BELLSOUTH TELECOMMUNICATIONS, INC.'S
REQUEST FOR CONFIDENTIAL CLASSIFICATION
AND MOTION FOR PERMANENT PROTECTIVE ORDER

COMES NOW BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc. ("BellSouth"), pursuant to Rule 25-22.006, Florida Administrative Division Code, and files its Request for Confidential Classification and Motion for Permanent Protective Order for the documents filed by AT&T on August 12, 1996 in the above-captioned docket (Tabs 346-435).

1. BellSouth is filing its Request for Confidential Classification for these documents because it deems the information requested to be confidential and proprietary business information in that it reflects, among other things, cost information, strategic information, and vendor specific information.

2. BellSouth has appended to this Request for Confidential Classification as Attachment A a listing showing the location in the response of the information designated by BellSouth as confidential.

3. Appended hereto in an envelope designated as Attachment B is one copy of the response with the confidential information deleted.

DOCUMENT NUMBER-DATE

FPSC-RECORDS/REPORTING

4. Attached as Attachment C is a sealed envelope containing one copy of the response with the material which is confidential and proprietary. Copies of Attachment C are not being served on the other parties in this proceeding.

5. These documents are entitled to proprietary confidential classification for four reasons. First, the documents contain actual unit cost information for discrete cost elements. Public disclosure of this information would provide BellSouth's competitors with an advantage in that they would know the price or rate below which BellSouth could not provide the service. The data is valuable to competitors and potential competitors in formulating strategic plans for entry, pricing, marketing, and overall business strategies concerning access services. This same information on competitors is not available to BellSouth. This information is valuable and is used by BellSouth in conducting its business. Section 364.183(e), Florida Statutes, expressly considers as proprietary confidential business information any information relating to competitive business of the provider. The information contained in Tabs 346-445, as more specifically described above, meets the statutory criteria, and should therefore be afforded confidential classification.

6. Second, the documents contain vendor-specific contractual and other information. This information is entitled to confidential classification pursuant to Section 364.183(3) and (3)(d), Florida Statutes. Public disclosure of this information would impair the Company's ability to contract for similar goods and services in the future on favorable terms. BellSouth often has opportunities to negotiate bulk discounts or other favorable pricing with its vendors. These vendors require that the terms of these contractual arrangements be kept confidential in order to avoid undue pressure from other customers to reduce prices or to give them similar terms and conditions in their contacts. Through public disclosure of such contractual information, these vendors providing crucial products and services to BellSouth could likely react by increasing BellSouth's prices or adversely changing favorable terms and conditions rather than lowering all other potential customers' prices for similar services or products or providing similar contractual arrangements enjoyed by BellSouth. Also, if vendor-specific information were subject to public disclosure, these vendors may withhold valuable information regarding proprietary product or service capabilities which must be available for proper evaluation by BellSouth to fully analyze proposals from vendors in future negotiations. Moreover, if other vendors had access to the prices BellSouth is currently paying for its services, such vendors would be in an unfair bargaining position relative to BellSouth in future contract negotiations. Any of these results would cause harm to BellSouth in its operations and could tend to increase the Company's cost of doing business which, in turn, would be harmful to BellSouth's ratepayers. Thus, Section 364.183(3)(d), Florida Statutes provides that this information is proprietary to Section 364.183(3)(e), Florida Statutes. The information includes BAPCO's scheduled direction publication dates per community, as well as practices and procedures. This information is extremely sensitive and valuable competitive information. BAPCO does not have access to such proprietary information possessed by its competitors. Public disclosure of BAPCO's information would place BAPCO's competitors in an unfair competitive position.

9. BellSouth has treated and intends to continue to treat the material for which confidential classification is sought as private, and this information has not been generally disclosed.

WHEREFORE, based on the foregoing, BellSouth moves the Commission to enter an order declaring the information described above and contained in the indicated portions of AT&T's documents (Tabs 346-435) to be confidential proprietary business information, and thus not subject to public disclosure.

Respectfully submitted this 10th day of September, 1996.

Explanation of Proprietary Information

A. This information contains actual unit cost information for discrete cost elements for the item under study. These costs reflect BellSouth's long run incremental cost of providing these elements on a going forward basis. Public Disclosure of this information would provide BellSouth's competitors with an advantage in that they would know the price or rate below which BellSouth could not provide the service. The data is valuable to competitors and potential competitors in formulating strategic plans for entry, pricing, marketing, and overall business strategies concerning access services. This same information on competitors is not available to BellSouth. This information is valuable, it is used by BellSouth in conducting its business and BellSouth strives to keep it secret. Therefore, such information is a trade secret which should be classified as proprietary, confidential business information pursuant to Section 364.183, Florida Statutes and is exempt from the Open Records Act.

B. This information reflects vendor specific prices negotiated by BellSouth. Public disclosure of this information would impair BellSouth's ability to contract for goods and services on favorable terms. This information is valuable, it is used by BellSouth in conducting its business and BellSouth strives to keep it secret. Therefore, such information is a trade secret which should be classified as proprietary, confidential business information pursuant to Section 364.183, Florida Statutes and is exempt from the Open Records Act.

C. The data provided in this response contains competitive information regarding Interstate and Intrastate pricing positions and negotiation discussions between parties. This information is valuable, it is used by BellSouth in conducting its business and BellSouth strives to keep it secret. Therefore, such information is a trade secret which should be classified as proprietary, confidential business information pursuant to Section 364.183, Florida Statutes and is exempt from the Open Records Act.

AT&T'S PETITION FOR ARBITRATION

D. Regarding Tab No. 385 and Tab No. 422, BellSouth understands that these documents were provided to AT&T by BAPCO under a signed nondisclosure agreement. To the extent that these documents are another company's documents (and not in the possession of BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc.) and were declared to be proprietary, BellSouth deems that the entirety of the material contained in these Tabs should be declared proprietary. Therefore, such information is a trade secret which should be classified as proprietary, confidential business information pursuant to Section 364.183, Florida Statutes and is exempt from the Open Records Act.
