The documents cannot be sent back to the company since they are part of the record. I gave a courtesy call to ATT and Express to see if either wanted their documents to remain confidential. ATT didn't mind if they were released since it is Express data. The attorney for Express is checking to see if his client wants the information to stay confidential.

FYI, I'm not sure what the answer should be, or if the documents should be sent back to the companies.

Direction, please.
