For Authority to Discontinue Busy Line)
Verification and Busy Line Interrupt Services)

SECTION 63.71 APPLICATION

Pursuant to Section 214 of the Communications Act and Section 63.71 of the Commission's rules,¹ CenturyLink, Inc. f/k/a Embarq (CenturyLink) applies for authority to discontinue its wholesale interstate Busy Line Verification (BLV) and Busy Line Interrupt (BLI) operator services that are offered through CenturyLink's FCC Tariff No. 9 in CenturyLink's legacy Embarq territory. CenturyLink requests authority to discontinue these services as of July 1, 2016.

CenturyLink submits the following information in support of its application:

1. Name and address of carrier

CenturyLink
100 CenturyLink Drive
Monroe, LA 71203

2. Date of planned service discontinuance

The anticipated date for discontinuing service is July 1, 2016.

3. Points of geographic areas of service affected

CenturyLink seeks authority to discontinue the provision of these BLV and BLI services in Florida, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington and Wyoming.

4. Brief description of the type of services affected

Busy Line Verification is a wholesale service that CenturyLink offers to other carriers—generally interexchange carriers—to determine and report the status of a CenturyLink end user’s exchange service line—specifically whether the end user is engaged in a conversation or the line is out of service. This service is provided, upon request, by a CenturyLink operator to the other carrier’s operator.

Busy Line Interrupt is a wholesale service that CenturyLink offers to other carriers to interrupt a conversation on a CenturyLink end user’s verified busy line and inform the end user that an attempt to place a call on that line is being made. The CenturyLink operator does not connect the other carrier’s operator to the telephone line user, but merely informs the end user customer of the pending call. It is up to the CenturyLink end user to terminate its call to allow the incoming call to be made by the other carrier’s end user.

CenturyLink is seeking to discontinue these services due to a lack of demand. The last request for one of these services was in 2010. There is no reason to believe this situation will change, given the nearly ubiquitous availability of alternative means of communication, including mobile phones, text messaging, email and social media.

5. Brief description of the dates and methods of notice to all affected customers

On April 7, 2016, CenturyLink sent affected wholesale customers official notice by email through its Customer Communications Data Base (CCDB). (See Attachment A.) CenturyLink has used CCDB for several years for virtually all communications with its wholesale customers, including information on system outages, network notifications, product information, rate changes, and changes to other terms and conditions. When CenturyLink first began using this system, it notified all wholesale customers that, going forward, it would be communicating important information about their wholesale services through the CCDB system.

Each email sent via the CCDB system includes a statement directing the wholesale customer to notify CenturyLink of any changes to its email address. Wholesale customers can also update this information in CCDB themselves. When this customer notice was sent by email, the emails for two customers bounced back. CenturyLink re-sent the customer notice to those customers by U.S. Mail on April 8, 2016.

6. Dominance of carrier with respect to the service to be discontinued

CenturyLink is a dominant carrier with regard to the BLV and BLI services.

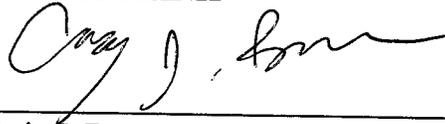

7. Service

In accordance with 47 C.F.R. § 63.71(a), CenturyLink has mailed a copy of this application to the Governor and public utility commission of each of the affected states identified in Paragraph 3 above, as well as to the Special Assistant for Telecommunications under the Secretary of Defense.

Respectfully submitted,

CENTURYLINK

Subject: Busy Line Verification and Busy Line Interrupt Discontinuance

At CenturyLink, our goal is to provide you with great quality and value while still remaining competitive. Changing market conditions require that we continually evaluate our prices, product offerings and infrastructure.

Occasionally our evaluation directs us to make changes to some products; therefore, we are writing to inform you of CenturyLink's plan to discontinue Busy Line Verification (BLV) and Busy Line Interrupt (BLI), which are operator services features. These features are currently available in CenturyLink Operating Companies F.C.C. Tariff No. 2 and No. 3, for the states of Alabama and Missouri. Please note that this discontinuance is for the BLV and BLI features only and does not include all operator services. The FCC will normally authorize this proposed discontinuance of service unless it is shown that customers would be unable to receive service or a reasonable substitute from another carrier or that the public convenience and necessity is otherwise adversely affected. If you wish to object, you should file your comments as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days after the Commission releases public notice of the proposed discontinuance. You may file your comments electronically through the FCC's Electronic Filing System using the docket number established in the Commission's public notice for this proceeding, or address them to the Federal Communications Commission, Wireline Competition Bureau, Competition Policy Division, Washington, DC 20554, and include in your comments a reference to the Sec. 63.71 Application of CenturyLink. Comments should include specific information about the impact of this proposed discontinuance upon you or your company, including any inability to acquire reasonable substitute service.
