Docket 13223-EI-FPL Smart Meter docket

From: Rachel Garibay-Wynnberry

email: rachelgaribay@gmail.com

I would like to file a prehearing statement and explain why I did not attend the prehearing conference on Sept 5, 2014.

I received a late notice that I should appear in person in for the prehearing statement. I attempted to do it on your website, but the website was closed due to the holiday and it was too late to call the office.

Driving to Tallahassee, Florida is a hardship for me. I am 75 years old and didn't want to drive by myself. My husband has health problems. He could not drive.

It has taken some time and many phone calls to figure out how to send a docket, I was unable to navigate your website.

I would like to to be a party of this proceeding:

Thank You! Rachel

Hey: You need to do the following:

1. Substitute Leon Jacobs for Marilynne Martin as attorney of record for the FPL customers listed (Anker, Ansell, Austin, etc.). The FPL customers are the party to the case and Leon is now the attorney representing them. Leon is not a party nor is Ms. Martin.

Atty Jacobs advises that all notices, pleadings and other documents filed in this docket should be delivered to him and no longer served on atty Martin. Please confirm the following:

Subject: RE: FPL smart meter

Mr. Lohn,

Thank you for your correspondence to Governor Rick Scott regarding smart meters. The Governor's office asked the Florida Public Service Commission (FPSC) to respond and we appreciate the opportunity to assist you.

In 2013, Florida Power & Light Company (FPL) filed for approval of its Non-Standard Meter Rider (NSMR) tariff, an optional tariff applicable to customers who prefer a non-communicating meter. In reviewing FPL's proposed tariff, the FPSC recommended certain cost adjustments that decrease the charges for customers opting out of smart meter installation. FPSC staff estimated that the cost adjustments would reduce the customer enrollment fee from $105 to $95, and the monthly surcharge fee from $16 to $13. The charges represent the incremental capital and operations and maintenance (O&M) costs to FPL to develop and administer the NSMR tariff. The capital costs include the costs to establish meter reading routes, the costs to test the meter, a site visit, and the costs to administer customer enrollment. The O&M costs are the costs associated with the monthly meter reading and billing to the customer. FPL subsequently refiled its tariff incorporating these recommended adjustments and it will be going into effect. The tariff has since been protested by two customer groups and an evidentiary hearing will be held later this year, followed by a decision by the FPSC on the NSMR tariff.

Here is the link to the docket file which includes access to all documents, including the correspondence file, FPL's petition, the Order, and schedule of events:

<http://www.floridapsc.com/dockets/cms/docketDetails2.aspx?docket=130223>

Additional information on smart meters can be found at the Commission's website at:

<http://www.floridapsc.com/utilities/electricgas/smartmeter/>.

Thank you again for expressing your concerns.

Sincerely,

Subject: Please add FCAN to interested parties for docket 130223

PSC Clerk,

Please add Florida Consumer Action Network to the list of interested parties for docket 130223.

We are a non-profit consumer group with members throughout the state that would be affected by the outcome of this docket. We have participated on other dockets before the PSC.

Emails should go to billn@fcan.org. Please use the contact information below.

Thanks,

Bill Newton
