

2021 Workers' Comp Rates by State

March 14, 2021

2021 Workers' compensation insurance rates will vary depending on a number of different factors, including your company's payroll, employee job classifications, and claims history. However, a major factor involved with calculating workers' comp rates is what state you operate your business in. Below, we've put together a list of average 2021 workers' compensation rates by state.

2021 Workers' Comp Rates by State

Here are the average workers' comp rates by state per every $100 in payroll:

State	Lowest Rate (Clerical)	Highest Rate (Labor)
Alabama	$0.15	$22.80
Alaska	$0.41	$15.85
Arizona	$0.20	$20.61
Arkansas	$0.13	$10.96
California	$0.40	$33.57
Colorado	$0.13	$13.53
Connecticut	$0.14	$16.75
Delaware	$0.22	$14.71
Florida	$0.26	$19.40
Georgia	$0.12	$38.83
Hawaii	$0.21	$10.54
Idaho	$0.28	$18.04
Illinois	$0.11	$37.24
Indiana	$0.11	$7.69
Iowa	$0.30	$16.45
Kansas	$0.11	$12.49
Kentucky	$0.10	$10.15

QUESTIONS?
Chat with a licensed expert
(not a robot)
CLICK TO CHAT

