Florida Nuclear Plant - a Time Bomb

From "Thomas Saporito" <saprodani@gmail.com>
to "Thomas Saporito" <saprodani@gmail.com>

Tue 4/15/2014 9:43 AM

The US Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) will host a teleconference call with Thomas Saporito on Apr. 17, 2014 beginning at 2pm - regarding the degradation of tubes inside the Unit-2 nuclear reactor steam generators. The operator - Florida Power & Light Company (FPL) shut-down the nuclear reactor in Mar. 2014 for refueling and apparently intended to restart the reactor on Apr. 5th. However - the nuclear reactor remains shut-down as of this date.

According to Saporito - "The St. Lucie Unit-2 nuclear plant is a time-bomb which could melt-down if the tubes in the steam generators burst due to degradation issues. If FPL was truly concerned about public safety and health - they would find out what the root-cause of the tube degradation is and fix it - before returning the nuclear reactor to power."

Members of the public and the media are urged to attend this teleconference call. Lisa Regner is the point contact person for the NRC in this matter.

The call-in number and passcode for the meeting on Thursday at 2 pm are below.

Jon, FYI, our system does not have the capability to add a second e-mail address to a party listing at this time. Vickie is currently listed as the person to notify by e-mail from your firm. Let me know if you want that changed. I will endeavor to remember to e-mail you both when I am doing a mass party e-mail, but any e-mails generated from the Clerk's office can only go to one e-mail address per physical address. Rosanne

FPL has more than one entry because it's more than one physical location (Juno, Miami, Tallahassee). Whoever's e-mail address is listed is the one that will get the notification and that person will need to make sure all others at that location receive the notice as well.

Subject: News for Immediate Release

January 17th, 2013

The recent decision by the Florida Public Service Commission (FPSC) has placed public trust and confidence and the integrity of the agency in the "toilet". No longer can the citizens of Florida have any measure of trust or confidence in the agency to be an advocate for the Public Interest regarding electric rates established for the Florida Power & Light Company (FPL). The FPSC issued an Order on January 14th, 2013 granting FPL the ability to self-regulate over the next 4-years and to actually increase rates without any citizen representation by the Office of Public Counsel. The revised settlement agreement which the Commission approved is outrageous to say the least.

First, the settlement is "illegal" as a matter of law because the Commission does not have requisite jurisdiction and authority to consider the settlement for several reasons: (1) the Office of Public Counsel (OPC) opposed the settlement and OPC represents all FPL ratepayers - and is a vital and required signatory to any FPL settlement; (2) the settlement violates the "due-process" rights of citizens who would otherwise intervene where FPL seeks recovery for power plants which have not yet been built or are not yet operational; (3) the Commission placed the settlement hearing on a rush basis and denied intervenors from fully participating in the discovery process; and (4) the settlement allows FPL to create a "slush-fund" and access depreciation and dismantlement funds without proper oversight for the sole purpose of raising FPL's return on equity (profits for its shareholders).

Thomas Saporito filed a motion for reconsideration on January 14th, 2013 asking the Commission to reconsider its decision. According to Saporito: "I am gravely concerned about the Commission's approval of the revised settlement with FPL where the citizens had no representation by the Office of Public Counsel. I have raised serious mis-conduct issues about the entire Commission with Steven J. Stolting, Inspector General - Office of Inspector General (850) 413-6071 - and I have asked his office to conduct an investigation. However, depending on the Commission's decision on my recent motion to reconsider - I fully intend to challenge the Commission's recent Order - in filing an appeal with the Florida Supreme Court - and to file with agencies of the federal government - and perhaps a civil legal action." -- Thomas Saporito --

Re: Florida Public Service Commission

Dear Honorable Representatives:

My name is Larry Nelson and I am one of the private citizens who intervened in the current FPL rate case, Florida Public Service Commission ("FPSC") docket #120015. My intervention was granted by order of the FPSC on July 12, 2012 and I subsequently spoke as a party at four of the ten public service hearings, specifically those held in Miami, Miami Gardens, Plantation and Pembroke Pines on August 7 & 8, 2012. I drove from Sarasota to the FPSC in Tallahassee twice, and I participated in the Pre-Hearing Conference on August 14, 2012. I withdrew from the case on August 20, 2012, after it became clear to me that the FPSC system was hopelessly biased in favor of FPL. In all, I spent about $1300, mostly for travel expenses to the public service hearings and to Tallahassee, and I have no direct or indirect economic or other interest of any kind related to this matter except that I am an FPL customer who has rooftop photovoltaic solar panels.

The reason for my intervention was my interest in clean renewable energy, specifically the treatment of electricity generated from rooftop photovoltaic solar panels, and more generally with the Florida legislative mandate in the Florida Energy Efficiency and Conservation Act to encourage clean renewable energy.

With the renewed consideration of climate change in the wake of Superstorm Sandy, I am writing to you to request your consideration of those aspects of the existing FPSC system which serve to discourage energy production from rooftop photovoltaic solar panels.

I would also like to bring to your attention some of the absolutely shocking ways I witnessed in which the FPSC system operates to the advantage of FPL and to the disadvantage of citizens of the State of Florida.

I have two 10kw rooftop solar photovoltaic systems, one on my residence and a second on a duplex I rent as a vacation rental property. I bought these in 2011 and subsequently discovered that the excess electricity that may be generated above our own use would receive seemingly illogical and unfair treatment. This would seem to be contrary to the legislative mandate to encourage this type of energy. Since the FPSC is mandated by Florida Statutes 366.82(10) to consider utility company treatment of alternative energy in rate cases, I intervened in the FPL rate case to attempt to address the unfair and suppressive treatment of clean rooftop photovoltaic solar energy.

There are three ways that solar power produced by rooftop photovoltaic panels are treated unfairly in my opinion:

1) The amount that a utility pays for excess electricity from rooftop panels is too low. FPL charges a residential customer around 11 cents per kilowatt hour ("kwh") for power but pays around 3 cents or less per kilowatt hour for power generated from rooftop photovoltaic solar panels. The amount paid for the power is actually less than the "pass through fuel charge" which is supposed to be the actual cost of the fuel per kilowatt hour passed through without profit. Yet FPL pays less than that for the renewable energy it receives. FPL accomplishes this in two ways. The first is that the computation of the "fuel pass through" is different than the computation of the "avoided cost" which is how the amount paid for the solar power is computed. The "avoided cost" is computed from a specific designated generation facility and is the cost of the fuel not burned to not generate the last bit of electricity divided by the electricity not produced. The "fuel pass through" cost is computed differently. The second way FPL pays too little for electricity from rooftop photovoltaic solar panels is the fiction that solar rooftop power creates no "capacity". It is said to replace or add nothing to infrastructure. The value of the solar power replacing power plants, transmission lines, operations, maintenance, repair, etc. is said to be zero. This fiction is based on the idea that a cloud might come over the sun. Therefore the solar power might or might not be there and is as random as if you turn off a generator for six months. The power is considered "as available" - if it is there they pay for it, if not, not. You can't count on it so it replaces no "capacity". Except this is not true. The solar power is exactly as reliable as the sun. The solar power is no more unreliable than the chance that the sun won't rise tomorrow and might not rise for the next month. In the aggregate, all of the rooftop solar systems put out an amount of "capacity" that is exactly known. A certain part of the state may have a certain amount of cloud cover on certain days, but overall, the amount of solar power generated per day or per year at any location is a statistical certainty and known. So no matter how much rooftop solar power is produced by however many solar arrays, FPL excludes any value for transmission lines not built, power plants not built, repairs and maintenance, etc.

2) FPL does not allow excess power generated in the fall to offset usage the following summer. In theory the system in place in Florida for residential rooftop solar panels is "Net Metering". Net metering would mean, and the clear initial intent of the Florida legislature was for it to mean, that if you generate 12,000 kwh per year and you use 12,000 kwh per year, that you can offset the two and pay only the charges for being a customer. But it doesn't quite work like that. The way it works is that the air conditioning part of your bill is less in October, November and December so you may have extra electricity generated. FPL then cashes you out at the 3 cents per kwh at the end of the calendar year and you end up buying that electricity back the following summer at 11 cents per kwh during peak air conditioning season.

3) A building with multiple meters (and the law specifies that new buildings like duplexes must have multiple meters) cannot apply the power from a rooftop solar array to more than one meter. In jurisdictions where this is done, it is called meter aggregation. FPL opposes meter aggregation. Without meter aggregation either the building meters must be rewired into fewer meters, which costs thousands of dollars, or multiple solar systems must be installed which also increases costs by thousands of dollars.

All of this means that the incentive to put solar arrays on rooftops in Florida that would replace additional power plants and additional transmission lines and additional greenhouse gases is seriously suppressed.

