Thank you for updating your information. We have rectified the situation and you should be receiving emails from now on. Good afternoon,

I am sending this fax that we just received from the FPCS regarding not having an email on file. Not only did I resend our company information last week even though nothing has changed for several years, Nonney Grant had called me to tell me that all information is updated. My question then is who is sending these faxes to us (I received one at the end of June) and why they are not using the same company files that has our current email addresses. I would be glad to fix this but do not know whom to contact.

Thank you,

Donna J. Marreel

Not sure where to update our email address? The fax states that it's not working.
