affected class of Units as of the record date for the Holders entitled to vote thereon will be entitled to vote on or consent to such amendment or proposal, and such amendment or proposal shall not be effective except with the consent of Holders of not less than a majority of such class; provided further, however, that no such agreement, whether with or without the consent of Holders, shall affect Section 3.16 hereof.

It shall not be necessary for any Act of the Holders under this Section 8.2 to approve the particular form of any proposed supplemental agreement, but it shall be sufficient if such Act shall approve the substance thereof.

SECTION 8.3. Execution of Supplemental Agreements.

In executing, or accepting the additional agencies created by, any supplemental agreement permitted by this Article VIII or the modifications thereby of the agencies created by this Agreement, the Purchase Contract Agent shall be provided with, and (subject to Section 7.1) shall be fully protected in relying upon, an Opinion of Counsel stating that the execution of such supplemental agreement is authorized or permitted by this Agreement. The Purchase Contract Agent may, but shall not be obligated to, enter into any such supplemental agreement which affects the Purchase Contract Agent's own rights, duties or immunities under this Agreement or otherwise. The Collateral Agent shall receive copies of any supplemental agreements entered into pursuant to this Article VIII.

SECTION 8.4. Effect of Supplemental Agreements.

Upon the execution of any supplemental agreement under this Article VIII, this Agreement shall be modified in accordance therewith, and such supplemental agreement shall form a part of this Agreement for all purposes; and every Holder of Certificates theretofore or thereafter authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered hereunder shall be bound thereby.

SECTION 8.5. Reference to Supplemental Agreements.

Certificates authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered after the execution of any supplemental agreement pursuant to this Article VIII may, and shall if required by the Purchase Contract Agent, bear a notation in form approved by the Purchase Contract Agent as to any matter provided for in such supplemental agreement. If the Company shall so determine, new Certificates so modified as to conform, in the opinion of the Purchase Contract Agent and the Company, to any such supplemental agreement may be prepared and executed by the Company and authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered by the Purchase Contract Agent in exchange for Outstanding Certificates.

ARTICLE IX

Consolidation, Merger, Sale, Conveyance, Transfer or Lease

SECTION 9.1. Covenant Not to Consolidate, Merge, Sell, Convey, Transfer or Lease Property Except Under Certain Conditions.

The Company covenants that it will not merge or consolidate with or into any other Person or sell, assign, transfer, lease or convey all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any Person or group of affiliated Persons in one transaction or a series of related transactions, unless

(i) either the Company shall be the continuing entity or the successor (if other than the Company) shall be a Person, other than an individual, organized and existing under the laws of the United States of America or a State thereof or the District of Columbia and such entity shall expressly assume all the obligations of the Company under the Purchase Contracts, this Agreement, the Pledge Agreement, the Guarantee Agreement and the Remarketing Agreement by one or more supplemental agreements in form reasonably satisfactory to the Purchase Contract Agent and the Collateral Agent, executed and delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent and the Collateral Agent by such Person, and

(ii) the Company or such successor entity, as the case may be, shall not, immediately after such merger or consolidation, or such sale, assignment, transfer, lease or conveyance, be in default in its payment obligations or in any material default in the performance of any of its other obligations hereunder, or under any of the Units.

SECTION 9.2. Rights and Duties of Successor Entity.

In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale, assignment, transfer, lease or conveyance and upon any such assumption by a successor entity in accordance with Section 9.1, such successor entity shall succeed to and be substituted for the Company with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the Company. Such successor entity thereupon may cause to be signed, and may issue either in its own name or in the name of NextEra Energy, Inc. any or all of the Certificates evidencing Units issuable hereunder which theretofore shall not have been signed by the Company and delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent; and, upon the order of such successor entity, instead of the Company, and subject to all the terms, conditions and limitations in this Agreement prescribed, the Purchase Contract Agent shall authenticate and execute on behalf of the Holders and deliver any Certificates which previously shall have been signed and delivered by the officers of the Company to the Purchase Contract Agent for authentication and execution, and any Certificate evidencing Units which such successor entity thereafter shall cause to be signed and delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent for that purpose. All the Certificates so issued shall in all respects have the same legal rank and benefit under this Agreement as the Certificates theretofore or thereafter issued in accordance with the terms of this Agreement as though all of such Certificates had been issued at the date of the execution hereof.

In case of any such consolidation, merger, sale, assignment, transfer, lease or conveyance such change in phraseology and form (but not in substance) may be made in the Certificates evidencing Units thereafter to be issued as may be appropriate.

SECTION 9.3. Company Certificate and Opinion of Counsel Given to Purchase Contract Agent.

The Purchase Contract Agent, subject to Section 7.1 and Section 7.3, shall receive a Company Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel as conclusive evidence that any such consolidation, merger, sale, assignment, transfer, lease or conveyance, and any such assumption, complies with the provisions of this Article IX and that all conditions precedent to the consummation of any such consolidation, merger, sale, assignment, transfer, lease or conveyance have been met.

ARTICLE X

Covenants

SECTION 10.1. Performance Under Purchase Contracts.

The Company covenants and agrees for the benefit of the Holders from time to time of the Units that it will duly and punctually perform its obligations under the Purchase Contracts in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contracts and this Agreement.

SECTION 10.2. Maintenance of Office or Agency.

The Company will maintain in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York an office or agency where Certificates may be presented or surrendered for acquisition of shares of Common Stock upon settlement of the Purchase Contracts on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date or upon Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement and for transfer of Collateral upon occurrence of a Termination Event, where Certificates may be surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange, for a Collateral Substitution or recreation of a Corporate Unit and where notices and demands to or upon the Company in respect of the Units and this Agreement may be served. The Company will give prompt written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent of the location, and any change in the location, of such office or agency. If at any time the Company shall fail to maintain any such required office or agency or shall fail to furnish the Purchase Contract Agent with the address thereof, such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands may be made or served at the Corporate Trust Office, and the Company hereby appoints the Purchase Contract Agent as its agent to receive all such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands. The Company initially designates the Corporate Trust Office of the Purchase Contract Agent as such office of the Company.

The Company may also from time to time designate one or more other offices or agencies where Certificates may be presented or surrendered for any or all such purposes and may from time to time rescind such designations; provided, however, that no such designation or rescission shall in any manner relieve the Company of its obligation to maintain an office or agency in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York for such purposes. The Company will give prompt written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent of any such designation or rescission and of any change in the location of any such other office or agency. The Company hereby designates as the place of payment for the Units the Corporate Trust Office and appoints the Purchase Contract Agent at its Corporate Trust Office as paying agent in such city.

SECTION 10.3. Company to Reserve Common Stock.

The Company shall at all times prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date reserve and keep available, free from preemptive rights, out of its authorized but unissued Common Stock the full number of shares of Common Stock issuable against tender of payment in respect of all Purchase Contracts constituting a part of the Units evidenced by Outstanding Certificates.

SECTION 10.4. Covenants as to Common Stock.

The Company covenants that all shares of Common Stock which may be issued against tender of payment in respect of any Purchase Contract constituting a part of the Outstanding Units will, upon issuance, be duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

SECTION 10.5. Covenants of Holders as to ERISA

Each Holder from time to time of the Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units), will be deemed to have represented and warranted that either:

(a) the Holder is not purchasing the Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units) on behalf of, or with the assets of, any Plan; or

(b) (i) the Plan will receive no less and pay no more than "adequate consideration" (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code) in connection with the purchase, holding and disposition of the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units),

(ii) the purchase, holding and disposition of the Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units) are eligible for exemptive relief or such purchase, holding and disposition will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code, or a violation of Similar Law,

(iii) neither the Company, NEE Capital nor any of their affiliates exercised any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting the purchase, holding and disposition of the Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units) and none of the Company, NEE Capital nor any of their affiliates provided advice that has formed the primary basis for the decision to purchase, hold or dispose of the Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Treasury Securities, or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Units), and

(iv) the Holder hereby directs the Company, NEE Capital, the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent and the Remarketing Agents to take the actions set forth in this Agreement, the Pledge Agreement, the Officer's Certificate and the Remarketing Agreement to be taken by such parties.

ARTICLE XI

Trust Indenture Act

SECTION 11.1. Trust Indenture Act; Application.

(a) This Agreement is subject to the provisions of the TIA that are required or deemed to be part of this Agreement and shall, to the extent applicable, be governed by such provisions; and

(b) if and to the extent that any provision of this Agreement limits, qualifies or conflicts with the duties imposed by Section 310 to 317, inclusive, of the TIA, such imposed duties shall control.

SECTION 11.2. Lists of Holders of Units.

(a) The Company shall furnish or cause to be furnished to the Purchase Contract Agent (a) semiannually, not later than June 1 and December 1 in each year, commencing December 1, 2024, a list, in such form as the Purchase Contract Agent may reasonably require, of the names and addresses of the Holders ("List of Holders") as of a date not more than 15 days prior to the delivery thereof, and (b) at such other times as the Purchase Contract Agent may request in writing, within 30 days after the receipt by the Company of any such request, a List of Holders as of a date not more than 15 days prior to the time such list is furnished; provided, that the Company shall not be obligated to provide such List of Holders at any time the List of Holders does not differ from the most recent List of Holders given to the Purchase Contract Agent by the Company. The Purchase Contract Agent may destroy any List of Holders previously given to it on receipt of a new List of Holders.

(b) The Purchase Contract Agent shall comply with its obligations under Section 311(a) of the TIA, subject to the provisions of Section 311(b) and Section 312(b) of the TIA.

SECTION 11.3. Reports by the Purchase Contract Agent.

Not later than July 15 of each year, commencing July 15, 2024, the Purchase Contract Agent shall provide to the Holders such reports, if any, as are required by Section 313(a) of the TIA in the form and in the manner provided by Section 313(a) of the TIA. Such reports shall be as of the preceding April 15. The Purchase Contract Agent shall also comply with the requirements of Section 313(b), Section 313(c) and Section 313(d) of the TIA.

SECTION 11.4. Periodic Reports to Purchase Contract Agent.

The Company shall provide to the Purchase Contract Agent such documents, reports and information as required by Section 314(a) (if any) and the compliance certificate required by Section 314(a) of the TIA in the form, in the manner and at the times required by Section 314(a) of the TIA. Delivery of such reports, information and documents to the Purchase Contract Agent is for informational purposes only and the Purchase Contract Agent's receipt of such shall not constitute actual or constructive notice or knowledge of any information contained therein or determinable from information contained therein, including the Company's compliance with any of its covenants hereunder.

SECTION 11.5. Evidence of Compliance with Conditions Precedent.

The Company shall provide to the Purchase Contract Agent such evidence of compliance with any conditions precedent provided for in this Agreement as and to the extent required by Section 314(c) of the TIA. Any certificate or opinion required to be given by an officer pursuant to Section 314(c)(1) of the TIA may be given in the form of a Company Certificate. Any opinion required to be given pursuant to Section 314(c)(2) of the TIA may be given in the form of an Opinion of Counsel.

SECTION 11.6. Defaults; Waiver.

The Holders of a majority of the Outstanding Purchase Contracts voting together as one class may, by vote or consent, on behalf of all of the Holders, waive any past Default and its consequences, except a Default

(a) in the payment on any Unit, or

(b) in respect of a provision hereof which under Section 8.2 cannot be modified or amended without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Unit affected.

Upon such waiver, any such Default shall cease to exist, and any Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured, for every purpose of this Agreement, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

SECTION 11.7. Conflicting Interests.

The following documents shall be deemed to be specifically described in this Agreement for the purposes of clause (i) of the first proviso contained in Section 310(b) of the TIA: (i) the Indenture, (ii) the Guarantee Agreement, (iii) the Indenture (For Unsecured Subordinated Debt Securities), dated as of September 1, 2006, as amended, among NEE Capital, the Company (as guarantor) and The Bank of New York Mellon (as trustee), (iv) the Purchase Contract Agreement, dated as of September 1, 2022, between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon (as purchase contract agent), and (v) the Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2024, between NEE Capital, the Company (as guarantor), and The Bank of New York Mellon (as trustee).

SECTION 11.8. Direction of Purchase Contract Agent.

Section 315(d)(3) and Section 316(a)(1)(A) of the TIA are hereby expressly excluded from this Agreement, as permitted by the TIA.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Purchase Contract Agreement to be duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

which are payable quarterly in arrears on March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1 each year, commencing September 1, 2024 (each, a "Payment Date"), shall, subject to receipt thereof by the Purchase Contract Agent from the Collateral Agent, be paid to the Person in whose name this Corporate Unit Certificate (or a Predecessor Corporate Unit Certificate) is registered at the close of business on the Record Date for such Payment Date.

Each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby obligates the Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate to purchase, and the Company to sell, not later than June 1, 2027 (the "Purchase Contract Settlement Date"), at a price of $50 in cash (the "Purchase Price"), a number of newly-issued shares of Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company ("Common Stock") determined by reference to the applicable Settlement Rate (as defined below), unless on or prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date there shall have occurred a Termination Event, an Early Settlement or a Fundamental Change Early Settlement with respect to the Corporate Units of which such Purchase Contract is a part, all as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and more fully described on the reverse hereof.

The "Settlement Rate" shall be determined as follows: (a) if the Applicable Market Value (as defined below) is equal to or greater than $90.38 (the "Threshold Appreciation Price"), the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal 0.5532 shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract (the "Minimum Settlement Rate"), (b) if the Applicable Market Value is less than the Threshold Appreciation Price, but is greater than $72.31 (the "Reference Price"), the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal the number of shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract having a value equal to $50 divided by the Applicable Market Value, and (c) if the Applicable Market Value is less than or equal to the Reference Price, the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal 0.6915 shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract (the "Maximum Settlement Rate"), in each case subject to adjustment as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. No fractional shares of Common Stock will be issued upon settlement of Purchase Contracts, as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

The Company shall pay on each Payment Date in respect of each Purchase Contract forming part of a Corporate Unit evidenced hereby, an amount (the "Contract Adjustment Payments") equal to 2.149% per annum of the Stated Amount (computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months), subject to deferral at the option of the Company as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and more fully described on the reverse hereof. Such Contract Adjustment Payments shall be payable to the Person in whose name this Corporate Unit Certificate (or a Predecessor Corporate Unit Certificate) is registered on the Security Register at the close of business on the Record Date relating to such Payment Date.

Contract Adjustment Payments will be payable at the Corporate Trust Office or, at the option of the Company, by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto at such Person's address as it appears on the Security Register or by wire transfer to an account appropriately designated in writing by the Person entitled to payment.

Reference is hereby made to the further provisions set forth on the reverse hereof, which further provisions shall for all purposes have the same effect as if set forth at this place.

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Purchase Contract Agent by manual signature, this Corporate Unit Certificate shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Pledge Agreement or the Purchase Contract Agreement or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company and the Holder specified above have caused this instrument to be duly executed.

(Form of Reverse of Corporate Unit Certificate)

This Unit and each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby is governed by a Purchase Contract Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2024 (as may be supplemented from time to time, the "Purchase Contract Agreement"), between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon, as purchase contract agent (including any successor thereunder, herein called the "Purchase Contract Agent"), to which the Purchase Contract Agreement and supplemental agreements thereto reference is hereby made for a description of the respective rights, limitations of rights, obligations, duties and immunities thereunder of the Purchase Contract Agent, the Company, and the Holders and of the terms upon which the Corporate Unit Certificates are, and are to be, executed and delivered.

Each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby, which is settled either through Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement, shall obligate the Holder of the related Corporate Units to purchase at the applicable Purchase Price, and the Company to sell, a number of newly-issued shares of Common Stock equal to the Early Settlement Rate or the applicable Settlement Rate, as applicable.

The "Applicable Market Value" means the average of the Closing Price per share of Common Stock on each Trading Day during the Observation Period; provided, however, that if a Reorganization Event occurs, the Applicable Market Value will mean the value of an Exchange Property Unit. Following the occurrence of any such Reorganization Event, references herein to the purchase or issuance of shares of Common Stock shall be construed to be references to settlement into Exchange Property Units. For purposes of calculating the value of an Exchange Property Unit, (x) the value of any common stock included in the Exchange Property Unit shall be determined using the average of the Closing Price per share of such common stock on each Trading Day during the Observation Period (only if such common stock has traded on any Trading Day during the Observation Period) (adjusted as set forth under Section 5.6 of the Purchase Contract Agreement) and (y) the value of any other property, including securities other than common stock included in the Exchange Property Unit, shall be the value of such property on the first Trading Day of the Observation Period (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors, whose determination shall be conclusive and described in a Board Resolution). The "Closing Price" of the Common Stock on any date of determination means the closing sale price (or, if no closing price is reported, the last reported sale price) of the Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") on such date or, if the Common Stock is not listed for trading on the NYSE on any such date, as reported in the composite transactions for the principal United States securities exchange on which the Common Stock is so listed, or if the Common Stock is not so reported, the last quoted bid price for the Common Stock in the over-the-counter market as reported by the OTC Markets Group Inc. or similar organization, or, if such bid price is not available, the market value of the Common Stock on such date as determined by a nationally recognized independent investment banking firm retained by the Company for this purpose. A "Trading Day" means a day on which the Common Stock (A) is not suspended from trading on any national or regional securities exchange or over-the-counter market at the close of business and (B) has traded at least once on the national or regional securities exchange or over-the-counter market that is the primary market for the trading of the Common Stock at the close of business. If the Common Stock is not traded on a securities exchange or quoted in the over-the-counter market, then "Trading Day" shall mean Business Day.

Unless the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of the Corporate Units or a Holder settles the underlying Purchase Contract through the early delivery of cash to the Purchase Contract Agent, each in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Holder of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby shall pay, on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Purchase Price for the shares of Common Stock purchased pursuant to each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby by effecting a Cash Settlement. A Holder of Corporate Units who does not make such payment in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or who does not notify the Purchase Contract Agent of such Holder's intention, at or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the seventh Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, to make a Cash Settlement or an Early Settlement, shall be deemed to have consented to the disposition of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures pursuant to the Remarketing during the Final Remarketing Period described in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

If the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units and a Holder of Corporate Units fails to notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or if such Holder does notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to pay the Purchase Price in cash, but fails to make such payment, upon the maturity of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio held by the Collateral Agent on the Business Day immediately prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the portion of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio corresponding to such Purchase Contracts received by the Collateral Agent will, upon the written direction of the Company, be invested promptly in overnight Permitted Investments. On the Purchase Contract Settlement Date an amount equal to the Purchase Price will be remitted to the Company in settlement of the Purchase Contract in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement without receiving any instructions from the Holder.

If there is no Successful Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing and if each of the Remarketings during the Final Remarketing Period result in a Failed Remarketing, each Corporate Unit Holder of Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures (as to which the related Purchase Contract has not been settled with cash) shall be deemed to have exercised its Put Right with respect to its Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, and to have elected that a portion of the Put Price equal to the principal amount of the relevant Debenture underlying such Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures be applied against such Corporate Unit Holder's obligations to pay the Purchase Price for the Common Stock issued in accordance with each related Purchase Contract on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, in accordance with the terms of the Pledge Agreement.

The Company shall not be obligated to issue any shares of Common Stock in respect of a Purchase Contract or deliver any certificates therefor to the Holder unless it shall have received payment in full of the Purchase Price for the shares of Common Stock to be purchased thereunder in the manner set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

Under and subject to the terms of the Pledge Agreement and the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Purchase Contract Agent will be entitled to exercise the voting and any other consensual rights pertaining to the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures but only to the extent instructed by the Holders as described below in this paragraph. Upon receipt of notice of any meeting at which holders of Debentures are entitled to vote or upon the solicitation of consents, waivers or proxies of holders of Debentures, the Purchase Contract Agent shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, mail to the Holders of Corporate Units a notice (a) containing such information as is contained in the notice or solicitation, (b) stating that each Corporate Unit Holder on the record date set by the Purchase Contract Agent therefor (which, to the extent possible, shall be the same date as the record date for determining the holders of Debentures entitled to vote) shall be entitled to instruct the Purchase Contract Agent as to the exercise of the voting rights pertaining to the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures constituting a part of such Holder's Corporate Units and (c) stating the manner in which such instructions may be given. Upon the written request of the Holders of Corporate Units on such record date, the Purchase Contract Agent shall endeavor insofar as practicable to vote or cause to be voted, in accordance with the instructions set forth in such requests, the maximum number of Debentures as to which any particular voting instructions are received. In the absence of specific instructions from the Holder of Corporate Units, the Purchase Contract Agent shall abstain from voting the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures constituting a part of such Corporate Units.

Upon the occurrence of (i) a Mandatory Redemption where the related Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with Section 5.8 of the Purchase Contract Agreement or (ii) a Special Event Redemption, in each case, prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Redemption Price equal to the Redemption Amount together with any accrued and unpaid interest payable on the Mandatory Redemption Date or the Special Event Redemption Date, as the case may be, with respect to the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures shall be delivered to the Collateral Agent in exchange for the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures. Pursuant to the terms of the Pledge Agreement, the Collateral Agent will apply an amount equal to the Redemption Amount to purchase, on behalf of the Holders of Corporate Units, the Treasury Portfolio and promptly remit the remaining portion of such Redemption Price, if any, to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the Holders of such Corporate Units. The Treasury Portfolio will be substituted for the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, and will be held by the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of the Pledge Agreement to secure the obligation of each Holder of a Corporate Unit to purchase the Common Stock on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date under the Purchase Contract constituting a part of such Corporate Unit. Following the occurrence of a Mandatory Redemption or a Special Event Redemption prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Holders of Corporate Units and the Collateral Agent shall have such security interests, rights and obligations with respect to the Treasury Portfolio as the Holder of Corporate Units and the Collateral Agent had in respect of the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures, subject to the Pledge thereof as provided in Article II, Article III, Article IV, Article V, and Article VI of the Pledge Agreement and any reference herein to the Debentures shall be deemed to be reference to such Treasury Portfolio. The Company may cause to be made in any Corporate Unit Certificate therewith to be issued such change in phraseology and form (but not in substance) as may be appropriate to reflect the substitution of the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio for the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as Collateral.

The Corporate Unit Certificates are issuable only in registered form and only in denominations of a single Corporate Unit and any integral multiple thereof. The transfer of any Corporate Unit Certificate will be registered and Corporate Unit Certificates may be exchanged as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. The Security Registrar may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish endorsements and transfer documents permitted by the Purchase Contract Agreement. No service charge shall be made for any such registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith. A Holder who elects to substitute Treasury Securities for the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, thereby creating Treasury Units, shall be responsible for any fees or expenses payable in connection therewith. Except as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement, for so long as the Purchase Contract underlying a Corporate Unit remains in effect, such Corporate Unit shall not be separable into its constituent parts, and the rights and obligations of the Holder of such Corporate Unit in respect of the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, and the Purchase Contract comprising such Corporate Unit may be acquired, and may be transferred and exchanged, only as an entire Corporate Unit. The holder of any Corporate Units may substitute for the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term) securing its obligation under the related Purchase Contract, Treasury Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or Stated Amount of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement. From and after such Collateral Substitution, the Unit for which such Pledged Treasury Security secures the Holder's obligation under the Purchase Contract shall be referred to as a "Treasury Unit." A Holder may make such Collateral Substitution only in integral multiples of 20 Corporate Units for 20 Treasury Units; provided, however, that if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption or a Successful Early Remarketing has occurred and the Treasury Portfolio has become a component of the Corporate Units, a Holder may make such Collateral Substitutions only in integral multiples of 160,000 Corporate Units for 160,000 Treasury Units (or such other number of Treasury Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents in connection with a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date).

A Holder of a Treasury Unit may create or recreate a Corporate Unit by substituting the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term), as the case may be, for all of the Treasury Securities that form a part of such Treasury Unit, in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement.

Subject to the next succeeding paragraph, the Company shall pay, on each Payment Date, the Contract Adjustment Payments payable in respect of each Purchase Contract to the Person in whose name the Corporate Unit Certificate evidencing such Purchase Contract is registered on the Security Register at the close of business on the Record Date relating to such Payment Date. The Contract Adjustment Payments will be payable at the Corporate Trust Office or, at the option of the Company, by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto at such address as it appears on the Security Register or by wire transfer to an account appropriately designated in writing by such person.

The Company shall have the right, at any time prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, to defer the payment of any or all of the Contract Adjustment Payments otherwise payable on any Payment Date to any subsequent Payment Date, but only if the Company shall give the Holders and the Purchase Contract Agent written notice of its election to defer such payment (specifying the amount to be deferred and the expected Deferral Period) as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. Any Contract Adjustment Payments so deferred shall bear additional Contract Adjustment Payments thereon at the rate of 7.299% per annum (computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months), compounding on each succeeding Payment Date, until paid in full (such deferred installments of Contract Adjustment Payments, if any, together with the additional Contract Adjustment Payments accrued thereon, are referred to herein as the "Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments"). Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, if any, shall be due on the next succeeding Payment Date except to the extent that payment is deferred pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement. No Contract Adjustment Payments may be deferred to a date that is after the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

In the event that the Company exercises its right to defer the payment of Contract Adjustment Payments, then, until the Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments have been paid, the Company shall not declare or pay dividends on, make other distributions with respect to, or redeem, purchase or acquire, or make a liquidation payment with respect to, any of its capital stock or make guarantee payments with respect to the foregoing other than:

(i) purchases, redemptions or other acquisitions of shares of capital stock of the Company in connection with any employment contract, benefit plan or other similar arrangement with or for the benefit of any one or more employees, officers, directors, consultants or agents or a stock purchase or dividend reinvestment plan, or the satisfaction of its obligations pursuant to any contract or security outstanding on the date that payment of Contract Adjustment Payments is deferred requiring the Company to purchase, redeem or acquire its capital stock,

(ii) as a result of a reclassification of the Company's capital stock or the exchange or conversion of all or a portion of one class or series of the Company's capital stock, or the capital stock of one of its subsidiaries, for another class or series of the Company's capital stock,

(iii) any exchange, redemption or conversion of any class or series of the Company's indebtedness, or the indebtedness of one of its subsidiaries, for any class or series of the Company's capital stock,

(iv) the purchase of fractional interests in shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to the conversion or exchange provisions of the Company's capital stock or securities of the Company or one of its subsidiaries being converted or exchanged, or in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts,

(v) dividends or other distributions paid or made in capital stock of the Company (or rights to acquire capital stock), or repurchases, redemptions or acquisitions of capital stock in connection with the issuance or exchange of capital stock (or of securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of the Company's capital stock) and distributions in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts, or

(vi) redemptions, exchanges or repurchases of, or with respect to, any rights outstanding under a shareholder rights plan or the declaration or payment thereunder of a dividend or other distribution of or with respect to rights in the future.

The Purchase Contracts and all obligations and rights of the Company and the Holders thereunder, including, without limitation, the rights of the Holders to receive and the obligation of the Company to pay any Contract Adjustment Payments or any Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, and the rights and obligations of the Holders to purchase shares of Common Stock will immediately and automatically terminate, without the necessity of any notice or action by any Holder, the Purchase Contract Agent or the Company, if, on or prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, a Termination Event shall have occurred. Upon the occurrence of a Termination Event, the Company shall promptly but in no event later than two Business Days thereafter give written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent and to the Holders at their addresses as they appear in the Security Register. Upon and after the occurrence of a Termination Event, the Collateral Agent shall release the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, forming a part of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby from the Pledge in accordance with the provisions of the Pledge Agreement.

Subject to and upon compliance with the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement, a Holder of Corporate Units may settle the related Purchase Contracts in their entirety at any time on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the first day of the Final Remarketing Period in the manner described herein, but only in integral multiples of 20 Corporate Units; provided, however, if the Treasury Portfolio has become a component of the Corporate Units, Holders of Corporate Units may settle early only in integral multiples of 160,000 Corporate Units at any time on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date (or such other number of Corporate Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents in connection with a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date). In order to exercise the right to effect any such early settlement ("Early Settlement") with respect to any Purchase Contracts evidenced by this Corporate Unit Certificate, the Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate shall deliver this Corporate Unit Certificate to the Purchase Contract Agent at the Corporate Trust Office duly endorsed for transfer to the Company or in blank with the form of Election to Settle Early/Fundamental Change Early Settlement set forth below duly completed and executed and accompanied by payment (payable to the Company in immediately available funds) in an amount (the "Early Settlement Amount") equal to the sum of (i) $50 times the number of Purchase Contracts being settled, plus (ii) if such delivery is made with respect to any Purchase Contracts during the period from the close of business on any Record Date relating to any Payment Date to the opening of business on such Payment Date, an amount equal to the Contract Adjustment Payments payable, if any, on such Payment Date with respect to such Purchase Contracts; provided, that no payment is required if the Company has elected to defer the Contract Adjustment Payments which would otherwise be payable on the Payment Date. Upon Early Settlement of Purchase Contracts by a Holder of the related Corporate Units, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio underlying such Corporate Units shall be released from the Pledge as provided in the Pledge Agreement and the Holder shall be entitled to receive a number of shares of Common Stock on account of each Purchase Contract forming part of a Corporate Unit as to which Early Settlement is effected equal to the Minimum Settlement Rate; provided however, that upon the Early Settlement of the Purchase Contracts, (i) the Holder's right to receive additional Contract Adjustment Payments in respect of such Purchase Contracts will terminate, and (ii) no adjustment will be made to or for the Holder on account of Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, or any amount accrued in respect of Contract Adjustment Payments. The Early Settlement Rate shall be adjusted in the same manner and at the same time as the Settlement Rate is adjusted as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

Upon registration of transfer of this Corporate Unit Certificate, the transferee shall be bound (without the necessity of any other action on the part of such transferee, except as may be required by the Purchase Contract Agent pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement) under the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Purchase Contracts evidenced hereby and the Pledge Agreement and the transferor shall be released from the obligations under the Purchase Contracts evidenced by this Corporate Unit Certificate. The Company covenants and agrees, and the Holder, by its acceptance hereof, likewise covenants and agrees, to be bound by the provisions of this paragraph.

The Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate, by its acceptance hereof, irrevocably authorizes the Purchase Contract Agent to enter into and perform the related Purchase Contracts forming part of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby on its behalf as its attorney-in-fact (including the execution of this Corporate Unit Certificate on behalf of such Holder), expressly withholds any consent to the assumption of the Purchase Contracts by the Company, its trustee in bankruptcy, receiver, liquidator or a person or entity performing similar functions, in the event that the Company becomes a debtor under the Bankruptcy Code or subject to other similar Federal or State law providing for reorganization or liquidation, agrees to be bound by the terms and provisions thereof, covenants and agrees to perform its obligations under such Purchase Contracts, consents to the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement, irrevocably authorizes the Purchase Contract Agent to enter into and perform the Pledge Agreement on its behalf as its attorney-in-fact, and consents and agrees to be bound by the Pledge of the Applicable Ownership

Interest in Debentures, or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying this Corporate Unit Certificate pursuant to the Pledge Agreement. The Holder, by its acceptance hereof, further covenants and agrees, that, to the extent and in the manner provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement, but subject to the terms thereof, payments in respect of the principal and interest of the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures, or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term), on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date shall be paid by the Collateral Agent to the Company in satisfaction of such Holder's obligations under such Purchase Contract and such Holder shall acquire no right, title or interest in such payments.

The Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate, by its acceptance hereof, covenants and agrees to treat itself as the owner, for Federal, State and local income and franchise tax purposes, of the related Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio forming part of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby. The Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate, by its acceptance hereof, further covenants and agrees to treat the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures that are components of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby as indebtedness of NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE Capital"), for Federal, State and local income and franchise tax purposes.

The Holder of this Corporate Unit Certificate (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures underlying Corporate Units of such Holder represented by this Corporate Units Certificate), by its acceptance hereof, will be deemed to have represented and warranted that either:

(a) the Holder is not purchasing the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, underlying such Corporate Units) on behalf of, or with the assets of, any Plan; or

(b) (i) the Plan will receive no less and pay no more than "adequate consideration" (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code) in connection with the purchase, holding and disposition of the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures underlying such Corporate Units),

(ii) the purchase, holding and disposition of the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures underlying such Corporate Units) are eligible for exemptive relief or such purchase, holding and disposition will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code, or a violation of Similar Law,

(iii) neither the Company, NEE Capital nor any of their affiliates exercised any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting the purchase, holding and disposition of the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures underlying such Corporate Units) and none of the Company, NEE Capital nor any of their affiliates provided advice that has formed the primary basis for the decision to purchase, hold or dispose of the Corporate Units (and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures underlying such Corporate Units) and

(iv) the Holder hereby directs the Company, NEE Capital, the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent and the Remarketing Agents to take the actions set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Pledge Agreement, the Officer's Certificate and the Remarketing Agreement to be taken by such parties.

Subject to certain exceptions, the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement may be amended with the consent of the Holders of a majority of the Purchase Contracts. In addition, certain amendments to the Purchase Contract Agreement may be made without any consent of the Holders as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

THE PURCHASE CONTRACTS SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICTS OF LAWS PRINCIPLES THEREUNDER, EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT THAT THE LAWS OF ANY OTHER JURISDICTION SHALL BE MANDATORILY APPLICABLE.

Prior to due presentment of a Certificate for registration of transfer, the Company, NEE Capital and the Purchase Contract Agent, and any agent of the Company, NEE Capital or the Purchase Contract Agent, may treat the Person in whose name this Corporate Unit Certificate is registered on the Security Register as the owner of the Corporate Units evidenced hereby for the purpose of (subject to any applicable record date) any payment or distribution with respect to the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (ii) of the definition of Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio), as applicable, payments of Contract Adjustment Payments and any Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, performance of the Purchase Contracts and for all other purposes whatsoever in connection with such Corporate Units, whether or not payment, distribution or performance shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice to the contrary, and neither the Company, NEE Capital nor the Purchase Contract Agent, nor any agent of the Company, NEE Capital or the Purchase Contract Agent, shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

The Purchase Contracts shall not, prior to the settlement thereof, in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement, entitle the Holder to any of the rights of a holder of shares of Common Stock.

A copy of the Purchase Contract Agreement is available for inspection at the offices of the Purchase Contract Agent.

Treasury Units
($50 Stated Amount)

This Treasury Unit Certificate certifies that _____ is the registered Holder of the number of Treasury Units set forth above [for inclusion in Global Certificates only—or such other number of Treasury Units reflected in the Schedule of Increases or Decreases in Global Certificate attached hereto], which number shall not exceed _____. Each Treasury Unit represents (a) the ownership by the Holder thereof of a 5% undivided beneficial interest in a Treasury Security, subject to the Pledge of such interest by such Holder pursuant to the Pledge Agreement, and (b) the rights and obligations of the Holder thereof and of NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation (the "Company"), under one Purchase Contract. All capitalized terms used herein without definition herein shall have the meaning set forth or incorporated by reference in the Purchase Contract Agreement referred to below.

Pursuant to the Pledge Agreement, the undivided beneficial interest in a Treasury Security constituting part of each Treasury Unit evidenced hereby has been pledged to the Collateral Agent, for the benefit of the Company, to secure the obligations of the Holder under the Purchase Contract comprising a part of such Treasury Unit.

The Pledge Agreement provides that all payments of the principal of any Treasury Securities received by the Collateral Agent shall be paid by the Collateral Agent by wire transfer in same day funds (i) in the case of any principal payments with respect to any Pledged Treasury Securities that have been released from the Pledge pursuant to the Pledge Agreement, to the Holders of the applicable Treasury Units, to the accounts designated by them in writing for such purpose no later than 2:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Business Day such payment is received by the Collateral Agent (provided, that in the event such payment is received by the Collateral Agent on a day that is not a Business Day or after 12:30 p.m., New York City time, on a Business Day, then such payment shall be made no later than 10:30 a.m., New York City time, on the next succeeding Business Day) and (ii) in the case of payments of the principal of any Pledged Treasury Securities, to the Company on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date (as defined herein) in accordance with the terms of the Pledge Agreement, in full satisfaction of the respective obligations of the Holders of the Treasury Units under the Purchase Contracts forming a part of such Treasury Units.

Each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby obligates the Holder of this Treasury Unit Certificate to purchase, and the Company to sell, not later than June 1, 2027 (the "Purchase Contract Settlement Date"), at a price of $50 in cash (the "Purchase Price"), a number of newly-issued shares of Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company ("Common Stock") determined by reference to the applicable Settlement Rate (as defined below), unless on or prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date there shall have occurred a Termination Event, an Early Settlement or a Fundamental Change Early Settlement with respect to the Treasury Units of which such Purchase Contract is a part, all as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and more fully described on the reverse hereof.

The "Settlement Rate" shall be determined as follows: (a) if the Applicable Market Value (as defined below) is equal to or greater than $90.38 (the "Threshold Appreciation Price"), the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal 0.5532 shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract (the "Minimum Settlement Rate"), (b) if the Applicable Market Value is less than the Threshold Appreciation Price, but is greater than $72.31 (the "Reference Price"), the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal the number of shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract having a value equal to $50 divided by the Applicable Market Value, and (c) if the Applicable Market Value is less than or equal to the Reference Price, the applicable Settlement Rate shall equal 0.6915 shares of Common Stock per Purchase Contract (the "Maximum Settlement Rate"), in each case subject to adjustment as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. No fractional shares of Common Stock will be issued upon settlement of Purchase Contracts, as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

The Company shall pay on each Payment Date in respect of each Purchase Contract forming part of a Treasury Unit evidenced hereby, an amount (the "Contract Adjustment Payments") equal to 2.149% per annum of the Stated Amount (computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months), subject to deferral at the option of the Company as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and more fully described on the reverse hereof. Such Contract Adjustment Payments shall be payable to the Person in whose name this Treasury Unit Certificate (or a Predecessor Treasury Unit Certificate) is registered on the Security Register at the close of business on the Record Date relating to such Payment Date.

Contract Adjustment Payments will be payable at the Corporate Trust Office or, at the option of the Company, by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto at such Person's address as it appears on the Security Register or by wire transfer to an account appropriately designated in writing by the Person entitled to payment.

Reference is hereby made to the further provisions set forth on the reverse hereof, which further provisions shall for all purposes have the same effect as if set forth at this place.

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Purchase Contract Agent by manual signature, this Treasury Unit Certificate shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Pledge Agreement or the Purchase Contract Agreement or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company and the Holder specified above have caused this instrument to be duly executed.

(Form of Reverse of Treasury Unit Certificate)

This Unit and each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby is governed by a Purchase Contract Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2024 (as may be supplemented from time to time, the "Purchase Contract Agreement"), between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon, as purchase contract agent (including any successor thereunder, herein called the "Purchase Contract Agent"), to which the Purchase Contract Agreement and supplemental agreements thereto reference is hereby made for a description of the respective rights, limitations of rights, obligations, duties and immunities thereunder of the Purchase Contract Agent, the Company, and the Holders and of the terms upon which the Treasury Unit Certificates are, and are to be, executed and delivered.

Each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby, which is settled either through Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement, shall obligate the Holder of the related Treasury Units to purchase at the applicable Purchase Price, and the Company to sell, a number of newly-issued shares of Common Stock equal to the Early Settlement Rate or the applicable Settlement Rate, as applicable.

The "Applicable Market Value" means the average of the Closing Price per share of Common Stock on each Trading Day during the Observation Period; provided, however, that if a Reorganization Event occurs, the Applicable Market Value will mean the value of an Exchange Property Unit. Following the occurrence of any such Reorganization Event, references herein to the purchase or issuance of shares of Common Stock shall be construed to be references to settlement into Exchange Property Units. For purposes of calculating the value of an Exchange Property Unit, (x) the value of any common stock included in the Exchange Property Unit shall be determined using the average of the Closing Price per share of such common stock on each Trading Day during the Observation Period (only if such common stock has traded on any Trading Day during the Observation Period) (adjusted as set forth under Section 5.6 of the Purchase Contract Agreement) and (y) the value of any other property, including securities other than common stock included in the Exchange Property Unit, shall be the value of such property on the first Trading Day of the Observation Period (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors, whose determination shall be conclusive and described in a Board Resolution). The "Closing Price" of the Common Stock on any date of determination means the closing sale price (or, if no closing price is reported, the last reported sale price) of the Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") on such date or, if the Common Stock is not listed for trading on the NYSE on any such date, as reported in the composite transactions for the principal United States securities exchange on which the Common Stock is so listed, or if the Common Stock is not so reported, the last quoted bid price for the Common Stock in the over-the-counter market as reported by the OTC Markets Group Inc. or similar organization, or, if such bid price is not available, the market value of the Common Stock on such date as determined by a nationally recognized independent investment banking firm retained by the Company for this purpose. A "Trading Day" means a day on which the Common Stock (A) is not suspended from trading on any national or regional securities exchange or over-the-counter market at the close of business and (B) has traded at least once on the national or regional securities exchange or over-the-counter market that is the primary market for the trading of the Common Stock at the close of business. If the Common Stock is not traded on a securities exchange or quoted in the over-the-counter market, then "Trading Day" shall mean Business Day.

In accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Holder of the Treasury Units evidenced hereby shall pay, on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Purchase Price for the shares of Common Stock purchased pursuant to each Purchase Contract evidenced hereby by effecting a Cash Settlement. If a Holder of Treasury Units fails to notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or if such Holder does notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to pay the Purchase Price in cash, but fails to make such payment, upon the maturity of the Pledged Treasury Securities held by the Collateral Agent on the Business Day immediately prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the principal amount of the Treasury Securities received by the Collateral Agent will, upon the written direction of the Company, be invested promptly in overnight Permitted Investments. On the Purchase Contract Settlement Date an amount equal to the Purchase Price will be remitted to the Company in settlement of the Purchase Contract in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement without receiving any instructions from the Holder.

The Company shall not be obligated to issue any shares of Common Stock in respect of a Purchase Contract or deliver any certificates therefor to the Holder unless it shall have received payment in full of the Purchase Price for the shares of Common Stock to be purchased thereunder in the manner set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

The Treasury Unit Certificates are issuable only in registered form and only in denominations of a single Treasury Unit and any integral multiple thereof. The transfer of any Treasury Unit Certificate will be registered and Treasury Unit Certificates may be exchanged as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. The Security Registrar may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish endorsements and transfer documents permitted by the Purchase Contract Agreement. No service charge shall be made for any such registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith. A Holder who elects to substitute the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, for Treasury Securities, thereby creating Corporate Units, shall be responsible for any fees or expenses payable in connection therewith. Except as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement, for so long as the Purchase Contract underlying a Treasury Unit remains in effect, such Treasury Unit shall not be separable into its constituent parts, and the rights and obligations of the Holder of such Treasury Unit in respect of the Treasury Security and the Purchase Contract comprising such Treasury Unit may be acquired, and may be transferred and exchanged, only as an entire Treasury Unit. The holder of any Treasury Units may substitute for the Treasury Securities securing its obligation under the related Purchase Contract, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term) in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Pledged Treasury Securities in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement. From and after such Collateral Substitution, the Unit for which such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term) secures the Holder's obligation under the Purchase Contract shall be referred to as a "Corporate Unit." A Holder may make such Collateral Substitution only in integral multiples of 20 Treasury Units for 20 Corporate Units; provided, however, that if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption or a Successful Early Remarketing has occurred and the Treasury Portfolio has become a component of the Corporate Units, a Holder may make such Collateral Substitutions only in integral multiples of 160,000 Treasury Units for 160,000 Corporate Units (or such other number of Corporate Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents in connection with a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date).

A Holder of a Corporate Unit may create or recreate a Treasury Unit by substituting Treasury Securities for all of the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term), as the case may be, that form a part of such Corporate Unit, in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement.

Subject to the next succeeding paragraph, the Company shall pay, on each Payment Date, the Contract Adjustment Payments payable in respect of each Purchase Contract to the Person in whose name the Treasury Unit Certificate evidencing such Purchase Contract is registered on the Security Register at the close of business on the Record Date relating to such Payment Date. The Contract Adjustment Payments will be payable at the Corporate Trust Office or, at the option of the Company, by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto at such address as it appears on the Security Register or by wire transfer to an account appropriately designated in writing by such person.

The Company shall have the right, at any time prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, to defer the payment of any or all of the Contract Adjustment Payments otherwise payable on any Payment Date to any subsequent Payment Date, but only if the Company shall give the Holders and the Purchase Contract Agent written notice of its election to defer such payment (specifying the amount to be deferred and the expected Deferral Period) as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement. Any Contract Adjustment Payments so deferred shall bear additional Contract Adjustment Payments thereon at the rate of 7.299% per annum (computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months), compounding on each succeeding Payment Date, until paid in full (such deferred installments of Contract Adjustment Payments, if any, together with the additional Contract Adjustment Payments accrued thereon, are referred to herein as the "Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments"). Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, if any, shall be due on the next succeeding Payment Date except to the extent that payment is deferred pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement. No Contract Adjustment Payments may be deferred to a date that is after the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

In the event that the Company exercises its right to defer the payment of Contract Adjustment Payments, then, until the Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments have been paid, the Company shall not declare or pay dividends on, make other distributions with respect to, or redeem, purchase or acquire, or make a liquidation payment with respect to, any of its capital stock or make guarantee payments with respect to the foregoing other than:

(i) purchases, redemptions or other acquisitions of shares of capital stock of the Company in connection with any employment contract, benefit plan or other similar arrangement with or for the benefit of any one or more employees, officers, directors, consultants or agents or a stock purchase or dividend reinvestment plan, or the satisfaction of its obligations pursuant to any contract or security outstanding on the date that payment of Contract Adjustment Payments is deferred requiring the Company to purchase, redeem or acquire its capital stock,

(ii) as a result of a reclassification of the Company's capital stock or the exchange or conversion of all or a portion of one class or series of the Company's capital stock, or the capital stock of one of its subsidiaries, for another class or series of the Company's capital stock,

(iii) any exchange, redemption or conversion of any class or series of the Company's indebtedness, or the indebtedness of one of its subsidiaries, for any class or series of the Company's capital stock,

(iv) the purchase of fractional interests in shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to the conversion or exchange provisions of the Company's capital stock or securities of the Company or one of its subsidiaries being converted or exchanged, or in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts,

(v) dividends or other distributions paid or made in capital stock of the Company (or rights to acquire capital stock), or repurchases, redemptions or acquisitions of capital stock in connection with the issuance or exchange of capital stock (or of securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of the Company's capital stock) and distributions in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts, or

(vi) redemptions, exchanges or repurchases of, or with respect to, any rights outstanding under a shareholder rights plan or the declaration or payment thereunder of a dividend or other distribution of or with respect to rights in the future.

The Purchase Contracts and all obligations and rights of the Company and the Holders thereunder, including, without limitation, the rights of the Holders to receive and the obligation of the Company to pay any Contract Adjustment Payments or any Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, and the rights and obligations of the Holders to purchase shares of Common Stock will immediately and automatically terminate, without the necessity of any notice or action by any Holder, the Purchase Contract Agent or the Company, if, on or prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, a Termination Event shall have occurred. Upon the occurrence of a Termination Event, the Company shall promptly but in no event later than two Business Days thereafter give written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent and to the Holders at their addresses as they appear in the Security Register. Upon and after the occurrence of a Termination Event, the Collateral Agent shall release the Treasury Securities from the Pledge in accordance with the provisions of the Pledge Agreement.

Subject to and upon compliance with the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement, a Holder of Treasury Units may settle the related Purchase Contracts in their entirety at any time on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the first day of the Final Remarketing Period in the manner described herein, but only in integral multiples of 20 Treasury Units. In order to exercise the right to effect any such early settlement ("Early Settlement") with respect to any Purchase Contracts evidenced by this Treasury Unit Certificate, the Holder of this Treasury Unit Certificate shall deliver this Treasury Unit Certificate to the Purchase Contract Agent at the Corporate Trust Office duly endorsed for transfer to the Company or in blank with the form of Election to Settle Early/Fundamental Change Early Settlement set forth below duly completed and executed and accompanied by payment (payable to the Company in immediately available funds) in an amount (the "Early Settlement Amount") equal to the sum of (i) $50 times the number of Purchase Contracts being settled, plus (ii) if such delivery is made with respect to any Purchase Contracts during the period from the close of business on any Record Date relating to any Payment Date to the opening of business on such Payment Date, an amount equal to the Contract Adjustment Payments payable, if any, on such Payment Date with respect to such Purchase Contracts; provided, that no payment is required if the Company has elected to defer the Contract Adjustment Payments which would otherwise be payable on the Payment Date. Upon Early Settlement of Purchase Contracts by a Holder of the related Treasury Units, the Pledged Treasury Securities underlying such Treasury Units shall be released from the Pledge as provided in the Pledge Agreement and the Holder shall be entitled to receive a number of shares of Common Stock on account of each Purchase Contract forming part of a Treasury Unit as to which Early Settlement is effected equal to the Minimum Settlement Rate; provided however, that upon the Early Settlement of the Purchase Contracts, (i) the Holder's right to receive additional Contract Adjustment Payments in respect of such Purchase Contracts will terminate, and (ii) no adjustment will be made to or for the Holder on account of Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, or any amount accrued in respect of Contract Adjustment Payments. The Early Settlement Rate shall be adjusted in the same manner and at the same time as the Settlement Rate is adjusted as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

Upon registration of transfer of this Treasury Unit Certificate, the transferee shall be bound (without the necessity of any other action on the part of such transferee, except as may be required by the Purchase Contract Agent pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement) under the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Purchase Contracts evidenced hereby and the Pledge Agreement and the transferor shall be released from the obligations under the Purchase Contracts evidenced by this Treasury Unit Certificate. The Company covenants and agrees, and the Holder, by its acceptance hereof, likewise covenants and agrees, to be bound by the provisions of this paragraph.

The Holder of this Treasury Unit Certificate, by its acceptance hereof, irrevocably authorizes the Purchase Contract Agent to enter into and perform the related Purchase Contracts forming part of the Treasury Units evidenced hereby on its behalf as its attorney-in-fact (including the execution of this Treasury Unit Certificate on behalf of such Holder), expressly withholds any consent to the assumption of the Purchase Contracts by the Company, its trustee in bankruptcy, receiver, liquidator or a person or entity performing similar functions, in the event that the Company becomes a debtor under the Bankruptcy Code or subject to other similar Federal or State law providing for reorganization or liquidation, agrees to be bound by the terms and provisions thereof, covenants and agrees to perform its obligations under such Purchase Contracts, consents to the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement, irrevocably authorizes the Purchase Contract Agent to enter into and perform the Pledge Agreement on its behalf as its attorney-in-fact, and consents and agrees to be bound by the Pledge of the Treasury Securities underlying this Treasury Unit Certificate pursuant to the Pledge Agreement. The Holder, by its acceptance hereof, further covenants and agrees, that, to the extent and in the manner provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Pledge Agreement, but subject to the terms thereof, payments in respect of the Pledged Treasury Securities on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date shall be paid by the Collateral Agent to the Company in satisfaction of such Holder's obligations under such Purchase Contract and such Holder shall acquire no right, title or interest in such payments.

The Holder of this Treasury Unit Certificate (and the Treasury Securities underlying Treasury Units of such Holder represented by this Treasury Unit Certificate), by its acceptance hereof, will be deemed to have represented and warranted that either:

▪ (a) the Holder is not purchasing the Treasury Units (and the Treasury Securities underlying Treasury Units of such Holder represented by this Treasury Units Certificate) on behalf of, or with the assets of, any Plan; or

(b) (i) the Plan will receive no less and pay no more than "adequate consideration" (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code) in connection with the purchase, holding and disposition of the Treasury Units (and the Treasury Securities underlying such Treasury Units).

(ii) the purchase, holding and disposition of the Treasury Units (and the undivided ownership interests in Treasury Securities, underlying such Treasury Units) are eligible for exemptive relief or such purchase, holding and disposition will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code, or a violation of Similar Law,

(iii) neither the Company, NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE Capital"), nor any of their affiliates exercised any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting the purchase, holding and disposition of the Treasury Units (and the undivided ownership interests in Treasury Securities underlying such Treasury Units) and none of the Company, NEE Capital nor any of their affiliates provided advice that has formed the primary basis for the decision to purchase, hold or dispose of the Treasury Units (and the undivided ownership interests in Treasury Securities underlying such Treasury Units) and

(iv) the Holder hereby directs the Company, NEE Capital, the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent and the Remarketing Agents to take the actions set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Pledge Agreement, the Officer's Certificate and the Remarketing Agreement to be taken by such parties.

Subject to certain exceptions, the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement may be amended with the consent of the Holders of a majority of the Purchase Contracts. In addition, certain amendments to the Purchase Contract Agreement may be made without any consent of the Holders as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement.

THE PURCHASE CONTRACTS SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICTS OF LAWS PRINCIPLES THEREUNDER, EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT THAT THE LAWS OF ANY OTHER JURISDICTION SHALL BE MANDATORILY APPLICABLE.

Prior to due presentment of a Certificate for registration of transfer, the Company, NEE Capital, and the Purchase Contract Agent, and any agent of the Company, NEE Capital or the Purchase Contract Agent, may treat the Person in whose name this Treasury Unit Certificate is registered on the Security Register as the owner of the Treasury Units evidenced hereby for the purpose of any payments on the Treasury Securities, payments of Contract Adjustment Payments and any Deferred Contract Adjustment Payments, performance of the Purchase Contracts and for all other purposes whatsoever in connection with such Treasury Units, whether or not payment, distribution or performance shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice to the contrary, and neither the Company, NEE Capital nor the Purchase Contract Agent, nor any agent of the Company, NEE Capital or the Purchase Contract Agent, shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

The Purchase Contracts shall not, prior to the settlement thereof, in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement, entitle the Holder to any of the rights of a holder of shares of Common Stock.

A copy of the Purchase Contract Agreement is available for inspection at the offices of the Purchase Contract Agent.

PLEDGE AGREEMENT

DATED AS OF JUNE 1, 2024

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PLEDGE AGREEMENT, dated as of June 1, 2024 (this "Agreement"), between NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation (the "Company"), as pledgee, Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, a New York banking corporation, not individually but solely as collateral agent (in such capacity, together with its successors in such capacity, the "Collateral Agent"), as custodial agent (in such capacity, together with its successors in such capacity, the "Custodial Agent") and as a "securities intermediary" as defined in Section 8-102(a)(14) of the UCC (as defined herein) (in such capacity, together with its successors in such capacity, the "Securities Intermediary"), and The Bank of New York Mellon, a New York banking corporation, not individually but solely as purchase contract agent and as attorney-in-fact for the Holders (as defined in the Purchase Contract Agreement (as hereinafter defined)) of Equity Units (as hereinafter defined) from time to time (in such capacity, together with its successors in such capacity, the "Purchase Contract Agent") under the Purchase Contract Agreement.

RECITALS

The Company and the Purchase Contract Agent are parties to the Purchase Contract Agreement, dated as of the date hereof (as modified and supplemented and in effect from time to time, the "Purchase Contract Agreement"), pursuant to which there may be issued up to 40,000,000 units (referred to as "Equity Units") of the Company, having a stated amount of $50 ("Stated Amount") per Equity Unit.

The Equity Units will initially consist of 40,000,000 Corporate Units and 0 Treasury Units. Each Corporate Unit will consist of (a) a stock purchase contract (as modified and supplemented and in effect from time to time, a "Purchase Contract") under which (i) the Holder will purchase from the Company not later than June 1, 2027 ("Purchase Contract Settlement Date"), for $50 in cash, a number of newly-issued shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, of the Company ("Common Stock") determined by reference to the applicable Settlement Rate and (ii) the Company will pay certain Contract Adjustment Payments to the Holders as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement, and (b) either (A) prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date so long as no Special Event Redemption or Mandatory Redemption has occurred, (i) the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures, such debentures being the Series N Debentures due June 1, 2029 ("Debentures") issued by NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. ("NEE Capital"), or (ii) following a Successful Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing, the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, or (B) upon the occurrence of a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption (if the Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement) prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio.

Each Treasury Unit will consist of (a) a Purchase Contract under which (i) the Holder will purchase from the Company not later than the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, for $50 in cash, a number of newly-issued shares of Common Stock determined by reference to the applicable Settlement Rate and (ii) the Company will pay certain Contract Adjustment Payments to the Holders as provided in the Purchase Contract Agreement, and (b) a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in a zero-coupon U.S. Treasury security having a principal amount at maturity equal to $1,000 and maturing on May 31, 2027 (CUSIP No. 912821EN1) ("Treasury Security").

Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement and the Purchase Contracts, the Holders, from time to time, of the Equity Units have irrevocably authorized the Purchase Contract Agent, as attorney-in-fact for such Holders, among other things, to execute and deliver this Agreement on behalf of and in the name of such Holders and to grant the pledge provided hereby of the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures, any Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio and any Treasury Securities to secure each Holder's obligations under the related Purchase Contract, as provided herein and subject to the terms hereof. Upon such pledge, the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures will be beneficially owned by the Holders but will be owned of record by the Purchase Contract Agent subject to the Pledge hereunder, and the Treasury Securities (and the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio) will be beneficially owned by the Holders but will be held in book-entry form by the Securities Intermediary subject to the Pledge.

Accordingly, the Company, the Collateral Agent, the Securities Intermediary, the Custodial Agent and the Purchase Contract Agent, on its own behalf and as attorney-in-fact for the Holders of Equity Units from time to time, agree as follows:

ARTICLE II.

PLEDGE; CONTROL AND PERFECTION

SECTION 2.1 The Pledge

The Holders from time to time acting through the Purchase Contract Agent, as their attorney-in-fact, and the Purchase Contract Agent, as such attorney-in-fact, hereby pledge and grant to the Collateral Agent, for the benefit of the Company, as collateral security for the performance when due by such Holders of their respective obligations under the related Purchase Contracts, a security interest in all of the right, title and interest of such Holders and the Purchase Contract Agent in the Collateral. Prior to or concurrently with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the Purchase Contract Agent, on behalf of the initial Holders of the Equity Units, shall cause the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures that are components of the Corporate Units, to be Transferred to the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the Company. Such Debentures shall be Transferred by physically delivering such Debentures to the Collateral Agent endorsed in blank. From time to time, the Treasury Securities and the Treasury Portfolio, as applicable, shall be Transferred to the Collateral Account maintained by the Collateral Agent as the Securities Intermediary by book-entry transfer to the Collateral Account in accordance with the TRADES Regulations and other applicable law and by the notation by the Securities Intermediary on its books that a Security Entitlement with respect to such Treasury Securities or Treasury Portfolio, has been credited to the Collateral Account. For purposes of perfecting the Pledge under applicable law, including, to the extent applicable, the TRADES Regulations or the Uniform Commercial Code as adopted and in effect in any applicable jurisdiction, the Collateral Agent shall be the agent of the Company as provided herein. The pledge provided in this Section 2.1 is herein referred to as the "Pledge." Subject to the Pledge and the provisions of Section 2.2 hereof, the Holders from time to time shall have full beneficial ownership of the Collateral. The Collateral Agent shall have the right to have the Debentures held in physical form reregistered in its name or in the name of its agent or the Securities Intermediary and credited to the Collateral Account.

Except as may be required in order to release Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures (or if (i) a Special Event Redemption if the Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement, (ii) a Mandatory Redemption if the Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or (iii) a Successful Remarketing has occurred, a Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio) or Pledged Treasury Securities in connection with a Holder's election to convert its investment from Corporate Units to Treasury Units, or from Treasury Units to Corporate Units, as the case may be, or except as otherwise required to release Pledged Securities as specified herein, neither the Collateral Agent nor the Securities Intermediary shall relinquish physical possession of any certificate evidencing Debentures (or if (i) a Special Event Redemption if the Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement, (ii) Mandatory Redemption if the Purchase Contracts have not been previously or concurrently terminated in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or (iii) a Successful Remarketing has occurred, the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio) or Treasury Securities prior to the termination of this Agreement. If it becomes necessary for the Collateral Agent to relinquish physical possession of a certificate in order to release a portion of the Debentures evidenced thereby from the Pledge, the Collateral Agent shall use its best efforts to obtain physical possession of a replacement certificate evidencing any Debentures remaining subject to the Pledge hereunder registered to it or endorsed in blank within ten days of the date it relinquished possession. The Collateral Agent shall promptly notify the Company of its failure to obtain possession of any such replacement certificate as required hereby.

SECTION 2.2 Control and Perfection

(a) In connection with the Pledge granted in Section 2.1, and subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, the Holders from time to time acting through the Purchase Contract Agent, as their attorney-in-fact, hereby authorize and direct the Securities Intermediary (without the necessity of obtaining the further consent of the Purchase Contract Agent or any of the Holders), and the Securities Intermediary agrees, to comply with and follow any instructions and Entitlement Orders that the Collateral Agent on behalf of the Company may give in writing with respect to the Collateral Account, the Collateral credited thereto and any Security Entitlements with respect to any thereof. Such instructions and Entitlement Orders may, without limitation, direct the Securities Intermediary to transfer, redeem, sell, liquidate, assign, deliver or otherwise dispose of any Debentures, any Treasury Securities, any Treasury Portfolio and any Security Entitlements with respect thereto and to pay and deliver any income, proceeds or other funds derived therefrom to the Company. The Purchase Contract Agent and the Holders from time to time, acting through the Purchase Contract Agent, each hereby further authorize and direct the Collateral Agent, as agent of the Company, to itself issue instructions and Entitlement Orders, and to otherwise take action, with respect to the Collateral Account, the Collateral credited thereto and any Security Entitlements with respect thereto, pursuant to the terms and provisions hereof, all without the necessity of obtaining the further consent of the Purchase Contract Agent or any of the Holders. The Collateral Agent shall be the agent of the Company and shall act as directed in writing by the Company. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Collateral Agent shall issue Entitlement Orders to the Securities Intermediary when and as required by the terms hereof or as directed by the Company.

(b) The Securities Intermediary hereby confirms and agrees that: (i) all securities or other property underlying any financial assets credited to the Collateral Account shall be registered in the name of the Securities Intermediary, endorsed to the Securities Intermediary or in blank or credited to another collateral account maintained in the name of the Securities Intermediary and in no case will any financial asset credited to the Collateral Account be registered in the name of the Purchase Contract Agent, the Company or any Holder, payable to the order of, or specially endorsed to, the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent, the Company or any Holder except to the extent the foregoing have been specially endorsed to the Securities Intermediary or in blank; (ii) all property delivered to the Securities Intermediary pursuant to this Agreement (including, without limitation, any Pledged Securities) will be promptly credited to the Collateral Account; (iii) the Collateral Account is an account to which financial assets are or may be credited, and the Securities Intermediary shall, subject to the terms of this Agreement, treat the Purchase Contract Agent as the "entitlement holder" (as defined in Section 8-102(a)(7) of the UCC) with respect to the Collateral Account; (iv) the Securities Intermediary has not entered into, and until the termination of this Agreement will not enter into, any agreement with any other Person relating to the Collateral Account and/or any financial assets credited thereto pursuant to which it has agreed to comply with Entitlement Orders of such other Person; and (v) the Securities Intermediary has not entered into, and until the termination of this Agreement will not enter into, any agreement with the Company, the Collateral Agent, the Purchase Contract Agent or the Holders of the Equity Units purporting to limit or condition the obligation of the Securities Intermediary to comply with Entitlement Orders as set forth in this Section 2.2 hereof.

(c) The Securities Intermediary hereby agrees that each item of property (whether investment property, financial asset, security, instrument or cash) credited to the Collateral Account shall be treated as a "financial asset" within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(9) of the UCC.

(d) In the event of any conflict between this Agreement (or any portion hereof) and any other agreement now existing or hereafter entered into by the parties hereto, the terms of this Agreement shall prevail.

(e) The Purchase Contract Agent hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints the Collateral Agent and the Company, and each of them severally, with full power of substitution, as the Purchase Contract Agent's attorney-in-fact to take on behalf of, and in the name, place and stead of the Purchase Contract Agent and the Holders, any action necessary or desirable to perfect and to keep perfected the security interest in the Collateral referred to in Section 2.1. The grant of such power-of-attorney shall not be deemed to require of the Collateral Agent any specific duties or obligations not otherwise assumed by the Collateral Agent hereunder.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTIONS ON PLEDGED COLLATERAL

So long as the Purchase Contract Agent is the registered owner of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, it shall receive all payments thereon. If the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures are reregistered, such that the Collateral Agent becomes the registered Holder, all payments of principal or interest on such Debentures, together with any payments of principal or interest or cash distributions in respect of any other Pledged Securities received by the Collateral Agent that are properly payable hereunder, shall be paid by the Collateral Agent by wire transfer in same day funds:

(i) In the case of (A) payment of interest with respect to the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or cash distributions on the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (ii) of the definition of the term "Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio"), as the case may be, and (B) any payments of principal with respect to any Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term), as the case may be, that have been released from the Pledge pursuant to Section 4.3 hereof, to the Purchase Contract Agent, for the benefit of the relevant Holders of Corporate Units, to the account designated by the Purchase Contract Agent for such purpose, no later than 2:00 p.m , New York City time, on the Business Day such payment is received by the Collateral Agent (provided, that in the event such payment is received by the Collateral Agent on a day that is not a Business Day or after 12:30 p.m., New York City time, on a Business Day, then such payment shall be made no later than 10:30 a.m., New York City time, on the next succeeding Business Day);

(ii) In the case of any principal payments with respect to any Treasury Securities that have been released from the Pledge pursuant to Section 4.3 hereof, to the Holders of the Treasury Units to the accounts designated by them to the Collateral Agent in writing for such purpose, no later than 2:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Business Day such payment is received by the Collateral Agent (provided, that in the event such payment is received by the Collateral Agent on a day that is not a Business Day or after 12:30 p.m., New York City time, on a Business Day, then such payment shall be made no later than 10:30 a.m., New York City time, on the next succeeding Business Day); and

(iii) In the case of payments of the principal of any Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the principal of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of the term "Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio"), as the case may be, or the principal of any Pledged Treasury Securities, to the Company on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date in accordance with the procedure set forth in Section 4.6(a) or Section 4.6(b) hereof, in full satisfaction of the respective obligations of the Holders under the related Purchase Contracts.

All payments received by the Purchase Contract Agent as provided herein shall be applied by the Purchase Contract Agent pursuant to the provisions of the Purchase Contract Agreement. If, notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchase Contract Agent or a Holder of Corporate Units shall receive any payments of principal on account of any Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or, if applicable, the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of such term) that, at the time of such payment, is a Pledged Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, or the Purchase Contract Agent or a Holder of Treasury Units shall receive any payments of principal on account of any Treasury Securities that, at the time of such payment, are Pledged Treasury Securities, the Purchase Contract Agent or such Holder, as the case may be, shall transfer the Proceeds of such payment of principal on such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, or Pledged Treasury Securities, as the case may be, to the Collateral Agent and the Collateral Agent shall hold such Proceeds for the benefit of the Company as Collateral for the performance when due by such Holder of its obligations under the related Purchase Contracts.

ARTICLE IV.

SUBSTITUTION, RELEASE AND REPLEDGE OF DEBENTURES AND SETTLEMENT OF PURCHASE CONTRACTS

SECTION 4.1 Substitution for Debentures and the Creation of Treasury Units

A Holder of a Corporate Unit may create or recreate a Treasury Unit and separate the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as applicable, from the related Purchase Contract in respect of such Corporate Unit by substituting Treasury Securities for all, but not less than all, of the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio that form a part of such Corporate Unit in accordance with this Section 4.1 and Section 3.13 of the Purchase Contract Agreement; provided, however, that if the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio has not replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, such Collateral Substitutions may only be made on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the seventh Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date; and provided, further, that if the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, such Collateral Substitutions may only be made on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. In accordance with Section 3.13 of the Purchase Contract Agreement, unless a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has previously occurred, Holders of Corporate Units shall not be permitted to effect Collateral Substitutions during the period commencing on and including the Business Day prior to the first Remarketing Date in a Remarketing Period and ending on and including the Reset Effective Date relating to a Successful Remarketing during such Remarketing Period or, if no remarketing during such Remarketing Period is successful, the Business Day following the last Remarketing Date occurring during such Remarketing Period. Holders of Corporate Units may make Collateral

Substitutions and establish Treasury Units (i) only in integral multiples of 20 Corporate Units if Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures are being substituted for Treasury Securities, or (ii) only in integral multiples of 160,000 Corporate Units (or such other number of Corporate Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date) if the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio are being substituted for Treasury Securities.

For example, to create 20 Treasury Units (if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has not occurred and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures remain components of Corporate Units), or 160,000 Treasury Units (if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has occurred or the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing) (or such other number of Treasury Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date), the Corporate Unit Holder shall,

(a) if the Treasury Portfolio has not replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, on or prior to the seventh Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, deposit with the Collateral Agent a Treasury Security having a principal amount at maturity of $1,000; or

(b) if the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as a component of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, deposit with the Collateral Agent Treasury Securities having an aggregate principal amount at maturity of $8,000,000; and

(c) in each case, transfer and surrender the related 20 Corporate Units, or in the event the Treasury Portfolio is a component of Corporate Units, 160,000 Corporate Units (or such other number of Corporate Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date), to the Purchase Contract Agent accompanied by an instruction to the Purchase Contract Agent, substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, stating that the Holder has transferred the relevant amount of Treasury Securities to the Collateral Agent and requesting that the Purchase Contract Agent instruct the Collateral Agent to release the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, underlying such Corporate Units, whereupon the Purchase Contract Agent shall promptly give such instruction to the Collateral Agent, substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto.

Upon receipt of the Treasury Securities described in clause (a) or (b) above and the instructions described in clause (c) above from the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent shall release the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, and shall promptly Transfer such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, free and clear of the lien, pledge or security interest created hereby, to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of the Holders.

SECTION 4.2 Substitution for Treasury Securities and the Creation of Corporate Units

A Holder of a Treasury Unit may create or recreate a Corporate Unit by depositing with the Collateral Agent the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, in substitution for all, but not less than all, of the Treasury Securities that are components of the Treasury Unit in accordance with this Section 4.2 and Section 3.14 of the Purchase Contract Agreement; provided, however, that if the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio has not replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, such Collateral Substitutions may only be made on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day immediately preceding the first day of the Final Remarketing Period; and if the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Debentures underlying the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, such Collateral Substitutions may only be made on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. In accordance with Section 3.14 of the Purchase Contract Agreement, unless a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has previously occurred, Holders of Treasury Units shall not be permitted to effect Collateral Substitutions during the period commencing on and including the Business Day prior to the first Remarketing Date in a Remarketing Period and ending on and including the Reset Effective Date relating to a Successful Remarketing during such Remarketing Period or, if no Remarketing during such Remarketing Period is successful, the Business Day following the last Remarketing Date occurring during such Remarketing Period. Holders of Treasury Units may make such Collateral Substitutions and establish Corporate Units (i) only in integral multiples of 20 Treasury Units if Treasury Securities are being replaced by Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures, or (ii) only in integral multiples of 160,000 Treasury Units (or such other number of Treasury Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date) if any Treasury Security is being replaced by the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio.

For example, to create 20 Corporate Units (if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has not occurred and the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures remain components of Corporate Units), or 160,000 Corporate Units (if a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption has occurred or the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing) (or such other number of Corporate Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date), the Treasury Unit Holder shall

(a) if the Treasury Portfolio has not replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, on or prior to the second Business

Day immediately preceding the first day of the Final Remarketing Period, deposit with the Collateral Agent $1,000 in aggregate principal amount of Debentures, which Debentures must have been purchased in the open market at the expense of the Holder of the Treasury Unit, unless otherwise owned by the Holder of the Treasury Unit; or

(b) if the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as a component of Corporate Units as a result of a Successful Remarketing or a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption, on or prior to the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, deposit with the Collateral Agent the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio for each 160,000 Corporate Units being created by the Holder, and having an aggregate principal amount of $8,000,000, which Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio must have been purchased in the open market at the expense of the Holder of Treasury Unit, unless otherwise owned by the Holder of Treasury Unit; and

(c) in each case, transfer and surrender the related 20 Treasury Units, or in the event the Treasury Portfolio is a component of Corporate Units, 160,000 Treasury Units (or such other number of Treasury Units as may be determined by the Remarketing Agents following a Successful Remarketing if the Reset Effective Date is not a Payment Date), to the Purchase Contract Agent accompanied by an instruction to the Purchase Contract Agent, substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, stating that the Holder has transferred the relevant amount of Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, to the Collateral Agent and requesting that the Purchase Contract Agent instruct the Collateral Agent to release the Pledged Treasury Securities underlying such Treasury Units, whereupon the Purchase Contract Agent shall promptly give such instruction to the Collateral Agent, substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto.

Upon receipt of the Debenture or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, described in clause (a) or (b) above and the instructions described in clause (c) above from the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent shall release the Pledged Treasury Securities and shall promptly Transfer such Pledged Treasury Securities, free and clear of the lien, pledge or security interest created hereby, to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of the Holders.

SECTION 4.3 Termination Event

Upon receipt by the Collateral Agent of written notice from the Company or the Purchase Contract Agent that there has occurred a Termination Event, the Collateral Agent shall release all Collateral from the Pledge and shall promptly Transfer any Debentures underlying Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures (or, if (i) a Special Event Redemption if the proceeds thereof were used to acquire the Treasury Portfolio in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement, (ii) a Mandatory Redemption if the proceeds thereof were used to acquire the Treasury Portfolio in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement or (iii) a Successful Remarketing, as the case may be, has occurred, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio) and Pledged Treasury Securities to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of the Holders of the Corporate Units and the Treasury Units, respectively, free and clear of any lien, pledge or security interest or other interest created hereby.

If such Termination Event shall result from the Company's becoming a debtor under the Bankruptcy Code, and if the Collateral Agent shall for any reason fail promptly to effectuate the release and Transfer of all Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio or the Pledged Treasury Securities, as the case may be, as provided by this Section 4.3, any Holder may, and the Purchase Contract Agent shall, upon receipt from the Holders of security or indemnity satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred by the Purchase Contract Agent in compliance with this paragraph, (i) use its reasonable best efforts to obtain an opinion of a nationally recognized law firm reasonably acceptable to the Collateral Agent to the effect that, as a result of the Company being the debtor in such a bankruptcy case, the Collateral Agent will not be prohibited from releasing or Transferring the Collateral as provided in this Section 4.3, and shall deliver such opinion to the Collateral Agent within ten days after the occurrence of such Termination Event, and if (A) any such Holder or the Purchase Contract Agent shall be unable to obtain such opinion within ten days after the occurrence of such Termination Event or (B) the Collateral Agent shall continue, after delivery of such opinion, to refuse to effectuate the release and Transfer of all Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio or the Pledged Treasury Securities, as the case may be, as provided in this Section 4.3, then any Holder may, and the Purchase Contract Agent shall within 15 days after the occurrence of such Termination Event, commence an action or proceeding in the court with jurisdiction of the Company's case under the Bankruptcy Code seeking an order requiring the Collateral Agent to effectuate the release and transfer of all Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio or of the Pledged Treasury Securities, as the case may be, as provided by this Section 4.3 or (ii) commence an action or proceeding in the court with jurisdiction of the Company's case under the Bankruptcy Code like that described in clause (i)(B) of this Section 4.3 within ten days after the occurrence of such Termination Event.

SECTION 4.4 Cash Settlement

(a) Upon receipt by the Collateral Agent of (1) (i) a notice from the Purchase Contract Agent that a Holder of a Corporate Unit has elected, in accordance with the procedures specified in Section 5.4(a)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, to settle its Purchase Contract with cash and (ii) payment by such Holder of the amount required to settle the Purchase Contract prior to 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the sixth Business Day or (if all the Remarketings during the Final Remarketing Period result in a Failed Remarketing) one Business Day, as applicable, immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, or (2) (i) a notice from the Purchase Contract Agent that a Holder of a Treasury Unit has elected, in accordance with the procedures specified in Section 5.4(c)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, to settle its Purchase Contract with cash and (ii) payment by such Holder of the amount required to settle the Purchase Contract prior to 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, such payments pursuant to the foregoing clause (1) or clause (2) to be in lawful money of the United States and to be made by certified or cashiers' check or wire transfer in immediately available funds payable to or upon the order of the Company, then the Collateral Agent shall, upon the written direction of the Company, promptly invest any cash received from a Holder in connection with a Cash Settlement in Permitted Investments. Upon receipt of the proceeds, if any, upon the maturity of the Permitted

Investments, the Collateral Agent shall pay the portion of such proceeds and deliver any certified or cashiers' checks received, in an aggregate amount equal to the Purchase Price, to the Company on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, and shall distribute any funds in respect of the interest earned from the Permitted Investments, if any, to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the relevant Holder.

(b) If a Holder of Corporate Units (if Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures are components thereof) fails to notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement in accordance with Section 5.4(a)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, or if a Holder of such Corporate Units does notify the Purchase Contract Agent as provided in Section 5.4(a)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement, but fails to make such payment as required by Section 5.4(a)(ii) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, such Holder shall be deemed to have consented to the disposition of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures pursuant to the Remarketing as described in Section 5.4(a) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, which is incorporated herein by reference, and Section 4.6 hereof.

If all the Remarketings during the Final Remarketing Period result in a Failed Remarketing as described in Section 5.4(a) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, each Holder of Corporate Units of which Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures are components (as to which the related Purchase Contracts have not been settled with cash) shall be deemed to have exercised its Put Right, as described in the Officer's Certificate, with respect to its Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, and to have elected that a portion of the Put Price equal to the principal amount of the relevant Debentures underlying such Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures be applied against such Corporate Unit Holder's obligations to pay the Purchase Price for the Common Stock issued in accordance with each related Purchase Contract on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. Following such application, such Holder's obligations to pay the Purchase Price for the Common Stock will be deemed to be satisfied in full, and upon receipt of written confirmation from the Company that a portion of the Put Price in the amount specified in such notice has been so applied to pay the Purchase Price for the Common Stock, the Collateral Agent shall cause the Securities Intermediary to release the Debentures underlying all such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures from the Collateral Account and shall promptly transfer such Debentures to the Company. Thereafter, the Collateral Agent shall promptly remit the remaining portion of the Proceeds of such Holder's exercise of its Put Right in excess of the aggregate Purchase Price for Common Stock to be issued in accordance with each related Purchase Contract, if any, to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to such Holder of the Corporate Units to which such Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures relate.

(c) If a Holder of Treasury Units or Corporate Units (if the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as components of the Corporate Units) fails to notify the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement in accordance with Section 5.4(c)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, or if a Holder of Treasury Units or Corporate Units (if the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures as components of the Corporate Units) notifies the Purchase Contract Agent as provided in Section 5.4(c)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement of its intention to effect a Cash Settlement, but fails to make such payment as required by Section 5.4(c)(ii) of the Purchase Contract Agreement, upon the maturity of the related Pledged Treasury Securities or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, if any, held by the Collateral Agent on the Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the principal amount of such Pledged Treasury Securities, or the portion of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, corresponding to such Purchase Contracts received by the Collateral Agent shall, upon the written direction of the Company, be invested promptly in Permitted Investments. On the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, an aggregate amount equal to the Purchase Price will be remitted to the Company as payment of the Purchase Price of such Purchase Contracts. In the event the sum of the Proceeds from the Pledged Treasury Securities or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, and the investment earnings earned from the Permitted Investments, if any, is in excess of the aggregate Purchase Price of the Purchase Contracts being settled thereby, the Collateral Agent will distribute such excess to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of the Holder of the related Treasury Units or Corporate Units.

SECTION 4.5 Early Settlement; Fundamental Change Early Settlement

Upon written notice to the Collateral Agent by the Purchase Contract Agent that a Holder of an Equity Unit has elected to effect Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement of its entire obligation under the Purchase Contract forming a part of such Equity Unit in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract and the Purchase Contract Agreement, and that the Purchase Contract Agent has received from such Holder, and paid to the Company as confirmed in writing by the Company, the related Early Settlement Amount or Fundamental Change Early Settlement Amount, as the case may be, pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Contract and the Purchase Contract Agreement and that all conditions to such Early Settlement or Fundamental Change Early Settlement, as the case may be, have been satisfied, then the Collateral Agent shall release from the Pledge (a) the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio in the case of a Holder of Corporate Units or (b) Pledged Treasury Securities in the case of a Holder of Treasury Units, in each case that had been components of such Equity Unit, and shall transfer such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio or Pledged Treasury Securities, as the case may be, free and clear of the Pledge created hereby, to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of such Holder.

SECTION 4.6 Application of Proceeds; Settlement

(a) In the event a Holder of Corporate Units, unless the Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio have replaced the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as components of the Corporate Units, has not elected to make Cash Settlement by notifying the Purchase Contract Agent in the manner provided for in Section 5.4(a)(i) of the Purchase Contract Agreement or has not made an Early Settlement or a Fundamental Change Early Settlement of the Purchase Contracts underlying its Corporate Units, such Holder shall be deemed to have consented to the disposition of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures pursuant to the Remarketing as described in Section 5.4(a) of the Purchase Contract Agreement in order to pay for the shares of Common Stock to be issued under such Purchase Contract. The Collateral Agent shall by 10:00 a.m., New York City time, on the sixth Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, without any instruction from such Holder of Corporate Units, present the related Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures to the Remarketing Agents for remarketing. Upon receiving such Debentures, the Remarketing Agents, pursuant to the terms of the Remarketing Agreement, will use their commercially reasonable efforts to remarket such Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures on such date at a price equal to or greater than 100% of the aggregate Value of such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures plus the Remarketing Fee. The Remarketing Agents may deduct the Remarketing Fee from any portion of the proceeds from the Remarketing of the Debentures that is in excess of the sum of 100% of the aggregate Value of such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures and the aggregate Separate Debentures Purchase Price. Upon a Successful Remarketing and after deducting the Remarketing Fee from such Proceeds, the Remarketing Agents will remit the remaining portion of the Proceeds of a Successful Remarketing related to such Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures to the Collateral Agent. On the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Collateral Agent shall apply that portion of the Proceeds from such Remarketing equal to the aggregate Value of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures to satisfy in full the obligations of such Holders of Corporate Units to pay the Purchase Price for the Common Stock under the related Purchase Contracts. The remaining portion of such Proceeds, if any, shall be distributed by the Collateral Agent to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the Holders. If the Remarketing Agents advise the Collateral Agent in writing that they cannot remarket the related Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures of such Holders of Corporate Units at a price not less than 100% of the aggregate Value of such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, or if the Remarketing does not occur because a condition precedent to such Remarketing has not been fulfilled, thus resulting in a Failed Remarketing, the Collateral Agent will proceed as described in Section 4.4 hereof.

(b) In the event a Holder of Treasury Units or, if the Treasury Portfolio has replaced the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as components of Corporate Units, Corporate Units, has not made an Early Settlement or a Fundamental Change Early Settlement of the Purchase Contracts underlying its Treasury Units or Corporate Units, as the case may be, such Holder shall be deemed to have elected to pay for the shares of Common Stock to be issued under such Purchase Contracts from the Proceeds of the related Pledged Treasury Securities or the related Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be. On the Business Day immediately prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Collateral Agent shall, upon the written direction of the Company, invest the cash Proceeds of the maturing Pledged Treasury Securities or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, in Permitted Investments. Without receiving any instruction from any such Holder of Treasury Units or Corporate Units, the Collateral Agent shall apply the Proceeds of the related Pledged Treasury Securities or Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio to the settlement of the related Purchase Contracts on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. In the event the sum of the Proceeds from the related Pledged Treasury Securities or related Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio and the investment earnings from the investment in Permitted Investments, if any, is in excess of the aggregate Purchase Price of the Purchase Contracts being settled thereby on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Collateral Agent shall distribute such excess, when received, to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of the Holders.

The Company shall not be obligated to issue any shares of Common Stock in respect of the Purchase Contracts or deliver any certificate therefor to the Holder unless it shall have received payment in full of the Purchase Price for the shares of Common Stock to be purchased thereunder.

(c) Pursuant to the Remarketing Agreement, on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the applicable Remarketing Period, but no earlier than 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the fifth Business Day immediately preceding such first Remarketing Date of the applicable Remarketing Period, holders of Separate Debentures may elect to have their Separate Debentures remarketed by delivering the Separate Debentures, together with a notice of such election, substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, to the Custodial Agent. The Custodial Agent will hold the Separate Debentures in an account separate from the Collateral Account. A holder of Separate Debentures electing to have its Separate Debentures remarketed will also have the right to withdraw such election by written notice to the Custodial Agent, substantially in the form of Exhibit D hereto, on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the relevant Remarketing Period, upon which notice the Custodial Agent shall return such Separate Debentures to such holder. After such time, such election to remarket shall become an irrevocable election to have such Separate Debentures remarketed in such Remarketing. Promptly after 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the relevant Remarketing Period, the Custodial Agent shall notify the Remarketing Agents of the aggregate principal amount of the Separate Debentures to be remarketed and shall deliver to the Remarketing Agents for Remarketing all Separate Debentures delivered to the Custodial Agent, and not withdrawn, pursuant to this Section 4.6(c) prior to such date. The portion of the proceeds from such remarketing equal to the aggregate Value of the Separate Debentures will automatically be remitted by the Remarketing Agents to the Custodial Agent for the benefit of the holders of the Separate Debentures.

(d) In addition, after deducting the Remarketing Fee from the Value of the remarketed Separate Debentures, from any amount of such proceeds in excess of the aggregate Value of the remarketed Separate Debentures, the Remarketing Agents will remit to the Custodial Agent the remaining portion of the proceeds, if any, for the benefit of such holders. If the Remarketing Agents advise the Custodial Agent in writing that no remarketing during a Remarketing Period resulted in a Successful Remarketing or, if a condition to the Remarketing shall not have been fulfilled, thus in either case resulting in a Failed Remarketing, the Remarketing Agents will promptly return the Separate Debentures to the Custodial Agent for redelivery to such holders.

ARTICLE V.

VOTING RIGHTS — DEBENTURES

The Purchase Contract Agent may exercise, or refrain from exercising, any and all voting and other consensual rights pertaining to the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or any part thereof for any purpose not inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement and in accordance with the terms of the Purchase Contract Agreement, including Section 4.2 thereof; provided, that the Purchase Contract Agent shall not exercise or, as the case may be, shall not refrain from exercising such right if, in the judgment of the Company evidenced in writing and delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent, such action would impair or otherwise have a material adverse effect on the value of all or any of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures; and provided, further, that the Purchase Contract Agent shall give the Company and the Collateral Agent at least five days' prior written notice of the manner in which it intends to exercise, or its reasons for refraining from exercising, any such right. Upon receipt of any notices and other communications in respect of any Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, including notice of any meeting at which holders of Debentures are entitled to vote or solicitation of consents, waivers or proxies of holders of Debentures, the Collateral Agent shall use reasonable efforts to send promptly to the Purchase Contract Agent such notice or communication, and as soon as reasonably practicable after receipt of a written request therefor from the Purchase Contract Agent, execute and deliver to the Purchase Contract Agent such proxies and other instruments in respect of such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures (in form and substance satisfactory to the Collateral Agent and the Purchase Contract Agent) as are prepared by the Company with respect to the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures.

ARTICLE VI.

RIGHTS AND REMEDIES; SPECIAL EVENT REDEMPTION; MANDATORY REDEMPTION; REMARKETING

SECTION 6.1 Rights and Remedies of the Collateral Agent

(a) In addition to the rights and remedies specified in Section 4.4 hereof or otherwise available at law or in equity, after a default hereunder, the Collateral Agent shall have all of the rights and remedies with respect to the Collateral of a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code (or any successor thereto) as in effect in the State of New York from time to time (the "UCC") (whether or not the UCC is in effect in the jurisdiction where the rights and remedies are asserted) and the TRADES Regulations and such additional rights and remedies to which a secured party is entitled under the laws in effect in any jurisdiction where any rights and remedies hereunder may be asserted. Wherever reference is made in this Agreement to any Section of the UCC, such reference shall be deemed to include a reference to any provision of the UCC which is a successor to, or amendment of, such Section. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such remedies may include, to the extent permitted by applicable law, (i) retention of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or other Collateral in full satisfaction of the Holders' obligations under the Purchase Contracts or (ii) sale of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or other Collateral in one or more public or private sales and application of the Proceeds in full satisfaction of the Holders' obligations under the Purchase Contracts.

(b) Without limiting any rights or powers otherwise granted by this Agreement to the Collateral Agent, in the event the Collateral Agent is unable to make payments to the Company on account of the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clauses (i) or (ii) of the definition of the term "Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio") or on account of principal payments of any Pledged Treasury Securities as provided in Article III hereof in satisfaction of the obligations of the Holder of the Equity Units of which such Pledged Treasury Securities, or the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clause (i) of the definition of the term "Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio"), as applicable, is a part under the related Purchase Contracts, the inability to make such payments shall constitute a default under the related Purchase Contracts and the Collateral Agent shall have and may exercise, with reference to such Pledged Treasury Securities, or such Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio (as specified in clauses (i) or (ii) of the definition of the term "Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio"), as applicable, and such obligations of such Holder, any and all of the rights and remedies available to a secured party under the UCC and the TRADES Regulations after default by a debtor, and as otherwise granted herein or under any other law.

(c) Without limiting any rights or powers otherwise granted by this Agreement to the Collateral Agent, the Collateral Agent is hereby irrevocably authorized to receive and collect all payments of (i) principal of, or interest on, the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, (ii) the principal amount of the Pledged Treasury Securities, or (iii) the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in the Treasury Portfolio, subject, in each case, to the provisions of Article III hereof, and as otherwise provided herein.

(d) The Purchase Contract Agent individually and as attorney-in-fact for each Holder of Equity Units agrees that, from time to time, upon the written request of the Collateral Agent, the Purchase Contract Agent or such Holder, it shall execute and deliver such further documents and do such other acts and things as the Collateral Agent may reasonably request in order to maintain the Pledge, and the perfection and priority thereof, and to confirm the rights of the Collateral Agent hereunder. The Purchase Contract Agent shall have no liability to any Holder for executing any documents or taking any such acts requested by the Collateral Agent hereunder, except for liability for its own negligent act, its own negligent failure to act or its own willful misconduct, as finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

SECTION 6.2 Special Event Redemption; Mandatory Redemption; Remarketing

(a) Upon the occurrence of a Special Event Redemption or a Mandatory Redemption prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Collateral Agent will, upon the written instruction of the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent, deliver the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures to the Indenture Trustee for payment of the Redemption Price. The Collateral Agent shall, or in the event the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures are registered in the name of the Purchase Contract Agent, the Purchase Contract Agent shall, direct the Indenture Trustee to pay the Redemption Price therefor payable on the Special Event Redemption Date or the Mandatory Redemption Date, as the case may be, on or prior to 12:30 p.m., New York City time, by check or wire transfer in immediately available funds at such place and to such account as may be designated by the Collateral Agent. In the event the Collateral Agent receives such Redemption Price, subject to the provisions of Section 4.3 hereof, the Collateral Agent will, at the written direction of the Company, apply an amount equal to the Redemption Amount of such Redemption Price to purchase from the Quotation Agent the Treasury Portfolio and promptly remit the remaining portion of such Redemption Price to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the Holders of Corporate Units. The Collateral Agent shall Transfer the Treasury Portfolio to the Collateral Account to secure the obligation of all Holders of Corporate Units to purchase Common Stock of the Company under the Purchase Contracts constituting a part of such Corporate Units, in substitution for the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures. Thereafter the Collateral Agent shall have such security interests, rights and obligations with respect to the Treasury Portfolio as it had in respect of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, as provided in Article II, Article III, Article IV, Article V and Article VI hereof, and any reference herein to the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures shall be deemed to be a reference to the Treasury Portfolio.

(b) Upon a Successful Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing, the proceeds of such Remarketing with respect to the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures (after deducting the Remarketing Fee, if any) shall be delivered to the Collateral Agent in exchange for the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures. Pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the Collateral Agent will apply an amount equal to the Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price to purchase on behalf of the Holders of Corporate Units the Treasury Portfolio and promptly remit the remaining portion, if any, of such proceeds to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the Holders of such Corporate Units. The Treasury Portfolio will be substituted for the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, and will be held by the Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of this Agreement to secure the obligation of each Holder of a Corporate Unit to purchase the Common Stock on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date under the Purchase Contract constituting a part of such Corporate Unit. Following a Successful Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing, the Holders of Corporate Units and the Collateral Agent shall have such security interests, rights and obligations with respect to the Treasury Portfolio as the Holders of Corporate Units and the Collateral Agent had in respect of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures subject to the Pledge thereof as provided in Article II, Article III, Article IV, Article V and Article VI hereof, and any reference herein to the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures shall be deemed to be reference to the Treasury Portfolio.

SECTION 6.3 Remarketing During the Period for Early Remarketing

The Collateral Agent shall, by 10:00 a.m., New York City time, on the Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the applicable Remarketing Period during the Period for Early Remarketing selected by NEE Capital pursuant to the Officer's Certificate, without any instruction from any Holder of Corporate Units, present the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures to the Remarketing Agents for remarketing. Upon receiving such Debentures, the Remarketing Agents, pursuant to the terms of the Remarketing Agreement, will use their commercially reasonable efforts to remarket such Debentures, on any date selected by NEE Capital during the Remarketing Period during the Period for Early Remarketing, at a price not less than 100% of the Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price plus the Remarketing Fee. The Remarketing Agents may deduct the Remarketing Fee from any amount of Proceeds from such Remarketing in excess of sum of the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price plus the Separate Debentures Purchase Price. After deducting the Remarketing Fee, if any, the Remarketing Agents will remit the entire amount of the Proceeds of such remarketing to the Collateral Agent on or prior to 12:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Reset Effective Date. In the event the Collateral Agent receives such Proceeds with respect to the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures, the Collateral Agent will, at the written direction of the Company, apply an amount equal to the Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price to purchase from the Quotation Agent the Treasury Portfolio and remit the remaining portion of such Proceeds, if any, to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the Holders of Corporate Units. The Collateral Agent shall Transfer the Treasury Portfolio to the Collateral Account to secure the obligation of all Holders of Corporate Units to purchase Common Stock of the Company under the Purchase Contracts constituting a part of such Corporate Units, in substitution for the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures. Thereafter the Collateral Agent shall have such security interests, rights and obligations with respect to the Treasury Portfolio as it had in respect of the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures as provided in Article II, Article III, Article IV, Article V and Article VI hereof, and any reference herein to the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures shall be deemed to be a reference to such Treasury Portfolio, and any reference herein to interest on the Debentures underlying the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures shall be deemed to be a reference to distributions on such Treasury Portfolio.

SECTION 6.4 Substitutions

Whenever a Holder has the right to substitute Treasury Securities, Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio, as the case may be, for Collateral held by the Collateral Agent, such substitution shall not constitute a novation of the security interest created hereby.

ARTICLE VII.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES; COVENANTS

SECTION 7.1 Representations and Warranties

The Holders from time to time, acting through the Purchase Contract Agent as their attorney-in-fact (it being understood that the Purchase Contract Agent shall not be liable for any representation or warranty made by or on behalf of a Holder), hereby represent and warrant to the Collateral Agent, which representations and warranties shall be deemed repeated on each day a Holder Transfers Collateral that:

(a) such Holder has the power to grant a security interest in and lien on the Collateral;

(b) such Holder is the sole beneficial owner of the Collateral and, in the case of Collateral delivered in physical form, is the sole holder of such Collateral and is the sole beneficial owner of, or has the right to Transfer, the Collateral it Transfers to the Collateral Agent, free and clear of any security interest, lien, encumbrance, call, liability to pay money or other restriction other than the security interest and lien granted under Article II hereof;

(c) upon the Transfer of the Collateral to the Collateral Account or physical delivery of the Debentures to the Collateral Agent, the Collateral Agent, for the benefit of the Company, will have a valid and perfected first priority security interest therein (assuming that any central clearing operation or any Securities Intermediary or other entity not within the control of the Holder involved in the Transfer of the Collateral, including the Collateral Agent, gives the notices and takes the action required of it hereunder and under applicable law for perfection of that interest and assuming the establishment and exercise of control pursuant to Section 2.2 hereof); and

(d) the execution and performance by the Holder of its obligations under this Agreement will not result in the creation of any security interest, lien or other encumbrance on the Collateral other than the security interest and lien granted under Article II hereof or violate any provision of any existing law or regulation applicable to it or of any mortgage, charge, pledge, indenture, contract or undertaking to which it is a party or which is binding on it or any of its assets.

SECTION 7.2 Covenants

The Holders from time to time, acting through the Purchase Contract Agent as their attorney-in-fact (it being understood that the Purchase Contract Agent shall not be liable for any covenant made by or on behalf of a Holder), hereby covenant to the Collateral Agent that for so long as the Collateral remains subject to the Pledge:

(a) neither the Purchase Contract Agent nor such Holders will create or purport to create or allow to subsist any mortgage, charge, lien, pledge or any other security interest whatsoever over the Collateral or any part of it other than pursuant to this Agreement; and

(b) neither the Purchase Contract Agent nor such Holders will sell or otherwise dispose (or attempt to dispose) of the Collateral or any part of it except for the beneficial interest therein, subject to the Pledge hereunder, transferred in connection with the Transfer of the Equity Units.

ARTICLE VIII.

THE COLLATERAL AGENT

It is hereby agreed as follows:

SECTION 8.1 Appointment, Powers and Immunities

The Collateral Agent shall act as agent for the Company hereunder with such powers as are specifically vested in the Collateral Agent by the terms of this Agreement, together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Each of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary: (a) shall have no duties or responsibilities except those expressly set forth or incorporated by reference in this Agreement and no implied covenants or obligations shall be inferred from this Agreement against any of them, nor shall any of them be bound by the provisions of any agreement by any party hereto beyond the specific or incorporated terms hereof; (b) shall not be responsible for any recitals contained in this Agreement, or in any certificate or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by it under, this Agreement, the Equity Units or the Purchase Contract Agreement (except as specifically incorporated by reference herein), or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Agreement (other than as against the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary), the Equity Units or the Purchase Contract Agreement or any other document referred to or provided for herein (except as specifically incorporated by reference herein) or therein or for any failure by the Company or any other Person (except the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be) to perform any of its obligations hereunder or thereunder or for the perfection, priority or, except as expressly required hereby, maintenance of any security interest created hereunder; (c) shall not be required to initiate or conduct any litigation or collection proceedings hereunder (except in the case of the Collateral Agent, pursuant to directions furnished under Section 8.2 hereof, subject to Section 8.6 hereof); (d) shall not be responsible for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it hereunder or under any other document or instrument referred to or provided for herein or in connection herewith or therewith, except for its own negligence or willful misconduct; and (e) shall not be required to advise any party as to selling or retaining, or taking or refraining from taking any action with respect to, the Equity Units or other property deposited hereunder in accordance with the terms hereof. Subject to the foregoing, during the term of this Agreement, the Collateral Agent shall take all reasonable action in connection with the safekeeping and preservation of the Collateral hereunder.

No provision of this Agreement shall require the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties hereunder. In no event shall the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary be liable for any amount in excess of the Value of the Collateral. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary, each in its individual capacity, hereby waive any right of setoff, banker's lien, liens or perfection rights as Securities Intermediary or any counterclaim with respect to any of the Collateral.

SECTION 8.2 Instructions of the Company

The Company shall have the right, by one or more instruments in writing executed and delivered to the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be, to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for the realization of any right or remedy available to the Collateral Agent, or of exercising any power conferred on the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be, or to direct the taking or refraining from taking of any action authorized by this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) such direction shall not conflict with the provisions of any law or of this Agreement and (ii) the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary shall be adequately indemnified as provided herein. Nothing in this Section 8.2 shall impair the right of the Collateral Agent in its discretion to take any action or omit to take any action which it deems proper and which is not inconsistent with such direction. The Company shall promptly confirm in writing any oral instructions furnished to the Collateral Agent by the Company.

SECTION 8.3 Reliance

Each of the Securities Intermediary, the Custodial Agent and the Collateral Agent shall be entitled conclusively to rely upon any certification, order, judgment, opinion, notice or other communication (including, without limitation, any thereof by telephone, telecopy, facsimile or electronic mail) believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed or sent by or on behalf of the proper Person or Persons (without being required to determine the correctness of any fact stated therein), and upon advice and statements of legal counsel and other experts selected by the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be. As to any matters not expressly provided for by this Agreement, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary shall in all cases be fully protected in acting, or in refraining from acting, hereunder in accordance with instructions given by the Company in accordance with this Agreement.

SECTION 8.4 Rights in Other Capacities

The Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary and their affiliates may (without having to account therefor to the Company) accept deposits from, lend money to, make their investments in and generally engage in any kind of banking, trust or other business with the Purchase Contract Agent and any Holder of Equity Units (and any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates) as if it were not acting as the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be, and the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary and their affiliates may accept fees and other consideration from the Purchase Contract Agent and any Holder of Equity Units without having to account for the same to the Company; provided, that each of the Securities Intermediary, the Custodial Agent and the Collateral Agent covenants and agrees with the Company that it shall not accept, receive or permit there to be created in favor of itself and shall take no affirmative action to permit there to be created in favor of any other Person, any security interest, lien or other encumbrance of any kind in or upon the Collateral.

SECTION 8.5 Non-Reliance

None of the Securities Intermediary, the Custodial Agent or the Collateral Agent shall be required to keep itself informed as to the performance or observance by the Purchase Contract Agent or any Holder of Equity Units of this Agreement, the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Equity Units or any other document referred to or provided for herein or therein or to inspect the properties or books of the Purchase Contract Agent or any Holder of Equity Units. The Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary shall not have any duty or responsibility to provide the Company with any credit or other information concerning the affairs, financial condition or business of the Purchase Contract Agent or any Holder of Equity Units (or any of their respective affiliates) that may come into the possession of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary or any of their respective affiliates.

SECTION 8.6 Compensation and Indemnity

The Company agrees:

(a) to pay each of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary from time to time such compensation as shall be agreed in writing (from time to time) between the Company and the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, as the case may be, for all services rendered by each of them hereunder; and

(b) to indemnify the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary and each of their respective directors, officers, agents and employees for, and to hold each of them harmless from and against, any loss, all claims (whether asserted by the Company, a Holder or any other Person) and liabilities and reasonable out-of-pocket expense incurred without negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of its powers and duties under this Agreement, including the reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable fees and expenses of counsel) of defending itself against any claim or liability in connection with the exercise or performance of such powers and duties.

The Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary shall each promptly notify the Company of any third party claim which may give rise to indemnity hereunder and give the Company the opportunity to participate in the defense of such claim with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the indemnified party, and no such claim shall be settled without the written consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

Without prejudice to its rights hereunder, when any of the Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent or Securities Intermediary incurs expenses after a Termination Event occurs, or renders services after a Termination Event occurs, such expenses and compensation are intended to constitute expenses of administration under the Bankruptcy Code or any applicable state bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law.

SECTION 8.7 Failure to Act

In the event of any ambiguity in the provisions of this Agreement or any dispute between or conflicting claims by or among the parties hereto or any other Person with respect to any funds or property deposited hereunder, the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent shall be entitled, after prompt notice to the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent, at its sole option, to refuse to comply with any and all claims, demands or instructions with respect to such property or funds so long as such dispute or conflict shall continue, and neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodial Agent shall be or become liable in any way to any of the parties hereto for its failure or refusal to comply with such conflicting claims, demands or instructions. The Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent shall be entitled to refuse to act until either (i) such conflicting or adverse claims or demands shall have been finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction or settled by agreement between the conflicting parties as evidenced in a writing, satisfactory to the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, or (ii) the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, shall have received security or an indemnity satisfactory to the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, sufficient to save the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, harmless from and against any and all loss, liability or reasonable out-of-pocket expense which the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, may without negligence, willful misconduct, or bad faith on its part incur by reason of its acting. The Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent may in addition elect to commence an interpleader action or seek other judicial relief or orders as the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent, as the case may be, may deem necessary. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, neither the Collateral Agent nor the Custodial Agent shall be required to take any action that is in its opinion contrary to law or to the terms of this Agreement, or which would in its opinion subject it or any of its officers, employees or directors to liability.

SECTION 8.8 Resignation of Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent

Subject to the appointment and acceptance of a successor Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent as provided below, (a) the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent may resign at any time by giving notice thereof to the Company and the Purchase Contract Agent as attorney-in-fact for the Holders of Equity Units, (b) the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent may be removed at any time by the Company and (c) if the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent fails to perform any of its material obligations hereunder in any material respect for a period of not less than 20 days after receiving written notice of such failure by the Purchase Contract Agent and such failure shall be continuing, the Collateral Agent or the Custodial Agent may be removed by the Purchase Contract Agent. The Purchase Contract Agent shall promptly notify the Company of any removal of the Collateral Agent pursuant to clause (c) of the immediately preceding sentence. Upon any such resignation or removal, the Company shall have the right to appoint a successor Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be. If no successor Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be, shall have been so appointed and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days after the retiring Collateral Agent's or Custodial Agent's giving of notice of resignation or such removal, then the retiring Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent at the expense of the Company (other than in connection with a removal for cause pursuant to either clause (b) or (c) of the first sentence of this Section 8.8), as the case may be, may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be. Each of the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent shall be a bank which has an office in New York, New York with a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000. Upon the acceptance of any appointment as Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be, hereunder by a successor Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be, such successor shall thereupon succeed to and become vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be, and the retiring Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, as the case may be, shall take all appropriate action to transfer any money and property held by it hereunder (including the Collateral) to such successor. The retiring Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent shall, upon such succession, be discharged from its duties and obligations as Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent hereunder. After any retiring Collateral Agent's or Custodial Agent's resignation hereunder as Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent, the provisions of this Article VIII shall continue in effect for its benefit in respect of any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was acting as the Collateral Agent or Custodial Agent. Any resignation or removal of the Collateral Agent hereunder shall be deemed for all purposes of this Agreement as the simultaneous resignation or removal of the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary.

SECTION 8.9 Right to Appoint Agent or Advisor

The Collateral Agent shall have the right to appoint agents or advisors in connection with any of its duties hereunder, and the Collateral Agent shall not be liable for any action taken or omitted by, or in reliance upon the advice of, such agents or advisors selected in good faith. The appointment of agents or advisors pursuant to this Section 8.9 shall be subject to prior consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

SECTION 8.10 Survival

The provisions of this Article VIII and Section 10.7 hereof shall survive termination of this Agreement and the resignation or removal of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary.

SECTION 8.11 Exculpation

Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in no event shall any of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary or their officers, employees or agents be liable under this Agreement to any party for indirect, special, punitive, or consequential loss or damage of any kind whatsoever, including lost profits, whether or not the likelihood of such loss or damage was known to the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary, or any of them, incurred without any act or deed that is found to be attributable to gross negligence or willful misconduct on the part of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent or the Securities Intermediary.

ARTICLE IX.

AMENDMENT

SECTION 9.1 Amendment Without Consent of Holders

Without the consent of any Holders, the Company, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent, the Securities Intermediary and the Purchase Contract Agent, at any time and from time to time, may amend this Agreement, in form satisfactory to the Company, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent, the Securities Intermediary and the Purchase Contract Agent, for any of the following purposes:

(a) to evidence the succession of another Person to the Company, and the assumption by any such successor of the covenants of the Company;

(b) to add to the covenants of the Company for the benefit of the Holders or to surrender any right or power herein conferred upon the Company so long as such covenants or such surrender do not adversely affect the validity, perfection or priority of the security interests granted or created hereunder;

(c) to evidence and provide for the acceptance of appointment hereunder by a successor Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent, Securities Intermediary or Purchase Contract Agent; or

(d) to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provisions herein which may be inconsistent with any other provisions herein, or to make any other provisions with respect to such matters or questions arising under this Agreement, provided such action shall not adversely affect the interests of the Holders in any material respect, provided, further, that any amendment made solely to conform the provisions of this Agreement to the description of the Equity Units, the Purchase Contracts and the other components of the Equity Units contained in the prospectus supplement, dated June 18, 2024, and the accompanying prospectus dated March 22, 2024, relating to the Equity Units will not be deemed to adversely affect the interests of the Holders.

SECTION 9.2 Amendment With Consent of Holders

With the consent of the Holders of not less than a majority of the outstanding Purchase Contracts voting together as one class, by Act of said Holders delivered to the Company, the Purchase Contract Agent or the Collateral Agent, as the case may be, the Company, the Purchase Contract Agent, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary may amend this Agreement for the purpose of modifying in any manner the provisions of this Agreement or the rights of the Holders in respect of the Equity Units; provided, however, that no such supplemental agreement shall, without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Equity Unit adversely affected thereby,

(a) change the amount or the type of Collateral required to be Pledged to secure a Holder's Obligations under the Purchase Contracts (except for the rights of Holders of Corporate Units to substitute the Treasury Securities for the Pledged Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio or the rights of Holders of Treasury Units to substitute Debentures or the Applicable Ownership Interest in the Treasury Portfolio for the Pledged Treasury Securities);

(b) unless such change is not adverse to the Holders, impair the right of the Holder of any Equity Unit to receive distributions on the related Collateral or otherwise adversely affect the Holder's rights in or to such Collateral;

(c) otherwise effect any action that would require the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Equity Unit affected thereby pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement if such action were effected by an agreement supplemental thereto; or provided, that if any such supplemental amendment referred to above would adversely affect only the Corporate Units or the Treasury Units, then only Holders of the affected class of Equity Units as of the record date for the Holders entitled to vote thereon will be entitled to vote on or consent to such amendment or proposal, and such amendment or proposal shall not be effective except with the consent of Holders of not less than a majority of such class.

(d) reduce the percentage of the outstanding Purchase Contracts the consent of whose Holders is required for any such amendment;

It shall not be necessary for any Act of Holders under this Section 9.2 to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment, but it shall be sufficient if such Act shall approve the substance thereof.

SECTION 9.3 Execution of Amendments

In executing any amendment permitted by this Article IX, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent, the Securities Intermediary and the Purchase Contract Agent shall be entitled to receive and (subject to Section 6.1 hereof, with respect to the Collateral Agent, and Section 7.1 of the Purchase Contract Agreement, with respect to the Purchase Contract Agent) shall be fully protected in relying upon, an Opinion of Counsel stating that the execution of such amendment is authorized or permitted by this Agreement and that all conditions precedent, if any, to the execution and delivery of such amendment have been satisfied.

SECTION 9.4 Effect of Amendments

Upon the execution of any amendment under this Article IX, this Agreement shall be modified in accordance therewith, and such amendment shall form a part of this Agreement for all purposes; and every Holder of Equity Units theretofore or thereafter authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered under the Purchase Contract Agreement shall be bound thereby.

SECTION 9.5 Reference to Amendments

Certificates authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered after the execution of any amendment pursuant to this Article IX may, and shall if required by the Collateral Agent or the Purchase Contract Agent, bear a notation in form approved by the Purchase Contract Agent and the Collateral Agent as to any matter provided for in such amendment. If the Company shall so determine, Certificates so modified as to conform, in the opinion of the Collateral Agent, the Purchase Contract Agent and the Company, to any such amendment may be prepared and executed by the Company and authenticated, executed on behalf of the Holders and delivered by the Purchase Contract Agent in accordance with the Purchase Contract Agreement in exchange for outstanding Certificates.

ARTICLE X.
MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 10.1 No Waiver

No failure on the part of the Collateral Agent or any of its agents to exercise, and no course of dealing with respect to, and no delay in exercising, any right, power or remedy hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof; nor shall any single or partial exercise by the Collateral Agent or any of its agents of any right, power or remedy hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or remedy. The remedies herein are cumulative and are not exclusive of any remedies provided by law.

SECTION 10.2 Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial

THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICT OF LAWS PRINCIPLES THEREUNDER, EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT THAT THE LAWS OF ANY OTHER JURISDICTION SHALL BE MANDATORILY APPLICABLE. Without limiting the foregoing, the above choice of law is expressly agreed to by the Company, the Securities Intermediary, the Custodial Agent, the Collateral Agent and the Holders from time to time acting through the Purchase Contract Agent, as their attorney-in-fact, in connection with the establishment and maintenance of the Collateral Account. The Company, the Collateral Agent and the Holders from time to time of the Equity Units, acting through the Purchase Contract Agent as their attorney-in-fact, hereby submit to the nonexclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York state court sitting in New York City for the purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby. The Company, the Collateral Agent and the Holders from time to time of the Equity Units, acting through the Purchase Contract Agent as their attorney-in-fact, irrevocably waive, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any objection which they may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceeding brought in such a court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

EACH OF THE COMPANY, THE COLLATERAL AGENT, THE PURCHASE CONTRACT AGENT AND THE HOLDERS FROM TIME TO TIME OF THE EQUITY UNITS, ACTING THROUGH THE PURCHASE CONTRACT AGENT AS THEIR ATTORNEY-IN-FACT, HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE EQUITY UNITS OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY.

SECTION 10.3 Notices

All notices, requests, consents and other communications provided for herein (including, without limitation, any modifications of, or waivers or consents under, this Agreement) shall be given or made in writing (including, without limitation, by electronic mail) delivered to the intended recipient at the "Address for Notices" specified below its name on the signature pages hereof (or in the case of Holders, may be made and deemed given as provided in Sections 1.5 and 1.6 of the Purchase Contract Agreement) or, as to any party, at such other address as shall be designated by such party in a notice to the other parties. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, all such communications shall be deemed to have been duly given or made when transmitted by electronic means or personally delivered or, in the case of a mailed notice, upon receipt, in each case given or addressed as aforesaid (except as aforesaid).

When the Collateral Agent acts on any directions or instructions pursuant to this Agreement sent by electronic transmission, the Collateral Agent will not be responsible or liable for any losses, costs or expenses arising directly or indirectly from its reliance upon and compliance with such directions or instructions, notwithstanding that such directions or instructions (a) may not be an authorized or authentic communication of the party involved or in the form such party sent or intended to send (whether due to fraud, distortion or otherwise, except in the case of gross negligence or willful misconduct) or (b) may conflict with, or be inconsistent with, a subsequent written instruction or communication after the Collateral Agent has acted in compliance with prior directions or instructions; it being understood and agreed that the Collateral Agent shall conclusively presume that such directions or instructions that purport to have been sent by or on behalf of an authorized officer of a Person have been sent by or on behalf of an authorized officer of such Person in the absence of bad faith on the part of the Collateral Agent. With respect to any directions or instructions provided hereunder by the Purchase Contract Agent or the Company or any other Person to the Collateral Agent through electronic transmission or otherwise with electronic signatures, the Company agrees to assume all risks arising out of such electronic methods, including, without limitation, the risk of the Collateral Agent acting on unauthorized instructions, except in the case of gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Collateral Agent or the Purchase Contract Agent, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties. For the avoidance of doubt, the Purchase Contract Agent shall have no liability hereunder in connection with any directions or instructions sent by it by electronic transmission, except in the case of the Purchase Contract Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct.

SECTION 10.4 Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of the Company, the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent, the Securities Intermediary and the Purchase Contract Agent, and the Holders from time to time of the Equity Units, by their acceptance of the same, shall be deemed to have agreed to be bound by the provisions hereof and to have ratified the agreements of, and the grant of the Pledge hereunder by, the Purchase Contract Agent.

SECTION 10.5 Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts by the parties hereto on separate counterparts, each of which, when so executed and delivered, shall be deemed an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. Facsimile, documents executed, scanned and transmitted electronically and electronic signatures, including those created or transmitted through a software platform or application, shall be deemed original signatures for purposes of this Agreement. This Agreement, if executed as described in the preceding sentence, will be binding on all parties hereto to the same extent as if it were physically executed and each party hereby consents to the use of any third party electronic signature capture service providers as may be reasonably chosen by a signatory hereto or thereto.

SECTION 10.6 Separability

If any provision hereof is invalid and unenforceable in any jurisdiction, then, to the fullest extent permitted by law, (a) the other provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect in such jurisdiction and shall be liberally construed in order to carry out the intentions of the parties hereto as nearly as may be possible and (b) the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof in any jurisdiction shall not affect the validity or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

SECTION 10.7 Expenses, etc.

The Company agrees to reimburse the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary for: (a) all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary (including, without limitation, the reasonable fees and expenses of the necessary services of a Securities Intermediary and of counsel to the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent), in connection with (i) the negotiation, preparation, execution and delivery or performance of this Agreement and (ii) any modification, supplement or waiver of any of the terms of this Agreement, (b) all reasonable costs and expenses of the Collateral Agent (including, without limitation, reasonable fees and expenses of counsel) in connection with (i) any enforcement or proceedings resulting or incurred in connection with causing any Holder of Equity Units to satisfy its obligations under the Purchase Contracts forming a part of the Equity Units and (ii) the enforcement of this Section 10.7; and (c) all transfer, stamp, documentary or other similar taxes, assessments or charges levied by any governmental or revenue authority in respect of this Agreement or any other document referred to herein and all costs, expenses, taxes, assessments and other charges incurred in connection with any filing, registration, recording or perfection of any security interest contemplated hereby.

SECTION 10.8 Security Interest Absolute

All rights of the Collateral Agent and security interests hereunder, and all obligations of the Holders from time to time hereunder, shall be absolute and unconditional irrespective of:

(a) any lack of validity or enforceability of any provision of the Purchase Contracts or the Equity Units or any other agreement or instrument relating thereto;

(b) any change in the time, manner or place of payment of, or any other term of, or any increase in the amount of, all or any of the obligations of Holders of Equity Units under the related Purchase Contracts, or any other amendment or waiver of any term of, or any consent to any departure from any requirement of, the Purchase Contract Agreement or any Purchase Contract or any other agreement or instrument relating thereto; or

(c) any other circumstance which might otherwise constitute a defense available to, or discharge of, a borrower, a guarantor or a pledgor.

SECTION 10.9 USA Patriot Act

In order to comply with the laws, rules, regulations and executive orders in effect from time to time applicable to banking institutions, including, without limitation, those relating to the funding of terrorist activities and money laundering, including Section 326 of the USA PATRIOT Act of the United States ("Applicable Law"), the Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary are required to obtain, verify, record and update certain information relating to individuals and entities which maintain a business relationship with the Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary. Accordingly, each of the parties hereto agree to provide to the Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary, upon their written request from time to time, such identifying information and documentation as may be available to such party in order to enable the Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary to comply with Applicable Law.

SECTION 10.10 Force Majeure

The Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary shall not incur any liability for not performing any act or fulfilling any duty, obligation or responsibility hereunder by reason of any occurrence beyond the reasonable control of the Collateral Agent, the Custodial Agent and the Securities Intermediary (including but not limited to any act or provision of any present or future law or regulation or governmental authority, any act of God or war, civil unrest, local or national disturbance or disaster, any act of terrorism, or the unavailability of the Federal Reserve Bank wire or facsimile or other wire or communication facility).

SECTION 10.11 Provisions Incorporated by Reference to the Purchase Contract Agreement

The rights, benefits, protections, immunities and indemnities that are applicable to the Purchase Contract Agent under the Purchase Contract Agreement, including without limitation, Article VII thereof, are, to the extent there are no provisions herein that address such rights, benefits, protections, immunities and indemnities, hereby incorporated for the benefit of the Purchase Contract Agent under this Pledge Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC.
NEXTERA ENERGY, INC.

OFFICER'S CERTIFICATE

Creating the Series R Junior Subordinated Debentures due June 15, 2054

Jose Briceno, Assistant Treasurer of NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. (the "Company"), and Jose Briceno, Assistant Treasurer of NextEra Energy, Inc. (the "Guarantor"), pursuant to the authority granted in the accompanying Board Resolutions (all capitalized terms used herein which are not defined herein or in Exhibit A hereto, but which are defined in the Indenture referred to below, shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture), and pursuant to Sections 201 and 301 of the Indenture, do hereby certify to The Bank of New York Mellon (the "Trustee"), as Trustee under the Indenture (For Unsecured Subordinated Debt Securities) dated as of September 1, 2006 among the Company, the Guarantor and the Trustee, as amended (the "Indenture"), that:

1. The securities to be issued under the Indenture in accordance with this certificate shall be designated "Series R Junior Subordinated Debentures due June 15, 2054" (referred to herein as the "Debentures of the Eighteenth Series") and shall be issued in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

2. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall be issued by the Company in the initial aggregate principal amount of $1,200,000,000. Additional Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, without limitation as to amount, having the same terms as the Outstanding Debentures of the Eighteenth Series (except for the issue date of the additional Debentures of the Eighteenth Series and, if applicable, the initial Interest Payment Date (as defined in Exhibit A hereto)) may also be issued by the Company pursuant to the Indenture without the consent of the Holders of the then-Outstanding Debentures of the Eighteenth Series. Any such additional Debentures of the Eighteenth Series as may be issued pursuant to the Indenture from time to time shall be part of the same series as the then-Outstanding Debentures of the Eighteenth Series.

3. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall mature and the principal shall be due and payable, together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the Stated Maturity Date. The "Stated Maturity Date" means June 15, 2054.

4. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall bear interest as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

5. Each installment of interest on a Debenture of the Eighteenth Series shall be payable as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

6. Registration of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, and registration of transfers and exchanges in respect of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, may be effectuated at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York. Notices and demands to or upon the Company in respect of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series may be served at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York. The Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee will initially be the agency of the Company for such payment, registration, registration of transfers and exchanges and service of notices and demands, and the Company hereby appoints the Trustee as its agent for all such purposes; provided, however, that the Company reserves the right to change, by one or more Officer's Certificates, any such office or agency and such agent. The Trustee will initially be the Security Registrar and the Paying Agent for the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series.

7. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series will be redeemable at the option of the Company prior to the Stated Maturity Date as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto. If less than all the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series are to be redeemed, the particular Debentures of the Eighteenth Series to be redeemed shall be selected by the Trustee from the Outstanding Debentures of the Eighteenth Series by lot.

8. So long as all of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series are held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date for the interest payable on any given Interest Payment Date with respect to the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall be the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date; provided, however, that if any of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series are not held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date will be the close of business on the fifteenth (15th) calendar day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date.

9. So long as any Debentures of the Eighteenth Series are Outstanding, the failure of the Company to pay interest, including Additional Interest (as defined in the form of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series set forth as Exhibit A hereto), if any, on any Debentures of the Eighteenth Series within thirty (30) days after the same becomes due and payable (whether or not payment is prohibited by the subordination provisions of Article Fourteen and Article Fifteen of the Indenture) shall constitute an Event of Default; provided, however, that a valid deferral of the interest payments by the Company as contemplated in Section 312 of the Indenture and paragraph 10 of this certificate shall not constitute a failure to pay interest for this purpose.

10. Pursuant to Section 312 of the Indenture, so long as no Event of Default under the Indenture has occurred and is continuing with respect to the Securities of any series, the Company shall have the right, at any time and from time to time during the term of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, to defer the payment of interest for a period not exceeding ten (10) consecutive years, as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

11. If the Company shall make any deposit of money and/or Eligible Obligations with respect to any Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, or any portion of the principal amount thereof, as contemplated by Section 701 of the Indenture, the Company shall not deliver an Officer's Certificate described in clause (z) in the first paragraph of said Section 701 unless the Company shall also deliver to the Trustee, together with such Officer's Certificate, either:

(A) an instrument wherein the Company, notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of its indebtedness in respect of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, shall assume the obligation (which shall be absolute and unconditional) to irrevocably deposit with the Trustee or Paying Agent such additional sums of money, if any, or additional Eligible Obligations (meeting the requirements of said Section 701), if any, or any combination thereof, at such time or times, as shall be necessary, together with the money and/or Eligible Obligations theretofore so deposited, to pay when due the principal of and premium, if any, and interest due and to become due on such Debentures of the Eighteenth Series or portions thereof, all in accordance with and subject to the provisions of said Section 701; provided, however, that such instrument may state that the obligation of the Company to make additional deposits as aforesaid shall be subject to the delivery to the Company by the Trustee of a notice asserting the deficiency and setting forth the amount thereof; or

(B) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that, as a result of (i) the receipt by the Company from, or the publication by, the Internal Revenue Service of a ruling or (ii) a change in law occurring after the date of this certificate, the Holders of such Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, or the applicable portion of the principal amount thereof, will not recognize income, gain or loss for United States federal income tax purposes as a result of the satisfaction and discharge of the Company's indebtedness in respect thereof and will be subject to United States federal income tax on the same amounts, at the same times and in the same manner as if such satisfaction and discharge had not been effectuated.

12. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series will be initially issued in global form registered in the name of Cede & Co. (as nominee of The Depository Trust Company). The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series in global form shall bear the depository legend in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series in global form will contain restrictions on transfer, substantially as described in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

13. No service charge shall be made for the registration of transfer or exchange of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series; provided, however, that the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with such transfer or exchange.

14. The Company reserves the right to require legends on Debentures of the Eighteenth Series as it may determine are necessary to ensure compliance with the securities laws of the United States and the states therein and any other applicable laws.

15. The Company has previously reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, or of any other series of Securities issued after October 1, 2006, to amend the Indenture as follows:

To amend clause (6) of the second paragraph of Section 608 of the Indenture to read as follows:

"(6) payments under any preferred trust securities, subordinated debentures or junior subordinated debentures, or any guarantee thereof, executed and delivered by the Guarantor, the Company or any of their majority-owned subsidiaries, in each case that rank equal in right of payment to the series of Securities with respect to which the Company has elected to defer the payment of interest, or the related guarantee (as the case may be), so long as the amount of payments made on account of such securities or guarantees is paid on all such securities and guarantees then outstanding on a pro rata basis in proportion to the full payment to which each series of such securities and guarantees is then entitled if paid in full;".

16. The Company has previously reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, or of any other series of Securities issued after October 1, 2006, to amend this Officer's Certificate as follows:

To amend clause (f) on page A-13 of the form of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series set forth as Exhibit A hereto to read as follows:

"(f) payments under any preferred trust securities, subordinated debentures or junior subordinated debentures, or any guarantee thereof, executed and delivered by the Guarantor, the Company or any of their majority-owned subsidiaries, in each case that rank equal in right of payment to the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series or the related guarantee (as the case may be), so long as the amount of payments made on account of such securities or guarantees is paid on all such securities and guarantees then outstanding on a pro rata basis in proportion to the full payment to which each series of such securities and guarantees is then entitled if paid in full;".

17. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 802 of the Indenture, the principal of and accrued interest on the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall not be declared immediately due and payable by reason of the occurrence and continuation of an Event of Default specified in Section 801(c) of the Indenture applicable to the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, and any notice of declaration of acceleration based on such Event of Default shall be null and void with respect to the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series will not be considered Outstanding for the purpose of determining whether the required vote described in Section 802 of the Indenture has been obtained for the declaration of acceleration by reason of the occurrence and continuation of an Event of Default specified in Section 801(c) of the Indenture applicable to the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series.

18. Each of the Company and the Guarantor agrees, and, by acceptance of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, each Holder will be deemed to have agreed, to treat the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series as indebtedness for United States federal, state and local tax purposes.

19. The Company has previously reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series, or of any other series of Securities issued after December 1, 2021, to amend the Indenture as follows:

To amend the second sentence of Section 402 thereof to read as follows:

"The Company shall, at least 20 days prior to the Redemption Date fixed by the Company (unless a shorter notice shall be satisfactory to the Trustee), notify the Trustee, in writing of such Redemption Date and of the principal amount of such Securities to be redeemed."

To amend the first sentence of Section 404 thereof to read as follows:

"Except as otherwise specified as contemplated by Section 301 for Securities of any series, notice of redemption shall be given in the manner provided in Section 106 to the Holders of the Securities to be redeemed not less than 10 nor more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date."

20. The Debentures of the Eighteenth Series shall have such other terms and provisions as are provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

21. The undersigned has read all of the covenants and conditions contained in the Indenture relating to the issuance of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series and the definitions in the Indenture relating thereto and in respect of which this certificate is made.

22. The statements contained in this certificate are based upon the familiarity of the undersigned with the Indenture, the documents accompanying this certificate, and upon discussions by the undersigned with officers and employees of the Company familiar with the matters set forth herein.

23. In the opinion of the undersigned, he or she has made such examination or investigation as is necessary to enable him or her to express an informed opinion as to whether or not such covenants and conditions have been complied with.

24. In the opinion of the undersigned, such conditions and covenants and conditions precedent, if any (including any covenants compliance with which constitutes a condition precedent), to the authentication and delivery of the Debentures of the Eighteenth Series requested in the accompanying Company Order No. 18 and Guarantor Order No. 18, have been complied with.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have executed this Officer's Certificate on behalf of the Company this 7th day of June, 2024 in Houston, Texas.

[FORM OF FACE OF JUNIOR SUBORDINATED DEBENTURE]

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC.