So anyway, off I went, to the FPSC rate case process to see what the heck is the problem, and what could be done about it.

My first stop on my adventure was the public service hearing held in Sarasota on May 31, 2012. Here I first saw the most shocking thing about the public hearing process. In the lobby of the hearing site (Sarasota City Hall) were numerous FPL customer service representatives wearing FPL shirts who are greeting members of the public arriving to speak to the rate increase proposal. And FPL seems to have their own dedicated room. Which made no sense at all. It's like a court hearing but one of the parties to the case gets to have their own room in the courthouse and a staff to lobby everyone, judges, jurors and the public as they walk by as to why their side is right. FPL also gets to have a table handing out literature. Nobody else gets to have a room or a table or representatives right outside the hearing room. There is no Audubon Society, no Environmental Defense Fund, no Florida Public Interest Research Group in the lobby lobbying (I guess that is where the term comes from!) against the rate increase or against the proposals or actions of FPL.

The importance of this cannot be overstated. I had not yet intervened in the case but when I did subsequently intervene and speak from the stage as a party at the four Miami area public service hearings, I found that FPL gets a special room at every public hearing. They get to intercept members of the public who come to the hearings with complaints, before those members of the public enter the hearing room, and redirect them to the special FPL room and give them whatever it takes to "resolve their complaint". The evidence indicates they are much more generous in achieving customer satisfaction in the special FPL rooms at the public hearings than they are in the normal course of their business. Essentially they run bribery rooms at every public hearing site with FPSC blessing. One customer's account of this was given at the public service hearing in Pembroke Pines and I quote that account in full here (the tone of the person in the video leaves no doubt as to what exactly is being said):

GINGER JEANETTE MAHADEO

was called as a witness on behalf of the Citizens of the State of Florida and, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

DIRECT STATEMENT

MS. MAHADEO: Well, how is everyone doing? My name is already with my address over there, so I live at 24 Pines Place across the hall -- it's across the street over there.

I don't want to feel like the bad guy, but I may, because I had a big problem with FPL for over three years, and I could not get it resolved. I called even yesterday, and the people that I spoke to on the phone was giving me this long drawn out story about why they could not help me. I said, listen, this is the problem. Y'all sent someone over to my home to do a home survey, but whenever you got here you said you only did it in the residential areas with people that have homes. Well, I live in an apartment, so she did the survey. So I told her I didn't have a lot of hot water and my bill was really hi.

So she got on the floor and she made some adjustment, and, Lord have mercy, the next month my bill was sky high. Where am I going to get the money to pay this bill? I called and I got an extension the first time. The next time (knocking on podium) somebody knocking at my door. I am on a fixed income. When I was working it was different. Now the reality of it is whenever you get Social Security, that's another problem, but you have to live with whatever you get. So I said to him can I pay part of the bill? Ma'am, you have to pay all the bill. If you don't we are going to disconnect your lights. And I said, well, hold on a second. Just give me a moment here.

Listen, all of this good stuff about FPL sounds fantastic until you have to live the dream. It is not all it is cut out to be, because I had to go through it. When I came through that door today and I told these people that I had a problem, the next thing I know everybody was loving me and took me upstairs. It took me 15 minutes to get everything resolved. And I just called yesterday, so you do the math.

(Audience laughter.)

CHAIRMAN BRISÉ: Thank you very much for your testimony.

Moreover, at the very beginning of every public hearing, FPL is allowed to make an official announcement that FPL is there with a special room full of FPL computers to resolve any customer complaints thereby giving the people in the hearing room one last chance to get up and go to the FPL bribery room before the substance of the hearing begins. The statement made at the Miami service hearing by FPL attorney Bryan was as follows:

In a moment you will hear from FPL's president, Eric Silagy. He will explain to you what we're asking for in this rate request and why we're asking for it.

But before he speaks, I wanted to inform you that we've also brought several Customer Service Representatives along with us today. If you have a question or a problem with your electric bill or your service, please feel free to talk to them. They're set up in a room that's just out these chambers to the left. They have computers and can access your account information. And if it's possible for them to resolve your question or problem today, they will do so.

We have a couple of FPL representatives in the room, if you'd raise your hands, who would be happy to assist you in locating the customer service room.

Furthermore, it appeared that FPL had lots of supporters in the audience. People who almost all said the same thing. They said that they didn't have any position on whether the rate increase should be granted, but that FPL was generally wonderful. I subsequently found out that FPL recruits customers to speak for them. Now maybe that is, on its face, not such a bad thing, but like sausage making, the details are not pretty. I was also told that in past rate cases FPL would sign up all its recruits first, leaving members of the public no time to speak. This is not surprising given the "joint venture" atmosphere between FPL and PSC staff in the lobby of the hearing venues where the signup sheets for members of the public are located.

Anyway, it didn't take too long during my participation in the four public hearings before I decided to start asking the pro-FPL witnesses at the public hearing if they had been asked to come there by FPL (as an intervenor, I could do this) . Virtually every one said yes. As the four hearings went on I would ask more questions and more details would come out. Eventually the extent of the FPL recruitment began to be clear. FPL managers would recruit mostly business customers, sometimes with promises, sometimes with threats, but mostly on the strength of customer relationships. FPL also held briefings where business customers were given the case for an FPL rate increase and recruited to come to the public service hearings to speak on FPL's behalf.

How right or wrong this is, is, I suppose, a matter of debate. But one thing is for sure. FPL used its customers' information to identify and recruit pro-FPL witnesses to come to the public hearings and this customer information was not available to any anti-FPL groups. The equivalent action would be if anti-FPL groups were given access to FPL customer records to identify a bunch of unhappy FPL customers who had complained, had their power turned off, had damage claims denied, suffered numerous power outages. etc. who were then approached about coming to the public hearing to speak against FPL. FPL's recruitment efforts stack the deck and turn "public hearings" into "members of the public vs. friends of FPL" hearings. And all of this is perfectly fine with the FPSC commissioners and the FPSC staff who are right there with full knowledge of, and in full cooperation with, all this.

Not having any actual knowledge of administrative law or FPSC proceedings, I entered the FPSC rate case litigation process relying on the actual Florida governing statutes. The Florida statutes that specify the duties and standards for rates, etc. This was, admittedly, a rookie mistake and understandably, a body of custom, practice, and decision has evolved which governs day to day reality in a way that statutory principles cannot.

However, in the case of the FPSC and FPL, the day to day customs, practices and decisions have been used to wash the statutory principles away as much as possible.

Two of the more basic statutory principles are 1) that rates have to be fair, just and reasonable (recited numerous times in different Florida Statutes), and 2) any type of charge to a customer is a rate.

So, leaving out the details of my intimidation and manipulation by FPSC staff attorney Keino Young, I was compelled to bring forth issues at the officially not mandatory "informal issue identification" meetings and I basically raised the solar power issues and applied the statutory language to the various "rates". In other words, is the new increased monthly customer charge "fair, just and reasonable", ditto the new late fee, the new base rates, the new returned payment fees, etc. I applied statutory language saying rate increases have to have a cost basis to new late fees, etc. All of these proposed issues were submitted in writing before the "informal meeting".

Then FPSC staff attorney Keino Young called me up right before the meeting and told me that "staff" felt that ALL my issues were "subsumed" to other issues. Most of which other issues were broadly and ambiguously defined, not as issues of law or of fact, but in the form of "Is the ___ rate increase appropriate". Coincidentally, at the actual issue identification meeting some minutes later, the exact same words came out of the mouth of the FPL attorney: FPL believes all of my issues are "subsumed" to other issues.

Let me be clear what "subsumed" means. It means that throughout the subsequent rate case, including the final briefs and FPSC Commissioners voting on the individual issues, the actual statutory standards set by the legislature will never be directly argued or voted on.

I stuck to my issues and one of the Commissioners sitting as Pre-Hearing Officer had to rule on them. At the Pre-Hearing Conference in Tallahassee the Pre-Hearing Officer ruled every statutory issue I raised was "subsumed" to other issues. The process would go like this:

FPSC Commissioner: "What is FPL's position?"

FPL attorney: "FPL believes the issue is subsumed to other issues"

FPSC Commissioner: "Staff?"

Staff: "Staff agrees with FPL"

FPSC Commissioner: "Ruling for FPL"

And this is pretty much how it went, not just with my issues, but with most opposition to FPL, whether from the Office of Public Counsel ("OPC"), Florida Retail Federation, or other intervenors.

Eventually I had two core issues left. The first being the statute that states the FPSC must consider alternative energy efforts in rate increase cases. The second being that the overall rate increase (as opposed to each subsidiary rate) was statutorily required to be fair, just and reasonable (thereby allowing this to be directly argued to the FPSC).

