Comments:

I am appalled at the PSC's approval of the guidelines for the natural gas exploration and fracking venture. I can not fathom what justification you used to get to this end result. To go against staff recommendations, the Office of Public Counsel, the Florida Retail Federation and the state's largest industrial energy users and environmental groups is ridiculous. And then to have such a lengthy timeline for review--why not 1-year after operation? Other fracking operations are already in existence, and three years is much too long of a timeframe for evaluating outcomes. And unfortunately whatever money earned (if any) will be like what the diamond industry was in its heyday ("blood money") due to the destruction of the environment and downstream negative effects including potential litigation. I am ashamed that you made this decision rather than requiring FPL to look at and pursue renewable energy resources such as solar and tidal energy instead. I strongly encourage all of you to obtain gargantuan errors and omissions coverage because I ensure you I will be part of the lobby pursuing all possible litigation and class-action lawsuits in the future to offset the impacts of this absurd decision.
