EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Introduction

The purpose of this filing is to obsolete BellSouth's Telephone Answering Service (TAS).

Description of TAS

TAS is an equipment configuration provided to telephone answering agencies/secretarial bureaus which provide telephone answering, monitoring, and/or dispatching services to clients (typically including doctors, service companies, and understaffed offices) when they are absent or don't choose to answer calls personally.

Customer Impact

There are currently 626 TAS customers in Florida. These services will continue to be available to existing customers for inward activity only. This service will not be available for new service/systems or moves of entire systems to a new location.

A8. TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE FACILITIES¹

A8.1 General Provisions (Obsoleted, See Section A108)

A8.1.1 Facilities and Equipment

- A. The Company will provide facilities, as outlined herein, for Telephone Answering Bureaus (secretarial firms) for their use in furnishing telephone answering service for subscribers with individual line, two-party line, measured rate dial mobile service, two-way dial service or a miscellaneous common-carrier or Centrex service when they are absent or do not desire to answer their calls personally. In addition, Centrex subscribers may subscribe to secretarial service facilities for the exclusive purpose of answering incoming calls to stations of the Centrex system.
- B. PBX (or similar system), business individual line and local private line terminations may also be provided where the subscriber contracts with a telephone answering bureau to receive all incoming calls or where the telephone answering bureau wishes to terminate administrative service for answering purposes only. Standard Tariff charges for these services are applicable.
- C. Long distance service and secretarial lines associated therewith may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for answering purposes and may not be terminated in telephone answering equipment for completing calls to and from administrative telephones or the attendant.
- D. Local exchange trunks may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for the purpose of completing local or long distance calls to and from administrative telephones furnished with and on the same premises as the telephone answering equipment.
- E. The telephone answering bureau may bridge calls from secretarial lines to the general exchange network over exchange central office lines furnished the bureau for its administrative use; however, these facilities furnished by the Company are not designed for such call bridging. The telephone answering bureau bridges calls at its own risk and the Company will not be liable for delays in transmission or other service difficulties arising out of or resulting from this type connection.
- F. A concentrator/identifier is available for connecting a telephone answering bureau with secretarial lines or individual business lines of its clients located in central office areas other than that in which the telephone answering bureau is located.
- G. Occasional Service may be provided to accommodate up to a maximum of 100 telephone answering bureau clients. Any one of the 100 clients can be remotely associated by means of a control channel with any one of a maximum of 10 lines extending from the Central Office to the telephone answering bureau but only 10 clients can be extended simultaneously. This equipment is designed to operate with the 557-type switchboard and the TA Telephone Answering Console.
- H. Provision for Bulk Facility Terminations for telephone answering service is found in Section A5.5 this Tariff.
- I. The equipment specified in A8.2.2C and D following is considered customer premises equipment under the FCC's decision in CLEI (Docket 20828) but has been assigned to the Company under the Modification of Final Judgement (MFD). Its provision will be subject to the following restrictions:
 1. This equipment will be provided by the Company for use with new or existing service only so long as such equipment is available from Company inventory.

Note 4: Text is shown as new due to reissue of all Tariff Sections. No changes in rates or regulations were made with this filing.

A8. TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE FACILITIES¹

A8.2 General Provisions (Cont'd) (Obsoleted, See Section A108)

A8.2.1 Facilities and Equipment (Cont'd)

L. (Cont'd)

~~1. The Company will continue to provide maintenance for Company provided customer premises equipment only until December 31, 1987, or such earlier date as may be necessary and appropriate to comply with applicable state or federal laws, rules, or regulations.~~

A8.2.2 Initial Service Periods

A. Concentrator-identifier equipment is provided for initial service periods of five years, with basic termination charges being applicable as indicated herein.

A8.2 Rates and Charges (Obsoleted, See Section A108)

A108. OBSOLETE SERVICE OFFERINGS – TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE FACILITIES

(Obsoleted 7/28/04, Type 4) Obsoleted service offering. Service rates and charges in this section are available for inward activity of existing subscribers only as specified following. Not available for new service system or entire moves of existing service to new locations.

A108.1 General Provisions

A108.1.1 Facilities and Equipment

- A. The Company will provide facilities, as outlined herein, for Telephone Answering Bureaus (secretarial firms) for their use in furnishing telephone answering service for subscribers with individual line, two-party line, measured rate dial mobile service, two-way dial service of a miscellaneous common carrier, or Centrex service when they are absent or do not desire to answer their calls personally. In addition, Centrex subscribers may subscribe to secretarial service facilities for the exclusive purpose of answering incoming calls to stations of the Centrex system.
- B. PBS (or similar system), business individual line and local private line terminations may also be provided where the subscriber contracts with a telephone answering bureau to receive all incoming calls or where the telephone answering bureau wishes to terminate administrative service for answering purposes only. Standard Tariff charges for these services are applicable.
- C. Foreign exchange service and secretarial lines associated therewith may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for answering purposes and may not be terminated in telephone answering equipment for competing calls to and from administrative telephones of the attendant.
- D. Local exchange trunks may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for the purpose of completing local or long distance calls to and from administrative telephones furnished with and on the same premises as the telephone answering equipment.
- E. The telephone answering bureau may bridge calls from secretarial lines to the general exchange network over exchange central office lines furnished the bureau for its administrative use; however, these facilities furnished by the Company are not designed for such call bridging. The telephone answering bureau bridges calls at its own risk and the Company will not be liable for defects in transmission or other service difficulties arising out of or resulting from this type connection.
- F. A concurrent identifier is available for connecting a telephone answering bureau with secretarial lines or individual business lines of its clients located in central office areas other than that in which the telephone answering bureau is located.
- G. Operational Service may be provided to accommodate up to a maximum of 100 telephone answering bureau clients. Any one of the 100 clients can be remotely associated by means of a control channel with any one of a maximum of 10 lines extending from the Central Office to the telephone answering bureau but only 10 clients can be extended simultaneously. A108. OBSOLETE SERVICE OFFERINGS – TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE FACILITIES (N)

