Why does it seem like no one is for the consumer? First you have Duke that keeps getting approved for price hikes and adding on fees for storm upgrades. So, for people like myself, that watch their energy use closely can't catch a break. We went from a high of about $260 to almost $360 this last month!! We are about to be priced out of our home. Now you want to do away with property taxes!!?? Which will in turn cause county run services to lay people off if that gets approved. SMH...
