Proceed with cancellation with what you have. His e-mail and the fact he paid should suffice.

We've received the company's three 2007 RAF returns and payment, however, we have not received his letter requesting cancellation of the payphone certificate. Should I just go ahead and open a docket on the payphone via his e-mail of May 22nd or e-mail him one more time?

OK, here is the payphone Regulatory Assessment Fee return form. Please return the completed form with your letter requesting cancellation of the payphone certificate.

What have you decided about the extra $50 payment on the 2006 fee? I will leave that decision up to you. You either can just pay the additional $50 for 2007 (just add a line to your letter requesting cancellation to transfer the $50 overpayment from 2006 to 2007) or you can pay the full $100 and we can refund the extra $50 to Windstream. Your call. Just let me know. Thanks.

Dear Mr. Rowell:

The Commission has received your letters requesting cancellation of ALLTEL's IXC registration and CLEC certificate and the above dockets were established to handle the cancellations. Before I can recommend a voluntary cancellation, the company must comply with the cancellation rules. The IXC cancellation rule, 25-24.474(2)(a) and (b), Florida Administrative Code, provides that a company requesting cancellation must pay the current year's Regulatory Assessment Fee when it requests cancellation. The CLEC cancellation rule, 25-24.820(2)(a), (b), (c), and (d), F.A.C., provides that a company must either pay the current year's fee or provide a date certain the fee will be paid. I am attaching both cancellation rules and the 2007 Regulatory Assessment Fee return forms in case the company wishes to go ahead and pay the CLEC fee also. Just a note, the 2007 minimum fees have increased. The IXC minimum fee is $700, the CLEC is $600, and the payphone is $100.

And, speaking of payphone...ALLTEL also has a payphone certificate (TG104). I just wanted to confirm whether or not you wish to cancel that certificate since it was not mentioned in your correspondence. I noted in our Regulatory Assessment Fee records that the 2006 minimum $50 fee was paid not only by ALLTEL but also by Windstream. This means the payphone certificate has a $50 credit for 2006. If you wish to cancel the payphone certificate, we will need a letter from you requesting cancellation. In addition, the company will also either have to pay the current year's fee or provide a date certain it will be paid (Rule 25-24.514(2), F.A.C., copy attached). Since there is a $50 credit, the company could pay just the balance of $50. Or, if Windstream should get the $50 refunded, then ALLTEL would owe $100. If you wish to cancel the payphone certificate, I can attach the 2007 Regulatory Assessment Fee return form to another e-mail. Please let me know about the payphone certificate.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.
