In an age when more of us citizens are convinced that there is rampant corruption in our government, we rely on YOU to protect us from the effects of bribery and greed by utility companies. A 23% increase by FPL is outrageous. The return they will be able to give their investors is the equivalent those of high risk investments, which this is not. Why not give them the same increase I got on my pension - 0%.

John Bauer

Ps my simple test for overreach by the power utilities in our state is the fact that New Jersey generatea more solar power than Florida and our bribed state legislature will not enact legislation to a dual meter system which allows everyday citizens to recover their infrastructure costs like the power company