SERIES R JUNIOR SUBORDINATED DEBENTURES DUE JUNE 15, 2054

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC., a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Florida (herein referred to as the "Company", which term includes any successor Person under the Indenture (as defined below)), for value received, hereby promises to pay to

, or registered assigns, the principal sum of _____ Dollars on June 15, 2054 (the "Stated Maturity Date"). The Company further promises (subject to deferral as set forth herein) to pay interest on the principal sum of this Series R Junior Subordinated Debenture due June 15, 2054 (this "Security") to the registered Holder hereof (i) from and including June 7, 2024 to but excluding June 15, 2034 (the "First Interest Reset Date"), at the rate of 6.75% per annum and (ii) from and including the First Interest Reset Date during each Interest Reset Period (as defined below), at the rate per annum equal to the Five-Year Treasury Rate (as defined below) as of the most recent Reset Interest Determination Date (as defined below) plus 2.457%, in like coin or currency, semi-annually in arrears on June 15 and December 15 of each year (each an "Interest Payment Date") until the principal hereof is paid or duly provided for, such interest payments to commence on December 15, 2024. Interest on the Securities of this series will accrue from and including June 7, 2024 to but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and thereafter will accrue from and including the last Interest Payment Date to which interest has either been paid or duly provided for to but excluding the next Interest Payment Date (each an "Interest Period") (except that (i) the interest payment which is due on December 15, 2024 shall include interest that has accrued from June 7, 2024, and (ii) if this Security is authenticated during the period that (A) follows any particular Regular Record Date (as defined below) but (B) precedes the next occurring Interest Payment Date, then the registered Holder hereof shall not be entitled to receive any interest payment with respect to this Security on such next occurring Interest Payment Date). The Company also promises to pay Additional Interest

(as defined below) with respect to an Optional Deferral Period (as defined below) to the registered Holder of this Security, to the extent payment of such Additional Interest is enforceable under applicable law, on any interest payment that is not made on the applicable Interest Payment Date, as specified on the reverse of this Security. No interest will accrue on the Securities of this series with respect to the day on which the Securities of this series mature. The interest so payable, and punctually paid or duly provided for, on an Interest Payment Date will, as provided in the Indenture referred to on the reverse of this Security (the "Indenture"), be payable to the Person in whose name this Security (or one or more Predecessor Securities) is registered at the close of business on the "Regular Record Date" for such interest installment which shall be the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date so long as all of the Securities of this series are held by a securities depository in book-entry form; provided that if any of the Securities of this series are not held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date will be the close of business on the fifteenth (15th) calendar day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date; and provided further that interest payable on the Stated Maturity Date or a Redemption Date will be paid to the same Person to whom the associated principal is to be paid. Any such interest not punctually paid or duly provided for will forthwith cease to be payable to the Person who is the Holder of this Security on such Regular Record Date and may be paid to the Person in whose name this Security (or one or more Predecessor Securities) is registered at the close of business on a Special Record Date to be fixed by the Trustee for the payment of such Defaulted Interest, notice of which shall be given to Holders of Securities of this series not less than ten (10) days prior to such Special Record Date, or may be paid at any time in any other lawful manner not inconsistent with the requirements of any securities exchange on which the Securities of this series may be listed, and upon such notice as may be required by such exchange, all as more fully provided in the Indenture.

Payment of the principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on this Security will be made at the office or agency of the Company maintained for that purpose in New York City, the State of New York in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts; provided, however, that, at the option of the Company, interest on this Security may be paid by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto, as such address shall appear on the Security Register or by a wire transfer to an account designated by the Person entitled thereto.

The amount of interest payable on this Security for any semi-annual period will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months (and for any period shorter than a full semi-annual period, on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed during such period using 30-day calendar months).

If an Interest Payment Date, a Redemption Date or the Stated Maturity Date of the Securities of this series falls on a day that is not a Business Day, then payment of the interest or principal payable on such Interest Payment Date, Redemption Date or the Stated Maturity Date will be made on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day (and no interest will be paid or other payment made in respect of such delay) with the same force and effect as if made on such date, and no interest on such payment will accrue for the period from and after such Interest Payment Date, Redemption Date or the Stated Maturity Date, as applicable.

Reference is hereby made to the further provisions of this Security set forth on the reverse of this Security, which further provisions shall for all purposes have the same effect as if set forth at this place. (All capitalized terms used in this Security which are not defined herein, including the reverse of this Security, but which are defined in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate, shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate.)

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Trustee referred to on the reverse of this Security by manual signature, this Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

[FORM OF GUARANTEE]

NEXTERA ENERGY, INC., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Florida (the "Guarantor", which term includes any successor under the Indenture (the "Indenture") referred to in the Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed), for value received, hereby unconditionally and irrevocably guarantees to the Holder of the Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed, the due and punctual payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest, including Additional Interest, if any, on such Security when and as the same shall become due and payable, whether on the Stated Maturity Date, by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption, or otherwise, in accordance with the terms of such Security and of the Indenture regardless of any defense, right of set-off or counterclaim that the Guarantor may have (except the defense of payment). In case of the failure of the Company punctually to make any such payment, the Guarantor hereby agrees to cause such payment to be made punctually when and as the same shall become due and payable, whether on the Stated Maturity Date or by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption or otherwise, and as if such payment were made by the Company. The Guarantor's obligation to make a guarantee payment may be satisfied by direct payment of the required amounts by the Guarantor to the Holder of the Security or to a Paying Agent, or by causing the Company to pay such amount to such Holder or a Paying Agent.

The Guarantor hereby agrees that its payment obligations hereunder shall be absolute and unconditional irrespective of, and shall be unaffected by, any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability of such Security or the Indenture, any failure to enforce the provisions of such Security or the Indenture, or any waiver, modification or indulgence granted to the Company with respect thereto (except that the Guarantor will have the benefit of any waiver, modification or indulgence granted to the Company in accordance with the Indenture), by the Holder of such Security or the Trustee or any other circumstance which may otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge or defense of a surety or guarantor; provided, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, no such waiver, modification or indulgence shall, without the consent of the Guarantor, increase the principal amount of such Security, or increase the interest rate thereon (including Additional Interest, if any), or change any redemption provisions thereof (including any change to increase any premium payable upon redemption thereof) or change the Stated Maturity Date thereof.

The Guarantor hereby waives the benefits of diligence, presentment, demand for payment, any requirement that the Trustee or the Holder of such Security exhaust any right or take any action against the Company or any other Person, the filing of claims with a court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company, any right to require a proceeding first against the Company, protest or notice with respect to such Security or the indebtedness evidenced thereby and all demands whatsoever, and covenants that this Guarantee will not be discharged in respect of such Security except by complete performance of the payment obligations contained in such Security and in this Guarantee. This Guarantee shall constitute a guaranty of payment and not of collection. The Guarantor hereby agrees that, in the event of a default in payment of principal, or premium, if any, or interest, if any, on such Security, whether on the Stated Maturity Date, by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption, or otherwise, legal proceedings may be instituted by the Trustee on behalf of, or by, the Holder of such Security, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Indenture, directly against the Guarantor to enforce this Guarantee without first proceeding against the Company.

The obligations of the Guarantor hereunder with respect to such Security shall be continuing and irrevocable until the date upon which the entire principal of, premium, if any, and interest, including Additional Interest, if any, on such Security has been, or has been deemed pursuant to the provisions of Article Seven of the Indenture to have been, paid in full or otherwise discharged.

The obligations evidenced by this Guarantee are, to the extent provided in the Indenture, subordinated and subject in right of payment to the prior payment in full of all Senior Indebtedness of the Guarantor, and this Guarantee is issued subject to the provisions of the Indenture with respect thereto. Each Holder of a Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed, by accepting the same, (a) agrees to and shall be bound by such provisions, (b) authorizes and directs the Trustee on his behalf to take such action as may be necessary or appropriate to acknowledge or effectuate the subordination so provided and (c) appoints the Trustee his attorney-in-fact for any and all such purposes. Each Holder hereof, by his acceptance hereof, hereby waives all notice of the acceptance of the subordination provisions contained herein and in the Indenture by each holder of Senior Indebtedness, whether now outstanding or hereafter incurred, and waives reliance by each such Holder upon said provisions.

The Guarantor shall be subrogated to all rights of the Holder of a Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed against the Company in respect of any amounts paid by the Guarantor on account of such Security pursuant to the provisions of this Guarantee or the Indenture; provided, however, that the Guarantor shall not be entitled to enforce or to receive any payments arising out of, or based upon, such right of subrogation until the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest, if any, on all Securities issued under the Indenture which are then due and payable shall have been paid in full.

This Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect and continue notwithstanding any petition filed by or against the Company for liquidation or reorganization, the Company becoming insolvent or making an assignment for the benefit of creditors or a receiver or trustee being appointed for all or any significant part of the Company's property and assets, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, continue to be effective or reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment of the Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed, is pursuant to applicable law, rescinded or reduced in amount, or must otherwise be restored or returned by the Holder of such Security, whether as a "voidable preference," "fraudulent transfer," or otherwise, all as though such payment or performance had not been made. In the event that any such payment, or any part thereof, is rescinded, reduced, restored or returned on such Security, such Security shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, be reinstated and deemed paid only by such amount paid and not so rescinded, reduced, restored or returned.

This Guarantee shall not be valid or obligatory for any purpose until the certificate of authentication of the Security upon which this Guarantee is endorsed shall have been manually executed by or on behalf of the Trustee under the Indenture.

All terms used in this Guarantee which are defined in the Indenture shall have the meanings assigned to them in such Indenture.

This Guarantee shall be deemed to be a contract made under the laws of the State of New York, and for all purposes shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflicts of law principles thereunder, except to the extent that the law of any other jurisdiction shall be mandatorily applicable.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Guarantor has caused this instrument to be duly executed in _____, _____.

NEXTERA ENERGY, INC.

[FORM OF REVERSE OF SERIES R JUNIOR SUBORDINATED DEBENTURE DUE JUNE 15, 2054]

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of securities of the Company (herein called the "Securities"), issued and to be issued in one or more series under an Indenture (For Unsecured Subordinated Debt Securities), dated as of September 1, 2006 (herein, together with any amendments thereto, called the "Indenture," which term shall have the meaning assigned to it in such instrument), among the Company, NextEra Energy, Inc. and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee (herein called the "Trustee," which term includes any successor trustee under the Indenture), and reference is hereby made to the Indenture, including the Board Resolutions and Officer's Certificate filed with the Trustee on June 7, 2024, creating the series designated on the face hereof (herein called the "Officer's Certificate"), for a statement of the respective rights, limitations of rights, duties and immunities thereunder of the Company, the Guarantor, the Trustee and the Holders of the Securities of this series and of the terms upon which the Securities of this series are, and are to be, authenticated and delivered. This Security is one of the series designated on the face hereof.

The Securities of this series shall bear interest (i) from and including June 7, 2024 to but excluding the First Interest Reset Date, at the rate of 6.75% per annum and (ii) from and including the First Interest Reset Date during each Interest Reset Period (as defined below), at the rate per annum equal to the Five-Year Treasury Rate (as defined below), as of the most recent Reset Interest Determination Date (as defined below) plus 2.457%.

Unless all of the outstanding Securities on this series have been or will be redeemed as of the First Interest Reset Date, the Company will appoint a calculation agent (the "Calculation Agent") with respect to the Securities of this series prior to the Reset Interest Determination Date preceding the First Interest Reset Date. The Company or any of its affiliates may assume the duties of the Calculation Agent. The applicable interest rate for each Interest Reset Period will be determined by the Calculation Agent as of the applicable Reset Interest Determination Date. If the Company or one of its affiliates is not the Calculation Agent, the Calculation Agent will notify the Company of the interest rate for the relevant Interest Reset Period promptly upon such determination. The Company will notify the Trustee of such interest rate, promptly upon making or being notified of such determination. The Calculation Agent's determination of any interest rate and its calculation of the amount of interest for any Interest Reset Period beginning on or after the First Interest Reset Date will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Securities of this series and the Officer's Certificate or the Indenture, will become effective without consent from the Holders of the Securities of this series or any other Person. Such determination of any interest rate and calculation of the amount of interest will be on file at the Company's principal offices and will be made available to any Holder of the Securities of this series upon request.

"Five-Year Treasury Rate" means, as of any Reset Interest Determination Date, the average of the yields on actively traded United States Treasury securities adjusted to constant maturity, for five-year maturities, for the five Business Days immediately preceding such Reset Interest Determination Date appearing under the caption "Treasury Constant Maturities" in the most recent H.15.

If the Five-Year Treasury Rate cannot be determined pursuant to the method described above, the Company, after consulting such sources as it deems comparable to any of the foregoing calculations, or any such source as it deems reasonable from which to estimate the Five-Year Treasury Rate, will determine the Five-Year Treasury Rate in its sole discretion, provided that if the Company determines there is an industry-accepted successor Five-Year Treasury Rate, then the Company will direct the Calculation Agent to use such successor rate. If the Company has determined a substitute or successor base rate in accordance with the foregoing, the Company in its sole discretion may determine the business day convention, the definition of "Business Day" and the Reset Interest Determination Date to be used and any other relevant methodology for calculating such substitute or successor base rate, including any adjustment factor needed to make such substitute or successor base rate comparable to the Five-Year Treasury Rate, in a manner that is consistent with industry-accepted practices for such substitute or successor base rate.

In no event shall the Calculation Agent be responsible for determining if there is an industry-accepted substitute or successor base rate comparable to the Five-Year Treasury Rate, or for making any adjustments to any such substitute or successor base rate, the business day convention, the definition of "business day" and the Reset Interest Determination Date to be used and any other relevant methodology for calculating such substitute or successor base rate, including any adjustment factor needed to make such substitute or successor base rate comparable to the Five-Year Treasury Rate. In connection with the foregoing, the Calculation Agent will be entitled to conclusively rely on any determinations and adjustments made by the Company with respect thereto and the Calculation Agent will have no liability for using the same at the direction of the Company.

"H.15" means the daily statistical release designated as such, or any successor publication as determined by the Company, published by the Federal Reserve Board, and "most recent H.15" means the H.15 published closest in time but prior to the close of business on the applicable Reset Interest Determination Date.

"Interest Reset Date" means the First Interest Reset Date and each date falling on the five-year anniversary of the preceding Interest Reset Date.

"Interest Reset Period" means the period from and including the First Interest Reset Date to but not including the next following Interest Reset Date and thereafter each period from and including each Interest Reset Date to but not including the next following Interest Reset Date (in each case unless all of the Securities of this series have been redeemed or matured).

"Reset Interest Determination Date" means, in respect of any Interest Reset Period, the day falling two Business Days prior to the beginning of such Interest Reset Period.

In addition to the option of the Company to redeem the Securities of this series in connection with a Tax Event or a Rating Agency Event described below, this Security shall also be redeemable at the option of the Company, in whole or in part (i) on any day in the period commencing on the date falling 90 days prior to the First Interest Reset Date and ending on and including the First Interest Reset Date and (ii) after the First Interest Reset Date, on any Interest

Payment Date, upon notice (a "Redemption Notice") which is required by the Indenture to be mailed at least thirty (30) days but not more than sixty (60) days prior to the date fixed for redemption (a "Par Redemption Date") at the price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Securities of this series being redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, including Additional Interest, if any, to but excluding the Par Redemption Date (the "Par Redemption Price"); provided, however, that the Company has reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Securities of this series, or of any other series of Securities issued after December 1, 2021, to amend the Indenture to provide that the Redemption Notice shall be given in the manner provided in the Indenture at least ten (10) days but not more than sixty (60) days prior to the date fixed for redemption

If at the time a Redemption Notice is given, the redemption moneys are not on deposit with the Trustee, then, if such notice so provides, the redemption shall be subject to the receipt of the redemption moneys on or before the Par Redemption Date and such Redemption Notice shall be of no force or effect unless such moneys are received.

Upon payment of the Par Redemption Price, on and after the Par Redemption Date interest will cease to accrue on the Securities of this series or portions thereof called for redemption.

If a Tax Event (as defined below) shall occur and be continuing, the Company shall have the right to redeem this Security, in whole but not in part, at any time within ninety (90) days following the occurrence of the Tax Event, upon a Redemption Notice, at the price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, including Additional Interest, if any, to but excluding the date fixed for redemption (the "Tax Event Redemption Date").

"Tax Event" means the receipt by the Guarantor or the Company of an Opinion of Counsel experienced in tax matters to the effect that, as a result of (a) any amendment to, clarification of, or change (including any announced prospective change) in the laws or treaties of the United States or any of its political subdivisions or taxing authorities, or any regulations under such laws or treaties, (b) any judicial decision or any official administrative pronouncement, ruling, regulatory procedure, notice or announcement (including any notice or announcement of intent to issue or adopt any such administrative pronouncement, ruling, regulatory procedure or regulation) (each, an "Administrative Action"), (c) any amendment to, clarification of, or change in the official position or the interpretation of any such Administrative Action or judicial decision or any interpretation or pronouncement that provides for a position with respect to such Administrative Action or judicial decision that differs from the previously generally accepted position, in each case by any legislative body, court, governmental authority or regulatory body, regardless of the time or manner in which such amendment, clarification or change is introduced or made known, or (d) threatened challenge asserted in writing in connection with an audit of the Guarantor or the Company or any of their subsidiaries, or a publicly-known threatened challenge asserted in writing against any other taxpayer that has raised capital through the issuance of securities that are substantially similar to the Securities of this series, which amendment, clarification, or change is effective, or which Administrative Action is taken or which judicial decision, interpretation or pronouncement is issued or threatened challenge is asserted or becomes publicly-known, in each case after June 5, 2024, there is more than an insubstantial risk that interest payable by the Company on this Security is not deductible, or within 90 days would not be deductible, in whole or in part, by the Company for United States federal income tax purposes.

The Company shall have the right to redeem this Security in whole but not in part, upon a Redemption Notice given at any time within ninety (90) days after the conclusion of any review or appeal process instituted by the Company or the Guarantor following the occurrence of a Rating Agency Event (as defined below), at the price equal to 102% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, including Additional Interest, if any, to but excluding the date fixed for redemption (the "Rating Agency Event Redemption Date").

"Rating Agency Event" means a change to the methodology or criteria that were employed by an applicable rating agency (as defined below) for purposes of assigning equity credit to securities such as the Securities of this series on the date of initial issuance of the Securities of this series (the "current methodology"), which change reduces the amount of equity credit assigned to the Securities of this series by the applicable rating agency as compared with the amount of equity credit that such rating agency had assigned to the Securities of this series as of the date of initial issuance thereof.

The term "rating agency" means any nationally recognized statistical rating organization (within the meaning of Section 3(a)(62) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and sometimes referred to in this Security as a "rating agency") , and the term "applicable rating agency" means any rating agency that (i)(a) published a rating for the Company or the Guarantor with respect to the initial issuance of the Securities of this series and (b) publishes a rating for the Company or the Guarantor at such time as a Rating Agency Event occurs, or (ii) any successor to a rating agency described in the preceding clause (i).

If at the time a Redemption Notice is given, the redemption moneys are not on deposit with the Trustee, then, if such notice so provides, the redemption shall be subject to the receipt of the redemption moneys on or before the Tax Event Redemption Date or Rating Agency Event Redemption Date, as the case may be, and such Redemption Notice shall be of no force or effect unless such moneys are received.

Upon payment of the Redemption Price, on and after the Tax Event Redemption Date or Rating Agency Event Redemption Date, as the case may be, interest will cease to accrue on the Securities of this series called for redemption.

In the event of redemption of this Security in part only, a new Security or Securities of this series and of like tenor for the unredeemed portion hereof will be issued in the name of the Holder hereof upon the cancellation hereof.

The indebtedness evidenced by this Security is, to the extent provided in the Indenture, subordinated and subject in right of payment to the prior payment in full of all Senior Indebtedness of the Company, and this Security is issued subject to the provisions of the Indenture with respect thereto. Each Holder of this Security, by accepting the same, (a) agrees to and shall be bound by such provisions, (b) authorizes and directs the Trustee on his behalf to take such action as may be necessary or appropriate to acknowledge or effectuate the subordination so provided and (c) appoints the Trustee his attorney-in-fact for any and all such purposes. Each Holder hereof, by his acceptance hereof, hereby waives all notice of the acceptance of the subordination provisions contained herein and in the Indenture by each holder of Senior Indebtedness, whether now outstanding or hereafter incurred, and waives reliance by each such holder upon said provisions.

The Indenture contains provisions for defeasance at any time of the entire indebtedness of this Security upon compliance with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture, including the Officer's Certificate described above.

If an Event of Default with respect to Securities of this series shall occur and be continuing, the principal of and interest on the Securities of this series may be declared due and payable in the manner and with the effect provided in the Indenture; provided however, that the principal of and interest on the Securities of this series shall not be declared due and payable by reason of the occurrence and continuation of an Event of Default specified in Section 801(c) of the Indenture applicable to the Securities of this series, and any notice of declaration of acceleration based on such Event of Default shall be null and void with respect to the Securities of this series. The Securities of this series will not be considered Outstanding for the purpose of determining whether the required vote described in Section 802 of the Indenture has been obtained for the declaration of acceleration by reason of the occurrence and continuation of an Event of Default specified in Section 801(c) of the Indenture applicable to the Securities of this series.

The Indenture permits, with certain exceptions as therein provided, the amendment thereof and the modification of the rights and obligations of the Company and the rights of the Holders of the Securities of each series to be affected by such amendment to the Indenture at any time by the Company and the Trustee with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Securities at the time Outstanding of all series to be thus affected. The Indenture also contains provisions permitting the Holders of specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of each series at the time Outstanding, on behalf of the Holders of all Securities of such series, to waive compliance by the Company with certain provisions of the Indenture and certain past defaults under the Indenture and their consequences. Any such consent or waiver by Holders of the specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of this series shall be conclusive and binding upon all current and future Holders of this Security and of any Security issued upon the registration of transfer hereof or in exchange herefor or in lieu hereof, whether or not notation of such consent or waiver is made upon this Security.

As provided in and subject to the provisions of the Indenture, the Holder of this Security shall not have the right to institute any proceeding with respect to the Indenture or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or for any other remedy thereunder, unless such Holder shall have previously given the Trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default with respect to the Securities of this series, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing shall have made written request to the Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default as Trustee and offered the Trustee reasonable indemnity, and the Trustee shall not have received from the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing a direction inconsistent with such request, and shall have failed to institute any such proceeding, for sixty (60) days after receipt of such notice, request and offer of indemnity. The foregoing shall not apply to any suit instituted by the Holder of this Security for the enforcement of any payment of principal hereof or any premium or interest hereon on or after the respective due dates expressed herein.

No reference herein to the Indenture and no provision of this Security or of the Indenture shall alter or impair the obligation of the Company, which is absolute and unconditional, to pay the principal of and any premium and interest on this Security at the times, place and rate, and in the coin or currency, herein prescribed.

Pursuant to Section 312 of the Indenture, so long as no Event of Default under the Indenture has occurred and is continuing with respect to the Securities of any series, the Company shall have the right, at any time and from time to time during the term of the Securities of this series, to defer the payment of interest for a period not exceeding ten (10) consecutive years (each period, commencing on the date that the first such payment would otherwise be made, an "Optional Deferral Period"); provided that no Optional Deferral Period shall extend beyond the Stated Maturity Date or end on a day other than an Interest Payment Date. During an Optional Deferral Period, interest on the Securities of this series (calculated for each Interest Period in the manner provided for on the face hereof, as if the interest payment had not been so deferred) will continue to accrue compounded semi-annually at the then prevailing rate per annum borne by the Securities of this series. During an Optional Deferral Period, any deferred interest on the Securities of this series will accrue additional interest compounded semi-annually, on any interest payment that is not made on the applicable Interest Payment Date, which shall accrue at the then prevailing rate per annum borne by the Securities of this series, to the extent permitted by applicable law ("Additional Interest"). At the end of an Optional Deferral Period, which shall be an Interest Payment Date, the Company shall pay all interest accrued and unpaid hereon, including Additional Interest accrued on the deferred interest, to the Person in whose name the Securities of this series are registered at the close of business on the Regular Record Date for the Interest Payment Date on which such Optional Deferral Period ended; provided that any such accrued and unpaid interest payable on the Stated Maturity Date or a Redemption Date will be paid to the Person to whom principal is payable. During any such Optional Deferral Period, neither the Guarantor nor the Company will, and each will cause their majority-owned subsidiaries not to, (i) declare or pay any dividend or distribution on the Guarantor's or the Company's capital stock, (ii) redeem, purchase, acquire or make a liquidation payment with respect to any of the Guarantor's or the Company's capital stock, (iii) pay any principal, interest or premium on, or repay, repurchase or redeem any of the Guarantor's or the Company's debt securities that are equal or junior in right of payment to the Securities of this series or the Guarantee (as the case may be), or (iv) make any payments with respect to any Guarantor or Company guarantee of debt securities if such guarantee is equal or junior in right of payment to the Securities of this series or the Guarantee (as the case may be).

Subject to the reservation of right to amend clause (f) below, as described in paragraph 16 of the Officer's Certificate, the foregoing provisions shall not prevent or restrict the Guarantor or the Company from making:

(a) purchases, redemptions or other acquisitions of its capital stock in connection with any employment contract, benefit plan or other similar arrangement with or for the benefit of employees, officers, directors or agents or a stock purchase or dividend reinvestment plan, or the satisfaction of its obligations pursuant to any contract or security outstanding on the date that the payment of interest is deferred requiring it to purchase, redeem or acquire its capital stock;

(b) any payment, repayment, redemption, purchase, acquisition or declaration of dividend described in clauses (i) and (ii) above as a result of a reclassification of its capital stock, or the exchange or conversion of all or a portion of one class or series of its capital stock for another class or series of its capital stock;

(c) the purchase of fractional interests in shares of its capital stock pursuant to the conversion or exchange provisions of its capital stock or the security being converted or exchanged, or in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts;

(d) dividends or distributions paid or made in its capital stock (or rights to acquire its capital stock), or repurchases, redemptions or acquisitions of capital stock in connection with the issuance or exchange of capital stock (or of securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of its capital stock) and distributions in connection with the settlement of stock purchase contracts;

(e) redemptions, exchanges or repurchases of, or with respect to, any rights outstanding under a shareholder rights plan or the declaration or payment thereunder of a dividend or distribution of or with respect to rights in the future;

(f) payments under any preferred trust securities guarantee or guarantee of subordinated debentures executed and delivered by the Guarantor concurrently with the issuance by a trust of any preferred trust securities, so long as the amount of payments made on any preferred trust securities or subordinated debentures (as the case may be) is paid on all preferred trust securities or subordinated debentures (as the case may be) then outstanding on a pro rata basis in proportion to the full distributions to which each series of preferred trust securities or subordinated debentures (as the case may be) is then entitled;

(g) payments under any guarantee of junior subordinated debentures, which guarantee is executed and delivered by the Guarantor (including a Guarantee under the Indenture), so long as the amount of payments made on any junior subordinated debentures is paid on all junior subordinated debentures then outstanding on a pro rata basis in proportion to the full payment to which each series of junior subordinated debentures is then entitled;

(h) dividends or distributions by the Company on its capital stock to the extent owned by the Guarantor; or

(i) redemptions, purchases, acquisitions or liquidation payments by the Company with respect to its capital stock to the extent owned by the Guarantor.

Prior to the termination of any such Optional Deferral Period, the Company may further defer the payment of interest, provided that such Optional Deferral Period together with all such previous and further deferrals of interest payments shall not exceed ten (10) consecutive years at any one time or extend beyond the Stated Maturity Date. Upon the termination of any such Optional Deferral Period and the payment of all amounts then due, including Additional Interest, if any, the Company may elect to begin a new Optional Deferral Period, subject to the above requirements. No interest shall be due and payable during an Optional Deferral Period, except at the end thereof. The Company will give the Trustee notice of its election of an Optional Deferral Period at least ten (10) days and not more than sixty (60) days before the applicable Interest Payment Date. The Trustee will promptly forward notice of such election to each Holder of the Securities of this series.

The Securities of this series are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. As provided in the Indenture and subject to certain limitations therein set forth, Securities of this series are exchangeable for a like aggregate principal amount of Securities of this series and of like tenor and of authorized denominations, as requested by the Holder surrendering the same.

No service charge shall be made for any such registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection therewith.

The Company, the Trustee and any agent of the Company or the Trustee may treat the Person in whose name this Security is registered as the absolute owner hereof for all purposes, whether or not this Security be overdue, and none of the Company, the Trustee or any such agent shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

Each of the Company and the Guarantor has agreed, and, by acceptance of this Security, the Holder will be deemed to have agreed, to treat this Security as indebtedness for United States federal, state and local tax purposes.

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC.

OFFICER'S CERTIFICATE

Creating the Series N Debentures due June 1, 2029

Jose Briceno, Assistant Treasurer of NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. (the "Company"), pursuant to the authority granted in the accompanying Board Resolutions (all capitalized terms used herein which are not defined herein, in Appendix A or in Exhibit A hereto, but which are defined in the Indenture referred to below, shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture), and pursuant to Sections 201 and 301 of the Indenture, does hereby certify to The Bank of New York Mellon (the "Trustee"), as Trustee under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities) dated as of June 1, 1999 between the Company and the Trustee, as amended (the "Indenture"), that:

1. The securities to be issued under the Indenture in accordance with this certificate shall be designated "Series N Debentures due June 1, 2029" (referred to herein as the "Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series") and shall be issued in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

2. The Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall mature and the principal shall be due and payable, together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the Stated Maturity Date. The "Stated Maturity Date" means June 1, 2029.

3. The Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall bear interest initially at the rate of 5.15% per annum (the "Interest Rate") from, and including, June 20, 2024, to, but excluding, the earlier of (i) the Stated Maturity Date and (ii) the Reset Effective Date. In the event of a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, the Interest Rate will be determined by the Remarketing Agents and reset at the Reset Rate effective from the Reset Effective Date, as set forth in Paragraph 4 below. If the Interest Rate is so reset, the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will bear interest at the Reset Rate from, and including, the Reset Effective Date until the principal thereof and accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, is paid or duly made available for payment. The "Reset Effective Date" shall mean (i) in connection with a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series during the Period for Early Remarketing, the third Business Day immediately following the Remarketing Date on which the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series included in such Remarketing are successfully remarketed, unless the Remarketing is successful within five Business Days of the next succeeding Quarterly Interest Payment Date, in which case such Quarterly Interest Payment Date will be the Reset Effective Date, and (ii) in connection with a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series during the Final Remarketing Period, June 1, 2027.

Interest on a Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall be payable initially quarterly in arrears on March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1 of each year (each a "Quarterly Interest Payment Date"), commencing September 1, 2024, to the Person in whose name such Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or any predecessor Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, is registered on the books and records of the Security Registrar at the close of business on the relevant Regular Record Date for such Quarterly Interest Payment Date. Following a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, interest on a Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall be payable (i) on the Reset Effective Date and (ii) semi-annually in arrears on the Subsequent Interest Payment Dates (together with the Quarterly Interest Payment Dates and the Reset Effective Date, the "Interest Payment Dates"), in each case to the Person in whose name such Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or any predecessor Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, is registered on the books and records of the Security Registrar at the close of business on the relevant Regular Record Date. "Subsequent Interest Payment Date" shall mean, following the Reset Effective Date, each semi-annual interest payment date established by the Company on the Remarketing Date on which the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series included in the Remarketing are successfully remarketed Interest payments will include interest accrued from and including the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, from and including June 20, 2024, to, but excluding, such Interest Payment Date.

The amount of interest payable on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months. The amount of interest payable for any period shorter than a full quarterly or semi-annual period for which interest is computed shall be computed on the basis of the number of days in such period using 30-day calendar months. In the event that an Interest Payment Date is not a Business Day, then payment of interest payable on such date will be made on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day (and without any interest or other payment in respect of such delay), except that, if such Business Day is in the next succeeding calendar year, then such payment shall be made on the immediately preceding Business Day, in each case, with the same force and effect as if made on such Interest Payment Date.

Pursuant to the Remarketing Agreement to be entered into between the Company, Wells Fargo Securities, LLC and BofA Securities, Inc. (collectively referred to as the "Remarketing Agents"), and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Purchase Contract Agent (the "Purchase Contract Agent"), as amended or supplemented from time to time (the "Remarketing Agreement"), and as described below, the Company (i) during the Period for Early Remarketing may, at its option, and in its sole discretion, select one or more Early Remarketing Periods on which the Company may cause the Remarketing Agents to remarket, in whole (but not in part), (A) the Pledged Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, and (B) any Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series of Holders who have elected in the manner set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Pledge Agreement and the Remarketing Agreement to have such Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series so remarketed, for settlement on the third Business Day following the Remarketing Date on which a Successful Remarketing occurs, unless the Successful Remarketing occurs within five Business Days of the next succeeding Quarterly Interest Payment Date, in which case such settlement will occur on such Quarterly Interest Payment Date and (ii) if there has not been a Successful Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing, if any, shall cause the Remarketing Agents to remarket, in whole (but not in part), on each Remarketing Date during the Final Remarketing Period, (A) the Pledged Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series of Corporate Unit holders who have failed to notify the Purchase Contract Agent, on or prior to the seventh Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, of their intention to settle such Purchase Contracts in cash, and (B) any Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series of Holders who have elected in the manner set forth in the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Pledge Agreement and the Remarketing Agreement to have their Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series so remarketed, for settlement on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

The Company may select an Early Remarketing Period; provided, that no Remarketing Date during the Period for Early Remarketing shall occur earlier than the fifth Business Day prior to December 1, 2026 nor later than the ninth Business Day prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

The Company will announce any Remarketing on the sixth Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of an Early Remarketing Period and, for the Final Remarketing Period, the Company will announce the remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series on the third Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the Final Remarketing Period. Each such announcement (each a "Remarketing Announcement") on each such date (each a "Remarketing Announcement Date") shall specify the following:

(i) (A) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Period for Early Remarketing, that the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may be remarketed on any and all of the Remarketing Dates during such Early Remarketing Period selected by the Company; or

(B) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Final Remarketing Period, that the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may be remarketed on any and all of the third, fourth and fifth Business Days following such Remarketing Announcement Date; or

(ii) (A) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Period for Early Remarketing, that the Reset Effective Date will be the third Business Day following the Successful Remarketing Date, unless the Successful Remarketing Date is within five Business Days of the next succeeding Quarterly Interest Payment Date in which case such Quarterly Interest Payment Date will be the Reset Effective Date; or

(B) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Final Remarketing Period, that the Reset Effective Date will be June 1, 2027 if there is a Successful Remarketing;

(iii) that the Reset Rate and Subsequent Interest Payment Dates for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be established on the Successful Remarketing Date and effective on and after the Reset Effective Date;

(iv) (A) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Period for Early Remarketing, that the Reset Rate will equal the interest rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that will enable the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series included in the Remarketing to be remarketed at a price equal to at least 100% of the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price plus the Separate Debentures Purchase Price plus the Remarketing Fee (the "Remarketing Price"); or

(B) if the Remarketing Announcement relates to a Remarketing to occur during the Final Remarketing Period, that the Reset Rate will equal the interest rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that will enable the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series included in the Remarketing to be remarketed at a price equal to at least 100% of their aggregate principal amount plus the Remarketing Fee (the "Contract Settlement Price"); and

(v) the Remarketing Fee

Each Holder of Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may elect to have some or all of the Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series held by such Holder remarketed in any Remarketing. A Holder making such an election must, pursuant to the Purchase Contract Agreement, the Pledge Agreement and the Remarketing Agreement, notify the Custodial Agent and deliver such Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to the Custodial Agent on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day, but no earlier than the fifth Business Day, immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of any Remarketing Period. Any such notice and delivery may not be conditioned upon the level at which the Reset Rate is established in the Remarketing. Any such notice and delivery may be withdrawn on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the applicable Remarketing Period in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Pledge Agreement. Any such notice and delivery not withdrawn by such time will be irrevocable with respect to such Remarketing. Promptly after 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the Business Day immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of the applicable Remarketing Period, the Custodial Agent, based on the notices and deliveries received by it prior to such time and pursuant to the Pledge Agreement, shall notify the Remarketing Agents of the principal amount of Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to be tendered for Remarketing and shall cause such Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to be presented to the Remarketing Agents. Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of Corporate Units will be deemed tendered for Remarketing and will be remarketed in accordance with the terms of the Remarketing Agreement.

Unless there has been a Successful Remarketing, on each Remarketing Date selected by the Company during an Early Remarketing Period, the Company shall cause the Remarketing Agents to use their commercially reasonable efforts to remarket the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that the Collateral Agent and the Custodial Agent shall have notified the Remarketing Agents have been tendered for, or otherwise are to be included in, the Remarketing, at a price per $1,000 principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series such that the aggregate price for the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series being remarketed on that date will be approximately (i) if the Reset Effective Date is not the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Remarketing Price or (ii) if the Reset Effective Date is the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Contract Settlement Price.

In the event of a Successful Remarketing, on the Remarketing Date the Company will request the Depositary to notify its participants holding the Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, no later than the Business Day next succeeding the Successful Remarketing Date, of the Reset Rate, the Subsequent Interest Payment Dates and related Regular Record Dates for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series. If a Successful Remarketing does not occur during a Remarketing Period, the Company will cause a notice of such Failed Remarketing to be published on the Business Day following the last Remarketing Date comprising the Remarketing Period (which notice, in the event of a Failed Remarketing on the Final Remarketing Date, shall be published not later than 9.00 a.m., New York City time, and shall include the procedures that must be followed if a Holder of Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series wishes to exercise its right to put such Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to the Company), in each case, by making a timely release to any appropriate news agency, including Bloomberg News and the Dow Jones Newswires.

In accordance with the Depositary's procedures, on the Reset Effective Date, the transactions described above with respect to each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series tendered for purchase and sold in such Remarketing shall be executed through the Depositary, and the accounts of the respective Depositary participants shall be debited and credited and such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series delivered by book entry as necessary to effect purchases and sales of such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series. The Depositary shall make payment in accordance with its procedures

In no event shall the aggregate price for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series in a Remarketing be less than a price (the "Minimum Price") equal to (i) in the case of a Remarketing during the Period for Early Remarketing, 100% of the sum of the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price and the Separate Debentures Purchase Price or (ii) in the case of a Remarketing during the Final Remarketing Period, 100% of the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series being remarketed. A remarketing attempt on any Remarketing Date will be deemed unsuccessful (i) if the Remarketing Agents are unable to remarket the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series for an aggregate price that is at least equal to the Minimum Price; or (ii) if a condition precedent to such Remarketing is not fulfilled or, if subject to waiver, waived.

The right of each Holder of Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are included in Corporate Units to have such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, and of each Holder of Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to have any Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series (together, the "Remarketed Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series"), remarketed and sold in any Remarketing, and the obligation of the Company to conduct a Remarketing, shall be subject to the following: (i) the Remarketing Agents have conducted a Remarketing pursuant to the terms of the Remarketing Agreement, (ii) a Special Event Redemption or Mandatory Redemption has not occurred and will not occur prior to such Remarketing Date or the Reset Effective Date, (iii) the Remarketing Agents are able to find a purchaser or purchasers for Remarketed Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series at the Minimum Price, and (iv) the purchaser or purchasers deliver the purchase price therefor to the Remarketing Agents as and when required.

None of the Trustee, the Company or the Remarketing Agents shall be obligated in any case to provide funds to make payment upon tender of Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series for Remarketing.

"Remarketing Treasury Portfolio" shall mean

(a) U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to May 31, 2027 in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to the principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are components of the Corporate Units;

(b) if the Reset Effective Date occurs prior to March 1, 2027, with respect to the Quarterly Interest Payment Dates on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that would have occurred on March 1, 2027 and June 1, 2027, U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to (i) February 28, 2027 (in connection with the Quarterly Interest Payment Date that would have occurred on March 1, 2027) and (ii) May 31, 2027 (in connection with the Quarterly Interest Payment Date that would have occurred on June 1, 2027), each in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to the aggregate interest payments that would be due on March 1, 2027 and June 1, 2027, respectively, on the principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth

Series that would have been a component of the Corporate Units assuming no Remarketing and no reset of the Interest Rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series and assuming that interest on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series accrued from the Reset Effective Date to, but excluding, March 1, 2027 and from March 1, 2027 to, but excluding, June 1, 2027, respectively; and

(c) if the Reset Effective Date occurs on or after March 1, 2027, with respect to the Quarterly Interest Payment Date on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that would have occurred on June 1, 2027, U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to May 31, 2027 in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to the aggregate interest payment that would be due on June 1, 2027 on the principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that would have been a component of the Corporate Units assuming no Remarketing and no reset of the Interest Rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series and assuming that interest on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series accrued from the Reset Effective Date to, but excluding, June 1, 2027.

If, on the applicable Remarketing Date during the Period for Early Remarketing, U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that are to be included in the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio have a yield that is less than zero, then instead, at the Company's option, an amount of cash equal to the aggregate principal amount at maturity of the applicable U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) described above will be substituted for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are components of the Corporate Units and will be pledged to NextEra Energy through the Collateral Agent to secure the Corporate Unit holders' obligations to purchase common stock, $0.01 par value per share, of NextEra Energy (the "Common Stock") under the related Purchase Contracts. In such case, references to "U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof)" in connection with the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio will, thereafter, be deemed to be references to such amount of cash.

"Remarketing Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price" shall mean the lowest aggregate price quoted by a primary U.S. government securities dealer in New York City to the Quotation Agent on the applicable Remarketing Date during the Period for Early Remarketing for the purchase of the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio for settlement on the Reset Effective Date, provided, that if the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio consists of cash, "Remarketing Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price" means an amount of cash equal to the aggregate principal amount at maturity of the U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that would have otherwise been components of the Remarketing Treasury Portfolio. "Quotation Agent" means any primary U.S. government securities dealer in New York City selected by the Company.

4. In connection with each Remarketing, the Remarketing Agents shall determine the reset interest rate (rounded to the nearest one-thousandth (0.001) of one percent per annum) that they believe will, when applied to the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, enable the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series being remarketed on such date to be sold at an aggregate price equal to at least (i) if the Reset Effective Date is not the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Remarketing Price or (ii) if the Reset Effective Date is the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Contract Settlement Price. The reset interest rate established on the Remarketing Date on which a Successful Remarketing occurs shall be the "Reset Rate."

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the Reset Rate shall not exceed the maximum rate permitted by applicable law and the Remarketing Agents shall have no obligation to determine whether there is any limitation under applicable law on the Reset Rate or, if there is any such limitation, the maximum permissible Reset Rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series and it shall rely solely upon written notice from the Company (which the Company agrees to provide prior to the eighth Business Day before the first Remarketing Date of any Remarketing Period) as to whether or not there is any such limitation and, if so, the maximum permissible Reset Rate.

In the event of a Failed Remarketing or if no Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are included in Corporate Units and none of the Holders of the Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series elect to have their Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series remarketed in any Remarketing, the Interest Rate on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will not be reset and will continue to be the Interest Rate.

In the event of a Successful Remarketing, the Interest Rate shall be reset at the Reset Rate as determined by the Remarketing Agents under the Remarketing Agreement. The Reset Rate shall be effective from and after the Reset Effective Date.

5. Each installment of interest on a Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall be payable to the Person in whose name such Debenture is registered at the close of business on the "Regular Record Date" for such interest installment, which (a) as long as all of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series remain in certificated form and are held by the Purchase Contract Agent, or are held in book-entry form, will be one Business Day prior to the corresponding Interest Payment Date, or (b) if the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series remain in certificated form, but all are not held by the Purchase Contract Agent, or are not held in book-entry form, will be at least one Business Day but not more than sixty (60) Business Days prior to such corresponding Interest Payment Date, as selected by the Company; provided that, unless the Purchase Contracts described in the Purchase Contract Agreement have been terminated, such Regular Record Date must be the same as the record date for payment of distributions and Contract Adjustment Payments for the Corporate Units described in the Purchase Contract Agreement; and provided further that interest payable on the Stated Maturity Date will be paid to the Person to whom principal is paid. The Security Registrar may, but shall not be required to, register the transfer of Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series during the ten (10) days immediately preceding an Interest Payment Date. Any installment of interest on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series not punctually paid or duly provided for will forthwith cease to be payable to the Holders of such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series on such Regular Record Date, and may be paid to the Persons in whose name the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are registered at the close of business on a Special Record Date to be fixed by the Trustee for the payment of such Defaulted Interest. Notice of such Defaulted Interest and Special Record Date shall be given to the Holders of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series not less than ten (10) days prior to such Special Record Date, or may be paid at any time in any other lawful manner not inconsistent with the requirements of any securities exchange on which the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may be listed, and upon such notice as may be required by such exchange, all as more fully provided in the Indenture.

6. The principal and each installment of interest on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall be payable at, and registration and registration of transfers and exchanges in respect of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may be effectuated at, the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York; provided, that payment of interest may be made at the option of the Company by check mailed to the address of the Persons entitled thereto or by wire transfer to an account designated by the Person entitled thereto. Notices and demands to or upon the Company in respect of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may be served at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York. The Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee will initially be the agency of the Company for such payment, registration, registration of transfers and exchanges and service of notices and demands.

and the Company hereby appoints the Trustee as its agent for all such purposes; provided, however, that the Company reserves the right to change, by one or more Officer's Certificates, any such office or agency and such agent. The Trustee will initially be the Security Registrar and the Paying Agent for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series.

7. If a Special Event shall occur and be continuing, the Company may, at its option, redeem the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series in whole (but not in part) at any time ("Special Event Redemption") at a Redemption Price equal to, for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, the Redemption Amount plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, thereon to, but excluding, the date of redemption (the "Special Event Redemption Date"). If the Special Event Redemption occurs prior to a Successful Remarketing of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or if the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are not successfully remarketed, in each case prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, the Redemption Price payable with respect to the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units at the time of the Special Event Redemption will be paid to the Collateral Agent under the Pledge Agreement dated as of June 1, 2024 by and between NextEra Energy, Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Collateral Agent (the "Collateral Agent"), Custodial Agent (the "Custodial Agent") and Securities Intermediary, and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Purchase Contract Agent (the "Pledge Agreement"), on the Special Event Redemption Date on or prior to 12:30 p.m., New York City time, by check or wire transfer in immediately available funds at such place and to such account as may be designated by the Collateral Agent and the Collateral Agent will purchase the Special Event Treasury Portfolio on behalf of the holders of Corporate Units and remit the remainder of the Redemption Price, if any, to the Purchase Contract Agent for payment to the holders. Thereafter, the applicable ownership interests in the Special Event Treasury Portfolio will be substituted for the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series and will be pledged to NextEra Energy, through the Collateral Agent, to secure the Corporate Unit holders' obligations to purchase Common Stock under the Purchase Contracts.

"Special Event" means either a Tax Event or an Accounting Event.

"Accounting Event" means the receipt by the audit committee of NextEra Energy's Board of Directors (or, if there is no such committee, by such Board of Directors) of a written report in accordance with Statement on Auditing Standards ("SAS") No. 97, "Amendment to SAS No. 50—Reports on the Application of Accounting Principles," from NextEra Energy's independent auditors, provided at the request of NextEra Energy management, to the effect that, as a result of a change in accounting rules that becomes effective after June 20, 2024, NextEra Energy must either (a) account for the Purchase Contracts as derivatives or otherwise mark-to-market or measure the fair value of all or any portion of the Purchase Contracts with changes appearing in NextEra Energy's income statement) or (b) account for the Equity Units using the if-converted method, and that such accounting treatment will cease to apply upon redemption of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series.

"Tax Event" means the receipt by the Company of an opinion of nationally recognized independent tax counsel experienced in such matters (which may be Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP or Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP) to the effect that there is more than an insubstantial risk that interest payable by the Company on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series would not be deductible, in whole or in part, by the Company for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of (a) any amendment to, change in, or announced proposed change in, the laws, or any regulations thereunder, of the U.S. or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein affecting taxation, (b) any amendment to or change in an interpretation or application of any such laws or regulations by any legislative body, court, governmental agency or regulatory authority or (c) any interpretation or pronouncement by any legislative body, court, governmental agency or regulatory authority that provides for a position with respect to any such laws or regulations that differs from the generally accepted position on June 18, 2024, which amendment, change or proposed change is effective or which interpretation or pronouncement is announced on or after June 18, 2024.

"Redemption Amount" means

(a) in the case of a Special Event Redemption occurring

(i) prior to the earlier of (x) a Successful Remarketing, or (y) the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, the product of the principal amount of that Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series and a fraction, the numerator of which is the Special Event Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price and the denominator of which is the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units on the Special Event Redemption Date, and

(ii) on or after (x) a Successful Remarketing, or (y) the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series Outstanding on the Special Event Redemption Date, the principal amount of the Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series.

(b) in the case of a Mandatory Redemption occurring

(i) prior to the earlier of (x) a Successful Remarketing, or (y) the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series, the product of the principal amount of that Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series and a fraction, the numerator of which is the Mandatory Redemption Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price and the denominator of which is the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units on the date of the Mandatory Redemption (the "Mandatory Redemption Date"), and

(ii) on or after (x) a Successful Remarketing, or (y) the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series Outstanding on the Mandatory Redemption Date, the principal amount of the Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series.

"Mandatory Redemption Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price" means the lowest aggregate price quoted by a primary U.S. government securities dealer in New York City to the Quotation Agent on the third Business Day immediately preceding the Mandatory Redemption Date for the purchase of the Treasury portfolio consisting of the same securities as the Special Event Treasury Portfolio for settlement on the Mandatory Redemption Date.

"Special Event Treasury Portfolio Purchase Price" means the lowest aggregate price quoted by a primary U.S. government securities dealer in New York City to the Quotation Agent on the third Business Day immediately preceding the Special Event Redemption Date for the purchase of the Special Event Treasury Portfolio for settlement on the Special Event Redemption Date.

The Treasury Portfolio to be purchased in connection with a Special Event Redemption, herein referred to as "Special Event Treasury Portfolio," will consist of:

(i) U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to May 31, 2027 in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units, and

(ii) with respect to each scheduled Interest Payment Date on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that would have occurred after the Special Event Redemption Date and on or prior to June 1, 2027, U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to such scheduled Interest Payment Date in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to the aggregate interest payment that would be due on the aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that would have been a component of the Corporate Units on such Interest Payment Date (assuming no Special Event Redemption) and assuming that interest accrued from and including the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid.

Notice of any redemption is required by the Indenture to be mailed at least thirty (30) days but not more than sixty (60) days before the date fixed for redemption to each registered Holder of Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series to be redeemed at its registered address as more fully provided in the Indenture; provided, however, that the Company has reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth, or of any other series of Securities issued after December 1, 2021, to amend the Indenture to provide that such notice shall be given in the manner provided in the Indenture at least ten (10) days but not more than sixty (60) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, as described in clause (B) of Paragraph 17 hereof. Unless the Company defaults in payment of the Redemption Price, on and after the Special Event Redemption Date interest shall cease to accrue on such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series.

The Company's actions and determinations in determining the Redemption Amount shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error.

The Trustee shall have no duty to determine, or to verify the Company's calculations of, the Redemption Amount.

8. Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are subject to a put right (the "Put Right") in the following circumstances:

(a) Each Holder of Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series may exercise its Put Right, in the event of a Failed Remarketing during the Final Remarketing Period, by providing written notice at least two Business Days prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. The Put Price will be paid to such Holder on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

(b) Each Holder of an Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be deemed to have automatically exercised its Put Right, in the event of a Failed Remarketing during the Final Remarketing Period, unless, on the second Business Day immediately prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, such Holder provides written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to settle the related Purchase Contracts with separate cash and, on or prior to the Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, delivers to the Collateral Agent $50 in cash per each of such Holder's related Purchase Contracts. As provided in Section 5.4 of the Purchase Contract Agreement, each Holder of an Applicable Ownership Interest in Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be deemed to have elected to apply a portion of the Put Price equal to the principal amount of such Holder's Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series underlying the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series against such Holder's obligations to NextEra Energy under the related Purchase Contracts, thereby satisfying such obligations in full, and NextEra Energy will deliver to such Holder the Common Stock issued in accordance with each related Purchase Contract. Any amount of the Put Price remaining following settlement of each such Purchase Contract will be delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of such Holder.

9. Initially (a) the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be issued in certificated form registered in the name of The Bank of New York Mellon, as Purchase Contract Agent, under the Purchase Contract Agreement dated as of June 1, 2024 between NextEra Energy and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Purchase Contract Agent (the "Purchase Contract Agreement"), as a component of Corporate Units; and (b) the Separate Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, if any, will be issued in global form in the name of Cede & Co. (as nominee for The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), the initial Depositary for the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are not a component of Corporate Units), and may bear such legends as either the Purchase Contract Agent or DTC, respectively, may reasonably request.

10. If the Company shall make any deposit of money and/or Eligible Obligations with respect to any Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or any portion of the principal amount thereof, as contemplated by Section 701 of the Indenture, the Company shall not deliver an Officer's Certificate described in clause (z) in the first paragraph of said Section 701 unless the Company shall also deliver to the Trustee, together with such Officer's Certificate, either:

(A) an instrument wherein the Company, notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of its indebtedness in respect of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, shall assume the obligation (which shall be absolute and unconditional) to irrevocably deposit with the Trustee or Paying Agent such additional sums of money, if any, or additional Eligible Obligations (meeting the requirements of said Section 701), if any, or any combination thereof, at such time or times, as shall be necessary, together with the money and/or Eligible Obligations theretofore so deposited, to pay when due the principal of and premium, if any, and interest due and to become due on such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series or portions thereof, all in accordance with and subject to the provisions of said Section 701; provided, however, that such instrument may state that the obligation of the Company to make additional deposits as aforesaid shall be subject to the delivery to the Company by the Trustee of a notice asserting the deficiency and setting forth the amount thereof; or

(B) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that, as a result of (i) the receipt by the Company from, or the publication by, the Internal Revenue Service of a ruling or (ii) a change in law occurring after the date of this certificate, the Holders of such Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or the applicable portion of the principal amount thereof, will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the satisfaction and discharge of the Company's indebtedness in respect thereof and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amounts, at the same times and in the same manner as if such satisfaction and discharge had not been effectuated.

11. The Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be absolutely, irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed as to payment of principal, interest and premium, if any, by NextEra Energy, as Guarantor (the "Guarantor"), pursuant to a Guarantee Agreement, dated as of June 1, 1999, between the Guarantor and The Bank of New York Mellon (as Guarantee Trustee) (the "Guarantee Agreement"). The following shall constitute "Guarantor Events" with respect to the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series:

(A) the failure of the Guarantee Agreement to be in full force and effect;

(B) the entry by a court having jurisdiction with respect to the Guarantor of (i) a decree or order for relief in respect of the Guarantor in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or (ii) a decree or order adjudging the Guarantor bankrupt or insolvent, or approving as properly filed a petition by one or more entities other than the Guarantor seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition of or in respect of the Guarantor under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or appointing a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or other similar official for the Guarantor or for any substantial part of its property, or ordering the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and any such decree or order for relief or any such other decree or order shall have remained unstayed and in effect for a period of ninety (90) consecutive days; or

(C) the commencement by the Guarantor of a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or of any other case or proceeding seeking for the Guarantor to be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent, or the consent by the Guarantor to the entry of a decree or order for relief in respect of itself in a case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or to the commencement of any bankruptcy or insolvency case or proceeding against the Guarantor, or the filing by the Guarantor of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganization or relief under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or the consent by the Guarantor to the filing of such petition or to the appointment of or taking possession by a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or similar official of the Guarantor or of any substantial part of its property, or the making by the Guarantor of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the admission by the Guarantor in writing of its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or the authorization of such action by the Board of Directors of the Guarantor.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, this certificate or the Indenture, the Company shall, if a Guarantor Event shall occur and be continuing, redeem all of the Outstanding Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series within sixty (60) days after the occurrence of such Guarantor Event (the "Mandatory Redemption") at a Redemption Price specified below unless, within thirty (30) days after the occurrence of such Guarantor Event, S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc., and Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (if the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are then rated by those rating agencies, or, if the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are then rated by only one of those rating agencies, then such rating agency, or, if the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series are not then rated by either one of those rating agencies but are then rated by one or more other nationally recognized rating agencies, then at least one of those other nationally recognized rating agencies) shall have reaffirmed in writing that, after giving effect to such Guarantor Event, the credit rating on the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall be investment grade (i.e., in one of the four highest categories, without regard to subcategories within such rating categories, of such rating agency).

If the Mandatory Redemption occurs (i) prior to June 1, 2027, if the Purchase Contracts have been previously or concurrently terminated, the Redemption Price will be equal to the principal amount of each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series; (ii) prior to June 1, 2027, if the Purchase Contracts have not been so previously or concurrently terminated, the Redemption Price will be equal to the Redemption Amount for each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series and such Redemption Price payable with respect to the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units at the time of the Mandatory Redemption will be distributed to the Collateral Agent as described in Paragraph 7 with respect to the Special Event Redemption; or (iii) on or after June 1, 2027, the Redemption Price will be equal to the principal amount of each Debenture of the Seventy-Ninth Series; in each case, together with accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but excluding, the Mandatory Redemption Date.

12. With respect to the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, each of the following events shall be an additional Event of Default under the Indenture:

(A) the consolidation of the Guarantor with or merger of the Guarantor into any other Person, or the conveyance or other transfer or lease by the Guarantor of its properties and assets substantially as an entirety to any Person, unless

(i) the Person formed by such consolidation or into which the Guarantor is merged or the Person which acquires by conveyance or other transfer, or which leases, the properties and assets of the Guarantor substantially as an entirety shall be a Person organized and existing under the laws of the U.S , any State thereof or the District of Columbia, and shall expressly assume the obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee Agreement; and

(ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Event of Default and no event which, after notice or lapse of time or both, would become an Event of Default, shall have occurred and be continuing; or

(B) the failure of the Company to redeem the Outstanding Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series if and as required by Paragraph 11 hereof.

13. If a Guarantor Event occurs and the Company is not required to redeem the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series pursuant to Paragraph 11 hereof, the Company will provide to the Trustee and the Holders of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series annual and quarterly reports containing the information that the Company would be required to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission under Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 if it were subject to the reporting requirements of either of those Sections; provided, that if the Company is, at that time, subject to the reporting requirements of either of those Sections, the filing of annual and quarterly reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to either of those Sections will satisfy the foregoing requirement. The provision of such reports and information to the Trustee shall be for informational purposes only and the Trustee's receipt or deemed receipt of such shall not constitute constructive notice of any information contained therein or determinable from information contained therein, including the Company's compliance with any of its covenants under the Indenture.

14. The Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series that are a component of the Corporate Units will be issued in certificated form, will be in denominations of $1,000 and integral multiples of $1,000, without coupons; provided, however, that upon release by the Collateral Agent of Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series underlying the Applicable Ownership Interests in Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series pledged to secure the Corporate Units holders' obligations under the related Purchase Contracts (other than any release of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series in connection with the creation of Treasury Units, an Early Settlement, a Fundamental Change Early Settlement, or a Remarketing) the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series will be issuable in denominations of $50 principal amount and integral multiples thereof.

15. The Company reserves the right to require legends on Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series as it may determine are necessary to ensure compliance with the securities laws of the United States of America and the states therein and any other applicable laws.

16. No service charge shall be made for the registration of transfer or exchange of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series; provided, however, that the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with such transfer or exchange.

17. The Company has reserved the right, without any consent, vote or other action by Holders of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series, or of any other series of Securities issued after December 1, 2021, to amend the Indenture as follows:

(A) To amend the second sentence of Section 402 thereof to read as follows:

"The Company shall, at least 20 days prior to the Redemption Date fixed by the Company (unless a shorter notice shall be satisfactory to the Trustee), notify the Trustee in writing of such Redemption Date and of the principal amount of such Securities to be redeemed."

(B) To amend the first sentence of Section 404 thereof to read as follows:

"Except as otherwise specified as contemplated by Section 301 for Securities of any series, notice of redemption shall be given in the manner provided in Section 106 to the Holders of the Securities to be redeemed not less than 10 nor more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date."

18. The Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series shall have such other terms and provisions as are provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

19. The undersigned has read all of the covenants and conditions contained in the Indenture relating to the issuance of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series and the definitions in the Indenture relating thereto and in respect of which this certificate is made.

20. The statements contained in this certificate are based upon the familiarity of the undersigned with the Indenture, the documents accompanying this certificate, and upon discussions by the undersigned with officers and employees of the Company familiar with the matters set forth herein.

21. In the opinion of the undersigned, he or she has made such examination or investigation as is necessary to enable him or her to express an informed opinion as to whether or not such covenants and conditions have been complied with.

22. In the opinion of the undersigned, such conditions and covenants and conditions precedent, if any (including any covenants compliance with which constitutes a condition precedent), to the authentication and delivery of the Debentures of the Seventy-Ninth Series requested in the accompanying Company Order No. 62 have been complied with.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have executed this Officer's Certificate on behalf of the Company this 20th day of June, 2024 in Houston, Texas.

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC.

SERIES N DEBENTURE DUE JUNE 1, 2029

NEXTERA ENERGY CAPITAL HOLDINGS, INC., a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Florida (herein referred to as the "Company," which term includes any successor Person under the Indenture (as defined below)), for value received, hereby promises to pay to

, or registered assigns, the principal sum of _____ Dollars, as set forth on Schedule I hereto, on the Stated Maturity Date, and to pay interest on said principal amount from June 20, 2024, or from the most recent Interest Payment Date to which interest has either been paid or duly provided for, quarterly in arrears on March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1 of each year (each a "Quarterly Interest Payment Date"), commencing September 1, 2024, at the rate of 5.15% per annum to, but excluding, the Reset Effective Date, if any, and thereafter semi-annually in arrears on the Subsequent Interest Payment Dates (together with the Quarterly Interest Payment Dates and the Reset Effective Date, the "Interest Payment Dates") at the Reset Rate, in each case on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months, until the principal hereof is paid or duly provided for or made available for payment, and (to the extent that the payment of such interest shall be legally enforceable) to pay interest, compounded quarterly, at the rate of 5.15% per annum on any overdue principal and payment of interest to, but excluding, the Reset Effective Date, if any, and thereafter, compounded semi-annually, at the Reset Rate, if any. Interest on the Securities of this series will accrue from and including June 20, 2024, to, but excluding, the first Interest Payment Date, and thereafter will accrue from and including the last Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for.

No interest will accrue on the Securities of this series with respect to the day on which the Securities of this series mature. In the event that an Interest Payment Date is not a Business Day, then payment of interest payable on such date will be made on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day (and without any interest or other payment in respect of such delay), except that, if such Business Day is in the next succeeding calendar year, then such payment shall be made on the immediately preceding Business Day, in each case, with the same force and effect as if made on the Interest Payment Date. The interest so payable, and punctually paid or duly provided for, on an Interest Payment Date will as provided in the Indenture referred to on the reverse of this Security (the "Indenture"), be payable to the Person in whose name this Security, or any Predecessor Security, is registered at the close of business on the "Regular Record Date" for such interest installment, which (a) as long as all of the Securities of this series remain in certificated form and are held by the Purchase Contract Agent or are held by a securities depository in book-entry form, will be the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date, or (b) if any of the Securities of this series are in certificated form, but all are not held by the Purchase Contract Agent, or are not held by a securities depository in book-entry form, will be at least one Business Day but not more than sixty (60) Business Days prior to such corresponding Interest Payment Date, as selected by the Company; provided that, unless the Purchase Contracts described in the Purchase Contract Agreement have been terminated, such Regular Record Date must be the same as the record date for payment of distributions and Contract Adjustment Payments for the Corporate Units described in the Purchase Contract Agreement; and provided further that interest payable on the Stated Maturity Date or a Redemption Date will be paid to the same Person to whom the associated principal is to be paid. Any such interest not punctually paid or duly provided for will forthwith cease to be payable to the Person who is the Holder of this Security on such Regular Record Date and may be paid to the Person in whose name this Security, or any Predecessor Security, is registered at the close of business on a Special Record Date to be fixed by the Trustee for the payment of such Defaulted Interest, notice of which shall be given to Holders of Securities of this series not less than ten (10) days prior to such Special Record Date, or may be paid at any time in any other lawful manner not inconsistent with the requirements of any securities exchange on which the Securities of this series may be listed, and upon such notice as may be required by such exchange, all as more fully provided in the Indenture.

Payment of the principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on this Security will be made at the office or agency of the Company maintained for that purpose in New York City, the State of New York in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts; provided, however, that, at the option of the Company, interest on this Security may be paid by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto, as such address shall appear on the Security Register or by a wire transfer to an account designated by the Person entitled thereto.

Reference is hereby made to the further provisions of this Security set forth on the reverse of this Security, which further provisions shall for all purposes have the same effect as if set forth at this place. (All capitalized terms used in this Security which are not defined herein, including the reverse of this Security, but which are defined in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate.)

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Trustee referred to on the reverse of this Security by manual signature, this Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company has caused this instrument to be duly executed in

This is one of the Securities of the series designated therein referred to in the within-mentioned Indenture.

THE BANK OF NEW YORK MELLON, as Trustee

By:_____
Authorized Signatory

[FORM OF REVERSE OF DEBENTURE]

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of securities of the Company (herein called the "Securities"), issued and to be issued in one or more series under an Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of June 1, 1999 (herein, together with any amendments thereto, called the "Indenture", which term shall have the meaning assigned to it in such instrument), between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee (herein called the "Trustee," which term includes any successor trustee under the Indenture), and reference is hereby made to the Indenture, including the Board Resolutions and Officer's Certificate filed with the Trustee on June 20, 2024, creating the series designated on the face hereof (herein called the "Officer's Certificate"), for a statement of the respective rights, limitations of rights, duties and immunities thereunder of the Company, the Trustee and the Holders of the Securities of this series and of the terms upon which the Securities of this series are, and are to be, authenticated and delivered. This Security is one of the series designated on the face hereof.

Unless an earlier Special Event Redemption or Mandatory Redemption has occurred, this Security shall mature and the principal amount thereof shall be due and payable together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon on the Stated Maturity Date. The "Stated Maturity Date" shall mean June 1, 2029.

If a Special Event shall occur and be continuing, the Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities of this series in whole, but not in part, at any time, at a price per Security equal to the Redemption Price as set forth in the Officer's Certificate.

If this Security is not a component of Corporate Units, the Holder of this Security may, on or prior to the second Business Day, but no earlier than the fifth Business Day, immediately preceding the first Remarketing Date of any Remarketing Period, elect to have this Security remarketed, by delivering this Security, along with a notice of such election, to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Collateral Agent and Custodial Agent, for Remarketing in accordance with the Pledge Agreement dated as of June 1, 2024 between NextEra Energy, The Bank of New York Mellon and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Collateral Agent, Custodial Agent and Securities Intermediary.

The Securities of this series are subject to a put right (the "Put Right") in the following circumstances:

(A) If there has not been a Successful Remarketing prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, each Holder of Securities of this series that are not part of a Corporate Unit may exercise its Put Right by providing written notice at least two Business Days prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, all as more fully described in the Officer's Certificate. The Put Price will be paid to such Holder on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date. The "Put Price" will be equal to the principal amount of such Securities, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but excluding, the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

(B) If there has not been a Successful Remarketing prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, each Holder of a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in $1,000 principal amount of Securities that is a component of a Corporate Unit (the "Applicable Ownership Interest in Securities") will be deemed to have automatically exercised its Put Right, upon a Failed Remarketing during the Final Remarketing Period, unless, on the second Business Day immediately prior to the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, such Holder provides written notice to the Purchase Contract Agent of its intention to settle the related Purchase Contracts with separate cash and, on or prior to the Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, delivers to the Collateral Agent $50 in cash per each of such Holder's related Purchase Contracts. As described in the Purchase Contract Agreement, each Holder of an Applicable Ownership Interest in Securities who has not settled the related Purchase Contracts with separate cash will be deemed to have elected to apply a portion of the Put Price equal to the principal amount of such Holder's Applicable Ownership Interest in Securities against such Holder's obligations to NextEra Energy under the related Purchase Contracts, thereby satisfying such obligations in full, and NextEra Energy will deliver to such Holder its common stock, $0.01 par value, issued in accordance with each related Purchase Contract. Any amount of the Put Price remaining following settlement of each such Purchase Contract will be delivered to the Purchase Contract Agent for the benefit of such Holder.

The Put Right of a Holder of the Securities of this series that are not part of a Corporate Unit shall only be exercisable upon delivery to the Company, on or prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day immediately preceding the Purchase Contract Settlement Date, at the offices of the agency of the Company in New York City, the Securities of this series to be repaid with the form entitled "Option to Elect Repayment" on the reverse of or otherwise accompanying such Securities duly completed. Any such notice received by the Company shall be irrevocable. All questions as to the validity, eligibility (including time of receipt) and acceptance of the Securities of this series for repurchase shall be determined by the Company, whose determination shall be final and binding. The payment of the Put Price in respect of such Securities of this series shall be made, either through the Trustee or the Company acting as Paying Agent on the Purchase Contract Settlement Date.

The Securities of this series will be absolutely, irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed as to payment of principal, interest and premium, if any, by NextEra Energy, as Guarantor (the "Guarantor"), pursuant to a Guarantee Agreement, dated as of June 1, 1999, between the Guarantor and The Bank of New York Mellon (as Guarantee Trustee) (the "Guarantee Agreement"). The following shall constitute "Guarantor Events" with respect to the Securities of this series:

(A) the failure of the Guarantee Agreement to be in full force and effect;

(B) the entry by a court having jurisdiction with respect to the Guarantor of (i) a decree or order for relief in respect of the Guarantor in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or (ii) a decree or order adjudging the Guarantor bankrupt or insolvent, or approving as properly filed a petition by one or more entities other than the Guarantor seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition of or in respect of the Guarantor under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or appointing a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or other similar official for the Guarantor or for any substantial part of its property, or ordering the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and any such decree or order for relief or any such other decree or order shall have remained unstayed and in effect for a period of ninety (90) consecutive days; or

(C) the commencement by the Guarantor of a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or of any other case or proceeding seeking for the Guarantor to be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent, or the consent by the Guarantor to the entry of a decree or order for relief in respect of itself in a case or proceeding under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law or to the commencement of any bankruptcy or insolvency case or proceeding against the Guarantor, or the filing by the Guarantor of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganization or relief under any applicable Federal or State bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or the consent by the

Guarantor to the filing of such petition or to the appointment of or taking possession by a custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or similar official of the Guarantor or of any substantial part of its property, or the making by the Guarantor of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the admission by the Guarantor in writing of its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or the authorization of such action by the Board of Directors of the Guarantor.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Securities of this series, the Officer's Certificate, or the Indenture, the Company shall, if a Guarantor Event shall occur and be continuing, redeem all of the Outstanding Securities of this series within sixty (60) days after the occurrence of such Guarantor Event (the "Mandatory Redemption") at a Redemption Price specified below unless, within thirty (30) days after the occurrence of such Guarantor Event, S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc., and Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (if the Securities of this series are then rated by those rating agencies, or, if the Securities of this series are then rated by only one of those rating agencies, then such rating agency, or, if the Securities of this series are not then rated by either one of those rating agencies but are then rated by one or more other nationally recognized rating agencies, then at least one of those other nationally recognized rating agencies) shall have reaffirmed in writing that, after giving effect to such Guarantor Event, the credit rating on the Securities of this series shall be investment grade (i.e., in one of the four highest categories, without regard to subcategories within such rating categories, of such rating agency).

If the Mandatory Redemption occurs (i) prior to June 1, 2027 and if the Purchase Contracts have been previously or concurrently terminated, the Redemption Price for each Security of this series will be equal to the principal amount of such Security, (ii) prior to June 1, 2027, if the Purchase Contracts have not been so previously or concurrently terminated, the Redemption Price will be equal to the Redemption Amount for each Security of this series and such Redemption Price payable with respect to such Security that is a component of the Corporate Units at the time of the Mandatory Redemption will be distributed to the Collateral Agent on the date of Mandatory Redemption in exchange for each Security of this series pledged to the Collateral Agent, as provided in the Officer's Certificate; or (iii) on or after June 1, 2027, the Redemption Price will be equal to the principal amount of each Security; in each case, together with accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but excluding, the date of Mandatory Redemption.

If a Guarantor Event occurs and the Company is not required to redeem the Securities of this series pursuant to the preceding paragraph, the Company will provide to the Trustee and the Holders of the Securities of this series annual and quarterly reports containing the information that the Company would be required to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission under Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 if it were subject to the reporting requirements of either of those Sections; provided, that if the Company is, at that time, subject to the reporting requirements of either of those Sections, the filing of annual and quarterly reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to either of those Sections will satisfy the foregoing requirement.

The Indenture contains provisions for defeasance at any time of the entire indebtedness of this Security upon compliance with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture, including the Officer's Certificate described above.

If an Event of Default with respect to Securities of this series shall occur and be continuing, the principal of and interest on the Securities of this series may be declared due and payable in the manner and with the effect provided in the Indenture.

The Indenture permits, with certain exceptions as therein provided, the amendment thereof and the modification of the rights and obligations of the Company and the rights of the Holders of the Securities of each series to be affected by such amendment to the Indenture at any time by the Company and the Trustee with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Securities at the time Outstanding of all series to be thus affected. The Indenture also contains provisions permitting the Holders of specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of each series at the time Outstanding, on behalf of the Holders of all Securities of such series, to waive compliance by the Company with certain provisions of the Indenture and certain past defaults under the Indenture and their consequences. Any such consent or waiver by Holders of the specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of this series shall be conclusive and binding upon all current and future Holders of this Security and of any Security issued upon the registration of transfer hereof or in exchange herefor or in lieu hereof, whether or not notation of such consent or waiver is made upon this Security.

As provided in and subject to the provisions of the Indenture, the Holder of this Security shall not have the right to institute any proceeding with respect to the Indenture or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or for any other remedy thereunder, unless such Holder shall have previously given the Trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default with respect to the Securities of this series, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing shall have made written request to the Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default as Trustee and offered the Trustee reasonable indemnity, and the Trustee shall not have received from the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing a direction inconsistent with such request, and shall have failed to institute any such proceeding, for sixty (60) days after receipt of such notice, request and offer of indemnity. The foregoing shall not apply to any suit instituted by the Holder of this Security for the enforcement of any payment of principal hereof or any premium or interest hereon on or after the respective due dates expressed herein.

No reference herein to the Indenture and no provision of this Security or of the Indenture shall alter or impair the obligation of the Company, which is absolute and unconditional, to pay the principal of and any premium and interest on this Security at the times, place and rate, and in the coin or currency, herein prescribed.

The Securities of this series are issuable only in registered form without coupons in denominations of $1,000 and integral multiples thereof, except as provided for in the Officer's Certificate. As provided in the Indenture and subject to certain limitations therein set forth and set forth in the Officer's Certificate, Securities of this series are exchangeable for a like aggregate principal amount of Securities of this series and of like tenor and of authorized denominations, as requested by the Holder surrendering the same.

No service charge shall be made for any such registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection therewith.

The Company, the Trustee and any agent of the Company or the Trustee may treat the Person in whose name this Security is registered as the absolute owner hereof for all purposes, whether or not this Security be overdue, and none of the Company, the Trustee or any such agent shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

OFFICER'S CERTIFICATE

Creating the Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074

Jose Briceno, Assistant Treasurer of Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company"), pursuant to the authority granted in the accompanying Board Resolutions (all capitalized terms used herein which are not defined herein or in Exhibit A hereto, but which are defined in the Indenture referred to below, shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture), and pursuant to Sections 201 and 301 of the Indenture, does hereby certify to The Bank of New York Mellon (the "Trustee"), as Trustee under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities) dated as of November 1, 2017 between the Company and the Trustee (the "Indenture"), that:

1. The securities to be issued under the Indenture in accordance with this certificate shall be designated "Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074" (referred to herein as the "Notes of the Fifteenth Series") and shall be issued in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

2. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall be issued by the Company in the initial aggregate principal amount of $167,105,000. Additional Notes of the Fifteenth Series, without limitation as to amount, having the same terms as the Outstanding Notes of the Fifteenth Series (except for the issue date of the additional Notes of the Fifteenth Series and, if applicable, the initial Interest Payment Date (as defined in Exhibit A hereto)) may also be issued by the Company pursuant to the Indenture without the consent of the Holders of the then-Outstanding Notes of the Fifteenth Series. Any such additional Notes of the Fifteenth Series as may be issued pursuant to the Indenture from time to time shall be part of the same series as the then-Outstanding Notes of the Fifteenth Series.

3. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall mature and the principal shall be due and payable, together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the Stated Maturity Date, subject to the right of the Company to shorten the Maturity (as defined in Exhibit A hereto) upon a Tax Event as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto. The "Stated Maturity Date" means July 2, 2074.

4. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall bear interest as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

5. Each installment of interest on a Note of the Fifteenth Series shall be payable as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

6. Registration of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series, and registration of transfers and exchanges in respect of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series, may be effectuated at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York. Notices and demands to or upon the Company in respect of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series may be served at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, New York. The Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee will initially be the agency of the Company for such payment, registration, registration of transfers and exchanges and service of notices and demands, and the Company hereby appoints the Trustee as its agent for all such purposes; provided, however, that the Company reserves the right to change, by one or more Officer's Certificates, any such office or agency and such agent. The Trustee will initially be the Security Registrar and the Paying Agent for the Notes of the Fifteenth Series.

7. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series will be redeemable at the option of the Company prior to the Stated Maturity Date as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

8. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall be repayable at the option of a Holder of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series as provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

9. So long as all of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series are held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date for the interest payable on any given Interest Payment Date with respect to the Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall be the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date; provided, however, that if any of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series are not held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date will be the close of business on the fifteenth (15th) calendar day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date.

10. If the Company shall make any deposit of money and/or Eligible Obligations with respect to any Notes of the Fifteenth Series, or any portion of the principal amount thereof, as contemplated by Section 701 of the Indenture, the Company shall not deliver an Officer's Certificate described in clause (z) in the first paragraph of said Section 701 unless the Company shall also deliver to the Trustee, together with such Officer's Certificate, either:

(A) an instrument wherein the Company, notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of its indebtedness in respect of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series, shall assume the obligation (which shall be absolute and unconditional) to irrevocably deposit with the Trustee or Paying Agent such additional sums of money, if any, or additional Eligible Obligations (meeting the requirements of said Section 701), if any, or any combination thereof, at such time or times, as shall be necessary, together with the money and/or Eligible Obligations theretofore so deposited, to pay when due the principal of and premium, if any, and interest due and to become due on such Notes of the Fifteenth Series or portions thereof, all in accordance with and subject to the provisions of said Section 701; provided, however, that such instrument may state that the obligation of the Company to make additional deposits as aforesaid shall be subject to the delivery to the Company by the Trustee of a notice asserting the deficiency; or

(B) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that, as a result of (i) the receipt by the Company from, or the publication by, the Internal Revenue Service of a ruling or (ii) a change in law occurring after the date of this certificate, the Holders of such Notes of the Fifteenth Series, or the applicable portion of the principal amount thereof, will not recognize income, gain or loss for United States federal income tax purposes as a result of the satisfaction and discharge of the Company's indebtedness in respect thereof and will be subject to United States federal income tax on the same amounts, at the same times and in the same manner as if such satisfaction and discharge had not been effectuated.

11. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series will be initially issued in global form registered in the name of Cede & Co. (as nominee for The Depository Trust Company). The Notes of the Fifteenth Series in global form shall bear the depository legend in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series in global form will contain restrictions on transfer, substantially as described in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

12. No service charge shall be made for the registration of transfer or exchange of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series; provided, however, that the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with such transfer or exchange.

13. The Eligible Obligations with respect to the Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall be the Government Obligations and the Investment Securities.

14. The Notes of the Fifteenth Series shall have such other terms and provisions as are provided in the form set forth as Exhibit A hereto.

15. The undersigned has read all of the covenants and conditions contained in the Indenture relating to the issuance of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series and the definitions in the Indenture relating thereto and in respect of which this certificate is made.

16. The statements contained in this certificate are based upon the familiarity of the undersigned with the Indenture, the documents accompanying this certificate, and upon discussions by the undersigned with officers and employees of the Company familiar with the matters set forth herein.

17. In the opinion of the undersigned, he or she has made such examination or investigation as is necessary to enable him or her to express an informed opinion as to whether or not such covenants and conditions have been complied with.

18. In the opinion of the undersigned, such conditions and covenants and conditions precedent, if any (including any covenants compliance with which constitutes a condition precedent), to the authentication and delivery of the Notes of the Fifteenth Series requested in the accompanying Company Order No. 16 have been complied with.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have executed this Officer's Certificate on behalf of the Company this 1st day of July, 2024 in New York, New York.

[FORM OF FACE OF NOTE]

FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

FLOATING RATE NOTES, SERIES DUE JULY 2, 2074

FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Florida (herein referred to as the "Company," which term includes any successor Person under the Indenture (as defined below)), for value received, hereby promises to pay to

, or registered assigns, the principal amount specified on Schedule I hereto, on July 2, 2074 (the "Stated Maturity Date"). The Company further promises to pay interest on the principal sum of this Floating Rate Note, Series due July 2, 2074 (this "Security") to the registered Holder hereof at the Interest Rate (as defined on the reverse of this Security), in like coin or currency, quarterly on January 2, April 2, July 2, and October 2 of each year (each an "Interest Payment Date") until the principal hereof is paid or duly provided for, such interest payments to commence on October 2, 2024. Interest on the Securities of this series will accrue (i) from and including July 1, 2024 to but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and thereafter will accrue from and including the last Interest Payment Date to which interest has either been paid or duly provided for to but excluding the next Interest Payment Date, (ii) in the case of the last such period, from and including the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date (as defined on the reverse of this Security), as the case may be, to but excluding the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date, respectively, or (iii) in the case of a redemption or a repayment of the Securities of this series, from and including the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding a Redemption Date or a Repayment Date (each, as defined on the reverse of this Security), as the case may be, to but excluding such Redemption Date or Repayment Date, respectively (each an "Interest Period"). No interest will accrue on the Securities of this series with respect to the day on which the Securities of this series mature. The amount of interest payable for any Interest Period will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year and the actual number of days in the Observation Period (as defined on the reverse of this Security). The interest so payable, and punctually paid or duly provided for, on an Interest

Payment Date will, as provided in the Indenture referred to on the reverse of this Security (the "Indenture"), be payable to the Person in whose name this Security (or one or more Predecessor Securities) is registered at the close of business on the "Regular Record Date" for such interest installment, which shall be the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date so long as all of the Securities of this series are held by a securities depository in book-entry form; provided that if any of the Securities of this series are not held by a securities depository in book-entry form, the Regular Record Date will be the close of business on the fifteenth (15th) calendar day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date; and provided further that interest payable on the Stated Maturity Date, the New Maturity Date (as defined on the reverse of this Security), a Redemption Date or a Repayment Date will be paid to the same Person to whom the associated principal is to be paid. Any such interest not punctually paid or duly provided for will forthwith cease to be payable to the Person who is the Holder of this Security on such Regular Record Date and may be paid to the Person in whose name this Security (or one or more Predecessor Securities) is registered at the close of business on a Special Record Date to be fixed by the Trustee for the payment of such Defaulted Interest, notice of which shall be given to Holders of Securities of this series not less than ten (10) days prior to such Special Record Date, or may be paid at any time in any other lawful manner not inconsistent with the requirements of any securities exchange on which the Securities of this series may be listed, and upon such notice as may be required by such exchange, all as more fully provided in the Indenture.

Payment of the principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on this Security will be made at the office or agency of the Company maintained for that purpose in New York City, the State of New York in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts; provided, however, that, at the option of the Company, interest on this Security may be paid by check mailed to the address of the Person entitled thereto, as such address shall appear on the Security Register or by a wire transfer to an account designated by the Person entitled thereto.

Reference is hereby made to the further provisions of this Security set forth on the reverse of this Security, which further provisions shall for all purposes have the same effect as if set forth at this place. (All capitalized terms used in this Security which are not defined herein, including the reverse of this Security, but which are defined in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate, shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture or in the Officer's Certificate.)

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Trustee referred to on the reverse of this Security by manual signature, this Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company has caused this instrument to be duly executed in

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICATION

Dated:

This is one of the Securities of the series designated therein referred to in the within-mentioned Indenture

THE BANK OF NEW YORK MELLON, as Trustee

By:_____
Authorized Signatory

[FORM OF REVERSE OF NOTE]

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of securities of the Company (herein called the "Securities"), issued and to be issued in one or more series under an Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017 (herein called the "Indenture," which term shall have the meaning assigned to it in such instrument), between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee (herein called the "Trustee," which term includes any successor trustee under the Indenture), and reference is hereby made to the Indenture, including the Board Resolutions and Officer's Certificate filed with the Trustee on July 1, 2024 creating the series designated on the face hereof (herein called the "Officer's Certificate"), for a statement of the respective rights, limitations of rights, duties and immunities thereunder of the Company, the Trustee and the Holders of the Securities of this series and of the terms upon which the Securities of this series are, and are to be, authenticated and delivered. This Security is one of the series designated on the face hereof.

Interest and Payment.

The Securities of this series shall bear interest at a variable rate per annum (the "Interest Rate") equal to Compounded SOFR (as defined below), minus 0.35% (negative 0.35%, the "Margin").

If any Interest Payment Date falls on a day that is not a Business Day (as defined below), the Company will make the interest payment on the next succeeding Business Day unless that Business Day is in the next succeeding calendar month, in which case (other than in the case of the Stated Maturity Date, the New Maturity Date, a Redemption Date or a Repayment Date) the Company will make the interest payment on the immediately preceding Business Day. If an interest payment is made on the next succeeding Business Day, no interest will accrue as a result of the delay in payment. If the Stated Maturity Date, the New Maturity Date, a Redemption Date or a Repayment Date of the Securities of this series falls on a day that is not a Business Day, the payment due on such date will be postponed to the next succeeding Business Day, and no further interest will accrue in respect of such postponement.

On each Interest Payment Determination Date (as defined below) relating to the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Calculation Agent (as defined below) will calculate the amount of accrued interest payable on the Securities of this series by multiplying (i) the outstanding principal amount of the Securities of this series by (ii) the product of (a) the Interest Rate for the relevant Interest Period multiplied by (b) the quotient of the actual number of calendar days in such Observation Period divided by 360. In no event will the interest rate on the Securities of this series be less than zero.

"Calculation Agent" means a banking institution or trust company appointed by the Company to act as calculation agent, initially The Bank of New York Mellon.

Compounded SOFR. "Compounded SOFR" will be determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the following formula (and the resulting percentage will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point):

"SOFR Index$_{Start}$" = For periods other than the initial Interest Period, the SOFR Index value on the preceding Interest Payment Determination Date, and, for the initial Interest Period, the SOFR Index value on June 27, 2024;

"SOFR Index$_{End}$" = The SOFR Index value on the Interest Payment Determination Date relating to the applicable Interest Payment Date (or, in the final Interest Period, relating to the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date, as the case may be, or, in the case of a redemption or repayment of the Securities of this series, as the case may be, relating to the applicable Redemption Date or Repayment Date, respectively); and

"d_c" is the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period.

For purposes of determining Compounded SOFR,

"Interest Payment Determination Date" means the date that is two U.S. Government Securities Business Days before each Interest Payment Date (or, in the final Interest Period, before the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date, as the case may be, or, in the case of a redemption or repayment of the Securities of this series, as the case may be, before the applicable Redemption Date or Repayment Date, respectively).

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from and including the date that is two U.S. Government Securities Business Days preceding the first date in such Interest Period to but excluding the date that is two U.S. Government Securities Business Days preceding the Interest Payment Date for such Interest Period (or, in the final Interest Period, preceding the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date, as the case may be, or, in the case of a redemption or a repayment of the Securities of this series, as the case may be, preceding the applicable Redemption Date or Repayment Date, respectively).

"SOFR Index" means, with respect to any U.S. Government Securities Business Day:

(1) the SOFR Index value as published by the SOFR Administrator (as defined below) as such index appears on the SOFR Administrator's Website at 3:00 p.m. (New York time) on such U.S. Government Securities Business Day (the "SOFR Index Determination Time"); provided that:

(2) if a SOFR Index value does not so appear as specified in (1) above at the SOFR Index Determination Time, then: (i) if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date (each, as defined below) have not occurred with respect to SOFR, then Compounded SOFR shall be the rate determined pursuant to the "SOFR Index Unavailable Provisions" described below, or (ii) if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to SOFR, then Compounded SOFR shall be the rate determined pursuant to the "Effect of Benchmark Transition Event" provisions described below.

"SOFR" means the daily secured overnight financing rate as provided by the SOFR Administrator on the SOFR Administrator's Website.

"SOFR Administrator" means the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (or a successor administrator of SOFR).

"SOFR Administrator's Website" means the website of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, currently at http://www.newyorkfed.org, or any successor source.

"U.S. Government Securities Business Day" means any day except for a Saturday, Sunday or a day on which the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association recommends that the fixed income departments of its members be closed for the entire day for purposes of trading in U.S. government securities.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Securities of this series, the Officer's Certificate or the Indenture, if the Company or its designee (which may be an independent financial advisor or any other designee of the Company (any of such entities, a "Designee")) determines on or prior to the relevant Reference Time (as defined below) that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to determining Compounded SOFR, then the benchmark replacement provisions set forth below under "Effect of Benchmark Transition Event" will thereafter apply to all determinations of the rate of interest payable on the Securities of this series.

For the avoidance of doubt, in accordance with the benchmark replacement provisions, after a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the Interest Rate for each Interest Period on the Securities of this series will be an annual rate equal to the sum of the Benchmark Replacement and the applicable margin.

SOFR Index Unavailable Provisions. If a SOFR $\text{Index}_{\text{Start}}$ or SOFR $\text{Index}_{\text{End}}$ is not published on the associated Interest Payment Determination Date and a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have not occurred with respect to SOFR, "Compounded SOFR" means, for the applicable Interest Period for which such index is not available, the rate of return on a daily compounded interest investment calculated in accordance with the formula for SOFR Averages, and definitions required for such formula, published on the SOFR Administrator's Website, currently located at https://www.newyorkfed.org/markets/reference-rates/additional-information-about-reference-rates. For the purposes of this provision, references in the SOFR Averages compounding formula and related definitions to "calculation period" shall be replaced with "Observation Period" and the words "that is, 30-, 90-, or 180-calendar days" shall be removed. If SOFR does not so appear for any day "i" in the Observation Period, SOFR, for such day "i" shall be SOFR published in respect of the first preceding U.S. Government Securities Business Day for which SOFR was published on the SOFR Administrator's Website.

Absent willful misconduct, bad faith or manifest error, the calculation of the applicable Interest Rate for each Interest Period by the Calculation Agent, or in certain circumstances described below, by the Company (or its Designee) will be final and binding on the Company, the Trustee, and the Holders of the Securities of this series.

None of the Trustee, Paying Agent, Security Registrar or Calculation Agent shall be under any obligation (i) to monitor, determine or verify the unavailability or cessation of SOFR or the SOFR Index, or whether or when there has occurred, or to give notice to any other transaction party of the occurrence of, any Benchmark Transition Event or related Benchmark Replacement Date, (ii) to select, determine or designate any Benchmark Replacement, or other successor or replacement benchmark index, or whether any conditions to the designation of such a rate or index have been satisfied, (iii) to select, determine or designate any Benchmark Replacement Adjustment (as defined below), or other modifier to any replacement or successor index, or (iv) to determine whether or what Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes (as defined below) are necessary or advisable, if any, in connection with any of the foregoing. In connection with the foregoing, each of the Trustee, Paying Agent and Registrar and Calculation Agent shall be entitled to conclusively rely on any determinations made by the Company (or its Designee) without independent investigation, and none will have any liability for actions taken at the direction of the Company in connection therewith.

None of the Trustee, Paying Agent, Security Registrar or Calculation Agent shall be liable for any inability, failure or delay on its part to perform any of its duties described in the Securities of this series, the Officer's Certificate or the Indenture as a result of the unavailability of SOFR, the SOFR Index or other applicable Benchmark Replacement, including as a result of any failure, inability, delay, error or inaccuracy on the part of any other transaction party in providing any direction, instruction, notice or information contemplated by the Securities of this series, the Officer's Certificate or the Indenture and reasonably required for the performance of such duties. In connection with any determinations made under the subsection "Effect of Benchmark Transition Event" below, none of the Trustee, Paying Agent, Registrar or Calculation Agent shall be responsible or liable for the actions or omissions of the Company (or its Designee), or for any failure or delay in the performance by the Company (or its Designee), nor shall any of the Trustee, Paying Agent, Registrar or Calculation Agent be under any obligation to oversee or monitor the performance of the Company (or its Designee).

Effect of Benchmark Transition Event

Benchmark Replacement. If the Company (or its Designee) determines that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred prior to the Reference Time in respect of any determination of the Benchmark on any date, the Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Securities of this series in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes. In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Company (or its Designee) will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Company (or its Designee) pursuant to the benchmark replacement provisions described in this subsection "Effect of Benchmark Transition Event," including any determination with respect to tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection, will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error, will be made in the Company's (or its Designee's) sole discretion, and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Securities of this series, the Officer's Certificate or the Indenture, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Securities of this series or any other party.

Certain Defined Terms. As used herein, the following terms have the following meanings:

"Benchmark" means, initially, Compounded SOFR; provided that if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to Compounded SOFR (or the published SOFR Index used in the calculation thereof) or the then-current Benchmark, then "Benchmark" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement.

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Company (or its Designee) as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

(1) the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;

(2) the sum of: (a) the ISDA Fallback Rate and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment; and

(3) the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Company (or its Designee) as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current Benchmark for U.S. dollar denominated floating rate notes at such time and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

"Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Company (or its Designee) as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

(1) the spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero), that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body for the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement;

(2) if the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement is equivalent to the ISDA Fallback Rate, then the ISDA Fallback Adjustment; and

(3) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Company (or its Designee) giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement for U.S. dollar denominated floating rate notes at such time.

The Benchmark Replacement Adjustment shall not include the Margin specified herein and such Margin shall be applied to the Benchmark Replacement to determine the interest payable on the Securities of this series.

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any technical, administrative or operational changes (including changes to the definitions or interpretations of "Interest Period," the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, the rounding of amounts or tenors, and other administrative matters) that the Company (or its Designee) decides may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Company (or its Designee) decides that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Company (or its Designee) determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Company (or its Designee) determines is reasonably necessary or practicable).

"Benchmark Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

(1) in the case of clause (1) or (2) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event," the later of (a) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (b) the date on which the administrator of the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide the Benchmark; or

(2) in the case of clause (3) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event," the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the Benchmark Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the Reference Time in respect of any determination, the Benchmark Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the Reference Time for such determination.

"Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

(1) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark;

(2) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark, or

(3) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that the Benchmark is no longer representative.

"Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or a Sunday, which is not a day on which banking institutions or trust companies in New York City are generally authorized or required by law or executive order to remain closed.

"ISDA Definitions" means the 2021 ISDA Definitions published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. or any successor thereto, as amended or supplemented from time to time, or any successor definitional booklet for interest rate derivatives published from time to time.

"ISDA Fallback Adjustment" means the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the ISDA Definitions to be determined upon the occurrence of an index cessation event with respect to the Benchmark for the applicable tenor.

"ISDA Fallback Rate" means the rate that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the ISDA Definitions to be effective upon the occurrence of an index cessation date with respect to the Benchmark for the applicable tenor excluding the applicable ISDA Fallback Adjustment.

"Reference Time" with respect to any determination of the Benchmark means (1) if the Benchmark is Compounded SOFR, the SOFR Index Determination Time, as such time is defined above, and (2) if the Benchmark is not Compounded SOFR, the time determined by the Company (or its Designee) in accordance with the Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes.

"Relevant Governmental Body" means the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York or any successor thereto.

"Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement" means the Benchmark Replacement excluding the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

Optional Redemption.

On or after July 2, 2054, the Securities of this series shall be redeemable, at any time or from time to time, at the option of the Company, in whole or in part (each a "Redemption Date"), upon notice (the "Redemption Notice") which is required by the Indenture to be mailed at least ten (10) days but not more than sixty (60) days prior to a Redemption Date, in amounts of $1,000 or any multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof, at the following redemption prices (in each case expressed as a percentage of the principal amount) (each a "Redemption Price"), if redeemed during the six-month periods beginning on January 2 or July 2 as set forth below:

Six-month period beginning on	Redemption Price
July 2, 2054	105.00%
January 2, 2055	105.00%

July 2, 2063	100.50%
January 2, 2064	100.50%
July 2, 2064	100.00%

and thereafter at 100% of the principal amount of the Securities of this series being redeemed plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest, if any, on the Securities of this series being redeemed to but excluding the Redemption Date.

If at the time a Redemption Notice is given, the redemption moneys are not on deposit with the Trustee, then, if such notice so provides, the redemption shall be subject to the receipt of the redemption moneys on or before the Redemption Date and such Redemption Notice shall be of no force or effect unless such moneys are received.

Upon payment of the Redemption Price, on and after the Redemption Date interest will cease to accrue on the Securities of this series or portions thereof called for redemption Repayment at Option of a Holder.

The Securities of this series will be repayable at the option of a Holder of a Security of this series, in whole or in part, upon notice as described below, on the following dates (each a "Repayment Date") and at the repayment prices (in each case expressed as a percentage of the principal amount) as set forth below:

Repayment Date	Repayment price
July 2, 2025	98.00%
January 2, 2026	98.00%
July 2, 2026	98.00%

January 2, 2033	99.00%
July 2, 2033	99.00%
January 2, 2034	99.00%
July 2, 2034	99.00%
January 2, 2035	99.00%
July 2, 2035	100.00%

and on July 2 of every second year thereafter, through and including July 2, 2071, at 100% of the principal amount of the Securities of this series being repaid, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest, if any, on the Securities of this series being repaid, to but excluding the Repayment Date.

In order for a Security of this series to be repaid at the option of a Holder, the Trustee must receive, at least thirty (30) but not more than sixty (60) days before the Repayment Date,

(1) the Security of this series with the form entitled "Option to Elect Repayment" on the reverse of the Security of this series duly completed or

(2) an electronic transmission or a letter from a member of a national securities exchange or a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. or a commercial bank or trust company in the United States which must set forth:

- the name of the Holder of the Security of this series;

- the principal amount of the Security of this series;
- the principal amount of the Security of this series to be repaid;
- the certificate number or a description of the tenor and terms of the Security of this series; and
- a statement that the option to elect repayment is being exercised and a guarantee that the Security of this series to be repaid, together with the duly completed form entitled "Option to Elect Repayment" on the reverse of the Security of this series, will be received by the Trustee not later than the fifth Business Day after the date of that electronic transmission or letter.

The repayment option may be exercised by the Holder of a Security of this series for less than the entire principal amount of the Security of this series but, in that event, the principal amount of the Security of this series remaining Outstanding after repayment must be in an authorized denomination.

Conditional Right to Shorten Maturity.

If a Tax Event (as defined below) occurs, the Company will have the right to shorten the Maturity (as defined below) of the Securities of this series to a new date (the "New Maturity Date"), without the consent of the Holders of the Securities of this series,

- to the minimum extent required, in the opinion of nationally recognized independent tax counsel, so that, after shortening the Maturity, interest paid on the Securities of this series will be deductible for United States federal income tax purposes or
- if that counsel cannot opine definitively as to such a minimum period, the minimum extent so required to maintain the Company's interest deduction, in each case, to the extent deductible under current law, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors, after receipt of an opinion of that counsel regarding the applicable legal standards. In that case, the amount payable on the Securities of this series on the New Maturity Date will be equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Securities of this series plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, on the Securities of this series to but excluding the New Maturity Date. If the Company elects to exercise its right to shorten the Maturity of the Securities of this series when a Tax Event occurs, the Company will give notice to each Holder of Securities of this series not more than sixty (60) days after the occurrence of the Tax Event, stating the New Maturity Date of the Securities of this series. As used herein, the term "Maturity" means the Stated Maturity Date or the New Maturity Date, as the case may be.

"Tax Event" means that the Company shall have received an opinion of nationally recognized independent tax counsel to the effect that, as a result of:

- any amendment to, clarification of, or change (including any announced prospective amendment, clarification or change) in any law, or any regulation thereunder, of the United States;
- any judicial decision, official administrative pronouncement, ruling, regulatory procedure, regulation, notice or announcement, including any notice or announcement of intent to adopt or promulgate any ruling, regulatory procedure or regulation (any of the foregoing, an "administrative or judicial action"); or
- any amendment to, clarification of, or change in any official position with respect to, or any interpretation of, an administrative or judicial action or a law or regulation of the United States that differs from the previously generally accepted position or interpretation, in each case, occurring on or after June 27, 2024, there is more than an insubstantial increase in the risk that interest paid by the Company on the Securities of this series is not, or will not be, deductible, in whole or in part, by the Company for United States federal income tax purposes.

The Indenture contains provisions for defeasance at any time of the entire indebtedness of this Security upon compliance with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture, including the Officer's Certificate described above.

If an Event of Default with respect to Securities of this series shall occur and be continuing, the principal of and interest on the Securities of this series may be declared due and payable in the manner and with the effect provided in the Indenture.

The Indenture permits, with certain exceptions as therein provided, the amendment thereof and the modification of the rights and obligations of the Company and the rights of the Holders of the Securities of each series to be affected by such amendment to the Indenture at any time by the Company and the Trustee with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Securities at the time Outstanding of all series to be thus affected. The Indenture also contains provisions permitting the Holders of specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of each series at the time Outstanding, on behalf of the Holders of all Securities of such series, to waive compliance by the Company with certain provisions of the Indenture and certain past defaults under the Indenture and their consequences. Any such consent or waiver by Holders of the specified percentages in principal amount of the Securities of this series shall be conclusive and binding upon all current and future Holders of this Security and of any Security issued upon the registration of transfer hereof or in exchange herefor or in lieu hereof, whether or not notation of such consent or waiver is made upon this Security.

As provided in and subject to the provisions of the Indenture, the Holder of this Security shall not have the right to institute any proceeding with respect to the Indenture or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee or for any other remedy thereunder, unless such Holder shall have previously given the Trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default with respect to the Securities of this series, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing shall have made written request to the Trustee to institute proceedings in respect of such Event of Default as Trustee and offered the Trustee reasonable indemnity, and the Trustee shall not have received from the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of Securities of all series at the time Outstanding in respect of which an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing a direction inconsistent with such request, and shall have failed to institute any such proceeding, for sixty (60) days after receipt of such notice, request and offer of indemnity. The foregoing shall not apply to any suit instituted by the Holder of this Security for the enforcement of any payment of principal hereof or any premium or interest hereon on or after the respective due dates expressed herein.

No reference herein to the Indenture and no provision of this Security or of the Indenture shall alter or impair the obligation of the Company, which is absolute and unconditional, to pay the principal of and any premium and interest on this Security at the times, place and rate, and in the coin or currency, herein prescribed.

The Securities of this series are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $1,000 and integral multiples thereof. As provided in the Indenture and subject to certain limitations therein set forth, Securities of this series are exchangeable for a like aggregate principal amount of Securities of this series and of like tenor and of authorized denominations, as requested by the Holder surrendering the same.

No service charge shall be made for any such registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection therewith.

The Company, the Trustee and any agent of the Company or the Trustee may treat the Person in whose name this Security is registered as the absolute owner hereof for all purposes, whether or not this Security be overdue, and none of the Company, the Trustee or any such agent shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

Exhibit 10(a)

under the
NEXTERA ENERGY, INC. 2021 LONG TERM INCENTIVE PLAN

This Restricted Stock Award Agreement ("Agreement"), between NextEra Energy, Inc. (hereinafter called the "Company") and #ParticipantName+C# (hereinafter called the "Grantee") is dated #GrantDate#. All capitalized terms used in this Agreement which are not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan, as amended from time to time (the "Plan").

1. Grant of Restricted Stock Award. The Company hereby grants to the Grantee #QuantityGranted# shares of Stock, which shares (the "Awarded Shares") shall be subject to the restrictions set forth in sections 2, 3 and 4 hereof, as well as all other terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and in the Plan. The par value of the Awarded Shares shall be deemed paid by the promise by the Grantee to perform future Service to the Company or an Affiliate. Subject to the terms of section 3(d) hereof, the Grantee shall have the right to receive dividends on the Awarded Shares as and when paid.

2. Vesting–Restrictions and Limitations. (a) Subject to the limitations and other terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and in the Plan, the Awarded Shares shall vest, the Company shall remove all restrictions from the Awarded Shares and the Grantee shall obtain unrestricted ownership of the Awarded Shares on the later to occur of (i) #VestDate1#, or (ii) the date on which the Committee makes the certification described in section 2(b) hereof (the "Vest").

The period from the Grant Date of any Awarded Shares through the date immediately preceding the date on which such Awarded Shares vest shall, with respect to such Awarded Shares, be hereinafter referred to as the "Restricted Period."

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2(a) hereof, Vest shall be conditioned on, subject to and shall not occur until certification by the Committee (by resolution or in such other manner as the Committee deems appropriate) that the performance target established by the Committee for purposes of this Agreement (such performance target being hereinafter referred to as the "Performance Target") has been achieved. If the Committee does not or cannot certify that the Performance Target has been achieved by December 31, #3YRSAFTERGRANT#, then the Grantee shall forfeit the right to the Awarded Shares, and such Awarded Shares shall be cancelled.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 2(a), 2(b) and 4 hereof or any other provision of this Agreement or the Plan, if (i) the Grantee is a party to an Executive Retention Employment Agreement with the Company (as amended from time to time, "Retention Agreement") and has not waived his or her rights, either entirely or in pertinent part, under such Retention Agreement, and (ii) the Effective Date (as defined in the Retention Agreement) has occurred and the Employment Period (as defined in the Retention Agreement) has commenced and has not terminated pursuant to section 3(b) of the Retention Agreement, then the Awarded Shares shall vest upon or in connection with a Change of Control (as defined in the Retention Agreement), as provided in, and subject to the terms and conditions of, the Retention Agreement.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 2(a), 2(b) and 4 hereof or any other provision of this Agreement or the Plan, if (i) the Grantee is not a party to a Retention Agreement with the Company, and (ii) prior to the second anniversary of a Change in Control (as defined, as of the date hereof in the Plan for all purposes of this Agreement), the Grantee's Service is involuntarily terminated other than for Cause or Disability, the then-unvested Awarded Shares shall vest upon such termination.

(e) If as a result of a Change of Control (as defined in the Retention Agreement) or Change in Control, as applicable, the shares of Stock are exchanged for or converted into a different form of equity security and/or the right to receive other property (including cash), payment in respect of the Awarded Shares shall, to the maximum extent practicable, be made in the same form.

3. Terms and Conditions. The Awarded Shares shall be registered in the name of the Grantee effective on the Grant Date. The Company shall issue the Awarded Shares either (i) in certificated form, subject to a restrictive legend substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and stop transfer instructions to its transfer agent, and shall provide for retention of custody of the Awarded Shares prior to vesting and/or (ii) in the form of a book-entry or direct registration, subject to restrictions and instructions of like effect. Prior to vesting (and if the Awarded Shares have not theretofore been forfeited in accordance herewith), the Grantee shall have the right to enjoy all shareholder rights (including without limitation the right to receive dividends (subject to forfeiture as more fully set forth below) and to vote the Awarded Shares at all meetings of the shareholders of the Company at which holders of Stock have the right to vote) with the exception that:

(a) The Grantee shall not be entitled to delivery of unrestricted shares until vesting.

(b) The Grantee may not sell, transfer, assign, pledge or otherwise encumber or dispose of Awarded Shares prior to vesting thereof.

(c) In addition to the provisions set forth in section 4 hereof, a breach by the Grantee of the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement shall result in the immediate forfeiture of all then unvested Awarded Shares.

(d) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if all or a portion of the Awarded Shares do not vest, whether upon the termination of the Grantee's Service (including without limitation Service to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate), or otherwise (including without limitation if the Company fails to meet one or more Performance Targets established as described in section 2(b) hereof or if the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof), all dividends paid to the Grantee on Awarded Shares which have not vested (and which shall not thereafter vest in accordance with section 4 hereof) shall be forfeited, and shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues. For purposes hereof, such obligation to repay such dividends shall accrue (1) on such date as the Committee establishes that a Performance Target has not been met, as to all dividends paid on Awarded Shares which are forfeited due to failure to meet such Performance Target; (2) on the date of termination of Service, as to all dividends paid on Awarded Shares which are forfeited upon such termination of Service; and (3) upon forfeiture of unvested Awarded Shares upon a breach by the Grantee of the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement (including without limitation any such forfeiture occurring after termination of Service).

4. Termination of Service. Except as otherwise set forth herein, with respect to any Awarded Shares, the Grantee must remain in continuous Service (including to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate) from the effective date of this Agreement through the relevant vesting date for such Awarded Shares as set forth in (or determined in accordance with) section 2 hereof in order for such Awarded Shares to vest and in order to retain the dividends paid prior to vesting with respect to such Awarded Shares. Except as otherwise set forth (a) herein, (b) in the Plan in connection with a Change in Control if the Grantee is not a party to a Retention Agreement, or (c) in a Retention Agreement to which the Grantee is a party in connection with a Change of Control (as defined in such Retention Agreement), in the event that the Grantee's Service (including to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate) terminates for any reason (or converts to inactive status in the manner specified in Section 4(b) hereof) prior to vesting, his or her rights hereunder shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to resignation, discharge, or retirement prior to age 55 and does not meet the condition set forth in section 4(d) hereof, all rights to Awarded Shares not theretofore vested (including without limitation rights to dividends not theretofore paid and rights to retain dividends on Awarded Shares which have not theretofore vested, as more fully set forth in section 3(d) hereof) under this Agreement shall be immediately forfeited. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the Grantee's termination of Service.

(b) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to Disability or death, or if the Grantee converts to inactive employee status on account of a determination of such Grantee's total and permanent Disability under any long-term disability plan of the Company or an Affiliate (a "Disability Plan"), the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares shall vest (1) in the case of the Grantee's Disability, on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated or the Grantee has converted to inactive employee status on account of Disability under any Disability Plan, and (2) in the case of the Grantee's death, upon such termination of Service (treating the applicable Performance Targets in section 2 hereof as having been achieved).

(c) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to retirement on or after age 55 after completing at least ten years of continuous Service with the Company and does not meet the condition set forth in section 4(d) hereof, a pro rata share of the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares (determined as follows: (A) with respect to any unvested Awarded Shares included in the First Vest, the product of (x) the quotient (which shall not exceed 1.0) of (I) the total number of full days of the Grantee's Service completed during the Restricted Period divided by (II) 1,095, multiplied by (y) such unvested portion of the Awarded Shares, and rounded to the nearest share of Stock) shall vest on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. For purposes of this section 4(c), 0.5 of a share of Stock shall be rounded up to the nearest share. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or any portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any then-unvested Award Shares shall not vest if the Company's chief executive officer, or chief executive officer's delegate, objectively determines that the Grantee's retirement is detrimental to the Company.

(d) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to retirement on or after age 50, and if, but only if, such retirement is evidenced by a writing which specifically acknowledges that this provision shall apply to such retirement and is executed by the Company's chief executive officer (or, if the Grantee is an executive officer, by a member of the Committee or the chief executive officer at the direction of the Committee, other than with respect to himself), the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares shall vest on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues.

(e) If the Grantee's Service is terminated prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares for any reason other than as set forth in sections 4(a), (b), (c), and (d) hereof, or if an ambiguity exists as to the interpretation of those sections, the Committee shall determine whether the Grantee's then-unvested Awarded Shares shall be forfeited or whether the Grantee shall be entitled to full vesting or pro rata vesting as set forth above based upon completed days of service during the Restricted Period, and any Awarded Shares which may vest shall do so on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues.

(f) As a condition to this Restricted Stock Award, the Grantee hereby consents to the deduction from the Grantee's final paycheck of an amount necessary to satisfy any obligation to repay forfeited dividends arising pursuant to this Section 4.

5. Income Taxes. The Grantee shall notify the Company immediately of any election made with respect to this Agreement under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Upon vesting and delivery of Awarded Shares to the Grantee, the Company shall have the right to withhold from any such distribution, in order to meet the Company's obligations for the payment of withholding taxes, shares of Stock with a Fair Market Value equal to the minimum statutory withholding for taxes (including federal and state income taxes and payroll taxes applicable to the supplemental taxable income relating to such distribution) and any other tax liabilities for which the Company has an obligation relating to such distribution.

6. Nonassignability. The Grantee's rights and interest in the Awarded Shares may not be sold, transferred, assigned, pledged, exchanged, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of prior to vesting except by will or the laws of descent and distribution.

7. Effect Upon Employment. This Agreement is not to be construed as giving any right to the Grantee for continuous employment by the Company or a Subsidiary or other Affiliate. The Company and its Subsidiaries and other Affiliates retain the right to terminate the Grantee at will and with or without cause at any time (subject to any rights the Grantee may have under the Grantee's Retention Agreement).

8. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and shall be binding upon the Company and the Grantee and their respective heirs, successors and assigns.

9. Protective Covenants. In consideration of the Awarded Shares granted under this Agreement, the Grantee covenants and agrees as follows: (the "Protective Covenants"):

(a) During the Grantee's Service with the Company, and for a two-year period following the termination of the Grantee's Service with the Company, the Grantee agrees not to (i) compete or attempt to compete for, or act as a broker or otherwise participate in, any projects in which the Company has at any time done any work or undertaken any development efforts, or (ii) directly or indirectly solicit any of the Company's customers, vendors, contractors, agents, or any other parties with which the Company has an existing or prospective business relationship, for the benefit of the Grantee or for the benefit of any third party, nor shall the Grantee accept consideration or negotiate or enter into agreements with such parties for the benefit of the Grantee or any third party.

(b) During the Grantee's Service with the Company, and for a two-year period following the termination of the Grantee's Service with the Company, the Grantee shall not, directly or indirectly, on behalf of the Grantee or for any other business, person or entity, entice, induce or solicit or attempt to entice, induce or solicit any employee of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates to leave the Company's employ (or the employ of such Subsidiary or other Affiliate) or to hire or to cause any employee of the Company to become employed for any reason whatsoever.

(c) The Grantee shall not, at any time or in any way, disparage the Company or its current or former officers, directors, and employees, orally or in writing, or make any statements that may be derogatory or detrimental to the Company's good name or business reputation.

(d) The Grantee acknowledges that the Company would not have an adequate remedy at law for monetary damages if the Grantee breaches these Protective Covenants. Therefore, in addition to all remedies to which the Company may be entitled for a breach or threatened breach of these Protective Covenants, including but not limited to monetary damages, the Company shall be entitled to specific enforcement of these Protective Covenants and to injunctive or other equitable relief as a remedy for a breach or threatened breach. In addition, upon any breach of these Protective Covenants or any separate confidentiality agreement or confidentiality provision between the Company and the Grantee, all the Grantee's rights to receive theretofore unvested Awarded Shares and dividends relating thereto under this Agreement shall be forfeited.

(e) The Grantee shall hold in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of the Company all secret or confidential information, knowledge or data relating to the Company, and their respective businesses, which shall have been obtained by the Grantee during the Grantee's employment by the Company and which shall not be or become public knowledge (other than by acts of the Grantee or representatives of the Grantee in violation of this Agreement). After termination of the Grantee's employment with the Company, the Grantee shall not, without the prior written consent of the Company or as may otherwise be required by law or legal process, communicate or divulge any such information, knowledge or data to anyone other than the Company and those designated by it.

(f) For purposes of this section 9, the term "Company" shall include all Subsidiaries and other Affiliates of the Company (such Subsidiaries and other Affiliates being hereinafter referred to as the "NextEra Entities"). The Company and the Grantee agree that each of the NextEra Entities is an intended third-party beneficiary of this section 9, and further agree that each of the NextEra Entities is entitled to enforce the provisions of this section 9 in accordance with its terms.

(g) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the terms of these Protective Covenants shall survive the termination of this Agreement and shall remain in effect.

10. Incorporation of Plan's Terms; Other Governing Provisions. This Agreement is made under and subject to the provisions of the Plan, and all the provisions of the Plan are also provisions of this Agreement, provided, however, (a) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the mandatory provisions of the Plan, such mandatory provisions of the Plan shall govern, (b) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the non-mandatory provisions of the Plan, the provisions of this Agreement shall govern, and (c) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and/or a provision of the Plan with a provision of a Retention Agreement, such provision of such Retention Agreement shall govern. Any Retention Agreement constitutes "another agreement with the Grantee" within the meaning of the Plan (including without limitation sections 17.3 and 17.4 thereof). The Company and the Committee retain all authority and powers granted by the Plan and not expressly limited by this Agreement. The Grantee acknowledges that he or she may not and shall not rely on any statement of account or other communication or document issued in connection with the Plan other than the Plan, this Agreement, and any document signed by an authorized representative of the Company that is designated as an amendment of the Plan or this Agreement.

11. Interpretation. The Committee shall have the authority to interpret and construe all provisions of this Agreement, and any such interpretation or construction, and any other determination contemplated to be made under the Plan or this Agreement, by the Committee shall be final, binding and conclusive, absent manifest error.

12. Governing Law/Jurisdiction/Waiver of Jury Trial. This Agreement shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, without regard to its conflict of laws principles. All suits, actions, and proceedings relating to this Agreement or the Plan shall be brought only in the courts of the State of Florida located in Palm Beach County or in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida in West Palm Beach, Florida. The Company and the Grantee hereby consent to the personal jurisdiction of the courts described in this section 12 for the purpose of all suits, actions, and proceedings relating to the Agreement or the Plan. The Company and the Grantee each waive all objections to venue and to all claims that a court chosen in accordance with this section 12 is improper based on a venue or a forum non conveniens claim.

TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES HEREBY KNOWINGLY, VOLUNTARILY AND INTENTIONALLY WAIVE ANY RIGHT WHICH ANY PARTY MAY HAVE TO TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY PROCEEDING, LITIGATION OR COUNTERCLAIM BASED ON, OR ARISING OUT OF, UNDER OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS AGREEMENT.

13. Amendment. This Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part and in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, at any time and from time to time, by written agreement between the Company and the Grantee.

14. Adjustments. If the number of outstanding shares of Stock is increased or decreased or the shares of Stock are changed into or exchanged for a different number of shares or kind of capital stock or other securities of the Company on account of any recapitalization, reclassification, stock split, reverse stock split, spin-off, combination of stock, exchange of stock, stock dividend or other distribution payable in capital stock, or other increase or decrease in shares of Stock effected without receipt of consideration by the Company, then the number of Awarded Shares shall be adjusted proportionately. No adjustment shall be made in connection with the payment by the Company of any ordinary cash dividend on its Stock or in connection with the issuance by the Company of any warrants, rights, or options to acquire additional shares of Stock or of securities convertible into Stock.

15. Data Privacy. By entering into this Agreement, the Grantee: (i) authorizes the Company or any of the NextEra Entities, and any agent of the Company or any of the NextEra Entities administering the Plan or providing Plan recordkeeping services, to disclose to the Company or any of the NextEra Entities such information and data as the Company or any such NextEra Entities shall reasonably request in order to facilitate the administration of this Agreement; and (ii) authorizes the Company or any of the NextEra Entities to store and transmit such information in electronic form, provided such information is appropriately safeguarded in accordance with Company policy.

By signing this Agreement, the Grantee accepts and agrees to all of the foregoing terms and provisions and to all the terms and provisions of the Plan incorporated herein by reference and confirms that the Grantee has received a copy of the Plan.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date and year first above written.

LEGEND TO BE PLACED ON STOCK CERTIFICATE

The shares represented by this certificate are subject to the provisions of the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan (the "Plan") and a Restricted Stock Award Agreement (the "Agreement") between the holder hereof and NextEra Energy, Inc. and may not be sold or transferred except in accordance therewith. Copies of the Plan and Agreement are kept on file by the Executive Services Department of NextEra Energy, Inc.

Exhibit 10(b)

under the
NEXTERA ENERGY, INC. 2021 LONG TERM
INCENTIVE PLAN

This Restricted Stock Award Agreement ("Agreement"), between NextEra Energy, Inc (hereinafter called the "Company") and #ParticipantName+C# (hereinafter called the "Grantee") is dated #GrantDate#. All capitalized terms used in this Agreement which are not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan, as amended from time to time (the "Plan").

1. Grant of Restricted Stock Award. The Company hereby grants to the Grantee #QuantityGranted# shares of Stock, which shares (the "Awarded Shares") shall be subject to the restrictions set forth in sections 2, 3 and 4 hereof, as well as all other terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and in the Plan. The par value of the Awarded Shares shall be deemed paid by the promise by the Grantee to perform future Service to the Company or an Affiliate. Subject to the terms of section 3(d) hereof, the Grantee shall have the right to receive dividends on the Awarded Shares as and when paid.

2. Vesting–Restrictions and Limitations. (a) Subject to the limitations and other terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and in the Plan, the Awarded Shares shall vest, the Company shall remove all restrictions from the Awarded Shares and the Grantee shall obtain unrestricted ownership of the Awarded Shares on the later to occur of (i) #VestDate1#, or (ii) the date on which the Committee makes the certification described in section 2(b) hereof (the "Vest");

The period from the Grant Date of any Awarded Shares through the date immediately preceding the date on which such Awarded Shares vest shall, with respect to such Awarded Shares, be hereinafter referred to as the "Restricted Period."

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2(a) hereof, Vest shall be conditioned on, subject to and shall not occur until certification by the Committee (by resolution or in such other manner as the Committee deems appropriate) that the performance target established by the Committee for purposes of this Agreement (such performance target being hereinafter referred to as the "Performance Target") has been achieved. If the Committee does not or cannot certify that the Performance Target has been achieved by December 31, #4YRSAFTERGRANT#, then the Grantee shall forfeit the right to the Awarded Shares, and such Awarded Shares shall be cancelled.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 2(a), 2(b) and 4 hereof or any other provision of this Agreement or the Plan, if (i) the Grantee is a party to an Executive Retention Employment Agreement with the Company (as amended from time to time, "Retention Agreement") and has not waived his or her rights, either entirely or in pertinent part, under such Retention Agreement, and (ii) the Effective Date (as defined in the Retention Agreement) has occurred and the Employment Period (as defined in the Retention Agreement) has commenced and has not terminated pursuant to section 3(b) of the Retention Agreement, then the Awarded Shares shall vest upon or in connection with a Change of Control (as defined in the Retention Agreement), as provided in, and subject to the terms and conditions of, the Retention Agreement.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 2(a), 2(b) and 4 hereof or any other provision of this Agreement or the Plan, if (i) the Grantee is not a party to a Retention Agreement with the Company, and (ii) prior to the second anniversary of a Change in Control (as defined, as of the date hereof in the Plan for all purposes of this Agreement), the Grantee's Service is involuntarily terminated other than for Cause or Disability, the then-unvested Awarded Shares shall vest upon such termination.

(e) If as a result of a Change of Control (as defined in the Retention Agreement) or Change in Control, as applicable, the shares of Stock are exchanged for or converted into a different form of equity security and/or the right to receive other property (including cash), payment in respect of the Awarded Shares shall, to the maximum extent practicable, be made in the same form.

3. Terms and Conditions. The Awarded Shares shall be registered in the name of the Grantee effective on the Grant Date. The Company shall issue the Awarded Shares either (i) in certificated form, subject to a restrictive legend substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and stop transfer instructions to its transfer agent, and shall provide for retention of custody of the Awarded Shares prior to vesting and/or (ii) in the form of a book-entry or direct registration, subject to restrictions and instructions of like effect. Prior to vesting (and if the Awarded Shares have not theretofore been forfeited in accordance herewith), the Grantee shall have the right to enjoy all shareholder rights (including without limitation the right to receive dividends (subject to forfeiture as more fully set forth below) and to vote the Awarded Shares at all meetings of the shareholders of the Company at which holders of Stock have the right to vote) with the exception that:

(a) The Grantee shall not be entitled to delivery of unrestricted shares until vesting.

(b) The Grantee may not sell, transfer, assign, pledge or otherwise encumber or dispose of Awarded Shares prior to vesting thereof.

(c) In addition to the provisions set forth in section 4 hereof, a breach by the Grantee of the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement shall result in the immediate forfeiture of all then unvested Awarded Shares.

(d) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if all or a portion of the Awarded Shares do not vest, whether upon the termination of the Grantee's Service (including without limitation Service to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate), or otherwise (including without limitation if the Company fails to meet one or more Performance Targets established as described in section 2(b) hereof or if the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof), all dividends paid to the Grantee on Awarded Shares which have not vested (and which shall not thereafter vest in accordance with section 4 hereof) shall be forfeited, and shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues. For purposes hereof, such obligation to repay such dividends shall accrue (1) on such date as the Committee establishes that a Performance Target has not been met, as to all dividends paid on Awarded Shares which are forfeited due to failure to meet such Performance Target; (2) on the date of termination of Service, as to all dividends paid on Awarded Shares which are forfeited upon such termination of Service; and (3) upon forfeiture of unvested Awarded Shares upon a breach by the Grantee of the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement (including without limitation any such forfeiture occurring after termination of Service).

4. Termination of Service. Except as otherwise set forth herein, with respect to any Awarded Shares, the Grantee must remain in continuous Service (including to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate) from the effective date of this Agreement through the relevant vesting date for such Awarded Shares as set forth in (or determined in accordance with) section 2 hereof in order for such Awarded Shares to vest and in order to retain the dividends paid prior to vesting with respect to such Awarded Shares. Except as otherwise set forth (a) herein, (b) in the Plan in connection with a Change in Control if the Grantee is not a party to a Retention Agreement, or (c) in a Retention Agreement to which the Grantee is a party in connection with a Change of Control (as defined in such Retention Agreement), in the event that the Grantee's Service (including to any successors to the Company or an Affiliate) terminates for any reason (or converts to inactive status in the manner specified in Section 4(b) hereof) prior to vesting, his or her rights hereunder shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to resignation, discharge, or retirement prior to age 55 and does not meet the condition set forth in section 4(d) hereof, all rights to Awarded Shares not theretofore vested (including without limitation rights to dividends not theretofore paid and rights to retain dividends on Awarded Shares which have not theretofore vested, as more fully set forth in section 3(d) hereof) under this Agreement shall be immediately forfeited. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the Grantee's termination of Service.

(b) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to Disability or death, or if the Grantee converts to inactive employee status on account of a determination of such Grantee's total and permanent Disability under any long-term disability plan of the Company or an Affiliate (a "Disability Plan"), the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares shall vest (1) in the case of the Grantee's Disability, on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated or the Grantee has converted to inactive employee status on account of Disability under any Disability Plan, and (2) in the case of the Grantee's death, upon such termination of Service (treating the applicable Performance Targets in section 2 hereof as having been achieved).

(c) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to retirement on or after age 55 after completing at least ten years of continuous Service with the Company and does not meet the condition set forth in section 4(d) hereof, a pro rata share of the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares (determined as follows: (A) with respect to any unvested Awarded Shares included in the First Vest, the product of (x) the quotient (which shall not exceed 1 0) of (I) the total number of full days of the Grantee's Service completed during the Restricted Period divided by (II) 1,460, multiplied by (y) such unvested portion of the Awarded Shares, and rounded to the nearest share of Stock) shall vest on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. For purposes of this section 4(c), 0.5 of a share of Stock shall be rounded up to the nearest share. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or any portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any then-unvested Award Shares shall not vest if the Company's chief executive officer, or chief executive officer's delegate, objectively determines that the Grantee's retirement is detrimental to the Company.

(d) If the Grantee's termination of Service is due to retirement on or after age 50, and if, but only if, such retirement is evidenced by a writing which specifically acknowledges that this provision shall apply to such retirement and is executed by the Company's chief executive officer (or, if the Grantee is an executive officer, by a member of the Committee or the chief executive officer at the direction of the Committee, other than with respect to himself), the then-unvested portion of the Awarded Shares shall vest on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues.

(e) If the Grantee's Service is terminated prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares for any reason other than as set forth in sections 4(a), (b), (c), and (d) hereof, or if an ambiguity exists as to the interpretation of those sections, the Committee shall determine whether the Grantee's then-unvested Awarded Shares shall be forfeited or whether the Grantee shall be entitled to full vesting or pro rata vesting as set forth above based upon completed days of service during the Restricted Period, and any Awarded Shares which may vest shall do so on the vesting schedule and otherwise in accordance with the terms and conditions (including without limitation satisfaction of the applicable Performance Targets) set forth in section 2 hereof, notwithstanding that the Grantee's Service shall have previously terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after termination of Service but prior to vesting of all or a portion of the Awarded Shares, the Grantee breaches any provision hereof, including without limitation the provisions of section 9 hereof, the Grantee shall immediately forfeit all rights to the then-unvested Awarded Shares and any dividends theretofore paid on such then-unvested Awarded Shares. Forfeited dividends shall be repaid to the Company within thirty (30) days after the date on which the Grantee's obligation to repay such dividends accrues.

(f) As a condition to this Restricted Stock Award, the Grantee hereby consents to the deduction from the Grantee's final paycheck of an amount necessary to satisfy any obligation to repay forfeited dividends arising pursuant to this Section 4.

5. Income Taxes. The Grantee shall notify the Company immediately of any election made with respect to this Agreement under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Upon vesting and delivery of Awarded Shares to the Grantee, the Company shall have the right to withhold from any such distribution, in order to meet the Company's obligations for the payment of withholding taxes, shares of Stock with a Fair Market Value equal to the minimum statutory withholding for taxes (including federal and state income taxes and payroll taxes applicable to the supplemental taxable income relating to such distribution) and any other tax liabilities for which the Company has an obligation relating to such distribution.

6. Nonassignability. The Grantee's rights and interest in the Awarded Shares may not be sold, transferred, assigned, pledged, exchanged, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of prior to vesting except by will or the laws of descent and distribution.

7. Effect Upon Employment. This Agreement is not to be construed as giving any right to the Grantee for continuous employment by the Company or a Subsidiary or other Affiliate. The Company and its Subsidiaries and other Affiliates retain the right to terminate the Grantee at will and with or without cause at any time (subject to any rights the Grantee may have under the Grantee's Retention Agreement).

8. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and shall be binding upon the Company and the Grantee and their respective heirs, successors and assigns.

