Details:

I see again Florida Plunder and Loot (FPL) wants the people to pick up their tab while they keep stock holders rich with yet another rate increase. Is this because they lost on amendment one? They just received a rate increase for, as they say, making the infrastructure stronger now they want an increase to repair that same infrastructure. How come these increases go through every time, let stock holders pay the tab once in a while not the little guy? When I was a business owner I had to eat some of my costs, why not FPL? Take the money they pay the people lobbying in the capitol and put it back in to the system to help pay the bills. The people are tired of power companies doing what they want and government going along with them.