The Pre-Hearing Officer ruled for FPL on the alternative energy issue, after staff apparently stated overtly for the first time that the rationale for excluding the issue is that the clean renewable energy issue is handled in the "Energy Conservation Cost Recovery" Clause proceeding (which is a pass through proceeding where the costs of environmental efforts claimed by FPL are charged to customers, seemingly the exact opposite of what the statute would seem to require which is that environmental efforts be considered for reward or punishment (i.e. via profit or other incentives) in rate increase request proceedings.)

The transcript of this is as follows:

MR. NELSON: I, I understand, I understand about the conservation goals being a separate proceeding. But in, in Section 366.82(10) it says, The Commission shall also consider the performance of each utility pursuant to the Energy Conservation Act when establishing rates for those utilities over which the Commission has rate setting authority. And that's a separate subparagraph from any of the subparagraphs talking about achievement of the goals or setting of the goals.

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: Staff?

MS. HELTON: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Nelson, it's my belief that that provision that you just read to us from the FEECA statute, which is the -- I knew I shouldn't have said that -- the Florida Energy Efficiency and Conservation Act, relates to the annual clause proceeding that the Commission holds every year in November for cost recovery, for conservation costs. That's also known as the ECCR clause, innovation -- energy conservation cost recovery. There's two different -- there's different types of ratemaking processes here at the Commission, and that docket, the ECCR docket is designed to address the cost recovery for conservation costs.

MR. NELSON: Well, I don't know. The plain language says, The Commission shall also consider the performance when establishing rates for those utilities over which the Commission has rate setting authority. So it would seem to me that it's supposed to be considered in this proceeding. That's my position.

MS. HELTON: Not that I would like to engage in argument, but the Commission has consistently interpreted that language to mean that it is addressed in the ECCR docket.

Upon this ruling (by staff!) it became crystal clear that further participation in the proceeding was pointless because this was not an impartial judiciary body and day would be ruled to be night if that was what FPL advocated (because of course there could be dense cloud cover or a solar eclipse and so therefore day could be night and therefore day is night. FPSC: "ruling for FPL, day is held to be night".)

My last issue, whether the overall rate increase was "fair, just and reasonable" was strenuously argued (much as a last stand at the Alamo) by me and was supported by the Florida Retail Federation, and Thomas Saporito in that the central statutory standard should appear somewhere as an actual issue. Clearly angered and flustered by the confrontation, the Commissioner sitting as Pre-hearing Officer stated he would make a ruling "by noon tomorrow" and then ruled against the issue outside the presence of the parties.

The transcript of that portion of the Pre-Hearing Conference follows:

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: Mr. Nelson.

MR. NELSON: Your Honor, in the, in the proposed hearing order FPL indicates only that they believe it's subsumed under Issue 126, and that's not going to address the issue. The new issues that they claim it's subsumed under, I'm not going to, to address that. May I, may I speak to the issue, or do you want to hear their objections further?

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: Well, he listed three or four other ones.

MR. NELSON: All right. Very good. Okay. My position is this is the ultimate issue in this case. There's four separate statutes that say that the decision that this Commission has to make, that this full Commission has to vote on is whether the rates are, both the proposed rates and the existing rates are fair, reasonable, just, and compensatory. And how you define this issues defines how, how the Commissioners will vote, it defines how the issues will be argued, it defines how the issues will be briefed. FPL's position as set down here is that it's subsumed to Issue Number 126. And Issue Number 126 is is the operating revenue increase of FPL appropriate? And if, if this Commission accepts that argument, then in my mind that is saying that the public interest in fair, reasonable, and just and compensatory rates is subsumed to the interest of the revenue of FPL. And, and to me it's as simple as that. That's the statutory standard. To be able to argue that something is fair, reasonable, just, and compensatory allows you to argue the entire universe of, of the fairness of the issue, which is the ultimate issue the Commissioners will be, will be deciding. And to exclude that issue is to simply say, you know, the interest here that we are concerned with is, is the revenue required of FPL and, and fairness is subsumed to that.

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: Florida Power & Light, what are the other issues that you mentioned?

MR. BUTLER: Commissioner, it's Issues 126, 142, and 144 we had identified specifically. But this is essentially just the ultimate question. I mean, to some extent every issue in the case is about, you know, reaching a conclusion on whether our proposed rates are fair, just, and reasonable, compensatory. So it just, it seems like it's restating something that doesn't need to be restated. But the specific issues that I had mentioned were 126, 142, and 144.

MR. LAVIA: Mr. Commissioner, this is J. Lavia for Retail Federation. We took a position on this issue and we should -- think it should be included. It is the ultimate issue. And as the ultimate issue, it's hard to argue that it's been subsumed under non-ultimate issues. I think it is fair to include this. We think it should be included. We think it's appropriate for the Commission to actually vote on this issue. This is the statutory standard. Thank you.

MR. SAPORITO: Commissioner Graham, this is Thomas Saporito. I took a position on this issue too, and I agree with the prior counsels' statements.

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: Staff?

MR. YOUNG: I think staff agrees with Florida Power & Light that inherently by Commission findings the, the remaining issues are proving, proving any part of FPL's request, it is ultimately finding it fair, reasonable, and just and we believe it's subsumed.

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM: I was just getting ready to say to me this question is basically what the rate case is all about. And all the 100 and 200 issues for the most part all roll into answering that question. So why is it needed?

MR. NELSON: In my opinion it's needed so that it can be directly argued, it can be directly briefed and not subsumed into subsidiary issues of what's the correct ROE or what's the correct revenue requirement. To me that is making things completely backwards, that you determine the, the ROE and then you determine the revenue requirement and then you determine where you're going to put the revenue requirement. And, you know, you have to put it here or put it somewhere else. And that is not in my mind how you determine what's fair, just, and reasonable in this case. And I don't think the members of the public or the members of the public that testified at the public hearings would think that that's a reasonable way to determine what is fair, just, and reasonable in this case.

The pro-FPL bias was present throughout the proceedings. FPL attorneys nudged every issue, every precedent, every gray area; they chipped away at every principle until the whole resembled nothing.

As one last example from the public service hearings: every party (FPL, OPC myself, etc.) was given a fixed number of minutes for their presentation to the public. As a nervous newbie, never "on the lights" before, I was very conscious of the time of my first presentation in the Miami public service hearing. But somehow FPL ended up with 11 minutes to speak instead of its allotted eight. (I embarrassingly initially jumped up and objected to this). Over the course of the public hearings I figured out how this was going on. The timekeeper (the Chairman of the FPSC) would not start the timing until each speaker's introduction had finished. So I would say: "My name is Larry Nelson and I am a private citizen who came here today to speak in favor of alternative energy and against this rate increase", or whatever, and then the timing light would go on. But in the case of FPL, a first FPL employee made lengthy introductory comments (including the comments about going to the customer service room to resolve your problems) before the main FPL representative spoke and the timing didn't start until the second FPL speaker started speaking.

In this way FPL's army of attorneys and representatives fight every fight forever. For every fight they win, there is another fight right next to it pushing one little step farther and they just keep pushing the FPSC more into pro-FPL territory. Apparently in the academic literature of regulation (!) this is known as the "repeat player problem".

The FPL rate "settlement" approved today which excludes OPC is a perfect example of this. The underlying "precedent" allowing this, according to FPL, is the 2004 case of South Florida Hospital and Healthcare Association v. Jaber, 887 So. 2d 1210, in which a party that was not OPC, was held not to be necessary to a settlement, in a case that was not a rate case, but rather was a special proceeding initiated by the FPSC under its own jurisdiction, and did not involve a rate increase but rather a rate decrease shared by all parties including the non-settling, non-OPC party. In the law this isn't even "dicta", let alone "precedent". But to FPL it is an argument, and that is all they need. Under FPL's reasoning, they could have drafted a "settlement" with me while I was in the case, giving me free electricity for life, then used the "settlement" with me to agree with me as to what the rates for all the other ratepayers should be.

The history of the law creating the Office of Public Counsel is pretty clear that the FPSC was not living up to its charge under Florida Statutes 366.01 that:

"The regulation of public utilities as defined herein is declared to be in the public interest and this chapter shall be deemed to be an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare and all the provisions hereof shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose."

