DOCKET NO. 130001-EI
ORDER NO. PSC-13-0281-CFO-EI
ISSUED: June 17, 2013

ORDER GRANTING PROGRESS ENERGY FLORIDA, INC.'S REQUEST FOR CONFIDENTIAL CLASSIFICATION
(DOCUMENT NOS. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13)

On April 15, 17, and 23, 2013 pursuant to Section 366.093, Florida Statutes (F.S.), and Rule 25-22.006, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), Progress Energy Florida, Inc. (PEF) requested confidential classification (Request) to portions of its FPSC Form 423 Fuel Report for the reporting months of January, February, and March, 2013 (423 Reports) (Document Nos. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13, respectively). This request was filed in Docket No. 130001-EI.

Section 366.093(1), F.S., provides that “any records received by the commission which are shown and found by the commission to be proprietary confidential business information shall be kept confidential and shall be exempt from Section 119.07(1) [the Public Records Act].” Section 366.093(3), F.S., defines proprietary confidential business information as information that is intended to be and is treated by the company as private, in that disclosure of the information would cause harm to the company’s ratepayers or business operations, and has not been voluntarily disclosed to the public. Paragraph (3)(d) of Section 366.093 F.S., provides that proprietary confidential business information includes, but is not limited to “[i]nformation concerning bids or other contractual data, the disclosure of which would impair the efforts of the public utility or its affiliates to contract for goods or services on favorable terms.”

PEF contends that designated portions of the information contained in the 423 Reports, as more specifically described in the Justification Matrix in Attachment A to each Request, fall within these categories and, thus, constitute proprietary confidential business information entitled to protection under Section 366.093, F.S., and Rule 25-22.006, F.A.C. PEF states that Attachment A to the Requests provides support for confidential classification of the highlighted information in each section of the 423 Report (Forms 423-1A, 2, 2A, 2B, and 2C) on a line-by-line, column-by-column basis. PEF states that this information is intended to be and is treated by PEF as private and has not been publicly disclosed.

Time Period For Confidential Classification

PEF requests confidential classification for this information for a period exceeding 18 months. According to Section 366.093(4), F.S., confidential classification may only extend for 18 months from the issuance of an Order granting confidential classification unless “the Commission finds, for good cause, that the protection from disclosure shall be for a specified longer period.” PEF requests that the information be treated as confidential for a period of twenty-four months.

In support of its request for extended confidential treatment, PEF asserts that the information in documents numbered 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13, is comprised of the fuel and transportation contracts from which the costs in the 423 Report are derived and which contain annual price adjustment provisions. PEF asserts that if existing or potential fuel and transportation suppliers were to obtain confidential contract pricing information for a prior reporting month within the currently effective 12-month adjustment period, current pricing information would be disclosed. In addition, PEF states that if contractual pricing information for a reporting month in the previous 12-month adjustment period were to be obtained, the information would be only one adjustment removed from the current price. PEF states that suppliers knowledgeable in the recent escalation experience of their market could readily calculate a reasonably precise estimate of the current price.

To guard against providing suppliers with such a competitive advantage, PEF states, confidential information must be protected from disclosure for the initial 12-month period in which it could remain current, and for the following 12-month period in which it can be readily converted into essentially current information. As an example, PEF explains, if information for the first month under an adjusted contract price is reported in May of Year 1, the information will remain current through April of Year 2 and that thereafter, the initial May, Year 1 information will be only one escalation adjustment removed from the current information reported each month through April, Year 3. If confidential classification of the May, Year 1 information were to expire after 18 months, PEF contends, suppliers would be able to accurately estimate current prices in October, Year 2 using information that had been current only six months earlier.

PEF further states that an 18-month confidentiality period would effectively waste the protection given in the first six months of the second 12-month pricing period (months 13 through 18) by disclosing information of the same vintage in the last six months of the pricing period. PEF states that the information disclosed in months 19 through 24 would be equally as detrimental in terms of revealing the current price as the information protected from disclosure during the preceding six months. To make the protection provided in months 13 through 18 meaningful, PEF argues, it must be extended through month 24. PEF further argues that extending the confidentiality period by six months would mean that the information will be one additional price adjustment further removed from the current price at the time of disclosure.

Ruling

Upon review, it appears the above-referenced information satisfies the criteria set forth in Section 366.093(3), F.S., for classification as proprietary confidential business information. The information constitutes “[i]nformation concerning bids or other contractual data, the disclosure of which would impair the efforts of the public utility or its affiliates to contract for goods or services on favorable terms.” Thus, the information identified in Document Nos. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13 shall be granted confidential classification.

Section 366.093(4), F.S., provides that any finding by the Commission that records contain proprietary confidential business information shall be effective for a period not to exceed eighteen months, absent good cause shown. PEF has shown good cause to extend the period of confidentiality to twenty-four months. Accordingly, the information identified in Document Nos. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13 shall be granted confidential classification for a period of twenty-four months from the issuance of this Order. At the conclusion of the 24-month period, the confidential information will no longer be exempt from Section 119.07(1), F.S., unless PEF or another affected person shows, and the Commission finds, that the records continue to contain proprietary confidential business information.

Based on the foregoing, it is ORDERED by Commissioner Eduardo E Balbis, as Prehearing Officer, that Progress Energy Florida Inc.'s Request for Confidential Classification of Document Nos. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13 is granted. It is further ORDERED that the information in Document Nos. 02028-13, 02040-13, and 02145-13, for which confidential classification has been granted, shall remain protected from disclosure for a period of twenty-four months from the date of issuance of this Order. It is further ORDERED that this Order shall be the only notification by the Commission to the parties of the date of declassification of the materials discussed herein.

By ORDER of Commissioner Eduardo E. Balbis, as Prehearing Officer, this 17th day of June, 2013.
