VERIZON FLORIDA LLC'S RESPONSES TO SUBPOENA DUCES TECUM WITHOUT DEPOSITION

Verizon Florida LLC ("Verizon") hereby responds to the Subpoena Duces Tecum Without Deposition ("Subpoena") served on May 12, 2010 by the Florida Public Service Commission, and answers the questions in the Subpoena as follows:

1. How many UNE/Wholesale Local Platform (WLP) lines has Ganoco/American Dial Tone purchased from Verizon in the state of Florida from May 2009 through April 2010?

Response: Please see Confidential Attachment A.

2. How many Resale lines has Ganoco/American Dial Tone purchased from Verizon in the state of Florida each month from May 2009 through April 2010?

Response: Please see Confidential Attachment A.

3. Of the Resale lines Ganoco/American Dial tone purchased from Verizon (if any) from May 2009 through April 2010, how many of them were Resale Lifeline lines where Verizon credited Ganoco/American Dial Tone $10.00 per month? Please list by month.

Response: Please see Confidential Attachment A.

4. Does Verizon credit Ganoco/American Dial Tone for Link-Up service? If so, please list the amounts credited to Ganoco by month from May 2009 through April 2010.

Response: Verizon only would credit Ganoco/American Dial Tone ("Ganoco") for Link-Up service on resold access lines. Verizon did not credit Ganoco for Link-Up connection discounts during the period in question.

5. Does Verizon get reimbursed from USAC for providing Link-Up service to Ganoco/American Dial Tone? If so, how much?

Response: Verizon would be reimbursed by USAC when it credits Ganoco for Link-Up service on resold lines. The amount of the reimbursement would be half of the connection establishment charges up to $30. Verizon received no reimbursement for Ganoco credits (because there were none) for the period from May 2009 through April 2010.

6. Does Verizon provide toll-blocking to Ganoco/American Dial Tone for its lifeline customers? If so, at what cost?

Response: Verizon provides toll-blocking to Ganoco for its lifeline customers at no charge.

7. Does Verizon get reimbursed from USAC for providing TLS service to Ganoco/American Dial Tone? If so, how much?

Response: Verizon does not get reimbursed from USAC for providing TLS service to Ganoco.

8. Does Ganoco/American Dial Tone have a current agreement with Verizon which allows it to purchase UNE/WLP lines?

Response: Yes.

9. Please confirm Verizon's understanding of Ganoco/American Dial Tone's status, as either a facility based provider (UNE, UNE-P, WLP, or its own equipment) or strictly a reseller.

Response: REDACTED

10. Please provide a copy of the latest monthly Verizon invoice sent to Ganoco/American Dial Tone for Florida.

Response: Please see Confidential Attachment B.

11. Is Ganoco/American Dial Tone current regarding payments to Verizon-Florida? If not, please list the amounts owed to [Verizon] by month.

Response: REDACTED

Respectfully submitted on June 3, 2010.
