I. Purpose

In accordance with the Florida Public Service Commission's Rule 25-22.0407 regarding Notice of and Public Information on General Rate Increase Requests, a synopsis of the rate request must be prepared and distributed by Indiantown Company, Inc., in Martin County. The following information will provide the background on the rate request and the rate case process in general.

II. Comparison of the Present and Proposed Final Rates

On December 27, 1999, Indiantown Company, Inc. filed an application with the Florida Public Service Commission ("Commission") for increased water and wastewater rates for its customers in Martin County. The application as assigned Docket No. 990939-WS and March 7, 2000, was established as the official date of filing.

The utility has requested a permanent water revenue increase of $188,272 and a permanent wastewater revenue increase of $463,360. The requested increases would produce annual revenues of $1,720,481 for its operations. A schedule of the utility's present rates and the proposed permanent rates which would produce these revenues follows:

III. Comparison of the Present and Proposed Interim Rates

In addition to requesting an increase in its permanent final rates, Indiantown Company, Inc. has requested that the Commission approve interim rates, using the same test period as used for the permanent rate application. If approved, the interim rates are subject to being refunded, if the Commission finds that the Company was not entitled to collect such rates pending the final Commission decision. The company has requested approval to increase annual revenue on an interim basis in the water system in the amount of $75,076 and in the wastewater system in the amount of $190,679. If granted, such increases would be generated by the following rates:

IV. General Reasons for Rate Request

Indiantown Company, Inc. requires a rate increase because the existing rates are insufficient to provide any return on the utility's investment in property used and useful in the public service. The last general rate increase of Indiantown Company, Inc. was effective April 27, 1983, in Docket N. 810037-WS. Since then the company has filed one pass through increase and has periodically sought and obtained increases through the Commission's price indexing procedure.

The Company believes that miscellaneous service charges are adequate, and no change is requested for such charges.

The rate of return on equity requested in this proceeding is 9.01%. The overall return requested (the weighted cost of debt, equity and tax credits) is 8.22%.

V. Major Rate Case Issues

It is impossible to anticipate all the issues that may develop during a rate case; however, the following issues are anticipated to be the major areas considered:

1. Is the Commission-approved test year appropriate for the purpose of setting rates?
2. What is the test year rate base and how much of the company's property is used and useful in serving the public?
3. What is the test year net operating income?
4. What is the test year cost of capital?
5. What is the test year revenue requirement?
6. What is the proper rate design to recover the test year revenue requirement approved for the utility by the Commission and what rates will recover the revenue authorized to be collected?

NOTE 2: The Company plans to eliminate a separate fire protection charge for Public Authorities.

VI. Description of the Ratemaking Process

Participants

Many people are involved in a utility rate case. The following is a list of some of the main participants:

1. The Florida Public Service Commission is composed of five Commissioners appointed by the Governor. All five will sit on this rate case. The Commissioners will make final decisions on all of the issues in the case.
2. The Commissioners are assisted by a Commission Staff, including attorneys, engineers, accountants, consumer affairs specialists and rate and financial analysts.
3. The Public Counsel is appointed by the Legislature to represent the citizens in rate cases before the Commission. Public Counsel also has a staff of attorneys, accountants, rate and financial analysts. The Public Counsel may monitor the case or may actually participate.
4. The Utility Company's officers and staff personnel may testify about the utility, its operation, revenue and expenses. The company may also employ outside consultants as expert witnesses and an attorney or other specialists to assist them with the rate case. The accountants, rate analysts and engineers compile information in support of the rate increase request and testify at hearings.
5. Intervenors representing organizations, local governments, consumer groups, and commercial organizations may participate. An intervenor is a party who legally intervenes in the rate case through petition to the Commission to represent a specific interest or point of view in the rate case. The intervenor has equal opportunity with other parties in the case to ask questions, present testimony, and cross examine witnesses. Individual customers will not usually be granted intervenor status.

Rate Case Requirements

The case actually begins when the utility writes a letter to the Public Service Commission asking for approval of a "test year," which is the 12-month period for which utility operating data will be examined for a rate case. The data may be compared to results of previous years and adjusted for known changes after the test period.

The letter signals that the utility is about to ask for a rate increase. The rate case process takes approximately five to twelve months to complete.

After the utility's "test year" is approved by the Chairman of the Commission, the utility files its request for a rate increase, and it files minimum filing requirements (MFRs), which include information on the utility's expenses, investments and operations during the test year. The utility will also be requested to file additional information before the case is over.

The data provides information about the operations of the company, supplies and expenses, taxes, construction, depreciation and all of the operating and financial matters that are crucial to a decision. Among the things the Commission looks for are expenditures that could be considered unnecessary or improper. Expenditures of this kind are disallowed for ratemaking purposes.

PAA Procedures

Indiantown Company, Inc. has asked that its application be processed using the Commission's Proposed Agency Action (PAA) procedure.

Under this procedure, the Commission staff holds a customer meeting in the utility's service territory to obtain information from the customers on the utility's service and other issues regarding the requested rate increase. After the Commission auditors have completed their audit and the Commission staff has reviewed the information filed by the utility and presented at the customer meeting, the staff makes a recommendation to the Commission as to the amount of rate increase that the utility should be granted. This recommendation is presented to the Commission at a public agenda conference in Tallahassee at which the commissioners consider the staff recommendation and vote on each issue identified by the staff.

The Commission attorneys then prepare a formal order containing the Commission's proposed action, including the new rates and when they will be effective. Substantially affected persons have 21 days after this written order is issued to decide whether to accept the Commission's decision or to request a formal hearing.

If no party protests the order, the commission's decision becomes final, the new rates go into effect and the docket is closed. If the order is properly protested, however, there will be a hearing before any increase can be approved.

Hearings

If any substantially affected party objects to the Commission's proposed rate increase and requests a formal hearing, then the Commission schedules public hearings on the rate request. These hearings are governed by rules similar to those used by courts. Witnesses are sworn and subject to cross-examination, and the final decision must be based upon information presented to the Commission during the hearings.

The Commission schedules service hearings to obtain information from customers regarding their water service and technical hearings to conduct a detailed evaluation of all technical, legal and financial issues in the case. These hearings are scheduled in the local service area for the customers' convenience. At this time, customer testimony is given regarding quality of service. The customers also may testify about rates and charges they consider improper or unfairly discriminatory.

The Public Counsel provides legal representation for consumers in matters before the Commission. The Public Counsel participates in major rate cases, has access to all the information filed by the utility, assists members of the public who wish to testify and may even provide expert witnesses on various issues in the case.

Witnesses from the utility, the Commission staff, the Public Counsel and intervenors present testimony and are cross-examined. There are official transcripts of all hearings. Court Reporters record the hearings, just as they do in a courtroom.

Completing the Rate Case

After hearings are completed, briefs are usually filed by all parties to the case. The briefs summarize each party's position on the issues.

The Commission staff then makes recommendations to the Commissioners on each issue of the case.

When the Commission makes its final decisions there will be a "vote sheet" which is a listing of all the issues requiring a vote by the Commissioners. There are many issues in a major water or wastewater rate case, and it sometimes takes the Commissioners several hours to complete the final review of the case and to vote on each issue based on the evidence in the record.

Commission attorneys prepare a formal order containing the background of the case, the Commission decisions and the basis for the decisions, the new rates, and when they will be effective.

After the Commission's order is issued, any party may ask the Commission to reconsider any decision on the issues. After reconsideration, the Public Counsel, the utility or any other party may appeal the Commission's decision to the courts.
