Subject: Raising utility rates

Dear commissioner,

I am concerned that your group is considering raising electrical rates AGAIN to allow the utility companies money to improve THEIR grid. Any other company would be responsible for their own maintenance and improvements. The utility companies have ignored their grid for years. They have also refused to make even reasonable upgrades to their grids because they are too cheap to spend any money. Ask them how many delta transformers STILL exist on their grid? Are we stuck in 1975?

I believe improving the grid is a good thing, but I also believe utility companies should pay for it and not struggling Floridians.

Thank you,
Ben Keillor
