Re: Certificate No. 6030 (TG497)

Dear Mr. Ramirez:

The Commission has received your payment of $50.00 for the 2000 Regulatory Assessment Fee (RAF), along with your note requesting cancellation of your certificate. There are two kinds of cancellations. The first is voluntary, which is normally granted if the company is in good standing with the Commission and does not have a past due balance of the regulatory assessment fee (RAF), including statutory penalty and interest charges. The other is involuntary. If a company is not in good standing and has an outstanding balance of the RAF, the Commission normally grants the cancellation on its own motion for a rule violation. The certificate is cancelled and any balance owed is forwarded to the Comptroller's Office for collection. A copy of Rule 25-24.514 is enclosed for your review.

The regulatory assessment fee is assessed if a certificate is active for any one day during a calendar year. The RAF is due by January 30 of each year, unless the 30th falls on a weekend, then the fee is due by the next working day, for the previous year.

Since your payment for the 2000 RAF was not mailed until March 1, you owe $2.50 penalty and $0.50 interest, for a total of $3.00. In addition, the effective date of a voluntary cancellation is the date that the Commission received a company's request for cancellation. In this case, the Commission did not receive your request until March 8, 2001, therefore, you will owe the 2001 RAF, even if you are no longer in business or, in fact, never went into business. You must pay the 2001 RAF or provide a date certain that it will be paid. For example, within 30 days after the Commission Order is issued granting the voluntary cancellation.

Therefore, based on the above information, I cannot recommend a voluntary cancellation of your certificate unless the past due balance is paid. Please respond in writing by March 27, 2001, and let me know how you wish to proceed. In the meantime, if you have any questions, just let me
