I'm not a customer but if this company wants to explore fracking or any other form of energy that this is why there are stock holders who risk investment. Customers receive no dividends or special compensation. As a stock holder in other areas I go in knowing of the risks involved. Bottom line you all are educated knowing that stock holders are responsible for fracking exploration and recovery. Do the right thing now because you will face this issue later.

Sincerely
Roger Robbins

Subject: Fracking Approval

I am writing to protest your approval of public utilities improving their profits on the back of their customers. These multi-million dollar companies do not need our investment to explore potential avenues of revenue to increase their bottom line.

When you gave approval, did you write concrete language that will guarantee savings to the public, and if so, after what period of time and at what invoice reduction? No responsible public commission should give a public utility carte blanc without writing language into the approval that guarantees the public will recoup their investment.

Those on a fixed income cannot afford to finance exploration by a public utility, any more than they can afford to finance a new car. At a time when some utility customers have to decide whether to buy groceries or buy their medicine, they can barely pay their utility bills as it is, let alone give money to a public company that will save them money 30 years down the road. How disappointing.

First let me say how disgusted I am with your decision to allow FPL to charge its customers for UNSAFE and ENVIRONMENTALLY stupid fracking and to do so WITHOUT regulator supervision. You are worthless, have you not picked up a paper in the cities and towns that report on how fracking has ruined local aquifers?!? I guess it's too hard for you to say no to a major corporation who foots your bills... You disgust me and we have no room for people like you in our state government! Start job hunting!

One of the reasons i live Florida is because there was no fracking for gas, and therefore no poisoning of our water! If this happens, you will see Florida tourism tank and the whole state will suffer. DO NOT LET THEM FRACK IN FLORIDA! Fracking will only destroy our aquifers, dissolve the limestone foundation, and potentially cause irreparable damage to the environmental state of Florida. Solar power would be clean, efficient, cost effective, and just makes more sense. WHY destroy natural resources when you can utilize them? Please do not let FPL frack for gas in Florida!

To any of the PSC members who voted to allow FPL to finance its "natural gas exploration" (aka "fracking") with ratepayer money: FRAK YOU ALL!!!
