OBJECTIVE

To utilize my creative, technical, and unique skills together with my experience and expertise with a firm that can appreciate and benefit from my distinctive 'Outta Box' ideas and thinking! I bring incredible speed to concept, market, deployment, and fast resolution and problem solving solutions. I enjoy creating new products and marketing programs that yield new and/or increased revenues that realize substantial and long-term success.

"I view problems as opportunities. My ability to envision solutions quickly, effectively and efficiently is rewarding for me but always more rewarding for those affected by my solutions!"

"I don't do what I do for the quest of money, but when I do what I do, substantial financial gains are easily realized!"

PERSONAL

I have been very successfully self-employed and/or consulting since the age of 17. I have recently sold my business and am looking for something FUN to do. I have above average talent, skill and a unique style!

I just relocated out of Orlando, FL! I have also been to two other countries consulting, have established and sold business utilizing my vast experience.

I've been involved in the electronics and telecommunications industries since the age of sixteen. For most of that time I have been self-employed or consulting. I have created, launched, and sold businesses in three countries to date.

I excel in finding unique and cost effective solutions for everyday situations. I have greatly enhanced existing competitive alternatives and have been able to bring new products and services to the market place by utilizing and combining various technologies and unique marketing concepts for unique and difficult technical challenges.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

I pioneered The TeleTRACK System in late 1989, the first full featured one number follow me service. TeleTRACK included call screening and substantial cost reduction features for the end user. In 1990 I was the first person to petition a state Public Service Commission to resell local phone service (dial tone). My tariff application was approved on the first filing attempt in 1991. For both of these accomplishments, I was featured in Rochester's Business to Business and two other national telecom trade magazines.

In 1990 I launched the first pay-per-call and pay-per-minute services in Rochester. I was the only local service provider of this type for over five years. During this period I innovated unique solutions and developed many new custom services, applications, and products.

I wrote my own software applications for these premium voice-processing services. In 1990 my company was the first premium service in the country to incorporate automated advertisement placement and offer a direct off-premise connection option. I integrated both MCI National 900 Service and local 976 services on the Rochester Telephone Network (Now Frontier). These features are only just now becoming widely available in this industry. As a result of these innovations I was put on the first cover of Business Strategies magazine in Rochester.

I am recognized as a customer service guru. In addition to creating the Network Control Center, paperwork, and procedures for RCI Long Distance (then a division of Rochester Telephone, now Global Crossing) in 1985, I reached new levels of customer satisfaction for my patrons using the services and products that I created in my business Call Processing Systems, Ltd. I was featured in several newspapers for my par excellence standards.

I sold my business in 1996 and moved to Canada to start a similar business. I sold that new venture in mid 1998. Since then I have been in London. I have done product inception, design, and sales engineering consulting for Cable & Wireless, and two other smaller telephone companies.

I did not enjoy living in London and have returned to America. I have followed the changes in the communications industry. I since have revamped, customized and evolved the products that I originally designed and have licensed my new concepts to two firms in the United States.

SKILLS:

My initial skills revolved around 'In field component level repair' of analog circuitry as well as in house repairs and technical upgrades. I have a very diverse technical and architectural knowledge of The Communications Industry. I require very detailed and efficient accounting, tracking and filing procedures therefore I establish these myself.

EXPERIENCE:

1977 CBS Electronics, Rochester. Age 15

Sold and installed automotive CB radios. Sales for other electronics including VHF/UHF antenna systems. (Pre cable/satellite days).

1978 Wilmac Corp., State Street, Rochester.

Performed on-site service with in-field component level repair of miniature dictation equipment for lawyers, doctors and other companies.

1981 The Telephone Store, West Ridge Road, Rochester.

Installed privately owned residential and business telephone systems. I attended Mitel School then installed, serviced, and programmed Mitel SX-100 and SX-200 communications switches.

1983 RCI Corp., (Now Global Crossing)

Trained at Digital Switch Corporation in Dallas, Texas and became certified on the DEX-400 and DEX-600 switches. I created color-coded flow charts of the switches hierarchy, which DSC and RTC later incorporated into their manuals. Served as the local RCI Switch Technician then became (NCC) Network Control Center designer and supervisor. I designed the reporting paperwork and procedures to monitor remote switches in other cities. I also traveled to other cities to configure switches and train technicians.

1984 The Sirious Group Inc., Security, & Communications

(Owner) I consulted with companies that resulted in unique communications and security solutions and yielded intensive costs savings to my customers. My unique system designs resulted in customers getting exactly what they needed instead of working around of the shelf products. I took great pride in accomplishing technical things other people said or thought were not possible.

1989-1998 Call Processing Systems, Ltd. Rochester

(Owner) I developed enhanced Voice Services including Live Wire, Confidential Connection, Talk Salad, Voice Mail, and TeleTRACK. I also created TeleCHOICE, a subsidiary of CPS that was the first service that the NYS PSC tariff'd as the Country's first Local Service Reseller. I was a frequent guest on several radio and TV programs including the Brother Wease morning show. Call Processing's services were so credible that my advertising was displayed on the outside back cover of the Rochester Telephone White Pages for three consecutive years. Prior to that, Rochester Telephone never allowed ads on the back cover.

Call Processing expanded into fourteen markets and worked with five local Bell Companies. Bell Atlantic engaged Call Processing to consult and design their enhanced customer services department.

In early 1996 I sold a partial interest in Call Processing Systems, Ltd. in thirteen markets excluding Rochester. In 1998 I sold the balance of CPS.

1999 The Pad and Call Processing Canada, Toronto

(Owner) I opened a nightclub called The Pad in downtown Toronto. Call Processing marketed Computer Telephony Voice Services. I sold the Nightclub and CPS the same year and moved to England.

2000 Call Processing UK, London

(Owner) Call Processing designed Computer Telephony Voice Services, marketing and advertising campaigns for several companies for two years.

2002 Rochester Technical Consulting, Inc. Communications Consulting

(Owner) Intensive broad spectrum Consulting services ranging from Invoice Auditing to System design and Integration. RTC discovers money DURING and AFTER other consulting/auditing are currently or have reviewed invoices, services, etc.

2004 Regional Telephone Corporation

(Owner) NY State CLEC covering every LATA in the state besides Fishers Island and offering Wholesale & Enterprise advanced service offerings.

2022 LiveWire Telecom, LLC

(CEO) Aspiring nationwide CLEC & IXC offering advanced telecom solutions and products.
