ORDER APPROVING TARIFF FILING
TO INTRODUCE ADVANCED CALLING SERVICES

BY THE COMMISSION:

On June 21, 1994 Quincy Telephone Company (Quincy or the Company) filed a tariff to introduce into its General Subscriber Services Tariff a group of central office call management features under the name of Advanced Calling Services. This offering is similar to the Custom Calling Local Area Signalling (CCLASS)-type services offered by other local exchange companies in the state of Florida. This offering will provide Quincy customers with special custom calling features that are available to other Florida customers.

The Advanced Calling Services include 1) Call Return; 2) Repeat Dialing; 3) Priority Ringing; 4) Preferred Call Forwarding; 5) Call Rejection; 6) Special Call Acceptance; 7) Call Trace; 8) Calling Number Delivery Blocking; and 9) Anonymous Call Rejection.

The Company will price the new calling features using banded rates. Banded rate authority has been granted in the past to other local exchange companies that offer these same services and these rates fall in line with banded rates for custom calling features offered by other local exchange companies.

The Company will also waive the non-recurring charges for these services for sixty days. The service ordering charges will apply to the receipt and recording of information in connection with a customer's request for service. The Company will waive the charges in order to stimulate the sale of Advanced Calling Services. Waiver of nonrecurring charges have been authorized for other LECs for the same services.

Upon consideration, we find that Quincy Telephone Company's tariff to introduce into its General Subscriber Services Tariff a group of central office call management features under the name of Advanced Calling Services is appropriate because 1) the rates are comparable to those rates charged by other local exchange companies for similar services, and 2) this offering will provide Quincy customers with special custom calling features that are available to other Florida customers.

Based on the foregoing, it is ORDERED by the Florida Public Service Commission that Quincy Telephone Company's tariff filing to introduce into its General Subscriber Services Tariff a group of central office call management features under the name of Advanced Calling Services as described in the body of this order is approved. The effective date of the filing will be August 20, 1994. It is further ORDERED that if a protest is filed in accordance with the requirement set forth below in the Notice of Further Proceedings or Judicial Review, the tariff shall remain in effect with an increase in revenues held subject to refund pending resolution of the protest. It is further ORDERED that, if no protest is timely filed, this docket shall be closed.

By ORDER of the Florida Public Service Commission, this 23rd day of August, 1994.