9. Protective Covenants. In consideration of the Awarded Shares granted under this Agreement, the Grantee covenants and agrees as follows: (the "Protective Covenants"):

(a) During the Grantee's Service with the Company, and for a two-year period following the termination of the Grantee's Service with the Company, the Grantee agrees not to (i) compete or attempt to compete for, or act as a broker or otherwise participate in, any projects in which the Company has at any time done any work or undertaken any development efforts, or (ii) directly or indirectly solicit any of the Company's customers, vendors, contractors, agents, or any other parties with which the Company has an existing or prospective business relationship, for the benefit of the Grantee or for the benefit of any third party, nor shall the Grantee accept consideration or negotiate or enter into agreements with such parties for the benefit of the Grantee or any third party.

(b) During the Grantee's Service with the Company, and for a two-year period following the termination of the Grantee's Service with the Company, the Grantee shall not, directly or indirectly, on behalf of the Grantee or for any other business, person or entity, entice, induce or solicit or attempt to entice, induce or solicit any employee of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates to leave the Company's employ (or the employ of such Subsidiary or other Affiliate) or to hire or to cause any employee of the Company to become employed for any reason whatsoever.

(c) The Grantee shall not, at any time or in any way, disparage the Company or its current or former officers, directors, and employees, orally or in writing, or make any statements that may be derogatory or detrimental to the Company's good name or business reputation.

(d) The Grantee acknowledges that the Company would not have an adequate remedy at law for monetary damages if the Grantee breaches these Protective Covenants. Therefore, in addition to all remedies to which the Company may be entitled for a breach or threatened breach of these Protective Covenants, including but not limited to monetary damages, the Company shall be entitled to specific enforcement of these Protective Covenants and to injunctive or other equitable relief as a remedy for a breach or threatened breach. In addition, upon any breach of these Protective Covenants or any separate confidentiality agreement or confidentiality provision between the Company and the Grantee, all the Grantee's rights to receive theretofore unvested Awarded Shares and dividends relating thereto under this Agreement shall be forfeited.

(e) The Grantee shall hold in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of the Company all secret or confidential information, knowledge or data relating to the Company, and their respective businesses, which shall have been obtained by the Grantee during the Grantee's employment by the Company and which shall not be or become public knowledge (other than by acts of the Grantee or representatives of the Grantee in violation of this Agreement). After termination of the Grantee's employment with the Company, the Grantee shall not, without the prior written consent of the Company or as may otherwise be required by law or legal process, communicate or divulge any such information, knowledge or data to anyone other than the Company and those designated by it.

(f) For purposes of this section 9, the term "Company" shall include all Subsidiaries and other Affiliates of the Company (such Subsidiaries and other Affiliates being hereinafter referred to as the "NextEra Entities"). The Company and the Grantee agree that each of the NextEra Entities is an intended third-party beneficiary of this section 9, and further agree that each of the NextEra Entities is entitled to enforce the provisions of this section 9 in accordance with its terms.

(g) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the terms of these Protective Covenants shall survive the termination of this Agreement and shall remain in effect.

10. Incorporation of Plan's Terms; Other Governing Provisions. This Agreement is made under and subject to the provisions of the Plan, and all the provisions of the Plan are also provisions of this Agreement, provided, however, (a) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the mandatory provisions of the Plan, such mandatory provisions of the Plan shall govern, (b) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the non-mandatory provisions of the Plan, the provisions of this Agreement shall govern, and (c) if there is a difference or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and/or a provision of the Plan with a provision of a Retention Agreement, such provision of such Retention Agreement shall govern. Any Retention Agreement constitutes "another agreement with the Grantee" within the meaning of the Plan (including without limitation sections 17.3 and 17.4 thereof). The Company and the Committee retain all authority and powers granted by the Plan and not expressly limited by this Agreement. The Grantee acknowledges that he or she may not and shall not rely on any statement of account or other communication or document issued in connection with the Plan other than the Plan, this Agreement, and any document signed by an authorized representative of the Company that is designated as an amendment of the Plan or this Agreement.

11. Interpretation. The Committee shall have the authority to interpret and construe all provisions of this Agreement, and any such interpretation or construction, and any other determination contemplated to be made under the Plan or this Agreement, by the Committee shall be final, binding and conclusive, absent manifest error.

12. Governing Law/Jurisdiction/Waiver of Jury Trial. This Agreement shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, without regard to its conflict of laws principles. All suits, actions, and proceedings relating to this Agreement or the Plan shall be brought only in the courts of the State of Florida located in Palm Beach County or in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida in West Palm Beach, Florida. The Company and the Grantee hereby consent to the personal jurisdiction of the courts described in this section 12 for the purpose of all suits, actions, and proceedings relating to the Agreement or the Plan. The Company and the Grantee each waive all objections to venue and to all claims that a court chosen in accordance with this section 12 is improper based on a venue or a forum non conveniens claim.

TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE PARTIES HEREBY KNOWINGLY, VOLUNTARILY AND INTENTIONALLY WAIVE ANY RIGHT WHICH ANY PARTY MAY HAVE TO TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY PROCEEDING, LITIGATION OR COUNTERCLAIM BASED ON, OR ARISING OUT OF, UNDER OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS AGREEMENT.

13. Amendment. This Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part and in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, at any time and from time to time, by written agreement between the Company and the Grantee.

14. Adjustments. If the number of outstanding shares of Stock is increased or decreased or the shares of Stock are changed into or exchanged for a different number of shares or kind of capital stock or other securities of the Company on account of any recapitalization, reclassification, stock split, reverse stock split, spin-off, combination of stock, exchange of stock, stock dividend or other distribution payable in capital stock, or other increase or decrease in shares of Stock effected without receipt of consideration by the Company, then the number of Awarded Shares shall be adjusted proportionately. No adjustment shall be made in connection with the payment by the Company of any ordinary cash dividend on its Stock or in connection with the issuance by the Company of any warrants, rights, or options to acquire additional shares of Stock or of securities convertible into Stock.

15. Data Privacy. By entering into this Agreement, the Grantee: (i) authorizes the Company or any of the NextEra Entities, and any agent of the Company or any of the NextEra Entities administering the Plan or providing Plan recordkeeping services, to disclose to the Company or any of the NextEra Entities such information and data as the Company or any such NextEra Entities shall reasonably request in order to facilitate the administration of this Agreement; and (ii) authorizes the Company or any of the NextEra Entities to store and transmit such information in electronic form, provided such information is appropriately safeguarded in accordance with Company policy.

By signing this Agreement, the Grantee accepts and agrees to all of the foregoing terms and provisions and to all the terms and provisions of the Plan incorporated herein by reference and confirms that the Grantee has received a copy of the Plan.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date and year first above written.

Exhibit 10(c)

EXECUTIVE RETENTION EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

Executive Retention Employment Agreement between NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation (the "Company"), and Brian Bolster. (the "Executive"), dated as of May 6, 2024. The Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") has determined that it is in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders to assure that the Company and its Affiliated Companies will have the continued dedication of the Executive, notwithstanding the possibility, threat or occurrence of a Potential Change of Control or a Change of Control (each as defined below) of the Company. The Board believes it is imperative to diminish the inevitable distraction of the Executive by virtue of the personal uncertainties and risks created by the circumstances surrounding a Potential Change of Control or a Change of Control and to encourage the Executive's full attention and dedication to the Company and its Affiliated Companies currently and in the event of any Potential Change of Control or Change of Control (and, under certain circumstances, in the event of the termination or abandonment of a Change of Control transaction), and to provide the Executive with compensation and benefits arrangements which ensure that the compensation and benefits expectations of the Executive will be satisfied and which are competitive with those of other corporations which may compete with the Company for the services of the Executive. Therefore, in order to accomplish these objectives, the Board has caused the Company to enter into this Executive Retention Employment Agreement (this "Agreement").

Therefore, the Company and the Executive agree as follows:

1. Effective Date; Term.

(a) Effective Date. The effective date of this Agreement (the "Effective Date") shall be the date on which (i) a Potential Change of Control occurs, (ii) the Company's shareholders approve a plan of complete liquidation or dissolution of the Company, (iii) a Change of Control occurs pursuant to Section 2(a)(1) or (2) below, or (iv) a definitive agreement is signed by the Company which provides for a transaction that, if approved by shareholders or consummated, as applicable, would result in a Change of Control pursuant to Section 2(a)(3) or (4) below; provided, however, that any of the foregoing which may have occurred prior to the date hereof shall be disregarded. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, if, prior to the Effective Date, the Executive's employment with the Company or its Affiliated Companies was terminated by the Company or its Affiliated Companies, or both, as applicable, other than for Cause or Disability (each as defined below) or by the Executive for Good Reason (as defined below) and the Executive can reasonably demonstrate that such termination (or the event constituting Good Reason) took place (a) at the request or direction of a third party who took action that caused a Potential Change of Control or (b) in contemplation of an event that would give rise to an Effective Date, an Effective Date will be deemed to have occurred ("Deemed Effective Date") immediately prior to the Date of Termination (as defined in Section 6(e) below), provided that a Change of Control occurs within a six-month period following such Date of Termination. As used in this Agreement, the term "Affiliated Companies" shall include any corporation or other entity controlled by, controlling or under common control with the Company and the term "Subsidiary" shall mean (x) any corporation or other entity (other than the Company) with respect to which the Company owns, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock or other ownership interests or (y) any other related entity which may be designated by the Board as a Subsidiary, provided such entity could be considered a subsidiary according to generally accepted accounting principles.

(b) Term. The term of this Agreement shall commence on May 6, 2024 and end on May 6, 2026 ("Initial Term"). However, at the end of the Initial Term, and, if extended, at the end of each additional year thereafter, so long as the Executive is still an employee of the Company, the term of this Agreement will be automatically extended for another year, unless the Company shall have provided written notice to the Executive at least six months before the end of the then-current term that it does not want the term to be extended. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement shall not terminate during the Employment Period.

2. Change of Control; Potential Change of Control.

For the purposes of this Agreement:

(a) A "Change of Control" shall mean the first (and only the first) to occur of the following:

(1) The acquisition by any individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")) of beneficial ownership (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of 20% or more of either (x) the then outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (the "Outstanding Company Common Stock") or (y) the combined voting power of the then outstanding voting securities of the Company entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (the "Outstanding Company Voting Securities"); provided, however, that the following acquisitions (collectively, the "Excluded Acquisitions") shall not constitute a Change of Control (it being understood that shares acquired in an Excluded Acquisition may nevertheless be considered in determining whether any subsequent acquisition by such individual, entity or group (other than an Excluded Acquisition) constitutes a Change of Control): (i) any acquisition directly from the Company or any Subsidiary; (ii) any acquisition by the Company or any Subsidiary; (iii) any acquisition by any employee benefit plan (or related trust) sponsored or maintained by the Company or any Subsidiary; (iv) any acquisition by an underwriter temporarily holding Company securities pursuant to an offering of such securities; (v) any acquisition in connection with which, pursuant to Rule 13d-1 promulgated pursuant to the Exchange Act, the individual, entity or group is permitted to, and actually does, report its beneficial ownership on Schedule 13G (or any successor Schedule); provided that, if any such individual, entity or group subsequently becomes required to or does report its beneficial ownership on Schedule 13D (or any successor Schedule), then, for purposes of this paragraph, such individual, entity or group shall be deemed to have first acquired, on the first date on which such individual, entity or group becomes required to or does so report, beneficial ownership of all of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and/or Outstanding Company Voting Securities beneficially owned by it on such date; or (vi) any acquisition in connection with a Business Combination (as hereinafter defined) which, pursuant to subparagraph (3) below, does not constitute a Change of Control; or

(2) Individuals who, as of the date hereof, constitute the Board (the "Incumbent Board") cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority of the Board; provided, however, that any individual becoming a director subsequent to the date hereof whose election, or nomination for election by the Company's shareholders, was approved by a vote of at least a majority of the directors then comprising the Incumbent Board shall be considered as though such individual were a member of the Incumbent Board, but excluding, for this purpose, any such individual whose initial assumption of office occurs as a result of either an actual or threatened election contest with respect to the election or removal of directors or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents by or on behalf of an individual, entity or group other than the Board; or

(3) Consummation by the Company of a reorganization, merger, consolidation or other business combination (any of the foregoing, a "Business Combination") of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company with any other corporation, in any case with respect to which:

(i) the Outstanding Company Voting Securities outstanding immediately prior to such Business Combination do not, immediately following such Business Combination, continue to represent (either by remaining outstanding or being converted into voting securities of the resulting or surviving entity or any ultimate parent thereof) more than 55% of the outstanding common stock and of the then outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors of the resulting or surviving entity (or any ultimate parent thereof); or

(ii) less than a majority of the members of the board of directors of the resulting or surviving entity (or any ultimate parent thereof) in such Business Combination (the "New Board") consists of individuals ("Continuing Directors") who were members of the Incumbent Board (as defined in subparagraph (2) above) immediately prior to consummation of such Business Combination (excluding from Continuing Directors for this purpose, however, any individual whose election or appointment to the Board was at the request, directly or indirectly, of the entity which entered into the definitive agreement with the Company or any Subsidiary providing for such Business Combination); or

(4) (i) Consummation of a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company, other than to a corporation with respect to which, following such sale or other disposition, more than 55% of, respectively, the then outstanding shares of common stock of such corporation and the combined voting power of the then outstanding voting securities of such corporation entitled to vote generally in the election of directors is then beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, by all or substantially all of the individuals and entities who were the beneficial owners, respectively, of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities immediately prior to such sale or other disposition in substantially the same proportion as their ownership, immediately prior to such sale or other disposition, of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities as the case may be; or (ii) shareholder approval of a complete liquidation or dissolution of the Company

The term "the sale or disposition by the Company of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company" shall mean a sale or other disposition transaction or series of related transactions involving assets of the Company or of any Subsidiary (including the stock of any Subsidiary) in which the value of the assets or stock being sold or otherwise disposed of (as measured by the purchase price being paid therefor or by such other method as the Board determines is appropriate in a case where there is no readily ascertainable purchase price) constitutes more than two-thirds of the fair market value of the Company (as hereinafter defined). The "fair market value of the Company" shall be the aggregate market value of the then Outstanding Company Common Stock (on a fully diluted basis) plus the aggregate market value of the Company's other outstanding equity securities The aggregate market value of the shares of Outstanding Company Common Stock shall be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Outstanding Company Common Stock (on a fully diluted basis) outstanding on the date of the execution and delivery of a definitive agreement with respect to the transaction or series of related transactions (the "Transaction Date") by the average closing price of the shares of Outstanding Company Common Stock for the ten trading days immediately preceding the Transaction Date. The aggregate market value of any other equity securities of the Company shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the immediately preceding sentence for determining the aggregate market value of the shares of Outstanding Company Common Stock or by such other method as the Board shall determine is appropriate.

(b) A "Potential Change of Control" shall be deemed to have occurred if an event set forth in either of the following subparagraphs shall have occurred:

(1) the Company or any individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Exchange Act)publicly announces or otherwise communicates to the Board in writing an intention to take or to consider taking actions (e.g., a "bear hug" letter, an unsolicited offer or the commencement of a proxy contest) which, if consummated or approved by shareholders, as applicable, would constitute a Change of Control; or

(2) any individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Exchange Act) directly or indirectly, acquires beneficial ownership of 15% or more of the Outstanding Company Common Stock or Outstanding Company Voting Securities; provided, however, that Excluded Acquisitions shall not constitute a Potential Change of Control.

3. Employment Period.

(a) The Company hereby agrees to continue the Executive in its or its Affiliated Companies' employ, or both, as the case may be, and the Executive hereby agrees to remain in the employ of the Company, or its Affiliated Companies, or both, as the case may be, subject to the terms of this Agreement, for a period commencing on the Effective Date and ending on the third anniversary of the Effective Date (such period or, if shorter, the period from the Effective Date to the Date of Termination, is hereinafter referred to as the "Employment Period").

(b) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, (x) if an Effective Date occurs (other than as a result of a Change of Control under Section 2(a)(1) or (2) above) and the Board adopts a resolution to the effect that the event or circumstance giving rise to the Effective Date no longer exists (including by reason of the termination or abandonment of the transaction contemplated by the definitive agreement referred to in clause (iv) of Section 1 hereof), the Employment Period shall terminate on the date the Board adopts such resolution, but this Agreement shall otherwise remain in effect, and (y) if a Change of Control occurs pursuant to Section 2(a)(3) or (4) above during the Employment Period, the Employment Period shall immediately extend to and end on the third anniversary of the date of such Change of Control (or, if earlier, to the Date of Termination) and a new Effective Date will be deemed to have occurred on the date of such Change of Control.

4. Position and Duties.

During the Employment Period, the Executive's titles and reporting requirements with the Company or its Affiliated Companies or both, as the case may be, shall be commensurate with those in effect during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date. The duties and responsibilities assigned to the Executive may be increased, decreased or otherwise changed during the Employment Period, provided that the duties and responsibilities assigned to the Executive at any given time are not a material diminution of the Executive's titles and reporting requirements as in effect during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date. The Executive's services shall be performed at the location where the Executive was employed immediately preceding the Effective Date or any location less than 50 miles from such location, although the Executive understands and agrees that he may be required to travel from time to time for business purposes.

During the Employment Period, and excluding any periods of vacation and sick leave to which the Executive is entitled, the Executive agrees to devote substantially all of his time and attention during normal business hours to the business and affairs of the Company and its Affiliated Companies and to use his reasonable best efforts to perform faithfully and efficiently the duties and responsibilities assigned to him hereunder. During the Employment Period it shall not be a violation of this Agreement for the Executive to serve on corporate, civic or charitable boards or committees, deliver lectures, fulfill speaking engagements or teach at educational institutions and devote reasonable amounts of time to the management of his and his family's personal investments and affairs, so long as such activities do not significantly interfere with the performance of the Executive's responsibilities as an employee of the Company or its Affiliated Companies in accordance with this Agreement. It is expressly understood and agreed that to the extent that any such activities have been conducted by the Executive prior to the Effective Date, the reinstatement or continued conduct of such activities (or the reinstatement or conduct of activities similar in nature and scope thereto) subsequent to the Effective Date shall not thereafter be deemed to interfere with the performance of the Executive's responsibilities to the Company and its Affiliated Companies.

5. Compensation.

During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be compensated as follows:

(a) Annual Base Salary. The Executive shall be paid an annual base salary ("Annual Base Salary"), in equal biweekly installments or otherwise in accordance with the Company's then-current payroll practice, at least equal to the annual rate of base salary being paid to the Executive by the Company and its Affiliated Companies as of the Effective Date. The Annual Base Salary shall be reviewed at least annually and shall be increased substantially consistent with increases in base salary generally awarded to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies. Any increase in Annual Base Salary shall not serve to limit or reduce any other obligation to the Executive under this Agreement. Annual Base Salary shall not be reduced after any such increase and the term "Annual Base Salary" as utilized in this Agreement shall refer to Annual Base Salary as so increased.

(b) Annual Bonus. In addition to Annual Base Salary, upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this paragraph (b), the Executive shall, for each fiscal year ending during the Employment Period, be entitled to an annual cash bonus (the "Annual Bonus") opportunity equal to a percentage of his Annual Base Salary. Such percentage shall be substantially consistent with the targeted percentages generally awarded to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies, but at least equal to the higher of (i) the percentage obtained by dividing his targeted annual bonus for the then current fiscal year by his then Annual Base Salary or (ii) the average percentage of his annual base salary (as in effect for the applicable years) that was paid or payable, including by reason of any deferral, to the Executive by the Company and its Affiliated Companies as an annual bonus (however described, including as annual incentive compensation) for each of the three fiscal years immediately preceding the fiscal year in which the Effective Date occurs (or, if higher, for each of the three fiscal years immediately preceding the fiscal year in which a Change of Control occurs, if a Change of Control occurs following the Effective Date). For the purposes of any calculation required to be made under clause (ii) of the preceding sentence, an annual bonus shall be annualized for any fiscal year consisting of less than twelve full months or with respect to which the Executive was employed for, and received pro-rated annual incentive compensation with respect to, less than the full twelve months, and, if the Executive has not been employed for the full duration of the three fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which the Effective Date occurs, the average shall be calculated over the duration of the Executive's employment in such period. Each such Annual Bonus shall be paid no later than the end of the second month of the fiscal year next following the fiscal year for which the Annual Bonus is awarded, unless the Executive otherwise elects to defer the receipt of such Annual Bonus in accordance with a deferred compensation plan of the Company or its Affiliated Companies that complies with Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"). The foregoing provisions of this paragraph (b) shall be qualified by the following terms and conditions.

(c) Long Term Incentive Compensation. During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be entitled to participate in all incentive compensation plans, practices, policies, and programs applicable generally to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies, but in no event shall such plans, practices, policies, and programs provide the Executive with incentive opportunities and potential benefits, both as to amount and percentage of compensation, less favorable, in the aggregate, than those provided by the Company and its Affiliated Companies for the Executive under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan (or its successor) (including, without limitation, performance share awards, stock option grants and restricted stock awards), or other plan providing for the grant of equity compensation for executive officers, as in effect at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, those provided generally at any time after the Effective Date to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies.

(d) Savings and Retirement Plans. During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be entitled to participate in all savings and retirement plans (whether tax-qualified or non-qualified plans), practices, policies, and programs applicable generally to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies, but in no event shall such plans, practices, policies, and programs provide the Executive with savings opportunities and retirement benefit opportunities, in each case, less favorable, in the aggregate, than the most favorable of those provided by the Company and its Affiliated Companies for the Executive under such plans, practices, policies, and programs as in effect at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, those provided generally at any time after the Effective Date to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies.

(e) Benefit Plans. During the Employment Period, the Executive and/or the Executive's family, as the case may be, shall be eligible for participation in and shall receive all benefits under welfare benefit plans, practices, policies, and programs provided by the Company and its Affiliated Companies (including, without limitation, medical, executive medical, annual executive physical, prescription, dental, vision, short-term disability, long-term disability, executive long-term disability, salary continuance, employee life, group life, accidental death and dismemberment, and travel accident insurance plans and programs) to the extent applicable generally to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies, but in no event shall such plans, practices, policies, and programs provide the Executive with benefits which are less favorable, in the aggregate, than the most favorable of such plans, practices, policies, and programs in effect for the Executive at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, those provided generally at any time after the Effective Date to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies.

(f) Expenses. During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be entitled to receive prompt reimbursement for all reasonable expenses incurred by the Executive in accordance with the most favorable policies, practices, and procedures of the Company and its Affiliated Companies in effect for the Executive at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, as in effect generally at any time thereafter with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies. The payment of such reimbursements shall be made within thirty (30) days after submission of requests for reimbursement in accordance with applicable policies and procedures of the Company. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 5(f) or elsewhere, reimbursement of expenses will be made consistent with the Company's Expense Reimbursement Policy, which is intended to comply with the requirements of Code Section 409A and Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-3(i)(1)(iv).

(g) Fringe Benefits. During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be entitled to fringe benefits in accordance with the most favorable plans, practices, programs, and policies of the Company and its Affiliated Companies in effect for the Executive at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, as in effect generally at any time thereafter with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies.

(h) Vacation. During the Employment Period, the Executive shall be entitled to paid vacation in accordance with the most favorable plans, policies, programs, and practices of the Company and its Affiliated Companies as in effect for the Executive at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, as in effect generally at any time thereafter with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies. In addition to, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the preceding sentence, any unused vacation days shall be carried over from year to year in accordance with Company policy as in effect immediately prior to the commencement of the Employment Period.

6. Termination of Employment.

(a) Death or Disability. The Executive's employment shall terminate automatically upon the Executive's death during the Employment Period. If the Company determines in good faith that the Disability of the Executive has occurred during the Employment Period (pursuant to the definition of Disability set forth below), it may give to the Executive written notice in accordance with Section 14(b) of this Agreement of its intention to terminate the Executive's employment. In such event, the Executive's employment with the Company shall terminate effective on the 30th day after receipt of such notice by the Executive (the "Disability Effective Date"), provided that, within the 30 days after such receipt, the Executive shall not have returned to full-time performance of the Executive's duties. For purposes of this Agreement, "Disability" shall mean the absence of the Executive from the Executive's duties with the Company on a full-time basis for 180 consecutive business days as a result of incapacity due to mental or physical illness which is determined to be total and permanent by a physician selected by the Company or its insurers and acceptable to the Executive or the Executive's legal representative (such agreement as to acceptability not to be withheld unreasonably).

(b) Cause. The Company may terminate the Executive's employment during the Employment Period for Cause. For purposes of this Agreement, "Cause" shall mean (i) repeated violations by the Executive of the Executive's obligations under Section 4 of this Agreement (other than as a result of incapacity due to physical or mental illness) which are demonstrably willful and deliberate on the Executive's part, which are committed in bad faith or without reasonable belief that such violations are in the best interests of the Company and which are not remedied in a reasonable period of time after receipt of written notice from the Company specifying such violations (ii) material violation of the Company's Code of Business Conduct & Ethics; (iii) intentional misconduct that results in financial or reputational harm to the Company or its Affiliated Companies; (iv) violation of the Protective Covenants set forth in Section 11 below; or (v) the conviction of the Executive of a felony involving an act of dishonesty intended to result in substantial personal enrichment at the expense of the Company or its Affiliated Companies.

(c) Good Reason. The Executive's employment may be terminated during the Employment Period by the Executive for Good Reason. For purposes of this Agreement, "Good Reason" shall mean:

(1) any failure by the Company to comply with the provisions of Section 4 of this Agreement, including without limitation, the assignment to the Executive of any duties and responsibilities that are a material diminution of the Executive's duties and responsibilities as in effect during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date, but excluding for this purpose an isolated, insubstantial and inadvertent action not taken in bad faith and which is remedied by the Company promptly after receipt of written notice thereof given by the Executive or a diminution of duties or responsibility on account of the Executive's incapacity due to physical or mental illness;

(2) any failure by the Company to materially comply with any of the provisions of Section 5 of this Agreement, other than an isolated, insubstantial and inadvertent failure not occurring in bad faith and which is remedied by the Company promptly after receipt of notice thereof given by the Executive;

(3) the Company's requiring the Executive to be based at any office or location other than that described in Section 4 hereof;

(4) any purported termination by the Company of the Executive's employment other than as expressly permitted by this Agreement; or

(5) any failure by the Company to comply with and satisfy Section 13(c) of this Agreement, provided that such successor has received at least ten days' prior written notice from the Company or the Executive of the requirements of Section 13(c) of the Agreement.

For purposes of this Section 6(c), the written notice shall describe in sufficient detail the reason or condition that the Executive believes would permit the Executive to terminate his employment for Good Reason, and be provided by the Executive to the Company in accordance with Section 14(b) of this Agreement within ninety (90) days of the initial occurrence of such condition. Upon receipt of such notice, the Company shall have a period of not less than thirty (30) days to cure the condition, pursuant to reasonable procedures established by the Company consistent with Treas. Reg.

§1.409A-1(n). In the event that such condition is not cured, the Executive's employment shall terminate no later than thirty (30) days after the expiration of the thirty-day notice period.

(d) Notice of Termination. Any termination by the Company for Cause, or by the Executive for Good Reason, shall be communicated by Notice of Termination to the other party hereto given in accordance with Section 14(b) of this Agreement. For purposes of this Agreement, a "Notice of Termination" means a written notice which (i) indicates the specific termination provision in this Agreement relied upon, (ii) to the extent applicable, sets forth in reasonable detail the facts and circumstances claimed to provide a basis for termination of the Executive's employment under the provision so indicated, and (iii) if the Date of Termination (as defined below) is other than the date of receipt of such notice, specifies the termination date (which date shall be not more than fifteen calendar days after the giving of such notice). The failure by the Executive or the Company to set forth in the Notice of Termination any facts or circumstances which contribute to a showing of Good Reason or Cause shall not waive any right of the Executive or the Company, respectively, hereunder or preclude the Executive or the Company, respectively, from asserting such facts or circumstances in enforcing the Executive's or the Company's rights hereunder.

(e) Date of Termination. "Date of Termination" means (i) if the Executive's employment is terminated by the Company for Cause, or by the Executive for Good Reason, the date of receipt of the Notice of Termination or any later date specified therein, as the case may be, (ii) if the Executive's employment is terminated by the Company other than for Cause or Disability, the date on which the Company notifies the Executive of such termination, and (iii) if the Executive's employment is terminated by reason of death or Disability, the date of death of the Executive or the Disability Effective Date, as the case may be.

7. Obligations of the Company upon Termination.

(a) Following a Change of Control: Good Reason; Other Than for Cause or Disability. If following a Change of Control and during the Employment Period, the Company terminates the Executive's employment other than for Cause or Disability or death or the Executive terminates employment for Good Reason, then, subject to the Executive's satisfaction of the requirements of Sections 11 (Protective Covenants) and 14(g) (release of claims):

(1) the Company shall pay to the Executive in a lump sum in cash within 60 days after the Date of Termination the aggregate of the following amounts (such aggregate being hereinafter referred to as the "Special Termination Amount"):

(i) the sum of (1) the Executive's Annual Base Salary through the Date of Termination to the extent not theretofore paid ("Accrued Unpaid Salary"), (2) the product of (x) the Annual Bonus in effect at such date and (y) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the current fiscal year through the Date of Termination, and the denominator of which is 365, and (3) any accrued vacation pay at the Annual Base Salary rate in effect as of the termination of employment ("Vacation Pay"), in each case to the extent not theretofore paid (the sum of the amounts described in subclauses (1), (2), and (3) herein shall be called the "Accrued Obligations"); and

(ii) the amount equal to the product of (1) three, and (2) the sum of (x) the Executive's Annual Base Salary and (y) the Executive's Annual Bonus in effect at such date; provided, however, that such amount shall be paid in lieu of, and the Executive hereby waives the right to receive, any other amount of benefits under any severance or separation pay plan of the Company, including but not limited to the NextEra Energy, Inc. Executive Severance Benefit Plan); and

(iii) if the Change of Control hereunder is also a "change in ownership," a "change in effective control" or a "change in the ownership of a substantial portion of the assets" of the Company within the meaning of Code Section 409A, any compensation previously deferred by the Executive (together with any accrued interest or earnings thereon) including, without limitation, compensation, bonus, incentive compensation or awards deferred under the NextEra Energy, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan or incentive compensation or awards deferred under the FPL Group, Inc. Long-Term Incentive Plan of 1985, the FPL Group, Inc. Long-Term Incentive Plan of 1994, or pursuant to any individual deferral agreement; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, if the Change of Control hereunder is not any such event within the meaning of Code Section 409A, payment of the foregoing amounts shall be made as soon practicable consistent with Code Section 409A;

(2) each outstanding performance stock-based award granted to the Executive prior to the Change of Control shall be fully vested and earned at a deemed achievement level equal to the higher of (x) the targeted level of performance for such award or (y) the average level (expressed as a percentage of target) of achievement in respect of similar performance stock-based awards which matured over the three fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which the Change of Control occurred; payment of each such vested award shall be made to the Executive, in the form described below, as soon as practicable following the Date of Termination consistent with Code Section 409A;

(3) all other outstanding stock-based awards granted to the Executive prior to the Change of Control shall be fully vested and earned;

(4) any outstanding option, stock appreciation right, and other outstanding award in the nature of a right that may be exercised that was granted to the Executive prior to the Change of Control and which was not previously exercisable and vested shall become fully exercisable and vested;

(5) the restrictions and forfeiture conditions applicable to any outstanding award granted to the Executive prior to the Change of Control under the NextEra Energy, Inc. Amended and Restated 2011 Long Term Incentive Plan (or its successor) (including, without limitation, performance share awards, stock option grants and restricted stock awards), or other plan providing for the grant of equity compensation for executive officers shall lapse and such award shall be deemed fully vested;

(6) for an 24-month period commencing on the Date of Termination (the "Continuation Period") (which period shall be concurrent with the applicable continuation period set forth in Code Section 4980B), or such longer period as any plan, program, practice or policy may provide, the Company shall continue benefits to the Executive and/or the Executive's family at least equal to those which would have been provided to them in accordance with the plans, programs, practices and policies described in Sections 5(e) and 5(g) of this Agreement if the Executive's employment had not been terminated, in accordance with the most favorable plans, practices, programs or policies of the Company and its Affiliated Companies applicable generally to other peer executives and their families during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive, as in effect generally at any time thereafter with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies and their families, provided, however, that if the Executive becomes reemployed with another employer and is eligible to receive medical or other welfare benefits under another employer provided plan, the medical and other welfare benefits described herein shall be secondary to those provided under such other plan during such applicable period of eligibility. For purposes of determining eligibility of the Executive for retiree benefits pursuant to such plans, practices, programs and policies, the Executive shall be considered to have remained employed until the end of the Continuation Period and to have retired on the last day of such period. In addition to, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in, the foregoing provisions of this subparagraph (6), and to the extent that the benefit referred to in this sentence is more favorable to the Executive than the benefit conferred by the foregoing provisions of this subparagraph (6), upon termination of employment, the Executive shall be entitled without limitation as to period to enroll in Access Only Benefits, as defined in the NextEra Energy, Inc. Retiree Benefits Plan as amended and restated effective January 1, 2013 (the "Retiree Benefits Plan"), or in a comparable medical benefits arrangement, if the Executive satisfies the eligibility requirements as stated in Appendix B to the Retiree Benefits Plan as in effect as of April 1, 2020, even if Access Only Benefits, or comparable medical benefits, are no longer being provided to other employees of the Company; provided, that such medical benefits shall be provided to the Executive to the extent that such coverage is available under the Company's health, dental and vision plans or can be obtained on commercially reasonable terms;

(7) to the extent not theretofore paid or provided, the Company shall timely pay or provide to the Executive any other amounts or benefits required to be paid or provided or which the Executive is eligible to receive pursuant to this Agreement or otherwise under any plan, program, policy or practice or contract or agreement of the Company and its Affiliated Companies, but excluding solely for purposes of this Section 7(a)(7) (and subsequent sections hereof which make reference to payments of amounts or benefits described in this Section 7(a)(7)) amounts waived by the Executive pursuant to Section 7(a)(1)(ii); and

(8) the Company shall provide the Executive with outplacement services commensurate with those provided to terminated executives of comparable level made available through and at the facilities of a reputable and experienced vendor.

(b) Following an Effective Date and Prior to a Change of Control; Good Reason; Other Than for Cause or Disability. If, following an actual Effective Date (i.e., not a Deemed Effective Date) and prior to a Change of Control, the Company terminates the Executive's employment during the Employment Period other than for Cause or Disability or death or the Executive terminates employment for Good Reason, then the Company shall provide the Executive with the payments and benefits described under Sections 7(a)(1) through (8), except that for purposes of the benefits under Section 7(a)(2), the applicable averaging period shall be the three fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which the Date of Termination occurs.

(c) Deemed Effective Date. If the Executive's employment terminates after a Deemed Effective Date as defined in, and under the circumstances described in, the second sentence of Section 1 hereof, then the Company shall provide the Executive with the payments and benefits described under Sections 7(a)(1) through (8).

(d) Death. Upon the Executive's death during the Employment Period, this Agreement shall terminate without further obligations to the Executive's legal representatives under this Agreement, other than for payment of Accrued Obligations and the timely payment or provision of the benefits described in Sections 7(a)(6) and 7(a)(7) (the "Other Benefits"). All Accrued Obligations shall be paid to the Executive's estate or beneficiary, as applicable, in a lump sum in cash within 30 days of the Date of Termination. The term "Other Benefits" as utilized in this Section 7(d) shall include, without limitation, and the Executive's family shall be entitled to receive, benefits at least equal to the most favorable benefits provided by the Company and any of its Affiliated Companies to surviving families of peer executives of the Company and such Affiliated Companies under such plans, programs, practices and policies relating to family death benefits, if any, as in effect with respect to other peer executives and their families at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive and/or the Executive's family, as in effect on the date of the Executive's death with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies and their families.

(e) Disability. If the Executive's employment is terminated by reason of the Executive's Disability during the Employment Period, this Agreement shall terminate without further obligations to the Executive, other than for payment of Accrued Obligations and the timely payment or provision of Other Benefits (as defined in Section 7(d)). All Accrued Obligations shall be paid to the Executive in a lump sum in cash within 30 days of the Date of Termination. The term "Other Benefits" as utilized in this Section 7(e) shall also include, and the Executive shall be entitled after the Disability Effective Date to receive, disability and other benefits at least equal to the most favorable of those generally provided by the Company and its Affiliated Companies to disabled executives and/or their families in accordance with such plans, programs, practices and policies relating to disability, if any, as in effect generally with respect to other peer executives and their families at any time during the 90-day period immediately preceding the Effective Date or, if more favorable to the Executive and/or the Executive's family, as in effect at any time thereafter generally with respect to other peer executives of the Company and its Affiliated Companies and their families.

(f) Cause; Other Than for Good Reason. If the Executive's employment shall be terminated for Cause during the Employment Period, this Agreement shall terminate without further obligations to the Executive other than the obligation to pay to the Executive Annual Base Salary through the Date of Termination plus the amount of any compensation previously deferred by the Executive (under the terms set forth in, and pursuant to the elections made under, the applicable deferred compensation plan or arrangement), in each case to the extent theretofore unpaid. If the Executive terminates employment during the Employment Period, excluding a termination for Good Reason, this Agreement shall terminate without further obligations to the Executive, other than Accrued Base Salary and Vacation Pay, and the timely payment or provision of benefits pursuant to the last sentence of Section 7(a)(6) and Section 7(a)(7). In such case, Accrued Base Salary and Vacation Pay shall be paid to the Executive in a lump sum in cash within 30 days of the Date of Termination.

(g) Payment Schedule. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, to the extent required to comply with Code Section 409A(a)(2)(B), (i) if the Executive's termination of employment does not constitute a "separation from service" within the meaning of Code Section 409A, any taxable payment or benefit which becomes due under this Agreement as a result of such termination of employment shall be deferred to the earliest date on which the Executive has a "separation from service" within the meaning of Code Section 409A; and (ii) if the Executive is deemed to be a "specified employee" for purposes of Code Section 409A(a)(2)(B), payments due to him that would otherwise have been payable at any time during the six-month period immediately following separation from service (as defined for purposes of Code Section 409A) shall not be paid prior to, and shall instead be payable in a lump sum as soon as practicable following, the expiration of such six-month period. Any amounts deferred under this Section 7(g) shall bear interest from the date originally scheduled to be paid through and including the date of actual payment at 120% of the applicable federal long-term rate (as prescribed under Code Section 1274(d)) per annum, compounded quarterly. In addition to the foregoing, payments that are or become due on account of a Deemed Effective Date shall be made at the time otherwise provided in this Agreement or, if later, the earlier of six months following the Date of Termination and the date of occurrence of a "change in control event" (within the meaning of Code Section 409A and the regulations thereunder).

8. Non-Exclusivity of Rights.

Except as otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement, nothing in this Agreement shall prevent or limit the Executive's continuing or future participation in any plan, program, policy or practice provided by the Company or any of its Affiliated Companies and for which the Executive may qualify (other than any benefits under any severance or separation pay plan of the Company, including but not limited to the NextEra Energy, Inc. Executive Severance Benefit Plan), nor shall anything herein limit or otherwise affect such rights as the Executive may have under any contract or agreement with the Company or any of its Affiliated Companies. Amounts which are vested benefits or which the Executive is otherwise entitled to receive under any plan, policy, practice or program of or any contract or agreement with the Company or any of its Affiliated Companies at or subsequent to the Date of Termination shall be payable in accordance with such plan, policy, practice or program or contract or agreement except as explicitly modified by this Agreement and consistent with Code Section 409A

9. Full Settlement.

Except as required under the NextEra Energy, Inc. Incentive Compensation Recoupment Policy or any similar or successor policy or practice of the Company, the Company's obligation to make the payments provided for in this Agreement and otherwise to perform its obligations hereunder shall not be affected by any set-off, counterclaim, recoupment, defense or other claim, right or action which the Company may have against the Executive or others. In no event shall the Executive be obligated to seek other employment or take any other action by way of mitigation of the amounts payable to the Executive under any of the provisions of this Agreement and, except as otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement, such amounts shall not be reduced whether or not the Executive obtains other employment. To the extent the Executive prevails on at least one material claim, the Company agrees to pay, to the fullest extent permitted by law (but only to the extent consistent with Code Section 409A), all legal fees and expenses which the Executive may reasonably incur as a result of any legal proceedings by the Company, the Executive, or others, as to the validity or enforceability of, or liability under, any provision of this Agreement or any guarantee of performance thereof (including as a result of any contest by the Executive about the amount of any payment pursuant to this Agreement), plus in each case interest on any delayed payment at the applicable Federal rate provided for in Code Section 7872(f)(2)(A).

10. Parachute Payments.

(a) Anything in any section of this Agreement other than this Section 10 to the contrary not- withstanding, in the event it shall be determined that any Payment (as hereinafter defined) would be subject to the Excise Tax (as hereinafter defined), the right to receive any Payment under this Agreement shall be reduced if but only if:

(i) such right to such Payment, taking into account all other Payments to or for Participant, would cause any Payment to the Participant under this Agreement to be considered a "parachute payment" within the meaning of Code Section 280G(b)(2) as then in effect, and

(ii) as a result of receiving a parachute payment and paying any applicable tax (including Excise Tax thereon), the aggregate after-tax amounts received by the Participant from the Company under this Agreement and all Payments would be less than the maximum after-tax amount that could be received by Participant without causing any such Payment to be considered a parachute payment.

In the event that the receipt of any such right to Payment under this Agreement, in conjunction with all other Payments, would cause the Participant to be considered to have received a parachute payment under this Agreement that would have the effect of decreasing the after-tax amount received by the Participant as described in clause (ii) of the preceding sentence, then the amounts payable under this Agreement shall be reduced so that the Parachute Value of all Payments, in the aggregate, equals the Safe Harbor Amount.

To the extent that the payment of any compensation or benefits to Executive from the Company is required to be reduced by this Section 10, such reduction shall be implemented by determining the "Parachute Payment Ratio" (as hereinafter defined) for each parachute payment and then reducing the parachute payments in order beginning with the parachute payment with the highest Parachute Payment Ratio. For parachute payments with the same Parachute Payment Ratio, such parachute payments shall be reduced based on the time of payment of such parachute payments, with amounts having later payment dates being reduced first. For parachute payments with the same Parachute Payment Ratio and the same time of payment, such parachute payments shall be reduced on a pro rata basis (but not below zero) prior to reducing parachute payments with a lower Parachute Payment Ratio.

(b) Definitions. The following terms shall have the following meanings for purposes of this Section 10.

(i) "Excise Tax" shall mean the excise tax imposed by Code Section 4999, together with any interest or penalties imposed with respect to such excise tax.

(ii) "Parachute Payment Ratio" shall mean a fraction the numerator of which is the value of the applicable parachute payment for purposes of Code Section 280G and the denominator of which is the intrinsic value of such parachute payment.

(iii) "Parachute Value" of a Payment shall mean the present value as of the date of the change of control for purposes of Code Section 280G of the portion of such Payment that constitutes a "parachute payment" under Code Section 280G(b)(2), as determined for purposes of determining whether and to what extent the Excise Tax will apply to such Payment.

(iv) A "Payment" shall mean any payment or distribution in the nature of compensation (within the meaning of Code Section 280G(b)(2)) to or for the benefit of the Executive, whether paid or payable pursuant to this Agreement or otherwise.

(v) The "Safe Harbor Amount" means 2.99 times the Executive's "base amount," within the meaning of Code Section 280G(b)(3).

11. Protective Covenants.

(a) Confidential Information. (i) The Executive shall hold in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of the Company all secret or confidential information, knowledge or data relating to the Company or any of its Affiliated Companies, and their respective businesses, which shall have been obtained by the Executive during the Executive's employment by the Company or any of its Affiliated Companies and which shall not be or become public knowledge (other than by acts of the Executive or representatives of the Executive in violation of this Agreement). After termination of the Executive's employment with the Company, the Executive shall not, without the prior written consent of the Company or as may otherwise be required by law or legal process, communicate or divulge any such information, knowledge or data to anyone other than the Company and those designated by it.

(ii) The Executive is hereby notified in accordance with the Defend Trade Secrets Act of 2016 that the Executive will not be held criminally or civilly liable under any federal or state trade secret law for the disclosure of a trade secret that: (a) is made in confidence to a federal, state, or local government official, either directly or indirectly, or to an attorney, and solely for the purpose of reporting or investigating a suspected violation of law; or (b) is made in a complaint or other document that is filed under seal in a lawsuit or other proceeding. The Executive is further notified that if Executive files a lawsuit for retaliation by the Company for reporting a suspected violation of law, the Executive may disclose the Company's trade secrets to the Executive's attorney and use the trade secret information in the court proceeding if the Executive: (a) files any document containing the trade secret under seal; and (b) does not disclose the trade secret, except pursuant to court order.

(b) Noncompetition. During Employment Period and for a two-year period following the termination of the Executive's employment with the Company, the Executive agrees not to (i) compete or attempt to compete for, or act as a broker or otherwise participate in, any projects in which the Company has at any time done any work or undertaken any development efforts, or (ii) directly or indirectly solicit any of the Company's customers, vendors, contractors, agents, or any other parties with which the Company has an existing or prospective business relationship, for the benefit of the Executive or for the benefit of any third party, nor shall the Executive accept consideration or negotiate or enter into agreements with such parties for the benefit of the Executive or any third party.

(c) Non-solicitation. During the Employment Period and for a two-year period following the termination of the Executive's employment with the Company, the Executive shall not, directly or indirectly, on behalf of the Executive or for any other business, person or entity, entice, induce or solicit or attempt to entice, induce or solicit any employee of the Company or its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates to leave the Company's employ (or the employ of such Subsidiary or other Affiliate) or to hire or to cause any employee of the Company to become employed for any reason whatsoever.

(d) Non-disparagement The Executive shall not, at any time or in any way, disparage the Company or its current or former officers, directors, and employees, orally or in writing, or make any statements that may be derogatory or detrimental to the Company's good name or business reputation.

(e) Cooperation. The Executive agrees that certain matters in which the Executive may have been involved during the before and during the Employment Period may necessitate the Executive's cooperation in the future. Accordingly, as a further condition to the Executive's retention of benefits under this Agreement, to the extent reasonably requested by the Company, the Executive will cooperate with the Company and any Affiliate in connection with matters arising out the Executive's service to the Company and its Affiliates; provided, however, that the Company or its Affiliates will make reasonable efforts to minimize disruption of the Executive's other activities. The Company will reimburse the Executive for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with such cooperation and, to the extent the Executive is required to spend substantial time on such matters, the Company will compensate the Executive at an hourly rate based on the sum of the Executive's annual base salary and annual target cash incentive opportunity in effect immediately prior to the Executive's termination of employment.

(f) No Remedy. The Executive acknowledges that the Company would not have an adequate remedy at law for monetary damages if the Executive breaches these Protective Covenants. Therefore, in addition to all remedies to which the Company may be entitled for a breach or threatened breach of these Protective Covenants, including but not limited to monetary damages, the Company shall be entitled to specific enforcement of these Protective Covenants and to injunctive or other equitable relief as a remedy for a breach or threatened breach. In addition, upon any breach of these Protective Covenants or any separate confidentiality agreement or confidentiality provision between the Company and the Executive, the Executive will be required to repay to the Company any amounts received pursuant to this Agreement (other than Accrued Unpaid Salary and Vacation Pay), and the Executive's rights to receive any other unpaid compensation under this Agreement shall be forfeited.

12. Indemnification.

The Company will, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify the Executive in accordance with the terms of Article VI of the Company's bylaws as in effect on the date hereof, a copy of which Article VI is attached to this Agreement as Annex A and made a part hereof by this reference. This indemnification provision shall survive the expiration or other termination of this Agreement.

13. Successors.

(a) This Agreement is personal to the Executive and without the prior written consent of the Company shall not be assignable by the Executive other than by will or the laws of descent and distribution. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the Executive's legal representatives.

(b) This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Company and its successors and assigns.

(c) The Company will require any successor (whether direct or indirect, by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise) to all or substantially all of the business and/or assets of the Company to assume expressly and agree to perform this Agreement in the same manner and to the same extent that the Company would be required to perform it if no such succession had taken place. As used in this Agreement, "Company" shall mean the Company as hereinbefore defined and any successor to its business and/or assets as aforesaid which assumes and agrees to perform this Agreement by operation of law, or otherwise.

14. Miscellaneous.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, without reference to principles of conflict of laws. The captions of this Agreement are not part of the provisions hereof and shall have no force or effect. This Agreement may not be amended or modified other than by a written agreement executed by the parties hereto or their respective successors and legal representatives.

(b) All notices and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be given by hand delivery to the other party or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, addressed as follows:

If to the Executive:

Brian Bolster
[Home Address]

If to the Company:

NextEra Energy, Inc.
700 Universe Boulevard
Juno Beach, Florida 33408
Attention: Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

or such other address as either party shall have furnished to the other in writing in accordance herewith. Notice and communications shall be effective when actually received by the addressee.

(c) The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision of this Agreement.

(d) The Company may withhold from any amounts payable under this Agreement such Federal, state or local taxes as shall be required to be withheld pursuant to any applicable law or regulation.

(e) The Executive's or the Company's failure to insist upon strict compliance with any provision hereof or any other provision of this Agreement or the failure to assert any right the Executive or the Company may have hereunder, including, without limitation, the right of the Executive to terminate employment for Good Reason pursuant to Section 6(c) of this Agreement, shall not be deemed to be a waiver of such provision or right or any other provision or right of this Agreement.

(f) The Executive and the Company acknowledge that, except as may otherwise be provided under this Agreement or any other written agreement between the Executive and the Company, the employment of the Executive by the Company is "at will" and the Executive's employment may be terminated by either the Executive or the Company at any time. Moreover, except as provided herein in the case of a Deemed Effective Date, if prior to the Effective Date, (i) the Executive's employment with the Company terminates, or (ii) there is a material diminution in the Executive's position (including titles and reporting requirements), authority, duties, and responsibilities with the Company or its Affiliated Companies, then the Executive shall have no rights under this Agreement. From and after the Effective Date, this Agreement shall supersede any other agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and in furtherance but not in limitation of this, the Executive hereby waives the right to receive any benefits under any severance or separation pay plan of the Company, including but not limited to the NextEra Energy, Inc. Executive Severance Benefit Plan.

(g) The Executive and the Company acknowledge that this Agreement contains the full and complete expression of the rights and obligations of the parties with respect to the matters contained in the Agreement. This Agreement supersedes any and all other agreements, written or oral, made by the parties with respect to the matters contained in the Agreement.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, and except in the case of death, it shall be a condition to the Executive receiving any payments or benefits under this Agreement that the Executive shall have (a) executed, delivered to the Company and not revoked a release of claims against the Company, such release to be in the Company's then standard form of release; and (b) executed and delivered to the Company resignations of all officer and director positions the Executive holds with the Company or its Affiliated Companies, in each case no later than forty-five (45) days after the Date of Termination unless there is a genuine dispute as to the Executive's substantive rights under this Agreement within the meaning of Treasury Regulation 1.409A-3(g) (or any successor provision). If the Executive's timing of the delivery of the release of claims in accordance with this paragraph could result in the payments that are treated as deferred compensation under Code Section 409A either being paid in the then current calendar year or the calendar year following the Executive's Date of Termination, then, notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement, the affected payments instead shall automatically and mandatorily be paid in the calendar year following the calendar year in which the Date of Termination occurs.

The Executive and the Company acknowledge that the benefits and payments provided under this Agreement are intended to comply fully with the requirements of Code Section 409A. This Agreement shall be construed and administered as necessary to comply with Code Section 409A and shall be subject to amendment in the future, in such a manner as the Company may deem necessary or appropriate to attain compliance; provided, however, that any such amendment shall provide the Executive with benefits and payments that are substantially economically equivalent to the benefits and payments that would have been made to the Executive absent such amendment and the requirements of Code Section 409A.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Executive has hereunto set the Executive's hand and the Company has caused Executive Retention Employment Agreement to be executed in its name on its behalf, all as of May 6, 2024.

ANNEX A TO THE
EXECUTIVE RETENTION EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

NEXTERA ENERGY, INC. AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS ARTICLE VI.

INDEMNIFICATION/ADVANCEMENT OF EXPENSES

Section 1. Right to Indemnification. Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or was or is called as a witness or was or is otherwise involved in any Proceeding in connection with his or her status as an Indemnified Person, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Company to the fullest extent permitted under the Florida Business Corporation Act (the "Act"), as the same now exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Company to provide broader indemnification rights than the Act permitted the Company to provide prior to such amendment). Such indemnification shall cover all expenses incurred by an Indemnified Person (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation) and all liabilities and losses (including, but not limited to, judgments, fines, ERISA or other excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) incurred by such person in connection therewith.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, except with respect to indemnification specified in Section 3 of this Article VI, the Company shall indemnify an Indemnified Person in connection with a Proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such person only if authorization for such Proceeding (or part thereof) was not denied by the board of directors of the Company prior to 60 days after receipt of notice thereof from such person.

For purposes of this Article VI:

(i) a "Proceeding" is an action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, and any appeal therefrom;

(ii) an "Indemnified Person" is a person who is, or who was (whether at the time the facts or circumstances underlying the Proceeding occurred or were alleged to have occurred or at any other time), (A) a director or officer of the Company, (B) a director, officer or other employee of the Company serving as a trustee or fiduciary of an employee benefit plan of the Company, (C) an agent or non-officer employee of the Company as to whom the Company has agreed to grant such indemnity, or (D) serving at the request of the Company in any capacity with any entity or enterprise other than the Company and as to whom the Company has agreed to grant such indemnity.

Section 2. Expenses. Expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by an Indemnified Person in defending or otherwise being involved in a Proceeding in connection with his or her status as an Indemnified Person shall be paid by the Company in advance of the final disposition of such Proceeding, including any appeal therefrom, (i) in the case of (A) a director or officer, or former director or officer, of the Company or (B) a director, officer or other employee, or former director, officer or other employee, of the Company serving as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan of the Company, upon receipt of an undertaking ("Undertaking") by or on behalf of such person to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that he or she is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company; or (ii) in the case of any other Indemnified Person, upon such terms and as the board of directors, the chairman of the board or the president of the Company deems appropriate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in connection with a Proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such person, except a Proceeding authorized by Section 3 of this Article VI, the Company shall pay said expenses in advance of final disposition only if authorization for such Proceeding (or part thereof) was not denied by the board of directors of the Company prior to 60 days after receipt of a request for such advancement accompanied by an Undertaking.

A person to whom expenses are advanced pursuant to this Section 2 shall not be obligated to repay such expenses pursuant to an Undertaking until the final determination of any pending Proceeding in a court of competent jurisdiction concerning the right of such person to be indemnified or the obligation of such person to repay pursuant to such Undertaking.

Section 3. Protection of Rights. If a claim for indemnification under Section 1 of this Article VI is not promptly paid in full by the Company after a written claim has been received by the Company or if expenses pursuant to Section 2 of this Article VI have not been promptly advanced after a written request for such advancement accompanied by an Undertaking has been received by the Company (in each case, except if authorization thereof was denied by the board of directors of the Company as provided in Article VI, Section 1 and Section 2, as applicable), the Indemnified Person may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Company to recover the unpaid amount of the claim or the advancement of expenses. If successful, in whole or in part, in such suit, such Indemnified Person shall also be entitled to be paid the reasonable expense thereof. It shall be a defense to any such action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any Proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required Undertaking has been tendered to the Company) that indemnification of the Indemnified Person is prohibited by law, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Company. Neither the failure of the Company (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination, if required, prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the Indemnified Person is proper in the circumstances, nor an actual determination by the Company (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that indemnification of the Indemnified Person is prohibited, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that indemnification of the Indemnified Person is prohibited.

Section 4. Miscellaneous.

(i) Power to Request Service and to Grant Indemnification. The chairman of the board or the president or the board of directors may request any director, officer, agent or employee of the Company to serve as its representative in the position of a director or officer (or in a substantially similar capacity) of an entity or enterprise other than the Company, and may grant to such person indemnification by the Company as described in Section 1 of this Article VI.

(ii) Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights conferred on any person by this Article VI shall not be exclusive of any other rights which such person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Charter, bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors or otherwise. The board of directors shall have the authority, by resolution, to provide for such indemnification of employees or agents of the Company or others and for such other indemnification of directors, officers, employees or agents as it shall deem appropriate.

(iii) Insurance Contracts and Funding. The Company may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of or person serving in any other capacity with, the Company or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise (including serving as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan) against any expenses, liabilities or losses, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify such person against such expenses, liabilities or losses under the Act. The Company may enter into contracts with any director, officer, agent or employee of the Company in furtherance of the provisions of this Article VI, and may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or use other means (including, without limitation, a letter of credit) to ensure the payment of such amounts as may be necessary to effect the advancing of expenses and indemnification as provided in this Article VI.

(iv) Contractual Nature. The provisions of this Article VI shall continue in effect as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, agent or employee and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such person. This Article VI shall be deemed to be a contract between the Company and each person who, at any time that this Article VI is in effect, serves or served in any capacity which entitles him or her to indemnification hereunder and any repeal or other modification of this Article VI or any repeal or modification of the Act, or any other applicable law shall not limit any rights of indemnification with respect to Proceedings in connection with which he or she is an Indemnified Person, or advancement of expenses in connection with such Proceedings, then existing or arising out of events, acts or omissions occurring prior to such repeal or modification, including without limitation, the right to indemnification for Proceedings, and advancement of expenses with respect to such Proceedings, commenced after such repeal or modification to enforce this Article VI with regard to Proceedings arising out of acts, omissions or events arising prior to such repeal or modification.

(v) Savings Clause. If this Article VI or any portion hereof shall be invalidated or held to be unenforceable on any ground by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of which shall not have been reversed on appeal, the Company shall nevertheless (A) indemnify each Indemnified Person as to costs, charges and expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement and (B) advance expenses in accordance with Section 2 of this Article VI, in each case with respect to any Proceeding in connection with which he or she is an Indemnified Person, including an action by or in the right of the Company, to the fullest extent permitted by any applicable portion of this Article VI that shall not have been invalidated or held to be unenforceable and as permitted by applicable law.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Any statements that express, or involve discussions as to, expectations, beliefs, plans, objectives, assumptions, strategies, future events or performance (often, but not always, through the use of words or phrases such as may result, are expected to, will continue, is anticipated, believe, will, could, should, would, estimated, may, plan, potential, future, projection, goals, target, outlook, predict and intend or words of similar meaning) are not statements of historical facts and may be forward looking. Forward-looking statements involve estimates, assumptions and uncertainties. Accordingly, any such statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to, and are accompanied by, the following important factors (in addition to any assumptions and other factors referred to specifically in connection with such forward-looking statements) that could have a significant impact on NEE's and/or FPL's operations and financial results, and could cause NEE's and/or FPL's actual results to differ materially from those contained or implied in forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of NEE and/or FPL in this combined Form 10-Q, in presentations, on their respective websites, in response to questions or otherwise.

Regulatory, Legislative and Legal Risks

- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially adversely affected by the extensive regulation of their business.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected if they are unable to recover in a timely manner any significant amount of costs, a return on certain assets or a reasonable return on invested capital through base rates, cost recovery clauses, other regulatory mechanisms or otherwise.
- Regulatory decisions that are important to NEE and FPL may be materially adversely affected by political, regulatory, operational and economic factors.
- Any reductions or modifications to, or the elimination of, governmental incentives or policies that support utility scale renewable energy, including, but not limited to, tax laws, policies and incentives, renewable portfolio standards and feed-in-tariffs, or the imposition of additional taxes, tariffs, duties or other assessments on renewable energy or the equipment necessary to generate or deliver it, could result in, among other items, the lack of a satisfactory market for the development and/or financing of new renewable energy projects, NEE and FPL abandoning the development of renewable energy projects, a loss of investments in renewable energy projects and reduced project returns, any of which could have a material adverse effect on NEE and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected as a result of new or revised laws or regulations or interpretations of these laws and regulations.
- NEE and FPL are subject to numerous environmental laws, regulations and other standards that may result in capital expenditures, increased operating costs and various liabilities, and may require NEE and FPL to limit or eliminate certain operations.
- NEE's and FPL's business could be negatively affected by federal or state laws or regulations mandating new or additional limits on the production of greenhouse gas emissions.
- Extensive federal regulation of the operations and businesses of NEE and FPL exposes NEE and FPL to significant and increasing compliance costs and may also expose them to substantial monetary penalties and other sanctions for compliance failures.
- Changes in tax laws, guidance or policies, including but not limited to changes in corporate income tax rates, as well as judgments and estimates used in the determination of tax-related asset and liability amounts, could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially adversely affected due to adverse results of litigation.
- Allegations of violations of law by FPL or NEE have the potential to result in fines, penalties, or other sanctions or effects, as well as cause reputational damage for FPL and NEE, and could hamper FPL's and NEE's effectiveness in interacting with governmental authorities.

Development and Operational Risks

- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could suffer if NEE and FPL do not proceed with projects under development or are unable to complete the construction of, or capital improvements to, electric generation, transmission and distribution facilities, gas infrastructure facilities or other facilities on schedule or within budget.
- NEE and FPL face risks related to project siting, financing, construction, permitting, governmental approvals and the negotiation of project development agreements that may impede their development and operating activities.
- The operation and maintenance of NEE's and FPL's electric generation, transmission and distribution facilities, gas infrastructure facilities and other facilities are subject to many operational risks, the consequences of which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be negatively affected by a lack of growth, slower growth or a decline in the number of customers or in customer usage.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects can be materially adversely affected by weather conditions and related impacts, including, but not limited to, the impact of severe weather.
- Threats of terrorism and catastrophic events that could result from geopolitical factors, terrorism, cyberattacks, or individuals and/or groups attempting to disrupt NEE's and FPL's business, or the businesses of third parties, may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- The ability of NEE and FPL to obtain insurance and the terms of any available insurance coverage could be materially adversely affected by international, national, state or local events and company-specific events, as well as the financial condition of insurers. NEE's and FPL's insurance coverage does not provide protection against all significant losses.
- NEE invests in gas and oil producing and transmission assets through NEER's gas infrastructure business. The gas infrastructure business is exposed to fluctuating market prices of natural gas, natural gas liquids, oil and other energy commodities. A prolonged period of low gas and oil prices could impact NEER's gas infrastructure business and cause NEER to delay or cancel certain gas infrastructure projects and could result in certain projects becoming impaired, which could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- If supply costs necessary to provide NEER's full energy and capacity requirement services are not favorable, operating costs could increase and materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- Due to the potential for significant volatility in market prices for fuel, electricity and renewable and other energy commodities, NEER's inability or failure to manage properly or hedge effectively the commodity risks within its portfolios could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- Reductions in the liquidity of energy markets may restrict the ability of NEE to manage its operational risks, which, in turn, could negatively affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- NEE's and FPL's hedging and trading procedures and associated risk management tools may not protect against significant losses.
- If price movements significantly or persistently deviate from historical behavior, NEE's and FPL's risk management tools associated with their hedging and trading procedures may not protect against significant losses.
- If power transmission or natural gas, nuclear fuel or other commodity transportation facilities are unavailable or disrupted, the ability for subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, to sell and deliver power or natural gas may be limited.
- NEE and FPL are subject to credit and performance risk from customers, hedging counterparties and vendors.
- NEE and FPL could recognize financial losses or a reduction in operating cash flows if a counterparty fails to perform or make payments in accordance with the terms of derivative contracts or if NEE or FPL is required to post margin cash collateral under derivative contracts.
- NEE and FPL are highly dependent on sensitive and complex information technology systems, and any failure or breach of those systems could have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- NEE's and FPL's retail businesses are subject to the risk that sensitive customer data may be compromised, which could result in a material adverse impact to their reputation and/or have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL.
- NEE and FPL could recognize financial losses as a result of volatility in the market values of derivative instruments and limited liquidity in OTC markets.
- NEE and FPL may be materially adversely affected by negative publicity.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected if FPL is unable to maintain, negotiate or renegotiate franchise agreements on acceptable terms with municipalities and counties in Florida.
- NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected by work strikes or stoppages and increasing personnel costs.
- NEE's ability to successfully identify, complete and integrate acquisitions is subject to significant risks, including, but not limited to, the effect of increased competition for acquisitions resulting from the consolidation of the energy industry.

Nuclear Generation Risks

- The operation and maintenance of NEE's and FPL's nuclear generation facilities involve environmental, health and financial risks that could result in fines or the closure of the facilities and in increased costs and capital expenditures.
- In the event of an incident at any nuclear generation facility in the U.S. or at certain nuclear generation facilities in Europe, NEE and FPL could be assessed significant retrospective assessments and/or retrospective insurance premiums as a result of their participation in a secondary financial protection system and nuclear insurance mutual companies.

- NRC orders or new regulations related to increased security measures and any future safety requirements promulgated by the NRC could require NEE and FPL to incur substantial operating and capital expenditures at their nuclear generation facilities and/or result in reduced revenues.
- The inability to operate any of NEE's or FPL's nuclear generation units through the end of their respective operating licenses or planned license extensions could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- NEE's and FPL's nuclear units are periodically removed from service to accommodate planned refueling and maintenance outages, and for other purposes. If planned outages last longer than anticipated or if there are unplanned outages, NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected.

Liquidity, Capital Requirements and Common Stock Risks

- Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the credit and capital markets, among other factors, may negatively affect NEE's and FPL's ability to fund their liquidity and capital needs and to meet their growth objectives, and can also materially adversely affect the business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL.
- NEE's, NEECH's and FPL's inability to maintain their current credit ratings may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's liquidity and results of operations, limit the ability of NEE and FPL to grow their business, and increase interest costs.
- NEE's and FPL's liquidity may be impaired if their credit providers are unable to fund their credit commitments to the companies or to maintain their current credit ratings.
- Poor market performance and other economic factors could affect NEE's defined benefit pension plan's funded status, which may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.
- Poor market performance and other economic factors could adversely affect the asset values of NEE's and FPL's nuclear decommissioning funds, which may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.
- Certain of NEE's investments are subject to changes in market value and other risks, which may materially adversely affect NEE's liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.
- NEE may be unable to meet its ongoing and future financial obligations and to pay dividends on its common stock if its subsidiaries are unable to pay upstream dividends or repay funds to NEE.
- NEE may be unable to meet its ongoing and future financial obligations and to pay dividends on its common stock if NEE is required to perform under guarantees of obligations of its subsidiaries.
- NEP may not be able to access sources of capital on commercially reasonable terms, which would have a material adverse effect on its ability to consummate future acquisitions and on the value of NEE's limited partner interest in NEP OpCo.
- Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the credit and capital markets may exert downward pressure on the market price of NEE's common stock.
- Widespread public health crises and epidemics or pandemics may have material adverse impacts on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

These factors should be read together with the risk factors included in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors in NEE's and FPL's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 (2023 Form 10-K), and investors should refer to that section of the 2023 Form 10-K. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and NEE and FPL undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances, including, but not limited to, unanticipated events, after the date on which such statement is made, unless otherwise required by law. New factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all of such factors, nor can it assess the impact of each such factor on the business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained or implied in any forward-looking statement.

Website Access to SEC Filings. NEE and FPL make their SEC filings, including the annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and any amendments to those reports, available free of charge on NEE's internet website, www.nexteraenergy.com, as soon as reasonably practicable after those documents are electronically filed with or furnished to the SEC. The information and materials available on NEE's website (or any of its subsidiaries' or affiliates' websites) are not incorporated by reference into this combined Form 10-Q.

This report should be read in conjunction with the Notes herein and the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements appearing in the 2023 Form 10-K.

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the 2023 Form 10-K. In the opinion of NEE and FPL management, all adjustments considered necessary for fair financial statement presentation have been made. All adjustments are normal and recurring unless otherwise noted. Certain amounts included in the prior year's condensed consolidated financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation. The results of operations for an interim period generally will not give a true indication of results for the year.

1. Revenue from Contracts with Customers

FPL and NEER generate substantially all of NEE's operating revenues, which primarily include revenues from contracts with customers, as well as derivative (see Note 2) and lease transactions at NEER. For the vast majority of contracts with customers, NEE believes that the obligation to deliver energy, capacity or transmission is satisfied over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes benefits as NEE performs. NEE's revenue from contracts with customers was approximately $6.7 billion ($4.9 billion at FPL) and $7.2 billion ($5.5 billion at FPL) for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $18.2 billion ($13.2 billion at FPL) and $19.2 billion ($14.1 billion at FPL) for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. NEE's and FPL's receivables are primarily associated with revenues earned from contracts with customers, as well as derivative and lease transactions at NEER, and consist of both billed and unbilled amounts, which are recorded in customer receivables and other receivables on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Receivables represent unconditional rights to consideration and reflect the differences in timing of revenue recognition and cash collections. For substantially all of NEE's and FPL's receivables, regardless of the type of revenue transaction from which the receivable originated, customer and counterparty credit risk is managed in the same manner and the terms and conditions of payment are similar.

FPL – FPL's revenues are derived primarily from tariff-based sales that result from providing electricity to retail customers in Florida with no defined contractual term. Electricity sales to retail customers account for approximately 90% of FPL's operating revenues, the majority of which are to residential customers. FPL's retail customers receive a bill monthly based on the amount of monthly kWh usage with payment due monthly. For these types of sales, FPL recognizes revenue as electricity is delivered and billed to customers, as well as an estimate for electricity delivered and not yet billed. The billed and unbilled amounts represent the value of electricity delivered to the customer. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, FPL's unbilled revenues amounted to approximately $764 million and $633 million, respectively, and are included in customer receivables on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Certain contracts with customers contain a fixed price which primarily relate to certain power purchase agreements with maturity dates through 2041. As of September 30, 2024, FPL expects to record approximately $360 million of revenues related to the fixed capacity price components of such contracts over the remaining terms of the related contracts as the capacity is provided. These contracts also contain a variable price component for energy usage which FPL recognizes as revenue as the energy is delivered based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts.

NEER – NEER's revenue from contracts with customers is derived primarily from the sale of energy commodities, electric capacity and electric transmission. For these types of sales, NEER recognizes revenue as energy commodities are delivered and as electric capacity and electric transmission are made available, consistent with the amounts billed to customers based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts as well as an accrual for amounts earned but not yet billed. The amounts billed and accrued represent the value of energy or transmission delivered and/or the capacity of energy or transmission available to the customer. Revenues yet to be earned under these contracts, which have maturity dates ranging from 2024 to 2055, will vary based on the volume of energy or transmission delivered and/or available. NEER's customers typically receive bills monthly with payment due within 30 days. Certain contracts with customers contain a fixed price which primarily relate to electric capacity sales through 2038, certain power purchase agreements with maturity dates through 2034, and capacity sales associated with natural gas transportation through 2062. At September 30, 2024, NEER expects to record approximately $1.2 billion of revenues related to the fixed price components of such contracts over the remaining terms of the related contracts as the capacity is provided. The power purchase agreements also contain a variable price component for energy usage which NEER recognizes as revenue as the energy is delivered based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts.

2. Derivative Instruments

NEE and FPL use derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options, futures and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity, as well as interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate risk associated primarily with outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings, and to optimize the value of NEER's power generation and gas infrastructure assets. NEE and FPL do not utilize hedge accounting for their cash flow and fair value hedges.

With respect to commodities related to NEE's competitive energy business, NEER employs risk management procedures to conduct its activities related to optimizing the value of its power generation and gas infrastructure assets, providing full energy and capacity requirements services primarily to distribution utilities, and engaging in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to take advantage of expected future favorable price movements and changes in the expected volatility of prices in the energy markets. These risk management activities involve the use of derivative instruments executed within prescribed limits to manage the risk associated with fluctuating commodity prices. Transactions in derivative instruments are executed on recognized exchanges or via the OTC markets, depending on the most favorable credit terms and market execution factors. For NEER's power generation and gas infrastructure assets, derivative instruments are used to hedge all or a portion of the expected output of these assets. These hedges are designed to reduce the effect of adverse changes in the wholesale forward commodity markets associated with NEER's power generation and gas infrastructure assets. With regard to full energy and capacity requirements services, NEER is required to vary the quantity of energy and related services based on the load demands of the customers served. For this type of transaction, derivative instruments are used to hedge the anticipated electricity quantities required to serve these customers and reduce the effect of unfavorable changes in the forward energy markets. Additionally, NEER takes positions in energy markets based on differences between actual forward market levels and management's view of fundamental market conditions, including supply/demand imbalances, changes in traditional flows of energy, changes in short- and long-term weather patterns and anticipated regulatory and legislative outcomes. NEER uses derivative instruments to realize value from these market dislocations, subject to strict risk management limits around market, operational and credit exposure.

Derivative instruments, when required to be marked to market, are recorded on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets as either an asset or liability measured at fair value. At FPL, substantially all changes in the derivatives' fair value are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability until the contracts are settled, and, upon settlement, any gains or losses are passed through the fuel clause. For NEE's non-rate regulated operations, predominantly NEER, essentially all changes in the derivatives' fair value for power purchases and sales, fuel sales and trading activities are recognized on a net basis in operating revenues and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income. Settlement gains and losses are included within the line items in the condensed consolidated statements of income to which they relate. Transactions for which physical delivery is deemed not to have occurred are presented on a net basis in the condensed consolidated statements of income. For commodity derivatives, NEE believes that, where offsetting positions exist at the same location for the same time, the transactions are considered to have been netted and therefore physical delivery has been deemed not to have occurred for financial reporting purposes. Settlements related to derivative instruments are substantially all recognized in net cash provided by operating activities in NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

For interest rate and foreign currency derivative instruments, all changes in the derivatives' fair value, as well as the transaction gain or loss on foreign denominated debt, are recognized in interest expense and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income. At September 30, 2024, NEE's AOCI included immaterial amounts related to discontinued interest rate cash flow hedges with expiration dates through October 2033 and foreign currency cash flow hedges with expiration dates through September 2030.

Fair Value Measurements of Derivative Instruments – The fair value of assets and liabilities are determined using either unadjusted quoted prices in active markets (Level 1) or other pricing inputs that are observable (Level 2) whenever that information is available and using unobservable inputs (Level 3) to estimate fair value only when relevant observable inputs are not available. NEE and FPL use different valuation techniques to measure the fair value of assets and liabilities, relying primarily on the market approach of using prices and other market information for identical and/or similar assets and liabilities for those assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis. NEE's and FPL's assessment of the significance of any particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment and may affect placement within the fair value hierarchy levels. Non-performance risk, including the consideration of a credit valuation adjustment, is also considered in the determination of fair value for all assets and liabilities measured at fair value.

NEE and FPL measure the fair value of commodity contracts using a combination of market and income approaches utilizing prices observed on commodities exchanges and in the non-exchange traded markets, or through the use of industry-standard valuation techniques, such as option modeling or discounted cash flows techniques, incorporating both observable and unobservable valuation inputs. The resulting measurements are the best estimate of fair value as represented by the transfer of the asset or liability through an orderly transaction in the marketplace at the measurement date.

Exchange-traded derivative assets and liabilities are valued using observable settlement prices from the exchanges and are classified as Level 1 or Level 2, depending on whether positions are in active or inactive markets.

NEE, through its subsidiaries, including FPL, also enters into non-exchange traded commodity derivatives. The majority of the valuation inputs are observable using exchange-quoted prices.

NEE, through NEER, also enters into full requirements contracts, which, in most cases, meet the definition of derivatives and are measured at fair value. These contracts typically have one or more inputs that are not observable and are significant to the valuation of the contract. In addition, certain non-exchange traded derivative options at NEE have one or more significant inputs that are not observable, and are valued using industry-standard option models.

In all cases where NEE and FPL use significant unobservable inputs for the valuation of a commodity contract, consideration is given to the assumptions that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. The primary input to the valuation models for commodity contracts is the forward commodity curve for the respective instruments. Other inputs include, but are not limited to, assumptions about market liquidity, volatility, correlation and contract duration as more fully described below in Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Recurring Fair Value Measurements. In instances where the reference markets are deemed to be inactive or do not have transactions for a similar contract, the derivative assets and liabilities may be valued using significant other observable inputs and potentially significant unobservable inputs. In such instances, the valuation for these contracts is established using techniques including extrapolation from or interpolation between actively traded contracts, or estimated basis adjustments from liquid trading points. NEE and FPL regularly evaluate and validate the inputs used to determine fair value by a number of methods, consisting of various market price verification procedures, including the use of pricing services and broker quotes to support the market price of the various commodities. Where there are assumptions and models used to generate inputs for valuing derivative assets and liabilities, the review and verification of the assumptions and models are undertaken by individuals in an independent control function.

NEE uses interest rate contracts and foreign currency contracts to mitigate and adjust interest rate and foreign currency exchange exposure related primarily to certain outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings when deemed appropriate based on market conditions or when required by financing agreements. NEE estimates the fair value of these derivatives using an income approach based on a discounted cash flows valuation technique utilizing the net amount of estimated future cash inflows and outflows related to the agreements.

The tables below present NEE's and FPL's gross derivative positions at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, as required by disclosure rules. However, the majority of the underlying contracts are subject to master netting agreements and generally would not be contractually settled on a gross basis. Therefore, the tables below also present the derivative positions on a net basis, which reflect the offsetting of positions of certain transactions within the portfolio, the contractual ability to settle contracts under master netting arrangements and the netting of margin cash collateral, as well as the location of the net derivative position on the condensed consolidated balance sheets.

These amounts are included in current other liabilities on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Additionally, at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, NEE had approximately $125 million (none at FPL) and $73 million (none at FPL), respectively, in margin cash collateral paid to counterparties that was not offset against derivative assets or liabilities in the above presentation. These amounts are included in current other assets on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Recurring Fair Value Measurements – The valuation of certain commodity contracts requires the use of significant unobservable inputs. All forward price, implied volatility, implied correlation and interest rate inputs used in the valuation of such contracts are directly based on third-party market data, such as broker quotes and exchange settlements, when that data is available. If third-party market data is not available, then industry standard methodologies are used to develop inputs that maximize the use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. Observable inputs, including some forward prices, implied volatilities and interest rates used for determining fair value are updated daily to reflect the best available market information. Unobservable inputs which are related to observable inputs, such as illiquid portions of forward price or volatility curves, are updated daily as well, using industry standard techniques such as interpolation and extrapolation, combining observable forward inputs supplemented by historical market and other relevant data.

Other unobservable inputs, such as implied correlations, block-to-hourly price shaping, customer migration rates from full requirements contracts and some implied volatility curves, are modeled using proprietary models based on historical data and industry standard techniques.

The significant unobservable inputs used in the valuation of NEE's commodity contracts categorized as Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy at September 30, 2024 are as follows:

Transaction Type	Fair Value at September 30, 2024 Assets	Fair Value at September 30, 2024 Liabilities	Valuation Technique(s)	Significant Unobservable Inputs	Range			Weighted-average[a]

(a) For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, FPL recorded approximately $6 million of losses and $46 million of gains, respectively, related to commodity contracts as regulatory assets and regulatory liabilities, respectively, on its condensed consolidated balance sheets. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, FPL recorded approximately $2 million of gains and $7 million of losses, respectively, related to commodity contracts as regulatory liabilities and regulatory assets, respectively, on its condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Notional Volumes of Derivative Instruments – The following table represents net notional volumes associated with derivative instruments that are required to be reported at fair value in NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated financial statements. The table includes significant volumes of transactions that have minimal exposure to commodity price changes because they are variably priced agreements. These volumes are only an indication of the commodity exposure that is managed through the use of derivatives. They do not represent net physical asset positions or non-derivative positions and the related hedges, nor do they represent NEE's and FPL's net economic exposure, but only the net notional derivative positions that fully or partially hedge the related asset positions. NEE and FPL had derivative commodity contracts for the following net notional volumes:

	September 30, 2024				December 31, 2023
Commodity Type	NEE		FPL		NEE		FPL
	(millions)
Power	(159)	MWh	—		(167)	MWh	—
Natural gas	(1,295)	MMBtu	478	MMBtu	(1,452)	MMBtu	717	MMBtu
Oil	(28)	barrels	—		(42)	barrels	—

At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, NEE had interest rate contracts with a net notional amount of approximately $30.5 billion and $25.6 billion, respectively, and foreign currency contracts with a notional amount of approximately $1.2 billion and $0.5 billion, respectively.

Credit-Risk-Related Contingent Features – Certain derivative instruments contain credit-risk-related contingent features including, among other things, the requirement to maintain an investment grade credit rating from specified credit rating agencies and certain financial ratios, as well as credit-related cross-default and material adverse change triggers. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the aggregate fair value of NEE's derivative instruments with credit-risk-related contingent features that were in a liability position was approximately $4.3 billion ($11 million for FPL) and $4.7 billion ($14 million for FPL), respectively.

If the credit-risk-related contingent features underlying these derivative agreements were triggered, certain subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, could be required to post collateral or settle contracts according to contractual terms which generally allow netting of contracts in offsetting positions. Certain derivative contracts contain multiple types of credit-related triggers. To the extent these contracts contain a credit ratings downgrade trigger, the maximum exposure is included in the following credit ratings collateral posting requirements. If FPL's and NEECH's credit ratings were downgraded to BBB/Baa2 (a three-level downgrade for FPL and a one level downgrade for NEECH from the current lowest applicable rating), applicable NEE subsidiaries would be required to post collateral such that the total posted collateral would be approximately $390 million (none at FPL) at September 30, 2024 and $510 million (none at FPL) at December 31, 2023. If FPL's and NEECH's credit ratings were downgraded to below investment grade, applicable NEE subsidiaries would be required to post additional collateral such that the total posted collateral would be approximately $2.0 billion ($50 million at FPL) at September 30, 2024 and $2.4 billion ($15 million at FPL) at December 31, 2023. Some derivative contracts do not contain credit ratings downgrade triggers, but do contain provisions that require certain financial measures be maintained and/or have credit-related cross-default triggers. In the event these provisions were triggered, applicable NEE subsidiaries could be required to post additional collateral of up to approximately $2.3 billion ($65 million at FPL) at September 30, 2024 and $1.7 billion ($50 million at FPL) at December 31, 2023.

Collateral related to derivatives, including amounts posted for margin, current exposures and future performance with exchanges and independent system operators, may be posted in the form of cash or credit support in the normal course of business. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, applicable NEE subsidiaries have posted approximately $190 million (none at FPL) and $691 million (none at FPL), respectively, in cash, and $1,404 million (none at FPL) and $1,595 million (none at FPL), respectively, in the form of letters of credit and surety bonds, each of which could be applied toward the collateral requirements described above. FPL and NEECH have capacity under their credit facilities generally in excess of the collateral requirements described above that would be available to support, among other things, derivative activities. Under the terms of the credit facilities, maintenance of a specific credit rating is not a condition to drawing on these credit facilities, although there are other conditions to drawing on these credit facilities.

Additionally, some contracts contain certain adequate assurance provisions whereby a counterparty may demand additional collateral based on subjective events and/or conditions. Due to the subjective nature of these provisions, NEE and FPL are unable to determine an exact value for these items and they are not included in any of the quantitative disclosures above.

3. Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements

Non-derivative fair value measurements consist of NEE's and FPL's cash equivalents and restricted cash equivalents, special use funds and other investments. The fair value of these financial assets is determined by using the valuation techniques and inputs as described in Note 2 – Fair Value Measurements of Derivative Instruments as well as below.

Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash Equivalents – NEE and FPL hold investments in money market funds. The fair value of these funds is estimated using a market approach based on current observable market prices.

Special Use Funds and Other Investments – NEE and FPL hold primarily debt and equity securities directly, as well as indirectly through commingled funds. Substantially all directly held equity securities are valued at their quoted market prices. For directly held debt securities, multiple prices and price types are obtained from pricing vendors whenever possible, which enables cross-provider validations. A primary price source is identified based on asset type, class or issue of each security. Commingled funds, which are similar to mutual funds, are maintained by banks or investment companies and hold certain investments in accordance with a stated set of objectives. The fair value of commingled funds is primarily derived from the quoted prices in active markets of the underlying securities. Because the fund shares are offered to a limited group of investors, they are not considered to be traded in an active market.

Fair Value Measurement Alternative – NEE holds investments in equity securities without readily determinable fair values, which are initially recorded at cost, of approximately $586 million and $538 million at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively, and are included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Adjustments to carrying values are recorded as a result of observable price changes in transactions for identical or similar investments of the same issuer.

Recurring Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements – NEE's and FPL's financial assets and other fair value measurements made on a recurring basis by fair value hierarchy level are as follows:

(a) Includes restricted cash equivalents of approximately $34 million ($11 million for FPL) in current other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheets.
(b) Excludes investments accounted for under the equity method and loans not measured at fair value on a recurring basis. See Fair Value of Financial Instruments Recorded at Other than Fair Value below.
(c) Primarily invested in commingled funds whose underlying securities would be Level 1 if those securities were held directly by NEE or FPL.
(d) Included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Contingent Consideration – NEER had approximately $126 million and $126 million of contingent consideration liabilities related to acquisitions included in noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. Significant inputs and assumptions used in the fair value measurement of the contingent consideration, some of which are Level 3 and require judgment, include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, estimated probability of completing future development projects as well as discount rates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments Recorded at Other than Fair Value – The carrying amounts of commercial paper and other short-term debt approximate their fair values. The carrying amounts and estimated fair values of other financial instruments recorded at other than fair value are as follows:

	September 30, 2024		December 31, 2023
	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value
	(millions)

Long-term debt, including current portion	$ 26,741	$ 25,906 [c]	$ 25,274	$ 23,430 [c]

(a) Primarily represents investments accounted for under the equity method and loans not measured at fair value on a recurring basis (Level 2).
(b) Approximately $415 million and $567 million is included in current other assets and $235 million and $210 million is included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively (primarily Level 3).
(c) At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, substantially all is Level 2 for NEE and FPL.

Special Use Funds and Other Investments Carried at Fair Value – The special use funds noted above and those carried at fair value (see Recurring Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements above) consist primarily of NEE's nuclear decommissioning fund assets of approximately $9,754 million ($6,824 million for FPL) and $8,697 million ($6,049 million for FPL) at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. The investments held in the special use funds and other investments consist of equity and available for sale debt securities which are primarily carried at estimated fair value. The amortized cost of debt securities is approximately $3,629 million ($1,777 million for FPL) and $3,329 million ($1,693 million for FPL) at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. Debt securities included in the nuclear decommissioning funds have a weighted-average maturity at September 30, 2024 of approximately eight years at NEE and eight years at FPL. Other investments primarily consist of debt securities with a weighted-average maturity at September 30, 2024 of approximately seven years. The cost of securities sold is determined using the specific identification method.

For FPL's special use funds, changes in fair value of debt and equity securities, including any estimated credit losses of debt securities, result in a corresponding adjustment to the related regulatory asset or liability accounts, consistent with regulatory treatment. For NEE's non-rate regulated operations, changes in fair value of debt securities result in a corresponding adjustment to OCI, except for estimated credit losses and unrealized losses on debt securities intended or required to be sold prior to recovery of the amortized cost basis, which are recognized in other – net in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income. Changes in fair value of equity securities are primarily recorded in change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds – net in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income.

Unrealized gains (losses) recognized on equity securities held at September 30, 2024 and 2023 are as follows:

	NEE				FPL
	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,		Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,

The unrealized gains and unrealized losses on available for sale debt securities and the fair value of available for sale debt securities in an unrealized loss position are as follows:

	NEE		FPL

Unrealized losses[a]	$ 85	$ 134	$ 44	$ 71
Fair value	$ 1,195	$ 1,862	$ 639	$ 872

(a) Unrealized losses on available for sale debt securities in an unrealized loss position for greater than twelve months at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023 were not material to NEE or FPL.

Regulations issued by the FERC and the NRC provide general risk management guidelines to protect nuclear decommissioning funds and to allow such funds to earn a reasonable return. The FERC regulations prohibit, among other investments, investments in any securities of NEE or its subsidiaries, affiliates or associates, excluding investments tied to market indices or mutual funds. Similar restrictions applicable to the decommissioning funds for NEER's nuclear plants are included in the NRC operating licenses for those facilities or in NRC regulations applicable to NRC licensees not in cost-of-service environments. With respect to the decommissioning fund for Seabrook, decommissioning fund contributions and withdrawals are also regulated by the New Hampshire Nuclear Decommissioning Financing Committee pursuant to New Hampshire law.

The nuclear decommissioning reserve funds are managed by investment managers who must comply with the guidelines of NEE and FPL and the rules of the applicable regulatory authorities. The funds' assets are invested giving consideration to taxes, liquidity, risk, diversification and other prudent investment objectives.

Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements – NEE tests its equity method investments for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the fair value of the investment is less than the carrying value. Indicators of impairment may include, among other things, an observable market price below NEE's carrying value. Investments that are OTTI are written down to their estimated fair value on the reporting date and an impairment loss is recognized.

NextEra Energy Resources owns a noncontrolling interest in NEP, primarily through its limited partner interest in NEP OpCo, and accounts for this ownership interest as an equity method investment. During the third quarter of 2023, NEE recorded an impairment charge of approximately $1.2 billion ($0.9 billion after tax) related to the investment in NEP, which is reflected in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023. The impairment reflected NEE's fair value analysis based on the market approach and the significant decline in the observable trading price of NEP's common units at September 30, 2023 of $29.70 following an announcement of a decrease in NEP's distribution growth rate expectations. Based on the fair value analysis, the equity method investment with a carrying amount of approximately $4.2 billion was written down to its estimated fair value of approximately $3.0 billion, which was the carrying amount as of September 30, 2023.

During the second and third quarters of 2024, NEE evaluated the investment in NEP for impairment because the trading price of NEP's common units had periodically fallen below NEE's carrying value per unit. At September 30, 2024, the trading price of NEP's common units exceeded NEE's carrying value per unit of $27.61 and NEE has determined that the investment in NEP is not OTTI. In making this conclusion, NEE's analysis considered, among other things, the closing market price per unit on September 30, 2024, the extent to which the market value was less than the carrying value throughout the second and third quarters of 2024, the short duration of impairment, the conditions and trends of the economic cycle, analyst valuation reports, performance and trading yields of NEP and comparable public companies and trends in the general market. Should NEE determine, based on future analysis, that the impairment is other-than-temporary, an impairment loss would be recorded in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income, which would impact future results.

4. Income Taxes

NEE's effective income tax rate is based on the composition of pretax income or loss, and, for the three months ended September 30, 2023, primarily reflects the impact on pre-tax income (income before income taxes) of the impairment charge related to the investment in NEP (see Note 3 - Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements).

A reconciliation between the effective income tax rates and the applicable statutory rate is as follows:

	NEE		FPL		NEE		FPL

NEE recognizes PTCs as wind and solar energy is generated and sold based on a per kWh rate prescribed in applicable federal and state statutes, which may differ significantly from amounts computed, on a quarterly basis, using an overall effective income tax rate anticipated for the full year. NEE uses this method of recognizing PTCs for specific reasons, including that PTCs are an integral part of the expected value of most wind and some solar projects and a fundamental component of such wind and solar projects' results of operations. PTCs, as well as ITCs, can significantly affect NEE's effective income tax rate depending on the amount of pretax income or loss. The amount of PTCs recognized can be significantly affected by wind and solar generation and by the roll off of PTCs after ten years of production absent a repowering of the wind and solar projects.

5. Acquisitions

RNG Acquisition – On March 21, 2023, a wholly owned subsidiary of NextEra Energy Resources acquired a portfolio of renewable energy projects from the owners of Energy Power Partners Fund I, L.P. and North American Sustainable Energy Fund, L.P., as well as the related service provider (RNG acquisition). The portfolio primarily consisted of 31 biogas projects, one of which is an operating renewable natural gas facility and the others of which are primarily operating landfill gas-to-electric facilities. The purchase price included approximately $1.1 billion in cash consideration and the assumption of approximately $34 million of debt, excluding post-closing adjustments.

Under the acquisition method, the purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their fair value. NEE acquired identifiable assets of approximately $1.3 billion, primarily relating to property, plant and equipment and intangible assets associated with biogas rights agreements and above-market purchased power agreements, and assumed liabilities of approximately $0.3 billion and noncontrolling interests of approximately $0.1 billion. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed resulted in approximately $0.3 billion of goodwill which has been recognized on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets, of which approximately $0.2 billion is expected to be deductible for tax purposes. Goodwill associated with the RNG acquisition is reflected within NEER and, for impairment testing, is included in the clean energy assets reporting unit. The goodwill arising from the transaction represents expected benefits of synergies and expansion opportunities for NEE's clean energy businesses.

6. Related Party Transactions

Through NEP OpCo, NEP owns, or has a partial ownership interest in, a portfolio of contracted renewable energy assets consisting of wind, solar and battery storage projects as well as a contracted natural gas pipeline. NEE owns a noncontrolling interest in NEP, primarily through its limited partner interest in NEP OpCo, and accounts for its ownership interest in NEP as an equity method investment. NextEra Energy Resources operates essentially all of the energy projects owned by NEP and provides services to NEP under various related party operations and maintenance, administrative and management services agreements (service agreements). NextEra Energy Resources is also party to a CSCS agreement with a subsidiary of NEP. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the cash sweep amounts (due to NEP and its subsidiaries) held in accounts belonging to NextEra Energy Resources or its subsidiaries were approximately $51 million and $1,511 million, respectively, and are included in accounts payable. Fee income related to the CSCS agreement and the service agreements totaled approximately $5 million and $5 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $14 million and $55 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included in operating revenues in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income. Amounts due from NEP of approximately $106 million and $84 million are included in other receivables and $127 million and $114 million are included in noncurrent other assets at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. NEECH or NextEra Energy Resources guaranteed or provided indemnifications, letters of credit or surety bonds totaling approximately $1.8 billion at September 30, 2024 primarily related to obligations on behalf of NEP's subsidiaries with maturity dates ranging from 2024 to 2059, including certain project performance obligations and obligations under financing and interconnection agreements. Payment guarantees and related contracts with respect to unconsolidated entities for which NEE or one of its subsidiaries are the guarantor are recorded on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets at fair value. At September 30, 2024, approximately $59 million related to the fair value of the credit support provided under the CSCS agreement is recorded as noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheet.

During 2024 and 2023, certain services, primarily engineering, construction, transportation, storage and maintenance services, were provided to subsidiaries of NEE by related parties that NEE accounts for under the equity method of accounting. Charges for these services amounted to approximately $192 million and $134 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $525 million and $520 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

7. Variable Interest Entities

NEER – At September 30, 2024, NEE consolidates a number of VIEs within the NEER segment. Subsidiaries within the NEER segment are considered the primary beneficiary of these VIEs since they control the most significant activities of these VIEs, including operations and maintenance, and they have the obligation to absorb expected losses of these VIEs.

Eight indirect subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources have an ownership interest ranging from approximately 50% to 67% in entities which own and operate solar generation facilities with generating capacity of approximately 765 MW. Each of the subsidiaries is considered a VIE since the non-managing members have no substantive rights over the managing members, and is consolidated by NextEra Energy Resources. These entities sell their electric output to third parties under power sales contracts with expiration dates ranging from 2035 through 2052. These entities have third-party debt which is secured by liens against the assets of the entities. The debt holders have no recourse to the general credit of NextEra Energy Resources for the repayment of debt. The assets and liabilities of these VIEs were approximately $1,727 million and $530 million, respectively, at September 30, 2024, and $1,796 million and $1,085 million, respectively, at December 31, 2023. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the assets and liabilities of these VIEs consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment and long-term debt.

NEE consolidates a NEET VIE which owns and operates an approximately 280-mile electric transmission line. A NEET subsidiary is the primary beneficiary and controls the most significant activities of the VIE. NEET is entitled to receive 48% of the profits and losses of the entity. The assets and liabilities of the VIE totaled approximately $699 million and $400 million, respectively, at September 30, 2024, and $741 million and $347 million, respectively, at December 31, 2023. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the assets and liabilities of this VIE consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment and long-term debt.

NextEra Energy Resources consolidates a VIE which has a 10% direct ownership interest in wind and solar generation facilities which have the capability of producing approximately 400 MW and 599 MW, respectively. These entities sell their electric output under power sales contracts to third parties with expiration dates ranging from 2025 through 2040. These entities are also considered a VIE because the holders of differential membership interests in these entities do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities. The assets and liabilities of the VIE were approximately $1,359 million and $81 million, respectively, at September 30, 2024, and $1,434 million and $79 million, respectively, at December 31, 2023. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the assets of this VIE consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment.

NextEra Energy Resources consolidates 26 VIEs that primarily relate to certain subsidiaries which have sold differential membership interests in entities which own and operate wind generation, solar generation and battery storage facilities with the generating/storage capacity of approximately 9,700 MW, 2,838 MW and 1,519 MW, respectively. These entities sell, or will sell, their electric output either under power sales contracts to third parties with expiration dates ranging from 2024 through 2053 or in the spot market. These entities are considered VIEs because the holders of differential membership interests do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities. NextEra Energy Resources has financing obligations with respect to these entities, including third-party debt which is secured by liens against the generation facilities and the other assets of these entities or by pledges of NextEra Energy Resources' ownership interest in these entities. The debt holders have no recourse to the general credit of NEER for the repayment of debt. The assets and liabilities of these VIEs totaled approximately $19,831 million and $701 million, respectively, at September 30, 2024. There were 33 of these consolidated VIEs at December 31, 2023 and the assets and liabilities of those VIEs at such date totaled approximately $24,250 million and $3,148 million, respectively. At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the assets of these VIEs consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment, and as of December 31, 2023, the liabilities of these VIEs consisted primarily of accounts payable.

Other – At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, several NEE subsidiaries had investments totaling approximately $5,787 million ($4,460 million at FPL) and $4,962 million ($3,899 million at FPL), respectively, which are included in special use funds and noncurrent other assets on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets and in special use funds on FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets. These investments represented primarily commingled funds and asset-backed securities. NEE subsidiaries, including FPL, are not the primary beneficiaries and therefore do not consolidate any of these entities because they do not control any of the ongoing activities of these entities, were not involved in the initial design of these entities and do not have a controlling financial interest in these entities.

Certain subsidiaries of NEE have noncontrolling interests in entities accounted for under the equity method, including NEE's noncontrolling interest in NEP OpCo. These entities are limited partnerships or similar entity structures in which the limited partners or non-managing members do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities, and therefore are considered VIEs. NEE is not the primary beneficiary because it does not have a controlling financial interest in these entities, and therefore does not consolidate any of these entities. NEE's investment in these entities totaled approximately $3,971 million and $3,913 million at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. At September 30, 2024, subsidiaries of NEE had guarantees related to certain obligations of one of these entities, as well as commitments to invest an additional approximately $185 million in several of these entities. See further discussion of such guarantees and commitments in Note 12 – Commitments and – Contracts, respectively.

8. Employee Retirement Benefits

NEE sponsors a qualified noncontributory defined benefit pension plan for substantially all employees of NEE and its subsidiaries and sponsors a contributory postretirement plan for other benefits for retirees of NEE and its subsidiaries meeting certain eligibility requirements.

The components of net periodic cost (income) for the plans are as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Postretirement Benefits		Pension Benefits		Postretirement Benefits
	Three Months Ended September 30,		Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2024	2023	2024	2023	2024	2023	2024	2023

(a) Reflects enhanced early retirement benefit.

9. Debt

Significant long-term debt issuances and borrowings during the nine months ended September 30, 2024 were as follows:

	Principal Amount	Interest Rate	Maturity Date
	(millions)
FPL:
First mortgage bonds	$ 2,700	5.00 % – 5.60 %	2029 – 2054
Pollution control, solid waste disposal and industrial development revenue bonds[a]	$ 344	Variable	2054
NEECH:
Debentures – fixed	$ 3,800	4.90 % – 5.55 %	2026 – 2054
Debentures – variable	$ 600	Variable [b]	2026
Debentures, related to NEE's equity units	$ 2,000	5.15 %	2029
Junior subordinated debentures	$ 2,200	6.70 % – 6.75 % [c]	2054
Exchangeable senior notes[d]	$ 1,000	3.00 %	2027
Canadian dollar denominated debentures[e]	$ 744	4.85 %	2031
Revolving credit facilities	$ 1,750 [f]	Variable [b]	2025 – 2027
NEER:
Senior secured limited-recourse notes	$ 363	5.93 %	2055

(a) Includes tax exempt bonds that permit individual bondholders to tender the bonds for purchase at any time prior to maturity. In the event these tax exempt bonds are tendered for purchase, they would be remarketed by a designated remarketing agent in accordance with the related indenture. If the remarketing is unsuccessful, FPL would be required to purchase these tax exempt bonds. FPL's syndicated revolving credit facilities are available to support the purchase of tax exempt bonds. Variable interest rate is established at various intervals by the remarketing agent.
(b) Variable rate is based on an underlying index plus a specified margin.
(c) Debentures issued in March 2024 and June 2024 will bear interest at the stated rate until September 1, 2029 and June 15, 2034, respectively, and thereafter will bear interest based on an underlying index plus a specified margin, reset every five years.
(d) See additional discussion of the exchangeable senior notes below.
(e) A foreign currency swap has been entered into with respect to this debt issuance. See Note 2.
(f) During the nine months ended September 30, 2024, approximately $450 million of outstanding borrowings under the revolving credit facilities were repaid.

In March 2024, NEECH issued $1.0 billion principal amount of its exchangeable senior notes due 2027 (the notes). A holder may exchange all or a portion of its notes at any time prior to the maturity date in accordance with the related indenture. Upon exchange, NEECH will pay cash up to the aggregate principal amount of the notes being exchanged and has the right, at its sole discretion, to pay or deliver cash, shares of NEE common stock or a combination of both, in respect of the remainder, if any, of NEECH's exchange obligation in excess of the aggregate principal amount of the notes being exchanged. At September 30, 2024, the exchange rate, which is subject to certain adjustments as set forth in the indenture, is 14.6927 shares of NEE common stock per $1,000 in principal amount of notes, which is equivalent to an exchange price of approximately $68.06 per share of NEE common stock.

NEECH used $52 million of the net proceeds from the sale of the notes to enter into capped call transactions. Under the capped call transactions, NEECH purchased capped call options with an initial strike price of $68.06 and an initial cap price of $83.34 in each case per share of NEE common stock and subject to adjustment in certain circumstances. The capped call transactions may be settled with cash or, at NEE's election, with shares of NEE common stock. Any capped call settlement value is expected to offset the value to be delivered upon exchange of the notes as a result of share price improvement up to the cap price.

In June 2024, NEE sold $2.0 billion of equity units (initially consisting of Corporate Units). Each equity unit has a stated amount of $50 and consists of a contract to purchase NEE common stock (stock purchase contract) and, initially, a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in a Series N Debenture due June 1, 2029, issued in the principal amount of $1,000 by NEECH. Each stock purchase contract requires the holder to purchase by no later than June 1, 2027 (the final settlement date) for a price of $50 in cash, a number of shares of NEE common stock (subject to antidilution adjustments), based on a price per share range described in the following sentence. If purchased on the final settlement date, as of September 30, 2024, the number of shares issued per equity unit would (subject to antidilution adjustments) range from 0.6915 shares if the applicable market value of a share of NEE common stock is less than or equal to $72.31 (the reference price) to 0.5532 shares if the applicable market value of a share is equal to or greater than $90.38 (the threshold appreciation price), with the applicable market value to be determined using the average closing prices of NEE common stock over a 20-day trading period ending on May 26, 2027. Total annual distributions on the equity units are at the rate of 7.299%, consisting of interest on the debentures (5.15% per year) and payments under the stock purchase contracts (2.149% per year). The interest rate on the debentures is expected to be reset on or after December 1, 2026. A holder of an equity unit may satisfy its purchase obligation with proceeds raised from remarketing the NEECH debentures that are part of its equity unit. The undivided beneficial ownership interest in the NEECH debenture that is a component of each Corporate Unit is pledged to NEE to secure the holder's obligation to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contract. If a successful remarketing does not occur on or before the third business day prior to the final settlement date, and a holder has not notified NEE of its intention to settle the stock purchase contract with cash, the debentures that are components of the Corporate Units will be used to satisfy in full the holders' obligations to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contracts on the final settlement date. The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE.

On October 15, 2024, a subsidiary of NextEra Energy Resources issued $633 million in principal amount of senior-secured limited-recourse notes with a 5.74% interest rate, maturing in 2049.

10. Equity

Earnings Per Share – The reconciliation of NEE's basic and diluted earnings per share attributable to NEE is as follows:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2024	2023	2024	2023
	(millions, except per share amounts)
Numerator – net income attributable to NEE	$ 1,852	$ 1,219	$ 5,743	$ 6,100
Denominator:

Weighted-average number of common shares outstanding – assuming dilution	2,061.4	2,036.2	2,058.3	2,023.0
Earnings per share attributable to NEE:
Basic	$ 0.90	$ 0.60	$ 2.80	$ 3.02
Assuming dilution	$ 0.90	$ 0.60	$ 2.79	$ 3.02

(a) Calculated primarily using the treasury stock method. Performance share awards are included in diluted weighted-average number of common shares outstanding based upon what would be issued if the end of the reporting period was the end of the term of the award.

Common shares issuable pursuant to equity units, stock options, performance share awards and/or exchangeable notes, as well as restricted stock which were not included in the denominator above due to their antidilutive effect were approximately 24.6 million and 25.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and 31.0 million and 43.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

11. Summary of Significant Accounting and Reporting Policies

Rate Regulation – In March 2024, the FPSC issued a supplemental final order regarding FPL's 2021 rate agreement. The order affirmed the FPSC's prior approval of the 2021 rate agreement and is intended to further document, as requested by the Florida Supreme Court, how the evidence presented led to and supports the FPSC's decision to approve FPL's 2021 rate agreement. In April 2024, Florida Rising, Inc., Environmental Confederation of Southwest Florida, Inc. and League of United Latin American Citizens of Florida (collectively, the appellants) submitted a notice of appeal to the Florida Supreme Court regarding the FPSC's supplemental final order. The Florida Supreme Court issued an order granting FPL's motion to expedite the schedule. Oral arguments were held in October 2024, and the appeal remains pending.

In April 2024, the FPSC approved FPL's March 2024 request for a mid-course correction to reduce the 2024 fuel cost recovery factors and refund customers approximately $662 million over eight months effective May 2024.

Storm Reserve Deficit – In August 2024 and September 2024, Hurricane Debby and Hurricane Helene, respectively, traveled through the Gulf of Mexico, eventually making landfall in Florida's Big Bend region, causing widespread outages. Although FPL has not finalized its storm restoration costs associated with Hurricanes Debby and Helene, FPL's preliminary estimate of total recoverable storm restoration costs is approximately $0.3 billion. Prior to Hurricane Debby, FPL's storm reserve had a balance of approximately $80 million. At September 30, 2024, the estimated recoverable storm restoration costs exceeded the balance of the storm reserve by approximately $0.2 billion. This deficit has been recorded by FPL as a current regulatory asset on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets.

In October 2024, Hurricane Milton made landfall on the West Coast of Florida and traveled across the peninsula impacting much of FPL's service territory. Although FPL has not finalized its storm restoration costs associated with Hurricane Milton, FPL's preliminary estimate of total recoverable storm restoration costs is approximately $0.8 billion.

Pursuant to FPL's 2021 rate agreement, storm restoration costs, plus an additional approximately $150 million to replenish the storm reserve, are recoverable from customers through a surcharge. FPL expects to file a petition in fourth quarter 2024 for a surcharge to be recovered over calendar year 2025 of approximately $1.2 billion. The final storm restoration costs are subject to a prudence review by the FPSC.

Restricted Cash – At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, NEE had approximately $311 million ($102 million for FPL) and $730 million ($15 million for FPL), respectively, of restricted cash, which is included in current other assets on NEE's and FPL's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Restricted cash is primarily related to debt service payments and margin cash collateral requirements at NEER and bond proceeds held for construction at FPL. In addition, where offsetting positions exist, restricted cash related to margin cash collateral of $138 million is netted against derivative assets and $207 million is netted against derivative liabilities at September 30, 2024 and $194 million is netted against derivative assets and $815 million is netted against derivative liabilities at December 31, 2023. See Note 2.

Disposal of Businesses – In September 2024, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold 100% ownership interests in certain oil and gas shale formations and, as part of a joint venture (pipeline joint venture), sold an ownership interest, representing an approximately 15% economic interest, in three natural gas pipeline facilities located in the southern U.S. for total cash proceeds of approximately $101 million (subject to post-closing adjustments). A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary has operated and will continue to operate two of the pipeline facilities included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $120 million ($77 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net. Total assets of approximately $2,211 million, primarily property, plant and equipment and investment in equity method investees, and total liabilities of approximately $1,833 million, primarily long-term debt, were removed from NEE's balance sheet as a result of the transaction. NEE's remaining interest, an approximately 85% economic interest, in the pipeline joint venture is a noncontrolling interest based on the governance structure of the joint venture and is reflected as an equity method investment of approximately $396 million at September 30, 2024. The fair value of NEE's retained interest was calculated based on significant estimates and assumptions, including Level 3 (unobservable) inputs. Estimates and assumptions include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, discount rates reflecting risk inherent in future cash flows and future market prices.

In September 2024, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold an ownership interest, representing an approximately 65% economic interest, as part of a joint venture (renewable assets joint venture), consisting of a portfolio of five wind generation facilities and three solar generation facilities located in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 1,634 MW, for cash proceeds of approximately $900 million. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary will continue to operate the facilities included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $103 million ($76 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net. Total assets of approximately $2,520 million, primarily property, plant and equipment and total noncontrolling interests of approximately $844 million were removed from NEE's balance sheet as a result of the transaction. NEE's remaining interest, an approximately 35% economic interest, in the renewable assets joint venture is a noncontrolling interest based on the governance structure of the joint venture and is reflected as an equity method investment of approximately $831 million at September 30, 2024. NEE expects to receive a distribution of approximately $390 million upon the projects in the renewable assets joint venture obtaining financing in the fourth quarter of 2024. The fair value of NEE's retained interest was calculated based on significant estimates and assumptions, including Level 3 (unobservable) inputs. Estimates and assumptions include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, discount rates reflecting risk inherent in future cash flows and future market prices.

In June 2023, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold to a NEP subsidiary their 100% ownership interests in five wind generation facilities and three solar generation facilities located in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 688 MW for cash proceeds of approximately $566 million, plus working capital of $32 million. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facilities included in the sale.

Property Plant and Equipment – Property, plant and equipment consists of the following:

	NEE		FPL
	September 30, 2024	December 31, 2023	September 30, 2024	December 31, 2023

During the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, FPL recorded AFUDC of approximately $69 million and $49 million, respectively, including AFUDC – equity of approximately $49 million and $40 million, respectively. During the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, FPL recorded AFUDC of approximately $180 million and $123 million, respectively, including AFUDC – equity of $139 million and $100 million, respectively. During the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, NEER capitalized interest on construction projects of approximately $134 million and $88 million, respectively. During the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, NEER capitalized interest on construction projects of approximately $344 million and $220 million, respectively.

Structured Payables – At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, NEE's outstanding obligations under its structured payables program were approximately $1.6 billion and $4.7 billion, respectively, substantially all of which is included in accounts payable on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Income Taxes – For taxable years beginning after 2022, renewable energy tax credits generated during the taxable year can be transferred to an unrelated purchaser for cash and are accounted for under Accounting Standards Codification 740 – Income Taxes. Proceeds resulting from the sales of renewable energy tax credits for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 of approximately $768 million are reported in the cash paid (received) for income taxes – net within the supplemental disclosures of cash flow information on NEE's condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

Noncontrolling Interests – At September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, approximately $8,043 million and $8,857 million, respectively, of noncontrolling interests on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets relates to differential membership interests. For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, NEE recorded earnings of approximately $281 million and $212 million, respectively, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 approximately $986 million and $820 million, respectively, associated with differential membership interests, which is reflected as net loss attributable to noncontrolling interests on NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income.

12. Commitments and Contingencies

Commitments – NEE and its subsidiaries have made commitments in connection with a portion of their projected capital expenditures. Capital expenditures at FPL include, among other things, the cost for construction of additional facilities and equipment to meet customer demand, as well as capital improvements to and maintenance of existing facilities. At NEER, capital expenditures include, among other things, the cost, including capitalized interest, for development, construction and maintenance of its competitive energy businesses. Also see Note 3 – Contingent Consideration.

At September 30, 2024, estimated capital expenditures, on an accrual basis, for the remainder of 2024 through 2028 were as follows:

	Remainder of 2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	Total
			(millions)
FPL:
Generation:[a]
New[b]	$ 605	$ 3,180	$ 4,190	$ 3,760	$ 3,645	$ 15,380
Existing	275	730	855	1,220	1,225	4,305
Transmission and distribution[c]	1,140	2,740	2,845	3,910	4,040	14,675

Other	155	445	240	240	275	1,355
Total	$ 3,525	$ 8,355	$ 5,045	$ 3,075	$ 1,105	$ 21,105

(a) Includes AFUDC of approximately $35 million, $125 million, $185 million, $180 million and $185 million for the remainder of 2024 through 2028, respectively.
(b) Includes land, generation structures, transmission interconnection and integration and licensing.
(c) Includes AFUDC of approximately $30 million, $90 million, $100 million, $90 million and $65 million for the remainder of 2024 through 2028, respectively.
(d) Represents capital expenditures for which applicable internal approvals and also, if required, regulatory approvals have been received.
(e) Consists of capital expenditures for new wind projects and repowering of existing wind projects totaling approximately 2,665 MW, and related transmission.
(f) Includes capital expenditures for new solar projects (including solar plus battery storage projects) totaling approximately 7,542 MW and related transmission.
(g) Includes capital expenditures primarily for battery storage projects and renewable fuels projects.
(h) Includes AFUDC of approximately $5 million, $15 million, $20 million, $25 million and $5 million for the remainder of 2024 through 2028, respectively.

The above estimates are subject to continuing review and adjustment and actual capital expenditures may vary significantly from these estimates.

In addition to guarantees noted in Note 6 with regards to NEP, NEECH has guaranteed or provided indemnifications or letters of credit related to third parties, including certain obligations of investments in joint ventures accounted for under the equity method, totaling approximately $682 million at September 30, 2024. These obligations primarily related to guaranteeing the residual value of certain financing leases and obligations under purchased power agreements. Payment guarantees and related contracts with respect to unconsolidated entities for which NEE or one of its subsidiaries are the guarantor are recorded at fair value and are included in noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's condensed consolidated balance sheets. Management believes that the exposure associated with these guarantees is not material.

Contracts – In addition to the commitments made in connection with the estimated capital expenditures included in the table in Commitments above, FPL has firm commitments under long-term contracts primarily for the transportation of natural gas with expiration dates through 2042.

At September 30, 2024, NEER has entered into contracts primarily for the purchase of wind turbines, wind towers, solar modules and batteries and related construction and development activities, as well as for the supply of uranium, and the conversion, enrichment and fabrication of nuclear fuel with expiration dates through 2033. Approximately $4.0 billion of related commitments are included in the estimated capital expenditures table in Commitments above. In addition, NEER has contracts primarily for the transportation and storage of natural gas with expiration dates through 2041.

The required capacity and/or minimum payments under contracts, including those discussed above, at September 30, 2024 were estimated as follows:

	Remainder of 2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	Thereafter
			(millions)
FPL[a]	$ 285	$ 1,140	$ 1,145	$ 1,040	$ 990	$ 8,025
NEER[b][c]	$ 2,790	$ 2,270	$ 490	$ 205	$ 120	$ 485

(a) Includes approximately $100 million, $405 million, $400 million, $400 million, $400 million and $5,160 million for the remainder of 2024 through 2028 and thereafter, respectively, of firm commitments related to the natural gas transportation agreements with Sabal Trail and Florida Southeast Connection. The charges associated with these agreements are recoverable through the fuel clause. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, the charges associated with these agreements totaled approximately $103 million and $306 million, respectively, of which $24 million and $72 million, respectively, were eliminated in consolidation at NEE. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, the charges associated with these agreements totaled approximately $104 million and $314 million, respectively, of which $25 million and $74 million, respectively, were eliminated in consolidation at NEE.

(b) Includes approximately $190 million of commitments to invest in technology and other investments through 2031. See Note 7 – Other.

(c) Includes approximately $345 million, $620 million and $190 million for the remainder of 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively, of joint obligations of NEECH and NEER.

Insurance – Liability for accidents at nuclear power plants is governed by the Price-Anderson Act, which limits the liability of nuclear reactor owners to the amount of insurance available from both private sources and an industry retrospective payment plan. In accordance with this Act, NEE maintains $500 million of private liability insurance per site, which is the maximum obtainable, except at Duane Arnold which obtained an exemption from the NRC and maintains a $100 million private liability insurance limit. Each site, except Duane Arnold, participates in a secondary financial protection system, which provides up to $15.8 billion of liability insurance coverage per incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S. Under the secondary financial protection system, NEE is subject to retrospective assessments of up to $1,161 million ($664 million for FPL), plus any applicable taxes, per incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S., payable at a rate not to exceed $173 million ($99 million for FPL) per incident per year. NextEra Energy Resources and FPL are contractually entitled to recover a proportionate share of such assessments from the owners of minority interests in Seabrook and St. Lucie Unit No. 2, which approximates $20 million and $25 million, plus any applicable taxes, per incident, respectively.

NEE participates in a nuclear insurance mutual company that provides $2.75 billion of limited insurance coverage per occurrence per site for property damage, decontamination and premature decommissioning risks at its nuclear plants and a sublimit of $1.5 billion for non-nuclear perils, except for Duane Arnold which has a limit of $50 million for property damage, decontamination risks and non-nuclear perils. NEE participates in co-insurance of 10% of the first $400 million of losses per site per occurrence, except at Duane Arnold. The proceeds from such insurance, however, must first be used for reactor stabilization and site decontamination before they can be used for plant repair. NEE also participates in an insurance program that provides limited coverage for replacement power costs if a nuclear plant is out of service for an extended period of time because of an accident. In the event of an accident at one of NEE's or another participating insured's nuclear plants, NEE could be assessed up to $169 million ($106 million for FPL), plus any applicable taxes, in retrospective premiums in a policy year. NextEra Energy Resources and FPL are contractually entitled to recover a proportionate share of such assessments from the owners of minority interests in Seabrook, Duane Arnold and St. Lucie Unit No. 2, which approximates $3 million, $2 million and $4 million, plus any applicable taxes, respectively.

Due to the high cost and limited coverage available from third-party insurers, NEE does not have property insurance coverage for a substantial portion of either its transmission and distribution property or natural gas pipeline assets. If FPL's storm restoration costs exceed the storm reserve, such storm restoration costs may be recovered, subject to prudence review by the FPSC, through surcharges approved by the FPSC or through securitization provisions pursuant to Florida law. See Note 11 - Storm Reserve Deficit.

In the event of a loss, the amount of insurance available might not be adequate to cover property damage and other expenses incurred. Uninsured losses and other expenses, to the extent not recovered from customers in the case of FPL, would be borne by NEE and FPL and could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

Legal Proceedings – FPL is the defendant in a purported class action lawsuit filed in February 2018 that seeks from FPL unspecified damages for alleged breach of contract and gross negligence based on service interruptions that occurred as a result of Hurricane Irma in 2017. There is currently no trial date set. The Miami-Dade County Circuit Court certified the case as a class action and FPL's appeal of that decision was denied by Florida's Third District Court of Appeal (3rd DCA) in March 2023. The class that was certified encompassed all persons and business owners who reside in and are otherwise citizens of the state of Florida that contracted with FPL for electrical services, were charged storm charges, experienced a power outage after Hurricane Irma and suffered consequential damages because of FPL's alleged breach of contract or gross negligence. FPL filed a motion in March 2023, for rehearing with the 3rd DCA claiming that the opinion upholding the class certification contains several errors that should be reheard by the full 3rd DCA. Additionally, in July 2023, FPL filed in the circuit court a motion to dismiss the lawsuit on the basis that, among other things, it believes the FPSC has exclusive jurisdiction over any issues arising from a utility's preparation for and response to emergencies or disasters. In May 2024, the 3rd DCA vacated its prior order which had upheld the circuit court's certification of the class, and remanded the proceeding to the circuit court to be stayed pending the plaintiffs obtaining a decision from the FPSC related to the sufficiency of FPL's disaster preparedness. In June 2024, the plaintiffs filed a motion for rehearing, rehearing en banc or certification with the 3rd DCA and that motion was denied in August 2024. In September 2024, the plaintiffs filed a request for the Florida Supreme Court to review the 3rd DCA's order decertifying the class and remanding and staying the case, which request remains pending. FPL is vigorously defending against the claims in this proceeding.

NEE, FPL, and certain current and former executives, are the named defendants in a purported shareholder securities class action lawsuit filed in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in June 2023 and amended in December 2023 that seeks from the defendants unspecified damages allegedly resulting from alleged false or misleading statements regarding NEE's alleged campaign finance and other political activities. The alleged class of plaintiffs are all persons or entities who purchased or otherwise acquired NEE securities between December 2, 2021 and January 30, 2023. In September 2024, the class action lawsuit was dismissed with prejudice by the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida. On October 16, 2024, the lead plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit. NEE is vigorously defending against the claims in this proceeding.

NEE, along with certain current and former executives and directors are the named defendants in purported shareholder derivative actions filed in the 15th Judicial Circuit in Palm Beach County, Florida in July 2023 and March 2024, in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in October 2023 and November 2023 (which were consolidated in January 2024) and in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in July 2024 seeking unspecified damages allegedly resulting from, among other things, breaches of fiduciary duties and, in the consolidated cases and the July 2024 case, violations of the federal securities laws, all purporting to relate to alleged campaign finance law violations and associated matters. The defendants are vigorously defending against the claims in these proceedings. NEE and the plaintiffs in the derivative actions have agreed to a specified stay. NEE also has received demand letters and books and records requests from counsel representing other purported shareholders and containing similar allegations. These demands seek, among other things, a Board of Directors investigation of, and/or documentation regarding, these allegations. NEE and certain of the shareholders demanding an investigation have agreed to a specified stay of all material activities related to the demand.

In September 2023, a participant in the NEE Employee Retirement Savings Plan (Plan), purportedly on behalf of the Plan and all persons who were participants in or beneficiaries of the Plan at any time between September 25, 2016 and September 25, 2023 (Plan participants), filed a putative ERISA class action lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida against NEE. The complaint alleges that NEE violated its fiduciary duties under the Plan by permitting a third-party administrative recordkeeper to charge allegedly excessive fees for the services provided and allegedly by allowing a large volume of plan assets to be invested in NEE common stock. The plaintiff seeks declaratory, equitable and monetary relief on behalf of the Plan and Plan participants. NEE and the plaintiff have agreed to a specified stay of the action to permit the plaintiff to exhaust the administrative remedies available under the Plan.

13. Segment Information

The tables below present information for NEE's two reportable segments, FPL, a rate-regulated utility business, and NEER, which is comprised of competitive energy and rate-regulated transmission businesses. Corporate and Other represents other business activities, includes eliminating entries, and may include the net effect of rounding.

NEE's segment information is as follows:

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

OVERVIEW

NEE's operating performance is driven primarily by the operations of its two principal businesses, FPL, which serves approximately 5.9 million customer accounts in Florida and is one of the largest electric utilities in the U.S., and NEER, which together with affiliated entities is the world's largest generator of renewable energy from the wind and sun based on 2023 MWh produced on a net generation basis, as well as a world leader in battery storage. The table below presents net income (loss) attributable to NEE and earnings (loss) per share attributable to NEE, assuming dilution, by reportable segment, FPL and NEER. Corporate and Other is primarily comprised of the operating results of other business activities, as well as other income and expense items, including interest expense, and eliminating entries, and may include the net effect of rounding. See Note 13 for additional segment information. The following discussions should be read in conjunction with the Notes contained herein and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations appearing in the 2023 Form 10-K. The results of operations for an interim period generally will not give a true indication of results for the year. In the following discussions, all comparisons are with the corresponding items in the prior year periods.

	Net Income (Loss) Attributable to NEE		Earnings (Loss) Per Share Attributable to NEE, Assuming Dilution		Net Income (Loss) Attributable to NEE		Earnings (Loss) Per Share Attributable to NEE, Assuming Dilution

(a) NEER's results reflect an allocation of interest expense from NEECH to NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries based on a deemed capital structure of 70% debt and differential membership interests sold by NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries.

Adjusted Earnings

NEE prepares its financial statements under GAAP. However, management uses earnings adjusted for certain items (adjusted earnings), a non-GAAP financial measure, internally for financial planning, analysis of performance, reporting of results to the Board of Directors and as an input in determining performance-based compensation under NEE's employee incentive compensation plans. NEE also uses adjusted earnings when communicating its financial results and earnings outlook to analysts and investors. NEE's management believes that adjusted earnings provide a more meaningful representation of NEE's fundamental earnings power. Although these amounts are properly reflected in the determination of net income under GAAP, management believes that the amount and/or nature of such items make period to period comparisons of operations difficult and potentially confusing. Adjusted earnings do not represent a substitute for net income, as prepared under GAAP.

The following table provides details of the after-tax adjustments to net income considered in computing NEE's adjusted earnings discussed above.

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2024	2023	2024	2023
Net gains (losses) associated with non-qualifying hedge activity[a]	$ (328)	$ 284	$ (250)	$ 1,746
Differential membership interests-related – NEER	$ —	$ (11)	$ (5)	$ (38)
NEP investment gains, net – NEER[b]	$ (24)	$ (908)	$ (71)	$ (937)
Change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds and OTTI, net – NEER	$ 77	$ (66)	$ 101	$ (6)
Impairment charges related to investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline – NEER	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ (39)

(a) For the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, approximately $191 million of gains and $127 million of losses, respectively, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, $44 million and $1,297 million of gains, respectively, are included in NEER's net income (loss); the balance is included in Corporate and Other. The change in non-qualifying hedge activity is primarily attributable to changes in forward power and natural gas prices, interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates, as well as the reversal of previously recognized unrealized mark-to-market gains or losses as the underlying transactions were realized.

(b) For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, includes an impairment charge related to the investment in NEP. See Note 3 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements.

NEE segregates into two categories unrealized mark-to-market gains and losses and timing impacts related to derivative transactions. The first category, referred to as non-qualifying hedges, represents certain energy derivative, interest rate derivative and foreign currency transactions entered into as economic hedges, which do not meet the requirements for hedge accounting, or for which hedge accounting treatment is not elected or has been discontinued. Changes in the fair value of those transactions are marked to market and reported in the condensed consolidated statements of income, resulting in earnings volatility because the economic offset to certain of the positions are generally not marked to market. As a consequence, NEE's net income reflects only the movement in one part of economically-linked transactions. For example, a gain (loss) in the non-qualifying hedge category for certain energy derivatives is offset by decreases (increases) in the fair value of related physical asset positions in the portfolio or contracts, which are not marked to market under GAAP. For this reason, NEE's management views results expressed excluding the impact of the non-qualifying hedges as a meaningful measure of current period performance. The second category, referred to as trading activities, which is included in adjusted earnings, represents the net unrealized effect of actively traded positions entered into to take advantage of expected market price movements and all other commodity hedging activities. At FPL, substantially all changes in the fair value of energy derivative transactions are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability until the contracts are settled, and, upon settlement, any gains or losses are passed through the fuel clause. See Note 2.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Summary

Net income attributable to NEE increased by $633 million for the three months ended September 30, 2024 reflecting higher results at NEER and FPL, partly offset by lower results at Corporate and Other. Net income attributable to NEE decreased by $357 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 reflecting lower results at Corporate and Other, partly offset by higher results at FPL and NEER.

FPL's increase in net income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 was primarily driven by continued investments in plant in service and other property.

NEER's results increased for the three months ended September 30, 2024 primarily reflecting the absence of an impairment charge related to the investment in NEP recorded in 2023, favorable non-qualifying hedge activity compared to 2023 and higher earnings from new investments. NEER's results increased for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily reflecting the absence of an impairment charge related to the investment in NEP recorded in 2023 and higher earnings from new investments, partly offset by less favorable non-qualifying hedge activity compared to 2023.

Corporate and Other's results decreased for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily due to unfavorable non-qualifying hedge activity compared to 2023.

NEE's effective income tax rates for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 were approximately 0% and (5)%, respectively. NEE's effective income tax rates for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 were approximately 3% and 14%, respectively. See Note 4 for a discussion of NEE's and FPL's effective income tax rates.

FPL: Results of Operations

Investments in plant in service and other property grew FPL's average rate base by approximately $6.0 billion and $6.4 billion for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively, when compared to the same periods in the prior year, reflecting, among other things, solar generation additions and ongoing transmission and distribution additions.

