FCC’s Triennial Review Remand Order

7. The following questions relate to the FCC’s Triennial Review Remand Order (TRRO), released on February 4, 2005.

- a. Has your business plan in Florida changed as a result of the TRRO? If so, how?
Yes. Since the TRRO removed DS-1 loops and transport from UNE eligibility in certain areas, FDN will attempt to modify its network/facilities and what it orders from the ILECs so as to minimize cost exposure.
- b. If you are primarily a UNE-P provider do you expect to migrate to UNE-L, negotiate commercial agreements (to provide loop, switching, and transport), or change the focus of your business?
FDN is not primarily a UNE-P provider. FDN has very few UNE-P services with Florida ILECs.
- c. Have you executed any commercially negotiated agreements with any carriers? If so, please identify the carriers.
FDN does not have a commercial agreement in place for a UNE-P replacement product with any Florida ILEC.
- d. Is there any other information (or comments) that you wish to provide?
FDN is a named party in the appeal of the TRRO now pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals. FDN thinks the Commission should take note that while the ILECs argue that the Commission should promote facilities-based competition, the ILECs are doing all they can to prevent it. UNE-P providers have some basic choices, considering the TRRO March deadline. The UNE-P provider can (a) do nothing, (b) sell off its UNE-P business, (c) sign a commercial agreement that is as ILEC-favorable as possible and where the ILEC will price UNE-P so as to maximize ILEC revenues from those "commercial" sales (d) use the hot cut process to convert UNE-P lines over to the carrier's own switch or some other carrier's switch. Option (d) is a problem for several reasons. Florida ILECs' hot cut rates are prohibitively high for this purpose. Further, the ILECs generally do not permit completion of orders whereby Carrier A's loops will be served via Carrier B's switch.

Mergers

8. Several mergers have been announced in the past year, e.g., Sprint-Nextel, SBC-AT&T, and Verizon-MCI.

- a. Do you anticipate more mergers? Why or why not?
Yes. FDN believes the market may see more mergers as the dominant telecommunications companies seek to minimize cost while maximizing revenues through bundling products (Local, Long Distance, Video, Cellular, T.V., and Data). Also, the CLECs will continue to witness increased M&A activity as the UNE-P players attempt to transition (sell / consolidate) their end-users on to another network.
- b. What effects do you believe these mergers (if approved) will have on local competition in Florida?
FDN feels the ILEC mergers may result in a telecommunications duopoly reducing consumer choice in many of the dense markets.
- c. Has your local competition strategy changed as a result of the merger announcements? If so, please explain how.
No. FDN has not yet changed its local competition strategy as a result of the merger announcements.
- d. How will these mergers (if approved) affect your local competition strategy in Florida?
FDN is concerned that the approval of these mergers may weaken the CLECs capacity to affect change through the regulatory and governmental processes. Regulators will have to remain vigilant to foster facilities-based competition by providers other than the ILEC or cable company.

Miscellaneous

9. In 2004, how much money did you invest in your network directly serving Florida's local service customers?

10. Are you currently operating under Chapter 7 or Chapter 11 protection?
No. FDN has neither filed Chapter 7 nor Chapter 11 bankruptcy in the past, and is not currently operating under Chapter 7 or Chapter 11 protection, and does not anticipate possibly filing for Chapter 7 or Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

11. If you filed Form 477 with the FCC to include data as of December 31, 2004, please provide us with a copy. This form only applies to CLECs with a minimum of 10,000 access lines in Florida. Attached is a copy of the Form 477 FDN filed with the FCC in March 2005

Comments

12. Have you experienced any significant barriers in entering Florida's local exchange markets? Please list and describe any major obstacles or barriers encountered that you believe may be impeding the growth of local competition in the state, along with any suggestions as to how to remove such obstacles.

Yes, FDN has experienced significant barriers in entering Florida's local exchange markets. The following is a brief, but not inclusive, list of obstacles/barriers encountered by FDN.

The anticompetitive winback programs of ILECs. The Commission's ruling in Docket No. 020119 overlooks the real-world impact of these programs. The Commission failed to consider, among other things, the growing number of customers locked up by and unwilling to leave ILEC winback contracts, and the consequential declining growth in market share of competitors. The Commission must monitor the impact of these programs to insure competition is not harmed. Further, the Commission has offered no protection whatsoever for customers not receiving winback discounts not even assurance that they will be held harmless by discounts offered to other customers. The Commission must trim back ILEC winback programs, at a minimum, reduce BellSouth's termination liability charges on winback contracts and assure customers not receiving discounts that they will suffer no rate increases which finance the rate discounts received by other customers.

13. Please provide any additional general comments or information you believe will assist staff in evaluating and reporting on the development of local exchange competition in Florida.

1. In addition to the suggestions, above, the Commission needs to incorporate a more "hands on" approach in evaluating day-to-day issues ALECs have with ILECs. Staff making site visits to ALECs would probably prove helpful, if for nothing else, to open the lines of communication. Most ALECs don't have the regulatory staffs the ILECs do.

2. The Commission should monitor market activity closely. Uniformity in reporting would certainly help the Commission, but the Commission also has to look at ILEC market share, in particular, with greater scrutiny and, perhaps, regularity. This would permit the Commission to keep a closer eye on, and possibly exercise better influence over, trends in the market.

3. The Commission needs to impose progressively significant performance measure penalty obligations on all three ILECs. Some 7 years after the Act, ILECs should be able to provide reasonable and standards-conforming wholesale services.

4. The Commission must insure that ILECs efficiently provision loops served via IDLC, as is their obligation under the Telecom Act and FCC rules.

5. The Commission must insure that CLECs are assured access to ILEC facilities where ILECs execute network changes impacting CLECs access.

6. The Commission must take proactive steps to insure that the ILECs enable rather than disable the ability of carriers to provide services like switching to other carriers. See 7(d) above.

- B. An access line connects the end-user's customer premises equipment (CPE) to the serving switch and allows the end-user to originate and/or terminate local telephone calls on the public switched telephone network (PSTN). Do NOT include UNE-P or Resold access lines (including those leased under a Commercial Agreement). Do include UNE-L and EELs obtained from ILECs even if leased under a Commercial Agreement.— The access line counts in Table-1 above must be based on all of your different types of access lines such as copper, fiber, hybrid fiber/copper, coaxial cable, hybrid fiber/coaxial cable, fixed-wireless (free-space optics, microwave or satellite, etc.).
- C. Each field must be populated. Do not use quotation marks.
- D. Residential and business VGE access line counts may be obtained by querying your billing database, provisioning database, etc. Exchange information is available at NANPA's website at <http://www.nanpa.com>. Click on "Reports", "Central Office Codes Reports", "Central Office Code Assignment Records", scroll down to "CO Code (Prefix) Status-Excel Spreadsheet Files," click on the link for the Eastern region and open file "EstCodes.zip", click on "FL" tab, then save it to a table in a database and run a query to capture all of your residential and business access line NPA-NXXs to identify their respective exchanges (shown in the "Rate Center" column of the NANPA's website).

If you bill a customer for 1 DS1, the access line count would be 24 even if the customer is not utilizing all 24 channels. If you bill a customer for 10 channels in a DS1, then the line count would be 10. Report 2 VGEs for each ISDN-BRI and 23 VGEs for each ISDN-PRI. Lines must be entered without duplication, e.g., Enhanced Extended Link (EEL) loops must not be included in UNE-L counts and vice versa. Each line count must be entered in separate rows.
