Re: Transcript of Proceeding held on March 8, 2005

Date: March 22, 2005

---

Dr. Kurien has indicated to me that he would like to correct an answer he provided during the the hearing held on March 8, 2005. At page 274, line 24, through page 275, line 1, it states that "Because chlorination produces only one atom of hydrogen per molecule of chlorine, whereas hydrogen peroxide produces two atoms." The word "hydrogen" in this statement should be replaced with the word "oxygen."
