Subject: Florida Power & Light's (FPL) request for a $1.34 billion increase in base rates

We are on fixed income. Most of us are investing in emergency efficient appliances to reduce fuel consumption and protect the environment for our grandchildren. And Florida has giving incentive to assist residents in the cost of installing more energy efficient appliances and install solar. Why should we now penalize the seniors by confiscating these saving we have invested in to allow more profits to those who don't really need it. Should millions pay so a few can have a few more dollars profit?

I request you to do the right thing and refute Florida Power & Light's (FPL) request for a $1.34 billion increase in base rates.

Jim Hefton
