ORDER APPROVING TARIFF

BY THE COMMISSION:

On May 16, 1984, ATT-C filed a tariff seeking approval of a new service known as the Reach Out Florida Optional Calling Plan. The basic feature of the plan allows a subscriber to make an unlimited number of interLATA long distance calls within the State of Florida during the Company's night and weekend fixed rate periods. Reach Out Florida also allows a 15% discount for calls made during the evening rate period over and above the 35% discount normally in effect for that calling period. A subscriber to the service pays an initial nonrecurring service order charge of $14.00.

On September 1, 1989, ATT-C filed a proposal requesting the waiver of the $14 initiation charge associated with its Reach Out Florida Optional Calling Plan. The waiving of this charge is in coordination with a nationwide Reach Out America promotional campaign scheduled to begin on October 1, 1989 and end on December 30, 1989.

The company claims that the proposed waiver is a response to market conditions for MTS service.

ATT-C claims that it was unable to provide the revenue impact because it has no way to determine how many customers will take advantage of the offer.

We believe that the competitive nature of the MTS market in Florida merits the allowance of this temporary waiver. Therefore, ATT-C's request to amend its tariff to temporarily waive the nonrecurring charge associated with its Reach Out Florida service is approved.

Based on the foregoing, it is ORDERED that ATT-C's request to amend its tariff to temporarily waive the nonrecurring charge associated with its Reach Out Florida Optional Calling Plan starting on October 1, 1989 and ending December 30, 1989 is approved. It is further ORDERED that this docket is closed.

By ORDER of the Florida Public Service Commission, this 10th day of October, 1989.