The use of reserve amortization is permitted by FPL's 2021 rate agreement. In order to earn a targeted regulatory ROE, subject to limitations associated with the 2021 rate agreement, reserve amortization is calculated using a trailing thirteen-month average of retail rate base and capital structure in conjunction with the trailing twelve months regulatory retail base net operating income, which primarily includes the retail base portion of base and other revenues, net of O&M, depreciation and amortization, interest and tax expenses. In general, the net impact of these income statement line items must be adjusted, in part, by reserve amortization to earn the targeted regulatory ROE. In certain periods, reserve amortization is reversed so as not to exceed the targeted regulatory ROE. The drivers of FPL's net income not reflected in the reserve amortization calculation typically include wholesale and transmission service revenues and expenses, cost recovery clause revenues and expenses, AFUDC – equity and revenue and costs not recoverable from retail customers. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, FPL recorded the reversal of reserve amortization of approximately $231 million and reserve amortization of $406 million, respectively. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, FPL recorded the reversal of reserve amortization of approximately $245 million and reserve amortization of $206 million, respectively. See Depreciation and Amortization Expense below. During all periods presented, FPL earned an approximately 11.80% regulatory ROE on its retail rate base, based on a trailing thirteen-month average retail rate base as of September 30, 2024 and September 30, 2023. In July 2024, FPL reduced the targeted regulatory ROE for the full-year 2024 to 11.40%.

FPL completed a twelve-month interim storm restoration charge that began in April 2023 for eligible storm restoration costs of approximately $1.3 billion, primarily related to surcharges for Hurricanes Ian and Nicole which impacted FPL's service area in 2022.

In the third quarter of 2024, FPL's service territory was impacted by Hurricanes Debby and Helene and FPL incurred recoverable storm restoration costs of approximately $0.3 billion. In October 2024, FPL's service territory was impacted by Hurricane Milton and FPL incurred recoverable storm restoration costs of approximately $0.8 billion. See Note 11 – Storm Reserve Deficit.

In March 2024, the FPSC issued a supplemental final order regarding FPL's 2021 rate agreement. An April 2024 appeal of the order filed with the Florida Supreme Court by certain intervenors remains pending. See Note 11 – Rate Regulation. In September 2024, the license renewals for Turkey Point Unit No. 3 and Turkey Point Unit No. 4 were approved, extending the operating licenses to 2053 and 2054, respectively. Subsequently, an appeal of the decision dismissing all of the proposed contentions against the subsequent license renewal was filed with the NRC and that appeal is pending.

Operating Revenues

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, operating revenues decreased $536 million and $1,006 million, respectively, primarily reflecting decreases in storm cost recovery revenues of approximately $486 million and $745 million, respectively, primarily associated with the completion of surcharges for Hurricanes Ian and Nicole, as discussed above. Additionally, fuel revenues decreased approximately $110 million and $384 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively, primarily relating to lower fuel prices. The decreases in operating revenues for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 were partly offset by increases in retail base revenues of approximately $71 million and $184 million, respectively. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, the increase in retail base revenues was primarily related to an increase of approximately 2.1% and 1.9%, respectively, in the average number of customer accounts, partly offset by a decrease of 1.1% and 0.6%, respectively, in the average usage per retail customer driven by unfavorable weather when compared to the prior year periods.

Fuel, Purchased Power and Interchange Expense

Fuel, purchased power and interchange expense decreased $131 million and $442 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively, primarily reflecting lower fuel prices.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense

Depreciation and amortization expense decreased $450 million and $772 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively. The decrease for the three months ended September 30, 2024 primarily reflects approximately $486 million of lower amortization of deferred storm cost expenses primarily associated with Hurricanes Ian and Nicole, as discussed above, partly offset by increased depreciation related to higher plant in service balances. The decrease for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily reflects approximately $745 million of lower amortization of deferred storm cost expenses primarily associated with Hurricanes Ian and Nicole, as discussed above, and the impact of reserve amortization, partly offset by increased depreciation related to higher plant in service balances. During the three months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, FPL recorded the reversal of reserve amortization of approximately $231 million and $245 million, respectively. During the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, FPL recorded reserve amortization of approximately $406 million and $206 million, respectively. Reserve amortization, or reversal of such amortization, reflects adjustments to accrued asset removal costs provided under the 2021 rate agreement in order to achieve the targeted regulatory ROE. Reserve amortization is recorded as either an increase or decrease to accrued asset removal costs which is reflected in noncurrent regulatory assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. At September 30, 2024, approximately $817 million of reserve amortization remains available under the 2021 rate agreement.

NEER: Results of Operations

NEER's results increased $1,453 million and $69 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively. The primary drivers, on an after-tax basis, of the changes are in the following table.

	Increase (Decrease) From Prior Year Period
	Three Months Ended September 30, 2024	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2024
	(millions)
New investments[a]	$ 303	$ 858

Impairment charges related to investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline[c]	—	39
Change in net income less net loss attributable to noncontrolling interests	$ 1,453	$ 69

(a) Reflects after-tax project contributions, including the net effect of deferred income taxes and other benefits associated with renewable energy tax credits for wind, solar and storage projects, as applicable, but excludes allocation of interest expense and corporate general and administrative expenses except for an allocated credit support charge related to guarantees issued to conduct business activities. Results from projects, pipelines and rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines are included in new investments during the first twelve months of operation or ownership. Project results, including repowered wind projects, are included in existing clean energy, pipeline results are included in gas infrastructure and rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines are included in NEET beginning with the thirteenth month of operation or ownership.

(b) Excludes allocation of interest expense and corporate general and administrative expenses except for an allocated credit support charge related to guarantees issued to conduct business activities.

(c) See Overview – Adjusted Earnings for additional information.

New Investments

Results from new investments for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 increased primarily due to higher earnings related to new wind and solar generation and battery storage facilities that entered service during or after the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023.

Customer Supply

Results from customer supply decreased for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily due to the normalization of origination activity and margins as compared to higher origination activity and margins in the prior year periods.

Other Factors

Supplemental to the primary drivers of the changes in NEER's results discussed above, the discussion below describes changes in certain line items set forth in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income as they relate to NEER.

Operating Revenues

Operating revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2024 increased $916 million primarily due to:

- the impact of non-qualifying commodity hedges due primarily to changes in energy prices (approximately $574 million of gains for the three months ended September 30, 2024 compared to $346 million of losses for the comparable period in 2023), and
- revenues from new investments of $148 million, partly offset by,

- net decreases in revenues of $194 million from the customer supply and gas infrastructure businesses.

Operating revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 decreased $922 million primarily due to:

- the impact of non-qualifying commodity hedges due primarily to changes in energy prices (approximately $341 million of gains for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 compared to $1,607 million of gains for the comparable period in 2023), and
- net decreases in revenues of $105 million from the customer supply and gas infrastructure businesses,

partly offset by,

- revenues from new investments of $338 million, and
- higher revenues from existing clean energy assets of $185 million primarily due the absence of 2023 refueling outages at the Seabrook and Point Beach nuclear facilities.

Operating Expenses – net
Operating expenses – net for the three months ended September 30, 2024 increased $245 million primarily due to increases of $140 million in depreciation and amortization, $70 million in O&M expenses and $28 million in fuel, purchased power and interchange expenses. Operating expenses – net for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 increased $828 million primarily due to increases of $465 million in depreciation and amortization, $227 million in O&M expenses and $99 million in fuel, purchased power and interchange expenses. The increases for both periods were primarily associated with growth across the NEER businesses as well as higher depletion and higher O&M expenses at the gas infrastructure business.

Gains on Disposal of Businesses/Assets – net
For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, the changes in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net primarily reflect the September 2024 sales of ownership interests in connection with the pipeline joint venture and the renewable assets joint venture. See Note 11 – Disposal of Businesses.

Interest Expense
NEER's interest expense for the three months ended September 30, 2024 increased $507 million reflecting approximately $329 million of unfavorable impacts related to changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments as well as higher average interest rates and higher average debt balances. NEER's interest expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 increased $522 million reflecting approximately $294 million of unfavorable impacts related to changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments as well as higher average interest rates and higher average debt balances.

Equity in Earnings (Losses) of Equity Method Investees
NEER recognized $237 million and $578 million of equity in earnings of equity method investees for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively, compared to $954 million and $722 million of equity in losses of equity method investees for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively. The change for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily reflects the absence of an impairment charge in 2023 of approximately $1.2 billion ($0.9 billion after tax) related to the investment in NEP (see Note 3 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements).

Change in Unrealized Gains (Losses) on Equity Securities Held in NEER's Nuclear Decommissioning Funds – net
For the three months ended September 30, 2024, changes in the fair value of equity securities in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds related to favorable market conditions in 2024 compared to the prior year period.

Income Taxes
PTCs from wind and solar projects and ITCs from solar, battery storage and certain wind projects are included in NEER's earnings. PTCs are recognized as wind and solar energy is generated and sold based on a per kWh rate prescribed in applicable federal and state statutes. NEER's effective income tax rate is primarily based on the composition of pretax income (loss) in the periods presented, as well as the amount of renewable energy tax credits in the periods presented. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, renewable energy tax credits increased by approximately $172 million and $435 million, respectively. See Note 4.

RNG Acquisition
On March 21, 2023, a wholly owned subsidiary of NextEra Energy Resources acquired a portfolio of renewable energy projects as well as the related service provider. See Note 5 – RNG Acquisition.

Corporate and Other: Results of Operations

Corporate and Other is primarily comprised of the operating results of other business activities, as well as corporate interest income and expenses. Corporate and Other allocates a portion of NEECH's corporate interest expense to NextEra Energy Resources. Interest expense is allocated based on a deemed capital structure of 70% debt and differential membership interests sold by NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries.

Corporate and Other's results decreased $930 million during the three months ended September 30, 2024 primarily due to unfavorable after-tax impacts of approximately $930 million, as compared to the prior year period, related to non-qualifying hedge activity as a result of changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments. Corporate and Other's results decreased $718 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2024 primarily due to unfavorable after-tax impacts of approximately $743 million, as compared to the prior year period, related to non-qualifying hedge activity as a result of changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

NEE and its subsidiaries require funds to support and grow their businesses. These funds are used for, among other things, working capital, capital expenditures (see Note 12 – Commitments), investments in or acquisitions of assets and businesses (see Note 5), payment of maturing debt and related derivative obligations (see Note 9 and Note 2) and, from time to time, redemption or repurchase of outstanding debt or equity securities. It is anticipated that these requirements will be satisfied through a combination of cash flows from operations, short- and long-term borrowings, the issuance of short- and long-term debt (see Note 9) and, from time to time, equity securities, proceeds from differential membership investors, the sale of renewable energy tax credits (see Note 11 – Income Taxes) and sales of ownership interests in assets/businesses to NEP or third parties (see Note 11 – Disposal of Businesses), consistent with NEE's and FPL's objective of maintaining, on a long-term basis, a capital structure that will support a strong investment grade credit rating. NEE, FPL and NEECH rely on access to credit and capital markets as significant sources of liquidity for capital requirements and other operations that are not satisfied by operating cash flows. The inability of NEE, FPL and NEECH to maintain their current credit ratings could affect their ability to raise short- and long-term capital, their cost of capital and the execution of their respective financing strategies, and could require the posting of additional collateral under certain agreements.

Cash Flows

NEE's sources and uses of cash for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 were as follows:

	Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2024	2023
	(millions)
Sources of cash:
Cash flows from operating activities	$ 11,279	$ 8,423
Issuances of long-term debt, including premiums and discounts	16,175	9,978
Sale of independent power and other investments of NEER	2,208	1,353
Issuances of common stock/equity units – net	—	4,505
Net increase in commercial paper and other short-term debt	4,205	3,563
Total sources of cash	33,867	27,822
Uses of cash:
Capital expenditures, independent power and other investments and nuclear fuel purchases	(20,108)	(18,910)
Retirements of long-term debt	(8,941)	(5,084)
Payments to related parties under the CSCS agreement – net	(1,460)	(206)
Issuances of common stock/equity units – net	(7)	—
Dividends on common stock	(3,176)	(2,823)
Other uses – net	(1,021)	(1,450)

Effects of currency translation on cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	—	(12)
Net decrease in cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	$ (846)	$ (663)

NEE's primary capital requirements are for expanding and enhancing FPL's electric system and generation facilities to continue to provide reliable service to meet customer electricity demands and for funding NEER's investments in independent power and other projects. See Note 12 – Commitments for estimated capital expenditures for the remainder of 2024 through 2028.

The following table provides a summary of capital investments for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023.

Liquidity

At September 30, 2024, NEE's total net available liquidity was approximately $12.0 billion. The table below provides the components of FPL's and NEECH's net available liquidity at September 30, 2024.

	FPL	NEECH	Total	Maturity Date FPL	Maturity Date NEECH

(a) Provide for the funding of loans up to the amount of the credit facility and the issuance of letters of credit up to $3,200 million ($450 million for FPL and $2,750 million for NEECH). The entire amount of the credit facilities is available for general corporate purposes and to provide additional liquidity in the event of a loss to the companies' or their subsidiaries' operating facilities (including, in the case of FPL, a transmission and distribution property loss). FPL's syndicated revolving credit facilities are also available to support the purchase of $1,663 million of pollution control, solid waste disposal and industrial development revenue bonds in the event they are tendered by individual bondholders and not remarketed prior to maturity, as well as the repayment of approximately $1,979 million of floating rate notes in the event an individual noteholder requires repayment at specified dates prior to maturity. Approximately $575 million of FPL's and $3,422 million of NEECH's syndicated revolving credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.
(b) Only available for the funding of loans. Approximately $2,425 million of FPL's and $2,750 million of NEECH's bilateral revolving credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.
(c) Only available for the issuance of letters of credit. Approximately $1,680 million of the letter of credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.
(d) Excludes short-term borrowings under NEECH's bilateral revolving credit facilities of $2,100 million, which are included in borrowings above.

Capital Support

Guarantees, Letters of Credit, Surety Bonds and Indemnifications (Guarantee Arrangements)

Certain subsidiaries of NEE issue guarantees and obtain letters of credit and surety bonds, as well as provide indemnities, to facilitate commercial transactions with third parties and financings. Substantially all of the guarantee arrangements are on behalf of NEE's consolidated subsidiaries, as discussed in more detail below. See Note 6 regarding guarantees of obligations on behalf of NEP subsidiaries. NEE is not required to recognize liabilities associated with guarantee arrangements issued on behalf of its consolidated subsidiaries unless it becomes probable that they will be required to perform. At September 30, 2024, NEE believes that there is no material exposure related to these guarantee arrangements.

NEE subsidiaries issue guarantees related to equity contribution agreements and engineering, procurement and construction agreements, associated with the development, construction and financing of certain power generation facilities (see Note 11 – Structured Payables) and a natural gas pipeline project, as well as a related natural gas transportation agreement. Commitments associated with these activities are included in the contracts table in Note 12.

In addition, at September 30, 2024, NEE subsidiaries had approximately $6.0 billion in guarantees related to obligations under purchased power and acquisition agreements, nuclear-related activities, payment obligations related to PTCs, support for NEER's retail electricity provider activities, as well as other types of contractual obligations (see Note 12 – Commitments).

In some instances, subsidiaries of NEE elect to issue guarantees instead of posting other forms of collateral required under certain financing arrangements, as well as for other project-level cash management activities. At September 30, 2024, these guarantees totaled approximately $1.1 billion and support, among other things, cash management activities, including those related to debt service and operations and maintenance service agreements, as well as other specific project financing requirements.

Subsidiaries of NEE also issue guarantees to support customer supply and proprietary power and gas trading activities, including the buying and selling of wholesale energy commodities. At September 30, 2024, the estimated mark-to-market exposure (the total amount that these subsidiaries of NEE could be required to fund based on energy commodity market prices at September 30, 2024) plus contract settlement net payables, net of collateral posted for obligations under these guarantees, totaled approximately $1.5 billion.

At September 30, 2024, subsidiaries of NEE also had approximately $5.6 billion of standby letters of credit and approximately $1.7 billion of surety bonds to support certain of the commercial activities discussed above. FPL's and NEECH's credit facilities are available to support substantially all of the standby letters of credit.

In addition, as part of contract negotiations in the normal course of business, certain subsidiaries of NEE have agreed and in the future may agree to make payments to compensate or indemnify other parties, including those associated with asset divestitures, for possible unfavorable financial consequences resulting from specified events. The specified events may include, but are not limited to, an adverse judgment in a lawsuit, or the imposition of additional taxes due to a change in tax law or interpretations of the tax law. NEE is unable to estimate the maximum potential amount of future payments by its subsidiaries under some of these contracts because events that would obligate them to make payments have not occurred or, if any such event has occurred, they have not been notified of its occurrence.

NEECH, a 100% owned subsidiary of NEE, provides funding for, and holds ownership interests in, NEE's operating subsidiaries other than FPL. NEE has fully and unconditionally guaranteed certain payment obligations of NEECH, including most of its debt and all of its debentures registered pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933 and commercial paper issuances, as well as most of its payment guarantees and indemnifications, and NEECH has guaranteed certain debt and other obligations of subsidiaries within the NEER segment. Certain guarantee arrangements described above contain requirements for NEECH and FPL to maintain a specified credit rating.

NEE fully and unconditionally guarantees NEECH debentures pursuant to a guarantee agreement, dated as of June 1, 1999 (1999 guarantee) and NEECH junior subordinated debentures pursuant to an indenture, dated as of September 1, 2006 (2006 guarantee). The 1999 guarantee is an unsecured obligation of NEE and ranks equally and ratably with all other unsecured and unsubordinated indebtedness of NEE. The 2006 guarantee is unsecured and subordinate and junior in right of payment to NEE senior indebtedness (as defined therein). No payment on those junior subordinated debentures may be made under the 2006 guarantee until all NEE senior indebtedness has been paid in full in certain circumstances. NEE's and NEECH's ability to meet their financial obligations are primarily dependent on their subsidiaries' net income, cash flows and their ability to pay upstream dividends or to repay funds to NEE and NEECH. The dividend-paying ability of some of the subsidiaries is limited by contractual restrictions which are contained in outstanding financing agreements.

(a) Excludes intercompany transactions, and investments in, and equity in earnings of, subsidiaries.

(b) Information has been prepared on the same basis of accounting as NEE's condensed consolidated financial statements.

Shelf Registration

In March 2024, NEE, NEECH and FPL filed a shelf registration statement with the SEC for an unspecified amount of securities, which became effective upon filing. The amount of securities issuable by the companies is established from time to time by their respective boards of directors. Securities that may be issued under the registration statement include, depending on the registrant, senior debt securities, subordinated debt securities, junior subordinated debentures, first mortgage bonds, common stock, preferred stock, depositary shares, stock purchase contracts, stock purchase units, warrants and guarantees related to certain of those securities.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

Critical accounting policies and estimates are those that NEE believes are both most important to the portrayal of its financial condition and results of operations, and require complex, subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates and assumptions about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Judgments and uncertainties affecting the application of those policies and estimates may result in materially different amounts being reported under different conditions or using different assumptions. NEE's critical accounting policies and estimates were reported in NEE's 2023 Form 10-K. There have been no material changes regarding these critical accounting policies and estimates.

ENERGY MARKETING AND TRADING AND MARKET RISK SENSITIVITY

NEE and FPL are exposed to risks associated with adverse changes in commodity prices, interest rates and equity prices. Financial instruments and positions affecting the financial statements of NEE and FPL described below are held primarily for purposes other than trading. Market risk is measured as the potential loss in fair value resulting from hypothetical reasonably possible changes in commodity prices, interest rates or equity prices over the next year. Management has established risk management policies to monitor and manage such market risks, as well as credit risks.

Commodity Price Risk

NEE and FPL use derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options, futures and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity. In addition, NEE, through NEER, uses derivatives to optimize the value of its power generation and gas infrastructure assets and engages in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to take advantage of expected future favorable price movements. See Note 2.

The changes in the fair value of NEE's consolidated subsidiaries' energy contract derivative instruments for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 were as follows:

	Trading	Hedges on Owned Assets: Non-Qualifying	Hedges on Owned Assets: FPL Cost Recovery Clauses	NEE Total

With respect to commodities, NEE's Exposure Management Committee (EMC), which is comprised of certain members of senior management, and NEE's chief executive officer are responsible for the overall approval of market risk management policies and the delegation of approval and authorization levels. The EMC and NEE's chief executive officer receive periodic updates on market positions and related exposures, credit exposures and overall risk management activities.

NEE uses a value-at-risk (VaR) model to measure commodity price market risk in its trading and mark-to-market portfolios. The VaR is the estimated loss of market value based on a one-day holding period at a 95% confidence level using historical simulation methodology. The VaR figures are as follows:

	Trading[a]			Non-Qualifying Hedges and Hedges in FPL Cost Recovery Clauses[b]			Total
	FPL	NEER	NEE	FPL	NEER	NEE	FPL	NEER	NEE
					(millions)
December 31, 2023	$ —	$ 4	$ 4	$ 2	$ 114	$ 116	$ 2	$ 113	$ 111
September 30, 2024	$ —	$ 4	$ 4	$ 1	$ 47	$ 47	$ 1	$ 49	$ 49
Average for the nine months ended September 30, 2024	$ —	$ 5	$ 5	$ 5	$ 107	$ 108	$ 5	$ 106	$ 105

(a) The VaR figures for the trading portfolio include positions that are marked to market. Taking into consideration offsetting unmarked non-derivative positions, such as physical inventory, the trading VaR figures were approximately $2 million and $1 million at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively.

(b) Non-qualifying hedges are employed to reduce the market risk exposure to physical assets or contracts which are not marked to market. The VaR figures for the non-qualifying hedges and hedges in FPL cost recovery clauses category do not represent the economic exposure to commodity price movements.

Interest Rate Risk

NEE's and FPL's financial results are exposed to risk resulting from changes in interest rates as a result of their respective outstanding and expected future issuances of debt, investments in special use funds and other investments. NEE and FPL manage their respective interest rate exposure by monitoring current interest rates, entering into interest rate contracts and using a combination of fixed rate and variable rate debt. Interest rate contracts are used to mitigate and adjust interest rate exposure when deemed appropriate based upon market conditions or when required by financing agreements.

The following are estimates of the fair value of NEE's and FPL's financial instruments that are exposed to interest rate risk:

	September 30, 2024		December 31, 2023
	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value[a]	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value[a]
		(millions)
NEE:
Special use funds	$ 2,341	$ 2,341	$ 2,222	$ 2,222
Other investments, primarily debt securities	$ 2,055	$ 2,055	$ 1,802	$ 1,802
Long-term debt, including current portion	$ 73,657	$ 72,495	$ 68,306	$ 64,103
Interest rate contracts – net unrealized losses	$ (1,107)	$ (1,107)	$ (249)	$ (249)
FPL:
Special use funds	$ 1,774	$ 1,774	$ 1,658	$ 1,658
Long-term debt, including current portion	$ 26,741	$ 25,906	$ 25,274	$ 23,430

(a) See Notes 2 and 3.

The special use funds of NEE and FPL consist of restricted funds set aside to cover the cost of storm damage for FPL and for the decommissioning of NEE's and FPL's nuclear power plants. A portion of these funds is invested in fixed income debt securities primarily carried at estimated fair value. At FPL, changes in fair value, including any credit losses, result in a corresponding adjustment to the related regulatory asset or liability accounts based on current regulatory treatment. The changes in fair value for NEE's non-rate regulated operations result in a corresponding adjustment to OCI, except for credit losses and unrealized losses on available for sale securities intended or required to be sold prior to recovery of the amortized cost basis, which are reported in current period earnings. Because the funds set aside by FPL for storm damage could be needed at any time, the related investments are generally more liquid and, therefore, are less sensitive to changes in interest rates. The nuclear decommissioning funds, in contrast, are generally invested in longer-term securities.

At September 30, 2024, NEE had interest rate contracts with a net notional amount of approximately $30.5 billion to manage exposure to the variability of cash flows primarily associated with expected future and outstanding debt issuances at NEECH and NEER. See Note 2.

Based upon a hypothetical 10% decrease in interest rates, the fair value of NEE's net liabilities would increase by approximately $3,107 million ($1,144 million for FPL) at September 30, 2024.

Equity Price Risk

NEE and FPL are exposed to risk resulting from changes in prices for equity securities. For example, NEE's nuclear decommissioning reserve funds include marketable equity securities carried at their market value of approximately $6,077 million and $5,290 million ($4,133 million and $3,536 million for FPL) at September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. NEE's and FPL's investment strategy for equity securities in their nuclear decommissioning reserve funds emphasizes marketable securities which are broadly diversified. At September 30, 2024, a hypothetical 10% decrease in the prices quoted on stock exchanges would result in an approximately $572 million ($381 million for FPL) reduction in fair value. For FPL, a corresponding adjustment would be made to the related regulatory asset or liability accounts based on current regulatory treatment, and for NEE's non-rate regulated operations, a corresponding amount would be recorded in change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds – net in NEE's condensed consolidated statements of income. See Note 3.

Credit Risk

NEE and its subsidiaries, including FPL, are also exposed to credit risk through their energy marketing and trading operations. Credit risk is the risk that a financial loss will be incurred if a counterparty to a transaction does not fulfill its financial obligation. NEE manages counterparty credit risk for its subsidiaries with energy marketing and trading operations through established policies, including counterparty credit limits, and in some cases credit enhancements, such as cash prepayments, letters of credit, cash and other collateral and guarantees.

Credit risk is also managed through the use of master netting agreements. NEE's credit department monitors current and forward credit exposure to counterparties and their affiliates, both on an individual and an aggregate basis. For all derivative and contractual transactions, NEE's energy marketing and trading operations, which include FPL's energy marketing and trading division, are exposed to losses in the event of nonperformance by counterparties to these transactions. Some relevant considerations when assessing NEE's energy marketing and trading operations' credit risk exposure include the following:

- Operations are primarily concentrated in the energy industry.
- Trade receivables and other financial instruments are predominately with energy, utility and financial services related companies, as well as municipalities, cooperatives and other trading companies in the U.S.
- Overall credit risk is managed through established credit policies and is overseen by the EMC.
- Prospective and existing customers are reviewed for creditworthiness based upon established standards, with customers not meeting minimum standards providing various credit enhancements or secured payment terms, such as letters of credit or the posting of margin cash collateral.
- Master netting agreements are used to offset cash and noncash gains and losses arising from derivative instruments with the same counterparty. NEE's policy is to have master netting agreements in place with significant counterparties.

Based on NEE's policies and risk exposures related to credit, NEE and FPL do not anticipate a material adverse effect on their financial statements as a result of counterparty nonperformance. At September 30, 2024, NEE's credit risk exposure associated with its energy marketing and trading operations, taking into account collateral and contractual netting rights, totaled approximately $2.9 billion ($74 million for FPL), of which approximately 90% (99% for FPL) was with companies that have investment grade credit ratings. See Note 2.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

See Management's Discussion – Energy Marketing and Trading and Market Risk Sensitivity.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of September 30, 2024, each of NEE and FPL had performed an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of its management, including NEE's and FPL's chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of each company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)). Based upon that evaluation, the chief executive officer and the chief financial officer of each of NEE and FPL concluded that the company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of September 30, 2024.

(b) Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

NEE and FPL are continuously seeking to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of their operations and of their internal controls. This results in refinements to processes throughout NEE and FPL. However, there has been no change in NEE's or FPL's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) that occurred during NEE's and FPL's most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, NEE's or FPL's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II – OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

See Note 12 – Legal Proceedings.

With regard to environmental proceedings to which a governmental authority is a party, NEE's and FPL's policy is to disclose any such proceeding if it is reasonably expected to result in monetary sanctions of greater than or equal to $1 million.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

There have been no material changes from the risk factors disclosed in the 2023 Form 10-K. The factors discussed in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors in the 2023 Form 10-K, as well as other information set forth in this report, which could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects should be carefully considered. The risks described in the 2023 Form 10-K are not the only risks facing NEE and FPL. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to NEE or FPL, or that are currently deemed to be immaterial, also may materially adversely affect NEE's or FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities, Use of Proceeds, and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

(a) Information regarding purchases made by NEE of its common stock during the three months ended September 30, 2024 is as follows:

Period	Total Number of Shares Purchased[a]	Average Price Paid Per Share	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of a Publicly Announced Program	Maximum Number of Shares that May Yet be Purchased Under the Program[b]
7/1/24 – 7/31/24	165	$ 72.90	—	180,000,000
8/1/24 – 8/31/24	17,191	$ 77.41	—	180,000,000
9/1/24 – 9/30/24	—	$ —	—	180,000,000
Total	17,356	$ 77.37	—

(a) Includes shares of common stock withheld from employees to pay certain withholding taxes upon the vesting of stock awards granted to such employees under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan and the NextEra Energy, Inc. Amended and Restated 2011 Long Term Incentive Plan.

(b) In May 2017, NEE's Board of Directors authorized repurchases of up to 45 million shares of common stock (180 million shares after giving effect to the four-for-one stock split of NEE common stock effective October 26, 2020) over an unspecified period.

Item 5. Other Information

(c) Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangements adopted during the three months ended September 30, 2024 were as follows:

- On August 7, 2024, Ronald Reagan, Executive Vice President Engineering, Construction and Integrated Supply Chain, adopted a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement that is intended to satisfy the affirmative defense of Rule 10b5-1(c) for the sale of 21,701 shares of NEE's common stock until August 7, 2025.
- On August 13, 2024, Nicole Daggs, Executive Vice President Human Resources and Corporate Services, adopted a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement that is intended to satisfy the affirmative defense of Rule 10b5-1(c) for the sale of 4,007 shares of NEE's common stock until August 13, 2025.
- On September 6, 2024, Mark Lemasney, Executive Vice President Power Generation Division, adopted a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement that is intended to satisfy the affirmative defense of Rule 10b5-1(c) for the sale of 2,500 shares of NEE's common stock until August 4, 2025.

As Trustee under Florida Power & Light Company's Mortgage and Deed of Trust, Dated as of January 1, 1944

One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture

Relating to

$350,000,000 Principal Amount of First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034

Dated as of July 1, 2024

This Supplemental Indenture has been executed in several counterparts, all of which constitute but one and the same instrument. This Supplemental Indenture has been recorded in several counties and documentary stamp taxes as required by law in the amount of $1,225,000.00 and non-recurring intangible taxes as required by law in the amount of $45,792.26 are being paid on the Supplemental Indenture being recorded in the public records of Palm Beach County, Florida.

Note to Examiner: The new bonds being issued in connection with this Supplemental Indenture ("New Bonds") are secured by real property and personal property located both within Florida and outside of Florida. The aggregate fair market value of the collateral exceeds the aggregate principal amount of (y) the New Bonds plus (z) the other outstanding bonds secured by the mortgage supplemented hereby and all previous supplemental indentures thereto. The intangible tax has been computed pursuant to Section 199.133(2), Florida Statutes, by (i) determining the percentage of the aggregate fair market value of the collateral constituting real property situated in Florida and by multiplying that percentage times the principal amount of the New Bonds (the result hereinafter defined as the "Tax Base") and (ii) multiplying the tax rate times the Tax Base.

ONE HUNDRED THIRTY-EIGHTH SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE

INDENTURE, dated as of the 1st day of July, 2024, made and entered into by and between Florida Power & Light Company, a corporation of the State of Florida, whose post office address is 700 Universe Boulevard, Juno Beach, Florida 33408 (hereinafter sometimes called "FPL"), and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (formerly known as Bankers Trust Company), a corporation of the State of New York, whose post office address is Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, Trust and Agency Services, 1 Columbus Circle, 17th Floor, New York, New York 10019 (hereinafter called the "Trustee"), as the one hundred thirty-eighth supplemental indenture (hereinafter called the "One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture") to the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 1, 1944 (hereinafter called the "Mortgage"), made and entered into by FPL, the Trustee and The Florida National Bank of Jacksonville, as Co-Trustee (now resigned), the Trustee now acting as the sole trustee under the Mortgage, which Mortgage was executed and delivered by FPL to secure the payment of bonds issued or to be issued under and in accordance with the provisions thereof, reference to which Mortgage is hereby made, this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture being supplemental thereto;

Whereas, by an instrument, dated as of April 15, 2002, filed with the Banking Department of the State of New York, Bankers Trust Company effected a corporate name change pursuant to which, effective such date, it is known as Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas; and

Whereas, FPL has transferred to New Hampshire Transmission, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, all of FPL's property located in the State of New Hampshire that previously was subject to the lien of the Mortgage, and the Trustee by instrument dated June 29, 2010 (the "Release") released such property from the lien of the Mortgage, and released and discharged the supplemental indentures and mortgages recorded in the State of New Hampshire listed on Exhibit B to the Release; and

Whereas, on January 1, 2021, pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger dated as of December 18, 2020, between Gulf Power Company, a corporation of the State of Florida (hereinafter called "Gulf Power"), and FPL, Gulf Power was merged into FPL (the "Merger") with FPL as the surviving corporation; and

Whereas, in connection with the Merger, FPL has acquired certain real and personal property described in, and subjected to the Lien of the Mortgage by the One Hundred Thirty-Second Supplemental Indenture, dated as of January 1, 2021, which One Hundred Thirty-Second Supplemental Indenture has been duly recorded or filed in the States of Florida, Georgia and Mississippi; and

Whereas, Section 8 of the Mortgage provides that the form of each series of bonds (other than the first series) issued thereunder shall be established by Resolution of the Board of Directors of FPL and that the form of such series, as established by said Board of Directors, shall specify the descriptive title of the bonds and various other terms thereof, and may also contain such provisions not inconsistent with the provisions of the Mortgage as the Board of Directors may, in its discretion, cause to be inserted therein expressing or referring to the terms and conditions upon which such bonds are to be issued and/or secured under the Mortgage; and

Whereas, Section 120 of the Mortgage provides, among other things, that any power, privilege or right expressly or impliedly reserved to or in any way conferred upon FPL by any provision of the Mortgage, whether such power, privilege or right is in any way restricted or is unrestricted, may be in whole or in part waived or surrendered or subjected to any restriction if at the time unrestricted or to additional restriction if already restricted, and FPL may enter into any further covenants, limitations or restrictions for the benefit of any one or more series of bonds issued thereunder, or FPL may cure any ambiguity contained therein, or in any supplemental indenture, or may establish the terms and provisions of any series of bonds other than said first series, by an instrument in writing executed and acknowledged by FPL in such manner as would be necessary to entitle a conveyance of real estate to be recorded in all of the states in which any property at the time subject to the Lien of the Mortgage shall be situated; and

Whereas, FPL now desires to create the series of bonds described in Article I hereof and to add to its covenants and agreements contained in the Mortgage certain other covenants and agreements to be observed by it and to alter and amend in certain respects the covenants and provisions contained in the Mortgage; and

Whereas, the execution and delivery by FPL of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, and the terms of the bonds, hereinafter referred to in Article I hereof have been duly authorized by the Board of Directors of FPL by appropriate resolutions of said Board of Directors;

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That FPL, in consideration of the premises and of One Dollar to it duly paid by the Trustee at or before the ensealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and in further evidence of assurance of the estate, title and rights of the Trustee and in order further to secure the payment of both the principal of and interest and premium, if any, on the bonds from time to time issued under the Mortgage, according to their tenor and effect, and the performance of all the provisions of the Mortgage (including any instruments supplemental thereto and any modification made as in the Mortgage provided) and of said bonds, hereby grants, bargains, sells, releases, conveys, assigns, transfers, mortgages, pledges, sets over and confirms (subject, however, to Excepted Encumbrances as defined in Section 6 of the Mortgage) unto Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee under the Mortgage, and to its successor or successors in said trust, and to said Trustee and its successors and assigns forever, all property, real, personal and mixed, acquired by FPL after the date of the execution and delivery of the Mortgage (except any herein or in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, expressly excepted), now owned (except any properties heretofore released pursuant to any provisions of the Mortgage and in the process of being sold or disposed of by FPL) or, subject to the provisions of Section 87 of the Mortgage, hereafter acquired by FPL and wheresoever situated, including (without in anywise limiting or impairing by the enumeration of the same the scope and intent of the foregoing) all lands, power sites, flowage rights, water rights, water locations, water appropriations, ditches, flumes, reservoirs, reservoir sites, canals, raceways, dams, dam sites, aqueducts, and all rights or means for appropriating, conveying, storing and supplying water; all rights of way and roads; all plants for the generation of electricity by steam, water and/or other power; all power houses, gas plants, street lighting systems, standards and other equipment incidental thereto, telephone, radio and television systems, air-conditioning systems and equipment incidental thereto, water works, water systems, steam heat and hot water plants, substations, lines, service and supply systems, bridges, culverts, tracks, ice or refrigeration plants and equipment, offices, buildings and other structures and the equipment thereof; all machinery, engines, boilers, dynamos, electric, gas and other machines, regulators, meters, transformers, generators, motors, electrical, gas and mechanical appliances, conduits, cables, water, steam heat, gas or other pipes, gas mains and pipes, service pipes, fittings, valves and connections, pole and transmission lines, wires, cables, tools, implements, apparatus, furniture, chattels, and choses in action; all municipal and other franchises, consents or permits; all lines for the transmission and distribution of electric current, gas, steam heat or water for any purpose including towers, poles, wires, cables, pipes, conduits, ducts and all apparatus for use in connection therewith; all real estate, lands, easements, servitudes, licenses, permits, franchises, privileges, rights of way and other rights in or relating to real estate or the occupancy of the same and (except as herein or in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, expressly excepted) all the right, title and interest of FPL in and to all other property of any kind or nature appertaining to and/or used and/or occupied and/or enjoyed in connection with any property hereinbefore or in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, described.

Together With all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances belonging or in anywise appertaining to the aforesaid property or any part thereof, with the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders and (subject to the provisions of Section 57 of the Mortgage) the tolls, rents, revenues, issues, earnings, income, products and profits thereof, and all the estate, right, title and interest and claim whatsoever, at law as well as in equity, which FPL now has or may hereinafter acquire in and to the aforesaid property and franchises and every part and parcel thereof.

It Is Hereby Agreed by FPL that, subject to the provisions of Section 87 of the Mortgage, all the property, rights, and franchises acquired by FPL after the date hereof (except any herein or in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, expressly excepted) shall be and are as fully granted and conveyed hereby and as fully embraced within the Lien of the Mortgage, as if such property, rights and franchises were now owned by FPL and were specifically described herein and conveyed hereby.

Provided that the following are not and are not intended to be now or hereafter granted, bargained, sold, released, conveyed, assigned, transferred, mortgaged, pledged, set over or confirmed hereunder and are hereby expressly excepted from the Lien and operation of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture and from the Lien and operation of the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, viz: (1) cash, shares of stock, bonds, notes and other obligations and other securities not hereafter specifically pledged, paid, deposited, delivered or held under the Mortgage or covenanted so to be; (2) merchandise, equipment, materials or supplies held for the purpose of sale in the usual course of business and fuel (including Nuclear Fuel unless expressly subjected to the Lien and operation of the Mortgage by FPL in a future supplemental indenture), oil and similar materials and supplies consumable in the operation of any properties of FPL; rolling stock, buses, motor coaches, automobiles and other vehicles; (3) bills, notes and accounts receivable, and all contracts, leases and operating agreements not specifically pledged under the Mortgage or covenanted so to be; (4) the last day of the term of any lease or leasehold which may hereafter become subject to the Lien of the Mortgage; (5) electric energy, gas, ice, and other materials or products generated, manufactured, produced or purchased by FPL for sale, distribution or use in the ordinary course of its business; all timber, minerals, mineral rights and royalties; (6) FPL's franchise to be a corporation; and (7) the properties already sold or in the process of being sold by FPL and heretofore released from the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 1, 1926, from Florida Power & Light Company to Bankers Trust Company and The Florida National Bank of Jacksonville, trustees, and specifically described in three separate releases executed by Bankers Trust Company and The Florida National Bank of Jacksonville, dated July 28, 1943, October 6, 1943 and December 11, 1943, which releases have heretofore been delivered by the said trustees to FPL and recorded by FPL among the Public Records of all Counties in which such properties are located; provided, however, that the property and rights expressly excepted from the Lien and operation of the Mortgage in the above subdivisions (2) and (3) shall (to the extent permitted by law) cease to be so excepted in the event and as of the date that the Trustee or a receiver or trustee shall enter upon and take possession of the Mortgaged and Pledged Property in the manner provided in Article XIII of the Mortgage by reason of the occurrence of a Default as defined in Section 65 thereof.

To Have And To Hold all such properties, real, personal and mixed, granted, bargained, sold, released, conveyed, assigned, transferred, mortgaged, pledged, set over or confirmed by FPL as aforesaid, or intended so to be, unto Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, the Trustee, and its successors and assigns forever.

In Trust Nevertheless, for the same purposes and upon the same terms, trusts and conditions and subject to and with the same provisos and covenants as are set forth in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture being supplemental thereto.

And It Is Hereby Covenanted by FPL that all terms, conditions, provisos, covenants and provisions contained in the Mortgage shall affect and apply to the property hereinbefore described and conveyed and to the estate, rights, obligations and duties of FPL and the Trustee and the beneficiaries of the trust with respect to said property, and to the Trustee and its successors as Trustee of said property in the same manner and with the same effect as if said property had been owned by FPL at the time of the execution of the Mortgage, and had been specifically and at length described in and conveyed to said Trustee, by the Mortgage as a part of the property therein stated to be conveyed.

FPL further covenants and agrees to and with the Trustee and its successors in said trust under the Mortgage, as follows:

ARTICLE I

One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series of Bonds

Section 1. (I) There shall be a series of bonds designated "5.00% Series due August 1, 2034," herein sometimes referred to as the "One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series," each of which shall also bear the descriptive title First Mortgage Bond, and the form thereof, which shall be established by Resolution of the Board of Directors of FPL, shall contain suitable provisions with respect to the matters hereinafter in this Section specified. Bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series shall mature on August 1, 2034, and shall be issued as fully registered bonds in denominations of Two Thousand Dollars and, at the option of FPL, in integral multiples of One Thousand Dollars in excess thereof (the exercise of such option to be evidenced by the execution and delivery thereof); they shall bear interest at the rate of 5.00% per annum, payable semi-annually on February 1 and August 1 of each year (each an "Interest Payment Date") commencing on February 1, 2025; the principal of and interest on each said bond to be payable at the office or agency of FPL in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for public and private debts. Bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series shall be dated as in Section 10 of the Mortgage provided. The record date for payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date shall be the close of business on (1) the Business Day (as defined below) immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date so long as all of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series are held by a securities depository in book-entry only form, or (2) the 15th calendar day immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date if any of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series are not held by a securities depository in book-entry only form. Interest on the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series will accrue from and including July 30, 2024 to but excluding February 1, 2025 and, thereafter, from and including the last Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for (and if no interest has been paid on the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, from July 30, 2024) to but excluding the next succeeding Interest Payment Date. No interest will accrue on a bond of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series for the day on which such bond matures. The amount of interest payable for any period will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months. The amount of interest payable for any period shorter than a full semi-annual period for which interest is computed will be computed on the basis of the number of days in the period using 30-day calendar months. If any date on which interest, principal or premium, if any, is payable on the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series falls on a day that is not a Business Day, then payment of the interest, principal or premium payable on that date will be made on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day, and without any interest or other payment in respect of such delay. A "Business Day" is any day that is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or a day on which banking institutions or trust companies in New York City are generally authorized or required by law or executive order to remain closed.

(II) Bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series shall be redeemable either at the option of FPL or pursuant to the requirements of the Mortgage (including, among other requirements, the application of cash delivered to or deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of Section 64 of the Mortgage or with proceeds of Released Property) in whole at any time, or in part from time to time, prior to maturity of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, upon notice as provided in Section 52 of the Mortgage (the "Redemption Notice"), which notice will be given as required by the Mortgage, as hereto and hereafter supplemented and amended, prior to the date fixed for redemption (the "Redemption Date"), at the price (each a "Redemption Price") described below.

Prior to May 1, 2034 (three months prior to the maturity date of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series) (the "Par Call Date"), FPL may redeem the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series at its option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, at a Redemption Price (expressed as a percentage of principal amount and rounded to three decimal places) equal to the greater of:

(1) (a) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon discounted to the Redemption Date (assuming the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series matured on the Par Call Date) on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Treasury Rate (as defined below) plus 15 basis points less (b) interest accrued to the Redemption Date, and

(2) 100% of the principal amount of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series to be redeemed, plus, in either case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to but excluding the Redemption Date.

On or after the Par Call Date, FPL may redeem the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series being redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to but excluding the Redemption Date.

"Treasury Rate" means, with respect to any Redemption Date, the yield determined by FPL in accordance with the following two paragraphs.

The Treasury Rate shall be determined by FPL after 4:15 p.m., New York City time (or after such time as yields on U.S. government securities are posted daily by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System), on the third Business Day preceding the Redemption Date based upon the yield or yields for the most recent day that appear after such time on such day in the most recent statistical release published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System designated as "Selected Interest Rates (Daily) - H.15" (or any successor designation or publication) ("H.15") under the caption "U.S. government securities–Treasury constant maturities–Nominal" (or any successor caption or heading) ("H.15 TCM"). In determining the Treasury Rate, FPL shall select, as applicable:

(1) the yield for the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 exactly equal to the period from the Redemption Date to the Par Call Date (the "Remaining Life"); or

(2) if there is no such Treasury constant maturity on H.15 exactly equal to the Remaining Life, the two yields—one yield corresponding to the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 immediately shorter than and one yield corresponding to the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 immediately longer than the Remaining Life—and shall interpolate to the Par Call Date on a straight-line basis (using the actual number of days) using such yields and rounding the result to three decimal places; or

(3) if there is no such Treasury constant maturity on H.15 shorter than or longer than the Remaining Life, the yield for the single Treasury constant maturity on H.15 closest to the Remaining Life.

For purposes of this paragraph, the applicable Treasury constant maturity or maturities on H.15 shall be deemed to have a maturity date equal to the relevant number of months or years, as applicable, of such Treasury constant maturity from the Redemption Date.

If on the third Business Day preceding the Redemption Date H.15 TCM is no longer published, FPL shall calculate the Treasury Rate based on the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity at 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day preceding such Redemption Date of the United States Treasury security maturing on, or with a maturity that is closest to, the Par Call Date, as applicable. If there is no United States Treasury security maturing on the Par Call Date but there are two or more United States Treasury securities with a maturity date equally distant from the Par Call Date, one with a maturity date preceding the Par Call Date and one with a maturity date following the Par Call Date, FPL shall select the United States Treasury security with a maturity date preceding the Par Call Date. If there are two or more United States Treasury securities maturing on the Par Call Date or two or more United States Treasury securities meeting the criteria of the preceding sentence, FPL shall select from among these two or more United States Treasury securities the United States Treasury security that is trading closest to par based upon the average of the bid and asked prices for such United States Treasury securities at 11:00 a.m., New York City time. In determining the Treasury Rate in accordance with the terms of this paragraph, the semi-annual yield to maturity of the applicable United States Treasury security shall be based upon the average of the bid and asked prices (expressed as a percentage of principal amount) at 11:00 a.m., New York City time, of such United States Treasury security, and rounded to three decimal places.

FPL's actions and determinations in determining the Redemption Price shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error.

The Trustee shall have no duty to determine, or to verify FPL's calculations of, the Redemption Price.

(III) At the option of the registered owner, any bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, upon surrender thereof for exchange at the office or agency of FPL in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, together with a written instrument of transfer wherever required by FPL, duly executed by the registered owner or by his duly authorized attorney, shall (subject to the provisions of Section 12 of the Mortgage) be exchangeable for a like aggregate principal amount of bonds of the same series of other authorized denominations.

Bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series shall be transferable (subject to the provisions of Section 12 of the Mortgage) at the office or agency of FPL in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York.

Upon any exchange or transfer of bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, FPL may make a charge therefor sufficient to reimburse it for any tax or taxes or other governmental charge, as provided in Section 12 of the Mortgage, but FPL hereby waives any right to make a charge in addition thereto for any exchange or transfer of bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series.

ARTICLE II

Consent to Amendments of the Mortgage

Section 2. Each initial and future holder of bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series, by its acquisition of an interest in such bonds, irrevocably (a) consents to the amendments set forth in Article II of the One Hundred Twenty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, dated as of June 15, 2018, and in Article IV of the One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture, dated as of May 1, 2024, in each case without any other or further action by any holder of such bonds, and (b) designates the Trustee, and its successors, as its proxy with irrevocable instructions to vote and deliver written consents on behalf of such holder in favor of such amendments at any bondholder meeting, in lieu of any bondholder meeting, in any consent solicitation or otherwise.

ARTICLE III

Miscellaneous Provisions

Section 3. Subject to the amendments provided for in this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, the terms defined in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, shall, for all purposes of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, have the meanings specified in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented.

Section 4. The holders of bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series consent that FPL may, but shall not be obligated to, fix a record date for the purpose of determining the holders of bonds of the One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Series entitled to consent to any amendment, supplement or waiver. If a record date is fixed, those persons who were holders at such record date (or their duly designated proxies), and only those persons, shall be entitled to consent to such amendment, supplement or waiver or to revoke any consent previously given, whether or not such persons continue to be holders after such record date. No such consent shall be valid or effective for more than ninety (90) days after such record date.

Section 5. The Trustee hereby accepts the trust herein declared, provided, created or supplemented and agrees to perform the same upon the terms and conditions herein and in the Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented, set forth and upon the following terms and conditions:

The Trustee shall not be responsible in any manner whatsoever for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture or for or in respect of the recitals contained herein, all of which recitals are made by FPL solely. In general, each and every term and condition contained in Article XVII of the Mortgage, as heretofore amended, shall apply to and form part of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture with the same force and effect as if the same were herein set forth in full with such omissions, variations and insertions, if any, as may be appropriate to make the same conform to the provisions of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture.

Section 6. Whenever in this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture either of the parties hereto is named or referred to, this shall, subject to the provisions of Article XVI and Article XVII of the Mortgage, as heretofore amended, be deemed to include the successors and assigns of such party, and all the covenants and agreements in this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture contained by or on behalf of FPL, or by or on behalf of the Trustee, or either of them, shall, subject as aforesaid, bind and inure to the respective benefits of the respective successors and assigns of such parties, whether so expressed or not.

Section 7. Nothing in this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, expressed or implied, is intended, or shall be construed, to confer upon, or to give to, any person, firm or corporation, other than the parties hereto and the holders of the bonds and coupons Outstanding under the Mortgage, any right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture or any covenant, condition, stipulation, promise or agreement hereof, and all the covenants, conditions, stipulations, promises and agreements in this One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture contained by or on behalf of FPL shall be for the sole and exclusive benefit of the parties hereto, and of the holders of the bonds and coupons Outstanding under the Mortgage.

Section 8. The Mortgage, as heretofore supplemented and amended and as supplemented hereby, is intended by the parties hereto, as to properties now or hereafter encumbered thereby and located within the States of Florida, Georgia and Mississippi, to operate and is to be construed as granting a lien only on such properties and not as a deed passing title thereto.

Section 9. This One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture shall be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be an original and all of which shall constitute but one and the same instrument.

In Witness Whereof, FPL has caused its corporate name to be hereunto affixed, and this instrument to be signed and sealed by its President or one of its Vice Presidents, and its corporate seal to be attested by its Secretary or one of its Assistant Secretaries for and in its behalf, and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas has caused its corporate name to be hereunto affixed, and this instrument to be signed and sealed by one or more of its Vice Presidents or Assistant Vice Presidents, and its corporate seal to be attested by one of its Vice Presidents, Assistant Vice Presidents, one of its Assistant Secretaries, one of its Associates or one of its Directors, all as of the day and year first above written.

Rule 13a-14(a)/15d-14(a) Certification

I, John W. Ketchum, certify that:

1. I have reviewed this Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2024 of NextEra Energy, Inc. (the registrant);

2. Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;

3. Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the registrant as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;

4. The registrant's other certifying officer and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the registrant and have:

   (a) Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;

   (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

   (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and

   (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and

5. The registrant's other certifying officer and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):

   (a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and

   (b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Any statements that express, or involve discussions as to, expectations, beliefs, plans, objectives, assumptions, strategies, future events or performance (often, but not always, through the use of words or phrases such as may result, are expected to, will continue, is anticipated, believe, will, could, should, would, estimated, may, plan, potential, future, projection, goals, target, outlook, predict and intend or words of similar meaning) are not statements of historical facts and may be forward looking. Forward-looking statements involve estimates, assumptions and uncertainties. Accordingly, any such statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to, and are accompanied by, important factors included in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors (in addition to any assumptions and other factors referred to specifically in connection with such forward-looking statements) that could have a significant impact on NEE's and/or FPL's operations and financial results, and could cause NEE's and/or FPL's actual results to differ materially from those contained or implied in forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of NEE and/or FPL in this combined Form 10-K, in presentations, on their respective websites, in response to questions or otherwise.

Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and NEE and FPL undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances, including, but not limited to, unanticipated events, after the date on which such statement is made, unless otherwise required by law. New factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all of such factors, nor can it assess the impact of each such factor on the business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained or implied in any forward-looking statement.

PART I

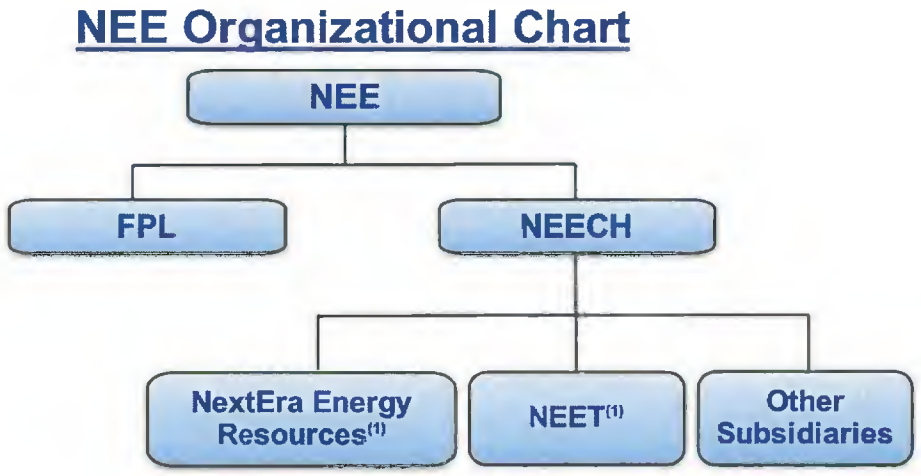
Item 1. Business

OVERVIEW

NEE is one of the largest electric power and energy infrastructure companies in North America and a leader in the renewable energy industry. At December 31, 2024, NEE had approximately 72 gigawatts of net generation and storage capacity from a diverse portfolio of assets, primarily including natural gas, wind, solar and nuclear generation facilities and battery storage facilities. NEE has two principal businesses, FPL and NEER. FPL is the largest electric utility in the state of Florida and one of the largest electric utilities in the U.S. FPL's strategic focus is centered on investing in generation, transmission and distribution facilities to deliver on its value proposition of keeping customer bills as low as possible and delivering high reliability, outstanding customer service and energy from diverse generation sources for the benefit of its more than six million customer accounts. NEER is the world's largest generator of renewable energy from the wind and sun, as well as a world leader in battery storage capacity. NEER's strategic focus is centered on the development, construction and operation of long-term contracted assets throughout the U.S. and Canada, primarily renewable generation facilities, and electric transmission facilities, as well as providing other energy solutions to its customers.

As described in more detail in the following sections, NEE seeks to create value in its two principal businesses by meeting its customers' needs more economically and more reliably than its competitors. NEE's strategy has resulted in profitable growth over sustained periods at both FPL and NEER. Management seeks to grow each business (see Note 15 – Commitments) in a manner consistent with the varying opportunities available to it; however, management believes that the diversification and balance represented by FPL and NEER is a valuable characteristic of the enterprise and recognizes that each business contributes to NEE's financial strength in different ways. FPL and NEER share a common platform with the objective of lowering costs, creating efficiencies and encouraging innovative ideas for their businesses. NEE and its subsidiaries, with employees totaling approximately 16,800 as of December 31, 2024, continue to develop and implement enterprise-wide initiatives focused on improving productivity, process effectiveness and quality.

NEE's reportable segments for financial reporting purposes are FPL and NEER (see Note 16). NEECH, a wholly owned subsidiary of NEE, owns and provides funding for NEE's operating subsidiaries, other than FPL and its subsidiaries. The following diagram depicts NEE's simplified ownership structure:

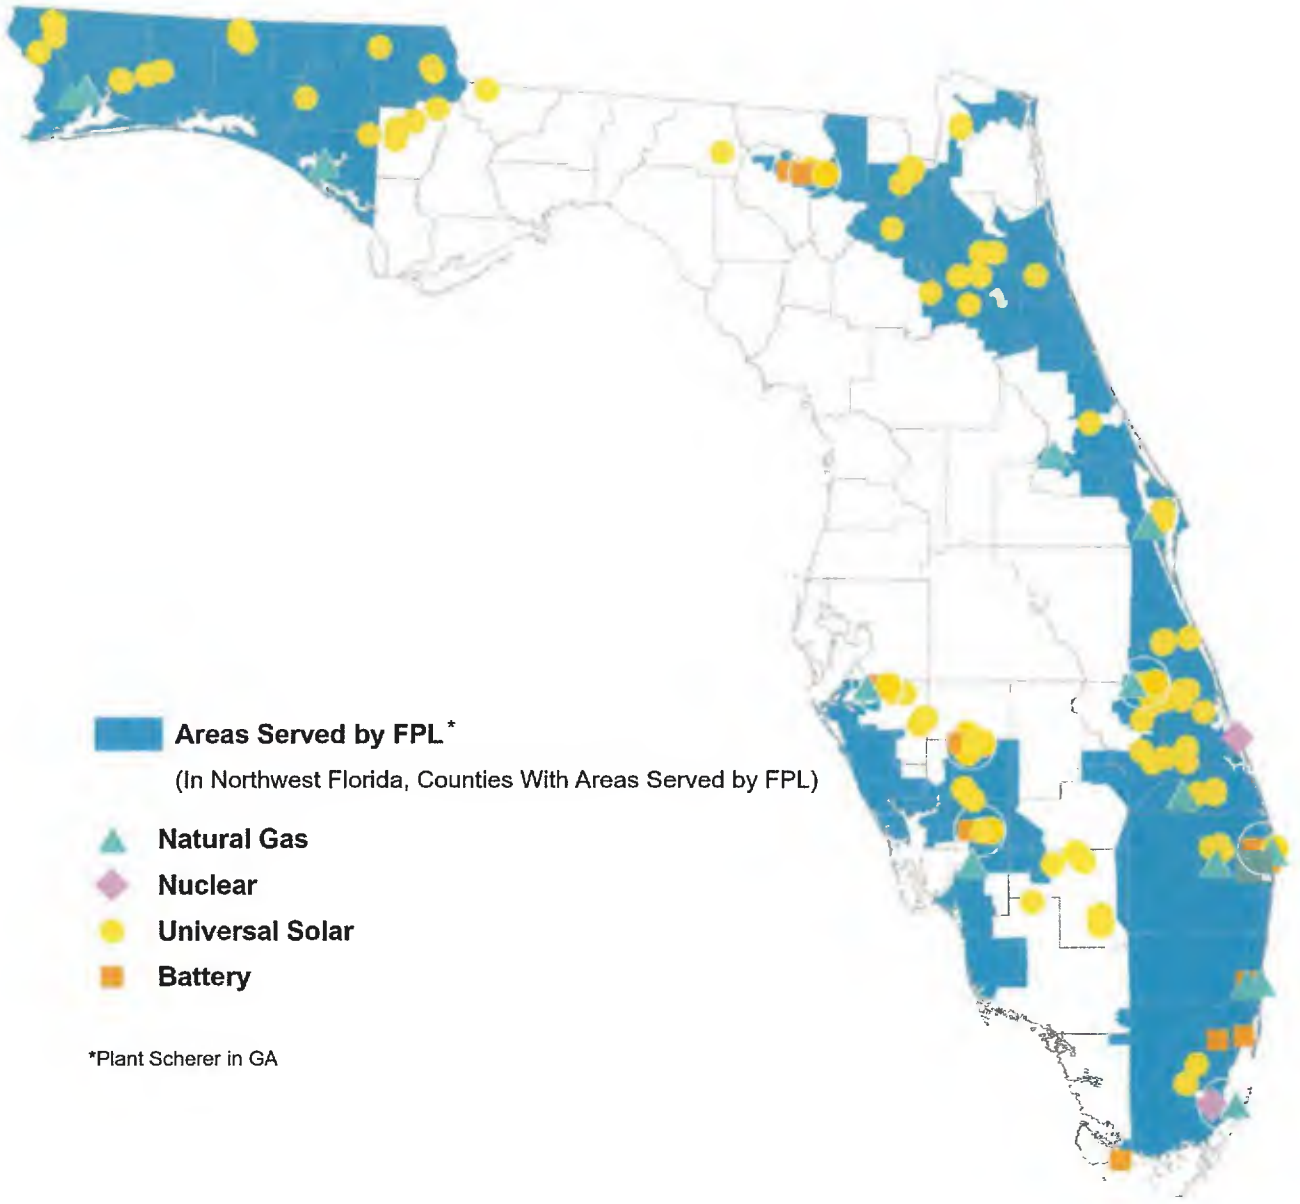


(1) Comprises the NEER segment.

FPL

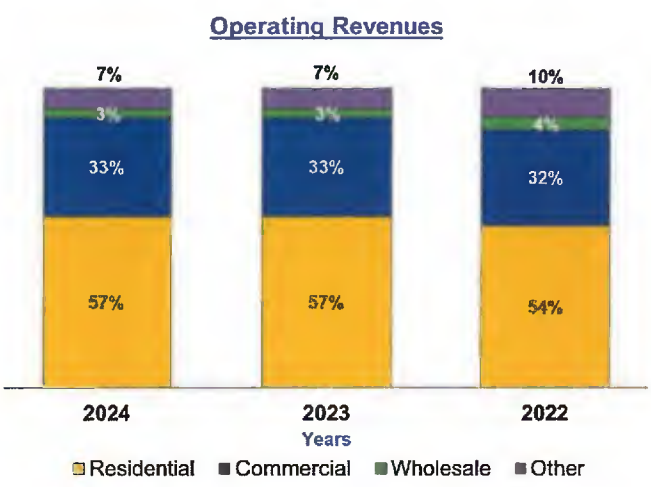
FPL is a rate-regulated electric utility engaged primarily in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electric energy in Florida. FPL is the largest electric utility in the state of Florida and one of the largest electric utilities in the U.S. At December 31, 2024, FPL had 35,052 MW of net generating capacity, approximately 91,000 circuit miles of transmission and distribution lines and 921 substations. FPL provides service to its electric customers through an integrated transmission and distribution system that links its generation facilities to its customers.

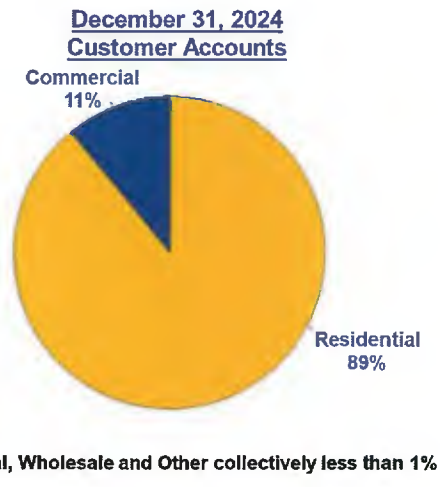
FPL serves approximately 12 million people through more than 6 million customer accounts. The following map shows FPL's service areas and plant locations as of February 14, 2025, which cover most of the east and lower west coasts of Florida and are in ten counties throughout northwest Florida (see FPL Sources of Generation below).



CUSTOMERS AND REVENUE

FPL's primary source of operating revenues is from its retail customer base; it also serves a limited number of wholesale customers within Florida. The percentage of FPL's operating revenues and customer accounts by customer class were as follows:





Industrial, Wholesale and Other collectively less than 1%

For both retail and wholesale customers, the prices (or rates) that FPL may charge are approved by regulatory bodies, by the FPSC in the case of retail customers and by the FERC in the case of wholesale customers. In general, under U.S. and Florida law, regulated rates are intended to cover the cost of providing service, including a reasonable rate of return on invested capital. Since the regulatory bodies have authority to determine the relevant cost of providing service and the appropriate rate of return on capital employed, there can be no guarantee that FPL will be able to earn any particular rate of return or recover all of its costs through regulated rates. See FPL Regulation below.

FPL seeks to maintain rates that are as low as possible for its customers, while continuing to deliver reliable service. Since rates are largely cost-based, maintaining low rates requires a strategy focused on developing and maintaining a low-cost position, including the implementation of ideas generated from cost savings initiatives.

FRANCHISE AGREEMENTS AND COMPETITION

FPL's service to its electric retail customers is provided primarily under franchise agreements negotiated with municipalities or counties. During the term of a franchise agreement, which is typically 30 years, the municipality or county agrees not to form its own utility, and FPL has the right to offer electric service to residents. At December 31, 2024, FPL held 226 franchise agreements with various municipalities and counties in Florida with varying expiration dates through 2054. These franchise agreements cover the vast majority of FPL's retail customer base in Florida. At December 31, 2024, FPL also provided service to customers in 10 other municipalities and to 27 unincorporated areas within its service area without franchise agreements pursuant to the general obligation to serve as a public utility. FPL relies upon Florida law for access to public rights-of-way.

Because any customer may elect to provide their own electric services, FPL effectively must compete for an individual customer's business. As a practical matter, few customers provide their own service at the present time since FPL's cost of service is lower than the cost of self-generation for a significant majority of customers. Changing technology (particularly increasing efficiency of solar power generation), tax incentives, economic conditions, regulatory changes, increasing cost-competitiveness of rooftop solar and battery storage and other factors could alter the favorable relative cost position that FPL currently enjoys; however, FPL seeks as a matter of strategy to ensure that it delivers superior value, in the form of customer bills as low as possible, high reliability, outstanding customer service and energy from diverse generation sources.

In addition to self-generation by residential, commercial and industrial customers, FPL also faces competition from other suppliers of electrical energy to wholesale and industrial customers and from alternative energy sources. In 2024, 2023 and 2022, operating revenues from wholesale and industrial electric customers combined represented approximately 5%, 5% and 7%, respectively, of FPL's total operating revenues.

For the building of new steam and solar generating capacity of 75 MW or greater, the FPSC requires investor-owned electric utilities, including FPL, to issue a request for proposal (RFP) except when the FPSC determines that an exception from the RFP process is in the public interest. The RFP process allows independent power producers and others to bid to supply the new generating capacity. If a bidder has the most cost-effective alternative, meets other criteria such as financial viability and demonstrates adequate expertise and experience in building and/or operating generating capacity of the type proposed, the investor-owned electric utility would seek to negotiate a PPA with the selected bidder and request that the FPSC approve the terms of the PPA and, if appropriate, provide the required authorization for the construction of the bidder's generating capacity.

FPL SOURCES OF GENERATION

At December 31, 2024, FPL's resources for serving load consisted of approximately 35,296 MW of net generating capacity, of which 35,052 MW were from FPL-owned facilities and 244 MW were available through PPAs. FPL owned and operated 44 units with generating capacity of 24,297 MW that primarily use natural gas and 96 solar generation facilities with generating capacity totaling 7,038 MW. In addition, FPL owned, or had undivided interests in, and operated four nuclear units with net generating capacity totaling 3,502 MW (see Nuclear Operations below) and had a joint ownership interest in a coal unit located in Georgia which is operated by the joint owner with a net generating capacity of 215 MW (see Note 7 – Jointly-Owned Electric Plants). FPL also develops and constructs battery storage projects, which, when combined with its solar projects, serve to enhance its ability to meet customer needs for a nearly firm generation source. At December 31, 2024, FPL had 469 MW of battery storage capacity that delivers energy to the transmission system. FPL customer usage and operating revenues are typically higher during the summer months, largely due to the prevalent use of air conditioning in its service area. Occasionally, unusually cold temperatures during the winter months result in significant increases in electricity usage for short periods of time.

In 2024 and in January 2025, FPL continued to add new solar generation with cost recovery through base rates, through a Solar Base Rate Adjustment (SoBRA) and through SolarTogether® (a voluntary community solar program that gives FPL electric customers an opportunity to participate directly in the expansion of solar energy where participants pay a fixed monthly subscription charge and receive credits on their related monthly customer bill). FPL added new solar generation with capacity totaling 2,235 MW in 2024 and 894 MW in January 2025 (see FPL Regulation – FPL Electric Rate Regulation – Base Rates – Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025 below).

Fuel Sources

FPL relies upon a mix of fuel sources for its generation facilities, the ability of some of its generation facilities to operate on both natural gas and low sulfur diesel, and on purchased power to maintain the flexibility to achieve a more economical fuel mix in order to respond to market and industry developments. See discussion of solar generation additions above.

Significant Fuel and Transportation Contracts. At December 31, 2024, FPL had the following significant fuel and transportation contracts in place:

- firm transportation contracts with ten different transportation suppliers for natural gas pipeline capacity for an aggregate maximum delivery quantity of 2,836,000 MMBtu/day with expiration dates through 2042 (see Note 15 – Contracts);
- several contracts for the supply of uranium and the conversion, enrichment and fabrication of nuclear fuel with expiration dates through 2039; and
- short- and medium-term natural gas supply contracts, with expiration dates through 2028, to provide a portion of FPL's anticipated needs for natural gas, with the remainder of FPL's natural gas requirements being purchased in the spot market.

Nuclear Operations

At December 31, 2024, FPL owned, or had undivided interests in, and operated the four nuclear units in Florida discussed below. FPL's nuclear units are periodically removed from service to accommodate planned refueling and maintenance outages, including inspections, repairs and certain other modifications. Scheduled nuclear refueling outages require the unit to be removed from service for variable lengths of time.

Facility	Net Generating Capacity (MW)	Beginning of Next Scheduled Refueling Outage	Operating License Expiration Date
St. Lucie Unit No. 1	981	September 2025	2036[a]
St. Lucie Unit No. 2	840[b]	April 2026	2043[a]
Turkey Point Unit No. 3	837	February 2026	2052[c]
Turkey Point Unit No. 4	844	March 2025	2053[c]

(a) In 2021, FPL filed an application with the NRC to renew both St. Lucie operating licenses for an additional 20 years. License renewals are pending.
(b) Excludes 147 MW operated by FPL but owned by non-affiliates.
(c) In September 2024, the license renewals for both Turkey Point units were approved. An intervenor's appeal of the decision dismissing its proposed contentions against the license renewals is pending before the NRC.

NRC regulations require FPL to submit a plan for decontamination and decommissioning five years before the projected end of plant operation. If the license renewals are approved by the NRC, FPL's plans provide for St. Lucie Unit No. 1 to be shut down in 2056 with decommissioning activities to be integrated with the dismantlement of St. Lucie Unit No. 2 commencing in 2063. FPL's plans provide for the dismantlement of Turkey Point Units Nos. 3 and 4 with decommissioning activities commencing in 2052 and 2053, respectively.

FPL's nuclear facilities use both on-site storage pools and dry storage casks to store spent nuclear fuel generated by these facilities, which are expected to provide sufficient storage of spent nuclear fuel that is generated at these facilities through license expiration, as well as through any pending license extensions.

FPL ENERGY MARKETING AND TRADING

FPL's Energy Marketing & Trading division (EMT) buys and sells wholesale energy commodities, such as natural gas, low sulfur diesel, electricity and renewable energy credits (RECs) from certain FPL solar generation assets. EMT procures natural gas and low sulfur diesel for FPL's use in power generation and sells excess natural gas, low sulfur diesel and electricity. EMT also uses derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity. Substantially all of the results of EMT's activities are passed through to customers in the fuel or capacity clauses. See Management's Discussion – Energy Marketing and Trading and Market Risk Sensitivity and Note 3.

FPL REGULATION

FPL's operations are subject to regulation by a number of federal, state and other organizations, including, but not limited to, the following:

- the FPSC, which has jurisdiction over retail rates, service area, issuances of securities, and planning, siting and construction of facilities, among other things;
- the FERC, which oversees the acquisition and disposition of electric generation, transmission and other facilities, transmission of electricity and natural gas in interstate commerce, proposals to build and operate interstate natural gas pipelines and storage facilities, and wholesale purchases and sales of electric energy, among other things;
- the NERC, which, through its regional entities, establishes and enforces mandatory reliability standards, subject to approval by the FERC, to ensure the reliability of the U.S. electric transmission and generation system and to prevent major system blackouts;
- the NRC, which has jurisdiction over the operation of nuclear power plants through the issuance of operating licenses, rules, regulations and orders; and
- the EPA, which has the responsibility to maintain and enforce national standards under a variety of environmental laws, in some cases delegating authority to state agencies. The EPA also works with industries and all levels of government, including federal and state governments, in a wide variety of voluntary pollution prevention programs and energy conservation efforts.

FPL Electric Rate Regulation

The FPSC sets rates at a level that is intended to allow the utility the opportunity to collect from retail customers total revenues (revenue requirements) equal to its cost of providing service, including a reasonable rate of return on invested capital. To accomplish this, the FPSC uses various ratemaking mechanisms, including, among other things, base rates and cost recovery clauses.

Base Rates. In general, the basic costs of providing electric service, other than fuel and certain other costs, are recovered through base rates, which are designed to recover the costs of constructing, operating and maintaining the utility system. These basic costs include O&M expenses, depreciation and taxes, as well as a return on investment in assets used and useful in providing electric service (rate base). At the time base rates are established, the allowed rate of return on rate base approximates the FPSC's determination of the utility's estimated weighted-average cost of capital, which includes its costs for outstanding debt and an allowed return on common equity. The FPSC monitors the utility's actual regulatory ROE through a surveillance report that is filed monthly with the FPSC. The FPSC does not provide assurance that any regulatory ROE will be achieved. Base rates are determined in rate proceedings or through negotiated settlements of those proceedings. Proceedings can occur at the initiative of the utility or upon action by the FPSC. Existing base rates remain in effect until new base rates are approved by the FPSC.

Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025 – In December 2021, the FPSC issued a final order approving a stipulation and settlement between FPL and several intervenors in FPL's base rate proceeding (2021 rate agreement).

Key elements of the 2021 rate agreement, which is effective from January 2022 through December 2025, include, among other things, the following:

- New retail base rates and charges were established resulting in the following increases in annualized retail base revenues:
  - $692 million beginning January 1, 2022, and
  - $560 million beginning January 1, 2023.
- In addition, FPL received base rate increases associated with the addition of up to 894 MW annually of new solar generation through the SoBRA mechanism in each of 2024 and 2025. FPL's recovery through the SoBRA mechanism was limited to an installed cost cap of $1,250 per kW.
- FPL's authorized regulatory ROE was 10.60%, with a range of 9.70% to 11.70%. However, in the event the average 30-year U.S. Treasury rate was 2.49% or greater over a consecutive six-month period, FPL was authorized to increase the regulatory ROE to 10.80% with a range of 9.80% to 11.80%. During August 2022, this provision was triggered and effective September 1, 2022, FPL's authorized regulatory ROE and ROE range were increased. If FPL's earned regulatory ROE falls below 9.80%, FPL may seek retail base rate relief. If the earned regulatory ROE rises above 11.80%, any party with standing may seek a review of FPL's retail base rates.
- Subject to certain conditions, FPL may amortize, over the term of the 2021 rate agreement, up to $1.45 billion of depreciation reserve surplus, provided that in any year of the 2021 rate agreement FPL must amortize at least enough reserve amount to maintain its minimum authorized regulatory ROE and also may not amortize any reserve amount that would result in an earned regulatory ROE in excess of its maximum authorized regulatory ROE.
- FPL is authorized to expand SolarTogether® by constructing an additional 1,788 MW of solar generation from 2022 through 2025, such that the total capacity of SolarTogether® would be 3,278 MW.
- Future storm restoration costs would be recoverable on an interim basis beginning 60 days from the filing of a cost recovery petition, but capped at an amount that produces a surcharge of no more than $4 for every 1,000 kWh of usage on residential bills during the first 12 months of cost recovery. Any additional costs would be eligible for recovery in subsequent years. If storm restoration costs exceed $800 million in any given calendar year, FPL may request an increase to the $4 surcharge. See Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery.
- If federal or state permanent corporate income tax changes become effective during the term of the 2021 rate agreement, FPL will prospectively adjust base rates after a review by the FPSC.

In March 2024, the FPSC issued a supplemental final order regarding FPL's 2021 rate agreement. The order affirmed the FPSC's prior approval of the 2021 rate agreement and is intended to further document, as requested by the Florida Supreme Court, how the evidence presented led to and supports the FPSC's decision to approve FPL's 2021 rate agreement. An April 2024 appeal of the order filed with the Florida Supreme Court by certain intervenors remains pending.

FPL 2025 Base Rate Proceeding – On December 30, 2024, FPL filed a formal notification with the FPSC indicating its intent to initiate a base rate proceeding by submitting a four-year rate plan that would begin in January 2026 replacing the 2021 rate agreement. The notification states that, based on preliminary estimates, FPL expects to request a general base revenue requirement increase of approximately $1.55 billion effective January 2026 and a subsequent increase of approximately $930 million effective January 2027. The plan is also expected to request authority for a Solar and Battery Base Rate Adjustment mechanism to recover, subject to FPSC review, the revenue requirements associated with building and operating additional solar and battery storage projects in 2028 and 2029. In addition, FPL expects to propose an allowed regulatory ROE midpoint of 11.90% and to incorporate the continued application of FPL's longstanding equity ratio approved in prior base rate cases. FPL expects to file its formal request to initiate a base rate proceeding on or around February 28, 2025.

Cost Recovery Clauses. Cost recovery clauses are designed to permit full recovery of certain costs and provide a return on certain assets allowed to be recovered through these clauses. Cost recovery clause costs are recovered through levelized monthly charges per kWh or kW, depending on the customer's rate class. These cost recovery clause charges are calculated annually based on estimated costs and estimated customer usage for the following year, plus or minus true-up adjustments to reflect the estimated over or under recovery of costs for the current and prior periods. An adjustment to the levelized charges may be approved during the course of a year to reflect revised estimates. FPL recovers costs from customers through the following clauses:

- Fuel – primarily fuel costs, the most significant of the cost recovery clauses in terms of operating revenues (see Note 1 – Rate Regulation);
- Storm Protection Plan – costs associated with an FPSC-approved transmission and distribution storm protection plan, substantially all of which includes costs for hardening of overhead transmission and distribution lines, undergrounding of certain distribution lines and vegetation management;
- Capacity – primarily certain costs associated with the acquisition and retirement of several electric generation facilities (see Note 1 – Rate Regulation) and capacity payments related to PPAs;
- Energy Conservation – costs associated with implementing energy conservation programs; and
- Environmental – certain costs of complying with federal, state and local environmental regulations enacted after April 1993 and costs associated with certain of FPL's solar facilities placed in service prior to 2016.

The FPSC has the authority to disallow recovery of costs that it considers excessive or imprudently incurred. These costs may include, among others, fuel and O&M expenses, the cost of replacing power lost when generation units are unavailable, storm restoration costs and costs associated with the construction or acquisition of new facilities.

FERC

The Federal Power Act grants the FERC exclusive ratemaking jurisdiction over wholesale sales of electricity and the transmission of electricity and natural gas in interstate commerce. Pursuant to the Federal Power Act, electric utilities must file for FERC acceptance and maintain tariffs and rate schedules which govern the rates, terms and conditions for the provision of FERC-jurisdictional wholesale power and transmission services. Wholesale power sales tariffs on file at FERC may authorize sales at cost-based rates or, where the seller lacks market power, at market-based rates. The Federal Power Act also gives the FERC authority to certify and oversee an electric reliability organization with authority to establish and independently enforce mandatory reliability standards applicable to all users, owners and operators of the bulk-power system. See NERC below. Electric utilities are subject to accounting, record-keeping and reporting requirements administered by the FERC. The FERC also places certain limitations on transactions between electric utilities and their affiliates.

NERC

The NERC has been certified by the FERC as an electric reliability organization. The NERC's mandate is to ensure the reliability and security of the North American bulk-power system through the establishment and enforcement of reliability standards approved by FERC. The NERC's regional entities also enforce reliability standards approved by the FERC. FPL is subject to these reliability standards and incurs costs to ensure compliance with continually heightened requirements, and can incur significant penalties for failing to comply with them.

FPL Environmental Regulation

FPL is subject to environmental laws and regulations as described in the NEE Environmental Matters section below. FPL expects to seek recovery through the environmental clause for compliance costs associated with any new environmental laws and regulations.

FPL HUMAN CAPITAL

FPL had approximately 9,300 employees at December 31, 2024, with approximately 31% of these employees represented by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW). The collective bargaining agreements have approximately three-year terms and expire between March 2025 and April 2027.

NEER

NEER, comprised of NEE's competitive energy and rate-regulated transmission businesses, is a diversified energy business with a strategy that emphasizes the development, construction and operation of long-term contracted assets with a focus on low-cost energy solutions. NEER is the world's largest generator of renewable energy from the wind and sun based on 2024 MWh produced on a net generation basis, as well as a world leader in battery storage based on 2024 MW of net generating capacity.

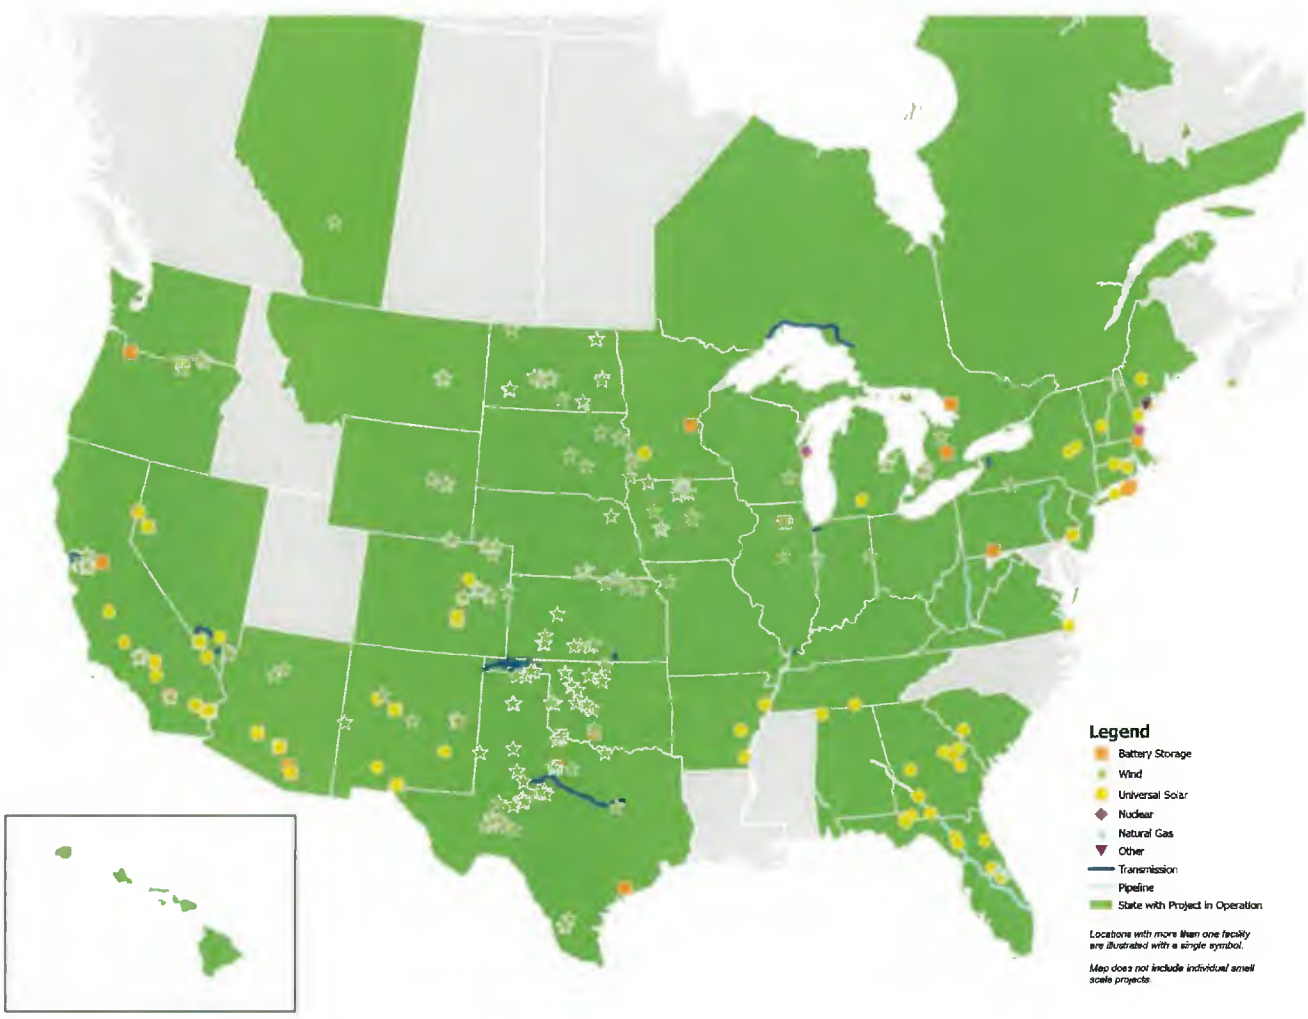
NEE reports NextEra Energy Resources and NEET, a rate-regulated transmission business, on a combined basis for segment reporting purposes, and the combined segment is referred to as NEER. The NEER segment owns, develops, constructs, manages and operates electric generation facilities in wholesale energy markets in the U.S. and Canada and also includes assets and investments in other clean energy businesses, such as battery storage and natural gas pipelines. NEER, with approximately 33,410 MW of total net generating capacity at December 31, 2024, is one of the largest wholesale generators of electric power in the U.S., including approximately 32,890 MW of net generating capacity across 41 states and 520 MW of net generating capacity in 4 Canadian provinces. At December 31, 2024, NEER operates facilities, in which it has partial or full ownership interests, with a total generating capacity of approximately 41,500 MW. NEER primarily sells its capacity and/or energy output through long-term power sales agreements with utilities, retail electricity providers, power cooperatives, municipal electric providers and commercial and industrial customers. NEER produces the majority of its energy from clean and renewable sources as described more fully below. In addition, NEER develops and constructs battery storage projects, which when combined with its renewable projects, serve to enhance its ability to meet customers' firm capacity needs, or as standalone facilities. The NEER segment also owns, develops, constructs and operates rate-regulated transmission facilities in North America with a total rate base of $2.7 billion at December 31, 2024. NEER's rate-regulated transmission facilities and the transmission lines that connect its electric generation facilities, including noncontrolling or joint venture interests, to the electric grid are comprised of approximately 370 substations and 3,885 circuit miles of transmission lines at December 31, 2024.

NEER engages in energy-related commodity marketing and trading activities, including entering into financial and physical contracts. These contracts primarily involve power and fuel commodities and their related products for the purpose of providing full energy and capacity requirements services, primarily to distribution utilities in certain markets, and offering customized power and fuel and related risk management services to wholesale customers, as well as to hedge the production from NEER's generation assets that is not sold under long-term power supply agreements. In addition, NEER participates in natural gas, natural gas liquids and oil production through operating and non-operating ownership interests, and in pipeline infrastructure construction, management and operations, through noncontrolling or joint venture interests. NEER hedges the expected output from its natural gas and oil production assets to protect against price movements. During the fourth quarter of 2024, as a result of selling ownership interests in certain natural gas and oil shale formations and in certain natural gas pipeline facilities (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets), NEER reassessed and changed its reporting unit structure to no longer report gas infrastructure as a separate reporting unit.

CLEAN ENERGY AND OTHER OPERATIONS

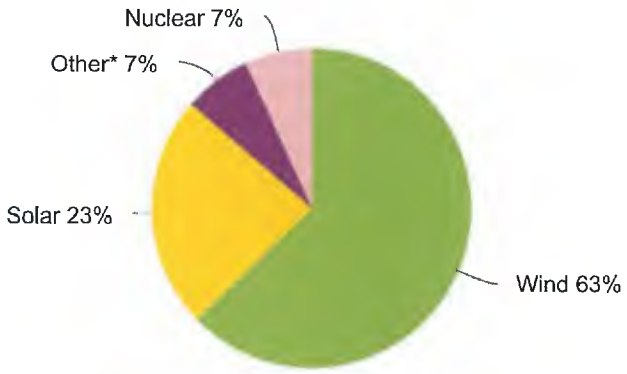
NEER sells products associated with its generation facilities (energy, capacity, RECs and ancillary services) in competitive markets in regions where those facilities are located. Customer transactions may be supplied from NEER generation facilities or from purchases in the wholesale markets, or from a combination thereof. See Markets and Competition below.

NEER's generation and battery storage projects, natural gas pipelines and transmission facilities (including noncontrolling or joint venture interests) at December 31, 2024 are as follows:



Clean Energy

2024 Net Generating Capacity by Fuel Type
MW



*Primarily natural gas

Generation Assets

NEER's portfolio of generation assets primarily consists of generation facilities with long-term power sales agreements for substantially all of their capacity and/or energy output. Information related to contracted generation assets at December 31, 2024 was as follows:

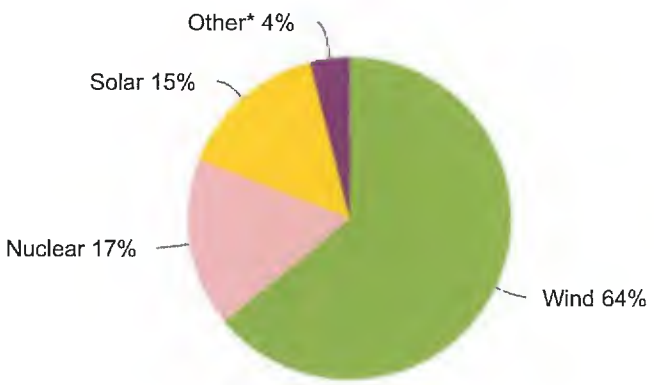
- represented approximately 31,569 MW of total net generating capacity; and
- weighted-average remaining contract term of the power sales agreements of approximately 14 years, primarily based on forecasted contributions to earnings.

NEER's merchant generation assets primarily consist of generation facilities that do not have long-term power sales agreements to sell their capacity and/or energy output and therefore require active marketing and hedging. Merchant generation assets at December 31, 2024 represented approximately 1,842 MW of total net generating capacity, including 805 MW from nuclear generation and 1,032 MW from other peak generation facilities, and are primarily located in the Northeast region of the U.S. NEER utilizes swaps, options, futures and forwards to lock in pricing and manage the commodity price risk inherent in power sales and fuel purchases.

NEER Generation Assets' Fuel/Technology Mix

During 2024, NEER generated approximately 111 million MWh utilizing the following mix of fuel sources for generation facilities in which it has an ownership interest:

2024 Net Generation by Fuel Type
MWh



*Primarily natural gas

Wind Facilities

- located in 23 states in the U.S. and 4 provinces in Canada;
- operated a total generating capacity of approximately 26,335 MW, including capacity associated with noncontrolling and joint venture interests, at December 31, 2024;
- ownership interests in a total net generating capacity of approximately 20,977 MW at December 31, 2024;
    - essentially all MW are contracted wind assets located primarily throughout Texas and the West and Midwest regions of the U.S. and Canada;
    - includes the impacts of approximately 1,365 MW of new generating capacity added in the U.S. in 2024 and an ownership interest in assets sold to a third party totaling approximately 536 MW (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets).

Solar Facilities

- located in 31 states in the U.S.;
- operated photovoltaic and solar thermal facilities with a total generating capacity of approximately 10,157 MW, including capacity associated with noncontrolling and joint venture interests, at December 31, 2024;
- ownership interests in solar facilities with a total net generating capacity of approximately 7,837 MW at December 31, 2024;
    - essentially all MW are contracted solar facilities located primarily throughout the West and South regions of the U.S.;
    - includes the impacts of approximately 2,507 MW of generating capacity added in the U.S. in 2024 and an ownership interest in assets sold to a third party totaling approximately 527 MW (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets).

Nuclear Facilities

At December 31, 2024, NextEra Energy Resources was the sole owner of the two Point Beach nuclear units shown in the table below and was the largest joint owner of the Seabrook nuclear facility shown in the table below. NEER's nuclear units are periodically removed from service to accommodate planned refueling and maintenance outages, including inspections, repairs and certain other modifications. Scheduled nuclear refueling outages require the unit to be removed from service for variable lengths of time.

Facility	Location	Net Generating Capacity (MW)	Portfolio Category	Beginning of Next Scheduled Refueling Outage[a]	Operating License Expiration Date
Seabrook	New Hampshire	1,102[b]	Merchant[c]	April 2026	2050
Point Beach Unit No. 1	Wisconsin	595	Contracted[d]	March 2025	2030[e]
Point Beach Unit No. 2	Wisconsin	595	Contracted[d]	March 2026	2033[e]

(a) NEER has several contracts for the supply of uranium and the conversion, enrichment and fabrication of nuclear fuel for all nuclear units with expiration dates through 2033 (see Note 15 – Contracts).
(b) Excludes 147 MW operated by NEER but owned by non-affiliates.
(c) Includes 297 MW sold under a long-term contract.
(d) NEER sells all of the output of Point Beach Units Nos. 1 and 2 under long-term contracts through their current operating license expiration dates.
(e) In 2020, NEER filed an application with the NRC to renew both Point Beach operating licenses for an additional 20 years. License renewals are pending.

NEER is responsible for all nuclear unit operations and the ultimate decommissioning of the nuclear units, the cost of which is shared on a pro-rata basis by the joint owners with respect to the Seabrook unit. NRC regulations require plant owners to submit a plan for decontamination and decommissioning five years before the projected end of plant operation. NEER's nuclear facilities use both on-site storage pools and dry storage casks to store spent nuclear fuel generated by these facilities, which, based on existing regulations, are expected to provide sufficient storage of spent nuclear fuel that is generated at these facilities through current license expiration, as well as through any pending license extensions.

NEER also maintains an approximately 70% interest in Duane Arnold, a nuclear facility located in Iowa that ceased operations in August 2020. NEER has a site-specific cost estimate and plan for decontamination and decommissioning on file with the NRC. All spent nuclear fuel housed onsite is in long-term dry storage until the DOE is able to take possession. In January 2025, NEER submitted a licensing path and exemption request with the NRC to explore the potential to recommission Duane Arnold. A recommissioning of Duane Arnold is contingent upon several factors including receipt of NRC regulatory approvals and approval of subsequent license renewal. In the event that Duane Arnold is not recommissioned, NEER estimates that the cost of decommissioning Duane Arnold is fully funded and would expect completion by approximately 2080.

Other Clean Energy

NEER's portfolio also includes assets and investments in other businesses with a clean energy focus, such as battery storage, natural gas pipelines and renewable fuels. At December 31, 2024, NextEra Energy Resources had net ownership interests in approximately 3,379 MW of battery storage capacity. In addition, NextEra Energy Resources has equity method investments in four natural gas pipelines located in the Southeast region of the U.S., which total approximately 1,052 miles of pipeline. NextEra Energy Resources' net ownership interests represent noncontrolling interests ranging from approximately 33.3% to 85.0% in the pipelines and total net capacity of 1.67 Bcf per day. NextEra Energy Resources owns, or has a partial ownership interest in, a portfolio of 29 biogas projects, one of which is an operating renewable natural gas facility and the others of which are primarily operating landfill gas-to-electric facilities.

Policy Incentives for Clean Energy Projects

U.S. federal, state and local governments have established various incentives to support the development of clean energy projects. These incentives include accelerated tax depreciation, PTCs, ITCs, cash grants, tax abatements and RPS programs. Pursuant to the U.S. federal Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System, wind and solar generation facilities are depreciated for tax purposes over a five-year period even though the useful life of such facilities is generally much longer than five years.

Owners of wind and solar facilities are eligible to claim an income tax credit (the PTC, or an ITC in lieu of the PTC) upon initially achieving commercial operation. Wind and solar generation facilities are eligible for 100% PTC or 30% ITC if such facilities start construction before the later of 2034 or the end of the calendar year following the year in which greenhouse gas emissions from U.S. electric generation are reduced by 75% from 2022 levels. The PTC is determined based on the amount of electricity produced by the facility during the first ten years of commercial operation. A facility must also meet certain labor requirements to qualify for the 100% PTC or 30% ITC rate or construction must have started on the facility before January 29, 2023. In addition, the PTC is increased by 10% and the ITC rate is increased by 10 percentage points for facilities that satisfy certain tax credit enhancement requirements. Retrofitted wind and solar generation facilities may qualify for a PTC or an ITC if the cost basis of the new investment is at least 80% of the retrofitted facility's total fair value.

In addition, the 30% ITC applies to energy storage projects placed in service after 2022 (previously, such projects qualified only if they were connected to and charged by a renewable generation facility that claimed the ITC) as well as certain property with respect to renewable natural gas facilities (including gas upgrading equipment) that are placed in service after 2022 and began construction before 2025. Energy storage projects and renewable natural gas facilities are eligible for a 10 percentage point increase in the ITC rate if the facilities satisfy certain tax credit enhancement requirements.

Nuclear facilities placed in service before August 16, 2022, are eligible for a PTC of $3/MWh (increased to $15/MWh if certain prevailing wage requirements are satisfied) for electricity produced and sold after 2023 and before 2033. The PTC for these nuclear facilities begins to phase-out when gross receipts from electricity produced by the nuclear facility exceed $25/MWh and is completely phased-out when gross receipts exceed $43.75/MWh (subject to an annual inflation factor). Nuclear facilities placed in service after 2024 (including the restart of nuclear facilities previously in decommissioning) are eligible for the 100% PTC or 30% ITC, subject to the same requirements applicable to wind and solar facilities (discussed above).

For taxable years beginning after 2022, clean energy tax credits generated during the year can be transferred to an unrelated purchaser for cash, providing an additional path, along with sales of differential membership interests, for developers to monetize the value of clean energy tax credits.

Other countries, including Canada, provide for incentives like feed-in-tariffs for renewable energy projects. The feed-in-tariffs promote renewable energy investments by offering long-term contracts to renewable energy producers, typically based on the cost of generation of each technology.

Other Operations

Rate-Regulated Transmission – At December 31, 2024, certain entities within the NEER segment had ownership interests in rate-regulated transmission and related facilities.

(c) Includes a substation, in which NEET owns an 88.3% interest.
(d) Includes a 48-mile transmission line that went into service in January 2025.

Customer Supply – NEER provides commodities-related products to customers, engages in energy-related commodity marketing and trading activities and includes the operations of a retail electricity provider and ownership interests in natural gas and oil shale formations located primarily in the South region of the U.S. Through NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiary, NextEra Energy Marketing, LLC, NEER:

- manages risk associated with fluctuating commodity prices and optimizes the value of NEER's power generation and natural gas and oil production assets through the use of swaps, options, futures and forwards;
- sells output from NEER's plants that is not sold under long-term contracts and procures fuel for use by NEER's generation fleet;
- provides full energy and capacity requirements to customers; and
- markets and trades energy-related commodity products, including power and fuel, as well as marketing and trading services to customers.

MARKETS AND COMPETITION

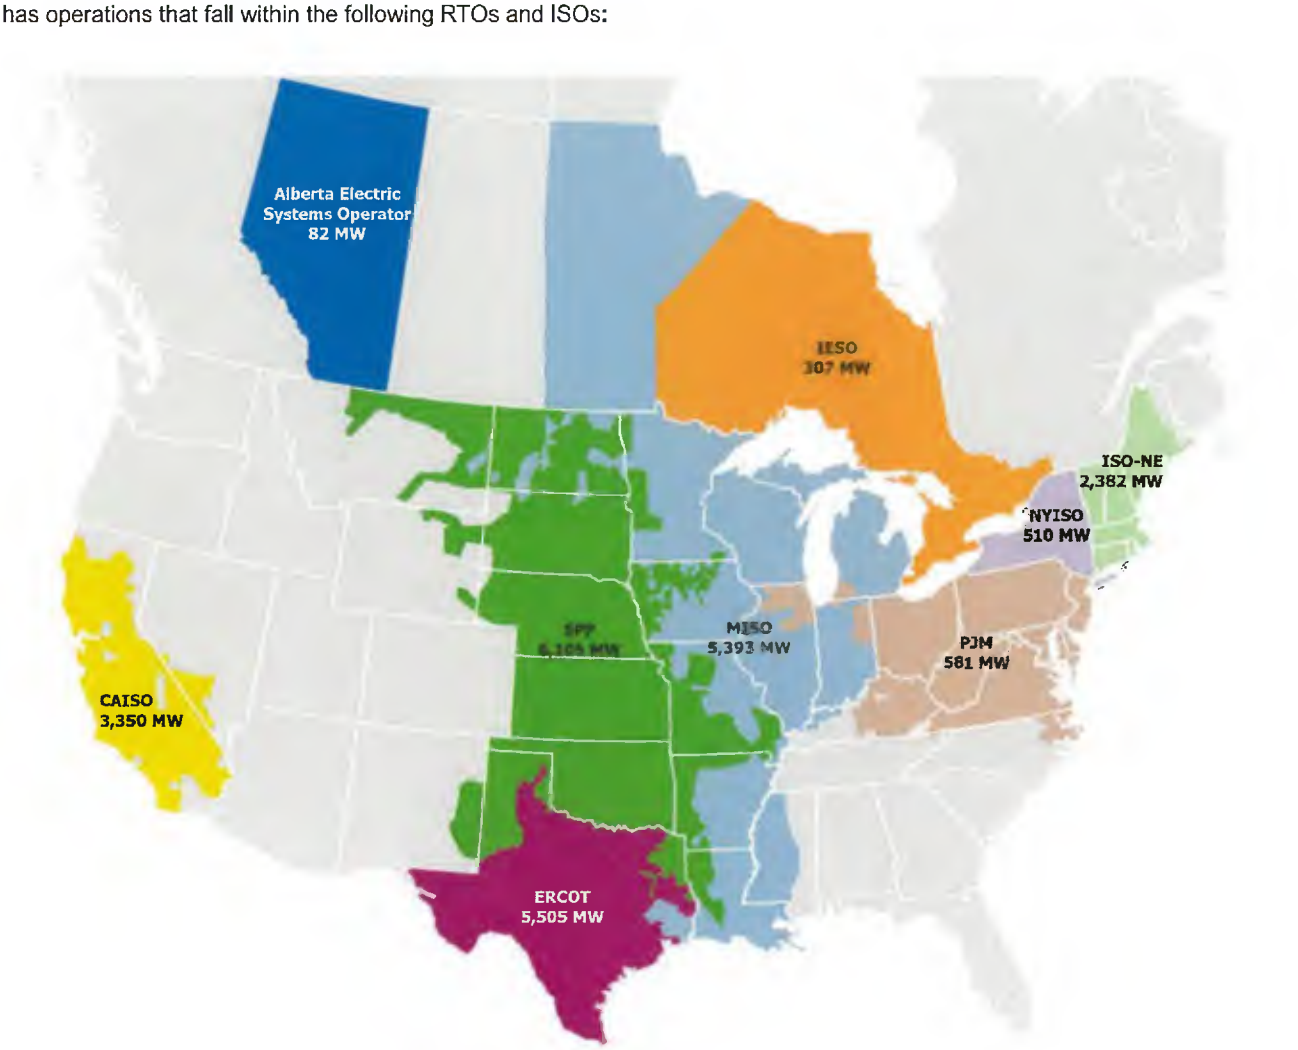
Electricity markets in the U.S. and Canada are regional and diverse in character. All are extensively regulated, and competition in these markets is shaped and constrained by regulation. The nature of the products offered varies based on the specifics of regulation in each region. Generally, in addition to the natural constraints on pricing freedom presented by competition, NEER may also face specific constraints in the form of price caps, or maximum allowed prices, for certain products. NEER's ability to sell the output of its generation facilities may also be constrained by available transmission capacity, which can vary from time to time and can have a significant impact on pricing.

The degree and nature of competition is different in wholesale markets than in retail markets. A majority of NEER's revenues are derived from sales of energy, capacity, credits and ancillary products under long-term PPAs to customers located in wholesale electricity markets. Wholesale power generation is a capital-intensive, commodity-driven business with numerous industry participants. NEER primarily competes on the basis of price, but believes the green attributes of NEER's generation assets, its track record of completing projects on schedule, its creditworthiness and its ability to offer and manage reliable customized risk solutions to wholesale customers are competitive advantages. Wholesale power generation is a regional business that is highly fragmented relative to many other commodity industries and diverse in terms of industry structure. As such, there is a wide variation in terms of the capabilities, resources, nature and identity of the companies NEER competes with depending on the market. In wholesale markets, customers' needs are met through a variety of means, including long-term bilateral contracts, standardized bilateral products such as full requirements service and customized supply and risk management services.

In general, U.S. and Canadian electricity markets encompass three classes of services: energy and related energy credits, capacity and ancillary services. Energy services relate to the physical delivery of power; capacity services relate to the availability of MW capacity of a power generation asset; and ancillary services are other services that relate to power generation assets, such as load regulation and spinning and non-spinning reserves. The exact nature of these classes of services is defined in part by regional tariffs. Not all regions have a capacity services class, and the specific definitions of ancillary services vary from region to region.

RTOs and ISOs exist throughout much of North America to coordinate generation and transmission across wide geographic areas and to run markets. NEER operates in all RTO and ISO jurisdictions. At December 31, 2024, NEER also had generation facilities with a total net generating capacity of approximately 9,196 MW that fall within reliability regions that are not under the jurisdiction of an established RTO or ISO, including 5,806 MW within the Western Electricity Coordinating Council and 2,909 MW within the SERC Reliability Corporation. Although each RTO and ISO may have differing objectives and structures, some benefits of these entities include regional planning, managing transmission congestion, developing larger wholesale markets for energy and capacity, maintaining reliability and facilitating competition among wholesale electricity providers.

NEER has operations that fall within the following RTOs and ISOs:



NEER competes in different regions to differing degrees, but in general it seeks to enter into long-term bilateral contracts for the full output of its generation facilities. At December 31, 2024, approximately 94% of NEER's net generating capacity was committed under long-term contracts. Where long-term contracts are not in effect, NEER sells the output of its facilities into daily spot markets. In such cases, NEER will frequently enter into shorter term bilateral contracts, typically of less than three years duration, to hedge the price risk associated with selling into a daily spot market. Such bilateral contracts, which may be hedges either for physical delivery or for financial (pricing) offset, serve to protect a portion of the revenue that NEER expects to derive from the associated generation facility. Contracts that serve the economic purpose of hedging some portion of the expected revenue of a generation facility but are not recorded as hedges under GAAP are referred to as "non-qualifying hedges" for adjusted earnings purposes. See Management's Discussion – Overview – Adjusted Earnings.

Certain facilities within the NEER wind and solar generation portfolio produce RECs and other environmental attributes which are typically sold along with the energy from the plants under long-term contracts, or may be sold separately from wind and solar generation not sold under long-term contracts. The purchasing party is solely entitled to the reporting rights and ownership of the environmental attributes.

While the majority of NEER's revenue is derived from the output of its generation facilities, NEER is also an active competitor in several regions in the wholesale full requirements business and in providing structured and customized power and fuel products and services to a variety of customers. In the full requirements service, typically, the supplier agrees to meet the customer's needs for a full range of products for every hour of the day, at a fixed price, for a predetermined period of time, thereby assuming the risk of fluctuations in the customer's volume requirements.

Expanded competition in a frequently changing regulatory environment presents both opportunities and risks for NEER. Opportunities exist for the selective acquisition of generation assets and for the construction and operation of efficient facilities that can sell power in competitive markets. NEER seeks to reduce its market risk by having a diversified portfolio by fuel type and location, as well as by contracting for the future sale of a significant amount of the electricity output of its facilities.

NEER REGULATION

The energy markets in which NEER operates are subject to domestic and foreign regulation, as the case may be, including local, state and federal regulation, and other specific rules.

At December 31, 2024, essentially all of NEER's generation facilities located in the U.S. have received exempt wholesale generator status as defined under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 2005. Exempt wholesale generators own or operate a facility exclusively to sell electricity to wholesale customers. They are barred from selling electricity directly to retail customers. While projects with exempt wholesale generator status are exempt from various restrictions, each project must still comply with other federal, state and local laws, including, but not limited to, those regarding siting, construction, operation, licensing, pollution abatement and other environmental laws.

Additionally, most of the NEER facilities located in the U.S. are subject to FERC regulations and market rules and the NERC's mandatory reliability standards. All of NEER's facilities are subject to environmental laws and the EPA's environmental regulations, and its nuclear facilities are also subject to the jurisdiction of the NRC. See FPL – FPL Regulation for additional discussion of FERC, NERC, NRC and EPA regulations. Rates of NEER's rate-regulated transmission businesses are set by regulatory bodies as noted in Clean Energy and Other Operations – Other Operations – Rate-Regulated Transmission. With the exception of facilities located in ERCOT, the FERC has jurisdiction over various aspects of NEER's business in the continental U.S., including the oversight and investigation of competitive wholesale energy markets, regulation of the transmission and sale of natural gas, and oversight of environmental matters related to natural gas projects and major electricity policy initiatives. The PUCT has jurisdiction, including the regulation of rates and services, oversight of competitive markets, and enforcement of statutes and rules, over NEER facilities located in ERCOT. In addition, certain of NEER's sales to retail customers are subject to consumer protection laws and other regulations related to consumer activities.

Certain entities within the NEER segment and their affiliates are also subject to federal and provincial or regional regulations in Canada related to energy operations, energy markets and environmental standards. In Canada, activities related to owning and operating wind and solar projects and participating in wholesale and retail energy markets are regulated at the provincial level. In Ontario, for example, electric generation facilities must be licensed by the OEB and may also be required to complete registrations and maintain market participant status with the IESO, in which case they must agree to be bound by and comply with the provisions of the market rules for the Ontario electricity market as well as the mandatory reliability standards of the NERC.

In addition, NEER is subject to environmental laws and regulations as described in the NEE Environmental Matters section below. In order to better anticipate potential regulatory changes, NEER continues to actively monitor and participate in regional market stakeholder processes and other forums where changes to existing rules for the interconnection of renewable energy resources and the purchase and sale of energy commodities are under consideration.

In addition to regulation associated with operating assets, the development of energy infrastructure also involves additional and often extensive approvals and permitting requirements at the local, state and federal levels for items such as disturbing wetlands, obtaining no hazard determinations from the Federal Aviation Administration, interacting with wildlife, making wholesale sales of electricity, and other clearances. These requirements may change from time to time. For example, a federal executive order was issued in January 2025 that calls for a pause in federal land leasing, permitting and approvals for wind development facilities pending completion of a review of the federal rules providing for leasing, permitting and approvals for wind projects. This or similar initiatives could limit NEER's and FPL's ability to obtain or renew necessary approvals, rights-of-way, permits, leases or loans for wind or other energy projects.

NEER HUMAN CAPITAL

NEER had approximately 7,400 employees at December 31, 2024. NEER has collective bargaining agreements with the IBEW, the Utility Workers Union of America and the Security Police and Fire Professionals of America, which collectively represent approximately 6% of NEER's employees. The collective bargaining agreements have approximately three-to-four-year terms and expire between September 2025 and October 2028.

NEE ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

NEE and its subsidiaries, including FPL, are subject to environmental laws and regulations, including extensive federal, state and local environmental statutes, rules and regulations relating to, among others, air quality, water quality and usage, waste management, wildlife protection and historical resources, for the siting, construction and ongoing operations of their facilities. The U.S. government and certain states and regions, as well as the Government of Canada and its provinces, have taken and continue to take certain actions, such as proposing and finalizing regulations or setting targets or goals, regarding the regulation and reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and the increase of renewable energy generation. The environmental laws in the U.S., including, among others, the Endangered Species Act (ESA), the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, and the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act (BGEPA), provide for the protection of numerous species, including endangered species and/or their habitats, migratory birds, bats and eagles. The environmental laws in Canada, including, among others, the Species at Risk Act, provide for the recovery of wildlife species that are endangered or threatened and the management of species of special concern. Complying with these environmental laws and regulations could result in, among other things, changes in the design and operation of, and additional costs associated with, existing facilities and changes or delays in the location, design, construction and operation of new facilities. Failure to comply could result in fines, penalties, criminal sanctions or injunctions. NEE's rate-regulated subsidiaries expect to seek recovery for compliance costs associated with any new environmental laws and regulations, which recovery for FPL would be through the environmental clause.

WEBSITE ACCESS TO SEC FILINGS

NEE and FPL make their SEC filings, including the annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and any amendments to those reports, available free of charge on NEE's internet website, www.nexteraenergy.com, as soon as reasonably practicable after those documents are electronically filed with or furnished to the SEC. The information and materials available on NEE's website (or any of its subsidiaries' or affiliates' websites) are not incorporated by reference into this combined Form 10-K.

Ronald R. Reagan	56	Executive Vice President, Engineering, Construction and Integrated Supply Chain of NEE Vice President, Engineering and Construction of FPL	January 1, 2020 March 1, 2019
Charles E. Sieving	52	Executive Vice President, Chief Legal, Environmental and Federal Regulatory Affairs Officer of NEE Executive Vice President of FPL	May 18, 2023 January 1, 2009

(a) Information is as of February 14, 2025. Executive officers are elected annually by, and serve at the pleasure of, their respective boards of directors. Except as noted below, each officer has held his/her present position for five years or more and his/her employment history is continuous. Mr. Bolster served as Partner Managing Director, Head of Natural Resources Investment Banking (Americas) for Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC from September 2020 until May 2024 and previously served as Partner Managing Director, Global Co-Head of Power, Utility and Infrastructure Investment Banking (Americas) of Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC for several years ending September 2020. Mr. Coffey served as Vice President, Nuclear for FPL from May 2019 to June 2021. Mr. Crews served as Vice President, Business Management of NextEra Energy Resources from March 2019 to February 2022 and was Executive Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer of NEE and FPL from March 2022 until May 2024. Mrs. Daggs served as Vice President, Human Resources for FPL from April 2018 to December 2023. Mr. Dunne served as Vice President Finance of NEE from April 2022 to December 2022. He was previously Managing Director, Global Energy & Power Investment Banking for Bank of America from January 2012 to March 2022. Mr. Ketchum served as President and Chief Executive Officer of NEE from March 2022 to July 2022. He previously served as President and Chief Executive Officer of NextEra Energy Resources from March 2019 to February 2022. Mrs. Kujawa served as Executive Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer of NEE and FPL from February 2019 to February 2022. Mr. Lemasney served as Vice President of Power Generation Division Engineering and Operations Support Services of NEE from November 2018 to December 2022. Mr. Pimentel serves as a member of the Board of Directors of Ameriprise Financial, Inc. since September 2022 and previously served as President and Chief Executive Officer of NextEra Energy Resources from October 2011 to March 2019. Mr. Sieving previously served as Executive Vice President & General Counsel of NEE from December 2008 to May 2023.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Risks Relating to NEE's and FPL's Business

The business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL are subject to a variety of risks, many of which are beyond the control of NEE and FPL. These risks, whether or not expressly stated with respect to any particular risk factor, as well as additional risks and uncertainties either not presently known or that are currently believed to not be material to the business, may materially adversely affect the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL and may cause actual results of NEE and FPL to differ substantially from those that NEE or FPL currently expects or seeks. In that event, the market price for the securities of NEE or FPL could decline. Accordingly, the risks described below should be carefully considered together with the other information set forth in this report and in future reports that NEE and FPL file with the SEC.

Regulatory, Legislative and Legal Risks

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially adversely affected by the extensive regulation of their business.

The operations of NEE and FPL are subject to complex and comprehensive federal, state and other regulation. This extensive regulatory framework, portions of which are more specifically identified in the following risk factors, regulates, among other things and to varying degrees, NEE's and FPL's industry, businesses, operations, and rates and cost structures, including: permitting, planning, construction and operation of electric generation, storage, transmission and distribution facilities and natural gas, oil and other fuel production, transportation, processing and storage facilities; acquisitions, disposals, depreciation and amortization of facilities and other assets; decommissioning costs and funding; service reliability; wholesale and retail competition; and commodities trading and derivatives transactions. In their business planning and in the management of their operations, NEE and FPL must address the effects of regulation on their business and any inability or failure to do so adequately could have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected if they are unable to recover in a timely manner any significant amount of costs, a return on certain assets or a reasonable return on invested capital through base rates, cost recovery clauses, other regulatory mechanisms or otherwise.

FPL operates as an electric utility and is subject to the jurisdiction of the FPSC over a wide range of business activities, including, among other items, the retail rates charged to its customers through base rates and cost recovery clauses, the terms and conditions of its services, procurement of electricity for its customers and fuel for its plant operations, issuances of securities, and aspects of the siting, planning, construction and operation of its generation plants and transmission and distribution systems for the sale of electric energy. The FPSC has the authority to disallow recovery by FPL of costs that it considers excessive or imprudently incurred, including those incurred to transition to lower carbon emission technology, and to determine the level of return that FPL is permitted to earn on invested capital. The regulatory process, which may be adversely affected by the geopolitical, political, regulatory, operational and economic environment in Florida and elsewhere, limits or could otherwise adversely impact FPL's earnings. The regulatory process also does not provide any assurance as to achievement of authorized or other earnings levels, or that FPL will be permitted to earn an acceptable return on capital investments it wishes to make. NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected if any material amount of costs, a return on certain assets or a reasonable return on invested capital cannot be recovered through base rates, cost recovery clauses, other regulatory mechanisms or otherwise. Certain other subsidiaries of NEE are utilities subject to the jurisdiction of their regulators and are subject to similar risks.

Regulatory decisions that are important to NEE and FPL may be materially adversely affected by political, regulatory, operational and economic factors.

The local and national political, regulatory and economic environment has had, and may in the future have, an adverse effect on regulatory decisions with negative consequences for NEE and FPL. These decisions, which may come from any level of government, including through actions taken, or not taken, by government agencies as a result of executive orders, may require, for example, FPL or NEER to cancel or delay planned development activities, to reduce or delay other planned capital expenditures or to pay for investments or otherwise incur costs that it may not be able to recover through rates or otherwise, each of which could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL.

Any reductions or modifications to, or the elimination of, governmental incentives or policies that support clean energy, including, but not limited to, tax laws, policies and incentives, RPS and feed-in-tariffs, or the imposition of additional taxes, tariffs, duties or other costs or assessments on clean energy or the equipment necessary to generate, store or deliver it, could result in, among other items, the lack of a satisfactory market for the development and/or financing of new clean energy projects, NEE and FPL abandoning the development of clean energy projects, a loss of investments in clean energy projects and reduced project returns, any of which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE depends heavily on government policies that support clean energy and enhance the economic feasibility of developing and operating clean energy projects in regions in which NEER and FPL operate or plan to develop and operate such facilities. The federal government, a majority of state governments in the U.S. and portions of Canada provide incentives, such as tax incentives, RPS or feed-in-tariffs, that support or are designed to support the sale of energy from clean energy facilities, such as wind and solar energy facilities and energy storage facilities. The development of clean energy projects at acceptable prices has not historically been burdened by actions taken by the U.S. government. However, as a result of budgetary constraints, geopolitical factors, political factors or otherwise, governments from time to time may review their laws and policies that support, or do not overly burden, the development and operation of clean energy facilities and, instead, consider actions that would make the laws and policies less conducive to the development and operation of such projects. Any reductions or modifications to, or the elimination of, governmental incentives or policies that support clean energy, such as PTCs or ITCs, or the imposition of additional taxes, tariffs, duties or other costs or assessments on clean energy or the equipment necessary to generate, store or deliver it, such as policies in place that limit certain imports from China and other Southeast Asian countries, could result in, among other items, the lack of a satisfactory market for the development and/or financing of new clean energy projects, NEE and FPL abandoning the development of clean energy projects, a loss of investments in the projects and reduced project returns, any of which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected by new or revised laws, regulations or executive orders, as well as by regulatory action or inaction.

NEE's and FPL's business could be materially adversely affected by a variety of legal activity, such as: 1) the adoption of new or revised laws, such as international trade laws, regulations and interpretations; 2) constitutional ballot or regulatory initiatives, such as those seeking deregulation or restructuring of the energy industry; 3) new or revised regulations, such as those affecting the commodities trading and derivatives markets, emissions, water consumption, water discharges, wetlands, gas and oil infrastructure operations, and environmental and other permitting requirements for energy infrastructure projects; 4) actions taken, or not taken, by government agencies as a result of executive orders, such as failing to issue, delaying the issuance of, or increasing the requirements necessary to obtain approvals, rights-of-way, permits, determinations, leases or loans related to wind or other clean energy projects; and 5) changes in the way government interprets or applies laws, regulations and orders. Changes in the nature of the regulation of NEE's and FPL's business through this type or other types of legal activity could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. NEE and FPL are unable to predict future legislative, regulatory or executive action or inaction, including through constitutional ballot initiatives or changed government interpretations or applications, although any such changes may increase costs, the challenges associated with developing and operating clean and other energy infrastructure projects, and competitive pressures on NEE and FPL, which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

FPL has limited, but growing, competition in the Florida market for retail electricity customers and is not subject to a RPS. Any changes in Florida law or regulation, whether through new or modified legislation, regulation or executive action or through citizen-approved state constitutional ballot initiatives, which increase competition in the Florida retail electricity market, such as government incentives that would further facilitate the installation of solar generation facilities on residential or other rooftops, would permit third-party sales of electricity or would mandate the transition to renewable energy at FPL, could have a material adverse effect on FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. FPL and NEER are also regulated by FERC as transmission providers and sellers of wholesale power. FERC regulation of transmission and wholesale power transactions, including the ability of new energy infrastructure projects to sell the power they produce under power purchase agreements, evolves over time as a result of rulemaking proceedings and new legislative directives from Congress. There can be no assurance that FPL or NEER would be able to respond adequately to the aforementioned state and federal regulatory changes, which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

FPL and NEER are also subject to FERC rules related to transmission that are designed to facilitate competition in the wholesale market on practically a nationwide basis and that evolve over time. NEE cannot predict the impact of changing FERC rules or policies of the RTOs and ISOs, such as rules governing generator interconnection procedures and transmission planning requirements and cost allocation methodologies, or the effect of changes in levels of wholesale supply and demand, which are typically driven by factors beyond NEE's control. There can be no assurance that FPL or NEER will be able to respond adequately or sufficiently quickly to such rules and developments, which may impact the ability, timeline and cost of interconnecting new or repowered energy projects to the transmission system and the availability of transmission system capacity to deliver energy products to market, or to any changes that reverse or restrict the competitive restructuring of the energy industry in those jurisdictions in which such restructuring has occurred. Any of these events could have a material adverse effect on NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The structure of the energy industry and regulation in the U.S. is currently, and may continue to be, subject to challenges and restructuring proposals. Additional regulatory approvals may be required due to changes in law or for other reasons. NEE expects the laws and regulation applicable to its business and the energy industry, including laws and regulations generally supportive of clean energy project development, generally to be in a state of transition for the foreseeable future. Changes in the structure of the industry or in such laws and regulations could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL are subject to numerous environmental laws, regulations and other standards that may result in capital expenditures, increased operating costs and various liabilities, and may require NEE and FPL to limit or eliminate certain operations.

NEE and FPL are subject to domestic environmental laws, regulations and other standards, including, but not limited to, extensive federal, state and local environmental statutes, rules and regulations relating to air quality, water quality and usage, soil quality, climate change, greenhouse gas emissions, waste management, hazardous wastes, marine, avian, bat and other wildlife mortality and habitat protection, historical artifact preservation, natural resources, health (including, but not limited to, electric and magnetic fields from power lines and substations), safety and RPS, that could, among other things, prevent or delay the development of power generation, storage and transmission, gas transportation, or other development projects, restrict or enjoin the output of some existing facilities, limit the availability and use of some fuels required for the production of electricity, require additional pollution control equipment, and otherwise increase costs, increase capital expenditures and limit or eliminate certain operations. Certain subsidiaries of NEE are also subject to foreign environmental laws, regulations and other standards and, as such, are subject to similar risks.

There are significant capital, operating and other costs associated with compliance with these environmental statutes, rules and regulations, and those costs could be even more significant in the future as a result of new requirements, stricter or more expansive application of existing environmental laws and regulations, and the addition of species, such as additional bat species, to the endangered species list.

Violations of current or future laws, rules, regulations or other standards could expose NEE and FPL to regulatory and legal proceedings, disputes with, and legal challenges by, governmental entities and third parties, and potentially significant civil fines, criminal penalties and other sanctions, such as restrictions on how NextEra Energy Resources develops, sites and operates wind facilities. These violations could result in, without limitation, litigation regarding property damage, personal injury, common law nuisance and enforcement by citizens or governmental authorities of environmental requirements. For example, one of NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries is currently on probation as a result of accidental collisions of eagles into wind turbines at a number of NextEra Energy Resources' wind facilities. If NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiary violates the terms of the probation, or fails to obtain eagle "take" permits under the BGEPA or incidental take permits under the ESA for certain of its wind facilities and additional eagles or listed species, like cave bats, perish in collisions with facility turbines, NextEra Energy Resources or its subsidiaries could face criminal prosecution under these laws.

NEE's and FPL's business could be negatively affected by federal or state laws or regulations mandating new or additional limits on the production of greenhouse gas emissions.

Federal or state laws or regulations may be adopted that would impose new or additional limits on greenhouse gas emissions, including, but not limited to, carbon dioxide and methane, from electric generation units using fuels, such as natural gas. The potential effects of greenhouse gas emission limits on NEE's and FPL's electric generation units are subject to significant uncertainties based on, among other things, the timing of the implementation of any new requirements, the required levels of emission reductions, the nature of any market-based or tax-based mechanisms adopted to facilitate reductions, the relative availability of greenhouse gas emission reduction offsets, the development of cost-effective, commercial-scale carbon capture and storage technology and supporting regulations and liability mitigation measures, and the range of available compliance alternatives.

The results of operations of NEE and FPL could be materially adversely affected to the extent that new federal or state laws or regulations impose any new greenhouse gas emission limits. Any future limits on greenhouse gas emissions could:

- create substantial additional costs in the form of taxes or emissions allowances;
- make some of NEE's and FPL's electric generation units uneconomical to operate in the long term;
- require significant capital investment in carbon capture and storage technology, fuel switching, or the replacement of high-emitting generation facilities with lower-emitting generation facilities; or
- affect the availability or cost of fuel, such as natural gas.

There can be no assurance that NEE or FPL would be able to completely recover any such costs or investments, which could have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Extensive federal, state and local government regulation of the operations and businesses of NEE and FPL exposes NEE and FPL to significant and increasing compliance costs and may also expose them to substantial monetary penalties and other sanctions for compliance failures.

NEE's and FPL's operations and businesses are subject to extensive federal, state and local government regulation, which generally imposes significant and increasing compliance costs on their operations and businesses. Additionally, any actual or alleged compliance failures could result in significant costs and other potentially adverse effects of regulatory investigations, proceedings, settlements, decisions and claims, including, among other items, potentially significant monetary penalties. As an example, under the Energy Policy Act of 2005, NEE and FPL, as owners and operators of bulk-power transmission systems and/or electric generation facilities, are subject to mandatory reliability standards. Compliance with these mandatory reliability standards may subject NEE and FPL to higher operating costs and may result in increased capital expenditures. If FPL or NEE is found not to be in compliance with these standards, they may incur substantial monetary penalties and other sanctions. In addition, certain of NEE's and FPL's sales to retail customers are subject to consumer protection laws and other regulations related to consumer activities that are implemented and enforced by a number of federal, state and local government entities. Both the costs of regulatory compliance and the costs that may be imposed as a result of any actual or alleged compliance failures could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Changes in tax laws, guidance or policies, including but not limited to changes in corporate income tax rates, as well as judgments and estimates used in the determination of tax-related asset and liability amounts, could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's provision for income taxes and reporting of tax-related assets and liabilities require significant judgments and the use of estimates. Amounts of tax-related assets and liabilities involve judgments and estimates of the timing and probability of recognition of income, deductions and tax credits, including, but not limited to, estimates for potential adverse outcomes regarding tax positions that have been taken and the ability to utilize tax benefit carryforwards, such as net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Actual income taxes could vary significantly from estimated amounts due to the future impacts of, among other things, changes in tax laws, guidance or policies, including, but not limited to, changes in corporate income tax rates, renewable energy tax credits and transferability of renewable energy tax credits, the issuance of guidance related to the qualification for renewable energy tax credits and bonus credits, the financial condition and results of operations of NEE and FPL and the resolution of audit issues raised by taxing authorities. These factors, including the ultimate resolution of income tax matters, may result in material adjustments to tax-related assets and liabilities, which could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially adversely affected due to adverse results of litigation.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially affected by adverse results of litigation. Unfavorable resolution of legal or administrative proceedings in which NEE or FPL is involved or other future legal or administrative proceedings may have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL.

Allegations of violations of law by FPL or NEE have the potential to result in fines, penalties, or other sanctions or effects, as well as cause reputational damage for FPL and NEE, and could hamper FPL's and NEE's effectiveness in interacting with governmental authorities.

FPL's and NEE's business and reputation could be adversely affected by allegations that FPL or NEE has violated laws, by any investigations or proceedings that arise from such allegations, or by ultimate determinations of legal violations. For example, media articles were first published in 2021 that alleged, among other things, Florida state and federal campaign finance law violations by FPL. FPL and NEE cannot provide assurance that the outcome of any allegations of violations of law will not result in the imposition of material fines, penalties, or otherwise result in other sanctions or effects on FPL or NEE, or will not have a material adverse impact on the reputation of NEE or FPL or on the effectiveness of their interactions with governmental regulators or other authorities.