Therefore the Office of Public Counsel was created to give the residential utility customers a representative and advocate of somewhat similar skill and resources to that of the utility companies. A normal system of judicial process or settlement by the parties would seem to be reasonable and similar to what might occur in an actual court case. But the outcome that FPL and the FPSC engineered today avoids both judicial process and actual settlement for the benefit of the FPSC and FPL and to the detriment of the citizens of Florida. An actual ruling on the rate case is easily reviewable by a court on long established legal and statutory grounds. A settlement of all the parties may well be an acceptable substitute if all parties are fully represented. However, what happened today was a sham masquerading as a settlement. Convoluting testimony was taken as to abstract characteristics of settlements in an effort to claim this was a fine settlement even though the most important party, appointed by the Florida legislature to represent the people of Florida, vehemently refused to settle. In that case there should be no settlement and the FPSC should have to decide the rate case on the merits fair and square. Instead, a sham settlement among minor parties was seen by the FPSC as a "good deal" no matter what the Legislatively appointed citizens' representative says, and thus the precedent was set that as long as FPL can drum up a buddy to settle with, and present it to the FPSC, the Office of Public Counsel is no longer needed and has no power. If OPC can't insist on a ruling on the merits of the rate case or refuse to join an unfair settlement, then FPL and FPSC are just running the show by themselves which is exactly how it looked from my very first day in the proceedings.

I was very tempted to attach hundreds of pages of exhibits to this letter and I would still be happy to do so upon request. Virtually everything stated in this letter is available in the form of statutes, proceedings, transcripts, video, etc. As you can imagine, just the transcripts of the pro-FPL witnesses at the public hearings admitting they were invited and recounting the details are quite voluminous.

The answer to my original question of "how could clean renewable rooftop electricity be treated so poorly?" turns out to be quite simple. The primary way that a utility makes money is through "return on investment" ("ROI") at a rate set by the FPSC. This means that if a utility owns a pole that cost $100, then every year it gets a return (profit) of 10.5% (plus another 1%, for a total of 11.5% -after taxes!). The ROI determines the "revenue requirement" - the amount that must be charged customers to result in the set profit. So a $100 pole = $11.50 return every year (not counting operation, maintenance and repair which is also charged to the customers). Unfortunately for FPL, the $40,000 photovoltaic solar systems on each of my roofs are not owned by FPL. Therefore FPL gets zero because 11.5% on zero is zero. Therefore FPL will never, never, never do anything but oppose rooftop photovoltaic solar power because they cannot make money on it. No matter what lip service they pay, or what PR they put out, they will always do everything they can to crush it. What they will do however, is continue to build wildly expensive capital projects (and their own massive land using, non-distributed solar farms) upon which to have the 11.5% ROI computed. This is known as the Averch-Johnson effect:

The Averch-Johnson effect is the tendency of utilities to over-invest in capital compared to labor. The short form of the Averch-Johnson effect is that permitting a rate of return on investment will have the predictable effect of encouraging more investment than is optimal. This can manifest itself in the "build versus buy" decisions of integrated utilities and is often cited as a reason utilities might "gold plate" their assets. This effect can also be observed in the "invest versus conserve" decisions that utilities face. Under traditional regulatory rules, most utilities do not naturally turn toward energy efficiency investment, even though such investments are usually least cost for customers.

FPL antipathy to rooftop solar photovoltaic energy, even though only about 1700 of its 4.5 million customers have such systems, is shown in FPL's responses to my interrogatories I served on them in the rate case. In those interrogatories, FPL admitted they paid only $15,744 in total for all customer owned renewable generation in 2011 (Nelson Interrogatory No.40), mischaracterized meter aggregation as "conjunctive billing" and therefore opposed it (Nelson Interrogatory No. 41) and opposed changing the Administrative Code rule which prohibits rolling over excess fall power to the following summer rather than cashing it out and then forcing the customer to buy it back next summer at over 3 times the price FPL paid for it. FPL stated its position (and its overall attitude towards net-metered customers) as follows:

"The current rule already provides a subsidy to net metered customers by allowing them to shift responsibility for fixed costs to other customers. Paying net metered customers for any unused energy credits at the end of the year based on the average avoided cost of generation limits the amount of subsidy to net metered customers. Allowing such customers to continuously roll over such credits would increase the subsidy and FPL would oppose increasing the subsidy already provided." (FPL Answer to Nelson Interrogatory No. 42)

I don't even know what that means. FPL gets peak daytime and summer power from rooftop solar and exchanges off-peak nighttime and winter power for it. FPL denies any payment for "capacity", yet rooftop solar gives them capacity and takes load off of their system. My fear is that what they mean by their answer is that they don't get the 11.5% ROI, that that is the "fixed cost" they are referring to, and somehow that makes the 1700 customers who got about $10 average each, which immediately goes back to FPL for summer peak power and for monthly customer charges, freeloaders. With an attitude like that, I can guarantee you that FPL is never going to be a partner with the people of Florida in moving into a cleaner more renewable energy future and distributed rooftop photovoltaic solar power is never going to get a fair shake.

FPL has, through its parent company, returned 21% annual total shareholder return to its stock holders, even in this bad economic climate, even through the recession. In fact, according to their annual report, they have returned 21% every year for the last ten years, or a total of 210% for the last 10 years. Most of the anti-FPL testimony at the FPL rate case public service hearings consisted of people begging for rates not to be raised and stating how hard it was for many people to afford the necessities of life and how much money FPL shareholders and executives make.

These pleas apparently fell on deaf ears because even though all five FPSC Commissioners heard these pleas hundreds of times, they were perfectly happy to approve rate increases for FPL that will ensure a continued return of 21% per year for FPL shareholders or even better.

I will leave you with excerpts of some of the relevant Florida Statutes below my signature in the form of a postscript.

Excerpts of Some Governing Florida Statutes

366.01 - The regulation of public utilities as defined herein is declared to be in the public interest and this chapter shall be deemed to be an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare and all the provisions hereof shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose.

366.82 (10) The commission shall also consider the performance of each utility pursuant to ss. 366.80-366.85 and 403.519 when establishing rates for those utilities over which the commission has ratesetting authority.

366.80 Short title.—Sections 366.80-366.85 and 403.519 shall be known and may be cited as the “Florida Energy Efficiency and Conservation Act.”

366.81 Legislative findings and intent.—The Legislature finds and declares that it is critical to utilize the most efficient and cost-effective demand-side renewable energy systems and conservation systems in order to protect the health, prosperity, and general welfare of the state and its citizens. Reduction in, and control of, the growth rates of electric consumption and of weather-sensitive peak demand are of particular importance.

the Legislature intends that the use of solar energy, renewable energy sources, highly efficient systems, cogeneration, and load-control systems be encouraged.

The Legislature further finds and declares that ss. 366.80-366.85 and 403.519 are to be liberally construed in order to meet the complex problems of reducing and controlling the growth rates of electric consumption and reducing the growth rates of weather-sensitive peak demand; increasing the overall efficiency and cost-effectiveness of electricity and natural gas production and use; encouraging further development of demand-side renewable energy systems; and conserving expensive resources, particularly petroleum fuels.

366.03 - All rates and charges made, demanded, or received by any public utility for any service rendered, or to be rendered by it, and each rule and regulation of such public utility, shall be fair and reasonable.

366.041 - In fixing the just, reasonable, and compensatory rates, charges, fares, tolls, or rentals to be observed and charged for service within the state by any and all public utilities under its jurisdiction, the commission is authorized to give consideration, among other things, to the efficiency, sufficiency, and adequacy of the facilities provided and the services rendered; the cost of providing such service and the value of such service to the public; the ability of the utility to improve such service and facilities; and energy conservation and the efficient use of alternative energy resources;

366.05 - In the exercise of such jurisdiction, the commission shall have power to prescribe fair and reasonable rates and charges . . .

366.06 - . . . the commission shall have the authority to determine and fix fair, just, and reasonable rates that may be requested, demanded, charged, or collected by any public utility for its service. The commission shall investigate and determine the actual legitimate costs of the property of each utility company, actually used and useful in the public service . . . In fixing fair, just, and reasonable rates for each customer class, the commission shall, to the extent practicable, consider the cost of providing service to the class, as well as the rate history, value of service, and experience of the public utility; the consumption and load characteristics of the various classes of customers; and public acceptance of rate structures.

Ms. Kwak:

Per your request, we have added you and Ms. Zagreen to the mailing list as interested persons in Dockets 120015-EI and 100437-EI. Please note that since you are at the same company, you will only get one notification by e-mail. A designee at your office will need to forward copies to others in your office. At the moment Ms. Zagreen's e-mail address is listed as the main contact. Please advise if your e-mail address or Ms. Zagreen's e-mail address should be the main contact for your office.

This contact information is public record and will be available on internet searches. If you have any changes or wish to have your information removed, you should forward those requests to clerk@psc.state.fl.us.

As an interested person you will receive all notices for hearing, prehearing, proposed agency action orders, final orders, and notices of Commission conferences via e-mail. If you are interested in receiving documents other than those mentioned above, for example, procedural orders, please contact staff counsel for instructions on becoming a party of record. The phone number for our General Counsel's Office is 850-413-6199.

If you have any questions regarding your contact information, please call our office at 850-413-6770.

