Hi Christopher,

Thank you for providing the anticipated date. Unfortunately this date falls outside of the time frame for us to be able to keep the order active based on the guidelines for CNR site readiness situations. In these scenarios our course of action is to cancel the order currently in our systems and ask that you follow up with your sales agent when the site is ready to accept the service. Please note that typically this does not extend the installation timeline, as the Local Carrier cannot begin their work until the site is ready.

We will be processing a cancel on the current order in 48 hours.

Thanks and Regards,

Sumaiyya Pathan
