SUPPLEMENTAL RECOMMENDATION

On Wednesday, February 7, Chairman Wilson appeared before the Senate Committee on Economic, Professional, and Utility Regulation and presented an overview of the Commission's investigation of the generating capacity shortfall which occurred December 23-25, 1989. During the presentation, Senator Toni Jennings inquired about the performance of cogenerators during the cold weather crisis. A utility by utility summary of cogenerator performance during the December 23-25 period appears in the individual utility summaries which are appended to the staff's report. Having had more time to consider this information, staff would like to add the following observations and recommendation to our report on the December 23-25 cold weather capacity shortfall emergency.
