In re: Implementation of requirements arising) from Federal Communications Commission) Docket Nos. 030851-TP triennial UNE review: Local Circuit Switching) for Mass Market Customers.) Filed: December 11, 2003
_____)

SUPRA TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION SYSTEMS, INC.'S REQUEST FOR CONFIDENTIAL CLASSIFICATION AND MOTION FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER

Supra Telecommunications and Information Systems. ("Supra"), pursuant to Rule 25-22.006, Florida Administrative Code, hereby requests confidential classification and a protective order for certain information contained in Supra's responses to BellSouth's discoveries dated October 13, 2003. On November 18, 2003, Supra filed its Responses to BellSouth's discoveries in the instant proceeding. In those responses, Supra produced confidential business information that is considered proprietary.

1. All of the information for which Supra seeks confidential treatment falls within Section 364.183(3), Florida Statutes which defines proprietary confidential business information as follows:

[I]nformation, regardless of form or characteristics, which is owned or controlled by the person or company, is intended to be and is treated by the person or company as private in that the disclosure of the information would cause harm to the ratepayers or the person's or company's business operations, and has not been disclosed unless disclosed pursuant to a statutory provision, an order of a court or a administrative body, or private agreement that provides that the information will not be released to the public.

Section 364.183(3)(e), Florida Statutes, further provides that proprietary confidential business information includes “information relating to competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive business of the provider of information.”

2. If the competitors or potential competitors of Supra were to acquire and utilize the proprietary confidential business information contained in Supra’s responses, they would be in an unfair and advantageous situation which would seriously jeopardize Supra’s competitive position. Section 364.183(3), Florida Statutes, specifically allows entities such as Supra to protect its proprietary information so as to preclude competitors from gaining an unfair advantage which skews the operation of the general market, ultimately to the detriment of the telecommunications consumer. Supra therefore respectfully requests that the Commission classify the identified documents as confidential and enter an appropriate protective order.

3. Supra understands that pursuant to Section 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, that while a ruling on this request is pending, the information is exempt from public record and will be accorded the stringent protection from disclosure required by Rule 25-22.006(3)(b), Florida Administrative Code.

4. A highlighted copy of the confidential information and a redacted copy of were attached to the Notice of Intent to Request Confidential Classification.

WHEREFORE, Supra respectfully requests confidential classification and a protective order for the information.

Respectfully submitted,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jorge Cruz-Bustillo/NSA". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large initial "J".
