Florida Public Service Commission
Docket # 150071

Dear Florida Public Service Commission:

We the following petitioners hereby request an investigation from the Environmental Health department of health hazards or other long term effects caused directly by the continuous noxious fumes created and emitting from the KWRU sewer plant. These sewer gases may include hydrogen sulfide, ammonia, methane, carbon monoxide and sulfur dioxide. If sewer gas has a distinct "rotten egg" smell, especially in sewage treatment facilities, it may be due to hydrogen sulfide content, which can be detected by human olfactory senses in concentrations as low as parts per billion. Exposure to low levels of these chemicals can irritate the eyes, cause a cough or sore throat, shortness of breath, and fluid accumulation in the lungs. Prolonged low-level exposure may cause fatigue, pneumonia, loss of appetite, headaches, irritability, poor memory, and dizziness. High concentrations of hydrogen sulfide (>150 ppm) can produce olfactory fatigue, whereby the scent becomes undetectable. At very high concentrations (>300 ppm), hydrogen sulfide can cause loss of consciousness and death. Very high concentrations (>1000 ppm) can result in immediate collapse, occurring after a single breath.

Sincerely,

Joe O' Connell
