Staff's 3rd Set of Interrogatories
April 10, 2002
Item No. 14

REQUEST: If the response to Interrogatory 13 is greater than zero, please provide a detailed listing by type, quantity, and USOC of all services provided to each such customer.

RESPONSE: BellSouth objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that complying with it would be unduly burdensome. The process of developing a response to Item No. 13 was, in and of itself, a difficult and time-consuming process. In order to provide the information requested for each of the 198 customers reference in response to Item No. 11, BellSouth would have to write a computer query that would search the individual records of each of those customers and extract every USOC (and the units of each USOC provided) for each customer. In addition to the cost and time associated with writing that query, it would take approximately two days for that query to run and generate results. Once the results are obtained, it would take additional time and expense to organize that data into usable formats. Alternatively, BellSouth would have to perform a manual search of each and every one of the 198 customer's records to extract the requested information. This process would be even more burdensome than the process just described.

Without waiving this objection, BellSouth provides the following response.

USOC DS1FN identified above is one of several USOCs that can be associated with ISDN service. Attachment A to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for ISDN service in which this USOC is involved, ISDN service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOC TTT is the USOC that is associated with long distance trunks arranged for connection to company's toll switchboard. The SBSFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 mistakenly includes the wrong cost for this USOC. Attachment B to this response, which includes the correct cost for this USOC, demonstrates that long distance trunks arranged for connection to company's toll switchboard produce a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs 1MB and 1MBCL identified above are two of several USOCs that can be associated with measured rate service. Attachment C to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for measured rate service in which these USOCs are involved, measured rate service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOC FP115 identified above is one of several USOCs that can be associated with Frame Relay service. Attachment D to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for Frame Relay service in which this USOC is involved, Frame Relay service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

Response: (Continued)

USOCs 1PQWU and 1LDPZ identified above are two of several USOCs that can be associated with Megalink service. Attachment E to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for Megalink service in which the 1PQWU USOC is involved, Megalink service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied. The MLINKFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for measured rate service in which the 1LDPZ USOC is involved, Megalink service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs EXMNX and EXMOX identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with ESSX service. The ESSEXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, ESSX service produces a positive margin.

USOC M1M52 and M4LFA identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with Multiserv service. The MSERVFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, Multiserv service produces a positive margin.

USOCs 1LHGV, 1L9FX, 1D91X, and 1LHB4 identified above are four of several USOCs that are associated with Foreign Exchange Service. The FEXCFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, Foreign Exchange Service produces a positive margin.

USOCs M4LFH, CENNA, and M4LFA identified above are three of several USOCs that are associated with Centrex service. Attachment F to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for CENTREX service in which the M4LFH USOC is involved, CENTREX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied. The CENTREXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for CENTRIX service in which the CENNA and M4LFA USOCs are involved, CENTREX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs TM3, S5DBD, and TM5 identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with PBX service. The PBXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for PBX service in which the CENNA and M4LFA USOCs are involved, PBX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

REQUEST:

If the response to Interrogatory 13 is greater than zero, please provide a detailed listing by type, quantity, and USOC of all services provided to each such customer.

RESPONSE:

BellSouth objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that complying with it would be unduly burdensome. The process of developing a response to Item No. 13 was, in and of itself, a difficult and time-consuming process. In order to provide the information requested for each of the 198 customers reference in response to Item No. 11, BellSouth would have to write a computer query that would search the individual records of each of those customers and extract every USOC (and the units of each USOC provided) for each customer. In addition to the cost and time associated with writing that query, it would take approximately two days for that query to run and generate results. Once the results are obtained, it would take additional time and expense to organize that data into usable formats. Alternatively, BellSouth would have to perform a manual search of each and every one of the 198 customer's records to extract the requested information. This process would be even more burdensome than the process just described.

Without waiving this objection, BellSouth provides the following response.

USOC DS1FN identified above is one of several USOCs that can be associated with ISDN service. Attachment A to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for ISDN service in which this USOC is involved, ISDN service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOC TTT is the USOC that is associated with long distance trunks arranged for connection to company's toll switchboard. The SBSFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 mistakenly includes the wrong cost for this USOC. Attachment B to this response, which includes the correct cost for this USOC, demonstrates that long distance trunks arranged for connection to company's toll switchboard produce a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs 1MB and 1MBCL identified above are two of several USOCs that can be associated with measured rate service. Attachment C to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for measured rate service in which these USOCs are involved, measured rate service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOC FP115 identified above is one of several USOCs that can be associated with Frame Relay service. Attachment D to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for Frame Relay service in which this USOC is involved, Frame Relay service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs 1PQWU and 1LDPZ identified above are two of several USOCs that can be associated with Megalink service. Attachment E to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for Megalink service in which the 1PQWU USOC is involved, Megalink service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied. The MLINKFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for measured rate service in which the 1LDPZ USOC is involved, Megalink service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs EXMNX and EXMOX identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with ESSX service. The ESSEXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, ESSX service produces a positive margin.

USOC M1M52 and M4LFA identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with Multiserv service. The MSERVFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, Multiserv service produces a positive margin.

USOCs 1LHGV, 1L9FX, 1D91X, and 1LHB4 identified above are four of several USOCs that are associated with Foreign Exchange Service. The FEXCFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied, Foreign Exchange Service produces a positive margin.

USOCs M4LFH, CENNA, and M4LFA identified above are three of several USOCs that are associated with Centrex service. Attachment F to this response demonstrates that in the typical configuration for CENTREX service in which the M4LFH USOC is involved, CENTREX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied. The CENTREXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for CENTREX service in which the CENNA and M4LFA USOCs are involved, CENTREX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.

USOCs TM3, S5DBD, and TM5 identified above are two of several USOCs that are associated with PBX service. The PBXFL page of the cost information that BellSouth submitted in response to Staff's 1st Request for Production of Documents, Item No. 4 demonstrates that in the typical configuration for PBX service in which the CENNA and M4LFA USOCs are involved, PBX service produces a positive margin even after the discounts available under the 2002 Key Customer Promotion are applied.
