The copy of the PAA order sent by certified mail was returned by the PO marked "attempted - not known" and we documented this fact in CMS on 11/25. On 12/2 we got the return receipt card, apparently showing delivery of the certified mail. This was in error (as you suspected, Paula). The card was evidently separated from the envelope, and then not given to us until several days after we got the undelivered envelope containing the order copy.

Please be aware that the PAA order was NOT delivered to the company. We will make a note of this CMS.