As a follow-up, it is my understanding that Serena Moyle came to CLK earlier today and confirmed that the notice of filing that was filed in Docket 120001 (DN 07607-12) on 11/13/12, was the correct docket and that the document was not intended to be filed in Docket 120015 as mentioned earlier. Keino, I have a question on the parties & interested persons of this docket. On 10/25/12, DN# 07291-12 we received Notice of Withdrawal as an intervenor in this proceeding. In CMS it still shows that Algenol Biofuels, Inc. (Algenol) as a party.

On the Notice of Hearing & Prehearing I see that Algenol aren't mention as party.

Should this be changed on the parties list by deleting asterisk, which notes them still a party. After deletion Algenol will be interested party.

If you want this to be changed please email, I can fix that by using this email for clarification.

Let me know if you have any questions.

DOCUMENT NO. 00707-12
DISTRIBUTION:

Dear Thomas,

In the late afternoon on August 15,2012 I received a phone call from John Butler stating that FPL had come to a settlement. I asked with who? What parties? What figures? When were there any settlement discussions? Mr. Butler would not and did not reveal any information whatsoever. I asked Why did you call Mr.Butler? He thought I should be happy that a settlement was happening even though I was not privy to any information at all. I told him that settlement discussions were to involve all parties. He stated that this was business as usual they had done this before. A short time later I received a press release quoting all the information that Mr.Butler would not reveal in our first conversation. And I received inquiries from the press before any document was sent to any party or the Public Service Commission Clerk for filing. I called Mr. Butler back he was in a meeting he later returned my call and I told him in no uncertain terms that hearing details from the press before any party had received any information was the most unethical thing I ever witnessed in any arena involving the law. I think the way this entire rate case has been dealt with is appalling. The back door deals, the omitting of evidence, and the denial of due process. is a testament to our system being broken and a full investigation is in order. I would start with all calls made by Mr. Butler and Mr. Litchfield on the days leading up to August 15,2012. I am sure it will show the two different times that Mr. Butler called me on August 15,2012. I can also produce the emails which I received from the press with the times showing the press release and time issued . I hope that this letter is submitted to and read into the record of rate case number 120015-EI . FPL has continued to abuse the process bringing up the alleged settlement during the rate case hearings when it was instructed by Chairman Brise that the settlement was to be dealt with separately from the Rate Case Hearing entirely and would be dealt with later at the end of the month.I want it to be perfectly clear we were not involved with any parties discussions of a settlement,or made aware of any details of any parties even discussing any settlement and or discussions with any of the parties named in the press prior to receiving the press release. FPL rep Mr. Butler refused to give any details and or the parties names sent out by FPL.in the afternoon of August 15,2012. . Sincerely Alexandria & Daniel Larson

Subject: Good cause shown to Chairman, commissioners, and parties

Dear Commissioner Brise,

On top of dealing with Daniel's mother's illness for several weeks. His sister died suddenly on Sunday. On Sunday and Monday of this week the entire county of Palm Beach was flooded with approximately 4 feet of water with no drainage and many without power. Our entire area 110 square miles was flooded beyond belief. We have sent pictures and news stories which I am sure were on the news thru-out the State. Last week we requested that I be allowed to at least do our Post Hearing Brief. You so graciously waited until today to even recognize that the request and or motion was even made. You stated you had not heard from me again. I requested that if additional information was needed to please contact me if you were going to address the request and or motion. I heard nothing from your office and or staff in regards to this request. Had I been made aware of any detail of your protocol I would have called your Administrative assistants immediately. as soon as I heard any answer or reply from your office and or the staff. As it is I am hearing second hand how you dealt with it today. For you to represent that I did not communicate with you and or the commission in this hearing is at the very least inexcusable. I not only made you and your office aware I made every single person and or party involved with this case aware. And I would like to point out not one entity or party involved in this case refused my request or denied my request to do a Post Hearing Brief in a phone call, email, or letter. No one refused my initial request to participate in this hearing via phone either. Every party involved with this case knows we had shown good cause. I did not request that any part of this procedure be delayed or put on hold in any way, but I did want to preserve my rights and participation. Requesting to at least have our Post Hearing Brief was a way to continue to have a voice for the ratepayers who cannot voice their concerns in these dire economic times. On the other hand what I have witnessed and endured during this entire process was stressful, appalling and unnecessary at the very least. Here are some examples 1. Staff member calling and asking if I feel intimidated? 2. Staff yelling at me that I was ruining people's day in court by asking if they were sent by FPL to testify at the public hearings. 3. Being made to produce 8 copies of my pre-hearing statement & issues via Federal Express 3 days early when in fact they only needed to be sent via email so I lost the ability to even work on the case properly dealing with a staff member making decisions and or requests that were unnecessary, false, and without merit. 4. FPL lawyers and 3 entities saying there was a settlement not providing any details, facts or numbers, and the fact that the press and media received said settlement agreement before any of the parties involved had received the settlement information was highly unethical. Mr. Chairman I asked for guidance and received treatment that was on your part truly sad. You did hear from me I contacted your office and did exactly what they told me to do and you chose to ignore my request and stated in court twice you and or your office did not hear from me. That is untrue. The manner in which pro se intervenors are treated is not how the system was set up to work. The Public Service Commission represents the ratepayers. I do not blame you entirely, any member of the commission and or staff could have spoke up and corrected your error. If any commissioner, any FPL lawyer, or witness had endured what my husband and I have this last month I am positive the entire hearing would have been put on hold for an indefinite period of time. I am requesting that this error be dealt with in an honest manner. And again I am asking that my request and or motion be dealt with fairly. You and all parties did hear from me twice and twice in a judiciary setting you stated you had not. Again the sadness in my heart cannot be measured with existing technology.

Also while I have your attention I wish to request and or motion that the Smart Meter Workshop being held on Sept. 20, 2012 be moved to Palm Beach County since it is a central location for FPL customers and is in FPL'S service area unlike Tallahassee. The Smart Meter issue needs to be addressed in a central location. Had I thought about the rate case I would have requested it also be in FPL'S service area. Then all of my husband Daniel's hardship and very private family issues may have been avoided. Sincerely, Alexandria & Daniel Larson

Subject: Request and Guidance with Monday hearing 120015-EI

Dear Chairman Brise,

On Monday August 20,2012 you stated that you had heard nothing from Mr.Nelson or myself regarding our appearances. I contacted everyone, made every effort to explain my situation I contacted your office by phone and via email, Mr.Chairman , the entire commission and all parties were made aware of our situation on Friday which no one opposed and is listed below. In communications I requested to appear telephonically at the pre-hearing a week prior which was denied but I was not dismissed everyone was aware of the health crisis of Daniel's mother, but to be dismissed as if I did not call your office or notify you and every commission member, every party, on the email list and file clerk could be addressed. I did show good cause I spoke with your Administrative Asst.Pamela immediately and requested you address the situation on the record on Monday. I requested a call from your staff or office in response.Your dismissal on the bench that morning did not reflect the extreme circumstances which I truly thought were conveyed all week and on Friday. I even got scolded by the clerks office several times. You may dismiss but if I show good cause and receive no opposition I wish at the very least be able to file my post hearing brief. In this case I am requesting you please acknowledge this matter on the record. Please at least acknowledge I did communicate with you on Friday and did not ignore the commission. Today right now witnesses are being rearranged for a storm that is 2000 miles away. Parties have been excused. They waved their rights to cross examine. I could never leave my husband in this crisis. You did hear from me and stated you had heard nothing. I am requesting that the record reflect what occurred and a motion for reconsideration with regard to filing my post hearing brief. Thank you for your consideration and guidance. Respectfully Alexandria Larson

Dear Chairman Brise,

My family shares one vehicle. Due to a family health emergency which I've already disclosed to the parties in Docket 120015-EI, it is impossible for me to leave my husband without this vehicle. This situation requires me to arrange and purchase travel at great personal expense. Also, due to my limited financial means, I would likely have to travel by bus, which is time consuming and difficult.

In light of the recent motions filed seeking a suspension of the hearing, there appears to be some uncertainty whether a hearing will go forward on Monday. I support a delay in the start of the hearing, both for my personal reasons and so the Commission can properly evaluate the proposed settlement agreement and any new scheduling.

Due to my personal circumstance, which is beyond my control, and due to the uncertainty regarding whether the hearing will go forward, which is also beyond my control, I respectfully request that I be permitted to attend the hearing by telephone in order to avoid the hardship of procuring expensive transportation to a meeting which may not happen, and to avoid being away from my family during this personal crisis.

I understand that it is within your power to grant this accommodation for good cause shown. Because this situation is entirely beyond my control, and it has not been caused by any failure on my part to follow the Commission's procedures, I believe I have met the burden of showing good cause.

Thank You for your consideration in this matter.
Respectfully, Alexandria Larson.

