Subject: Rate Increase

It would seem to me, with elections coming up , that unless all of you including my state rep, want to appear to be baught by FPL, that that exorbitant rate increase be denied, we haven't gotten a bad storm here in a while, as we all know that if the power company can't supply power in the aftermath then it will cost the taxpayers and voters a larger amount than the rate increase, Home owner insurance rate will be hiked and probably will only cover a fraction of the damage caused, your over all state expenditures will skyrocket, and there will be a large loss in tax revenues because of business that can't operate IE no sales tax revenue. This rate hike by FP&L makes no economic sense for the State or its citizens. By FP&L's own admission less than 5% of the new revenue will benefit the State or its citizens
