EXHIBIT "A"

DEFINITIONS

1. "Document" includes without limitation the following: any written or graphic matter, and any electronic, photographic, digital or other means of recording, preserving or transmitting data, visual images, sounds, thought or expression, and all tangible things from which information can be processed or transcribed, including, but not limited to, all reports, memoranda, letters, minutes, correspondence, electronic-mail ("e-mail"), notes, notebooks, manuals, books, brochures, lists, publications, computer printouts, printed forms, drawings, sketches, graphs, maps, charts, photographs, films, tapes, computer discs or drives, photo records, receipts, and other writings or data compilations of any kind from which information can be obtained, including drafts, typings, printouts and copies or reproductions which bear notation or are in any way different in content from the original, whether hand written, printed, or otherwise recorded, that is in the possession, custody or control of White Springs. If the documents to be provided are maintained in a computer-readable format, provide a printed copy of the document or other means by which they can be accessed and reviewed by PEF's counsel (i.e. if provided on a disc, the documents should be in a readily readable format).

2. "All" includes the word "any" and "any" includes the word "all." "And" shall be construed disjunctively or conjunctively as necessary in order to bring within the scope of the request for production documents that might otherwise be construed to be outside its scope.

3. If it is claimed that a document responsive is privileged as attorney-client communication or attorney work product, or is otherwise protected from disclosure, identify such document and state the nature and basis for any such claim of attorney-client privilege, work product, or other ground for nondisclosure. With respect to all such documents, the term "identify" means to state: (1) the type of document, (2) the author of the document, (3) each individual or other person to whom the original or a copy of the document was sent, (4) the date of the document, and (5) the general subject matter of the document. Any part of a document for which you do not claim attorney-client privilege or work product protection should be produced.
