(c) Issuing Orders (since MAX was created to take the place of MOBI, we were not fully trained on how to issue orders on this system)

- 5) Issuing orders via RNS was simple to do and we were trained to issue orders ONLY when we have the customer on the line. We were not allowed to access an account without having the customer on the phone. Therefore, Bellsouth d/b/a AT&T, RNS system was created to have orders placed in error-free status 99% of the time so the reps will not have to go back and correct the errors after the customer hung up.
- 6) When we issued orders via RNS, if we selected an item or a choice that was invalid, the submit option at the end of the order was not highlighted and on the screen it would tell us what the error(s) were, therefore, it forced us to go back to correct the error(s). We were not able to submit an order with an incorrect field in RNS just as today we are not able to submit an incorrect order in LENS.
- 7) Just like the way CLECs use LENS today, there are fields in LENS that if they are not populated or has incorrect data, LENS will not allow CLECs to issue the order until these fields are corrected.
