SUBTOTAL ADL SWITCHES
GRAND TOTAL
NOTES:
1) For ease of review, AT&T converts and tracks access lines at a derived DS0 level. AT&T's ADL product is a T1 nodal product with the last mile provisioned using special access. The total number of T1s for this product is _____. AT&T's Prime products are end-to-end T1 services. The total number of T1s for these products is _____.
2) The TCG network organization is unable to break out access lines by exchange/wire center per switch. The total access line counts by switch for TCG are included in a lump sum for each city where a TCG switch is housed (i.e. Jacksonville, Orlando, Miami/South Florida, Tampa). To the extent exchange/wire center information is included, that information was pulled from the NANPA website and CLEC Table-1.
3) The Grand Total reflected in CLEC Table-4 differs from the Grand Total in CLEC Table-1 (less by _____ DS0s). This difference can be attributed to several factors -- 1) the data used to populate CLEC Table-1 was pulled from the billing organization; the data used to populate CLEC Table-4 was pulled from the network/provisioning organization; and 2) A total of ____ access lines are served by switches outside Florida.
