COMPLAINT INFORMATION

Complaint: Other Complaint against Florida City Gas

Details:

Florida City Gas request for increase in "PGCRF" fee. After contacting the company at there 800 phone number, I was informed that the company was requesting a increase from a "PGCRF" rate, set currently set at just above $0.95 per therm, to a rate of just above $1.64 per therm. As the additional cost of gas is already passed on to the customers without a increase in profit rate to the company, this seems to be just a request for more profit from the customers of Florida to be paid to the new owners of the company. When I asked about the reason for the increase, the company told me that it was because of Hurricane Katrina causing problems with the oil companies. As natural gas is not part of the oil company, I asked about the increase in profits to the company. I was then told to contact the PSC, because the company was not required to provide me with information about there profits or any increase that would be generated by a rate increase, but was told if and when the "production cost" of natural gas were reduced I could expect the company to roll back the rate increase. I do not find any statement about removing any increase in there letter or in any information provided by the PSC.

DOCKET NO.050003-GU

ISSUED: September 27, 2005

NOTICE is hereby given that Florida City Gas (FCG) has requested a midcourse change of the FCG's Purchased Gas Cost Recovery Factor ("PGCRF") cap to be effective November 7, 2005. The requested change of FCG's PGCRF is due to the increased natural gas costs associated with higher energy prices and reduced natural gas production caused by the damage of Hurricane Katrina. The requested PGCRF cap is $1.64027 per therm. The Company's gas cost expense is passed on to its customers without any mark-up by the Company. The Commission will decide upon this request at their regular agenda on November 1, 2005.

Sir/Madame

The enclosure is quite self-explanatory.

Yes, Florida City Gas (not to mention all other "public services") wants a raise.

Well, OK — if it's truly justified.

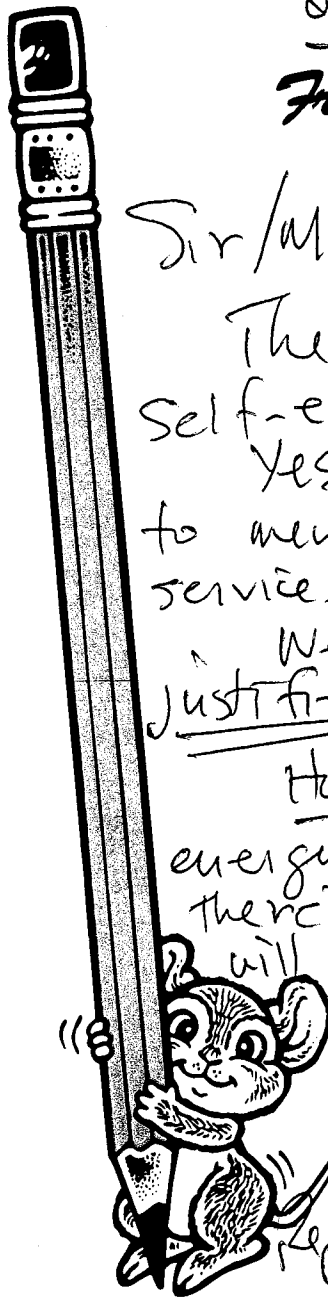

However, HOWEVER, when energy costs come down (and, there's a good chance of that), will Florida City Gas be instructed to request a reduction in charges to customers?

please advise

regards,
