This response will confirm that the Commission is unable to automatically add persons to all current dockets and future new dockets. If you would like to be added as an interested person in any dockets currently pending before the Commission, you will need to provide specific docket number(s). As an interested person you would receive all notices for hearing, prehearing, proposed agency action orders, final orders, and notices of Commission conferences pertaining to those specific dockets.

Hello Progress PV Incentive team,

As a solar contractor who sat in on your informational meeting and took to heart your efforts to make the application process "customer initiated" I am very troubled by the boasting of many of my peer contractors as to the speed that they processed their incentive applications by not personally involving their clients on Tuesday morning, submitting from their own computers and forging signatures.

We met with our clients at 7am on Tuesday, filled out the application together and shook their hand after they submitted it. Moving forward, the integrity of your efforts in the eyes of your customers, the entire solar industry, and the media is in the balance. If the practice of forgery is OK than please make that perfectly clear, so on the next round we will be able to give our customers an equal chance. Or you can hold the line and cross reference the PV application signatures against their original account application. These are large sums of money and people are going to continue to pursue ways to further corrupt your process if you don't.

We applaud your efforts in bringing forth this incentive and trying to keep it about your customers.

Please verify the authenticity of the signatures on your PV applications and give the chance to the honest people that followed the rules.
