Mary, pls see Matilda's note below. We got this notice as an undocketed matter, but a docket number was assigned. It's 060554-TL. Could you talk with your attorney and have the notice redone so it does indicate that docket?

We'll issue once we get the corrected version.

Thanks.

Chris, Kimberly and Rick:

I apologize for the late hour at which I am providing the attached comments on behalf of the real estate industry in the above captioned docket. I had promised to share something with you prior to the hearing, so I guess technically I have not broken my word, but I had hoped to have this to you on Monday. The problem is that I have been on the road for the last week and a half and things never seem to go according to schedule.

Please let me know if filing with you is sufficient under your rules, or do I need to file this somewhere else with the Commission. I will be on a plane most of the day from San Antonio & Laredo, Texas to Tallahassee. Still, if there is an electronic means to file, I will do so this am.

Also, could you provide me guidance on how you plan to conduct the meeting tomorrow. I will be present and will be joined by at least two representatives of the Florida real estate community.

Thank you again for your patience and guidance.

All:

If Gerry wants to file these background papers in the docket, that's fine by me - but there is no requirement that they be filed in the docket or served.

I requested the materials that were referenced in the footnotes as general background material because they were cited as source material in Gerry's filed comments. This is a rule proceeding that is not in draw-out mode [i.e., it's not an adjudicatory proceeding] where the more stringent filing, serving, and ex parte rules apply.

Moreover, the two studies were each filed at the FCC about 5 years ago, as I recall, and are generally available. I assume, but do not know, that the other participants in this rule docket either have these studies or the resources to obtain them.

I also want to make it clear that Gerry was extending staff the courtesy of getting the source material to us quickly so that we can make our deadlines, and that I told him that he could just email them to me and that they did not need to be filed or served. In fact, he asked me about this because he wanted to make sure that he was complying with all of our requirements.

In retrospect, it would have been useful if had given everyone a heads up about this. I apologize for any confusion I may have introduced.

Patrick

Item 6

Handout for
Verizon/O'Roark
12/19/06 conference

EXHIBIT A

25-4.084 Carrier-of-Last-Resort; Multitenant Business and Residential Property.

(1) A local exchange telecommunications company (LEC) seeking to be relieved of its carrier-of-last-resort obligation under Section 364.025(6)(d) shall file a petition for relief from waiver of the carrier-of-last-resort obligation to a multitenant business or residential property pursuant to Section 364.025(6)(b)(d), Florida Statutes, shall be filed with the Division of the Commission Clerk and Administrative Services and shall be delivered-serve the petition by hand delivery or overnight mail on the same day upon the relevant owners or developers together with a copy of section 364.025(6) and this rule.

(2) A petition for relief from waiver of the carrier-of-last-resort obligation shall be limited to a single development.

(3) The petition must include the following:

(a) The name, address, telephone number, electronic mail address, and any facsimile number of the petitioner;

(b) The name, address, telephone number, electronic mail address, and any facsimile number of the attorney or qualified representative of the petitioner if any;

(c) The address or other specific description of the property for which the reliefwaiver is requested;

(d) The specific facts and circumstances that demonstrate "good cause" for the reliefwaiver as required by Section 364.025(6)(d);

(e) A statement that interested persons have 10 calendar days from the date the petition is filed with the Commission to file comments to the Commission, unless the tenth day falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, in which case the comments must be filed no later than the following working day in accordance with subsection (4); and

(f) A statement certifying that delivery service of the petition has been made on the relevant owners or developers in accordance with subsection (1).

(4) (a) Comments in opposition to a petition for relief from the carrier-of-last-resort obligation shall be filed within 10 calendar days from the date the petition is filed with the Commission, unless the tenth day falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, in which case the comments must be filed no later than the next working day.

(b) Comments in opposition to a petition for relief from the carrier-of-last-resort obligation must include the following:

1. The name, address, telephone number, electronic mail address, and any facsimile number of the responding party;

2. The name, address, telephone number, electronic mail address, and any facsimile number of the attorney or qualified representative of the responding party if any; and

3. A response to the specific facts and circumstances alleged in the petition.

(5) Among the factors to be considered by the Commission in determining whether good cause exists to relieve the LEC of the carrier-of-last-resort obligation are the following:

(a) Whether the owner or developer has entered into an agreement with another communications service provider, and how that agreement would affect the LEC's provision of service to the property;

(b) Whether the owner or developer has entered into an agreement with another provider of data service, video service or other substitute or similar service, and how that agreement would affect the LEC's provision of service to the property; and

(c) Whether the residents, tenants or occupants at the property have access to communications service from a source other than the LEC.

