RE: Cancellation of Certificate- Callis Communications, Inc.

Dear Ms. Lynn:

I serve as Chief Financial Officer of Telapex, Inc., a corporation organized in Mississippi, and each of its subsidiaries. Telapex, Inc. is the ultimate parent of a number of subsidiaries, including Callis Communications, Inc. ("Callis"). Callis is certificated as a Competitive Local Exchange Carrier ("CLEC") in Florida, Company Code TX990. Callis has no customers or revenues.

Effective December 31, 2024 a transaction will occur in which Callis Communications, Inc. will be merged with and into Telepak Networks, Inc., with Telepak Networks, Inc. (Company Code TX606) being the surviving entity. Thus, there will be no change in control with respect to any Florida customers.

The purpose of this letter is to inform the Commission of the transaction and cancel/relinquish the certificate of CLEC authority with respect to Callis in Florida.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Should you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact Katie L. Wallace, Deputy General Counsel for Telapex, at 601.527.9140.

Sincerely,

Benjamin C. Pace