Development and Operational Risks

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could suffer if NEE and FPL do not proceed with projects under development or are unable to complete the construction of, or capital improvements to, electric generation, storage, transmission and distribution facilities, natural gas and oil production and transportation facilities or other facilities on schedule or within budget.

NEE's and FPL's ability to proceed with projects under development and to complete construction of, and capital improvement projects for, their electric generation, storage, transmission and distribution facilities, natural gas and oil production and transportation facilities and other facilities on schedule and within budget have been, from time to time, and in the future may be, adversely affected by escalating costs for materials and labor and regulatory compliance, inability to obtain or renew necessary licenses, rights-of-way, permits or other approvals on acceptable terms or on schedule, disputes involving contractors, labor organizations, land owners, governmental entities, environmental groups, Native American and aboriginal groups, lessors, joint venture partners, suppliers and other third parties, negative publicity, transmission interconnection issues, geopolitical factors, supply chain disruptions, inflation, rising interest rates and other factors. For example, the ability of NEE and FPL to develop solar generation and battery storage facilities is dependent on the international supply chain for solar panels, batteries and associated equipment, and governmental or regulatory actions have caused minor, and could in the future cause material, disruptions in the ability of NEE and FPL to acquire solar panels and batteries on time and at acceptable costs. If any development project or construction or capital improvement project is not completed, is delayed or is subject to cost overruns, certain associated costs may not be approved for recovery or otherwise be recoverable through regulatory mechanisms that may be available, and NEE and FPL could become obligated to make delay or termination payments or become obligated for other damages under contracts, could experience the loss, or reduction, of tax credits, bonus credits or tax incentives, the inability to transfer tax credits, or delayed or diminished returns, and could be required to write off all or a portion of their investment in the project. Any of these events could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL face risks related to project siting, financing, construction, permitting, governmental approvals and the negotiation of project development agreements that may impede their development and operating activities.

NEE and FPL own, develop, construct, manage and operate electric generation, storage and transmission facilities and natural gas pipelines. A key component of NEE's and FPL's growth is their ability to construct and operate generation, storage, transmission facilities and natural gas pipelines to meet customer needs. As part of these operations, NEE and FPL must periodically apply for licenses and permits from various local, state, federal and other regulatory authorities and abide by their respective conditions. Should NEE or FPL be unsuccessful in obtaining necessary licenses or permits on acceptable terms or resolving third-party challenges to such licenses or permits, should there be any delay in obtaining or renewing necessary licenses or permits or should regulatory authorities initiate any associated investigations or enforcement actions or impose related penalties or disallowances on NEE or FPL, NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected. Any failure to negotiate successful project development agreements for new facilities with third parties could have similar consequences.

The operation and maintenance of NEE's and FPL's electric generation, storage, transmission and distribution facilities, natural gas and oil production and transportation facilities and other facilities are subject to many operational risks, the consequences of which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's electric generation, storage, transmission and distribution facilities, natural gas and oil production and transportation facilities and other facilities are subject to many operational risks. Operational risks could result in, among other things, lost revenues due to prolonged outages, increased expenses due to monetary penalties or fines for compliance failures or legal claims, liability to third parties for property and personal injury damage or loss of life, unsatisfied customers, a failure to perform under applicable power sales agreements or other agreements and associated loss of revenues from terminated agreements or liability for liquidated damages under continuing agreements, and replacement equipment costs or an obligation to purchase or generate replacement power at higher prices.

Uncertainties and risks inherent in operating and maintaining NEE's and FPL's facilities include, but are not limited to:

- risks associated with facility start-up operations, such as whether the facility will achieve projected operating performance on schedule and otherwise as planned;
- failures in the availability, acquisition or transportation of fuel or other necessary supplies;
- the impact of unusual or adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, including, but not limited to, hurricanes, tornadoes, extreme temperatures, icing events, wildfires, floods, severe convective storms, earthquakes and droughts;
- performance below expected or contracted levels of output or efficiency;
- breakdown or failure, including, but not limited to, explosions, fires, leaks or other major events, of equipment, transmission or distribution systems or pipelines;
- availability of replacement equipment;
- risks of property damage, human injury or loss of life from energized equipment, hazardous substances or explosions, fires, leaks or other events, especially where facilities are located near populated areas;
- potential environmental impacts of natural gas and oil production and transportation operations;
- risks associated with potential harm to wildlife;
- availability of adequate water resources and ability to satisfy water intake and discharge requirements;
- inability to identify, manage properly or mitigate equipment defects in NEE's and FPL's facilities;
- use of new or unproven technology;
- inability to anticipate or adapt to changes in the reliability of NEE's or FPL's equipment, operating systems or facilities;
- risks associated with dependence on a specific type of fuel or fuel source, such as commodity price risk, availability of adequate fuel supply and transportation, and lack of available alternative fuel sources;
- increased competition due to, among other factors, new facilities, excess supply, shifting demand and regulatory changes; and
- insufficient insurance, warranties or performance guarantees to cover any or all lost revenues or increased expenses from the foregoing.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be negatively affected by a lack of growth, slower growth or a decline in the number of customers or in customer usage.

Growth in customer accounts and growth of customer usage each directly influence the demand for electricity and the need for additional power generation and power delivery facilities, as well as the need for energy-related commodities, such as natural gas. Customer growth and customer usage are affected by a number of factors outside the control of NEE and FPL, such as mandated energy efficiency measures, demand side management requirements, installation of distributed generation technologies and economic and demographic conditions, such as population changes, job and income growth, housing starts, new business formation, expanded use of data centers, inflation and the overall level of economic activity. A lack of growth, or a decline, in the number of customers or in customer demand for electricity or natural gas and other fuels may cause NEE and FPL to fail to fully realize the anticipated benefits from significant investments and expenditures and could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's growth, business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects can be materially adversely affected by weather conditions and related impacts, including, but not limited to, the impact of severe weather.

Weather conditions directly influence the demand for electricity and natural gas and other fuels and affect the price of energy and energy-related commodities. In addition, severe weather and natural disasters, such as hurricanes, floods, tornadoes, droughts, extreme temperatures, icing events, wildfires, severe convective storms and earthquakes, can be destructive and cause power outages, personal injury and property damage, reduce revenue, affect the availability of fuel and water, and require NEE and FPL to incur additional costs, for example, to restore service and repair damaged facilities, to obtain replacement power, to access available financing sources, to obtain insurance, to pay for any associated injuries and damages and to fund any associated legal matters and compliance penalties. Furthermore, NEE's and FPL's physical plants could be placed at greater risk of damage should changes in the global climate produce unusual variations in temperature and weather patterns, resulting in more intense, frequent and extreme weather events, abnormal levels of precipitation and, particularly relevant to FPL, a change in sea level. FPL operates in the east and lower west coasts of Florida and in northwest Florida, areas that historically have been prone to severe weather events, such as hurricanes. A disruption or failure of electric generation, transmission or distribution systems or natural gas production, transmission, storage or distribution systems in the event of a hurricane, tornado or other severe weather event, or otherwise, could prevent NEE and FPL from operating their business in the normal course and could result in any of the adverse consequences described above. Additionally, the actions taken to address the potential for severe weather such as additional winterizing of critical equipment and infrastructure, modifying or alternating plant operations and expanding load shedding options could result in significant increases in costs. Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

At FPL and other businesses of NEE where cost recovery is available, recovery of costs to restore service, to repair damaged facilities or for other actions to address severe weather is or may be subject to regulatory approval, and any determination by the regulator not to permit timely and full recovery of the costs incurred could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Changes in weather can also affect the production of electricity at power generation facilities, including, but not limited to, NEER's wind and solar facilities. For example, the level of wind resource affects the revenue produced by wind generation facilities. Because the levels of wind and solar resources are variable and difficult to predict, NEER's results of operations for individual wind and solar facilities specifically, and NEE's results of operations generally, may vary significantly from period to period, depending on the level of available resources. To the extent that resources are not available at planned levels, the financial results from these facilities may be less than expected.

Threats of terrorism and catastrophic events that could result from geopolitical factors, terrorism, cyberattacks, or individuals and/or groups attempting to disrupt NEE's and FPL's business, or the businesses of third parties, may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL are subject to the potentially adverse operating and financial effects of geopolitical factors, terrorist acts and threats, as well as cyberattacks and other disruptive activities of individuals or groups. There have been cyberattacks and other physical attacks within the energy industry on energy infrastructure such as substations, gas pipelines and related assets in the past and there may be such attacks in the future. In addition, the advancement of artificial intelligence has given rise to added vulnerabilities and potential entry points for cyberattacks. NEE's and FPL's generation, transmission, storage and distribution facilities, information technology systems and other infrastructure facilities and systems could be direct targets of, or otherwise be materially adversely affected by, such activities.

Geopolitical factors, terrorist acts, cyberattacks or other similar events affecting NEE's and FPL's systems and facilities, or those of third parties on which NEE and FPL rely, could harm NEE's and FPL's businesses by, for example, limiting their ability to generate, purchase, store or transmit power, natural gas or other energy-related commodities, limiting their ability to bill customers and collect and process payments, and delaying their development and construction of new generation, distribution, storage or transmission facilities or capital improvements to existing facilities. These events, and governmental actions in response, could result in a material decrease in revenues, significant additional costs (for example, to repair assets, implement additional security requirements or maintain or acquire insurance), significant fines and penalties, and reputational damage, could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's operations (for example, by contributing to disruption of supplies and markets for natural gas, oil and other fuels), and could impair NEE's and FPL's ability to raise capital (for example, by contributing to financial instability and lower economic activity). In addition, the implementation of security guidelines and measures has resulted in, and is expected to continue to result in, increased costs. Such events or actions may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The ability of NEE and FPL to obtain insurance and the terms of any available insurance coverage could be materially adversely affected by international, national, state or local events and company-specific events, as well as the financial condition of insurers. NEE's and FPL's insurance coverage does not provide protection against all significant losses.

Insurance coverage may not continue to be available or may not be available at rates or on terms similar to those presently available to NEE and FPL. The ability of NEE and FPL to obtain insurance and the terms of any available insurance coverage could be materially adversely affected by international, national, state or local events and company-specific events, including impacts of actual or perceived climate-related events, as well as the financial condition of insurers. If NEE or FPL cannot or does not obtain insurance coverage, NEE or FPL may be required to pay costs associated with adverse future events. Additionally, if certain unconsolidated subsidiaries of NEE do not obtain third-party insurance coverage, NEE may be required to pay costs associated with losses or adverse future events involving these entities.

NEE and FPL generally are not fully insured against all significant losses. For example, NEE, including FPL, does not have property insurance coverage for a substantial portion of its transmission and distribution property and natural gas pipeline assets. A loss for which NEE or FPL is not fully insured could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE invests in natural gas and oil production assets which are exposed to fluctuating market prices of natural gas, natural gas liquids, oil and other energy commodities. A prolonged period of low natural gas and oil prices, disrupted production or unsuccessful drilling efforts could impact NEER's natural gas and oil production operations and cause NEER to delay or cancel certain natural gas and oil production projects and could result in certain assets becoming impaired, which could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Natural gas and oil prices are affected by supply and demand, both globally and regionally. Factors that influence supply and demand include operational issues, natural disasters, weather, political instability, conflicts, new discoveries, technological advances, economic conditions and actions by major oil-producing countries. There can be significant volatility in market prices for natural gas and oil, and price fluctuations could have a material effect on the financial performance of natural gas and oil producing assets. For example, in a low natural gas and oil price environment, NEER would generate less revenue from its investments in natural gas and oil production properties, and as a result certain investments might become less profitable or incur losses. Additionally, production could be disrupted due to weather or operational issues, among other causes, or drilling efforts could be unsuccessful. Prolonged periods of low oil and gas prices or low production, including from unsuccessful drilling efforts, could also result in the delay or cancellation of natural gas and oil production projects, could cause projects to experience lower returns, and could result in certain assets becoming impaired, which could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

If cost recovery arrangements for increased supply costs necessary to provide NEER's full energy and capacity requirements services are not favorable, operating costs could increase and materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEER provides full energy and capacity requirements services primarily to distribution utilities, which include load-following services and various ancillary services, to satisfy all or a portion of such utilities' power supply obligations to their customers. The supply costs for these transactions may be affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to, events that may occur after such utilities have committed to supply power, such as weather conditions, transmission constraints, fluctuating prices for, and locational disconnects in, energy and ancillary services, and the ability of the distribution utilities' customers to elect to receive service from competing suppliers. If any of these factors materialize, NEER may not be able to recover all of its increased supply costs, which could have a material adverse effect on NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Due to the potential for significant volatility in market prices for fuel, electricity and environmental and other energy-related commodities, NEE's inability or failure to manage properly or hedge effectively the commodity risks within its portfolio could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

There can be significant volatility in market prices for fuel, electricity and environmental and other energy-related commodities, both in general and across geographies. NEE's inability or failure to manage properly or hedge effectively its assets or positions against changes in commodity prices, volumes, interest rates, counterparty credit risk or other risk measures, based on factors that are either within, or wholly or partially outside of, NEE's control, may materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Reductions in the liquidity of energy markets may restrict NEE's ability to manage its operational risks, which, in turn, could negatively affect NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE is an active participant in energy markets. Liquidity in energy markets can be described as the degree to which a product, such as electricity, gas or transmission rights, can be quickly bought or sold without significantly affecting its price and without incurring significant transaction costs. It can be driven in part by the number of active market participants and is an important factor in NEE's ability to manage risks in its participation in these markets. Liquidity in the energy markets can be adversely affected by price volatility, restrictions on the availability of credit, inflation, rising interest rates and other factors, and any reduction in the liquidity of energy markets could have a material adverse effect on NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's hedging and trading procedures and associated risk management tools may not protect against significant losses.

NEE and FPL have hedging and trading procedures and associated risk management tools, such as separate but complementary financial, credit, operational, compliance and legal reporting systems, internal controls, management review processes and other mechanisms. NEE and FPL are unable to assure that such procedures and tools will be effective against all potential risks, including, without limitation, employee misconduct or severe weather or operating conditions. If such procedures and tools are not effective, this could have a material adverse effect on NEE's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

If price movements significantly or persistently deviate from historical behavior, NEE's and FPL's risk management tools associated with their hedging and trading procedures may not protect against significant losses.

NEE's and FPL's risk management tools and metrics associated with their hedging and trading procedures, such as daily value at risk, earnings at risk, stop loss limits and liquidity guidelines, are based on historical price movements. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in price movements and potential deviation from historical pricing behavior, NEE and FPL are unable to assure that their risk management tools and metrics will be effective to protect against significant losses that could have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

If power transmission or natural gas, nuclear fuel or other commodity transportation operations are unavailable or disrupted, the ability for subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, to sell and deliver power or natural gas may be limited.

Subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, depend upon power transmission and natural gas, nuclear fuel and other commodity transportation operations, many of which they do not own or control. Occurrences affecting these operations that may or may not be beyond the control of subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, (such as geopolitical factors, cyber incidents, physical attacks, severe weather or a generation or transmission facility outage, pipeline rupture, or sudden and significant increase or decrease in wind or solar generation) may limit or halt their ability to sell and deliver power and natural gas, or to purchase necessary fuels and other commodities, which could materially adversely impact NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL are subject to credit and performance risk from customers, hedging counterparties and vendors.

NEE and FPL are exposed to risks associated with the creditworthiness and performance of their customers, hedging counterparties and vendors under contracts for the supply of equipment, materials, fuel and other goods and services required for their business operations and for the construction and operation of, and for capital improvements to, their facilities. Adverse conditions in the energy industry or the general economy such as inflation, as well as circumstances of individual customers, hedging counterparties and vendors, may adversely affect the ability of some customers, hedging counterparties and vendors to perform as required under their contracts with NEE and FPL.

If any vendor or hedging or other counterparty fails to fulfill its contractual obligations, NEE and FPL may need to make arrangements with other counterparties or vendors, which could result in material financial losses, higher costs, untimely completion of power generation facilities and other projects, or a disruption of their operations. If a defaulting counterparty is in poor financial condition, NEE and FPL may not be able to recover damages for any contract breach.

NEE and FPL could recognize financial losses or a reduction in operating cash flows if a counterparty fails to perform or make payments in accordance with the terms of derivative contracts or if NEE or FPL is required to post margin cash collateral under derivative contracts.

NEE and FPL use derivative instruments, such as swaps, options, futures and forwards, some of which are traded in the OTC markets or on exchanges, to manage their commodity and financial market risks, and for NEE to engage in commodity trading and marketing activities. Any failures by their counterparties to perform or make payments in accordance with the terms of those transactions could have a material adverse effect on NEE's or FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Similarly, any requirement for FPL or NEE to post margin cash collateral under its derivative contracts could have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. These risks may be increased during periods of adverse market or economic conditions such as inflation affecting the industry in which NEE and FPL participate.

NEE and FPL are highly dependent on sensitive and complex information technology systems, and any failure or breach of those systems could have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL operate in a highly regulated industry that requires the continuous functioning of sophisticated information technology systems and network infrastructure. Despite NEE's and FPL's implementation of security measures, all of their technology systems are vulnerable to disability, failures or unauthorized access. If NEE's or FPL's information technology systems were to fail or be breached, sensitive confidential and other data could be compromised and NEE and FPL could be unable to fulfill critical business functions.

NEE's and FPL's businesses are highly dependent on NEE's and FPL's ability to process and monitor, on a daily basis, a very large number of transactions, many of which are highly complex and cross numerous and diverse markets. Due to the size, scope, complexity and geographical reach of NEE's and FPL's business, the development and maintenance of information technology systems to keep track of and process information is critical and challenging. NEE's and FPL's operating systems and facilities may fail to operate properly or become disabled as a result of events that are either within, or wholly or partially outside of, their control, such as operator error, severe weather, geopolitical activities, terrorist activities or cyber incidents. NEE and FPL also face the risks of operational failure or capacity constraints associated with the information systems of third parties, including, but not limited to, those who provide power transmission and natural gas transportation services. Any such failure or disabling event could impact NEE's and FPL's ability to process transactions and provide services, and materially adversely affect their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL add, modify and replace information systems on a regular basis. Modifying existing information systems or implementing new or replacement information systems is costly and involves risks, including, but not limited to, integrating the modified, new or replacement system with existing systems and processes, implementing associated changes in accounting procedures and controls, and ensuring that data conversion is accurate and consistent. Any disruptions or deficiencies in existing information systems, or disruptions, delays or deficiencies in the modification or implementation of new information systems, could result in increased costs, the inability to track or collect revenues and the diversion of management's and employees' attention and resources, and could negatively impact the effectiveness of the companies' control environment, and/or the companies' ability to timely file required regulatory reports.

NEE's and FPL's retail businesses are subject to the risk that sensitive customer data may be compromised, which could result in a material adverse impact to their reputation and/or have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of NEE and FPL.

NEE's and FPL's retail businesses require access to sensitive customer data in the ordinary course of business. NEE's and FPL's retail businesses may also need to provide sensitive customer data to vendors and service providers who require access to this information in order to provide services, such as call center services, to the retail businesses. If a significant breach occurred, the reputation of NEE and FPL could be materially adversely affected, customer confidence could be diminished, or customer information could be subject to identity theft. NEE and FPL would be subject to costs associated with the breach and/or NEE and FPL could be subject to fines and legal claims, any of which may have a material adverse effect on their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL could recognize financial losses as a result of volatility in the market values of derivative instruments and limited liquidity in OTC markets.

NEE and FPL execute transactions in derivative instruments on either recognized exchanges or through the OTC markets, depending on management's assessment of the most favorable credit and market execution factors. Transactions executed on OTC markets have the potential for greater volatility and less liquidity than transactions on recognized exchanges. As a result, NEE and FPL may not be able to execute desired OTC transactions due to such heightened volatility and limited liquidity.

In the absence of actively quoted market prices and pricing information from external sources, the valuation of derivative instruments involves management's judgment and use of estimates. As a result, changes in the underlying assumptions or use of alternative valuation methods could affect the reported fair value of these derivative instruments and have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL may be materially adversely affected by negative publicity.

From time to time, political and public sentiment has resulted in and may result in a significant amount of adverse press coverage and other adverse public statements affecting NEE and FPL. Adverse press coverage and other adverse statements, whether or not driven by political or public sentiment, may also result in investigations by regulators, legislators and law enforcement officials, internal investigations or in legal claims. Responding to the negative publicity and any resulting investigations and lawsuits, regardless of the ultimate outcome of the proceeding, can divert the time and effort of senior management from NEE's and FPL's business.

Addressing any adverse publicity, governmental scrutiny or enforcement or other legal proceedings is time consuming and expensive and, regardless of the factual basis for the assertions being made, can have a negative impact on the reputation of NEE and FPL, on the morale and performance of their employees and on their relationships with regulators. It may also have a negative impact on their ability to take timely advantage of various business and market opportunities. The direct and indirect effects of negative publicity, and the demands of responding to and addressing it, may have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected if FPL is unable to maintain, negotiate or renegotiate franchise agreements on acceptable terms with municipalities and counties in Florida.

FPL may negotiate franchise agreements with municipalities and counties in Florida to provide electric services within such municipalities and counties, and electricity sales generated pursuant to these agreements represent a very substantial portion of FPL's revenues. If FPL is unable to maintain, negotiate or renegotiate such franchise agreements on acceptable terms, it could contribute to lower earnings and FPL may not fully realize the anticipated benefits from significant investments and expenditures, which could adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected by work strikes or stoppages and increasing personnel costs.

Employee strikes or work stoppages could disrupt operations and lead to a loss of revenue and customers. Personnel costs may also increase due to inflationary or competitive pressures on payroll and benefits costs and revised terms of collective bargaining agreements with union employees. These consequences could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's ability to successfully identify, complete and integrate acquisitions is subject to significant risks, including, but not limited to, the effect of increased competition for acquisitions resulting from the consolidation of the energy industry.

NEE is likely to encounter significant competition for acquisition opportunities that may become available as a result of the consolidation of the energy industry. In addition, NEE may be unable to identify attractive acquisition opportunities at favorable prices and to complete and integrate them successfully and in a timely manner.

Nuclear Generation Risks

The operation and maintenance of NEE's and FPL's nuclear generation facilities involve environmental, health and financial risks that could result in fines or the closure of the facilities and in increased costs and capital expenditures.

NEE's and FPL's nuclear generation facilities are subject to environmental, health and financial risks, including, but not limited to, those relating to site storage of spent nuclear fuel, the disposition of spent nuclear fuel, leakage and emissions of tritium and other radioactive elements in the event of a nuclear accident or otherwise, the threat of a terrorist attack or cyber incident and other potential liabilities arising out of the ownership or operation of the facilities. NEE and FPL maintain decommissioning funds and external insurance coverage which are intended to reduce the financial exposure to some of these risks; however, the cost of decommissioning nuclear generation facilities could exceed the amount available in NEE's and FPL's decommissioning funds, and the exposure to liability and property damages could exceed the amount of insurance coverage. If NEE or FPL is unable to recover the additional costs incurred through insurance or, in the case of FPL, through regulatory mechanisms, their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected.

In the event of an incident at any nuclear generation facility in the U.S. or at certain nuclear generation facilities in Europe, NEE and FPL could be assessed significant retrospective assessments and/or retrospective insurance premiums as a result of their participation in a secondary financial protection system and nuclear insurance mutual companies.

Liability for accidents at nuclear power plants is governed by the Price-Anderson Act, which limits the liability of nuclear reactor owners to the amount of insurance available from both private sources and an industry retrospective payment plan. In accordance with this Act, NEE maintains the maximum amount of private liability insurance obtainable, and participates in a secondary financial protection system, which provides liability insurance coverage for an incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S. Under the secondary financial protection system, NEE is subject to retrospective assessments and/or retrospective insurance premiums, plus any applicable taxes, for an incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S. or at certain nuclear generation facilities in Europe, regardless of fault or proximity to the incident. Such assessments, if levied, could materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NRC orders or new regulations related to increased security measures and any future safety requirements promulgated by the NRC could require NEE and FPL to incur substantial operating and capital expenditures at their nuclear generation facilities and/or result in reduced revenues.

The NRC has broad authority to impose licensing and safety-related requirements for the operation and maintenance of nuclear generation facilities, the addition of capacity at existing nuclear generation facilities and the construction of new nuclear generation facilities, and these requirements are subject to change. In the event of non-compliance, the NRC has the authority to impose fines and/or shut down a nuclear generation facility, depending upon the NRC's assessment of the severity of the situation, until compliance is achieved. Any of the foregoing events could require NEE and FPL to incur increased costs and capital expenditures, and could reduce revenues.

Any serious nuclear incident occurring at a NEE or FPL plant could result in substantial remediation costs and other expenses. A major incident at a nuclear facility anywhere in the world could cause the NRC to limit or prohibit the operation or licensing of any domestic nuclear generation facility. An incident at a nuclear facility anywhere in the world also could cause the NRC to impose additional conditions or other requirements on the industry, or on certain types of nuclear generation units, which could increase costs, reduce revenues and result in additional capital expenditures for NEE and FPL.

The inability to operate any of NEE's or FPL's nuclear generation units through the end of their respective operating licenses or planned license extensions could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

If any of NEE's or FPL's nuclear generation facilities are not operated for any reason through the life of their respective operating licenses or planned license extensions, NEE or FPL may be required to increase depreciation rates, incur impairment charges and accelerate future decommissioning expenditures, any of which could materially adversely affect their business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

NEE's and FPL's nuclear units are periodically removed from service to accommodate planned refueling and maintenance outages, and for other purposes. If planned outages last longer than anticipated or if there are unplanned outages, NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially adversely affected.

NEE's and FPL's nuclear units are periodically removed from service to accommodate planned refueling and maintenance outages, including, but not limited to, inspections, repairs and certain other modifications as well as to replace equipment. In the event that a scheduled outage lasts longer than anticipated or in the event of an unplanned outage due to, for example, equipment failure, such outages could materially adversely affect NEE's or FPL's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Liquidity, Capital Requirements and Common Stock Risks

Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the credit and capital markets, among other factors, may negatively affect NEE's and FPL's ability to fund their liquidity and capital needs and to meet their growth objectives, and could also materially adversely affect their business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL rely on access to capital and credit markets as significant sources of liquidity for capital requirements, refinancing activities to support existing debt maturities and other requirements that are not satisfied by operating cash flows. Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in those capital and credit markets related to, among others, inflation, rising or sustained higher interest rates and political, regulatory and geopolitical events, could increase NEE's and FPL's cost of capital and affect their ability to fund their liquidity and capital needs, to refinance existing indebtedness and to meet their growth objectives. If NEE or FPL is unable to access regularly the capital and credit markets on terms that are reasonable, it may have to delay raising capital, issue shorter-term securities and incur an unfavorable cost of capital, which, in turn, could adversely affect its ability to maintain and grow its business, could contribute to lower earnings and reduced financial flexibility, and could have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

Although certain NEE subsidiaries have used non-recourse or limited-recourse, project-specific or other financing in the past, market conditions, changes to regulatory capital requirements and other factors could adversely affect the future availability of such financing. The inability of NEE's subsidiaries, including, without limitation, NEECH and its subsidiaries, to access the capital and credit markets to provide project-specific or other financing for electric generation or other facilities or acquisitions on favorable terms, whether because of disruptions or volatility in those markets or otherwise, could necessitate additional capital raising or borrowings by NEE and/or NEECH in the future and there can be no assurance that NEE or NEECH will have the ability to complete such financings.

Defaults or noncompliance related to project-specific, limited-recourse financing agreements of NEE's consolidated and unconsolidated subsidiaries could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects, as well as the availability or terms of future financings for NEE or its subsidiaries.

NEE's consolidated and unconsolidated subsidiaries finance a number of their assets with project-specific, limited-recourse financings. The inability of subsidiaries that have existing project-specific or other financing arrangements to meet the requirements of various agreements relating to those financings, as well as actions by third parties or lenders, could give rise to a project-specific financing default which, if not cured or waived, might result in the specific project, and potentially in some limited instances its parent companies, being required to repay the associated debt or other borrowings earlier than otherwise anticipated. If such repayment were not made, the lenders or security holders would generally have rights to foreclose against the project assets and related collateral. Such an occurrence also could result in NEE expending additional funds or incurring additional obligations over the shorter term to ensure continuing compliance with project-specific financing arrangements based upon the expectation of improvement in the project's performance or financial returns over the longer term. Any of these actions could materially adversely affect NEE's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects, as well as the availability or terms of future financings for NEE or its subsidiaries.

NEE's, NEECH's and FPL's inability to maintain their current credit ratings may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's liquidity and results of operations, limit the ability of NEE and FPL to grow their business, and increase interest costs.

The inability of NEE, NEECH and FPL to maintain their current credit ratings could materially adversely affect their ability to raise capital or obtain credit on favorable terms, which, in turn, could impact NEE's and FPL's ability to grow their businesses and service indebtedness and refinance or repay borrowings, and would likely increase their interest costs. In addition, certain agreements and guarantee arrangements would require posting of additional collateral in the event of a ratings downgrade. Some of the factors that can affect credit ratings are cash flows, liquidity, the amount of debt as a component of total capitalization including rating agencies' treatment of certain indebtedness, NEE's overall business mix and political, legislative and regulatory actions. There can be no assurance that one or more of the ratings of NEE, NEECH and FPL will not be lowered or withdrawn entirely by a rating agency.

NEE's and FPL's liquidity may be impaired if their credit providers are unable to fund their credit commitments to the companies or to maintain their current credit ratings.

The inability of NEE's, NEECH's and FPL's credit providers to fund their credit commitments or to maintain their current credit ratings could require NEE, NEECH or FPL, among other things, to renegotiate requirements in agreements, find an alternative credit provider with acceptable credit ratings to meet funding requirements, or post cash collateral and could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's liquidity.

Poor market performance and other economic factors could affect NEE's defined benefit pension plan's funded status, which may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

NEE sponsors a qualified noncontributory defined benefit pension plan for substantially all employees of NEE and its subsidiaries. A decline in the market value of the assets held in the defined benefit pension plan due to poor investment performance or other factors may increase the funding requirements for this obligation.

NEE's defined benefit pension plan is sensitive to changes in interest rates, since as interest rates decrease, the funding liabilities increase, potentially increasing benefits costs and funding requirements. Any increase in benefits costs or funding requirements may have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

Poor market performance and other economic factors could adversely affect the asset values of NEE's and FPL's nuclear decommissioning funds, which may materially adversely affect NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL are required to maintain decommissioning funds to satisfy their future obligations to decommission their nuclear power plants. A decline in the market value of the assets held in the decommissioning funds due to poor investment performance or other factors may increase the funding requirements for these obligations. Any increase in funding requirements may have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

Certain of NEE's assets and investments are subject to changes in market value and other risks, which may materially adversely affect NEE's liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

NEE holds certain assets and investments where changes in the fair value affect NEE's financial results. In some cases there may be no observable market values for these assets and investments, requiring fair value estimates to be based on other valuation techniques. This type of analysis requires significant judgment and the actual values realized in a sale of these assets and investments could differ materially from those estimated. A sale of an asset or investment below previously estimated value, or other decline in the fair value of an asset or investment, could result in losses or the write-off of such asset or investment, and may have a material adverse effect on NEE's liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

NEE has invested in various joint ventures and equity method investments where it does not have full control over operations, management or decision-making. In many cases, NEE shares control rights with its partners, but may lack influence or be dependent on their business priorities. This situation can lead to decisions that differ from NEE's preferences, potentially impacting the profitability and value of these investments. Furthermore, if a joint venture partner becomes insolvent or bankrupt or is otherwise unable to meet its obligations, NEE may be responsible for meeting certain obligations of the joint ventures as stipulated in its governing documents or applicable law. NEE's reliance on the joint venture partners, who may not always share NEE's business priorities, may have a material adverse effect on NEE's liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

NEE may be unable to meet its ongoing and future financial obligations and to pay dividends on its common stock if its subsidiaries are unable to pay upstream dividends or repay funds to NEE.

NEE is a holding company and, as such, has no material operations of its own. Substantially all of NEE's consolidated assets are held by its subsidiaries. NEE's ability to meet its financial obligations, including, but not limited to, its guarantees, and to pay dividends on its common stock is primarily dependent on its subsidiaries' net income and cash flows, which are subject to the risks of their respective businesses, and their ability to pay upstream dividends or to repay funds to NEE.

NEE's subsidiaries are separate legal entities and have no independent obligation to provide NEE with funds for its payment obligations. The subsidiaries have financial obligations, including, but not limited to, payment of debt service, which they must satisfy before they can provide NEE with funds. In addition, in the event of a subsidiary's liquidation or reorganization, NEE's right to participate in a distribution of assets is subject to the prior claims of the subsidiary's creditors.

The dividend-paying ability of some of the subsidiaries is limited by contractual restrictions which are contained in outstanding financing agreements and which may be included in future financing agreements. The future enactment of laws or regulations also may prohibit or restrict the ability of NEE's subsidiaries to pay upstream dividends or to repay funds.

NEE may be unable to meet its ongoing and future financial obligations and to pay dividends on its common stock if NEE is required to perform under guarantees of obligations of its subsidiaries.

NEE guarantees many of the obligations of its consolidated subsidiaries, other than FPL, through guarantee agreements with NEECH. These guarantees may require NEE to provide substantial funds to its subsidiaries or their creditors or counterparties at a time when NEE is in need of liquidity to meet its own financial obligations. Funding such guarantees may materially adversely affect NEE's ability to meet its financial obligations or to pay dividends.

XPLR may not be able to access sources of capital on commercially reasonable terms, which would have a material adverse effect on its ability to consummate future acquisitions and on the value of NEE's limited partner interest in XPLR OpCo.

Through an indirect wholly owned subsidiary, NEE owns a limited partner interest in XPLR OpCo. XPLR's inability to access capital on commercially reasonable terms when acquisitions, other growth opportunities or capital needs arise could have a material adverse effect on XPLR's ability to deliver its cash distributions to its common unitholders in the future, including NEE, and on the value of NEE's limited partnership interest in XPLR OpCo. In addition, XPLR's issuance of additional common units or other securities in connection with acquisitions or the conversion of outstanding securities convertible into XPLR common units could cause significant common unitholder dilution and reduce future cash distributions, if any, to its common unitholders, including NEE.

Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the credit and capital markets may exert downward pressure on the market price of NEE's common stock.

The market price and trading volume of NEE's common stock are subject to fluctuations as a result of, among other factors, general credit and capital market conditions and changes in market sentiment regarding the operations, business and financing strategies of NEE, its subsidiaries and its affiliates. As a result, disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the credit and capital markets may, for example, have a material adverse effect on the market price of NEE's common stock.

Widespread public health crises and epidemics or pandemics may have material adverse impacts on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

NEE and FPL are subject to the impacts of widespread public health crises, epidemics and pandemics, including, but not limited to, impacts on the global, national or local economy, capital and credit markets, NEE's and FPL's workforce, customers and suppliers. There is no assurance that NEE's and FPL's businesses will be able to operate without material adverse impacts depending on the nature of the public health crisis, epidemic or pandemic. The ultimate severity, duration and impact of public health crises, epidemics and pandemics cannot be predicted. Additionally, there is no assurance that vaccines, or other treatments, are or will be widely available or effective, or that the public will be willing to participate, in an effort to contain the spread of disease. Actions taken in response to such crises by federal, state and local government or regulatory agencies may have a material adverse impact on NEE's and FPL's business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations and prospects.

Item 1C. Cybersecurity

Risk Management and Strategy

Cybersecurity risk management is included in NEE's, including FPL's, overall risk management program. NEE, including FPL, operates a cybersecurity program which, among other objectives, seeks to identify potential unauthorized occurrences on or conducted through the electronic information resources owned or used by NEE or FPL (information systems) that may result in adverse effects on the confidentiality, integrity or availability of its information systems or any information residing on those systems (cybersecurity threats) as well as on its operations. The cybersecurity program includes controls to reduce the risk and potential impact of a cybersecurity incident and to align its processes, controls and implemented technologies with industry standard frameworks and regulations. In addition, outside experts assess NEE's, including FPL's, cybersecurity program capabilities, technology environment and security controls to regularly evaluate effectiveness.

NEE, including FPL, operates a cybersecurity operations center and has cyber threat intelligence capability to identify, monitor, detect and respond to cybersecurity threats which is led by a cybersecurity incident response team. NEE, including FPL, uses these resources, and leverages third-party resources, to identify cybersecurity threats and monitor for anomalies that may result in cybersecurity incidents on its systems, and monitors for impacts to its vendors or suppliers. Assessment of incidents includes, but is not limited to, analysis of the urgency and operational or business impact of an incident and the status and effectiveness of incident defenses. NEE, including FPL, invests in personnel and technologies with the objective of limiting the frequency and impact of cybersecurity incidents. Following documented cybersecurity incident response procedures, the cybersecurity incident response team escalates information about cybersecurity incidents depending on circumstances to oversight committees and personnel charged with managing specific aspects of cybersecurity risk, including, among others, the Cybersecurity and Resiliency Committee, the Cybersecurity Governance Executive Committee and NEE's Board of Directors.

NEE, including FPL, conducts periodic desktop exercises and an annual cybersecurity drill with the participation from time to time of local, state and U.S. federal agencies to test its capability of dealing with a simulated cyberattack. NEE, including FPL, also participates in industry forums and various trade groups, as well as in NERC activities, to learn and apply these incident preparedness learnings to its cybersecurity policies and procedures.

NEE, including FPL, uses third parties to periodically assess the extent to which its cybersecurity risk management protocols align with the U.S. Department of Energy's Cybersecurity Capability Maturity Model standard. Certain functions within NEE, including FPL, are required to comply with certain regulatory standards that are designed to protect against cybersecurity incidents, including the NERC Critical Infrastructure Protection standards, as well as the NRC cybersecurity protection standards. Further, NEE, including FPL, has a cybersecurity training program and a mock phishing program to educate and train employees on potential cybersecurity risks and on privacy and data protection. Given geopolitical events, NEE, including FPL, continues to take steps to defend against cybersecurity threats to its critical infrastructure, including communications with personnel to ensure heightened awareness of increased cybersecurity threats worldwide.

The cybersecurity capabilities of third-party vendors providing services to NEE or FPL or accessing NEE's or FPL's systems or data are evaluated as part of the new vendor establishment process. NEE, including FPL, retains the right to audit vendors for cybersecurity of products and services. Where applicable in NEE's or FPL's contracts with third-party vendors accessing its systems or data, standard data security terms and conditions are utilized and minimum amounts of insurance coverage based on the risk of exposure are required.

NEE, including FPL, operates U.S. critical infrastructure. There have been cyberattacks and other physical attacks within the energy industry on energy infrastructure such as substations, gas pipelines and related assets and there may be such attacks in the future. In addition, the advancement of artificial intelligence has given rise to new security risks. Although there have been no cybersecurity incidents or threats with a material impact on NEE's nor FPL's business strategy, results of operations, or financial condition, NEE's or FPL's information technology systems could fail or be breached, and such systems could be inoperable, causing NEE and FPL to be unable to fulfill critical business operations. The disclosures herein should be reviewed with the risk factors included in Item 1A.

Governance

The vice president and chief information officer, the vice president cybersecurity and the executive director cybersecurity are responsible for assessing and managing material risks from cybersecurity threats. They have careers that represent more than 50 years of combined experience related to the management and protection of technologies. These individuals participate in or receive updates from not only the cybersecurity incident response team but also cybersecurity oversight committees, such as the Cybersecurity and Resiliency Committee comprised of various members of management, including the executive vice president and chief risk officer, presidents and chief executive officers of FPL and NEER, the executive vice president, finance and chief financial officer and the executive vice president, chief legal, environmental & federal regulatory affairs officer, and the Cybersecurity Governance Executive Committee comprised of various members of management, including the vice president, internal audit and the executive director, emergency preparedness. These committees are charged with governing cybersecurity, cyber risks and resilience activities as well as the cyber and physical security policies and programs for NEE and its subsidiaries.

NEE's Board of Directors is responsible for the oversight of risks from cybersecurity threats and receives cybersecurity reports from NEE's vice president and chief information officer and its vice president cybersecurity. The cybersecurity reports to the Board of Directors include various information, such as updates on the cybersecurity threat landscape, risk assessments, mitigation plans, including cyber defenses, notable incidents and a summary of the annual cyber drill results. Significant active cybersecurity incidents and threats are communicated to the Board of Directors as they occur.

Item 2. Properties

See Item 1. Business – FPL and Item 1. Business – NEER for a description of principal properties.

Character of Ownership

Substantially all of FPL's properties are subject to the lien of FPL's mortgage, which secures most long-term debt securities issued by FPL. The majority of FPL's real property is held in fee and is free from other encumbrances, subject to minor exceptions which are not of a nature as to substantially impair the usefulness to FPL of such properties. Some of FPL's electric lines are located on parcels of land which are not owned in fee by FPL but are covered by necessary consents of governmental authorities or rights obtained from owners of private property. Subsidiaries within the NEER segment have ownership interests in entities that own generation facilities, pipeline facilities and transmission assets and a number of those facilities and assets are encumbered by liens securing various financings. Additionally, the majority of NEER's generation facilities, pipeline facilities and transmission lines are located on land under easement, rights-of-way or leased from owners of private property or governmental entities. See Note 7 – FPL and – NEER.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

See Note 15 – Legal Proceedings.

With regard to environmental proceedings to which a governmental authority is a party, NEE's and FPL's policy is to disclose any such proceeding if it is reasonably expected to result in monetary sanctions of greater than or equal to $1 million.

Item 5. Market for Registrants' Common Equity, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

Common Stock Data. All of FPL's common stock is owned by NEE. NEE's common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "NEE." As of January 31, 2025, there were 13,160 holders of record of NEE's common stock. The amount and timing of dividends payable on NEE's common stock are within the sole discretion of NEE's Board of Directors. The Board of Directors reviews the dividend rate at least annually (generally in February) to determine its appropriateness in light of NEE's financial position and results of operations, legislative and regulatory developments affecting the electric utility industry in general and FPL in particular, competitive conditions, change in business mix and any other factors the Board of Directors deems relevant. In February 2025, NEE announced that it would increase its quarterly dividend on its common stock from $0.515 per share to $0.5665 per share.

Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities. Information regarding purchases made by NEE of its common stock during the three months ended December 31, 2024 is as follows:

Period	Total Number of Shares Purchased[(a)]	Average Price Paid Per Share	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of a Publicly Announced Program	Maximum Number of Shares that May Yet be Purchased Under the Program[(b)]
10/1/24 – 10/31/24	—	$ —	—	180,000,000
11/1/24 – 11/30/24	4,053	$ 76.35	—	180,000,000

(a) Includes shares of common stock withheld from employees to pay certain withholding taxes upon the vesting of stock awards granted to such employees under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan.

(b) In May 2017, NEE's Board of Directors authorized repurchases of up to 45 million shares of common stock (180 million shares after giving effect to the four-for-one stock split of NEE common stock effective October 26, 2020) over an unspecified period.

Item 6. Reserved

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

OVERVIEW

NEE's operating performance is driven primarily by the operations of its two principal businesses, FPL, which serves more than six million customer accounts in Florida and is one of the largest electric utilities in the U.S., and NEER, which together with affiliated entities is the world's largest generator of renewable energy from the wind and sun based on 2024 MWh produced on a net generation basis, as well as a world leader in battery storage capacity. The table below presents net income (loss) attributable to NEE and earnings (loss) per share attributable to NEE, assuming dilution, by reportable segment, FPL and NEER. Corporate and Other is primarily comprised of the operating results of other business activities, as well as other income and expense items, including interest expense, and eliminating entries, and may include the net effect of rounding. See Note 16 for additional segment information. The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements contained herein and all comparisons are with the corresponding items in the prior year.

	Net Income (Loss) Attributable to NEE			Earnings (Loss) Per Share Attributable to NEE, Assuming Dilution
	Years Ended December 31,			Years Ended December 31,

NEE	$ 6,946	$ 7,310	$ 4,147	$ 3.37	$ 3.60	$ 2.10

(a) NEER's results reflect an allocation of interest expense from NEECH to NextEra Energy Resources based on a deemed capital structure of 70% debt and differential membership interests sold by NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries.

For the five years ended December 31, 2024, NEE delivered a total shareholder return of approximately 33.2%, compared to the S&P 500's 97.0% return, the S&P 500 Utilities' 37.7% return and the Dow Jones U.S. Electricity's 40.0% return. The historical stock performance of NEE's common stock shown in the performance graph below is not necessarily indicative of future stock price performance.

Adjusted Earnings

NEE prepares its financial statements under GAAP. However, management also uses earnings adjusted for certain items (adjusted earnings), a non-GAAP financial measure, internally for financial planning, analysis of performance, reporting of results to the Board of Directors and as an input in determining performance-based compensation under NEE's employee incentive compensation plans. NEE also uses adjusted earnings when communicating its financial results and earnings outlook to analysts and investors. NEE's management believes that adjusted earnings provide a more meaningful representation of NEE's fundamental earnings power. Although these amounts are properly reflected in the determination of net income under GAAP, management believes that the amount and/or nature of such items make period to period comparisons of operations difficult and potentially confusing. Adjusted earnings do not represent a substitute for net income, as prepared under GAAP.

Net gains (losses) associated with non-qualifying hedge activity[(a)]	$ 666	$ 1,497	$ (696)
Differential membership interests-related – NEER	$ (5)	$ (49)	$ (87)
XPLR investment gains, net – NEER[(b)]	$ (852)	$ (963)	$ 186
Gain on disposal of a business[(c)]	$ —	$ 306	$ —
Change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds and OTTI, net – NEER	$ 74	$ 116	$ (324)
Impairment charges related to investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline – NEER[(d)]	$ —	$ (38)	$ (674)

(a) For 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately $36 million of losses, $1,729 million of gains and $1,257 million of losses, respectively, are included in NEER's net income; the balance is included in Corporate and Other. The change in non-qualifying hedge activity is primarily attributable to changes in forward power and natural gas prices, interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates, as well as the reversal of previously recognized unrealized mark-to-market gains or losses as the underlying transactions were realized.

(b) See Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements for a discussion of impairment charges related to the investment in XPLR in 2024 and 2023.

(c) For 2023, approximately $300 million of gains are included in FPL's net income; the balance is included in NEER. See Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets for a discussion of the sale of FPL's ownership interest in its Florida City Gas business (FCG).

(d) See Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements for a discussion of the impairment charge in 2022 related to the investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline, LLC (Mountain Valley Pipeline).

NEE segregates into two categories unrealized mark-to-market gains and losses and timing impacts related to derivative transactions. The first category, referred to as non-qualifying hedges, represents certain energy derivative, interest rate derivative and foreign currency transactions entered into as economic hedges, which do not meet the requirements for hedge accounting, or for which hedge accounting treatment is not elected or has been discontinued. Changes in the fair value of those transactions are marked to market and reported in the consolidated statements of income, resulting in earnings volatility because the economic offset to certain of the positions are generally not marked to market. As a consequence, NEE's net income reflects only the movement in one part of economically-linked transactions. For example, a gain (loss) in the non-qualifying hedge category for certain energy derivatives is offset by decreases (increases) in the fair value of related physical asset positions in the portfolio or contracts, which are not marked to market under GAAP. For this reason, NEE's management views results expressed excluding the impact of the non-qualifying hedges as a meaningful measure of current period performance. The second category, referred to as trading activities, which is included in adjusted earnings, represents the net unrealized effect of actively traded positions entered into to take advantage of expected market price movements and all other commodity hedging activities. At FPL, substantially all changes in the fair value of energy derivative transactions are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability until the contracts are settled, and, upon settlement, any gains or losses are passed through the fuel clause. See Note 3.

Net income attributable to NEE for 2024 was lower than 2023 by $364 million, or $0.23 per share, assuming dilution, due to lower results at NEER and FPL, partly offset by higher results at Corporate and Other.

FPL's net income decreased by $9 million in 2024 primarily driven by the absence of the gain on sale of FPL's ownership interest in the FCG business in 2023 and a lower earned regulatory ROE in 2024, partly offset by continued investments in plant in service and other property.

NEER's results decreased in 2024 primarily driven by unfavorable non-qualifying hedge activity compared to 2023, partly offset by higher earnings from new investments. In 2024, NEER added approximately 1,365 MW of new wind generating capacity, 2,507 MW of solar generating capacity and 755 MW of battery storage capacity and increased its backlog of contracted renewable development projects.

Corporate and Other's results in 2024 increased primarily due to favorable non-qualifying hedge activity.

NEE and its subsidiaries require funds to support and grow their businesses. These funds are primarily provided by cash flows from operations, borrowings or issuances of short- and long-term debt and, from time to time, issuances of equity securities, proceeds from differential membership investors, and sales of tax credits and ownership interests in assets/businesses. See Liquidity and Capital Resources.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Net income attributable to NEE for 2024 was $6.95 billion compared to $7.31 billion in 2023. In 2024, net income attributable to NEE decreased primarily due to lower results at NEER and FPL, partly offset by higher results at Corporate and Other. The comparison of the results of operations for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 are included in Management's Discussion in NEE's and FPL's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023.

NEE's effective income tax rate for 2024 and 2023 was approximately 6% and 14%, respectively. The rates for both years reflect the impact of renewable energy tax credits. See Note 5.

FPL: Results of Operations

FPL obtains its operating revenues primarily from the sale of electricity to retail customers at rates established by the FPSC through base rates and cost recovery clause mechanisms. FPL's net income for 2024 and 2023 was $4,543 million and $4,552 million, respectively, representing a decrease of $9 million. The decrease was primarily driven by the absence of the gain on sale of FPL's ownership interest in the FCG business in 2023 and a lower earned regulatory ROE in 2024, partly offset by higher earnings from investments in plant in service and other property. Such investments grew FPL's average rate base by approximately $6.1 billion in 2024 and reflect, among other things, solar generation additions and ongoing transmission and distribution additions.

In December 2024, the FPSC approved FPL's request to begin a surcharge to recover eligible storm costs and replenish the storm reserve totaling approximately $1.2 billion for twelve months beginning in January 2025, related to Hurricanes Debby, Helene and Milton which impacted FPL's service area in 2024. During 2024, FPL completed a twelve-month interim storm restoration surcharge that began in April 2023 for eligible storm restoration costs and the replenishment of the storm reserve of approximately $1.3 billion, primarily related to Hurricanes Ian and Nicole which impacted FPL's service area in 2022. See Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery.

The use of reserve amortization is permitted by the 2021 rate agreement. See Item 1. Business – FPL – FPL Regulation – FPL Electric Rate Regulation – Base Rates – Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025 for additional information on the 2021 rate agreement. In order to earn a targeted regulatory ROE, subject to limitations associated with the 2021 rate agreement, reserve amortization is calculated using a trailing thirteen-month average of retail rate base and capital structure in conjunction with the trailing twelve months regulatory retail base net operating income, which primarily includes the retail base portion of base and other revenues, net of O&M, depreciation and amortization, interest and tax expenses. In general, the net impact of these income statement line items must be adjusted, in part, by reserve amortization to earn the targeted regulatory ROE. In certain periods, reserve amortization is reversed so as not to exceed the targeted regulatory ROE. The drivers of FPL's net income not reflected in the reserve amortization calculation typically include wholesale and transmission service revenues and expenses, cost recovery clause revenues and expenses, AFUDC – equity and revenue and costs not recoverable from retail customers. In 2024 and 2023, FPL recorded reserve amortization of approximately $328 million and $227 million, respectively. See Depreciation and Amortization Expense below. FPL's earned regulatory ROE for 2024 and 2023 was approximately 11.40% and 11.80%, respectively.

In March 2024, the FPSC issued a supplemental final order regarding FPL's 2021 rate agreement. An April 2024 appeal of the order filed with the Florida Supreme Court by certain intervenors remains pending. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation.

During 2024, operating revenues decreased $1,346 million primarily related to lower storm cost recovery revenues and lower fuel cost recovery revenues, partly offset by an increase in retail base revenues.

Retail Base

FPL's retail base revenues for 2024 and 2023 reflect the 2021 rate agreement. Retail base revenues increased approximately $272 million during the year ended December 31, 2024 primarily related to an increase of 1.9% in the average number of customer accounts and new retail base rates through its SoBRA mechanism under the 2021 rate agreement. The increases were partly offset by a decrease of approximately 0.5% in the average usage per retail customer primarily driven by unfavorable weather when compared to the prior year. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation.

In December 2024, FPL filed a formal notification with the FPSC indicating its intent to initiate a base rate proceeding. See Item 1. Business – FPL – FPL Regulation – FPL Electric Rate Regulation – Base Rates for additional information on the details of FPL's formal notification.

Cost Recovery Clauses

Revenues from fuel and other cost recovery clauses and pass-through costs, such as franchise fees, revenue taxes and storm-related surcharges, are largely a pass-through of costs. Such revenues also include a return on investment allowed to be recovered through the cost recovery clauses on certain assets, primarily related to certain solar, environmental projects, storm protection plan investments and the unamortized balance of the regulatory asset associated with FPL's acquisition of certain generation facilities. See Item 1. Business – FPL – FPL Regulation – FPL Electric Rate Regulation – Cost Recovery Clauses. Under-recovery or over-recovery of cost recovery clause and other pass-through costs (deferred clause and franchise expenses and revenues) can significantly affect NEE's and FPL's operating cash flows. The change from a net under-recovery of cost recovery clauses at December 31, 2023 to a net over-recovery of cost recovery clauses at December 31, 2024 impacting FPL's operating cash flows was approximately $1,016 million, primarily related to lower fuel prices.

The decrease in operating revenues in 2024 reflects lower storm cost recovery revenues of approximately $1,090 million primarily associated with the completion of surcharges for Hurricanes Ian and Nicole, as discussed above. The decrease in operating revenues in 2024 was also impacted by a decrease in fuel cost recovery revenues of approximately $526 million primarily as a result of lower fuel and energy prices. In 2024 and 2023, cost recovery clauses contributed approximately $417 million and $369 million, respectively, to FPL's net income.

Other Items Impacting FPL's Consolidated Statements of Income

Fuel, Purchase Power and Interchange Expense
Fuel, purchased power and interchange expense decreased $573 million in 2024 primarily related to lower fuel and energy prices.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense
The major components of FPL's depreciation and amortization expense are as follows:

	Years Ended December 31,
	2024	2023
	(millions)
Reserve amortization recorded under the 2021 rate agreement	$ (328)	$ (227)
Other depreciation and amortization recovered under base rates (excluding reserve amortization) and other	2,667	2,468
Depreciation and amortization primarily recovered under cost recovery clauses and storm-recovery cost amortization	488	1,548
Total	$ 2,827	$ 3,789

Depreciation expense decreased $962 million during 2024 primarily reflecting lower amortization of deferred storm costs, primarily associated with Hurricanes Ian and Nicole as discussed above, of approximately $1,089 million and lower reserve amortization, partly offset by increased depreciation related to higher plant in service balances. Reserve amortization, or reversal of such amortization, reflects adjustments to accrued asset removal costs provided under the 2021 rate agreement in order to achieve the targeted regulatory ROE. Reserve amortization is recorded as either an increase or decrease to accrued asset removal costs which is reflected in noncurrent regulatory assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. At December 31, 2024, approximately $895 million of reserve amortization remains available under the 2021 rate agreement.

Gains on Disposal of Businesses/Assets – net
In 2023, gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net primarily relate to the sale of ownership interests in the FCG business. See Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets.

NEER: Results of Operations

NEER owns, develops, constructs, manages and operates electric generation facilities in wholesale energy markets in the U.S. and Canada and also includes assets and investments in other clean energy businesses, such as battery storage and natural gas pipelines. NEER also provides full energy and capacity requirements services, engages in energy-related commodity marketing and trading activities, owns, develops, constructs and operates rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines and invests in natural gas, natural gas liquids and oil production assets. NEER's net income less net loss attributable to noncontrolling interests for 2024 and 2023 was $2,299 million and $3,558 million, respectively, resulting in a decrease in 2024 of $1,259 million. The primary drivers, on an after-tax basis, of the change are in the following table.

	Increase (Decrease) From Prior Period
	(millions)
New investments[a]	$ 983
Existing clean energy[a]	31
Customer supply[b]	(230)

Change in net income less net loss attributable to noncontrolling interests	$ (1,259)

(a) Reflects after-tax project contributions, including the net effect of deferred income taxes and other benefits associated with renewable energy tax credits for wind, solar and storage projects, as applicable (see Note 1 – Income Taxes and – Noncontrolling Interests and Note 5), but excludes allocation of interest expense and corporate general and administrative expenses except for an allocated credit support charge related to guarantees issued to conduct business activities. Results from projects, pipelines and rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines are included in new investments during the first twelve months of operation or ownership. Project results, including repowered wind projects, and pipeline results are included in existing clean energy and rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines are included in NEET beginning with the thirteenth month of operation or ownership.

(b) Excludes allocation of interest expense and corporate general and administrative expenses except for an allocated credit support charge related to guarantees issued to conduct business activities and includes natural gas, natural gas liquids and oil production results.

(c) See Overview – Adjusted Earnings for additional information.

New Investments

Results from new investments in 2024 increased primarily due to higher earnings related to new wind and solar generation and battery storage facilities that entered service during or after 2023.

Other Factors

Supplemental to the primary drivers of the changes in NEER's results discussed above, the discussion below describes changes in certain line items set forth in NEE's consolidated statements of income as they relate to NEER.

Operating Revenues

Operating revenues for 2024 decreased $2,130 million primarily due to:

- the impact of non-qualifying commodity hedges due primarily to changes in energy prices (approximately $66 million of losses during 2024 compared to $2,529 million of gains for 2023),

partly offset by,

- revenues from new investments of $494 million.

Operating Expenses – net

Operating expenses – net for 2024 increased $932 million primarily due to increases of $568 million in depreciation and amortization expenses, $175 million in O&M expenses and $119 million in fuel, purchased power and interchange expenses. The increases were primarily associated with growth across the NEER businesses and higher depletion related to natural gas and oil production.

Gains on Disposal of Businesses/Assets – net

In 2024, the change in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net primarily reflect the September 2024 sales of ownership interests in connection with the pipeline joint venture and the renewable assets joint venture. See Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets.

Equity in Earnings (Losses) of Equity Method Investees

NEER recognized $267 million and $649 million of equity in losses of equity method investees in 2024 and 2023, respectively. The change in 2024 primarily reflects a 2024 impairment charge of approximately $0.8 billion ($0.6 billion after tax) compared to a 2023 impairment charge of $1.2 billion ($0.9 billion after tax) related to the investment in XPLR (see Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements).

Income Taxes
NEER's effective income tax rate for 2024 and 2023 was approximately (165)% and 7%, respectively, and is primarily based on the composition of pretax income in 2024 and 2023 as well as the impact of renewable energy tax credits. PTCs from wind and solar projects and ITCs from solar, battery storage and certain wind projects are included in NEER's earnings. PTCs are recognized as wind and solar energy is generated and sold based on a per kWh rate prescribed in applicable federal and state statutes. During the year ended December 31, 2024, renewable energy tax credits increased by approximately $477 million reflecting growth in NEER's business. See Note 1 – Income Taxes for a discussion of renewable energy tax credits, Note 5 and Note 16.

Corporate and Other: Results of Operations

Corporate and Other is primarily comprised of the operating results of other business activities, as well as corporate interest income and expenses. Corporate and Other allocates a portion of NEECH's corporate interest expense to NextEra Energy Resources. Interest expense is allocated based on a deemed capital structure of 70% debt and differential membership interests sold by NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries.

Corporate and Other's results increased $904 million during 2024 primarily due to favorable after-tax impacts of approximately $934 million, as compared to the prior year, related to non-qualifying hedge activity as a result of changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments used to manage interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate risk associated primarily with outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings (see Note 3).

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

NEE and its subsidiaries require funds to support and grow their businesses. These funds are used for, among other things, working capital (see Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery), capital expenditures (see Note 15 – Commitments), investments in or acquisitions of assets and businesses (see Note 6), payment of maturing debt and related derivative obligations (see Note 13 and Note 3) and, from time to time, redemption or repurchase of outstanding debt or equity securities. It is anticipated that these requirements will be satisfied through a combination of cash flows from operations, short- and long-term borrowings, the issuance of short- and long-term debt (see Note 13) and, from time to time, equity securities, proceeds from differential membership investors, sales of renewable energy tax credits (see Note 1 – Income Taxes) and sales of ownership interests in assets/businesses (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets), consistent with NEE's and FPL's objective of maintaining, on a long-term basis, a capital structure that will support a strong investment grade credit rating. NEE, FPL and NEECH rely on access to credit and capital markets as significant sources of liquidity for capital requirements and other operations that are not satisfied by operating cash flows. The inability of NEE, FPL and NEECH to maintain their current credit ratings could affect their ability to raise short- and long-term capital, their cost of capital and the execution of their respective financing strategies, and could require the posting of additional collateral under certain agreements.

In October 2015, NEE authorized a program to purchase, from time to time, up to $150 million of common units representing limited partner interests in XPLR. Under the program, purchases may be made in amounts, at prices and at such times as NEE or its subsidiaries deem appropriate, all subject to market conditions and other considerations. The purchases may be made in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions. Any purchases will be made in such quantities, at such prices, in such manner and on such terms and conditions as determined by NEE or its subsidiaries in their discretion, based on factors such as market and business conditions, applicable legal requirements and other factors. The common unit purchase program does not require NEE to acquire any specific number of common units and may be modified or terminated by NEE at any time. The purpose of the program is not to cause XPLR's common units to be delisted from the New York Stock Exchange or to cause the common units to be deregistered with the SEC. As of December 31, 2024, the dollar value of units that may yet be purchased by NEE under this program was $114 million. At December 31, 2024, NEE had an approximately 52.6% noncontrolling interest in XPLR, primarily through its limited partner interest in XPLR OpCo.

Cash Flows

NEE's sources and uses of cash for 2024, 2023 and 2022 were as follows:

	Years Ended December 31,
	2024	2023	2022
		(millions)
Sources of cash:
Cash flows from operating activities	$ 13,260	$ 11,301	$ 8,262

For significant financing activity that occurred subsequent to December 31, 2024, see Note 13.

NEE's primary capital requirements are for expanding and enhancing FPL's electric system and generation facilities to continue to provide reliable service to meet customer electricity demands and for funding NEER's investments in independent power and other projects. See Note 15 – Commitments for estimated capital expenditures in 2025 through 2029.

The following table provides a summary of capital investments for 2024, 2023 and 2022.

Liquidity

At December 31, 2024, NEE's total net available liquidity was approximately $18.0 billion. The table below provides the components of FPL's and NEECH's net available liquidity at December 31, 2024.

				Maturity Date

(a) Provide for the funding of loans up to the amount of the credit facility and the issuance of letters of credit up to $3,200 million ($450 million for FPL and $2,750 million for NEECH). The entire amount of the credit facilities is available for general corporate purposes and to provide additional liquidity in the event of a loss to the companies' or their subsidiaries' operating facilities (including, in the case of FPL, a transmission and distribution property loss). FPL's syndicated revolving credit facilities are also available to support the purchase of $1,663 million of pollution control, solid waste disposal and industrial development revenue bonds in the event they are tendered by individual bondholders and not remarketed prior to maturity as well as the repayment of approximately $1,979 million of floating rate notes in the event an individual noteholder requires repayment at specified dates prior to maturity. As of December 31, 2024, approximately $575 million of FPL's and $5,422 million of NEECH's syndicated revolving credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.

(b) Only available for the funding of loans. As of December 31, 2024, approximately $925 million of FPL's and $2,600 million of NEECH's bilateral revolving credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.

(c) Only available for the issuance of letters of credit. As of December 31, 2024, approximately $1,180 million of the letter of credit facilities expire over the next 12 months.

Approximately 74 banks, located globally, participate in FPL's and NEECH's revolving credit facilities, with no one bank providing more than 5% of the combined revolving credit facilities. Pursuant to a 1998 guarantee agreement, NEE guarantees the payment of NEECH's debt obligations under its revolving credit facilities. In order for FPL or NEECH to borrow or to have letters of credit issued under the terms of their respective revolving credit facilities and, also for NEECH, its letter of credit facilities, FPL, in the case of FPL, and NEE, in the case of NEECH, are required, among other things, to maintain a ratio of funded debt to total capitalization that does not exceed a stated ratio. The FPL and NEECH revolving credit facilities also contain default and related acceleration provisions relating to, among other things, failure of FPL and NEE, as the case may be, to maintain the respective ratio of funded debt to total capitalization at or below the specified ratio. At December 31, 2024, each of NEE and FPL was in compliance with its required ratio.

Capital Support

Guarantees, Letters of Credit, Surety Bonds and Indemnifications (Guarantee Arrangements)

Certain subsidiaries of NEE issue guarantees and obtain letters of credit and surety bonds, as well as provide indemnities, to facilitate commercial transactions with third parties and financings. Substantially all of the guarantee arrangements are on behalf of NEE's consolidated subsidiaries, as discussed in more detail below. See Note 8 regarding guarantees of obligations on behalf of XPLR subsidiaries. NEE is not required to recognize liabilities associated with guarantee arrangements issued on behalf of its consolidated subsidiaries unless it becomes probable that they will be required to perform. At December 31, 2024, NEE believes that there is no material exposure related to these guarantee arrangements.

NEE subsidiaries issue guarantees related to equity contribution agreements and engineering, procurement and construction agreements, associated with the development, construction and financing of certain power generation facilities (see Note 1 – Structured Payables) and a natural gas pipeline project, as well as a natural gas transportation agreement. Commitments associated with these activities are included in the contracts table in Note 15.

In addition, at December 31, 2024, NEE subsidiaries had approximately $6.4 billion in guarantees related to obligations under PPAs and acquisition agreements, nuclear-related activities, payment obligations related to PTCs, support for NEER's retail electricity provider activities, as well as other types of contractual obligations (see Note 15 – Commitments).

In some instances, subsidiaries of NEE elect to issue guarantees instead of posting other forms of collateral required under certain financing arrangements, as well as for other project-level cash management activities. At December 31, 2024, these guarantees totaled approximately $1.8 billion and support, among other things, cash management activities, including those related to debt service and operations and maintenance service agreements, as well as other specific project financing requirements.

Subsidiaries of NEE also issue guarantees to support customer supply and proprietary power and gas trading activities, including the buying and selling of wholesale energy commodities. At December 31, 2024, the estimated mark-to-market exposure (the total amount that these subsidiaries of NEE could be required to fund based on energy commodity market prices at December 31, 2024) plus contract settlement net payables, net of collateral posted for obligations under these guarantees totaled approximately $1.6 billion.

At December 31, 2024, subsidiaries of NEE also had approximately $5.6 billion of standby letters of credit and approximately $1.6 billion of surety bonds to support certain of the commercial activities discussed above. FPL's and NEECH's credit facilities are available to support substantially all of the standby letters of credit.

In addition, as part of contract negotiations in the normal course of business, certain subsidiaries of NEE have agreed and in the future may agree to make payments to compensate or indemnify other parties, including those associated with asset divestitures, for possible unfavorable financial consequences resulting from specified events. The specified events may include, but are not limited to, an adverse judgment in a lawsuit, or the imposition of additional taxes due to a change in tax law or interpretations of the tax law. NEE is unable to estimate the maximum potential amount of future payments by its subsidiaries under some of these contracts because events that would obligate them to make payments have not occurred or, if any such event has occurred, they have not been notified of its occurrence.

NEECH, a 100% owned subsidiary of NEE, provides funding for, and holds ownership interests in, NEE's operating subsidiaries other than FPL. NEE has fully and unconditionally guaranteed certain payment obligations of NEECH, including most of its debt and all of its debentures registered pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933 and commercial paper issuances, as well as most of its payment guarantees and indemnifications, and NEECH has guaranteed certain debt and other obligations of subsidiaries within the NEER segment. Certain guarantee arrangements described above contain requirements for NEECH and FPL to maintain a specified credit rating. For a discussion of credit rating downgrade triggers, see Credit Ratings below.

NEE fully and unconditionally guarantees NEECH debentures pursuant to a guarantee agreement, dated as of June 1, 1999 (1999 guarantee) and NEECH junior subordinated debentures pursuant to an indenture, dated as of September 1, 2006 (2006 guarantee). The 1999 guarantee is an unsecured obligation of NEE and ranks equally and ratably with all other unsecured and unsubordinated indebtedness of NEE. The 2006 guarantee is unsecured and subordinate and junior in right of payment to NEE senior indebtedness (as defined therein). No payment on those junior subordinated debentures may be made under the 2006 guarantee until all NEE senior indebtedness has been paid in full in certain circumstances. NEE's and NEECH's ability to meet their financial obligations are primarily dependent on their subsidiaries' net income, cash flows and their ability to pay upstream dividends or to repay funds to NEE and NEECH. The dividend-paying ability of some of the subsidiaries is limited by contractual restrictions which are contained in outstanding financing agreements.

Summarized financial information of NEE and NEECH is as follows:

(a) Excludes intercompany transactions, and investments in, and equity in earnings of, subsidiaries.
(b) Information has been prepared on the same basis of accounting as NEE's consolidated financial statements.

Shelf Registration

In March 2024, NEE, NEECH and FPL filed a shelf registration statement with the SEC for an unspecified amount of securities, which became effective upon filing. The amount of securities issuable by the companies is established from time to time by their respective boards of directors. Securities that may be issued under the registration statement include, depending on the registrant, senior debt securities, subordinated debt securities, junior subordinated debentures, first mortgage bonds, common stock, preferred stock, depositary shares, stock purchase contracts, stock purchase units, warrants and guarantees related to certain of those securities.

Credit Ratings

NEE's liquidity, ability to access credit and capital markets, cost of borrowings and collateral posting requirements under certain agreements is dependent on its and its subsidiaries credit ratings. At February 14, 2025, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (Moody's), S&P Global Ratings (S&P) and Fitch Ratings, Inc. (Fitch) had assigned the following credit ratings to NEE, FPL and NEECH:

	Moody's[a]	S&P[a]	Fitch[a]
NEE:[b]
Corporate credit rating	Baa1	A-	A-
FPL:[b]
Corporate credit rating	A1	A	A
First mortgage bonds	Aa2	A+	AA-
Senior unsecured notes	A1	A	A+
Pollution control, solid waste disposal and industrial development revenue bonds[c]	VMIG-1/P-1	A-1	F1
Commercial paper	P-1	A-1	F1
NEECH:[b]
Corporate credit rating	Baa1	A-	A-
Debentures	Baa1	BBB+	A-
Junior subordinated debentures	Baa2	BBB	BBB
Commercial paper	P-2	A-2	F2

(a) A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and should be evaluated independently of any other rating. The rating is subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization.
(b) The outlook indicated by each of Moody's, S&P and Fitch is stable.
(c) Short-term ratings are presented as all bonds outstanding are currently paying a short-term interest rate. At FPL's election, a portion or all of the bonds may be adjusted to a long-term interest rate.

NEE and its subsidiaries have no credit rating downgrade triggers that would accelerate the maturity dates of outstanding debt. A change in ratings is not an event of default under applicable debt instruments, and while there are conditions to drawing on the credit facilities noted above, the maintenance of a specific minimum credit rating is not a condition to drawing on these credit facilities.

Commitment fees and interest rates on loans under these credit facilities' agreements are tied to credit ratings. A ratings downgrade also could reduce the accessibility and increase the cost of commercial paper and other short-term debt issuances and borrowings and additional or replacement credit facilities. In addition, a ratings downgrade could result in, among other things, the requirement that NEE subsidiaries post collateral under certain agreements and guarantee arrangements, including, but not limited to, those related to fuel procurement, power sales and purchases, nuclear decommissioning funding, debt-related reserves and trading activities. FPL's and NEECH's credit facilities are available to support these potential requirements.

Covenants

NEE's charter does not limit the dividends that may be paid on its common stock. As a practical matter, the ability of NEE to pay dividends on its common stock is dependent upon, among other things, dividends paid to it by its subsidiaries. For example, FPL pays dividends to NEE in a manner consistent with FPL's long-term targeted capital structure. However, the mortgage securing FPL's first mortgage bonds contains provisions which, under certain conditions, restrict the payment of dividends to NEE and the issuance of additional first mortgage bonds. Additionally, in some circumstances, the mortgage restricts the amount of retained earnings that FPL can use to pay cash dividends on its common stock. The restricted amount may change based on factors set out in the mortgage. Other than this restriction on the payment of common stock dividends, the mortgage does not restrict FPL's use of retained earnings. At December 31, 2024, no retained earnings were restricted by these provisions of the mortgage and, in light of FPL's current financial condition and level of earnings, management does not expect that planned financing activities or dividends would be affected by these limitations.

FPL may issue first mortgage bonds under its mortgage subject to its meeting an adjusted net earnings test set forth in the mortgage, which generally requires adjusted net earnings to be at least twice the annual interest requirements on, or at least 10% of the aggregate principal amount of, FPL's first mortgage bonds including those to be issued and all indebtedness of FPL that ranks prior or equal to the first mortgage bonds. At December 31, 2024, coverage for the 12 months ended December 31, 2024 would have been approximately 7.5 times the annual interest requirements and approximately 3.3 times the aggregate principal requirements. New first mortgage bonds are also limited to an amount equal to the sum of 60% of unfunded property additions after adjustments to offset property retirements, the amount of retired first mortgage bonds or qualified lien bonds and the amount of cash on deposit with the mortgage trustee. At December 31, 2024, FPL could have issued in excess of $36 billion of additional first mortgage bonds based on the unfunded property additions and retired first mortgage bonds. At December 31, 2024, no cash was deposited with the mortgage trustee for these purposes.

In September 2006, NEE and NEECH executed a Replacement Capital Covenant (as amended, September 2006 RCC) in connection with NEECH's offering of $350 million principal amount of Series B Enhanced Junior Subordinated Debentures due 2066 (Series B junior subordinated debentures). The September 2006 RCC is for the benefit of persons that buy, hold or sell a specified series of long-term indebtedness (covered debt) of NEECH (other than the Series B junior subordinated debentures) or, in certain cases, of NEE. NEECH's 3.50% Debentures, Series due April 1, 2029 have been designated as the covered debt under the September 2006 RCC. The September 2006 RCC provides that NEECH may redeem, and NEE or NEECH may purchase, any Series B junior subordinated debentures on or before October 1, 2036, only to the extent that the redemption or purchase price does not exceed a specified amount of proceeds from the sale of qualifying securities, subject to certain limitations described in the September 2006 RCC. Qualifying securities are securities that have equity-like characteristics that are the same as, or more equity-like than, the Series B junior subordinated debentures at the time of redemption or purchase, which are sold within 365 days prior to the date of the redemption or repurchase of the Series B junior subordinated debentures.

In June 2007, NEE and NEECH executed a Replacement Capital Covenant (as amended, June 2007 RCC) in connection with NEECH's offering of $400 million principal amount of its Series C Junior Subordinated Debentures due 2067 (Series C junior subordinated debentures). The June 2007 RCC is for the benefit of persons that buy, hold or sell a specified series of covered debt of NEECH (other than the Series C junior subordinated debentures) or, in certain cases, of NEE. NEECH's 3.50% Debentures, Series due April 1, 2029 have been designated as the covered debt under the June 2007 RCC. The June 2007 RCC provides that NEECH may redeem or purchase, or satisfy, discharge or defease (collectively, defease), and NEE and any majority-owned subsidiary of NEE or NEECH may purchase, any Series C junior subordinated debentures on or before June 15, 2037, only to the extent that the principal amount defeased or the applicable redemption or purchase price does not exceed a specified amount raised from the issuance, during the 365 days prior to the date of that redemption, purchase or defeasance, of qualifying securities that have equity-like characteristics that are the same as, or more equity-like than, the applicable characteristics of the Series C junior subordinated debentures at the time of redemption, purchase or defeasance, subject to certain limitations described in the June 2007 RCC.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Critical accounting estimates are those that NEE believes are both most important to the portrayal of its financial condition and results of operations, and require complex, subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make assumptions about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Judgments and uncertainties affecting the critical accounting estimates may result in materially different amounts being reported under different conditions or using different assumptions. NEE's significant accounting policies, including those requiring critical accounting estimates, are described in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements, which were prepared under GAAP. Further details regarding NEE's critical accounting estimates are as follows:

Accounting for Derivatives and Hedging Activities

NEE uses derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options, futures and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity, as well as interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate risk associated primarily with outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings. In addition, NEE, through NEER, uses derivatives to optimize the value of its power generation and natural gas and oil production assets and engages in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to take advantage of expected future favorable price movements.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

Accounting pronouncements require the use of fair value accounting if certain conditions are met, which may require significant judgment to measure the fair value of assets and liabilities. This applies not only to traditional financial derivative instruments, but to any contract having the accounting characteristics of a derivative. As a result, significant judgment must be used in applying derivatives accounting guidance to contracts. In the event changes in interpretation occur, it is possible that contracts that currently are excluded from derivatives accounting rules would have to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value, with changes in the fair value recorded in the statement of income.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

Derivative instruments, when required to be marked to market, are recorded on the balance sheet at fair value using a combination of market and income approaches. Fair values for some of the longer-term contracts where liquid markets are not available are derived through the use of industry-standard valuation techniques, such as internally developed models which estimate the fair value of a contract by calculating the present value of the difference between the contract price and the forward prices. Forward prices represent the price at which a buyer or seller could contract today to purchase or sell a commodity at a future date. The near-term forward market for electricity is generally liquid and therefore the prices in the early years of the forward curves reflect observable market quotes. However, in the later years, the market is much less liquid and forward price curves must be developed using factors including the forward prices for the commodities used as fuel to generate electricity, the expected system heat rate (which measures the efficiency of power plants in converting fuel to electricity) in the region where the purchase or sale takes place, and a fundamental forecast of expected spot prices based on modeled supply and demand in the region. NEE estimates the fair value of interest rate and foreign currency derivatives using an income approach based on a discounted cash flows valuation technique utilizing the net amount of estimated future cash inflows and outflows related to the derivative agreements. The assumptions in these models are critical since any changes therein could have a significant impact on the fair value of the derivative.

At FPL, substantially all changes in the fair value of energy derivative transactions are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability until the contracts are settled, and, upon settlement, any gains or losses are passed through the fuel clause. See Note 3.

In NEE's non-rate regulated operations, predominantly NextEra Energy Resources, essentially all changes in the derivatives' fair value for power purchases and sales, fuel sales and trading activities are recognized on a net basis in operating revenues and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income.

For interest rate and foreign currency derivative instruments, all changes in the derivatives' fair value are recognized in interest expense and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income. NEE estimates the fair value of these derivatives using an income approach based on a discounted cash flows valuation technique utilizing observable inputs.

Certain derivative transactions at NEER are entered into as economic hedges but the transactions do not meet the requirements for hedge accounting, hedge accounting treatment is not elected or hedge accounting has been discontinued. Changes in the fair value of those transactions are marked to market and reported in the consolidated statements of income, resulting in earnings volatility. These changes in fair value are reflected in the non-qualifying hedge category in computing adjusted earnings and could be significant to NEER's results because the economic offset to the positions are not marked to market. As a consequence, NEE's net income reflects only the movement in one part of economically-linked transactions. For example, a gain (loss) in the non-qualifying hedge category for certain energy derivatives is offset by decreases (increases) in the fair value of related physical asset positions in the portfolio or contracts, which are not marked to market under GAAP. For this reason, NEE's management views results expressed excluding the unrealized mark-to-market impact of the non-qualifying hedges as a meaningful measure of current period performance. For additional information regarding derivative instruments, see Note 3, Overview and Energy Marketing and Trading and Market Risk Sensitivity.

Accounting for Pension Benefits

NEE sponsors a qualified noncontributory defined benefit pension plan for substantially all employees of NEE and its subsidiaries. Management believes that, based on actuarial assumptions and the well-funded status of the pension plan, NEE will not be required to make any cash contributions to the qualified pension plan in the near future. The qualified pension plan has a fully funded trust dedicated to providing benefits under the plan. NEE allocates net periodic income associated with the pension plan to its subsidiaries annually using specific criteria.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

For the pension plan, the benefit obligation is the actuarial present value, as of the December 31 measurement date, of all benefits attributed by the pension benefit formula to employee service rendered to that date. The amount of benefit to be paid depends on a number of future events incorporated into the pension benefit formula, including an estimate of the average remaining life of employees/survivors as well as the average years of service rendered. The projected benefit obligation is measured based on assumptions concerning future interest rates and future employee compensation levels. NEE derives pension income from actuarial calculations based on the plan's provisions and various management assumptions including discount rate, rate of increase in compensation levels and expected long-term rate of return on plan assets.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

Accounting guidance requires recognition of the funded status of the pension plan in the balance sheet, with changes in the funded status recognized in other comprehensive income within shareholders' equity in the year in which the changes occur. Since NEE is the plan sponsor, and its subsidiaries do not have separate rights to the plan assets or direct obligations to their employees, this accounting guidance is reflected at NEE and not allocated to the subsidiaries. The portion of previously unrecognized actuarial gains and losses and prior service costs or credits that are estimated to be allocable to FPL as net periodic (income) cost in future periods and that otherwise would be recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income are classified as regulatory assets and liabilities at NEE in accordance with regulatory treatment.

Net periodic pension income is calculated using a number of actuarial assumptions. Those assumptions for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 include:

Discount rate	4.88 %	5.05 %	2.87 %
Salary increase	4.90 %	4.90 %	4.90 %
Expected long-term rate of return, net of investment management fees	8.00 %	8.00 %	7.35 %
Weighted-average interest crediting rate	3.89 %	3.82 %	3.79 %

In developing these assumptions, NEE evaluated input, including other qualitative and quantitative factors, from its actuaries and consultants, as well as information available in the marketplace. Discount rates are established using the full yield curve approach. In addition, for the expected long-term rate of return on pension plan assets, NEE considered different models, capital market return assumptions and historical returns for a portfolio with an equity/bond asset mix similar to its pension fund, as well as its pension fund's historical compounded returns. NEE will continue to evaluate all of its actuarial assumptions, including its expected rate of return, at least annually, and will adjust them as appropriate.

NEE utilizes in its determination of pension income a market-related valuation of plan assets. This market-related valuation reduces year-to-year volatility and recognizes investment gains or losses over a five-year period following the year in which they occur. Investment gains or losses for this purpose are the difference between the expected return calculated using the market-related value of plan assets and the actual return realized on those plan assets. Since the market-related value of plan assets recognizes gains or losses over a five-year period, the future value of plan assets will be affected as previously deferred gains or losses are recognized. Such gains and losses together with other differences between actual results and the estimates used in the actuarial valuations are deferred and recognized in determining pension income only to the extent they exceed 10% of the greater of projected benefit obligations or the market-related value of plan assets.

The following table illustrates the effect on net periodic pension income of changing the critical actuarial assumptions discussed above, while holding all other assumptions constant:

		Increase (Decrease) in 2024 Net Periodic Pension Income
	Change in Assumption	NEE	FPL
		(millions)
Expected long-term rate of return	0.5%	$ 26	$ 16
Discount rate	(0.5)%	$ 1	$ 1
Salary increase	0.5%	$ (2)	$ (1)

NEE also utilizes actuarial assumptions about mortality to help estimate obligations of the pension plan. NEE has adopted the latest revised mortality tables and mortality improvement scales released by the Society of Actuaries, which did not have a material impact on the pension plan's obligation.

See Note 12.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

NEE evaluates long-lived assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

The amount of future net cash flows, the timing of the cash flows and the determination of an appropriate interest rate all involve estimates and judgments about future events. In particular, the aggregate amount of cash flows determines whether an impairment exists, and the timing of the cash flows is critical in determining fair value. Because each assessment is based on the facts and circumstances associated with each long-lived asset, the effects of changes in assumptions cannot be generalized.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

An impairment loss is required to be recognized if the carrying value of the asset exceeds the undiscounted future net cash flows associated with that asset. The impairment loss to be recognized is the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived asset exceeds the asset's fair value. In most instances, the fair value is determined by discounting estimated future cash flows using an appropriate interest rate.

Carrying Value of Equity Method Investments

NEE tests its equity method investments for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the fair value of the investment is less than the carrying value.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

Indicators of impairment may include, but are not limited to, a series of operating losses of an investee, the absence of an ability to recover the carrying amount of the investment, the inability of the investee to sustain an earnings capacity and a current fair value of an investment that may be less than its carrying value. If indicators of impairment exist, an estimate of the investment's fair value will be calculated. Approaches for estimating fair value include, among others, an income approach using a probability-weighted discounted cash flows model, a market approach using an earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) multiple model, and a market observable transaction. The probability assigned to each scenario as well as the cash flows and EBITDA multiple identified are critical in determining fair value.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

An impairment loss is required to be recognized if the impairment is deemed to be other than temporary. Assessment of whether an investment is other than temporarily impaired involves, among other factors, consideration of the length of time that the fair value is below the carrying value, current expected performance relative to the expected performance when the investment was initially made, performance relative to peers, industry performance relative to the economy, credit rating, regulatory actions and legal and permitting challenges. If management is unable to reasonably assert that an impairment is temporary or believes that there will not be full recovery of the carrying value of its investment, then the impairment is considered to be other than temporary. Investments that are other than temporarily impaired are written down to their estimated fair value and cannot subsequently be written back up for increases in estimated fair value. Impairment losses are recorded in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income. See Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements.

Decommissioning and Dismantlement

NEE accounts for asset retirement obligations and conditional asset retirement obligations (collectively, AROs) under accounting guidance that requires a liability for the fair value of an ARO to be recognized in the period in which it is incurred if it can be reasonably estimated, with the offsetting associated asset retirement costs capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived assets. NEE's AROs relate primarily to decommissioning obligations of FPL's and NEER's nuclear units and to obligations for the dismantlement of certain of NEER's wind and solar facilities.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

The calculation of the future cost of retiring long-lived assets, including nuclear decommissioning and plant dismantlement costs, involves estimating the amount and timing of future expenditures and making judgments concerning whether or not such costs are considered a legal obligation. Estimating the amount and timing of future expenditures includes, among other things, making projections of when assets will be retired and ultimately decommissioned and how costs will escalate with inflation. In addition, NEE also makes interest rate and rate of return projections on its investments in determining recommended funding requirements for nuclear decommissioning costs. Periodically, NEE is required to update these estimates and projections which can affect the annual expense amounts recognized, the liabilities recorded and the annual funding requirements for nuclear decommissioning costs. For example, an increase of 0.25% in the assumed escalation rates for nuclear decommissioning costs would increase NEE's AROs at December 31, 2024 by approximately $208 million.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

FPL – For ratemaking purposes, FPL accrues and funds for nuclear plant decommissioning costs over the expected service life of each unit based on studies that are approved by the FPSC. The most recent studies, filed in 2020, reflect, among other things, the expiration dates of the operating licenses for FPL's nuclear units at the time of the studies. FPL's portion of the future cost of decommissioning its four nuclear units, including spent fuel storage above what is expected to be refunded by the DOE under a spent fuel settlement agreement, is estimated to be approximately $9.6 billion, or $2.5 billion expressed in 2024 dollars. The ultimate costs of decommissioning reflect the applications submitted to the NRC for the extension of St. Lucie Units Nos. 1 and 2 licenses for an additional 20 years, as well as the license renewals for Turkey Point Units No. 3 and 4 approved in 2024.

FPL accrues the cost of dismantling its other generation plants over the expected service life of each unit based on studies filed with the FPSC. Unlike nuclear decommissioning, dismantlement costs are not funded. The most recent studies became effective January 1, 2022. At December 31, 2024, FPL's portion of the ultimate cost to dismantle its other generation units is approximately $2.5 billion, or $1.2 billion expressed in 2024 dollars. The majority of the dismantlement costs are not reported as AROs. FPL accrues for interim removal costs over the life of the related assets based on depreciation studies approved by the FPSC. Any differences between the amount of the ARO and the amount recorded for ratemaking purposes are reported as a regulatory asset or liability in accordance with regulatory accounting.

The components of FPL's decommissioning of nuclear plants, dismantlement of plants and other accrued asset removal costs are as follows:

	Nuclear Decommissioning		Other Generation Plant Dismantlement		Interim Removal Costs and Other		Total
	December 31,		December 31,		December 31,		December 31,

(b) Included in noncurrent regulatory liabilities on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets, except for $1,373 million and $1,021 million which are related to interim removal costs and are included in noncurrent regulatory assets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation.
(c) Included in noncurrent regulatory liabilities on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets, except for $3 million and $14 million which are related to other generation plant dismantlement and are included in noncurrent regulatory assets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation.
(d) Represents total amount accrued for ratemaking purposes.

NEER – NEER records liabilities for the present value of its expected nuclear plant decommissioning and its expected wind and solar facilities dismantlement costs which are determined using various internal and external data and applying a probability percentage to a variety of scenarios regarding the life of the plant and facilities, as well as the timing of decommissioning or dismantlement. The liabilities are being accreted using the interest method through the date decommissioning or dismantlement activities are expected to be complete. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the AROs for decommissioning of NEER's nuclear plants approximated $646 million and $607 million, respectively. NEER's portion of the ultimate cost of decommissioning its nuclear plants, including costs associated with spent fuel storage above what is expected to be refunded by the DOE under a spent fuel settlement agreement, is estimated to be approximately $9.8 billion, or $2.2 billion expressed in 2024 dollars. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the AROs for dismantling certain of NEER's wind facilities approximated $329 million and $296 million, respectively, and for dismantling certain of NEER's solar facilities approximated $315 million and $256 million, respectively.

See Note 1 – Asset Retirement Obligations and – Decommissioning of Nuclear Plants, Dismantlement of Plants and Other Accrued Asset Removal Costs and Note 11.

Regulatory Accounting

Certain of NEE's businesses are subject to rate regulation which results in the recording of regulatory assets and liabilities. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation for details regarding NEE's regulatory assets and liabilities.

Nature of Accounting Estimates

Regulatory assets and liabilities represent probable future revenues that will be recovered from or refunded to customers through the ratemaking process. Regulatory assets and liabilities are included in rate base or otherwise earn (pay) a return on investment during the recovery period.

Assumptions and Accounting Approach

Accounting guidance allows regulators to create assets and impose liabilities that would not be recorded by non-rate regulated entities. If NEE's rate-regulated entities, primarily FPL, were no longer subject to cost-based rate regulation, the existing regulatory assets and liabilities would be written off unless regulators specify an alternative means of recovery or refund. In addition, the regulators, including the FPSC for FPL, have the authority to disallow recovery of costs that they consider excessive or imprudently incurred. Such costs may include, among others, fuel and O&M expenses, the cost of replacing power lost when generation facilities are unavailable, storm restoration costs and costs associated with the construction or acquisition of new facilities. The continued applicability of regulatory accounting is assessed at each reporting period.

ENERGY MARKETING AND TRADING AND MARKET RISK SENSITIVITY

NEE and FPL are exposed to risks associated with adverse changes in commodity prices, interest rates and equity prices. Financial instruments and positions affecting the financial statements of NEE and FPL described below are held primarily for purposes other than trading. Market risk is measured as the potential loss in fair value resulting from hypothetical reasonably possible changes in commodity prices, interest rates or equity prices over the next year. Management has established risk management policies to monitor and manage such market risks, as well as credit risks.

Commodity Price Risk

NEE and FPL use derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options, futures and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity. In addition, NEE, through NEER, uses derivatives to optimize the value of its power generation and natural gas and oil production assets and engages in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to take advantage of expected future favorable price movements. See Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates – Accounting for Derivatives and Hedging Activities and Note 3.

During 2023 and 2024, the changes in the fair value of NEE's consolidated subsidiaries' energy contract derivative instruments were as follows:

		Hedges on Owned Assets

With respect to commodities, NEE's Exposure Management Committee (EMC), which is comprised of certain members of senior management, and NEE's chief executive officer are responsible for the overall approval of market risk management policies and the delegation of approval and authorization levels. The EMC and NEE's chief executive officer receive periodic updates on market positions and related exposures, credit exposures and overall risk management activities.

NEE uses a value-at-risk (VaR) model to measure commodity price market risk in its trading and mark-to-market portfolios. The VaR is the estimated loss of market value based on a one-day holding period at a 95% confidence level using historical simulation methodology. The VaR figures are as follows:

	Trading[a]			Non-Qualifying Hedges and Hedges in FPL Cost Recovery Clauses[b]			Total
	(millions)
December 31, 2023	$ —	$ 4	$ 4	$ 2	$ 114	$ 116	$ 2	$ 113	$ 111
December 31, 2024	$ —	$ 6	$ 6	$ 3	$ 99	$ 98	$ 3	$ 89	$ 88
Average for the year ended December 31, 2024	$ —	$ 4	$ 4	$ 4	$ 100	$ 100	$ 4	$ 100	$ 99

(a) The VaR figures for the trading portfolio include positions that are marked to market. Taking into consideration offsetting unmarked non-derivative positions, such as physical inventory, the trading VaR figures were approximately $6 million and $1 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

(b) Non-qualifying hedges are employed to reduce the market risk exposure to physical assets or contracts which are not marked to market. The VaR figures for the non-qualifying hedges and hedges in FPL cost recovery clauses category do not represent the economic exposure to commodity price movements.

Interest Rate Risk

NEE's and FPL's financial results are exposed to risk resulting from changes in interest rates as a result of their respective outstanding and expected future issuances of debt, investments in special use funds and other investments. NEE and FPL manage their respective interest rate exposure by monitoring current interest rates, entering into interest rate contracts and using a combination of fixed-rate and variable-rate debt. Interest rate contracts are used to mitigate and adjust interest rate exposure when deemed appropriate based upon market conditions or when required by financing agreements.

The following are estimates of the fair value of NEE's and FPL's financial instruments that are exposed to interest rate risk:

	December 31, 2024		December 31, 2023

(a) See Note 3 and Note 4.

The special use funds of NEE and FPL consist of restricted funds set aside to cover the cost of storm damage for FPL and for the decommissioning of NEE's and FPL's nuclear power plants. See Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery. A portion of these funds is invested in fixed income debt securities primarily carried at estimated fair value. At FPL, changes in fair value, including any credit losses, result in a corresponding adjustment to the related regulatory asset or liability accounts based on current regulatory treatment. The changes in fair value for NEE's non-rate regulated operations result in a corresponding adjustment to other comprehensive income, except for credit losses and unrealized losses on available for sale securities intended or required to be sold prior to recovery of the amortized cost basis, which are reported in current period earnings. Because the funds set aside by FPL for storm damage could be needed at any time, the related investments are generally more liquid and, therefore, are less sensitive to changes in interest rates. The nuclear decommissioning funds, in contrast, are generally invested in longer-term securities.

At December 31, 2024, NEE had interest rate contracts with a net notional amount of approximately $35.2 billion to manage exposure to the variability of cash flows primarily associated with expected future and outstanding debt issuances at NEECH and NEER.

Based upon a hypothetical 10% decrease in interest rates, the fair value of NEE's net liabilities would increase by approximately $3,475 million ($1,153 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024.

Equity Price Risk

NEE and FPL are exposed to risk resulting from changes in prices for equity securities. For example, NEE's nuclear decommissioning reserve funds include marketable equity securities carried at their market value of approximately $6,164 million and $5,290 million ($4,219 million and $3,536 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. NEE's and FPL's investment strategy for equity securities in their nuclear decommissioning reserve funds emphasizes marketable securities which are broadly diversified. At December 31, 2024, a hypothetical 10% decrease in the prices quoted on stock exchanges would result in an approximately $577 million ($388 million for FPL) reduction in fair value. For FPL, a corresponding adjustment would be made to the related regulatory asset or liability accounts based on current regulatory treatment, and for NEE's non-rate regulated operations, a corresponding amount would be recorded in change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds – net in NEE's consolidated statements of income.

Credit Risk

NEE and its subsidiaries, including FPL, are also exposed to credit risk through their energy marketing and trading operations. Credit risk is the risk that a financial loss will be incurred if a counterparty to a transaction does not fulfill its financial obligation. NEE manages counterparty credit risk for its subsidiaries with energy marketing and trading operations through established policies, including counterparty credit limits, and in some cases credit enhancements, such as cash prepayments, letters of credit, cash and other collateral and guarantees.

Credit risk is also managed through the use of master netting agreements. NEE's credit department monitors current and forward credit exposure to counterparties and their affiliates, both on an individual and an aggregate basis. For all derivative and contractual transactions, NEE's energy marketing and trading operations, which include FPL's energy marketing and trading division, are exposed to losses in the event of nonperformance by counterparties to these transactions. Some relevant considerations when assessing NEE's energy marketing and trading operations' credit risk exposure include the following:

- Operations are primarily concentrated in the energy industry.
- Trade receivables and other financial instruments are predominately with energy, utility and financial services related companies, as well as municipalities, cooperatives and other trading companies in the U.S.
- Overall credit risk is managed through established credit policies and is overseen by the EMC.
- Prospective and existing customers are reviewed for creditworthiness based upon established standards, with customers not meeting minimum standards providing various credit enhancements or secured payment terms, such as letters of credit or the posting of margin cash collateral.
- Master netting agreements are used to offset cash and noncash gains and losses arising from derivative instruments with the same counterparty. NEE's policy is to have master netting agreements in place with significant counterparties.

Based on NEE's policies and risk exposures related to credit, NEE and FPL do not anticipate a material adverse effect on their financial statements as a result of counterparty nonperformance. At December 31, 2024, NEE's credit risk exposure associated with its energy marketing and trading operations, taking into account collateral and contractual netting rights, totaled approximately $2.6 billion ($64 million for FPL), of which approximately 88% (99% for FPL) was with companies that have investment grade credit ratings. See Note 3.

MANAGEMENT'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

NextEra Energy, Inc.'s (NEE) and Florida Power & Light Company's (FPL) management are responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f). The consolidated financial statements, which in part are based on informed judgments and estimates made by management, have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

To aid in carrying out this responsibility, we, along with all other members of management, maintain a system of internal accounting control which is established after weighing the cost of such controls against the benefits derived. In the opinion of management, the overall system of internal accounting control provides reasonable assurance that the assets of NEE and FPL and their subsidiaries are safeguarded and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and are properly recorded for the preparation of financial statements. In addition, management believes the overall system of internal accounting control provides reasonable assurance that material errors or irregularities would be prevented or detected on a timely basis by employees in the normal course of their duties. Any system of internal accounting control, no matter how well designed, has inherent limitations, including the possibility that controls can be circumvented or overridden and misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, because of changes in conditions, internal control effectiveness may vary over time. Accordingly, even an effective system of internal control will provide only reasonable assurance with respect to financial statement preparation and reporting.

The system of internal accounting control is supported by written policies and guidelines, the selection and training of qualified employees, an organizational structure that provides an appropriate division of responsibility and a program of internal auditing. NEE's written policies include a Code of Business Conduct & Ethics that states management's policy on conflicts of interest and ethical conduct. Compliance with the Code of Business Conduct & Ethics is confirmed annually by key personnel.

The Board of Directors pursues its oversight responsibility for financial reporting and accounting through its Audit Committee. This Committee, which is comprised entirely of independent directors, meets regularly with management, the internal auditors and the independent auditors to make inquiries as to the manner in which the responsibilities of each are being discharged. The independent auditors and the internal audit staff have free access to the Committee without management present to discuss auditing, internal accounting control and financial reporting matters.

Management assessed the effectiveness of NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, using the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission in the Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013). Based on this assessment, management believes that NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2024.

NEE's and FPL's independent registered public accounting firm, Deloitte & Touche LLP, is engaged to express an opinion on NEE's and FPL's consolidated financial statements and an opinion on NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting. Their reports are based on procedures believed by them to provide a reasonable basis to support such opinions. These reports appear on the following pages.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the shareholders and the Board of Directors of NextEra Energy, Inc. and Florida Power & Light Company

Opinion on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

We have audited the internal control over financial reporting of NextEra Energy, Inc. and subsidiaries (NEE) and Florida Power & Light Company and subsidiaries (FPL) as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). In our opinion, NEE and FPL maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by COSO.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2024 of NEE and FPL and our report dated February 14, 2025, expressed unqualified opinions on those financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

NEE's and FPL's management are responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for their assessments of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express opinions on NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to NEE and FPL in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audits included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control over Financial Reporting

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the shareholders and the Board of Directors of NextEra Energy, Inc. and Florida Power & Light Company

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of NextEra Energy, Inc. and subsidiaries (NEE) and the related separate consolidated balance sheets of Florida Power & Light Company and subsidiaries (FPL) as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and NEE's and FPL's related consolidated statements of income and cash flows, NEE's consolidated statements of comprehensive income and equity, and FPL's consolidated statements of common shareholder's equity, for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2024, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of NEE and FPL as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2024, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission and our report dated February 14, 2025, expressed unqualified opinions on NEE's and FPL's internal control over financial reporting.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of NEE's and FPL's management. Our responsibility is to express opinions on NEE's and FPL's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to NEE and FPL in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current-period audit of the financial statements of NEE and FPL that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

NEE – Operating Revenue – Unrealized Losses – Refer to Note 3 to the financial statements

Critical Audit Matter Description

NEE enters into complex energy derivatives and transacts in certain markets that are thinly traded, which may result in subjective estimates of fair value that include unobservable inputs. Changes in the derivatives' fair value for power purchases and sales, fuel sales and trading activities are primarily recognized on a net basis in operating revenues. For the year ended December 31, 2024, unrealized losses associated with Level 3 transactions of $25 million are included in operating revenues in the consolidated statement of income of NEE.

Given management uses complex proprietary models and unobservable inputs to estimate the fair value of Level 3 derivative assets and liabilities, performing audit procedures to evaluate the appropriateness of these models and inputs required a high degree of auditor judgment and an increased extent of effort, including the need to involve our firm specialists who possess significant quantitative and modeling expertise.

How the Critical Audit Matter Was Addressed in the Audit

Our audit procedures related to operating revenue – unrealized losses included the following, among others:

- We tested the effectiveness of controls relating to commodity valuation models, their related Level 3 unobservable inputs, and market data validation.
- We selected a sample of transactions, obtained an understanding of the business rationale of transactions, and read the underlying contractual agreements.
- We used personnel in our firm who specialize in energy transacting to independently value Level 3 transactions. For certain fair value models, we used our firm specialists to directly test the underlying assumptions of the unobservable inputs used by management.
- We evaluated NEE's disclosures related to the proprietary models and unobservable inputs to estimate the fair value of Level 3 derivative assets and liabilities, including the balances recorded and significant assumptions.

FPL – Impact of Rate Regulation on the Financial Statements – Refer to Note 1 to the financial statements

Critical Audit Matter Description

FPL is subject to rate regulation by the Florida Public Service Commission (the "FPSC"), which has jurisdiction with respect to the rates of electric utility companies. Management has determined it meets the requirements under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America to prepare its financial statements applying the specialized rules to account for the effects of cost-based rate regulation. Accounting for the economics of rate regulation impacts multiple financial statement line items and disclosures, such as property, plant, and equipment; regulatory assets and liabilities; operating revenues; fuel expense; operation and maintenance expense; and depreciation expense.

Rates are determined and approved in regulatory proceedings based on an analysis of FPL's costs to provide utility service and a return on, and recovery of, FPL's investment in the assets required to deliver utility service. Accounting guidance for FPL's regulated operations provides that rate-regulated entities report assets and liabilities consistent with the recovery of those incurred costs in rates, if it is probable that such rates will be charged and collected. The FPSC has the authority to disallow recovery of costs that it considers excessive or imprudently incurred. Future FPSC decisions could impact the accounting for regulated operations, including decisions about the amount of recoverable costs and any refunds that may be required. As a result of this cost-based regulation, FPL follows the accounting guidance that allows regulators to create assets and impose liabilities, based on the probability of future cash flows, that would not be recorded by non-rate regulated entities. Regulatory assets and liabilities represent probable future revenues that will be recovered from or refunded to customers through the ratemaking process.

We identified the impact of rate regulation as a critical audit matter due to the requirement to have auditors with deep knowledge of and significant experience with accounting for rate regulation and the rate setting process due to its inherent complexities.

How the Critical Audit Matter Was Addressed in the Audit

Our audit procedures related to the impact of rate regulation included the following, among others:

- We tested the effectiveness of management's controls over the evaluation of the likelihood of (1) the recovery in future rates of costs incurred as property, plant, and equipment and deferred as regulatory assets, and (2) a refund or a future reduction in rates that should be reported as regulatory liabilities. We also tested the effectiveness of management's controls over the initial recognition of amounts as property, plant, and equipment and regulatory assets or liabilities, including storm restoration costs; the depreciation and amortization of such amounts in accordance with FPSC orders; and the monitoring and evaluation of regulatory developments that may affect the likelihood of recovering costs recognized as property, plant and equipment and regulatory assets in future rates or of a refund or future reduction in rates that should be recognized as a regulatory liability.
- We assessed the likelihood of (1) recovery of recorded regulatory assets and (2) obligations requiring future reductions in rates by obtaining, reading, and evaluating relevant regulatory orders issued by the FPSC to FPL, and considering regulatory precedents established by the FPSC. We also evaluated such regulatory orders and other publicly available filings made by FPL and compared them to management's recorded regulatory asset and liability balances for completeness.
- We evaluated FPL's disclosures related to the impacts of rate regulation, including the balances recorded and regulatory developments.

NEXTERA ENERGY, INC. AND FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Years Ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022

1. Summary of Significant Accounting and Reporting Policies

Basis of Presentation – The operations of NextEra Energy, Inc. (NEE) are conducted primarily through Florida Power & Light Company (FPL), a wholly owned subsidiary, and NextEra Energy Resources, LLC (NextEra Energy Resources) and NextEra Energy Transmission, LLC (NEET) (collectively, NEER), wholly owned indirect subsidiaries that are combined for segment reporting purposes.

FPL's principal business is a rate-regulated electric utility which supplies electric service to more than six million customer accounts throughout most of the east and lower west coasts of Florida and eight counties throughout northwest Florida. NEER invests in independent power projects through both controlled and consolidated entities and noncontrolling ownership interests in joint ventures. NEER participates in natural gas, natural gas liquids and oil production primarily through operating and non-operating ownership interests and in pipeline infrastructure through noncontrolling or joint venture interests. NEER also invests in rate-regulated transmission facilities and transmission lines that connect its electric generation facilities to the electric grid through controlled and consolidated entities and a noncontrolling ownership interest.

The consolidated financial statements of NEE and FPL include the accounts of their respective controlled subsidiaries. They also include NEE's and FPL's share of the undivided interest in certain assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Amounts representing NEE's interest in entities it does not control, but over which it exercises significant influence, are included in investment in equity method investees; the earnings/losses of these entities is included in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Certain amounts included in prior years' consolidated financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation. The preparation of financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Operating Revenues – FPL and NEER generate substantially all of NEE's operating revenues, which primarily include revenues from contracts with customers as further discussed in Note 2, as well as, at NEER, derivative and lease transactions. FPL's operating revenues include amounts resulting from base rates, cost recovery clauses (see Rate Regulation below), franchise fees, gross receipts taxes and surcharges related to storms (see Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery below). Franchise fees and gross receipts taxes are imposed on FPL; however, the Florida Public Service Commission (FPSC) allows FPL to include in the amounts charged to customers the amount of the gross receipts tax for all customers and the franchise fee for those customers located in the jurisdiction that imposes the amount. Accordingly, FPL's franchise fees and gross receipts taxes are reported gross in operating revenues and taxes other than income taxes and other in NEE's and FPL's consolidated statements of income and were approximately $1,053 million, $1,139 million and $1,035 million in 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. FPL also collects municipal utility taxes which are reported gross in customer receivables and accounts payable on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. Certain NEER commodity contracts for the purchase and sale of power that meet the definition of a derivative are recorded at fair value with subsequent changes in fair value recognized as revenue. See Energy Trading below and Note 3.

Rate Regulation – FPL, the most significant of NEE's rate-regulated subsidiaries, is subject to rate regulation by the FPSC and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). Its rates are designed to recover the cost of providing service to its customers including a reasonable rate of return on invested capital. As a result of this cost-based regulation, FPL follows the accounting guidance that allows regulators to create assets and impose liabilities that would not be recorded by non-rate regulated entities. Regulatory assets and liabilities represent probable future revenues that will be recovered from or refunded to customers through the ratemaking process.

(a) The majority of these regulatory assets are being amortized over 20 years.
(b) The majority of these regulatory assets are being amortized over a 21-month period that began April 2023.
(c) The majority of these regulatory assets are being amortized over a 12-month period that began in January 2025. See Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery below.
(d) See Electric Plant, Depreciation and Amortization below.

Cost recovery clauses, which are designed to permit full recovery of certain costs and provide a return on certain assets allowed to be recovered through various clauses, include substantially all fuel, purchased power and interchange expense, costs associated with an FPSC-approved transmission and distribution storm protection plan, certain costs associated with the acquisition and retirement of several electric generation facilities, certain construction-related costs for certain of FPL's solar generation facilities, and conservation and certain environmental-related costs. Revenues from cost recovery clauses are recorded when billed; FPL achieves matching of costs and related revenues by deferring the net under-recovery or over-recovery. Any under-recovered costs or over-recovered revenues are collected from or returned to customers in subsequent periods.

If FPL were no longer subject to cost-based rate regulation, the existing regulatory assets and liabilities would be written off unless regulators specify an alternative means of recovery or refund. In addition, the FPSC has the authority to disallow recovery of costs that it considers excessive or imprudently incurred. The continued applicability of regulatory accounting is assessed at each reporting period. Regulatory assets and liabilities are discussed within various subsections below.

Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025 – In December 2021, the FPSC issued a final order approving a stipulation and settlement between FPL and several intervenors in FPL's base rate proceeding (2021 rate agreement).

Key elements of the 2021 rate agreement, which is effective from January 2022 through December 2025, include, among other things, the following:

- New retail base rates and charges were established resulting in the following increases in annualized retail base revenues:
  - $692 million beginning January 1, 2022, and
  - $560 million beginning January 1, 2023.

- In addition, FPL received base rate increases associated with the addition of up to 894 megawatts (MW) annually of new solar generation (through a Solar Base Rate Adjustment (SoBRA) mechanism) in each of 2024 and 2025. FPL's recovery through the SoBRA mechanism was limited to an installed cost cap of $1,250 per kilowatt.
- FPL's authorized regulatory return on common equity (ROE) was 10.60%, with a range of 9.70% to 11.70%. However, in the event the average 30-year U.S. Treasury rate was 2.49% or greater over a consecutive six-month period, FPL was authorized to increase the regulatory ROE to 10.80% with a range of 9.80% to 11.80%. During August 2022, this provision was triggered and effective September 1, 2022, FPL's authorized regulatory ROE and ROE range were increased. If FPL's earned regulatory ROE falls below 9.80%, FPL may seek retail base rate relief. If the earned regulatory ROE rises above 11.80%, any party with standing may seek a review of FPL's retail base rates.
- Subject to certain conditions, FPL may amortize, over the term of the 2021 rate agreement, up to $1.45 billion of depreciation reserve surplus, provided that in any year of the 2021 rate agreement FPL must amortize at least enough reserve amount to maintain its minimum authorized regulatory ROE and also may not amortize any reserve amount that would result in an earned regulatory ROE in excess of its maximum authorized regulatory ROE.
- FPL is authorized to expand SolarTogether®, a voluntary community solar program that gives FPL electric customers an opportunity to participate directly in the expansion of solar energy where participants pay a fixed monthly subscription charge and receive credits on their related monthly customer bill, by constructing an additional 1,788 MW of solar generation from 2022 through 2025, such that the total capacity of SolarTogether® would be 3,278 MW.
- Future storm restoration costs would be recoverable on an interim basis beginning 60 days from the filing of a cost recovery petition, but capped at an amount that produces a surcharge of no more than $4 for every 1,000 kilowatt-hour (kWh) of usage on residential bills during the first 12 months of cost recovery. Any additional costs would be eligible for recovery in subsequent years. If storm restoration costs exceed $800 million in any given calendar year, FPL may request an increase to the $4 surcharge. See Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery below.
- If federal or state permanent corporate income tax changes become effective during the term of the 2021 rate agreement, FPL will prospectively adjust base rates after a review by the FPSC.

In March 2024, the FPSC issued a supplemental final order regarding FPL's 2021 rate agreement. The order affirmed the FPSC's prior approval of the 2021 rate agreement and is intended to further document, as requested by the Florida Supreme Court, how the evidence presented led to and supports the FPSC's decision to approve FPL's 2021 rate agreement. In April 2024, Florida Rising, Inc., Environmental Confederation of Southwest Florida, Inc. and League of United Latin American Citizens of Florida (collectively, the appellants) submitted a notice of appeal to the Florida Supreme Court regarding the FPSC's supplemental final order. The Florida Supreme Court issued an order granting FPL's motion to expedite the schedule. Oral arguments were held in October 2024, and the appeal remains pending.

FPL 2025 Base Rate Proceeding – On December 30, 2024, FPL filed a formal notification with the FPSC indicating its intent to initiate a base rate proceeding by submitting a four-year rate plan that would begin in January 2026 replacing the 2021 rate agreement. The notification states that, based on preliminary estimates, FPL expects to request a general base revenue requirement increase of approximately $1.55 billion effective January 2026 and a subsequent increase of approximately $930 million effective January 2027. The plan is also expected to request authority for a Solar and Battery Base Rate Adjustment mechanism to recover, subject to FPSC review, the revenue requirements associated with building and operating additional solar and battery storage projects in 2028 and 2029. In addition, FPL expects to propose an allowed regulatory ROE midpoint of 11.90% and to incorporate the continued application of FPL's longstanding equity ratio approved in prior base rate cases. FPL expects to file its formal request to initiate a base rate proceeding on or around February 28, 2025.

Electric Plant, Depreciation and Amortization – The cost of additions to units of property of FPL and NEER is added to electric plant in service and other property. In accordance with regulatory accounting, the cost of FPL's and NEER's rate-regulated transmission businesses' units of utility property retired, less estimated net salvage value, is charged to accumulated depreciation. Maintenance and repairs of property as well as replacements and renewals of items determined to be less than units of utility property are charged to other operations and maintenance (O&M) expenses. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, as amended, provided for an option to elect a cash grant (convertible investment tax credits (ITCs)) for certain renewable energy property (renewable property). Convertible ITCs are recorded as a reduction in property, plant and equipment on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets and are amortized as a reduction to depreciation and amortization expense over the estimated life of the related property. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, convertible ITCs, net of amortization, were approximately $607 million ($100 million at FPL) and $633 million ($106 million at FPL).

Depreciation of FPL's electric property is provided on a straight-line basis, primarily over its average remaining useful life. FPL includes in depreciation expense a provision for electric generation plant dismantlement, interim asset removal costs, accretion related to asset retirement obligations (see Decommissioning of Nuclear Plants, Dismantlement of Plants and Other Accrued Asset Removal Costs below) and storm recovery amortization. For substantially all of FPL's property, depreciation studies are performed periodically and filed with the FPSC which result in updated depreciation rates. Reserve amortization is recorded as either an increase or decrease to accrued asset removal costs which is reflected in noncurrent regulatory assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. FPL files a twelve-month forecast with the FPSC each year which contains a regulatory ROE intended to be earned based on the best information FPL has at that time assuming normal weather. This forecast establishes a targeted regulatory ROE. In order to earn the targeted regulatory ROE in each reporting period subject to the conditions of the effective rate agreement, reserve amortization is calculated using a trailing thirteen-month average of retail rate base and capital structure in conjunction with the trailing twelve months regulatory retail base net operating income, which primarily includes the retail base portion of base and other revenues, net of O&M, depreciation and amortization, interest and tax expenses. In general, the net impact of these income statement line items is adjusted, in part, by reserve amortization or its reversal to earn the targeted regulatory ROE. See Rate Regulation – Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025 above.

NEER's electric plant in service and other property less salvage value, if any, are depreciated primarily using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. NEER reviews the estimated useful lives of its fixed assets on an ongoing basis. NEER's natural gas and oil production assets are accounted for under the successful efforts method. Depletion expenses for the acquisition of reserve rights and development costs are recognized using the unit of production method. Depreciation of NEER's rate-regulated transmission assets are provided on a straight-line basis, primarily over their average remaining useful life. NEER includes in depreciation expense a provision for dismantlement, interim asset removal costs and accretion related to asset retirement obligations. For substantially all of NEER's rate-regulated transmission assets, depreciation studies are performed periodically and filed with FERC which result in updated depreciation rates.

Nuclear Fuel – FPL and NEER have several contracts for the supply of uranium and the conversion, enrichment and fabrication of nuclear fuel. See Note 15 – Contracts. FPL's and NEER's nuclear fuel costs are charged to fuel expense on a unit of production method.

Construction Activity – Allowance for funds used during construction (AFUDC) is a noncash item which represents the allowed cost of capital, including an ROE, used to finance construction projects. FPL records the portion of AFUDC attributable to borrowed funds as a reduction of interest expense and the remainder as other income. FPSC rules limit the recording of AFUDC to projects that have an estimated cost in excess of 0.4% of a utility's plant in service balance and require more than one year to complete. FPSC rules allow construction projects below the applicable threshold as a component of rate base.

FPL's construction work in progress includes construction materials, progress payments on major equipment contracts, engineering costs, AFUDC and other costs directly associated with the construction of various projects. Upon completion of the projects, these costs are transferred to electric utility plant in service and other property. Capitalized costs associated with construction activities are charged to O&M expenses when recoverability is no longer probable.

NEER capitalizes project development costs once it is probable that such costs will be realized through the ultimate construction of the related asset or sale of development rights. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEER's capitalized development costs totaled approximately $1.6 billion and $1.5 billion, respectively, which are included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. These costs include land rights and other third-party costs directly associated with the development of a new project. Upon commencement of construction, these costs either are transferred to construction work in progress or remain in other assets, depending upon the nature of the cost. Capitalized development costs are charged to O&M expenses when it is probable that these costs will not be realized.

NEER's construction work in progress includes construction materials, progress payments on major equipment contracts, third-party engineering costs, capitalized interest and other costs directly associated with the construction and development of various projects. Interest expense allocated from NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. (NEECH) to NextEra Energy Resources is based on a deemed capital structure of 70% debt and differential membership interests sold by NextEra Energy Resources' subsidiaries. Upon commencement of project operation, costs associated with construction work in progress are transferred to electric plant in service and other property.

Asset Retirement Obligations – NEE and FPL each account for asset retirement obligations and conditional asset retirement obligations (collectively, AROs) under accounting guidance that requires a liability for the fair value of an ARO to be recognized in the period in which it is incurred if it can be reasonably estimated, with the offsetting associated asset retirement costs capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived assets. NEE's AROs relate primarily to decommissioning obligations of FPL's and NEER's nuclear units and to obligations for the dismantlement of certain of NEER's wind and solar facilities. See Decommissioning of Nuclear Plants, Dismantlement of Plants and Other Accrued Asset Removal Costs below and Note 11.

For NEE's rate-regulated operations, including FPL, the asset retirement cost is allocated to a regulatory liability or regulatory asset using a systematic and rational method over the asset's estimated useful life. Changes in the ARO resulting from the passage of time are recognized as an increase in the carrying amount of the ARO and a decrease in the regulatory liability or regulatory asset. Changes resulting from revisions to the timing or amount of the original estimate of cash flows are recognized as an increase or a decrease in the ARO and asset retirement cost, or regulatory liability when asset retirement cost is depleted.

For NEE's non-rate regulated operations, the asset retirement cost is allocated to expense using a systematic and rational method over the asset's estimated useful life. Changes in the ARO resulting from the passage of time are recognized as an increase in the carrying amount of the liability and as accretion expense, which is included in depreciation and amortization expense in NEE's consolidated statements of income. Changes resulting from revisions to the timing or amount of the original estimate of cash flows are recognized as an increase or a decrease in the ARO and asset retirement cost, or income when asset retirement cost is depleted.

Decommissioning of Nuclear Plants, Dismantlement of Plants and Other Accrued Asset Removal Costs – For ratemaking purposes, FPL accrues for the cost of end of life retirement and disposal of its nuclear and other generation plants over the expected service life of each unit based on nuclear decommissioning and other generation dismantlement studies periodically filed with the FPSC. In addition, FPL accrues for interim removal costs over the life of the related assets based on depreciation studies approved by the FPSC. As approved by the FPSC, FPL previously suspended its annual nuclear decommissioning accrual. Any differences between expense recognized for financial reporting purposes and the amount recovered through rates are reported as a regulatory asset or liability in accordance with regulatory accounting. See Rate Regulation, Electric Plant, Depreciation and Amortization, and Asset Retirement Obligations above and Note 11.

Nuclear decommissioning studies are performed at least every five years and are filed with the FPSC for approval. FPL filed updated nuclear decommissioning studies with the FPSC in December 2020. These studies reflect, among other things, the expiration dates of the operating licenses for FPL's nuclear units at the time of the studies. The 2020 studies provide for the dismantlement of Turkey Point Units Nos. 3 and 4 following the end of plant operation with decommissioning activities commencing in 2052 and 2053, respectively; however, in 2022, the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) amended Turkey Point Units Nos. 3 and 4 license renewals by removing the 20 additional years of operation reflected in the studies. FPL filed a site-specific environmental impact statement with the NRC related to the previously approved 20-year renewal application for both Turkey Point operating licenses. Approval of the additional 20 years occurred in September 2024. The studies filed in 2020 also provide for St. Lucie Unit No. 1 to be mothballed beginning in 2036 with decommissioning activities to be integrated with the dismantlement of St. Lucie Unit No. 2 in 2043. These studies also assume that FPL will be storing spent fuel on site pending removal to a United States (U.S.) government facility. FPL's portion of the ultimate costs of decommissioning its four nuclear units, including costs associated with spent fuel storage above what is expected to be refunded by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) under a spent fuel settlement agreement, is estimated to be approximately $9.6 billion, or $2.5 billion expressed in 2024 dollars. The ultimate costs of decommissioning reflect the applications submitted to the NRC for the extension of St. Lucie Units Nos. 1 and 2 licenses for an additional 20 years.

Restricted funds for the payment of future expenditures to decommission FPL's nuclear units are included in nuclear decommissioning reserve funds, which are included in special use funds on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. Marketable securities held in the decommissioning funds are primarily carried at fair value. See Note 4. Fund earnings, consisting of dividends, interest and realized gains and losses, net of taxes, are reinvested in the funds. Fund earnings, as well as any changes in unrealized gains and losses and estimated credit losses on debt securities, are not recognized in income and are reflected as a corresponding offset in the related regulatory asset or liability accounts. FPL does not currently make contributions to the decommissioning funds, other than the reinvestment of fund earnings. During 2024, 2023 and 2022 fund earnings on decommissioning funds were approximately $238 million, $144 million and $58 million, respectively. The tax effects of amounts not yet recognized for tax purposes are included in deferred income taxes.

Other generation plant dismantlement studies are performed periodically and are submitted to the FPSC for approval. As part of the 2021 rate agreement, the FPSC approved an annual expense of $48 million based on FPL's dismantlement studies which became effective January 1, 2022. At December 31, 2024, FPL's portion of the ultimate cost to dismantle its other generation units is approximately $2.5 billion, or $1.2 billion expressed in 2024 dollars.

NEER's AROs primarily include nuclear decommissioning liabilities for Seabrook Station (Seabrook), Duane Arnold Energy Center (Duane Arnold) and Point Beach Nuclear Power Plant (Point Beach) and dismantlement liabilities for its wind and solar facilities. The liabilities are being accreted using the interest method through the date decommissioning or dismantlement activities are expected to be complete. See Note 11. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEER's ARO was approximately $1.4 billion and $1.3 billion, respectively, and was determined using various internal and external data and applying a probability percentage to a variety of scenarios regarding the life of the plant and timing of decommissioning or dismantlement. NEER's portion of the ultimate cost of decommissioning its nuclear plants, including costs associated with spent fuel storage above what is expected to be refunded by the DOE under a spent fuel settlement agreement, is estimated to be approximately $9.8 billion, or $2.2 billion expressed in 2024 dollars. The ultimate cost to dismantle NEER's wind and solar facilities is estimated to be approximately $3.6 billion.

Seabrook files a comprehensive nuclear decommissioning study with the New Hampshire Nuclear Decommissioning Financing Committee (NDFC) every four years; the most recent study was filed in 2023. Seabrook's decommissioning funding plan is also subject to annual review by the NDFC. Currently, there are no ongoing decommissioning funding requirements for Seabrook, Duane Arnold and Point Beach, however, the NRC, and in the case of Seabrook, the NDFC, has the authority to require additional funding in the future. NEER's portion of Seabrook's, Duane Arnold's and Point Beach's restricted funds for the payment of future expenditures to decommission these plants is included in nuclear decommissioning reserve funds, which are included in special use funds on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. Marketable securities held in the decommissioning funds are primarily carried at fair value. See Note 4. Market adjustments for debt securities result in a corresponding adjustment to other comprehensive income (OCI), except for estimated credit losses and unrealized losses on debt securities intended or required to be sold prior to recovery of the amortized cost basis, which are recognized in other – net in NEE's consolidated statements of income. Market adjustments for equity securities are recorded in change in unrealized gains (losses) on equity securities held in NEER's nuclear decommissioning funds – net in NEE's consolidated statements of income. Fund earnings, consisting of dividends, interest and realized gains and losses are recognized in income and are reinvested in the funds. The tax effects of amounts not yet recognized for tax purposes are included in deferred income taxes.

Major Maintenance Costs – FPL expenses costs associated with planned maintenance for its non-nuclear electric generation plants as incurred. FPL recognizes costs associated with planned major nuclear maintenance in accordance with regulatory treatment. FPL defers nuclear maintenance costs for each nuclear unit's planned outage to a regulatory asset as the costs are incurred. FPL amortizes the costs to O&M expense using the straight-line method over the period from the end of the current outage to the next planned outage where the respective work scope is performed.

NEER uses the deferral method to account for certain planned major maintenance costs. NEER's major maintenance costs for its nuclear generation units, combustion turbines and battery storage are capitalized (included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets) and amortized to O&M expense using the straight-line method over the period from the end of the current outage to the next planned outage where the respective work scope is performed.

Cash Equivalents – Cash equivalents consist of short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of generally three months or less.

Restricted Cash – At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE had approximately $159 million ($101 million for FPL) and $730 million ($15 million for FPL), respectively, of restricted cash, which, at December 31, 2024, was offset by $244 million of cash received on exchange-traded derivative positions resulting in a balance of $(85) million. Restricted cash accounts are included in current other assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets and primarily relate to debt service payments and margin cash collateral requirements (funding) at NEER and bond proceeds held for construction at FPL. In addition, where offsetting positions exist, restricted cash related to margin cash collateral of $279 million is netted against derivative assets at December 31, 2024 and $194 million is netted against derivative assets and $815 million is netted against derivative liabilities at December 31, 2023. See Note 3.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts and Credit Losses – NEE, including FPL, follows the current expected credit loss model to account for credit losses for financial assets measured at amortized cost, which includes customer accounts receivable. FPL maintains an accumulated provision for uncollectible customer accounts receivable that is estimated using a percentage derived from historical revenue and write-off trends, adjusted for current events and forecasts. NEER regularly reviews collectibility of its receivables and establishes a provision for losses estimated as a percentage of accounts receivable based on the historical bad debt write-off trends, adjusted for current events and forecasts. When necessary, NEER uses the specific identification method for all other receivables. NEE's credit department monitors current and forward credit exposure to counterparties and their affiliates using established standards and credit quality indicators such as credit ratings, certain financial ratios and delinquency trends. NEE requires credit enhancements or secured payment terms from customers who do not meet the minimum criteria.

For the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, NEE recorded approximately $52 million, $77 million and $113 million, respectively, of bad debt expense, including credit losses, which are included in O&M expenses in NEE's consolidated statements of income.

Inventory – FPL values materials, supplies and fuel inventory using a weighted-average cost method. NEER's materials, supplies and fuel inventories, which include emissions allowances and renewable energy credits, are carried at the lower of weighted-average cost and net realizable value, unless evidence indicates that the weighted-average cost will be recovered with a normal profit upon sale in the ordinary course of business.

Energy Trading – NEE provides full energy and capacity requirements services primarily to distribution utilities, which include load-following services and various ancillary services, in certain markets and engages in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to optimize the value of electricity and fuel contracts, generation facilities and natural gas and oil production assets, as well as to take advantage of projected favorable commodity price movements. Trading contracts that meet the definition of a derivative are accounted for at fair value and realized gains and losses from all trading contracts, including those where physical delivery is required, are recorded net for all periods presented. See Note 3.

Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery – The storm funds provide coverage toward FPL's storm damage costs. Marketable securities held in the storm funds are carried at fair value. See Note 4. Fund earnings, consisting of dividends, interest and realized gains and losses, net of taxes, are reinvested in the funds. Fund earnings, as well as any changes in unrealized gains and losses, are not recognized in income and are reflected as a corresponding adjustment to the storm reserve. The tax effects of amounts not yet recognized for tax purposes are included in deferred income taxes. The storm funds are included in special use funds and the storm reserves in noncurrent regulatory liabilities or, in the case of a deficit, in regulatory assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets.

In December 2024, the FPSC approved FPL's request to begin a surcharge to recover eligible storm costs and replenish the storm reserve totaling approximately $1.2 billion, related to Hurricanes Debby, Helene and Milton which impacted FPL's service area in 2024. The amount is being collected through an interim surcharge that will apply for a 12-month period that began January 2025 and is subject to refund based on an FPSC prudence review. Recoverable storm costs are recorded as current regulatory assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. The unpaid portion of the storm restoration costs at December 31, 2024, of approximately $557 million, including estimated capital costs, is included in current other liabilities on NEE's and FPL's 2024 consolidated balance sheet.