(Obsoluted 7-28-04, Type 4) Obsoluted service offering. Service rates and charges in this section are available for inward activity of existing subscribers only as specified following. Not available for new service/system or entire moves of existing service to new locations. (N)

A108.1 General Provisions

A108.1.1 Facilities and Equipment

- A. The Company will provide facilities, as outlined herein, for Telephone Answering Bureaus (secretarial firms) for their use in furnishing telephone answering service for subscribers with individual line, two-party line, measured rate dial mobile service, two-way dial service of a miscellaneous common carrier, or Centrex service when they are absent or do not desire to answer their calls personally. In addition, Centrex subscribers may subscribe to secretarial service facilities for the exclusive purpose of answering incoming calls to stations of the Centrex system. (O)(T)
- B. PBX (or similar system), business individual line and local private line terminations may also be provided where the subscriber contracts with a telephone answering bureau to receive all incoming calls or where the telephone answering bureau wishes to terminate administrative service for answering purposes only. Standard Tariff charges for these services are applicable. (O)
- C. Foreign exchange service and secretarial lines associated therewith may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for answering purposes and may not be terminated in telephone answering equipment for completing calls to and from administrative telephones or the attendant. (O)
- D. Local exchange trunks may be terminated in telephone answering equipment for the purpose of completing local or long distance calls to and from administrative telephones furnished with and on the same premises as the telephone answering equipment. (O)
- E. The telephone answering bureau may bridge calls from secretarial lines to the general exchange network over exchange central office lines furnished the bureau for its administrative use; however, these facilities furnished by the Company are not designed for such call bridging. The telephone answering bureau bridges calls at its own risk and the Company will not be liable for defects in transmission or other service difficulties arising out of or resulting from this type connection. (O)
- F. A concentrator-identifier is available for connecting a telephone answering bureau with secretarial lines or individual business lines of its clients located in central office areas other than that in which the telephone answering bureau is located. (O)
- G. Occasional Service may be provided to accommodate up to a maximum of 100 telephone answering bureau clients. Any one of the 100 clients can be remotely associated by means of a control channel with any one of a maximum of 10 lines extending from the Central Office to the telephone answering bureau but only 10 clients can be extended simultaneously. This equipment is designed to operate with the 557 type switchboard and the 1A Telephone Answering Console. (O)
- H. Provision for Bulk Facility Terminations for telephone answering service is found in Section A5.5 this Tariff. (O)
- I. The equipment specified in A108.2.2.C. and A108.2.2.D. following is considered customer premises equipment under the FCC's decision in CI-II (Docket 20828) but has been assigned to the Company under the Modification of Final Judgement (MFJ). Its provision will be subject to the following restrictions: (O)(T)
 - 1. This equipment will be provided by the Company for use with new or existing service only so long as such equipment is available from Company inventory. (O)

A108. OBSOLETE SERVICE OFFERINGS – TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE FACILITIES (N)

A108.1 General Provisions (Cont'd) (O)(T)

A108.1.1 Facilities and Equipment (Cont'd) (O)(T)

- I. (Cont'd) (O)
- 2. The Company will continue to provide maintenance for Company provided customer premises equipment only until December 31, 1987, or such earlier date as may be necessary and appropriate to comply with applicable state or federal laws, rules, or regulations. (O)

A108.1.2 Initial Service Periods (O)(T)

- A. Concentrator-identifier equipment is provided for initial service periods of five years, with basic termination charges being applicable as indicated herein. (O)

A108.2 Rates and Charges (O)(T)

Telephone answering service facilities are billed at the rates and charges indicated herein to the telephone answering bureau with the exception of the facilities outlined in A108.2.3 and the Occasional Service client charges specified in A108.2.3, which are billed to the client of the telephone answering bureau. (O)(T)

A108.2.1 Central Office Lines and Stations for Administrative Use (O)(T)

- A. When associated with key equipment, consoles and switchboards not arranged for making connections to administrative stations rates and charges for Business Individual Lines apply. Station line rates and charges apply for those stations in excess of the number of central office lines. When a group of these lines is arranged for rotary, hunting or similar service, each line in the group will carry the rotary differential charge described in A3.4.2.B.3.a. of this Tariff. (O)
- B. When associated with switchboards arranged for making connections to administrative stations rates and charges for PBX trunks and stations apply. (O)