(6) A petition may include a request by the LEC for expedited consideration by the commission. The request shall be supported by circumstances that demonstrate the need for expedited consideration. If the request for expedited consideration is supported by such circumstances, the commission will grant or deny the petition within 30 days of the filing of the petition.

(7) The LEC requires specific information from an owner or developer regarding the facts and circumstances concerning a property to assess its obligation to serve that property under Section 364.025(6). The specific information shall be in the form of a notarized certification from an authorized representative of the owner or developer and shall include the information requested by the LEC, which may include the following:

- (a) the first date customers will require communications service at the property;
- (b) whether any of the conditions listed in Section 364.025(6)(b)1-4 exist at or with respect to the property;
- (c) information about the nature of any agreements the owner or developer has entered into or plans to enter into with another communications service provider or provider of data service, video service or other substitute or similar service, including the types of services covered by those agreements and the nature of the rights extended to and arrangements with the other provider under the agreements;
- (d) the name of the other provider with which the owner or developer has or plans to contract;
- (e) whether the other provider will be offering or arranging for another identified provider to offer communications services at the property and the type of those communications services; and
- (f) whether the owner or developer intends to exclude the LEC from providing communications service, data service, video service or other substitute or similar service at the property.
- (8) The information requested by the LEC shall not include confidential financial terms of the agreements the owner or developer has entered into or plans to enter into with another provider. The information referenced in subsection (7) is not information regarding confidential financial terms.

(9) A rebuttable presumption of good cause for relief from the LEC's carrier-of-last-resort obligation at a property under Section 364.025(6)(d) shall exist if:

(a) Opposing comments are not filed or opposing comments filed do not comply with subsection (4);

(b) The petition alleges facts demonstrating that the owner or developer has entered into or plans to enter into an agreement with an alternate provider and that the alternate provider will be offering or arranging for another provider to offer communications services at the property; or

(c) The LEC requests the information described in subsection (7) above, and the LEC does not receive the information from the owner or developer by notarized certification within 20 calendar days of the LEC's request, or within the time specified in subsection (10).

(10) Notwithstanding subsection (9)(c), if, within 20 calendar days of the LEC's request, the LEC receives from the owner or developer a notarized certification that the requested information is not yet available, and that states the first date that customers will require service at the property, then the owner or developer may provide the requested information by notarized certification to the LEC within a reasonable time after it becomes available to the owner or developer, provided that the certified information is received by the LEC no later than 240 days prior to the previously certified date that customers will first require service.

(11) The notarized certification referenced in subsections (7) and (10) shall be in substantially the following form:

The undersigned, an authorized representative of [insert name of owner or developer], provides and certifies the accuracy of the following information regarding the facts and circumstances concerning [insert name of property]:

[insert responses to LEC's requests for information]

[Signature of authorized representative of owner or developer, full printed name and title of individual signing]

Sworn to and subscribed before me this _____ day of _____, (year), by _____, who is personally known to me or who has produced (type of identification) _____ as _____ identification.

(Signature _____ of _____ Notary _____ Public)

(Print, Type, or Stamp Commissioned Name of Notary Public)

(12) If a rebuttable presumption of good cause for relief from the LEC's carrier-of-last-resort obligation exists under subsection (9), then, to secure the relief, the LEC shall file a petition for relief with the Commission under subsection (1), alleging facts supporting the application of subsection (9). The presumption may be rebutted only by facts alleged in opposing comments filed under subsection (4) that contradict the facts alleged in the petition supporting the application of subsection (9). If such contradictory facts are not presented, the presumption shall not be rebutted, and the Commission shall grant the petition.

(13) If the LEC is relieved of the LEC's carrier-of-last-resort obligation for a property, it shall also be relieved for that property of any obligations under Commission rules that flow from such obligation, including Rules 25-4.066 and 25-4.067.

(14) Terms used in this rule shall have the meanings set forth in Section 364.025(6).

Specific Authority 350.127(2) FS. Law Implemented 364.025.
