Re: Docket No. 20220149-SU
Transfer of Wastewater

Objection to application:

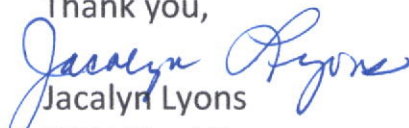

Central States Water Resources out of St. Louis, MO does not sound like a good fit for the area I live in. This transfer probably only affects 400 +/- customers, so I think you probably will not receive a lot of objections, but because there is a small number of customers, and we will now be dealing with an out-of-state company, the service will be limited. If we have an emergency with our sewer system who will respond, from where, and how long will it take. I already see complaints about this company which does not forebode well for us.

I do not understand why a local company, such as Sebring Utilities cannot take over this company. In our area we already have to wait for service on different issues to come from other areas of Florida.

In the notice it also was stated that there will not be a change to rates, etc., but I did see online that rate hikes have occurred to other customers in other areas of Florida.

Please give this considerable thought before allowing.

Thank you,