I agree with OPC and FRF. FPL has obligated itself to advocate only for the purported settlement and not the existing rate case and therefore the settlement acts as a withdrawal of the existing rate case and a new proposal that would have to be brought as a new rate case. In the meantime the existing rates would remain in effect.

Per your request, we have added you to the mailing list as an interested person in Docket 120015-EI, with an e-mail address of: Regulatory@InfiniteEnergy.com. Please note that this contact information is public record and will be available on internet searches.

As an interested person you will receive all notices for hearing, prehearing, proposed agency action orders, final orders, and notices of Commission conferences via e-mail.

If you are interested in receiving more documents than those mentioned above, for example, procedural orders, please contact staff counsel for instructions on becoming a party of record. The phone number for our General Counsel's Office is 850-413-6199.

If documents can not be delivered to the e-mail address, our system attempts to fax the information. If no fax number is available, the system notifies us that we need to send the document via U.S. Mail. If you wish to have your phone number, fax number, or complete mailing address available as a back-up, please provide that information.

If you have any changes or wish to have your information removed, you should forward those requests to clerk@psc.state.fl.us. That will ensure that the information is handled efficiently and accurately.

If you have any questions regarding your contact information, please call our office at 850-413-6770.

Subject: Request and Guidance in issue with Monday hearing 120015-EI

Dear Chairman Brise,

My family shares one vehicle. Due to a family health emergency which I've already disclosed to the parties in Docket 120015-EI, it is impossible for me to leave my husband without this vehicle. This situation requires me to arrange and purchase travel at great personal expense. Also, due to my limited financial means, I would likely have to travel by bus, which is time consuming and difficult.

In light of the recent motions filed seeking a suspension of the hearing, there appears to be some uncertainty whether a hearing will go forward on Monday. I support a delay in the start of the hearing, both for my personal reasons and so the Commission can properly evaluate the proposed settlement agreement and any new scheduling.

Due to my personal circumstance, which is beyond my control, and due to the uncertainty regarding whether the hearing will go forward, which is also beyond my control, I respectfully request that I be permitted to attend the hearing by telephone in order to avoid the hardship of procuring expensive transportation to a meeting which may not happen, and to avoid being away from my family during this personal crisis.

I understand that it is within your power to grant this accommodation for good cause shown. Because this situation is entirely beyond my control, and it has not been caused by any failure on my part to follow the Commission's procedures, I believe I have met the burden of showing good cause.

Thank You for your consideration in this matter. Respectfully, Alexandria Larson.

Dear Alexandria, Keino & All –

Under the circumstances, we believe that Ms. Larson has met the standard for the accommodation that she has requested, namely to be allowed to participate in the prehearing conference by telephone. The OEP in this case provides that the Prehearing Officer may excuse a party from appearing in person for good cause shown, and accordingly, we believe that Ms. Larson's request should be granted.

All the best, Schef Wright

Dear Keino and all,

There is an grave illness in the family Daniel's mother had a stroke. On Friday I did not know I would have to explain in more detail for you to understand the gravity of the situation. My husband and I have only one vehicle and there is no way to get to the pre hearing without extreme hardship. I have called other intervenors I have called everyone I could think of to remedy the situation but to no avail. I do not have a cellphone or a laptop. I am requesting to participate via phone. And will come home to participate via my desktop and land line, With this option I will at least be able to go to my husband when he needs me. Otherwise my other option would be to file a motion for a continuance. I do not wish to inconvenience the other numerous parties involved that is why I am requesting the telephone option which keeps everything and everyone on track. Thank You Alexandria Larson

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center , 4075 Esplanade Way , Tallahassee , Florida . Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Thanks,
Keino Young
Senior Attorney

Dear Keino,

Do to the fact that I reside in Palm Beach County it is an extreme hardship for me to travel to Tallahassee for either the pre - trial hearing and or the hearing starting on August 20 please except this as a request or motion to attend one or both proceedings at the pleasure of the hearing officer telephonically. Please notify me as soon as possible if this is acceptable. And let know what the procedure would be to attend by phone Thank You

Dear Alexandria, Keino & All –

Under the circumstances, we believe that Ms. Larson has met the standard for the accommodation that she has requested, namely to be allowed to participate in the prehearing conference by telephone. The OEP in this case provides that the Prehearing Officer may excuse a party from appearing in person for good cause shown, and accordingly, we believe that Ms. Larson's request should be granted.

All the best, Schef Wright

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center , 4075 Esplanade Way , Tallahassee , Florida . Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Thanks,
Keino Young
Senior Attorney

Dear Keino,

Do to the fact that I reside in Palm Beach County it is an extreme hardship for me to travel to Tallahassee for either the pre - trial hearing and or the hearing starting on August 20 please except this as a request or motion to attend one or both proceedings at the pleasure of the hearing officer telephonically. Please notify me as soon as possible if this is acceptable. And let know what the procedure would be to attend by phone Thank You Alexandria Larson

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center, 4075 Esplanade Way, Tallahassee, Florida. Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Thanks,
 Keino Young
 Senior Attorney

Dear Keino,

Do to the fact that I reside in Palm Beach County it is an extreme hardship for me to travel to Tallahassee for either the pre - trial hearing and or the hearing starting on August 20 please except this as a request or motion to attend one or both proceedings at the pleasure of the hearing officer telephonically. Please notify me as soon as possible if this is acceptable. And let know what the procedure would be to attend by phone Thank You

Dear Alexandria, Keino & All –

Under the circumstances, we believe that Ms. Larson has met the standard for the accommodation that she has requested, namely to be allowed to participate in the prehearing conference by telephone. The OEP in this case provides that the Prehearing Officer may excuse a party from appearing in person for good cause shown, and accordingly, we believe that Ms. Larson's request should be granted.

All the best, Schef Wright

Dear Keino and all,

There is an grave illness in the family Daniel's mother had a stroke.On Friday I did not know I would have to explain in more detail for you to understand the gravity of the situation.My husband and I have only one vehicle and there is no way to get to the pre hearing without extreme hardship.I have called other intervenors I have called everyone I could think of to remedy the situation but to no avail.I do not have a cellphone or a laptop.I am requesting to participate via phone.And will come home to participate via my desktop and land line,With this option I will at least be able to go to my husband when he needs me. Otherwise my other option would be to file a motion for a continuance.I do not wish to inconvenience the other numerous parties involved that is why I am requesting the telephone option which keeps everything and everyone on track. Thank You Alexandria Larson

Dear Alexandria, Keino & All –

Under the circumstances, we believe that Ms. Larson has met the standard for the accommodation that she has requested, namely to be allowed to participate in the prehearing conference by telephone. The OEP in this case provides that the Prehearing Officer may excuse a party from appearing in person for good cause shown, and accordingly, we believe that Ms. Larson's request should be granted.

Dear Keino and all,

There is an grave illness in the family Daniel's mother had a stroke. On Friday I did not know I would have to explain in more detail for you to understand the gravity of the situation. My husband and I have only one vehicle and there is no way to get to the pre hearing without extreme hardship. I have called other intervenors I have called everyone I could think of to remedy the situation but to no avail. I do not have a cellphone or a laptop. I am requesting to participate via phone. And will come home to participate via my desktop and land line, With this option I will at least be able to go to my husband when he needs me. Otherwise my other option would be to file a motion for a continuance. I do not wish to inconvenience the other numerous parties involved that is why I am requesting the telephone option which keeps everything and everyone on track. Thank You Alexandria Larson

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center , 4075 Esplanade Way , Tallahassee , Florida . Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center , 4075 Esplanade Way , Tallahassee , Florida . Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Dear Keino and all,

There is an grave illness in the family Daniel's mother had a stroke.On Friday I did not know I would have to explain in more detail for you to understand the gravity of the situation.My husband and I have only one vehicle and there is no way to get to the pre hearing without extreme hardship.I have called other intervenors I have called everyone I could think of to remedy the situation but to no avail.I do not have a cellphone or a laptop.I am requesting to participate via phone.And will come home to participate via my desktop and land line,With this option I will at least be able to go to my husband when he needs me. Otherwise my other option would be to file a motion for a continuance.I do not wish to inconvenience the other numerous parties involved that is why I am requesting the telephone option which keeps everything and everyone on track. Thank You Alexandria Larson

Mrs. Larson,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center , 4075 Esplanade Way , Tallahassee , Florida . Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

Thanks,

As you are aware, Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure issued on March 26, 2012 explicitly states:

Pursuant to Rule 28-106.209, F.A.C., a Prehearing Conference will be held August 14, 2012, at the Betty Easley Conference Center, 4075 Esplanade Way, Tallahassee, Florida. Unless excused by the Prehearing Officer for good cause shown, each party (or designated representative) shall personally appear at the Prehearing Conference. Failure of a party (or that party's representative) to appear shall constitute waiver of that party's issues and positions, and that party may be dismissed from the proceeding.

