In Re: Purchased Gas Adjustment ) DOCKET NO. 950003-GU
(PGA) Clause. ) ORDER NO. PSC-95-0789-CFO-GU

ORDER ON CHESAPEAKE'S REQUEST FOR CONFIDENTIAL TREATMENT OF PORTIONS OF ITS MAY 1995 SCHEDULES AND INVOICES

On June 21, 1995, Chesapeake Utilities Corporation, Florida Division (Chesapeake), filed a request for specified confidential treatment of certain line items in its Schedules A-3, A-4, and its current month invoices from third party suppliers for natural gas purchases. Chesapeake asserts that this information for which confidential treatment is sought is treated by the utility and its affiliates as proprietary confidential business information and that it has not been disclosed to others. The confidential information is found in Document No. 05839-95.

Florida law presumes that documents submitted to governmental agencies shall be public records. The only exceptions to this presumption are the specific statutory exemptions provided in the law and exemptions granted by governmental agencies pursuant to the specific terms of a statutory provision. This presumption is based on the concept that government should operate in the "sunshine." It is the company's burden to demonstrate that the documents fall into one of the statutory examples set out in Section 366.093, Florida Statutes, or to demonstrate that the information is proprietary confidential information, the disclosure of which will cause the company or its ratepayers harm.

The Florida Legislature has determined that "[i]nformation concerning bids or other contractual data, the disclosure of which would impair the efforts of the public utility or its affiliates to contract for goods or services on favorable terms" is proprietary confidential business information. Section 366.093(3)(d), Florida Statutes. To establish that material is proprietary confidential business information under Section 366.093(3)(d), Florida Statutes, a utility must demonstrate (1) that the information is contractual data, and (2) that the disclosure of the data would impair the efforts of the utility to contract for goods or services on favorable terms. The Commission has previously recognized that this latter requirement does not necessitate the showing of actual impairment, or the more demanding standard of actual adverse results; instead, it must simply be shown that disclosure is "reasonably likely" to impair the company's contracting for goods or services on favorable terms.

FPSC-RECORDS/REPORTING

Florida Gas Transmission Company's (FGT) demand and commodity rates for transportation and sales service are set forth in FGT's tariff, which is on file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and which is a matter of public record. FGT's purchased gas adjustment, which varies monthly, can have a significant effect on the cost of gas which Chesapeake purchases from FGT. For purposes of this filing the Florida Division is required to show the quantities of gas purchased from FGT during the months of April through September 1994, together with the cost of such purchases. FGT's purchased gas adjustment is subject to FERC review and is a matter of public record. However, rates for purchases of gas supplies from persons other than FGT are currently based primarily on negotiations between Chesapeake and third-party suppliers. Since "open access" became effective in the FGT system on August 1, 1990, gas supplies became available to Chesapeake from suppliers other than FGT. Purchases are made by Chesapeake at varying prices, depending on the term during which purchases will be made, the quantities involved, and whether the purchase will be made on a firm or interruptible basis. The price at which gas is available to Chesapeake can vary from supplier to supplier.

Chesapeake argues that on Schedule A-3, lines 1-4 of columns "System Supply", "Total Purchased", "Commodity Cost", "Demand Cost", and "Total Cents Per Therm" contain information regarding the price or average price Chesapeake paid to suppliers for gas during the period. Knowledge of these prices could allow competing suppliers to control gas prices by adhering to a price above the weighted average when they might otherwise have been willing to sell at a lower price. Also, the information regarding the number of therms purchased for system supply and total therms purchased, as well as the commodity costs/pipeline, commodity costs/third party and demand costs for purchases by Chesapeake from its suppliers are algebraic functions of the price per therm paid to the suppliers in the "Total Cents Per Therm" column. Publication of these columns together or independently could allow other suppliers to derive the price Chesapeake paid its suppliers for gas. This would allow such suppliers to derive contractual information which, if made public, "would impair the efforts of [Chesapeake] to contract for goods or services on favorable terms." Section 366.093(3)(d), Florida Statutes.

In addition, Chesapeake contends that for Schedule A-3, the information in lines 1-4 for the column "Purchased From," shows the identity of Chesapeake's suppliers and is contractual and proprietary business information which, if made public, would impair Chesapeake's efforts to contract for goods or services on favorable terms. Chesapeake argues that knowledge of the name of Chesapeake's suppliers would give competing suppliers information with which, together with price and quantity information discussed in the preceding paragraph, to potentially or actually control the pricing of gas, thus impairing the competitive interests and/or ability of Chesapeake and its current suppliers.

