RE: AT&T's Request For Confidential Classification of Information Obtained in Docket Nos. 070634-EI, 070635-TL, and 060077-TL

On March 2, 2009 AT&T filed its annual wood pole inspection report as required under Order No. PSC-06-0168-PAA-TL. Subsequently, AT&T filed a Request for Confidential Classification on March 6, seeking to have portions of its report designated as confidential as provided for under Sections 364.183, 366.093, and 367.158, Florida Statutes, and Rule 25-22.006, F.A.C.

The pole inspection report is Document Number 01682-09 and is also cross-referenced to Document Number 01822-09. The Request for Confidential classification is Document Number 01821-09. In its request, the company reports that the information regarding its 2008 inspection activity was gathered as part of an internal audit. Therefore the company believes this information falls within the criteria defined in the above statutes.

Based upon the company's assertion that the information was gathered as part of an internal audit, I agree that it should be granted confidential classification, since this category of information is specifically included in the language of the statute.
