Yes, it is OK to open a docket with an effective date of today. Their RAFs are paid up through 2003. Thanks and have a good weekend!

I have a letter from World Communications Satellite Services, Inc. requesting cancellation of Cert No. 7916 to provide IXC service. They indicate that they will pay any RAFs owed within 60 days of the cancellation of its certificate and that there are no open dockets for them. Should we open a docket to cancel the certificate?