During 2023, the FPSC approved FPL's request to recover eligible storm costs and replenishment of the storm reserve totaling approximately $1.3 billion primarily related to Hurricanes Ian and Nicole which impacted FPL's service area in 2022. The amount was collected through an interim surcharge for a 12-month period that concluded in March 2024.

Contract Assets – From time to time, NEER enters into agreements to build and sell renewable generation facilities and other assets to third parties. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, contract assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets primarily represent costs for such facilities and assets that are expected to be sold in less than 12 months.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets – NEE evaluates long-lived assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The impairment loss to be recognized is the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived asset exceeds the asset's fair value. In most instances, the fair value is determined by discounting estimated future cash flows using an appropriate interest rate.

Impairment of Equity Method Investments – NEE evaluates its equity method investments for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the fair value of the investment is less than the carrying value and the investment may be other than temporarily impaired (OTTI). An impairment loss is required to be recognized if the impairment is deemed to be other than temporary. Investments that are OTTI are written down to their estimated fair value and cannot subsequently be written back up for increases in estimated fair value. Impairment losses are recorded in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income. See Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets – NEE's goodwill and other intangible assets are as follows:

	Weighted-Average Useful Lives	December 31,
		2024	2023
	(years)	(millions)
Goodwill (by reporting unit):
FPL segment, primarily rate-regulated utilities		$ 2,965	$ 2,965
NEER segment:
Rate-regulated assets, primarily transmission		1,167	1,218
Gas infrastructure[a]		—	487
Clean energy assets		424	315
Customer supply		299	95
Corporate and Other		11	11
Total goodwill		$ 4,866	$ 5,091
Other intangible assets not subject to amortization, primarily land easements		$ 137	$ 136
Other intangible assets subject to amortization:
Purchased power agreements (see Note 6)	17	$ 633	$ 988
Biogas rights agreements (see Note 6)	28	933	531
Other, primarily transportation contracts and customer lists	19	214	187
Total		1,780	1,706
Accumulated amortization		(202)	(150)
Total other intangible assets subject to amortization – net		$ 1,578	$ 1,556

(a) During the fourth quarter of 2024, as a result of selling ownership interests in certain natural gas and oil shale formations and in certain natural gas pipeline facilities (see Disposal of Businesses/Assets below), NEER reassessed and changed its reporting unit structure to no longer report gas infrastructure as a separate reporting unit.

NEE's, including FPL's, goodwill relates to various acquisitions which were accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. Other intangible assets are included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. NEE's other intangible assets subject to amortization are amortized, primarily on a straight-line basis, over their estimated useful lives. Amortization of the other intangible assets was approximately $62 million, $58 million and $18 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, and is expected to be approximately $55 million, $54 million, $50 million, $46 million and $45 million for 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028 and 2029, respectively.

Goodwill and other intangible assets not subject to amortization are assessed for impairment at least annually by applying a fair value-based analysis. Other intangible assets subject to amortization are periodically reviewed when impairment indicators are present to assess recoverability from future operations using undiscounted future cash flows.

Pension Plan – NEE records the service cost component of net periodic benefit income to O&M expense and the non-service cost component to other net periodic benefit income in NEE's consolidated statements of income. NEE allocates net periodic pension income to its subsidiaries based on the pensionable earnings of the subsidiaries' employees. Accounting guidance requires recognition of the funded status of the pension plan in the balance sheet, with changes in the funded status recognized in other comprehensive income within shareholders' equity in the year in which the changes occur. Since NEE is the plan sponsor, and its subsidiaries do not have separate rights to the plan assets or direct obligations to their employees, this accounting guidance is reflected at NEE and not allocated to the subsidiaries. The portion of previously unrecognized actuarial gains and losses and prior service costs or credits that are estimated to be allocable to FPL as net periodic (income) cost in future periods and that otherwise would be recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) (AOCI) are classified as regulatory assets and liabilities at NEE in accordance with regulatory treatment. See Note 12 – Employee Pension Plan and Other Benefits Plans.

Stock-Based Compensation – NEE accounts for stock-based payment transactions based on grant-date fair value. Compensation costs for awards with graded vesting are recognized on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for the entire award. Forfeitures of stock-based awards are recognized as they occur. See Note 14 – Stock-Based Compensation.

Retirement of Long-Term Debt – For NEE's rate-regulated subsidiaries, including FPL, gains and losses that result from differences in reacquisition cost and the net book value of long-term debt which is retired are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability and amortized to interest expense ratably over the remaining life of the original issue, which is consistent with their treatment in the ratemaking process. NEE's non-rate regulated subsidiaries recognize such differences in interest expense at the time of retirement.

Structured Payables – Under NEE's structured payables program, subsidiaries of NEE issue negotiable drafts, backed by NEECH guarantees, to settle invoices with suppliers with payment terms (on average approximately 90 days) that extend the original invoice due date (typically 30 days) and include a service fee. At their discretion, the suppliers may assign the negotiable drafts and the rights under the NEECH guarantees to financial institutions. NEE and its subsidiaries are not party to any contractual agreements between their suppliers and the applicable financial institutions.

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE's outstanding obligations under its structured payables program were approximately $4.0 billion and $4.7 billion, respectively, substantially all of which is included in accounts payable on NEE's consolidated balance sheets.

A rollforward of NEE's structured payables is as follows:

	December 31, 2024
	(millions)
Obligations outstanding at the beginning of the year	$ 4,701
Invoices added to the program	6,363
Invoices paid	(7,076)
Obligations outstanding at the end of the year	$ 3,988

Income Taxes – Deferred income taxes are recognized on all significant temporary differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities, and are presented as noncurrent on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. In connection with the tax sharing agreement between NEE and certain of its subsidiaries, the income tax provision at each applicable subsidiary reflects the use of the "separate return method," except that tax benefits that could not be used on a separate return basis, but are used on the consolidated tax return, are recorded by the applicable subsidiary that generated the tax benefits. Any remaining consolidated income tax benefits or expenses are recorded at the corporate level. Included in other regulatory assets and other regulatory liabilities on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets is the revenue equivalent of the difference in deferred income taxes computed under accounting rules, as compared to regulatory accounting rules. The net regulatory liability totaled $2,916 million ($2,880 million for FPL) and $3,195 million ($3,145 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is being amortized in accordance with the regulatory treatment over the estimated lives of the assets or liabilities for which the deferred tax amount was initially recognized.

Production tax credits (PTCs) are recognized as wind and solar energy is generated and sold based on a per kWh rate prescribed in applicable federal and state statutes and are recorded as a reduction of current income taxes payable, unless limited by tax law in which instance they are recorded as deferred tax assets. NEER recognizes ITCs as a reduction to income tax expense when the related energy property is placed into service. FPL recognizes ITCs as a reduction to income tax expense over the depreciable life of the related energy property. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, FPL's accumulated deferred ITCs were approximately $966 million and $997 million, respectively, and are included in noncurrent regulatory liabilities on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. For taxable years beginning after 2022, renewable energy tax credits generated during the taxable year can be transferred to an unrelated purchaser for cash and are accounted for under Accounting Standards Codification 740 – Income Taxes. Proceeds resulting from the sales of renewable energy tax credits for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 of approximately $1,304 million and $370 million, respectively, are reported in the cash paid (received) for income taxes – net within the supplemental disclosures of cash flow information on NEE's consolidated statements of cash flows.

A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amounts of deferred tax assets when it is more likely than not that such assets will not be realized. NEE recognizes interest income (expense) related to unrecognized tax benefits (liabilities) in interest income and interest expense, respectively, net of the amount deferred at FPL. At FPL, the offset to accrued interest receivable (payable) on income taxes is classified as a regulatory liability (regulatory asset) which will be amortized to income (expense) over a five-year period upon settlement in accordance with regulatory treatment. All tax positions taken by NEE in its income tax returns that are recognized in the financial statements must satisfy a more-likely-than-not threshold. NEE and its subsidiaries file income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and various states, the most significant of which is Florida, and certain foreign jurisdictions. Federal tax liabilities, with the exception of certain refund claims, are effectively settled for all years prior to 2019. State and foreign tax liabilities, which have varied statutes of limitations regarding additional assessments, are generally effectively settled for years prior to 2019. At December 31, 2024, NEE had unrecognized tax benefits of approximately $130 million that, if recognized, could impact the annual effective income tax rate. The amounts of unrecognized tax benefits and related interest accruals may change within the next 12 months; however, NEE and FPL do not expect these changes to have a significant impact on NEE's or FPL's financial statements. See Note 5.

Noncontrolling Interests – Noncontrolling interests represent the portions of net assets in consolidated entities that are not owned by NEE and are reported as a component of equity on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. At December 31, 2024, noncontrolling interests on NEE's consolidated balance sheets primarily reflects the interests related to differential membership interests discussed below, as well as other noncontrolling interests in certain wind and solar generation and transmission facilities sold to non-affiliated parties and XPLR Infrastructure Partners, LP (XPLR) (formerly NextEra Energy Partners, LP).

Certain subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources have sold Class B noncontrolling membership interests in entities that have ownership interests in wind generation, solar generation and battery storage facilities, with generating/storage capacity in operation or under construction totaling approximately 11,258 MW, 4,084 MW and 1,919 MW, respectively, at December 31, 2024, to third-party investors (differential membership interests). The third-party investors are allocated earnings, tax attributes and cash flows in accordance with the respective limited liability company agreements. Those economics are allocated primarily to the third-party investors until they receive a targeted return (the flip date) and thereafter to NEE. NEE has the right to call the third-party interests at specified amounts if and when the flip date occurs. NEE has determined the allocation of economics between the controlling party and third-party investor should not follow the respective ownership percentages for each wind generation, solar generation and battery storage project but rather the hypothetical liquidation of book value (HLBV) method based on the governing provisions in each respective limited liability company agreement. Under the HLBV method, the amounts of income and loss attributable to the noncontrolling interest reflects changes in the amount the owners would hypothetically receive at each balance sheet date under the respective liquidation provisions, assuming the net assets of these entities were liquidated at the recorded amounts, after taking into account any capital transactions, such as contributions and distributions, between the entities and the owners. At the point in time that the third-party investor, in hypothetical liquidation, would achieve its targeted return, NEE attributes the additional hypothetical proceeds to the differential membership interests based on the call price. A loss attributable to noncontrolling interests on NEE's consolidated statements of income represents earnings attributable to NEE.

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, approximately $9,062 million and $8,857 million, respectively, of noncontrolling interests on NEE's consolidated balance sheets relates to differential membership interests. For the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, NEE recorded earnings of approximately $1,329 million, $1,135 million and $987 million, respectively, associated with differential membership interests, which is reflected as net loss attributable to noncontrolling interests on NEE's consolidated statements of income.

Redeemable Noncontrolling Interests – Certain subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold Class B noncontrolling membership interests in entities that have ownership interests in wind generation, as well as solar and solar plus battery storage facilities to third-party investors. As specified in the respective limited liability company agreements, if, subject to certain contingencies, certain events occur, including, among others, those that would delay completion or cancel any of the underlying projects, an investor has the option to require NEER to return all or part of its investment. As these potential redemptions were outside of NEER's control, these balances were classified as redeemable noncontrolling interests on NEE's consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023. During 2024, the contingencies associated with the December 31, 2023 balance were resolved and reclassified to noncontrolling interests. The contingencies associated with the December 31, 2024 balance are expected to be resolved in 2025.

Variable Interest Entities (VIEs) – An entity is considered to be a VIE when its total equity investment at risk is not sufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support, or its equity investors, as a group, lack the characteristics of having a controlling financial interest. A reporting company is required to consolidate a VIE as its primary beneficiary when it has both the power to direct the activities of the VIE that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance, and the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits from the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE. NEE and FPL evaluate whether an entity is a VIE whenever reconsideration events as defined by the accounting guidance occur. See Note 9.

Leases – NEE and FPL determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception. NEE and FPL recognize a right-of-use (ROU) asset and a lease liability for operating and finance leases by recognizing and measuring leases at the commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. For sales-type leases, the book value of the leased asset is removed from the balance sheet and a net investment in sales-type lease is recognized based on fixed payments under the contract and the residual value of the asset being leased. NEE and FPL have elected not to apply the recognition requirements to short-term leases and not to separate nonlease components from associated lease components for all classes of underlying assets except for purchased power agreements. ROU assets are included in noncurrent other assets, lease liabilities are included in current and noncurrent other liabilities and net investments in sales-type leases are included in current and noncurrent other assets on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. Operating lease expense is included in O&M or fuel, purchased power and interchange expenses, interest and amortization expenses associated with finance leases are included in interest expense and depreciation and amortization expense, respectively, and rental income associated with operating leases and interest income associated with sales-type leases are included in operating revenues in NEE's and FPL's consolidated statements of income. See Note 10.

Disposal of Businesses/Assets – In 2023, FPL sold its ownership interests in its Florida City Gas business for cash proceeds of approximately $924 million. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $406 million ($306 million after tax at NEE and $300 million after tax at FPL) was recorded in NEE's and FPL's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2023 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net.

In September 2024, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold 100% ownership interests in certain natural gas and oil shale formations and, as part of a joint venture (pipeline joint venture), sold an ownership interest, representing an approximately 15% economic interest, in three natural gas pipeline facilities located in the southern U.S. for total cash proceeds of approximately $101 million (subject to post-closing adjustments). A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary has operated and continues to operate two of the pipeline facilities included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $120 million ($77 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2024 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net. Total assets of approximately $2,211 million, primarily property, plant and equipment and investment in equity method investees, and total liabilities of approximately $1,833 million, primarily long-term debt, were removed from NEE's balance sheet and an equity method investment of approximately $396 million was recorded as a result of the transaction. NEE's remaining interest, an approximately 85% economic interest, in the pipeline joint venture is a noncontrolling interest based on the governance structure of the joint venture. The fair value of NEE's retained interest was calculated based on significant estimates and assumptions, including Level 3 (unobservable) inputs. Estimates and assumptions include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, discount rates reflecting risk inherent in future cash flows and future market prices.

In September 2024, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold an ownership interest, representing an approximately 65% economic interest, as part of a joint venture (renewable assets joint venture), consisting of a portfolio of five wind generation facilities and three solar generation facilities located in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 1,634 MW, for cash proceeds of approximately $900 million. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facilities included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $103 million ($76 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2024 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net. Total assets of approximately $2,520 million, primarily property, plant and equipment, and total noncontrolling interests of approximately $844 million were removed from NEE's balance sheet and an equity method investment of approximately $831 million was recorded as a result of the transaction. NEE's remaining interest, an approximately 35% economic interest, in the renewable assets joint venture is a noncontrolling interest based on the governance structure of the joint venture. Upon the projects in the renewable assets joint venture obtaining financing in the fourth quarter of 2024, NEE received a distribution of approximately $386 million. The fair value of NEE's retained interest was calculated based on significant estimates and assumptions, including Level 3 (unobservable) inputs. Estimates and assumptions include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, discount rates reflecting risk inherent in future cash flows and future market prices.

In 2023, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold to an XPLR subsidiary their 100% ownership interests in five wind generation facilities and three solar generation facilities located in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 688 MW for cash proceeds of approximately $566 million, plus working capital of $32 million. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facilities included in the sale.

In 2022, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold (i) a 49% controlling ownership interest in three wind generation facilities and one solar plus battery facility located in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 1,437 MW and 65 MW of battery storage capacity, two of which facilities were under construction, and (ii) their 100% ownership interest in three wind generation facilities located in the Midwest region of the U.S. with a total generating capacity of 347 MW to an XPLR subsidiary for cash proceeds of approximately $805 million, plus working capital and other adjustments of $8 million. NEER continued to consolidate one of the projects under construction for accounting purposes through March 2023 and the second project under construction through July 2023. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facilities included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $301 million ($230 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2022 and is included in the gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net. In connection with the two facilities that were under construction, approximately $251 million of cash received was recorded as contract liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance sheet. The contract liabilities related to sale proceeds from XPLR of approximately $150 million and differential membership interests of approximately $101 million. In 2023, the two facilities achieved commercial operations and approximately $251 million of contract liabilities were reversed and the sale of those facilities was recognized for accounting purposes. In addition, NextEra Energy Resources was responsible to pay for all construction costs related to the portfolio. At December 31, 2023, approximately $68 million was included in accounts payable on NEE's consolidated balance sheet and represented amounts owed by NextEra Energy Resources to XPLR to reimburse XPLR for construction costs.

In 2022, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold to an XPLR subsidiary a 67% controlling ownership interest in a battery storage facility in California with storage capacity of 230 MW, for cash proceeds of approximately $191 million, plus working capital and other adjustments of $2 million. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facility included in the sale. In connection with the sale, a gain of approximately $87 million ($66 million after tax) was recorded in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2022 and is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net.

In 2021, subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources sold their 100% ownership interest, comprised of a 50% controlling ownership interest to an XPLR subsidiary and a 50% noncontrolling ownership interest to a third party, in a portfolio of seven wind generation facilities and six solar generation facilities in geographically diverse locations throughout the U.S. representing a total generating capacity of 2,520 MW and 115 MW of battery storage capacity, three of which facilities were under construction. Total cash proceeds for these two separate transactions totaled approximately $1.7 billion. NEER continued to consolidate the three projects under construction for accounting purposes through the first quarter of 2022. A NextEra Energy Resources subsidiary continues to operate the facilities included in the sales. In connection with the three facilities that were under construction, approximately $668 million of cash received was recorded as contract liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance. Upon the three facilities achieving commercial operations and the resolution of contingencies, the contract liabilities were reversed and the sale of those facilities was recognized for accounting purposes. In addition, a gain of approximately $117 million was recorded in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2022 which is included in gains on disposal of businesses/assets – net.

2. Revenue from Contracts with Customers

Revenue is recognized when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods and services. The promised goods or services in the majority of NEE's contracts with customers is, at FPL, for the delivery of electricity based on tariff rates approved by the FPSC and, at NEER, for the delivery of energy commodities and the availability of electric capacity and electric transmission.

FPL and NEER generate substantially all of NEE's operating revenues, which primarily include revenues from contracts with customers, as well as derivative (see Note 3) and lease transactions at NEER. For the vast majority of contracts with customers, NEE believes that the obligation to deliver energy, capacity or transmission is satisfied over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes benefits as NEE performs. In 2024, 2023 and 2022, NEE's revenue from contracts with customers was approximately $23.5 billion ($16.9 billion at FPL), $24.8 billion ($18.2 billion at FPL) and $23.0 billion ($17.2 billion at FPL), respectively. NEE's and FPL's receivables are primarily associated with revenues earned from contracts with customers, as well as derivative and lease transactions at NEER, and consist of both billed and unbilled amounts, which are recorded in customer receivables and other receivables on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. Receivables represent unconditional rights to consideration and reflect the differences in timing of revenue recognition and cash collections. For substantially all of NEE's and FPL's receivables, regardless of the type of revenue transaction from which the receivable originated, customer and counterparty credit risk is managed in the same manner and the terms and conditions of payment are similar.

FPL – FPL's revenues are derived primarily from tariff-based sales that result from providing electricity to retail customers in Florida with no defined contractual term. Electricity sales to retail customers account for approximately 90% of FPL's 2024 operating revenues, the majority of which are to residential customers. FPL's retail customers receive a bill monthly based on the amount of monthly kWh usage with payment due monthly. For these types of sales, FPL recognizes revenue as electricity is delivered and billed to customers, as well as an estimate for electricity delivered and not yet billed. The billed and unbilled amounts represent the value of electricity delivered to the customer. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, FPL's unbilled revenues amounted to approximately $573 million and $633 million, respectively, and are included in customer receivables on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets. Certain contracts with customers contain a fixed price with maturity dates through 2054. As of December 31, 2024, FPL expects to record approximately $590 million of revenues related to the fixed price components of such contracts over the remaining terms of the related contracts. Certain of these contracts also contain a variable price component for energy usage which FPL recognizes as revenue as the energy is delivered based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts.

NEER – NEER's revenue from contracts with customers is derived primarily from the sale of energy commodities, electric capacity and electric transmission. For these types of sales, NEER recognizes revenue as energy commodities are delivered and as electric capacity and electric transmission are made available, consistent with the amounts billed to customers based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts as well as an accrual for amounts earned but not yet billed. The amounts billed and accrued represent the value of energy or transmission delivered and/or the capacity of energy or transmission available to the customer. Revenues yet to be earned under these contracts, which have maturity dates ranging from 2025 to 2055, will vary based on the volume of energy or transmission delivered and/or available. NEER's customers typically receive bills monthly with payment due within 30 days. Certain contracts with customers contain a fixed price which primarily relate to electric capacity sales through 2038 and certain power purchase agreements with maturity dates through 2036. At December 31, 2024, NEER expects to record approximately $800 million of revenues related to the fixed price components of such contracts over the remaining terms of the related contracts as the capacity is provided. The power purchase agreements also contain a variable price component for energy usage which NEER recognizes as revenue as the energy is delivered based on rates stipulated in the respective contracts.

3. Derivative Instruments

NEE and FPL use derivative instruments (primarily swaps, options, futures and forwards) to manage the physical and financial risks inherent in the purchase and sale of fuel and electricity, as well as interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate risk associated primarily with outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings, and to optimize the value of NEER's power generation and natural gas and oil production assets. NEE and FPL do not utilize hedge accounting for their cash flow and fair value hedges.

With respect to commodities related to NEE's competitive energy business, NEER employs risk management procedures to conduct its activities related to optimizing the value of its power generation and natural gas and oil production assets, providing full energy and capacity requirements services primarily to distribution utilities, and engaging in power and fuel marketing and trading activities to take advantage of expected future favorable price movements and changes in the expected volatility of prices in the energy markets. These risk management activities involve the use of derivative instruments executed within prescribed limits to manage the risk associated with fluctuating commodity prices. Transactions in derivative instruments are executed on recognized exchanges or via the over-the-counter markets, depending on the most favorable credit terms and market execution factors. For NEER's power generation and natural gas and oil production assets, derivative instruments are used to hedge all or a portion of the expected output of these assets. These hedges are designed to reduce the effect of adverse changes in the wholesale forward commodity markets associated with NEER's power generation and natural gas and oil production assets. With regard to full energy and capacity requirements services, NEER is required to vary the quantity of energy and related services based on the load demands of the customers served. For this type of transaction, derivative instruments are used to hedge the anticipated electricity quantities required to serve these customers and reduce the effect of unfavorable changes in the forward energy markets. Additionally, NEER takes positions in energy markets based on differences between actual forward market levels and management's view of fundamental market conditions, including supply/demand imbalances, changes in traditional flows of energy, changes in short- and long-term weather patterns and anticipated regulatory and legislative outcomes. NEER uses derivative instruments to realize value from these market dislocations, subject to strict risk management limits around market, operational and credit exposure.

Derivative instruments, when required to be marked to market, are recorded on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets as either an asset or liability measured at fair value. At FPL, substantially all changes in the derivatives' fair value are deferred as a regulatory asset or liability until the contracts are settled, and, upon settlement, any gains or losses are passed through the fuel and purchased power cost recovery clause (fuel clause). For NEE's non-rate regulated operations, predominantly NEER, essentially all changes in the derivatives' fair value for power purchases and sales, fuel sales and trading activities are recognized on a net basis in operating revenues and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income. Settlement gains and losses are included within the line items in the consolidated statements of income to which they relate. Transactions for which physical delivery is deemed not to have occurred are presented on a net basis in the consolidated statements of income. For commodity derivatives, NEE believes that, where offsetting positions exist at the same location for the same time, the transactions are considered to have been netted and therefore physical delivery has been deemed not to have occurred for financial reporting purposes. Settlements related to derivative instruments are substantially all recognized in net cash provided by operating activities in NEE's and FPL's consolidated statements of cash flows.

For interest rate and foreign currency derivative instruments, all changes in the derivatives' fair value, as well as the transaction gain or loss on foreign denominated debt, are recognized in interest expense and the equity method investees' related activity is recognized in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income. At December 31, 2024, NEE's AOCI included immaterial amounts related to discontinued interest rate cash flow hedges with expiration dates through October 2033 and foreign currency cash flow hedges with expiration dates through September 2030.

Fair Value Measurements of Derivative Instruments – The fair value of assets and liabilities are determined using either unadjusted quoted prices in active markets (Level 1) or other pricing inputs that are observable (Level 2) whenever that information is available and using unobservable inputs (Level 3) to estimate fair value only when relevant observable inputs are not available. NEE and FPL use different valuation techniques to measure the fair value of assets and liabilities, relying primarily on the market approach of using prices and other market information for identical and/or similar assets and liabilities for those assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis. NEE's and FPL's assessment of the significance of any particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment and may affect placement within the fair value hierarchy levels. Non-performance risk, including the consideration of a credit valuation adjustment, is also considered in the determination of fair value for all assets and liabilities measured at fair value.

NEE and FPL measure the fair value of commodity contracts using a combination of market and income approaches utilizing prices observed on commodities exchanges and in the non-exchange traded markets, or through the use of industry-standard valuation techniques, such as option modeling or discounted cash flows techniques, incorporating both observable and unobservable valuation inputs. The resulting measurements are the best estimate of fair value as represented by the transfer of the asset or liability through an orderly transaction in the marketplace at the measurement date.

Exchange-traded derivative assets and liabilities are valued using observable settlement prices from the exchanges and are classified as Level 1 or Level 2, depending on whether positions are in active or inactive markets.

NEE, through its subsidiaries, including FPL, also enters into non-exchange traded commodity derivatives. The majority of the valuation inputs are observable using exchange-quoted prices.

NEE, through NEER, also enters into full requirements contracts, which, in most cases, meet the definition of derivatives and are measured at fair value. These contracts typically have one or more inputs that are not observable and are significant to the valuation of the contract. In addition, certain non-exchange traded derivative options at NEE have one or more significant inputs that are not observable, and are valued using industry-standard option models.

In all cases where NEE and FPL use significant unobservable inputs for the valuation of a commodity contract, consideration is given to the assumptions that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. The primary input to the valuation models for commodity contracts is the forward commodity curve for the respective instruments. Other inputs include, but are not limited to, assumptions about market liquidity, volatility, correlation and contract duration as more fully described below in Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Recurring Fair Value Measurements. In instances where the reference markets are deemed to be inactive or do not have transactions for a similar contract, the derivative assets and liabilities may be valued using significant other observable inputs and potentially significant unobservable inputs. In such instances, the valuation for these contracts is established using techniques including extrapolation from or interpolation between actively traded contracts, or estimated basis adjustments from liquid trading points. NEE and FPL regularly evaluate and validate the inputs used to determine fair value by a number of methods, consisting of various market price verification procedures, including the use of pricing services and broker quotes to support the market price of the various commodities. Where there are assumptions and models used to generate inputs for valuing derivative assets and liabilities, the review and verification of the assumptions and models are undertaken by individuals in an independent control function.

NEE uses interest rate contracts and foreign currency contracts to mitigate and adjust interest rate and foreign currency exchange exposure related primarily to certain outstanding and expected future debt issuances and borrowings when deemed appropriate based on market conditions or when required by financing agreements. NEE estimates the fair value of these derivatives using an income approach based on a discounted cash flows valuation technique utilizing the net amount of estimated future cash inflows and outflows related to the agreements.

The tables below present NEE's and FPL's gross derivative positions at December 31, 2024 and 2023, as required by disclosure rules. However, the majority of the underlying contracts are subject to master netting agreements and generally would not be contractually settled on a gross basis. Therefore, the tables below also present the derivative positions on a net basis, which reflect the offsetting of positions of certain transactions within the portfolio, the contractual ability to settle contracts under master netting arrangements and the netting of margin cash collateral, as well as the location of the net derivative position on the consolidated balance sheets.

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE had approximately $47 million ($2 million at FPL) and $78 million ($3 million at FPL), respectively, in margin cash collateral received from counterparties that was not offset against derivative assets in the above presentation. These amounts are included in current other liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. Additionally, at December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE had approximately $58 million (none at FPL) and $73 million (none at FPL), respectively, in margin cash collateral paid to counterparties that was not offset against derivative assets or liabilities in the above presentation. These amounts are included in current other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets.

Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Recurring Fair Value Measurements – The valuation of certain commodity contracts requires the use of significant unobservable inputs. All forward price, implied volatility, implied correlation and interest rate inputs used in the valuation of such contracts are directly based on third-party market data, such as broker quotes and exchange settlements, when that data is available. If third-party market data is not available, then industry standard methodologies are used to develop inputs that maximize the use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. Observable inputs, including some forward prices, implied volatilities and interest rates used for determining fair value are updated daily to reflect the best available market information. Unobservable inputs which are related to observable inputs, such as illiquid portions of forward price or volatility curves, are updated daily as well, using industry standard techniques such as interpolation and extrapolation, combining observable forward inputs supplemented by historical market and other relevant data. Other unobservable inputs, such as implied correlations, block-to-hourly price shaping, customer migration rates from full requirements contracts and some implied volatility curves, are modeled using proprietary models based on historical data and industry standard techniques.

The significant unobservable inputs used in the valuation of NEE's commodity contracts categorized as Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy at December 31, 2024 are as follows:

Transaction Type	Fair Value at December 31, 2024		Valuation Technique(s)	Significant Unobservable Inputs	Range	Weighted-average[a]
	Assets	Liabilities
	(millions)
Forward contracts – power	$ 423	$ 401	Discounted cash flow	Forward price (per MWh[b])	$(3) — $233	$52
Forward contracts – gas	296	46	Discounted cash flow	Forward price (per MMBtu[c])	$1 — $16	$4
Forward contracts – congestion	53	39	Discounted cash flow	Forward price (per MWh[b])	$(49) — $22	$—
Options – power	9	6	Option models	Implied volatilities	78% — 360%	186%
Options – primarily gas	100	102	Option models	Implied correlations	56% — 100%	99%
				Implied volatilities	15% — 150%	52%
Full requirements and unit contingent contracts	209	203	Discounted cash flow	Forward price (per MWh[b])	$20 — $297	$76
				Customer migration rate[d]	—% — 31%	1%
Forward contracts – other	249	155
Total	$ 1,339	$ 952

(a) Unobservable inputs were weighted by volume.
(b) Megawatt-hours
(c) One million British thermal units
(d) Applies only to full requirements contracts.

The sensitivity of NEE's fair value measurements to increases (decreases) in the significant unobservable inputs is as follows:

Significant Unobservable Input	Position	Impact on Fair Value Measurement
Forward price	Purchase power/gas	Increase (decrease)
	Sell power/gas	Decrease (increase)
Implied correlations	Purchase option	Decrease (increase)
	Sell option	Increase (decrease)
Implied volatilities	Purchase option	Increase (decrease)
	Sell option	Decrease (increase)
Customer migration rate	Sell power[a]	Decrease (increase)

(a) Assumes the contract is in a gain position.

(a) For the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, FPL recorded gains of approximately $50 million, $5 million and $211 million, respectively, related to commodity contracts as regulatory liabilities on its consolidated balance sheets.

Notional Volumes of Derivative Instruments – The following table represents net notional volumes associated with derivative instruments that are required to be reported at fair value in NEE's and FPL's consolidated financial statements. The table includes significant volumes of transactions that have minimal exposure to commodity price changes because they are variably priced agreements. These volumes are only an indication of the commodity exposure that is managed through the use of derivatives. They do not represent net physical asset positions or non-derivative positions and the related hedges, nor do they represent NEE's and FPL's net economic exposure, but only the net notional derivative positions that fully or partially hedge the related asset positions. NEE and FPL had derivative commodity contracts for the following net notional volumes:

Commodity Type	NEE	FPL	NEE	FPL
	(millions)
Power	(189) MWh	—	(167) MWh	—
Natural gas	(1,131) MMBtu	503 MMBtu	(1,452) MMBtu	717 MMBtu
Oil	(25) barrels	—	(42) barrels	—

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE had interest rate contracts with a net notional amount of approximately $35.2 billion and $25.6 billion, respectively, and foreign currency contracts with a notional amount of approximately $1.2 billion and $0.5 billion, respectively.

Credit-Risk-Related Contingent Features – Certain derivative instruments contain credit-risk-related contingent features including, among other things, the requirement to maintain an investment grade credit rating from specified credit rating agencies and certain financial ratios, as well as credit-related cross-default and material adverse change triggers. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the aggregate fair value of NEE's derivative instruments with credit-risk-related contingent features that were in a liability position was approximately $3.8 billion ($11 million for FPL) and $4.7 billion ($14 million for FPL), respectively.

If the credit-risk-related contingent features underlying these derivative agreements were triggered, certain subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, could be required to post collateral or settle contracts according to contractual terms which generally allow netting of contracts in offsetting positions. Certain derivative contracts contain multiple types of credit-related triggers. To the extent these contracts contain a credit ratings downgrade trigger, the maximum exposure is included in the following credit ratings collateral posting requirements. If FPL's and NEECH's credit ratings were downgraded to BBB/Baa2 (a three level downgrade for FPL and a one level downgrade for NEECH from the current lowest applicable rating), applicable NEE subsidiaries would be required to post collateral such that the total posted collateral would be approximately $500 million (none at FPL) and $510 million (none at FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. If FPL's and NEECH's credit ratings were downgraded to below investment grade, applicable NEE subsidiaries would be required to post additional collateral such that the total posted collateral would be approximately $2.4 billion ($25 million at FPL) and $2.4 billion ($15 million at FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Some derivative contracts do not contain credit ratings downgrade triggers, but do contain provisions that require certain financial measures be maintained and/or have credit-related cross-default triggers. In the event these provisions were triggered, applicable NEE subsidiaries could be required to post additional collateral of up to approximately $1.4 billion ($70 million at FPL) and $1.7 billion ($50 million at FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Collateral related to derivatives, including amounts posted for margin, current exposures and future performance with exchanges and independent system operators, may be posted in the form of cash or credit support in the normal course of business. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, applicable NEE subsidiaries have posted approximately $19 million (none at FPL) and $691 million (none at FPL), respectively, in cash and $1,334 million (none at FPL) and $1,595 million (none at FPL), respectively, in the form of letters of credit and surety bonds each of which could be applied toward the collateral requirements described above. FPL and NEECH have capacity under their credit facilities generally in excess of the collateral requirements described above that would be available to support, among other things, derivative activities. Under the terms of the credit facilities, maintenance of a specific credit rating is not a condition to drawing on these credit facilities, although there are other conditions to drawing on these credit facilities.

Additionally, some contracts contain certain adequate assurance provisions whereby a counterparty may demand additional collateral based on subjective events and/or conditions. Due to the subjective nature of these provisions, NEE and FPL are unable to determine an exact value for these items and they are not included in any of the quantitative disclosures above.

4. Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements

Non-derivative fair value measurements consist of NEE's and FPL's cash equivalents and restricted cash equivalents, special use funds and other investments. The fair value of these financial assets is determined by using the valuation techniques and inputs as described in Note 3 – Fair Value Measurements of Derivative Instruments as well as below.

Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash Equivalents – NEE and FPL hold investments primarily in money market funds. The fair value of these funds is estimated using a market approach based on current observable market prices.

Special Use Funds and Other Investments – NEE and FPL hold primarily debt and equity securities directly, as well as indirectly through commingled funds. Substantially all directly held equity securities are valued at their quoted market prices. For directly held debt securities, multiple prices and price types are obtained from pricing vendors whenever possible, which enables cross-provider validations. A primary price source is identified based on asset type, class or issue of each security. Commingled funds, which are similar to mutual funds, are maintained by banks or investment companies and hold certain investments in accordance with a stated set of objectives. The fair value of commingled funds is primarily derived from the quoted prices in active markets of the underlying securities. Because the fund shares are offered to a limited group of investors, they are not considered to be traded in an active market.

Fair Value Measurement Alternative – NEE holds investments in equity securities without readily determinable fair values, which are initially recorded at cost, of approximately $665 million and $538 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and are included in noncurrent other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. Adjustments to carrying values are recorded as a result of observable price changes in transactions for identical or similar investments of the same issuer.

Recurring Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements – NEE's and FPL's financial assets and other fair value measurements made on a recurring basis by fair value hierarchy level are as follows:

Contingent Consideration – NEER had approximately $124 million and $126 million of contingent consideration liabilities related to acquisitions included in noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance sheets at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Significant inputs and assumptions used in the fair value measurement of the contingent consideration, some of which are Level 3 and require judgment, include the projected timing and amount of future cash flows, estimated probability of completing future development projects as well as discount rates.

(c) At December 31, 2024 and 2023, substantially all is Level 2 for NEE and FPL.

Special Use Funds and Other Investments Carried at Fair Value – The special use funds noted above and those carried at fair value (see Recurring Non-Derivative Fair Value Measurements above) consist primarily of NEE's nuclear decommissioning fund assets of approximately $9,799 million ($6,874 million for FPL) and $8,697 million ($6,049 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The investments held in the special use funds and other investments consist of equity and available for sale debt securities which are primarily carried at estimated fair value. The amortized cost of debt securities is approximately $3,720 million ($1,780 million for FPL) and $3,329 million ($1,693 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Debt securities included in the nuclear decommissioning funds have a weighted-average maturity at December 31, 2024 of approximately nine years at both NEE and FPL. Other investments primarily consist of debt securities with a weighted-average maturity at December 31, 2024 of approximately eight years. The cost of securities sold is determined using the specific identification method.

Unrealized gains (losses) recognized on equity securities held at December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 are as follows:

(a) Unrealized losses on available for sale debt securities in an unrealized loss position for greater than twelve months at December 31, 2024 and 2023 were not material to NEE or FPL.

Regulations issued by the FERC and the NRC provide general risk management guidelines to protect nuclear decommissioning funds and to allow such funds to earn a reasonable return. The FERC regulations prohibit, among other investments, investments in any securities of NEE or its subsidiaries, affiliates or associates, excluding investments tied to market indices or mutual funds. Similar restrictions applicable to the decommissioning funds for NEER's nuclear plants are included in the NRC operating licenses for those facilities or in NRC regulations applicable to NRC licensees not in cost-of-service environments. With respect to the decommissioning fund for Seabrook, decommissioning fund contributions and withdrawals are also regulated by the NDFC pursuant to New Hampshire law.

The nuclear decommissioning reserve funds are managed by investment managers who must comply with the guidelines of NEE and FPL and the rules of the applicable regulatory authorities. The funds' assets are invested giving consideration to taxes, liquidity, risk, diversification and other prudent investment objectives.

Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements – NEE tests its equity method investments for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the fair value of the investment is less than the carrying value. Indicators of impairment may include, among other things, an observable market price below NEE's carrying value. Investments that are OTTI are written down to their estimated fair value on the reporting date and an impairment loss is recognized.

NextEra Energy Resources owns a noncontrolling interest in XPLR, primarily through its limited partner interest in XPLR Infrastructure Operating Partners, LP (XPLR OpCo), and accounts for this ownership interest as an equity method investment. During the preparation of NEE's December 31, 2024 financial statements, it was determined that NextEra Energy Resources' investment in XPLR was OTTI as a result of a significant decline in trading price of XPLR's common units. The impairment reflected NEE's fair value analysis using the market approach and the observable trading price of XPLR's common units at December 31, 2024 of $17.80. When making the OTTI determination, NEE considered, among other things, the extent to which the publicly traded unit price was less than cost. Based on the fair value analysis, the equity method investment with a carrying amount of approximately $2.6 billion was written down to its estimated fair value of approximately $1.8 billion, resulting in an impairment charge of $0.8 billion ($0.6 billion after tax), which is recorded in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2024. In January 2025, XPLR announced a strategic repositioning, including suspension of the distribution to common unitholders for an indefinite period. This has resulted in the trading price of XPLR's common units to trade below the December 31, 2024 trading price. Should NEE determine, based on future analysis which includes the current and future trading prices of XPLR's common units, that an additional impairment is other-than-temporary, an impairment loss would be recorded, which would impact NEE's consolidated statement of income.

During the preparation of NEE's September 30, 2023 financial statements, it was determined that NextEra Energy Resources' investment in XPLR was OTTI as a result of a significant decline in trading price of XPLR's common units during the final three trading days of the third quarter of 2023 following the announcement of a decrease in XPLR's distribution growth rate expectations. The impairment reflected NEE's fair value analysis using the market approach and the observable trading price of XPLR's common units at September 30, 2023 of $29.70. When making the OTTI determination, NEE considered, among other things, the extent to which the publicly traded unit price was less than cost. Based on the fair value analysis, the equity method investment with a carrying amount of approximately $4.2 billion was written down to its estimated fair value of approximately $3.0 billion, resulting in an impairment charge of $1.2 billion ($0.9 billion after tax), which is recorded in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2023.

During the first quarter of 2022, NextEra Energy Resources recorded an impairment charge of approximately $0.8 billion ($0.6 billion after tax) related to an investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline, LLC (Mountain Valley Pipeline), which is reflected in equity in earnings (losses) of equity method investees in NEE's consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2022. The impairment reflected NextEra Energy Resources' fair value analysis based on the market approach and considered legal and regulatory challenges to the completion of construction and the resulting economic outlook for the pipeline. This impairment charge resulted in the complete write off of NextEra Energy Resources' equity method investment carrying amount as of March 31, 2022 of approximately $0.6 billion, as well as the recording of a liability of approximately $0.2 billion which reflected NextEra Energy Resources' share of estimated future dismantlement costs.

The Mountain Valley Pipeline fair value estimate was based on a probability-weighted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) multiple valuation technique using a market participant view of the potential different outcomes for the investment. As part of the valuation, NextEra Energy Resources used observable inputs where available, including the EBITDA multiples of recent pipeline transactions. Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3), including the probabilities assigned to the different potential outcomes, the forecasts of operating revenues and costs, and the projected capital expenditures to complete the project, were also used in the estimation of fair value. An increase in the revenue forecasts, a decrease in the projected operating or capital expenditures or an increase in the probability assigned to the full pipeline being completed would result in an increased fair market value. Changes in the opposite direction of those unobservable inputs would result in a decreased fair market value.

Net deferred income taxes	$ 11,528	$ 9,916	$ 9,438	$ 8,540

(a) Reflects valuation allowances related to deferred state tax credits and state operating loss carryforwards.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are included on the consolidated balance sheets as follows:

	NEE		FPL
	December 31,		December 31,
	2024	2023	2024	2023
Noncurrent other assets	$ 221	$ 226	$ —	$ 2
Deferred income taxes – noncurrent liabilities	(11,749)	(10,142)	(9,438)	(8,542)
Net deferred income taxes	$ (11,528)	$ (9,916)	$ (9,438)	$ (8,540)

The components of NEE's deferred tax assets relating to net operating loss carryforwards and tax credit carryforwards at December 31, 2024 are as follows:

	Amount	Expiration Dates
	(millions)
Net operating loss carryforwards:
Federal	$ 1	Indefinite
State	214 [a]	2025 – 2044

State	371 [c]	2025 – 2044
Foreign	6	2034 – 2044
Tax credit carryforwards	$ 3,057

(a) Includes $78 million of net operating loss carryforwards with an indefinite expiration period.
(b) Includes $1 million of net operating loss carryforwards with an indefinite expiration period.
(c) Includes $192 million of renewable energy tax credit carryforwards with an indefinite expiration period.

6. Acquisitions

RNG Acquisition – On March 21, 2023, a wholly owned subsidiary of NextEra Energy Resources acquired a portfolio of renewable energy projects from the owners of Energy Power Partners Fund I, L.P. and North American Sustainable Energy Fund, L.P., as well as the related service provider (RNG acquisition). The portfolio primarily consisted of 31 biogas projects, one of which is an operating renewable natural gas facility and the others of which are primarily operating landfill gas-to-electric facilities. The purchase price included approximately $1.1 billion in cash consideration and the assumption of approximately $34 million of debt, excluding post-closing adjustments.

Under the acquisition method, the purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their fair value. NEE acquired identifiable assets of approximately $1.3 billion, primarily relating to property, plant and equipment and intangible assets associated with biogas rights agreements and above-market purchased power agreements, and assumed liabilities of approximately $0.3 billion and noncontrolling interests of approximately $0.1 billion. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed resulted in approximately $0.3 billion of goodwill which has been recognized on NEE's consolidated balance sheets, of which approximately $0.2 billion is expected to be deductible for tax purposes. Goodwill associated with the RNG acquisition is reflected within NEER and, for impairment testing, is included in the clean energy assets reporting unit. The goodwill arising from the transaction represents expected benefits of synergies and expansion opportunities for NEE's clean energy businesses.

7. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment consists of the following at December 31:

	NEE		FPL
	2024	2023	2024	2023
	(millions)
Electric plant in service and other property	$ 151,677	$ 139,049	$ 87,596	$ 79,801
Nuclear fuel	1,676	1,564	1,140	1,125
Construction work in progress	21,658	18,652	7,214	8,311
Property, plant and equipment, gross	175,011	159,265	95,950	89,237
Accumulated depreciation and amortization	(36,159)	(33,489)	(19,784)	(18,629)

FPL – At December 31, 2024, FPL's gross investment in electric plant in service and other property for the electric generation, transmission, distribution and general facilities of FPL represented approximately 43%, 14%, 36% and 7%, respectively; the respective amounts at December 31, 2023 were 43%, 14%, 36% and 7%. Substantially all of FPL's properties are subject to the lien of FPL's mortgage, which secures most debt securities issued by FPL. The weighted annual composite depreciation and amortization rate for FPL's electric plant in service, including capitalized software, but excluding the effects of decommissioning, dismantlement and the depreciation adjustments discussed in the following sentences, was approximately 3.5%, 3.4% and 3.6% for 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. In accordance with the 2021 rate agreement (see Note 1 – Rate Regulation – Base Rates Effective January 2022 through December 2025), FPL recorded reserve amortization in 2024 and 2023 of approximately $328 million and $227 million, respectively. In 2022, FPL recorded a one-time reserve amortization adjustment of approximately $114 million, as required under the 2021 rate agreement, 50% of which was used to reduce the capital recovery regulatory asset balance and the other 50% to increase the storm reserve regulatory liability (see Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery). During 2024, 2023 and 2022, FPL recorded AFUDC of approximately $245 million, $190 million and $136 million, respectively, including the equity component of AFUDC of approximately $189 million, $155 million and $105 million, respectively.

NEER – At December 31, 2024, wind, solar, nuclear and rate-regulated transmission facilities represented approximately 45%, 23%, 6% and 5%, respectively, of NEER's depreciable electric plant in service and other property; the respective amounts at December 31, 2023 were 47%, 18%, 6% and 6%. The estimated useful lives of NEER's plants are primarily 30 to 35 years for wind facilities, 30 to 35 years for solar facilities, 23 to 47 years for nuclear facilities and 40 years for rate-regulated transmission facilities. NEER's natural gas and oil production assets represented approximately 15% and 16% of NEER's depreciable electric plant in service and other property at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. A number of NEER's generation and regulated transmission facilities are encumbered by liens securing various financings. The net book value of NEER's assets serving as collateral was approximately $30.1 billion at December 31, 2024. Interest capitalized on construction projects amounted to approximately $439 million, $310 million and $172 million during 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Jointly-Owned Electric Plants – Certain NEE subsidiaries own undivided interests in the jointly-owned facilities described below, and are entitled to a proportionate share of the output from those facilities. The subsidiaries are responsible for their share of the operating costs, as well as providing their own financing. Accordingly, each subsidiary's proportionate share of the facilities and related revenues and expenses is included in the appropriate balance sheet and statement of income captions. NEE's and FPL's respective shares of direct expenses for these facilities are included in fuel, purchased power and interchange expense, O&M expenses, depreciation and amortization expense and taxes other than income taxes and other – net in NEE's and FPL's consolidated statements of income.

NEE's and FPL's proportionate ownership interest in jointly-owned facilities is as follows:

	December 31, 2024
	Approximate Ownership Interest	Gross Investment[a]	Accumulated Depreciation[a]	Construction Work in Progress
		(millions)
FPL:
St. Lucie Unit No. 2	85 %	$ 2,348	$ 1,004	$ 165
Scherer Unit No. 3	25 %	$ 413	$ 194	$ 1
NEER:
Seabrook	88 %	$ 1,434	$ 556	$ 111
Wyman Station Unit No. 4	91 %	$ 36	$ 15	$ —
Stanton	65 %	$ 143	$ 37	$ 2
Transmission substation assets located in Seabrook, New Hampshire	88 %	$ 168	$ 27	$ 1

(a) Excludes nuclear fuel.

8. Equity Method Investments

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, NEE's equity method investments totaled approximately $6,118 million and $6,156 million, respectively. At December 31, 2024, the principal entities included in investment in equity method investees on NEE's consolidated balance sheet were XPLR, Mountain Valley Pipeline (see Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements), the renewable assets joint venture (Nitro Renewables Holdings, LLC) (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets), Emerald Breeze Holdings, LLC, the pipeline joint venture (SE Pipeline Holdings, LLC) (see Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets) and Silver State South Solar, LLC. Principal entities at December 31, 2023 were XPLR, Mountain Valley Pipeline and Sabal Trail Transmission, LLC (see Note 15 – Contracts). As of December 31, 2024, NEE's interest in the principal entities range from approximately 33.3% to 85.0%, and these entities primarily own electric generation facilities or natural gas pipelines.

Summarized combined information for these principal entities is as follows:

	(millions)
Operating revenue	$ 2,121	$ 1,565
Operating income (loss)	$ (51)	$ 291
Net income[a]	$ 152	$ 839
Total assets	$ 38,929	$ 34,415
Total liabilities	$ 10,641	$ 10,351
Partners'/members' equity[b]	$ 28,288	$ 24,064
NEE's share of underlying equity in the principal entities	$ 6,178	$ 5,168
Difference between investment carrying amount and underlying equity in net assets[c]	(1,677)	(1,205)
NEE's investment carrying amount for the principal entities	$ 4,501	$ 3,963

(a) In 2023, includes approximately $450 million of income from discontinued operations related to XPLR's sale of natural gas pipelines in December 2023. The income from discontinued operations includes $375 million of net gain on disposal.
(b) Reflects NEE's interest, as well as third-party interests, in XPLR.
(c) In 2024 and 2023, approximately $(2.2) billion and $(2.4) billion, respectively, is associated with Mountain Valley Pipeline, primarily reflecting impairment charges in 2022 and 2020. In addition, approximately $0.3 billion in 2024 and $1.1 billion in 2023 is associated with XPLR. The difference for 2024 reflects the approximately $0.8 billion impairment charge in 2024 related to NextEra Energy Resources' investment in XPLR. See Note 4 – Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements.

Through XPLR OpCo, XPLR owns, or has a partial ownership interest in, a portfolio of contracted renewable energy assets consisting of wind, solar and battery storage projects as well as a contracted natural gas pipeline. NEE has an approximately 52.6% noncontrolling interest in XPLR, primarily through its limited partner interest in XPLR OpCo, and accounts for its ownership interest in XPLR as an equity method investment. NextEra Energy Resources operates essentially all of the energy projects owned by XPLR and provides services to XPLR under various related party operations and maintenance, administrative and management services agreements (service agreements). NextEra Energy Resources is also party to a cash sweep and credit support (CSCS) agreement with a subsidiary of XPLR. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the cash sweep amounts (due to XPLR and its subsidiaries) held in accounts belonging to NextEra Energy Resources or its subsidiaries were approximately $127 million and $1,511 million, respectively, and are included in accounts payable. Fee income related to the CSCS agreement and the service agreements totaled approximately $18 million, $59 million and $174 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, and is included in operating revenues in NEE's consolidated statements of income. Amounts due from XPLR of approximately $159 million and $84 million are included in other receivables and $128 million and $114 million are included in noncurrent other assets at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. NEECH or NextEra Energy Resources guaranteed or provided indemnifications, letters of credit or surety bonds totaling approximately $1.3 billion at December 31, 2024 primarily related to obligations on behalf of XPLR's subsidiaries with maturity dates ranging from 2025 to 2059, including certain project performance obligations and obligations under financing and interconnection agreements. Payment guarantees and related contracts with respect to unconsolidated entities for which NEE or one of its subsidiaries are the guarantor are recorded on NEE's consolidated balance sheets at fair value. At December 31, 2024, approximately $58 million related to the fair value of the credit support provided under the CSCS agreement is recorded as noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance sheet.

During 2024, 2023 and 2022, certain services, primarily engineering, construction, transportation, storage and maintenance services, were provided to subsidiaries of NEE by related parties that NEE accounts for under the equity method of accounting. Charges for these services amounted to approximately $749 million, $656 million and $579 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

9. Variable Interest Entities (VIEs)

NEER – At December 31, 2024, NEE consolidates a number of VIEs within the NEER segment. Subsidiaries within the NEER segment are considered the primary beneficiary of these VIEs since they control the most significant activities of these VIEs, including operations and maintenance, and they have the obligation to absorb expected losses of these VIEs.

Eight indirect subsidiaries of NextEra Energy Resources have an ownership interest ranging from approximately 50% to 67% in entities which own and operate solar generation facilities with generating capacity of approximately 765 MW. Each of the subsidiaries is considered a VIE since the non-managing members have no substantive rights over the managing members, and is consolidated by NextEra Energy Resources. These entities sell their electric output to third parties under power sales contracts with expiration dates ranging from 2035 through 2052. These entities have third-party debt which is secured by liens against the assets of the entities. The debt holders have no recourse to the general credit of NextEra Energy Resources for the repayment of debt. The assets and liabilities of these VIEs were approximately $1,708 million and $520 million, respectively, at December 31, 2024. There were eight of these consolidated VIEs at December 31, 2023 and the assets and liabilities of those VIEs at such date totaled approximately $1,796 million and $1,085 million, respectively. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the assets and liabilities of these VIEs consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment and long-term debt.

NextEra Energy Resources consolidates a VIE which has a 10% direct ownership interest in wind and solar generation facilities which have the capability of producing approximately 400 MW and 599 MW, respectively. These entities sell their electric output under power sales contracts to third parties with expiration dates ranging from 2025 through 2040. These entities are also considered a VIE because the holders of differential membership interests in these entities do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities. The assets and liabilities of the VIE were approximately $1,346 million and $76 million, respectively, at December 31, 2024, and $1,434 million and $79 million, respectively, at December 31, 2023. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the assets of this VIE consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment.

NextEra Energy Resources consolidates 30 VIEs that primarily relate to certain subsidiaries which have sold differential membership interests in entities which own and operate wind generation, solar generation and battery storage facilities with generating/storage capacity of approximately 10,446 MW, 3,485 MW and 1,719 MW, respectively, and own wind generation and battery storage facilities that, upon completion of construction, which is anticipated in 2025, are expected to have generating/storage capacity of approximately 412 MW and 200 MW, respectively. These entities sell, or will sell, their electric output either under power sales contracts to third parties with expiration dates ranging from 2025 through 2054 or in the spot market. These entities are considered VIEs because the holders of differential membership interests do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities. NextEra Energy Resources has financing obligations with respect to these entities, including third-party debt which is secured by liens against the generation facilities and the other assets of these entities or by pledges of NextEra Energy Resources' ownership interest in these entities. The debt holders have no recourse to the general credit of NextEra Energy Resources for the repayment of debt. The assets and liabilities of these VIEs totaled approximately $23,902 million and $1,546 million, respectively, at December 31, 2024. There were 33 of these consolidated VIEs at December 31, 2023 and the assets and liabilities of those VIEs at such date totaled approximately $24,250 million and $3,148 million, respectively. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the assets and liabilities of these VIEs consisted primarily of property, plant and equipment and accounts payable.

Other – At December 31, 2024 and 2023, several NEE subsidiaries had investments totaling approximately $5,848 million ($4,506 million at FPL) and $4,962 million ($3,899 million at FPL), respectively, which are included in special use funds and noncurrent other assets on NEE's consolidated balance sheets and in special use funds on FPL's consolidated balance sheets. These investments represented primarily commingled funds and asset-backed securities. NEE subsidiaries, including FPL, are not the primary beneficiaries and therefore do not consolidate any of these entities because they do not control any of the ongoing activities of these entities, were not involved in the initial design of these entities and do not have a controlling financial interest in these entities.

Certain subsidiaries of NEE have noncontrolling interests in entities accounted for under the equity method, including NEE's noncontrolling interest in XPLR OpCo (see Note 8). These entities are limited partnerships or similar entity structures in which the limited partners or non-managing members do not have substantive rights over the significant activities of these entities, and therefore are considered VIEs. NEE is not the primary beneficiary because it does not have a controlling financial interest in these entities, and therefore does not consolidate any of these entities. NEE's investment in these entities totaled approximately $3,315 million and $3,913 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. At December 31, 2024, subsidiaries of NEE had guarantees related to certain obligations of one of these entities, as well as commitments to invest an additional approximately $175 million in several of these entities. See further discussion of such guarantees and commitments in Note 15 – Commitments and – Contracts, respectively.

10. Leases

NEE has operating and finance leases primarily related to land use agreements that convey exclusive use of the land during the arrangement for certain of its renewable energy projects and substations, as well as buildings and equipment. Operating and finance leases primarily have fixed payments with expected expiration dates ranging from 2025 to 2083, with the exception of operating leases related to three land use agreements with an expiration date of 2106, some of which include options to extend the leases up to 34 years and some have options to terminate at NEE's discretion. At December 31, 2024, NEE's ROU assets and lease liabilities for operating leases totaled approximately $372 million and $387 million, respectively; the respective amounts at December 31, 2023 were $396 million and $412 million. At December 31, 2024, NEE's ROU assets and lease liabilities for finance leases totaled approximately $826 million and $840 million, respectively; the respective amounts at December 31, 2023 were $440 million and $444 million. NEE's lease liabilities at December 31, 2024 and 2023 were calculated using a weighted-average incremental borrowing rate at the lease inception of 3.83% and 3.96%, respectively, for operating leases and 4.92% and 4.32%, respectively, for finance leases, and a weighted-average remaining lease term of 44 years and 44 years, respectively, for operating leases and 33 years and 32 years, respectively, for finance leases. At December 31, 2024, expected lease payments over the remaining terms of the leases were approximately $2.6 billion with no one year being material. Operating and finance lease-related amounts were not material to NEE's consolidated statements of income or cash flows for the periods presented.

NEE has operating and sales-type leases primarily related to certain battery storage facilities and a natural gas and oil electric generation facility that sell their electric output under power sales agreements to third parties which provide the customers the ability to dispatch the facilities. At December 31, 2024, the power sales agreements have expiration dates from 2026 to 2044 and NEE expects to receive approximately $3.9 billion of lease payments over the remaining terms of the power sales agreements with no one year being material. Operating and sales-type lease-related amounts were not material to NEE's consolidated statements of income or balance sheets for the periods presented.

11. Asset Retirement Obligations

NEE's AROs relate primarily to decommissioning obligations of FPL's and NEER's nuclear units and to obligations for the dismantlement of certain of NEER's wind and solar facilities. For NEE's rate-regulated operations, including FPL, the accounting provisions result in timing differences in the recognition of legal asset retirement costs for financial reporting purposes and the method the regulator allows for recovery in rates. See Note 1 – Rate Regulation and – Decommissioning of Nuclear Plants, Dismantlement of Plants and Other Accrued Asset Removal Costs.

A rollforward of NEE's and FPL's AROs is as follows:

	NEE	FPL
	(millions)
Balances, December 31, 2022	$ 3,328	$ 2,176
Liabilities incurred	100	—
Accretion expense	154	84
Liabilities settled	(90) [a]	(66)
Revision in estimated cash flows – net	(55)	(24)
Balances, December 31, 2023	3,437 [b]	2,170 [b]
Liabilities incurred	157	56
Accretion expense	165	87
Liabilities settled	(75) [a]	(31)
Revision in estimated cash flows – net	14	13
Balances, December 31, 2024	$ 3,698 [b]	$ 2,295 [b]

(a) Includes approximately $39 million and $18 million related to sales of businesses and assets during the years ending December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. See Note 1 – Disposal of Businesses/Assets.

(b) Includes the current portion of AROs as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 of approximately $27 million ($19 million for FPL) and $34 million ($27 million for FPL), respectively, which are included in current other liabilities on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets.

Restricted funds for the payment of future expenditures to decommission NEE's and FPL's nuclear units included in special use funds on NEE's and FPL's consolidated balance sheets are presented below (see Note 4). Duane Arnold is in a deferred decommissioning and was granted an exemption from the NRC, which allows for use of the funds for certain other site restoration activities in addition to decommissioning obligations recorded as AROs.

Balances, December 31, 2024	$ 9,799	$ 6,874
Balances, December 31, 2023	$ 8,697	$ 6,049

NEE and FPL have identified but not recognized ARO liabilities related to the majority of their electric transmission and distribution assets and pipelines resulting from easements over property not owned by NEE or FPL. These easements are generally perpetual and only require retirement action upon abandonment or cessation of use of the property or facility for its specified purpose. The related ARO liability is not estimable for such easements as NEE and FPL intend to use these properties indefinitely. In the event NEE or FPL decide to abandon or cease the use of a particular easement, an ARO liability would be recorded at that time.

12. Employee Retirement Benefits

Employee Pension Plan and Other Benefits Plans – NEE sponsors a qualified noncontributory defined benefit pension plan for substantially all employees of NEE and its subsidiaries. NEE also has a supplemental executive retirement plan (SERP), which includes a non-qualified supplemental defined benefit pension component that provides benefits to a select group of management and highly compensated employees, and sponsors a contributory postretirement plan for other benefits for retirees of NEE and its subsidiaries meeting certain eligibility requirements. The total accrued benefit cost of the SERP and postretirement plans is approximately $212 million ($86 million for FPL) and $231 million ($101 million for FPL) at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Pension Plan Assets, Benefit Obligations and Funded Status – The changes in assets, benefit obligations and the funded status of the pension plan are as follows:

	(millions)
Change in pension plan assets:
Fair value of plan assets at January 1	$ 4,897	$ 4,543
Actual return on plan assets	469	591
Benefit payments	(245)	(237)
Fair value of plan assets at December 31	$ 5,121	$ 4,897
Change in pension benefit obligation:
Obligation at January 1	$ 2,785	$ 2,711
Service cost	71	64
Interest cost	131	132
Special termination benefit[a]	27	—
Plan amendments	(3)	—
Actuarial losses (gains) – net[b]	(141)	115
Benefit payments	(245)	(237)
Obligation at December 31[c]	$ 2,625	$ 2,785
Funded status:
Prepaid pension benefit costs at NEE at December 31	$ 2,496	$ 2,112
Prepaid pension benefit costs at FPL at December 31[d]	$ 1,954	$ 1,853

(a) Reflects enhanced early retirement benefit.
(b) Primarily due to the difference in actual versus expected discount rate.
(c) NEE's accumulated pension benefit obligation, which includes no assumption about future salary levels, at December 31, 2024 and 2023 was approximately $2,553 million and $2,719 million, respectively.
(d) Reflects FPL's allocated benefits under NEE's pension plan.

NEE's unrecognized amounts included in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) yet to be recognized as components of prepaid pension benefit costs are as follows:

	2024	2023
	(millions)
Unrecognized prior service benefit (net of $1 tax expense and $1 tax expense, respectively)	$ 1	$ 2
Unrecognized losses (net of $3 tax benefit and $22 tax benefit, respectively)	(12)	(73)
Total	$ (11)	$ (71)

NEE's unrecognized losses included in regulatory assets (liabilities) yet to be recognized as components of net prepaid pension benefit costs were $92 million and $221 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

The following table provides the assumptions used to determine the benefit obligation for the pension plan. These rates are used in determining net periodic pension income in the following year.

Discount rate	5.58 %	4.88 %
Salary increase	4.90 %	4.90 %
Weighted-average interest crediting rate	3.88 %	3.89 %

NEE's investment policy for the pension plan recognizes the benefit of protecting the plan's funded status, thereby avoiding the necessity of future employer contributions. Its broad objectives are to achieve a high rate of total return with a prudent level of risk taking while maintaining sufficient liquidity and diversification to avoid large losses and preserve capital over the long term.

The NEE pension plan fund's current target asset allocation, which is expected to be reached over time, is 43% equity investments, 32% fixed income investments, 20% alternative investments and 5% convertible securities. The pension fund's investment strategy emphasizes traditional investments, broadly diversified across the global equity and fixed income markets, using a combination of different investment styles and vehicles. The pension fund's equity and fixed income holdings consist of both directly held securities as well as commingled investment arrangements such as common and collective trusts, pooled separate accounts, registered investment companies and limited partnerships. The pension fund's convertible security assets are principally direct holdings of convertible securities and include a convertible security oriented limited partnership. The pension fund's alternative investments consist primarily of private equity and real estate oriented investments in limited partnerships as well as absolute return oriented limited partnerships that use a broad range of investment strategies on a global basis.

The fair value measurements of NEE's pension plan assets by fair value hierarchy level are as follows:

	December 31, 2024[a]
	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets or Liabilities (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Total

Employee Contribution Plan – NEE offers an employee retirement savings plan which allows eligible participants to contribute a percentage of qualified compensation through payroll deductions. NEE makes matching contributions to participants' accounts. Defined contribution expense pursuant to this plan was approximately $83 million, $78 million and $68 million for NEE ($44 million, $43 million and $41 million for FPL) for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

(a) Includes tax exempt bonds that permit individual bondholders to tender the bonds for purchase at any time prior to maturity. In the event these tax exempt bonds are tendered for purchase, they would be remarketed by a designated remarketing agent in accordance with the related indenture. If the remarketing is unsuccessful, FPL would be required to purchase these tax exempt bonds. At December 31, 2024, these tax exempt bonds totaled approximately $1,663 million. All tax exempt bonds tendered for purchase have been successfully remarketed. FPL's syndicated revolving credit facilities are available to support the purchase of the tax exempt bonds. Variable interest rate is established at various intervals by the remarketing agent.
(b) At December 31, 2024, includes approximately $1,979 million of floating rate notes that permit individual noteholders to require repayment at specified dates prior to maturity. FPL's syndicated revolving credit facilities are available to support the purchase of the floating rate notes.
(c) Variable rate is based on an underlying index plus a specified margin.
(d) Interest rate contracts, primarily swaps, have been entered into with respect to certain of these debt issuances. See Note 3.
(e) Foreign currency contracts have been entered into with respect to certain of these debt issuances. See Note 3.

As of December 31, 2024, minimum annual maturities of long-term debt for NEE are approximately $8,064 million, $3,358 million, $11,519 million, $7,357 million and $9,919 million for 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028 and 2029, respectively. The respective amounts for FPL are approximately $1,720 million, $641 million, $328 million, $1,992 million and $948 million.

At December 31, 2024 and 2023, short-term borrowings had a weighted-average interest rate of 4.82% (4.59% for FPL) and 5.62% (5.50% for FPL), respectively. Subsidiaries of NEE, including FPL, had credit facilities with total capacity at December 31, 2024 of approximately $22.3 billion ($4.5 billion for FPL) which provide for the funding of loans and/or issuance of letters of credit. At December 31, 2024, letters of credit outstanding under these credit facilities totaled approximately $3.6 billion ($4.0 million for FPL). There were no borrowings outstanding under these facilities at December 31, 2024.

NEE has guaranteed certain payment obligations of NEECH, including most of those under NEECH's debt, including all of its debentures and commercial paper issuances, as well as most of its payment guarantees and indemnifications. NEECH has guaranteed certain debt and other obligations of subsidiaries within the NEER segment.

In August 2022, NEECH completed a remarketing of $1.5 billion aggregate principal amount of its Series J Debentures due September 1, 2024 that were issued in September 2019 as components of equity units issued concurrently by NEE (September 2019 equity units). The debentures were fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE. In connection with the remarketing of the debentures, the interest rate on the debentures was reset to 4.255% per year, and interest is payable on March 1 and September 1 of each year, commencing September 1, 2022. In connection with the settlement of the contracts to purchase NEE common stock that were issued as components of the September 2019 equity units, on September 1, 2022, NEE issued approximately 21.6 million shares of common stock in exchange for $1.5 billion.

In March 2023, NEECH completed a remarketing of $2.5 billion aggregate principal amount of its Series K Debentures due March 1, 2025 that were issued in February 2020 as components of equity units issued concurrently by NEE (February 2020 equity units). The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE. In connection with the remarketing of the debentures, the interest rate on the debentures was reset to 6.051% per year, and interest is payable on March 1 and September 1 of each year, commencing September 1, 2023. In connection with the settlement of the contracts to purchase NEE common stock that were issued as components of the February 2020 equity units, on March 1, 2023, NEE issued approximately 33.4 million shares of common stock in exchange for $2.5 billion.

In August 2023, NEECH completed a remarketing of $2.0 billion aggregate principal amount of its Series L Debentures due September 1, 2025 that were issued in September 2020 as components of equity units issued concurrently by NEE (September 2020 equity units). The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE. In connection with the remarketing of the debentures, the interest rate on the debentures was reset to 5.749% per year, and interest is payable on March 1 and September 1 of each year, commencing September 1, 2023. In connection with the settlement of the contracts to purchase NEE common stock that were issued as components of the September 2020 equity units, on September 1, 2023, NEE issued approximately 27.3 million shares of common stock in exchange for $2.0 billion.

In March 2024, NEECH issued $1.0 billion principal amount of its exchangeable senior notes due 2027 (the notes). A holder may exchange all or a portion of its notes at any time prior to the maturity date in accordance with the related indenture. Upon exchange, NEECH will pay cash up to the aggregate principal amount of the notes being exchanged and has the right, at its sole discretion, to pay or deliver cash, shares of NEE common stock or a combination of both, in respect of the remainder, if any, of NEECH's exchange obligation in excess of the aggregate principal amount of the notes being exchanged. At December 31, 2024, the exchange rate, which is subject to certain adjustments as set forth in the indenture, is 14.6927 shares of NEE common stock per $1,000 in principal amount of notes, which is equivalent to an exchange price of approximately $68.06 per share of NEE common stock.

NEECH used $52 million of the net proceeds from the sale of the notes to enter into capped call transactions. Under the capped call transactions, NEECH purchased capped call options with an initial strike price of $68.06 and an initial cap price of $83.34 in each case per share of NEE common stock and subject to adjustment in certain circumstances. The capped call transactions may be settled with cash or, at NEE's election, with shares of NEE common stock. Any capped call settlement value is expected to offset the value to be delivered upon exchange of the notes as a result of share price improvement up to the cap price.

In September 2022, NEE sold $2.0 billion of equity units (initially consisting of Corporate Units). Each equity unit has a stated amount of $50 and consists of a contract to purchase NEE common stock (stock purchase contract) and, initially, a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in a Series M Debenture due September 1, 2027, issued in the principal amount of $1,000 by NEECH. Each stock purchase contract requires the holder to purchase by no later than September 1, 2025 (the final settlement date) for a price of $50 in cash, a number of shares of NEE common stock (subject to antidilution adjustments) based on a price per share range described in the following sentence. If purchased on the final settlement date, as of December 31, 2024, the number of shares issued per equity unit would (subject to antidilution adjustments) range from 0.5670 shares if the applicable market value of a share of NEE common stock is less than or equal to $88.88 (the reference price) to 0.4534 shares if the applicable market value of a share is equal to or greater than $111.10 (the threshold appreciation price), with the applicable market value to be determined using the average closing prices of NEE common stock over a 20-day trading period ending August 27, 2025. Total annual distributions on the equity units are at the rate of 6.926%, consisting of interest on the debentures (4.60% per year) and payments under the stock purchase contracts (2.326% per year). The interest rate on the debentures is expected to be reset on or after March 1, 2025. A holder of an equity unit may satisfy its purchase obligation with proceeds raised from remarketing the NEECH debentures that are part of its equity unit. The undivided beneficial ownership interest in the NEECH debenture that is a component of each Corporate Unit is pledged to NEE to secure the holder's obligation to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contract. If a successful remarketing does not occur on or before the third business day prior to the final settlement date, and a holder has not notified NEE of its intention to settle the stock purchase contract with cash, the debentures that are components of the Corporate Units will be used to satisfy in full the holders' obligations to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contracts on the final settlement date. The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE.

In June 2024, NEE sold $2.0 billion of equity units (initially consisting of Corporate Units). Each equity unit has a stated amount of $50 and consists of a contract to purchase NEE common stock (stock purchase contract) and, initially, a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in a Series N Debenture due June 1, 2029, issued in the principal amount of $1,000 by NEECH. Each stock purchase contract requires the holder to purchase by no later than June 1, 2027 (the final settlement date) for a price of $50 in cash, a number of shares of NEE common stock (subject to antidilution adjustments), based on a price per share range described in the following sentence. If purchased on the final settlement date, as of December 31, 2024, the number of shares issued per equity unit would (subject to antidilution adjustments) range from 0.6915 shares if the applicable market value of a share of NEE common stock is less than or equal to $72.31 (the reference price) to 0.5532 shares if the applicable market value of a share is equal to or greater than $90.38 (the threshold appreciation price), with the applicable market value to be determined using the average closing prices of NEE common stock over a 20-day trading period ending on May 26, 2027. Total annual distributions on the equity units are at the rate of 7.299%, consisting of interest on the debentures (5.15% per year) and payments under the stock purchase contracts (2.149% per year). The interest rate on the debentures is expected to be reset on or after December 1, 2026. A holder of an equity unit may satisfy its purchase obligation with proceeds raised from remarketing the NEECH debentures that are part of its equity unit. The undivided beneficial ownership interest in the NEECH debenture that is a component of each Corporate Unit is pledged to NEE to secure the holder's obligation to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contract. If a successful remarketing does not occur on or before the third business day prior to the final settlement date, and a holder has not notified NEE of its intention to settle the stock purchase contract with cash, the debentures that are components of the Corporate Units will be used to satisfy in full the holders' obligations to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contracts on the final settlement date. The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE.

In October 2024, NEE sold $1.5 billion of equity units (initially consisting of Corporate Units). Each equity unit has a stated amount of $50 and consists of a contract to purchase NEE common stock (stock purchase contract) and, initially, a 5% undivided beneficial ownership interest in a Series O Debenture due November 1, 2029, issued in the principal amount of $1,000 by NEECH. Each stock purchase contract requires the holder to purchase by no later than November 1, 2027 (the final settlement date) for a price of $50 in cash, a number of shares of NEE common stock (subject to antidilution adjustments), based on a price per share range described in the following sentence. If purchased on the final settlement date, as of December 31, 2024, the number of shares issued per equity unit would (subject to antidilution adjustments) range from 0.6034 shares if the applicable market value of a share of NEE common stock is less than or equal to $82.87 (the reference price) to 0.4827 shares if the applicable market value of a share is equal to or greater than $103.58 (the threshold appreciation price), with the applicable market value to be determined using the average closing prices of NEE common stock over a 20-day trading period ending on October 27, 2027. Total annual distributions on the equity units are at the rate of 7.234%, consisting of interest on the debentures (4.635% per year) and payments under the stock purchase contracts (2.599% per year). The interest rate on the debentures is expected to be reset on or after May 1, 2027. A holder of an equity unit may satisfy its purchase obligation with proceeds raised from remarketing the NEECH debentures that are part of its equity unit. The undivided beneficial ownership interest in the NEECH debenture that is a component of each Corporate Unit is pledged to NEE to secure the holder's obligation to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contract. If a successful remarketing does not occur on or before the third business day prior to the final settlement date, and a holder has not notified NEE of its intention to settle the stock purchase contract with cash, the debentures that are components of the Corporate Units will be used to satisfy in full the holders' obligations to purchase NEE common stock under the related stock purchase contracts on the final settlement date. The debentures are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by NEE.

Prior to the issuance of NEE's common stock, the stock purchase contracts, if dilutive, will be reflected in NEE's diluted earnings per share calculations using the treasury stock method. Under this method, the number of shares of NEE common stock used in calculating diluted earnings per share is deemed to be increased by the excess, if any, of the number of shares that would be issued upon settlement of the stock purchase contracts over the number of shares that could be purchased by NEE in the market, at the average market price during the period, using the proceeds receivable upon settlement.

On February 4, 2025, NEECH sold a total of $4.5 billion principal amount of its fixed-rate debentures, with interest rates ranging from 4.85% to 5.90% and maturity dates ranging from 2028 to 2055, and $500 million of its floating-rate debentures due in 2028.

On February 6, 2025, NEECH sold $1.5 billion principal amount of its Series S Junior Subordinated Debentures due August 15, 2055 and $1.0 billion principal amount of its Series T Junior Subordinated Debentures due August 15, 2055, bearing interest at a rate of 6.375% to August 15, 2030 and 6.50% to August 15, 2035, respectively, and thereafter will bear interest based on an underlying index plus a specified margin, reset every five years, provided that the interest rate will not be lower than the respective initial interest rate.

14. Equity

Earnings Per Share – The reconciliation of NEE's basic and diluted earnings per share attributable to NEE is as follows:

	Years Ended December 31,
	2024	2023	2022
	(millions, except per share amounts)
Numerator – net income attributable to NEE	$ 6,946	$ 7,310	$ 4,147
Denominator:
Weighted-average number of common shares outstanding – basic	2,052.9	2,026.1	1,972.6
Equity units, stock options, performance share awards, restricted stock and exchangeable notes[(a)]	6.3	4.7	6.0
Weighted-average number of common shares outstanding – assuming dilution	2,059.2	2,030.8	1,978.6
Earnings per share attributable to NEE:
Basic	$ 3.38	$ 3.61	$ 2.10
Assuming dilution	$ 3.37	$ 3.60	$ 2.10

(a) Calculated primarily using the treasury stock method. Performance share awards are included in diluted weighted-average number of common shares outstanding based upon what would be issued if the end of the reporting period was the end of the term of the award.

Common shares issuable pursuant to equity units, stock options, performance share awards and/or exchangeable notes, as well as restricted stock which were not included in the denominator above due to their antidilutive effect were approximately 33.9 million, 39.1 million and 38.1 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Common Stock Dividend Restrictions – NEE's charter does not limit the dividends that may be paid on its common stock. FPL's mortgage securing FPL's first mortgage bonds contains provisions which, under certain conditions, restrict the payment of dividends and other distributions to NEE. These restrictions do not currently limit FPL's ability to pay dividends to NEE.

Stock-Based Compensation – Net income for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 includes approximately $138 million, $139 million and $142 million, respectively, of compensation costs and $29 million, $26 million and $20 million, respectively, of income tax benefits related to stock-based compensation arrangements. Compensation cost capitalized for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 was not material. At December 31, 2024, there were approximately $207 million of unrecognized compensation costs related to nonvested/nonexercisable stock-based compensation arrangements. These costs are expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.0 years.

At December 31, 2024, approximately 68 million shares of common stock were authorized for awards to officers, employees and non-employee directors of NEE and its subsidiaries under NEE's: (a) 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan, (b) 2017 Non-Employee Directors Stock Plan and (c) earlier equity compensation plans under which shares are reserved for issuance under existing grants, but no additional shares are available for grant under the earlier plans. NEE satisfies restricted stock and performance share awards by issuing new shares of its common stock or by purchasing shares of its common stock in the open market. NEE satisfies stock option exercises by issuing new shares of its common stock. NEE generally grants most of its stock-based compensation awards in the first quarter of each year.

Restricted Stock and Performance Share Awards – Restricted stock typically vests within three years after the date of grant and is subject to, among other things, restrictions on transferability prior to vesting. The fair value of restricted stock is measured based upon the closing market price of NEE common stock as of the date of grant. Performance share awards are typically payable at the end of a three-year performance period if the specified performance criteria are met. The fair value for the majority of performance share awards is estimated based upon the closing market price of NEE common stock as of the date of grant less the present value of expected dividends, multiplied by an estimated performance multiple which is subsequently trued up based on actual performance.

The activity in restricted stock and performance share awards for the year ended December 31, 2024 was as follows:

	Shares/Units	Weighted-Average Grant Date Fair Value Per Share/Units
Restricted Stock:
Nonvested balance, January 1, 2024	2,661,237	$ 75.93
Granted	1,647,461	$ 61.78
Vested	(924,575)	$ 74.17
Forfeited	(220,348)	$ 87.19
Nonvested balance, December 31, 2024	3,163,775	$ 68.44
Performance Share Awards:
Nonvested balance, January 1, 2024	1,387,253	$ 71.27
Granted	1,230,737	$ 63.23
Vested	(647,038)	$ 79.28
Forfeited	(126,224)	$ 63.46
Nonvested balance, December 31, 2024	1,844,728	$ 61.48

The weighted-average grant date fair value per share of restricted stock granted for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 was $72.24 and $75.13, respectively. The weighted-average grant date fair value per share of performance share awards granted for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 was $71.79 and $58.67, respectively.

The total fair value of restricted stock and performance share awards vested was $106 million, $106 million and $175 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Options – Options typically vest within three years after the date of grant and have a maximum term of ten years. The exercise price of each option granted equals the closing market price of NEE common stock on the date of grant. The fair value of the options is estimated on the date of the grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model and based on the following assumptions:

Expected volatility[a]	21.34 – 22.09%	19.72 – 20.57%	17.91 – 19.37%
Expected dividends	2.55 – 3.02%	2.45 – 2.86%	2.32 – 2.50%
Expected term (years)[b]	6.6	6.6	6.5
Risk-free rate	3.79 – 4.43%	3.50 – 4.50%	1.91 – 3.85%

(a) Based on historical experience.
(b) Based on historical exercise and post-vesting cancellation experience adjusted for outstanding awards.

Option activity for the year ended December 31, 2024 was as follows:

	Shares Underlying Options	Weighted-Average Exercise Price Per Share	Weighted-Average Remaining Contractual Term (years)	Aggregate Intrinsic Value (millions)
Balance, January 1, 2024	10,983,132	$ 52.78
Granted	1,265,263	$ 58.05
Exercised	(1,555,235)	$ 30.53
Forfeited	(95,814)	$ 64.47
Expired	(16,181)	$ 74.40
Balance, December 31, 2024	10,581,165	$ 56.54	5.2	$ 181
Exercisable, December 31, 2024	8,411,495	$ 54.18	4.3	$ 165

The weighted-average grant date fair value of options granted was $11.62, $14.46 and $10.49 per share for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The total intrinsic value of stock options exercised was approximately $68 million, $22 million and $37 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Cash received from option exercises was approximately $47 million, $14 million and $14 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The tax benefits realized from options exercised were approximately $16 million, $5 million and $9 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Preferred Stock – NEE's charter authorizes the issuance of 100 million shares of serial preferred stock, $0.01 par value, none of which are outstanding. FPL's charter authorizes the issuance of 10,414,100 shares of preferred stock, $100 par value, 5 million shares of subordinated preferred stock, no par value, and 5 million shares of preferred stock, no par value, none of which are outstanding.

15. Commitments and Contingencies

Commitments – NEE and its subsidiaries have made commitments in connection with a portion of their projected capital expenditures. Capital expenditures at FPL include, among other things, the cost for construction of additional facilities and equipment to meet customer demand, as well as capital improvements to and maintenance of existing facilities. At NEER, capital expenditures include, among other things, the cost, including capitalized interest, for development, construction and maintenance of its competitive energy businesses. Also see Note 4 – Contingent Consideration.

At December 31, 2024, estimated capital expenditures, on an accrual basis, for 2025 through 2029 were as follows:

	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029	Total
			(millions)
FPL:
Generation:[a]
New[b]	$ 2,185	$ 3,925	$ 3,385	$ 3,385	$ 3,510	$ 16,390
Existing	945	1,160	1,325	1,275	1,275	5,980
Transmission and distribution[c]	4,310	4,255	4,080	4,325	4,710	21,680
Nuclear fuel	205	300	305	395	375	1,580
General and other	780	880	810	790	715	3,975
Total	$ 8,425	$ 10,520	$ 9,905	$ 10,170	$ 10,585	$ 49,605
NEER:[d]
Wind[e]	$ 1,380	$ 1,525	$ 85	$ 55	$ —	$ 3,045
Solar[f]	4,865	3,350	1,360	105	45	9,725

Other	435	250	225	220	220	1,350
Total	$ 11,045	$ 7,485	$ 3,840	$ 1,470	$ 1,195	$ 25,035

(a) Includes AFUDC of approximately $115 million, $170 million, $180 million, $175 million and $160 million for 2025 through 2029, respectively.
(b) Includes land, generation structures, transmission interconnection and integration and licensing.
(c) Includes AFUDC of approximately $80 million, $80 million, $75 million, $110 million and $140 million for 2025 through 2029, respectively.
(d) Represents capital expenditures for which applicable internal approvals and also, if required, regulatory approvals have been received.
(e) Consists of capital expenditures for new wind projects and repowering of existing wind projects totaling approximately 2,228 MW, and related transmission.
(f) Includes capital expenditures for new solar projects (including solar plus battery storage projects) totaling approximately 8,205 MW and related transmission.
(g) Includes capital expenditures primarily for battery storage projects totaling approximately 4,265 MW and related transmission, as well as natural gas pipelines and renewable fuels projects.
(h) Includes AFUDC of approximately $10 million, $10 million, $20 million, $10 million and $10 million for 2025 through 2029, respectively

The above estimates are subject to continuing review and adjustment and actual capital expenditures may vary significantly from these estimates.

In addition to guarantees noted in Note 8 with regards to XPLR, NEECH has guaranteed or provided indemnifications or letters of credit related to third parties, including certain obligations of investments in joint ventures accounted for under the equity method, totaling approximately $705 million at December 31, 2024. These obligations primarily related to guaranteeing the residual value of certain financing leases and obligations under purchased power agreements. Payment guarantees and related contracts with respect to unconsolidated entities for which NEE or one of its subsidiaries are the guarantor are recorded at fair value and are included in noncurrent other liabilities on NEE's consolidated balance sheets. Management believes that the exposure associated with these guarantees is not material.

Contracts – In addition to the commitments made in connection with the estimated capital expenditures included in the table in Commitments above, FPL has firm commitments under long-term contracts primarily for the transportation of natural gas with expiration dates through 2042.

At December 31, 2024, NEER has entered into contracts primarily for the purchase of wind turbines, wind towers, solar modules and batteries and related construction and development activities, as well as for the supply of uranium, and the conversion, enrichment and fabrication of nuclear fuel with expiration dates through 2033. Approximately $3.2 billion of related commitments are included in the estimated capital expenditures table in Commitments above. In addition, NEER has contracts primarily for the transportation and storage of natural gas with expiration dates through 2041.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)

The required capacity and/or minimum payments under contracts, including those discussed above at December 31, 2024, were estimated as follows:

	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029	Thereafter
FPL[a]	$ 1,155	$ 1,145	$ 1,115	$ 1,080	$ 1,050	$ 7,165
NEER[b][c]	$ 3,945	$ 815	$ 250	$ 120	$ 70	$ 370

(a) Includes approximately $405 million, $400 million, $400 million, $400 million, $395 million and $4,765 million in 2025 through 2029 and thereafter, respectively, of firm commitments related to natural gas transportation agreements with affiliates. The charges associated with these agreements are recoverable through the fuel clause and totaled approximately $409 million, $417 million and $418 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, of which $73 million, $99 million and $102 million, respectively, were eliminated in consolidation at NEE.
(b) Includes approximately $175 million of commitments to invest in technology and other investments through 2031. See Note 9 – Other.
(c) Includes approximately $870 million and $40 million for 2025 and 2026, respectively, of joint obligations of NEECH and NEER.

Insurance – Liability for accidents at nuclear power plants is governed by the Price-Anderson Act, which limits the liability of nuclear reactor owners to the amount of insurance available from both private sources and an industry retrospective payment plan. In accordance with this Act, NEE maintains $500 million of private liability insurance per site, which is the maximum obtainable, except at Duane Arnold which obtained an exemption from the NRC and maintains a $100 million private liability insurance limit. Each site, except Duane Arnold, participates in a secondary financial protection system, which provides up to $15.8 billion of liability insurance coverage per incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S. Under the secondary financial protection system, NEE is subject to retrospective assessments of up to $1,161 million ($664 million for FPL), plus any applicable taxes, per incident at any nuclear reactor in the U.S., payable at a rate not to exceed $173 million ($99 million for FPL) per incident per year. NextEra Energy Resources and FPL are contractually entitled to recover a proportionate share of such assessments from the owners of minority interests in Seabrook and St. Lucie Unit No. 2, which approximates $20 million and $25 million, plus any applicable taxes, per incident, respectively.

NEE participates in a nuclear insurance mutual company, Nuclear Electric Insurance Limited (NEIL), which provides property damage, nuclear accident decontamination and premature decommissioning insurance for each plant for losses resulting from damage to its nuclear facilities, either due to accidents or acts of terrorism. Additionally, NEIL provides accidental outage coverage for losses in the event of a major accidental outage at an insured nuclear plant. Pursuant to regulations of the NRC, each company's property damage insurance policies provide that all proceeds from such insurance be applied first to place the plant in a safe and stable condition after a qualifying accident, and second, to decontaminate the plant before any proceeds can be used for decommissioning, plant repair or restoration.

NEE and FPL nuclear facilities each have accident property damage, nuclear accident decontamination and premature decommissioning liability insurance from NEIL with limits of $1.5 billion, except for Duane Arnold which has a limit of $50 million due to being in a deferred decommissioning. All the nuclear facilities, except for Duane Arnold, also share an additional $1.25 billion nuclear accident insurance limit above their dedicated underlying limit. This shared additional excess limit is not subject to reinstatement in the event of a loss. All coverages are subject to sublimits and deductibles.

NEE also participates in an insurance program that provides limited coverage for replacement power costs if a nuclear plant is out of service for an extended period of time because of an accident. In the event of an accident at one of NEE's or another participating insured's nuclear plants, NEE could be assessed up to $167 million ($104 million for FPL), plus any applicable taxes, in retrospective premiums in a policy year. NextEra Energy Resources and FPL are contractually entitled to recover a proportionate share of such assessments from the owners of minority interests in Seabrook, Duane Arnold and St. Lucie Unit No. 2, which approximates $3 million, $2 million and $4 million, plus any applicable taxes, respectively.

Due to the high cost and limited coverage available from third-party insurers, NEE does not have property insurance coverage for a substantial portion of either its transmission and distribution property or natural gas pipeline assets. If FPL's storm restoration costs exceed the storm reserve, such storm restoration costs may be recovered, subject to prudence review by the FPSC, through surcharges approved by the FPSC or through securitization provisions pursuant to Florida law. See Note 1 – Storm Funds, Storm Reserves and Storm Cost Recovery.

In the event of a loss, the amount of insurance available might not be adequate to cover property damage and other expenses incurred. Uninsured losses and other expenses, to the extent not recovered from customers in the case of FPL, would be borne by NEE and FPL and could have a material adverse effect on NEE's and FPL's financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

Legal Proceedings – FPL is the defendant in a purported class action lawsuit filed in the Miami-Dade County Circuit Court in February 2018 that seeks from FPL unspecified damages for alleged breach of contract and gross negligence based on service interruptions that occurred as a result of Hurricane Irma in 2017. A class previously had been certified that encompassed all persons and business owners who reside in and are otherwise citizens of the state of Florida that contracted with FPL for electrical services, were charged storm charges, experienced a power outage after Hurricane Irma and suffered consequential damages because of FPL's alleged breach of contract or gross negligence. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal (3rd DCA) reconsidered and revoked its previous order approving certification of the class and remanded and stayed the case unless and until the plaintiffs take action at the FPSC regarding FPL's actions during Hurricane Irma. In December 2024, the Florida Supreme Court denied the plaintiffs' request to review the 3rd DCA's order.

NEE, FPL, and certain current and former executives, are the named defendants in a purported shareholder securities class action lawsuit filed in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in June 2023 and amended in December 2023 that seeks from the defendants unspecified damages allegedly resulting from alleged false or misleading statements regarding NEE's alleged campaign finance and other political activities. The alleged class of plaintiffs are all persons or entities who purchased or otherwise acquired NEE securities between December 2, 2021 and January 30, 2023. In September 2024, the class action lawsuit was dismissed with prejudice by the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida. In October 2024, the lead plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit. NEE is vigorously defending against the claims in this proceeding.

NEE, along with certain current and former executives and directors are the named defendants in purported shareholder derivative actions filed in the 15th Judicial Circuit in Palm Beach County, Florida in July 2023 and March 2024, in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in October 2023 and November 2023 (which were consolidated in January 2024) and in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida in July 2024 seeking unspecified damages allegedly resulting from, among other things, breaches of fiduciary duties and, in the consolidated cases and the July 2024 case, violations of the federal securities laws, all purporting to relate to alleged campaign finance law violations and associated matters. The defendants are vigorously defending against the claims in these proceedings. NEE and the plaintiffs in the derivative actions have agreed to a specified stay. NEE also has received demand letters and books and records requests from counsel representing other purported shareholders and containing similar allegations. These demands seek, among other things, a Board of Directors investigation of, and/or documentation regarding, these allegations. NEE and certain of the shareholders demanding an investigation have agreed to a specified stay of all material activities related to the demand.

In September 2023, a participant in the NEE Employee Retirement Savings Plan (Plan), purportedly on behalf of the Plan and all persons who were participants in or beneficiaries of the Plan, at any time between September 25, 2016 and September 25, 2023 (Plan participants), filed a putative ERISA class action lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida against NEE. The complaint alleges that NEE violated its fiduciary duties under the Plan by permitting a third-party administrative recordkeeper to charge allegedly excessive fees for the services provided and allegedly by allowing a large volume of plan assets to be invested in NEE common stock. The plaintiff seeks declaratory, equitable and monetary relief on behalf of the Plan and Plan participants. NEE and the plaintiff have agreed to a specified stay of the action to permit the plaintiff to exhaust the administrative remedies available under the Plan.

In November 2024, NEE was named as defendant in an antitrust lawsuit (Avangrid, Inc. et al. v. NextEra Energy, Inc.) filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts. This lawsuit seeks damages of $350 million, which are tripled in the event of a finding of monopolization under the Sherman Act, from the defendants for alleged violations of federal and state antitrust laws, as well as Massachusetts state laws. In January 2025, NEE filed a motion to dismiss and a motion to transfer venue. NEE does not believe that it should have any liability with respect to the claims in this matter.

16. Segment Information

Effective January 1, 2024, NEE and FPL adopted an accounting standards update that provides guidance on segment reporting and requires additional disclosures related to significant segment expenses and increases the frequency of segment reporting to interim periods (updated segment standard). NEE and FPL adopted the updated segment standard using the full retrospective approach, which changed the presentation of the segment information below.

The tables below present information for NEE's two reportable segments, FPL, a rate-regulated utility business, and NEER, which is comprised of competitive energy and rate-regulated transmission businesses. Corporate and Other represents other business activities, includes eliminating entries, and may include the net effect of rounding. FPL has a single reportable segment. See Note 2 for information regarding NEE's and FPL's operating revenues.

NEE's and FPL's chief operating decision maker (CODM) is NEE's chief executive officer. The CODM makes key operating decisions and evaluates the reportable segment's operating results, including net income attributable to NEE, for financial planning, analysis of performance and resource allocation.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements With Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

None

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of December 31, 2024, each of NEE and FPL had performed an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of its management, including NEE's and FPL's chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of each company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)). Based upon that evaluation, the chief executive officer and the chief financial officer of each of NEE and FPL concluded that the company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of December 31, 2024.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

(a) Management's Annual Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

See Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

(b) Attestation Report of the Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

See Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

(c) Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

NEE and FPL are continuously seeking to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of their operations and of their internal controls. This results in refinements to processes throughout NEE and FPL. However, there has been no change in NEE's or FPL's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) that occurred during NEE's and FPL's most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, NEE's or FPL's internal control over financial reporting.

Item 9B. Other Information

(b) On November 5, 2024, James May, Vice President, Controller and Chief Accounting Officer, adopted a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement that is intended to satisfy the affirmative defense of Rule 10b5-1(c) for the sale of 2,177 shares of NEE's common stock until November 5, 2025.

PART III

Item 10. Directors, Executive Officers and Corporate Governance

The information required by this item will be included under the headings "Business of the Annual Meeting," "Information About NextEra Energy and Management" and "Corporate Governance and Board Matters" in NEE's Proxy Statement which will be filed with the SEC in connection with the 2025 Annual Meeting of Shareholders (NEE's Proxy Statement) and is incorporated herein by reference, or is included in Item 1. Business – Information About Our Executive Officers.

NEE has adopted the NextEra Energy, Inc. Code of Ethics for Senior Executive and Financial Officers (the Senior Financial Executive Code), which is applicable to the chief executive officer, the chief financial officer, the chief accounting officer and other senior executive and financial officers. The Senior Financial Executive Code is available under Corporate Governance in the Investor Relations section of NEE's internet website at www.nexteraenergy.com. Any amendments or waivers of the Senior Financial Executive Code which are required to be disclosed to shareholders under SEC rules will be disclosed on the NEE website at the address listed above.

Item 11. Executive Compensation

The information required by this item will be included in NEE's Proxy Statement under the headings "Executive Compensation" and "Corporate Governance and Board Matters" and is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 12. Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management and Related Stockholder Matters

The information required by this item relating to security ownership of certain beneficial owners and management will be included in NEE's Proxy Statement under the heading "Information About NextEra Energy and Management" and is incorporated herein by reference.

(a) Includes an aggregate of 10,581,165 outstanding options, 4,126,194 unvested performance share awards (at maximum payout), 44,036 deferred fully vested performance shares, 391,727 unvested restricted stock units (including future reinvested dividends) under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan and former long term incentive plans, and 57,487 fully vested shares deferred by directors under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2017 Non-Employee Directors Stock Plan, and its predecessors, the 2007 Non-Employee Directors Stock Plan and the FPL Group, Inc. Amended and Restated Non-Employee Directors Stock Plan.

(b) Relates to outstanding options only.

(c) Includes 56,094,128 shares under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2021 Long Term Incentive Plan and 1,735,704 shares under the NextEra Energy, Inc. 2017 Non-Employee Directors Stock Plan.

Item 13. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence

The information required by this item, to the extent applicable, will be included in NEE's Proxy Statement under the heading "Corporate Governance and Board Matters" and is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 14. Principal Accountant Fees and Services

NEE – The information required by this item will be included in NEE's Proxy Statement under the heading "Audit-Related Matters" and is incorporated herein by reference.

FPL – The following table presents fees billed for professional services rendered by Deloitte & Touche LLP, the member firms of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu, and their respective affiliates (collectively, Deloitte & Touche) for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. The amounts presented below reflect allocations from NEE for FPL's portion of the fees, as well as amounts billed directly to FPL.

Audit fees[(a)]	$ 4,046,000	$ 4,402,000
Audit-related fees[(b)]	236,000	102,000
Tax fees[(c)]	497,000	390,000
All other fees[(d)]	13,000	187,000
Total	$ 4,792,000	$ 5,081,000

(a) Audit fees consist of fees billed for professional services rendered for the audit of FPL's and NEE's annual consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year, the reviews of the financial statements included in FPL's and NEE's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q during the fiscal year and the audit of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, comfort letters, and consents.

(b) Audit-related fees consist of fees billed for assurance and related services that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of FPL's and NEE's consolidated financial statements and are not reported under audit fees. These fees primarily relate to audits of subsidiary financial statements and financial systems pre-implementation internal control assessment.

(c) Tax fees consist of fees billed for professional services rendered for tax compliance, tax advice and tax planning. These fees primarily relate to research and development tax credit advice and planning services.

(d) All other fees consist of fees for products and services other than the services reported under the other named categories. In 2024, these fees relate to training, and in 2023, these fees relate to training and advisory services for IT job architecture and skills descriptions.

In accordance with the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the Audit Committee Charter and the Audit Committee's pre-approval policy for services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm, all services performed by Deloitte & Touche are approved in advance by the Audit Committee, except for audits of certain trust funds where the fees are paid by the trust. Permitted services specifically identified in an appendix to the pre-approval policy are pre-approved by the Audit Committee each year. This pre-approval allows management to request the specified permitted services on an as-needed basis during the year, provided any such services are reviewed with the Audit Committee at its next regularly scheduled meeting. Any permitted service for which the fee is expected to exceed $500,000, or that involves a service not listed on the pre-approval list, must be specifically approved by the Audit Committee prior to commencement of such service. The Audit Committee has delegated to the Chair of the committee the right to approve audit, audit-related, tax and other services, within certain limitations, between meetings of the Audit Committee, provided any such decision is presented to the Audit Committee at its next regularly scheduled meeting. At each Audit Committee meeting (other than meetings held to review earnings materials), the Audit Committee reviews a schedule of services for which Deloitte & Touche has been engaged since the prior Audit Committee meeting under existing pre-approvals and the estimated fees for those services. In 2024 and 2023, none of the amounts presented above represent services provided to NEE or FPL by Deloitte & Touche that were approved by the Audit Committee after services were rendered pursuant to Rule 2-01(c)(7)(i)(C) of Regulation S-X (which provides for a waiver of the otherwise applicable pre-approval requirement if certain conditions are met).

I, John W. Ketchum, certify that:

1. I have reviewed this Form 10-K for the annual period ended December 31, 2024 of NextEra Energy, Inc. (the registrant);

2. Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;

3. Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the registrant as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;

4. The registrant's other certifying officer and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the registrant and have:

   (a) Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;

   (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

   (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and

   (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and

5. The registrant's other certifying officer and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):

   (a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and

   (b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.

1. Description of Bonds. The Issuer proposes to issue and sell $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A, with the terms specified in Schedule I hereto (the "Bonds"), pursuant to a Trust Indenture, to be dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), and pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Issuer on May 8, 2024 (the "Resolution"). The Bonds will be payable, except to the extent payable from bond proceeds and other moneys pledged therefor, solely from, and secured by a pledge of, the revenues to be derived by the Issuer under a Loan Agreement, to be dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Issuer and Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company").

2. Purchase, Sale and Closing. On the basis of the representations and warranties contained herein and in the Letter of Representation, hereinafter defined, and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Official Statement, hereinafter defined, the Underwriter will purchase from the Issuer, and the Issuer will sell to such Underwriter, the Bonds. The price for the Bonds will be 100% of the principal amount thereof less an underwriter's discount of $107,500 and out-of-pocket expenses of $1,165. The closing will be held at the office of Locke Lord LLP at 777 South Flagler Drive, Suite 215-E, West Palm Beach, Florida 33401 at 11:00 a.m. New York time on May 23, 2024 (the "Closing Date"), or such other date, time or place as may be agreed upon by the parties hereto. The hour and date of such closing are herein called the "Closing Date." The Bonds will be delivered in the name of a nominee of The Depository Trust Company, and will be made available to the Underwriter for inspection at such place as may be agreed upon by the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter.

The Issuer acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the primary role of the Underwriter, as underwriter, is to purchase securities, for resale to investors, in an arm's length commercial transaction among the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter and that the Underwriter has financial and other interests that differ from those of the Issuer; (ii) the Underwriter is acting solely as principal and is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to the Issuer and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Issuer with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Underwriter has provided other services or are currently providing other services to the Issuer on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Underwriter has to the Issuer with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement and, with respect to its role as remarketing agent, in the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024 between the Company and the Underwriter; and (iv) the Issuer has consulted its own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate.

3. Representations of the Issuer. The Issuer represents and warrants to the Underwriter that:

(a) The Issuer has approved the delivery of an Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024, which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), for use in connection with the sale and distribution of the Bonds. Appendix A to such Official Statement describes certain matters relating to the Company and is sometimes herein separately referred to as "Appendix A." Such Official Statement, as amended and supplemented, including in each case Appendix A and all documents incorporated by reference therein, Appendix B, Appendix C, Appendix D and Appendix E, is herein referred to as the "Official Statement," and all references herein to matters described, contained or set forth in the Official Statement shall, unless specifically stated otherwise, include Appendix A and all documents incorporated by reference therein, Appendix B, Appendix C, Appendix D and Appendix E. For the purposes of the Agreement, all documents filed by the Company pursuant to Section 13(a), 13(c), 14 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), after the date of the Official Statement and incorporated by reference in the Official Statement until the expiration of the underwriting period (as described in Rule 15c2-12) shall be deemed to be a supplement to the Official Statement. The information with respect to the Issuer contained in the Official Statement under the heading "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" does not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The Underwriter and the Company acknowledge that the Issuer has not participated in the preparation of the Official Statement. The Issuer assumes no responsibilities for the accuracy, sufficiency or fairness of any statements in the Official Statement or any supplements thereto other than statements and information therein relating to the Issuer under the captions "INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT", "THE ISSUER" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS".

(b) The Issuer will not at any time authorize an amendment or supplement (including an amendment or supplement resulting from the filing of a document incorporated by reference) to the Official Statement without prior notice to the Company, the Underwriter, and Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter, or any such amendment or supplement to which the Company or the Underwriter shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Ballard Spahr LLP. At the date hereof, the information with respect to the Issuer in the Official Statement is true and correct.

(c) The Issuer is a validly existing public body corporate and politic of the State of Florida with full legal right, power and authority under the laws of the State of Florida, including particularly Parts II and III of Chapter 159, Florida Statutes, as amended, to consummate the transactions involving the Issuer contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and to fulfill the terms hereof on the part of the Issuer to be fulfilled.

(d) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of the Issuer to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary action of the Issuer in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida.

(e) The execution and delivery by the Issuer of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, the pledge and assignment by the Issuer to the Trustee of certain of its rights under the Loan Agreement, the consummation by the Issuer on its part of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the Issuer and the compliance by the Issuer with all the terms and provisions of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement will not conflict with, or constitute a breach of or default under, any constitutional provision, statute or ordinance, any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, resolution or other agreement or instrument to which the Issuer is now a party or by which it is now bound, or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, any order, rule or regulation applicable to the Issuer of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over the Issuer or any of its activities or properties.

(f) Except as disclosed in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, there is no action, suit, proceeding, inquiry or investigation, at law or in equity, or before or by any court, public board or body to which the Issuer is a party, pending or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, threatened against the Issuer, (i) to restrain or enjoin the issuance or sale of the Bonds or the performance by the Issuer of the Loan Agreement or the Indenture including without limitation assignment to the Trustee of the Issuer's right to receive Loan Repayments (as defined in the Loan Agreement) and certain other rights under the Loan Agreement as security for the Bonds, or (ii) wherein an unfavorable decision, ruling or finding would (A) have a material adverse effect on the transactions contemplated herein or in the Official Statement or (B) adversely affect or put in question the validity or enforceability of the Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, this Agreement, the Letter of Representation, dated the date hereof, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit E (the "Letter of Representation") from the Company to the Issuer and the Underwriter or any other agreement, instrument or document to which the Issuer is a party or by which it is bound relating to the consummation of the transactions contemplated herein or in the Official Statement.

4. Underwriter's Representation. The Underwriter intends to make a public offering of the Bonds for sale upon the terms set forth in the Official Statement. The Underwriter agrees to file a copy of the Official Statement with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") in accordance with Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below).

5. Covenants of the Issuer. The Issuer agrees that:

(a) As soon as practicable following execution hereof (but in no event later than the earlier of two business days after the date hereof and the day prior to the Closing Date), in order that the Underwriter may comply with paragraph (b)(3) of Rule 15c2-12 ("Rule 15c2-12") promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") under the Exchange Act, the Issuer shall direct the Company to deliver to the Underwriter the final Official Statement, in such quantities as the Underwriter may reasonably request. Upon the issuance thereof, the Issuer will direct the Company to deliver to the Underwriter copies of all amendments and supplements to the Official Statement (other than documents incorporated by reference therein).

(b) It will cooperate with the Company and the Underwriter in connection with the preparation of the Official Statement and any amendment or supplement thereto which the Company may be required to furnish the Underwriter pursuant to the Letter of Representation.

(c) It will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the Underwriter may designate, provided that the Issuer shall not be required to qualify as a dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process, under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by the Issuer to be unduly burdensome.

(d) It will not take or omit to take any action the taking or omission of which would cause the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to be applied in a manner contrary to that provided for in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, as each may be amended from time to time.

(e) At the request of the Underwriter or the Company, it will take such action as is necessary and within its power and at the sole expense of the Company to assure or maintain the status of the interest on the Bonds as excluded from gross income for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the regulations thereunder.

The foregoing covenants are conditioned upon the Company's compliance with Section 2 of the Letter of Representation.

6. Conditions of Underwriter's Obligation. The obligation of the Underwriter to purchase and pay for the Bonds shall be subject to the accuracy of, and compliance with, the representations and warranties of the Issuer and the Company contained herein and in the Letter of Representation, respectively, to the performance by the Issuer and the Company of their obligations to be performed hereunder and under the Letter of Representation, respectively, at and prior to the Closing Date and to the following conditions:

(a) At the Closing Date, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking between the Company and the Trustee to be dated as of the Closing Date with respect to the Bonds (the "CDU") and the Letter of Representation shall be in full force and effect, and if executed subsequent to the execution hereof and prior to the Closing Date, shall not have been amended, modified or supplemented except as may have been agreed to in writing by the Underwriter; provided, however, that the acceptance of delivery of the Bonds by the Underwriter on the Closing Date shall be deemed to constitute such approval; and the Underwriter shall have received an executed counterpart or certified copy of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the CDU.

(b) At the Closing Date, the Bonds shall have been duly authorized, executed and authenticated in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

(c) At the Closing Date, no order, decree or injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction shall have been issued, or proceedings therefor shall have been commenced, nor shall any order, ruling, regulation or official statement by any governmental official, body or board, have been issued, nor shall any legislation have been enacted, with the purpose or effect of prohibiting or limiting the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds as contemplated herein or in the Official Statement or the performance of the Indenture or the Loan Agreement, in accordance with their respective terms.

(d) At the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Underwriter by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution hereof by the Underwriter contains any such unacceptable provision.

(e) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received opinions, dated the Closing Date, of the Office of the County Attorney of Miami-Dade County, Florida substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto, Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., as Bond Counsel substantially in the forms of Appendix C to the Official Statement and Exhibit B hereto, Squire Patton Boggs (US), LLP, as counsel to the Company, substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, and Ballard Spahr LLP, as counsel for the Underwriter, substantially in the form of Exhibit D hereto, respectively, but with such changes as the Underwriter shall approve.

(f) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from Deloitte & Touche LLP an "agreed-upon procedures letter," in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriter, setting forth the procedures undertaken with respect to the review of the audited financial statements of the Company appearing in the Official Statement and providing certain conclusions regarding the information with respect to which such review procedures were applied.

(g) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Issuer a certificate of its Executive Director, dated the Closing Date, stating in effect that each of the representations and warranties of the Issuer set forth herein is true, accurate and complete in all material respects at and as of the Closing Date and that each of the obligations of the Issuer hereunder to be performed by it at or prior to the Closing Date has been performed.

(h) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received a certified copy of the Resolution of the Issuer authorizing the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(i) Since the date of the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), and up to the Closing Date, there shall have been no material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, except as reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be so amended or supplemented, and, since such date and up to the Closing Date, there shall have been no transaction entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be so amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business.

(j) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Company a certificate, dated the Closing Date, signed by the President or any Vice President or the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Company to the effect of paragraph (i) above and stating in effect that the representations and warranties of the Company set forth in the Letter of Representation are true, accurate and complete in all material respects at and as of the Closing Date and that each of the obligations of the Company under the Letter of Representation to be performed at or prior to the Closing Date has been performed.

(k) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Company evidence satisfactory to the Underwriter to the effect that Moody's Investors Service, Inc., S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc. and Fitch Ratings Inc. have or will provide a short term rating of "VMIG-1," "A-1" and "F1," respectively, with respect to the Bonds.

In case any of the conditions specified above in this Section 6 shall not have been fulfilled, this Agreement may be terminated by the Underwriter upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Issuer and the Company. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 3 of the Letter of Representation.

7. Termination.

(a) This Agreement may be terminated by the Underwriter by delivering written notice thereof to the Issuer and the Company, at or prior to the Closing Date, if:

(i) after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date there shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on the New York Stock Exchange or there shall have been established by the New York Stock Exchange or by the SEC or by any federal or state agency or by the decision of any court any limitation on prices for such trading or any restrictions on the distribution of securities, or a general banking moratorium declared by New York or federal authorities, the effect of which on the financial markets of the United States shall be such as to make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(ii) there shall have occurred any new outbreak of hostilities including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date of this Agreement or other national or international calamity or crisis or the escalation of such calamity or crisis, the effect of which on the financial markets of the United States shall be such as to make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(iii) after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date, legislation shall be enacted by the Congress or adopted by either House thereof or a decision shall be rendered by a federal court, including the Tax Court of the United States, or a ruling, regulation or order by or on behalf of the Treasury Department of the United States, the Internal Revenue Service or other governmental agency shall be issued or proposed with respect to the imposition of federal income taxation upon receipts, revenues or other income of the same kind and character expected to be derived by the Issuer, including, without limitation, loan repayments and other amounts under the Loan Agreement, or upon interest received on bonds of the same kind and character as the Bonds, with the result in any such case that it is impracticable, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter, for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(iv) the subject matter of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement prepared and furnished by the Issuer or the Company renders it, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter, either inadvisable to proceed with the offering or inadvisable to proceed with the delivery of the Bonds to be purchased hereunder;

(v) a stop order, release, regulation or no-action letter by or on behalf of SEC or any other governmental agency having jurisdiction of the subject matter shall have been issued or made to the effect that the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds, including all the underlying obligations as contemplated hereby or by the Official Statement, or any document relating to the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds is or would be in violation of any provision of the federal securities laws at the Closing Date, including, but not limited to, the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; or

(vi) there shall have occurred a material adverse change in the financial markets of the United States, the effect of which shall make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds.

(b) This Agreement shall terminate upon the termination of the Letter of Representation as provided in Section 4 thereof.

(c) Any termination of this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7 shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 3 of the Letter of Representation.

8. Truth-In-Bonding Statement. The Issuer is proposing to issue $172,000,000 principal amount of Bonds for the purpose of loaning the proceeds of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of (i) financing or refinancing a portion of the cost of acquisition, construction, installation and equipping of certain wastewater/sewage facilities, including functionally related and subordinate facilities, at its plant site located in Homestead, Florida as more fully described in the Indenture; (ii) fund capitalized interest during the construction period, and (iii) pay certain bond issuance costs. The Bonds are expected to be repaid over a period of approximately 30 years. The Bonds will initially bear interest at a variable rate. At an assumed interest rate of 3.750% total interest paid over the life of the Bonds will be $193,234,932.08.

The source of repayment or security for this proposal is the payments by the Company under a Loan Agreement securing the Bonds. Assuming the aforementioned interest rate, authorizing the Bonds will result in an average of $12,199,348.26 average annual debt service of such moneys of the Company not being available to finance other services of the Company each year for approximately 30 years. An itemized list setting forth the nature and estimated amounts of expenses to be incurred by the Underwriter in connection with the issuance of the Bonds is set forth on Schedule II attached hereto.

The Underwriter agrees to assist the Issuer in establishing the issue price of the Bonds and shall execute and deliver to the Issuer at Closing an "issue price" or similar certificate, together with the supporting pricing wires or equivalent communications, substantially in the form of Exhibit F hereto (the "Issue Price Certificate"), with such modifications as may be appropriate or necessary, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter and the Issuer, to accurately reflect, as applicable, the sales price or prices or the initial offering price or prices to the public of the Bonds.

9. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Agreement shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of the Issuer, the Underwriter and the Company, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Agreement is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used in this Agreement shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter. This Agreement may be executed by any one or more of the parties hereto in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

The representations and warranties of the Issuer contained in Section 3 hereof shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Underwriter, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds.

Re: Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority $172,000,000 Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Series 2024A Bonds")

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This letter shall serve as the opinion of the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") in connection with the issuance on behalf of Florida Power & Light Company (the "Borrower") of $172,000,000 Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Series 2024A Bonds").

The Series 2024A Bonds are authorized to be issued pursuant to the Resolution duly adopted by the Issuer on May 8, 2024 (the "Bond Authorization"). All terms used but not defined in this letter shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Bond Authorization.

The Series 2024A Bonds are being issued pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the State of Florida (the "State"), including particularly Chapter 159, Parts II and III, Florida Statutes, as amended and other applicable provisions of Florida law (collectively, the "Act").

In our capacity as counsel to the Issuer in connection with the issuance of the Series 2024A Bonds, we have reviewed: (i) the Act; (ii) the Bond Authorization; (iii) the Official Statement dated May 14, 2024 relating to the Series 2024A Bonds (the "Official Statement"); (iv) the Underwriting Agreement dated May 22, 2024 (the "Underwriting Agreement"), between the Issuer and U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association (the "Underwriter") and approved by the Borrower; (v) the Trust Indenture, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"); (vi) the Loan Agreement dated as of May 1, 2024, between the Issuer and the Borrower (the "Loan Agreement:); (vii) the Tax Compliance Certificate of the Issuer dated May 23, 2024 (the "Tax Certificate") (viii) the Closing Certificate of the Issuer, dated May 23, 2024; (ix) the Letter of Representation (the "Letter of Representation") by and among the Borrower, the Underwriter and the Issuer, and (x) such other documents, agreements, certificates and affidavits relating to the issuance of the Series 2024A Bonds as we have deemed necessary to render the opinions expressed in this letter.

Based on the foregoing and upon such further investigation and review as we have deemed necessary, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer is a public body corporate and politic created pursuant to Section 159.45, Florida Statutes and is empowered pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the State, including the Act, with full legal right, power and authority to (i) issue the Series 2024A Bonds for the purposes described in, and in the manner contemplated by the Official Statement; and (ii) use the proceeds from the issuance of the Series 2024A Bonds in the manner contemplated by the Bond Authorization.

2. The Issuer has full legal right, power and authority to adopt the Bond Authorization, and the Issuer has complied with all provisions of applicable law in all matters related to the transactions contemplated in the Bond Authorization.

3. The Issuer has duly adopted the Bond Authorization at meetings duly noticed, called and held and at which a quorum was present and voting throughout, and the Issuer duly authorized: (i) the execution and delivery of the Series 2024A Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement, the Tax Certificate and Letter of Representation; (ii) the delivery and distribution of the Official Statement; and (iii) the taking of any and all such action as may be required on the part of the Issuer to carry out, give effect to, and consummate the transactions contemplated by those documents. The Bond Authorization has not been amended, modified, revoked or repealed, except as expressly provided therein, since their date of adoption.

4. The Bond Authorization, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement, the Tax Certificate and the Letter of Representation and the Series 2024A Bonds constitute legal, valid and binding revenue obligations of the Issuer enforceable in accordance with their respective terms.

5. The adoption of the Bond Authorization, the execution and delivery of the Series 2024A Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement and the delivery and distribution of the Official Statement by the Issuer, and compliance with the provisions of each, under the circumstances contemplated by such documents, do not conflict with or violate the Act, or any existing federal law, administrative regulation, rule, decree or order, and do not, in any respect material to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Series 2024A Bonds or the performance of any other obligations under the Series 2024A Bonds, (i) constitute on the part of the Issuer a breach of or default under any indenture, deed of trust, agreement or other instrument of which we have knowledge and to which the Issuer is a party, or (ii) to the best of our knowledge, conflict with, violate, or result in a breach of any existing law, public order or consent decree to which the Issuer is subject.

6. There is no litigation or other proceeding pending or, to the best of our knowledge, threatened in any court or other tribunal, state or federal: (i) restraining or enjoining or seeking to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale or delivery of the Series 2024A Bonds; (ii) in any way questioning or affecting the validity of any provision of the Series 2024A Bonds, the Bond Authorization, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate, the Letter of Representation or the Underwriting Agreement; (iii) in any way questioning or affecting the validity of any of the proceedings or authority for the issuance of the Series 2024A Bonds; or (iv) questioning or affecting the organization or existence of the Issuer or the title of any of its officers to their respective offices.

7. The statements contained in the Official Statement under the captions, "THE ISSUER," "LEGALITY" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS," insofar as the statements under such captions purport to summarize certain legal matters related to the Issuer, fairly and accurately present the information purported to be summarized in such statements.

The opinions expressed in this letter are generally qualified as follows:

(a) All opinions relating to the enforceability with respect to the Issuer are subject to and limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, in each case relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights, generally, and equitable principles that may affect remedies or injunctive or other equitable relief.

(b) All opinions are predicated upon present laws, facts and circumstances, and we assume no affirmative obligation to update the opinions if such laws, facts or circumstances change after the date of this opinion.

(c) Our opinions do not pertain to any law other than the laws of the State of Florida and the laws of the United States. No opinion is expressed as to the requirements of any federal laws which may govern the issuance, offering and sale of the Series 2024A Bonds, except as specifically set forth in this letter, or which may govern the exclusion from income for federal income tax purposes of interest on the Series 2024A Bonds.

(d) Where we render an opinion "to our knowledge" or our opinion otherwise refers to our knowledge, our opinion, with respect to matters of fact, is based solely upon (i) our actual knowledge, (ii) an examination of documents in our files, and (iii) such other investigation, if any, as we specifically set forth herein.

(e) The opinions expressed in this letter are for the sole benefit of the parties named above and no other individual or entity may rely upon them without our prior approval or acknowledgment.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Concurrently herewith, we have delivered our approving opinion as bond counsel (the "Approving Opinion"), dated May 23, 2024, relating to $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Bonds"), and examined a record of proceedings relating thereto. Capitalized words used in this opinion not otherwise defined herein shall have the same meanings as are given such capitalized words in the Official Statement related to the Bonds dated May 14, 2024.

The opinions herein are supplemental to and are subject to all qualifications and limitations contained in our Approving Opinion, except that we also opine with respect to the federal securities laws of the United States of America. Although the Approving Opinion was addressed only to the Issuer, U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association, Florida Power & Light Company and Regions Bank are authorized to rely upon the Approving Opinion to the same extent as if it were addressed to them. Subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

(1) In connection with the offering and sale of the Bonds to the public, neither the Bonds nor any securities evidenced thereby are required to be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and neither the Indenture nor any other instrument is required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

(2) The statements in the Official Statement relating to the Bonds, the Indenture and the Agreement under the captions "THE SERIES 2024 BONDS" (except for certain information and statements related to The Depository Trust Company under "THE SERIES 2024 BONDS--Book-Entry System", as to which, with your permission, we express no opinion), "THE AGREEMENT", "THE INDENTURE" and "TAX MATTERS," insofar as they describe the provisions of the Bonds, the Agreement and the Indenture or the tax-exempt status of the Bonds, are fair and accurate statements or summaries of the matters set forth therein.

This letter is furnished by us solely for your benefit in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds and may not, without our express written consent, be relied upon by any other person. The delivery of this letter to a non-client does not create an attorney-client relationship. The opinions expressed herein are predicated upon present law, facts and circumstances, and we assume no affirmative obligation to update the opinions expressed herein if such laws, facts or circumstances change after the date hereof.

Respectfully yours,

Re: $172,000,000 Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A

We have acted as counsel to our client, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company"), in connection with the issuance and sale by the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Issuer's Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Bonds"), issued under the Trust Indenture, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), and in connection with the sale of the Bonds to the Underwriter in accordance with the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) the Indenture, (2) the Loan Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer; (3) the Letter of Representation, dated May 22, 2024 (the "Letter of Representation"), from the Company to the Issuer and the Underwriter; (4) the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024 (the "Remarketing Agreement"), by and between the Company and U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc. and U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association (the "Remarketing Agent"); (5) the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, dated May 23, 2024 (the "Continuing Disclosure Undertaking"), by and between the Company and the Trustee; (6) the Tender Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Tender Agreement"), by and among the Company, the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent, and (7) such corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed (1) the Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024, including Appendix A (the "Official Statement"), and (2) the Final Order Granting Florida Power & Light Company and Florida City Gas Approval For Authority to Issue and Sell Securities, Order No. PSC-2023-0318-FOF-E1 issued by the Florida Public Service Commission on October 19, 2022.

Upon the basis of the foregoing and at the request of the Company, we advise you that:

1. The Company is a validly organized and existing corporation and is in active status under the laws of the State of Florida, and is doing business in that State, and has valid franchises, licenses and permits adequate for the conduct of its business.

2. The Company is a corporation duly authorized by its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the "Charter"), to conduct the business which it is now conducting as set forth in the Official Statement; the Company is subject, as to retail rates and services, issuance of securities, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Florida Public Service Commission; and the Company is subject, as to wholesale rates, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

3. Except as stated or referred to in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented to date (including amendments or supplements to date resulting from the filing of documents incorporated therein by reference), to our knowledge after due inquiry, there are no material pending legal proceedings to which the Company is a party or of which property of the Company is the subject which if determined adversely would have a material adverse effect on the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole and, to the best of our knowledge, no such proceeding is known by us to be contemplated by governmental authorities. We know of no litigation or proceedings, pending or threatened, challenging the validity of the Loan Agreement or the Letter of Representation or seeking to enjoin the performance of the Company's obligations thereunder.

4. The Loan Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general equity principles and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and subject to any principles of public policy limiting the right to enforce the indemnification provisions contained in Section 7.3 therein.

5. The Letter of Representation has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 6 therein.

6. The Remarketing Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 4 therein.

7. The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium and other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

8. The Tender Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 11(a) therein.

9. The consummation by the Company of the transactions contemplated in the Letter of Representation, and the fulfillment by the Company of the terms of the Loan Agreement and the Letter of Representation, will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Amended and Restated Bylaws of the Company, or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument, the terms of which are known to us, to which the Company is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of the Company.

10. The Loan Agreement is being executed and delivered pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the Florida Public Service Commission, which authority is adequate to permit such action. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body is legally required for the performance of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement.

11. The offer and sale of the Bonds do not require registration of the Bonds under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and, in connection therewith, the Indenture is not required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; provided that, in giving this opinion, we have, with your consent, relied on the opinions of even date herewith rendered to you by Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A. as Bond Counsel, as to the legal status of the Issuer and we have made no independent factual investigation with respect to such exclusion.

Additionally, we refer you to the Official Statement. As counsel to the Company, we reviewed the Official Statement and participated in discussions with your representatives and certain officers and employees of the Company, certain of its other legal counsel, Bond Counsel and your counsel regarding such documents and information and related matters. The purpose of our professional engagement was not to establish or confirm factual matters set forth in the Official Statement and we have not undertaken any obligation to verify independently any of such factual matters. Moreover, many of the determinations required to be made in the preparation of the Official Statement involve matters of a non-legal nature.

Subject to the foregoing, we confirm to you, on the basis of the information gained by those of our lawyers involved in the review and discussions referred to above, in the course of performing the services referred to above, nothing came to the attention of those lawyers that caused them to believe that the Official Statement, as of its date, and as of the date hereof, contained or contains any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted or omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that (a) we are not passing upon and do not assume any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the statements contained in the Official Statement (except as and to the extent set forth in this paragraph), (b) we do not express any belief with respect to the financial statements, schedules, notes, other financial, statistical and accounting information derived therefrom, including any such information presented in interactive data format, and assessments or reports on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, in each case contained in the Official Statement or incorporated by reference, as the case may be, at the respective times as of which the advisements set forth in this paragraph are provided and (c) we do not express any belief with respect to statements made in the Official Statement under the captions "THE ISSUER", "TAX MATTERS" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATORS" and in Appendix C Form of Approving Opinion of Bond Counsel.

This letter is being furnished only to you for your use solely in connection with the transaction described herein and may not be relied upon by anyone else or for any other purpose without our prior written consent. No confirmations other than those expressly stated herein shall be implied or inferred as a result of anything contained in or omitted from this letter. The confirmations expressed in this letter are stated only as of the time of its delivery and we disclaim any obligation to revise or supplement this letter thereafter.

Very truly yours,

Re: $172,000,000 Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority
Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel to U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association (the "Underwriter"), in connection with the issuance by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of the above-captioned bonds (the "Series 2024A Bonds"). The Series 2024A Bonds are being issued on the date hereof pursuant to a Trust Indenture dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture") between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee") on behalf of Florida Power & Light Company (the "Borrower"). Each term used but not defined herein has the meaning assigned to such term in the Underwriting Agreement dated May 22, 2024 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Issuer and the Underwriter.

In connection with our engagement, we have examined originals or copies of the documents (the "Closing Documents") delivered at the closing on the date hereof, as listed in the List of Closing Documents dated as of the closing date, and such laws as we deemed necessary. We have also reviewed, and believe you may reasonably rely upon, the opinions delivered to you today pursuant to the provisions of the Underwriting Agreement by the Office of the County Attorney for the Issuer, Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., as Bond Counsel, & Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, as counsel to the Company.

Based upon the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

(1) The conditions in the Underwriting Agreement relating to your obligation to purchase the Series 2024A Bonds have been satisfied.

(2) No registration need be made with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2024A Bonds, and neither the Indenture nor any other instrument is required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2024A Bonds.

(3) The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, dated May 23, 2024, between the Company and the Trustee, complies with the requirements of paragraph (b)(5) of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") promulgated pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, in effect as of the date hereof.

We have participated in the preparation of the Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024 (including the appendices thereto, the "Official Statement"), relating to the offering and sale of the Series 2024A Bonds. To assist the Underwriter in its investigation concerning the Official Statement, certain of our lawyers responsible for this matter have reviewed the Closing Documents and we have participated in certain discussions with the officials of the Borrower and others in order to assist the Underwriter in its investigation of the business affairs of the Borrower. In addition to our examination of the Closing Documents, we have participated with the Underwriter by telephone with officials of the Borrower and its counsel on May 14, 2024 to review the present business of the Borrower and its operations and financial condition, and to inquire about the prospective business, operations and financial condition of the Borrower and the accuracy of the factual statements contained in the Official Statement.