In the instant case, you have specified as grounds for waiver of the above requirement that your residence in Palm Beach County and the travel distance to Tallahassee would constitute an extreme hardship. Due to the complexity of this case (the number of issues and the number of parties), travel to the prehearing conference is a necessary requirement of all parties. Moreover, this requirement is necessary because frequently at prehearing conferences tangible documents are distributed and amended during this essential meeting, thereby necessitating physical attendance. Therefore, we do not believe the required travel is sufficient grounds in the instant case for waiver of the attendance requirement of Section VI(B) of the Order Establishing Procedure. Moreover, we note that both you and Mr. Larson were granted intervention and only one of you need to attend. If you have any questions, please give me a call (850) 413-6226 or (850) 284-3591.

I do not object. In light of Mr. Young's reversal of his earlier erroneous position, this could have been electronically filed and neither FEA nor I would have had to drive to Tallahassee in the first place.

Folks-

Capt Miller attempted to file our testimony this afternoon, but due to the bad weather between Panama City and Tallahassee he arrived at the Commission at 5:02, and the clerks would not let him in to make the filing. He is returning to PC, and we will send via FedEx tomorrow, along with a request to the prehearing officer to allow the continued participation of Federal Executive Agencies in this proceeding and the inclusion of our prehearing positions.

My apologies--we do our best to anticipate all the potential shortfalls, but sometimes Mother Nature just gets the best of us.

Please advise if you will oppose our continued participation.

Karen

I don't see any legal reason why discovery can't be filed. In fact, according to the e-filing requirements, it would be eligible for filing unless it was not a "document permitted . . . to be filed with the commission".

Documents Eligible for Electronic Filing

- All documents permitted or required to be filed with the Commission shall be eligible for electronic filing, except those documents listed under "Documents Not Eligible."
- All documents filed electronically must be capable of being printed as paper documents without loss of content or appearance. Documents must be prepared using a clearly readable font which, when printed, will fit on an 8.5 by 11-inch page.

Documents Not Eligible for Electronic Filing

- Minimum filing requirements (MFRs)
- Prefiled testimony
- Tariffs¹
- Documents containing confidential information
- Documents that must be accompanied by a filing fee or other payment
- Documents over 100 pages
- Documents over 8.5 by 11 inches in size
- Any other documents identified in the Order Establishing Procedure for a particular docket as being ineligible for filing electronically in that docket

7/20/2012

- Corrupt documents
- Documents containing a virus or attached to an e-mail containing a virus

Yes, well thank you for the clarification. I do remember reading that, but in practice you file the transmittal email with a filing stamp on it so I sort of forgot about having read that.

Perhaps you can answer a question (and perhaps not). Is there any reason that would prevent the filings of interrogatories or the responses to interrogatories (or other discovery for that matter). The practice is to file a Notice of Service of the interrogatories or answers, but not the interrogatories or answers. And since the interrogatories have certificates of service attached, and then the Notice of Service has a certificate of service attached, basically the practice is to give notice of service of the Notice of Service of the interrogatories or answers, which seems just a bit Orwellian. The question then is: why not just file the Interrogatories and the attached Certificate of Service and forego the Notice of Service? Is there some reason beyond the genteel idea of not having questions and answers flying around in the public domain?

The attached e-filing appears to be a duplicate of an e-filing received from you at 4:41 p.m. today. It appears that the only change is being made on the transmittal cover page. Please note that per the PSC e-filing requirements the e-mail message transmitting the document(s) to be filed is not itself considered a filing. Therefore, documents contained within the text of an e-mail transmission will not be considered filed. As such, the filing received at 4:38 p.m. will not be considered an official filing.

Mr. Davis:

Per your request, we have added you to the mailing list as an interested person in Docket 120015-EI. Please note that this contact information is public record and will be available on internet searches.

As an interested person you will receive notification for all notices of hearing, prehearing, proposed agency action orders, final orders, and notices of Commission conferences via e-mail.

If you are interested in receiving more documents than those mentioned above, for example, procedural orders, please contact staff counsel for instructions on becoming a party of record. The phone number for our General Counsel's Office is 850-413-6199.

We have also included the mailing address as indicated below. If documents can not be delivered to the e-mail address, our system attempts to fax the information. If no fax number is available, the system notifies us that we need to send the document via U.S. Mail.

If you have any changes to your contact information, or wish to have your information removed, you should forward those requests to clerk@psc.state.fl.us. That will ensure that the information is handled efficiently and accurately. You may also call our office at 850-413-6770.

Good Afternoon Mr. Hendricks,

This morning you called, and I spoke with you about forgetting to include your cover letter, and notice of service. Which I see you've sent in three different individual pdfs.

I'm sorry there was a miss understanding on your email today (7/3/12) sent below, at first sight it was thought to include testimony, and was returned to you as not eligible for electronic filing. You had already submitted the testimony by mail, and accepted yesterday (7/2/12) when received at the Office of Commission Clerk.

However, we do need the three pdf attachments above to be combined to be one pdf version. This is to have your cover letter, notice of service cover letter, and notice of service to your testimony so it will become one document number.

Please resubmit that so we may include it in the docket file. If you have any questions let me know.

Thank you.

Matilda Sanders,

Ann,

This office has received the attached letter from Eric Silagy, President, Florida Power & Light Company.

The correspondence has not been viewed or considered in any way by Commissioner Balbis. Under the terms of the advisory opinion from the Commission on Ethics (issued July 24, 1991 as CEO 91-31-July 19, 1001), the attached letter does not constitute an ex parte communication by virtue of the fact that it was not shown to the Commissioner. Because it is not deemed to be an ex parte communication, it does not require dissemination to parties pursuant to the provisions of section 350.042, Florida Statutes. However, in such cases Commissioner Balbis has requested that a copy of the correspondence be placed in the correspondence folder of docket file 120015-EI.

Eduardo Balbis
Florida Public Service Commission
2540 Shumard Oak Blvd
Tallahassee FL 32399-7019

Dear Eduardo Balbis:

I am writing to you today because I am committed to increasing communication with the leaders of our state in an effort to better serve you. I recently accepted the responsibility of serving as president of Florida Power & Light Company, the third-largest electric company in the nation. FPL was founded more than 80 years ago, and when I think about the blood, sweat and tears that went into building this company and the great state of Florida, I'm humbled.

Today, the 10,000 employees of FPL are working hard to provide our customers with the lowest bill in the state, strong reliability, nationally recognized customer service and a clean energy profile among the best in the country. In addition, we are continuing to make the major investments in our electric system that will help you become more competitive and help Florida's economy prosper.

We know what makes Florida special – the sunshine, the Everglades, the fishing and more. The diversity of our state and the quality of life our families and customers enjoy are competitive advantages as is the Sunshine State's sense of optimism and opportunity, particularly as we work together to emerge from challenging economic times.

But with everything wonderful about Florida comes the threat of extreme weather. The meteorologists may be forecasting a milder than normal hurricane season this year, but as we've all heard it said: it only takes one storm to make it a bad year.

We all have to be prepared. On May 30, Florida Adjutant General Major General Emmett R. Titshaw, Jr., State Division of Emergency Management Director Bryan Koon and I joined FEMA Administrator Craig Fugate – Bryan's highly respected predecessor who led Florida's response to the 2004 and 2005 hurricanes – at the White House to brief the President about our hurricane season preparations. Representing Florida and the electric power industry in the Situation Room in front of the Commander-in-Chief was an honor and served as a reminder of the duty that FPL and our fellow electric utilities have to our customers. So, with the official start of the 2012 hurricane season upon us, I would like to share a few thoughts with you about what we're doing to prepare.

Since 2006, FPL has invested nearly $1 billion to make our electric system more resilient to severe storms. This includes hardening the infrastructure that serves every major hospital and acute care center in our service territory. We have also developed cutting-edge technology such as the Restoration Spatial View, an advanced GPS system that helps us better direct and re-direct crews while they're in the field to restore power more efficiently in the wake of a storm.

We've improved how we deploy resources and increased the various ways of getting information to our customers. In 2011, we built our first-ever Category-5-rated Command Center. If you'd like to learn more about our efforts, go to www.youtube.com/FPL.

At FPL, we have a comprehensive plan to respond safely and as quickly as possible when our electric system is damaged by any severe weather event. Our plan focuses on readiness, restoration and recovery. And we are committed to communicating frequently through the news media and other channels so you can plan ahead.

Our resources and capabilities have evolved, but we can never forget that hurricanes and tropical storms are awesome forces of nature. Damage from storms can vary widely, and no electric system is storm-proof. But one thing is certain: when the storm passes, FPL will be working around the clock until everyone has their power back on.

