Hello,

I have just received word that FP&L is still trying to effect a base rate increase of 23%, mostly which will go to the shareholders. As FP&L believes that it will already make 1.6B this year, what is the justification for this increase?

May I remind you that wages are flat in this economy? That many senior citizens are on fixed incomes?

What justifies this incredible rate hike? Personally, I would rather not contribute to the wealth of the shareholders.

FP&L is a monopoly, and this is an outrage!