Except for the review of documents and laws and the discussions referred to above, we have not made any independent investigation of the Borrower's business affairs or any independent verification of the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the statements of fact contained in the Official Statement. On the basis of our participation, we do not believe that the Official Statement, as of its date, or as of the date hereof, in each case except for (i) financial projections or other financial or statistical data included or incorporated by reference therein, (ii) the information relating to The Depository Trust Company under the heading "THE SERIES 2024A BONDS — Book-Entry System," and (iii) Appendix C of the Official Statement, as to all of which we express no belief, contained or contains, as applicable, any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted or omits to state a material fact, which, in our judgment, should be included in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Reference in this letter to "our lawyers responsible for this matter" refers only to those lawyers now with this firm who rendered legal services in connection with our representation of the Underwriter in this matter.

We are furnishing this letter to the Underwriter solely for its benefit. We disclaim any obligation to update this letter. This letter is not to be used, circulated, quoted or otherwise referred to or relied upon for any other purpose or by any other person, provided it may be included in any List of Closing Documents. This letter is not intended to and may not be relied upon by holders of the Series 2024A Bonds or any party who is not the Underwriter.

Very truly yours,

New York, NY 10036
Attention: Managing Director
(the "Underwriter" named in the Underwriting Agreement dated the date hereof (the "Agreement")
relating to the Bonds referred to below)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In consideration of the issuance and sale by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project) Series 2024A (the "Bonds") and the purchase of the Bonds by the Underwriter pursuant to the Agreement, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") represents, warrants and covenants to and agrees with the Issuer and the Underwriter, and the Issuer and the Underwriter by their acceptance hereof agree with the Company as follows (all terms not specifically defined in this Letter of Representation shall have the same meanings herein as in the Agreement):

1. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company represents and warrants that:

(a) When the Official Statement shall be issued and at the Closing Date, the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), will not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this subsection (a) shall not apply to statements in or omissions from the Official Statement under the captions "TAX MATTERS", "UNDERWRITING" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" or in Appendices B, C, D and E or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price, tax matters or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter.

(b) The Official Statement, which the Company has authorized the Underwriter to use and which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), including any amendments thereto, shall be prepared in word-searchable PDF format as described in the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's ("MSRB") Rule G-32 and such electronic copy of the word-searchable PDF format of the Official Statement shall be provided to the Underwriter no later than one (1) business day prior to the Closing Date to enable the Underwriter to comply with MSRB Rule G-32.

(c) The documents incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented, fully complied, at the time they were filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) The financial statements contained or incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; and such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Official Statement.

(e) Since the most recent dates as of which information is given in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company, and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, nor has any transaction been entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as whole, other than changes and transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business. The Company and its subsidiaries do not have any material contingent obligation which is not reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented.

(f) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement and this Letter of Representation, on the part of the Company to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of the Company in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the "Charter"), its Amended and Restated Bylaws (the "Bylaws") and applicable law, and this Letter of Representation constitutes, and the Loan Agreement and the CDU when executed and delivered by the Company will constitute, legal, valid and binding obligations of the Company in accordance with their terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general equity principles, and subject to any principles of public policy limiting the right to enforce the indemnification provisions contained in Section 6 herein and Section 7.3 of the Loan Agreement.

(g) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement, the CDU and this Letter of Representation will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or Bylaws of the Company or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which the Company is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties, or financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(h) The terms and conditions of the Agreement as they relate to the Company and the Company's participation in the transactions contemplated thereby are satisfactory to it.

1A. Acknowledgment of the Company. The Company acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the primary role of the Underwriter, as underwriter, is to purchase securities, for resale to investors, in an arm's length commercial transaction among the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter and that the Underwriter has financial and other interests that differ from those of the Company; (ii) the Underwriter is acting solely as principal and is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to the Company and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Underwriter has provided other services or is currently providing other services to the Company on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Underwriter has to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement and, with respect to its role as remarketing agent with U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc., in the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024, between the Company and the Underwriter and U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc.; and (iv) the Company has consulted its own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate.

2. Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees that:

(a) As soon as practicable following execution hereof (but in no event later than the earlier of two business days after the date hereof and the day prior to the Closing Date), in order that the Underwriter may comply with paragraph (b)(3) of Rule 15c2-12 ("Rule 15c2-12") promulgated by the SEC under the Exchange Act, the Company shall deliver to the Underwriter the final Official Statement, in such quantities as the Underwriter may reasonably request. Upon the issuance thereof, the Company will deliver to the Underwriter copies of all amendments and supplements to the Official Statement.

(b) At its expense, if requested by the Underwriter, it will cause to be prepared and furnished to the Underwriter one copy of each of the documents incorporated by reference in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and as many additional copies of such documents incorporated by reference as shall be requested of the Underwriter by prospective purchasers of the Bonds.

(c) It will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the Underwriter may designate, provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process, under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by the Company to be unduly burdensome.

(d) It will not take or omit to take any action the taking or omission of which would cause the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to be applied in a manner contrary to that provided for in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, as each may be amended from time to time.

3. Expenses.

(a) Upon the issuance and delivery of the Bonds by the Issuer to the Underwriter, the Company will pay, or cause to be paid, all expenses (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter) and costs incident to the authorization, issuance, printing, sale and delivery, as the case may be, of the underwriting papers, the Bonds, the Official Statement, this Letter of Representation and the blue sky survey, including without limitation: (A) any taxes, other than transfer taxes, in connection with the issuance of the Bonds hereunder; (B) any rating agency fees; (C) the fees of the Trustee; (D) the fees and disbursements of Bond Counsel, Issuer Counsel and the Company; (E) the fees of the Issuer; and (F) the fees and disbursements (including filing fees) of Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter.

(b) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Sections 6 or 7(b) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3, and the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(c) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7(a) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(d) If the Underwriter shall fail or refuse, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, the cancellation or termination of its obligation thereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds as provided in Section 2 thereof, the Underwriter will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3.

(e) The Issuer shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter or the Company for any expenses or costs incident to the issuance and sale of the Bonds nor for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. The Company shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. Nothing herein shall be construed to relieve the Underwriter of its liability for its default under the Agreement.

4. Conditions of the Company's Obligation. The obligation of the Company to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement shall be subject to the condition that, on the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in such transactions, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Company by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution of this Letter of Representation contains any such unacceptable provision. In case the aforesaid condition shall not have been fulfilled, this Letter of Representation and the Company's obligation to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement may be terminated by the Company, upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Underwriter, except that the obligations of the Company under Section 3 hereof shall survive.

5. Representation of the Issuer. The acceptance and confirmation of this Letter of Representation by the Issuer shall constitute a representation and warranty by the Issuer to the Company that the representations and warranties contained in Section 3 of the Agreement are true as of the date hereof and will be true in all material respects as of the Closing Date.

6. Indemnification.

(a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter and each person who controls the Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto, including documents incorporated by reference, shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not apply to the Underwriter (or any person controlling the Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, under the captions "TAX MATTERS" (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project (as defined in the Loan Agreement) contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder) and "UNDERWRITING" or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price or tax matters (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder); and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not inure to the benefit of the Underwriter (or of any person controlling such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of Bonds to any person if such Underwriter shall have failed to send or give to such person (i) with or prior to the written confirmation of such sale, a copy of the Official Statement or the Official Statement as amended or supplemented, if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been timely furnished at or prior to the time of written confirmation of the sale involved, but exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement is not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of confirmation, or (ii) with or prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, a copy of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement which shall have been furnished subsequent to such written confirmation and prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement was not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of such delivery. The Issuer agrees to notify promptly the Company, and the Underwriter agrees to notify promptly the Company and the Issuer, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(b) The Underwriter agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, and the Company, its officers and directors, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities, or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, but only with respect to information contained under the caption "UNDERWRITING" or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price and terms of offering or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter. The Issuer and the Company each agree promptly to notify the Underwriter, the Issuer and the Company, as the case may be, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees, or any of its aforesaid officers and directors or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(c) The Company, the Underwriter and the Issuer each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, any of its aforesaid officers and directors, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, as the case may be, in respect of which indemnity may be sought on account of any indemnity agreement contained herein, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity shall be sought hereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of such indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties and who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action).

7. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Letter of Representation shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Letter of Representation shall inure to the benefit of the Company, the Issuer, the Underwriter and, with respect to the provisions of Section 6 hereof, each official, employee, officer, director and controlling person referred to in said Section 6, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Letter of Representation is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Letter of Representation or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used herein shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter.

The indemnity agreements of the Company and the Underwriter contained in Section 6 hereof and the representations and warranties of the Company and the Issuer contained herein shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter or any controlling person thereof, or the Company or any director, officer or controlling person thereof, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. The agreements contained in Section 3 hereof to pay expenses shall survive the termination of the Agreement and this Letter of Representation.

This Letter of Representation may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be regarded as an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Letter of Representation transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Letter of Representation for all purposes. This Letter of Representation shall become effective upon the execution and acceptance thereof and the effectiveness of the Agreement, and it shall terminate as provided in Section 4 hereof or upon the termination of the Agreement.

ISSUE PRICE CERTIFICATE

Pertaining to

$172,000,000
Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority
Revenue Bonds
(Florida Power & Light Company Project)
Series 2024A

The undersigned, on behalf of U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association ("U.S. Bancorp"), as Underwriter, hereby certifies as set forth below with respect to the sale and issuance of the above-captioned obligations (the "Bonds").

1. Sale of the Bonds. As of the date of this certificate, for each maturity of the Bonds, the first price at which at least 10% of such maturity of the Bonds was sold to the Public was at 100% of the stated principal amount thereof.

Defined Terms.

Issuer means the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority

Maturity means Bonds with the same credit and payment terms. Bonds with different maturity dates, or Bonds with the same maturity date but different stated interest rates, are treated as separate Maturities.

Public means any person (including an individual, trust, estate, partnership, association, company, or corporation) other than an Underwriter or a related party to an Underwriter. The term "related party" for purposes of this certificate generally means any two or more persons who have greater than 50 percent common ownership, directly or indirectly.

Underwriter means (i) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract with the Issuer (or with the lead underwriter to form an underwriting syndicate) to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public, and (ii) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract directly or indirectly with a person described in clause (i) of this paragraph to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public (including a member of a selling group or a party to a third-party distribution agreement participating in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public).

2. Average Maturity of the Bonds. The average maturity of the Bonds has been calculated to be 29.939 years.

The representations set forth in this certificate are limited to factual matters only. Nothing in this certificate represents U.S. Bancorp's interpretation of any laws, including specifically Sections 103 and 148 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the Treasury Regulations thereunder. The undersigned understands that the foregoing information will be relied upon by the Issuer and the Company with respect to certain of the representations set forth in the Tax Certificate and with respect to compliance with the federal income tax rules affecting the Bonds, and by Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., in connection with rendering their opinion that the interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes, the preparation of the Internal Revenue Service Form 8038, and other federal income tax advice that it may give to the Issuer and the Company from time to time relating to the Bonds.

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT, dated May 22, 2024, between Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") and PNC Capital Markets LLC (the "Underwriter").

1. Description of Bonds. The Issuer proposes to issue and sell $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B, with the terms specified in Schedule I hereto (the "Bonds"), pursuant to a Trust Indenture, to be dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), and pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Issuer on May 8, 2024 (the "Resolution"). The Bonds will be payable, except to the extent payable from bond proceeds and other moneys pledged therefor, solely from, and secured by a pledge of, the revenues to be derived by the Issuer under a Loan Agreement, to be dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Issuer and Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company").

2. Purchase, Sale and Closing. On the basis of the representations and warranties contained herein and in the Letter of Representation, hereinafter defined, and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Official Statement, hereinafter defined, the Underwriter will purchase from the Issuer, and the Issuer will sell to such Underwriter, the Bonds. The price for the Bonds will be 100% of the principal amount thereof less an underwriter's discount of $107,500 and out-of-pocket expenses of $1,114. The closing will be held at the office of Locke Lord LLP at 777 South Flagler Drive, Suite 215-E, West Palm Beach, Florida 33401 at 11:00 a.m. New York time on May 23, 2024 (the "Closing Date"), or such other date, time or place as may be agreed upon by the parties hereto. The hour and date of such closing are herein called the "Closing Date." The Bonds will be delivered in the name of a nominee of The Depository Trust Company, and will be made available to the Underwriter for inspection at such place as may be agreed upon by the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter.

The Issuer acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the primary role of the Underwriter, as underwriter, is to purchase securities, for resale to investors, in an arm's length commercial transaction among the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter and that the Underwriter has financial and other interests that differ from those of the Issuer; (ii) the Underwriter is acting solely as principal and is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to the Issuer and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Issuer with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Underwriter has provided other services or are currently providing other services to the Issuer on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Underwriter has to the Issuer with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement and, with respect to its role as remarketing agent, in the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024 between the Company and the Underwriter; and (iv) the Issuer has consulted its own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate.

3. Representations of the Issuer. The Issuer represents and warrants to the Underwriter that:

(a) The Issuer has approved the delivery of an Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024, which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), for use in connection with the sale and distribution of the Bonds. Appendix A to such Official Statement describes certain matters relating to the Company and is sometimes herein separately referred to as "Appendix A." Such Official Statement, as amended and supplemented, including in each case Appendix A and all documents incorporated by reference therein, Appendix B, Appendix C, Appendix D and Appendix E, is herein referred to as the "Official Statement," and all references herein to matters described, contained or set forth in the Official Statement shall, unless specifically stated otherwise, include Appendix A and all documents incorporated by reference therein, Appendix B, Appendix C, Appendix D and Appendix E. For the purposes of the Agreement, all documents filed by the Company pursuant to Section 13(a), 13(c), 14 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), after the date of the Official Statement and incorporated by reference in the Official Statement until the expiration of the underwriting period (as described in Rule 15c2-12) shall be deemed to be a supplement to the Official Statement. The information with respect to the Issuer contained in the Official Statement under the heading "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" does not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The Underwriter and the Company acknowledge that the Issuer has not participated in the preparation of the Official Statement. The Issuer assumes no responsibilities for the accuracy, sufficiency or fairness of any statements in the Official Statement or any supplements thereto other than statements and information therein relating to the Issuer under the captions "INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT", "THE ISSUER" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS".

(b) The Issuer will not at any time authorize an amendment or supplement (including an amendment or supplement resulting from the filing of a document incorporated by reference) to the Official Statement without prior notice to the Company, the Underwriter, and Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter, or any such amendment or supplement to which the Company or the Underwriter shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Ballard Spahr LLP. At the date hereof, the information with respect to the Issuer in the Official Statement is true and correct.

(c) The Issuer is a validly existing public body corporate and politic of the State of Florida with full legal right, power and authority under the laws of the State of Florida, including particularly Parts II and III of Chapter 159, Florida Statutes, as amended, to consummate the transactions involving the Issuer contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and to fulfill the terms hereof on the part of the Issuer to be fulfilled.

(d) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of the Issuer to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary action of the Issuer in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida.

(e) The execution and delivery by the Issuer of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, the pledge and assignment by the Issuer to the Trustee of certain of its rights under the Loan Agreement, the consummation by the Issuer on its part of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof by the Issuer and the compliance by the Issuer with all the terms and provisions of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement will not conflict with, or constitute a breach of or default under, any constitutional provision, statute or ordinance, any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, resolution or other agreement or instrument to which the Issuer is now a party or by which it is now bound, or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, any order, rule or regulation applicable to the Issuer of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over the Issuer or any of its activities or properties.

(f) Except as disclosed in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, there is no action, suit, proceeding, inquiry or investigation, at law or in equity, or before or by any court, public board or body to which the Issuer is a party, pending or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, threatened against the Issuer, (i) to restrain or enjoin the issuance or sale of the Bonds or the performance by the Issuer of the Loan Agreement or the Indenture including without limitation assignment to the Trustee of the Issuer's right to receive Loan Repayments (as defined in the Loan Agreement) and certain other rights under the Loan Agreement as security for the Bonds, or (ii) wherein an unfavorable decision, ruling or finding would (A) have a material adverse effect on the transactions contemplated herein or in the Official Statement or (B) adversely affect or put in question the validity or enforceability of the Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, this Agreement, the Letter of Representation, dated the date hereof, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit E (the "Letter of Representation") from the Company to the Issuer and the Underwriter or any other agreement, instrument or document to which the Issuer is a party or by which it is bound relating to the consummation of the transactions contemplated herein or in the Official Statement.

4. Underwriter's Representation. The Underwriter intends to make a public offering of the Bonds for sale upon the terms set forth in the Official Statement. The Underwriter agrees to file a copy of the Official Statement with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") in accordance with Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below).

5. Covenants of the Issuer. The Issuer agrees that:

(a) As soon as practicable following execution hereof (but in no event later than the earlier of two business days after the date hereof and the day prior to the Closing Date), in order that the Underwriter may comply with paragraph (b)(3) of Rule 15c2-12 ("Rule 15c2-12") promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") under the Exchange Act, the Issuer shall direct the Company to deliver to the Underwriter the final Official Statement, in such quantities as the Underwriter may reasonably request. Upon the issuance thereof, the Issuer will direct the Company to deliver to the Underwriter copies of all amendments and supplements to the Official Statement (other than documents incorporated by reference therein).

(b) It will cooperate with the Company and the Underwriter in connection with the preparation of the Official Statement and any amendment or supplement thereto which the Company may be required to furnish the Underwriter pursuant to the Letter of Representation.

(c) It will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the Underwriter may designate, provided that the Issuer shall not be required to qualify as a dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process, under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by the Issuer to be unduly burdensome.

(d) It will not take or omit to take any action the taking or omission of which would cause the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to be applied in a manner contrary to that provided for in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, as each may be amended from time to time.

(e) At the request of the Underwriter or the Company, it will take such action as is necessary and within its power and at the sole expense of the Company to assure or maintain the status of the interest on the Bonds as excluded from gross income for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the regulations thereunder.

The foregoing covenants are conditioned upon the Company's compliance with Section 2 of the Letter of Representation.

6. Conditions of Underwriter's Obligation. The obligation of the Underwriter to purchase and pay for the Bonds shall be subject to the accuracy of, and compliance with, the representations and warranties of the Issuer and the Company contained herein and in the Letter of Representation, respectively, to the performance by the Issuer and the Company of their obligations to be performed hereunder and under the Letter of Representation, respectively, at and prior to the Closing Date and to the following conditions:

(a) At the Closing Date, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking between the Company and the Trustee to be dated as of the Closing Date with respect to the Bonds (the "CDU") and the Letter of Representation shall be in full force and effect, and if executed subsequent to the execution hereof and prior to the Closing Date, shall not have been amended, modified or supplemented except as may have been agreed to in writing by the Underwriter; provided, however, that the acceptance of delivery of the Bonds by the Underwriter on the Closing Date shall be deemed to constitute such approval; and the Underwriter shall have received an executed counterpart or certified copy of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the CDU.

(b) At the Closing Date, the Bonds shall have been duly authorized, executed and authenticated in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

(c) At the Closing Date, no order, decree or injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction shall have been issued, or proceedings therefor shall have been commenced, nor shall any order, ruling, regulation or official statement by any governmental official, body or board, have been issued, nor shall any legislation have been enacted, with the purpose or effect of prohibiting or limiting the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds as contemplated herein or in the Official Statement or the performance of the Indenture or the Loan Agreement, in accordance with their respective terms.

(d) At the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Underwriter by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution hereof by the Underwriter contains any such unacceptable provision.

(e) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received opinions, dated the Closing Date, of the Office of the County Attorney of Miami-Dade County, Florida substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto, Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., as Bond Counsel substantially in the forms of Appendix C to the Official Statement and Exhibit B hereto, Squire Patton Boggs (US), LLP, as counsel to the Company, substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, and Ballard Spahr LLP, as counsel for the Underwriter, substantially in the form of Exhibit D hereto, respectively, but with such changes as the Underwriter shall approve.

(f) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from Deloitte & Touche LLP an "agreed-upon procedures letter," in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriter, setting forth the procedures undertaken with respect to the review of the audited financial statements of the Company appearing in the Official Statement and providing certain conclusions regarding the information with respect to which such review procedures were applied.

(g) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Issuer a certificate of its Executive Director, dated the Closing Date, stating in effect that each of the representations and warranties of the Issuer set forth herein is true, accurate and complete in all material respects at and as of the Closing Date and that each of the obligations of the Issuer hereunder to be performed by it at or prior to the Closing Date has been performed.

(h) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received a certified copy of the Resolution of the Issuer authorizing the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(i) Since the date of the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), and up to the Closing Date, there shall have been no material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, except as reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be so amended or supplemented, and, since such date and up to the Closing Date, there shall have been no transaction entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be so amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business.

(j) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Company a certificate, dated the Closing Date, signed by the President or any Vice President or the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Company to the effect of paragraph (i) above and stating in effect that the representations and warranties of the Company set forth in the Letter of Representation are true, accurate and complete in all material respects at and as of the Closing Date and that each of the obligations of the Company under the Letter of Representation to be performed at or prior to the Closing Date has been performed.

(k) At the Closing Date, the Underwriter shall have received from the Company evidence satisfactory to the Underwriter to the effect that Moody's Investors Service, Inc., S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc. and Fitch Ratings Inc. have or will provide a short term rating of "VMIG-1," "A-1" and "F1," respectively, with respect to the Bonds.

In case any of the conditions specified above in this Section 6 shall not have been fulfilled, this Agreement may be terminated by the Underwriter upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Issuer and the Company. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 3 of the Letter of Representation.

7. Termination.

(a) This Agreement may be terminated by the Underwriter by delivering written notice thereof to the Issuer and the Company, at or prior to the Closing Date, if:

(i) after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date there shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on the New York Stock Exchange or there shall have been established by the New York Stock Exchange or by the SEC or by any federal or state agency or by the decision of any court any limitation on prices for such trading or any restrictions on the distribution of securities, or a general banking moratorium declared by New York or federal authorities, the effect of which on the financial markets of the United States shall be such as to make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(ii) there shall have occurred any new outbreak of hostilities including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date of this Agreement or other national or international calamity or crisis or the escalation of such calamity or crisis, the effect of which on the financial markets of the United States shall be such as to make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(iii) after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date, legislation shall be enacted by the Congress or adopted by either House thereof or a decision shall be rendered by a federal court, including the Tax Court of the United States, or a ruling, regulation or order by or on behalf of the Treasury Department of the United States, the Internal Revenue Service or other governmental agency shall be issued or proposed with respect to the imposition of federal income taxation upon receipts, revenues or other income of the same kind and character expected to be derived by the Issuer, including, without limitation, loan repayments and other amounts under the Loan Agreement, or upon interest received on bonds of the same kind and character as the Bonds, with the result in any such case that it is impracticable, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter, for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds;

(iv) the subject matter of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement prepared and furnished by the Issuer or the Company renders it, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter, either inadvisable to proceed with the offering or inadvisable to proceed with the delivery of the Bonds to be purchased hereunder;

(v) a stop order, release, regulation or no-action letter by or on behalf of SEC or any other governmental agency having jurisdiction of the subject matter shall have been issued or made to the effect that the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds, including all the underlying obligations as contemplated hereby or by the Official Statement, or any document relating to the issuance, offering or sale of the Bonds is or would be in violation of any provision of the federal securities laws at the Closing Date, including, but not limited to, the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; or

(vi) there shall have occurred a material adverse change in the financial markets of the United States, the effect of which shall make it impracticable for the Underwriter to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds.

(b) This Agreement shall terminate upon the termination of the Letter of Representation as provided in Section 4 thereof.

(c) Any termination of this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7 shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 3 of the Letter of Representation.

8. Truth-In-Bonding Statement. The Issuer is proposing to issue $172,000,000 principal amount of Bonds for the purpose of loaning the proceeds of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of (i) financing or refinancing a portion of the cost of acquisition, construction, installation and equipping of certain wastewater/sewage facilities, including functionally related and subordinate facilities, at its plant site located in Homestead, Florida as more fully described in the Indenture; (ii) fund capitalized interest during the construction period, and (iii) pay certain bond issuance costs. The Bonds are expected to be repaid over a period of approximately 30 years. The Bonds will initially bear interest at a variable rate. At an assumed interest rate of 3.750% total interest paid over the life of the Bonds will be $193,234,932.08.

The source of repayment or security for this proposal is the payments by the Company under a Loan Agreement securing the Bonds. Assuming the aforementioned interest rate, authorizing the Bonds will result in an average of $12,199,348.26 average annual debt service of such moneys of the Company not being available to finance other services of the Company each year for approximately 30 years. An itemized list setting forth the nature and estimated amounts of expenses to be incurred by the Underwriter in connection with the issuance of the Bonds is set forth on Schedule II attached hereto.

The Underwriter agrees to assist the Issuer in establishing the issue price of the Bonds and shall execute and deliver to the Issuer at Closing an "issue price" or similar certificate, together with the supporting pricing wires or equivalent communications, substantially in the form of Exhibit F hereto (the "Issue Price Certificate"), with such modifications as may be appropriate or necessary, in the reasonable judgment of the Underwriter and the Issuer, to accurately reflect, as applicable, the sales price or prices or the initial offering price or prices to the public of the Bonds.

9. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Agreement shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of the Issuer, the Underwriter and the Company, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Agreement is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used in this Agreement shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter. This Agreement may be executed by any one or more of the parties hereto in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

The representations and warranties of the Issuer contained in Section 3 hereof shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Underwriter, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds.

10. Notices and other Actions. All notices, demands and formal actions hereunder will be in writing mailed, telecopied or delivered to:

Re: Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority $172,000,000 Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Series 2024B Bonds")

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This letter shall serve as the opinion of the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") in connection with the issuance on behalf of Florida Power & Light Company (the "Borrower") of $172,000,000 Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Series 2024B Bonds").

The Series 2024B Bonds are authorized to be issued pursuant to the Resolution duly adopted by the Issuer on May 8, 2024 (the "Bond Authorization"). All terms used but not defined in this letter shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Bond Authorization.

The Series 2024B Bonds are being issued pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the State of Florida (the "State"), including particularly Chapter 159, Parts II and III, Florida Statutes, as amended and other applicable provisions of Florida law (collectively, the "Act").

In our capacity as counsel to the Issuer in connection with the issuance of the Series 2024B Bonds, we have reviewed: (i) the Act; (ii) the Bond Authorization; (iii) the Official Statement dated May 14, 2024 relating to the Series 2024B Bonds (the "Official Statement"); (iv) the Underwriting Agreement dated May 22, 2024 (the "Underwriting Agreement"), between the Issuer and PNC Capital Markets LLC (the "Underwriter") and approved by the Borrower; (v) the Trust Indenture, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"); (vi) the Loan Agreement dated as of May 1, 2024, between the Issuer and the Borrower (the "Loan Agreement:); (vii) the Tax Compliance Certificate of the Issuer dated May 23, 2024 (the "Tax Certificate") (viii) the Closing Certificate of the Issuer, dated May 23, 2024; (ix) the Letter of Representation (the "Letter of Representation") by and among the Borrower, the Underwriter and the Issuer, and (x) such other documents, agreements, certificates and affidavits relating to the issuance of the Series 2024B Bonds as we have deemed necessary to render the opinions expressed in this letter.

Based on the foregoing and upon such further investigation and review as we have deemed necessary, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer is a public body corporate and politic created pursuant to Section 159.45, Florida Statutes and is empowered pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the State, including the Act, with full legal right, power and authority to (i) issue the Series 2024B Bonds for the purposes described in, and in the manner contemplated by the Official Statement; and (ii) use the proceeds from the issuance of the Series 2024B Bonds in the manner contemplated by the Bond Authorization.

2. The Issuer has full legal right, power and authority to adopt the Bond Authorization, and the Issuer has complied with all provisions of applicable law in all matters related to the transactions contemplated in the Bond Authorization.

3. The Issuer has duly adopted the Bond Authorization at meetings duly noticed, called and held and at which a quorum was present and voting throughout, and the Issuer duly authorized: (i) the execution and delivery of the Series 2024B Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement, the Tax Certificate and Letter of Representation; (ii) the delivery and distribution of the Official Statement; and (iii) the taking of any and all such action as may be required on the part of the Issuer to carry out, give effect to, and consummate the transactions contemplated by those documents. The Bond Authorization has not been amended, modified, revoked or repealed, except as expressly provided therein, since their date of adoption.

4. The Bond Authorization, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement, the Tax Certificate and the Letter of Representation and the Series 2024B Bonds constitute legal, valid and binding revenue obligations of the Issuer enforceable in accordance with their respective terms.

5. The adoption of the Bond Authorization, the execution and delivery of the Series 2024B Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Underwriting Agreement and the delivery and distribution of the Official Statement by the Issuer, and compliance with the provisions of each, under the circumstances contemplated by such documents, do not conflict with or violate the Act, or any existing federal law, administrative regulation, rule, decree or order, and do not, in any respect material to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Series 2024B Bonds or the performance of any other obligations under the Series 2024B Bonds, (i) constitute on the part of the Issuer a breach of or default under any indenture, deed of trust, agreement or other instrument of which we have knowledge and to which the Issuer is a party, or (ii) to the best of our knowledge, conflict with, violate, or result in a breach of any existing law, public order or consent decree to which the Issuer is subject.

6. There is no litigation or other proceeding pending or, to the best of our knowledge, threatened in any court or other tribunal, state or federal: (i) restraining or enjoining or seeking to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale or delivery of the Series 2024B Bonds; (ii) in any way questioning or affecting the validity of any provision of the Series 2024B Bonds, the Bond Authorization, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate, the Letter of Representation or the Underwriting Agreement; (iii) in any way questioning or affecting the validity of any of the proceedings or authority for the issuance of the Series 2024B Bonds; or (iv) questioning or affecting the organization or existence of the Issuer or the title of any of its officers to their respective offices.

7. The statements contained in the Official Statement under the captions, "THE ISSUER," "LEGALITY" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS," insofar as the statements under such captions purport to summarize certain legal matters related to the Issuer, fairly and accurately present the information purported to be summarized in such statements.

The opinions expressed in this letter are generally qualified as follows:

(a) All opinions relating to the enforceability with respect to the Issuer are subject to and limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, in each case relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights, generally, and equitable principles that may affect remedies or injunctive or other equitable relief.

(b) All opinions are predicated upon present laws, facts and circumstances, and we assume no affirmative obligation to update the opinions if such laws, facts or circumstances change after the date of this opinion.

(c) Our opinions do not pertain to any law other than the laws of the State of Florida and the laws of the United States. No opinion is expressed as to the requirements of any federal laws which may govern the issuance, offering and sale of the Series 2024B Bonds, except as specifically set forth in this letter, or which may govern the exclusion from income for federal income tax purposes of interest on the Series 2024B Bonds.

(d) Where we render an opinion "to our knowledge" or our opinion otherwise refers to our knowledge, our opinion, with respect to matters of fact, is based solely upon (i) our actual knowledge, (ii) an examination of documents in our files, and (iii) such other investigation, if any, as we specifically set forth herein.

(e) The opinions expressed in this letter are for the sole benefit of the parties named above and no other individual or entity may rely upon them without our prior approval or acknowledgment.

Respectfully submitted,

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Concurrently herewith, we have delivered our approving opinion as bond counsel (the "Approving Opinion"), dated May 23, 2024, relating to $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Bonds"), and examined a record of proceedings relating thereto. Capitalized words used in this opinion not otherwise defined herein shall have the same meanings as are given such capitalized words in the Official Statement related to the Bonds dated May 14, 2024.

The opinions herein are supplemental to and are subject to all qualifications and limitations contained in our Approving Opinion, except that we also opine with respect to the federal securities laws of the United States of America. Although the Approving Opinion was addressed only to the Issuer, PNC Capital Markets LLC, Florida Power & Light Company and Regions Bank are authorized to rely upon the Approving Opinion to the same extent as if it were addressed to them. Subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

(1) In connection with the offering and sale of the Bonds to the public, neither the Bonds nor any securities evidenced thereby are required to be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and neither the Indenture nor any other instrument is required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

(2) The statements in the Official Statement relating to the Bonds, the Indenture and the Agreement under the captions "THE SERIES 2024 BONDS" (except for certain information and statements related to The Depository Trust Company under "THE SERIES 2024 BONDS--Book-Entry System", as to which, with your permission, we express no opinion), "THE AGREEMENT", "THE INDENTURE" and "TAX MATTERS," insofar as they describe the provisions of the Bonds, the Agreement and the Indenture or the tax-exempt status of the Bonds, are fair and accurate statements or summaries of the matters set forth therein.

This letter is furnished by us solely for your benefit in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds and may not, without our express written consent, be relied upon by any other person. The delivery of this letter to a non-client does not create an attorney-client relationship. The opinions expressed herein are predicated upon present law, facts and circumstances, and we assume no affirmative obligation to update the opinions expressed herein if such laws, facts or circumstances change after the date hereof.

Respectfully yours,

Re: $172,000,000 Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B

We have acted as counsel to our client, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company"), in connection with the issuance and sale by the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Issuer's Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Bonds"), issued under the Trust Indenture, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), and in connection with the sale of the Bonds to the Underwriter in accordance with the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) the Indenture, (2) the Loan Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer; (3) the Letter of Representation, dated May 22, 2024 (the "Letter of Representation"), from the Company to the Issuer and the Underwriter; (4) the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024 (the "Remarketing Agreement"), by and between the Company and PNC Capital Markets LLC (the "Remarketing Agent"); (5) the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, dated May 23, 2024 (the "Continuing Disclosure Undertaking"), by and between the Company and the Trustee; (6) the Tender Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Tender Agreement"), by and among the Company, the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent, and (7) such corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed (1) the Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024, including Appendix A (the "Official Statement"), and (2) the Final Order Granting Florida Power & Light Company and Florida City Gas Approval For Authority to Issue and Sell Securities, Order No. PSC-2023-0318-FOF-E1 issued by the Florida Public Service Commission on October 19, 2022.

Upon the basis of the foregoing and at the request of the Company, we advise you that:

1. The Company is a validly organized and existing corporation and is in active status under the laws of the State of Florida, and is doing business in that State, and has valid franchises, licenses and permits adequate for the conduct of its business.

2. The Company is a corporation duly authorized by its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the "Charter"), to conduct the business which it is now conducting as set forth in the Official Statement; the Company is subject, as to retail rates and services, issuance of securities, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Florida Public Service Commission; and the Company is subject, as to wholesale rates, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

3. Except as stated or referred to in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented to date (including amendments or supplements to date resulting from the filing of documents incorporated therein by reference), to our knowledge after due inquiry, there are no material pending legal proceedings to which the Company is a party or of which property of the Company is the subject which if determined adversely would have a material adverse effect on the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole and, to the best of our knowledge, no such proceeding is known by us to be contemplated by governmental authorities. We know of no litigation or proceedings, pending or threatened, challenging the validity of the Loan Agreement or the Letter of Representation or seeking to enjoin the performance of the Company's obligations thereunder.

4. The Loan Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general equity principles and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and subject to any principles of public policy limiting the right to enforce the indemnification provisions contained in Section 7.3 therein.

5. The Letter of Representation has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 6 therein.

6. The Remarketing Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 4 therein.

7. The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium and other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

8. The Tender Agreement has been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered, and is a valid and binding agreement of the Company enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent conveyance, receivership, moratorium or other laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and of general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and the effect of applicable public policy on the enforceability of provisions relating to indemnification contained in Section 11(a) therein.

9. The consummation by the Company of the transactions contemplated in the Letter of Representation, and the fulfillment by the Company of the terms of the Loan Agreement and the Letter of Representation, will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Amended and Restated Bylaws of the Company, or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument, the terms of which are known to us, to which the Company is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of the Company.

10. The Loan Agreement is being executed and delivered pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the Florida Public Service Commission, which authority is adequate to permit such action. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body is legally required for the performance of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement.

11. The offer and sale of the Bonds do not require registration of the Bonds under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and, in connection therewith, the Indenture is not required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; provided that, in giving this opinion, we have, with your consent, relied on the opinions of even date herewith rendered to you by Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A. as Bond Counsel, as to the legal status of the Issuer and we have made no independent factual investigation with respect to such exclusion.

Additionally, we refer you to the Official Statement. As counsel to the Company, we reviewed the Official Statement and participated in discussions with your representatives and certain officers and employees of the Company, certain of its other legal counsel, Bond Counsel and your counsel regarding such documents and information and related matters. The purpose of our professional engagement was not to establish or confirm factual matters set forth in the Official Statement and we have not undertaken any obligation to verify independently any of such factual matters. Moreover, many of the determinations required to be made in the preparation of the Official Statement involve matters of a non-legal nature.

Subject to the foregoing, we confirm to you, on the basis of the information gained by those of our lawyers involved in the review and discussions referred to above, in the course of performing the services referred to above, nothing came to the attention of those lawyers that caused them to believe that the Official Statement, as of its date, and as of the date hereof, contained or contains any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted or omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that (a) we are not passing upon and do not assume any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the statements contained in the Official Statement (except as and to the extent set forth in this paragraph), (b) we do not express any belief with respect to the financial statements, schedules, notes, other financial, statistical and accounting information derived therefrom, including any such information presented in interactive data format, and assessments or reports on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, in each case contained in the Official Statement or incorporated by reference, as the case may be, at the respective times as of which the advisements set forth in this paragraph are provided and (c) we do not express any belief with respect to statements made in the Official Statement under the captions "THE ISSUER", "TAX MATTERS" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATORS" and in Appendix C Form of Approving Opinion of Bond Counsel.

This letter is being furnished only to you for your use solely in connection with the transaction described herein and may not be relied upon by anyone else or for any other purpose without our prior written consent. No confirmations other than those expressly stated herein shall be implied or inferred as a result of anything contained in or omitted from this letter. The confirmations expressed in this letter are stated only as of the time of its delivery and we disclaim any obligation to revise or supplement this letter thereafter.

Very truly yours,

Re: $172,000,000 Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority
Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel to PNC Capital Markets LLC (the "Underwriter") in connection with the issuance by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of the above-captioned bonds (the "Series 2024B Bonds"). The Series 2024B Bonds are being issued on the date hereof pursuant to a Trust Indenture dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture") between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee") on behalf of Florida Power & Light Company (the "Borrower"). Each term used but not defined herein has the meaning assigned to such term in the Underwriting Agreement dated May 22, 2024 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Issuer and the Underwriter.

In connection with our engagement, we have examined originals or copies of the documents (the "Closing Documents") delivered at the closing on the date hereof, as listed in the List of Closing Documents dated as of the closing date, and such laws as we deemed necessary. We have also reviewed, and believe you may reasonably rely upon, the opinions delivered to you today pursuant to the provisions of the Underwriting Agreement by the Office of the County Attorney for the Issuer, Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., as Bond Counsel, & Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, as counsel to the Company.

Based upon the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

(1) The conditions in the Underwriting Agreement relating to your obligation to purchase the Series 2024B Bonds have been satisfied.

(2) No registration need be made with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2024B Bonds, and neither the Indenture nor any other instrument is required to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, in connection with the offering and sale of the Series 2024B Bonds.

(3) The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, dated May 23, 2024, between the Company and the Trustee, complies with the requirements of paragraph (b)(5) of Rule 15c2-12

(the "Rule") promulgated pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, in effect as of the date hereof.

We have participated in the preparation of the Official Statement, dated May 14, 2024 (including the appendices thereto, the "Official Statement"), relating to the offering and sale of the Series 2024B Bonds. To assist the Underwriter in its investigation concerning the Official Statement, certain of our lawyers responsible for this matter have reviewed the Closing Documents and we have participated in certain discussions with the officials of the Borrower and others in order to assist the Underwriter in its investigation of the business affairs of the Borrower. In addition to our examination of the Closing Documents, we have participated with the Underwriter by telephone with officials of the Borrower and its counsel on May 14, 2024 to review the present business of the Borrower and its operations and financial condition, and to inquire about the prospective business, operations and financial condition of the Borrower and the accuracy of the factual statements contained in the Official Statement.

Except for the review of documents and laws and the discussions referred to above, we have not made any independent investigation of the Borrower's business affairs or any independent verification of the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the statements of fact contained in the Official Statement. On the basis of our participation, we do not believe that the Official Statement, as of its date, or as of the date hereof, in each case except for (i) financial projections or other financial or statistical data included or incorporated by reference therein, (ii) the information relating to The Depository Trust Company under the heading "THE SERIES 2024B BONDS — Book-Entry System," and (iii) Appendix C of the Official Statement, as to all of which we express no belief, contained or contains, as applicable, any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted or omits to state a material fact, which, in our judgment, should be included in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Reference in this letter to "our lawyers responsible for this matter" refers only to those lawyers now with this firm who rendered legal services in connection with our representation of the Underwriter in this matter.

We are furnishing this letter to the Underwriter solely for its benefit. We disclaim any obligation to update this letter. This letter is not to be used, circulated, quoted or otherwise referred to or relied upon for any other purpose or by any other person, provided it may be included in any List of Closing Documents. This letter is not intended to and may not be relied upon by holders of the Series 2024B Bonds or any party who is not the Underwriter.

Very truly yours,

relating to the Bonds referred to below)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In consideration of the issuance and sale by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project) Series 2024B (the "Bonds") and the purchase of the Bonds by the Underwriter pursuant to the Agreement, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") represents, warrants and covenants to and agrees with the Issuer and the Underwriter, and the Issuer and the Underwriter by their acceptance hereof agree with the Company as follows (all terms not specifically defined in this Letter of Representation shall have the same meanings herein as in the Agreement):

1. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company represents and warrants that:

(a) When the Official Statement shall be issued and at the Closing Date, the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), will not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this subsection (a) shall not apply to statements in or omissions from the Official Statement under the captions "TAX MATTERS", "UNDERWRITING" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" or in Appendices B, C, D and E or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price, tax matters or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter.

(b) The Official Statement, which the Company has authorized the Underwriter to use and which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), including any amendments thereto, shall be prepared in word-searchable PDF format as described in the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's ("MSRB") Rule G-32 and such electronic copy of the word-searchable PDF format of the Official Statement shall be provided to the Underwriter no later than one (1) business day prior to the Closing Date to enable the Underwriter to comply with MSRB Rule G-32.

(c) The documents incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented, fully complied, at the time they were filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) The financial statements contained or incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; and such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Official Statement.

(e) Since the most recent dates as of which information is given in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company, and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, nor has any transaction been entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as whole, other than changes and transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business. The Company and its subsidiaries do not have any material contingent obligation which is not reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented.

(f) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement and this Letter of Representation, on the part of the Company to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of the Company in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the "Charter"), its Amended and Restated Bylaws (the "Bylaws") and applicable law, and this Letter of Representation constitutes, and the Loan Agreement and the CDU when executed and delivered by the Company will constitute, legal, valid and binding obligations of the Company in accordance with their terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general equity principles, and subject to any principles of public policy limiting the right to enforce the indemnification provisions contained in Section 6 herein and Section 7.3 of the Loan Agreement.

(g) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement, the CDU and this Letter of Representation will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or Bylaws of the Company or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which the Company is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties, or financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(h) The terms and conditions of the Agreement as they relate to the Company and the Company's participation in the transactions contemplated thereby are satisfactory to it.

1A. Acknowledgment of the Company. The Company acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the primary role of the Underwriter, as underwriter, is to purchase securities, for resale to investors, in an arm's length commercial transaction among the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter and that the Underwriter has financial and other interests that differ from those of the Company; (ii) the Underwriter is acting solely as principal and is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to the Company and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Underwriter has provided other services or is currently providing other services to the Company on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Underwriter has to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement and, with respect to its role as remarketing agent, in the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024, between the Company and the Underwriter; and (iv) the Company has consulted its own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate.

2. Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees that:

(a) As soon as practicable following execution hereof (but in no event later than the earlier of two business days after the date hereof and the day prior to the Closing Date), in order that the Underwriter may comply with paragraph (b)(3) of Rule 15c2-12 ("Rule 15c2-12") promulgated by the SEC under the Exchange Act, the Company shall deliver to the Underwriter the final Official Statement, in such quantities as the Underwriter may reasonably request. Upon the issuance thereof, the Company will deliver to the Underwriter copies of all amendments and supplements to the Official Statement.

(b) At its expense, if requested by the Underwriter, it will cause to be prepared and furnished to the Underwriter one copy of each of the documents incorporated by reference in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and as many additional copies of such documents incorporated by reference as shall be requested of the Underwriter by prospective purchasers of the Bonds.

(c) It will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the Underwriter may designate, provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process, under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by the Company to be unduly burdensome.

(d) It will not take or omit to take any action the taking or omission of which would cause the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to be applied in a manner contrary to that provided for in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, as each may be amended from time to time.

3. Expenses.

(a) Upon the issuance and delivery of the Bonds by the Issuer to the Underwriter, the Company will pay, or cause to be paid, all expenses (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter) and costs incident to the authorization, issuance, printing, sale and delivery, as the case may be, of the underwriting papers, the Bonds, the Official Statement, this Letter of Representation and the blue sky survey, including without limitation: (A) any taxes, other than transfer taxes, in connection with the issuance of the Bonds hereunder; (B) any rating agency fees; (C) the fees of the Trustee; (D) the fees and disbursements of Bond Counsel, Issuer Counsel and the Company; (E) the fees of the Issuer; and (F) the fees and disbursements (including filing fees) of Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter.

(b) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Sections 6 or 7(b) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3, and the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(c) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7(a) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(d) If the Underwriter shall fail or refuse, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, the cancellation or termination of its obligation thereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds as provided in Section 2 thereof, the Underwriter will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3.

(e) The Issuer shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter or the Company for any expenses or costs incident to the issuance and sale of the Bonds nor for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. The Company shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. Nothing herein shall be construed to relieve the Underwriter of its liability for its default under the Agreement.

4. Conditions of the Company's Obligation. The obligation of the Company to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement shall be subject to the condition that, on the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in such transactions, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Company by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution of this Letter of Representation contains any such unacceptable provision. In case the aforesaid condition shall not have been fulfilled, this Letter of Representation and the Company's obligation to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement may be terminated by the Company, upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Underwriter, except that the obligations of the Company under Section 3 hereof shall survive.

5. Representation of the Issuer. The acceptance and confirmation of this Letter of Representation by the Issuer shall constitute a representation and warranty by the Issuer to the Company that the representations and warranties contained in Section 3 of the Agreement are true as of the date hereof and will be true in all material respects as of the Closing Date.

6. Indemnification.

(a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter and each person who controls the Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto, including documents incorporated by reference, shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not apply to the Underwriter (or any person controlling the Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, under the captions "TAX MATTERS" (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project (as defined in the Loan Agreement) contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder) and "UNDERWRITING" or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price or tax matters (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder); and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not inure to the benefit of the Underwriter (or of any person controlling such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of Bonds to any person if such Underwriter shall have failed to send or give to such person (i) with or prior to the written confirmation of such sale, a copy of the Official Statement or the Official Statement as amended or supplemented, if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been timely furnished at or prior to the time of written confirmation of the sale involved, but exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement is not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of confirmation, or (ii) with or prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, a copy of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement which shall have been furnished subsequent to such written confirmation and prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement was not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of such delivery. The Issuer agrees to notify promptly the Company, and the Underwriter agrees to notify promptly the Company and the Issuer, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(b) The Underwriter agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, and the Company, its officers and directors, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities, or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, but only with respect to information contained under the caption "UNDERWRITING" or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price and terms of offering or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter. The Issuer and the Company each agree promptly to notify the Underwriter, the Issuer and the Company, as the case may be, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees, or any of its aforesaid officers and directors or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(c) The Company, the Underwriter and the Issuer each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, any of its aforesaid officers and directors, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, as the case may be, in respect of which indemnity may be sought on account of any indemnity agreement contained herein, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity shall be sought hereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of such indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties and who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action).

7. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Letter of Representation shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Letter of Representation shall inure to the benefit of the Company, the Issuer, the Underwriter and, with respect to the provisions of Section 6 hereof, each official, employee, officer, director and controlling person referred to in said Section 6, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Letter of Representation is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Letter of Representation or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used herein shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter.

The indemnity agreements of the Company and the Underwriter contained in Section 6 hereof and the representations and warranties of the Company and the Issuer contained herein shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter or any controlling person thereof, or the Company or any director, officer or controlling person thereof, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. The agreements contained in Section 3 hereof to pay expenses shall survive the termination of the Agreement and this Letter of Representation.

This Letter of Representation may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be regarded as an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Letter of Representation transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Letter of Representation for all purposes. This Letter of Representation shall become effective upon the execution and acceptance thereof and the effectiveness of the Agreement, and it shall terminate as provided in Section 4 hereof or upon the termination of the Agreement.

ISSUE PRICE CERTIFICATE

Pertaining to

$172,000,000
Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority
Revenue Bonds
(Florida Power & Light Company Project)
Series 2024B

The undersigned, on behalf of PNC Capital Markets LLC ("PNC"), as Underwriter, hereby certifies as set forth below with respect to the sale and issuance of the above-captioned obligations (the "Bonds").

1. Sale of the Bonds. As of the date of this certificate, for each maturity of the Bonds, the first price at which at least 10% of such maturity of the Bonds was sold to the Public was at 100% of the stated principal amount thereof.

Defined Terms.

Issuer means the Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority

Maturity means Bonds with the same credit and payment terms. Bonds with different maturity dates, or Bonds with the same maturity date but different stated interest rates, are treated as separate Maturities.

Public means any person (including an individual, trust, estate, partnership, association, company, or corporation) other than an Underwriter or a related party to an Underwriter. The term "related party" for purposes of this certificate generally means any two or more persons who have greater than 50 percent common ownership, directly or indirectly.

Underwriter means (i) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract with the Issuer (or with the lead underwriter to form an underwriting syndicate) to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public, and (ii) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract directly or indirectly with a person described in clause (i) of this paragraph to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public (including a member of a selling group or a party to a third-party distribution agreement participating in the initial sale of the Bonds to the Public).

2. Average Maturity of the Bonds. The average maturity of the Bonds has been calculated to be 29.939 years.

The representations set forth in this certificate are limited to factual matters only. Nothing in this certificate represents PNC's interpretation of any laws, including specifically Sections 103 and 148 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the Treasury Regulations thereunder. The undersigned understands that the foregoing information will be relied upon by the Issuer and the Company with respect to certain of the representations set forth in the Tax Certificate and with respect to compliance with the federal income tax rules affecting the Bonds, and by Locke Lord LLP and The Law Offices of Carol D. Ellis, P.A., in connection with rendering their opinion that the interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes, the preparation of the Internal Revenue Service Form 8038, and other federal income tax advice that it may give to the Issuer and the Company from time to time relating to the Bonds.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In consideration of the issuance and sale by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project) Series 2024A (the "Bonds") and the purchase of the Bonds by the Underwriter pursuant to the Agreement, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") represents, warrants and covenants to and agrees with the Issuer and the Underwriter, and the Issuer and the Underwriter by their acceptance hereof agree with the Company as follows (all terms not specifically defined in this Letter of Representation shall have the same meanings herein as in the Agreement):

1. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company represents and warrants that:

(a) When the Official Statement shall be issued and at the Closing Date, the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), will not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this subsection (a) shall not apply to statements in or omissions from the Official Statement under the captions "TAX MATTERS", "UNDERWRITING" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" or in Appendices B, C, D and E or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price, tax matters or in the statement on page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter.

(b) The Official Statement, which the Company has authorized the Underwriter to use and which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), including any amendments thereto, shall be prepared in word-searchable PDF format as described in the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's ("MSRB") Rule G-32 and such electronic copy of the word-searchable PDF format of the Official Statement shall be provided to the Underwriter no later than one (1) business day prior to the Closing Date to enable the Underwriter to comply with MSRB Rule G-32.

(c) The documents incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented, fully complied, at the time they were filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) The financial statements contained or incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; and such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Official Statement.

(e) Since the most recent dates as of which information is given in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company, and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, nor has any transaction been entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as whole, other than changes and transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business. The Company and its subsidiaries do not have any material contingent obligation which is not reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented.

3. Expenses.

(a) Upon the issuance and delivery of the Bonds by the Issuer to the Underwriter, the Company will pay, or cause to be paid, all expenses (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter) and costs incident to the authorization, issuance, printing, sale and delivery, as the case may be, of the underwriting papers, the Bonds, the Official Statement, this Letter of Representation and the blue sky survey, including without limitation: (A) any taxes, other than transfer taxes, in connection with the issuance of the Bonds hereunder; (B) any rating agency fees; (C) the fees of the Trustee; (D) the fees and disbursements of Bond Counsel, Issuer Counsel and the Company; (E) the fees of the Issuer; and (F) the fees and disbursements (including filing fees) of Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter.

(b) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Sections 6 or 7(b) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3, and the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(c) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7(a) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(d) If the Underwriter shall fail or refuse, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, the cancellation or termination of its obligation thereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds as provided in Section 2 thereof, the Underwriter will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3.

(e) The Issuer shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter or the Company for any expenses or costs incident to the issuance and sale of the Bonds nor for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. The Company shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. Nothing herein shall be construed to relieve the Underwriter of its liability for its default under the Agreement.

4. Conditions of the Company's Obligation. The obligation of the Company to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement shall be subject to the condition that, on the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in such transactions, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Company by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution of this Letter of Representation contains any such unacceptable provision. In case the aforesaid condition shall not have been fulfilled, this Letter of Representation and the Company's obligation to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement may be terminated by the Company, upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Underwriter, except that the obligations of the Company under Section 3 hereof shall survive.

5. Representation of the Issuer. The acceptance and confirmation of this Letter of Representation by the Issuer shall constitute a representation and warranty by the Issuer to the Company that the representations and warranties contained in Section 3 of the Agreement are true as of the date hereof and will be true in all material respects as of the Closing Date.

6. Indemnification.

(a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter and each person who controls the Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto, including documents incorporated by reference, shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not apply to the Underwriter (or any person controlling the Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, under the captions "TAX MATTERS" (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project (as defined in the Loan Agreement) contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder) and "UNDERWRITING" or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price or tax matters (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder); and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not inure to the benefit of the Underwriter (or of any person controlling such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of Bonds to any person if such Underwriter shall have failed to send or give to such person (i) with or prior to the written confirmation of such sale, a copy of the Official Statement or the Official Statement as amended or supplemented, if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been timely furnished at or prior to the time of written confirmation of the sale involved, but exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement is not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of confirmation, or (ii) with or prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, a copy of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement which shall have been furnished subsequent to such written confirmation and prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement was not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of such delivery. The Issuer agrees to notify promptly the Company, and the Underwriter agrees to notify promptly the Company and the Issuer, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(b) The Underwriter agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, and the Company, its officers and directors, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities, or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, but only with respect to information contained under the caption "UNDERWRITING" or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price and terms of offering or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter. The Issuer and the Company each agree promptly to notify the Underwriter, the Issuer and the Company, as the case may be, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees, or any of its aforesaid officers and directors or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(c) The Company, the Underwriter and the Issuer each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, any of its aforesaid officers and directors, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, as the case may be, in respect of which indemnity may be sought on account of any indemnity agreement contained herein, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity shall be sought hereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of such indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties and who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action).

7. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Letter of Representation shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Letter of Representation shall inure to the benefit of the Company, the Issuer, the Underwriter and, with respect to the provisions of Section 6 hereof, each official, employee, officer, director and controlling person referred to in said Section 6, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Letter of Representation is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Letter of Representation or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used herein shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter.

The indemnity agreements of the Company and the Underwriter contained in Section 6 hereof and the representations and warranties of the Company and the Issuer contained herein shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter or any controlling person thereof, or the Company or any director, officer or controlling person thereof, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. The agreements contained in Section 3 hereof to pay expenses shall survive the termination of the Agreement and this Letter of Representation.

This Letter of Representation may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be regarded as an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Letter of Representation transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Letter of Representation for all purposes. This Letter of Representation shall become effective upon the execution and acceptance thereof and the effectiveness of the Agreement, and it shall terminate as provided in Section 4 hereof or upon the termination of the Agreement.

(the "Underwriter" named in the Underwriting Agreement dated
the date hereof (the "Agreement")
relating to the Bonds referred to below)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In consideration of the issuance and sale by Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") of $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project) Series 2024B (the "Bonds") and the purchase of the Bonds by the Underwriter pursuant to the Agreement, Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") represents, warrants and covenants to and agrees with the Issuer and the Underwriter, and the Issuer and the Underwriter by their acceptance hereof agree with the Company as follows (all terms not specifically defined in this Letter of Representation shall have the same meanings herein as in the Agreement):

1. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company represents and warrants that:

(a) When the Official Statement shall be issued and at the Closing Date, the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), will not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this subsection (a) shall not apply to statements in or omissions from the Official Statement under the captions "TAX MATTERS", "UNDERWRITING" and "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY FLORIDA BLUE SKY REGULATIONS" or in Appendices B, C, D and E or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price, tax matters or in the statement on page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter.

(b) The Official Statement, which the Company has authorized the Underwriter to use and which it deems "final" and "complete" within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 (as defined below), including any amendments thereto, shall be prepared in word-searchable PDF format as described in the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's ("MSRB") Rule G-32 and such electronic copy of the word-searchable PDF format of the Official Statement shall be provided to the Underwriter no later than one (1) business day prior to the Closing Date to enable the Underwriter to comply with MSRB Rule G-32.

(c) The documents incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented, fully complied, at the time they were filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) The financial statements contained or incorporated by reference in Appendix A to the Official Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; and such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Official Statement.

(e) Since the most recent dates as of which information is given in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented (including amendments or supplements resulting from the filing of documents incorporated by reference therein), there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of the Company, and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, nor has any transaction been entered into by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that is material to the Company and its subsidiaries taken as whole, other than changes and transactions reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and transactions in the ordinary course of business. The Company and its subsidiaries do not have any material contingent obligation which is not reflected in or contemplated by the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented.

(f) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement and this Letter of Representation, on the part of the Company to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of the Company in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the "Charter"), its Amended and Restated Bylaws (the "Bylaws") and applicable law, and this Letter of Representation constitutes, and the Loan Agreement and the CDU when executed and delivered by the Company will constitute, legal, valid and binding obligations of the Company in accordance with their terms, except as limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general equity principles, and subject to any principles of public policy limiting the right to enforce the indemnification provisions contained in Section 6 herein and Section 7.3 of the Loan Agreement.

(g) The consummation of the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement and the fulfillment of the terms of the Loan Agreement, the CDU and this Letter of Representation will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or Bylaws of the Company or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which the Company is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties, or financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(h) The terms and conditions of the Agreement as they relate to the Company and the Company's participation in the transactions contemplated thereby are satisfactory to it.

1A. Acknowledgment of the Company. The Company acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the primary role of the Underwriter, as underwriter, is to purchase securities, for resale to investors, in an arm's length commercial transaction among the Issuer, the Company and the Underwriter and that the Underwriter has financial and other interests that differ from those of the Company; (ii) the Underwriter is acting solely as principal and is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to the Company and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Underwriter has provided other services or is currently providing other services to the Company on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Underwriter has to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement and, with respect to its role as remarketing agent with U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc., in the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, dated May 23, 2024, between the Company and the Underwriter and U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc.; and (iv) the Company has consulted its own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate.

2. Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees that:

(a) As soon as practicable following execution hereof (but in no event later than the earlier of two business days after the date hereof and the day prior to the Closing Date), in order that the Underwriter may comply with paragraph (b)(3) of Rule 15c2-12 ("Rule 15c2-12") promulgated by the SEC under the Exchange Act, the Company shall deliver to the Underwriter the final Official Statement, in such quantities as the Underwriter may reasonably request. Upon the issuance thereof, the Company will deliver to the Underwriter copies of all amendments and supplements to the Official Statement.

(b) At its expense, if requested by the Underwriter, it will cause to be prepared and furnished to the Underwriter one copy of each of the documents incorporated by reference in the Official Statement, as it may be amended or supplemented, and as many additional copies of such documents incorporated by reference as shall be requested of the Underwriter by prospective purchasers of the Bonds.

(c) It will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the Underwriter may designate, provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process, under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by the Company to be unduly burdensome.

(d) It will not take or omit to take any action the taking or omission of which would cause the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to be applied in a manner contrary to that provided for in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, as each may be amended from time to time.

3. Expenses.

(a) Upon the issuance and delivery of the Bonds by the Issuer to the Underwriter, the Company will pay, or cause to be paid, all expenses (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter) and costs incident to the authorization, issuance, printing, sale and delivery, as the case may be, of the underwriting papers, the Bonds, the Official Statement, this Letter of Representation and the blue sky survey, including without limitation: (A) any taxes, other than transfer taxes, in connection with the issuance of the Bonds hereunder; (B) any rating agency fees; (C) the fees of the Trustee; (D) the fees and disbursements of Bond Counsel, Issuer Counsel and the Company; (E) the fees of the Issuer; and (F) the fees and disbursements (including filing fees) of Ballard Spahr LLP, counsel for the Underwriter.

(b) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Sections 6 or 7(b) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3, and the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriter, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(c) If the Agreement is terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7(a) thereof, the Company will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3 and the Underwriter will pay the remainder of its expenses.

(d) If the Underwriter shall fail or refuse, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, the cancellation or termination of its obligation thereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds as provided in Section 2 thereof, the Underwriter will pay all the expenses referred to in subsection (a) of this Section 3.

(e) The Issuer shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter or the Company for any expenses or costs incident to the issuance and sale of the Bonds nor for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. The Company shall not in any event be liable to the Underwriter for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits. Nothing herein shall be construed to relieve the Underwriter of its liability for its default under the Agreement.

4. Conditions of the Company's Obligation. The obligation of the Company to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement shall be subject to the condition that, on the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the participation of the Company in such transactions, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Company by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to the Company, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the time of the execution of this Letter of Representation contains any such unacceptable provision. In case the aforesaid condition shall not have been fulfilled, this Letter of Representation and the Company's obligation to participate in the transactions contemplated herein and in the Official Statement may be terminated by the Company, upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Underwriter, except that the obligations of the Company under Section 3 hereof shall survive.

5. Representation of the Issuer. The acceptance and confirmation of this Letter of Representation by the Issuer shall constitute a representation and warranty by the Issuer to the Company that the representations and warranties contained in Section 3 of the Agreement are true as of the date hereof and will be true in all material respects as of the Closing Date.

6. Indemnification.

(a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter and each person who controls the Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto, including documents incorporated by reference, shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not apply to the Underwriter (or any person controlling the Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, under the captions "TAX MATTERS" (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project (as defined in the Loan Agreement) contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder) and "UNDERWRITING" or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price or tax matters (except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon an untrue statement of or an omission to state, or an alleged untrue statement of or omission to state, a material fact in the engineering facts and representations and conclusions of the Company concerning the Project contained in the closing certificate furnished to Locke Lord LLP, as Bond Counsel, and except to the extent that such statement or omission is based upon the Company's continuing compliance with Section 148(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations thereunder); and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 6 shall not inure to the benefit of the Underwriter (or of any person controlling such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of Bonds to any person if such Underwriter shall have failed to send or give to such person (i) with or prior to the written confirmation of such sale, a copy of the Official Statement or the Official Statement as amended or supplemented, if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been timely furnished at or prior to the time of written confirmation of the sale involved, but exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement is not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of confirmation, or (ii) with or prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, a copy of any amendment or supplement to the Official Statement which shall have been furnished subsequent to such written confirmation and prior to the delivery of such Bonds to such person, exclusive of any documents incorporated by reference therein unless, with respect to the delivery of any amendment or supplement, the alleged omission or alleged untrue statement was not corrected in such amendment or supplement at the time of such delivery. The Issuer agrees to notify promptly the Company, and the Underwriter agrees to notify promptly the Company and the Issuer, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(b) The Underwriter agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer and any official or employee thereof, and the Company, its officers and directors, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities, or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Official Statement, as amended or supplemented (if any amendments or supplements thereto shall have been furnished), or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, but only with respect to information contained under the caption "UNDERWRITING" or in the statements on the cover page with respect to the initial public offering price and terms of offering or in the statement on the page (i) with respect to stabilization of the market price of the Bonds by the Underwriter. The Issuer and the Company each agree promptly to notify the Underwriter, the Issuer and the Company, as the case may be, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against it, any of its aforesaid officials or employees, or any of its aforesaid officers and directors or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(c) The Company, the Underwriter and the Issuer each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, any of its aforesaid officers and directors, any of its aforesaid officials or employees or any person controlling it as aforesaid, as the case may be, in respect of which indemnity may be sought on account of any indemnity agreement contained herein, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity shall be sought hereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of such indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties and who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action).

7. Miscellaneous. The validity and interpretation of this Letter of Representation shall be governed by the law of the State of Florida. This Letter of Representation shall inure to the benefit of the Company, the Issuer, the Underwriter and, with respect to the provisions of Section 6 hereof, each official, employee, officer, director and controlling person referred to in said Section 6, and their respective successors. Nothing in this Letter of Representation is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person, firm or corporation any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Letter of Representation or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used herein shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from or through the Underwriter.

The indemnity agreements of the Company and the Underwriter contained in Section 6 hereof and the representations and warranties of the Company and the Issuer contained herein shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any official or employee thereof, the Underwriter or any controlling person thereof, or the Company or any director, officer or controlling person thereof, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. The agreements contained in Section 3 hereof to pay expenses shall survive the termination of the Agreement and this Letter of Representation.

This Letter of Representation may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be regarded as an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Letter of Representation transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Letter of Representation for all purposes. This Letter of Representation shall become effective upon the execution and acceptance thereof and the effectiveness of the Agreement, and it shall terminate as provided in Section 4 hereof or upon the termination of the Agreement.

Remarketing Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024, with respect to the MDCIDA Series 2024A Revenue Bonds.

REMARKETING AGREEMENT

This Remarketing Agreement (the "Agreement") dated May 23, 2024 is made by and between Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") and U.S. Bancorp Investments, Inc. ("USBII"), and U.S. Bank Municipal Products Group, a division of U.S. Bank National Association ("USBMPG" and, together with USBII, the "Remarketing Agent").

Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority, a public body corporate and politic of the State of Florida (the "Issuer"), is issuing $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Bonds") under and pursuant to a Trust Indenture between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"). The Bonds will be secured by an assignment of rights to receive payments from the Company under a Loan Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"). The Bonds will initially bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture). Intending to be legally bound, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Appointment and Acceptance. The Company hereby appoints USBII and USBMPG to serve, jointly, as the exclusive Remarketing Agent for the Bonds, and the Remarketing Agent hereby accepts such appointment and agrees to perform the duties and obligations imposed upon it as Remarketing Agent under the Indenture and hereunder, including, without limitation, the duties and obligations to take such actions and enter into such documents as may be necessary to effectuate a direction given pursuant to Section 201(j) of the Indenture, and agrees to use its best efforts to offer for sale and to sell the Bonds which it has been advised by Regions Bank, as tender agent (the "Tender Agent"), have been tendered pursuant to and in accordance with the Indenture.

2. Fees and Expenses. The Company shall pay the Remarketing Agent, as compensation for its services hereunder, a fee equal to 0.07 % per annum of the weighted average principal amount of the Bonds outstanding during each three month period that the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, a Daily Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture), or a Commercial Paper Term Rate (as defined in the Indenture), payable quarterly on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1, commencing July 1, 2024. The parties expect other arrangements to be made in the event that the Bonds are adjusted to bear interest at a Long-Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture) or to an alternate interest rate established in accordance with Section 201(j) of the Indenture. The Remarketing Agent will not be entitled to compensation after this Agreement shall be terminated or after the term of appointment of the Remarketing Agent shall have expired except for a pro rata portion of the fee in respect of the period in which such termination or expiration occurs. The Trustee shall have no responsibility, obligation or liability with respect to any payment hereunder.

3. Disclosure Document. If the Remarketing Agent determines that it is necessary or desirable to use a disclosure document in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds, the Remarketing Agent will notify the Company of such determination. If the Remarketing Agent or the Company determines that it is necessary or desirable to use a disclosure document in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds, the Company will provide the Remarketing Agent with a disclosure document satisfactory to the Remarketing Agent and its counsel in respect of the Bonds. The Company will supply the Remarketing Agent with such number of copies of the disclosure document as the Remarketing Agent reasonably requests from time to time. The Company will supplement and amend the disclosure document (which may include the Official Statement distributed in connection with the initial sale of the Bonds (the "Official Statement")) so that at all times the document will not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements in the disclosure document, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

4. Indemnification. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Remarketing Agent and any member, officer, official or employee of the Remarketing Agent, and each person, if any, who controls the Remarketing Agent, within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act") (collectively called the "Indemnified Parties"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof or the alleged omission from the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof of any material fact relating to the Project (as defined in the Indenture) or the Company necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the Company will not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage, liability, expense or action arises out of or is based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or alleged omission made in any of such documents in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished to the Company by the Remarketing Agent specifically for use therein. This indemnity agreement is in addition to any liability which the Company may otherwise have. In case any action shall be brought against one or more of the Indemnified Parties based upon the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof and in respect of which indemnity may be sought against the Company, the Indemnified Parties shall promptly give written notice to the Company, but the omission so to notify the Company of any action shall not relieve the Company from any liability that it may have to the Indemnified Party otherwise than on account of this indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any action shall be so given, the Company shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by the Company and satisfactory to the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the Company shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, the Company will reimburse such Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, that if the defendants in any such action include both an Indemnified Party and the Company, and counsel for the Company shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the Company and any Indemnified Party, the Indemnified Parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the Company, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such Indemnified Parties at the expense of the Company (it being understood, however, that the Company shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties who are parties to such action). The Company shall not be liable for any settlement of any such action effected without its consent, but if settled with the consent of the Company or if there be a final judgment for the plaintiff in any such action with or without consent, the Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indemnified Parties from and against any loss or liability by reason of such settlement or judgment.

5. Remarketing Agent's Liabilities. The Remarketing Agent shall incur no liability to the Company or to any other party for its actions as Remarketing Agent pursuant to the terms hereof and of the Indenture except for its negligence or willful misconduct and except as otherwise specifically provided herein. The Remarketing Agent will not be liable to the Company on account of the failure of any person to whom the Remarketing Agent has sold a Bond to pay for it or to deliver any document in respect of such sale. The undertaking of the Remarketing Agent to remarket any Bonds pursuant to the Indenture shall be on a "best efforts" basis.

6. Resignation or Removal and Expiration of Term of Appointment of Remarketing Agent. The Company may remove the Remarketing Agent at any time by giving at least 5 business days' notice to the Remarketing Agent, the Issuer and the Trustee. The Remarketing Agent may at any time resign and be discharged of the duties and obligations created by this Agreement by giving at least 45 calendar days' notice to the Company, the Issuer, the Tender Agent and the Trustee. The term of appointment of the Remarketing Agent shall expire upon each adjustment of the interest rate determination method for the Bonds pursuant to the Indenture; provided, however, that if the Company appoints the Remarketing Agent as the successor Remarketing Agent with respect to such new interest rate determination method, then this Agreement shall, at the option of the Company, remain in full force and effect without necessity of supplement or amendment and the Remarketing Agent shall be deemed to accept its appointment as successor Remarketing Agent as of the date of conversion to such new interest rate determination method. The provisions of Sections 4 and 5 will continue in effect as to transactions prior to the date of termination or expiration, and each party will pay the other any amounts owing at the time of termination or expiration.

7. Suspension. The Remarketing Agent may suspend its remarketing obligations under this Agreement at any time that any of the following circumstances shall have occurred and be continuing and, in the reasonable judgment of the Remarketing Agent, render it impracticable for the Remarketing Agent to perform its obligations under this Agreement:

(i) Any event shall have occurred, or information shall have become known, which, in the Remarketing Agent's reasonable opinion, makes untrue, incorrect or misleading in any material respect any statement or information contained in the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof, as the information contained therein may have been supplemented or amended by the other information furnished to the Remarketing Agent in accordance with the terms and provisions contained herein, or causes such disclosure document, as so supplemented or amended, to contain an untrue, incorrect or misleading statement of a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(ii) There shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on the New York Stock Exchange;

(iii) There shall have occurred a general banking moratorium declared by New York or Federal authorities;

(iv) There shall have occurred any new outbreak of hostilities including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date of this Agreement or other national or international calamity or crisis;

(v) There shall have occurred a material adverse change, calamity or crisis in the financial markets of the United States, or the escalation of such calamity or crisis;

(vi) For any reason, a change in applicable tax laws or securities laws would require registration under the Act in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds; or

(vii) There shall have occurred a material adverse change in the financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, which material adverse change, in the Remarketing Agent's reasonable judgment, materially adversely affects the marketability of the Bonds (such right to be exercised by the Remarketing Agent in good faith).

In the event of any suspension pursuant to this paragraph, the Remarketing Agent declaring such suspension shall notify the Company thereof as soon as reasonably practicable in accordance with Section 14 hereof. Notwithstanding the declaration of suspension by the Remarketing Agent, the Remarketing Agent shall continue to determine and give notice of the interest rate on the Bonds as provided in the Indenture. Notwithstanding any provisions in this Agreement to the contrary, upon the declaration of suspension by the Remarketing Agent, the Company, upon approval by the Issuer and upon notification in writing to the Remarketing Agent, may immediately remove the Remarketing Agent.

8. Dealing in Securities by Remarketing Agent. The Remarketing Agent, in its individual capacity, either as principal or agent, may in its sole discretion, buy, sell, own, hold and deal in any of the Bonds, and may join in any action which any bondholder may be entitled to take with like effect as if it did not act in any capacity hereunder. The Remarketing Agent, in its individual capacity, either as principal or agent, may also engage in or be interested in any financial or other transaction with the Company and may act as depositary, trustee or agent for any committee or body of bondholders with respect to other obligations of the Company, as freely as if it did not act in any capacity hereunder. The Company acknowledges that the Remarketing Agent is a full service firm that, together with its affiliates, is engaged in securities trading and brokerage activities and provides investment banking, financing and financial advisory services. In the ordinary course of its trading, brokerage and financing activities, the Remarketing Agent (and/or its affiliates) may at any time hold long or short positions, and may trade or otherwise effect transactions, for their own accounts or the accounts of customers, in debt or equity securities or financial instruments (including bank loans and other obligations) of the Company.

9. Remarketing Agent's Performance.

(i) The duties and obligations of the Remarketing Agent shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Agreement, the Indenture and the Tender Agreement by and among the Trustee, the Company, the Tender Agent and USBMPG (in its capacity as Underwriter of the Bonds), dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Tender Agreement"). The Remarketing Agent shall not be responsible for the performance of any duties or obligations other than as are specifically set forth in this Agreement, the Indenture, and the Tender Agreement and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Agreement or the Indenture against the Remarketing Agent.

(ii) The Remarketing Agent may conclusively rely upon any notice or document given or furnished to the Remarketing Agent and conforming to the requirements of this Agreement, the Indenture or the Tender Agreement and shall be protected in acting upon any such notice or document reasonably believed by it to be genuine and to have been given, signed or presented by the proper party or parties.

10. Compliance with MSRB Rule 34(c) and Agreement to Provide Liquidity Documents.

(i) In connection with its services under this Agreement, the Remarketing Agent will be required to comply with Rule G-34(c) ("Rule G-34(c)") of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB"). Rule G-34(c) and related MSRB guidance requires the Remarketing Agent to submit to the MSRB's Short-term Obligation Rate Transparency System (the "SHORT System"):

(a) certain information with respect to each interest rate determination for variable rate demand obligations; and

(b) current copies of (A) the Indenture, (B) the Loan Agreement, (C) any other document that establishes an obligation to provide liquidity for variable rate demand obligations, and (D) those documents that include provisions detailing critical aspects of the liquidity provisions for variable rate demand obligations, including, but not limited to, (1) the circumstances under which a liquidity facility may terminate, (2) the notice period for bondholder tenders and (3) the term out (amortization) period for variable rate demand obligations held by the liquidity provider; ((A) through (D), collectively, the "Liquidity Documents").

(ii) In order to assist the Remarketing Agent to comply with its obligations under Rule G-34(c), the Company shall provide the Remarketing Agent, in the form of a word-searchable PDF file or in such other form as the Remarketing Agent shall notify the Company in writing as required by the MSRB, the following documents at the following times:

(a) A copy of the executed Liquidity Documents;

(b) No later than ten business days prior to the proposed date of any amendment, including an extension or renewal of the expiration date, or replacement or termination of the then current Liquidity Documents, written notice that the current Liquidity Documents are proposed to be amended, extended, renewed, replaced or terminated and the expected date of execution and delivery of the amendment, extension, renewal, replacement or termination of the Liquidity Documents;

(c) Within one business day after the execution and delivery of any amendment, including any renewal, extension, replacement or termination of the then current Liquidity Documents, a copy of the executed amendment, renewal, extension, replacement or termination thereof; and

(d) No later than ten business days after receiving a request from the Remarketing Agent for any document relating to the liquidity supporting the Bonds, such document requested by the Remarketing Agent relating to the liquidity supporting the Bonds.

(iii) The Company agrees with the Remarketing Agent as follows:

(a) the Remarketing Agent will not redact any information in the Liquidity Documents that the Company provides to the Remarketing Agent, and will have no liability to the Company or any other party for any disclosure of confidential or sensitive information resulting from its compliance with Rule G-34(c);

(b) all Liquidity Documents and information filed by the Remarketing Agent pursuant to the requirements of Rule G-34(c) will be publicly available on the SHORT System, in the form such Liquidity Documents and information is provided to the Remarketing Agent; and

(c) in the event the Company does not provide the Remarketing Agent with a copy of a document described in this Section 10, the Company acknowledges that the Remarketing Agent may file a notice with the SHORT System that such document will not be provided at such time as is specified by the MSRB and in the SHORT System users' manual.

(iv) The Remarketing Agent acknowledges and agrees that pursuant to Rule G-34 and MSRB Notice 2011-17, the Company has the right to redact certain information that may be contained in a Liquidity Document. The Company represents and warrants that any Liquidity Document that is redacted by the Company and provided to the Remarketing Agent pursuant to this Section of the Agreement shall be redacted in a manner that is not inconsistent with MSRB Notice 2011-17.

(v) The Company shall pay or reimburse the Remarketing Agent for all reasonable charges and expenses incurred in obtaining the documents required to be filed pursuant to Rule G-34(c).

(vi) In the event additional legal or regulatory requirements are imposed on the Remarketing Agent's performance of its obligations under this Agreement, the Company agrees to cooperate with the Remarketing Agent and shall provide such documents and take such other steps as may be reasonably requested by the Remarketing Agent in order to comply with such additional requirements.

11. No Advisory or Fiduciary Role. The Company acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the transaction contemplated by this Agreement is an arm's length, commercial transaction between the Company and the Remarketing Agent in which the Remarketing Agent is acting solely as a principal and is not acting as a "municipal advisor" (as defined in Section 15B of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act")), financial advisor or fiduciary to the Company; (ii) the Remarketing Agent has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Remarketing Agent or its affiliates have provided other services or is currently providing other services to the Company on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Remarketing Agent has to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement; and (iv) the Company has consulted its own legal, accounting, tax, financial and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate. The Company agrees that it will not claim that the Remarketing Agent is a "municipal advisor" within the meaning of Section 15B of the Exchange Act, or owes a fiduciary or similar duty to the Company in connection with the transaction contemplated by this Agreement or the process leading thereto.

12. Intention of Parties. It is the express intention of the parties hereto that no purchase, sale or transfer of any Bonds, as herein provided, shall constitute or be construed to be the extinguishment of any Bond or the indebtedness represented thereby or the reissuance of any Bond or the refunding of any indebtedness represented thereby.

13. Compliance with Indenture and Tender Agreement. The Remarketing Agent represents that it is qualified to act as Remarketing Agent and agrees to abide by all of the provisions of the Indenture and the Tender Agreement, insofar as they govern its activities as Remarketing Agent for the Bonds. In particular, the Remarketing Agent (in its capacity as Remarketing Agent) hereby agrees to keep such books and records as shall be consistent with prudent industry practice and will make such books and records available for inspection by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Tender Agent and the Company at all reasonable times.

14. Notices. Unless otherwise provided, all notices, requests, demands and formal actions hereunder shall be in writing and mailed or delivered, as follows:

Each of the above parties may, by written notice given hereunder to the others, designate any further or different addresses to which subsequent notices, certificates, requests, or other communications shall be sent. In addition, the parties hereto may agree to any other means by which subsequent notices, certificates, requests or other communications may be sent.

15. Assignment. This Agreement, and the obligations of the Company hereunder, may not be assigned or delegated to any other person without the prior written consent of the Remarketing Agent. Any assignment of this Agreement by the Remarketing Agent shall require the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. This Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Company and the Remarketing Agent and their respective successors and assigns, and will not confer any rights upon any other person, partnership, association or corporation other than persons, if any, controlling the Remarketing Agent or the Company within the meaning of the Exchange Act. The terms "successors" and "assigns" shall not include any purchaser of any of the Bonds merely because of such purchase.

16. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by any one or more of the parties hereto in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

17. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.

Exhibit 4 (f)

Remarketing Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024, with respect to the MDCIDA Series 2024B Revenue Bonds.

REMARKETING AGREEMENT

This Remarketing Agreement (the "Agreement") dated May 23, 2024 is made by and between Florida Power & Light Company (the "Company") and PNC Capital Markets LLC (the "Remarketing Agent").

Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority, a public body corporate and politic of the State of Florida (the "Issuer"), is issuing $172,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Bonds") under and pursuant to a Trust Indenture between the Issuer and Regions Bank, as trustee (the "Trustee"), dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture"). The Bonds will be secured by an assignment of rights to receive payments from the Company under a Loan Agreement, dated as of May 1, 2024 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"). The Bonds will initially bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture). Intending to be legally bound, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Appointment and Acceptance. The Company hereby appoints PNC Capital Markets LLC to serve as the exclusive Remarketing Agent for the Bonds, and the Remarketing Agent hereby accepts such appointment and agrees to perform the duties and obligations imposed upon it as Remarketing Agent under the Indenture and hereunder, including, without limitation, the duties and obligations to take such actions and enter into such documents as may be necessary to effectuate a direction given pursuant to Section 201(j) of the Indenture, and agrees to use its best efforts to offer for sale and to sell the Bonds which it has been advised by Regions Bank, as tender agent (the "Tender Agent"), have been tendered pursuant to and in accordance with the Indenture.

2. Fees and Expenses. The Company shall pay the Remarketing Agent, as compensation for its services hereunder, a fee equal to 0.07 % per annum of the weighted average principal amount of the Bonds outstanding during each three month period that the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, a Daily Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture), or a Commercial Paper Term Rate (as defined in the Indenture), payable quarterly on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1, commencing July 1, 2024. The parties expect other arrangements to be made in the event that the Bonds are adjusted to bear interest at a Long-Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture) or to an alternate interest rate established in accordance with Section 201(j) of the Indenture. The Remarketing Agent will not be entitled to compensation after this Agreement shall be terminated or after the term of appointment of the Remarketing Agent shall have expired except for a pro rata portion of the fee in respect of the period in which such termination or expiration occurs. The Trustee shall have no responsibility, obligation or liability with respect to any payment hereunder.

3. Disclosure Document. If the Remarketing Agent determines that it is necessary or desirable to use a disclosure document in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds, the Remarketing Agent will notify the Company of such determination. If the Remarketing Agent or the Company determines that it is necessary or desirable to use a disclosure document in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds, the Company will provide the Remarketing Agent with a disclosure document satisfactory to the Remarketing Agent and its counsel in respect of the Bonds. The Company will supply the Remarketing Agent with such number of copies of the disclosure document as the Remarketing Agent reasonably requests from time to time. The Company will supplement and amend the disclosure document (which may include the Official Statement distributed in connection with the initial sale of the Bonds (the "Official Statement")) so that at all times the document will not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements in the disclosure document, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

4. Indemnification. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Remarketing Agent and any member, officer, official or employee of the Remarketing Agent, and each person, if any, who controls the Remarketing Agent, within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act") (collectively called the "Indemnified Parties"), against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities to which they or any of them may become subject and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof or the alleged omission from the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof of any material fact relating to the Project (as defined in the Indenture) or the Company necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that the Company will not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage, liability, expense or action arises out of or is based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or alleged omission made in any of such documents in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished to the Company by the Remarketing Agent specifically for use therein. This indemnity agreement is in addition to any liability which the Company may otherwise have. In case any action shall be brought against one or more of the Indemnified Parties based upon the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof and in respect of which indemnity may be sought against the Company, the Indemnified Parties shall promptly give written notice to the Company, but the omission so to notify the Company of any action shall not relieve the Company from any liability that it may have to the Indemnified Party otherwise than on account of this indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any action shall be so given, the Company shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by the Company and satisfactory to the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the Company shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, the Company will reimburse such Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, that if the defendants in any such action include both an Indemnified Party and the Company, and counsel for the Company shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the Company and any Indemnified Party, the Indemnified Parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the Company, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such Indemnified Parties at the expense of the Company (it being understood, however, that the Company shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Parties who are parties to such action). The Company shall not be liable for any settlement of any such action effected without its consent, but if settled with the consent of the Company or if there be a final judgment for the plaintiff in any such action with or without consent, the Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Indemnified Parties from and against any loss or liability by reason of such settlement or judgment.

5. Remarketing Agent's Liabilities. The Remarketing Agent shall incur no liability to the Company or to any other party for its actions as Remarketing Agent pursuant to the terms hereof and of the Indenture except for its negligence or willful misconduct and except as otherwise specifically provided herein. The Remarketing Agent will not be liable to the Company on account of the failure of any person to whom the Remarketing Agent has sold a Bond to pay for it or to deliver any document in respect of such sale. The undertaking of the Remarketing Agent to remarket any Bonds pursuant to the Indenture shall be on a "best efforts" basis.

6. Resignation or Removal and Expiration of Term of Appointment of Remarketing Agent. The Company may remove the Remarketing Agent at any time by giving at least 5 business days' notice to the Remarketing Agent, the Issuer and the Trustee. The Remarketing Agent may at any time resign and be discharged of the duties and obligations created by this Agreement by giving at least 45 calendar days' notice to the Company, the Issuer, the Tender Agent and the Trustee. The term of appointment of the Remarketing Agent shall expire upon each adjustment of the interest rate determination method for the Bonds pursuant to the Indenture; provided, however, that if the Company appoints the Remarketing Agent as the successor Remarketing Agent with respect to such new interest rate determination method, then this Agreement shall, at the option of the Company, remain in full force and effect without necessity of supplement or amendment and the Remarketing Agent shall be deemed to accept its appointment as successor Remarketing Agent as of the date of conversion to such new interest rate determination method. The provisions of Sections 4 and 5 will continue in effect as to transactions prior to the date of termination or expiration, and each party will pay the other any amounts owing at the time of termination or expiration.

7. Suspension. The Remarketing Agent may suspend its remarketing obligations under this Agreement at any time that any of the following circumstances shall have occurred and be continuing and, in the reasonable judgment of the Remarketing Agent, render it impracticable for the Remarketing Agent to perform its obligations under this Agreement:

(i) Any event shall have occurred, or information shall have become known, which, in the Remarketing Agent's reasonable opinion, makes untrue, incorrect or misleading in any material respect any statement or information contained in the disclosure document referred to in Section 3 hereof, as the information contained therein may have been supplemented or amended by the other information furnished to the Remarketing Agent in accordance with the terms and provisions contained herein, or causes such disclosure document, as so supplemented or amended, to contain an untrue, incorrect or misleading statement of a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(ii) There shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on the New York Stock Exchange;

(iii) There shall have occurred a general banking moratorium declared by New York or Federal authorities;

(iv) There shall have occurred any new outbreak of hostilities including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date of this Agreement or other national or international calamity or crisis;

(v) There shall have occurred a material adverse change, calamity or crisis in the financial markets of the United States, or the escalation of such calamity or crisis;

(vi) For any reason, a change in applicable tax laws or securities laws would require registration under the Act in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds; or

(vii) There shall have occurred a material adverse change in the financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, which material adverse change, in the Remarketing Agent's reasonable judgment, materially adversely affects the marketability of the Bonds (such right to be exercised by the Remarketing Agent in good faith).

In the event of any suspension pursuant to this paragraph, the Remarketing Agent declaring such suspension shall notify the Company thereof as soon as reasonably practicable in accordance with Section 14 hereof. Notwithstanding the declaration of suspension by the Remarketing Agent, the Remarketing Agent shall continue to determine and give notice of the interest rate on the Bonds as provided in the Indenture. Notwithstanding any provisions in this Agreement to the contrary, upon the declaration of suspension by the Remarketing Agent, the Company, upon approval by the Issuer and upon notification in writing to the Remarketing Agent, may immediately remove the Remarketing Agent.

8. Dealing in Securities by Remarketing Agent. The Remarketing Agent, in its individual capacity, either as principal or agent, may in its sole discretion, buy, sell, own, hold and deal in any of the Bonds, and may join in any action which any bondholder may be entitled to take with like effect as if it did not act in any capacity hereunder. The Remarketing Agent, in its individual capacity, either as principal or agent, may also engage in or be interested in any financial or other transaction with the Company and may act as depositary, trustee or agent for any committee or body of bondholders with respect to other obligations of the Company, as freely as if it did not act in any capacity hereunder. The Company acknowledges that the Remarketing Agent is a full service firm that, together with its affiliates, is engaged in securities trading and brokerage activities and provides investment banking, financing and financial advisory services. In the ordinary course of its trading, brokerage and financing activities, the Remarketing Agent (and/or its affiliates) may at any time hold long or short positions, and may trade or otherwise effect transactions, for their own accounts or the accounts of customers, in debt or equity securities or financial instruments (including bank loans and other obligations) of the Company.

9. Remarketing Agent's Performance.

(i) The duties and obligations of the Remarketing Agent shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Agreement, the Indenture and the Tender Agreement by and among the Trustee, the Company, the Tender Agent and the Remarketing Agent, dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Tender Agreement"). The Remarketing Agent shall not be responsible for the performance of any duties or obligations other than as are specifically set forth in this Agreement, the Indenture, and the Tender Agreement and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Agreement or the Indenture against the Remarketing Agent.

(ii) The Remarketing Agent may conclusively rely upon any notice or document given or furnished to the Remarketing Agent and conforming to the requirements of this Agreement, the Indenture or the Tender Agreement and shall be protected in acting upon any such notice or document reasonably believed by it to be genuine and to have been given, signed or presented by the proper party or parties.

10. Compliance with MSRB Rule 34(c) and Agreement to Provide Liquidity Documents.

(i) In connection with its services under this Agreement, the Remarketing Agent will be required to comply with Rule G-34(c) ("Rule G-34(c)") of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB"). Rule G-34(c) and related MSRB guidance requires the Remarketing Agent to submit to the MSRB's Short-term Obligation Rate Transparency System (the "SHORT System"):

(a) certain information with respect to each interest rate determination for variable rate demand obligations; and

(b) current copies of (A) the Indenture, (B) the Loan Agreement, (C) any other document that establishes an obligation to provide liquidity for variable rate demand obligations, and (D) those documents that include provisions detailing critical aspects of the liquidity provisions for variable rate demand obligations, including, but not limited to, (1) the circumstances under which a liquidity facility may terminate, (2) the notice period for bondholder tenders and (3) the term out (amortization) period for variable rate demand obligations held by the liquidity provider; ((A) through (D), collectively, the "Liquidity Documents").

(ii) In order to assist the Remarketing Agent to comply with its obligations under Rule G-34(c), the Company shall provide the Remarketing Agent, in the form of a word-searchable PDF file or in such other form as the Remarketing Agent shall notify the Company in writing as required by the MSRB, the following documents at the following times:

(a) A copy of the executed Liquidity Documents;

(b) No later than ten business days prior to the proposed date of any amendment, including an extension or renewal of the expiration date, or replacement or termination of the then current Liquidity Documents, written notice that the current Liquidity Documents are proposed to be amended, extended, renewed, replaced or terminated and the expected date of execution and delivery of the amendment, extension, renewal, replacement or termination of the Liquidity Documents;

(c) Within one business day after the execution and delivery of any amendment, including any renewal, extension, replacement or termination of the then current Liquidity Documents, a copy of the executed amendment, renewal, extension, replacement or termination thereof; and

(d) No later than ten business days after receiving a request from the Remarketing Agent for any document relating to the liquidity supporting the Bonds, such document requested by the Remarketing Agent relating to the liquidity supporting the Bonds.

(iii) The Company agrees with the Remarketing Agent as follows:

(a) the Remarketing Agent will not redact any information in the Liquidity Documents that the Company provides to the Remarketing Agent, and will have no liability to the Company or any other party for any disclosure of confidential or sensitive information resulting from its compliance with Rule G-34(c);

(b) all Liquidity Documents and information filed by the Remarketing Agent pursuant to the requirements of Rule G-34(c) will be publicly available on the SHORT System, in the form such Liquidity Documents and information is provided to the Remarketing Agent; and

(c) in the event the Company does not provide the Remarketing Agent with a copy of a document described in this Section 10, the Company acknowledges that the Remarketing Agent may file a notice with the SHORT System that such document will not be provided at such time as is specified by the MSRB and in the SHORT System users' manual.

(iv) The Remarketing Agent acknowledges and agrees that pursuant to Rule G-34 and MSRB Notice 2011-17, the Company has the right to redact certain information that may be contained in a Liquidity Document. The Company represents and warrants that any Liquidity Document that is redacted by the Company and provided to the Remarketing Agent pursuant to this Section of the Agreement shall be redacted in a manner that is not inconsistent with MSRB Notice 2011-17.

(v) The Company shall pay or reimburse the Remarketing Agent for all reasonable charges and expenses incurred in obtaining the documents required to be filed pursuant to Rule G-34(c).

(vi) In the event additional legal or regulatory requirements are imposed on the Remarketing Agent's performance of its obligations under this Agreement, the Company agrees to cooperate with the Remarketing Agent and shall provide such documents and take such other steps as may be reasonably requested by the Remarketing Agent in order to comply with such additional requirements.

11. No Advisory or Fiduciary Role. The Company acknowledges and agrees that: (i) the transaction contemplated by this Agreement is an arm's length, commercial transaction between the Company and the Remarketing Agent in which the Remarketing Agent is acting solely as a principal and is not acting as a "municipal advisor" (as defined in Section 15B of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act")), financial advisor or fiduciary to the Company; (ii) the Remarketing Agent has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby and the discussions, undertakings and procedures leading thereto (irrespective of whether the Remarketing Agent or its affiliates have provided other services or is currently providing other services to the Company on other matters); (iii) the only obligations the Remarketing Agent has to the Company with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this Agreement; and (iv) the Company has consulted its own legal, accounting, tax, financial and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent it has deemed appropriate. The Company agrees that it will not claim that the Remarketing Agent is a "municipal advisor" within the meaning of Section 15B of the Exchange Act, or owes a fiduciary or similar duty to the Company in connection with the transaction contemplated by this Agreement or the process leading thereto.

12. Intention of Parties. It is the express intention of the parties hereto that no purchase, sale or transfer of any Bonds, as herein provided, shall constitute or be construed to be the extinguishment of any Bond or the indebtedness represented thereby or the reissuance of any Bond or the refunding of any indebtedness represented thereby.

13. Compliance with Indenture and Tender Agreement. The Remarketing Agent represents that it is qualified to act as Remarketing Agent and agrees to abide by all of the provisions of the Indenture and the Tender Agreement, insofar as they govern its activities as Remarketing Agent for the Bonds. In particular, the Remarketing Agent (in its capacity as Remarketing Agent) hereby agrees to keep such books and records as shall be consistent with prudent industry practice and will make such books and records available for inspection by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Tender Agent and the Company at all reasonable times.

14. Notices. Unless otherwise provided, all notices, requests, demands and formal actions hereunder shall be in writing and mailed or delivered, as follows:

Each of the above parties may, by written notice given hereunder to the others, designate any further or different addresses to which subsequent notices, certificates, requests, or other communications shall be sent. In addition, the parties hereto may agree to any other means by which subsequent notices, certificates, requests or other communications may be sent.

15. Assignment. This Agreement, and the obligations of the Company hereunder, may not be assigned or delegated to any other person without the prior written consent of the Remarketing Agent. Any assignment of this Agreement by the Remarketing Agent shall require the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. This Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Company and the Remarketing Agent and their respective successors and assigns, and will not confer any rights upon any other person, partnership, association or corporation other than persons, if any, controlling the Remarketing Agent or the Company within the meaning of the Exchange Act. The terms "successors" and "assigns" shall not include any purchaser of any of the Bonds merely because of such purchase.

16. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by any one or more of the parties hereto in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

17. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.

TENDER AGREEMENT

This TENDER AGREEMENT, dated as of May 1, 2024, is among REGIONS BANK, as Trustee, Tender Agent and Registrar (in such respective capacities, the "Trustee", the "Tender Agent" and the "Registrar"); FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY (the "Company"); and U.S. BANCORP INVESTMENTS, INC. and U.S. BANK MUNICIPAL PRODUCTS GROUP, A DIVISION OF U.S. BANK NATIONAL ASSOCIATION, as Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"); or the permitted successors and assigns of any of the foregoing;

WHEREAS, Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") proposes to issue its Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024A (the "Bonds"), in the aggregate principal amount of $172,000,000 pursuant to the Trust Indenture dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture") from the Issuer to the Trustee; and

WHEREAS, the Company has appointed Regions Bank, as Tender Agent and Registrar, and Regions Bank has accepted such appointment and agreed to perform the duties and obligations imposed on it as Tender Agent and Registrar under the Indenture; and

WHEREAS, the Bonds and the Indenture provide, among other things, that the Bonds may be tendered for purchase from time to time by the Owners thereof at their option and that the Bonds shall be tendered for purchase from time to time by the Owners thereof upon the occurrence of certain events, in accordance with the provisions of the Bonds and the Indenture; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of the Indenture, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to use its best efforts to remarket any Bond tendered for purchase;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and in order to provide for the coordination of said arrangements, the parties hereby agree as follows:

Section 1. Defined Terms. Capitalized terms used in this Agreement and not defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

Section 2. Qualification of Tender Agent and Registrar. The Tender Agent and Registrar hereby represents that it is qualified to serve as Tender Agent under the requirements of Section 1402(b) of the Indenture and as Registrar under the requirements of Section 920 of the Indenture.

Section 3. Establishment of Purchase Fund.

(a) In accordance with Section 1401(b)(ii) of the Indenture, there is hereby established with the Tender Agent a separate segregated trust fund designated the "Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024 Purchase Fund" and any subaccount therein (the "Purchase Fund"). In accordance with Section 1401(b)(ii) of the Indenture, there are also hereby established two separate accounts in such Purchase Fund to be designated respectively the "Remarketing Account" and the "Company Moneys Account." The Tender Agent may establish one or more additional accounts in the Purchase Fund for such purposes as the Tender Agent determines to be necessary including, but not limited to, an account for the deposit of moneys held for the Owners of Undelivered Bonds.

(b) All moneys received by the Tender Agent pursuant to Section 1403(b)(i) or (iii) of the Indenture shall be deposited in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund and held in trust until paid for the purchase of Bonds in accordance with the provisions of Section 1403 of the Indenture.

(c) All moneys received by the Tender Agent from the Remarketing Agent on behalf of purchasers of Bonds pursuant to Section 1403(b)(ii) of the Indenture on account of remarketed Bonds shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund and held in trust until paid for the purchase of Bonds in accordance with the provisions of Section 1403 of the Indenture.

Section 4. Deposit of Bonds. The Tender Agent agrees to accept and hold all Bonds delivered to it for purchase pursuant to the Indenture as agent and bailee of, and in escrow for the benefit of the respective Owners which shall have so delivered such Bonds until moneys representing the purchase price of such Bonds shall have been delivered to or for the account of or to the order of such Owners pursuant to the Indenture.

Section 5. Remarketing Mechanics for Bonds.

(a) Daily Interest Rate Period. (i) Not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on each Business Day, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee and the Company of each notice from an Owner pursuant to Section 202(a) of the Indenture that the Tender Agent has received on such Business Day (or during the immediately preceding Business Day if received after 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on such preceding Business Day). Such electronic notice by the Tender Agent shall specify the principal amount of the Bonds for which it has received such notice (the "Daily Put Bonds"), the names of the Owners thereof, if any of such Owners shall have provided instructions to the Tender Agent regarding the payment or purchase of its Bonds (the "Standing Payment Instructions") and any requested change therein and the date specified as the date such Bonds are to be purchased (each such date, and any other date on which Bonds are to be purchased under the Indenture, is referred to herein as a "Tender Purchase Date"); provided that, if the Tender Purchase Date is a date other than the Business Day on which notice is received from an Owner, the Tender Agent shall specify the purchase price for such Bonds not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date.

(ii) Not later than 11:45 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date with respect to all Daily Put Bonds, the Tender Agent shall electronically confirm with the Trustee the aggregate amount of the interest payable as of the Tender Purchase Date on such Daily Put Bonds. Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on any such Tender Purchase Date the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Daily Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on such Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the purchasers (the "New Purchasers") of the Daily Put Bonds, stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the name, address, taxpayer identification number of the New Purchasers (such information is hereinafter referred to as "New Registration Information") necessary for the Registrar to prepare replacement certificates for the New Purchasers and any requested Standing Payment Instructions from such New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Daily Put Bonds on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Daily Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Daily Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Daily Put Bonds specified in the electronic notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Daily Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(b) Weekly Interest Rate Period. (i) Not later than 10:30 a.m. (New York City time) on each Business Day succeeding a day on which the Tender Agent receives a notice from an Owner pursuant to Section 202(b) of the Indenture, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent and the Company, specifying the principal amount of the Bonds for which it has received such notice (the "Weekly Put Bonds"), the Tender Purchase Date for such Weekly Put Bonds and the names of the Owners thereof and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Weekly Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on the Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of such Weekly Put Bonds, stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent (or to be held by the Remarketing Agent on the Tender Purchase Date) for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Weekly Put Bonds for delivery on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Weekly Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Weekly Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Weekly Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Weekly Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(c) Mandatory Tenders for Purchase on First Day of Each Interest Rate Period.

(i) Not later than 10:30 a.m. (New York City time) on the Business Day succeeding the date of mailing of any notice of mandatory tender for purchase sent to Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Trustee, the Company, and the Remarketing Agent specifying the principal amount (together with any premium, if applicable) of Bonds subject to mandatory tender for purchase (the "Mandatory Put Bonds"), the Tender Purchase Date for such Mandatory Put Bonds and the names of the Owners thereof and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on any such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Mandatory Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on the Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of such Mandatory Put Bonds stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase

Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Mandatory Put Bonds for delivery on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Mandatory Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Mandatory Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Mandatory Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Mandatory Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(d) Mandatory Tender for Purchase on Day Next Succeeding the Last Day of Each Commercial Paper Term.

(i) Not later than 10:15 a.m. (New York City time) on the day next succeeding the last day of any Commercial Paper Term (the "CP Date") with respect to a Bond, unless such day is the first day of a new Interest Rate Period (in which event Section 5(c) hereof shall be applicable), the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent and the Company, specifying the principal amount of each Bond then bearing interest at a Commercial Paper Term Rate, and to which such CP Date relates, the principal amount of such Bonds to be purchased on such CP Date (the "CP Put Bonds"), and the names of the Owners of the CP Put Bonds and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on each CP Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of CP Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of the CP Put Bonds stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers and the Commercial Paper Term and the Commercial Paper Term Rate for each CP Put Bond so remarketed. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such CP Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all CP Put Bonds on such CP Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such CP Date the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such CP Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all CP Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the CP Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the CP Date to pay the purchase price of such CP Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such CP Date the amount so demanded.

Section 6. DTC Procedures. The parties hereto acknowledge that, as provided in the Indenture, the Bonds will on the date of issuance thereof be deposited into the book-entry-only system maintained by The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") and while so deposited shall be registered as a single bond in the name of DTC's nominee, Cede & Co. The Tender Agent and the Registrar agree that, so long as the Bonds are held by DTC in its book-entry-only system, tenders of Bonds shall be accomplished in accordance with DTC's Delivery Order Procedures and the Tender Agent shall accept notices of tender in the forms set forth as EXHIBIT B to the Indenture.

Section 7. Undelivered Bonds. The Tender Agent shall, as to any Undelivered Bonds, (i) notify the Remarketing Agent of the existence thereof and (ii) direct the Registrar to place a stop transfer against such Undelivered Bonds. Upon the delivery of such Undelivered Bond, the Tender Agent shall direct the Registrar to release any such stop transfer.

Section 8. Delivery of Bonds. A principal amount of Bonds equal to the principal amount of Bonds purchased by New Purchasers shall be delivered by the Registrar to the Tender Agent, registered in the names of the New Purchasers. Such Bonds shall be held available at the office of the Tender Agent to be picked up by the Remarketing Agent at or after 2:00 p.m. (New York City time) (5:00 p.m., New York City time, in connection with any remarketing of Bonds described in Section 5(c) hereof in connection with an adjustment to a Long-Term Interest Rate Period) on the Tender Purchase Date or CP Date, as the case may be, against delivery of funds for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund equal to the purchase price of such Bonds which have been remarketed. Bonds which have been purchased from moneys in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund shall be held or delivered as directed by the Company in accordance with Section 1407(c) of the Indenture.

Section 9. Notices. Any notices required to be given pursuant to this Agreement shall be sent to the address for notices, if any, filed with the Trustee at the date hereof or such address of any party hereto as such party shall have specified by written notice to each of the other parties or via Electronic Means (as defined below); provided, however, any electronic notice to be given pursuant to this Agreement shall be sent via Electronic Means in accordance with this Section 9.

The Trustee, in its capacity as Trustee, Tender Agent and Registrar, shall have the right to accept and act upon any notice, demand, direction, request or other instructions, including funds transfer instructions ("Instructions"), given pursuant to this Agreement and delivered using Electronic Means; provided, however, that the Company, the Remarketing Agent or and such other party giving such Instruction (the "Sender") shall provide to the Trustee an incumbency certificate listing officers with the authority to provide such Instructions ("Authorized Officers") and containing specimen signatures of such Authorized Officers, which incumbency certificate shall be amended by the Sender whenever a person is to be added or deleted from the listing. If the Sender elects to give the Trustee Instructions using Electronic Means and the Trustee in its discretion elects to act upon such Instructions, the Trustee's understanding of such Instructions shall be deemed controlling. The Company, the Remarketing Agent and any other Sender understand and agree that the Trustee cannot determine the identity of the actual sender of such Instructions and that the Trustee shall conclusively presume that Instructions that purport to have been sent by an Authorized Officer listed on the incumbency certificate provided to the Trustee have been sent by such Authorized Officer. Each Sender shall be responsible for ensuring that only Authorized Officers transmit such Instructions to the Trustee and that the Sender and all Authorized Officers are solely responsible to safeguard the use and confidentiality of applicable user and authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys upon receipt by the Sender. The Trustee shall not be liable for any losses, costs or expenses arising directly or indirectly from the Trustee's reasonable reliance upon and compliance with such Instructions notwithstanding such directions conflict or are inconsistent with a subsequent written Instructions. The Company and the Remarketing Agent agree: (i) to assume all risks arising out of the use of Electronic Means to submit Instructions to the Trustee, including without limitation the risk of the Trustee acting on unauthorized Instructions, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties; (ii) that it is fully informed of the protections and risks associated with the various methods of transmitting Instructions to the Trustee and that there may be more secure methods of transmitting Instructions than the method(s) selected by the Company and Remarketing Agent for use by them, and the other parties who may give instructions to the Trustee under this Agreement; (iii) that the security procedures (if any) to be followed in connection with its transmission of Instructions provide to it a commercially reasonable degree of protection in light of its particular needs and circumstances; and (iv) to notify the Trustee immediately upon learning of any compromise or unauthorized use of the security procedures. "Electronic Means" shall mean the following communications methods: S.W.I.F.T., e-mail, facsimile transmission, secure electronic transmission containing applicable authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys issued by the Trustee, or another method or system specified by the Trustee as available for use in connection with its services hereunder.

All documents received by the Trustee under the provisions of this Agreement, or photographic copies thereof, shall be retained in its possession for the term of this Agreement and shall be released under the provisions of this agreement and the Indenture, subject at all reasonable times to the inspection of the Issuer, the Company, the Remarketing Agent any Bondholder and any agent or representative thereof.

Section 10. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed and interpreted in accordance with, the laws of the State of Florida.

Section 11. General.

(a) Payment of Tender Agent, Registrar and Trustee; Indemnification. The Company shall pay all reasonable fees, charges and out-of-pocket expenses of the Tender Agent, the Registrar and the Trustee (and their respective counsel) for acting under and pursuant to this Agreement or the Indenture. In addition, the Company shall indemnify and save harmless each of the Tender Agent, the Registrar and the Trustee and their respective officers and employees from and against any and all losses, costs, charges, expenses, judgments and liabilities arising out of claims made by third parties arising out of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Indenture; provided, however, that such indemnification shall not apply to any such losses, costs, charges, expenses, judgments or liabilities caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the party seeking such indemnity or of its officers or employees.

(b) Tender Agent's Performance. The Tender Agent shall perform only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Agreement or the Indenture. No provision of this Agreement or the Indenture shall require the Tender Agent to risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of its duties hereunder. No provision of this Agreement or the Indenture shall be construed to relieve the Tender Agent from liability resulting primarily from its own grossly negligent action or its own grossly negligent failure to act, except that:

(i) the duties and obligations of the Tender Agent shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Agreement and the Indenture and the Tender Agent shall not be liable except for the performance of such duties and obligations as are specifically set forth in this Agreement and the Indenture, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Agreement or the Indenture against the Tender Agent, and the Tender Agent shall not be liable under this Agreement except for its gross negligence or willful misconduct; and

(ii) in the absence of bad faith on the part of the Tender Agent, the Tender Agent may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements therein, upon any telecopy or other electronically transmitted message or written certificate furnished to the Tender Agent which conforms to the requirements of this Agreement and the Indenture; and

(iii) the Tender Agent shall not be liable for any error of judgment made by a responsible officer or officers of the Tender Agent unless it shall be proved that the Tender Agent was grossly negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts; and

(iv) the Tender Agent shall be entitled to the same exculpatory provisions as are set forth with respect to the Trustee in the Indenture.

(c) Payments. Any provisions of this Agreement or any statute to the contrary notwithstanding, the Tender Agent hereby waives any rights to, or liens for, its fees, charges and expenses for services hereunder from funds in the Purchase Fund. The Tender Agent agrees that it will be reimbursed and compensated for its fees, charges and expenses for acting under and pursuant to this Agreement only from payments to be made by the Company pursuant to Section 11(a) hereof.

(d) Term of Tender Agreement. Subject to the provisions of Section 1402(b) of the Indenture, this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect until such time as the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on all Bonds outstanding under the Indenture shall have been paid and all payments required under this Agreement shall have been made; provided, that if the Company and the Tender Agent shall have fulfilled all of their respective obligations hereunder, this Agreement shall terminate; provided further, that the obligations of the Company under Section 11(a) of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect until such obligations shall have been satisfied.

(e) Resignation and Removal. The Tender Agent may resign from the performance of any of the duties hereunder upon at least 60 days' notice in accordance with Section 1402 of the Indenture. The Tender Agent may be removed as specified in Section 1402 of the Indenture. In the event of the resignation or removal of the Tender Agent, the Tender Agent shall pay over, assign and deliver any moneys and Bonds held by it in such capacity, and shall deliver all records relating thereto, to its successor or, if there be no successor, to the Trustee. However, such resigning or removed Tender Agent may retain copies of any records turned over for archival purposes. The delivery, transfer and assignment of such moneys, Bonds and documents by the Tender Agent to its successor or the Trustee, as the case may be, shall be sufficient, without the requirement of any additional act or the requirement of any indemnity to be given by the Tender Agent, to relieve the Tender Agent of all further responsibility for the exercise of the rights and the performance of the obligations vested in the Tender Agent pursuant to this Tender Agreement. Any termination or resignation hereunder shall not affect the Tender Agent's rights to the payment of fees earned or charges incurred through the effective date of such resignation or termination, as the case may be.

(f) Force Majeure. The Tender Agent shall not be liable for any failure or delays arising out of conditions beyond its reasonable control including, but not limited to, work stoppages, fires, civil disobedience, riots, rebellions, storms, electrical, mechanical, computer or communications facilities failures, acts of God and similar occurrences.

(g) Amendment of Indenture. The Company and the Trustee agree not to consent to any modification, change of or supplement to the Indenture which affects the rights or obligations of the Tender Agent without the Tender Agent's prior written consent.

(h) Successors and Assigns. The rights, duties and obligations of the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Tender Agent and the Registrar hereunder shall inure, without further act, to their respective successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that (i) the Tender Agent and the Registrar may not assign its respective obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Company, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, (ii) any successor or assignee of the Tender Agent must be authorized by law to perform the duties of the Tender Agent under the Indenture and (iii) no other party hereto may assign its respective obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Tender Agent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(i) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts each of which shall be an original, with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

TENDER AGREEMENT

This TENDER AGREEMENT, dated as of May 1, 2024, is among REGIONS BANK, as Trustee, Tender Agent and Registrar (in such respective capacities, the "Trustee", the "Tender Agent" and the "Registrar"); FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY (the "Company"); and PNC CAPITAL MARKETS LLC, as Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"); or the permitted successors and assigns of any of the foregoing;

WHEREAS, Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority (the "Issuer") proposes to issue its Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024B (the "Bonds"), in the aggregate principal amount of $172,000,000 pursuant to the Trust Indenture dated as of May 1, 2024 (the "Indenture") from the Issuer to the Trustee; and

WHEREAS, the Company has appointed Regions Bank, as Tender Agent and Registrar, and Regions Bank has accepted such appointment and agreed to perform the duties and obligations imposed on it as Tender Agent and Registrar under the Indenture; and

WHEREAS, the Bonds and the Indenture provide, among other things, that the Bonds may be tendered for purchase from time to time by the Owners thereof at their option and that the Bonds shall be tendered for purchase from time to time by the Owners thereof upon the occurrence of certain events, in accordance with the provisions of the Bonds and the Indenture; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of the Indenture, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to use its best efforts to remarket any Bond tendered for purchase;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and in order to provide for the coordination of said arrangements, the parties hereby agree as follows:

Section 1. Defined Terms. Capitalized terms used in this Agreement and not defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

Section 2. Qualification of Tender Agent and Registrar. The Tender Agent and Registrar hereby represents that it is qualified to serve as Tender Agent under the requirements of Section 1402(b) of the Indenture and as Registrar under the requirements of Section 920 of the Indenture.

Section 3. Establishment of Purchase Fund.

(a) In accordance with Section 1401(b)(ii) of the Indenture, there is hereby established with the Tender Agent a separate segregated trust fund designated the "Miami-Dade County Industrial Development Authority Revenue Bonds (Florida Power & Light Company Project), Series 2024 Purchase Fund" and any subaccount therein (the "Purchase Fund"). In accordance with Section 1401(b)(ii) of the Indenture, there are also hereby established two separate accounts in such Purchase Fund to be designated respectively the "Remarketing Account" and the "Company Moneys Account." The Tender Agent may establish one or more additional accounts in the Purchase Fund for such purposes as the Tender Agent determines to be necessary including, but not limited to, an account for the deposit of moneys held for the Owners of Undelivered Bonds.

(b) All moneys received by the Tender Agent pursuant to Section 1403(b)(i) or (iii) of the Indenture shall be deposited in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund and held in trust until paid for the purchase of Bonds in accordance with the provisions of Section 1403 of the Indenture.

(c) All moneys received by the Tender Agent from the Remarketing Agent on behalf of purchasers of Bonds pursuant to Section 1403(b)(ii) of the Indenture on account of remarketed Bonds shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund and held in trust until paid for the purchase of Bonds in accordance with the provisions of Section 1403 of the Indenture.

Section 4. Deposit of Bonds. The Tender Agent agrees to accept and hold all Bonds delivered to it for purchase pursuant to the Indenture as agent and bailee of, and in escrow for the benefit of the respective Owners which shall have so delivered such Bonds until moneys representing the purchase price of such Bonds shall have been delivered to or for the account of or to the order of such Owners pursuant to the Indenture.

Section 5. Remarketing Mechanics for Bonds.

(a) Daily Interest Rate Period. (i) Not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on each Business Day, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee and the Company of each notice from an Owner pursuant to Section 202(a) of the Indenture that the Tender Agent has received on such Business Day (or during the immediately preceding Business Day if received after 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on such preceding Business Day). Such electronic notice by the Tender Agent shall specify the principal amount of the Bonds for which it has received such notice (the "Daily Put Bonds"), the names of the Owners thereof, if any of such Owners shall have provided instructions to the Tender Agent regarding the payment or purchase of its Bonds (the "Standing Payment Instructions") and any requested change therein and the date specified as the date such Bonds are to be purchased (each such date, and any other date on which Bonds are to be purchased under the Indenture, is referred to herein as a "Tender Purchase Date"); provided that, if the Tender Purchase Date is a date other than the Business Day on which notice is received from an Owner, the Tender Agent shall specify the purchase price for such Bonds not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date.

(ii) Not later than 11:45 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date with respect to all Daily Put Bonds, the Tender Agent shall electronically confirm with the Trustee the aggregate amount of the interest payable as of the Tender Purchase Date on such Daily Put Bonds. Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on any such Tender Purchase Date the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Daily Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on such Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the purchasers (the "New Purchasers") of the Daily Put Bonds, stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the name, address, taxpayer identification number of the New Purchasers (such information is hereinafter referred to as "New Registration Information") necessary for the Registrar to prepare replacement certificates for the New Purchasers and any requested Standing Payment Instructions from such New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Daily Put Bonds on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Daily Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Daily Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Daily Put Bonds specified in the electronic notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Daily Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(b) Weekly Interest Rate Period. (i) Not later than 10:30 a.m. (New York City time) on each Business Day succeeding a day on which the Tender Agent receives a notice from an Owner pursuant to Section 202(b) of the Indenture, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent and the Company, specifying the principal amount of the Bonds for which it has received such notice (the "Weekly Put Bonds"), the Tender Purchase Date for such Weekly Put Bonds and the names of the Owners thereof and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Weekly Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on the Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of such Weekly Put Bonds, stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent (or to be held by the Remarketing Agent on the Tender Purchase Date) for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Weekly Put Bonds for delivery on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Weekly Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Weekly Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Weekly Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Weekly Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(c) Mandatory Tenders for Purchase on First Day of Each Interest Rate Period.

(i) Not later than 10:30 a.m. (New York City time) on the Business Day succeeding the date of mailing of any notice of mandatory tender for purchase sent to Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Trustee, the Company, and the Remarketing Agent specifying the principal amount (together with any premium, if applicable) of Bonds subject to mandatory tender for purchase (the "Mandatory Put Bonds"), the Tender Purchase Date for such Mandatory Put Bonds and the names of the Owners thereof and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on any such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of Mandatory Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund on the Tender Purchase Date by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of such Mandatory Put Bonds stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all Mandatory Put Bonds for delivery on such Tender Purchase Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such Tender Purchase Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such Mandatory Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all Mandatory Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the Mandatory Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the Tender Purchase Date to pay the purchase price of such Mandatory Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such Tender Purchase Date the amount so demanded.

(d) Mandatory Tender for Purchase on Day Next Succeeding the Last Day of Each Commercial Paper Term.

(i) Not later than 10:15 a.m. (New York City time) on the day next succeeding the last day of any Commercial Paper Term (the "CP Date") with respect to a Bond, unless such day is the first day of a new Interest Rate Period (in which event Section 5(c) hereof shall be applicable), the Tender Agent shall give electronic notice to the Remarketing Agent and the Company, specifying the principal amount of each Bond then bearing interest at a Commercial Paper Term Rate, and to which such CP Date relates, the principal amount of such Bonds to be purchased on such CP Date (the "CP Put Bonds"), and the names of the Owners of the CP Put Bonds and, if any of such Owners shall have Standing Payment Instructions, any requested changes therein.

(ii) Not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on each CP Date, the Remarketing Agent shall give electronic notice to the Tender Agent and the Registrar of (A) the principal amount of CP Put Bonds which have been remarketed in accordance with the Indenture and the portion of the purchase price thereof which shall be deposited in the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund by the Remarketing Agent on behalf of the New Purchasers of the CP Put Bonds stating that such amount paid as such purchase price is then held by the Remarketing Agent for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, and (B) the New Registration Information and any Standing Payment Instructions for the New Purchasers and the Commercial Paper Term and the Commercial Paper Term Rate for each CP Put Bond so remarketed. The Remarketing Agent shall deliver to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such CP Date such amount paid as such purchase price by or on behalf of the New Purchasers.

(iii) If the Remarketing Agent has been unable to remarket all CP Put Bonds on such CP Date, not later than 12:30 p.m. (New York City time) on such CP Date the Remarketing

Agent shall give electronic notice to the Company, the Trustee and the Tender Agent that it has been unable to remarket all such CP Put Bonds, specifying the aggregate purchase price of the portion not remarketed.

(iv) If the Remarketing Agent has not advised the Tender Agent, in accordance with subsection (ii) above, that it is then holding moneys for transfer to the Tender Agent and deposit into the Remarketing Account, or upon receipt from the Remarketing Agent of the notice described in subsection (iii) above, and unless sufficient moneys are then on deposit in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund to pay the purchase price of all CP Put Bonds, if the Tender Agent has neither received the advice referred to in subsection (ii) above or the purchase price of the CP Put Bonds specified in the notice from the Remarketing Agent described in subsection (iii) above, the Tender Agent shall immediately demand payment from the Company electronically of the amount necessary to provide sufficient moneys on the CP Date to pay the purchase price of such CP Put Bonds. The Company shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Tender Agent for deposit into the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund in immediately available funds on such CP Date the amount so demanded.

Section 6. DTC Procedures. The parties hereto acknowledge that, as provided in the Indenture, the Bonds will on the date of issuance thereof be deposited into the book-entry-only system maintained by The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") and while so deposited shall be registered as a single bond in the name of DTC's nominee, Cede & Co. The Tender Agent and the Registrar agree that, so long as the Bonds are held by DTC in its book-entry-only system, tenders of Bonds shall be accomplished in accordance with DTC's Delivery Order Procedures and the Tender Agent shall accept notices of tender in the forms set forth as EXHIBIT B to the Indenture.

Section 7. Undelivered Bonds. The Tender Agent shall, as to any Undelivered Bonds, (i) notify the Remarketing Agent of the existence thereof and (ii) direct the Registrar to place a stop transfer against such Undelivered Bonds. Upon the delivery of such Undelivered Bond, the Tender Agent shall direct the Registrar to release any such stop transfer.

Section 8. Delivery of Bonds. A principal amount of Bonds equal to the principal amount of Bonds purchased by New Purchasers shall be delivered by the Registrar to the Tender Agent, registered in the names of the New Purchasers. Such Bonds shall be held available at the office of the Tender Agent to be picked up by the Remarketing Agent at or after 2:00 p.m. (New York City time) (5:00 p.m., New York City time, in connection with any remarketing of Bonds described in Section 5(c) hereof in connection with an adjustment to a Long-Term Interest Rate Period) on the Tender Purchase Date or CP Date, as the case may be, against delivery of funds for deposit into the Remarketing Account of the Purchase Fund equal to the purchase price of such Bonds which have been remarketed. Bonds which have been purchased from moneys in the Company Moneys Account of the Purchase Fund shall be held or delivered as directed by the Company in accordance with Section 1407(c) of the Indenture.

Section 9. Notices. Any notices required to be given pursuant to this Agreement shall be sent to the address for notices, if any, filed with the Trustee at the date hereof or such address of any party hereto as such party shall have specified by written notice to each of the other parties or via Electronic Means (as defined below); provided, however, any electronic notice to be given pursuant to this Agreement shall be sent via Electronic Means in accordance with this Section 9.

The Trustee, in its capacity as Trustee, Tender Agent and Registrar, shall have the right to accept and act upon any notice, demand, direction, request or other instructions, including funds transfer instructions ("Instructions"), given pursuant to this Agreement and delivered using Electronic Means; provided, however, that the Company, the Remarketing Agent or and such other party giving such Instruction (the "Sender") shall provide to the Trustee an incumbency certificate listing officers with the authority to provide such Instructions ("Authorized Officers") and containing specimen signatures of such Authorized Officers, which incumbency certificate shall be amended by the Sender whenever a person is to be added or deleted from the listing. If the Sender elects to give the Trustee Instructions using Electronic Means and the Trustee in its discretion elects to act upon such Instructions, the Trustee's understanding of such Instructions shall be deemed controlling. The Company, the Remarketing Agent and any other Sender understand and agree that the Trustee cannot determine the identity of the actual sender of such Instructions and that the Trustee shall conclusively presume that Instructions that purport to have been sent by an Authorized Officer listed on the incumbency certificate provided to the Trustee have been sent by such Authorized Officer. Each Sender shall be responsible for ensuring that only Authorized Officers transmit such Instructions to the Trustee and that the Sender and all Authorized Officers are solely responsible to safeguard the use and confidentiality of applicable user and authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys upon receipt by the Sender. The Trustee shall not be liable for any losses, costs or expenses arising directly or indirectly from the Trustee's reasonable reliance upon and compliance with such Instructions notwithstanding such directions conflict or are inconsistent with a subsequent written Instructions. The Company and the Remarketing Agent agree: (i) to assume all risks arising out of the use of Electronic Means to submit Instructions to the Trustee, including without limitation the risk of the Trustee acting on unauthorized Instructions, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties; (ii) that it is fully informed of the protections and risks associated with the various methods of transmitting Instructions to the Trustee and that there may be more secure methods of transmitting Instructions than the method(s) selected by the Company and Remarketing Agent for use by them, and the other parties who may give instructions to the Trustee under this Agreement; (iii) that the security procedures (if any) to be followed in connection with its transmission of Instructions provide to it a commercially reasonable degree of protection in light of its particular needs and circumstances; and (iv) to notify the Trustee immediately upon learning of any compromise or unauthorized use of the security procedures. "Electronic Means" shall mean the following communications methods: S.W.I.F.T., e-mail, facsimile transmission, secure electronic transmission containing applicable authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys issued by the Trustee, or another method or system specified by the Trustee as available for use in connection with its services hereunder.

All documents received by the Trustee under the provisions of this Agreement, or photographic copies thereof, shall be retained in its possession for the term of this Agreement and shall be released under the provisions of this agreement and the Indenture, subject at all reasonable times to the inspection of the Issuer, the Company, the Remarketing Agent any Bondholder and any agent or representative thereof.

Section 10. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed and interpreted in accordance with, the laws of the State of Florida.

Section 11. General.

(a) Payment of Tender Agent, Registrar and Trustee; Indemnification. The Company shall pay all reasonable fees, charges and out-of-pocket expenses of the Tender Agent, the Registrar and the Trustee (and their respective counsel) for acting under and pursuant to this Agreement or the Indenture. In addition, the Company shall indemnify and save harmless each of the Tender Agent, the Registrar and the Trustee and their respective officers and employees from and against any and all losses, costs, charges, expenses, judgments and liabilities arising out of claims made by third parties arising out of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Indenture; provided, however, that such indemnification shall not apply to any such losses, costs, charges, expenses, judgments or liabilities caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the party seeking such indemnity or of its officers or employees.

(b) Tender Agent's Performance. The Tender Agent shall perform only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Agreement or the Indenture. No provision of this Agreement or the Indenture shall require the Tender Agent to risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of its duties hereunder. No provision of this Agreement or the Indenture shall be construed to relieve the Tender Agent from liability resulting primarily from its own grossly negligent action or its own grossly negligent failure to act, except that:

(i) the duties and obligations of the Tender Agent shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Agreement and the Indenture and the Tender Agent shall not be liable except for the performance of such duties and obligations as are specifically set forth in this Agreement and the Indenture, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Agreement or the Indenture against the Tender Agent, and the Tender Agent shall not be liable under this Agreement except for its gross negligence or willful misconduct; and

(ii) in the absence of bad faith on the part of the Tender Agent, the Tender Agent may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements therein, upon any telecopy or other electronically transmitted message or written certificate furnished to the Tender Agent which conforms to the requirements of this Agreement and the Indenture; and

(iii) the Tender Agent shall not be liable for any error of judgment made by a responsible officer or officers of the Tender Agent unless it shall be proved that the Tender Agent was grossly negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts; and

(iv) the Tender Agent shall be entitled to the same exculpatory provisions as are set forth with respect to the Trustee in the Indenture.

(c) Payments. Any provisions of this Agreement or any statute to the contrary notwithstanding, the Tender Agent hereby waives any rights to, or liens for, its fees, charges and expenses for services hereunder from funds in the Purchase Fund. The Tender Agent agrees that it will be reimbursed and compensated for its fees, charges and expenses for acting under and pursuant to this Agreement only from payments to be made by the Company pursuant to Section 11(a) hereof.

(d) Term of Tender Agreement. Subject to the provisions of Section 1402(b) of the Indenture, this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect until such time as the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on all Bonds outstanding under the Indenture shall have been paid and all payments required under this Agreement shall have been made; provided, that if the Company and the Tender Agent shall have fulfilled all of their respective obligations hereunder, this Agreement shall terminate; provided further, that the obligations of the Company under Section 11(a) of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect until such obligations shall have been satisfied.