If you've lived here during a hurricane, you know what can happen. But many of your colleagues, employees and neighbors may be among the tens of thousands who have moved to Florida in recent years and have never experienced the power of a hurricane. I urge you to help make preparedness a top priority for everyone you know. One easy way to help is to share the simple checklists and other basic preparation materials available for download at www.FPL.com/storm. The better we all prepare, the faster we will recover from a hurricane.

In closing, let me thank you for your commitment to our state. I'm excited about my new job and optimistic about the future of Florida. I look forward to exchanging views with you in the months and years ahead, and to working together to re-energize our state's economy and make Florida an even better place to live and to work. Please don't hesitate to let my staff and me know about anything that's on your mind at ESilagy@fpl.com.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Eric Silagy
President
Florida Power & Light Company

RE: PSC Inquiry 1061211C 120015 - EI

Dear Mr. Uber:

The Governor's office forwarded a copy of your March 25, 2012, correspondence regarding Florida Power & Light Company (FPL) to the Florida Public Service Commission (PSC). The PSC regulates investor-owned electric, and natural gas utilities throughout the state, and investor-owned water and wastewater utilities in those counties which have opted to transfer jurisdiction to the PSC. The PSC has authority in the telephone industry which is limited to the Lifeline Assistance Program, Florida Relay Service, and pay telephone service. We appreciate the opportunity to assist you.

You expressed concerns about FPL's storm surcharge. The PSC conducted four customer service hearings from March 1, 2006, to March 3, 2006, in connection with Docket Number 060038-EI regarding FPL's petition for issuance of a storm recovery financing order related to the 2004 and 2005 storm seasons. The customer service hearings were held in Fort Myers, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, and Miami. During the course of the docket proceedings, the PSC also received customer comments by telephone, fax, mail, and email.

On May 16, 2006, the PSC approved a 12-year bond issue, the first approved under a law passed in 2005, to reimburse Florida Power & Light for hurricane losses incurred in 2004 and 2005. The PSC set FPL's recovery at $708 million, which was a reduction on the requested amount of $1.050 billion.

On May 22, 2007, the PSC announced the successful sale of $652 million FPL storm recovery bonds. The bonds were purchased by Wachovia Capital Markets, LLC with an interest rate of 5.23 percent. The bonds are rated Aaa by Moody's, AAA by Standard & Poor's and AAA by Fitch Ratings.

CAPITAL CIRCLE OFFICE CENTER • 2540 SHUMARD OAK BOULEVARD • TALLAHASSEE, FL 32399-0850

PSC Website: <http://www.floridapsc.com>

Internet E-mail: contact@psc.state.fl.us

The PSC authorized the securitization financing technique on May 15, 2006, and consistent with its statutory responsibility issued a comprehensive financing order detailing the terms of the bond issuance including a “lowest cost objective.” The PSC included this provision to achieve the lowest storm recovery charges consistent with the law and the prevailing market conditions at the time of the offering and pricing of the bonds.

As required by the PSC’s financing order, a Bond Team was established, comprised of representatives of FPL, the PSC, and both their designated advisors and legal counsel. The Bond Team took the following actions to protect FPL’s customers and achieve a successful result:

- Received an assurance from FPL that the storm recovery bonds would price at least as well as the most recent and most favorable transactions in this asset class. Specifically, FPL’s storm recovery bonds priced more favorably than both the 2006 American Electric Power securitization transaction in Texas and the 2007 Monongahela Power securitization transaction in West Virginia.
- Developed rating agency presentations and worked actively with the rating agencies to achieve Aaa and AAA ratings from the major rating agencies.
- Solicited a wide range of potential bidders to pursue competitive pricing for the bonds.
- Held group conference calls for potential bidders to describe the legislative, political and regulatory framework and the bond structure.

The bonds’ scheduled maturity is August 1, 2019. The legal maturity is August 1, 2021. However, the bonds may be paid more swiftly. The PSC receives and reviews monthly progress reports from FPL on its bond repayment schedule.

You expressed a concern about FPL's petition to recover prudently incurred preconstruction costs associated with nuclear power plants. To encourage the development of nuclear power, the Florida Legislature enacted a law in 2006 to permit utilities to recover some nuclear plant project costs during the construction process. The PSC then adopted a rule on how to evaluate those costs annually. Annual PSC nuclear cost recovery hearings, held on August 10-19, 2011, allow Commissioners to hear testimony from the utilities, consumer groups, and the public on recovery of actual and estimated project costs.

On October, 24, 2011, to help secure a diversified and stable energy for Florida, the PSC approved cost recovery amounts for construction of planned nuclear generating plants and additions to existing nuclear plants for FPL. FPL’s approved recovery includes costs associated with construction of its planned Turkey Point Units 6 and 7 and adding capacity to existing Turkey Point Units 3 and 4 and St. Lucie Units 1 and 2. Over the life of the generating units, the additional capacity projects are expected to save customers an estimated

April 20, 2012

$155 million to $1.5 billion. When completed, these projects will add approximately 2,614 MW of new nuclear base load generation to FPL's system, enough energy to power 1.4 million homes. I will add your comments to the correspondence side of Docket Nos. 110009-EI and 120009-EI and regarding FPL's petition for nuclear cost recovery

You also expressed a concern about FPL's petition for a rate increase. I will add your comments to the correspondence side of Docket No. 120015-EI regarding FPL's petition for an increase in its base rate.

Finally, you expressed a concern about smart meters, which are replacing traditional analog meters. Smart meters are similarly designed to record a customer's electricity consumption in order to accurately bill the customer. Smart meters, however, allow utilities to collect a customer's electricity consumption data remotely through radio frequency. FPSC rules ensure these meters are accurate and the Federal Communications Commission establishes standards for radio frequency.

Complaints serve as a valuable source of information; therefore, your complaint will remain on file with the PSC. We monitor complaints very closely and track any trends which indicate there may be a problem and further action is needed.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact Ellen Plendl at 1-800-342-3552, or by fax at 1-800-511-0809.

Dear Governor Scott:

I am writing to complain about the lack of a response from Florida Public Service Commission.

I wrote to them in November of last year and they ignored me. I have enclosed a copy of the letter.

I am writing to them again about Florida Power & Light's proposed rate increase.

An email response is OK with me (alcynn@comcast.net).

I will enclose a copy of this letter also.

Dear Florida Public Service Commission:

FP&L DOES NOT DESERVE A RATE INCREASE.

As a captive consumer for FP&L I do not want to pay for any part of their new plants.....unless we get part of their profits as a rate decrease.

We have been paying those turkeys millions over the last few years as a Storm Charge. WHY???

FP&L also makes millions from street lamps that are burned out and not consuming electricity. They have a flat fee with the cities and they get paid even when they are burned out. Our area had 30% of the street lamps burned out until I wrote to the PSC a couple of years back. I was given an email contact from FP&L and now the lamps are repaired in a reasonable time frame.

FP&L has a page on their website to deal with street lamps. However, they will ignore your entries. I know because I tried it. They also want to know how many times you entered a burned out lamp. That question should indicate to anyone who thinks logically that they will delay repair for as long as possible.

When you consider that 20% to 30% of the street lamps are burned out in most of their service area, they are making a lot of money that they shouldn't be.

FP&L has also wasted millions on Smart Meters that are not in the best interest of the consumer.

I believe FP&L should be awarded a RATE DECREASE.

Sincerely,

Al Uber

Dear Florida Public Service Commission:

I was disappointed to hear that you have allowed FPL to bill us for building a plant.

If we have to pay for this plant, I would expect to get a share of the revenue this plant generates.

FPL Q-1 profits are up 7%.

FPL is still billing us a storm charge from 2005!!! WHY???

FPL attempted to gouge us for 30% a short while back.

FPL is an untrustworthy company that should be monitored closely.

We deserve a 30% decrease in rates.

Can you do something about these issues?

Mr. Smith,

Per your request, we have added you to the mailing list as an interested person in Docket 120015, with an e-mail address of: rpjrb@yahoo.com. Please note that this contact information is public record and will be available on internet searches.

As an interested person you will receive all notices for hearing, prehearing, proposed agency action orders, final orders, and notices of Commission conferences via e-mail.

If you are interested in receiving more documents than those mentioned above, for example, procedural orders, please contact staff counsel for instructions on becoming a party of record. The phone number for our General Counsel's Office is 850-413-6199.

We have also included the mailing address as indicated below. If documents can not be delivered to the e-mail address, our system attempts to fax the information. If no fax number is available, the system notifies us that we need to send the document via U.S. Mail.

If you have any changes or wish to have your information removed, you should forward those requests to clerk@psc.state.fl.us. That will ensure that the information is handled efficiently and accurately.

If you have any questions regarding your contact information, please call our office at 850-413-6770.
