FINAL ORDER

BY THE COMMISSION:

The Commission voted on September 18, 1990, that each investor-owned utility should file its most recent generation expansion plan and at least one standard offer contract based on avoiding units in their plans. The utilities must file their most recent ten-year generation expansion plan, a standard interconnection agreement and one or more standard offer contracts designed to avoid the construction of capacity identified in their plans. The plans should be filed by October 30, 1990, and should exclude all qualifying facilities not under contract to deliver firm capacity and energy to a utility as of October 1, 1990. As part of the filing, the utilities should submit adequate documentation to permit the Commission to evaluate the reliability analyses, economic criteria for unit selection, and strategic consideration affecting unit selection.

It is, therefore,

ORDERED by the Florida Public Service Commission that all utilities shall be in compliance with these rules by the effective date, and each utility shall file by October 30, 1990, its most recent ten-year generation expansion plan, a standard interconnection agreement, and one or more standard offer contract designed to avoid the construction of capacity identified in its plan.