(e) Resignation and Removal. The Tender Agent may resign from the performance of any of the duties hereunder upon at least 60 days' notice in accordance with Section 1402 of the Indenture. The Tender Agent may be removed as specified in Section 1402 of the Indenture. In the event of the resignation or removal of the Tender Agent, the Tender Agent shall pay over, assign and deliver any moneys and Bonds held by it in such capacity, and shall deliver all records relating thereto, to its successor or, if there be no successor, to the Trustee. However, such resigning or removed Tender Agent may retain copies of any records turned over for archival purposes. The delivery, transfer and assignment of such moneys, Bonds and documents by the Tender Agent to its successor or the Trustee, as the case may be, shall be sufficient, without the requirement of any additional act or the requirement of any indemnity to be given by the Tender Agent, to relieve the Tender Agent of all further responsibility for the exercise of the rights and the performance of the obligations vested in the Tender Agent pursuant to this Tender Agreement. Any termination or resignation hereunder shall not affect the Tender Agent's rights to the payment of fees earned or charges incurred through the effective date of such resignation or termination, as the case may be.

(f) Force Majeure. The Tender Agent shall not be liable for any failure or delays arising out of conditions beyond its reasonable control including, but not limited to, work stoppages, fires, civil disobedience, riots, rebellions, storms, electrical, mechanical, computer or communications facilities failures, acts of God and similar occurrences.

(g) Amendment of Indenture. The Company and the Trustee agree not to consent to any modification, change of or supplement to the Indenture which affects the rights or obligations of the Tender Agent without the Tender Agent's prior written consent.

(h) Successors and Assigns. The rights, duties and obligations of the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Tender Agent and the Registrar hereunder shall inure, without further act, to their respective successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that (i) the Tender Agent and the Registrar may not assign its respective obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Company, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, (ii) any successor or assignee of the Tender Agent must be authorized by law to perform the duties of the Tender Agent under the Indenture and (iii) no other party hereto may assign its respective obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Tender Agent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(i) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts each of which shall be an original, with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by facsimile, email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

Exhibit 4 (i)

Underwriting Agreement, dated May 28, 2024, with respect to the June 2024 Mortgage Bonds.

Florida Power & Light Company

First Mortgage Bonds

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

May 28, 2024

To the Representatives named in Schedule II
hereto, on behalf of the Underwriters
named in Schedule II hereto

To the Addressees:

1. Introductory. Florida Power & Light Company, a Florida corporation ("FPL"), proposes to issue and sell its first mortgage bonds ("First Mortgage Bonds") of the series designations, with the terms and in the principal amounts specified in Schedule I hereto (the "Bonds"). FPL hereby confirms its agreement with the several Underwriters (as defined below) as set forth herein.

The term "Underwriters" as used herein shall be deemed to mean the entity or several entities named in Schedule II hereto and any underwriter substituted as provided in Section 5 hereof, and the term "Underwriter" shall be deemed to mean one of such Underwriters. If the entity or entities listed as a Representative in Schedule II hereto (the "Representatives") are the same as the entity or entities listed as Underwriters in Schedule II hereto, then the terms "Underwriters" and "Representatives," as used herein, shall each be deemed to refer to such entity or entities. The Representatives represent that they have been authorized by each Underwriter to enter into this agreement on behalf of such Underwriter and to act for it in the manner herein provided. All obligations of the Underwriters hereunder are several and not joint. If more than one entity is named as a Representative in Schedule II hereto, any action under or in respect of this agreement may be taken by such entities jointly as the Representatives or by one of the entities acting on behalf of the Representatives and such action will be binding upon all the Underwriters.

2. Description of Bonds. The Bonds of each series will be a series of First Mortgage Bonds issued by FPL under its Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 1, 1944, to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (formerly known as Bankers Trust Company), as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and The Florida National Bank of Jacksonville (now resigned), as heretofore supplemented and as it will be further supplemented by a supplemental indenture relating to the Bonds (the "Supplemental Indenture") in substantially the form heretofore delivered to the Representatives. Such Mortgage and Deed of Trust as it has been and will be so supplemented is hereinafter called the "Mortgage."

3. Representations and Warranties of FPL. FPL represents and warrants to the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") a joint registration statement with NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE"), and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE Capital"), on Form S-3 (Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02) ("Registration Statement No. 333-278184") for the registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), of

(i) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of FPL's serial Preferred Stock, $100 par value and shares of FPL's Preferred Stock without par value, (B) warrants of FPL, (C) First Mortgage Bonds, (D) senior debt securities of FPL, and (E) subordinated debt securities of FPL;

(ii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE's common stock, $.01 par value ("Common Stock"), (B) shares of NEE's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Preferred Stock"), (C) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Preferred Stock, (D) contracts to purchase Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock or other agreements or instruments requiring NEE to issue Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock (collectively, "Stock Purchase Contracts"), (E) units, each representing ownership of a Stock Purchase Contract and any of debt securities of NEE Capital, debt securities of NEE, or debt securities of third parties, including U.S. Treasury securities, (F) warrants of NEE, (G) senior debt securities of NEE, (H) subordinated debt securities of NEE, and (I) junior subordinated debentures of NEE;

(iii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) guarantees of NEE related to the NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities (as defined below), NEE Capital Preferred Stock (as defined below) and NEE Capital Depositary Shares (as defined below), (B) subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities (as defined below), and (C) junior subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures (as defined below); and

(iv) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE Capital's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Capital Preferred Stock"), (B) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Capital Preferred Stock ("NEE Capital Depositary Shares"), (C) senior debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities"), (D) subordinated debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities"), and (E) junior subordinated debentures of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures").

Such registration statement has become effective and no stop order suspending such effectiveness has been issued under the Securities Act and no proceedings for that purpose have been instituted or are pending or, to the knowledge of FPL, threatened by the Commission.

References herein to the term "Registration Statement" (i) as of any given time means Registration Statement No. 333-278184, as amended or supplemented to such time, including all documents incorporated by reference therein as of such time pursuant to Item 12 of Form S-3 ("Incorporated Documents") and any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds (any reference to any preliminary prospectus supplement or any prospectus supplement shall be understood to include the Base Prospectus (as defined below)) deemed to be a part thereof as of such time pursuant to Rule 430B under the Securities Act ("Rule 430B") that has not been superseded or modified as of such time and (ii) without reference to any given time means the Registration Statement as of 8:40 A.M., New York City time, on the date hereof (which date and time is the earlier of the date and time of (A) the first use of the preliminary prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds and (B) the first contract of sale of the Bonds), which time shall be considered the "Effective Date" of the Registration Statement. For purposes of the definition of Registration Statement in the preceding sentence, information contained in any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Registration Statement as of the time specified in Rule 430B. References herein to the term "Pricing Prospectus" means (i) the prospectus relating to FPL forming a part of Registration Statement No. 333-278184, including all Incorporated Documents (the "Base Prospectus"), and (ii) any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds deemed to be a part of the Registration Statement that has not been superseded or modified (for purposes of the definition of Pricing Prospectus with respect to a particular offering of the Bonds, information contained in a prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Pricing Prospectus as of the time that prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement is filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 under the Securities Act ("Rule 424")). References herein to the term "Prospectus" means the Pricing Prospectus that discloses the public offering price and other final terms of the Bonds and otherwise satisfies Section 10(a) of the Securities Act.

The prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds proposed to be filed pursuant to Rule 424 shall be substantially in the form delivered to the Representatives prior to the execution of this agreement. Each of the Underwriters acknowledges that on or subsequent to the Closing Date (as defined in Section 5 hereof), FPL may file a post-effective amendment to the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 462(d) under the Securities Act or a Current Report on Form 8-K in order to file one or more unqualified opinions of counsel and any documents executed in connection with the offering of the Bonds.

(b) The Registration Statement constitutes an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act ("Rule 405")) filed within three years of the date hereof; the Registration Statement became effective upon filing; no notice of objection of the Commission with respect to the use of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act has been received by FPL and not removed; and with respect to the Bonds, FPL is a "well-known seasoned issuer" within the meaning of subparagraph (1)(ii) of the definition of "well-known seasoned issuer" in Rule 405 and is not an "ineligible issuer" (as defined in Rule 405).

(c) The Registration Statement at the Effective Date fully complied, and the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, and the Registration Statement and the Mortgage, at the Closing Date, will fully comply, in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Act and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, respectively, and, in each case, the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, did not, and the Registration Statement, at the Closing Date, will not, contain an untrue statement of a material fact, or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(c) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Registration Statement or the Prospectus, or to any statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility on Form T-1, or amendments thereto, filed as exhibits to the Registration Statement (collectively, the "Statements of Eligibility") or to any statements or omissions made in the Registration Statement or the Prospectus relating to The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") Book-Entry-Only System or the book-entry only systems of Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream"), or Euroclear Bank SA/NV, as operator of the Euroclear System ("Euroclear"), that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC, Clearstream or Euroclear; and the Incorporated Documents, when filed with the Commission, fully complied or will fully comply in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) As of the Applicable Time (as defined below), the Pricing Disclosure Package (as defined below) did not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(d) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus

(as defined below), or to any statements in or omissions from the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus relating to the DTC Book-Entry-Only System or the book-entry only systems of Clearstream or Euroclear that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC, Clearstream or Euroclear. References to the term "Pricing Disclosure Package" means the items listed in Schedule III, taken together as a whole. References to the term "Issuer Free Writing Prospectus" means an issuer free writing prospectus, as defined in Rule 433 under the Securities Act ("Rule 433"). References to the term "Applicable Time" means 6:30 P.M., New York City time, on the date hereof.

(e) As of the Applicable Time, no Issuer Free Writing Prospectus includes any information that conflicts with the information contained in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus, including any document incorporated by reference therein that has not been superseded or modified.

(f) The financial statements included as part of or incorporated by reference in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement; and Deloitte & Touche LLP, who has audited the audited financial statements of FPL, is an independent registered public accounting firm as required by the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(g) Except as reflected in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, whether or not in the ordinary course of business, nor has any transaction been entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than changes and transactions contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package and transactions in the ordinary course of business. FPL and its subsidiaries have no contingent obligation material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, which is not disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package.

(h) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, and the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of FPL in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, its Amended and Restated Bylaws and applicable law, and the Bonds when issued and delivered by FPL as provided herein will constitute valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

(i) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation or Amended and Restated Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is now a party, or violate any law or any order, rule, decree or regulation applicable to FPL or any of its subsidiaries of any federal or state court, regulatory board or body or administrative agency having jurisdiction over FPL or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective property, except where such breach, default or violation would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(j) FPL has no direct or indirect significant subsidiaries (as defined in Regulation S-X (17 CFR Part 210)).

(k) FPL has been duly organized, is validly existing and is in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, and is duly qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of properties or the conduct of its businesses requires such qualification, except where the failure so to qualify would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, and has the power and authority as a corporation necessary to own or hold its properties and to conduct the businesses in which it is engaged.

(l) The Bonds will conform in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(m) The Mortgage (i) has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly executed and delivered by FPL and is a valid and binding instrument enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and (ii) conforms in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(n) FPL is not, and after giving effect to the offering and sale of the Bonds and the application of the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus will not be, an "investment company" within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

(o) Except as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, FPL or its subsidiaries have valid franchises, licenses and permits adequate for the conduct of the business of FPL and its subsidiaries as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, except where the failure to have such franchises, licenses and permits would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(p) The interactive data in eXtensible Business Reporting Language filed as exhibits to FPL's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 and the Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2024 fairly presents the information called for in all material respects and has been prepared in accordance with the Commission's rules and guidelines applicable thereto.

4. Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions in this agreement (including the representations and warranties herein contained), FPL agrees to sell to the respective Underwriters named in Schedule II hereto, severally and not jointly, and the respective Underwriters agree, severally and not jointly, to purchase from FPL for an aggregate purchase price of $2,327,501,000 (99.231% of the principal amount of the 2029 Offered Bonds, 99.009% of the principal amount of the 2034 Offered Bonds and 98.906% of the principal amount of the 2054 Offered Bonds (each of the 2029 Offered Bonds, the 2034 Offered Bonds and the 2054 Offered Bonds as defined on Schedule I hereto)), the respective principal amount of the Bonds set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto.

The Underwriters agree to make a bona fide public offering of the Bonds as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package, such public offering to be made as soon after the execution of this agreement as practicable, subject, however, to the terms and conditions of this agreement. The Underwriters have advised FPL that the Bonds will be offered to the public at the amount per Bond of each series as set forth in Schedule I hereto as the Price to Public with respect to the Bonds of each series and to certain dealers selected by the Representatives at a price which represents a concession. Such dealers' concession may not be in excess of 0.350% of the principal amount per 2029 Offered Bond, 0.400% of the principal amount per 2034 Offered Bond and 0.525% of the principal amount per 2054 Offered Bond.

Each Underwriter agrees that (i) no information that is presented by it to investors has been or will be inconsistent with the information contained in the Pricing Disclosure Package as it may then be amended or supplemented and (ii) it will make no offer that would constitute a Free Writing Prospectus that is required to be filed by FPL pursuant to Rule 433 other than an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus in accordance with Section 6(h) hereof. References to the term "Free Writing Prospectus" means a free writing prospectus as defined in Rule 405.

5. Time, Date and Place of Closing, Default of the Underwriters. Delivery of the Bonds of each series and payment therefor by wire transfer in federal funds shall be made at 9:00 A.M., New York City time, on the settlement date set forth on Schedule I, at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon in writing by FPL and the Representatives. The time and date of such delivery and payment are herein called the "Closing Date."

The Bonds will be issued in the form of one or more global certificates in fully registered form. The Bonds shall be delivered to the Representatives for the respective accounts of the Underwriters against payment by the several Underwriters through the Representatives of the purchase price therefor. Delivery of the Bonds shall be made through the facilities of DTC unless FPL and the Representatives shall otherwise agree. For the purpose of expediting the checking of the Bonds by the Representatives on behalf of the Underwriters, FPL (if delivery of the Bonds shall be made otherwise than through the facilities of DTC) agrees to make such Bonds available to the Representatives for such purpose at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, not later than 2:00 P.M., New York City time, on the business day preceding the Closing Date, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives.

If any Underwriter shall fail to purchase and pay for the principal amount of the Bonds of each series which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase and pay for hereunder (otherwise than by reason of any failure on the part of FPL to comply with any of the provisions contained herein), the non-defaulting Underwriters shall be obligated to purchase and pay for (in addition to the respective principal amount of the Bonds of each series set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto) the principal amount of the Bonds of each series which such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters failed to purchase and pay for, up to a principal amount thereof equal to, in the case of each such remaining Underwriter, ten percent (10%) of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds of the series as to which there is a default and which are set forth opposite the name of each such remaining Underwriter in said Schedule II, and such remaining Underwriters shall have the right, within 24 hours of receipt of such notice, either to (i) purchase and pay for (in such proportion as may be agreed upon among them) the remaining principal amount of the Bonds of each series which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase, or (ii) substitute another Underwriter or Underwriters, satisfactory to FPL, to purchase and pay for the remaining principal amount of the Bonds of each series which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase. If any of the Bonds would still remain unpurchased, then FPL shall be entitled to a further period of 24 hours within which to procure another party or other parties that (i) are members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. or else are not eligible for membership in said Authority but who agree (A) to make no sales within the United States, its territories or its possessions or to persons who are citizens thereof or residents therein and (B) in making sales to comply with said Authority's Conduct Rules, and (ii) are satisfactory to the Representatives to purchase such Bonds on the terms herein set forth. In the event that, within the respective prescribed periods, (i) the non-defaulting Underwriters notify FPL that they have arranged for the purchase of such Bonds or (ii) FPL notifies the non-defaulting Underwriters that it has arranged for the purchase of such Bonds, the non-defaulting Underwriters or FPL shall have the right to postpone the Closing Date for a period of not more than three full business days beyond the expiration of the respective prescribed periods in order to effect whatever changes may thus be made necessary in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or in any other documents or arrangements. In the event that neither the non-defaulting Underwriters nor FPL has arranged for the purchase of such Bonds by another party or parties as above provided, then this agreement shall terminate without any liability on the part of FPL or any Underwriter (other than an Underwriter which shall have failed or refused, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms hereof, the cancellation or termination of its obligations hereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase as provided in Section 4 hereof), except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d), Section 6(f) and Section 9 hereof.

6. Covenants of FPL. FPL agrees with the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL will timely file the Prospectus and any preliminary prospectus supplement used in connection with the offering of the Bonds with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424. FPL has complied and will comply with Rule 433 in connection with the offering and sale of the Bonds, including applicable provisions in respect of timely filing with the Commission, legending and record-keeping.

(b) FPL will prepare a final term sheet, containing a description of the pricing terms of the Bonds, substantially in the form of Schedule I hereto and approved by the Representatives and will timely file such term sheet with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433.

(c) FPL will, upon request, deliver to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters (as defined below) one signed copy of the Registration Statement or, if a signed copy is not available, one conformed copy of the Registration Statement certified by an officer of FPL to be in the form as originally filed, including all Incorporated Documents and exhibits, except those incorporated by reference, which relate to the Bonds, including a signed or conformed copy of each consent and certificate included therein or filed as an exhibit thereto. As soon as practicable after the date hereof, FPL will deliver or cause to be delivered to the Underwriters through the Representatives as many copies of the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus as the Representatives may reasonably request for the purposes contemplated by the Securities Act.

(d) FPL has paid or caused to be paid or will pay or cause to be paid all expenses in connection with the (i) preparation and filing of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, (ii) issuance and delivery of the Bonds as provided in Section 5 hereof, (iii) preparation, execution, filing and recording of the Supplemental Indenture and (iv) printing and delivery to the Representatives for the account of the Underwriters, in reasonable quantities, of copies of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus and the Supplemental Indenture. FPL will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, if any (but not including any transfer taxes), on the issuance of the Bonds and recordation of the Supplemental Indenture. FPL shall not, however, be required to pay any amount for any expenses of the Representatives or any of the Underwriters (other than in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 hereof), except that if this agreement shall be terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7, Section 8, or Section 10 hereof, FPL will pay or cause to be paid the fees and disbursements of Counsel for the Underwriters, whose fees and disbursements the Underwriters agree to pay in any other event, and FPL shall reimburse or cause to be reimbursed the Underwriters for out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred by them in connection with the transactions contemplated by this agreement, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 for such out-of-pocket expenses. FPL shall not in any event be liable to any of the several Underwriters for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits.

(e) During a period of nine months after the date hereof, if any event relating to or affecting FPL shall occur which, in the opinion of FPL, should be set forth in a supplement to or an amendment to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) in order to make the Prospectus, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when it is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading, FPL will forthwith at its expense prepare, file with the Commission, if required, and furnish to the Representatives a reasonable number of copies of such supplement or supplements or amendment or amendments to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) which will supplement or amend the Prospectus so that as supplemented or amended it will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when the Prospectus is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading; provided that should such event relate solely to activities of any of the Underwriters, then the Underwriters shall assume the expense of preparing and furnishing copies of any such amendment or supplement. In case any Underwriter is required to deliver a Prospectus after the expiration of nine months after the date hereof, FPL upon the request of the Representatives will furnish to the Representatives, at the expense of such Underwriter, a reasonable quantity of a supplemented or amended Prospectus or supplements or amendments to the Prospectus complying with Section 10 of the Securities Act.

(f) FPL will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such United States jurisdictions as the Representatives may designate and will pay or cause to be paid filing fees and expenses (including fees of counsel not to exceed $5,000 and reasonable disbursements of counsel), provided that FPL shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by FPL to be unduly burdensome.

(g) FPL will timely file such reports pursuant to the Exchange Act as are necessary in order to make generally available to its security holders (including holders of the Bonds) as soon as practicable an earnings statement (which need not be audited, unless required so to be under Section 11(a) of the Securities Act) for the purposes of, and to provide the benefits contemplated by, the last paragraph of Section 11(a) of the Securities Act.

(h) Prior to the termination of the offering of the Bonds, FPL will not file any amendment to the Registration Statement or any amendment or supplement to the Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package without prior notice to the Representatives and to Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, who are acting as counsel for the several Underwriters ("Counsel for the Underwriters"), or any such amendment or supplement to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters. FPL has not made any offer relating to the Bonds that would constitute an Issuer Free Writing

Prospectus or that would otherwise constitute a Free Writing Prospectus required to be filed by FPL with the Commission or retained by FPL pursuant to Rule 433, other than a pricing term sheet substantially in the form as set forth on Schedule I, and FPL will not make any such offer without prior notice to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters, or any such offer to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters.

(i) FPL will advise the Representatives promptly of the filing of the Prospectus pursuant to Rule 424, of the filing of any material pursuant to Rule 433 and of any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Registration Statement or, prior to the termination of the offering of the Bonds, of official notice of the institution of proceedings for, or the entry of, a stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement, of receipt from the Commission of any notice of objection to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act, and, if such a stop order should be entered, or notice of objection should be received, use every commercially reasonable effort to obtain the prompt removal thereof.

(j) If there occurs an event or development as a result of which the Pricing Disclosure Package would include an untrue statement of a material fact or would omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances then pertaining, not misleading, FPL promptly will notify the Representatives so that any use of the Pricing Disclosure Package may cease until it is amended or supplemented.

(k) On or before the Closing Date, FPL will, if applicable, cause (i) at least one counterpart of the Supplemental Indenture to be duly recorded in the States of Florida, Georgia and Mississippi and (ii) all intangible and documentary stamp taxes due in connection with the issuance of the Bonds and the recording of the Supplemental Indenture to be paid. Within 30 days following the Closing Date, FPL will, if applicable, cause the Supplemental Indenture to be duly recorded in all other counties in which property of FPL which is subject to the lien of the Mortgage is located.

(l) All the property to be subjected to the lien of the Mortgage will be adequately described therein.

7. Conditions of Underwriters' Obligations to Purchase and Pay for the Bonds. The several obligations of the Underwriters to purchase and pay for the Bonds shall be subject to the performance by FPL of its obligations to be performed hereunder on or prior to the Closing Date and to the following conditions:

(a) The representations and warranties made by FPL herein and qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all respects and the representations and warranties made by FPL herein that are not qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing Date, in each case, as if made on and as of such date and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Bonds, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to that effect.

(b) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date; and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Bonds, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to the effect that, to the best of his or her knowledge, no such orders are in effect, no proceedings for either such purpose are pending before, or to the knowledge of FPL threatened by, the Commission, and no such notice of objection has been received and not removed.

(c) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Bonds on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Representatives by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization provided to Counsel for the Underwriters and in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

(d) On the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel to FPL, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, counsel to FPL, and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Counsel for the Underwriters, opinions (with a copy for each of the Underwriters) in substantially the form and substance prescribed in Schedule IV, Schedule V, and Schedule VI hereto (i) with such changes therein as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives, with the approval of Counsel for the Underwriters, and (ii) if the Prospectus relating to the Bonds shall be supplemented or amended after the Prospectus shall have been filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, with any changes therein necessary to reflect such supplementation or amendment.

(e) On the date hereof and on the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Deloitte & Touche LLP a letter or letters (which may refer to letters previously delivered to the Representatives) (with copies thereof for each of the Underwriters) dated the respective dates of delivery thereof to the effect that (i) they are an independent registered public accounting firm with respect to FPL within the meaning of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the applicable published rules and regulations thereunder; (ii) in their opinion, the consolidated financial statements of FPL audited by them and incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder; (iii) on the basis of performing a review of interim financial information as described in the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") AS 4105, Reviews of Interim Financial Information, on the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, a reading of the latest available interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, since the close of FPL's most recent audited fiscal year, a reading of the minutes and consents of the Board of Directors, the Finance Committee of the Board of Directors and the Stock Issuance Committee of the Board of Directors and of the sole common shareholder of FPL since the end of the most recent audited fiscal year, and inquiries of officials of FPL who have responsibility for financial and accounting matters (it being understood that the foregoing procedures do not constitute an audit made in accordance with standards of the PCAOB and they would not necessarily reveal matters of significance with respect to the comments made in such letter, and accordingly that Deloitte & Touche LLP makes no representation as to the sufficiency of such procedures for the several Underwriters' purposes), nothing has come to their attention which caused them to believe that (a) the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, (1) do not comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder and (2) except as disclosed in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, are not in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis substantially consistent with that of the audited consolidated financial statements of FPL incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable; (b) at the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and at a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there was any change in the common stock or additional paid-in capital or increase in the preferred stock or long-term debt including current maturities and excluding fair value swaps, if any, and unamortized premium and discount on long-term debt of FPL and its subsidiaries, or decrease in common shareholder's equity of FPL and its subsidiaries, in each case as compared with amounts shown in the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, except in all instances for changes, increases or decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or as occasioned by the declaration, provision for, or payment of dividends, or which are described in such letter; or (c) for the period from the date of the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, to the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and for the period from the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them to a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there were any decreases, as compared with the corresponding period in the preceding year, in total consolidated operating revenues or in net income, except in all instances for decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or which are described in such letter; and (iv) they have carried out certain procedures and made certain findings, as specified in such letter, with respect to certain amounts included in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, and such other items as the Representatives may reasonably request.

(f) Since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, and up to the Closing Date, (i) there shall have been no material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, except as disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and (ii) there shall have been no transaction entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than transactions disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and transactions in the ordinary course of business; and at the Closing Date the Representatives shall have received a certificate to such effect from FPL signed by an officer of FPL.

(g) All legal proceedings to be taken in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds shall have been satisfactory in form and substance to Counsel for the Underwriters.

In case any of the conditions specified above in this Section 7 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by the Representatives upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to FPL. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

8. Conditions of FPL's Obligations. The obligation of FPL to deliver the Bonds shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date.

(b) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Bonds on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to FPL by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

In case the conditions specified above in this Section 8 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by FPL upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Representatives. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

9. Indemnification.

(a) FPL agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Underwriter, each officer and director of each Underwriter and each person (a "Controlling Person") who controls any Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law, and to reimburse each such Underwriter, officer, director and Controlling Person for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, including all Incorporated Documents, or in the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) shall not apply to any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing, to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof, or arising out of, or based upon, statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility; and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus shall not inure to the benefit of any Underwriter (or of any officer or director or Controlling Person of such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of the Bonds of any series to any person in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus, each as may be then supplemented or amended, furnished by such Underwriter to a person to whom any of the Bonds were sold (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein), insofar as such indemnity relates to any untrue or misleading statement made in or omission from such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Prospectus, if a copy of a supplement or amendment to such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Prospectus or Issuer Free Writing Prospectus (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein) (i) is furnished on a timely basis by FPL to the Underwriter, (ii) is required by law or regulation to have been conveyed to such person by or on behalf of such Underwriter, at or prior to the entry into the contract of sale of the Bonds with such person, but was not so conveyed (which conveyance may be oral or written) by or on behalf of such Underwriter and (iii) would have cured the defect giving rise to such loss, claim, damage or liability. The indemnity agreement of FPL contained in this Section 9(a) and the representations and warranties of FPL contained in Section 3 hereof shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of any Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds of any series. Each Underwriter agrees promptly to notify FPL, and each other Underwriter, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against the notifying Underwriter, or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds of any series.

(b) Each Underwriter, severally and not jointly, agrees to indemnify and hold harmless FPL, its officers and directors, and each person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of such Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof. The Underwriters hereby furnish to FPL in writing, expressly for use in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated May 28, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, the following: under "Underwriting" in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated May 28, 2024, the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, the fourth sentence in the third paragraph; the entire fourth paragraph (including the table immediately following the third sentence) except for the first sentence; the entire fifth paragraph; the third sentence in the sixth paragraph; and the entire seventh, eighth and ninth paragraphs. Desjardins Securities Inc. hereby furnishes to FPL in writing, expressly for use in the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, the following: under "Underwriting" in the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, the entire thirtieth paragraph. FPL acknowledges that the statements identified in the preceding two sentences constitute the only information furnished in writing by or on behalf of the several Underwriters expressly for inclusion in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated May 28, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus. The respective indemnity agreement of each Underwriter contained in this Section 9(b) shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of FPL or any of its officers or directors or any person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, or by or on behalf of any other Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds of any series. FPL agrees promptly to notify the Representatives of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against FPL (or any of its controlling persons within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act) or any of its officers or directors in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds of any series.

(c) FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, its officers and directors, or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in respect of which indemnity or contribution may be sought under the provisions of this Section 9, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity or contribution shall be sought thereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of this indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party or parties shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties and reasonably satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party or parties shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party or parties will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party or parties, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties at the expense of the indemnifying party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party or parties shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action). FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that without the prior written consent of the other parties to such action who are parties to this agreement, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, it will not settle, compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment in any claim or proceeding in respect of which such party intends to seek indemnity or contribution under the provisions of this Section 9, unless such settlement, compromise or consent (i) includes an unconditional release of such other parties from all liability arising out of such claim or proceeding and (ii) does not include a statement as to or an admission of fault, culpability or a failure to act by or on behalf of such other parties.

(d) If, or to the extent, the indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable under applicable law by an indemnified party, each indemnifying party agrees to contribute to such indemnified party with respect to any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses for which each such indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable, in such proportion as shall be appropriate to reflect (i) the relative fault of FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand in connection with the statements or omissions which have resulted in such losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses, (ii) the relative benefits received by FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand from the offering of the Bonds pursuant to this agreement, and (iii) any other relevant equitable considerations; provided, however, that no indemnified party guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) shall be entitled to contribution with respect thereto from any indemnifying party not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. Relative fault shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission to state a material fact relates to information supplied by FPL or the Underwriters and each such party's relative intent, knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent such untrue statement or omission. FPL and each of the Underwriters each agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution pursuant to this Section 9(d) were to be determined by pro rata allocation or by any other method of allocation which does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to above. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 9(d), no Underwriter shall be required to contribute in excess of the amount equal to the excess of (i) the total price at which the Bonds underwritten by it were offered to the public, over (ii) the amount of any damages which such Underwriter has otherwise been required to pay by reason of any such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission. The obligations of each Underwriter to contribute pursuant to this Section 9(d) are several and not joint and shall be in the same proportion as such Underwriter's obligation to underwrite the Bonds of the series with respect to which contribution is sought is to the total principal amount of the Bonds of such series set forth in Schedule II hereto.

10. Termination. This agreement may be terminated by the Representatives by delivering written notice thereof to FPL, at any time prior to the Closing Date, if after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date:

(a) (i) there shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on The New York Stock Exchange LLC (the "NYSE") or there shall have been established by the NYSE or by the Commission or by any federal or state agency or by the decision of any court any limitation on prices for such trading or any general restrictions on the distribution of securities, or trading in any securities of FPL shall have been suspended or limited by any exchange located in the United States or on the over-the-counter market located in the United States or a general banking moratorium declared by New York or federal authorities or (ii) there shall have occurred any material adverse change in the financial markets in the United States, any outbreak of hostilities, including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date hereof, any other national or international calamity or crisis or any material adverse change in financial, political or economic conditions affecting the United States, the effect of any such event specified in this clause (ii) being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Bonds of any series as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds of any series; or

(b) (i) there shall have been any downgrading or any notice of any intended or potential downgrading in the ratings accorded to the Bonds of any series or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Bonds by either Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") or S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc. ("S&P"), or (ii) either Moody's or S&P shall have publicly announced that it has under surveillance or review, with possible negative implications, its ratings of the Bonds of any series or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Bonds of any series, the effect of any such event specified in (i) or (ii) above being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Bonds of any series as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds of any series.

This agreement may also be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date if in the judgment of the Representatives the subject matter of any amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement or the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus prepared and furnished by FPL after the date hereof reflects a material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole which renders it either inadvisable to proceed with such offering, if any, or inadvisable to proceed with the delivery of the Bonds of any series to be purchased hereunder. Any termination of this agreement pursuant to this Section 10 shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

11. Miscellaneous.

(a) The validity and interpretation of this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflicts of law principles thereunder. This agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, FPL, the several Underwriters and, with respect to the provisions of Section 9 hereof, each officer, director or controlling person referred to in said Section 9, and their respective successors. Nothing in this agreement is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person or entity any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this agreement or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used in this agreement shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from any of the several Underwriters.

(b) FPL acknowledges and agrees that the Underwriters are acting solely in the capacity of arm's length contractual counterparties to FPL with respect to the offering of the Bonds as contemplated by this agreement and not as financial advisors or fiduciaries to FPL in connection herewith. Additionally, none of the Underwriters is advising FPL as to any legal, tax, investment, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction in connection with the offering of the Bonds as contemplated by this agreement. Any review by the Underwriters of FPL in connection with the offering of the Bonds contemplated by this agreement and the transactions contemplated by this agreement will not be performed on behalf of FPL.

12. Notices. All communications hereunder shall be in writing and, if to the Underwriters, shall be mailed or delivered to the Representatives at the address set forth in Schedule II hereto, or, if to FPL, shall be mailed or delivered to it at 700 Universe Boulevard, Juno Beach, Florida 33408, Attention: Treasurer.

13. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts by the parties hereto on separate counterparts, each of which, when so executed and delivered, shall be deemed an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. Electronic signatures complying with the New York Electronic Signatures and Records Act (N.Y. State Tech. §§ 301-309), as amended from time to time, or other applicable law will be deemed original signatures for purposes of this agreement. Transmission by telecopy, electronic mail or other transmission method of an executed counterpart of this agreement will constitute due and sufficient delivery of such counterpart.

14. Recognition of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes.

(a) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity (as defined below) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime (as defined below), the transfer from such Underwriter of this agreement, and any interest and obligation in or under this agreement, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement, and any such interest and obligation, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(b) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity or a BHC Act Affiliate (as defined below) of such Underwriter becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights (as defined below) under this agreement that may be exercised against such Underwriter are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(c) For purpose of this Section 14, (A) the term "BHC Act Affiliate" has the meaning assigned to the term "affiliate" in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k); (B) the term "Covered Entity" means any of the following: (1) a "covered entity" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.82(b); (2) a "covered bank" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 47.3(b); or (3) a "covered FSI" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 382.2(b); (C) the term "Default Rights" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. §§ 252.81, 47.2 or 382.1, as applicable; and (D) the term "U.S. Special Resolution Regime" means each of (1) the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder and (2) Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

* It is expected that delivery of the Bonds will be made against payment therefor on or about June 3, 2024, which will be the fourth business day following the date of pricing of the Bonds. Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in one business day, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, by virtue of the fact that the Bonds initially will settle in T+4, purchasers who wish to trade the Bonds on the date of pricing of the Bonds or on the next two succeeding business days should specify an extended settlement cycle at the time they enter into any such trade to prevent failed settlement and should consult their own advisors.

 A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and should be evaluated independently of any other rating. The rating is subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization.

The term "Treasury Rate" has the meaning ascribed to such term in the Issuer's Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, dated May 28, 2024, with respect to the Bonds.

The Issuer has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents the Issuer has filed with the SEC for more complete information about the Issuer and this offering. You may get these documents for free by visiting EDGAR on the SEC Web site at www.sec.gov.

as herein described

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029 (the "2029 Offered Bonds"), $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034 (the "2034 Offered Bonds") and $850,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054 (the "2054 Offered Bonds" and together with the 2029 Offered Bonds and the 2034 Offered Bonds, the "Bonds"), issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, as the same is supplemented by one hundred and thirty-seven indentures supplemental thereto, the latest of which (the "One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture") is dated as of May 1, 2024 (such Mortgage as so supplemented being hereinafter called the "Mortgage") from FPL to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Bonds to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Mortgage; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Registration Statement and with respect to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Bonds.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

FPL is organized and existing as a corporation and its status is active under the laws of the State of Florida.

II.

FPL is a corporation duly authorized by its Charter to conduct the business which it is now conducting as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus; FPL is subject, as to retail rates and services, issuance of securities, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the FPSC; and FPL is subject, as to wholesale rates, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

III.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of

FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

IV.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

V.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

VI.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

VII.

The Bonds are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Bonds. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

VIII.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

IX.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

X.

As to the Mortgaged and Pledged Property, as defined in the Mortgage, FPL has satisfactory title to any easements and personal properties, and good and marketable or insurable title in fee simple to any other real properties (except as FPL's interest is stated to be otherwise), subject only to Excepted Encumbrances, as defined in the Mortgage, to any lien, if any, existing or placed thereon at the time of acquisition thereof by FPL, to minor defects and encumbrances customarily found in the case of properties of like size and character and which, in our opinion, would not impair the use thereof by FPL (all of which title exceptions, encumbrances, liens and defects are hereinafter referred to as "Exceptions"), and to the lien of the Mortgage; the Mortgage constitutes a valid, direct, and first mortgage lien upon the Mortgaged and Pledged Property now owned by FPL, subject, however, to the Exceptions and as set forth in the last sentence of this paragraph; and the description of properties in the Mortgage is adequate to constitute the Mortgage a lien on Mortgaged and Pledged Property hereafter acquired by FPL, subject, however, to the Exceptions and except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought. The One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture is in proper form for recording in all places required; and upon such recording, the One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture will constitute adequate record notice to perfect the lien of the Mortgage as to all Mortgaged and Pledged Property acquired by FPL subsequent to the recording of the One Hundred Thirty-Sixth Supplemental Indenture to the Mortgage and prior to the recording of the One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture.

XI.

Except as stated or referred to in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, to our knowledge after due inquiry, there is no material pending legal proceeding to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is a party or of which property of FPL or any of its subsidiaries is the subject which is reasonably likely to be determined adversely and, if determined adversely, might reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole and, to the best of our knowledge, no such proceeding is known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

XII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to specimens examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Mortgage Trustee under the Mortgage and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in Paragraph VIII hereof, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief, and except for those statements made in the Preliminary Prospectus and the Prospectus with respect to United States federal income tax consequences to non-U.S. holders of the Bonds, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of Florida, New York, Georgia and Mississippi and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of New York law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, New York, New York. As to all matters of law affecting Mortgaged and Pledged Property located in the States of Georgia and Mississippi, we have relied, with your consent, upon opinions of even date herewith addressed to you and us by Trinity Real Estate Law Group LLP, Decatur, Georgia and Wise Carter Child & Caraway, P.A., Jackson, Mississippi and our opinion in Paragraph X as to such Mortgaged and Pledged Property is subject to the qualifications and limitations set forth in those opinions. As to all matters of Florida law, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP are hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to each of them.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

named in Schedule II to the Agreement,
as herein described

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029 (the "2029 Offered Bonds"), $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034 (the "2034 Offered Bonds") and $850,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054 (the "2054 Offered Bonds" and together with the 2029 Offered Bonds and the 2034 Offered Bonds, the "Bonds"), issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, as the same is supplemented by one hundred and thirty-seven indentures supplemental thereto, the latest of which (the "One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture") is dated as of May 1, 2024 (such Mortgage as so supplemented being hereinafter called the "Mortgage") from FPL to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Bonds to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated May 28, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Mortgage; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Registration Statement and with respect to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Bonds.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

III.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

V.

The Bonds are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Bonds. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

VI.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

VII.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VIII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

IX.

We are of the opinion that the statements contained in the Prospectus Supplement under the heading "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences for Non-U.S. Holders," to the extent they constitute matters of federal income tax law or legal conclusions with respect to matters of federal income tax law, are an accurate summary of the matters referred to therein in all material respects.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to specimens examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Mortgage Trustee under the Mortgage and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinions expressed in Paragraph VI and Paragraph IX hereof, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of New York and Florida and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of Florida law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP. As to all matters of New York law, Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP is hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

Florida Power & Light Company

$750,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029
$750,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034
$850,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029 (the "2029 Offered Bonds"), $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034 (the "2034 Offered Bonds") and $850,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054 (the "2054 Offered Bonds" and together with the 2029 Offered Bonds and the 2034 Offered Bonds, the "Bonds"), issued under FPL's Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee, which has been amended and supplemented in the past and which will be supplemented again by one or more supplemental indentures relating to the Bonds (as so amended and supplemented, the "Mortgage"), pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In connection with the foregoing, we have examined such documents and satisfied ourselves as to such other matters as we have deemed necessary in order to enable us to express the opinions set forth herein. We have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to specimens examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Trustee and will be delivered against payment of the respective purchase prices as provided in the Agreement, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

For purposes of the opinions expressed below, we have assumed without verification (i) the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals; (ii) the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted as certified or photostatic copies and the authenticity of the originals of such documents; (iii) the genuineness of signatures not witnessed by us; and (iv) the legal capacity of natural persons.

As to factual matters, we have relied upon representations and warranties included in the Agreement and upon certificates of officers of FPL being delivered to you today pursuant to Section 7(a) of the Agreement, and upon certificates of public officials, without independent investigation. Whenever the phrase "to the best of our knowledge" is used herein, it refers to the actual knowledge of the attorneys involved in this transaction, without independent investigation.

We do not purport to express an opinion on any laws other than the laws of the State of New York, the federal laws of the United States of America and, to the extent set forth herein, the laws of the State of Florida. As to all matters of Florida law, we have, with your consent, relied upon the opinion letter of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel for FPL. We express no opinion or belief as to the incorporation of FPL, titles to property, franchises or the lien of the Mortgage.

Based on the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

I.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

III.

Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement") is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds." insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

V.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VI.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

This opinion letter is given to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This opinion letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Florida Power & Light Company

$750,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029
$750,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034
$850,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.15% Series due June 15, 2029 (the "2029 Offered Bonds"), $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.30% Series due June 15, 2034 (the "2034 Offered Bonds") and $850,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.60% Series due June 15, 2054 (the "2054 Offered Bonds" and together with the 2029 Offered Bonds and the 2034 Offered Bonds, the "Bonds"), issued under FPL's Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee, which has been amended and supplemented in the past and which will be supplemented again by one or more supplemental indentures relating to the Bonds (as so amended and supplemented, the "Mortgage"), pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated May 28, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In passing on the form of the Registration Statement and the form of the Prospectus, we necessarily assume the correctness and completeness of the statements made or included therein by FPL and take no responsibility therefor, except insofar as such statements relate to us and as set forth in paragraph IV in our opinion letter to you dated as of the date hereof. Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in said paragraph IV, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives.

On the basis of such consideration, review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that has caused us to believe that:

(i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading;

(ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; or

(iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Subject to and on the basis of the foregoing, we further advise you that:

(iv) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; and

(v) the Incorporated Documents, at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Exchange Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

With respect to the foregoing paragraphs (i) - (v), we express no view or belief and make no statement with respect to (a) the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference in the Registration Statement or the exhibits thereto, the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Prospectus and (b) those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility.

This letter is furnished to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to advise you of facts or circumstances that hereafter come to our attention, or of changes in law that hereafter occur, which could affect the views contained herein.

Very truly yours,

Exhibit 4 (j)

Underwriting Agreement, dated June 27, 2024, with respect to the July 2024 Floating Rate Notes.

Florida Power & Light Company

Notes

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

June 27, 2024

To the Representatives named in Schedule II
hereto, on behalf of the Underwriters
named in Schedule II hereto

To the Addressees:

1. Introductory. Florida Power & Light Company, a Florida corporation ("FPL"), proposes to issue and sell its debt securities of the series designation, with the terms and in the principal amount specified in Schedule I hereto (the "Notes"). FPL hereby confirms its agreement with the several Underwriters (as defined below) as set forth herein.

The term "Underwriters" as used herein shall be deemed to mean the entity or several entities named in Schedule II hereto and any underwriter substituted as provided in Section 5 hereof, and the term "Underwriter" shall be deemed to mean one of such Underwriters. If the entity or entities listed as a Representative in Schedule II hereto (the "Representatives") are the same as the entity or entities listed as Underwriters in Schedule II hereto, then the terms "Underwriters" and "Representatives," as used herein, shall each be deemed to refer to such entity or entities. The Representatives represent that they have been authorized by each Underwriter to enter into this agreement on behalf of such Underwriter and to act for it in the manner herein provided. All obligations of the Underwriters hereunder are several and not joint. If more than one entity is named as a Representative in Schedule II hereto, any action under or in respect of this agreement may be taken by such entities jointly as the Representatives or by one of the entities acting on behalf of the Representatives and such action will be binding upon all the Underwriters.

2. Description of Notes. The Notes will be a series of notes issued by FPL pursuant to the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017, between FPL and The Bank of New York Mellon, as trustee (the "Trustee"), a copy of which Indenture has been heretofore delivered to the Representatives (together with any amendments or supplements thereto, the "Indenture").

3. Representations and Warranties of FPL. FPL represents and warrants to the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") a joint registration statement with NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE"), and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE Capital"), on Form S-3 (Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02) ("Registration Statement No. 333-278184") for the registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), of

(i) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of FPL's serial Preferred Stock, $100 par value and shares of FPL's Preferred Stock without par value, (B) warrants of FPL, (C) first mortgage bonds, (D) senior debt securities of FPL, and (E) subordinated debt securities of FPL;

(ii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE's common stock, $.01 par value ("Common Stock"), (B) shares of NEE's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Preferred Stock"), (C) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Preferred Stock, (D) contracts to purchase Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock or other agreements or instruments requiring NEE to issue Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock (collectively, "Stock Purchase Contracts"), (E) units, each representing ownership of a Stock Purchase Contract and any of debt securities of NEE Capital, debt securities of NEE, or debt securities of third parties, including U.S. Treasury securities, (F) warrants of NEE, (G) senior debt securities of NEE, (H) subordinated debt securities of NEE, and (I) junior subordinated debentures of NEE;

(iii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) guarantees of NEE related to the NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities (as defined below),NEE Capital Preferred Stock (as defined below) and NEE Capital Depositary Shares (as defined below), (B) subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities (as defined below), and (C) junior subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures (as defined below); and

(iv) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE Capital's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Capital Preferred Stock"), (B) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Capital Preferred Stock ("NEE Capital Depositary Shares"), (C) senior debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities"), (D) subordinated debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities"), and (E) junior subordinated debentures of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures").

Such registration statement has become effective and no stop order suspending such effectiveness has been issued under the Securities Act and no proceedings for that purpose have been instituted or are pending or, to the knowledge of FPL, threatened by the Commission.

References herein to the term "Registration Statement" (i) as of any given time means Registration Statement No. 333-278184, as amended or supplemented to such time, including all documents incorporated by reference therein as of such time pursuant to Item 12 of Form S-3 ("Incorporated Documents") and any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Notes (any reference to any preliminary prospectus supplement or any prospectus supplement shall be understood to include the Base Prospectus (as defined below)) deemed to be a part thereof as of such time pursuant to Rule 430B under the Securities Act ("Rule 430B") that has not been superseded or modified as of such time and (ii) without reference to any given time means the Registration Statement as of 10:10 A.M., New York City time, on June 25, 2024 (which date and time is the earlier of the date and time of (A) the first use of the preliminary prospectus supplement relating to the Notes and (B) the first contract of sale of the Notes), which time shall be considered the "Effective Date" of the Registration Statement. For purposes of the definition of Registration Statement in the preceding sentence, information contained in any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Registration Statement as of the time specified in Rule 430B. References herein to the term "Pricing Prospectus" means (i) the prospectus relating to FPL forming a part of Registration Statement No. 333-278184, including all Incorporated Documents (the "Base Prospectus"), and (ii) any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Notes deemed to be a part of the Registration Statement that has not been superseded or modified (for purposes of the definition of Pricing Prospectus with respect to a particular offering of the Notes, information contained in a prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Notes that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Pricing Prospectus as of the time that prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement is filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 under the Securities Act ("Rule 424")). References herein to the term "Prospectus" means the Pricing Prospectus that discloses the public offering price and other final terms of the Notes and otherwise satisfies Section 10(a) of the Securities Act.

The prospectus supplement relating to the Notes proposed to be filed pursuant to Rule 424 shall be substantially in the form delivered to the Representatives prior to the execution of this agreement. Each of the Underwriters acknowledges that on or subsequent to the Closing Date (as defined in Section 5 hereof), FPL may file a post-effective amendment to the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 462(d) under the Securities Act or a Current Report on Form 8-K in order to file one or more unqualified opinions of counsel and any documents executed in connection with the offering of the Notes.

(b) The Registration Statement constitutes an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act ("Rule 405")) filed within three years of the date hereof; the Registration Statement became effective upon filing; no notice of objection of the Commission with respect to the use of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act has been received by FPL and not removed; and with respect to the Notes, FPL is a "well-known seasoned issuer" within the meaning of subparagraph (1)(ii) of the definition of "well-known seasoned issuer" in Rule 405 and is not an "ineligible issuer" (as defined in Rule 405).

(c) The Registration Statement at the Effective Date fully complied, and the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, and the Registration Statement and the Indenture, at the Closing Date, will fully comply, in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Act and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, respectively, and, in each case, the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, did not, and the Registration Statement, at the Closing Date, will not, contain an untrue statement of a material fact, or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(c) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Registration Statement or the Prospectus, or to any statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility on Form T-1, or amendments thereto, filed as exhibits to the Registration Statement (collectively, the "Statements of Eligibility") or to any statements or omissions made in the Registration Statement or the Prospectus relating to The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") Book-Entry-Only System that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC; and the Incorporated Documents, when filed with the Commission, fully complied or will fully comply in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) As of the Applicable Time (as defined below), the Pricing Disclosure Package (as defined below) did not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(d) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus (as defined below), or to any statements in or omissions from the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus relating to the DTC Book-Entry-Only System that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC. References to the term "Pricing Disclosure Package" means the items listed in Schedule III, taken together as a whole. References to the term "Issuer Free Writing Prospectus" means an issuer free writing prospectus, as defined in Rule 433 under the Securities Act ("Rule 433"). References to the term "Applicable Time" means 11:00 A.M., New York City time, on the date hereof.

(e) As of the Applicable Time, no Issuer Free Writing Prospectus includes any information that conflicts with the information contained in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus, including any document incorporated by reference therein that has not been superseded or modified.

(f) The financial statements included as part of or incorporated by reference in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement; and Deloitte & Touche LLP, who has audited the audited financial statements of FPL, is an independent registered public accounting firm as required by the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(g) Except as reflected in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, whether or not in the ordinary course of business, nor has any transaction been entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than changes and transactions contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package and transactions in the ordinary course of business. FPL and its subsidiaries have no contingent obligation material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, which is not disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package.

(h) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, and the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of FPL in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, its Amended and Restated Bylaws and applicable law, and the Notes when issued and delivered by FPL as provided herein will constitute valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

(i) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Indenture will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation or Amended and Restated Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is now a party, or violate any law or any order, rule, decree or regulation applicable to FPL or any of its subsidiaries of any federal or state court, regulatory board or body or administrative agency having jurisdiction over FPL or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective property, except where such breach, default or violation would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(j) FPL has no direct or indirect significant subsidiaries (as defined in Regulation S-X (17 CFR Part 210)).

(k) FPL has been duly organized, is validly existing and is in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, and is duly qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of properties or the conduct of its businesses requires such qualification, except where the failure so to qualify would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, and has the power and authority as a corporation necessary to own or hold its properties and to conduct the businesses in which it is engaged.

(l) The Notes will conform in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(m) The Indenture (i) has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly executed and delivered by FPL and is a valid and binding instrument enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and (ii) conforms in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(n) FPL is not, and after giving effect to the offering and sale of the Notes and the application of the proceeds from the sale of the Notes as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus will not be, an "investment company" within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

(o) Except as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, FPL or its subsidiaries have valid franchises, licenses and permits adequate for the conduct of the business of FPL and its subsidiaries as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, except where the failure to have such franchises, licenses and permits would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(p) The interactive data in eXtensible Business Reporting Language filed as exhibits to FPL's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 and the Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2024 fairly presents the information called for in all material respects and has been prepared in accordance with the Commission's rules and guidelines applicable thereto.

4. Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions in this agreement (including the representations and warranties herein contained), FPL agrees to sell to the respective Underwriters named in Schedule II hereto, severally and not jointly, and the respective Underwriters agree, severally and not jointly, to purchase from FPL for an aggregate purchase price of $165,433,950, the respective principal amount of the Notes set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto.

The Underwriters agree to make a bona fide public offering of the Notes as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package, such public offering to be made as soon after the execution of this agreement as practicable, subject, however, to the terms and conditions of this agreement. The Underwriters have advised FPL that the Notes will be offered to the public at the amount per Note as set forth in Schedule I hereto as the Price to Public and to certain dealers selected by the Representatives at a price which represents a concession. Such dealers' concession may not be in excess of 0.75% of the principal amount per Note.

Each Underwriter agrees that (i) no information that is presented by it to investors has been or will be inconsistent with the information contained in the Pricing Disclosure Package as it may then be amended or supplemented and (ii) it will make no offer that would constitute a Free Writing Prospectus that is required to be filed by FPL pursuant to Rule 433 other than an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus in accordance with Section 6(h) hereof. References to the term "Free Writing Prospectus" means a free writing prospectus as defined in Rule 405.

5. Time, Date and Place of Closing, Default of the Underwriters. Delivery of the Notes and payment therefor by wire transfer in federal funds shall be made at 9:00 A.M., New York City time, on the settlement date set forth on Schedule I, at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon in writing by FPL and the Representatives. The time and date of such delivery and payment are herein called the "Closing Date."

The Notes will be issued in the form of one or more global certificates in fully registered form. The Notes shall be delivered to the Representatives for the respective accounts of the Underwriters against payment by the several Underwriters through the Representatives of the purchase price therefor. Delivery of the Notes shall be made through the facilities of DTC unless FPL and the Representatives shall otherwise agree. For the purpose of expediting the checking of the Notes by the Representatives on behalf of the Underwriters, FPL (if delivery of the Notes shall be made otherwise than through the facilities of DTC) agrees to make such Notes available to the Representatives for such purpose at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, not later than 2:00 P.M., New York City time, on the business day preceding the Closing Date, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives.

If any Underwriter shall fail to purchase and pay for the principal amount of the Notes which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase and pay for hereunder (otherwise than by reason of any failure on the part of FPL to comply with any of the provisions contained herein), the non-defaulting Underwriters shall be obligated to purchase and pay for (in addition to the respective principal amount of the Notes set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto) the principal amount of the Notes which such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters failed to purchase and pay for, up to a principal amount thereof equal to, in the case of each such remaining Underwriter, ten percent (10%) of the aggregate principal amount of the Notes set forth opposite the name of each such remaining Underwriter in said Schedule II, and such remaining Underwriters shall have the right, within 24 hours of receipt of such notice, either to (i) purchase and pay for (in such proportion as may be agreed upon among them) the remaining principal amount of the Notes which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase, or (ii) substitute another Underwriter or Underwriters, satisfactory to FPL, to purchase and pay for the remaining principal amount of the Notes which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase. If any of the Notes would still remain unpurchased, then FPL shall be entitled to a further period of 24 hours within which to procure another party or other parties that (i) are members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. or else are not eligible for membership in said Authority but who agree (A) to make no sales within the United States, its territories or its possessions or to persons who are citizens thereof or residents therein and (B) in making sales to comply with said Authority's Conduct Rules, and (ii) are satisfactory to the Representatives to purchase such Notes on the terms herein set forth. In the event that, within the respective prescribed periods, (i) the non-defaulting Underwriters notify FPL that they have arranged for the purchase of such Notes or (ii) FPL notifies the non-defaulting Underwriters that it has arranged for the purchase of such Notes, the non-defaulting Underwriters or FPL shall have the right to postpone the Closing Date for a period of not more than three full business days beyond the expiration of the respective prescribed periods in order to effect whatever changes may thus be made necessary in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or in any other documents or arrangements. In the event that neither the non-defaulting Underwriters nor FPL has arranged for the purchase of such Notes by another party or parties as above provided, then this agreement shall terminate without any liability on the part of FPL or any Underwriter (other than an Underwriter which shall have failed or refused, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms hereof, the cancellation or termination of its obligations hereunder, to purchase and pay for the Notes which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase as provided in Section 4 hereof), except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d), Section 6(f) and Section 9 hereof.

6. Covenants of FPL. FPL agrees with the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL will timely file the Prospectus and any preliminary prospectus supplement used in connection with the offering of the Notes with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424. FPL has complied and will comply with Rule 433 in connection with the offering and sale of the Notes, including applicable provisions in respect of timely filing with the Commission, legending and record-keeping.

(b) FPL will prepare a final term sheet, containing a description of the pricing terms of the Notes, substantially in the form of Schedule I hereto and approved by the Representatives and will timely file such term sheet with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433.

(c) FPL will, upon request, deliver to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters (as defined below) one signed copy of the Registration Statement or, if a signed copy is not available, one conformed copy of the Registration Statement certified by an officer of FPL to be in the form as originally filed, including all Incorporated Documents and exhibits, except those incorporated by reference, which relate to the Notes, including a signed or conformed copy of each consent and certificate included therein or filed as an exhibit thereto. As soon as practicable after the date hereof, FPL will deliver or cause to be delivered to the Underwriters through the Representatives as many copies of the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus as the Representatives may reasonably request for the purposes contemplated by the Securities Act.

(d) FPL has paid or caused to be paid or will pay or cause to be paid all expenses in connection with the (i) preparation and filing of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, (ii) issuance and delivery of the Notes as provided in Section 5 hereof, and (iii) printing and delivery to the Representatives for the account of the Underwriters, in reasonable quantities, of copies of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus and the Indenture. FPL will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, if any (but not including any transfer taxes), on the issuance of the Notes. FPL shall not, however, be required to pay any amount for any expenses of the Representatives or any of the Underwriters (other than in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 hereof), except that if this agreement shall be terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7, Section 8, or Section 10 hereof, FPL will pay or cause to be paid the fees and disbursements of Counsel for the Underwriters, whose fees and disbursements the Underwriters agree to pay in any other event, and FPL shall reimburse or cause to be reimbursed the Underwriters for out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred by them in connection with the transactions contemplated by this agreement, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 for such out-of-pocket expenses. FPL shall not in any event be liable to any of the several Underwriters for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits.

(e) During a period of nine months after the date hereof, if any event relating to or affecting FPL shall occur which, in the opinion of FPL, should be set forth in a supplement to or an amendment to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) in order to make the Prospectus, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when it is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading, FPL will forthwith at its expense prepare, file with the Commission, if required, and furnish to the Representatives a reasonable number of copies of such supplement or supplements or amendment or amendments to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) which will supplement or amend the Prospectus so that as supplemented or amended it will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when the Prospectus is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading; provided that should such event relate solely to activities of any of the Underwriters, then the Underwriters shall assume the expense of preparing and furnishing copies of any such amendment or supplement. In case any Underwriter is required to deliver a Prospectus after the expiration of nine months after the date hereof, FPL upon the request of the Representatives will furnish to the Representatives, at the expense of such Underwriter, a reasonable quantity of a supplemented or amended Prospectus or supplements or amendments to the Prospectus complying with Section 10 of the Securities Act.

(f) FPL will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Notes for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such United States jurisdictions as the Representatives may designate and will pay or cause to be paid filing fees and expenses (including fees of counsel not to exceed $5,000 and reasonable disbursements of counsel), provided that FPL shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by FPL to be unduly burdensome.

(g) FPL will timely file such reports pursuant to the Exchange Act as are necessary in order to make generally available to its security holders (including holders of the Notes) as soon as practicable an earnings statement (which need not be audited, unless required so to be under Section 11(a) of the Securities Act) for the purposes of, and to provide the benefits contemplated by, the last paragraph of Section 11(a) of the Securities Act.

(h) Prior to the termination of the offering of the Notes, FPL will not file any amendment to the Registration Statement or any amendment or supplement to the Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package without prior notice to the Representatives and to Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, who are acting as counsel for the several Underwriters ("Counsel for the Underwriters"), or any such amendment or supplement to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters. FPL has not made any offer relating to the Notes that would constitute an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or that would otherwise constitute a Free Writing Prospectus required to be filed by FPL with the Commission or retained by FPL pursuant to Rule 433, other than (1) a preliminary pricing term sheet dated June 25, 2024 and (2) a pricing term sheet substantially in the form as set forth on Schedule I, and FPL will not make any such offer without prior notice to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters, or any such offer to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters.

(i) FPL will advise the Representatives promptly of the filing of the Prospectus pursuant to Rule 424, of the filing of any material pursuant to Rule 433 and of any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Registration Statement or, prior to the termination of the offering of the Notes, of official notice of the institution of proceedings for, or the entry of, a stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement, of receipt from the Commission of any notice of objection to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act, and, if such a stop order should be entered, or notice of objection should be received, use every commercially reasonable effort to obtain the prompt removal thereof.

(j) If there occurs an event or development as a result of which the Pricing Disclosure Package would include an untrue statement of a material fact or would omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances then pertaining, not misleading, FPL promptly will notify the Representatives so that any use of the Pricing Disclosure Package may cease until it is amended or supplemented.

7. Conditions of Underwriters' Obligations to Purchase and Pay for the Notes. The several obligations of the Underwriters to purchase and pay for the Notes shall be subject to the performance by FPL of its obligations to be performed hereunder on or prior to the Closing Date and to the following conditions:

(a) The representations and warranties made by FPL herein and qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all respects and the representations and warranties made by FPL herein that are not qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing Date, in each case, as if made on and as of such date and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Notes, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to that effect.

(b) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date; and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Notes, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to the effect that, to the best of his or her knowledge, no such orders are in effect, no proceedings for either such purpose are pending before, or to the knowledge of FPL threatened by, the Commission, and no such notice of objection has been received and not removed.

(c) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Notes on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Representatives by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization provided to Counsel for the Underwriters and in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

(d) On the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel to FPL, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, counsel to FPL, and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Counsel for the Underwriters, opinions (with a copy for each of the Underwriters) in substantially the form and substance prescribed in Schedule IV, Schedule V, and Schedule VI hereto (i) with such changes therein as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives, with the approval of Counsel for the Underwriters, and (ii) if the Prospectus relating to the Notes shall be supplemented or amended after the Prospectus shall have been filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, with any changes therein necessary to reflect such supplementation or amendment.

(e) On the date hereof and on the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Deloitte & Touche LLP a letter or letters (which may refer to letters previously delivered to the Representatives) (with copies thereof for each of the Underwriters) dated the respective dates of delivery thereof to the effect that (i) they are an independent registered public accounting firm with respect to FPL within the meaning of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the applicable published rules and regulations thereunder; (ii) in their opinion, the consolidated financial statements of FPL audited by them and incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder; (iii) on the basis of performing a review of interim financial information as described in the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") AS 4105, Reviews of Interim Financial Information, on the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, a reading of the latest available interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, since the close of FPL's most recent audited fiscal year, a reading of the minutes and consents of the Board of Directors, the Finance Committee of the Board of Directors and the Stock Issuance Committee of the Board of Directors and of the sole common shareholder of FPL since the end of the most recent audited fiscal year, and inquiries of officials of FPL who have responsibility for financial and accounting matters (it being understood that the foregoing procedures do not constitute an audit made in accordance with standards of the PCAOB and they would not necessarily reveal matters of significance with respect to the comments made in such letter, and accordingly that Deloitte & Touche LLP makes no representation as to the sufficiency of such procedures for the several Underwriters' purposes), nothing has come to their attention which caused them to believe that (a) the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, (1) do not comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder and (2) except as disclosed in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, are not in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis substantially consistent with that of the audited consolidated financial statements of FPL incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable; (b) at the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and at a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there was any change in the common stock or additional paid-in capital or increase in the preferred stock or long-term debt including current maturities and excluding fair value swaps, if any, and unamortized premium and discount on long-term debt of FPL and its subsidiaries, or decrease in common shareholder's equity of FPL and its subsidiaries, in each case as compared with amounts shown in the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, except in all instances for changes, increases or decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or as occasioned by the declaration, provision for, or payment of dividends, or which are described in such letter; or (c) for the period from the date of the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, to the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and for the period from the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them to a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there were any decreases, as compared with the corresponding period in the preceding year, in total consolidated operating revenues or in net income, except in all instances for decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or which are described in such letter; and (iv) they have carried out certain procedures and made certain findings, as specified in such letter, with respect to certain amounts included in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, and such other items as the Representatives may reasonably request.

(f) Since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, and up to the Closing Date, (i) there shall have been no material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, except as disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and (ii) there shall have been no transaction entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than transactions disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and transactions in the ordinary course of business; and at the Closing Date the Representatives shall have received a certificate to such effect from FPL signed by an officer of FPL.

(g) All legal proceedings to be taken in connection with the issuance and sale of the Notes shall have been satisfactory in form and substance to Counsel for the Underwriters.

In case any of the conditions specified above in this Section 7 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by the Representatives upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to FPL. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

8. Conditions of FPL's Obligations. The obligation of FPL to deliver the Notes shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date.

(b) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Notes on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to FPL by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

In case the conditions specified above in this Section 8 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by FPL upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Representatives. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

9. Indemnification.

(a) FPL agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Underwriter, each officer and director of each Underwriter and each person (a "Controlling Person") who controls any Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law, and to reimburse each such Underwriter, officer, director and Controlling Person for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, including all Incorporated Documents, or in the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) shall not apply to any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing, to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof, or arising out of, or based upon, statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility; and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus shall not inure to the benefit of any Underwriter (or of any officer or director or Controlling Person of such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of the Notes to any person in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus, each as may be then supplemented or amended, furnished by such Underwriter to a person to whom any of the Notes were sold (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein), insofar as such indemnity relates to any untrue or misleading statement made in or omission from such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Prospectus, if a copy of a supplement or amendment to such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Prospectus or Issuer Free Writing Prospectus (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein) (i) is furnished on a timely basis by FPL to the Underwriter, (ii) is required by law or regulation to have been conveyed to such person by or on behalf of such Underwriter, at or prior to the entry into the contract of sale of the Notes with such person, but was not so conveyed (which conveyance may be oral or written) by or on behalf of such Underwriter and (iii) would have cured the defect giving rise to such loss, claim, damage or liability. The indemnity agreement of FPL contained in this Section 9(a) and the representations and warranties of FPL contained in Section 3 hereof shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of any Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Notes. Each Underwriter agrees promptly to notify FPL, and each other Underwriter, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against the notifying Underwriter, or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Notes.

(b) Each Underwriter, severally and not jointly, agrees to indemnify and hold harmless FPL, its officers and directors, and each person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of such Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof. The Underwriters hereby furnish to FPL in writing, expressly for use in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated June 25, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, the following: under "Underwriting" in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated June 25, 2024, the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, the fourth sentence in the third paragraph; the entire fourth paragraph (including the table immediately following the third sentence) except for the first sentence; the entire fifth paragraph; the third sentence of the sixth paragraph; and the entire seventh, eighth, ninth and thirteenth paragraphs. FPL acknowledges that the statements identified in the preceding sentence constitute the only information furnished in writing by or on behalf of the several Underwriters expressly for inclusion in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated June 25, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus. The respective indemnity agreement of each Underwriter contained in this Section 9(b) shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of FPL or any of its officers or directors or any person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, or by or on behalf of any other Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Notes. FPL agrees promptly to notify the Representatives of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against FPL (or any of its controlling persons within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act) or any of its officers or directors in connection with the issuance and sale of the Notes.

(c) FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, its officers and directors, or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in respect of which indemnity or contribution may be sought under the provisions of this Section 9, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity or contribution shall be sought thereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of this indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party or parties shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties and reasonably satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party or parties shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party or parties will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party or parties, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties at the expense of the indemnifying party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party or parties shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action). FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that without the prior written consent of the other parties to such action who are parties to this agreement, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, it will not settle, compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment in any claim or proceeding in respect of which such party intends to seek indemnity or contribution under the provisions of this Section 9, unless such settlement, compromise or consent (i) includes an unconditional release of such other parties from all liability arising out of such claim or proceeding and (ii) does not include a statement as to or an admission of fault, culpability or a failure to act by or on behalf of such other parties.

(d) If, or to the extent, the indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable under applicable law by an indemnified party, each indemnifying party agrees to contribute to such indemnified party with respect to any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses for which each such indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable, in such proportion as shall be appropriate to reflect (i) the relative fault of FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand in connection with the statements or omissions which have resulted in such losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses, (ii) the relative benefits received by FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand from the offering of the Notes pursuant to this agreement, and (iii) any other relevant equitable considerations; provided, however, that no indemnified party guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) shall be entitled to contribution with respect thereto from any indemnifying party not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. Relative fault shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission to state a material fact relates to information supplied by FPL or the Underwriters and each such party's relative intent, knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent such untrue statement or omission. FPL and each of the Underwriters each agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution pursuant to this Section 9(d) were to be determined by pro rata allocation or by any other method of allocation which does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to above. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 9(d), no Underwriter shall be required to contribute in excess of the amount equal to the excess of (i) the total price at which the Notes underwritten by it were offered to the public, over (ii) the amount of any damages which such Underwriter has otherwise been required to pay by reason of any such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission. The obligations of each Underwriter to contribute pursuant to this Section 9(d) are several and not joint and shall be in the same proportion as such Underwriter's obligation to underwrite the Notes is to the total principal amount of the Notes set forth in Schedule II hereto.

10. Termination. This agreement may be terminated by the Representatives by delivering written notice thereof to FPL, at any time prior to the Closing Date, if after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date:

(a) (i) there shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on The New York Stock Exchange LLC (the "NYSE") or there shall have been established by the NYSE or by the Commission or by any federal or state agency or by the decision of any court any limitation on prices for such trading or any general restrictions on the distribution of securities, or trading in any securities of FPL shall have been suspended or limited by any exchange located in the United States or on the over-the-counter market located in the United States or a general banking moratorium declared by New York or federal authorities or (ii) there shall have occurred any material adverse change in the financial markets in the United States, any outbreak of hostilities, including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date hereof, any other national or international calamity or crisis or any material adverse change in financial, political or economic conditions affecting the United States, the effect of any such event specified in this clause (ii) being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Notes as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Notes; or

(b) (i) there shall have been any downgrading or any notice of any intended or potential downgrading in the ratings accorded to the Notes or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Notes by either Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") or S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc. ("S&P"), or (ii) either Moody's or S&P shall have publicly announced that it has under surveillance or review, with possible negative implications, its ratings of the Notes or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Notes, the effect of any such event specified in (i) or (ii) above being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Notes as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Notes.

This agreement may also be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date if in the judgment of the Representatives the subject matter of any amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement or the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus prepared and furnished by FPL after the date hereof reflects a material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole which renders it either inadvisable to proceed with such offering, if any, or inadvisable to proceed with the delivery of the Notes to be purchased hereunder. Any termination of this agreement pursuant to this Section 10 shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

11. Miscellaneous.

(a) The validity and interpretation of this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflicts of law principles thereunder. This agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, FPL, the several Underwriters and, with respect to the provisions of Section 9 hereof, each officer, director or controlling person referred to in said Section 9, and their respective successors. Nothing in this agreement is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person or entity any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this agreement or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used in this agreement shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Notes from any of the several Underwriters.

(b) FPL acknowledges and agrees that the Underwriters are acting solely in the capacity of arm's length contractual counterparties to FPL with respect to the offering of the Notes as contemplated by this agreement and not as financial advisors or fiduciaries to FPL in connection herewith. Additionally, none of the Underwriters is advising FPL as to any legal, tax, investment, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction in connection with the offering of the Notes as contemplated by this agreement. Any review by the Underwriters of FPL in connection with the offering of the Notes contemplated by this agreement and the transactions contemplated by this agreement will not be performed on behalf of FPL.

12. Notices. All communications hereunder shall be in writing and, if to the Underwriters, shall be mailed or delivered to the Representatives at the address set forth in Schedule II hereto, or, if to FPL, shall be mailed or delivered to it at 700 Universe Boulevard, Juno Beach, Florida 33408, Attention: Treasurer.

13. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts by the parties hereto on separate counterparts, each of which, when so executed and delivered, shall be deemed an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. Electronic signatures complying with the New York Electronic Signatures and Records Act (N.Y. State Tech. §§ 301-309), as amended from time to time, or other applicable law will be deemed original signatures for purposes of this agreement. Transmission by telecopy, electronic mail or other transmission method of an executed counterpart of this agreement will constitute due and sufficient delivery of such counterpart.

14. Recognition of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes.

(a) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity (as defined below) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime (as defined below), the transfer from such Underwriter of this agreement, and any interest and obligation in or under this agreement, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement, and any such interest and obligation, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(b) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity or a BHC Act Affiliate (as defined below) of such Underwriter becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights (as defined below) under this agreement that may be exercised against such Underwriter are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(c) For purpose of this Section 14, (A) the term "BHC Act Affiliate" has the meaning assigned to the term "affiliate" in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k); (B) the term "Covered Entity" means any of the following: (1) a "covered entity" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.82(b); (2) a "covered bank" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 47.3(b); or (3) a "covered FSI" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 382.2(b); (C) the term "Default Rights" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. §§ 252.81, 47.2 or 382.1, as applicable; and (D) the term "U.S. Special Resolution Regime" means each of (1) the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder and (2) Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

* It is expected that delivery of the Notes will be made against payment therefor on or about July 1, 2024, which will be the second business day following the date of pricing of the Notes. Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in one business day, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, by virtue of the fact that the Notes initially will settle in T+2, purchasers who wish to trade the Notes on the date of pricing of the Notes should specify an extended settlement cycle at the time they enter into any such trade to prevent failed settlement and should consult their own advisors.

 A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and should be evaluated independently of any other rating. The rating is subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization.

The term "Compounded SOFR" has the meaning ascribed to such term in the Issuer's Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, dated June 25, 2024 (the "Preliminary Prospectus"), with respect to the Notes.

The Issuer has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents the Issuer has filed with the SEC for more complete information about the Issuer and this offering. You may get these documents for free by visiting EDGAR on the SEC Web site at www.sec.gov. Alternatively, the Issuer, any underwriter or any dealer participating in the offering will arrange to send you the prospectus if you request it by calling Morgan Stanley & Co. as herein described

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $167,105,000 aggregate principal amount of its Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074 (the "Notes"), issued under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017 (the "Indenture"), between FPL and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Notes to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024 relating to the Notes, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024 relating to the Notes filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated June 27, 2024 relating to the Notes, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Indenture; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Indenture and the Notes; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Notes.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

FPL is organized and existing as a corporation and its status is active under the laws of the State of Florida.

II.

FPL is a corporation duly authorized by its Charter to conduct the business which it is now conducting as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus; FPL is subject, as to retail rates and services, issuance of securities, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the FPSC; and FPL is subject, as to wholesale rates, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

III.

The Indenture has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

IV.

The Notes are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

V.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

VI.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Indenture will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

VII.

The Notes are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Notes. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Notes.

VIII.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Senior Debt Securities" and "Certain Terms of the Notes," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

IX.

The Indenture is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

X.

Except as stated or referred to in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, to our knowledge after due inquiry, there is no material pending legal proceeding to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is a party or of which property of FPL or any of its subsidiaries is the subject which is reasonably likely to be determined adversely and, if determined adversely, might reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole and, to the best of our knowledge, no such proceeding is known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

XII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Notes will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Notes will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Indenture, by the Trustee under the Indenture and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in paragraph VIII hereof, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of Florida and New York and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of New York law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, New York, New York. As to all matters of Florida law, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP are hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to each of them.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $167,105,000 aggregate principal amount of its Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074 (the "Notes"), issued under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017 (the "Indenture"), between FPL and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Notes to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024 relating to the Notes, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated June 25, 2024 relating to the Notes filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated June 27, 2024 relating to the Notes, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Indenture; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Indenture and the Notes; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Notes.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

The Indenture has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Notes are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

III.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Indenture will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

V.

The Notes are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Notes. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Notes.

VI.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Senior Debt Securities" and "Certain Terms of the Notes," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

VII.

The Indenture is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VIII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Notes will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Notes will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Indenture, by the Trustee under the Indenture and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in paragraph VI hereof, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of New York and Florida and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of Florida law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP. As to all matters of New York law, Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP is hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

$167,105,000 Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $167,105,000 aggregate principal amount of FPL's Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074 (the "Notes"), issued under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017 (the "Indenture"), between FPL and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee, pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In connection with the foregoing, we have examined such documents and satisfied ourselves as to such other matters as we have deemed necessary in order to enable us to express the opinions set forth herein. We have assumed that the certificates representing the Notes will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Notes will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Indenture, by the Trustee and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

For purposes of the opinions expressed below, we have assumed without verification (i) the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals; (ii) the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted as certified or photostatic copies and the authenticity of the originals of such documents; (iii) the genuineness of signatures not witnessed by us; and (iv) the legal capacity of natural persons.

As to factual matters, we have relied upon representations and warranties included in the Agreement and upon certificates of officers of FPL being delivered to you today pursuant to Section 7(a) of the Agreement, and upon certificates of public officials, without independent investigation. Whenever the phrase "to the best of our knowledge" is used herein, it refers to the actual knowledge of the attorneys involved in this transaction, without independent investigation.

We do not purport to express an opinion on any laws other than the laws of the State of New York, the federal laws of the United States of America and, to the extent set forth herein, the laws of the State of Florida. As to all matters of Florida law, we have, with your consent, relied upon the opinion letter of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel for FPL.

Based on the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

I.

The Indenture has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Notes are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

III.

Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement") is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Senior Debt Securities" and "Certain Terms of the Notes," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

V.

The Indenture is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VI.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

This opinion letter is given to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This opinion letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

Florida Power & Light Company
$167,105,000 Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $167,105,000 aggregate principal amount of FPL's Floating Rate Notes, Series due July 2, 2074 (the "Notes"), issued under the Indenture (For Unsecured Debt Securities), dated as of November 1, 2017 (the "Indenture"), between FPL and The Bank of New York Mellon, as Trustee, pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated June 27, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In passing on the form of the Registration Statement and the form of the Prospectus, we necessarily assume the correctness and completeness of the statements made or included therein by FPL and take no responsibility therefor, except insofar as such statements relate to us and as set forth in paragraph IV in our opinion letter to you dated as of the date hereof. Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in said paragraph IV, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives.

On the basis of such consideration, review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that has caused us to believe that:

(i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading;

(ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; or

(iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Subject to and on the basis of the foregoing, we further advise you that:

(iv) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; and

(v) the Incorporated Documents, at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Exchange Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

With respect to the foregoing paragraphs (i) - (v), we express no view or belief and make no statement with respect to (a) the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference in the Registration Statement or the exhibits thereto, the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Prospectus and (b) those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility.

This letter is furnished to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to advise you of facts or circumstances that hereafter come to our attention, or of changes in law that hereafter occur, which could affect the views contained herein.

Very truly yours,

Exhibit 4 (k)

Underwriting Agreement, dated July 25, 2024, with respect to the July 2024 Mortgage Bonds.

Florida Power & Light Company

First Mortgage Bonds

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

July 25, 2024

To the Representatives named in Schedule II
hereto, on behalf of the Underwriters
named in Schedule II hereto

To the Addressees:

1. Introductory. Florida Power & Light Company, a Florida corporation ("FPL"), proposes to issue and sell its first mortgage bonds ("First Mortgage Bonds") of the series designation, with the terms and in the principal amount specified in Schedule I hereto (the "Bonds"). FPL hereby confirms its agreement with the several Underwriters (as defined below) as set forth herein.

The term "Underwriters" as used herein shall be deemed to mean the entity or several entities named in Schedule II hereto and any underwriter substituted as provided in Section 5 hereof, and the term "Underwriter" shall be deemed to mean one of such Underwriters. If the entity or entities listed as a Representative in Schedule II hereto (the "Representatives") are the same as the entity or entities listed as Underwriters in Schedule II hereto, then the terms "Underwriters" and "Representatives," as used herein, shall each be deemed to refer to such entity or entities. The Representatives represent that they have been authorized by each Underwriter to enter into this agreement on behalf of such Underwriter and to act for it in the manner herein provided. All obligations of the Underwriters hereunder are several and not joint. If more than one entity is named as a Representative in Schedule II hereto, any action under or in respect of this agreement may be taken by such entities jointly as the Representatives or by one of the entities acting on behalf of the Representatives and such action will be binding upon all the Underwriters.

2. Description of Bonds. The Bonds will be a series of First Mortgage Bonds issued by FPL under its Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 1, 1944, to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (formerly known as Bankers Trust Company), as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and The Florida National Bank of Jacksonville (now resigned), as heretofore supplemented and as it will be further supplemented by a supplemental indenture relating to the Bonds (the "Supplemental Indenture") in substantially the form heretofore delivered to the Representatives. Such Mortgage and Deed of Trust as it has been and will be so supplemented is hereinafter called the "Mortgage."

3. Representations and Warranties of FPL. FPL represents and warrants to the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") a joint registration statement with NextEra Energy, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE"), and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc., a Florida corporation ("NEE Capital"), on Form S-3 (Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02) ("Registration Statement No. 333-278184") for the registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), of

(i) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of FPL's serial Preferred Stock, $100 par value and shares of FPL's Preferred Stock without par value, (B) warrants of FPL, (C) First Mortgage Bonds, (D) senior debt securities of FPL, and (E) subordinated debt securities of FPL;

(ii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE's common stock, $.01 par value ("Common Stock"), (B) shares of NEE's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Preferred Stock"), (C) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Preferred Stock, (D) contracts to purchase Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock or other agreements or instruments requiring NEE to issue Common Stock or NEE Preferred Stock (collectively, "Stock Purchase Contracts"), (E) units, each representing ownership of a Stock Purchase Contract and any of debt securities of NEE Capital, debt securities of NEE, or debt securities of third parties, including U.S. Treasury securities, (F) warrants of NEE, (G) senior debt securities of NEE, (H) subordinated debt securities of NEE, and (I) junior subordinated debentures of NEE;

(iii) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) guarantees of NEE related to the NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities (as defined below), NEE Capital Preferred Stock (as defined below) and NEE Capital Depositary Shares (as defined below), (B) subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities (as defined below), and (C) junior subordinated guarantees of NEE related to NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures (as defined below); and

(iv) an unspecified aggregate amount of (A) shares of NEE Capital's preferred stock, $.01 par value ("NEE Capital Preferred Stock"), (B) depositary shares representing fractional interests in NEE Capital Preferred Stock ("NEE Capital Depositary Shares"), (C) senior debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Senior Debt Securities"), (D) subordinated debt securities of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Subordinated Debt Securities"), and (E) junior subordinated debentures of NEE Capital ("NEE Capital Junior Subordinated Debentures").

Such registration statement has become effective and no stop order suspending such effectiveness has been issued under the Securities Act and no proceedings for that purpose have been instituted or are pending or, to the knowledge of FPL, threatened by the Commission.

References herein to the term "Registration Statement" (i) as of any given time means Registration Statement No. 333-278184, as amended or supplemented to such time, including all documents incorporated by reference therein as of such time pursuant to Item 12 of Form S-3 ("Incorporated Documents") and any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds (any reference to any preliminary prospectus supplement or any prospectus supplement shall be understood to include the Base Prospectus (as defined below)) deemed to be a part thereof as of such time pursuant to Rule 430B under the Securities Act ("Rule 430B") that has not been superseded or modified as of such time and (ii) without reference to any given time means the Registration Statement as of 10:15 A.M., New York City time, on the date hereof (which date and time is the earlier of the date and time of (A) the first use of the preliminary prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds and (B) the first contract of sale of the Bonds), which time shall be considered the "Effective Date" of the Registration Statement. For purposes of the definition of Registration Statement in the preceding sentence, information contained in any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Registration Statement as of the time specified in Rule 430B. References herein to the term "Pricing Prospectus" means (i) the prospectus relating to FPL forming a part of Registration Statement No. 333-278184, including all Incorporated Documents (the "Base Prospectus"), and (ii) any prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds deemed to be a part of the Registration Statement that has not been superseded or modified (for purposes of the definition of Pricing Prospectus with respect to a particular offering of the Bonds, information contained in a prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds that is deemed retroactively to be a part of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430B shall be considered to be included in the Pricing Prospectus as of the time that prospectus, preliminary prospectus supplement or prospectus supplement is filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 under the Securities Act ("Rule 424")). References herein to the term "Prospectus" means the Pricing Prospectus that discloses the public offering price and other final terms of the Bonds and otherwise satisfies Section 10(a) of the Securities Act.

The prospectus supplement relating to the Bonds proposed to be filed pursuant to Rule 424 shall be substantially in the form delivered to the Representatives prior to the execution of this agreement. Each of the Underwriters acknowledges that on or subsequent to the Closing Date (as defined in Section 5 hereof), FPL may file a post-effective amendment to the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 462(d) under the Securities Act or a Current Report on Form 8-K in order to file one or more unqualified opinions of counsel and any documents executed in connection with the offering of the Bonds.

(b) The Registration Statement constitutes an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act ("Rule 405")) filed within three years of the date hereof; the Registration Statement became effective upon filing; no notice of objection of the Commission with respect to the use of the Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act has been received by FPL and not removed; and with respect to the Bonds, FPL is a "well-known seasoned issuer" within the meaning of subparagraph (1)(ii) of the definition of "well-known seasoned issuer" in Rule 405 and is not an "ineligible issuer" (as defined in Rule 405).

(c) The Registration Statement at the Effective Date fully complied, and the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, and the Registration Statement and the Mortgage, at the Closing Date, will fully comply, in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Act and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, respectively, and, in each case, the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, did not, and the Registration Statement, at the Closing Date, will not, contain an untrue statement of a material fact, or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; the Prospectus, both as of the date hereof and at the Closing Date, will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(c) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Registration Statement or the Prospectus, or to any statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility on Form T-1, or amendments thereto, filed as exhibits to the Registration Statement (collectively, the "Statements of Eligibility") or to any statements or omissions made in the Registration Statement or the Prospectus relating to The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") Book-Entry-Only System that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC; and the Incorporated Documents, when filed with the Commission, fully complied or will fully comply in all material respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(d) As of the Applicable Time (as defined below), the Pricing Disclosure Package (as defined below) did not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, that the foregoing representations and warranties in this Section 3(d) shall not apply to statements or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter through the Representatives expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus (as defined below), or to any statements in or omissions from the Pricing Prospectus, any preliminary prospectus supplement or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus relating to the DTC Book-Entry-Only System that are based solely on information contained in published reports of DTC. References to the term "Pricing Disclosure Package" means the items listed in Schedule III, taken together as a whole. References to the term "Issuer Free Writing Prospectus" means an issuer free writing prospectus, as defined in Rule 433 under the Securities Act ("Rule 433").

References to the term "Applicable Time" means 12:20 P.M., New York City time, on the date hereof.

(e) As of the Applicable Time, no Issuer Free Writing Prospectus includes any information that conflicts with the information contained in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus, including any document incorporated by reference therein that has not been superseded or modified.

(f) The financial statements included as part of or incorporated by reference in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement present fairly the consolidated financial condition and results of operations of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole at the respective dates or for the respective periods to which they apply; such financial statements have been prepared in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied throughout the periods involved except as otherwise indicated in the Pricing Disclosure Package, the Prospectus and the Registration Statement; and Deloitte & Touche LLP, who has audited the audited financial statements of FPL, is an independent registered public accounting firm as required by the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(g) Except as reflected in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, there has not been any material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, whether or not in the ordinary course of business, nor has any transaction been entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than changes and transactions contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package and transactions in the ordinary course of business. FPL and its subsidiaries have no contingent obligation material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, which is not disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package.

(h) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, and the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of FPL in accordance with the provisions of its Restated Articles of Incorporation, its Amended and Restated Bylaws and applicable law, and the Bonds when issued and delivered by FPL as provided herein will constitute valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

(i) The execution and delivery of this agreement and the consummation of the transactions herein contemplated by FPL, the fulfillment of the terms hereof on the part of FPL to be fulfilled, and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation or Amended and Restated Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is now a party, or violate any law or any order, rule, decree or regulation applicable to FPL or any of its subsidiaries of any federal or state court, regulatory board or body or administrative agency having jurisdiction over FPL or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective property, except where such breach, default or violation would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(j) FPL has no direct or indirect significant subsidiaries (as defined in Regulation S-X (17 CFR Part 210)).

(k) FPL has been duly organized, is validly existing and is in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, and is duly qualified to do business and is in good standing as a foreign corporation in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of properties or the conduct of its businesses requires such qualification, except where the failure so to qualify would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, and has the power and authority as a corporation necessary to own or hold its properties and to conduct the businesses in which it is engaged.

(l) The Bonds will conform in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(m) The Mortgage (i) has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly executed and delivered by FPL and is a valid and binding instrument enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought and (ii) conforms in all material respects to the description thereof in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus.

(n) FPL is not, and after giving effect to the offering and sale of the Bonds and the application of the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus will not be, an "investment company" within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

(o) Except as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, FPL or its subsidiaries have valid franchises, licenses and permits adequate for the conduct of the business of FPL and its subsidiaries as described in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, except where the failure to have such franchises, licenses and permits would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

(p) The interactive data in eXtensible Business Reporting Language filed as exhibits to FPL's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 and the Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2024 fairly presents the information called for in all material respects and has been prepared in accordance with the Commission's rules and guidelines applicable thereto.

4. Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions in this agreement (including the representations and warranties herein contained), FPL agrees to sell to the respective Underwriters named in Schedule II hereto, severally and not jointly, and the respective Underwriters agree, severally and not jointly, to purchase from FPL for an aggregate purchase price of $347,763,500, the respective principal amount of the Bonds set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto.

The Underwriters agree to make a bona fide public offering of the Bonds as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package, such public offering to be made as soon after the execution of this agreement as practicable, subject, however, to the terms and conditions of this agreement. The Underwriters have advised FPL that the Bonds will be offered to the public at the amount per Bond as set forth in Schedule I hereto as the Price to Public and to certain dealers selected by the Representatives at a price which represents a concession. Such dealers' concession may not be in excess of 0.350% of the principal amount per Bond.

Each Underwriter agrees that (i) no information that is presented by it to investors has been or will be inconsistent with the information contained in the Pricing Disclosure Package as it may then be amended or supplemented and (ii) it will make no offer that would constitute a Free Writing Prospectus that is required to be filed by FPL pursuant to Rule 433 other than an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus in accordance with Section 6(h) hereof. References to the term "Free Writing Prospectus" means a free writing prospectus as defined in Rule 405.

5. Time, Date and Place of Closing, Default of the Underwriters. Delivery of the Bonds and payment therefor by wire transfer in federal funds shall be made at 9:00 A.M., New York City time, on the settlement date set forth on Schedule I, at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon in writing by FPL and the Representatives. The time and date of such delivery and payment are herein called the "Closing Date."

The Bonds will be issued in the form of one or more global certificates in fully registered form. The Bonds shall be delivered to the Representatives for the respective accounts of the Underwriters against payment by the several Underwriters through the Representatives of the purchase price therefor. Delivery of the Bonds shall be made through the facilities of DTC unless FPL and the Representatives shall otherwise agree. For the purpose of expediting the checking of the Bonds by the Representatives on behalf of the Underwriters, FPL (if delivery of the Bonds shall be made otherwise than through the facilities of DTC) agrees to make such Bonds available to the Representatives for such purpose at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, 101 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10178, not later than 2:00 P.M., New York City time, on the business day preceding the Closing Date, or at such other time, date or place as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives.

If any Underwriter shall fail to purchase and pay for the principal amount of the Bonds which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase and pay for hereunder (otherwise than by reason of any failure on the part of FPL to comply with any of the provisions contained herein), the non-defaulting Underwriters shall be obligated to purchase and pay for (in addition to the respective principal amount of the Bonds set forth opposite their respective names in Schedule II hereto) the principal amount of the Bonds which such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters failed to purchase and pay for, up to a principal amount thereof equal to, in the case of each such remaining Underwriter, ten percent (10%) of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds set forth opposite the name of each such remaining Underwriter in said Schedule II, and such remaining Underwriters shall have the right, within 24 hours of receipt of such notice, either to (i) purchase and pay for (in such proportion as may be agreed upon among them) the remaining principal amount of the Bonds which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase, or (ii) substitute another Underwriter or Underwriters, satisfactory to FPL, to purchase and pay for the remaining principal amount of the Bonds which the defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed to purchase. If any of the Bonds would still remain unpurchased, then FPL shall be entitled to a further period of 24 hours within which to procure another party or other parties that (i) are members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. or else are not eligible for membership in said Authority but who agree (A) to make no sales within the United States, its territories or its possessions or to persons who are citizens thereof or residents therein and (B) in making sales to comply with said Authority's Conduct Rules, and (ii) are satisfactory to the Representatives to purchase such Bonds on the terms herein set forth. In the event that, within the respective prescribed periods, (i) the non-defaulting Underwriters notify FPL that they have arranged for the purchase of such Bonds or (ii) FPL notifies the non-defaulting Underwriters that it has arranged for the purchase of such Bonds, the non-defaulting Underwriters or FPL shall have the right to postpone the Closing Date for a period of not more than three full business days beyond the expiration of the respective prescribed periods in order to effect whatever changes may thus be made necessary in the Registration Statement, the Prospectus or in any other documents or arrangements. In the event that neither the non-defaulting Underwriters nor FPL has arranged for the purchase of such Bonds by another party or parties as above provided, then this agreement shall terminate without any liability on the part of FPL or any Underwriter (other than an Underwriter which shall have failed or refused, otherwise than for some reason sufficient to justify, in accordance with the terms hereof, the cancellation or termination of its obligations hereunder, to purchase and pay for the Bonds which such Underwriter has agreed to purchase as provided in Section 4 hereof), except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d), Section 6(f) and Section 9 hereof.

6. Covenants of FPL. FPL agrees with the several Underwriters that:

(a) FPL will timely file the Prospectus and any preliminary prospectus supplement used in connection with the offering of the Bonds with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424. FPL has complied and will comply with Rule 433 in connection with the offering and sale of the Bonds, including applicable provisions in respect of timely filing with the Commission, legending and record-keeping.

(b) FPL will prepare a final term sheet, containing a description of the pricing terms of the Bonds, substantially in the form of Schedule I hereto and approved by the Representatives and will timely file such term sheet with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433.

(c) FPL will, upon request, deliver to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters (as defined below) one signed copy of the Registration Statement or, if a signed copy is not available, one conformed copy of the Registration Statement certified by an officer of FPL to be in the form as originally filed, including all Incorporated Documents and exhibits, except those incorporated by reference, which relate to the Bonds, including a signed or conformed copy of each consent and certificate included therein or filed as an exhibit thereto. As soon as practicable after the date hereof, FPL will deliver or cause to be delivered to the Underwriters through the Representatives as many copies of the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus as the Representatives may reasonably request for the purposes contemplated by the Securities Act.

(d) FPL has paid or caused to be paid or will pay or cause to be paid all expenses in connection with the (i) preparation and filing of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, (ii) issuance and delivery of the Bonds as provided in Section 5 hereof, (iii) preparation, execution, filing and recording of the Supplemental Indenture and (iv) printing and delivery to the Representatives for the account of the Underwriters, in reasonable quantities, of copies of the Registration Statement, any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus and the Supplemental Indenture. FPL will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, if any (but not including any transfer taxes), on the issuance of the Bonds and recordation of the Supplemental Indenture. FPL shall not, however, be required to pay any amount for any expenses of the Representatives or any of the Underwriters (other than in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 hereof), except that if this agreement shall be terminated in accordance with the provisions of Section 7, Section 8, or Section 10 hereof, FPL will pay or cause to be paid the fees and disbursements of Counsel for the Underwriters, whose fees and disbursements the Underwriters agree to pay in any other event, and FPL shall reimburse or cause to be reimbursed the Underwriters for out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred by them in connection with the transactions contemplated by this agreement, not in excess, however, of an aggregate of $5,000 for such out-of-pocket expenses. FPL shall not in any event be liable to any of the several Underwriters for damages on account of loss of anticipated profits.

(e) During a period of nine months after the date hereof, if any event relating to or affecting FPL shall occur which, in the opinion of FPL, should be set forth in a supplement to or an amendment to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) in order to make the Prospectus, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when it is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading, FPL will forthwith at its expense prepare, file with the Commission, if required, and furnish to the Representatives a reasonable number of copies of such supplement or supplements or amendment or amendments to the Prospectus (including an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus) which will supplement or amend the Prospectus so that as supplemented or amended it will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in the light of the circumstances pertaining when the Prospectus is delivered to a purchaser, not misleading; provided that should such event relate solely to activities of any of the Underwriters, then the Underwriters shall assume the expense of preparing and furnishing copies of any such amendment or supplement. In case any Underwriter is required to deliver a Prospectus after the expiration of nine months after the date hereof, FPL upon the request of the Representatives will furnish to the Representatives, at the expense of such Underwriter, a reasonable quantity of a supplemented or amended Prospectus or supplements or amendments to the Prospectus complying with Section 10 of the Securities Act.

(f) FPL will furnish such proper information as may be lawfully required and otherwise cooperate in qualifying the Bonds for offer and sale under the blue sky laws of such United States jurisdictions as the Representatives may designate and will pay or cause to be paid filing fees and expenses (including fees of counsel not to exceed $5,000 and reasonable disbursements of counsel), provided that FPL shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or dealer in securities, or to file any consents to service of process under the laws of any jurisdiction, or to meet other requirements deemed by FPL to be unduly burdensome.

(g) FPL will timely file such reports pursuant to the Exchange Act as are necessary in order to make generally available to its security holders (including holders of the Bonds) as soon as practicable an earnings statement (which need not be audited, unless required so to be under Section 11(a) of the Securities Act) for the purposes of, and to provide the benefits contemplated by, the last paragraph of Section 11(a) of the Securities Act.

(h) Prior to the termination of the offering of the Bonds, FPL will not file any amendment to the Registration Statement or any amendment or supplement to the Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package without prior notice to the Representatives and to Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, who are acting as counsel for the several Underwriters ("Counsel for the Underwriters"), or any such amendment or supplement to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters. FPL has not made any offer relating to the Bonds that would constitute an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or that would otherwise constitute a Free Writing Prospectus required to be filed by FPL with the Commission or retained by FPL pursuant to Rule 433, other than a pricing term sheet substantially in the form as set forth on Schedule I, and FPL will not make any such offer without prior notice to the Representatives and to Counsel for the Underwriters, or any such offer to which the Representatives shall reasonably object in writing, or which shall be unsatisfactory to Counsel for the Underwriters.

(i) FPL will advise the Representatives promptly of the filing of the Prospectus pursuant to Rule 424, of the filing of any material pursuant to Rule 433 and of any amendment or supplement to the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Registration Statement or, prior to the termination of the offering of the Bonds, of official notice of the institution of proceedings for, or the entry of, a stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement, of receipt from the Commission of any notice of objection to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act, and, if such a stop order should be entered, or notice of objection should be received, use every commercially reasonable effort to obtain the prompt removal thereof.

(j) If there occurs an event or development as a result of which the Pricing Disclosure Package would include an untrue statement of a material fact or would omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances then pertaining, not misleading, FPL promptly will notify the Representatives so that any use of the Pricing Disclosure Package may cease until it is amended or supplemented.

(k) On or before the Closing Date, FPL will, if applicable, cause (i) at least one counterpart of the Supplemental Indenture to be duly recorded in the States of Florida, Georgia and Mississippi and (ii) all intangible and documentary stamp taxes due in connection with the issuance of the Bonds and the recording of the Supplemental Indenture to be paid. Within 30 days following the Closing Date, FPL will, if applicable, cause the Supplemental Indenture to be duly recorded in all other counties in which property of FPL which is subject to the lien of the Mortgage is located.

(l) All the property to be subjected to the lien of the Mortgage will be adequately described therein.

7. Conditions of Underwriters' Obligations to Purchase and Pay for the Bonds. The several obligations of the Underwriters to purchase and pay for the Bonds shall be subject to the performance by FPL of its obligations to be performed hereunder on or prior to the Closing Date and to the following conditions:

(a) The representations and warranties made by FPL herein and qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all respects and the representations and warranties made by FPL herein that are not qualified by materiality shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing Date, in each case, as if made on and as of such date and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Bonds, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to that effect.

(b) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date; and the Representatives shall have received, prior to payment for the Bonds, a certificate from FPL dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of FPL to the effect that, to the best of his or her knowledge, no such orders are in effect, no proceedings for either such purpose are pending before, or to the knowledge of FPL threatened by, the Commission, and no such notice of objection has been received and not removed.

(c) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Bonds on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to the Representatives by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization provided to Counsel for the Underwriters and in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

(d) On the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel to FPL, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, counsel to FPL, and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Counsel for the Underwriters, opinions (with a copy for each of the Underwriters) in substantially the form and substance prescribed in Schedule IV, Schedule V, and Schedule VI hereto (i) with such changes therein as may be agreed upon by FPL and the Representatives, with the approval of Counsel for the Underwriters, and (ii) if the Prospectus relating to the Bonds shall be supplemented or amended after the Prospectus shall have been filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, with any changes therein necessary to reflect such supplementation or amendment.

(e) On the date hereof and on the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received from Deloitte & Touche LLP a letter or letters (which may refer to letters previously delivered to the Representatives) (with copies thereof for each of the Underwriters) dated the respective dates of delivery thereof to the effect that (i) they are an independent registered public accounting firm with respect to FPL within the meaning of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the applicable published rules and regulations thereunder; (ii) in their opinion, the consolidated financial statements of FPL audited by them and incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder; (iii) on the basis of performing a review of interim financial information as described in the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") AS 4105, Reviews of Interim Financial Information, on the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, a reading of the latest available interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, since the close of FPL's most recent audited fiscal year, a reading of the minutes and consents of the Board of Directors, the Finance Committee of the Board of Directors and the Stock Issuance Committee of the Board of Directors and of the sole common shareholder of FPL since the end of the most recent audited fiscal year, and inquiries of officials of FPL who have responsibility for financial and accounting matters (it being understood that the foregoing procedures do not constitute an audit made in accordance with standards of the PCAOB and they would not necessarily reveal matters of significance with respect to the comments made in such letter, and accordingly that Deloitte & Touche LLP makes no representation as to the sufficiency of such procedures for the several Underwriters' purposes), nothing has come to their attention which caused them to believe that (a) the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of FPL, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, (1) do not comply as to form in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act and the published rules and regulations thereunder and (2) except as disclosed in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, are not in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis substantially consistent with that of the audited consolidated financial statements of FPL incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable; (b) at the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and at a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there was any change in the common stock or additional paid-in capital or increase in the preferred stock or long-term debt including current maturities and excluding fair value swaps, if any, and unamortized premium and discount on long-term debt of FPL and its subsidiaries, or decrease in common shareholder's equity of FPL and its subsidiaries, in each case as compared with amounts shown in the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, except in all instances for changes, increases or decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or as occasioned by the declaration, provision for, or payment of dividends, or which are described in such letter; or (c) for the period from the date of the most recent condensed consolidated balance sheet, if any, incorporated by reference in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, to the latest available interim balance sheet read by them and for the period from the date of the latest available interim balance sheet read by them to a specified date not more than five days prior to the date of such letter, there were any decreases, as compared with the corresponding period in the preceding year, in total consolidated operating revenues or in net income, except in all instances for decreases which the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, discloses have occurred or may occur, or which are described in such letter; and (iv) they have carried out certain procedures and made certain findings, as specified in such letter, with respect to certain amounts included in the Pricing Prospectus or the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, as applicable, and such other items as the Representatives may reasonably request.

(f) Since the respective most recent times as of which information is given in the Pricing Disclosure Package, and up to the Closing Date, (i) there shall have been no material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, except as disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and (ii) there shall have been no transaction entered into by FPL or any of its subsidiaries that is material to FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, other than transactions disclosed in or contemplated by the Pricing Disclosure Package, and transactions in the ordinary course of business; and at the Closing Date the Representatives shall have received a certificate to such effect from FPL signed by an officer of FPL.

(g) All legal proceedings to be taken in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds shall have been satisfactory in form and substance to Counsel for the Underwriters.

In case any of the conditions specified above in this Section 7 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by the Representatives upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to FPL. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

8. Conditions of FPL's Obligations. The obligation of FPL to deliver the Bonds shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) No stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no order of the Commission directed to the adequacy of any Incorporated Document shall be in effect on the Closing Date; no proceedings for either such purpose shall be pending before, or threatened by, the Commission on the Closing Date; and no notice of objection by the Commission to the use of the Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to Rule 401(g)(2) under the Securities Act shall have been received by FPL and not removed by the Closing Date.

(b) On the Closing Date, there shall be in full force and effect an authorization of the Florida Public Service Commission with respect to the issuance and sale of the Bonds on the terms herein stated or contemplated, and containing no provision unacceptable to FPL by reason of the fact that it is materially adverse to FPL, it being understood that no authorization in effect at the date hereof contains any such unacceptable provision.

In case the conditions specified above in this Section 8 shall not have been fulfilled, this agreement may be terminated by FPL upon mailing or delivering written notice thereof to the Representatives. Any such termination shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

9. Indemnification.

(a) FPL agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Underwriter, each officer and director of each Underwriter and each person (a "Controlling Person") who controls any Underwriter within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law, and to reimburse each such Underwriter, officer, director and Controlling Person for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, including all Incorporated Documents, or in the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) shall not apply to any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising out of, or based upon, any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement, or any such omission or alleged omission, if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing, to FPL by or on behalf of any Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof, or arising out of, or based upon, statements in or omissions from the Statements of Eligibility; and provided, further, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 9(a) in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus shall not inure to the benefit of any Underwriter (or of any officer or director or Controlling Person of such Underwriter) on account of any such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arising from the sale of the Bonds to any person in respect of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Pricing Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or the Prospectus, each as may be then supplemented or amended, furnished by such Underwriter to a person to whom any of the Bonds were sold (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein), insofar as such indemnity relates to any untrue or misleading statement made in or omission from such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Prospectus, if a copy of a supplement or amendment to such preliminary prospectus supplement, Pricing Prospectus, Prospectus or Issuer Free Writing Prospectus (excluding in all cases, however, any document then incorporated by reference therein) (i) is furnished on a timely basis by FPL to the Underwriter, (ii) is required by law or regulation to have been conveyed to such person by or on behalf of such Underwriter, at or prior to the entry into the contract of sale of the Bonds with such person, but was not so conveyed (which conveyance may be oral or written) by or on behalf of such Underwriter and (iii) would have cured the defect giving rise to such loss, claim, damage or liability. The indemnity agreement of FPL contained in this Section 9(a) and the representations and warranties of FPL contained in Section 3 hereof shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of any Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. Each Underwriter agrees promptly to notify FPL, and each other Underwriter, of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against the notifying Underwriter, or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(b) Each Underwriter, severally and not jointly, agrees to indemnify and hold harmless FPL, its officers and directors, and each person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Securities Act or any other statute or common law and to reimburse each of them for any legal or other expenses (including, to the extent hereinafter provided, reasonable counsel fees) when and as incurred by them in connection with investigating any such losses, claims, damages or liabilities or in connection with defending any actions, insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, expenses or actions arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading if such statement or omission was made in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to FPL by or on behalf of such Underwriter, through the Representatives, expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any preliminary prospectus supplement, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any thereof. The Underwriters hereby furnish to FPL in writing, expressly for use in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated July 25, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus and any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, the following: under "Underwriting" in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated July 25, 2024, the Pricing Prospectus and the Prospectus, the fourth sentence in the third paragraph; the entire fourth paragraph (including the table immediately following the third sentence) except for the first sentence; the entire fifth paragraph; the third sentence in the sixth paragraph; and the entire seventh, eighth and ninth paragraphs. FPL acknowledges that the statements identified in the preceding sentence constitutes the only information furnished in writing by or on behalf of the several Underwriters expressly for inclusion in the preliminary prospectus supplement dated July 25, 2024, the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus. The respective indemnity agreement of each Underwriter contained in this Section 9(b) shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of FPL or any of its officers or directors or any person who controls FPL within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act, or by or on behalf of any other Underwriter or any of its officers, directors or Controlling Persons, and shall survive the delivery of the Bonds. FPL agrees promptly to notify the Representatives of the commencement of any litigation or proceedings against FPL (or any of its controlling persons within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act) or any of its officers or directors in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

(c) FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that, upon the receipt of notice of the commencement of any action against it, its officers and directors, or any person controlling it as aforesaid, in respect of which indemnity or contribution may be sought under the provisions of this Section 9, it will promptly give written notice of the commencement thereof to the party or parties against whom indemnity or contribution shall be sought thereunder, but the omission so to notify such indemnifying party or parties of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party or parties from any liability which it or they may have to the indemnified party otherwise than on account of this indemnity agreement. In case such notice of any such action shall be so given, such indemnifying party or parties shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the defense or, if it so elects, to assume (in conjunction with any other indemnifying parties) the defense of such action, in which event such defense shall be conducted by counsel chosen by such indemnifying party or parties and reasonably satisfactory to the indemnified party or parties who shall be defendant or defendants in such action, and such defendant or defendants shall bear the fees and expenses of any additional counsel retained by them; but if the indemnifying party or parties shall elect not to assume the defense of such action, such indemnifying party or parties will reimburse such indemnified party or parties for the reasonable fees and expenses of any counsel retained by them; provided, however, if the defendants in any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and counsel for the indemnifying party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be a conflict of interest involved in the representation by such counsel of both the indemnifying party and the indemnified party, the indemnified party or parties shall have the right to select separate counsel, satisfactory to the indemnifying party or parties, to participate in the defense of such action on behalf of such indemnified party or parties at the expense of the indemnifying party or parties (it being understood, however, that the indemnifying party or parties shall not be liable for the expenses of more than one separate counsel representing the indemnified parties who are parties to such action). FPL and each of the several Underwriters each agree that without the prior written consent of the other parties to such action who are parties to this agreement, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, it will not settle, compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment in any claim or proceeding in respect of which such party intends to seek indemnity or contribution under the provisions of this Section 9, unless such settlement, compromise or consent (i) includes an unconditional release of such other parties from all liability arising out of such claim or proceeding and (ii) does not include a statement as to or an admission of fault, culpability or a failure to act by or on behalf of such other parties.

(d) If, or to the extent, the indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable under applicable law by an indemnified party, each indemnifying party agrees to contribute to such indemnified party with respect to any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses for which each such indemnification provided for in Section 9(a) or Section 9(b) hereof shall be unenforceable, in such proportion as shall be appropriate to reflect (i) the relative fault of FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand in connection with the statements or omissions which have resulted in such losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses, (ii) the relative benefits received by FPL on the one hand and the Underwriters on the other hand from the offering of the Bonds pursuant to this agreement, and (iii) any other relevant equitable considerations; provided, however, that no indemnified party guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) shall be entitled to contribution with respect thereto from any indemnifying party not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. Relative fault shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission to state a material fact relates to information supplied by FPL or the Underwriters and each such party's relative intent, knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent such untrue statement or omission. FPL and each of the Underwriters each agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution pursuant to this Section 9(d) were to be determined by pro rata allocation or by any other method of allocation which does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to above. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 9(d), no Underwriter shall be required to contribute in excess of the amount equal to the excess of (i) the total price at which the Bonds underwritten by it were offered to the public, over (ii) the amount of any damages which such Underwriter has otherwise been required to pay by reason of any such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission. The obligations of each Underwriter to contribute pursuant to this Section 9(d) are several and not joint and shall be in the same proportion as such Underwriter's obligation to underwrite the Bonds is to the total principal amount of the Bonds set forth in Schedule II hereto.

10. Termination. This agreement may be terminated by the Representatives by delivering written notice thereof to FPL, at any time prior to the Closing Date, if after the date hereof and at or prior to the Closing Date:

(a) (i) there shall have occurred any general suspension of trading in securities on The New York Stock Exchange LLC (the "NYSE") or there shall have been established by the NYSE or by the Commission or by any federal or state agency or by the decision of any court any limitation on prices for such trading or any general restrictions on the distribution of securities, or trading in any securities of FPL shall have been suspended or limited by any exchange located in the United States or on the over-the-counter market located in the United States or a general banking moratorium declared by New York or federal authorities or (ii) there shall have occurred any material adverse change in the financial markets in the United States, any outbreak of hostilities, including, but not limited to, an escalation of hostilities which existed prior to the date hereof, any other national or international calamity or crisis or any material adverse change in financial, political or economic conditions affecting the United States, the effect of any such event specified in this clause (ii) being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Bonds as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds; or

(b) (i) there shall have been any downgrading or any notice of any intended or potential downgrading in the ratings accorded to the Bonds or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Bonds by either Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") or S&P Global Ratings, a division of S&P Global Inc. ("S&P"), or (ii) either Moody's or S&P shall have publicly announced that it has under surveillance or review, with possible negative implications, its ratings of the Bonds or any securities of FPL which are of the same class as the Bonds, the effect of any such event specified in (i) or (ii) above being such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering of the Bonds as contemplated in the Pricing Disclosure Package or for the Underwriters to enforce contracts for the sale of the Bonds.

This agreement may also be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date if in the judgment of the Representatives the subject matter of any amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement or the Prospectus or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus prepared and furnished by FPL after the date hereof reflects a material adverse change in the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole which renders it either inadvisable to proceed with such offering, if any, or inadvisable to proceed with the delivery of the Bonds to be purchased hereunder. Any termination of this agreement pursuant to this Section 10 shall be without liability of any party to any other party except as otherwise provided in Section 6(d) and Section 6(f) hereof.

11. Miscellaneous.

(a) The validity and interpretation of this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflicts of law principles thereunder. This agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, FPL, the several Underwriters and, with respect to the provisions of Section 9 hereof, each officer, director or controlling person referred to in said Section 9, and their respective successors. Nothing in this agreement is intended or shall be construed to give to any other person or entity any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this agreement or any provision herein contained. The term "successors" as used in this agreement shall not include any purchaser, as such purchaser, of any Bonds from any of the several Underwriters.

(b) FPL acknowledges and agrees that the Underwriters are acting solely in the capacity of arm's length contractual counterparties to FPL with respect to the offering of the Bonds as contemplated by this agreement and not as financial advisors or fiduciaries to FPL in connection herewith. Additionally, none of the Underwriters is advising FPL as to any legal, tax, investment, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction in connection with the offering of the Bonds as contemplated by this agreement. Any review by the Underwriters of FPL in connection with the offering of the Bonds contemplated by this agreement and the transactions contemplated by this agreement will not be performed on behalf of FPL.

12. Notices. All communications hereunder shall be in writing and, if to the Underwriters, shall be mailed or delivered to the Representatives at the address set forth in Schedule II hereto, or, if to FPL, shall be mailed or delivered to it at 700 Universe Boulevard, Juno Beach, Florida 33408, Attention: Treasurer.

13. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts by the parties hereto on separate counterparts, each of which, when so executed and delivered, shall be deemed an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. Electronic signatures complying with the New York Electronic Signatures and Records Act (N.Y. State Tech. §§ 301-309), as amended from time to time, or other applicable law will be deemed original signatures for purposes of this agreement. Transmission by telecopy, electronic mail or other transmission method of an executed counterpart of this agreement will constitute due and sufficient delivery of such counterpart.

14. Recognition of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes.

(a) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity (as defined below) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime (as defined below), the transfer from such Underwriter of this agreement, and any interest and obligation in or under this agreement, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement, and any such interest and obligation, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(b) In the event that any Underwriter that is a Covered Entity or a BHC Act Affiliate (as defined below) of such Underwriter becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights (as defined below) under this agreement that may be exercised against such Underwriter are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(c) For purpose of this Section 14, (A) the term "BHC Act Affiliate" has the meaning assigned to the term "affiliate" in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 U.S.C. § 1841(k); (B) the term "Covered Entity" means any of the following: (1) a "covered entity" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 252.82(b); (2) a "covered bank" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 47.3(b); or (3) a "covered FSI" as that term is defined in, and interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. § 382.2(b); (C) the term "Default Rights" has the meaning assigned to that term in, and shall be interpreted in accordance with, 12 C.F.R. §§ 252.81, 47.2 or 382.1, as applicable; and (D) the term "U.S. Special Resolution Regime" means each of (1) the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder and (2) Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

If the foregoing correctly sets forth our understanding, please indicate your acceptance on behalf of the Underwriters in the space provided below for that purpose, whereupon this letter and your acceptance on behalf of the Underwriters shall constitute a binding agreement between FPL and the Underwriters.

* It is expected that delivery of the Offered Bonds will be made against payment therefor on or about July 30, 2024, which will be the third business day following the date of pricing of the Offered Bonds. Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in one business day, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, by virtue of the fact that the Offered Bonds initially will settle in T+3, purchasers who wish to trade the Offered Bonds on the date of pricing of the Offered Bonds or on the next two succeeding business days should specify an extended settlement cycle at the time they enter into any such trade to prevent failed settlement and should consult their own advisors.

 A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and should be evaluated independently of any other rating. The rating is subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization.

The term "Treasury Rate" has the meaning ascribed to such term in the Issuer's Preliminary Prospectus Supplement, dated July 25, 2024, with respect to the Offered Bonds.

The Issuer has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents the Issuer has filed with the SEC for more complete information about the Issuer and this offering. You may get these documents for free by visiting EDGAR on the SEC Web site at www.sec.gov. Alternatively, the Issuer, any underwriter or any dealer participating in the offering will arrange to send you the prospectus if you request it by calling Cabrera Capital Markets

as the Underwriters named in Schedule II
to the Agreement, as herein described

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $350,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034 (the "Bonds"), issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, as the same is supplemented by one hundred and thirty-eight indentures supplemental thereto, the latest of which (the "One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture") is dated as of July 1, 2024 (such Mortgage as so supplemented being hereinafter called the "Mortgage") from FPL to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Bonds to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Mortgage; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Registration Statement and with respect to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Bonds.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

FPL is organized and existing as a corporation and its status is active under the laws of the State of Florida.

II.

FPL is a corporation duly authorized by its Charter to conduct the business which it is now conducting as set forth in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus; FPL is subject, as to retail rates and services, issuance of securities, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the FPSC; and FPL is subject, as to wholesale rates, accounting and certain other matters, to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

III.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

IV.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

V.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

VI.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

VII.

The Bonds are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Bonds. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

VIII.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

IX.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

X.

As to the Mortgaged and Pledged Property, as defined in the Mortgage, FPL has satisfactory title to any easements and personal properties, and good and marketable or insurable title in fee simple to any other real properties (except as FPL's interest is stated to be otherwise), subject only to Excepted Encumbrances, as defined in the Mortgage, to any lien, if any, existing or placed thereon at the time of acquisition thereof by FPL, to minor defects and encumbrances customarily found in the case of properties of like size and character and which, in our opinion, would not impair the use thereof by FPL (all of which title exceptions, encumbrances, liens and defects are hereinafter referred to as "Exceptions"), and to the lien of the Mortgage; the Mortgage constitutes a valid, direct, and first mortgage lien upon the Mortgaged and Pledged Property now owned by FPL, subject, however, to the Exceptions and as set forth in the last sentence of this paragraph; and the description of properties in the Mortgage is adequate to constitute the Mortgage a lien on Mortgaged and Pledged Property hereafter acquired by FPL, subject, however, to the Exceptions and except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought. The One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture is in proper form for recording in all places required; and upon such recording, the One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture will constitute adequate record notice to perfect the lien of the Mortgage as to all Mortgaged and Pledged Property acquired by FPL subsequent to the recording of the One Hundred Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture to the Mortgage and prior to the recording of the One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture.

XI.

Except as stated or referred to in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus, to our knowledge after due inquiry, there is no material pending legal proceeding to which FPL or any of its subsidiaries is a party or of which property of FPL or any of its subsidiaries is the subject which is reasonably likely to be determined adversely and, if determined adversely, might reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole and, to the best of our knowledge, no such proceeding is known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

XII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Mortgage Trustee under the Mortgage and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in Paragraph VIII hereof, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of Florida, New York, Georgia and Mississippi and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of New York law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, New York, New York. As to all matters of law affecting Mortgaged and Pledged Property located in the States of Georgia and Mississippi, we have relied, with your consent, upon opinions of even date herewith addressed to you and us by Trinity Real Estate Law Group LLP, Decatur, Georgia and Wise Carter Child & Caraway, P.A., Jackson, Mississippi and our opinion in Paragraph X as to such Mortgaged and Pledged Property is subject to the qualifications and limitations set forth in those opinions. As to all matters of Florida law, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP and Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP are hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to each of them.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

as the Underwriters named in Schedule II
to the Agreement, as herein described

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel to Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") (a) in connection with the authorization and issuance by FPL of $350,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034 (the "Bonds"), issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, as the same is supplemented by one hundred and thirty-eight indentures supplemental thereto, the latest of which (the "One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture") is dated as of July 1, 2024 (such Mortgage as so supplemented being hereinafter called the "Mortgage") from FPL to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee (the "Mortgage Trustee"), and (b) in connection with the sale of the Bonds to you in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

We have participated in the preparation of or reviewed (1) Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement"), which Registration Statement was filed jointly by FPL, NextEra Energy, Inc. and NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"); (2) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024, filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act ("Rule 424") (references herein to the "Preliminary Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by the preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to completion, dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (3) the pricing term sheet, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Pricing Term Sheet") filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 433 under the Securities Act; (4) the Base Prospectus dated March 22, 2024 forming a part of the Registration Statement, as supplemented by a prospectus supplement dated July 25, 2024 relating to the Bonds, both such prospectus and prospectus supplement filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424 (references herein to the "Prospectus" as of any given date shall refer to such prospectus, as supplemented by such prospectus supplement, and as further amended and supplemented to such date, including the Incorporated Documents); (5) the Mortgage; (6) the corporate proceedings of FPL with respect to the Registration Statement and with respect to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds; (7) FPL's Restated Articles of Incorporation (the "Charter") and Amended and Restated Bylaws as amended to the date hereof (the "Bylaws"); and (8) such other corporate records, certificates and other documents and such questions of law as we have considered necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this opinion. We have also reviewed the order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") authorizing, among other things, the issuance and sale of debt securities in 2024, including the Bonds.

Upon the basis of the foregoing, we advise you that:

I.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

III.

Except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no opinion, the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Incorporated Documents (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no opinion), at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder. The Registration Statement is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The consummation of the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and the fulfillment of the terms contained in the Agreement and the compliance by FPL with all the terms and provisions of the Mortgage will not result in a breach of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, the Charter or the Bylaws or any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust or other agreement or instrument the terms of which are known to us to which FPL is now a party, except where such breach or default would not have a material adverse effect on the business, properties or financial condition of FPL and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

V.

The Bonds are being issued and sold pursuant to the authority contained in an order of the FPSC, which authority is adequate to permit the issuance and sale of the Bonds. To the best of our knowledge, said authorization is still in full force and effect, and no further approval, authorization, consent or order of any public board or body (other than in connection or in compliance with the provisions of the blue sky laws of any jurisdiction, as to which we express no opinion, and other than those which have been already obtained) is legally required for the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

VI.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

VII.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VIII.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Mortgage Trustee under the Mortgage and will be delivered against payment of the purchase price as provided in the Agreement and that the signatures on all documents examined by us are genuine, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

Other than with respect to the opinions expressed in Paragraph VI, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its other legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives. On the basis of such review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that would lead us to believe (except as to the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference therein, as to which we express no belief, and except for those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility, as to which we express no belief) that (i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading, (ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or (iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

This opinion is limited to the laws of the States of New York and Florida and the federal laws of the United States insofar as they bear on matters covered hereby. As to all matters of Florida law, we have relied, with your consent, upon an opinion of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP. As to all matters of New York law, Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP is hereby authorized to rely upon this opinion as though it were rendered to Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP.

This opinion is rendered to you in connection with the above-described transaction. This opinion may not be relied upon by you for any other purpose, or relied upon or furnished to any other person, firm or corporation without our prior written permission. This opinion is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

$350,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $350,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034 (the "Bonds"), issued under FPL's Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee, which has been amended and supplemented in the past and which will be supplemented again by one or more supplemental indentures relating to the Bonds (as so amended and supplemented, the "Mortgage"), pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this opinion letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In connection with the foregoing, we have examined such documents and satisfied ourselves as to such other matters as we have deemed necessary in order to enable us to express the opinions set forth herein. We have assumed that the certificates representing the Bonds will conform to a specimen examined by us and that the Bonds will be duly authenticated, in accordance with the Mortgage, by the Trustee and will be delivered against payment of the respective purchase prices as provided in the Agreement, assumptions which we have not independently verified.

For purposes of the opinions expressed below, we have assumed without verification (i) the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals; (ii) the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted as certified or photostatic copies and the authenticity of the originals of such documents; (iii) the genuineness of signatures not witnessed by us; and (iv) the legal capacity of natural persons.

As to factual matters, we have relied upon representations and warranties included in the Agreement and upon certificates of officers of FPL being delivered to you today pursuant to Section 7(a) of the Agreement, and upon certificates of public officials, without independent investigation. Whenever the phrase "to the best of our knowledge" is used herein, it refers to the actual knowledge of the attorneys involved in this transaction, without independent investigation.

We do not purport to express an opinion on any laws other than the laws of the State of New York, the federal laws of the United States of America and, to the extent set forth herein, the laws of the State of Florida. As to all matters of Florida law, we have, with your consent, relied upon the opinion letter of even date herewith addressed to you by Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP, counsel for FPL. We express no opinion or belief as to the incorporation of FPL, titles to property, franchises or the lien of the Mortgage.

Based on the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

I.

The Mortgage has been duly authorized by FPL by all necessary corporate action, has been duly and validly executed and delivered by FPL, and is a valid and binding obligation of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with its terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought.

II.

The Bonds are valid and binding obligations of FPL enforceable against FPL in accordance with their terms, except as limited or affected by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws affecting mortgagees' and other creditors' rights and remedies generally and general principles of equity and to concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing and the discretion of the court before which any matter is brought, and are entitled to the benefit of the security afforded by the Mortgage.

III.

Registration Statement Nos. 333-278184, 333-278184-01 and 333-278184-02 (the "Registration Statement") is an "automatic shelf registration statement" (as defined in Rule 405) that was filed not more than three years prior to the date of the Agreement. The Registration Statement became, and is, at the date hereof, effective under the Securities Act, and to the best of our knowledge, no proceedings for a stop order with respect thereto are pending or threatened under Section 8 of the Securities Act.

IV.

The statements made in the Pricing Disclosure Package and the Prospectus under the headings "Description of Bonds" and "Certain Terms of the Offered Bonds," insofar as they purport to constitute summaries of the terms of the documents referred to therein, constitute accurate summaries of the terms of such documents in all material respects.

V.

The Mortgage is duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

VI.

The Agreement has been duly and validly authorized, executed and delivered by FPL.

This opinion letter is given to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This opinion letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to update or supplement it to reflect any fact or circumstance that hereafter comes to our attention, or any change in law that hereafter occurs.

Very truly yours,

Florida Power & Light Company

$350,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034

To the Addressees:

We have acted as counsel for you in connection with your several purchases from Florida Power & Light Company ("FPL") of $350,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 5.00% Series due August 1, 2034 (the "Bonds"), issued under FPL's Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of January 1, 1944, with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Trustee, which has been amended and supplemented in the past and which will be supplemented again by one or more supplemental indentures relating to the Bonds (as so amended and supplemented, the "Mortgage"), pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, dated July 25, 2024 (the "Agreement"), between you and FPL. Capitalized terms used in this letter but not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

In passing on the form of the Registration Statement and the form of the Prospectus, we necessarily assume the correctness and completeness of the statements made or included therein by FPL and take no responsibility therefor, except insofar as such statements relate to us and as set forth in paragraph IV in our opinion letter to you dated as of the date hereof. Other than with respect to the opinion expressed in said paragraph IV, we have not ourselves checked the accuracy or completeness of, or otherwise verified, the information furnished with respect to matters in the Registration Statement, the Preliminary Prospectus, the Prospectus and the Pricing Term Sheet. We have generally reviewed and discussed such information with certain officers and employees of FPL, certain of its legal counsel, its independent registered public accounting firm and your representatives.

On the basis of such consideration, review and discussion, but without independent check or verification except as stated, nothing has come to our attention that has caused us to believe that:

(i) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading;

(ii) the Pricing Disclosure Package, at the Applicable Time, included an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; or

(iii) the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement included, or at the date hereof includes, an untrue statement of a material fact or the Prospectus as of the date of the Agreement omitted, or at the date hereof omits, to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

Subject to and on the basis of the foregoing, we further advise you that:

(iv) the Registration Statement, at the Effective Date, and the Prospectus, as of the date of the Agreement, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder; and

(v) the Incorporated Documents, at the times they were filed with the Commission, complied as to form in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Exchange Act and the applicable instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

With respect to the foregoing paragraphs (i) - (v), we express no view or belief and make no statement with respect to (a) the financial statements and other financial or statistical data contained or incorporated by reference in the Registration Statement or the exhibits thereto, the Pricing Disclosure Package or the Prospectus and (b) those parts of the Registration Statement that constitute the Statements of Eligibility.

This letter is furnished to you solely for your use as the Underwriters in connection with the Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder, and it is not to be quoted, in whole or in part, or otherwise referred to, nor is it to be filed with any governmental agency or any other person, nor is it to be relied upon by any person other than you or for any other purpose without our express written consent. This letter is expressed as of the date hereof, and we do not assume any obligation to advise you of facts or circumstances that hereafter come to our attention, or of changes in law that hereafter occur, which could affect the views contained herein.

Very truly yours,
