And a reminder through the summer, it's not a mistake on your Gulf Power bill. The price of electricity is actually going down. You, average homeowner, will see your bill coming by July 1st, about $10 a month less. Gulf Power is using natural gas to power their generators. It's cheaper than coal. And at a time we could use a little help, thanks Gulf Power for shopping around for the best deal.

June 5, 2012

This is good news. We are getting an average of a $10 discount per month from Gulf Power. Think about and what you can do with ten bucks. That's called movie night with the family --- could probably toss in a couple of big tubs of popcorn. Ten bucks -probably a couple of Bushwhackers. Think about it this way, over a course of a year, this big cut from Gulf Power amounts to about 120 bucks. You know how many DVD rentals you could get with 120 bucks? That's the savings over the course of the year with these new cuts from Gulf Power. Or think about it, just in the period of a month – ten bucks. That's how much your bills are going down. 120 bucks a year. That's a couple of tanks of gas. That's like three video rentals and a couple of tubs of popcorn for you and the family.

June 6, 2012

How cool is this? Gulf Power is going to be dropping our power bills by about ten bucks a month, ten bucks a month. That would get you several walks out to the Navarre Beach or Pensacola Beach pier. An extra ten bucks a month from Gulf Power. An extra couple of gallons of gas in your car. An extra ten bucks this month. Hey why don't you splurge when the family goes out – get dessert after dinner. Thanks Gulf Power!

June 7, 2012

One of the things that I'm excited about right now is a summer with a little more cash in my pocket. Thanks to that rate cut from Gulf Power. On average, ten extra bucks a month for me and you. Ten bucks to put in the gas tank, take an extra road trip. Think about it this way, an extra ten dollars a month thanks to that rate cut from Gulf Power that comes out to 120 bucks a year. I'll take it.

June 8, 2012

Join us at four, and then get ready for the weekend. Probably have an extra ten bucks thanks to the rate cut from Gulf Power. Think about what you can do with ten bucks every single month. Think about it, over a period of a year, this cut from Gulf Power amounts to about 120 dollars. A lot of things you can do with a 120 bucks. I don't know, may be a week worth of groceries?

June 11, 2012

Gulf Power wanted me to remind you about your family hurricane plan. Number one, do you have one? Here's a couple of things you should be talking about right now before a hurricane hits – when the family should evacuate. Regardless of your decision, obey all evacuation orders from local officials. Find out more, Gulfpower.com.

June 12, 2012

When a storm threatens, like we saw this past weekend, Gulf Power readies its emergency management center to support advanced preparation, damage assessment and power restoration. Here's one thing you can do. Turn your air conditioning down to cool down your house. If you keep the doors and windows closed after the storm, you can keep your house relatively cool two days after the storm. For more info, contact GulfPower.com

June 13, 2012

Let's discuss ways you can be storm ready with GulfPower.com, a plethora of ideas and things you and your family and your family can do to be ready for any type of storm. Whether it's a storm we saw this past week or even a hurricane. There's no excuse for not being prepared. And by the way, the most important thing you can do is have food and water prepared for several days.

June 14, 2012

Have you logged onto GulfPower.com yet? Everything you need to know about storm preparedness is on there. Listen, we got surprised by this storm last weekend, don't let it happen again. Have food and water, enough to last for several days. What about meds? All things you should keep in mind in case we get a big storm. You can learn more on GulfPower.com.

June 15, 2012

Gulf Power wants to remind you while the weather is good go ahead and plan for when the weather gets bad. We're talking hurricanes. Is your emergency kit ready for either staying at the house or getting on the road? Know how to handle your fridge and freezer before the storm? And how you and your family stay safe after the storm? This little reminder from your friends and neighbors at Gulf Power.

June 18, 2012

Coming up on the show today let's discuss hurricane preparedness. Gulf Power wants to remind you the first 72 are on you. When you're getting ready for a hurricane, a lot of things you need to take into consideration. Food, water, medication, what about your pets. Also, how familiar are your kids with the plan? You'll find this and other key information online at GulfPower.com.

June 19, 2012

If you log onto GulfPower.com, you'll find a pretty comprehensive list of things you should be doing to get ready for a hurricane. I'm hoping we don't see one this year. But just in case, GulfPower.com has you covered. Talk about some of the foods that are good to pack and good to get ready in case of a long storm. Canned meat and fishes, dry fruit, bottled water, peanut butter and jelly and don't forget a manual can opener.

June 20, 2012

Meanwhile you can be prepping for a hurricane anytime.
