Docket No. 100021-TP
Filed: July 1, 2010

REQUEST FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

If the Commission decides that the Request for Emergency Relief, filed in this docket on even date herewith by LifeConnex Telecom, LLC f/k/a Swiftel, LLC ("LifeConnex"), should be considered by a panel of Commissioners at an Agenda Conference or by one or more Commissioners after a hearing,¹ LifeConnex requests oral argument pursuant to Rule 25-22.058, Florida Administrative Code. In support of this conditional request, LifeConnex states as follows:

1. Oral argument would aid the Commission in comprehending and evaluating the issues presented in the Request for Emergency Relief. This matter involves somewhat unique circumstances where disputes several years in the making and subject to a pending proceeding have been, by Commission order, held in abeyance; and yet one of the parties to the case, AT&T, claims the right to take action against the other party based on those disputes despite the abeyance just ordered. At the core of the Request are questions involving the integrity of the parties' agreements and the Commission's Order Holding Dockets in Abeyance, the orderly administration of cases before the Commission, the Commission's authority over disputes and interconnection agreements, and the Commission's duty to protect the public interest, including LifeConnex's customers.

2. If oral argument is permitted, LifeConnex submits 15 minutes per party is sufficient time for argument.

WHEREFORE, LifeConnex requests oral argument, if a hearing is deemed necessary, as stated above.

Respectfully submitted this 1ST day of July, 2010.