Chesapeake requests confidential treatment for information on Schedule A-4 for lines 1-14 of column "Producer/Supplier." Chesapeake argues that the identity of Chesapeake's suppliers is contractual and proprietary business information which, if made public, would impair Chesapeake's efforts to contract for goods or services on favorable terms. Chesapeake argues that knowledge of the name of Chesapeake's suppliers would give competing suppliers information with which, together with price and quantity information discussed in the preceding paragraph, to potentially or actually control the pricing of gas, thus impairing the competitive interests and/or ability of Chesapeake and its current suppliers.

Chesapeake also requests confidential treatment for information on Schedule A-4 for lines 1-14 of columns "Gross Amount", "Net Amount", "Monthly Gross", "Monthly Net", "Wellhead Price" and "City Gate Price." Chesapeake argues the information regarding the number of MMBtu's per day and per month purchased by Chesapeake as well as the wellhead and city gate price per MMBtu paid by Chesapeake to its suppliers is contractual information which, if made public, "would impair the efforts of [Chesapeake] to contract for goods or services on favorable terms." Section 366.093(3)(d), Florida Statutes. Knowledge of the prices Chesapeake paid to its suppliers during this period would give other competing suppliers information with which to potentially or actually control the pricing of gas either by all quoting a particular price or by adhering to a price offered by a current supplier. The end result is reasonably likely to be increased gas prices, and, therefore, an increased cost of gas which Chesapeake must recover from its ratepayers.

Chesapeake also requests confidential treatment of the information found in Items 1, 2, and 23 on Page 22, Items 24, 25, and 27-30 on Page 23, Items 1, 2, and 13 on Page 24, Items 1-3, 16 and 17 on Page 25, and Items 1-3 and 15-17 on Page 26. Chesapeake asserts that the information in these lines is contractual and proprietary business information which, if made public, "would impair the efforts of [the Florida Division] to contract for goods or services on favorable terms." Section 366.093 (3)(d), Florida Statutes. Chesapeake argues that these items contain the names of its suppliers, the disclosure of which would give other competing suppliers enough information to potentially or actually control the pricing of gas. The effect of this would be that the Florida Division's ability to contract for gas with its current suppliers on favorable terms would be impaired.

In addition, Chesapeake requests confidential treatment of the information found in Items 3-22 on Page 22, Item 26 on Page 23, Items 3-12 on Page 24, Items 4-15 on Page 25, and Items 4-14 on Page 26. Chesapeake argues that these items on the current month's Invoices show the FGT assigned points of delivery, actual quantity of gas purchased, and the price per unit of gas purchased. Knowledge of this information, Chesapeake maintains, would give competing suppliers the information with which to potentially or actually control the pricing of gas by either all quoting a particular price, or by adhering to a price offered by Chesapeake's current suppliers, thus impairing the competitive interests or ability of Chesapeake and its suppliers. Chesapeake asserts that the end result is reasonably likely to be increased gas prices and, therefore, an increased cost of gas which Chesapeake would have to recover from its ratepayers.

Chesapeake requests that this information not be declassified until December 20, 1996, as allowed by Section 366.093(4), Florida Statutes. Section 366.093(4), Florida Statutes, states that any Commission finding that records contain proprietary confidential business information will remain effective for a period set by the Commission not to exceed 18 months, unless the Commission finds, for good cause, that protection from disclosure shall be made for a specified longer period. The time period requested is necessary, Chesapeake contends, to allow it to negotiate future gas purchase contracts without its suppliers, competitors, or other customers having access to information which could adversely affect the ability of the Florida Division of Chesapeake to negotiate such future contracts on favorable terms. It is noted that this time period of confidential classification will ultimately protect Chesapeake and its ratepayers.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is therefore

ORDERED by Commissioner J. Terry Deason, as Prehearing Officer, that the request for confidential treatment of the proprietary confidential business information discussed above, as found in Document No. 05839-95, shall be granted as discussed in the body of this Order. It is further ORDERED that the request of Chesapeake Utilities Corporation, Florida Division, for the declassification date of December 20, 1996, is granted. It is further

This notice should not be construed to mean all requests for an administrative hearing or judicial review will be granted or result in the relief sought.

Any party adversely affected by this order, which is preliminary, procedural or intermediate in nature, may request: (1) reconsideration within 10 days pursuant to Rule 25-22.038(2), Florida Administrative Code, if issued by a Prehearing Officer; (2) reconsideration within 15 days pursuant to Rule 25-22.060, Florida Administrative Code, if issued by the Commission; or (3) judicial review by the Florida Supreme Court, in the case of an electric, gas or telephone utility, or the First District Court of Appeal, in the case of a water or wastewater utility. A motion for reconsideration shall be filed with the Director, Division of Records and Reporting, in the form prescribed by Rule 25-22.060, Florida Administrative Code. Judicial review of a preliminary, procedural or intermediate ruling or order is available if review of the final action will not provide an adequate remedy.
